DEMOCRACY TRIUMPHANT.

A GOOD TICKET NOMINATED AT OUR COUNTY CONVENTION.

Enthusiastic Delegates—Good Natured Rivalry of Candidates and a Good Sound Ticket.

The Democratic county convention has come and gone, and to say that it was full of democracy of every shape and kind would be putting it too mild. The ticket which they have presented to the electors of the county is one that will unite the entire democracy and draw votes from the other parties.

All the morning the streets in the neighborhood of the court house were crowded with enthusiastic delegates, candidates and leaders of the democracy. The contest by the candidates to secure the delegates was conducted in a friendly manner and good nature prevailed every where until the sounding of the bell calling them together for the fray. The only new feature developed in the campaign was the withdrawal of Judge W. D. Harriman as a candidate for the nomination of judge of probate, and the appearance of Wm. G. Doty, probate register, in his place, on Tuesday evening.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the large crowd of delegates in the court room were called to order by Jacob F. Schuh, chairman of the county committee, who stated the object of the convention to be the placing in nomination of a county ticket and the selection of delegates to the senatorial convention.

Hon. James S. Gorman, of Lyndon, being selected temporary chairman made a few well chosen remarks thanking the convention for the honor which they had conferred upon him. He scored the false doctrines of the republican party in a vigorous manner, showing the fallacy of their doctrines. He eulogized the statesmanship of President Cleveland and compared the position of the republican senate in their contest against him, in appearance to that of a mud hen who had been diving for frogs. He paid compliment to Allen G. Thurman in calling him the cleanest statesman ever made and the greatest living opponent of the monopolist. To Wellington R. Burt he predicted a glorious victory, and he roundly denounced Gov. Luce for his policy of knifing the University. He then closed and awaited the pleasure of the convention.

Thomas F. Moran, of Manchester, was chosen as temporary secretary. On motion of John V. Sheehan, the following committees were appointed by the chairman:

Committee on Credentials:—John V. Sheehan, Ann Arbor; John Terns, Ypsilanti; John Spafard, Manchester.
Committee on Permanent Organization and Order of Business:—M. J. Cavanaugh, Chelsea; Michael Duffy, Northfield; George Schwab, Ann Arbor.
Committee on Resolutions:—Frank Joslyn, Ypsilanti; C. S. Gregory, Dexter; E. B. Norris, Ann Arbor.

The convention then adjourned until 1:30 p. m.

The committee on permanent organization and order of business reported recommending that the temporary officers be made permanent; also adopting the customary order of business. The report was accepted.

The committee on resolutions presented the following, which were adopted:

First: That we cordially and heartily endorse the democratic national and state platforms, and the honest, business-like administration of our courageous and patriotic president, Grover Cleveland.

Second: That we should cease to draw by excessive and unnecessary taxation from the slender means of the poor and needy, enormous sums of money to increase the already large surplus in the treasury, and still more enormous sums to enrich monopolies, trusts, republican lumber barons, etc.

Third: That the interest of the producers and consumers of this county will best be subserved by a moderate reduction of the tariff, and the passage of laws prohibiting the formation of trusts of every description.

Fourth: That we pledge a solid and unbroken democratic majority of 2,000 for the democratic national, state, congressional and county tickets.

FRANK JOSLYN,
C. S. GREGORY,
E. B. NORRIS,

The convention then adjourned. During the afternoon Willard Stearns, the congressional nominee for this district, and Hon. C. R. Whitman delivered short addresses to the convention.

WILLARD STEARNS

was presented to the convention by the chairman and was greeted by cheer after cheer. He is a man of fine figure and good natured countenance, a ready talker who fires his audience with the enthusiasm which he carries with him.

His address was interrupted by the frequent applause of the convention.

Mr. Stearns said: "Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the convention; I cannot express the satisfaction which I experience in coming before this convention of democrats in this veteran democratic county, a convention of fighting men who never know defeat. I want to thank you now for the kind, hearty and sincere greeting which the democrats, not only of this convention extended to me, but of the whole district. I did not come here to-day to speak to you, but to shake you by the hand and to get acquainted with you. I want to assure you that I am in for the fight and am going to do my best to win. I expect the campaign to be earnest, sincere and hard fought. That is what I like and what every democrat should like, as it means a fair and open fight in which we are sure of victory. I want to say to you that it is your duty to see that the democrats on all the tickets have the full support of the party in this county."

I want to say a word in relation to the republican party and the workingman. Did you notice that it took the head of the republican party, the uncrowned king, just eleven months to travel about over Europe and find out the exact condition of the foreign working man while he has not been able to find out the condition of those in his own country in 55 years? Did you hear his advocacy of trusts, "that neither President Cleveland or any other party had a right to interfere with them"?

My opponent has sent out the challenge to the congressional campaign will be fought on the tariff, and on the tariff alone. Now, that pleases me, and if he will stick to his agreement, I will be contented, and will meet him at every opportunity and bury him in the district under 2,000 majority. If he gets off of the tariff question, I will put him back again. He will have many questions to answer to the farmers and workmen of the second district, and if he keeps to his agreement and attempts to explain them, he will never go back to Washington to draw $5,000 of good democratic money each year, and misrepresent the residents of Washtenaw county and the second district.

The democrats of this county, I find, are in for the campaign in earnest, each man being supplied with the 40 round of ammunition and 60 days rations. In this county you will be found with Major-General Manly in charge of the left flank, watching the enemy and defeating them at every point; Major-General Schuh will have charge of the right flank, with a solid German phalanx, and they can be depended upon to watch the "local option" defenders and see that none escape. Each man will be on the lookout for the enemy and vigilant to the last.

Now, my friends, I leave you, but I assure you that I will be rejoicing with you next November when the democracy of this county will have hanging to their belts, the scalps of 14 republicans on this county ticket, 13 or 14 more on the state ticket, and thousands in the county."

Representative Convention—First District.

