KLINE'S BILL PASSES.

Argument of Representative Kline on Capital Punishment.

SUICIDE BY MEANS OF PARIS GREEN.

Criminal Cases in the Circuit Court—Fire at the Agricultural Works. Of Interest to County Teachers—A Well Earned Chromo.

Can Still Sell Oil.

The ordinance case against Marion Goodale for selling oil on the streets, without paying a $3 a day license, was tried before Justice Pond, Wednesday. The jury was out only three minutes and brought in a verdict of not guilty, holding that Goodale was not a huckster or peddler.

Suicide in Manchester.

Edward Powell, a farmer living five miles southeast of Manchester, committed suicide Sunday night by taking Paris green. He had had some trouble with a son-in-law and is supposed to have taken the poison on account of it. His mind was undoubtedly unbalanced, which largely accounted for the trouble and the suicide. He was seventy-four years of age.

Death of a Dexter Young Man.

Charles Lavey died at the home of his father in Dexter township, Wednesday morning, of consumption. He was twenty-four years of age. About three years ago he went to California, seeking to recover his health, and after some months returned much improved in health, but still not well. A heavy cold, contracted some months since, resulted in his death. The funeral services were held in St. Joseph's church this morning.

Death of Michael Cowan.

Michael Cowan died at his home on the corner of Main and William streets, Tuesday, of heart disease. Mr. Cowan was born in Montgomery county, N. Y., in 1817. He removed to this county with his parents when he was fifteen years of age and settled at Dixboro plains, on the first farm purchased in that section. In 1849 Mr. Cowan was married to Eliza Shanhenseny, of Vermont. They had five children. Mr. Cowan was a respected citizen. The funeral services were held at nine o'clock this morning at St. Thomas' church.

In the Circuit Court.

The Ypsilanti murder trial has been put over the term at the instance of the prosecution. This will materially shorten the May term of court.

The attention of the court this week has been occupied with the trial of Francis Gould, charged with rape upon the person of his own daughter. The case, of course, contained a mass of disgusting testimony given before a crowded audience, among whom were several young girls. Prosecuting Attorney Kearney addressed the jury for the people yesterday and Mayor Thompson for the defense. The court then adjourned until 8:30 this morning, when Hon. A. J. Sawyer will close for the defense and ex-Prosecuting Attorney Lehman for the people.

One of the numerous cases in the Antcliffe estate will be heard immediately after the conclusion of the Gould case. It is the appeal of A. J. Waters, Esq., from the allowance by the commissioners of the estate of an offset against his claim.

Orange Blossoms.

Miss Elizabeth Vernor, daughter of Rev. George Vernor, was married on Wednesday, at half-past one o'clock, to Elmer Sutfin, of St. Louis, Mich., in St. Andrews church, in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, assisted by Rev. Henry Tatlock. A sumptuous wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's father, 45 S. Division street. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Sutfin will settle down at St. Louis, where Mr. Sutfin is a practicing dentist.

Miss Hattie G. Nichols, daughter of Dr. W. W. Nichols, was married Wednesday evening to Dr. D. M. Root, of Peoria, Ill., a graduate of the medical department last year. The wedding was solemnized at Dr. Nichols' home on Hill street and Lincoln avenue, in the presence of the family and a few friends, Rev. Camden M. Coburn officiating. The happy couple left on the evening train for Peoria, accompanied by the good wishes of numerous friends.

Fire in the Agricultural Works.

The biggest fire that Ann Arbor has had for some months occurred yesterday morning between two and three o'clock. The fire was first discovered by the flames bursting forth from the cupola of the foundry of the Ann Arbor Agricultural Works by an engineer on the Michigan Central. The alarm was sent in to the fire department, which promptly responded. The fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered and the moulding rooms of the foundry are in ruins. The department quickly extinguished the fire when they arrived on the grounds and saved the works. The loss is $1,500, on which there was $890 insurance, of which $600 was on the building and $290 on the contents. The principal loss was on the contents, many of the coves being destroyed. The insurance was divided as follows: Rochester German, $184; Phoenix, Hartford, $246; Phenix, Brooklyn, $230; Franklin, Philadelphia, $230. The company since its organization has paid $18,000 premium for insurance, and this is its first loss by fire.

