The Old Man in the Stylish Church.

By JOHN H. YATES.

Well, I've been to church today—been to a stylish one.

And, such a lot of folks, I'll tell you, were there.

You would have been surprised to see what I saw there today.

The sisters were dressed up in their hardy boots to go.

I had on these coarse clothes of mine—not much more for wear.

But then, they knew I wasn't one they call a millionaire.

So they let the old man to a seat away back by the door.

'Twas bookless and uncushioned, a reserved seat for the poor.

Pretty soon in came a stranger with gold ring and clothing fine.

They let him to a cushioned seat far in advance of mine.

I thought that wasn't exactly right, to seat near up so near front.

When he was young and I would and very hard to hear.

But, then, there's an account for what some people do.

The best of things now-a-days off gets the best seat.

and cruelly sent him fourth, a wanderer, disstrusting all, and heading in his heart a roof of utterance which would turn his whole life to gall.

When the family was accused to the court, the next morning, that Samuel Phillips was actually gone.

Mr. Phillips tried to soothe the distressed mother with the thought that he had only disappeared for a time.

More than the loss of a son, he was grieved to return and ask pardon for his conduct.

He did not tell her with what will and ungrudging words he had been driven away.

Years passed away. No tidings came of the fugitive.

The mother, yearning for her boy, drooped and died; and the only remaining son was soon afterward drowned.

Two daughters married and went away, and the old man was left alone.

It was not possible that consequence did not sometimes bring back the image of that poor boy, as he stood trembling that night in the street.

A crime, too, committed under the influence of the best feelings, and with the intention of repairing the wrong. But pride kept up his indignation toward his son; and instead of pitying him for being a castaway, he only pitied himself for not being able to keep up the family name.

At last there came a day when even Mr. Phillips' proud spirit was crushed by the loss of wife and children.

Loss after loss had come to him in his business, till at length he was obliged to give up all that he had made of his credit.

He rendered everything—house and household goods, not even taking the benefit which the law allowed him.

Yet there were not wanting some among the neighbors, who openly asserted their belief that Mr. Phillips had actually saved money by the operation, and even cited his real relinquishment of all visible property as a proof that he was simply unperceived by that which was his friend.

forgot, save the thought that he might be in time to save him from open disgrace or actual want.

Every thing and fallen into his hands, for the bystanders saw that he was determined to possess all, and they gave way to a patient desire and ability to gratify it.

The reconciliation was complete. The pride of the father was assuaged. He sat in his old home, his family all about him, and business resuming by the son whom he had banished, his heart had melted to a childlike humility that was touching to behold.

His friend foresook him; dropping off one by one, unable to vouch for his innocence.

His health failed, and even if he had not, he could not have witnessed the public sale of his household treasures which was now announced.

A Trip to the Great Green.

In the late afternoon, the sky being soiled with overcast clouds, the thought it a good time to see the "Great Green."

From the hotel piazza they did not look "great" in any sense of the word.

The approach is very disagreeable, with long, steep, and rocky hills down to Sulphur Creek—cool and clear; and over a rustic bridge a series of steps on the opposite bank you come to the mouth of the "Devil's Kitchen."

A woman in Marshall county, Kansas, has had luck with her husband. Two of them were hanged by vigilantes.

A New York paper says the late Governor Ripley, as joint editor of Appleton's Cyclopedia, had a weekly of 6,000 copies, or $1.25 on each set.

Many men who read a good deal, says one who has read a good deal, sometimes find a little in a girl who abhors a little in books, because she imagines that with those words which lie outside their line of reading.

Five boys recently discovered a number of old coins in an old field near Mainway City, Penn.

Navarro county, Texas, has a population of 22,000, composed of immigrants from nearly all the northwest States.

The people of the United States consume more coffee than those of any other country, using annually 335,000,000 pounds of coffee beans.

The first duel in the U. S. was fought at Plymouth, Mass., on the 18th of June, 1821, between Edward Duff and Edward Leicester, two servants, both of whom were wounded.

A girl astonished an audience in the Gaiety theatre, London, two years ago, when she sang a song about a girl who had become of age, but who was still in the arms of her father.

The report of the committee on sites for the World's Fair in 1883 to be held in New York says: "The site we propose is a little north of the Central Park, and may be called the Washington Heights site, although a portion of the grounds is eastward of the Heights, and, more properly, in the Harlem district."

The centre of the hoodlum's activity is known as "The Hole," a low-lying quarter, thickly covered with small houses. Here he has defiance to the police.

Bishop Selys was a benevolent and kindly-spoken man, as well as a great and famous one. He interested himself much in the poor, especially in miners.

T. Spear, of New Orleans, has exhibited the specimen of fibre from the banana plant. He estimates that an acre will yield 10,000 pounds of fibre, worth $50; this, added to the fruit, will make the cultivation of this splendid plant very profitable.

The site selected for the memorial to the late Prince Louis Napoleon in St. George's chapel, Windsor, is the space between the pillars of the nave in the south aisle, next to the monument to Queen Victoria's late father, the duke of Kent.

