A CONTEMPTIBLE TRICK

Desperate Republicans Introduce a Religious Issue.

BOLD ATTEMPT TO DECEIVE DEMOCRATS.

A Private Letter Obtained from a Monroe Fool and Circulated by Republicans. The Facts of the Case.

The past week has been rich in political sensations. The biggest political move in the past few years has been made by the republicans in the publication of 5,000 circulars containing a letter in German from a poor creature in Monroe by the name of Jaminet to a man in Ann Arbor by the name of Lemble. The letter was written in German, and the following is the literal translation of it as published in the Ann Arbor Courier:

Monroe, March 17, 1893.

Dear Sir:—Mr. E. R. Gilday, from here, was nominated by the Democrats for Circuit Court Judge from this District, against Mr. Kinne, Republican. Mr. Gilday is a practical Catholic, and as we have often to deal with a party that is unfriendly to us—the A. P. A's—it is a duty for us to assist as much as possible a brother of the same faith, and therefore we request you to not only support him with your own vote, but to work for his election among your friends.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) JOHN P. JAMINET.

The circular published by the republicans was worded so as to convey the impression that the letter was written by Gilday's direction, and many who received the republican circulars, which were unsigned, were led to believe that the circulars which the republicans were sending out were sent by democrats at Gilday's direction. This letter of Jaminet's was written without Mr. Gilday's knowledge and contrary to his wishes. It was a private letter, and not a circular distributed through the county. Mr. Gilday, as soon as the letter was brought to his attention, denounced it in unmeasured terms. The democratic judicial committee issued the following circular:

ANN ARBOR, Mich.,
March 28, 1893.

DEAR SIR:—The republicans are resorting to the most unfair political warfare to deceive the democratic voters of Washtenaw in the canvas for circuit judge.

An unsigned anonymous circular is being mailed by the republicans containing what purports to be a copy of a letter written by one Jaminet, for the purpose of raising a religious issue against Hon. E. R. Gilday, the democratic candidate for circuit judge.

The following is a copy of an affidavit which has been made by Mr. Gilday touching this matter:

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
County of Washtenaw, ss.

Edward R. Gilday, being duly sworn, says, that he is the democratic candidate for circuit judge in this 22d judicial circuit; that he is informed and believes that a copy of a letter, purporting to have been written by J. P. Jaminet, of Monroe, is now being circulated by the republican committee for campaign purposes; that he is in no way, shape or manner, responsible for any such letter, that he has never directly or indirectly sought votes upon religious issues, and that he disapproves of detests such practices.

E. R. GILDAY.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 27th day of March, 1893.

L. GRUNER, Notary Public,
Washtenaw County, Mich.

Mr. Gilday is not responsible for a private letter obtained by republican machinations, or written by some fool supporter without his knowledge or consent. But what shall be said of a republican management which seeks to raise religious prejudices against a reputable, highminded and honorable gentleman on such a letter written without his knowledge or consent.

This is one of the unfair methods used by the republicans to elect Mr. Kinne. We know not what other circulars or roorbacks may be circulated too late to be answered. We advise all good loyal democrats to be on the watch for such roorbacks. May not the democratic judicial committee ask your aid in securing the election of a good man and an honest, consistent democrat to the circuit judgeship.

W. W. WATTS,
S. W. BEAKES,
Judicial Committee.

The careful reader will have noticed that the republicans were the ones to give currency to this letter. A letter written by a foolish man who represented nobody but himself, and probably obtained by republican machinations. But before this letter was written John J. Robinson and others were traveling through the county urging people to vote against Gilday, on the ground that he was a Catholic. The religious issue was introduced into this campaign solely to aid Judge Kinne.

This private letter written by this fellow, Jaminet, was handed to Judge Kinne, and by him shown to a number of people. The judge was urged by one friendly inclined towards him to throw it into the fire, and not to allow the question of religion to enter into the canvass. But the 5,000 circulars were issued, widely distributed, and a hue and cry raised for the purpose of introducing a break in the democratic ranks.

Every self-respecting man should rebuke this introduction of religion into the campaign. Every democrat owes it to his party to rebuke this insidious attack upon the party, which, if successful, will break up democratic supremacy in Washtenaw. It is no longer a question of a possible fight between the sister democratic counties of Washtenaw and Monroe. It is now a question as to how many democrats will be misguided into helping on a bitter warfare within our own ranks in this county. Mr. Gilday is entirely innocent of wrong in the matter. His strong affidavit indicates how he deprecates this method of political campaigning, and any one reading it cannot fail to note his evident sincerity.

Organization of the New Lutheran Church.

The Trinity Lutheran church will be organized at Newberry Hall next Sunday. The program for the services is as follows:

Friday, 7:30 p. m.—Preparatory service. Sermon, Rev. S. B. Barritz, D. D., secretary of the Board of Home Missions. Business meeting preliminary to the organization of the church.

Sunday, 10:30 a. m.—Sermon, Prof. L. A. Gotwald, D. D., Springfield, O. Reception of members. Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

2:45 p. m.—Organization. Sermon, Dr. Barritz. Installation of officers and pastor. Addresses by Prof. Gotwald and Rev. Mensel, and others.

7:30 p. m.—A special Easter service by the Young People's Society, led by Dr. Barritz.

High School Reunion.

We are daily receiving favorable replies to our invitations, from distant friends, and would now urge the necessity of a more general response from old pupils living in this vicinity. It is important that we know, approximately, how many to expect at the banquet. Address Mrs. N. W. Cheever, 42 Madison street.

We shall have with us Profs. Lawton, D'Ooge and Cornelius, Judge Grant, Mrs. Abbott, Miss Doty, Miss Mize, and several members of the old school board. Judge Grant will act as toastmaster, and a pleasant evening of reminiscence and sociability is expected. Meet at the High School, April 14. Banquet at M. E. church at 6.30.

Death of John M. Wheeler.

A telegram was received here yesterday announcing the death of John M. Wheeler, of this city, at St. Augustine, Florida, a short time before the message was sent. The news was a great shock to Mr. Wheeler's many friends here, as but few were aware of his illness. Only a short time before the arrival of the telegram announcing

Mr. Wheeler's death, a letter was received by friends here stating that he was much better and entirely out of danger. Mr. Wheeler was a man of rugged constitution, but catching a cold it rapidly developed into pneumonia and caused his death.

Mr. Wheeler was born in Providence, Saratoga Co., N. Y., in 1821. He was educated at the schools of the town and at Amsterdam academy, afterwards attending Union college and graduating in 1841. He studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1843 and moved to Wabash, Ind., where he practiced his profession for about fifteen years. He then moved to Ann Arbor, and from that time made his home in this city.

Mr. Wheeler was known as one of our safest financiers, and his long connection as a director and officer of the First National Bank proved his worth in this direction. He was treasurer of the University from 1872 to 1878. He was a member of St. Andrew's church and held various offices in the parish, for many years being a member of the vestry and at the time of his death being senior warden. He served the city as a member of the Board of Education for a number of years.

Mr. Wheeler leaves a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Clara Luther, of Medina, N. Y.

Sunday School Convention.

The sixth annual convention of the Washtenaw County S. S. Association was held in the First Congregational church at Ann Arbor, Mich., Tuesday and Wednesday last, March 21st and 22nd, and was called to order by the secretary, Rev. S. T. Morris. Rev. Mr. Morey took charge of the meeting. Mrs. A. B. Stevens, of Ann Arbor, heartily welcomed the delegates. Rev. Mr. Morey preached from the words, "Bear ye one another's burdens."

At 9 o'clock, Wednesday, Rev. O. C. Bailey led the devotions, entered into with earnestness and spirit.

The president's report was brief but earnestly urged increased effort and diligence in this great work.

From the secretary's report which followed we gather the following facts and statistics, which ought to be of interest to every Christian and especially every Sunday school worker in the county:

There are 678,000 children of school age in Michigan, of whom 286,430 are in protestant Sunday schools—considerably less than one-half. On the basis of a population of 2,000,000 in the state, and 47,000 in Washtenaw, that would make the school population of this county 14,000. Of these about one-third are reported in Sunday schools.

"Only 41 reports were received by the secretary, giving the following totals:

"Whole number of denominations represented 9, of which the Methodist Episcopal have 12, Congregationalists 9, Baptists 7, Presbyterians 3, Evangelical Lutherans 2, Friends 1, Universalists 1, Undenominational 6. Total, 41.

"Six of these schools only have teachers' meetings, and only four engage in house-to-house visitation.

"Number of officers and teachers 645, number of pupils 4,486. Total, 5,117; average attendance, 3,254; number added to the church from the Sunday school the past year, 141.

"The financial showing of the 41 schools is as follows: Amount contributed for missions $535.44, for county and state work $74.47, for home expenses $1,842.57.

"A comparison with the last two conventions might not be without interest:

1891—Ypsilanti: Schools reporting 13, number of officers and teachers 208, total enrollment 1,909.

1892—Chelsea: Number of schools reporting 32, officers and teachers 533, total enrollment 4,083.

1893—Ann Arbor: Number of schools reporting 41, number of officers and teachers 645, total enrollment 5,117.

"Home Study of the Lesson" was the subject of a very suggestive paper read by Mr. S. R. Crittenden, of Saline. Mr. Crittenden was followed by Mr. M. H. Reynolds, of Hillsdale, who read a practical paper on "Thoroughness."

Mrs. A. M. Wiltse, of Dexter, read a paper of unusual interest on "Young People's Societies and the Sunday School; their Mutual Obligations." Her central thought was that young people's societies exist that the young may be brought to Christ.

The following officers were elected: President, O. C. Bailey, Chelsea.

Vice-pres, Prof. W. S. Perry, Ann Arbor.

Secretary, S. T. Morris, Dexter.

Treasurer, Mrs. W. W. Beman, Ann Arbor.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

E. F. Mills, Ann Arbor.

The committee on resolutions reported the following:

Your committee would suggest the following:

1. That it is desirable to have normal classes for the study of the Bible, and methods of work in all our schools, where practicable.

2. That we commend to the consideration of all our schools the Loyal Sunday School Army Advance Movement in grading and giving certificates.

3. That we tender our hearty thanks to President Morey and Secretary Morris for their very arduous and efficient work, which has resulted in a very greatly improved condition of the reports.

4. That we express our appreciation of the cordial welcome and generous entertainment given us by the Christian workers of Ann Arbor, and our obligation to the Congregational society for the use of their church during this convention.

5. That the sincere thanks of this convention are due and hereby expressed to Mrs. E. A. Hough, of Jackson, for the able manner in which she has led the music of the convention.

L. N. MOON,
J. W. WRIGHT,
H. D. ALMENDINGER,
Committee.

Rev. Dr. Coburn held for thirty minutes the closest attention of the audience to the subject, "Hints as to the best way to study the Bible."

