THE FALL ELECTIONS.

The Democrats Get a Little the Best of Them, but Ohio Goes Republican by 20,000.

NEW YORK, MASSACHUSETTS, IOWA, DEMO-CRATIC.

New York Gives Over 50,000 Majority for Flower, Massachusetts 8,000 for Russell, and Iowa 8,000 for Boies on Heaviest Vote Ever Cast.

On Tuesday, elections were held in a number of states, the last general state elections before the presidential contest of 1892. The results in each state are given below.

NEW YORK.

The election in this state was a great surprise to the republicans whose organs had been claiming a majority of 17,000 for Fassett, based on estimates from each county. Roswell P. Flower, dem., was elected governor by a majority of 50,000. He gained heavily in the rural districts and lost in New York City, where his majority was 10,000 less than Hill's. In 1888 Harrison carried the state by 13,002 and Hill by 19,161.
The returns on the legislature are meagre, but it now looks as if the Senate was a tie with a democratic lieutenant governor with the casting vote and that the assembly is democratic by a majority of two or four. If this is true, the democrats will have control of both houses of the legislature for the first time in many years.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Gov. Russell, the gallant young democratic governor of this former rock ribbed republican state, has a plurality of 8,000. The vote is much heavier than last year. The legislature is republican, as usual.

OHIO.

The full vote was out in Ohio and was as heavy as in a presidential year.
Ohio again showed that she was a republican state, as she always is when a full vote is out. McKinley's plurality in the state will be about 20,000. The alliance party only cast about 11,500 votes in a total of 7,000,000. Hamilton county went heavily republican. The legislature is strongly republican in both houses, the republican majority on joint ballot being probably 36.

IOWA.

Gov. Boies, democrat, carried Iowa on the heaviest vote ever cast in the state, by about 9,000 plurality. The legislature is very close and in doubt, with the probabilities that the Senate is democratic and the house republican. The other state officers are probably democratic.

NEW JERSEY.

The democrats have a majority of 35 in the legislature, the largest legislative majority any party ever had in the state. No state officers were elected this year.

MARYLAND.

The democrats elected their governor and state ticket by 15,000 and made heavy gains in the legislature.

PENNSYLVANIA.

In this state a state treasurer and auditor general were elected. The republican plurality is between 40-000 and 50,000.

VIRGINIA.

The democrats swept the state for the legislature. The republicans failed to carry but one county. The legislature is seven-eighths democratic.

MISSISSIPPI.

The democrat selected a heavy majority in the legislature, defeating the alliance and republicans and securing the return of two democratic United States senators.

NEBRASKA.

The democrats elected a heavy ma-state. The contest was between the republicans and the alliance, over Supreme Court judge and the republicans won by 5,000.

COLORADO.

The republicans elected their chief justice by 5,000. The democratic candidate, Judge Goddard, is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Wm. G. Doty, of this city.

CITY AND OTHER ELECTIONS.

In Detroit the republicans re-elected Pingree mayor by a plurality of 7,200 and a majority over the two democratic candidates, Miner and Thompson. The republicans elected their entire city ticket and the council.
In Chicago, Lyman E. Cooley, brother of Prof. M. E. Cooley, of this city, is the only democrat that was elected.

He was elected drainage trustee. The election was for drainage trustees and county commissioners.

The republicans elected Capt. Belknap to Congress from the Grand Rapids district by 1,600. The people's party polled 3,500 votes in the district, drawn principally from the democrats.

Progress of the Ypsilanti Sewers.

The sewer diggers are now in the deep ditch on Huron street, north from Race, and the pipe has turned the corner on Huron street, lying there about three feet below the surface of the clay, above which is twelve feet of very loose sand and about three feet of gravelly soil. Every inch requires curbing.

Twenty rods of pipe remain to fill the gap on the flats, delayed for want of the tile, which arrived this morning.

A tremendous pile of earth is thrown out upon the street, and the inconvenience of such an obstruction, when the work reaches the business part of the town will be great. If water could be employed in backfilling there so as to hasten the restoration of the street to a passable condition, it seems as though it would be desirable. Race street looks as though it would be hardly passable for a year, except by creeping along the side, and even then the muck will have to be removed from the surface and replaced by gravel.—Ypsilantian.

Death of Two Pioneers.

On Monday, Oliver L. Warner died at his home in the township of Pittsfield.
He was 77 years and 4 months of age and had been a resident of Washtenaw county since 1837, coming here from the state of New York, where he was born. Mr. Warner was well known as an industrious and enterprising farmer. He cleared up the farm on which he died and made it his home for nearly half a century. He leaves a widow and four children: S. C.
Warner, of Lodi; Mrs. Mary E. Hill, of this city; Mrs. George Sperry, of Pittsfield; and L. C. Warner, who lives on the old homestead in Pittsfield. The funeral was held at the house, Wednesday morning, and was largely attended.

Francis A. Randall died on Friday last at his home on Spring street, aged 79 years. Mr. Randall was stricken down by paralysis a short time ago, from which his death resulted. He had lived in Ann Arbor about forty years and during the greater portion of that time had followed his trade, that of a carriage trimmer and carriage painter. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon.

The Catholic Fair.

The St. Thomas fair at the rink closed Saturday evening. It was as successful a fair as was ever held in this city and the net proceeds will amount nearly to $3,000. The interest was sustained to the end and Saturday evening a very lively competition for the buggy which took first prize at the Washtenaw county fair, which was put up to be voted to the most popular man in Washtenaw county, at ten cents a vote. The voting at the last was lively.

The final result was Capt. J. F. Schuh, 1,335 votes; John Eisele, 912; Dr.
W. B. Smith, 104 votes. Capt. Schuh received the prize. The following parties were fortunate to draw articles of value: Mrs. Mayor Doty, elegant oak secretary; Miss Koch, gold watch; John Conlon, the horse; Mr.
Muehlig, elegant rattan chair; Frank Masten, the cart; John Costello, of Dexter, rattan chair; Miss Maggie Harris, of Dexter, large lamp; Mrs.
Dan Quish, of Dexter, lawn vase; Father Kelly, Mr. Clancy and Mrs. A.
Meuth, each a guitar; Father Kennedy, of Detroit, oak side board; the harness and large stove were drawn by a party from Lodi. James Har-kins drew the overcoat; Sheriff Dwyer the trunk; Mrs. J. Meade, the rattan chair. The flour, coal, sugar, crackers and a thousand other articles fell to parties living in town. In another column will be found a card of thanks from Rev. E. D. Kelly, the rector of St. Thomas' church.