Mrs. J. V. Alexander, of Big Sandy, Tex., found that her 11-month-old infant had been playing on the floor of the dining-room floor daily to play. Staying behind the door an unusual time, she looked for it, and was horrified to find the child playing a very large black snake.

The new girls' school building which Mr. Moody and his friends have put up at Northfield, Mass., is built of brick, a study-room and two school-rooms, by three towers; the central one rising seventy-five feet from the ground.

Messieurs, when in Paris, lives near the Parc Monceau. The frontage is at the top of the Boulevard Malesherbes, just at the beginning of the Avenue de Villiers.

A French lady, with her husband, was sitting recently smoking her cigarette in the Tivoli public garden in Copenhagen, when a detective in plain clothes appeared and ordered her not to smoke.

The Great Comet of 1843. The following extract from Professor Peacock's lecture on comets and meteors contains a description of the wonderful comet of 1843, of which Gould's comet is supposed to have been the nucleus.

"About noon on the 28th of February, 1843, groups of people in many of the towns of New England especially Portland, Maine, collected at the corners of the streets, looking up toward the sun. Protecting their eyes in the shadows of the houses, they saw a brilliant object close to the sun. Such marvellous spectacles are never before seen. A thoughtful sea captain, Mr. Clark, brought out his sextant, and repeatedly measured the distance of the strange object from the limb of the sun.

Miss Fannie J. Chaffee, only daughter of Ex-senator Jerome B. Chaffee, will be easily remembered by the older residents of this city as the bright little daughter of the then plain Mr. Jerome Chaffee, who was doing business in this city as a moderate dry goods merchant. Time works changes. Mr. Chaffee took Greeley's advice and "went west," became a millionaire and United States senator for Colorado. A few years ago, about the time Fannie Chaffee was born, U. S. Grant was the humble proprietor of a tanning shop in Illinois. He became a colonel, then a brigadier general, next major-general, afterwards lieutenant-general, and finally full general of the United States army. From general to president, he could rise no higher in any republic. There has been a wedding and the son of a tanner marries the daughter of a former Adrian dry goods merchant. That is to say, had this marriage occurred a few years ago this would have been the proper understanding regarding the antecedents of the high contracting parties.—Adrian Press.

The Episcopal House of Bishops demands an enforcement of the laws against polygamy. The bishops are right. The laws against polygamy should be enforced. Not many years ago it was quoted as an evidence of the injustice of the laws of N. Y. state, that at the same time of court the same judge sentenced a man seven years in prison for stealing a pair of boots, and another to four years for taking life. The criticism was just. But how much greater would be the argument of the critic who should arraign the laws which sternly prosecute the individuals who commit bigamy and leave untouched, though they glory in their shame, an entire community so populous and influential that it is almost on the verge of becoming a sovereign state, which is given over to the worst polygamy.

The Philadelphia Record estimates the costs of the parades of the presidential campaign of 1880 in that city at half a million of dollars, and those who are familiar with the details of such pageants do not think the estimate too high. But New York has eclipsed Philadelphia and other cities have rivaled her. Besides parades are hardly more than incidental in campaign expenses. How much then does a presidential canvass cost the country? One statistician figures it at not less than forty millions of dollars. But he gives no grounds for his figures and it is hardly conceivable that an eighth of the whole expenses has been squandered in parades in one city containing but about one-sixtieth of the population of the country.

During the last fifteen years the indebtedness of the United States has been reduced about $900,000,000. Having paid out this immense sum in cash it is to be wondered at that the country suffered from a period of business stagnation in the midst of the drain? What need there to seek further for the causes of the panic of '73?

Mr. Sprague's troubles again come to the front through the report that his wife, Kate Chase, was the guest of a Buffalo hotel at the same time Conkling was, and that they traveled together in a palace car with locked doors.

The issue of '84 will be the tariff. The question "Whether the man shall be taxed for the few" will be decided in that campaign.

Virginia was the mother of presidents. She was succeeded by Illinois, and Ohio now claims the maternal distinction.

Grant for 1884. The republican party might as well prepare themselves for "man on horseback."

One of the walkers over in England has broken down. This will cause it to dawn on the American public that there is a walking match in progress over there which dignifies itself as "international." Most of us had forgotten that there was such a thing as a walking match.

It is supposed there was an election on Tuesday.

RELIGIOUS IMPOSTORS.—Clergymen are greatly perturbed by religious impostors. "What a list it would be," says the reverend editor of the Congregationalist, "if we had kept a record of the men we have helped to get to New York, Providence and elsewhere; the one-eyed men, the sick men, the men with feeble wives, with pockets picked, with banks misappropriated, with telegrams to the deathbeds of dear parents and children, enterprising young men who were hastening to enter on their careers, with some of them sending every one of whom we had short on $2.50, and having heard father, or Uncle John, or Dr. What's his name, our classmate, speak so often and so warmly of us, ventured to confide in our embarrassing position, and ask for a loan. Finally he arranged with a shrewd business man to deal with all sick and infirm, and that gentleman had little difficulty in detecting the frauds.

