THE GREAT FAIR.

The Forty-Third Washtenaw County Fair a Great Success.

THE ATTRACTIONS PROVE A WINNING CARD.

The Balloon Ascensions—A Fine Stock Show—Some of the Premium Takers Illustrated—The Entries Very Large—Good Attendance Wednesday.

The forty-third annual fair of the Washtenaw County Association opened Tuesday and was all it promised to be. It is by all odds the best fair of the series and is well worth a visit, and after viewing all the departments, we can unhesitatingly advise our readers to visit it. As the exhibits were late in being arranged, an account written early enough to enable our paper to come out a day earlier, that we may distribute sample papers, must necessarily be fragmentary and will not include many exhibitors whose names were not on their exhibits.

The entries were very large and the force in the secretary's office were kept very busy in making out entry tags. The attendance on Wednesday was larger than usual at that stage of the fair and the outlook for Thursday and Friday was very fine. It is noticeable that there are many more Ann Arbor people than formerly on the grounds. The fair managers wear happy faces and the programme is going off without friction.

THE RACES.

The races, Wednesday afternoon, were interesting only from the fact that the contests were close, not from any fast time made. The track was slow and a stiff breeze was blowing. One of the novel spectacles which gave the crowd no end of amusement, was the bucking mustang, Texas Jim, who was entered in the 2:30 race. About every forty rods, the horse would buck and buck, but never losing an inch, and the sight of a bucking horse in a trotting race was a comical one. The races were as follows:

THREE MINUTE RACE.

There were five entries in the race, but Silver Star was drawn before the start. In the first heat Loren won easily, but after that was not able to get better than second place. The winner, Levaga, could do nothing in the first heat, passing under the wire last, but the following three heats took in succession, the finish in every heat being close. The score was as follows:

THREE MINUTE RACE.
Loren, K. Campbell, Dixboro.	1	2	4
Albert Wilkes, L. M. Lawrence, Chelsea.	3	3	3
Levaga, I. Reynolds, Ann Arbor.	4	1	1
Diek, H. Klinehamit, Whitmore Lake.	2	4	3
Time 3:12, 3:08½, 3:08, 3:10.

2:30 TROTTING RACE.

There were three entries in this class, Garfield, the favorite, winning easily in three straight heats, although Caprice crowded him several times, but was unable to pass him. The score was as follows:

2:30 RACE.

Texas Jim, A. Harmon, Saline.	3	3	3
Caprice, S. D. Bills, Tecumseh.	2	2	2
Garfield, E. J. Steele, Detroit.	1	1	1
Time, 2:43½, 2:43, 2:40.

BALLOON ASCENSION.

The mammoth balloon which was being filled with hot air in the rear of the grand stand, was the center of attraction for those present Wednesday afternoon. As the immense mass of corded silk began to inflate, it swayed back and forth in the strong breeze, trying to free itself from the guy ropes and the score or more of men who were holding it. Prof Bartholomew was everywhere, giving instructions and seeing that everything was in perfect working order. The crowd formed in a circle some little way from the balloon, giving it plenty of room. Inside of this circle were a number of volunteer helpers and one lady. The lady was Miss Girtie Csrmo, who was to make the perilous ascent and the still more perilous drop, but she appeared to take less interest in the affair than anyone else on the ground. Dressed in a suit of red, with short skirt and covered with a rubber cloak, she watched the preparations in a careless sort of way.

Everything being in readiness, Prof. Bartholomew gave the signal to let go, and the monster balloon rose rapidly, Miss Carmo clinging to a trapeze bar below. As the balloon ascended Miss Carmo gave an exhibition of trapeze performing, which was exciting to say the least. By the side of the balloon hung the parachute, with which she was to return to earth again. She seemed to be in no hurry to come down, however, and sat quietly on the bar of the trapeze as the balloon sailed westerly over the city. Finally, two pistol shots rang out as a signal for Miss Carmo to make her descent, and it appeared to the spectators that it was pretty nearly time, as the aeronaut appeared but a speck hanging below the balloon. In answer to the signal Miss Carmo grasped the bar of the trapeze attached to the parachute and swung off from the balloon. Her weight was sufficient to break the parachute from its fastening and down she dropped, going like a shot for a hundred feet or more until the current of air opened up the parachute. Seated on the bar she gradually descended and landed without mishap near the corner of Main and Packard streets. The balloon being freed of its weight, passed over the city and then came down. The entire ascension and drop was one of the prettiest ever made, and will be repeated Thursday and Friday afternoons.

One of the centers of attraction is the pond of German carp exhibited by Russel C. Reeves, of Dexter, around which a crowd could always be found. The carp are big fellows, one weighing sixteen pounds. They are plainly visible and oftentimes leap out of the water.

There are all sorts and conditions of people on the grounds. Of course there is

THE SAME OLD CEREAL STORY.

It is always there and the couple is utterly oblivious of the grain which surrounds them. But needless to remark no one enjoys the fair so much as they do. And, indeed, they form one of the attractions of the fair, though not entered or advertised as such.

Of course there are plenty of cereals shown. The wheat is very fine, and the oats of good quality.

The Merry Andrews, shooting targets, and other games are plentiful, while the dancing pavilion is full of happy couples.

The Superior Grange Band is furnishing excellent music.

The programme for Thursday was issued, as speaking by Governor Winans, good races, balloon ascension and trapeze performance. While for Friday there will be a military parade, a balloon ascension, good races and other attractions. In the ladies' race, Miss Belle Hogan rides Spot and Miss Eusebia Walter rides Maud. This will undoubtedly prove an attractive race.

