THE RAILROAD COMMISSIONER

City Expenses of the Year Lighter Than Last.-Doings of the Council at the December Meeting.

The December meeting of the counil was held last Monday evening with every member of the council in their seats, but an exceedingly small audience of spectators, listened to the lengthy reading of minutes which generally occurs.

Dr. Breakey, on behalf of the board of health, presented a preliminary report companied by the bills for the same, amounting to about $95. The inspection, he said, had been thorough and generally well done and effective in bringing to light over 200 nuisances and local conditions on premises endangering public health. A further and more detailed report would be made to the council.

F. G. Schleicher petitioned for a removal of the tile crossing Main street from Liberty street, and his petition was referred to the street committee.

Gottfried Schottle presented a bill of $75 for expenses incurred from the injury to Mrs. Schoettles which he claimed was due to defective and improperly guarded railing to the sidewalk on west Liberty street in front of the Fritz property near the T., A. A. to the finance committee.

DANGEROUS RAILROAD CROSSINGS. Dr. Conrad George called the attention of the council to the very dangerous condition of the crossing of the T. A. A. and N. M. railroad on south Main street and urged the stationing of a flagman there. A pile of lumber where the sidewalk should be, obscured the view of the track and a car which was generally in the roadway still further obscured the view so that it was often impossible to see approaching trains. A general discussion of the conuition of the crossing at this and should be invited here to look over the entire line of the road through this city. Ald. Spokes made a plea for the road and moved as a substitute that a committee of three be appointed to wait lost, the opinion of the council being that Mr. Ashley was well aware of the condition of the road in this city, The motion of Ald. Miller was then carried nearly unanimously.

Bills amounting to $3,267.93 were audited and ordered paid. Among these Spokes, Hammond, Wines and Barker. bills were the supervisor's bills for the year as follows, Albert Gardner, $330; cided to build a bridge on the new road O'Hearn, $250; and N. G. Gardner and Fatherland.

This evening at the opera house this excellent actor will appear in Fatherland, of which play the Evansville Journal contains the following descrip-

It is an old proverb that "nothing succeed like success," and it applies forci-bly to that brightest of German comedians, Charles A. Gardner, in his new play, Fatherland, for successful it has been to an amazing extent. Those who witnessed the production of our Karl's latest acquisition to his repertoire the beginning of the week, took their wives mothers and sweethearts to enjoy what they had already experienced. Beyond a doubt Charley Gardner's creation of that heroic, simple-hearted, honest and jolly Tyrolean guide, Herman Leopold, is a revelation. One moment creating merry laughter, the next causing hearts to respond to his words of endearment and applause to his sweet singing. The varied emotions displayed by Gardner during the course of the evening stamps him without question one of the best comedians now before the public, and his audiences bear outfully the statement. So earnest out fully the statement. So earnest so magnetic, so entertaining, is heard on all sides, proving that he has struck the right key note to add to his already popular name. Fatherland was written by Sidney R. Ellis, his manager, and Charles himself, and by their work their friends positively believe they have written something that lieve they have written something that will live for years to come, and as the months and seasons roll by it will improve with age. The play is consistent, original, witty and absorbing, while the special features, such as the "Festag", "Spinstube" and Saegerfest scenes, contribute their share toward its genuine and positive success. The singing is also a great feature, and last least half a dozen in the audience for a repetition of that sweetest of sweet

"Yes, the old style looks like coffee with milk in, the new style like coffee without milk. The man who made the old style for twenty years—a practical chemist—made a milder, pleasanter preparation, adding to it here, and taking from it there, until he produced, my wife says, the finest medicine ever made. It cured her of constipation, and it cures the children of hives and all the little ailments they ever have. If my wife thinks they have worms, she doses them with old style. We always have both kinds in the house, and together, they keep the doctor "And you insist that the proof of the pud-

Jack, get a bottle of the old style Vinegar Bitters-men, I think, prefer old style usually—try it, and you will then be like an old bachelor, who, after railing against women for years, falls in love with a good woman at last. You will say there are good and bad patent medicines, but Vinegar Bitters is the best of the lot." "All right, Phil, to please you, I'll try is and report results."

Story Told by a Naval Officer-A Shrewd German "Mechanic."

A naval officer today, in speaking about the presence of foreigners in the navy, told the following story: "I was sent to Europe not long ago on an important errand, and it became my duty to form the acquaintance of foreign naval officers, in order to accomplish certain ends I had in view. I met many of them at dinners, surprised to find out how well they were informed on American naval affairs. I had occasion to go to Kiel, Germany, for the purpose of visiting the dockyards there. I felt sure that my credentials there. I felt sure that my credentials would admit me to inspect the place, but they did not. I tried a little game of getting the desired pass, by reaching the officials through the use of wines and fine dinners. One day a fine looking German officer met me as I was coming out of my hotel. 'Hello,' said he, slapping me on the shoulder, 'have you got in yet?' He spoke such pure English that for a moment or so I was nonplused.