Next Friday Evening's Musical Treat.

The following description of Fanny Bloomfield-Zeisler is taken from an editorial in the New York Musical Courier. "No picture can do her justice for the emotional and intellectual face, with its variety of expression, defies the photographer's art. I will never forget the first night I heard her play. It was in '85, at the Academy of Music in this city. I had heard little of Bloomfield's abilities except some vague rumors and a hearty indorsement from Dr. William Mason, so when a frail girl stepped out on the stage, I was, I confess, surprised. The Rubinstein D minor concerto was her selection, and my surprise deepened into astonishment when I heard the powerful attack in the opening chords. Such fire, such a tone, such color—it was marvelous!

Fanny Bloomfield is still very young.
She is married to Sigismund Zeisler, a well-known and able lawyer of Chicago. She was a pupil of Leschetitsky.
She has played with Essipoff in London and has made a wonderful record in her numerous appearances with Nikisch. Mrs. Zeisler's style is broad and impassioned. She has a wonderful temperament, real genius in fact. She is a cousin of the great pianist, Moritz Rosenthal and her interpretations are warmer and more luminous than his." Her appearance in the first concert of the Choral Union series, November 13, will be an event of rare interest. Regarding the playing of the Detroit Philharmonic Club, the Chicago Tribune says: "No such thoroughly finished and artistic string playing has been heard in this city for many years, if ever." The Cleveland Leader says: "The exquisite unanimity of the grading, shading or 'coloring', the instantaneous answering of the tones in the changes of tempo was wonderful, and hushed the hall to perfect silence, so intense was the impression and so legitimate was the admiration." To hear such a combination as Mrs. Zeisler and the Philharmonic Club at one concert is indeed a privilege. We give the program in full.

1. Mozart—Quartet in D major.....

According to the rules of the Choral Union, no single tickets will be sold excepting to holders of Associate Membership tickets and the number is limited to one for each ticket. Inasmuch as the price of these extra tickets will be 50 cents for the first, second or third concert, 75 cents or $1 for the fourth and $1 for each of the remaining concerts, it is the part of wisdom to purchase an extra season ticket at $2. This series is not conducted with a view to making money for any individual or for any other purpose than the specific one of furnishing the very best concerts for the money on hand. There is positively no free list and with the exception of the press representatives not a single person attends these concerts without paying exactly the same as every other. To this rule there is no exception, not even in the case of the director or any of the officers.

Farmers Organizing to Protect Game.

The farmers in Monroe county have organized to protect their farms from trespassers. The Monroe Democrat of last week in speaking of the new organization, says:

"Farmers are coming to understand that they have some rights in their property besides the right to plow and plant the land, and gather the grain; and are organizing clubs all through the county to protect those rights.
From time out of memory, it has been the custom for a class of people living in the city or country villages to go singly or in parties, and with guns and dogs literally take possession of a man's farm and kill every game bird or animal to be found, and when remonstrated with by the owner, he was simply told to 'go to hades,' and in many instances gun and dogs were threatened to be called into use to enforce the order, if the owner of the property presumed to further interfere with the hunter. The property owner rather than have his anatomy lacerated by a dog or punctured by shot, usually retired in good order, leaving the cheeky poacher at liberty to follow his unlawful pleasure. When notices were posted notifying trespassers to keep off the property hunters have deliberately shot them to pieces and then committed the trespass—declaring there was no such notice posted. This fall farmers have concluded to have something to say concerning their property rights, and in nearly every township in the county an organization of farmers has been effected for this purpose.
They claim that they feed and care for the game and have a property right to it. These birds save them many dollars annually and are naturally the friend of the farmer. That tramping over the ground injures growing crops and no one has any right to interfere with either game or crops. They claim that if quail, partridge, woodcock, squirrel, wild turkey or other game is a delicacy for the city table, it is as much of a delicacy for the country table, and with just as much of a capacity for enjoying it. If the city sportsmen hunt for the market, that market is open just as wide for the country boy. If they hunt for exercise, why—let them saw wood.

The latest organization formed among farmers for the protection of game is in the townships of Berlin and Ash.
The society has a constitution and by-laws. Provisions are made whereby a tax may be levied upon the real estate of its members to create a fund to defray the expenses of prosecution of trespassers and poachers, and violations of the game law. Members are subject to a fine of one dollar for neglecting to complain of violations that may come to their knowledge, and a standing reward is offered to any person who will furnish evidence that will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons committing trespass. Hon. John Strong is president, David Valance secretary and John Reynolds treasurer. The farmers are right, and all good citizens as well as the courts will stand by them in their endeavor to protect their rights. The insane idea that no one has property rights that any fellow with a gun is bound to respect should be upset without regard to person."

evening.

Hunters need to beware on whose premises they take the liberty to shoot game as some of the farmers have signs up, "No Shooting Allowed Here."

The morning passenger train going north on the Toledo and Ann Arbor road was wrecked a short distance north of this station last Saturday morning. The whole train left the track. The tender, baggage car and first coach were thrown off the grade and nearly tipped over, while the engine and last coach remained on the grade. About two hundred feet of track was torn up. Spreading of the rails is reported to be the cause of the accident. It seemed to be almost a miracle, seeing the position of the cars, that not a person on board was injured. A number of the company's men were soon collected and commenced to clear up the wreck. The cars were somewhat smashed, but not as much as first supposed. The track was cleared and the wreck all cleared up except the mail car at two o'clock Sunday morning. A gang of men worked all day Sunday in repairing track and removing the last car of the wreck.

Bob White.

BY MRS. H. B. WORCESTER.

There's a song on the warm wind to-day,
It is wafted from over the way Drifting out on the air
It is borne everywhere, Now listen to what it shall say.
There it comes soft and light,
"Bob White, Bob White,"
Through the soft, dreamy light, Echo answers afar it's "Bob White, Bob White."

Come this way, dearest bird of my love, Plump and fair, and wild-eyed as the dove, Through October's soft haze Bring again back the days When we loved free as air then to rove, When through soft, dreamy light, We answered, "Bob White."
Hark, afar now the song of Bob White,
And the echoes are answering, "Bob White, Bob White."

How we followed in many a mood,
Through the meadows and deep tangled wood,
And when we drew nigh, Whirring off you would fly,
And yet, we acknowledged these good,
Far out o'er the plain Comes the song of "more rain,"
And we answer the warning, "more rain, more rain."

