OUR COUNTY FAIR.

BETTER ENTRIES AND BETTER DISPLAYS THAN USUAL.

The Success for Which the Managers Worked.—A Brief Description of the Sights as Seen Wednesday Noon.

Did you ever know a fair week, without rain; the rain didn't come until the entries were made but it arrived Wednesday afternoon in time to prevent a great many from visiting the grounds. The fortieth annual fair was well up to the standard. In fact it was better than usual. In some particulars it beat the state fair. For instance there were better Shorthorns on the ground than exhibited at Jackson and this is only one of several instances.
The officers of the association did hard, faithful work. They deserve the credit for the success of the fair which they are receiving.

These was an absence of games of chance on the ground. A merry-go-round with a number of riders first attracted attention on entering the grounds. There were plenty of stands, and crowds of children watching the process of candy making, just as there usually are on occasions of this kind.

THE VEGETABLES.

There are naturally the first things that one sees, when attempting a hurried round of the grounds. The exhibits are of large and well selected vegetables. The big pumpkins indicate what Washtenaw can grow, as do the enormous beets and rutabagas, the monstrous potatoes and big onions.
The onion exhibit shows some extra large specimens. H. C. Markham showed the best exhibit of potatoes ever made at any of the fairs of the society. There were twenty-seven varieties of potatoes, and all with one or two exceptions, of new varieties. He also showed some fine carrots and beets.
H. C. Clark, the market gardener, as usual, is on hand with a fine display of vegetables of all kinds, which are up to the high standard he has set. John Almand has the sole cauliflower display, but it is an excellent one. Our visit was made Wednesday morning, and it was hard to find out to whom some of the fine looking vegetables belonged.

THE POMOLOGICAL DISPLAY.

John Almand was in his element superintending the fruit and sweetmeat display. You ought not to miss that canned fruit display, by the way, for it is far above the average one. The fruits were excellently canned and perfectly preserved. The Ann Arbor Preserving Company exhibit twenty-seven varieties of canned fruit and pickles. The large bottle of pickles of various kinds was well worth stopping a minute over.
H. C. Markham is the sole exhibitor of honey.

Prof. Emil Baur as usual has a large display of fruit, including eighteen varieties of grapes, twenty-one varieties of pears and sixteen of apples. He exhibits fine specimens of the best varieties. Very fine exhibits of grapes are shown by Evert H. Scott, Jacob Ganzhorn, W. F. Bird, Charles Woodruff and Mrs. L. Gruner. Homer Findlay also exhibits a plate of grapes. Evert H. Scott also has a fine exhibit of large pears, showing twelve varieties. Louis Hall shows eleven varieties of pears and very large ones they are too. S.
M. Mills also has a number of varieties of nice looking pears. The peach exhibit is likewise a good one and was made by J. J. Parrshall, L. Gruner, J. Ganzhorn and W. F. Bird. William Mauldin shows seventeen varieties of apples.
George Sperry, J. Ganzhorn, J. J. Parshall and E. Baur also have fine displays. Quinces are shown by Messrs.
Scott and Ganzhorn. The fruit department, take it all in all, is a decided success.

FLORAL HALL.

Our merchants, manufacturers, photographers and the ladies made flora hall an enjoyable room. As you enter by the eastern door you come upon the displays of J. T. Jacobs & Co. and Schuh & Muehlig, neighbors here as they are in business. Schuh & Muehlig show a very handsome grate and mantel, many varieties of the Garland stove, extra nice gas fixtures and a number of articles of hardware. J. F. Schuh has a good display of sewing machines, which are busily running. J. T. Jacobs & Co. have their booth roofed with American flags denoting their patriotism and nobby styles of gents clothing are shown, fancy suspenders, boxes of gloves, gay silk handkerchiefs, trunks and many gents furnishings are neatly arranged. Wines & Worden have a handsome booth, displaying carpets, curtains and oil cloths. The arrangement shows excellent taste.

Entering the south door, one comes upon the Fine Art and Needle-work department. The ladies have done well this year and a great deal of taste has been shown in arranging the exhibits. The entries are large and it is the verdict of competent judges that never was there a handsomer display. Mrs. Samuel Hendrickson has a dainty hand-

Painted china tea set on exhibition. The painting is carefully and accurately done and the designing shows artistic taste. Miss Mattie Harrigan has a large number of paintings.
In one of them, Judge Harriman's old straw hat, with holes in the rim and one side partially torn away, is shown filled to overflowing with apples. Miss Hendrickson has many other pictures on exhibit, showing her skill with the brush, and one will linger a time over this part of the fair exhibits. Mrs.
Hendrickson also exhibits several paintings, and Miss Cowan has two, one a beautiful lily and the other a crag which forms a resting place for birds.
Miss Miley has a case filled with dainty ladies' fancy work. As one of the ladies expressed it, of course the work is nicely done, for Miss Miley is a professional. Mrs. J. A. Maynard exhibits two handsome crazy quilts and several embroideries. There are a large number of other entries well worthy of mention. Across from this display may be seen a photographic display by Krueger, after seeing which one can well understand why Krueger has so many medals. Some beautiful pastoral scenes are here and also his better known pictures, "Cast up by the Sea," "Hiawatha" and large portraits delineating the subjects to perfection. Mr. Alvin Wilsey has a display of musical instruments, sewing machines, etc., which were not arranged when our reporter made the rounds of the hall. Alphonso Covert has a case of birds, which shows his skill as a taxidermist.

As you enter the west door of the floral hall you find a good display of chemicals and chemical apparatus by Eberbach & Co., for which there exists a wide sale. On the opposite side, Koch & Henne have a parlor and dining room. Much of the parlor furniture is of their own make and all of it is elegant. The sideboard in the dining room is a neat one, and a handsome dressing case is shown. Curtains and draperies are well displayed in arranging the booth. Gibson has a fine display of cabinet photographs, for which he is especially noted, and Lew Clement has a fine display of Haines Bros.' pianos, many smaller musical instruments and sheet music.