A Bright Bird.
A large and handsome whooping stork, says the Council Bluffs Post-Paige, has been daily strutting around the yard at the residence of Prof. Paige in this city. The elongated bird was purchased by the Professor during a visit to Mexico some months since, and has become quite tame. Among other food it that the stork relishes is a nice fat mouse. Mrs. Paige has a small wire trap in the house and whenever a mouse happens to wander therein, it becomes a sweet morsel for his storkship. The other day Mrs. Paige noticed the bird standing near the barn watching intently at a small hole leading beneath the building. The stork remained in an attitude of watchfulness for nearly half an hour, and Mrs. Paige becoming curious concluded to watch and see what followed. Finally she saw a mouse creep into sight from under the barn, and the same instant the intelligent stork pounced down upon the mouse and "took him in," killing it first and then eating it. After performing this intelligent feat, the stork resumed his vigil, and after watching and waiting for nearly an hour, he again pounced upon a mouse, which he had so often been fed, he returned to the barn and set the trap down near the hole, evidently appreciating the use of the trap, and believing that it would catch a mouse for him.

Very Complimentary.
An honest farmer receives a visit from a dealer in live-stock, who wishes to purchase his pork-crop. After chaffering over the price, they go out to the farm-yard to inspect the animals. On the threshold they meet the farmer's daughter—a handsome, strapping lass of nineteen, whose plumpness and color would have delighted Tubbs.

Ensured.
There is only one among Bertha's several "protectors" whom she would really like to marry. He is Theodore. But Theodore is not on the marry by a large majority.

Feise-Bertha's waiting maid—a young lady by whose calls she would not diamonds, doesn't hesitate to tell her mistress that she is getting old, and had better suit a husband before it is too late.

"But what shall I do? Theodore would not marry me," exclaims Bertha in despair.

"Fad, eel can fix him," says Feise.

"How?"

"Leave that to me. Will you give up all your other lovers?"

"Yes, if I can marry Theodore."

"And to everything else that I tell you to do?"

"Yes."

"Well, then Theodore shall be yours for keeps."

The railroad monopolies do not have it all their own way after all, says the San Francisco Post. A lady says she has seen a dog, a French bulldog, for allowing a locomotive to scald all the hair off a valuable dog expressed her from this city. She obtained judgment and collected the money before the company found out that it was a Japanese dog, and never had any hair.

The York (Penn.) Daily tells of a young man named Tom who was so weak he was intoxicated. His wife whipped him and he went down cellar and hung himself. She soon after found him, and finding him languishing procured a butcher-knife and cut down his throat. He was found dead and told him to cut his throat "and be done with it," if he was tired of life. But he did no such thing.

The snail vine is of recent date in New York, where it has been known as "Boston vine." Its introduction here is due to some French soldiers about by Christine Nilsson at the great fair in aid of the French sufferers by the Franco-Prussian war. The Swedish nightingale, which tending a flower table, sold her head-dress of roses and carnations for $150, and the vine once became a craze.

A young man from Texas married a girl in North Carolina, and then proposed to leave her while he worked his way back to his Texas home, in the hope of earning enough money there to send for her. He said, however, that he would rather accompany her and shoot. They, therefore, made the journey of sixteen hundred miles as tramps; but their good appearance gained for them considerable help along the way, and for the last fifty miles they were in a comfortable carriage, provided by an enthusiastic admirer of their pluck.

A fighting clergyman lives at Medina, Pa., as a certain thief can testify. His name is J. F. String, and he is the pastor of a Methodist church at that place. The thief entered the house through the cellar window, lighted a candle and then entered the kitchen. He then exchanged the candle for a coal-oil lamp, dressed himself in a sheet by cutting holes in it for his head and arms, and thus arrayed went to bed. He was found by String, who, finding the lamp in one hand and a knife in the other, he tried to soothe Mr. String by saying: "We don't want to commit any violence," but Mr. String sprang from his bed, attacked the thief and drove him from the house.

Women and children are employed in formerly large numbers in the English textile mills. Out of 18,745 persons engaged above ground about the metallic mines, 2,193 are women and girls, and in addition there are 317 miles of the tender ages of between 8 and 13. Of girls 25 are employed between 8 and 12 years of age, 1,220 of whom are in the Cornwall and Devon districts. Of girls between 13 and 18 years there are employed 72, Cornwall and Devon employing 645 and the North Wales district 106, the only other large employing district being that of Ireland, where 27 are at work. Of girls above 18 years old, there are 1,355 employed.