The delegates to the first district representative convention met in the council room on Wednesday morning. They organized for business with C. H. Manly, of Ann Arbor, as chairman, and J. R. Bach, of Ann Arbor, as secretary. At the afternoon session, after the committee on credentials had reported, an informal ballot was taken for choice of candidate, with the following result: J. V. N. Gregory 28, N. E. Sutton 8, J. J. Robinson 4, F. Pistorius 3, George McDougal 3, E. B. Pond, W. H. McIntyre, W. G. Doty and H. Morton each 1. John V. N. Gregory, of Lima, having received a majority, on motion the rules were suspended and he was unanimously nominated for the position.

The convention then adjourned.

Were You One of Them.

"Fakir, Fire and Fools," is the way that the Ypsilantian describes the excitement which their citizens had last Wednesday evening. On the following evening our citizens had the fakir and the ———, well, not the fire. The fakir began operations on the corner of Huron and Main streets and soon gathered a large crowd around him. He began the old snide jewelry sale, giving back some small amounts. He gathered in the shekels as fast as he could handle them, and when he finally drove off, the crowd began to grasp the situation. They found that the fakir had left them a few brass rings, sleeve buttons, cheap lead pencils and pasteboard watches; in exchange he had taken from forty to fifty of their hard-earned dollars. They are not saying much but it is safe to say that Mr. Fakir will have to get up some new scheme to catch them next time. We wouldn't call any of our citizens fools, as the Ypsilantian does, but if they lived elsewhere some papers might do so.

Annual School Meeting.

The taxpayers of school district No. 1, of Ann Arbor city, held their annual election of trustees to serve on the school board for three years, last Monday between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. at the engine house. The retiring members were W. D. Harriman, A. M. Doty and Philip Bach. The election was close and full of interest, there being two tickets in the field. One ticket, called the citizens' ticket, was nominated by a large caucus held in Firemen's hall last Saturday evening, the nominees being Philip Bach, Evert H. Scott and John V. Sheehan. The second ticket made its appearance at the polls and was the same as the other except that the name of Alonzo M. Doty was substituted for that of John V. Sheehan. The citizens' ticket was successful, the vote being as follows:

Philip Bach, 442; Evert H. Scott, 441; John V. Sheehan, 242; Alonzo M. Doty, 207; W. D. Harriman, 4; N. B. Covert, 1.

BUSINESS MEETING.

After the votes had been counted, about fifty of the taxpayers adjourned to the hall above, where the annual school meeting was held. Hon. E. B. Pond was elected chairman pro tem., President Harriman being absent.

The result of the election was announced, showing the election of Messrs. Bach, Scott and Sheehan as trustees for the ensuing three years.

The annual report of the board of trustees was presented to the meeting and accepted.

On motion of J. C. Knowlton, the sum of $23,000 was ordered raised by tax upon the taxable property of the district, for salaries of teachers and other expenses for the year '88-'89.

Judge Cheever presented a proposition to sell one rod of the south side of the lot owned by the district, next south of the first ward school grounds, to the trustees of the Students' Christian Association. This met with some opposition, and Sedgwick Dean offered as an amendment that the association be given the right to drive over the premises to get to the rear of their building, but that the house now on the grounds be torn down and the whole fixed for a playground for the children. This amendment was voted down, and the meeting voted almost unanimously to order the board of trustees to sell the one rod as described to the association for one-fourth of the original purchase price.

The sum of $250 was ordered raised by tax for the purpose of purchasing books for the school library.

As a load of Milan Democrats were coming home from the pole raising last Saturday afternoon the horses became frightened by escaping steam from a T. & A. Good apples will not be plentiful in Pittsfield this fall, too many having been blown from the trees by night winds. Most of the apples will be cider apples. Our cider maker, August Feigel, has already begun operations in that line of business.

At the recent Pioneer picnic held in Ann Arbor, Pittsfield was, we find, better represented, at least in numbers, than any other town in the county. Good speeches, good dinner and a good day would certainly fail to furnish occasion for regrets at having "turned out."

The school in district No. 3, on the Ann Arbor and Lodi gravel road, opened Monday with a fair attendance, under the management of Miss Emma R. Kempf of Chelsea, the teacher for the ensuing year. Mr. Preston's horses were insured in the Washtenaw Mutual and the loss was appraised at $267. Telling the Record of an Eventful Century.

Cincinnati is all excitement. Her Centennial Exposition is "on." It is a celebration of one hundred days and nights in honor of the one-hundredth anniversary of the settlement of the Ohio Valley, and designed to show the rapid progress made in one hundred years since the first white man trod her soil. Her citizens subscribed a million and fifty thousand dollars to defray expenses, and with part of this sum immense buildings have been erected, which in conjunction with the permanent Music Hall, which cost a million dollars, is capable of holding 8,000 people, furnishes nearly 900,000 square feet of space, all under one continuous roof, covering an area of forty-three acres.

A dozen states are officially interested in the enterprise, the general Government has sent a magnificent collection of curios from Washington City, and in fact every detail has been carried out on the most liberal scale. The attractions embrace elegant displays in Horticulture, Agriculture, Machinery, Textile Fabrics, Educational, Women's and Children's Departments, an Art Gallery made up of the masterpieces of the most celebrated artists, obtained from private galleries in all sections of the land and all valued at $1,500,000, and on electrical display in and about the vast series of buildings on a scale of profuseness and brilliancy never seen in this country before. As the railroads have reduced their fares to low excursion rates, Cincinnati, for the next four months, will be a busy scene.

Do not be induced to take some other preparation when you call for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Be sure to get Hood's which is peculiar.

A small boy, who stood gazing wistfully at a large candy man in a city confectioner's window, suddenly exclaimed: "I could lick that fellow with both hands tied behind my back!"

A Good Appetite.

Is essential to good health: but at this season it is often lost, owing to the poverty or impurity of the blood, derangements of the digestive organs, and the weakening effect of the changing season. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a wonderful medicine for creating an appetite, toning the digestion, and giving strength to the whole system. Now is the time to take it. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

He had two opinions.—"I see Sommers has busted."

"Yes, he's gone up."

"Did he bust well?"

"I have nothing to say about that."

"What is your opinion of him, anyway?"

"Well he being a member of my church and in good standing, my public opinion of course is, that he's an honorable man; but my private opinion is, that he's one of the grandest rascals out of the penitentiary."