Never bird sang more sweetly to me, Many hued though its bright wing might be.
We to-day nestle the trees,
Hear the rustle of leaves,
And the quail whistling over the lea, List, afar through the soft, dreamy light,
"Bob White, Bob White,"
Through the soft, dreamy light, Echoes answers so sweetly, "Bob White, Bob White."

What is Good Baking Powder?

It is a well known fact that carbonate of ammonia is used by bakers in the preparation of the finest and most wholesome bread and cake, and has been from time immemorial. It is among the oldest and at the same time most healthful constituents of baking powders. It is all evolved in gas by the heat of the oven, and leaves no trace of itself in the food, and it is this that gives it its greatest value as a leavening agent in the opinions of the physicians.

Victory over Disease.
Gentlemen: I have suffered intensely from biliousness and rheumatism for over three years, and had tried so many remedies that I had lost all faith. Hearing of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup I bought a bottle and found it helped me. I have now used four bottles, and it has restored my liver and kidneys to healthy action, and done more to purify my blood than anything I have ever taken. I am pleased to recommend it as a wonderful blood medicine.

Very truly yours,

The brusque and fussy impulse of these days of false impression would rate down all as worthless because one is unworthy. As if there were no moles in sunbeams! Or comets among stars! or cataracts in peaceful rivers! Because one remedy professes to do what it never was adapted to do, are all remedies worthless? Because one doctor lets his patient die, are all humbugs? It requires a fine eye and a finer brain to discriminate—to draw the differential line.

"They say" that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have cured thousands.

Try one or both. If they don't help you, tell the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., and you get your money back again.

Nervous women seldom receive the sympathy they deserve. While often the picture of health, they are constantly ailing. To withhold sympathy from these unfortunate is the height of cruelty. "Wedding presents are mentioned in the Bible," said young Mr. McBride to his wife as they surveyed their own.

"I didn't know that."

"Yes; the Scriptures speak of marrying and giving in marriage."

Worth Looking At.
"Turn to the press—its teeming sheets survey, big with the wonders of each passing day." Among these the eye will pause to look at an old family need in new dress. It will charm the sight, comfort the weary, and bring cheer and hope to the pain-stricken. The columns of this paper are graced by its reappearance. It is welcome, for what it promises to do, it does with alacrity, and proves its promise by an ample show of performance. The right thing, in the right place, at the right time, experience has proved it to be. Upon this it has won public confidence and esteem, for while St. Jacobs Oil, the great remedy for pain, thus makes its annual rounds and renews its pledges of prompt and permanent cure, its continual success is the guaranty that what it says is true and what it does is sure. Its best recommendation is its true reputation, upon which all may depend for cure and comfort.

OF Diseases which afflict
EVERY man and woman are due to the FOUR disorders of the blood. In fact, if the vital fluid is kept in good condition, the tendency to any disease is lessened by three fourths. A harmless vegetable remedy, which cleanses the blood, should be taken occasionally by every one. In the young, it assists in the development of the body and mind. In the adult, it helps nature to keep up the equilibrium of strength, which is taxed by the labor and cares of life. To the old and those with the infirmities of age, it is invaluable for its tonic and strengthening powers, to prevent diseases which are so often fatal to old people. This remedy is Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). It cleanses out all the germs and poison, and builds up the human organism. We will mail free a valuable book to all applicants.

SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

"You'll be a man like one of us some day," said the patronizing sportsman to a lad who was throwing his line into the same stream. "Yes, sir," he answered. "I spose I will some day, but I believe I'd rather stay small and catch a few fish."

What was it, John,
That made your face so free and clear from pimples, said his sweetheart. Why, don't you know, Eva? For over a year I took everything I could think of, without helping me, then I bought two bottles of Sulphur Bitters and now I haven't one pimple on my face. It's the best blood cleanser I ever saw.

"The privileges you enjoy, my son, from being an American," said the proud father, "are simply inestimable. You may some day become president of the United States, while in England no little boy, however brilliant or good, can ever become queen."

Drunkennes, or the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured By Administering Dr. Heines' Golden Specific.

It is manufactured as a powder, which can be given in a glass of beer, a cup of coffee or tea, or in food, without the knowledge of the patient. It is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. Cures guaranteed. 48 page book of particulars free. Address, Golden Specific Co., 155 Race St., Cincinnati, O.

Eisele's Cancer Specific.

COUNTY.

Mrs. Leonora Kelley died in Saline October 24.

The Saline school has an attendance of 254.

Henry Gaumar, of Saline, is building a large barn.

Fred O. Martty has opened a drug store in Manchester.

E. B. Tyler fell on the sidewalk in Dexter last week and broke a collar bone.

Mrs. Ann L. Rickerson, of Clinton, died October 23, aged sixty-eight years.

An Ypsilanti merchant exhibits an Egyptian mummy, who is very, very dead.

J. W. Marble sprained his ankle at the Milan fire, last week, by jumping from a roof.

Capt. Allen made three speeches in the Grand Rapids congressional campaign, last week.

Mrs. Betsy Lyon, of Milan, died in Maumee, Ohio, October 22, aged eighty-three years.

Rev. Jos. Swindt, of Greenville, is now installed as pastor of the Milan Presbyterian church.

A large number of Sylvan farmers have forbidden trespassers and hunters from going on their land.

There were 132 present at the Sunday school in the Roberts district of Pittsfield, Sunday before last.

Mrs. Emilie Mitchell died in Franklin, October 23, aged eighty-four years. She resided in Bridgewater.

Chris. Webber, of Whitmore Lake, has purchased the Lehman farm of Henry Kempf, of Chelsea, for $3,700.

Dr. Watling has returned to his home in Ypsilanti from Dakota, but he is still very weak from his recent accident.

The Woman's Relief Corps, of Chelsea, give an entertainment, November 15, to raise money for a soldiers' monument, to be erected in the Chelsea cemetery.

Milan's fire protection now consists of four or five good ladders and a volunteer pail brigade. The village council would do well to purchase the hand engine offered for sale by Ann Arbor.

L. D. Lovewell, of South Lyon, has purchased 66,000 pounds of wool this year. The largest load of wool taken to South Lyon this year weighed 2,468 pounds and was driven in by J. R. Brown, of Superior.

The Manchester school boys and girls have resettled the momentous question, "Is Marriage a Failure." After an animated debate they decided that it was not. Those contemplating matrimony may now breathe easier.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rider, of Salem, were thrown from their carriage last week by a collision with a runaway team attached to a lumber wagon. Luckily their injuries were not serious.

The proceed of the German Lutheran fair in Chelsea last week, were $263.