Dr. Coburn made the following points which he amplified and enlarged upon in a thorough manner:

1. Read the Bible through.

2. Read it by topics.

3. Study with concordance and commentary in hand.

4. Study it with the new version.

5. Let all your reading and travel serve to illustrate the Bible.

6. Study with prayer.

7. Study with reference to the personal needs of your scholars.

Prof. B. A. Hinsdale closed an earnest and scholarly address on "Some Pedagogical Suggestions to Sunday School Teachers" with the following order, in which he said the Bible should be presented to the mind:

1. Teach the Christ story.

2. Teach the Apostolic story or the story of the early church.

3. Teach, lastly, the Old Testament story, or that of the history of the Jewish church.

"Infant Class Work" was the subject of a very practical talk to primary teachers by Mrs. E. H. Corkill, of Jackson.

Convention adjourned.

S. T. MORRIS,
Secretary.

Going to Hawaii.

Dr. William L. Moore, demonstrator of nervous diseases and electrotherapeutics, has resigned his position here to accept a call to the Hawaiian Islands, as head surgeon on a large sugar plantation. He has been connected with the University as student and instructor for the past seven years. He has proved himself a conscientious and competent instructor, and it is with regret that the professors and students of the medical department learn of his resignation. The position is a very lucrative one, and in many respects a desirable one. The doctor has been making farewell calls for the past week, and receiving complimentary banquets from several of the citizens of Ann Arbor. He goes to his home in Grand Rapids today, and will sail from San Francisco April 12, on the steamer Australia. He will take up his residence at Hilo. Dr. W. A. MacGugan, class of '92, is filling the vacancy occasioned by the resignation.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

The Law Journal for May will contain an article on Liabilities of Private Corporations, by Prof. E. F. Johnson.

Fifteen men are training on putting the shot, on the campus. Some good men are being developed, and good work is done.

Professor Garver, formerly of the U. of M., is now prominently connected with the faculty of the Galesburg, Ill., Business College.

One of the features of the U. of M. exhibit at the World's Fair will be a collection of all the books written by U. of M. professors.

Prof. M. L. D'Ooge has an article on "Does a Classical Education Pay the Average Man?" in the March number of the Helios, the official organ of the Grand Rapids public schools.

The pen with which Gov. Rich signed the one-sixth mill bill, together with a letter of congratulation to President Angell upon its passage, were recently received, and have been placed among the valuable manuscripts in the general library.

Prof. McLaughlin's class in American constitutional history has begun work on a new plan. Instead of using Von Holst as a textbook as heretofore, members will read along different topics, on which they will prepare written reports.

The Perry Concert.

The third chamber concert occurred Wednesday evening at Newberry Hall. Mr. Perry was assisted by Frederick Mills, of the University School of Music.

The lecture recital, which is original with Mr. Perry, takes its name from the fact that it is his custom to preface the music of each composer with a short account of his characteristics and the circumstances under which he wrote.

"The Wanderer," by Schubert, is a series of tone pictures of the experiences of a lonely gifted stranger, who is in search of home and friends. It is symbolic of the author's own struggle with adverse circumstances.

The evening closed with two selections from Listz, who is the Byron of music.

The Junior Hop.

Preparations for the Junior hop, Friday, April 7, are now well in hand. The event this year will be conducted on a somewhat novel and perhaps more elaborate scale than heretofore.

The perfectness of the arrangements insures entire harmony between the events. The main floor of the Gym will be occupied only by those invited to the hop, probably 600 in number.

Teacher—When was New Jersey settled? Small Boy—When the race-track people got control. Dandruff is an exudation from the pores of the scalp that spreads and dries, forming scurf and causing the hair to fall out.

Milan.

Mrs. M. Barnes is quite ill.

Milan has three millinery stores. Mr. Alva Dexter has leased his farm.

Cecil Gauntlett has recovered from the measles.

Mrs. J. C. Rouse is entertaining guests from Saline.

W. H. Whitmarsh was ill with la grippe last week.

Mr. and Mrs. McAdams will soon leave for the west.

Mr. E. A. Reynolds and family will soon move to Detroit.

Mrs. Otto Cennet, of Ann Arbor, gave Milan a call, Thursday.

Mr. F. G. Eddy is improving his residence by building an upright.

Mr. E. Doerson has rented Mrs. Kelsey's block, on West Main street.

Mr. C. H. Robison left for the Agricultural college the last of the week.

Mr. J. M. Putman has returned from his eastern tour with a fine line of goods.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hinkley entertained guests from Belleville, last week.

Miss Howe will open a new millinery store in the Babcock block, this week.

Charles Taylor moves into E. A. Reynolds' house, on First street, in a few days.

The Rebekah social is to be at the residence of Mrs. J. S. Brays, Wednesday evening.

Mr. Reed Jillett had a horse and carriage stolen from his barn Saturday night.

Mrs. W. Butler, of Detroit, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson.

Mr. W. W. Shurtz will soon open a new hotel at the Bramon house, on West Main street.

Mr. Luxton and family has moved from Hurd street into Mrs. C. Wilcox's house, on County street.

Mrs. Williamson, of Vernon, Michigan, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. G. Minton, for a short time.

Mrs. W. E. Sprague and son, of Chicago, are the guests of Attorney G. R. Williams and family for a few weeks.

Miss M. A. Palmer and Mrs. L. Clark have an Easter opening of their millinery parlors, Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Dr. Palmer fell and hurt herself quite seriously, Monday. She is over 80 years of age, and quite feeble.

Mr. C. M. Debenham, the station agent, was laid off, and H. H. Corbetson, of Alvornton, is attending to the duties.

The puzzle social at the residence of Mrs. Geo. Montus, Friday evening, under the auspices of the Missionary band, was a great success.

Friday, Mrs. Julia Dexter Starnard, of Dexter, president of the second district, organized a W. C. T. Union at the Methodist church, with the following officers:

Mrs. G. E. Sloan; 1st vice-president, Mrs. J. O. Heck; 2d vice-president, Mrs. J. Swendt; 3d vice-president, Mrs. VanBuren; 4th vice-president, Mrs. D. Case; recording secretary, Mrs. C. M. Fuller; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. M. Fuller; treasurer, Mrs. A. B. Smith.

Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Insomnia—Great Benefit From Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for four or five months, and am satisfied that it is a very excellent remedy. I have been troubled with rheumatism more or less for a number of years. My back and hips, and indeed my whole body at times, have been afflicted. The rheumatism has been especially severe in my right arm between the elbow and shoulder, which has been so lame that I sometimes feared I should lose the use of it entirely."

"I should lose the use of it entirely. I was in this condition when I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, but I had not taken more than a bottle or two when I began to feel better, and when I had taken four bottles, my rheumatism had entirely left me. I have been more free from rheumatism this season than for years. Besides the rheumatism, I, like many others of sedentary habits—for I have been a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church forty years—have been troubled with dyspepsia, but while taking the medicine my

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Osgood, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kincheloe, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

NEVER A FAILURE.

The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota has never had a failure of crops. It produced 30,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals in 1890. Farms can be had on the crop plan, or long time cash payments. It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop. It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal & railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values. It is one of the most fertile and promising regions in America not yet fully occupied. In the rush to the far west, however, this rich valley has been over-looked. It has room for a million more people. Write to F. I. WHITNEY, St. Paul, Minn for particulars. Publications sent free.

A WORD OF SOLEMN WARNING.

The election Monday will decide the future of the democracy in Washtenaw county. Never, since it became the majority party in the county, has it been threatened with such serious danger as today. The republicans have at various times endeavored to break our majority, happily, so far, without success. This spring they have seized what seems to them an opportunity to break the party in such a way as to make its future success extremely precarious. The Argus raises its voice in solemn warning to the democracy of the county. It states it as its solemn conviction that if Judge Kinne should be re-elected next Monday, the next county officers will be republican, and a fight will have started in the county which nothing can allay. This may seem strong talk, but it is the solemn truth.

There are in this county probably about 3000 democratic voters who are in religious belief either Lutherans or Catholics, of this number probably a little less than 1,500 are Catholics, and a little over 1,500 are Lutherans. Without the votes of either of these the democratic party would be in a large minority in Washtenaw. Shrewd republican politicians have recognized this and have sought to introduce an element of religious warfare into the campaign. Knowing full well that if they can turn the Lutheran vote against the Catholics, and the Catholic vote against the Lutherans, the democratic party would be the losers, and the republicans would control the county.

Such being the situation, the republicans, obtained a personal letter from a man in Monroe to a man in Washtenaw. They then got the Washtenaw man to drinking so that he gave up the letter, which was at once taken to Judge Kinne and published by the republicans in circular form, and distributed through the county. This fact is more fully explained in another column.

The design of the republicans in resorting to this low and contemptible political trick was to introduce into the campaign the question of religion. Religion has nothing to do with politics. Our forefathers wisely separated church and state, and church fights have no business in politics. No warfare is half so bitter as a religious warfare. Our fathers stood for freedom of religious belief. Let us of this latter day maintain that freedom.

And so the Argus urges upon democrats the extreme importance of seeing that this fine-laid republican scheme miscarries; that this low, contemptible trick is properly rebuked; that every democratic vote is polled; that the ranks are closed up, and that the democratic party rise up as a whole and testify to their advocacy of the freedom of religious belief.

Never, in its history, has the Argus been so much in earnest in the expression of its opinion as it is today. It would hesitate about stating in such plain terms the danger in the pathway of the party, did it not sincerely believe that defeat in the contest of Monday would inaugurate a split in our ranks which would be past healing.

Democrats! awake and be on your guard!

Every true Democrat will vote for Gilday, Monday.

Democrats, be up and doing, Monday. See that your vote is out.

We have an excellent state ticket. See to it that it gets a big vote in Washtenaw, and that Michigan is redeemed.

Patrick O'Hearn has made such a good assessor that he has been named on all four tickets, and will be unanimously re-elected.

Noah G. Butts, who has been re-nominated for justice, has always carried the republican sixth ward. As that is where he lives, it shows the good opinion those who should know him best have of him.

The spring election is of more importance to the democrats as a party than any in recent years. The crisis in the history of democracy in Washtenaw has arrived. Let all democrats come out and show their democracy.

When a defeated candidate in a Democratic convention accepts a nomination at the hands of a Republican convention he can expect no Democratic votes and ought to loose a good many Republican votes besides.

William J. Miller has made a most excellent city clerk. He has devoted his whole time to it, has always been prompt, accommodating and efficient. He is a faithful public servant, a fine man, and should have his reward in a large majority.

Is this city ticket of Moran's, first nominated in Moran's shorthand school, a Republican ticket or a Municipal club ticket. It is printed three times on the ballots each time with a different heading. How do the Republican's like the fusion? Is Moran their political Moses?

W. W. Watts, our nominee for president of the council, is too well acquainted with the Argus readers, for whom he has written many columns of news, to need extended commendation. He has a good knowledge of parliamentary law, and would expedite business. He has a good knowledge of business and of city affairs, and will prove a good official.

Hon. Edward R. Gilday is one of the finest men in the state. Everyone who has been brought into contact with him must admit his evident capacity. He is about forty-five years of age, has served the city of Monroe for years on the school board and for several terms as mayor. He has also been county clerk and prosecuting attorney of Monroe. He graduated from the law department in 1875, and has enjoyed a large and extensive practice.