"'No,' I replied, 'will you get me in?'
"'I can't;' and thereupon he remarked: 'it is easier to get into your yards than it is easier to get into your yards than

"I looked at the officer intently and found by his uniform that he was the chief naval constructor, and the man of all men in the German navy that I wanted to meet. 'Will you take a glass of wine with me?' I asked. He consented, and we returned to the hotel.

"After a few minutes' conversation we became quite friendly, and I was surprised at the insight he had of our naval officers. He astonished me by inquiring about certain officers who were at the New York navy yard during the late war. I could not restrain my curiosity, and I asked him: 'How did you become acquainted with the officers?' 'The story is a short one,' he replied. 'When the war broke out in 1861 I was in the German nawy and I get orders to go to war broke out in 1861 I was in the German navy, and I got orders to go to America, and study your methods of building ships and getting guns ready for use. When I got to New York my dress was that of a plain German mechanic. I got work as a carpenter and ship joiner under a fictitious name, and in a short time I got used to the nickin a short time I got used to the nick-name "Dutchy." Nobody knew me, and my curious questions were never sus-pected, and the workmen readily and in a good humored way answered them. I helped to build and repair ships, and in in time got hold of much information. I made plans of the vessel, machinery, guns, rigging, and, in fact, got on to everything. I worked hard at night in my room, and kept my government as well posted as I could. The more English I learned the better I understood things that the workmen said in my hearing. I worked on the hig ship Dunhearing. I worked on the big ship Dun-derberg; also on the Merrimac, at Nor-folk, and on some of the monitors. I sent much valuable information home. Now you see the reason why you can't get into our yard.'

"The narrative was straightforward, and was so full of facts concerning men and affairs that I readily saw how the and affairs that I readily saw how the German naval constructor got on to my visit, and, although I tried to convince him to the contrary, he was not to be hoodwinked. I know where Kiel is, and that it has a dock yard, but I'll have to go to Kiel as a German mechanic before I can get inside of that place. This shows how necessary it is to keep an eye on foreigners in our navy yards if we want to keep our secrets."—Washington Chat in Baltimore American.

The Calumet Mines Alleged to Have Been Fired.

EIGHT MEN MEET AN AWFUL DOOM,

And Over Two Hundred Others Have a Very Narrow Escape-Distressing Scenes at the Shaft-A Heavy Loss in Money-What Would Be Done with the Incen-

CHICAGO, Dec. 1 .- The Herald's Hancock, Mich., special says the Calumet and Hecla mine was deliberately set on fire at 11 o'clock Thursday night Of the 200 or 300 men on duty at the time, all but eight escaped unharmed. As soon as the fire was discovered the men began to work their way up, and when they reached the fire itse f, made an attempt to turn on the water, but the pipes had been disconnected and no water was to be had. The signal wire had also been cut, and there was nothing left but to fight for life. Under the guidance of cool-headed leaders the men worked their way around the burning tunnel to other connections with the main engine shaft, and thence to the surface.

While the scenes below were being enacted the cry above that the mine was on fire had reached the bomes of the miners, and the wives, children and friends of the men below soon crowded around the shafts, wild with grief and anxiety. As each man came up out of the death trap he was seized by eeping wife and children or anxious friends, and cries of grief were changed to shouts of rejoicing. The men kept coming up until it was known that all but eight had been rescued. For these no possible hope remains, as the only avenue of escape is cut off. They were doubtless smothered between the sixth level, where the fire originated, and the surface. Their names are: Antony Langin, Andrew Hansen, Joe Roe, Antony Kalskie, Gustav Tava, John Flick, Jee Messeglie and Jol 1 Vanderbilt.

At the spot where the fire originated no one was working, and this fact, taken in con-nection with the disconnecting of the water pipes and the breaking of the signal wire, leaves no room to doubt that the fire was the work of an incendiary. Just one year ago the mine took fire under circumstances which pointed strongly to incendiarism. It is hinted that an interested syndicate is at the bottom of the fires, and that the work is the bottom of the lires, and that the work is that of their hired accomplice for the pur-pose of checking the projection of copper, and hence booming the price. The manage-ment had a standing reward of $2,000 for the discovery of the man who set the fire a year ago, and if human agency can discover the perpetrator of this deed it is openly de-clared that he will be hurled headlong down the burning shaft. the burning shaft.