THE MERCHANTS' DISPLAY.

The merchants' display is a good one. Dean & Co. have a fine display of crockery including some new Japanese goods which came wrapped in Japanese papers, one of which the Colonel essayed to read. J. F. Schuh has a very fine display of artistic machine work done on the White machine. M. Staebler has a display of Wheeler & Wilson and its work. The Bazarrette, of Ypsilanti, displays some pretty crockery. Mack & Schmid have two large booths for cloaks and for carpets. Koch & Henne show some fine furniture including an elegant settee. The Ann Arbor Organ Company have a fine musical display. Eberbach's Hardware have a good assortment of Jewel stoves on exhibition. Other exhibitors were not on the grounds in shape, Wednesday morning.

A painting of an old door on which hangs a violin, music, etc., is shown in Blake's studio, so life-like that several tried to pick the violin up.

Charles C. Miller has three crayon drawings and a painting of a pipe which show considerable artistic skill.

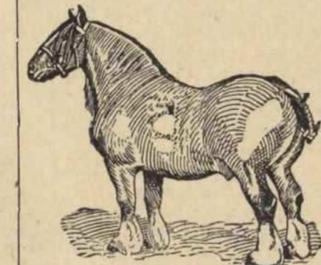

THE HORSES.

The horse department is much better filled than usual and the entries are excellent in character.

CLEVELAND BAY HORSE.

Eugene Helber, of Saline, shows Lord Wenlock, the celebrated Cleveland Bay stallion which captured first premium at the state fair. He exhibits also the Emperor of Murfield, three years old, the only shire horse owned in the county, and a beauty he is. Tee cut below does not bring it all out. He has also a number of fine Cleveland Bay colts.

SHIRE STALLION.

The Finley farm, of Scio, exhibits seventeen head of horses. At the head of them stands Golden Eva, sired by Membrino Patchen, the brother of the celebrated Lady Thorn. Bell Marvin, a promising

Is Alum Poisonous?

[Hall's Journal of Health.]

"This question has caused a good deal of discussion. Alum is used by many bakers to whiten their bread, enabling them to use an inferior flour. It is most extensively employed as a cheap substitute for cream of tartar in the manufacture of baking powders. It has not been considered immediately dangerous, although if continued it induces dyspepsia and obstinate constipation. But the fact that many cases of poisoning have occurred from the use of alum, puts the question in a more serious aspect, and prudent people will exercise caution in the selection of baking powders.

"Under what conditions then does this substance—formerly used only for mechanical or medicinal purposes—become poisonous? They are certainly obscure, and at present we can only surmise what they may be. We suspect that the cause exists in the individual poisoned; some peculiarity of the constitution producing a morbid change in the secretions of the stomach, with which the alum combines and forms an active poison; or the secretions may be healthy but in unusual proportions, and that these less or greater proportions in combination with the alum constitute a poison.

"For example, two parts of mercury and two parts of chlorine form calomel, which is not poisonous, but change the proportions to one part mercury and two parts of chlorine, and we get corrosive sublimate, which is a deadly poison.

"Then again, we know nothing of the constitutional peculiarities. Why is it that one person can eat all kinds of green fruits and vegetables with impunity, while the same course might cost another individual his life? One person can handle poison ivy and sumach without being the least affected; another is poisoned if he approaches to within ten feet of them. Out of a family residing in a malarial district, some of the members will suffer half the year with fever and ague, while the others will enjoy excellent health during the entire year. Foods that are wholesome to some persons are actually poisonous to others. This is especially true of some kinds of fish. There is no safety in taking alum into the stomach, as it is shown to be always injurious, and often dangerous."

The Scientific American published in a recent number a list of alum and ammonia baking powders, which is of great value at this time. Following is the list compiled from official reports. Powders marked with a star seem to have a general sale, as they are mentioned in at least two of the official reports.

OLD MALARIA SUFFERERS!

Broken Down in Body and Spirit, Eagerly Seeking a Cure.

Medicines that Only Damage--Medicines that only Palliate--Medicines that Permanently Cure.

Selected from a Lecture delivered by Dr. Hartman, of Columbus, Ohio.

I need only refer every one to their own observation in malarial diseases to prove that the usual remedies have not, as a matter of fact, been successful in curing them. Go to any malarious section of the country and you find its inhabitants taking regularly enormous doses of the medicines that are lauded as cures of these affections, with little or no effect. The various preparations of cinchona or calisaya bark, known as quinine, sulphate of cinchona, sweet quinine and tasteless quinine, are taken with wonderful persistency, with seemingly no other effect than to depress the heart's action, lower the nervous vitality, and produce a most pernicious form of biliousness. When traveling through the malarial districts it is often pitiful to see the fallow, hollow-eyed, listless, woe-begone victims industriously swallowing large doses of these harmful chemical preparations, vainly hoping through them to regain their health, but rarely realizing their hopes. I have much to say in favor of cinchona bark in the treatment of malarious affections, but these peculiar chemical salts--quinine, etc.--which are obtained from cinchona bark, by adding to them poisonous acids, I cannot too strongly denounce as dangerous drugs, which will inevitably produce a much worse condition of the system than the disease for which they are taken. It is almost an every-day occurrence in my practice that a patient comes to my office to consult me who has been treated for some form of malaria for one to ten years. The unfortunate victims have gone helplessly from doctor to doctor, taking of each one about the same list of vegetable and mineral poisons, until, broken in body and spirit, they languidly begin to use my prescriptions with hardly faith enough left to take any more medicine. Pe-ru-na is a specific for this condition, but I generally find it necessary in such cases to use, in addition to Pe-ru-na, a few bottles of Man-a-lin to restore the action of the liver and bowels, which have been deranged, as the result of former treatment. In these cases the Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin should be taken as directed on the bottles. Having continued the Man-a-lin long enough to thoroughly regulate these organs, the Pe-ru-na is continued alone until a cure is complete, which is sure to occur unless some serious complication has set in before the treatment was begun. For a complete treatise on Malaria, Chills, and Fever and Ague, send for The Family Physician No. 1. Sent free by The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio.