A Toledo drummer, aroused by the fire which burned the Rice hotel in Milan last week, decamped in such quick order that he left $25 under his pillow. The bedding was saved and the scared and not festive drummer received his cash, which was found after the fire.

Those who have raised fruit the past few seasons have made such nice profits that others have been induced to engage in the business. Mr. Rauschenberger has determined to set out an additional amount of peach trees and grape vines, next spring, and has sold to Henry Rushton, south of town, 1,100 and to George Huber, west of town, 1,000 peach trees, to be set next spring.—Manchester Enterprise.

On Saturday afternoon Chris Wurster, of Bridgewater, backed his team from the hitching post in front of Kingsley's hardware when the neck-yoke caught on the wheel of a buggy—the teams were crowded very close together on account of the large number in town—and the horses turned, upsetting the buggy with Chris underneath, then they ran, rolling him on the ground in a dangerous manner, breaking a rib and otherwise bruising and scratching his person. The team was captured before further damage was done and Dr. Kapp fixed Chris up so he could be taken home.—Manchester Enterprise.

Last Saturday, James Hogan, of Bridgewater, and his hired man were which, for the peculiar situation the which, for the peculiar situation the two men found themselves in, beats anything on record. Each was driving a team attached to a lumber wagon, when the hired man's horses, which were behind Mr. Hogan's wagon, started to run and overturned the wagon, imprisoning the driver beneath the box. The noise behind them frightened Mr. Hogan's team and they also started to run, throwing him out and overturned the box, with him underneath. Both men were boxed, and had the horses not stopped at once, of their own accord, they would probably have been seriously hurt. As it was, no damage was done.—Tecumseh News.

Tuesday night, while being driven through South Huron street, Ypsilanti, two fat steers belonging to Mr. C. A. Brown took involuntary refuge for the night in the sewer ditch where it was 17 feet deep. In the morning they came out none the worse for their imprisonment, and skipped up the street at a 2:40 gait, much to the amusement of observers.—Ypsilantian.

What might have been a fatal accident, happened to Mr. George Stevenson's little girl, three years old, last Tuesday. As she was playing on the Prospect street railroad bridge in Ypsilanti, she fell over the guards to a distance of about thirty feet below. She is evidently suffering from internal injuries and it is still a question as to her recovery.—Ypsilantian.

Michael Stierle died suddenly Tuesday morning, October 27. He was born in Wurtemberg, July 19, 1833. At the age of twenty, he, with C. Alber and C. Kalmbach, came to this country and settled in the township of Lodi, where he remained several years, afterwards he moved into Saline township, where he has lived 'till his death. In 1860 he was married to Miss Dorethea Burkhart, who has since been a faithful and loving companion. As a result of their marriage, six children are left to mourn his loss, three girls and three boys, of which number only one son is married. Mr. Stierle, who is too well known by everyone to need any extended remarks, was one of Saline's most promising and well to do farmers. He was a man of high standing in the community. His word, which was to him sacred, was always found just as he gave it, and when anything in a business nature came before him it was disposed of in a straight forward way. Honor was everything to him. For many years, and until failing health compelled him to resign, he has been an active trustee of the Lutheran church, and the society as well as the community at large will miss him.—Saline Observer.

The Milan Leader, in speaking of those who were burned out in the big fire there last week, says: "Chicago pluck has got possession of all the fire victims. Wm Woolcott will commence business next week in O. A. Kelley's building next to A. E. Putnam's store. M. M. Clarke will resume business as soon as a location can be secured. W. R. Needham has already established his bakery in the front part of the postoffice—in fact he was doing business there within eight hours after the fire broke out. Van Wormer & Lockwood were cutting meat in Blackmer's block, Wednesday morning, having fitted up while the remnants of the old market were still smoking hot. M. A. Palmer & Mrs. Clark have opened their millinery establishment in the Cook house on Edwards street, next to the Baptist church. Nelson Rice is now fairly settled in the Babcock Hotel, and the hotel business is going right on just the same. Miss Simpson is doing business at the old stand, although the old stand isn't as pretty as it used to be. The Gray and Palmer blocks will be rebuilt—substantial brick buildings—possibly right away; it is a little early, however, for them to have fully decided on their plans. Mr. Rice has not yet decided to rebuild.

Gratifying to All.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based and are abundantly gratifying to the California Fig Syrup Company.

"Have you anything new?" asked a customer of a recently engaged clerk in a Chicago bookstore. "I'll see," replied the young man, as he swept his eye over the shelves. "Yes, here is the 'New Testament.' Would you like to look at it?"

A Mystery Explained.

The papers contain frequent notices of rich, pretty and educated girls eloping with negroes, tramps and coachmen. The well-known specialist, Dr. Franklin Miles, says all such girls are more or less hysterical, nervous, very impulsive, unbalanced; usually subject to headache, neuralgia, sleeplessness, immoderate crying or laughing. These show a weak nervous system for which there is no remedy equal to Restorative Nervine. Trial bottles and a fine book, containing many marvelous cures, free at Eberbach & Son's, who also sell and guarantee Dr. Miles' celebrated New Heart Cure, the finest of heart tonics. Cures fluttering, short breath, etc.

The other evening about 6 o'clock a young man sat in a crowded up-bound car apparently asleep. The conductor politely tapped him on the shoulder, and said: "No sleep in this car, young man." "I'm not asleep," was the reply. "Well, you had your eyes shut." "That's because I don't like to see women stand in a street car," was the rejoinder.

How Often

We see some young man who has squandered his money and ruined his health by excesses, and before 30 years of age is an all broken down and played out man! In all such cases I prescribe nature's tonic and nerve, Sulphur Bitters. They supply food for the brain, strengthen the nerves, and are successful in nine cases out of ten.—Old Physician.

Will attend to all sales on short notice at reasonable charges. For further particulars call at the ARGUS office.

The Register is called down for making reckless editorial statements. The overdrafts in the city treasury will not be $20,000 by February 1st. There will be no overdraft at all on February 1st, but a balance in the treasury, and the expenditures will not exceed the aggregate taxes. So that there is no need of any bonded indebtedness such as the Register seems to desire. It is true that there is an overdraft at present in the city treasury. There has been for years and years, at this season. But the city receives more interest from the bank than it pays. It will commence the next fiscal year more than even with the world. No provision of the charter is being violated. We hope these corrections amply cover the Register's misinformation.