What the Register don't know about politics would fill a very large volume. It again exposes its ignorance of politics by arguing that because a member of the Democratic city ticket sent out a few letters to his personal friends requesting their votes there was lack of harmony between the candidates. Then Judge Kinne must also be accused of being out of harmony with his ticket because he did the same thing. In both cases the letters were proper methods of campaigning.

Eugene G. Mann, our candidate for mayor, is a man of spotless character, incorruptibly honest, who cannot be dragged into any scheme by which so many men seek to aggrandize themselves or friends at the expense of the public. He is a clear, logical reasoner, a man of good judgment, who cannot be swerved from what he thinks the right course by fear or favor, a graduate of the civil engineering department of the University, a man familiar with the city's needs. As Col. Dean said in the republican convention: "The democrats have nominated one of the cleanest men in the city for mayor." When they have done that, they should be encouraged by his election. Eugene G. Mann's majority in this city should be over 200.

The Register makes a violent and false attack upon the personal character of Eugene G. Mann, who has lived all his life in Ann Arbor and whom every one knows to be as Col. Dean stated before the Republican convention "one of the cleanest men in Ann Arbor." To show the slight ground for the Register's tirade, we may state that the mayor is no longer a member of the council and that he can do nothing in reference to the putting in of sewers without the direction of the council. The mayor is the executive officer of the city, the council is the legislative body. But the whole affair is almost too ridiculously to notice. The spectacle of Selby A. Moran calling Eugene G. Mann names is about as ridiculous as it would be for the pot to call a bright new China dish, black.

The democratic party have a good aldermanic ticket this spring. Three of them are on both tickets. The city is to be congratulated that the services of Ald. Martin, of the second ward, will be retained. He has proven himself a most valuable member of the council. The fifth ward will return ex-Mayor Manly unanimously, and no one doubts that their needs will be attended to. Ald. Ferguson will be returned from the fourth ward. He has proven an intelligent and efficient man. The contests for aldermen will be in the first, third and sixth wards. In the first ward the democrats have nominated Dr. D. A. McLachlan, whose professional knowledge would be of great value while the question of sewerage is under consideration. He is a good, clean man, and should pull his full party strength besides many republican votes. In the third ward a lively race is on, William Clancy, jr., who put up such a stiff race for alderman last year, is again doing effective hustling. In the sixth ward Richard E. Jolly, a young business man, who joined the party with other Cleveland republicans, will make the race. He is entitled to a good vote.

The Democrats of the county have made some excellent nominations for supervisors. In the city Eugene Oesterlin and James Kearns will be re-elected by rousing majorities. Emanuel Wagner in the first ward, John S. Carroll in the fourth, and George W. Weeks in the fifth will prove good supervisors if elected. In the sixth Evert H. Scott has a walk away. In Ann Arbor town Charles Braun, a good supervisor and a fine man, will be returned to the board. Ben Chase, of Manchester, will give Tom Burtless a lively hustle and the town has an opportunity to redeem herself. Mr. Alber, the new supervisor from Freedom is a young, clean man. Frank Duncan will return from Northfield as a Democrat. Peter T. Gill should receive a large majority in Superior, and old friends will be glad to see his return to the board. M. Sage will do his duty by Lodi this year as last, there being no opposition to him. Tom McQuillan will grace the board from Dexter and Jedele will be back from Scio. Frank Sweetland should be the next supervisor of Sylvan. He is a good man, and Gilbert has filled the place so many years that it must be nearly time for a change. Walter Dancer has been named in Lima, a good man and true. The names of the other candidates have not been received at this writing, but if they are of men of the calibre of the preceding, Washtenaw will have a good board of supervisors this year.

A Strange Freak.

The wife of our esteemed citizen, Mr. John Rowell, while suffering under a severe attack of the blues, tried to commit the crime of infanticide, but was prevented by the opportune arrival of a neighbor. Her case has been considered by the best doctors incurable, but her husband was highly pleased, after using a course of Sulphur Bitters, to find that she was entirely cured.—Kingston Herald.

It is Strange

That people suffering from Piles will endure them for years or submit to dangerous, painful, cruel, and expensive surgical operations, when all the time there is a painless, certain lasting cure, which gives instant relief and costs but a trifle. It is called the Pyramid Pile Cure and can be found at all drug stores. Any druggist will get it for you if you ask him.

A distinction without a difference—A unanimous nomination.

"One of the Finest."

Charles Stabler has removed his stock of wall papers from his old stand on West Huron street, to more commodious quarters at 25 South Fourth street, where he is fitting up what promises to be one of the handsomest and most convenient stores in the city. He combines with his tasty selection of papers, cheapness in price, which may be seen by an inspection of his stock. At present he is selling wall paper in various attractive designs at the rate of ten rolls for 50 cents.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Good Friday today

Register in the townships, Saturday.

Look out for April fool jokes tomorrow.

There were forty persons confirmed at Zion's church last Sunday.

A 6:30 o'clock service will be held at Newberry hall Easter Sunday.

Vote early next Monday and see that your democratic neighbors vote.

A special teachers examination is in progress today, at the court house.

The confirmation class at Bethlehem church last Sunday numbered 17.

The annual meeting of the ladies' library association occurs April 10.

The Horticultural society meets at the court house at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

The new lynotype of the Times office has arrived and been put in position.

The annual parish meeting of St. Andrew's church occurs next Tuesday.

The Junior League of the M. E. church meets at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Thomas Lennon, of Owosso, a former resident of Northfield, died this week of consumption.

Let every Democrat vote Monday. It is the most important election from a party standpoint in years.

The tenth Anniversary of Germania lodge, D. O. H., will be held at the A. O. U. W. hall, next Monday evening.

Hon. Geo. R. Wendling lectures on "The Man of Galilee" before the S. C. A., at University hall tomorrow evening.

The Argo mill dam is still out and the water is pouring through the great break, but work of repairing it will commence this week.

Easter services will be held at St. Andrew's church, Sunday, as follows: At 7 and 10:30 a. m. and 4 p. m. The latter service will be a choral one.

At the Unity Club, Monday evening next, there will be presented a laughable farce entitled "The Beautiful Forever," in charge of Carlotta Bullis. This entertainment will be concluded with a social.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Library Association will be held Monday, April 10, at 2 p. m., in the library. Every lady that draws books is requested to be present, and all others interested in the library will be welcome.

Mr. Jay C. Taylor, who has been taking the leading parts as tenor in the Nelson Opera Company during the past week, goes with them to Flint, but expects to be back in a week to give lessons in vocal culture to all who may be so inclined.

An interesting service will be held at the Baptist church Easter morning, consisting of a baptismal service an address, and music appropriate to the day, and the ordinance of the Lord's supper, with the giving of the hand of fellowship to new members.

There will be a special Easter service at the Unitarian church next Sunday morning, with sermon, special Easter music, and flowers. In the evening Mr. Sunderland will give the concluding lecture in his course on the Labor Problem; subject, "Some Things that are Clear."

The report has been circulated that Dr. D. A. McLachlan, the Democratic nominee for alderman of the first ward, does not want the office and will not qualify if elected. Dr. McLachlan desires the Argus to announce that if he is honored by an election, he will perform the duties of the office to the best of his ability.

The Gesang Verein Lyra will produce their operetta, "Trial by Jury," Tuesday, April 4, at the Germania Hall. Tickets should be secured in advance, as only a limited number will be sold at the door. The society, in connection with the full Chequamegon orchestra, will produce a very interesting program. Tickets are on sale at Mann Bros., Eberbach & Son's, and J. Haller & Son's.

Pay the Price of the Royal for Royal only.

Royal Baking Powder is shown by actual chemical tests absolutely pure and 27 per cent. greater in strength than any other brand.

Many second-class brands of baking powder are urged upon consumers at the price of the high-cost, first-class Royal.

These powders, because of the inferior quality of their ingredients, cost much less than the Royal, besides being of 27 per cent. less strength. If they are forced upon you, see that you are charged a correspondingly lower price for them.

The W. Y. M. S. of the M. E. church will hold their annual Thanksgiving meeting in the church lecture room, Friday, March 31, 7:30 p. m. An address will be given by Miss Howe, our returned missionary from China, also short addresses and native songs by Misses Mary Stone and Ida Hawkin. A game of shuttlecock as it is played in China will be given by the young men. We take a great deal of interest and pride in these bright young people from China who are here attending our University. The young ladies will appear in native costume. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mr. John C. Fischer and Miss Rosa C. Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Schneider, of S. First street, were married Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's parents, Rev. Max Hein officiating. The sister of the bride, Miss Sophie Schneider, and the brother of the groom, Mr. William Fischer, acted as bridesmaid and best man respectively. The bride wore a white silk dress and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was similarly gowned in white. After the ceremony a large company of friends sat down to an elaborate wedding supper. The large number of costly and beautiful presents testified to the extensive circle of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Fischer. The happy couple have gone to housekeeping on N. Main street, at the corner of Beakes street.—Times.

The County Committee's Address.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 27, 1893.

To the Democracy of Washtenaw:

I address you as Democrats, who rejoice at our great victory of last fall, which was won by the hard, earnest work of good Democrats like yourselves. Old Washtenaw, with her glorious Democratic majority, pulled in line in good shape. We have this spring an opportunity to place Michigan beside the other Democratic states of the west. The Democracy of the state look to Washtenaw for a rousing majority. The county committee feels that it can look to you for active and efficient help in this good work.

We have an excellent State ticket, composed of much better men than the Republican candidates; yet we hear of very few Republicans in this county who intend voting for any of our candidates, no matter how superior to their own. They ask us, however, to forget that we are Democrats, and to vote for their candidate for Circuit Judge. If we presented a poor candidate they might have some reason for asking this; but our candidate for Circuit Judge, Edward R. Gilday, is one of the leading lawyers of Monroe county, a gentleman of good sound judgment, well versed in the law, and equal in every respect to the Republican candidate. These same Republicans who ask this, in their party convention this spring, denounced the Democratic party in the bitterest terms.

They ask Democratic votes because they know it is not alone a Circuit Judge that is at stake. The defeat of the Democratic candidate means the loss of this congressional district at the next election. The Republicans know this and are doing everything to accomplish this result. As loyal Democrats we owe it to the Democrats of our sister county of Monroe to pull true for our candidate. Therefore I urge upon you the importance of proving at this juncture that Washtenaw has a reliable Democratic majority, that her voters cannot be bamboozled by the roobacks of our Republican friends. The reputation of Washtenaw Democracy is at stake. Let her roll up a rousing majority for Edward R. Gilday. I trust that I can rely upon your help at this time. If you know of any wavering Democrats send their names to me at once. Use your influence with them, and see that the vote is out. Thanking you for the good Democratic work, I feel that I can rely upon your doing your duty at this time. I remain, truly yours,
JAMES R. BACH,
Ch'm County Com.

Notice of City Election.

Notice is hereby given that the annual charter election in and for the city of Ann Arbor will be held on Monday, the third day of April, A. D. 1893, at which election the following city officers, viz: A Mayor, President of the Common Council, City Clerk, City Assessor, and a Justice of the Peace will be elected by the qualified electors of the whole city, and a Supervisor, an Alderman and a Constable will be elected in each ward thereof.