Earned a Chromo.

County Clerk Brown earned a fine chromo this week in the following manner: A man named Hamner, from Ypsilanti, got twelve certificates that a certain man was a notary from the deputy clerk, the price of which came to $3. Hamner refused to pay this and Brown sued him, getting a judgment. Execution being taken out on the judgment, it was returned unsatisfied. Saturday Hamner put up at the Franklin House in this city and sent a hack to the court house for Brown, who went to the hotel and saw him. Hamner told him that he would buy him the best chromo he could find if he would collect that $3. He produced a big wad of bills, saying that was the way he carried his money. Brown went out, got a warrant out for Hamner under the fraudulent debtor act, and rather than go to jail, Hamner paid the $3 and costs amounting to $11. He says he will keep his word about getting Brown the chromo. Charles R. Whitman also had Hamner arrested under the same act.

Kline on Capital Punishment.

Representative Kline's capital punishment bill was discussed in the Michigan House of Representatives Wednesday evening, before a crowded audience including many distinguished men. Strong speeches were made for the bill by Representatives Newkirk, Sullivan, Covell, Davock and Linderman, and against it by Representatives Barkworth, Hicks and Chamberlain; but the speech of the evening was made by Mr. Kline, and lasted nearly an hour. He was frequently interrupted by applause. Among other things Mr. Kline said:

Our present law does not impress the would-be murderer with the enormity and magnitude of his crime. It does not teach enough; it does not put in fear those contemplating murder; it does not mark the law of life with solemnity.

More stringent measures should be adopted to teach that class who do not respect the law that they must respect it or forfeit that which they take—life. I fear, sir, that we regard life too lightly, that we have come so accustomed to the reports of horrible deeds of bloodshed that our sense of justice has become benumbed. We have become accustomed to the cry of murder.

The law is intended to strike at those who calmly premeditate crime, those who count the cost, those who calmly say, the most the law will do with me is to shut me up for a short time, in a place where I will be regaled with the latest opera once a week, a minstrel show once a fortnight, a place where I can study the sciences and arts, where I can become an expert chemist, where my lot will be an easy one, my work will be light, my hours short and in due time my friends on the outside will prevail upon some tender-hearted governor to pardon me, if before that time arrives I do not have the good fortune to kill my keeper and escape. At any rate in less than ten years I will again be free, for statistics tell us that the average time the murderer serves in our state prison is ten years. With the death penalty all this will be changed; when the would-be murderer comes to plan his crime, thinks out the results, faces the fact that if he is convicted he will lose his life; that he will not be made a hero of; that he will not be the object of the sentimentalist's pity and his bouquet; then, sirs, I believe that from that man's mind the thought of murder will forever banish, and he will stop before he sheds his fellow-blood. It will deter many, it will not stop capital crime, for so long as men are endowed with passions, just so long those passions will at times the master.

"Michigan has an alarming number of atrocious murders, and the reason for it is obvious, when it was known that only 25 per cent of those charged are convicted, and of those convicted only 3 per cent are given the maximum sentence. This alarming statement is deduced from the attorney general's report. Is it any wonder that capital crime is prevalent? What has the average murderer to fear? He is certain of a short sentence and hopes for an acquittal. The argument that the death penalty will serve to lessen the number of convictions, certainly must fall, for with capital punishment the convictions certainly could not be less than they are now, unless they acquit in all cases.

"I come now, gentlemen, to Michigan's criminal record. I find, beginning with the year 1887 taking the years 1887 and 1888, there were 117 murders. The years 1889 and 1890, yielded 124 murders; the years 1891 and 1892, 299 murders and 145 murderous assaults. Capital crime, you will see, is steadily on the increase, and its proportions are greater than the increase in population."

After recounting at length the many cold-blooded and deliberate recent murders in Michigan, he said:

"What is the effect of our present mode of punishment for murderers? Do they ever become repentant men? Judging from past events I should say that they do not. Taking Holzhaf, Blackman, who murdered Cuddy, and last but not least the prince of criminals, Irving Latimer. Have those men become repentant men? Do their acts show reformation? Is there anything that murderers can find to do under life sentence that they will not do? Taking the history of those men and the way they are punished, I think instead of making repentant men of them we give them a chance to show what base criminals they are."