Carlyle is greatly pleased with his honors of being a grand-mother. A private letter from Chelsea says: "Mr. Carlyle is so dazzled with the novelty of a baby in the house—it is almost his sole experience of such torments and wonders that he sends for the infant whenever anybody calls, and remarks upon the perfection of the innocent and the little white pills, and all of the rest of the wee body. It, and thus it up and down and over, and explains the mysterious and wonderful anatomy—in short, acts like a child over the first baby who is seen. A new element in his life seems to give him a new lease of existence."

An old case is reported from Carlisle, Eng. A doctor was called one evening at 7 o'clock to visit a lady aged about 55, who had, as she described it, been feeling poorly for some time, but could give no definite symptoms and complained of no pain. During the examination he noticed a change in her speech. This led him to an investigation of the throat. Outwardly she appeared normal, and nothing could be felt to indicate an obstruction; he then examined the pharynx, but no foreign body could be seen there, and the examination only brought out a coating and a slight redness of the throat. He then, on a second time, and judge of his surprise to find bedded low back in the pharynx a set of false teeth, which he extracted with little trouble. Upon inquiry the woman said she had missed her teeth about 9 o'clock in the morning, but had no idea she had swallowed them. It is remarkable that they had been in the pharynx without causing her any pain for over ten hours.

Polychrome printing is an invention to obviate many of the drawbacks to chromo lithography, which entails a large number of separate printings, the drying after each impression, the "registration," and many expensive details which have to be kept in mind. The new process of Mr. White, of Paris, is a method by which all the colors of a chromo-lithograph may be produced at one impression. The pigments of the ground color are laid in the frame as a solid block and the design traced upon it. All the parts which do not form the ground color are then cut out and the spaces thus left are then filled by pouring in hot liquid pigments corresponding to the colors or shades required to be produced. When cold, the recently-added color is trimmed off with a knife and another poured in, until the whole is built up. When completed, the block is cut in a very fine slat, and the surface shaved by a knife, so as to make it true and level, and when moistened with suitable chemicals it is ready for use. The impressions are clear, permanent and pass through the color. Reproductions by this process of the finest pictures are said to have deceived dealers and connoisseurs.

The failure to receive all the returns prevents the giving of a full report, and we are therefore obliged to estimate majorities on some candidates. We estimate Wallace's majority

Town Talk.
—Look out for your turkey for Nov. 27.
—Admired session of the supervisors, Wednesday, January 6.
—Fred Joshianna, of southern Kansas, is visiting his parents in York.
—The Minstrels will appear at the opera house on Thursday evening next.
—An oyster supper is announced at the Congregational church this evening.
—Wm. Wade will write into the sellers of intoxicants before the reform club on Sunday.
—Rhinehart Becker of New Hamburg, Ont., has been visiting August Hutzel the past week.
—Miss Lizzy How, daughter of August Herz of lower town, died suddenly on the 28th instant.
—A golden wedding was observed by Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Cato on Wednesday evening last week.
—The city fathers have designated Prof. J. B. Davis as the person to enjoy the honor of city surgeon.
—Mrs. Augusta W. Duffell, wife of regent Duffell, and formerly a resident of this city, died at Lansing last week.
—David Reid Kelly, the past twenty-one years a resident of the city, and born in Utica, N. Y., died Oct. 30, of paralysis, at the age of 61.
—Miss Flora Goodale of Main street is recovering from brain fever, and does not wish her friends to call until she acquires more physical strength.
—Charles Briggs plead guilty on Monday before Freauff, J. P., to assault and battery upon John Schaffner of Sault Ste. Marie, amounting to $89.01.
—David T. McCallum, forty-five years of age of this city, fifth ward, died on Wednesday of general debility, aged 81 years. Deceased was born in New Jersey.
—Mischievous boys uncoupled a car standing on the T. and A. railroad track Sunday, causing it to run down opposite the Huron street crossing and blocking the highway.
—Betsey Stewart enters complaint against Frances Joyce for larceny. Trial to-day before Justice Freauff. Frances is a damsel of seventeen and languishes in jail for want of bail.
—Wm. Crawford about fourteen years of age has been complaining of seasickness and vomiting since he came to O. F. Starr of this city. He will be arraigned before Freauff, J. P., to-morrow.
—The supervisors revived the office of county clerk commissioner last week by election of Fred Schable of Manchester, a greenbacker. The vote stood: Schable 10; J. J. Parrish 6; J. K. Yocum 2; Orrin Thatcher 2.
—Every seat in the opera house was filled Monday evening to witness a very poor entertainment, the chief attractions of which were faces bedaubed with paint, and forms as near the original as a few clothes would permit.
—In the presence of her husband on Thursday last week, Mrs. Louis Lutz of second ward, drank a large dose of nitro-muriatic acid, with suicidal motive, prompted by domestic trials. Medical assistance has thus far saved her.
—The regular monthly meeting of the Ann Arbor Scientific society will be held on Saturday evening, Nov. 4th, at 7 o'clock. Prof. Calvin Thomas will read a paper on the study of words. An interesting meeting may be expected.
—Rev. C. G. Howland of Kalamazoo, will speak at the Unitarian church next Sunday evening on "Civil Service Reform." The lecture, besides having been given twice in Kalamazoo, has been delivered, by request, in Detroit and other places in the state.
—On Thursday night of last week Jacob Maurer and Martin Binder fell down stairs leading to the hall over Schleicher's store and received severe bruises. Dr. Kapp removed a portion of the skull of the former whose injury was feared would prove fatal.
—The body of Nathan Marlatt buried near Adrian and found at the pickling house in this city, was brought here by Emory Watts and Frank Porter, it is alleged, and personally delivered to the dealers in corpses. They have been arrested and will be examined Nov. 9.
—The Pomological society will meet next Saturday at their rooms in the court house. Fruit preserving houses will be the subject for discussion and preparations will be made for the entertainment of the State Horticultural society, which meets here next week.
—The second was the most promptly conducted in regard to counting of votes of any ward in the city. At 7:15 the votes were counted, and 8:45 the official returns in duplicate and triplicate form were completed, compared and signed. At 9 p. m. they were filed in the clerk's office. This shows the capacities of Alderman Besimer and Hutzel.
—Captain Mansfield of South Division Street, while on his way home from the museum building where he was employed as carpenter, on Saturday, was attacked with paralysis. He was able to reach his residence where he made known by signs the best friend, the one that had overcome him. He has been gradually recovering since the attack.
—The following new books have been received at the Ladies Library: Army Life in Russia, F. Y. Green; States History of the French Revolution, Mignet; Green's History of the English people; Mr. Bodley's "A Beaugard City, Mrs. Oliphant; Bricks without straw; Tournee; A new graft on the family tree; The undiscovered country, W. D. Howells; Leslie Goldthwaite, Mrs. A. D. Whitney; Mary Ansell, R. D. Blackmore; The end of a coil, Miss Anna Warner; The story of an Honest Man, Edmond About.
—The Boston Herald says of B. Macaulay, who appears at Hill's opera house this evening: "A Messenger from Jarvis Street" met with an enthusiastic reception last night at the Globe theatre. The honest, sturdy nature of the big-hearted old farmer, Uncle Dan, was portrayed to the life. His quick resolutions and prompt actions in positive danger contrasted finely with his unctious humor in the quieter scenes, and his pathos had the true ring. Mr. Macaulay's fine physique is greatly in his favor in the part, and his noble features and expressive eyes add immensely in the delineation of emotion. Mr. Macaulay was honored by nearly a dozen calls to the footlights, where he was summoned by the heartiest applause and cheers from all parts of the house, and the curtain was called two or three times at the close of every act."