Another theory is that the fire was caused by the carelessness of the man in charge of the donkey pumps, which are run by compressed air. Unless the moving parts of the machinery, for which air furnishes the motive power, are kept warm they are likely to freeze. Cotton waste saturated with oil is burned in the troughs of the pumps. This theory is that the cotton waste fell from the theory is that the cotton waste fell from the trough and ignited the timbers in the shaft. The underground fire is fed solely by the timbers which support the overhanging walls and roof, and this amounts almost to a forest. It would take years to burn it all, and to save it from burning is a task which may well be called herculean. Carbonic acid gas will probably be resorted to to put out the fire, as was successfully done a year ago when 100,000 cubic feet per day were forced down the burning shaft.

The English Pedestrian Beats Albert's Record-Albert's Challenge.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—There was an immense assemblage in Madison Square garden Saturday night to witness the closing scenes of the six days go as you please,
which began shortly

Monday last. It is estimated that from 8,000 to 10,000 peo ple were present. From 5 o'clock and ip to the close of the race most of the pedestrians emain ed on the track, and every time the band would spurt around at a lively rate. The sporting men unanimously declared that but for the lack of heart Cartwright would have been pushing Littlewood for first At 6 o'clock Lit voon, bert's record. was going around gamely, although it was evident that one of his feet was sore, as he limped in rather a painful way. Little-wood's intention when he started was to cover 675 miles; his sickness precluded this, but he was determined to break the record. At 7:30 he made his 619th mile, and the crowd cheered loudly. The excitement was great as he drew near Albert's record. Albert and his wife sat in a box and saw Littlewood win the title of champion walker of the world. Shortly after starting out on the 622d n ile it was stated that he would on completing it retire for good. While Littlewood was covering his 622d mile the crowd grew more enthusiastic. When he had com-pleted it he was presented by Guerrero with a handsome wreath, a present from Jockey Garrison, while the band played "Hail to the Chief," and followed with "Yankee Doodle."

It was 8:0: precisely when he finished. Albert came down with him carrying a broom, while the other pedestrians bore aloft American flags. One circuit of the track was then made in a sort of triumphal procession, Littlewood left the track. Moore, wright, Hart, Connor, Golden, Muson, Campana Taylor, and Smith followed shortly after, but Herty remained on the track running in splendid form. It was announced that he had determined to beat Rawell's record of 602 miles and 165 yards. At 9.44 he made the 602d mile, and shortly after passed Rowell's record, making the greatest record of his life. All the contestants returned to the track between 9 and 10 and indulged in frequent spurts. At 9:26 Littlewood, escorted by Manager O'Brien and limping badly, went around the track amid great cheering. After making a couple of laps Littlewood and Herty were stopped by Kelly, of the Boston Base Ball club, and presented with wreaths of laurel. After Littlewood made a few

The belt was then fastened around Littlewood's waist, and he thanked the speaker for his good wishes, and said he had won the belt once, but supmust win it twice more to Albert then stepped forward and challenged Littlewood to another race for the champion ship of the world under the conditions that each man entering put up $1,000, to be divided among the walkers in addition to the gate receipts.

The 10 p. m. score was: Littlewood, 623 miles 1,320 yards; Herty, 605; Moore, 553; Cartwright, 546; Noremac, 542; Hart, 529; Howarth, 536; Connor, 556; Golden, 534; Mason, 528; Taylor, 450; Campana, 451; Elson, 421; Peach, 262; C. Smith, 201. The receipts for the week amounted to about $10. ceipts for the week amounted to about $19,-123. Of this sum $9,561.50 will be divided among the walkers. Littlewood gets $3,824, with $1,000 added for breaking the record; Herty will get $1,721; Moore, $1,147; Cartwright, $560; Connor, $286; Golden, $191, and Mason, $95.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 3.-Charles Wight was assistant uperintendent of mails in the Detroit postoffice for six years prior to last summer, when he was caught stealing a de-coy letter. He tried to escape from Inspec-tor Augus Smith, who arrested him, made a written confession of his crime, pleaded guilty, and then withdrew this plea, denied his guilt, and hired a lawyer who sought to get him off on the ground that a decoy letter was not mail. Judge Brown overruled this Friday and the case went to the jury, who son concern that firted with half of the brought in a verliet finding Wight guilty. NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The steamship Andes, of the Atlas line, arrived at this port Monday morning from Port-au-Prince and other Haytien ports. When the Andes left Port-au Prince, in the early part of last month, the seized steamship Haytien Republic was lying in the harbor with a prize crew on board. From the tips of her three masts of weed three starspanded happers. The floated three star-spangled banners. The captain of the Ai des had an interview with the captain of the Haytien Republic three days before his departure. The plucky Yankee skipper swore until the air was black and bue that he'd see the blanked Haytiens in the deep sea before he'd haul the flugs down. The flugs he had nailed to the masts, knowing that the negro soldiers were too lazy to climb into the rigging and tear them away. The United States cruiser Boston rom Hayti, which has been detained at quarantine more than a week, was released Monday morning. She proceeded to the Brooklyn navy yard. The members of her crew who are suffering from vellow fever, remain in the Gwinbourne Island hospital. They are convalescing.