The bill passed the house yesterday by a vote of 56 to 25, and will undoubtedly pass the senate.

For Blockading a Street.

Marshal Murray this morning arrested the yard master of the Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan railroad, for blockading Felch street with cars. The complaint was made under the ordinance, and is the first arrest that has been made under it. The case has been adjourned until next Thursday.

Prof. Hempl's New Books.

Prof. Hempl has a new book on German Orthography and Phonology which will leave the press this month. It is a manual of about 200 pages, and consists of two parts. Part I., presents a systematic treatment of German spelling, punctuation, pronunciation, and stress. Part II., is an extensive word list, which includes the words in Prussian, Bavarian, and Wurtemberg spelling books. The book is intended for advanced students.

The professor also has in preparation a German grammar, intended for high schools and colleges. Part I., consisting of introductory lessons. Part II. is a systematic treatment of modern German, with as much consideration of the history of the language as is appropriate.

The One-Sixth Mill Bill Now in Effect.

It has been thought by many that the 1-6 mill bill was not to take effect until next January, but such is not the case. Secretary Wade has spent the larger part of his time during the last month making arrangements for a different adjustment of the matter and his labors have resulted in another bill going through the house which makes the 1-6 mill bill take effect last January. So that this year's expenses are to be met with the money coming from this source. This is a great thing for the University, since it is further provided that $75,000 is to be expended for the proposed administration building. However, the original plan will probably be superseded by another which provides for two buildings instead of one. An administration building will probably be built at the northwest corner of the campus, and a two story recitation building will probably be built on the campus back of the main building somewhere. Besides this appropriation from the 1-6 mill bill fund, $5,000 has been allowed for an electric light plant at the hospital, and another $5,000 for the enlargement of the anatomical laboratory.

The Regents meet Friday and the plans for the new buildings will be submitted to them, and active operations will be begun immediately to get the buildings under way. The management of the University are very much elated over this new plan, as it puts the new bill into active operation, and provides funds for several necessary equipments; and besides gives $6,000 more for this year's disbursements than we would have received by the budget scheme.—U. of M. Daily.

Students' Congress in Chicago.

In the category of world's congresses to be held during the summer in Chicago, the congress of college and university students will play an active part. Arrangements have been completed for the congress, and the week commencing July 17 has been chosen as the most convenient time for the meeting. The purposes, announced in the preliminary outline, by the chairman of the committee, are three-fold:

1. To promote inter-university and international student fellowship throughout the world, thus seeking to foster in the social life of the world that breadth of views and sympathies which students gain through their college and university studies and associations.

2. The advancement of such interests as these students have in common, and the organization of such an international association of college and university students.

3. To gather information regarding the condition, character and spirit of college and university life in different countries, and to obtain useful knowledge on other interesting topics from the student's standpoint.

The time chosen for the congress is opportune, as students of all nationalities will flock to the World's Fair. The interest of U. of M. students should be awakened to this project, and as many should plan to attend this congress as can possibly do so. As soon as definite arrangements are made, announcement of them will be made through these columns.

Business has been unusually dull this week in town, and arrivals of farm produce very light. Wheat has declined and now stands at 68 cents for red or white. Rye has advanced and would warrant 56 cents. Oats 35 cents; beans $1.70; potatoes 50 cents; eggs 14 cents; butter 23 cents.

A Waterloo correspondent says that the people of that burg have to sit for an hour and a half on warm Sundays and listen to political harangues from the pulpit when they want brief sermons on religion. The Modern Shave.