The said election will be held in each ward of the said city at the following places, that is to say:

1st Ward—33 and 35 E. Washington street, Weinmann block.
2nd Ward—No. 7 W. Liberty street.
3rd Ward—At C. H. Manly's office, court house.
4th Ward—At Fourth Ward engine house.
5th Ward—At Fifth Ward engine house.
6th Ward—At Sixth Ward engine house.

By order of the Common Council,
W. J. MILLET, Clerk.

Free! Free!

Believing the time has fully come in Ann Arbor when an information bureau is needed to make known the wants of those who hire and those who serve, an office is now opened at 72 S. Main street, and in order that all may know and receive benefit from the start I have decided that all applications shall be free of charge till May 1, after which regular prices will be established. It is hoped that as many as possible will avail themselves of this lenient offer. Housekeepers, carpenters, masons, bakers, painters, mechanics, laborers, domestics, etc., may all have the use of the bureau free till May 1. Leave orders at 72 S. Main street, Ann Arbor.

Anton Seidl.

Mr. Seidl, now a naturalized American citizen, was born in Buda-Pesth forty-two years ago, played the piano with remarkable expertness at the age of six, and at twelve was performing in public charitable concerts. He was ambitious for the priesthood, but while at the University of Pesth his youthful soprano voice was heard in the masses of the college choir; he became the organist of the college.

He began to read musical literature, to study harmony and counterpoint under various leaders of the opera orchestra. At the age of twenty he entered his name at the Conservatory of Leipzig. This progressive spirit was thoroughly imbibed by Mr. Seidl, and the foundation was laid of one of his most notable characteristics.

He wrote to Dr. Hans Richter, then director of the opera at Buda-Pesth, reminded him that they were compatriots, and asked to be permitted to study under him the art of orchestral conducting. Richter had already heard of the talented student in his native city. He wrote, "Come to Buda-Pesth," and Seidl left Leipzig as soon as his trunk could be packed.

Wagner wrote to Richter in this year asking for a capable young man to act as musical secretary, a relation that Richter himself had held; under his advice Seidl set out for Bayreuth with the celerity of his previous departure. There, one of several secretaries and a member of Wagner's household, he spent the busiest and happiest years of his life amid duties of the most diverse character.

When the year (1876) of the first production of the Nibelung drama approached, it fell to Mr. Seidl to rehearse the singers in their parts, and he became also the chief director of the wonderful stage mechanism.

After accompanying Wagner to London in 1877, Mr. Seidl took up the baton as conductor of the musical society of Bayreuth, with the author of the celebrated essay "On Conducting" frequently at his elbow to impart all that he himself knew of that art. In short, Wagner had become to Mr. Seidl a second father, and had already made him a responsible executor of his ideas, for in this year he sent the young man to Leipzig to supervise the singers and the scena of the first Nibelung production given outside of Bayreuth, and had him repeat what had been a triumph at Vienna in the year following.

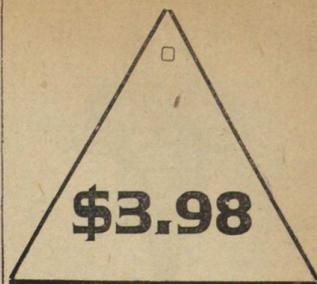

But, after two years, during which he visited and labored with Wagner every summer, so indispensable had he become that the Master had him go to Berlin to organize the notable production of 1881.

After being engaged to conduct the London performances of the Nibelung drama in 1882, Mr. Seidl joined the Wagner theatre of Angelo Neumann, which not only toured most of the European countries, but had the hardihood to carry the works of the iconoclastic New School into the very heart of Italy itself. There the success of Wagner's works was universal and prodigious.

It was in the latter year that he was summoned to the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, on the death of Dr. Damrosch. During his stupendous and unequalled artistic work there, he became the idol of the Wagnerites of the metropolis, but much more besides.

Mr. Seidl has a face of remarkable strength and nobility. In his temperament he presents a striking example of some frequent national characteristics—strong emotional susceptibility and a certain brilliant nervous virility almost magnetic in its transmissibility—qualities which make him a truly remarkable conductor of orchestras.

Mr. Seidl will bring with him his celebrated orchestra, and a corps of first class vocalists headed by Miss Emma Juck. They will give the choicest numbers from the whole list of Wagner operas. Remember the date, April 6, and crowd the house for Ann Arbor should show her appreciation of such a treat. Tickets, one dollar. On sale at usual places.

Measles recently had a hold on thirty Milan people at the same time, and many more might have been served had they applied. Life leaves behind a graveyard of lost opportunities.

The Free Methodists of Milan would have gone on with their reviling, trusting in the Lord and defying diptheria, but for interference of the health board. Its faith was not of the mustard seed kind.

"Thou knowest that I was an oyster man, reaping where I had not sown" was the probable soliloquy of the thief who the other night stole a whole case at Ann Arbor, from a dealer who left it out door.

Miss Carrie Cross, a pretty school teacher of Ypsilanti township, so sprained one of her knees while skating that she, now moves about the school room in a wheel chair. Still, she is not cross, although she is.

Geo. R. Wendling will lecture at the University, April 1st. One of Ingersoll's lectures at Adrian was speedily answered in the same town by Wendling, of whom Bob said: "After the omnibus, comes the baggage wagon."

The sun appears to rise and set just the same as it did before Cleveland was re-inaugurated.—Ann Arbor Courier.

Now as a matter of fact the days have already grown much longer. The Courier has lied.

Editor Junius E. Beal and wife, of the Ann Arbor Courier, are off for the Sandwich Islands. Mr. Beal intends to pack them in his trunk and bring them home. He says they are too much exposed out there to the "toad of free trade."

Hiram Cook, of Ypsilanti, resented an unpretty remark, in his presence, leveled at a girl, for which the lever, one Comstock, leveled a shotgun at him and was going to fill him up with holes, but missed all except one finger. Comstock is under arrest.

The country passed from republican to democratic control last Saturday, without a jar.—Dexter News.

Yes; but there are always grumblers. A Kansas editor rises up to say: "Cleveland has been president two weeks, and we're just as hard up as ever, b'gosh!"

The bones of the great mastodon recently dug up in Washtenaw, and supposed to be those of some prehistoric university professor, will be built into a restored skeleton and exhibited at the World's Fair. What leads to the belief that they are the bones of a professor, is the sudden elevation of the spinal ridge, near the shoulders, showing that he had sometime "got his back up" at the fellow who "plagiarized," and death "swiped him" before he could un-hump.

Monday the council of Ann Arbor voted on the question of bonding the city for $30,000 for sewers. There is one Baptist brother in the city who who voted no, on the ground that the sewer project is aimed at the dip theory. He is laboring under a phonetic delusion.

A new cylinder press and new type constitute another addition to the outfit of the Ann Arbor Argus. The original owner has a new partner; the paper a new press; the job room new type; the proprietors and compositors new silk hats and the "devil" has just been measured for one.

A Northville merchant was robbed of two dozen eggs during the recent tidal wave prices, and would have financially "turned up his toes to the roots of the daisies" but for friends who promptly mortgaged their homes to replace his loss. They have great confidence in their merchant.

He is around in Washtenaw and if he comes to your house and wishes to clean the sewing machine for fifty cents, let him. It's cheap enough. But if he immediately discovers and offers to replace for $2, a broken spring, spring into his stomach with both feet. The husband, son or brother should do this. It wouldn't be recherche in the lady.

In all of our church congregations there are many who are willing to attend service regularly and never contribute anything to the expenses of the church.—Ann Arbor Courier.

Expect to get into heaven like an editor into a circus—on a complimentary ticket! Going to get left. Gazing at the spider-webs overhead and yell "Amen" every time the minister scores, will never fool warty St. Peter—never! Come down with the cash or stay out of the game.

Morris J. O'Connor, a well-to-do farmer of Northfield, is in deep trouble. His young daughter has just eloped with a young mulatto named Bird. The father pursued the "blackbird" and girl, but failing to find them, returned, and getting very drunk, fired his revolver with a broad-minded carelessness that boded death to his wife, whom he upbraided for not closer watching the daughter. A neighbor who tried to quiet O'Connor was shot at, and has had him arrested. Thus, with a charge of attempted killing hanging over him, and the knowledge that "Mary has gone wid a Coon," "dar's heaps ob trouble on de ole man's mind" and prospective cash for lawyers.

Religion in South America. Sunday morning at chapel, Prof. Steere spoke on the Religious Condition of South America. As he has spent two years in that country, his remarks were formed upon personal observations.

South America has a population of 32,000,000. The whites, of Spanish and Portuguese descent, form one-fourth, and the Indians and negroes three fourths. The latter, who are very ignorant and superstitious, are Catholics. The whites seem to have outgrown this form of religion and, nothing else offering, have adopted the atheism of France and Germany.

From such conditions results a general laxity of morals. Missionaries have made little progress because the better classes, through indifference, and the others, through ignorance, feel no need of change.

Some other way must be found. These people distrust European nations, and since they have adopted our form of government, we must help them. Yet we send them as representative Americans, second-rate politicians and corrupt men as ministers. In order that their republics may be saved from destruction through immorality, we must send the Christian citizen upon whom our republic rests.

Thus the gospel may reach them from without, still that it may be truly effective it must come also from within. This can be achieved only through schools. In education lies the cure of the immorality and atheism of South America.

The Blood is the Life. GENTLEMEN: I have been troubled with bad blood for some years, but recently purchased two bottles of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup, which has entirely cured me.

A Lecture to Housekeepers.

Friday, in the University chapel, Prof. Salmon presented the difficulties with which employers have to contend, and the advantages and disadvantages under which the domestic servant labors.

Some of the difficulties with which the average housekeeper struggles in securing necessary assistance in her household are, the introduction into her family of different nationalities, religious and political views; the restlessness with which the class is imbued; the unskilled labor which compels every home to be a training school.

The advantages to the employed are high wages, with no capital invested; healthy occupation; the externals of a home, freedom some-time during the week, and knowledge and training in household affairs.

The disadvantages are chiefly in the little opportunity for advancement, dependence, and social position.

A Surgical Operation

For the cure of Piles is always painful, often dangerous and useless, and invariably expensive; on the other hand there is a new certain cure, perfectly painless, gives instant relief and permanent cure and costs but a trifle. It is the Pyramid Pile Cure. It is a more certain cure than a surgical operation, without any of the intense pain, expense and danger of an operation. Any druggist will get it for you.

MRS. JENNIE MORTON, 10 East Washington Street.

MR. SCHOENFELD'S LUCKY ERROR.

He Forgot He Was Betting Pounds, Not Dollars, and Jangler Won.

While Mr. Schoenfeld, the horse owner of Indiana, was in England in 1892 he picked up some pretty good horses. Just as the horses were being taken down to the ship the colt Jangler fell sick and had to be left behind.

Mr. Schoenfeld remained in England to visit some of the tracks. So he placed Jangler with Alfred Day at Newmarket, with instructions to get him in shape by early fall. He then started to do the races, saw the Lincoln handicap open the legitimate season, attended the spring meetings at Newmarket, Epsom and Sandown, spotting the winners of the City and Suburban, the Great Metropolitan and the Derby, generally having a pretty good time and luckily winning enough to pay expenses.