The Courier does the council an injustice this week when it says "the common council of the city of Ann Arbor refused to receive, even and have read a petition to which was attached the names of 129 business men and citizens." The editor of the Courier was late to the council meeting or he would have known that the petition was first read by the clerk, each one of the 129 names being read, rather an unusual proceeding. After the council had refused to pay for printing it, through some blunder a motion to receive it and place it on file was defeated, and afterwards a motion to receive it and refer it to the sewerage committee made by Ald. O'Hearn was carried. As a matter of fact the petition was received when it was read to the council. It was unfortunate that there was any discussion over it, but that furnishes no reason for doing the council an injustice.

AND NOW FOR 1892.

The next elections of national importance come in November, 1892. Since the republican success in 1888, a reaction has set in in favor of the sound principles of democracy. The elections of last Tuesday proved that that reaction has not spent its force.

The story of the elections as told on our first page may well cause the democracy to rejoice. In most cases the vote was a heavy one, in several states even exceeding a presidential year. The republicans were confident. They fought hard. They had all their great speakers on the stump. And yet they were ignominiously beaten. Were the states to vote as they voted last Tuesday at the next presidential election, the democracy would be overwhelmingly triumphant.

But the democracy can draw a lesson from Tuesday's election. The supreme issue in 1892 must be the tariff question. There must be no going astray after false gods on the money question. With a free silver platform, the states which on Tuesday voted with the democrats cannot be relied upon to go democratic, and the result in Ohio indicates clearly that free silver cannot carry that state. In fact, Governor Campbell gives as one of the main reasons of his defeat, the insertion of that plank in the democratic platform. In Massachusetts and New York the democracy swept the states on anti-silver platforms. On the silver question there is an honest difference of opinion among good democrats as among republicans. On the tariff question we can show a solid front, while on this question the republicans are disintegrating. The tariff question is at the front to be settled. Let us settle that once for all in 1892. That is the great lesson of the elections of 1891.

SEWERAGE.

The petitioners to the common council asking that a special election be called this month to vote $20,000 to be raised on the tax rolls of 1892, may or may not be friends of sewerage. Many of them undoubtedly are, and signed the petition without looking at it. If the council granted the prayer of the petitioners, and the election should be held at the time petitioned for, and the electors should vote favorably, the tax could not be spread on the tax roll of 1892 without re-submitting it to the people in that year. If defeated the cause would have received a set back. Why should friends of sewerage wish it to be needlessly jeopardized. It is too late to submit the extra tax and get it spread on this year's tax roll. It is impossible under the charter to vote it now to raise it next year. The only sensible thing to do is to submit the question after the beginning of the next fiscal year. If the people want sewerage they will then say so. If they do not they will say so. But we warn the so-called friends of sewerage that they must not be arrogant in the expression of their views if they desire to carry the election. There are people who honestly differ with them in belief. There are those who do not think a sufficient outlet for sewerage has been provided. There are others who do not like the system proposed. The only way that sewerage can be obtained in this city is for its advocates to approach the subject in a spirit of conciliation and mutual concession. To denounce every one who opposes the plans of Messrs. Allmendinger and Dean as an enemy of sewerage, as has been and is being done, will defeat sewerage if the course is persisted in, unless the real friends of sewerage think so much of sewerage that they will be patient and long suffering under abuse.

The Argus, for instance, believes a sewerage system desirable. It indorses the separate system of sewers as proposed by Prof. Greene, but it does not believe that in the hot summer days there is sufficient water at the place where the main sewer is proposed to be emptied, to carry off the sewage. That belief is founded upon personal experience. But that by no means constitutes this paper an enemy of sewerage as has been proclaimed by those who will listen to no suggestion, will hear no argument, but assume the arrogant position, "We know it all, you know nothing." Now, granting for the purpose of argument that the Huron would not carry off the crude sewage of the city, we think it will be granted that a friend of sewerage would at once inquire how it could be treated so as to rob it of its noxious properties. He would not assume for a moment that that ended sewerage. The Argus believes that Ann Arbor will have sewerage, that the sewerage system will be properly put in, and that every one will in the end be glad that hasty steps were not taken. That is usually the history of Ann Arbor improvements.

BURNING LEAVES.

One of the practices most injurious to the public health seemingly permitted in this city is the annual burning of leaves. From all parts of our beautiful city arise the stifling fumes of burning leaves, obscuring the clear sky, permeating sleeping apartments, fouling the pure air, producing throat troubles, causing eyes to smart, filling the lungs, bringing a bad taste to the mouth, and causing a feeling of debility. There is no escaping it. One man no sooner finishes burning his leaves than his neighbor begins; the children amuse themselves with building bonfires in the streets; the ladies may be seen with their brooms and the men with their rakes at almost any hour of the day or evening. The smoke arises to the clouds, but more generally hugs the earth to catch the unwary passer by or searching entrance into the houses. There should be some remedy for the evil. No single thing about Ann Arbor causes so much ill health. The board of health has at various times made public reports concerning the nuisance. We hope to see it abated so that in what would otherwise be a bracing atmosphere, we may at least draw one long breath without taking in the fumes of burning leaves.

WHERE ARE JACKSON'S CLAIMS.

The question of the birth-place of the Republican party has begun to be discussed in the newspapers, and there are many candidates for the doubtful honor.

Th citizens of Ripon, Wis., lately at a public meeting, put forward the claim that the party had its origin there on the 20th of March, 1854.

Henry Wilson in his history of the "Rise and Fall of the Slave Power," says that the name of the new party was agreed upon at a meeting of thirty members of Congress on May 23, 1854, the day the Kansas-Nebraska bill passed the House.

Chicago, of course, can not afford to be left in a controversy of this kind, and so sets up a claim that the Republican party was organized there on July 5, 1854. There are various other places that put forward similar pretensions.

It is a noteworthy circumstance that the party, wherever organized, began its career by laying hold of the name by which the Democratic party was originally known; and in later years, it has been laying hold of everything within its reach.

The controversy over the birth-place of the Republican party is premature. This should come after its death, in imitation of the memorable controversy over the birth-place of the Blind-Bard:

"Seven Grecian cities mourned for Homer dead, Through which the living Homer begged his bread."

When the Republican party is dead it will be time enough for the cities where it is now begging for campaign funds to quarrel about its birth-place. The indications are that they will not have long to wait.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Leland T. Powers.
Especial comment on Mr. Powers is unnecessary in view of the fact that his presentation of "David Copperfield" here last year is remembered with so much pleasure by most of us. And so the Students' Lecture Association again is very glad to open its splendid course this year with Mr. Powers, who will appear next Saturday evening, Nov. 7, at University hall in his famous monologue, "David Garrick." One has well said of him, "Mr. Powers is a real, genuine artist—the origination of a type of entertainment all his own, and he can give David Garrick so well that to see an ordinary theatre company attempt the same is to be present at the slaughter of a happy memory."

