THE BEAUTY'S CHOICE.

BY EMERSON CURTIS.

Mrs. Hawley's prettiest boarder was the bit of a blonde girl named Florence Castleton. It was a romantic name and she had a romantic history.

What is Gossip?

We are often asked, "What is gossip?" We answer in a general way, that it is talking of persons rather than of things.

The Vengeance of Royal Lovers.

A few weeks ago a respectable old peasant farmer in Rommelia, smitten by the charms of a young gypsy girl belonging to a tribe that had taken refuge in the neighborhood of his farm, induced the maiden to listen to his addresses, and finally obtained her consent to become his wife.

The Secret of It.

Comparatively few men show their special respect of wife in the selection of her ornaments, and the bride who has formed her own ideal is often disappointed during the honeymoon—the most trying period of marriage life.

ARCHERY AND OUTFITS.

For target practice there should be at least four persons, but a larger number than that will make a merrier company.

HOUSEHOLD.

Trifles.—Roll out rich puff paste a quarter of an inch thick, brush over with icing, as made for cake, then cut in strips four inches long and one wide, and bake delicately.

Spoon Stains.

To remove stains on spoons caused by using them with boiled eggs, take a little common salt, moisten between the fingers with water, and briskly rub the stain, which will soon disappear.

Baked Milk.

Put a half a gallon of milk into a jar, tie it down with writing paper. Let it stand in a moderately warm oven eight or ten hours, and the milk will be of the consistency of cream.

Egg Flip.

Put a quart of ale on the fire to boil, and when it has become quite hot, add four ounces of molasses, a table-spoonful of grated nutmeg or ginger, and a quart of good old rum or brandy.

Apple Fritters.

This is a favorite dish with many and often preferred to dumplings. They may be prepared thus: Make a batter, not very stiff, with one quart of milk, three eggs, and one ounce of sugar.

At a Late Sale in Paris.

A late sale in Paris a book by a modern binder, Trautz-Bonomet, a master of the art of in-laying, sold for $3,200, of which at least $2,200 was paid in respect of the binding.

A Benevolent Detroit Dentist.

On a certain day he would pull teeth free for poor persons, and provide laughing gas. He used 700 gallons of gas and extracted 274 teeth.

Mr. Waring, a recent candidate at an English election, adopted a neat mode of stigmatizing an opponent. He asked those he addressed what they called a man who made a mistake and said, "Knowing them to be false." The response came back: "A liar." "Well," said the candidate, "I will not contradict you."

National Democratic Ticket.

For President—WINFIELD S. HARGROVE, of Penn. For Vice President—WILLIAM H. ENGLISH, of Indiana.

Franklin and Lincoln.

It is with great pleasure that we place at the head of our columns the names of Winfield Scott Hancock of Pennsylvania, nominated on the second ballot for president, and William H. English of Indiana, chosen on the first ballot for vice president.

Our candidate for president was born in Montgomery county, Pennsylvania, Feb. 14, 1824. He entered the West Point Academy in 1840, graduated in 1844, and in 1846 received his commission of Lieutenant of Infantry.

He served during the Mexican war, was promoted for his gallantry, and having filled several subordinate posts, was made Assistant Quartermaster in the Western Department, with the rank of Captain on the Staff, which rank he held at the outbreak of the civil war.

In 1861 he was appointed a Brigadier-General of Volunteers, and served in the Army of the Potomac. He accompanied Gen. McClellan's army to the peninsula in 1862, and distinguished himself at the battle of Williamsburg.

Mr. Tilden's Declination.

At a meeting of the New York delegation on Monday the following letter from Mr. S. J. Tilden declining a nomination was read by Mr. Wickham of N. Y. City:

To the delegates from New York, June 18, 1892. I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th inst., and in reply to inform you that I have declined the nomination for the Presidency, which you and your associates are commissioned to make in behalf of the Democratic party of the United States.

My life has been substantially that of a private citizen. It was, I presume, the success of the efforts in which as a private citizen I had shared to overthrow a corrupt combination that holding dominion over the metropolis, and to purify the judiciary, which were my chief objects, that induced the Democracy of the State in 1874 to nominate me for Governor.

From that time to the present I have been engaged in the discharge of my public duties, and the restoration of our complex political system to the pure ideas of its founders. Upon these issues the people of the State have shown a decided preference for the Democratic party.