The British bookmaker does most of his business "on the nod" with regular race goers, weekly settlements being made on Mondays. Mr. Schoenfeld was soon recognized as a responsible bettor and could bet away freely on credit.

During these months he had heard now and again from Alfred Day that Jangler was doing nicely, coming back to his feed and form, and one letter intimated that he would, if placed right, soon be good enough to win a nice stake. Later Mr. Schoenfeld received this telegram:

Have entered colt Egham Plate at Windsor; think he will about do; put 20 each way. DAX.

Being in London on the day of the race Mr. Schoenfeld went down to Windsor. Strolling into the betting ring about 10 minutes before the start, with the amount he intended betting buzzing in his head, namely $100, he halted in front of a bookmaker with whom he had a business acquaintance.

"Thompson, how much will you give me on Jangler?" he said in an offhand manner as possible.

"Give you tens," was the response. "That isn't enough. He's a rank outsider, but he's the last on the card, and I take a fancy sometimes to back the end one."

"Well, I'll give you elevens," said Thompson.

"No," replied Schoenfeld; "give me 12 to 1, and I'll bet you a hundred."

"Done!" said the pencil, and Mr. Schoenfeld walked away toward the saddling paddock to see how Jangler looked. While there it suddenly flashed across his mind that he had bet £100 and not dollars on an untried colt. Pushing his way back to the bookmaker he asked, "How did you understand my bet," he gasped, "dollars or pounds?"

"Why, pounds, of course," said the booky. "We don't know anything about your Yankee currency over here."

"Why, I meant dollars!" replied Mr. Schoenfeld. "Can't you alter it? I don't want to risk $500 on this colt."

"Very sorry I can't oblige you; but, you see, it was several minutes since you made this bet, and I made my other prices accordingly. You'll have to stand it now."

Before he could reach a point where he could see, the winner flashed past the post, but for once the British crowd forgot to shout the name of the first horse. "Some doubt about who's got it, I suppose," thought the speculator; so, calling to a man who could see the winner's number hoisted, he asked, "Who's won—can you see?"

In a few seconds the reply came, "Some bloody dark loss from Alf Day's stable—name of Jingles or Jangles, or summat like that."

With a deep sigh of relief, Mr. Schoenfeld mentally wrote down $6,000 on the credit side of Jangler's account and went back to town to have a real good time.—New York Times.

Free Trip, to Chicago.

Separate W-O-R-L-D-S-F-A-I-R and use the letters to spell many words as you can by using the letters as many times as you wish, either backwards or forwards, but not use the same letter in making any one word more times than it appears in "World's Fair."

It is said seventy-five small English words can be spelled correctly from the ten letters contained in "World's Fair." Example:—Wad, waif, soar, idol, etc. If you are good at word-making you can secure a FREE trip to the World's Fair and return, as The Scott Seed Company will pay all expenses, including R. R. fare, hotel bills, admission to the Columbian Exposition, and $50.00 in cash for incidental expenses, to the first person able to make seventy words from the letters contained in "World's Fair," as above. They will also give a FREE TRIP to the World's Fair and return (without cash for incidental expenses) to the first person sending fifty-five words.

To the first person sending fifty words will be given $50.00 in cash towards paying expenses to the World's Fair; to the first sending forty words will be given $25.00 in cash towards paying expenses to the World's Fair, to each of the first five persons sending thirty-five words will be given $10.00 in cash, and to each of the first ten sending thirty words will be given $5.00 in cash.

Only one prize will be awarded to the same person. Write your name on list of words (numbered) and enclose the same post-paid with fifteen U. S. two-cent stamps for a large package of our Choice English Cottage Garden Flower Seeds.

This combination includes the latest and most popular English flowers of endless varieties (same as will be contained in the elaborate exhibit of English flowers at the World's Fair).

This "World's Fair" Contest will be carefully and conscientiously conducted solely for the purpose of introducing our business in the U. S. You will receive the BIGGEST value in flower seeds ever offered, and if you are able to make a good list of words and answer promptly you will have a first-class opportunity to secure a free trip from your home to Chicago and return.

We are spending a large amount of money to start our trade in the U. S. and want your trial order. You will be more than gratified with the result. Send today, and address THE SCOTT SEED COMPANY, Toronto, Canada.

Speakers at the Jeffersonian Banquet.

President Bordeaux has nearly completed the list of speakers for the Democratic banquet, April 13, and gives them to the press today. First on the list is Vice-President Stevenson. Following him are Congressman Wm. L. Wilson, of West Virginia, Honorable Benton Mc Millan, of Tennessee, Honorable John De Witt Warner, of New York, W. G. Ewing, of the Iroquois Club, Chicago, Judge Martin Montgomery, of Lansing, and Edwin F. Uhl, of Grand Rapids. The latter will act as toastmaster at the banquet.

Announcement of the speakers has been delayed several days owing to the failure to get definite answers from Carl Schurz, Tom F. Johnson and W. J. Bryan. These men may yet be secured. At any rate the program will be well supplied with eloquence by the above named speakers. Preparations are being made for an attendance of eleven hundred at the rink.

S. C. A. Election.

This week's annual election of the Student's Christian Association was characterized by a good deal of spirit. Fully 200 members were present. Two candidates were anxious to be president: A. J. Ladd and E. F. Hall. The ballot resulted 122 to 72 in favor of Mr. Ladd. The remaining officers elected were the following: E. F. Hall and Miss Jessie Phillips, general vice-presidents; department vice-presidents, O. L. Roberts and E. D. Day, literary; Mr. H. D. Haskins and Miss F. T. Weed, medical; Miss E. S. Pettit and A. T. Ruble, homeopathic; W. C. Hartman, law; Miss Grace McNoah, pharmacy; H. M. Bridgman and Miss Tarson, dental; recording secretary, Miss C. Pickett; membership secretary, Geo. Tupper; corresponding secretary, F. A. Manny; treasurer, Mr. Gilchrist; assistant treasurer, Miss Anna Richards; missionary treasurer, J. W. Parker; assistant missionary treasurer, Miss M. Blount; librarian, C. H. Covell; chorister, F. A. Sager; organist, P. W. Dykema.

The election of Bulletin editors resulted in the selection of D. F. Wilcox, F. A. Manny, C. T. Purdy, L. A. Pratt, Miss Nettleton and Miss Everhart.

University Appropriations. The Senate University committee, Friday, recommended an appropriation of $182,300 for the U. of M. Of this amount $142,300 was apportioned to current expenses.

$37,500 were recommended for a new administration building. For the anatomical laboratory, 1894, the committee recommended $2,500.

Among the petitions presented to the senate was one from the citizens of Grand Rapids asking for an appropriation for the co-ed's annex.

Catching Fish While Asleep.

"Never saw a fish asleep, eh?" said Cornelius Hieman, who is located at the Lindell. "Well, I have. I've seen them sleep sound and much to their sorrow, especially catfish. There is nothing more wary than a fish. You know that you can't creep up on them nor drop a pebble anywhere within 50 feet of them but what they will dodge away—that is, when they are not asleep. How I come to know so much of this is that I have caught them without bait when they were sleeping, although I did use a hook and line. The first one that I ever caught this way was a large catfish that I observed daily to be in one particular spot—the base of a wooden pile that protected an icehouse chute that led out into the water. A kind of nest was there, a depression in the mud, and here that catfish was to be found every day at about 2 p. m. It would lay for hours in the rays of the afternoon sun and never move."

"I decided to catch it. First I fished around there day after day, but to no purpose. Bait of any kind wasn't any inducement to that catfish. I concluded that it must be asleep when it would allow a fat minnow to swim by and never touch it. I got a sharp plain hook, which I properly weighted, so that it would act direct. I lowered it and moved it slowly up to the side of the fish. Then I turned the line so that the hook was directly under it. Then I gave the hook a quick jerk. The catfish darted away, but not very far. I had him foul, and all because he was sleeping. I have caught pike and sunfish the same way at least a dozen different times."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Her Chat With the Emperor.

Mrs. Flyer had just returned from Europe. Of course the "Woman's club" was eagerly watching for her arrival, and just as soon as she got back a reception was tendered to her. The room was crowded, and Mrs. Flyer became the center of a group of interested listeners. Everybody wanted to know just what she had done and how she had done it, whether she got her gloves and silks in all right, etc. At last Miss Perkins said, "And did you go to Berlin?"

"Oh, yes. And really I did have the most delightful time. I was at a reception one night and met the emperor."

There was a silence. The magnitude of the thing astonished the club. But curiosity conquered, and Mrs. Flyer went on: "Yes, he was there with all his officers, and I did have such a delightful conversation with him."

"Oh, tell us about it. Did you talk long?"

"No, you see my German isn't very good, and I was a little bit flustered, so I only asked him a question or two."

"And what did you say?"

"Oh, I just smiled and said 'Sprechen sie Deutsch?'—Boston Budget.

Comforts and Dangers.

Many of the comforts of modern life can only be enjoyed at the risk of serious accidents. Leaking gas pipes cause explosions, and the death toll for which that new agent, electricity, is responsible is already considerable. Each severe frost brings its crop of boiler accidents. Paraffin lamps continue to explode. Every day or every night there are fires, many of which lead to frightful accidents and often death.

The large masses of people gathered together in a huge city like this are exposed to constant attacks from those insidious enemies, the bacteria. The dust and soot and fog foster these enemies of human life. The ground under London is honeycombed with drainage pipes, large and small, measuring thousands of miles. Each mile of drain is charged, sometimes at high pressure, with poisons sufficient to kill hundreds of the healthiest men. It is enough to make us shudder to think that only a few feet divide us from a gigantic, death dealing octopus. So that it appears if we give up traveling we run—almost equal peril in staying at home.—"Suffering London."

A California Lumber Flume.

The county of Fresno, Cal., boasts of a flume 52 miles long, built of timber throughout and designed for conveying lumber from the place of felling in the Sierra Nevada mountains to the plains below. In section the flume is V shaped, the angle being 90 degrees. The V is 21 inches deep and for the most part 3 feet 7 inches across the top, this width being increased, however, at various points where a decrease in the grade necessitates a larger volume of water to carry the timber, the lower terminus being 5 feet 4 inches wide by 31 inches deep.

The main supply of water is received from a lake near its head, but four additional feeders are led into it at different points along its length. The sides of the flume are constructed of 14-inch boards, and the structure is carried on trestle work for nearly the whole length, these trestles being as many as 130 feet high in some of the deep canyons crossed by the flume. The steepest grade is one of 1,200 feet to the mile, maintained for about 3,000 feet.—Chicago Tribune.

Savages Who Know Little Arithmetic. In Galton's "Tropical South Africa" it is stated that the Dammaras use no term beyond three, and that when they wish to express four they take to their fingers. Beyond five they cannot count at all. It is seldom, however, that they lose in a bargain through their inability to count. When bartering, each sheep or oxen, or whatever they may be selling, must be paid for separately. If this rate of exchange were at the rate of two sticks of tobacco for one sheep, it would greatly puzzle a Dammarra to accept four sticks for two sheep. Galton says that he several times paid them in that way, and that the Dammarra forthwith set aside two sticks for one of the sheep, and even when he found that he had two sticks left for the other sheep he still had his doubts as to the genuineness of the transaction and was not satisfied until two sticks were put into his hand and one sheep driven away, and then another two sticks given to him for the other sheep.