"The nose pulling barber is hard to find now unless one goes into the cheap shops," said George D. Hamilton of Memphis. "There was a time not so many years ago when a barber would take you by the nose if he had to shave your upper lip and almost pull the protuberance up by the roots. A friend of mine told me he went into a shop once, and the barber asked him if he would have a thumb or a spoon shave, meaning thereby that if my friend was fastidious about having the barber jab his thumb in the corner of his mouth to extend his jaw he would use a spoon for that purpose. But those days are gone. Even the talking barber is a missing link between the new and the old tonsorial schools. All the disagreeable features of a shave have disappeared, and the operation is now smooth and pleasant. The only people who find anything disagreeable in the process are those who shave themselves or who get a shave in a 5-cent shop."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Minnie's Yearly Expenses.

"Minnie can afford to marry a poor man," said a friend of Minnie's mother, speaking of the daughter's evident liking for an impecunious young lawyer.

"That is just where you are mistaken," answered Minnie's mamma. "She has $6,000 a year of her own, and she spends every penny of it upon her clothes. Her dresses last year cost about $4,000, her hats and bonnets about $500, her lingerie another $500, and besides there are her jackets, gloves and all the other accessories of the toilet. And she is no exception in her world; most of her friends spend quite as much and many a great deal more. No wonder that young men cannot afford to marry nowadays and only rich girls are in demand, though—if men did but know it—it is more expensive to marry an heiress than a girl who has been accustomed to manage with very little."—New York Tribune.

A Queer Business In China.

In China a baldheaded man of almost any age can within the space of 48 hours be transformed into a blooming youth, as far as the hair is concerned; or a beardless youth of 18 can be made to look like 60 within the same length of time by having planted upon his face a genuine gray beard four feet long; or an old maid without eyebrows can be transformed into a girl of sweet 16 by being fitted out with a beautiful pair of brand new eyebrows or eyelashes of any color.

It is not a very costly operation in any case, although it is a little painful, but then as it is only temporary, what matter does it make to have beauty restored to you if you do have to suffer a little pain for only 24 hours or even 48 hours. Without it you may have to be poor and homely all your life.—Wong Chin Foo in St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Population of the Moon.

There is plenty of authority for believing that there is a man in the moon; in fact, there is authority for believing that there are women and other animals there. Dante declares that Cain was banished to the moon, and that he can be seen there at any time. Chaucer declares that the man in the moon was guilty of larceny, and that he carries a thornbush. Shakespeare loads him with thorns and gives him a dog. According to the general version, he was banished there for gathering sticks on Sunday, and the Germans have amplified this theory by giving him a woman who had been caught churning butter on Sunday.—New York Telegram.

LIGHT MINUS HEAT.

THE DISCOVERIES NIKOLA TESLA IS GIVING THE WORLD.

Electric Currents That Produce Variegated Streams of Mysterious Light and Fail to Heat the Wires That Carry These Wonderful Currents.

Almost from the time that the vibratory theory of light was accepted scientific men have looked forward to the day when it would be possible to produce light without heat. For it is an unfortunate fact that so far every effort to produce light has been accompanied by an enormous waste of energy due to the production of useless heat. The simplest way of producing light is by means of the combustion of some compound of carbon. It does not matter whether the carbon is solid, as in a candle, or a fluid, as in a lamp, or in a gas, as in ordinary illuminating gas, the process is the same.

The union of the carbon of the substance with the oxygen of the air produces the rapid vibration that the eye recognizes as light. Carbon, though the element usually employed, is not a necessary factor, for magnesium, potassium, iron—indeed almost any of the elements—will take its place. Neither is oxygen a necessary part in the production of light. Chlorine will produce an even more brilliant light with certain substances. It is evident, therefore, that the rate of vibration and not the element employed is the principal factor in producing light.

Unfortunately all methods of producing light by means of chemical combinations (such as the union of the carbon of the candle with the oxygen of the air) are accompanied by a very large production of heat waves, which in the majority of cases are utterly useless, if not absolutely troublesome. The old simile of a musician desiring to produce a certain high note being compelled to press down all the keys of his instrument is an apt one. The lower notes are not merely useless, but they are positively annoying.

Singularly enough, the first solution of the problem that was attempted successfully was by the aid of heat. A very small amount of light waves are required for recognition by the wonderfully developed special sense which man possesses. Its intensity, not quantity, that is wanted, to use a technical term. Consequently if a very small particle is heated to incandescence the light which it throws out bears a far greater ratio to the amount of heat required than it does if a large mass is similarly heated.