—The university bicycle club has 14 members.
—The woman Porter is confined with a sprained knee.
—M. D. L. Branch has retired from the grocery trade.
—Mr. J. C. Watts of East Saginaw, returned to Ann Arbor to vote.
—An estera is being built between the residence of Dr. Douglas and the Baptist church.
—Dr. Frothingham is included in the calendar of lecturers before the high school of Adrian.
—The Misses Hayles have closed out their stock of worsteds and ladies' fancy goods at auction and quit business.
—Ex-banker Miller of this city and of Washington, came home to exercise the suffrage.
—The republicans celebrated their national victory on Wednesday evening by music, speaking, singing by students and bon fires.
—The last rally of the democracy on Monday evening was addressed by Col. Sanford of Lansing, who was greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience.
Funeral Notes.
—Senator Rose.
—It will be sheriff Wallace after January next.
—The greenbackers of Manchester sold out to Jacobs.
—Allen can be mayor after January, but he can't be representative.
—Tuesday was Allen's Waterloo—the first time he was ever beaten at the polls.
—Prosecuting attorney Emerick will resume the practice of the law beginning with 1891.
—Judge Harriman's majority demonstrates the popularity in which he is held by the voters of this county.
—Would-be senator Jacobs will, as usual, be found at his store, offering great bargains in clothing to the public.
—Patrick McKernan's office, after January next, will be at the court house room now occupied by James McMahon, Esq.
—Election passed off quietly in this city, without arrests for disturbing the peace, ballot-box stuffing, intimidation or repeating.
—A victory especially cheering to the democracy is the defeat of Allen. He will not be addressed next winter at Lansing as "Mr. Speaker."
—Jacob Knapp will take into custody the county funds beginning with the new year. Mr. Knapp, please be looking "a little out" for those bondsmen.
—Mr. Yeckley will continue as a tiller of the soil in Ypsilanti township. His manner of canvassing was not very creditable—and cost him a great many republican votes.
—Friedrich Pfizenmaier will not require the services of a deputy for the next two years. The gentleman who expected to handle the county funds will retire in about two months.
—Drs. Breakey and Owen are deprived of a large salary by not being elected coroners. Their patients will not suffer the next two years through their attention to official duties.
—It was funny—Rev. Mr. Shier advocating the election of Dewey of Chelsea, as a red ribbon man in Saline, while Mr. Dewey himself was cultivating the votes of liquor dealers of this city.
The University.
—University Lecture Association organizes its course Nov. 12 with a lecture by Mr. Walter Bruce on "Landmarks of Scott."
—The Masonic association of the U. of M. will meet in room No. 10, law building on Saturday, Nov. 6, at 7:30 p. m. All M. M. are cordially invited to attend.
—About one hundred and fifty students went home to vote, taking advantage of the cheap rate of fare between Detroit and Buffalo, $1.90 for both ways.
—Bribery among the students! The annual election of the Students' Athletic Association was held at the University on Saturday, lasted four hours and engendered much ill feeling. The condition on which membership is secured is the annual payment of a fee of $1. One of the candidates, seeing that his success was not certain, consented paying the fee for students not members, on condition they would vote for him. The other side adopted the same tactics and the contest became simply one of money, over $300 being spent in rushing in new members.
Real Estate Transfers.