Mortgage Sale.

Default having been made in the condition of a mortgage bearing date November 21st, 1887, made by Frederick C. Hixon to Eliza Elsie, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Washtenaw County, in 34th State of Michigan, on the 21st day of November, 1887, in over 72 of mortgages, on page 263, by the non payment of money due thereon, by which the power of sale therein contained has become operative, and on which mortgage there is due to be paid at the date of this notice the sum of Five Thousand Three Hundred and thirty-four and 90-100 Dollars, ($5,324.90), including taxes and insurance paid, and no suit or proceeding at law having been instituted to recover the amount due thereon, and the premises described in said mortgage, or any part thereof, notice is therefore hereby given that on Friday the 5th day of May, 1893, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, there will be sold at public vendue, in the Court House, in the city of Ann Arbor, in the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage as above set forth, with the interest thereon and the costs, charges and expenses allowed by law and provided for in said mortgage; said premises being situated in the Township of Ann Arbor, in the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, and described as follows, to wit: The east half of the northwest quarter and all that part of the west half of the east half of section nine (9) of Township nineteen (19), in Range six (6) east, which lies north of the north Dexter road crossing said lot; said land being all located on section nineteen (19), and containing eighty-four (84) and one-half (1/2) acres of land, more or less. Dated January 26th, 1893.

SEEN FOR A SECOND.

An Apparition Appears in a Sacramento Cellar.

About four years ago a stranger arrived in Sacramento, hired the store underneath the Clunie building and fitted it up as a cigar and tobacco establishment.

Mrs. Green, who kept a dress-making shop in the same building, declared that about midnight on the night of the man's disappearance she heard a struggle on the porch in the rear of her apartments.

The affair had been nearly forgotten, until an incident recalled the matter. O. F. Washburn of the American cash store, was having his premises at Eighth and K streets remodeled.

A curious circumstance is that Cassidy was not aware of the disappearance above alluded to, as he is a recent arrival from the East and had not, he asserts, been informed of the mystery.

HIS SISTERS AND MOTHER.

Visions Have Been Very Common With This Bay State Man.

When I was a boy of six years, I woke up with a start one morning, and standing at the foot of my bed was one of my sisters, who at the time was married and lived in New York.

While I lived in Troy, N. Y., at the Troy house, in 1857, I was visited by another sister. She came into the house, as I thought, to see me.

After leaving Troy I was employed by a Mr. Beverly Robinson of Staten Island. One night as I was on my way to Stapleton on a message, I met my mother.

I would like some one to try to explain why I can see these people, they being miles from me.

GAVE MARIA A LESSON.

Her Master Teaches Her How to Remember Small Things.

Evidently there is no servant girls' protective union in London, or, if there is, the young woman mentioned below did not belong to it.

A German merchant in London has a servant who at first was very forgetful. This fault was especially annoying, at meal times, when something essential was sure to be lacking from the table.

"Maria," said Herr B., "just run and fetch the big step-ladder down from the attic and bring it here."

Maria, who had been disturbed at her dinner, gave a grunt of dissatisfaction, but ran up the three flights of stairs to fetch down the ladder.

"Now," said Herr B., "put it up at that end of the room and climb to the top."

Maria did as she was told, and when she was at top Herr B.—quietly observed:

"Maria, you have now got a better view than we have; just look round and tell us if you can see any salt on the table. My wife and I could not find it."

This settled the business. Maria has never forgotten the lesson.

Fraud in Diamonds.

An expert says that the "painting" of diamonds is a trick known to all dealers. To give yellowish Cape diamonds the appearance of white Brazilian or Indian diamonds, a man has only to dip them in aniline blue.

The operation is so simple that not a few women practise it. They buy cheap diamonds and touch them up in an aniline bath just before wearing them.

TUITION PAID IN TRADE.

A College in Louisiana That Comes Near Placing Education in the Reach of All.

I spent Sunday in Evergreen. The town takes its name very properly, says a correspondent of the Times-Democrat, and poetically from the pretty fact that the great number of the magnolia grandiflora that gave all the surroundings the appearance of being ever green.

The town is situated mainly on two streets, one following the trend of the Bayou Rouge, the business street, so that the stores may be accessible for loading on and unloading from the steamboats that come up and down the stream; the other, a street that departs at a right angle from the bayou and runs up the hill to the residential portion of the town.

Had nothing else tempted, I should have gone to Evergreen just to gauge the college there. I am now particularly glad I went, because, in its way, it was a revelation to me. I never saw anything aspiring to the name that could be said to come so near placing education within the reach of every one as this.

By a series of adjustments, founded both on thrift and philanthropy, he so combines and arranges as to make it possible for almost anybody to educate himself, or any parent to educate his boy. Some boys are too poor, or their parents, to pay anything. Very well. That boy pays for his education in work; feeds the hogs, milks the cows, saws the wood, etc.

This may seem amazing, but it is really heroic, philanthropic, and shows remarkable administrative ability. It is heroic because few men could brave derision in making an educational institution move by educating boys through taking pay in wood, work, corn, hogs, butter, etc.

There is not only cheap education here, but there is pretty solid, old-fashioned discipline. The boys are under the president's eyes. He eats and sleeps under the same roof with them, presides at the table, and meets them in the morning at the chapel in prayer. It is a sort of family circle.

I went into the home or boarding apartment and saw the boys. They evidently had both a respect and affection for their president, an easy freedom and familiarity of intercourse, with roystering enough to show there was nothing servile and degrading, yet with no touch of presumption or parade of tenuity or an affectation of it.

TRUE, EVERY WORD.

A Realism Terrible in Its Intensity.

A STORY WHICH IS WITHOUT AN EQUAL IN THE WORLD.

The Exact Facts Told Exactly as They Occurred.

Lebanon, N. H. As your correspondent I communicate the following remarkable story exactly as it came from the lady's own lips. Everybody in Lebanon, N. H., knows Mrs. S. R. Berry well; indeed she is most highly respected resident here.

"I was in a very bad way; such trembling in my arms and limbs, and my heart was just frightful, and those terrible sweeping chills and trembling in my limbs made me expect a shock or to lose the use of them completely.

"I could not sleep nights because my heart would palpitate and the chills or shaking would follow, and I could do but very little of anything.

"I could not sit up all day, but had to lie down a great deal, and my nerves were very weak and of no use. Why, I could not bear any noise.

"There was a terrible pain in my head, with burning both sides of the head and I was almost a complete wreck of my former self.

"No one had any hopes of my being better. My doctor ordered a change of everything, but I was not equal to moving anywhere, indeed could not walk any to speak of, only drag about from one room to another.

"And such dull, heavy feelings, as if I was about to meet some awful doom. All the time I was depressed in mind and spirits and could not cheer up.

"My liver was swollen so I could not rest unless hot applications were used on my side, and my kidneys were very bad.

"In my despair, I began the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I will say that this wonderful medicine is the greatest blessing that ever came into a family.

MRS. S. R. BERRY.

"It has done perfect wonders for me. I was soon on the right road to health and strength by its use, and I am gaining every day. After taking two bottles I could do more work than I had for over a year, and now I do all my housework and all my sewing. I can walk vigorously, indeed have walked as far as five miles in an afternoon. Yes it is true, you can ask anyone here.

"I can now eat better than ever, am strong again and have got back most of my former looks and good color.

"I am a wonder to everybody who knows how weak and low I was before using this remedy. Our doctor met me a few days ago and said that I was doing wonderfully, that my eyes were bright and that I looked well.

"Oh, words are useless! I cannot tell how much I prize this great and blessed medicine. All my family join me in one loud chorus in saying, God bless this great health giving remedy! I have told every one of my friends, far and near, and you see they cannot help believing for here I am a living witness to show what has been done for me."

Can anything be added to this? The sick and suffering should certainly use so marvellous a health giver as this great remedy appears to be. Especially should all use it now for it is the most excellent of all spring medicines to invigorate the blood, strengthen the nerves and regulate all the organs. It is purely vegetable and harmless, and druggists keep it for $1 per bottle.

Doctors recommend and prescribe it because it is the discovery and prescription of an eminent physician, Dr. Greene of 32 W. 14th Street, New York, the successful specialist in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases. The Doctor can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

Adopted.

Ald. Prettyman moved that the Ann Arbor Fuel Gas Ordinance which was laid upon the table at the last meeting, be now taken from the table.

Adopted.

After which the chair having stated the question to be, "Shall this Ordinance pass?"

On motion of Aid. Prettyman the following amendment was read and added to Section 6, of said ordinance.

The fuel gas furnished by this company at 75 cents per 1,000 cubic feet shall contain an average of at least 40 available heat units per cubic foot, tests to be comparative. Provided that if the company shall furnish fuel gas at a price less than 75 cents per thousand cubic feet, such gas may have fewer than 40 h. u. to the cubic foot, and the number of h. u. may be reduced, in proportion, as the price is reduced.

Ald. Snow moved that the ordinance and amendment be laid upon the table until May 1st.

Ald. Martin moved that Aid. Prettyman be allowed the floor.

Adopted.

The question being called for the motion of Aid. Snow was adopted.

On motion the council adjourned.

SIoux LOVEMAKING.

HOW A YOUNG INDIAN WARRIOR MAKES KNOWN HIS PASSION.

He Goes to Work in One of Two Ways, Either With Food or Music—Chases the Maiden of His Choice With a Blanket or Sings to Her in the Dead of Night.

Although the Sioux Indian is, under all other circumstances, as stoical as a stone, his heart softens under the touch of love, and he is as romantic in his courtship as the most sentimental Caucasian.

There are two characteristic methods of Sioux courtship commonly practiced, though it must be admitted that with the gradual education of the young men and women in the schools there is an apparent tendency to ape the ways of their white brothers and sisters and to consume the fuel of their parents in the pursuance of their lovmaking, but with those from whose natures it seems impossible to eradicate the traits of their forefathers the customs followed by their ancestors are still commo if faut, and to these they stubbornly adhere.

Ration day is seized upon by these "true Indians" for lovmaking, and the sport of it is as heartily enjoyed by the old as by the young. When a brave finds upon the agency grounds the maiden of his choice, he manifests his preference for her by taking the blanket from his shoulders and stretching it out before him, rushing at her with the intention of throwing it over her head and shoulder.

If after listening to this the maiden is still willing to become his squaw, she tells him so. The blanket is removed from her shoulders and together they go to the maiden's parents, or, if they are dead, to her nearest relatives, to whom they declare their desire.

There is less romance in this method of winning a wife than in the custom of wooing with the aid of a flute. Such a courtship as this must be carried on in the spring when the sap is running in the trees, for only at this time can the wooer make his tuneful instrument.

The brave invariably chooses a pleasant night for his lovmaking. When the conditions are favorable, he locates himself a short distance from the tepee in which the object of his affection is sleeping and blows on his bark flute a weird chant, probably an impromptu composition.