Entering the north door, we come upon the exhibit of the Allmendinger Piano and Organ Company. They show their own make of pianos and organs, fine toned instruments, in handsome cases. J. P. Hoffman has a display of musical instruments, pianos, etc., among them being the Herophon, a new and peculiar instrument. A. L.
Noble has a well-filled booth. In it are crowded a great variety of boys' clothing, numbers of canes and umbrellas and handsome styles of gents' furnishing goods. The goods are of good quality, like those in Noble's store.

In the center of the hall, Cousins & Hall have a fine floral display, including both plants and cut flowers. Their green house has been drawn on heavily for the fair, but such quantities of flowers do they have that it has not begun to tax their resources. H. J. Brown has some very pretty cases of druggist fancy articles, which quickly catch the eye.

CARRIAGES AND CARTS.

Ferguson's celebrated road carts are exhibited here, as at nine other fairs this week. They are just as good as they used to be and are now selling in all parts of the union. Mr. Ferguson has built up a first-class business in this city. Wagner & Bro. have a display of fine carriages, dandy buggies and handsome surreys.

THE CATTLE DEPARTMENT.

The cattle stalls are full. The exhibit of shorthorns is said by those who were at the state fair this year, to be much better than those exhibited there.
W. E. Boyden has eleven head of shorthorns among them the big bull, which is probably the largest in the state. H. T. Phelps has eight head of shorthorns, full-blooded and beauties.
Mr. Richard Nowland also exhibits eight head of fine shorthorns. C. C. Warner has two full-blooded shorthorn calves here and very pretty calves they are too. I. E. Wood shows seven head of shorthorns all full-blooded and grades, including a fine seventeen hundred pound two year old bull. J. S. Sperry shows a well-built yearling bull of excellent promise. P. E. Galpin exhibits two cows and a bull, handsome cattle. A.
Wood, of Hickory Grove farm, shows six head of shorthorns. Altogether the shorthorn exhibit is a very fine one.

Mills Bros. are sure to carry off the premiums in Holsteins as they have their fine herd of seventeen head on the grounds, the prize winners at the state fair, and beauties they are. William Bush has a two year old Holstein here.
Jerseys are represented by a herd of eight fine ones belonging to N. B.
Covert, the youngest of which was just half a day old when the reporter made the rounds Wednesday. A right lively youngster it was.

S. O. Tubbs, of Delhi Mills, has a herd of Galloways here, three of which are of the full-blood. They are black cattle without horns, hardy looking and prized by many. Some of the grade Galloways are of a red color, but they all retain the peculiarity of having no horns. The youngest Galloway is a big black calf, five days old.

SWINE.

The cards were not all up, Wednesday, P. H. Rouse exhibits a thoroughbred registered Poland China boar, a large fellow, and three pigs. A. Wood has three pens of Poland Chinas, Tobias Sutherland has four pens of Berkshires.

SHEEP.

The Shropshires were well represented and hold their own as mutton sheep.
John A. Walsh had twelve head of Shropshires and Hampshire Downs on exhibition. He took first prize on the Hampshires, first on unregistered Shropshire yearlings, first on three-year-olds and second on registered. E. E. Leland had some fine registered Shropshires, three of which were imported.
He took first prize on registered ram, first on registered yearling ewe, first on registered lamb, second on ewe lambs and second on two-year-old ewes. E.
A. Garlock, of Howell, had six Shropshires on exhibition, some of which were prize winners. William Bush exhibited eight of his fine flock of Shropshires and captured the first prizes on two-year-old ewe and pair of lambs and the second on three-year-olds. He has twenty-two Shropshire lambs for sale, of seven-eighths blood, which weigh 1923 pounds.

The Merinos were well represented and there were some fine specimens there. A. A. Wood had a very large number there, some of which had been many times decorated with blue and red ribbons. R. W. Mills and C. R.
Parsons also had the pick of fine flocks there.

HORSES.

The department of horses is filled to overflowing. Handsome horses, useful horses, gay horses, well-bred horses.
Young horses predominated. The number of entries in all classes was large.

Eugene Helber, of Saline, exhibits some very handsome Cleveland bays.
Lord Wenlock, No. 258 is a three year old beauty, a bay horse with black prints and black mane and tail. He has a grand neck, back and loin. Two mares three and four years old are shown. These are just the breed for carriage horses.

Orcutt's three year old Hambletonian stallion, Don O'Dell is a fine horse, a graceful mover, a handsome animal—in fact what is termed, "pretty as a picture."

C. A. Lemen exhibits Alloo, a three year old Hambletonian sired by Agile, dam by Golden and Pendinnis Sprague, sired by Pendennis, dam by Governor Sprague.

A. Gorslin shows Golden Gate, a seal brown six year old, sixteen hands high, dam, Blandina by Mambrino chief, sire, Annapolis, by Woodford's Mambrino.

C. C. Warner exhibits an immense two year old horse, a son of Raven.

The rainy weather Thursday greatly lessened the attendance but about $700 was taken in at the gates. Capt. Allen, the speaker for the republicans advertised in small hand bills, failed to appear. A further account of the fair will be given next week.

Trains from Here to East Saginaw.

The Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan railroad has purchased the Toledo, Durand and Saginaw road which has just been completed and runs between Durand and East Saginaw.
Through passenger trains will be placed on the road running between East Saginaw and Toledo. This will give Ann Arbor more trains a day going north and south on the road and will open up a new country. It is expected that the running of these trains will commence about October 10th and the running time of all the trains on the "Ann Arbor" road will be changed at that time.

Ten cars of steel rails passed through here, Wednesday, for the extension of the road north of Cadillac. The road now has 1,200 men and four construction trains at work building the road north of Cadillac. The men are laying, on the average, a mile of road a day and at this rate it will not be long before the road strikes the lake. The "Ann Arbor" road is pushing out rapidly and gives Ann Arbor much better facilities as a shipping point and also makes it easier to get to Ann Arbor from any part of the state. The road is opening up a rich and unworked territory and Ann Arbor ought to be a good point for the establishment of manufactories.

To Remain Longer.

Professor Phillips, scientific optician, stopping with Wm. Arnold, jeweler, will remain next week by request. Do not fail to see the professor, if you are troubled with sight or eyes. All examinations free.