This is one of the radical bases of the utility of the incandescent electric light. An extremely small filament is heated to incandescence through the resistance which it offers to the flow of an electric current. It generates heat, it is true, but the amount of heat thus produced is directly proportional to the mass of the carbon, which is very small. The light produced, however, is amply sufficient for all ordinary purposes.

This solution, however, is highly unsatisfactory to scientists, however useful it is to the public at large. Light apart from heat altogether was wanted. The fiery, the phosphorescent sea animalcules and even the exhausted tubes of Geissler furnished the hope that there was yet some method of reaching the high note without pressing down the whole keyboard.

Recently an extraordinary genius has appeared in this country who seems upon the verge of discovering, if not to have actually discovered, a method by which this might be done. Nikola Tesla, a man of independent fortune and most brilliant mind, who was for a time connected with Edison, has dared to experiment with rapidly alternating electric currents. The result has surprised the wildest dreams of the theorists. He has succeeded in producing light of comparatively high intensity without the production of heat and apparently directly by the use of electricity. The halls of the Royal society of London and of the Franklin institute of Philadelphia have been illuminated by means of the light radiated from bare copper wires in the open air carrying these so called Tesla currents.

The wires were not hot, but they radiated from their surface light and sent from one to another bands and streamers of the mysterious light which we see in the aurora borealis. The effect must be seen to be thoroughly appreciated, but when it is stated that the experimenter without difficulty succeeded in radiating light not only from an exhausted glass tube held in his hand, but also from his thumb, his nose and other features, the enthusiasm which swept over his audiences in London and in Philadelphia may be appreciated.

As yet no useful application has been found for these wonderful new developments in electrical science, but they should be welcomed as a harbinger of further progress.—Baltimore Sun.

A Singular Invention.

A new thing in the surgical world is a curious brass button designed by a surgeon for the purpose of joining together two ends of an intestine that has been cut. The button consists of two parts into which an end of the intestine is fastened. When the two parts are pressed together between the thumb and forefinger, they are caught by a spring and held in place. Then the intestine grows together, an opening remaining through the button all the time. When it is completely enveloped by the new tissue, nature repairs the ravages of disease so thoroughly that the button becomes detached by the decomposition of the tissue holding it, and it passes off.—Cor. St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Erute.

"I made an angel cake that was elegant, and one that was awful," said Maud. "This is the third, and it will decide as to whether or not I can be considered an expert." "I could tell this was the rubber," said Harry as he tried the cake; "it tastes like it."—Harper's Bazar.

People Who Take Offense Easily.

In this world there are a certain class of individuals who roam about with a chip on their shoulders, daring others to knock it off just for the luxury of indulging in a first class quarrel. To the gentle mannered, sweet dispositioned ones this seems a very questionable sort of enjoyment, yet to some a wordy war or a full fledged feud constitutes the chief excitement of their lives.

These people always have a quarrel on hand. If it isn't a family affair, then outsiders must snuff. They are quick to take offense, both in public and private, and have no scruples about expressing themselves on paper when they haven't a chance to do so verbally. It is this penchant for writing letters that helps to keep them continually in hot water, as the black and white characters are decided evidence against them even after their anger has had time to cool.

Now, if there were any sense in this sort of conduct, there would be some excuse for it, but there isn't, and, moreover, it makes you doubly unhappy to be always on the outs with some one. You may pretend not to care, but you do just the same, and though pride and temper keep your spirits up for a time in your secret heart you wish you had not been quite so ready to quarrel.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

A Connecticut Poet.

There is a movement in Connecticut to erect a monument to the memory of the poet, James Gates Percival. He was a peculiar man and had all of the poet's idiosyncrasies. On one occasion he was invited to meet a number of gentlemen in New Haven, who were in their turn notified that they were to have the pleasure of meeting the poet. He was to be, in fact, the honored guest of the evening. They were all on hand, but Percival did not put in an appearance. Allowance was made for his utter indifference to the passing of time, and up to midnight he was expected.