A WIFE'S SORROW AND DEVOTION

Exhibited in a Chicago Court Room-Some "Pent Up Anger" Breaks Loose in Colorado-White-Cap Warnings Received Right Under Governor Foraker's Nose-A Doubly Fatal Pistol Fight.

CHICAGO, D c. 5 -"You are charged with larceny; are you guilty or not guilty?" said Justice Kersten yesterday morning, addressing Louis Rheinhardt, a well-dressed, good-looking young man, who stood before him with bowed head and the tears dropping down on his gold-rimmed eyeglasses.
"I am guilty," said the prisoner, in a low

Manager Roberts, of Peter Van Schaack & Son, wholesale druggists on Lake street, was the young man's accuser. He said Rheinhardt had be n employed by the firm for several years as a salesman. He was considered an bonest, faithful employe until Saturday last, when $20, which hat i just been taken in on a bill of goods, disappeared. It was believed that Richardson had taken the money, and he was watched. Monday he was caught in the act of taking $13 which a customer had paid him. Then his house was searched and a miscellaneous collection of goods, cigars, valuable drugs, and other articles which he had stolen from the store, was found. Mr. Roberts said the stealing had been going on for a year and a half, and it was believed that Rheinhardt had taken altogether from $1,500 to $3,000 worth of goods.

Just then the prisoner's wife, who had been mitting among the spectators in the court room, rushed forward with a cry and threw her arms around her husband's neck.

"On, save him?" she cried. "Don't be hard on him, Mr. Roberts, Let me keep my husband. Louie, speak for yourself. You drank too much wine, or you would never have come to this."

Louis said not a word, but the tears ran down his face, while his hysterical wife was led away. He was held in $600 bail to the

BUCKEYE WHITE-CAPS ARE BOLD. They Invade the State Capital with Warn-

DEAR SIR: I am captain of the White-Caps, and am looking up men who drink and abuse their families, and you are among them. Take warn-ing from this. If you don't we will use the black-snake.

The signature to the letter was a picture of a black-snake whip. Welch, who resides on Maple street, is badly frightened, and says he will never drink another drop.

Burr McCowan, a colored mail-carrier of Delaware, O., received a postal card purpurting to come from the White-Caps. On the card was the following:

B. H. U. and D.—Death. No negro Democrats

The Vent Being in a Relapse into Barbarism That Is Very Common. CANON CITY, Col., Dec. 5.—The pent-up anger of the citizens of this place found vent yesterday morning about 4 o'clock by the lynching of the notorious murderer, Witherell. One hundred heavily-armed men entered the jail and overpowered the sheriff, and after a desperate struggle with the murderer overpowered him. Slipping a rope over his head the lynchers dragged him into the street. He refused positively to utter a preyer and asked and received no mercy. He was at once strung up to a telegraph pole and his body left dangling at the end of a rope until every resident in Canon City had viewed it. Witherell had murdered four people, three of them within the past sixty days.

Proceedings in the Senate and House of Represenatives.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 4.-The meeting of the second session of the Fiftieth congress was a brief one yesterday. Nothing was done in the senate after the president's message had been read except a few notifications by members of what they would do in the future, the most important of which was by Allison, who said he would ask the senate to proceed with the tariff bill at onnce.

In the house, after the message was read, it was ordered printed and referred to committee of the whole.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 5.—The senate was not in session an hour yesterday. A bill was introduced to establish a national health bureau, to fight infectious and contagious diseases, and various annual depart-ment reports were laid on the desk. An attempt to get up the Pacific railway bill was abandoned for the day, as was also one to proceed with the tariff bill, the latter pecause Democrats who had amendments to offer were not present. The senate then ad-

In the house the speaker called attention to the receipt of department reports, all of which were referred. A petition was re-ceived for the admission into the union of South Dakota and Montana, the petitioners being north Dakotans. A bill was introduced to permit persons who have dropped homestead entries to make other entries. Filibustering, led by Kilgore, stopped proceedings on a bill to appropriate money to erect a monument to Maj. Gen. Henry Knox, at Thomastown, Me. The bill was made a special order during the closing days of last session, and it was pending on an amen ment locating the monument in this city when the house adjourned

RIGHT AND WRONG.

Alas! how easily things go wrong; A sigh too much or a kiss too long, And there follows a mist and a weeping rain,

'Tis hard to watch on a summer's night, For the sigh will come and the kiss will stay, And the summer night is a winter's day. And yet how easily things go right
If the sigh and kiss of the winter's night
Come deep from the soul in the stronger ray
That is born in the light of the winter's day!

And things can never go badly wrong If the heart be true and the love be strong;
For the mist, if it comes, and the weeping rain
Will be changed by love into sunshine again.