Call and have your eyes tested free, by Prof. Phillips, at Wm. Arnold's, until Oct. 7th.

ALARM ON THE BORDER.

A General Massacre of Texas Citizens Feared.

MEXICAN MOB AT RIO GRANDE CITY.

Howling for the Life of Revenue Officer Sebree, Who Killed Editor Garza—Texas Rangers Ordered to the Scene by Governor Ross—An International Complication Probable.

New York, Sept. 25.—The Austin, Tex., correspondent of The Herald telegraphs as follows: The most alarming telegrams continue to pour in on Governor Ross, informing him that there is war, bloody and fierce, now raging on the Texas frontier, and that Rio Grande city is in possession of an armed Mexican mob. All the telegrams thus received have come either from John P. Kel-

STREET SCENE IN RIO GRANDE CITY.

sey, county judge of Starr county, or the sheriff, and each succeeding one is more startling and sensational than the other.
They all demand troops immediately, and convey the impression, in plain words, that Anarchy runs riot on the border, and that the lives of American citizens in that section are in imminent peril.

This extraordinary and sensational state of affairs had its origin in the fatal encounter which took place in Rio Grande city last Saturday between Catrino E. Garza, editor of El Comercio Mexicano, and United States Revenue Officer Victor Sebree. In the fight Sebree shot and killed Garza, who was very popular all along the Rio Grande, and as a result the Mexicans rose in revolt and endeavored to lynch Sebree. The Texas officials, however, saved him for the time being from the fury of the mob, and wired Governor Ross as follows:

"Great riot is raging here. Armed men are parading the streets. Send state rangers or call on United States troops at Fort Ringgold."

This dispatch was followed by another from Mr. T. W. Kennedy, member of the legislature, as follows:

"Send all the available troops you can, and at once. Armed Mexicans are in control of the city and the county."

Similar messages of consternation kept coming, the last one reading as follows: "A fight has just taken place between two Mexicans and one American, one Mexican killed.
The Mexicans now demand the American to be delivered to them. Riot prevented by placing the American under arrest."

Another telegram reads: "Over 150 armed Mexicans are attempting to lynch Sebree.
Send rangers at once. The riot continues."

Rio Grande city is eighty miles from the nearest railroad station, and it is extremely difficult to reach. Governor Ross has, notwithstanding, ordered the entire ranger force of Texas to proceed with all possible haste to the scene of the battle, as the massacre of Texas citizens is feared. The Mexicans outnumber, ten to one, the white citizens in that section, and there is no telling to what excesses they will resort, especially as they have no difficulty in escaping to Mexico if it suits them. Governor Ross has also telegraphed all the sheriffs of all the counties on the border, or contiguous to it, to proceed by forced marches to the troubled district, and take armed possees along with them. He likewise telegraphed to the San Antonio rifles, to the Belknap rifles, and the famous Houston Light guard to hold themselves in readiness to march at a moment's notice.

It is believed there will be a general massacre of Texas citizens unless the United States troops from Fort Ringgold come to their rescue. The event is likely to lead to an international complication and should a massacre occur swift and wholesale retribution is certain to follow. Governor Ross says the situation is extremely grave, and the absence of advices for several hours gives rise to the worst fears.

Will the County Pay It.

Our readers will remember that a woman named Elizabeth Walker Susannah Theobald, fifty-two years of age, living on the Isle of Thanet in England, had set up a claim of being an own cousin of Thomas Harvey, who died in Manchester, April 15, 1873, leaving an estate valued at $4,556.66 for which no claimant had appeared. The money was paid into the county treasury and the county has had it for some years. Mrs.
Theobald filed her claim in the probate court and on last Friday, Judge Harriman rendered a decree, awarding her the money as the rightful claimant.
Three demands have been made upon Treasurer Belser in accordance with the order of the court, for the payment of the amount to Mrs. Theobald, but Mr. Belser has refused to pay over the amount on the advice of the prosecuting attorney. Prosecuting Attorney Norris has taken an appeal from the decision of the probate court. The matter will come up probably at the meeting of the board of supervisors week after next.

Professor Phillips, optician, again next week (until Oct. 7) at Wm. Arnold's jewelry store. All tests free.

"Nasal Voices, Catarrh and False Teeth."

A prominent English woman says the American women all have high, shrill nasal voices and false teeth. Americans don't like the constant twittering they get about this nasal twang, and yet it is a fact caused by our dry stimulating atmosphere, and the universal presence of catarrhal difficulties.

But why should so many of our women have false teeth? That is more of a poser to the English. It is quite impossible to account for it except on the theory of deranged stomach action caused by imprudence in eating and by want of regular exercise.

Both conditions are unnatural. Catarrh troubles everywhere prevail and end in cough and consumption, which are promoted by mal-nutrition and induced by deranged stomach action. The condition is a modern one, unknown to our ancestors who prevented the catarrh, cold, cough and consumption by abundant and regular use of what is known as Warner's Log Cabin cough and consumption remedy and Log Cabin sarsaparilla, two old-fashioned standard remedies handed down from our ancestors, and now exclusively put forth under the strongest guarantees of purity and efficacy by the world-famed makers of Warner's safe cure.

These two remedies plentifully used as the fall and winter season advance, together with an occasional use of Warner's Log Cabin rose cream, to strengthen and protect the nasal membranes, give a positive assurance of freedom, both from catarrh and those dreadful and if neglected, inevitable consequences, pneumonia, lung troubles and consumption, which so generally and fatally prevail among our people.

Comrade Eli Fisher, of Salem, Henry Co., Iowa, served four years in the late war and contracted a disease called consumption by the doctors. He had frequent hemorrhages. After using Warner's Log Cabin cough and consumption remedy, he says, under a date of Jan. 19th, 1888: "I do not bleed at the lungs any more, my cough does not bother me, and I do not have any more smothering spells." Warner's Log Cabin rose cream cured his wife of catarrh and she is "sound and well."

Of course we do not like to have our women called nose talkers and false teeth owners, but these conditions can be readily overcome in the manner indicated.