FOR THE NEW YEAR
of the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, of which Dr. R. V. Pierce is president, consisting of a figure of Aesculapian, the Father of Medicine, surmounting the globe, fifty symbols of the world-wide reputation gained by the Family Medicines of Dr. Pierce now manufactured by this incorporated company and sold in all parts of the world. With a mammoth establishment, the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, and a correspondingly large branch establishment in London, this Association make medicines for the whole world—not only that, but they personally examine and treat with special medicines thousands of cases. Among the most celebrated of the proprietary or family medicines are Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—the great blood-purifier, and Dr. Pierce's pleasant purgative pellets (little pills)—and Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed for bowels affections, colds and painful attacks, as colic, neuralgia, and rheumatism.—Favorite Prescription furnishes relief from female weaknesses, and kindred affections. Sold by all druggists.
NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION.
The Law firm of Casson, Freauff & Corbin, is this day dissolved by mutual consent and by express of the several partners, to-wit: Casson, Freauff & Corbin will continue the law and collection business as heretofore.

Chairman Richmond.
For the splendid victory we have won in Washtenaw county, we are largely indebted to the Hon. Chas. H. Richmond, chairman of the county committee. Like an oasis in the great republican desert of Michigan this county stands securely anchored to democratic faith and rolls up nearly her usual majority for the national ticket. Under his generalship we have carried through nearly every candidate on the local ticket, recovered the senatorship and won a flattering majority.
Purely for the love of the faith with him, Mr. Richmond consented to fulfill the duties of chairman of the county committee. It is at best a thankless position. Few men are fitted to perform its functions and fewer still are willing to spend time and means, and throw in their labor without hope of reward as he has done. Notwithstanding this sacrifice, there are doubtless some who will enter complaint against him; some who believe they could have performed the duty better. Nothing has been done, nothing will be done, unless fault is found of the deer. The fault-finder always was and always will be. Whoever leads, there will be persons in the ranks, who think themselves more competent to lead than he led.
The county has been thoroughly canvassed and no town has been without one or more meetings held within its borders. The chairman set out early in the campaign to slight no locality and to furnish a speaker wherever desired. That we have not been able to secure more talent from abroad has been no fault of his. Many times he made the attempt only to receive the unvarying reply: "Washtenaw is safe; you can take care of her; other localities need our services more."
Mr. Richmond has conducted the local campaign vigorously and by honest methods. He can not, would not, stoop to dishonorable means to accomplish anybody's success. Neither has he been extravagant. He has curtailed expense wherever possible. He has filled many appointments to speak at the risk of health, oftentimes traveling overland in rainstorms, freely giving time and effort to further the cause; and more or less out of pocket. His only reward is the victory achieved in the county, which is full and complete save the clerk and register, the latter being possibly elected by a small majority. In the name of the democracy of the county, we assume the privilege of saying: "Well done thou good and faithful servant."
Sylvan.
CHELSEA, NOV. 4.
—The new passenger depot is being completed all but painting which is being done.
—There was unusual quiet and little excitement here election day for a general election.
—Prof. Ogden is preparing the Oration of "Josiah" for the benefit of the library association.
—Mrs. Letts was taken with a congestive chill a few days ago and is now reported to be dangerously ill.
—John C. Taylor was taken with typhoid fever last Friday and is now very sick, but not considered dangerous yet.
—Mr. Myatt Ryan of Ann Arbor, gave some interesting facts here last Sunday night on the customs and people of Burma.
—Mrs. Kanouse of Chelsea, is to address the reform club on temperance next Sunday night at the Congregational church.
—John Barber, one of the old residents of Sylvan, died last night. He was 74 years old and well thought of by his friends and neighbors.
Minister Christiancy through his attorney has succeeded in reducing the allowance for alimony pending the result of the trial from $150 to 100. The reduction was granted upon the strength of an affidavit of Mr. Christiancy. He alleges that he is unable to pay a greater sum by reason of heavy indebtedness and the needs of the rest of his family. He also asserts that none of the charges of cruelty or personal ill-treatment can be proved otherwise than by false testimony; that he believes it necessary for the protection of his rights that he should be present at the taking of testimony; that thus far he has been unable to obtain a divorce from his wife, and that he intends to avail himself of the first opportunity to return home and defend the suit in person.
This state according to its treasurer's report of Oct. 30, has on hand $1,545,890.38, and yet we are called upon to raise the usual amount for another year. We would like to know how much money, the pet banks that hold this money, contributed to run the late republican campaign?