Of course the sound of the flute attracts the attention of the people in the village, who gather around the ardent swain and indulge in good natured badinage at his expense. If he is a true lover and a desirable man for a husband, he will continue his playing, indifferent to the presence of his tormentors.

The test sometimes lasts two hours before the father of the maiden who is thus being wooed issues from the tepee and ascertains who the serenader is. He reports to his daughter, and if she approves the suitor she goes forth to meet him and leads him to her tepee for the sanction of her parents.

It is upon this fixed foundation that happy affinities are formed. It is an important doctrine in medical jurisprudence that "like cures like"—which is only another way for saying that like kinds like—and it is equally true in the social realm that companionship is not felt between young men and young women who are closely similar in general appearances or disposition.

Using the Hand in Counting. The natives of Erroob and some of the Cape Yorks of Australia have words for "one," "two" and "three," but for "four" they say "the whole." In western Australia they have words for "one," "two," "three" and "four," while the word for "five" means "the fingers being on one hand," and "ten" "being on two hands."

StouX parents of a marriageable daughter use a good deal of diplomacy in disposing of her hand in marriage. They are always ambitious to find a husband who has considerable wealth, for according to tribal law they are entitled to a certain portion of the possessions of the son-in-law.

Italians are less prone to strike than any other laborers, the one sure way of bringing them to the point being the withholding of their wages. They are very suspicious, and if not paid in full at the appointed hour take alarm, fearing that they are going to lose their earnings.

What the Italian Laborer Feels. Italians are less prone to strike than any other laborers, the one sure way of bringing them to the point being the withholding of their wages. They are very suspicious, and if not paid in full at the appointed hour take alarm, fearing that they are going to lose their earnings.

The "Animals' Mass." "I spent the Christmas holidays in the Cevennes mountains," said Artist Grant Stewart of London at the Southern yesterday. "I was sketching the peasants, and on New Year's eve I was invited to attend the 'animals' mass.' The church is a miserably poor, little lichen covered pile, slowly crumbling to pieces. The old bell in the steeple is cracked and gives forth an unnatural sound. However, on New Year's eve the mountaineers, all dressed in their holiday attire, gather at the little church, and, each one holding a lighted candle in their hands, chant an old Cevenol hymn to the effect that night is more beautiful than morning. Then comes the celebration of the mass. There is nothing unusual about that, but when the 'He missa est' is pronounced the priest again raises the host and chants the 'Magnificat' and proceeds to the door, followed by the entire congregation.

"Meanwhile all the oxen, cows, sheep and goats in the parish have been driven before the open portico of the church. As the priest appears the drivers and shepherds fall on their knees and an altar boy goes in among the cattle, sprinkling them all with holy water. Excited by the ceremony, the animals have all risen to their feet, and the venerable cure blesses them. The mass is ended in a loud hosanna, in which every voice—including the bellowing of the animals—is blended, and on New Year's morning the hills are as quiet and peaceful as though the animals had never been blessed."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A New German Field Gun. The new German field gun might be described as an enlarged rifle, for that is what it really is. The ammunition, like rifle cartridges, consists of one piece only. Ignition is produced by a ready fuse, and the four kinds of projectiles at present in use—i. e., shell, explosive shell, shrapnel and grapeshot—give place to a uniform projectile, an explosive shell possessing the combined characteristics of shell and shrapnel. Thus the possibility of a gunner mistaking in the heat of battle one projectile for another will be averted, while the loading, aiming and firing besides being quicker—for the new arm is loaded and fired in one-third of the time required in working the old gun, and the effect and precision are almost double—will be surer and unattended with danger.

The barrel of the new gun is made of cast steel, with a caliber of 8 centimeters, and the total weight of the gun, limber and carriage is slightly less than that of the old artillery weapon. Being lighter, the mobility of the new gun will of course be considerably increased. The limber and gun carriage are made of iron and iron plates. The limber box is open behind near the gun when in action. The advantage of this innovation is that the projectiles can be served out from the limber and ammunition wagon with greater rapidity. Another important feature is that the carriage is supplied with a brake, which counteracts the recoil, the process of loading and firing being thus simplified.—London Court Journal.

When Choosing a Wife. If I were asked by a young man or a young woman how to be guided in the choice of a life mate, I should, in the exercise of a judgment based on wide and studious observation, say: Choose that person who, after a reasonable period of association, proves to be most companionable. This broad law comprehends nearly all others that can be suggested. It were infinitely better to be single through life than marry one who would not answer to this condition. Speaking somewhat narrowly and selfishly, contentment is the most that can be got out of life, and when a contented couple is found it will also be discovered that they exhibit manifestly opposite characteristics of temperament, habit, taste and physique.

It is upon this fixed foundation that happy affinities are formed. It is an important doctrine in medical jurisprudence that "like cures like"—which is only another way for saying that like kinds like—and it is equally true in the social realm that companionship is not felt between young men and young women who are closely similar in general appearances or disposition. On the contrary, it arises and leads to happy unions between persons who are often widely dissimilar.—J. L. Payne in Ladies' Home Journal.

Using the Hand in Counting. The natives of Erroob and some of the Cape Yorks of Australia have words for "one," "two" and "three," but for "four" they say "the whole." In western Australia they have words for "one," "two," "three" and "four," while the word for "five" means "the fingers being on one hand," and "ten" "being on two hands."

StouX parents of a marriageable daughter use a good deal of diplomacy in disposing of her hand in marriage. They are always ambitious to find a husband who has considerable wealth, for according to tribal law they are entitled to a certain portion of the possessions of the son-in-law. It sometimes happens that the hand of the same maiden is sought by several braves. When this is the case, the will of the father rises superior to that of the daughter, and she is compelled to consider his choice, which he does not make until he has excited a lively bidding among them for his daughter's favors. Needless to say she usually goes to the man who has the greatest amount of property to share with her father.—Kate Field's Washington.

What the Italian Laborer Feels. Italians are less prone to strike than any other laborers, the one sure way of bringing them to the point being the withholding of their wages. They are very suspicious, and if not paid in full at the appointed hour take alarm, fearing that they are going to lose their earnings. Such a thought sets them wild. Argument is useless. The employer who gets behind with his payroll is lost.—New York Tribune.

FAITH AND REASON.

Two travelers started on a tour With trust and knowledge laden; One was a man with mighty brain, And one a gentle maiden. They joined their hands and vowed to be Companions for a season. The gentle maiden's name was Faith, The mighty man's was Reason.

He sought all knowledge from this world, And every world a-near it; All matter and all mind were his, But hers was only spirit. If any stars were missed from heaven, His telescope could find them; But while he only found the stars She found the God behind them.

He sought for truth above, below, All hidden things revealing; She only sought it womanwise, And found it in her feeling. He said, "This earth's a rolling ball," And so doth science prove it. He but discovered that it moves, She found the strings that move it.

He reads with geologic eye The record of the ages; Unfolding strata, he translates Earth's wonder written pages. He digs around a mountain base And measures with a plummet; She leaps it with a single bound And stands upon the summit.

He brings to light the secret force In nature's labyrinth lurking And binds it to his onward car To do his mighty working. He sends his message o'er the earth And down where sea gems glisten: She sendeth hers to God, himself, Who bends his ear to listen.

All things in science, beauty, art, In common they inherit; But he has only clasped the form, While she has clasped the spirit.

He tries from earth to forge a key To open the gate of heaven! That key is in the maiden's heart, And back its bolts are driven. They part! Without her all is dark. His knowledge vain and hollow, For Faith has entered in with God, Where Reason may not follow. —Elizabeth York Case in Home and Country.

The First American Bible. In 1663 the first Bible printed in America was published in Cambridge. It was unlawful to print an English version of the Scriptures, that right being a monopoly enjoyed by privilege and patent in England. The one printed in Massachusetts was Eliot's famous "Indian Bible," and although 1,500 copies were struck off they are quite rare, and "sealed books," as the tongue in which they are written is literally a "dead language," the tribe and all who had a knowledge of the dialect being long extinct.

Eliot's work is unique, being at once a monument to his piety, perseverance and learning. Its literary successor was Newman's "Concordance of the Scriptures." This was compiled by the light of pine knots in a log cabin in one of the frontier settlements of Massachusetts. It was the first of its kind, and for more than a century was admitted to be the most perfect, holding its place in public esteem until superseded by Cruden's, which it suggested.—Phila delphia Record.

Meaning of the Word "Either." The legal meaning of the word "either" has been gravely argued in an English court of record. A certain testator had left property, the disposition of which was affected by the "death of either" of two persons. One lawyer insisted that "either" meant both, and in support of his views he quoted Richardson, Webster, Chaucer, Dryden, Southey, the story of the crucifixion and a passage from Revelation. The judge suggested that there was a song in "The Beggar's Opera" which took another view, "How happy I could be with either, were't other dear charms away." In pronouncing judgment the court ruled that "either" meant one of two, and did not mean both. He said that it might have never in an English court of record.—E

An Unexplorable French Pit. A wonderful pit of Creus de Souci is situated in a sheet of recent basalt on the south side of the Puy de Montchal. The opening is 82 feet in diameter and 38 feet deep, but at that depth the hole about 10 feet wide communicates with a hollow 70 feet deep, at the bottom of which is a stagnant pool overlaid with carbonic acid, which forbids access to the water surface. The interior is a vast hollow, apparently formed in the basalt when semifluid, by an explosion of volcanic gas. The temperature falls from 54 degrees Fahrenheit in the open air to 34 degrees near the water.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Odd Echoes. In a cave in the Pantheon, the guide, by striking the flaps of his coat, makes a noise equal to that produced by firing a 12-pound cannon. In the cave of Smelán, near Viborg, Finland, a stone thrown down a certain abyss makes a reverberating echo which sounds like the dying wail of some wild animal.—Exchange.

NEW YORK'S POSTAL SERVICE.

Interesting Facts About the Growth of the Delivery System.

The fair of the postoffice employees was an incentive to resuscitate and revivify every postal article obtainable that was quaint, ancient, and antique, even to an exhibit of a picture of the building used for the first postoffice. In connection with this might have been mentioned the fact that it was in 1623, nine years after the construction of the first fort at the southern end of Manhattan Island, that the first postoffice saw its beginning. Previous to this, masters of vessels bringing letters from domestic and foreign ports brought them on shore and left them at a coffee house, where the merchants, the burghers and the loungers met to discuss the topics of the day. Here the letters were deposited in a rack, where they might be obtained by the persons to whom they were addressed.

In 1660, when New Amsterdam consisted of straggling groups of one story houses with peaked roofs and gable ends fronting the street, and when the city extended no farther north than Wall street, there was the town winding near the Battery, and the government house stood in Water street, near Whitehall. It was in this year that the letter carrier first appeared—the lounger who carried the mail to the merchant or burgher. It was not until 1693, however, that the first city postoffice was established, near Bowling green, the postmaster being Richard Nichel.

In 1710 the British postmaster general established the general postoffice in this city and ordered that all mails coming by vessels should be sent there. A year later post routes between New York and Boston and New York and Albany were established, and the mails were carried on horseback twice a month. In 1740 a similar route was established between New York and Philadelphia.