What Your Great Grandmother Did.

She hatched the flax and carded the wool, and wove the linen, and spun the tow, and made the clothes for her husband and ten children. She made butter and cheese, she dipped tallow candles, to light the house at night, and she cooked all the food for her household by an open fire-place and brick oven. Yes; and when she was forty years of age, she was already an old lady whose best days were over. Her shoulders were bent and her joints enlarged by hard work, and she wore spectacles and a cap. Her great granddaughter, with all the modern conveniences for comfort, refinement and luxury, may be as charming and attractive at forty-five as at twenty. Especially is this true if she preserves her health and beauty by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Pepsin, which wards off all female ailments and irregularities, cures them if they already exist, keeps the life current, healthy and vigorous, and enables the woman of middle age to retain the freshness of girlhood upon brow and cheek, the light of youth in her eyes, and its elasticity in her step. Sold by all druggists.

To the Paris Exposition I went, Upon getting the Grand Prize intent; I left all behind, The Grand Prize was mine-- No. 9, No. 9.

At the Universal Exposition of 1889, at Paris, France, the best sewing machines of the world, including those of America, were in competition. They were passed upon by a jury composed of the best foreign mechanical experts, two of whom were the leading sewing machine manufacturers of France. This jury, after exhaustive examination and tests, adjudged that the Wheeler & Wilson machines were the best of all, and awarded that company the highest prize offered--the GRAND PRIZE--giving other companies only gold, silver and bronze medals. The French government, as a further recognition of superiority, decorated Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, president of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor--the most prized honor of France. The No. 9, for family use, and the No. 12, for manufacturing uses, are the best in the world to-day. And now, when you want a sewing machine, if you do not get the best it will be your own fault. Ask your sewing machine dealer for the No. 9 Wheeler & Wilson machine. If he doesn't keep them, write to us for descriptive catalogue and terms. Agents wanted in all unoccupied territory. SEVERAL interesting state campaigns are in progress, and are being watched with interest by the people of this state, who are not troubled with the turmoil of a political campaign of their own. There are various local complications which make it difficult at this distance to judge what bearing they may have upon the result, but a brief mention of them may prove of interest.

In New York a full state ticket is to be elected. The democrats would undoubtedly carry the state by a very heavy majority were it not for unfortunate quarrels in New York city and Brooklyn. For they go into the canvass with a record of the lowest state tax levy in thirty-six years, the rate this year being only 1.37½ mills as against 2.34 mills last year, under a republican legislature. Two millionaires have been nominated for governor. The democratic millionaire earned his money, the republican married his. Both are reported to be free with their money. Flower was the candidate of Tammany Hall, and of Governor Hill. Fassett was the candidate of Boss Platt, who turned down so able a man as Andrew D. White to secure the nomination of his henchman. Last year, in the election of the legislature the location of the world's fair played an important part. Candidates who had obeyed Boss Platt's behest and voted against the appropriations which would have secured the world's fair in New York city, were defeated even in the interior districts. Fassett, the republican nominee for governor, was a senator, and led Platt's opposition to the fair. This will prove a great factor in offsetting the soreness of the county democracy in being denied seats in the democratic convention and the bitterness of the Kings' county democracy because Chapin was not nominated.

In Ohio, a big contest is being waged. Governor Campbell is not in the good graces of the ward heelers. He is too clean a man for that. This will probably lose him many votes in the cities. On the other hand, McKinleyism is unpopular. Ohio is a wool growing state, fed on big promises by McKinley and wool has fallen in price. The farmers' alliance is in the field with a ticket which will draw 20,000 votes. No one can tell what party they will come from. Ohio is naturally a republican state. But John Sherman and blatherskite Foraker are fighting over the United States senator, and were democrats united they could easily win.

In Iowa, the state issue seems to be prohibition. Many republicans who favor high license will vote for Boies, the democratic candidate on this issue. On the other hand some democrats, not many probably, will vote with the republicans. The republicans are making desperate efforts to hold the state in line on the plea that the electoral vote in case of democratic success, will be divided into congressional districts after the Michigan idea. In all three of these states, United States senators are to be elected.

In Massachusetts, democratic Governor Russell who is a candidate for re-election, has given the state so clean an administration that the republicans have not dared to attack it either in their platform or on the stump. Their cry is solely that their candidate is as good a man as Russell. And although they claimed that he was able to cope with Russell on the stump or in the governor's chair, he did not dare to accept Russell's challenge for joint debates during the campaign. Russell, who is an exceedingly able campaigner, is only thirty-four years old.

THE GREAT FAIR.

yearling, for which Mr. Finley was offered $800 when it was a suckling, is also on the grounds. So also is a fine five-year-old breeding mare, large and rangy, whose half-brother holds the two and three year old Michigan record and two of whose half-brothers made 2.26 and 2.28 on the same day at the Cleveland races. P. Irwin has ten horses entered, sired by Mambrino Goldust, whose sire was Mambrino Gift. Three of them are entered in the class races. He exhibits as fine a four months old colt as can be found in the county.