"Five years ago I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and had been given up by physicians. I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after using two bottles of this medicine, was completely cured."—Anga A. Lewis, Richmond, N. Y.

Dr. Grenell, who probably thinks he knows, says all true love is grounded in esteem. And he might have added that it is often nurtured on ice cream.

Log Cabins have become a thing of the past. From them have come great generals, statesmen, lawyers and divines, equals in every way of those who were born in the purple of European courts. No better remedy for purifying the blood was ever made than Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla. Try Warner's "Tippecanoe" to-day.

The new name for it is "Jamaica gingerized." It sounds nicer than "drunk."

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Munday Esq, County Atty., Clay Co., Tex., says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. An satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony saying: He positively believes he would have died had it not been for Electric Bitters.

This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequalled. Price 50c. and $1. at Eberbach & Son.

Another Chapter of the Hill-Sharon Scandal.

JUSTICE FIELD WILDLY DENOUNCED

By the Woman in the Case, Who Was Present with a Gun—Her Husband Resents Official Interference with Fist and Dirk—A Furious Struggle in the Marshal's Office—Terry and His Wife Both Sentenced to the Bastille.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—A sensational scene was enacted in the United States circuit court yesterday when Justice Field read the decision of the court sustaining the previous decision that the alleged marriage contract between Sarah Althea Hill and the late Senator Sharon was a forgery, and that the executors of the Sharon will may proceed without regard to Miss Hill, who is now Mrs. Terry, having married Judge David S. Terry, her counsel. As the reading of the decision proceeded Mrs. Terry became excited, and, jumping up, interrupted Justice Field, inquiring if he was about to order her to give up the marriage contract. The judge told her to sit down, whereupon she grew wild with passion, and shouted that it was said that Judge Field had been bought; that she would like to know what figure he valued himself at; that it seemed that no one could get justice in that court without a purse, etc.

Judge Field ordered Marshal Franks to remove Mrs. Terry. Franks moved toward her, while she continued to pour out oaths and vulgar language. As Franks took hold of her arm, Judge Terry knocked him down with a terrible blow, declaring that he would let no living man touch his wife. Franks recovered himself and with deputies rushed upon Terry and dragged him out of court. Mrs. Terry was locked up in the marshal's office. Terry soon advanced upon the deputy guarding the room and demanded admission. Being refused, he drew an ugly looking dirk, with an eight-inch blade, and threatened to carve his way into the room. Several men jumped upon him and there was a desperate struggle. All finally fell in a heap, and the knife was taken away without any one being injured. Terry was then locked up with his wife.

A sachel dropped by Mrs. Terry in the court room was found to contain an English bulldog revolver with six chambers loaded. Marshal Franks afterward entered the marshal's room and was attacked and beaten about the face and head by Mrs. Terry. A strong guard was then placed in the room. There was great excitement in the court room during the trial. The room was full of leading lawyers and citizens, attracted by the news that the decision was to be rendered.

After quiet was restored Justice Field finished reading the decision, and the court retired. When they returned they announced a sentence of six months' imprisonment for Judge Terry and thirty days for Mrs. Terry, for contempt of court. Since the decision above referred to was first rendered the state supreme court has adjudged that Sharon was married to Miss Hill, and that she is entitled to part of his estate. The executors applied to the circuit court for a revival of the decree of forgery, and this was the matter decided yesterday.

Nothing but the Charred Bones of Three Men Found After the Fire.

FINDLAY, O., Sept. 3.—Three men were roasted alive in the burning of an immense oil tank belonging to the Buckeye pump-line, at Oil Center, twelve miles from this place, early Saturday morning. When the men went to work it was noticed that the tank was leaking, and a force was immediately sent to work to repair the damage. Several of the men were at work at the top of the tank and others at its base, when the sides suddenly fell in, carrying the men with them. The vat at the time contained 20,000 barrels of oil, and this poured fourth in all directions, carrying the men with it and rushing onward with such force that they were unable to escape. A ditch some feet deep temporarily checked the flow of oil and all but three of the men had succeeded in escaping, when the petroleum suddenly caught fire from a forge.

In a moment the entire mass was blazing fiercely, while from the midst of it the shrieks and cries for help of the three doomed men could be plainly heard. It was impossible to afford them any aid, the only thing the spectators could do being to build temporary dams and big ditches to lead the blazing oil away from the sixty-three other tanks which were scattered around. In this they were successful. It was at first thought that at least ten men had lost their lives, but a roll call of the employes showed that only three—James P. East, Charles Grace and Rembrandt Ransom—had lost their lives. The bodies of the men were recovered some time after the accident, nothing being left but the bones, which crumbled away when the searching party endeavored to pick them up.

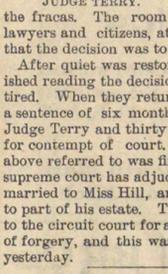

The skeletons of a number of animals, which were also cremated in the blazing flood, were also found. The flames continued to burn with fearful strength during the entire day, immense clouds of dense smoke extending over the sky so that they nearly overhung this city. Late Saturday evening the burning oil began to creep dangerously near the other tanks, each of which has a capacity of 36,000 barrels, and gangs of men were hastily sent from Lima and this city to aid in subduing the flames.

HOT SPRINGS FLOODED.

A Deluge Sweeps the Town With Great Havoc.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 1.—This city was visited by a most disastrous rainstorm Thursday night, which struck the valley about midnight, and continued until after 1 o'clock. The principal thoroughfares were soon converted into running rivers, and houses, walks, crossings and everything movable were swept away. A negro man on Magnolia street lost his wife and two children when his residence was swept away. The bodies of his wife and one child have been recovered. A negro woman, a cook, is missing. A white woman named Charlotte Harrison met her death by drowning when the waters swept her residence away. The body of an unknown man was found yesterday afternoon below the city. The streets are filled with debris. The floors in the office of the Arlington hotel, and three stores along Central avenue were inundated to a depth of four feet. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 3.—An investigation shows that the damage wrought by the cloud-burst in the Hot Springs valley was greater than at first believed. Every house along Central avenue for a mile was washed from its foundations, and the sidewalks and bridges are a total wreck. The entire valley was submerged, and the wonder is that only six persons were drowned. The bath-houses have all been damaged. The names of the persons who lost their lives so far as is known are as follows: Mrs. Millie Fletcher, Ada Fletcher, Willie Fletcher and Mrs. Charlotte Harrison.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 3.—The disastrous and fatal waterspout which visited this city last Thursday night broke at Palarm, twenty miles west of here, discharging an immense amount of water, and sweeping the country bare. No lives were lost.