In 1753 Benjamin Franklin was appointed postmaster general of the colonies. Alexander Colden soon afterward succeeded Richard Nichel as postmaster of the city, which office he held until the beginning of the Revolution, when the postoffice was abolished by the British officials and remained closed for seven years.

William Bedlow, after whom Bedlow's island was named, was the first postmaster appointed after the war, and in 1786 he was succeeded by Sebastian Barnum, at which time the postal revenue was $2,789, and the city directory contained 926 names only.—New York Tribune.

It is said that when dressed in the European gowns a Japanese wife precedes her husband in entering a room, while in the eastern dress she must follow him.

Marquette to Retain the County Seat of Marquette County—May 29 Fixed Upon as the Date for Final Adjournment.

IN SENATE AND HOUSE.

LANSING, March 22.—A bill was favorably reported in the house from the committee on state affairs—establishing three new state normal schools and appropriating $25,000 in aid of each. One is to be located in the central portion of the state, one in the upper portion of the lower peninsula, and one in the upper portion of the lower peninsula.

LANSING, March 23.—The bill granting the city of Marquette eleven members of the board of supervisors of Marquette county was passed. This enables Marquette to retain the county seat. Favorable reports were made on bills appropriating $7,000 for a homeopathic training school for the feeble-minded and epileptic, and to create a dairy commission.

LANSING, March 24.—The war over church taxation is being feverishly fought in the legislature, the Glenditch bill providing for the taxation of all real estate exceeding $5,000 in value held by any one church society being the subject of attack. A remonstrance containing 12,500 names was presented in the senate. This body passed a bill providing that any railroad company may sell and convey its property and franchises to another.

LANSING, March 28.—Prompted by Murderer Latimer's escape, Representative Sumner on Monday night moved that his bill providing the death penalty for convicts or other prisoners who commit murder while in custody, which has been slumbering on the table since it was introduced early in the session, be referred to the committee on judiciary. This was done and the early passage of the bill is anticipated.

A PLACE FOR MORSE.

The Judge is Appointed as Consul at Glasgow, Scotland.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 28.—Among a large number of nominations presented to the senate by President Cleveland on Monday, was that of ALLEN B. MORSE.

Judge Allen B. Morse, of Michigan, to be United States consul at Glasgow, Scotland.

[Allen Benton Morse, named as consul at Glasgow, was born in Otisco, Iowa county, Mich., Jan. 7, 1829, and completed his education at the agricultural college at Hancock for the presidency and for two terms was prosecuting attorney of Iowa county. In 1855 he was elected a member of the supreme bench, beating Judge Cooley 30,000, and last fall ran for governor of Michigan on the democratic ticket, but was defeated.]

Michigan Baseball League.

Owosso, March 24.—The organization of the state baseball league was completed here Thursday. Eight clubs are in the circuit, viz: Grand Rapids, Jackson, Saginaw, Battle Creek, Manistee, Owosso, Bay City and Benton Harbor. No guarantee is to be given, and there is to be an equal division of the gate receipts. No player will be paid a salary higher than $250 a month. A schedule will be adopted at a meeting to be held in Battle Creek April 12. The season begins May 15 and ends September 15.

Killed Himself.

ADRIAN, March 27.—A sensation was caused in this community when it became known that John C. Lambie had committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. Business embarrassment, bringing on nervous depression, is the only known cause for the deed. Mr. Lambie was 45 years of age, and was chairman of the democratic city committee. He leaves a wife and three children.

Satisfied with Robinson.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.—Much satisfaction is expressed here in administration circles with the appointment of Henry A. Robinson, of Michigan, as statistician of the department of agriculture. His new duties are highly important and are intimately associated with the field in which he has worked so long—commissioner of labor statistics.

End of a Famous Fight.

BENTON HARBOR, March 24.—Benton Harbor rejoices over the passage of the famous sewer bill in the senate at Lansing by a vote of 23 to 2. This ends the long fight between Benton Harbor and St. Joseph in regard to the former's sewer emptying into the St. Joseph river.

HE ESCAPES.

J. Irving Latimer, the Matricide, Out of Prison.

He Drove His Guards, Secured the Keys to the Gates of the Jackson Penitentiary and Gains His Freedom—One of the Drugged Men Dies.

LATIMER AT LARGE.

JACKSON, March 28.—Irving Latimer, a life convict who was sent to prison from this city for the murder of his mother on January 24, 1889, escaped from the prison early Monday morning. Of late Latimer had been allowed to go out of his cell by the captain of the night guard, M. P. Gill, and had been in the habit of furnishing the night guard lemonade, coffee, chocolate and other delicacies. On Sunday night Capt. Gill unlocked his cell about 9 o'clock and took him to the hall-master's office, where Latimer made some lemonade. After drinking it the captain became deathly sick. George W. Haight was keeper of the guardroom, and he had just sat down to his midnight

J. IRVING LATIMER.

lunch when he fell to the floor in a fit and died soon after. It transpires that Latimer had been in the habit of taking up a cup of chocolate nearly every night to Haight, passing it through a slide in the grating. There is no doubt Latimer had planned to poison both Haight and Gill, and the chocolate at night was only to gain confidence until he could get some poison. At lunch Sunday night Latimer carried up a glass of lemonade to Haight instead of the chocolate, and Haight died in twenty minutes after drinking it.

Latimer, after Gill was taken sick, went up to the guardroom where the gate keeper was lying in a stupor, secured the keys to the west cell block and to the outside gate. On the pretense of going to call physicians he went out the door and disappeared. A posse of about 200 men is scouring the country, but as yet no trace of him has been found.

Latimer has for some time occupied the cell nearest the gate guardroom, and it is stated that for some time he has been allowed certain privileges by Capt. Gill not accorded to the other convicts, and on several occasions lately he has been permitted to take luncheon with Capt. Gill in the lower corridor. Sunday night about 9 o'clock Latimer and Gill were in the guardroom, and it is stated that the prisoner was ever in his cell after that time. About 12 o'clock, after having drunk several glasses of lemonade prepared by Latimer, Gill was taken sick. Keeper Rice and Latimer took care of him. Soon afterward a noise of a heavy fall and the rattling of dishes were heard in the guardroom, and Latimer took the captain's keys, and it was supposed, rushed up to see what was the matter. Rice claims to have gone to the guardroom with Latimer, but this is thought to be impossible under the circumstances.

Instead of going for help he unlocked the door of the guardroom, passed through the door and was free. He took the prison keys with him. He had neither coat nor hat. The prison authorities have offered a reward for Latimer, dead or alive. Those who know him say there is not one chance in a thousand of ever taking him alive. There is the most intense excitement, and hundreds of men are searching the city and surrounding country. Telegrams have been sent all over the state, and it seems impossible that he can escape.

HE CAME BACK.

Haunted by Fear of Recapture, an Escaped Convict Gives Himself Up.

GRAND RAPIDS, March 27.—William Hawley, who escaped from the Ionia house of correction eight years ago, after serving six months of a three-year term for larceny, has returned to that institution, voluntarily giving himself up. He had been in the west and had prospered, but the constant anxiety lest he should be recognized and taken back was more than he could stand and so he came back of his own accord to serve his time. He is 48 years old and has a wife and five children. His former friends will petition for his pardon.

Cash for the Pottawatomies.

DECATUR, March 27.—The remnant of the Pottawatomie tribe of Indians, which is scattered throughout Cass and Van Buren counties to the number of about 240, has received notice from Washington, through Chief Simon Pokagon, that there will soon be distributed among them the sum of $156,000 in return for lands taken from them by the government. For a similar reason $39,000 was distributed among them in 1866. These Indians have always maintained the tribal relations with hereditary chiefs.

Michigan Insurance Companies.

LANSING, March 27.—A report issued by Insurance Commissioner Magill states that old line insurance companies wrote insurance aggregating $26,011,611 in Michigan during the last fiscal year, and at the close of the year had policies aggregating $104,604,359 in force. They received $3,494,582 in premiums and incurred losses aggregating $1,396,053.

The Women Can't Vote.

LANSING, March 27.—Advocates of female suffrage are worried over a recent opinion of Attorney General Ellis, which says that while women are eligible to the offices of county commissioners of schools, inspectors and members of city boards of education they are not qualified to vote for candidates for these offices.

A Postmaster in Trouble.

GRAND RAPIDS, March 25.—A United States marshal brought here, under arrest, Postmaster Teeple, of Lake Odessa, who had been found short in his accounts to the extent of $1,040. His arrest was ordered by a special inspector of the post office department.

Big Reward Offered.

Owosso, March 25.—One mile north of this city, Thursday night, an attempt was made to wreck an Ann Arbor passenger train. A Toledo dispatch says Manager Ashley has offered a reward of $1,000 for the capture and conviction of the perpetrators.

The Direct Tax.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 27.—Under a recent decision of First Comptroller Matthews Michigan will be paid $5,623 as a refund of the direct tax.

Why? Why is Strictly Pure White Lead the best paint? Because it will outlast all other paints, give a handsomer finish, better protection to the wood, and the first cost will be less. If Baryles and other adulterants of white lead are "just as good" as Strictly Pure White Lead, why are all the adulterated white leads always branded Pure, or "Strictly Pure White Lead?" This Baryles is a heavy white powder (ground stone), having the appearance of white lead, worthless as a paint, costing only about a cent a pound, and is only used to cheapen the mixture. What shoddy is to cloth, Baryles is to paint. Be careful to use only old and standard brands of white lead.

Montana has the Largest Gold Mine, the Largest Silver Mines, the Largest Copper Mines, the Largest Lead Mines. Has Extensive Grazing Ranges, Fine Timber Belts, Wide Agricultural Valleys. Is larger than New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware combined. The Great Northern Railway is the direct line from St. Paul and Minneapolis to Great Falls, Monarch, Nelhart, Barker, Helena, Butte and other Montana points. Apply to your home railway agent for tickets over the Great Northern.

LEND ME YOUR EARS. I do not wish to blow into them, but I merely whisper that the Red River Valley offers fine inducements for home seekers, as also the entire region along the Great Northern Railway through Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana. For Maps, Guide Books, etc., apply to F. I. WIRSEY, G. P. & T. A., St. Paul, Minn., or to your nearest railway agent.

THE YOUNG MEN ARE OUT THERE NOW. In some states the ratio is two and often three to one in favor of the men. The best route from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and West Superior to the Northwestern and Pacific States is via the Great Northern Railway.

IN RED RIVER VALLEY. Farms can be had in Minnesota and North Dakota on crop and other plans to suit purchasers. No failure of crops in twelve years of settlement. Large yields of wheat and other staples. Fine stock region. Good schools and churches. Healthful climate. Great Markets within easy reach. Farms paid for from the proceeds of one crop. Highest prices paid for products. The Great Northern Railway has three lines through the valley. Address W. W. Braden, Land Commissioner, St. Paul, Minn., for particulars.

ABOUT A GREAT COUNTRY. Maps and publications sent free, and letters asking information about travel and settlement in Minnesota, the Dakotas and Montana answered by F. I. Whitney, G. P. & T. A., Great Northern Railway, St. Paul. Tickets to all points in the West. Lowest rates to the Pacific Coast.