J. E. Penny shows Lothiel, a large Clydesdale stallion. John Mount, of Napoleon, has four trotters on the ground. C. D. Bills, of Tecumseh, goes him one better, having four trotters and one pacer. E. J. Steele, of Detroit, is on hand with the trotter Garfield and W. S. Conklin, of Detroit, exhibits the pacers, Little Fred and Johnnie Miller.

C. L. Tuomey has three Wilkes colts, fine ones, sired by Barney Wilkes. Two of them are stallions. Their dam is Jennie M., sired by Morris, he by Lexington. It is needless to remark that the colts give remarkable promise.

CATTLE.

S. O. Tubbs, of Delhi Mills, has twelve full blooded Galloways, and two grades. They are the well known black hornless cattle. The head of the herd is a large bull which weighs 1,500, so gentle that he allows the boys to ride him. The entire herd was driven from the farm to the fair grounds and the three bulls did not require to be led. Their gentleness seems a marked characteristic of the breed.

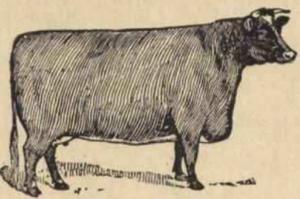

A PAIR OF FAVORITES.

Mills Bros. have nine head of Holstein Freisians out of their large herd of nearly one hundred. This herd are always premium takers and great milkers.

John C. Chalmers of Ann Arbor has a fine herd of Guernsey cattle and one pretty little Jersey.

The Shorthorns are well represented and are always favorites as beef cattle. A glance at the will very closely demonstrate the reason why. Galpin's exhibit includes six thoroughbreds and three grades. He took first premiums on the four-year-old-cow, three-year-old cow, yearling bull and first on herd. Mr. Galpin has every reason to feel proud because he had good competition.

A PREMIUM TAKER.

R. Nowland exhibited nine thoroughbred shorthorns and took first premium on a three-year-old bull and first on yearling heifer. Benj. D. Kelly, of near Ypsilanti, had also a fine herd, but as the cattle were not attended when we glanced at them, we did not learn his premiums.

Frank Olds, of York, exhibits Holsteins and Jerseys. His Holsteins include five cows, two bulls and four calves, good looking ones at that. He also shows a Jersey cow, bull and calf.

J. F. Avery, of Saline, has ten fine Jerseys. A can of milk milked Wednesday morning showed at noon fifty per cent. cream. The legend "bred for butter, they'll butter your bread" was evidently a true one. The head of the herd is York Stoke Pogis, whose dam was an imported cow. The herd have big pedigrees.

SHEEP.

The sheep display is fully up to the average, the Shropshires being most largely represented.

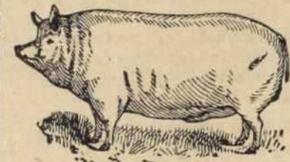

SHEEP EXHIBIT.

Robert Martin exhibits a ram which weighs 255 pounds, and two two-year-old ewes, the first premium takers at the Ypsilanti fair. Emery Leland is represented with 24 head of fine Shropshires. D. B. Sutton has four pens of Shrophires. One of his two-year-old ewes weighed 215 pounds as a yearling. The brother of the ram sold for $1,500. S. Barnach, of Ypsilanti, has a number

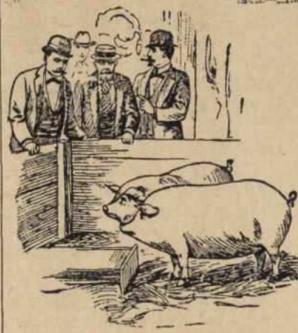

THE HOGS.

Poland Chinas predominated. There were some big ones and some fairly bred ones. First premium tickets could be seen on boars belonging to Charles Braun and Geo.

W. Inman and well deserving of it the hogs seemed. S. T. and S. J. Gridley had a large exhibit of Poland Chinas and many of them took first premiums. A number of spectators could be seen hanging over the pens and watching the porkers, which have made millions for some Chicago men.

THE POULTRY.

The roosters were busy crowing, each trying to out do the other.

POULTRY DEPARTMENT.

Dr. D. P. McLaughlin, Geo. M. Gaudy, Geo. J. Nissly and others made fine exhibits. Dr. McLaughlin has some fine Indian game fowls.

THE FRUIT EXHIBIT.

The fruit exhibit proves that Washtenaw yet holds a front rank in the fruit growing counties. The grapes especially seem very fine, though the frost in the spring injured some of the vines. W. F. Bird exhibits thirty-two varieties of grapes, all of the bunches being large and well filled. He also exhibits eleven varieties of pears, ten of apples.

Prof. E. Baur shows nineteen varieties of pears and many of them beauties, eighteen varieties of apples, three varieties of quinces, eighteen of grapes, also German prunes. His exhibit is a very creditable one.

Robert Martin, of Superior, took five first premiums on six plates of apples.

Jacob Ganzhorn exhibited thirty-three varieties of grapes, and made

CONDEMNED.

Ammonia Baking Powder Must Go.

Bills have been introduced in the New York, Illinois and Minnesota Legislatures compelling the manufacturer of such baking powders to brand on the label in bold type, this powder "Contains ammonia." Physicians and chemists condemn the use of ammonia in baking powders as a crime. Its constant use no matter how small the quantity deranges the stomach, neutralizing the gastric juice and destroying the complexion. It is the small quantities taken every meal that do the mischief.