The County.
—H. D. Walter of Bridgewater has purchased of C. M. Fellows of Sharon, five registered ewes.
—Nathan T. White of Ann Arbor township, contemplates removing to Iowa during the coming winter.
—The Farmers' club of Bridgewater, Manchester and Sharon meet at the residence of D. W. Palmer of Bridgewater this evening.
—The young people of the Baptist church society of Manchester will have a carpet-ball social and oyster supper, at Goodyear hall this evening.
—A best hunt, comprising twenty of the best hunters on a side under captaincy of W. H. Starks and Steven Perrin, took place in Manchester yesterday.
—Mr. A. T. Hughes, our Seio correspondent is engaged to teach the winter school in the Knight district of Seio township, and will begin labor on Monday.
—A young man named Wm. Ketchler, who works for George Rawson in Bridgewater, was kicked by a horse and had his arm broken just below the shoulder.
—VanGieson Bros. of Bridgewater shipped three fine stock sheep to Ottawa county, Kansas, last week, the express on which will cost the purchaser forty dollars.
—Some excitement was created election day in Bridgewater over the rumor that one of the citizens of that town voted a republican ticket and went over to Clinton, Lenawee county and did the same thing. It was reported an officer was after him.
—While a party of hunters were out near Ypsilanti Thursday last week they discovered hanging to a tree a body which had been dead for several days. Nothing was found on the person to identify the deceased. $1.50 was found on his person, and evidence of having suffered from a loathsome disease.
—The Manchester Enterprise last week copied three paragraphs from the Ann Arbor Register, eulogizing Joe T. Jacobs republican candidate for senator, but could not say one word in favor of its neighbor, David G. Rose of Sharon. The Enterprise pretends to be neutral politically but its support of Jacobs betrays its profession, and exposes it to the charge of selling out to Jacobs for cash or something.
—Miss Ina F., youngest daughter of supervisor and senator Rose was united in marriage to Mr. Charles A. Duncan of East Saginaw, on the 27th instant. A large gathering of relatives and friends assembled to witness the nuptial ceremony, who left as tokens of esteem a variety of presents. The newly-joined couple will visit New York some time during the winter, when they will return to Duluth, Minn. for future residence.
—The following teachers have been engaged for the township of Bridgewater, for the ensuing winter: Mr. Roller of Manchester, in district 1, or Bridgewater Station; Marion Wheelock, in district No. 2, or Leary's; Archer Crane, in district 3, or Center; Miss L. Howell, in district 4, or Dillingham's; Miss Sarah Zimmerman, in district 5, or Katner's; Clyde Dickerson, in district No. 6, or Lancaster's; Miss Dora Reed is now teaching in district No. 8.
—Thursday morning Mr. Geo. Palmer and son while out hunting, discovered in a clump of trees on Mr. Ward's farm, east of the city, the body of a man hung to a tree. It had evidently hung there some time and had commenced to decay. The man had piled up some stumps and rubbish near by and from this novel scaffold swung into eternity. The body hung on an oak tree, four feet from the ground. The coat, shoes and stockings were off, sleeves rolled up. A bottle of whisky with only a few drops left, lay on the ground. He had a black felt hat, fine woolen shirt, striped overshirt, black frock coat, brown vest, black pants, striped, short whiskers and auburn hair. Name unknown, though there are parties who think they have seen him, but can't recall his name. About thirty-five years old.—Ypsilanti Commercial.
Election in the State.
—Constitutional amendment badly defeated.
—State ticket receives about 38,000 majority. Jerome governor and Crosby, lieutenant-governor receive about 30,000 majority.
—All the nominees on the republican ticket in Wayne county, except Michael Firman, dem., prosecuting attorney and Wm. J. Craig, dem., circuit court commissioner, were elected.
FOR THE NEW YEAR
of the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, of which Dr. R. V. Pierce is president, consisting of a figure of Aesculapian, the Father of Medicine, surmounting the globe, fifty symbols of the world-wide reputation gained by the Family Medicines of Dr. Pierce now manufactured by this incorporated company and sold in all parts of the world. With a mammoth establishment, the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, and a correspondingly large branch establishment in London, this Association make medicines for the whole world—not only that, but they personally examine and treat with special medicines thousands of cases. Among the most celebrated of the proprietary or family medicines are Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—the great blood-purifier, and Dr. Pierce's pleasant purgative pellets (little pills)—and Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed for bowels affections, colds and painful attacks, as colic, neuralgia, and rheumatism.—Favorite Prescription furnishes relief from female weaknesses, and kindred affections. Sold by all druggists.
NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION.
The Law firm of Casson, Freauff & Corbin, is this day dissolved by mutual consent and by express of the several partners, to-wit: Casson, Freauff & Corbin will continue the law and collection business as heretofore.