Of course, an impersonator like Mr. Powers is thrown entirely on his own resources. He can borrow nothing from scenic effect or from a suggestive make-up. Under these conditions, to picture to an audience the features of any character is a difficult matter, yet Mr. Powers is a master of rare art, an entire company rolled into one poem, and portrays all the characters. Truly, Mr. Powers is a remarkable and unique example of the absorptive powers of one man in histrionics.

All those who heard Mr. Powers in David, Copperfield last year will have reasons for going to hear him this year, and those who did not hear him last year have this year the valuable opportunity of hearing him in what Mr. Powers himself calls his 'best,' namely "David Garrick."

Boards open for reserved seats tomorrow (Thursday) morning at 7:30 o'clock at Moore's book store, and at box office main hall of the University. No extra charge for reserved seats. Season tickets, $2.00. No reduction after first lecture and none sold after second lecture.—U. of M. Daily.

Mr. Leland T. Powers has achieved fame as an impersonator of character, and the entertainment furnished by him last evening was charming in every respect. To say that it was capital but feebly defines its excellence. The impersonations were marvels of genius. In the beautiful comedy of David Garrick he showed his almost limitless capabilities. Besides the great diversity of minor characters there was the noble Garrick himself, the magnificence of whose character and personage Mr. Powers portrayed with faultless skill. The audience went into raptures and it is no wonder. It was an evening of unalloyed pleasure.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The skill with which he made a complete facial and almost bodily transformation from one character to the other was simply wonderful.—Boston Globe.

University Musical Society.

At the last meeting of the University Musical Society, Directors Kelsey, Beman, Stanley, de Pont, Dorrance, Wines, Hopkins and Ross were present. Prof. Stanley, as director, reported the Choral Union a success both artistically and financially. Treasurer Wines reported but a small amount of cash on hand for the University Musical Society, but said that the Choral Union had a surplus and was in fine condition. A note against the University Musical Society was paid partly by money received from the sale of the pianos belonging to the society, and partly from the surplus of the Choral Union last year. A debt of $80 for printing still remained, which Treasurer Wines suggested be paid next year from the surplus of the Choral Union. Messrs. Pettie, Allmendinger, Beman, de Pont, Dorrance and Nancrede were elected directors. Mr. Wines' motion that one of the business men of the city be elected a director, so as to secure the sympathy and concurrence of the Business Mens' Club in the work of the society, was carried, and resulted in the election of Mr. Allmendinger.

The Ideal Baking Powder is
Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

For more than fifty years Cream of Tartar and Bicarbonate of Soda have been used for leavening purposes with sufficient flour added to preserve the strength of the powder unimpaired, and this with the addition of whites of eggs comprises this pure and wholesome leavening agent, that has been the standard for 40 years. In its use pure, wholesome and delicious food is always assured. Makes cake and biscuit that retain their moisture, and while they are flaky and extremely light they are fine grained, not coarse and full of holes as made with ammonia baking powders, latter dries up quickly. Alum powders leave a bitter taste in the bread or cake. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder once used, always used.

The officers elected were: Prof. Kelsey, president; Prof. Pettie, vice-president; Mr. Hopkins, secretary; Prof. Wines, treasurer; Prof. Stanley, director. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 8:30 p. m., in Room E.—U. of M. Daily.

Wednesday.

Amos Corey, of the Fifth ward, couldn't handle his feet lively enough to keep from falling while coming down the frothy sidewalk on the Traver street hill, Wednesday morning, and as a result he now has a sprained wrist.

The handsome club and reception rooms of the Ann Arbor Light Infantry will be opened next Wednesday evening. An informal reception will be given, to the members of the honorary corps and their ladies. The regular monthly inspection will precede the reception.

David Henning does not feel satisfied with the verdict of $1,000, recently given him against the Michigan Central, by a jury in the U. S. District Court, at Detroit, and will make a strong effort for a new trial of the case. He thinks something was wrong with the jury.

A partial chrysanthemum exhibit will be made by James Toms, to-morrow, Saturday, at the pomological meeting in the basement of the court house. Mr. Toms invites lovers of flowers to witness a far greater display at his green house on Miller avenue, next week.

"Doc." B. F. Bennett, of Superior, died at his home Tuesday morning, aged 59 years. The deceased was probably one of the best known men in the county, being a horse breeder and always active at the fairs held in the county. He was never married, living on his farm with his two sisters.

Rev. Camden M. Coburn delivered the second of his series of lectures, Sunday evening, on "The Wit and Humor of the Bible," the study being on "Acrostics, Anagrams and Puns." The series of lectures show deep study by Rev. Coburn, by means of which he has brought to light many hitherto undiscovered thoughts.

In the circuit court, E. F. Johnson, an attorney for Mrs. Mary Efner, has commenced suit against Fred Brown for $5,000 for selling liquor to a minor. Mrs. Efner is the mother of George W. Efner, the boy who shot another boy named Miller in the second ward, in June, 1890. Young Efner was drunk at the time and the claim is now made that he got liquor at Brown's saloon.

The Michigan Pump Co. has been organized by Ann Arbor capitalists, mainly and articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of State. The capital stock of the company is $25,000. Wilford Ames, who recently moved to this city from Evansville, Ind., is the principal stockholder, the other Ann Arbor parties associated with him being E. F. Johnson and H. C. Ames. The business of the company will be carried on in Ypsilanti, that city having offered the company strong inducements in the shape of a building, etc.

Parmenus W. Watts and Isabella F. Foust were married in the township of Lyndon in November, 1883.
Their married life has not proven exactly the happy one that was anticipated and the wife has filed a bill in the circuit court asking for a separation from her husband, charging him with extreme cruelty.

The Ann Arbor Butter and Cheese Co. is now paying $1 per hundred pounds for milk, fifteen cents more than was paid last month. The company is meeting with great success, every pound of butter they could make having been sold right in Ann Arbor at prices ranging from 27 to 30 cents last month, and from 30 to 32 cents at present.

Hallowe'en was celebrated this year with but little noise and without destruction to property, as has too often marked this event in the past. Small boys did some damage to gates and fences in the outskirts. A hundred or so students marched down town and back to the campus about 10:30, where they enjoyed themselves by small rushes.