TWO TERRIFIC BOILER EXPLOSIONS.

Two Men Instantly Killed and Another Wounded—Six Killed at Nashville.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 1.—A terrific explosion of a boiler at a saw-mill near Sherman, nine miles northwest of here, occurred at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, killing Noah M. Rickard and William M. Mraadin instantly, and fatally wounding William Yocum. The men belonged to old and respected families of Sangamon county. Rickard was blown nearly 200 yards into an elm tree, and his body was literally torn to pieces. He leaves a widow and three children. Martin was blown about 100 yards, but his body was not so badly mutilated. He was about 22 years old, and lived with his aunt, Mrs. Samuel Bennett, near Sherman. Two other men were within net of the boiler at the time of the explosion, but were unharmed. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 4.—A special to The American from Chattanooga, Tenn., says: At 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning the boiler of the Perry Stove-works, at South Pittsburg, Tenn., exploded, instantly killing Charles Taylor, the superintendent of the works; J. B. Mills, a machinist; M. Donovan, foreman of the mounting department; George M. Carter, a leading jeweler of the town; William Plumbe, of Winchester, Tenn.; and William Watson, a moulder. William Gross, a machinist, and Rock Scroggs, a moulder, were both fatally hurt, and will die. A large piece of the boiler was thrown end over end a distance of 100 yards, and tearing a hole through the side of Dietzen's store, landed against the opposite wall. Many smaller pieces were thrown a distance of several hundred yards.

A HOTEL HOLOCAUST.

Three Charred Bodies Found in the Ruins of a Wisconsin Hotel.

WEST SUPERIOR, Wis., Sept. 3.—Fire was discovered in the American house on the corner of Third and Tower avenues, about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. Very soon the hook and ladder company and hose companies were at the scene, and four streams were turned on the fire. Before this could be done, however, the building was enveloped in flames, and the screams of frantic men and women escaping from the burning building, some in only their nightclothes, lent horror to the scene. The charred bodies of three men were found during the morning, one of which is supposed to be that of Paul Claire, a Canadian. The others have not been identified. One man carried the prostrate form of his bedfellow, whom he was unable to arouse, out of the burning hotel and laid him down. The fellow suddenly realized the situation, and, with a wild yell, rushed away. The girls who were employed at the hotel were so panic-stricken that it was with difficulty they were got out of the doomed hotel. There were many miraculous escapes.

ON BOARD A BURNING SHIP.

An All-Night Fight with Fire—Excitement Among the Passengers.

NORWICH, Conn., Sept. 3.—The trip of the freight steambark City of Lawrence, of the Norwich & New York Transportation line, from New York to this city, was one of peril and excitement. The boat carried twenty-five or thirty passengers. At 8 p. m. fire was discovered in the forward part of the vessel among 200 bales of cotton, and it seemed at times as though the crew could not successfully cope with it. The excitement was intense, and all the passengers had equipped themselves with life preservers. The crew struggled with the flames until the vessel reached her dock in this city at 6 o'clock a. m. The damage to the boat was slight. The cause of the fire is attributed to spontaneous combustion.

A CALIFORNIA CRAZE.

COLLECTING BASKETS FROM THE MEXICANS AND INDIANS.

The Latest Fad Among Artistic People on the Pacific Slope—Hunting for Specimens—Beautiful Work of the Dusky Basketmakers.

The latest fad or craze in California, especially in the southern portion, is to possess a collection of Indian baskets. It is the correct thing, and some of the most artistic homes in the state have rooms decorated with them. Who started the craze is not known, but some one discovered that the baskets possessed great artistic beauty, were rich in harmonious coloring and formed attractive ornaments for library and parlor, and the demand began. It was the old story of new lamps for old, and dealers and others went around the country exchanging new modern baskets for the old ones of the Spanish and Mexican families.

The baskets are exhausted, at least the old ones, being now in the hands of a few collectors and others who will not sell them. The baskets cost from $1.50 to $3 usually, and being from $10 to $50 apiece. Unless the reader has seen some of these works of barbaric art, this price will seem excessive, but the graceful shape, the rich brown tints, the age and association, give them a value appreciated by those who have engaged in their collection. The cheapest way to make a collection is to go to some collector and buy their baskets outright, but the most pleasurable method is to take a carriage and go about the country among the Indians and Mexicans and buy them one's self. Many of the finest baskets come from the Indians north of San Francisco, and others have been collected in Los Angeles, San Diego and San Bernardino counties. In the latter counties are the remnants of the Mission Indians, hidden away in the mountains at Pala, Pauma and at Pachanza.

EXPERIENCES OF THE COLLECTOR.

The experiences of the amateur basket collector are varied, and no better way in which to study the habits of the present Indians can be found. The successful basket fad must have what is popularly known as "cheek;" must walk into the bedrooms and private apartments, insist upon trunks being opened and contents proceeding, but it is necessary, as even while the people wish to sell them, in the majority of cases, say at first that they have no baskets, and when they are produced do not wish to sell on account of the ancient aunt or grandparent who has handed them down. If, however, the would be purchaser has the staying power the basket can be secured. The sellers generally believe the Americans to be great fools for paying such prices. A half-breed informed the writer that the people were crazy and would give anything; and with a laugh, he said: "They pay five times as much for the old ones as they do for the new." That a basket which they use to sift their flour in could serve as an ornament is beyond their conception; yet this is the end to which these old utensils are put. They are tacked against the walls to show the figures or color, or hung over doors or in corners. The large ones find a place near the fire to hold the wood, while others are distributed about the library for papers and magazines; indeed, their usefulness grows upon one. The finest collections are photographed by their owners and make a fine and artistic showing.