An Epigrammatic Statement.

Is there anything in this world so vile as the pestilent presence of potent bile? We have it, we hate it, we all revile the noxious nausea, as did Carlyle. But why bewail what soon is mended? Take P. P. P., and have it ended. All praise the power of "Pierce's Pellets."

Wise people buy and druggists sell it.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Eberbach & Son's drug store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, cold, asthma, bronchitis, croup and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle guaranteed.

Peculiarities of American Eyes.

The efforts of the war department to secure a field glass for the service of greater power than the one they now use has discovered the fact that the eyes of the average American are closer together than those of men in foreign countries. The double glass, known as the field glass, now used is weaker than that used in the armies of Europe. It is of only from five to six powers—entirely too weak for the purpose. The only glass they can get of sufficient power is a single spy glass, which is defective in that it does not take in a broad enough field. This is a very serious defect in the equipment of the American army, but there seems to be no immediate prospect of its correction, because our eyes are too close together. Some of the colored troops may be able to use a different glass, but the white Yankee soldier cannot overcome the national peculiarity. The best military field glass in use is that with which the German army is supplied. An attempt was made to adopt them by the war department, but it was found that the eyes of the glasses were so far apart that they could not be used by Americans. The department is studying how to overcome this difficulty.—Washington Letter.

A Deep Distinction.

Little Winifred was visiting at her aunt's and the children were very much amused by her funny speeches. "You think you are very smart, don't you?" one of the boys said teasingly. "Yes, I think I am, but I know better," the thoughtful little girl answered.—Youth's Companion.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other."

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." Mrs. ELLA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

Senatorial Convention.

The Democratic Senatorial convention for the purpose of nominating a Senator in the State Legislature for the 4th. Senatorial district, comprising the counties of Washtenaw and Monroe will be held at the village of Milan on Tuesday the 2nd day of October, 1888, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

By order of Senatorial Committee.

The democrats have made a good nomination for representative in the second district. James M. Loudon will make a good member of the legislature.

We are looking for the Pittsfield and Lodi democrats to give a good account of themselves this fall. Those poles should mark the polar road for the republicans.

If you buy a set of crockery which costs you $12, you pay a tax of $6.60. Did you ever stop to think of it? If the Mills bill had passed you could have purchased that crockery for $9.60 and the tax would only have been $4.20.

The Courier this week affirms that free trade between nations as between states is a beautiful sentiment. No republican protectionist can afford to vote for candidates supported by such a free trade paper. Of course this squib is arrant nonsense, but it is a fair sample of Courier editorials.

HENRY A. ROBINSON, who ran in the Detroit district two years ago, for congress on the republican and labor tickets, has declared for Cleveland and tariff reform and is out with a strong letter supporting his position. He is a recognized labor leader in Detroit, everywhere respected for his honesty. His letter and influence will have a good effect in this state.

Horatio Seymour on being asked what the farmers most needed at the hands of the government, replied "Relief from some of the burdens of taxation." To the inquiry "what was their next greatest need?" he replied "relief from some more of the burdens of taxation." That is just what the farmers want today—relief from some of the burdens of taxation.

The Courier this week finds nothing better to write about than pitching into Mr. Stearns, our nominee for congress and into the Argus. We don't care to reply, but we will say that insinuations regarding a candidate for office, which a paper knows to be untrue, it ought not to publish. It so weakens its editorial columns that its opinions, assertions and arguments come to be regarded as worthless.

Nor very long ago, the Adrian Times and the Ann Arbor Register called attention to the great type trusts which were grinding down the newspaper publishers and called for the abolition of the tariff on type as a sure means of breaking up the trust. The Mills bill reduces the tariff on type from 25 percent to 15 per cent and yet the Times and the Register have not a word of praise for the Mills bill, but make the absurd claim that it will ruin the industries of the country. It may ruin a few trusts but that would be a great blessing.

The republicans are claiming everything this year, admitting nothing. So desperate are they, that they are even resorting to forgeries to regain power. We refer now to a campaign card with the English flag at the head and supposed extracts from English papers to the effect that the only use England has for an Irishman is to send him to America to vote for free trade. The quotations are forgeries. They were never found in the papers from which they were pretended to be quoted. Their case must be desperate indeed when they seek to win by such means.

SOME of our republican exchanges are talking of Cleveland as an enemy of the soldier. There never was a time in the history of this government since the war when there were more union soldiers employed in her service than now. If that is being an enemy of the soldiers, no doubt our boys in blue wish they had more such enemies. President Cleveland has appointed just seventeen pension agents, sixteen of these were union soldiers and the other one is the widow of a union soldier. The only other pension agent now in office is a union soldier appointed by Arthur and kept in office by Cleveland.

THE present tariff is a tariff which discriminates against the poor and in favor of the rich. For instance the duty on common woolen shawls is 86 per cent but on the finest India shawls it is only 40 1/2 per cent. Spool thread pays a duty of 51 per cent but the finest thread lace pays only 30 per cent. Castor oil pays a duty of 180 per cent but otter of roses is admitted free of duty. Horse-shoe nails pay a duty of 116 per cent but gold studs are admitted with only 25 per cent duty. And so you may run through the list. The necessities of life are heavily taxed, the luxuries more lightly. The tariff sadly needs revision. Lower the tax on the necessities of life which the poor man must have!

BLAINE'S continual barking at Cleveland reminds us of the parrot and the owl: "There was a small mealy parrot once that found himself in the same cage with an owl. He looked at the owl and he didn't like him. The more he look at him the less he liked him. And at last he turned on the owl and said: 'You have got no style about you anyhow. Your eyes look like a tapioca pudding with a black bead in the middle. You're no good.' In about a minute the owl hopped down and picked the parrot clean to the skin. As soon as he could collect his thoughts, the parrot leaned his head up against the side of the cage and said: 'Great Heavens! I talk too much.'"—Pontiac Gazette.

THE democrats stand for reduction of taxation both in the nation and state. To show how taxation grows under the republicans we have only to contrast the state taxes in Michigan in 1884, the last year of a democratic governor, Begole, with the taxes of 1887, under Luce and see. The taxes of 1885, the first year of Alger, can also be included in the comparison to indicate how expenses are steadily growing.