The Literary Adelphi has secured Prof. D'Ooge for their special this week to give a lecture on "University Extension," the subject which is just now occupying the attention of the faculty. There will also be music to vary the program. Miss Alys Cramer will sing and Mr. Fred Alexander will render a piano solo. A general invitation is extended to all.
In Room 24, to-night, at 8 p. m.

The first meeting of the Unity Club course was held Monday evening, a large audience being present. Dr.
V. C. Vaughan gave a very interesting talk on Pure Science, detailing many of the discoveries which have proven of vast benefit to mankind.
Miss Davis, pianist, and Mell Gillespie, banjoist, rendered some excellent music. Next Monday evening Mrs. L.
H. Stone will read a paper on Egypt, and Philip Whitman will read one entitled "Three Years Out of the World."

Ann Arbor people will be interested to know that a musical treat will be given them in the audience room of the Congregational church, next Monday evening, Nov. 9th. Blind Boone, much like Blind Tom, will give a concert at that time, assisted by Miss Stella May as vocalist, who has a rich contralto voice. He renders classical and popular music equally well, and towns where he has appeared are unstinted in their praise. In Toronto he played every night for a week and his audience increased to the last. Port Huron was delighted by his accuracy in repeating a composition of one of their resident musicians, and wants him to come again.
Those who tire of a full evening of classical music will find something of lighter vein. He brings his own Grand piano.

W. S. Southard, the liveryman, thought he was minus one of his best teams, last week. John Mason, a contractor, had had some trouble with his wife and she had gone to her father's, Amos Spokes', taking their two children with her. Thursday, Mason hired a team to drive to Milan.
In some way he got possession of the two children and started away with them, taking a young colored boy named Brown along to drive the horses. The horses did not come back and by Friday noon Southard had made up his mind that something was wrong, and began sending out inquiries. Later in the afternoon Brown brought the horses in, pretty tired and showing the result of a long drive. He said Mason drove to Adrian and with the two children, there took the train for Indiana.

Mrs. Emma Cook-Hatch died this morning of pneumonia, after a short illness.

Mrs. Henry C. Dole, of Ypsilanti, was severely burned about the hands and face, yesterday afternoon, by the explosion of a lamp that she was lighting.

James Laughlin, formerly of Northfield, was accidentally drowned by falling into a pond at Toledo, Monday, aged 87 years. His remains were brought here yesterday, and taken to Northfield for interment.

"Thinking that a word from me might be the cause of others receiving benefit from your S. S. S., I write to say that I have been a sufferer from Eczema, which my doctor called pink heads. Small blisters would form on my limbs, would break and ooze, and cause large sores to form. The odor arising would be very disagreeable, and I would often be laid up from one to two weeks at a time. The disease would break out about every two months. I tried various physicians and treatments, but received no permanent relief until I was induced to try S. S. S., and felt the benefit from it in a few days. I continued the use of it until I had taken three bottles, which was over a year ago, and I have not had the Eczema since.
I believe it is thoroughly eradicated the newspapers, the different musi-

"R-o-n-g," spelled the boy.
"Wrong," said the teacher, "spell it again."

"A-g-a-i-n," spelled the boy.
"See here," said the teacher severely, "What do you mean by spelling
'wrong' again?"

"You told me to spell it again," whimpered the boy. And the teacher was so mixed up she had to dismiss the class.

The Ypsilantian was mighty thin last week. Not the editorials or local—they were meaty enough—but the paper used was thin.

A gentleman who recently attended a theatre performance at Ann Arbor, declares that he recognized the dust and dead flies on the drapery and drop curtain that he saw there ten years before. We refer to this matter only as an instance of wonderful memory.

The Ypsilanti lecture course books ten entertainments, and cracks the citizens $2.00 each, first choice of seats. Only 828 tickets will be issued. Students' tickets range from $1.00 to $1.50, according to seat and pocket-book.

A Saline man is holding his wheat for $3 per bushel. The Observer believes that the sun will rise in the west before he gets it. He seems to be one of those disciples of McKinley who are sitting on the shores of time scanning the horizon of eternity for the "home market."

*****

Never marry a woman who is a fainter; but if you do and your wife faints, don't go to pawing around her mouth, but bait it carefully with cheese and "set" her for a rat trap. Mrs. Bennett, of Ann Arbor, fainted Tuesday evening of last week, and her excited husband fumbled about her face till her jaws suddenly snapped together and caught one of his fingers. He was rescued by the police, who heard his yells of "murder!" "help!" &c.

*****

The brain development of the 2,500 students at the Ann Arbor university, which has usually been productive of numerous eruptions of rowdism in the past, has not moved to much disturbance yet. However, the freshman class lately became imbued with a sense of ownership of the town, and of the importance of impressing that fact on the citizens, and they entered upon a down town promenade and crowded and jostled on the streets, and defied the authorities till the clock struck one, and the police another, and considerable solid education was imparted at comparatively small expense to the professor of judiciary.

Mr. Hammond offered a fine lot of registered Shropshire sheep for sale at auction last week over at Ypsilanti. There were lots of buyers, each having patted in the crown of his hat Ed. Allen's 1888 promise for 50 cents a pound for wool, and by its side was the present market quotation of 22 cents. The bids were made accordingly and after a part of the flock had been knocked down at McKinley prices, Hammond danced in to the ring, and called a halt, right then and there and gave the sheep owners notice that if they secured any more protected sheep, they would have to ante up his price. A few parties invested, but the most of the farmers locked their hands under their coat tail, whistled softly, and decided to wait till after the Ohio election.

*****

We have it on the authority of the Saline Observer that some Normal students succeeded in inveigling one of their number out on a snipe hunt. It was night. They told him to hold a lantern in front of an open bag, while they scared up the snipe, which would at once, attracted by the light, fly into the bag. So they stood him in the swamp and went home. The Normal dupe arrived some hours later, very cold and dejected and will employ a surgeon to trepan his skull, and put in the brains of a snipe.

Even railroads are sometimes made aware that it pays to be accommodating. The Ypsi-Ann motor road, like most all corporations of that kind, was sweet enough till it secured its franchise, and got an entry to the two cities. Then it began to put on corporate airs, and when Ypsilantians asked for compliance with certain terms that they claimed were understood, the Co. declined and became "puffed up" and high-headed, and its engines snorted, and its bells rung, and its cars rumbled regardless of the wish of the grave solons who legislated in the council chamber. But as time passed on, the company discovered that if it could extend its track along down Washington street, it would redound to their interest. So they put in a very pretty petition for the franchise. And now came the turn for the city dads, to tip their hats over on one ear, and let memory have full sway in the recesses of the cranium. Just now the company is running its road, but not the council. The brakes of indignation are on that body and it don't move, either. If the company gets any further favors there, it will be on the broad ground of reciprocity. Until then, the motto of the Ypsi "dads" is "Thus far shalt thou come but no farther." And the people cry out—"So motor be."