Dexter Department.
JAMES McNAMARA, Editor.
Dexter's Democracy.
The great political excitement has partially subsided, and it now remains to impart to the people the result thereof. The all-absorbing topic of the day for months past must naturally have interested news theorists attached, democrats in different districts and localities will evince interest in learning how their fellow brethren stood for their party, first, last and all the time. A beautiful day and early voting indicated a heavy vote to be polled here, and such proved to be the case, for at 1 o'clock our streets were a mass of moving humanity interspersed with the usual amount of republican bulldozers eager to catch an unsuspecting democrat by their lusing lies, and extravagant exhortation of their untarnished candidates from that which would have a tendency to stain their political integrity (?) providing—of course—that they were soft enough to take "any stock" in what they said.
The prohibitionists denounced C. B. Whitely for advocating principles derogatory to their cause, but this malicious canard found but few takers among the average voter, as the result below will plainly show.
Large posters were conspicuous on every available spot warning "honest republicans" against "democratic trickery" and bogus tickets, which showed the depth of their wisdom and the ridiculousness of their "scare" as there was no such tickets out. Republican calculators swore by all that was high and holy that our town would scarcely go democratic, and, as is usual the case we never scored a greater victory.
It was obvious to all that Joe T. Jacobs' gratuitous slaughter of facts, and his boasting in general would gain him considerable votes, and so it did.
Considerable splitting was induced in both parties, and for some unknown reason so estimable a candidate as Edward Duffy received a lion share of it. We stated in a previous issue of the Argos that certain alleged democrats were suspected of using subterranean efforts to this end—but luckily enough they were possessed of but little influence, and accomplished but little harm, save showing the will—minus the power.
The popularity of our candidate for the legislature, Jas. S. Gorman, was altogether too much for Joe T. Jacobs' republican opponent. In his own town of Lima Gorman scored two to his one.
The greenbackers polled 42 votes which were curiosities for the amount of cutting they received.
The names of W. D. Harriman and C. B. Whitely secured a power, for they received the largest majorities on the ticket.
The constitutional amendment in regard to Detroit bridge received but little attention by either party. Of the votes cast the majority was largely No. 1.
David G. Rose was disgracefully sacrificed, running nearly 70 behind the ticket.
Withal the democratic majorities went far beyond our most sanguine expectations.
The following are the majorities of each candidate:
Hancock and English electors.....63
W. H. Whibly.....47
State ticket.....82
Joe T. Jacobs (Rep.).....16
Jas. S. Gorman.....67
Wm. D. Harriman.....59
E. W. Whitely.....88
Edward Duffy.....30
Michael Seery.....30
John Knapp.....31
C. B. Whitely.....88
Edward Stephenson.....57
Patrick McKernan.....62
Chas. S. Woodard.....59
Marion Wheelock.....60
Conrad George.....60
York.
MILAN, NOV. 3.
—Cider is sold here at $1 per barrel; cider apples six cents per bushel.
—The election for York was very quiet although a full vote was cast.
—The township of Milan gave a republican majority of 99; the greenback vote 44.
—Joseph Oles and wife have gone to Pennsylvania where they intend to reside.
—The election in York resulted in a majority for the republicans of 19; the greenback vote was 40.
—Mr. McNeill who lived one mile and a half south of Milan died on Nov. 1st, of typhoid pneumonia.
—A. Smith has bought a lot of Mrs. Ada Wilcox on the county line road and will build a house upon it early next season.
—Edwin Willits made a stirring speech at Milan on Oct. 27th, at two o'clock p. m., and E. P. Allen in the evening of the same day.
—Easterly and Whitmarsh have placed a lamp-post and lamp in front of their store. Other merchants here have not made a similar example.
—The greenbackers held their last meeting of the campaign for this vicinity on Nov. 25th, the speaker was a man named Wright, who is a member of the Canadian parliament.
—Edward Gny and Miss Vm. Throop, only daughter of Don, Throop, were married at the residence of the bride's parents on Oct. 30th. A large number of friends of the happy couple were invited. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dunning of Stony Creek.
—It is a noticeable fact at the church at Milan that the farther people sit from the pulpit the greater amount of tobacco juice gets loose from their mouths and is lost upon the floor and other filth accumulates during meetings. Now if there is any significance in the above fact it is quite an easy matter to comprehend it.
—This is the month when those troubled with a cough should go for a twenty-five cent package for one dollar one box Gray's Specific Medicine which is highly recommended as an unfailing remedy and cure for nervous debility. Sold by all druggists.
The partnership heretofore existing under the firm name of Cramer, Freauff & Corbin having this day been dissolved by mutual consent, I shall continue the law and collection business as heretofore, at No. 8 East Washington street, Ann Arbor, where I shall be pleased to see my friends as usual.