It is gratifying to know there are pure baking powders to be had on the market and at no greater cost to the consumer than some of these so-called "absolutely pure" ammonia powders.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, the standard pure cream of tartar powder for forty years. Free from the taint of either ammonia or alum. None so pure—None so wholesome.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is reported by all authorities as free from Ammonia, Alum, or any other adulterant. In fact, the purity of this ideal powder has never been questioned.

The case of David Henning vs. the M. C. R. R. was finished in the U. S. District Court at Detroit, Friday, the jury awarding Mr. Henning $1,000 damages. This is nearly a victory for the railroad as it is understood that the company offered Mr. Henning $3,000 in settlement during the progress of the suit.

Deputy sheriff Peterson took Robert L. Popkins to the insane asylum at Pontiac again Friday. Popkins was placed there once before and grew much better, and was sent home, but recently he has been growing bad again, and considering him dangerous it was necessary to again place him under restraint.

John Dawson, formerly a resident of Webster township, died at Owosso, Sept. 27th, of heart disease. He was about 75 years of age. His remains were brought to this city Tuesday, and then taken to Hudson cemetery for interment. Deceased was a member of Corunna Commandery, K. T., and his remains were accompanied by a detail of his fraters.

The Ann Arbor Register got out a mammoth issue last week. It contained forty pages, finely illustrated with Ann Arbor buildings and prominent citizens, and well filled with the advertisements of our best business men. The issue was a highly creditable one to both the Register and the city and a great deal of work was involved in its preparation.

The Sewing Circle of the Congregational church will meet in connection with the monthly social on Thursday, Oct. 8th, at 3 p. m. Orders for work can be left, as last year, either with Mrs. Dean on E. Liberty street, or with Mrs. Spence, on Jefferson street. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Supper will be served at 6:30.

George Wahr has had excellent luck recently in smashing delivery wagons. The fore part of last week a runaway team broke one for him, and Saturday afternoon his horse got loose, ran through Main street and smashed his wagon into kindling wood at the corner of Williams street. Two smashups in one week make it a little expensive.

One of the worst nuisances on the streets of Ann Arbor is the sprinkling wagon and the carelessness with which it is handled. Every day pedestrians are wet while crossing the streets, and the driver pays no more attention to carriages than to stones. The Argus has heard more than a dozen complaints during the past week.

Robert Tidsell was to have had a trial, Monday, before Justice Butts, on a second charge of drunkenness, but his case was adjourned for two weeks at his request. He feels sure of conviction and stated that since paying his fine last week, business had been so dull that he hadn't been able to raise enough money to pay a fine if it was imposed.

Three boys of from nine to eleven years old took a buggy belonging to a lady from Northfield, from the barn on North street, where she had put up her horse. The lady being unable to find the buggy notified the marshal, who after an hour's search found it on Beakes street near Ferguson's cart factory, where the boys had been riding down hill with it.

The peach crop in this vicinity has been nearly all gathered. The growers have had a good season and prices have ranged well. The crops of the three largest orchards were as follows: Chas. Clark, 2,500 bushels; Dr. W. W. Nichols, 2,000 bushels; Wm. McCreery, 1,500 bushels. Besides these, Dr. Nichols had a large crop of pears and an average crop of apples.

The University opened Thursday morning, again crowded to its limits, the registration exceeding in every department that of last year, except in the medical department, and that is nearly the same. The authorities have made arrangements to care for patients and open up the clinics as usual next Monday, although the new hospital will not be ready to occupy for a month.

The warm weather of the past few weeks has proven disastrous to the price of fruit. One fruit grower who shipped ten barrels of choice pears to Detroit last week, received but $18 for the entire lot, the market being flooded. With cool weather, so that it would not have been necessary to pick the pears to keep them from rotting, they would have brought from $3 to $4.50 per barrel.

The last excursion of the season on the Michigan Central will be a special train to Detroit on Monday, Oct. 5th, on account of the German Day celebration. The train will leave Ann Arbor at 8:10 a. m. and leave Detroit to return at 7 p. m. The fare for the round trip will be 90 cents from Ann Arbor. From Chelsea the fare will be $1.25 and the train will leave at 7:40 a. m.

F. W. Stillman, the member of the company which played at the opera house last week, whose wife had him in the toils for non-support, was taken into Prosecuting Attorney Lehman's office, Saturday, he having neglected to do as he agreed. His wife was afraid that he was going to skip out and leave her again and asked for another warrant for his arrest. Stillman finally paid her $10 and another truce was proclaimed.

The Romance of Washing.

It is wonderful how every little duty and necessity of every day life is surrounded with a halo of charm and legendary lore. Some things seem so simple and practical that we imagine that nothing of a weird description can possibly be associated with them, yet in many instances the simpler the operation the greater the affinity it appears to have for things supernatural.

Offhand, we should say that washing cannot be invested with any romance, but old wives will tell us otherwise. Woe betide the person that dares to wash his or her hands in the same basin of water that has been or will be used by another individual! They will be sure to quarrel. Or, again, if you wipe your hands upon the same towel and at the same time with another person, you and that person will at some period of your lifetime go begging together.

The late Cuthbert Bede, however, tells us that he was informed in Rutlandshire that these dreadful things would not happen provided you first made the sign of the cross over the water. Another curious thing, too, in connection with this is that the quarrel only supervened when a basin of water was used. You might wash together in a running stream as often as you pleased and no ill effect would come of it.—Chambers' Journal.