It is as an art that the work of these people commends itself, not alone in the form of the baskets, but in the marking and arrangement of colors; and that such artistic feeling should be found among people whose ideas of art, as we recognize it, are of the crudest description, is remarkable. After so many years of association with white people it would not appear strange if some of their ideas of ornamentation were obtained from them, yet this is extremely rare. All the ornamentation is unique, possessing an individuality that cannot be mistaken. The lines are often graceful and of great geometrical beauty, radiating from the center. A common design is a series of triangular or arrow shaped figures worked into radiating lines. Some seem to represent flashes of lightning in the zigzag motion. Human figures worked in, often extending completely around the basket, with clasped hands, are seen in some of the best baskets, while deer and other animals are sometimes introduced. The colors are usually dull reds or browns, yellows and black, and in almost every case the blending is harmonious. Where these people obtain their ideas is an interesting question, but probably from nature—the foliage, the bending grasses, etc., suggesting the lines of grace and beauty.

METHODS OF BASKET MAKING.

It is not necessary to go far from the centers of civilization to see basket makers. The Diggers produce beautiful baskets not far from San Francisco, while the Indians about Monterey, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles and other localities still make coarse ones in the same primitive way.

The basket work of the California Indians is valuable in several ways. It is characteristic of the different tribes, and they can be traced by it. Some baskets are beautifully ornamented with feathers, and this shows that they were made by the Indians north of San Francisco. One for which a large sum was recently paid is ornamented with the red feathers of the woodpecker, while around the edge are the plumes of the plumed quail. The feathers are woven in while the basket is being made. Fineness and age are two important qualifications.

The California Indians employ two general methods in basket making; the coil is either twined or whipped. The Diggers, as before stated, produce fine baskets of great beauty, while the Klamath and McCloud Indians make twined baskets so fine that they can be used to hold water. In the baskets from the Eel river tribe a double coil is used. The Modoc women produce some beautiful shapes. We see conical, inverted truncated cones, shallow dishes, some like hats or half eggs, vases, long and narrow, others flat, with short necks. Plaques are common, while some baskets are almost perfect spheres. Many of these are made of willow slips and pine roots, stained in the southern county with nail rust. The material used mostly by the California Indians is the plant known scientifically as "rhus aromatica," or squaw berry. In the houses or ramadas of basketmakers the raw material is seen—twigs cut and scraped, eight or ten inches in length and tied together with a string. They are dyed with plants and nail rust. Young girls can be seen soaking the twigs and scraping off the bark ready for the old women to use. The old baskets may be considered a lost art, and comparatively few modern ones are being made, not enough to meet the demand—C. F. Holden in San Francisco Chronicle.

"Nearly Everybody Reads it."

The Merchant reads the Chicago Daily News because he must know what's going on in the great business centres of the world, and he can't waste time hunting for it in a "blanket sheet."

The Farmer reads the Chicago Daily News because he makes more than $3.00 a year—one cent a day—by keeping promptly posted on the variations of the market,—he doesn't wait for the slow weeklies any more.

The Mechanic reads the Chicago Daily News because he knows that even in matters of handicraft the more general intelligence a man has the more he'll earn. The workman can well afford his daily paper at "one cent a day."

Grandfather reads the Chicago Daily News because it gives all the news, and yet so condensed that it doesn't tire him out to read it. And then, the print is so clear.

Mother reads the Chicago Daily News because she wants to keep up with her husband in general information, and then she particularly enjoys the household hints and things of special interest to women which are in it every day.

Grandmother reads the Chicago Daily News because she still wants to know what's going on. And it's a comfort to see a daily paper in the family that's clean and pure,—one she's afraid to have "the children see."

The Boys all want the Chicago Daily News because it gives the base ball news so fully,—to say nothing of all the other things boys enjoy. And this year even the boys don't skip the political news.

The Politician always reads the Chicago Daily News because it's an impartial paper, and whether he likes its independent views or not, he wants to know the truth. He "supports" his particular party "organ," but when he wants cold facts he reads the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS.

The Girls all read the Chicago Daily News because they're specially interested in its chatty gossip about fashions and home matters, to say nothing about the excellent serial story always running.

The Post Office Review, says: "Nearly everybody who reads the English language in, around and about Chicago, reads the Chicago Daily News." Do you? It's a "short and to the point paper,"—made particularly for busy people, and it costs one cent a day. All newsdealers sell it, and all post masters forward subscriptions for it at $3.00 a year, or $1.00 for four months. Address VICTOR F. LAWSON, Publisher The Chicago Daily News, Chicago.

Don't Experiment. You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. For President, GROVER CLEVELAND. For Vice-President, ALLEN G. THURMAN.

STATE TICKET.

- For Governor—WELLINGTON R. BURT. For Lieutenant Governor—WILLIAM B. MORAN. For Secretary of State—THOMAS D. HAWLEY. For State Treasurer—JOHN D. NORTON. For Auditor General—BARTLEY BREEN. For Commissioner State Land Office—SMITH W. FOWLER. For Attorney General—ADOLPHUS A. ELLIS. For Supt. of Public Instruction—STUART McKIBBEN. For Member of Board of Education—CHARLES E. KING.

THE Oneida (N. Y.) Union reports the membership of the New York state democratic league of colored voters at 23,779.

WOOL went up in price after the house passed the Mills bill. Is this a good reason why the farmers should vote against Cleveland?

JUST wait till you hear the returns from old Washtenaw next November. The democrats are waking up and heavy gains will be made.

SENATOR Gorman added to his reputation as an orator by his speech to the convention, Wednesday. He made an excellent presiding officer.

And now the campaign has opened. It behooves every democrat to take off his coat and work. Let us roll up a big majority for our national, state, congressional and county tickets.

A TARIFF tax that gives the foreigner Carnegie an income of $5,000 per day and his workmen an income of 94 cents a day is a tax that ought not to be tolerated in America.—Monroe Democrat.

ALLEN ran fifty ahead of his ticket in Manchester township two years ago. Our advisers are that Stearns will lead his ticket in that township this year and the democratic majority on the national ticket will be increased.