Table with 2 columns: Year, Taxes. 1884 (Begole) $86,123.90; 1885 (Alger) 1,655,361.40; 1887 (Luce) 1,950,085.76

We hear some republican friends caviling that 1884 was the low tax year of Begole's administration and 1887, the high tax year of Luce's administration. Let them gaze on these figures.

Table with 2 columns: Year, Taxes. Taxes Two Years Under Luce $3,408,551.20; Taxes Two Years Under Begole 2,372,795.19

Increased Taxation $1,135,756.04. Is not that an enormous increase for four years? How long can the people stand fifty per cent increase in taxation? Do they want another two years of Luce and high state taxation?

If a high tariff raises wages by keeping out the foreign goods, why is it that China, which has been protected for centuries only pays twenty cents a day for skilled labor? As one of our protection friends remarked the other day, "China is so thickly settled, that makes wages lower." Apply that argument to England, then. She is much more thickly settled than this country. Is that not ample reason for wages being lower, according to our protectionist friend? But why, if protection lowers wages, have wages in England increased fifty per cent since she adopted free trade? Will some of our protection friends study over that problem a little. If that is to hard a problem for them to answer, perhaps they can answer this. The average amount of wages paid by the protected manufacturer in producing $1 worth of goods is less than 20 cents, while the average tariff is 47 cents. The question is how much of that 27 cents goes into the manufacturer's pocket and how much is fried out of him to elect the republican candidate for president?

THE democratic administration is doing more work for less money than previous republican administrations. The clerks in the departments at Washington are required to work. Take for instance the second comptroller office in the treasury department. During the last three years of the republican administration there were employed 75 clerks. During the first three years of democratic administration 71 clerks. But the 71 clerks under democratic administration did more than double the amount of work done by the 75 clerks under republican administration. For instance the republican clerks averaged 25,665 claims and accounts examined yearly, while the democratic clerks averaged 51,231 yearly. The democratic clerks wrote 7,360 letters per year while the republican clerks wrote 1,750 letters yearly. The democratic clerks examined 2,431,512 vouchers while the republican clerks examined 1,196,971 vouchers. Nor is this merely an isolated instance. The same thing can be shown in other departments. The democratic administration is an economical administration.

THE last democratic governor of Michigan before the war, was Robert McClelland who served his second term in the years 1853 and 1854. These are the last years in which the democrats controlled the state government of Michigan. Since that date Michigan has elected republican governors, excepting in 1882 when Begole was elected, since that date Michigan's legislatures have been republican. The years 1853 and 1854 were, then, the last years in which the democrats controlled the state government and legislation. In the year 1853 the state taxation was only $10,000. In 1854, it was only $30,000. Compare this last two years of democratic administration with the last two of republican administration. In 1887, state taxes were $1,950,085.16. In 1888 they were $1,458,466.04. In the last two years of republican administration state taxes were $3,408,551.20. In the last two years of democratic administration the taxes were $40,000. Of course the state could not be supported on such a small amount as that alone. But we must remember that the state had been managed by democrats for a series of years and had become forehanded. The state population in 1854 was 507,521. In 1884 it was 1,853,658. In other words, our population is not more than four times as large, but our taxes are eighty-five times as heavy.

THE TARIFF TAX—WHO PAYS IT?

In one breath the Republican expounders of protection—the paper Chinese wall designed to shut foreign poachers out of the domestic preserves—tell their hearers that the duty laid on imports does not increase the price of the protected article to the consumer,—in fact that it cheapens the taxed fabric in the market; then, failing to explain to the satisfaction of some curious and incredulous inquisitor how such an absurdity can be, they assert that the foreign manufacturer or producer of the imported goods pays the duty and contributes that much to the support of our government. If this be so, it is easy to determine just how much the employer of free trade pauper labor in England, or protected pauper labor in France, Germany, Italy or elsewhere, is willing to pay for the privilege of selling the products of his factory, field or vineyard in competition with the protected manufacturer and producer—not employee or laborer—of the United States in the markets of the United States. A few illustrations ought to suffice.

I. The duty on prepared opium is $10 a lb., an average duty on the importations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887, of 110 per cent. The importations for the same year were 60,902 lbs.; the invoice valuation on which duty was paid, $549,040; and the duty paid $609,020. What must the combined capital and philanthropy of the Turkish or other opium producers, be to induce or enable him to give our government a bonus of $609,020 to secure the sale of $549,040 worth of his poppy juice? The stupidity of such a deal would indicate that he had fed on his own opium.

II. The duty imposed on window glass over 16x24 and under 24x30 inches is 2 3/4 cents a pound or over 106 per cent. The importations of the last fiscal year were 16,419,970 pounds, the invoice valuation $307,146, and if our republican friends are right in the statement as to who pays the duty, the foreign manufacturer paid to Uncle Sam's custom house collectors $389,974 for the privilege of filling American windows with $367,146 worth of glass. The duty on window glass larger than 24x30 inches is 10 1/2 per cent., and the foreign manufacturer contributed in the same year $506,242 for the pleasure (if not profit) of selling to our importers $466,603 worth of glass. On plate glass above 24x60 inches in size the duty is 50 cents a square foot, or 152.94 percent. Anxious to give the universal Yankee nation unobstructed light and a good bargain, the enterprising and generous foreign manufacturer of plate glass donated to the already plethoric treasury of our paternal government $853,368 for the privilege of unloading in a mission of pure charity—the protection of their brother glass manufacturers in Indiana—$57,968 worth of plate glass. And taking the whole glass schedule, the whole-souled foreign manufacturers voluntarily paid duties aggregating $4,510,312 on the $7,301,340 worth of glass sold to the American importer. Isn't that shedding one's light abroad almost without money and without price.