Ancient American Cloths.

The Mexicans spun and wove cotton, and the Peruvians both cotton and wool, into fabrics which the Spaniards found in every way equal to anything they had known at home. The Peruvians, in particular, were adepts in the art. When Pizarro made the conquest of their country in 1533, he found in the empire of the Incas four species of animals little different from each other, which he called the sheep of the country (carneros de la terra), because of their general resemblance to the Spanish sheep, and the similar utilization of its fiber.

Two of the species, the llama and alpaca, had been in a state of domestication from time immemorial, the remaining varieties, the vicuna and the guanaco, living in a wild state in the fastnesses of the Andes. From a variety of sources we are able to obtain minute details of the importance which the government attached to these animals, and the large part which they played in the domestic economy of the country.—S. N. D. North in Popular Science Monthly.

Poison of the Centipede.

The centipede is popularly supposed to carry a sting on each foot, but I have several times handled them—after their heads were removed—without the claws producing any result. It is the first pair of claws only that are venomous, being hollow and provided with poison bags like a snake's fang. The largest I ever saw was eleven inches in length, a grewsome creature. A bite from one of this size would most likely have been fatal to a man in weak health. The tarantula, though his powers of offense are nothing like those of the scorpion or centipede, is, somehow, a more unpopular character than either. The horror of these large spiders entertained by many people is curious and unaccountable. I have seen Austrian bushmen, who in every-day life scarcely seemed to understand danger, turn white as a sheet at the sight of a small "triantelope," as they called it.—Chambers' Journal.

Revenge After Death.

The wife of a wealthy but careful American gentleman objected to ask for the housekeeping money as it was required, in small sums, on the ground that it was a waste of time and derogatory to her. She demanded a banking account, and finally, by her persistence, obtained one. But her husband had his revenge. At his death he left her all he possessed on this condition:

The amount, over a million dollars, was to be handed to her, personally, at his lawyer's office, at the rate of $100 an hour during twelve hours of each day. Thus was she, in the event of failure to set the condition aside, condemned to spend over 10,000 hours at or near the abode of the man of law, or nearly two years and a quarter, reckoning twelve hours to the day.—London Tit-Bits.

Queen Victoria's Special Edition.

A royal edition of The Daily Telegraph is prepared and issued daily for the queen's special sight. This has been the case ever since the death of the prince consort, on which occasion The Telegraph obituary notice so pleased the queen that she ordered a copy of the paper to be sent to each of her palaces daily. Since then twenty-five copies of the newspaper have been issued on the best of paper in truly royal style; so that if her majesty should take a fancy to glance down the columns of this widely circulated daily she has the privilege of knowing that she reads an edition expressly prepared for herself.—Irish Times.

The Towers of Silence.

In Persia stand two towers called by the Parsees the "Towers of Silence." According to the religion they never bury their dead, but have the body exposed on the top of one of these towers until the sun and the rain and the fowls of the air have cleaned the bones of all flesh. The bones are then collected and placed in the other tower. These Parsees, who are followers of Zoroaster, and very devout, have almost disappeared as a people, there being only about 8,000 of them at the present time.—Detroit Free Press.

A Slight Misunderstanding.

Irate Individual—What did you mean by telling Smith that I had been in jail? Calm Individual—I did not tell Smith you had been in jail. I simply said you ought to be in jail.
Irate Individual (calming down)—I beg your pardon. I must have misunderstood him.—Texas Siftings.

A Ready Debater.

Fond Uncle—Jack, you extravagant rascal, I'll cut you off without a shilling. Jack (the incorrigible)—All the more reason for letting me have the five hundred now.—Munsey's Weekly.

THE ARIZONA KICKER.

Nothing to Fear from Tom—We are Sure to Get There.

POOR SHOOTING.—As we were coming across the sand lots the other evening, after spending a couple of very agreeable hours at the adobe residence of the Widow Jackson, some fellow was assassin, who was in hiding, fired six bullets at us from a revolver. We think it was Tom Bigelow. We think so because Tom has shot at everybody in town and never hit any one. He didn't hit us. Being armed only with a bowie knife, we lit out as soon as the shooting began, and the last bullet went ten feet above our head.

We did think of hunting Tom up yesterday and splitting his ear with a bullet as a great moral lesson, but on second thoughts we concluded not to waste the time. He'll keep on blazing away around this town until somebody gets vexed at the noise and then he'll suddenly go hence. We don't want his funeral expenses on our hands.

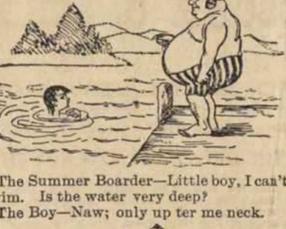

HE'S A SUBSCRIBER.—Last week, as noticed by our contemporary in a double-leaded article with three scare heads on it, Jim Benschaw, who owns the cactus ranch out on the Tucson road, refused to take his copy of The Kicker out of the postoffice. Jim not only owed us $1.50 on subscription, but refused his paper to hurt our feelings. He's been sore on us ever since we refused to lend him our white shirt—the only one in town—to go on a drunk in.

We want to show an accommodating spirit toward all, and we have the name of being a good fellow, but we want to say right here and now that we believe a common wool shirt is plenty good enough for any man in this town to get drunk in. If it isn't, he'd better stay sober.