THE ARGUS has always favored an aggressive campaign. That is one of the reasons which makes the nomination of Willard Stearns for Congress an especially appropriate one. The war will be carried into the enemy's territory.

JOHN V. N. GREGORY will represent this district in the legislature this year. Last year he was chairman of the board of supervisors. Next year he will be assisting in formulating the laws of this commonwealth. He is a good candidate and a good man.

BLAINE, Depew and Lincoln, all recent republican candidates for president, have been in England recently, and all of them have laid in large supplies of clothing, which they can buy cheap in London, in order to "protect American labor."—Monroe Democrat.

THE editor of the ARGUS may not do work as a candidate this fall, but he has the privilege of making a red-hot campaign paper, and he proposes that no man in the county of Washtenaw shall do more work for the success of the democratic party this year than himself. Each one of our readers can help this work by getting campaign subscriptions for the ARGUS.

MR. STEARNS' short speech in the democratic county convention, Wednesday, was sufficient to convince everyone that the democrats had found a candidate who would redeem the district. He is one who who will fight square and give hard, telling blows. Mr. Stearns need have no fear of Capt. Allen running ahead of his ticket in this county. The democracy will be enthusiastic and too much in love with their own candidate.

THE Ypsilantian is respectfully requested to read the article in our columns recently telling why Mr. Blake will vote for Cleveland. Remembering that Mr. Blake paid $9.25 and $6.75 duty, or $16, for a pair of English blankets, while his wife paid $8 for a pair of blankets of poorer quality, only half as large as the English blankets, it will be seen that the tariff increases the cost of articles made in this country and sold to American consumers. Why should our people pay a tax of $6.75 on $16 worth of blankets?

MR. BLAINE brought over with him from Europe thirty-two trunks. Mr. Blaine is one of those men who want American farmers and workmen to pay high prices for goods to foster "infant industries" which are older than the buyers of goods, but evidently for his own use he buys goods made by "the pauper labor of Europe." In other words, Blaine is something of an aristocrat. He don't believe that the people have any right to interfere with the trusts of the millionaire monopolists, probably because they are a privileged class as he is a privileged man. But the American farmer and workman has the right to buy in the same market as Blaine has. The mere fact that he is so taxed that he cannot afford the luxury of travel should not shut him out of that right. If it is good for Blaine to buy foreign goods, it is just as good for other people to do so.

THE general opinion of patriotic Americans regarding the president's recent message is well expressed by Judge Thomas M. Cooley, a life-long republican, whose character and standing lend great weight to his words, when he says: "The message is unquestionably a masterpiece of dignity and statesmanship. It is a document of great merit and will be likely to wield a great influence." As for the republican politicians, there is but one word which will describe their situation: they are dumb-founded. One moment they declare that "the president has come over to our side" and "has surrendered to republican policy," the next, they declare that his position is untenable, and that the policy he proposes is preposterous. As for the republican press, its situation bespeaks the compassion of all tender-hearted men. The editors have not the slightest idea what the senators will finally conclude to do about it, and the chances are consequently even that if they fire off their guns in either direction they will slaughter their own friends.—The Nation.

THE COUNTY TICKET.

The democracy of Washtenaw county on Wednesday placed a first-class ticket in nomination. The ticket is a winning one. That is unnecessary for us to say. It is one worthy of the loyal support of the democratic party. It is one which will receive such support.

J. Willard Babbitt, of Ypsilanti, our nominee for probate judge, is a clean candidate. He is regarded as the best of lawyers. His clients place implicit faith in his advice. He is a safe man. He is an honest man. He is a conscientious man and his election will be by a very heavy majority.

Charles Dwyer, the next sheriff, of Washtenaw county, has a record as a good runner. He will make an excellent sheriff, as he has made an excellent supervisor. He is a clean man with no spots on his character.

Of County Clerk Howlett no words are necessary. He earned his renomination. He is one of the most popular clerks this county has ever had and the candidate against him on the republican ticket will be named as a mere matter of form. If this county were five hundred republican Howlett would yet be reelected.

Michael Seery, our candidate for register of deeds, is a thoroughly competent man. He understands the business. He knows all the requirements of the office he will fill and he will meet these requirements. He is a poor man, to whom the emoluments of the office mean much and he should receive the loyal support of every democrat in the county.

Michael J. Lehman, of Chelsea, is known in all parts of the county. He has been before the democrats for some time and is a hard worker. He will be the next prosecuting attorney.

Gustave Brehm, our candidate for treasurer, will make a good county official. He has been deputy, having charge of the office for some months, has kept all the accounts in excellent shape, is thoroughly competent and honest, and the county funds will be in good hands. He is a representative of the young German democrats of the county who are doing good work for the party.

Patrick McKernan and Frank Joslyn, renomiated for circuit court commissioners, are both good nominees. The emoluments of the office are very light, but if they were heavy the candidates could not have been better men.

Martin Clark, of this city, and Dr. Batwell of Ypsilanti, will make coroners who will perform the duties of their office thoroughly. They are men above reproach. The ticket is nominated. Now for union, harmony and a big majority.

The democrats have got the start of the republicans in this city on organization. They are thoroughly organized and besides that have a large company of young men who meet and drill twice a week, and who will make a fine showing in a short time. Among these are a few republican boys who go there for the fun of the drill. Such things may not amount to much but it behooves the republicans to "watch out a little."—Courier. It's too late Brother Courier, now. You ought to have given the warning sooner, as all those "republican" boys who are drilling have signed the roll of the club and will vote for Cleveland this fall.

Many a bible text is popularly quoted in another form than that in which it stands in the bible. And many a bible fact is incorrectly stated in its more frequent mention. Even men who call themselves bible students refer to these incorrect texts and incorrect facts as if they were veritable transcripts from the inspired record. Thus the story of Dean Swift's charity sermon, preached in a single sentence from the text, "He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord," has been accepted as widely and as readily as if that text were to be found in the bible. So again it has been said ten thousand times over that the Hebrews in Egypt made bricks with straw, although the bible narrative says nothing of the sort. As recently as the past month two bible teachers at Mr. Moody's summer school for students, at Northfield, referred to the finding of ancient brick without straw among the ruins of lower Egypt, as if in confirmation of the truth of this assumed bible story. If men would examine the bible text more carefully before they assail it or before they attempt its defense, there would be fewer blunders made in both directions.—Democrat.