It is my right and privilege here to say that I was nominated and elected to the Presidency absolutely free from any engagement in the exercise of its powers or the disposal of its patronage. Through the whole period of my relation to the Presidency I did everything in my power to advance and nothing to lower the moral standing of the party.

It was my opinion in 1870 that the opposition attempting to change the administration needed to include at least two-thirds of the voters at the opening of the constitutional convention. For this reason the Democratic party in 1870 elected a man in office could still secure a false count, founded upon frauds, perjuries and forgeries.

Mr. Angel in California.

The following dispatch relative to an interview between the Chinese Consul-General and the Chinese Consul-General will be of interest to our citizens:

San Francisco, June 17.—The Chinese Consul-General, Mr. Wang, has been called on by Minister Angel and Commissioners Swift and Tresselt at the Palace Hotel this morning. After the usual preliminary remarks, the subject of the Chinese emigration to California was discussed.

Such a work of renovation after many years of misrule, such a reform of systems and policies, to which I would cheerfully have sacrificed all that remained to me of health and life, is now before me. With a heart swelling with emotions of gratitude to the Democratic masses for the support which they have given to my cause, I represented, and their steadfast confidence in every emergency.

When Garfield was caught in the credit moblier net he engaged Judge Black of Pennsylvania, a democrat, and one of the ablest lawyers in this country to plead for his acquittal.

The national holiday is close at hand and many distinguished politicians are announced to deliver orations. It is a fine opportunity to display intellectual and oratorical ability. Why our candidate for governor should neglect this occasion to make capital we do not know.

Consistency is a rare jewel. At Chicago the republican party resolved in favor of civil service reform, imposing upon members of a delegate from Massachusetts Mr. Hayes' action in this respect.

A single real-estate transaction in Marquette county is on the carpet involving $2,400,000.

—Twenty-eight miles of fire-alarm telegraph wire have been strung up at Grand Rapids.

—A flood in Pine river carried out into the lake about three million feet of logs belonging to the Mackinac Lumber company.

—A man in Kalamazoo gambled at one table all day and late into the evening, losing about $20, when his wife made her appearance and frantically implored him to go home, where she and her child were suffering from the necessities of life.

—President Hayes will not visit California until next fall.

The Railways of London.

A London paper states that the rails used by the companies within a radius of 6 miles of Charing Cross would form a single line from London, a distance of 240 miles.

Scenes in Damascus.

Like all Eastern cities, the interior is disappointing. The streets are dusty and narrow, and the effect of the sun, hot lines and dilapidated walls is rather that of a collection of villages huddled together than of a large and important city.

From the hotel we made a progress through the picture bazaars. Here there are covered-in buildings, swarming with people in every variety of oriental costumes.

The rates are reduced one fare for the round trip. Tickets will be sold for all trains on July 3, 4 and 5, good to return on any train up to and including July 6.
—After several months' hard labor in Detroit the necessary bonus has been subscribed to secure the construction of the Detroit and Butler road. The contract for building the road has been let to J. S. and D. E. Casement, and to be completed by Dec. 15. The contractors have had a large experience in railroad building, among which were the Union Pacific and Canada Southern. Both of the contractors are well known in this vicinity having been former residents here. The new road will probably cross the T. & A. A. road at or near Milan.

The County Fair.

The executive and business committees of the Washtenaw County Agricultural and Horticultural Society held a meeting at the Court House last Saturday, June 19, and the following is an abstract of the business transacted:
It was resolved to hold the fair for 1880 on September 23, 29, 30, and October 1.
It was ordered that 200 illustrated posters, size 4x6 inches, printed in three colors, be procured of Messrs. Russell & Co. of Cincinnati, at $15 per hundred. It was also decided to publish a list of the names of the exhibitors and that the printing of the same be given to the lowest responsible bidder.
A resolution was adopted directing the offering of a diploma for the best 20 rods or more of hedge fence of any kind, and that C. H. Richmond, E. B. Pond and Sampson Parker be appointed judges thereon. It was also ordered that those who desire to compete in the above class must make their entry with the Secretary immediately after the premium list is issued, so that the judges can make their award before the fair.