When we saw Jim's little game we mounted our mule and rode over to interview him. He was expecting us. One bullet went through our hat and another raked our mule, but after that Jim lay down and we dug the bullet out of his shoulder and helped him into his dugout. He not only paid us all arrears in spot cash, but a dollar on advance subscription, and as soon as able to move about he will personally canvass for subscribers.

WE SHALL GET THERE.—Last Friday evening we were nominated for mayor by acclamation, and this is equivalent to an election. We don't deny that we sought the nomination. We have had our eye on it for a year past. We shall also do our level best to snow our opponent under. We have been moved to this course by a desire to see the town well governed and because we believe the mayor should be the representative man of the town. We are that man. There's no use in filling and backing and talking about modesty and self conceit and all that. We lead this town. We know more than any ten men in it rolled together. We shall make the best mayor the town has ever had, and we shall see that all the city printing is given to The Kicker at legal rates.—M. Quad in New York World.

Never Judge by Appearances.

The Summer Boarder—Little boy, I can't swim. Is the water very deep? The Boy—Now; only up ter me neck.

"Hi! This makes me feel young again."

"Help! Help!"

"Little boy, why didn't you tell me you were built like a giraffe!" —Life.

The Gander and the Ducks.

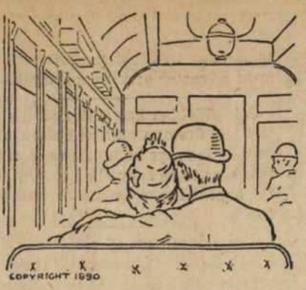

Some Ducks were one day Enjoying themselves in a pond of water when a Gander came down among them and put on such airs that the indignant Ducks finally cried out to one another:
"Behold the Gander! He would have us believe that he belongs to the Nobility!"
"Ladies and Gentlemen," replied the Gander, with added Dignity, "I beg to inform you that I have been Tracing my Genealogy back, and I find that I am directly Descended from the Eagle."
"Ho! ho! ho!" cried the Ducks in chorus.
"While it may be true that your Ancestors were Eagles, the fact remains that you are only a Goose!" and they fell upon him with beak and wing and drove him away.
Moral—No man's great-grandfather pays his debts or makes him a gentleman.—New York World.

Professional Courtesy.

Two doctors met on the street.
"I feel sorry for you. You ought not to be out in this kind of weather. You are a sick man," said Dr. Blister.
"I am feeling very well," replied Dr. Snover.
"What doctor is treating you?"
"I am prescribing for myself."
"You shouldn't do that. You are liable to be arrested for attempted suicide."—Texas Siftings.

Frozen Out.

"Could you not, if you tried, grant me a place in that icy heart of yours?"
"My heart may be of ice, as you say, Mr. Sophleg. But, all the same, I am not in the cold storage business."—Indianapolis Journal.

In the train of diseases that follow a torpid liver and impure blood, nothing can take the place of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Nothing will, after you have seen what it does. It prevents and cures by removing the cause. It invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood, sharpens the appetite, improves digestion, and builds up both strength and flesh, when reduced below the standard of health. For Dyspepsia, "Liver Complaint," Scrofula, or any blood-taint it's a positive remedy. It acts as no other medicine does. For that reason, it's sold as no other medicine is. It's guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded.

Oysters and all kinds of fruit ALWAYS ON HAND

THE GREAT FAIR.

an artistic display of grapes on the vines. He exhibits also apples, pears, peaches and quinces and also canned fruit and baked articles by his daughter Lizzie.

Calvin Austin and George Sperry had choice displays of apples and J. J. Parshal, peaches.

THE VEGETABLE EXHIBIT.

The county farm, as the farm surrounding the poor house is known, has a large and varied exhibit, entered not for premiums, but to show the tax-payers the variety of articles raised on the farm by the county. There are some very large and well filled cabbage heads, excellent samples of rye, oats and wheat, very large potatoes, raised without the use of phosphates, large turnips and beets, carrots, sweet corn, grapes and a number of other articles, including a mammoth sun flower, really the only esthetic article in the collection.

Keeper McCormick is a good farmer himself and he is bringing the county farm to a high state of culture as the exhibit bears witness. The tax-payers are all pleased with it.

One of the curiosities of the department is a new potato of good size grown in an old potato which had not been put in the earth.

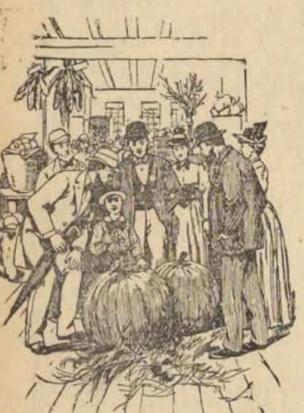

Mills Bros. captured the first premium on the display of corn, first on ten stalks of corn and first on beets.

Charles J. Conrath exhibited some very fine large and white celery.

P. G. Suekey's farm has an excellent display.

There are several stalks of corn thirteen and fourteen feet high.

There are any number of big pumpkins this year and they are even larger than usual. Our cut does not even do justice to their size.

PRIZE PUMPKIN.

THE WAGONS AND CARTS.

Ald. A. P. Ferguson has two large tents filled with by far the largest and best display of carts he has yet made at our county fair. He is on hand in person and is explaining the merits of his work to many admirers.

EXHIBIT OF VEHICLES.

Walker Bros. have a fine display of buggies and one does not wonder at their large trade when their work is explained.

Wurster & Kirn have a premium taking display of buggies.

John Finnegan shows the patent jump seat cart whose merits lies in its springs and in the ease of entering the cart by moving the seat, without throwing out the blankets or cushion.