Wrong again. Mrs. Judge Joslyn, doubting the above item, has investigated it and finds the quotations as follows: Prov. XIX, 17th verse; "He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord, and that which he hath given will He pay him again." Exodus V, 7th verse, "Making brick without straw."

NATIONAL LEGISLATURE.

CONDENSED REPORT OF CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

All Matters of Importance Transacted During the Past Six Days Boiled Down in Compact Form—What the National Solons Are Doing for the Good of the Country.

WASHINGTON CITY, Aug. 30.—Reagan introduced a bill in the senate yesterday to place jute bagging on the free list, the object being to break up the cotton-bagging trust. The report on the sundry civil bill was again taken up and Gorman spoke to controvert the implication of Democratic extravagance made by Allison Tuesday. The conference report was then agreed to. The senate insisted on those amendments disagreed to by the house and asked a further conference. George made a speech defending the position of the president on the fisheries question. A short secret session was then held and the senate adjourned.

The house passed another joint resolution—the third this session—to provide temporarily for government expenses. The bill providing that printing of government securities shall be done on hand presses was passed, and the Oklahoma bill was taken up, and Payson's amendment to throw the land open to homestead entry alone rejected. The bill was still pending when the house adjourned.

WASHINGTON CITY, Aug. 31.—A resolution was offered in the senate yesterday by Blair instructing the inter-state commerce committee to inquire into the Craig system of telegraphy, by which it is claimed 2,000 words can be sent at a cost of 2 cents. If this was so Blair wanted to secure it for the people. George then finished his speech in defense of the president's fisheries message, and Cullom took the floor in opposition thereto. When Cullom had concluded, the fortifications bill was taken up. Amendments were adopted, providing for a board of army officers to supervise gun, motor, torpedo and other tests; appropriating $100,000 for dynamite gun tests; reducing the house appropriation for a gun factory at Watervliet arsenal to $550,000; increasing the appropriation for steel for heavy ordnance to $2,500,000, and providing for the use of American steel only. The bill then went over, and Cullom offered a resolution inquiring of the treasury whether Canadian goods have been transported in broad across United States territory since the abrogation of the Washington treaty, and if so by what authority of law. The senate then adjourned.

The house released Tracey of New York from further duty on the Pacific railways and coinage, weights and measures committees at his own request. The Oklahoma bill was briefly discussed, laid aside and the retaliatory bill, slightly changed from Wilson's proposition, reported. The Oklahoma bill was again taken up, but no quorum voted on the first proposition put to the house. Sprague offered a resolution directing the sergeant-at-arms to telegraph absent members to return, but it was declared out of order and the house adjourned.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 1.—The senate yesterday passed the house joint resolution providing for government expenditures in the absence of the regular appropriations. Cullom's resolution referring to shipments of Canadian merchandise duty free through the United States was laid over, Cullom deferring to an objection by George that the president had no power to stop the same. Cullom said he was not sure about the statute in the case. A long political debate on the subject of participation in campaign work by government officials took place, and then the fortifications bill was taken up, the committee amendments adopted, the bill passed and a conference ordered. The joint resolution authorizing the land office to certify to Kansas lands for the benefit of agriculture and mechanical arts was passed. Some unimportant business was then debated, but no action taken and the senate adjourned until Monday.

The house took up the sundry civil bill after routine business had been disposed of, and insisted on its disagreement to the senate's amendment providing for continuing the work on the congressional library building. Payson said the building could not be finished for less than $10,000,000, and might cost $16,000,000. Pending action on the other amendments recess was taken to 5 p. m., and at the evening session twenty-seven private pension bills were passed and the house adjourned.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 3.—The retaliation bill was reported to the house Saturday and made the special order for Tuesday. Upon resumption of the debate on the sundry civil bill, Breckinridge, Symes, and Cox advocated the senate proposition for an appropriation to investigate the subject of irrigating the arid lands in the west. Pending discussion the house adjourned.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 4.—Vest showed a book in the senate yesterday entitled "Protection Echoes from the Capitol," edited by Thomas H. McKeon, assistant senate librarian, and offered a resolution of inquiry into the same—whether it is necessary to prevent or punish it. This led to an extended partisan debate, participated in by Vest and Plumb principally, and Vest's resolution went over. Hour read a letter he had received from Charles Arpin, of Quebec, suggesting that if certain by claims held by Canadians against the United States were paid now the Canadians would assist the Republican party in the election—by making a liberal allowance. Hear asked that the letter be filed so that when the claims came up this letter might come up, too, as an attempt at corruption. Certain bills for lighthouses, principally on the Atlantic coast, were passed, and then the bill to prohibit Chinese immigration was taken up (the one passed by the house yesterday). Butler opposed the bill, and the debate was long, and finally went over without action, and the senate adjourned.

Scott of Pennsylvania introduced in the house yesterday, as soon as it was called to order, a bill which, with all its legal verbiage eliminated, is in effect as follows: From and after the passage of this bill Chinese laborers are absolutely prohibited from landing anywhere in the United States under any circumstances. All laws inconsistent with this are hereby repealed. The bill was passed without division. Bills were introduced to punish those connected with trusts and to put cotton bagging on the free list. An attempt to get up the Oklahoma bill disclosed the absence of a quorum, and the house adjourned.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 5.—Cullom introduced a resolution in the senate yesterday asking the secretary of war whether the United States or Canada has jurisdiction over the Detroit river and the St. Clair Falls canal; also a bill defining trusts and declaring them unlawful. Vest's resolution regarding Assistant Librarian McKeon's book was then taken up, and the daily political debate ensued, and the resolution went over. The anti-Chinese bill was then considered, and brought on another political debate, Teller doing the most talking. The bill went over without action. Some unimportant business was then transacted, and after a short secret session the senate adjourned.