—The Ypsilanti of two or three weeks ago stated that the seminary bell was then in position and ready for the ringer. These might have been the facts in the case, but last Friday was the first time that the citizens had the pleasure of listening to its welcome tones.
—The awning of J. F. Sanders which has been in a half completed condition for so long a time, was finished all but painting last Saturday. The injunction placed upon the further erection of it having been dissolved in the Circuit Court Friday. We understand the case will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

—The graduating exercises of the High School which took place at the Seminary Tuesday evening, were short but sweet as there were only four graduates, two ladies and two gentlemen. The hall was trimmed very nicely for the occasion and a very large number attended the exercises in spite of the warm weather. Some real rude boys tried to create a sensation by shooting off a bunch of fire crackers outside the building.
—At a regular meeting of Huron Lodge, Knights of Honor, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: E. Hewitt, Director; F. J. Swaine, Vice Director; O. E. Thompson, Pass Director; T. Howland, Installing Officer.
—Whisky got to Ysps in pot roughs, and caused them to give a countryman named Conklin a severe beating Monday afternoon. It seems that Conklin stepped into Jim Fulton's saloon in search of a man by whom he was to be employed, when Woolsey tackled him to treat, which Conklin refused to do on the ground that he didn't drink. This did not course young Woolsey's thirst for blood (or whisky) and he immediately bounced him, knocked him down with a big stone, kicked and pounded him without any regard for the fellow's feelings, being somewhat assisted in the fracas by Woolsey's partner, Monroe. They were captured after some little difficulty and put in the cooler to sober off a little. Woolsey was examined Wednesday morning charged with assault with intent to kill, plead guilty and was bound over to the Circuit Court to appear Oct. 3d. In default of $1,000 bail he was taken back to jail. Wednesday afternoon Monroe was tried charged with assault and battery, found guilty and fined $5 and costs, amounting to $10.74 in all. This seems a light sentence for one so old in crime as Monroe is. Both boys have tasted of the bill of fare, both at Ionia and Detroit houses of correction, also at our county jail. It is hoped that Woolsey will be put now where he will not trouble the city for some time.

Nichols, D.D.S. of Ann Arbor, the officiating clergyman being Rev. J. Magiffin rector of St. James (Episcopal) church. But few guests were invited owing to Mrs. Howell's feeble health. The numerous and costly presents went far to show how Miss Moe's accomplishments were appreciated by her numerous friends. At 3:30 Mr. and Mrs. Nichols took the westward bound train for a short tour, with the good wishes of all.

—The Butler railroad has now progressed beyond the "wind" stage of existence, and the real work began by paying cash for right-of-way to owners of land along the line. The amount paid is considerable less than asked in many instances, and some cases will have to be settled by legal valuation. It is not yet decided where the depot will be located; two points are talked of, one at the crossing of the T. & A. A. railroad, and the other at the road crossing of the Monroe road, east of the village. The south point is probably the location which will be selected as trains will have to stop there at the T. & A. A. road before crossing.
—An illustrated lecture on prison life was given here on the evenings of the 18th and 19th by Chas. D. Hildebrand, who has spent 18 years in prison, and who was connected with the Younger brothers. The identity of Mr. Hildebrand was questioned by some in this community, but more especially by liquor men, who could not bear the truth of the insinuations of the speaker, that a large majority of the convicts of prisons owe their life there to the influence of liquor. The entertainment was given under the auspices of the reform club here, one-third of the receipts go to that organization. Mr. Hildebrand has taken up his residence in Ann Arbor, where he intends making a permanent home.

Some of his work was of course very poor, but on the other hand, some of his more ambitious paintings have been pronounced marvelous studies by good authority, and excited with the skill of a master hand. Ideal scenes in the spirit Land, etc., were his favorite studies.

—A youth of 19 years in Port Huron recently married a woman twice his age and the mother of eight children. The former husband of the quishing bride left years ago for California, and for a time wrote to her regularly, sending drafts, bank notes, etc.; but after awhile these ceased, and no trace of him could be obtained, and he had been given up as dead for years. But since her second marriage she has received a long loving letter from him, inclosing a draft, and announcing his intention to return soon. A lively time is anticipated. What makes the matter more interesting is that the youthful second husband was engaged to a young girl and the wedding day was fixed, when he deserted her for the charming widow.