III. The duty on spirits distilled from grain is $2 a gallon, or 396.43 per cent. The importations for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1887, were 645,873 gallons, invoiced at $325,846, and the duty collected, $1,291,747. The same year $450,156 duty was paid on $118,715 worth of spirits distilled from other materials, or 379.19 per cent. If this duty was paid by the foreign distillers one would naturally think that both their capital and spirits would soon be depressed, and that the American consumer would have to rely on home production for stimulus and motive power. The same year the cigar makers and tobacco growers of Cuba, Spain and elsewhere generously deposited in the treasury vaults $3,563,298 in order to work off $3,301,177 worth of cigars and $5,333,523, worth of tobacco in order to induce American manufacturers to use $7,493,662 worth of unmanufactured leaf. Verily, was such liberality ever heard of before. It exceeds even that of the G. O. P., which proposes to take off the internal revenue tax from home-grown tobacco, and home-made spirits in aid of agriculture, and to insure the families of the consumers of tobacco and alcoholic beverages, better living.

Not to multiply illustrations, it is safe to say that the statement that the foreign manufacturer and not the consumer pays the duty is the baldest falsehood that can be uttered. By the inevitable laws of trade, all articles of commerce, whether grown or manufactured, go to the consumer with their cost of production increased by the commission or profit of the importer, jobber, broker, and retail dealer, plus taxes, freights, insurance and any other charges before the consumer comes into possession. And if protection protects, the home manufacturer or producer increases the sale prices of his products of whatever name to the limit of the import duty. E. B. P.

The Old Doctors

Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it; hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due, not to over-abundance, but to impurity, of the Blood; and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned." — J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

The story is told of a Lapeer county nag that has attained the venerable age of 30 years, which has been traded so often that when stranger approaches, the v. n. voluntarily opens its mouth to show that it has the teeth of a young horse, and is therefore valuable trading property.

An express train on the Saginaw, Tuscola & Huron railway struck a burned section near Berne station and left the rails, and was afterward entirely destroyed by fire. Several bad bruises resulted from the accident but no one was killed. The smoke was so dense from the forest fires of the vicinity that one could see but a few feet away.

A lady living at Lexington claims to know all about the Crouch murder case that once caused so much commotion at Jackson, and that she's able to clear away the mystery that has hitherto surrounded that bloody transaction. We give this as a pointer to the detectives who worked so long and unsuccessfully on the case.

'Tis claimed that the forgeries of Miss Jennie Sweatland, committed when that lady was employed as a clerk in the Kalamazoo abstract office, will amount to at least $10,000. Jennie is now in jail.

A Lansing man died the other day and was gathered to his fathers as even the Lansing man must do and his eight big brothers acted as pall-bearers at the funeral.

An East Saginaw dry goods establishment extensively advertised its opening day, and 5,000 ladies swarmed through the establishment on that occasion. And the lazy, shiftless, sleepy merchant still drew out the old tuns—advertising—don't—pay.

MATRIMONY BY WHOLESALE.

Mr. Brown's Too Numerous Nuptial Enterprises Weigh Him Down.

DETROIT, Sept. 26.—The recorder's court yesterday afternoon swarmed with women. There were old and young women, blondes and brunettes, Lomely and comely women. They formed a small contingent of the dupes who once thought they were lawful wives of James W. Brown, who is reported to have been married thirty-seven times since 1873. Brown, supported by an officer on either side, came in palatial and decrepit. He looked neither to the front nor to the rear of him, shunning the eyes of the women. A few minutes later another female contingent arrived, followed by several persons in clerical garb and sorrowful mien, who had each performed marriage ceremonies in which Brown had figured as bridegroom. There were by actual count just nineteen women and five preachers present who we re, or had been personally and directly interested in Brown. Then the trial began, the specific charge against Brown being that of unlawfully marrying Mary Benjamin on the 27th day of August, 1887, at Detroit, while he yet had another wife living. The evidence was convincing, and Brown was speedily found guilty. He will be sentenced in a day or two.

BEDELL'S WICKENDESS.

It Results in the Suicide of Cashier Charles E. Dodge.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Charles E. Dodge, cashier of the law firm of Shipman, Barlow, Laroque & Choate, the losers of something over $50,000 by the forgeries of their confidential clerk, James E. Bedell, was found dead in his bed at his house, 61 Townsend avenue, Clifton, S. I., Tuesday morning. The gas was turned on, but unlighted, and the room was filled with gas.

At the office of the law firm ex-Judge Shipman said: "Mr. Dodge has been with us for ten years and we had implicit faith in him and believe that he was perfectly honest. He has been very much distressed by the discovery of Bedell's forgeries and was doubtless more or less worked up at the idea that he had been even innocently an aid to him in his nefarious work. We have found Mr. Dodge's books perfectly straight in every item, and not the slightest suspicion has ever been attached to him."

What ails the young men? Robert Garrett's father left him a fortune of twenty million. He was from childhood reared in luxury; he received a splendid education with an especial training into the thorough knowledge of railroad management and was expected to succeed his father as a railroad king.

Within three years after the responsibilities which his father's death threw upon him were assumed, he is reported a broken down man, with mind and health permanently shattered.

George Law is another young man left with millions of money, who is reported among the "wrecks." His father, bred a stone mason, was of gigantic size and strength, with commensurate brain power, so he became a great contractor, then a railroad king and left a half dozen millions for his son to dissipate. The young man is a success as a dissipator.

The founders of both of these estates were born in the most humble walks of life, grew strong, mentally and physically, by simple living and honest labor and developed into financial giants. Their sons were reared in the lap of luxury and developed into intellectual pigmies.

The great men of our country have not, as a rule, come from the elegant mansions of the cities, but from the Log Cabins of the rural districts. Simple ways of living, freedom from dissipation and enervating pleasures, simple remedies for disease, effective and which leave no poison in the system, develop brawny, brainy men, who compel the world to recognize their strength and power.

The wholesome, old-fashioned Log Cabin remedies are the safest and surer for family use. Our grandmothers knew how to prepare the teas and syrups of roots, herbs and balsams which drive disease out of the system by after-methods and leave no after ill effects. The most potent of these old time remedies were, after long and searching investigation secured by H. H. Warner of safe cure fame, and are now put out for the "healing of the nations" in the Warner's Log Cabin remedies.