A resolution was introduced in the house by Kelley directing the special committee on the library building to inquire whether any member of the house had attempted to corruptly influence the architect to accept inferior material. He said he knew the man, but on calls to "name him" he declined, saying he would do so before the committee. The resolution was referred to a special committee appointed for that purpose. The conference report on the army bill was called up and a further conference ordered. The retaliation bill took up the remainder of the day. McCreary advocated it, and said the first bill did not give the president power to stop shipment of Canadian goods through this country duty free. He held that the twenty-ninth article of the treaty had been abrogated. Hitt held otherwise, and opposed the bill, saying that the proposed retaliation would inflict needless damage on railways in the United States, and that the president already had power enough if he would use it. Chipman of Michigan made an attack on England, and said diplomats were fools and knaves, and without action the house adjourned.

BIG FIRE AT BALTIMORE.

Seven Firemen Lose Their Lives and $1,500,000 Worth of Property Destroyed. BALTIMORE, Sept. 3.—One of the most disastrous fires, both to life and property, that has occurred in this city for many years broke out at 4:30 yesterday morning at 109 South Sharp street, and spreading rapidly on either side destroyed seven fine four-story iron and brick front buildings on Sharp street, and the back buildings of nearly the whole row of houses on Pratt street between Sharp and Hanover.

The north wall of building 109 Sharp street collapsed about 5:30 a. m., and buried nine firemen. Two of them—Al Eck and John Kelly—were taken out alive, but very badly injured. Seven were killed. Their names are: George Bowers, Thomas Wagner, Perry Ryan and John Acomb, of No. 2 Truck company, and Harry Walker, James McFee, and George Kerins, of No. 7 Engine company.

The losses will aggregate about $1,000,000, upon which there is an estimated insurance of $800,000. The heaviest losses fall upon John King, president of the Erie Railway company; Edward A. Prior & Co., J. H. Winkelman & Co., M. S. Levy & Son, J. B. Mudge & Co., Tabb Bros. & Dimmock, Henry S. King & Sons.

The fire continued until about 11 o'clock, when it was gotten under control. The buildings on Sharp street from 105 to 117 were swept clean, nothing being left standing except the fronts. The rear building of the "Maternity," on Lombard street, was torn down to prevent the fire from spreading further. The inmates of the institution were all removed quietly.

The firms of Tabb Bros. & Dimmock and Prior & Co. had large supplies of gun and revolver cartridges in stock. About 5:30 a. m. they began to explode, and for a quarter of an hour kept up a fusillade, the bullets going through the windows on all sides, but fortunately nobody was shot, with the exception of one man, who was slightly wounded near the left eye.

Shortly before 6 a. m. the members of No. 7 engine company and No. 2 truck entered Tabb Bros.' building, intending to cut holes through to No. 109. Those in the street saw that the side wall of No. 109 was beginning to sway and called to them to come out. All of them were hastening out, when the treacherous wall fell over and crashing through the floors of No. 107, buried the unfortunate firemen under its great weight. Then all efforts were concentrated upon the pile of ruins under which nine human beings were writhing in torture. The groans of the men could be heard from within this living volcanic tomb, for it had now taken fire and was belching forth jets of flame. Half a dozen strong streams were turned on the pile, and the flames within were in a short time subdued. In a few minutes John Kelly was rescued. His left eye was burnt out of its socket, and his head badly mashed, but the surgeons say he will recover. Then Al Eck was dragged from the ruins. His right arm was broken and his side badly injured. The others, however, were beyond hope, and their dead bodies were taken out one by one, all mangled torn and burnt, the last one being recovered late last night. All of the seven dead firemen, whose names are given above, leave families to mourn their untimely end, except Harry Walker, who was a single man.

Just 851 people were lodged in the Kent county calaboose during the past year. Grand Rapids sinners seem to be numerous or else they are unlucky in being found out. Ovid justice is neither halt, lame nor blind. Four rows, six arrests and four fighters on their way to the county calaboose, was the work of but six hours, one day recently.

Now comes the story of an Isabella county farmer who claims to have raised 500 bushels of wheat on ten acres of land, and a scant ten acres at that. Wonder if it's probable that his season's prodigious snake stories are at feinting the crops.

When they arrived at the garden where the picnic was to be held, the Anarchists attempted to hoist their colors on a pole over the American flag. At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla do not induce to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

THE QUESTION OF THE DAY.
PROTECTION OR FREE TRADE?

An Examination of the Tariff Question with Especial Regard to the Interests of Labor.
BY HENRY GEORGE.
CLOTH, $1.50. PAPER, 35 CENTS.

This is the clearest, fairest, most interesting and most complete examination of the tariff question yet made, and will prove invaluable to all who wish to understand the subject.

The most thorough investigation of the subject that has yet been put in type.—New York News.

The appearance of this book marks a new epoch in the world-wide struggle for free trade. Henry George has a power of putting economic truths in such a clear and limpid language that any child can understand him, while the most learned man can enjoy the accuracy of his statements and the suggestiveness of his thoughts.—Thomas G. Shearn in New York Sun.

A book which every workman in the land can read with interest and ought to read.—New York Herald.

Whoever wants to see the strongest argument—no only against protection, but against all tariffs—will find it here.—Christian Union.

The singular success of Mr. George is that he has made political economy interesting.—Unitarian Review.

THE STANDARD.

HENRY GEORGE, Editor.
Published Weekly at 12 Union Square, New York.
Yearly Subscription $2.50; Six Months, $1.25; Single Copies, 5 Cents.

American citizens who wish to reach an intelligent comprehension of the principles involved in the issue of the coming campaign should read THE STANDARD. It advocates Free Trade—not the partial removal of restrictions upon commerce, but the absolute unconditional sweeping away of every hindrance to the exchange of commodities between man and man between state and state, and between nation and nation.

THE STANDARD meets and triumphantly refutes the great argument of protection. It shows why wages are higher in the United States than in Europe, and that the difference is in no way due to the operation of the tariff, whose only effect is to reduce the reward of labor.

During the coming campaign every tariff reformer will be called upon to defend the principle of free trade against the principle of protection. Those who read THE STANDARD can do this easily and unanswerably.