CHEATING HORSE BLANKETS

Nearly every pattern of 5/A Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it hasn't the warp threads, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much. The fact that 5/A Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the 5/A trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

The University tower clock has varied less than seven seconds in two months.

The freshman-sophomore "rush" football has, luckily, become a thing of the past.

The sophomores will challenge the freshmen to a tug-of-war contest, to take place Nov. 14.

Ralph Stone, managing editor of the U. of M. Daily, has been chosen for base-ball manager.

The University team will play with the Washington University team on Thanksgiving day.

J. W. Browning, of the senior law class, has been elected president of the Pennsylvania club.

The '93 rugby eleven defeated the Normal eleven at Ypsilanti, by a score of 44 to 0, last Saturday.

W. J. Hinkson, a graduate of the literary class of '91, died at Detroit, last week, of typhoid fever.

P. B. Whitman reads a paper on "Mining in Sonora," before the Engineering Society, this evening.

The inter-class field day of the medics of '94 and '95 will be held on the campus, to-morrow afternoon.

Prof. M. L. D'Ooge will deliver an address on "University Extension" before the Adelphi society, this evening.

The Chronicle-Argonaut has been suspended and the Yellow and Blue, a fraternity organ, is its successor.

The sophomores have been taxed 25 cents each, on account of the expenses incurred by their football team last year.

W. J. Malley, who played on the University rugby team for several years, is now playing with the Chicago eleven.

Wright, who has attained quite a reputation as a sprinter, is around on crutches, the result of a badly sprained ankle.

The Thanksgiving day rugby game with Cornell at Chicago has been cancelled. The Chicago team offered Cornell a larger guarantee and it was accepted.

The work of finishing the grading of the athletic grounds has been placed under the supervision of Street Commissioner Sutherland, and it is to be pushed right along. In the spring the plumbing will be done and the finishing touches put in.

A live Democratic club was organized among the students of the University, last Friday evening. A number of stirring speeches were made and the following officers were elected: J. E. Duffy, president; S. W. Curtiss, 1st vice-president; Mr. Barnhardt, 2d vice-president; Mr. Morrissey, treasurer; Mr. Harvey, recording secretary; J. G. Kral, corresponding secretary; Mr. Turnipseed, sergeant-at-arms.

A Lawyer Outwitted.

An old whitewasher stood before the court as a witness. The lawyer for the defendant tried to confuse him.

"You are Friedrich Muller?"

"Yes."

"Are you the Friedrich Muller who was sentenced under mitigating circumstances for robbery?"

"No, I am not that Muller."

"You are, perhaps, the Muller who was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for theft?"

"No, I am not that Muller, either."

"Were you ever in prison?"

"Yes, twice."

"How long the first time?"

"A whole afternoon."

"An afternoon? And the second time?"

You must make truthful statements, for you are sworn. If you were in prison for so short a time, what did you do?"

"I only whitewashed a cell for a lawyer who had cheated his clients."

The lawyer did not ask any more questions on that subject.—From the German.

Singular.

A fourteen-year-old boy at school wrote this sentence in an exercise, "Ten men and four woman." His teacher pointed out to him the sentence with the remark:

"Is it possible that you do not know after all these years at school that the plural of woman is women?"

The boy scratched his head in a somewhat disconcerted way.

"Anyway," he said, "I've often heard my father say that woman is a singular creature."—Youth's Companion.

An Unlooked for Danger.

Captain Lovelace—How is Miss Maldermare this morning, Miss Katie?

(Miss M. is Miss K.'s chaperone, chosen for her habit of invariably and of necessity remaining below whenever she goes to sea.)

Miss Katie—I'm afraid she's a little better this morning.

Captain L.—By Jove!—Fun.

Really So.

There is no end to fish lying stories. One comes from Yellowstone Park that it is possible to land a trout from the shore of one of the noted rivers there and with a single curve of the wrist to drop the fish into a hot spring, from which it may be taken in a few minutes fully boiled.—New Orleans Picayune.

An Unexpected Answer.

"They say a girl died down here from eating ice cream," he said, as they were passing an ice cream saloon.

"She couldn't have had a bean like you, John," she answered. "I'm safe."

He invited her in.—New York Press.

Signifies Nothing.

Mrs. Bunney—I really cannot understand how it is that Gayleigh and his wife do not get along well together. Everybody, you know, always said that they were made for each other.

Mr. Bunney—That doesn't signify. My coat was made for me, but it doesn't fit me worth a cent.—Boston Transcript.

It Was All Right.

Brakeman (calling station)—Sawyer! Groom (who has just taken a surreptitious kiss from his bride—defiantly)—Don't care if you did; we're married.—Life.

One Man Can Do It.

The Hawaiian Islands has a new queen whose name is the simple word, Liliuokalani. The Springfield Republican says it is pronounced "Le-le-o-o-o-kah-lah-ne." Our readers will now pronounce it and remember the pronunciation five minutes after they have seen the word.—Ann Arbor Argus.

Our is up—Le-le-o-o-o-go-long-widye—and we didn't look at the pronunciation a second time, either.—Adrian Press.

Effie—"Georgy and I have been down-stairs in the dining room, Mr. Mitcham. We've been playing husband and wife!"

Mr. Mitcham—"How did you do that, my dear?"

Effie—"Why, Georgy sat at one end of the table and I sat at the other, and Georgy said 'This food isn't fit to eat!' and I said, 'It's all you'll get!' and Georgy said 'Dam!' and I got up and left the room!"

The above is a wonderful Farm Gate, patented by Wm. R. White, of Bloomington, Ill., who had lost his farm by mortgage. This is a new plan on the principle of the pendulum, and the levers are up whether opened or closed, having thirteen advantages over any gate in use. It is so convenient and durable that from $2,000 to $3,000 worth have been sold in some counties. This gate was shown at the fair grounds. It is patented in this country and Canada. It can be seen at the Franklin House, Ann Arbor. My sales for this week are nearly $200. Call and see patentee at Franklin House. [Mr. White comes to this city well recommended, and thinks of staying for the winter.—Ed.]