Regulate the regulator with Warner's Log Cabin sarsaparilla and with pure blood giving health, strength, mental and bodily vigor, you may hope to cope successfully with the most gigantic financial problems of the age, without wrecking health and manhood.

Why, I distinctly recall in the office of a once leading Sunday newspaper, seeing upon the desk of the society editor, as he was called, a poor devil to whom they paid $4 a week for furnishing from four to fourteen columns of society rot, a bushel of letters at a time, and every one of them contained either a ticket to some place of entertainment, or a bit of gossip from Mr. Toodles, or Mr. Traddles, concerning a betrothal, a wedding, a social festivity of some sort or kind, with the names of the guests, and quite likely the cost of the whole affair. Now who was to blame the $4 a week man or Mr. Traddles, who sent the information, inclosing a $5 bill to secure its publication?—Joe Howard in New York Graphic.

Bismarck in a Passion.

When you are on good terms with Bismarck there is no better companion. His originality of thought is only surpassed by his originality of expression. Some of his repartees are characteristic. "What do you care?" he asked me one day, "when you are angry? I don't think you get angry as often as I do." "Bah!" I replied, "I never get angry except at the stupidity of people, never at their wickedness." "Don't you find that it is then a great relief to smash something?" he continued. "It's lucky that you are not in my place, for there would soon not be a whole piece of furniture left in the house." "Do you see the chamber of the Emperor William?" he added, pointing to the bath chalet at Gastein, where this conversation took place. "I was in a terrible rage there once. I left the room; in banging the door the key remained in my hand; I went to Lehndorff's and threw it against a washbowl, breaking the bowl into a thousand pieces. 'Are you ill?' said Lehndorff. 'I was,' I replied, 'but now I am perfectly well!'"—Count Beust's Memoir.

FEDERATION ADOPTED.

Proceedings of the Switchmen's Aid Association at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25.—In the Switchmen's Aid association meeting Tuesday morning the plan of federation as proposed by the Firemen's brotherhood was adopted, and Messrs. Bailey, Sweeney and Downey were appointed a committee to confer with the locomotive engineers, firemen, brakemen, railway telegraphers and the Knights of Labor to complete the work of federation. The details of the plan are carefully concealed, but from the fact that a conference is to be held with the telegraphers and the Knights of Labor, it is the opinion that the plan embraces both these bodies, as well as the four original railroad men's organizations. Officers for the ensuing year were then elected as follows: Grand master, Frank Sweeney; vice grand master, John Downey; grand organizer, George S. Bailey; grand secretary and treasurer, William A. Simrott; board of directors, J. W. Callahan, S. K. Hardin, J. Scullin, E. M. Hutchinson and J. M. Kelly.

The Partridge as a Drummer.

During the time the hen was laying her eggs and setting, he often gave us the "stormy music of his drum." It was small trill to arrange bushes on a fence near by so that one could creep up unseen and get a full view of the gallant thunderer perched on a knotty old hemlock log mossy, and half buried in the ground and "children of a larger growth" as well as the boys and girls, availed themselves of the opportunity. Of the many who saw him in the act of drumming I do not recall one who had a correct idea beforehand of the way in which the "partridge thunder" is produced. It was supposed to be made by the striking of the bird's wings either against the log or against his body; whereas it was now plainly to be seen that the performer stood straight up, like a junk bottle, and brought his wings in front of him with quick, strong strokes, smiting nothing but the air—not even his "own proud breast," as one distinguished observer has suggested.

Wilson thinks the drumming may be heard nearly half a mile. He might safely have doubted the distance, though, when we consider the low pitch, B flat, second line in bass staff, the fact is surprising. The tones somewhat resemble those of any deep drum, being very deceptive as to distance, often sounding near when far off, and far off when near. I would describe the drumming as a succession of thumps, the first dozen of which may be compared to the first three or four of a comparatively slow, then they increase rapidly in force and frequency, rushing onward into a furious whirl, the whirl subsiding into a sudden, but graduated, diminuendo. The entire power of the partridge must be thrown into this exercise. His appearance immediately afterward attests this, as well as the volume of sound, for drooping as if he would never move again. In a few minutes, however, perhaps five, he begins to have nervous motions of the head, up, up it goes and his body with it, till he is perfectly erect—legs, body, neck and all. And then for the thunder once more.—Simeon Pease Cheney in The Century.

TRY IT YOURSELF.

"It is of no use to argue the question, Philip, I am neither stubborn nor opinionated, I have simply had a lesson that will last a lifetime."

"Look here Jack! you are like some old bachelor that has been jilted by one woman and goes about declaring all women are false."

"Not at all my brother Charley died of Bright's disease, brought on by using one of these so called 'blood purifiers'—the kind you see attractively advertised in every book and corner. It contains iodide of potassium, a drug useful in extreme cases when cautiously given under a doctor's supervision, but dealing to all who take it in quantity. If your brother had died under such circumstances, you would have patent medicines as I do."

"I do dislike the name of that mis-called 'blood purifier,' for I have heard a first class physician say it is the cause of half the cases of Bright's disease in the country, and it is strange the proprietors have not been prosecuted for selling it. But I was recommending Vinegar Bitters and that does not contain any mineral, narcotic or other hurtful drug."

"On, nobody supposes that old woman's remedy will hurt anybody; the question is will it cure anything? I'd as soon think of taking some of my grandmother's herb tea."

"You would be better off, Jack, if you had some of that tea to tone up your system now, instead of taking a glass of branly to make you s eep one night and perhaps a bottle of beer the next."

"Is this a temperance lecture, Phil?"

"No, it is a Vinegar Bitters lecture. I've taken the medicine more or less for fifteen years, and look the world over, you will not find a healthier man than I am."

"What is all this nonsense about old style and new style Vinegar Bitters; are they different?"

"Yes, the old style looks like coffee with milk in, the new style like coffee without milk. The man who made the old style for twenty years—a practical chemist—made a milder, pleasanter preparation, adding to it here, and taking from it there, until he produced, my wife says, the finest medicine ever made. It cured her of constipation, and it cures the children of hives and all the little ailments they ever have. If my wife thinks they have worms, she does them with old style. We always have both kinds in the house, and together, they keep the doctor away."