THE WHITE IS KING.

The display of fine sewing made by the White sewing machine, Capt. J. F. Schuh agent, is exceedingly attractive.

The Village Blacksmith is stitched with spool silk and is a very accurate representation of Landseer's celebrated painting. The samples of the different kinds of work are simply elegant. No wonder the White sewing machine took the first premium.

NOTES.

Robert Martin took a first premium on barley and corn and second on wheat and oats.

Mills Bros. offer of a pure bred Holstein bull calf, for the best bushel of corn excited considerable interest. Fourteen bushels of corn were entered to compete for this prize and all of it was very fine corn.

Gardner & Rich, of Detroit, have a fine display of aluminum, the lightest of all the metals, and which has only recently become so cheap as to be used in making household articles. Aluminum will have a great place in household economy.

Circuit Court Docket.

The circuit court calendar for the October term shows 123 cases on the docket, divided into the following classes: Criminal, 28; issues of fact, 57; impartment 2; issues of law, 2; chancery, 1st class, 18; chancery, 2d class, 3; chancery, 3d class, 1; chancery, 4th class, 12. The criminal docket is larger than usual, one-half of the cases being the result of the recent crusade of the prosecuting attorney against violators of the liquor laws. The criminal cases are for the following offenses: Violation of the liquor laws, 16; rape 2; intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder, 2; intent to do great bodily harm, 1; larceny, 2; taking indecent liberties with a child, 1; carrying concealed weapons, 1; assault and battery, 1; false pretenses, 1; embezzlement, 1; breaking and entering a shop in the night with intent to steal, 1; obstructing railroad, 1.

The Great Tragedian.

Robert Downing, now acknowledged to be the greatest exponent of the robust characters of the stage in the world, will appear at the Grand opera house on Saturday evening, in his famed impersonation of "The Gladiator," a part that has made him known throughout the length and breadth of this continent, and has placed him at the head of his profession in this particular line. Mr. Downing will be supported by a magnificent company which is led by that beautiful woman and talented artiste, Eugene Blair, who will appear in her favorite part of Neodamia. The Boston Daily Globe says:

At the evening performance Mr. Downing presented Saumet's tragedy, "The Gladiator." It is, perhaps, in the character of Nero that Mr. Downing is given more and greater opportunities to show his power as an actor than in any of the other roles of his extensive repertoire. His physique is admirably suited to represent the stalwart form of the ancient Roman, and his voice is never known to fail him in the emotional lines. It was as Nero that the actor won his earlier successes, and Boston audiences have never failed to evince their pleasure when he has presented this character. Encores occurred after every act, and applause was liberal throughout the evening. Miss Eugenie Blair's Neodamia was a beautiful personation of girlish innocence. The arena scene was well staged and acted with telling effect.

The Chicago Art Institute has just opened for the fall term. Among the members of the faculty are architects Wm. A. Otis, W. S. McHarg and I. K. Pond, all graduates of the U. of M.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

The funeral of Mrs. Ellen Picquette of N. Main street, was held at St. Thomas' church, Tuesday morning.

The annual renting of pews in the Methodist church will take place on Monday evening next, Oct. 5, at 7:30 o'clock.

Tuesday noon, Melville Stratton, a brakeman on the Michigan Central, had his left arm crushed while coupling cars at the depot.

The funeral of the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hass, of Ann Arbor town, was held Tuesday afternoon. The child died of cholera infantum.

The finest arranged saloon in the state was opened Tuesday evening, in connection with the Cook House. The decorations are heavy plastic relief, with white marble wainscoting, and the furnishings are in antique oak and leather.

Miss Rebecca Henriques, of Fifth avenue, south, died very suddenly Saturday morning of apoplexy. She was born in New York, and came to Ann Arbor in 1852. She was a member of St. Andrews' church, and was highly esteemed by many friends. The funeral services were held at the house Monday afternoon.

One of the most disgraceful sights seen on our streets in a long time was that of a man and his wife, Timothy Cullinene and wife of Scio, both dead drunk on W. Huron street. Deputy sheriffs Peterson and Campion took them to jail. Monday, Mrs. Cullinene plead guilty to the charge of being a common drunkard and was fined $5 and costs. Her husband was let off with a fine of $2 and costs.

Deputy-sheriff Schall went to Detroit Monday, and brought back with him Mary Ellis, a domestic who until last Friday worked at the Arlington House in this city. When she packed her trunk she put in a dress belonging to another domestic, and this was the cause of all her trouble. On Tuesday morning she plead guilty before Justice Pond to the charge of larceny, and then commenced weeping and wailing and begging for mercy. Her tears had but little effect on the justice, but they reached the heart of the prosecuting attorney and he induced the justice to make her sentence $5.00 fine and $10.50 costs, or 30 days in jail. She couldn't raise the money and was placed in jail.

An excellent job has been done on bridge No. 2 by Street Commissioner Sutherland and his assistants, and the bridge is now in excellent shape. It will be remembered that the bids for repairing the bridge were $485 and $425 and that the board of public works declined to accept them but entrusted the work to the street commissioner. The repairs contained in the contract were all done in excellent shape at a cost of $316.95, of which $81.25 was for labor, a large saving to the city. It was found that the overhead timbers not mentioned in the specifications in which bids were asked were rotted and these were replaced at a cost of $65.73. The bridge is now in good condition.

New and second hand carriages and harnesses for sale or exchange for oats or hay at Robison & Howlett's palace livery.

Miss Carrie Binder, of Jackson, is visiting relatives in the city this week.