"And you insist that the proof of the pudding—"

"Is in the eating—precisely. Jack, get a bottle of the old style Vinegar Bitters—men, I think, prefer old style usually—try it, and you will then be like an old bachelor, who after railing against women for years, falls in love with a good woman at last. You will say there are good and bad patent medicines, but Vinegar Bitters is the best of the lot."

"All right, Phil, to please you, I'll try it and report results."

Death of Mrs. L. J. Liesimer. Mrs. Louis J. Liesimer died at her home in this city at eight o'clock last Wednesday evening of typhoid fever, from which she had been seriously ill for a couple of weeks. Mrs. Liesimer had been the local editor of the Wash-taw Post since the establishment of that paper by her husband. She was possessed of many accomplishments, finely educated and was a good writer in both German and English. She graduated from the Ypsilanti normal school and at the age of eighteen was made preceptress of the Hudson schools. Hers had been an active, busy life, and the friends she fastened to her will greatly mourn her loss. To her husband her loss will be irreparable. She had been indeed a helpmate for him. She leaves a little daughter. The funeral services will be held at 10:40 a. m. to-morrow (Saturday) from the house. She Wants a Divorce. Mrs. Favoretta Nina Neir, of Ypsilanti, filed a bill last Saturday in the circuit court asking for a divorce from George W. Neir, whom she married September 5, 1883, at Dixboro. The couple have two children aged four and two years. Mrs. Neir asks for the divorce on the ground of desertion. She claims that four months after the marriage, he left her for a year. He then returned and they afterwards lived together at Battle Creek, where in January, 1887, he drew his wages, handed her a dollar and departed for parts unknown, since which time she has supported herself and children. Afterwards, she says, she went to Petoskey at his request. He left word that he had gone to the timber woods and would be out in the spring. Spring came and though he came once or twice to see the children, he failed to support them or her and she lost track of him again. So she came home to her father's in Ypsilanti. She did not know where he was, until two days before she filed her bill, when she heard that he was working for a farmer in Superior. She describes her husband as a healthy, able-bodied man, twenty-four years of age.

Robbed by Their Conductors. NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Much excitement has been caused in the railway circles here by the discovery that the Wagner Palace Car company has been robbed by their conductors of a sum reported to aggregate some $50,000. The thieves, it is said, has been carried on systematically for some months past by the conductors, and there seems to be no immediate possibility of convicting the thieves. Numerous conductors have already been discharged, no explanations being offered. The first clue to the robbery is reported to have been gained through the remarks of a conductor overheard in a Sixth avenue restaurant. Shortly after the chief check clerk, Smith, mysteriously vanished, and nothing has been heard of him since, though it is supposed that he is in Canada.

HARRISON AND THE IRISH.

An Emphatic Statement From an Irishman of Honor. The Catholic News reprints the following article thus commending it to the attention of all loyal Irishmen: When the republic in papers and politicians attempt to face Mr. William Condon down in his statement of Harrison's fatal abuse on the Irish, they will find they are not brushing aside a lying allegation by some irresponsible little campaign prevaricator, but are facing the solemn assertion of an old citizen and influential business man of unblemished reputation, and whose word is as good as his bond. It cannot be set aside on the flimsy ground that some other man fails to recall it. Mr. Wm. Condon, Sr., was seen by a Bulletin reporter and asked as to the statements as to this morning's Pantagraph in reference to his charge against Harrison for having slandered the Irish people. Mr. Condon has talked the matter over with gentlemen who also heard Harrison's vile speech here at Dudley hall, and has come to the conclusion that it was in the campaign of 1876 and not eight years ago. Mr. Condon said: "Harrison the republican presidential candidate, spoke here on an afternoon a few days before the election of 1876, and Colfax spoke in the evening of the same day, I think, although I did not hear Colfax. The abusive words from Ben Harrison came out in this way: "Harrison had praised all the nationalities, except the Irish, and was just quitting this feature of his address, when an old man with an Irish accent asked: 'How about the Irish, and where were Meagher, Sheridan, Shields, Muligan and others?' The crowd hissed the question and shouted, 'Put him out.' While they were taking the old gentleman from the building Harrison said exactly, or almost exactly the following words: "It is easy to know that man's race; you all know what they are; if it were not for them we would not need half of our penitentiaries which are almost full of them; they have no intelligence; they are only good to shovel dirt and grade railroads, for they receive more than they are worth as they are no acquisition to the American people. "I have frequently mentioned the language to many people, and long before Harrison was prominently mentioned for the presidency, and therefore I speak of the matter now for mere political effect. I was surprised to find my letter in print, indeed. In my letter I made merely an incidental reference to the matter, not thinking that or any other portion would be copied by the press. I stand by every material statement I have made. Many of my neighbors who did not hear Harrison remember that at the time a great deal was said about his abusive remarks, which were more bitter than anything I have ever heard from anyone. I dislike to bring any foreign nationality into our American politics in a free country where we all are or should be Americans, for American interests only; but Harrison has provoked this matter by his own false and bitter words on the stump. I have no prejudice against nationalities; on the contrary it is a pleasure to remember that all races have contributed to the growth and grandeur of our country, and that in the terrible conflict for the maintenance of the union the Celt and the brave heroes from the German fatherland fought side by side with the American born. "The false alarm of those who say the democratic party favors a tariff system favorable to England and detrimental to America, should blind no Irish-American to the fact that a rascous defamer of his race is running against Cleveland, that fearless honest man whose principles are calculated to give cheap food and clothing to the poor, and to preserve the blessings of this government for Americans yet unborn. Like every individual, every race has virtues as well as faults and therefore, I protest against Harrison's sweeping vilification of the Irish people, who usually come here to obey the laws and help develop the mental and physical capacities of our common country. "The Pantagraph talks about producing an affidavit that Harrison did not make the abusive remarks. Well there will be a number of counter affidavits from Irish-Americans. It is hard to prove a negative, but we can prove it was a positive fact."—Bloomington Ill. Bulletin.