At last, as morning drew near, deeming it certain that the poet had forgotten the invitation, the guests went home and the host put up the bars and went to bed. At about 2 o'clock in the morning he heard some one at his front door, went down, asked the object of the call and found that it was Percival. The astonished host let the poet in, and the latter blandly said that he had inferred from what had been said that there were to be others present. The host told him that the others had all gone home. The poet expressed regret and settled himself down for a good smoke and talk, which kept up, to his host's embarrassment, till the sun rose.—Boston Transcript.

General Vallejo and Fremont.

When the destiny of the province of California hung in the balance, and England and Russia, as well as the United States, eagerly held out hands for the prize, General Vallejo unhesitatingly gave his adherence to the stars and stripes. Fremont doubted and imprisoned him, but soon set him free.

One day during that imprisonment a young American officer, doubtless a spy sent by Fremont, rode up to the family residence in Sonoma, and offering to Mrs. Vallejo an English and an American flag asked in Spanish, "Senora, which of these do you prefer?"

The lady looked at him a moment as if to read his purpose; then clasping the American flag to her bosom she kissed its folds and said: "This is the flag my husband has taught me to love. It is the one he wishes to see wave over his beloved California."

The officer smiled, and bowing gracefully all present took his departure.

A lady who stood watching the courteous American as he rode away turned to Mrs. Vallejo and said, "No es Oso" (That is no Bear), meaning that is not one of the Bear Flag party.—Emily B. Powell in Harper's.

Bad Manners In the Use of Words.

The laws of common courtesy hold in the use of words as well as dishes. As unconsciously as you turn the handle of the pitcher in passing it should you turn the handle of your sentence and present your thought right side up. You would not toss the book you are asked for across the floor and leave your brother to pick it up. Why toss your answer in similar hit or miss rudeness?

It is not rudeness of manner to which I refer, but the rudeness of not making your sentence at least neat. The most admirable and affectionate of persons will fill your ears with a thousand needless words that do but conceal their meaning, or make some noncommittal reply which forces you to repeat your question.

A very large part of the misunderstandings in life, with all the sin and sorrow resultant, is traceable to this same carelessness, this stupidity, these inexcusable bad manners, in the use of words.—Charlotte P. Stetson in Kate Field's Washington.

A Cheeky Customer.

"I had a unique but tantalizing experience the other day," said a clerk who works in a Kansas City hair store. "A man came into our place and asked to look at some false beards. Of course he was accommodated, and he spent over an hour going over the lot, trying them on and examining himself in a glass. He took up my time, and after he had examined everything in that line in the store he thanked me and said he was considering whether to raise a beard or not and wished to see how he would look in the different styles."—Kansas City Star.

Deaths Due to Bad Milk.

Five thousand little graves are dug each year in Philadelphia for babies, and 5,000 little headstones are yearly set up over their graves, all due to deaths traceable to the diseases which spring from wrong feeding. In the overwhelming majority of instances the poor food of which these babies die is bad milk, diseased milk or skimmed milk. Death's heavy harvest of little babies in Philadelphia is rendered possible by the absence of a sound milk law.—Philadelphia Press.

GOOD HEALTH.

IS YOUR BLOOD IMPURE? Are you suffering from any Kidney or Female Complaint? Have you a Cough, Cold or any disease of Throat, Chest or Lungs? Is your Liver performing its functions properly? If you have any of these complaints it will certainly pay you to try the medicines mentioned below, which are warranted.

A REMARKABLE CURE.

MESSERS. FOLEY & Co., Chicago. GENTLEMEN:—I had a scrofulous taint of the blood from childhood. An ulcer began on the side of the nose, having all the appearances of a most malignant cancer, became about the size of a silver dollar and exuded a thin, offensive matter. The agony of mind I suffered cannot be described as I contemplated the progress of the disease. I was induced to try the Clinic Sarsaparilla; it appeared to neutralize the poison in the blood, the ulcer ceased. The diseased tissues in the bottom and edges of the sore seemed to loosen and the natural flesh to take its place. Thus the cure continued until an even surface remained. No part of the disease remains. Mrs. H. B. ADAMS, 1609 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

SUFFERED 27 YEARS.

Mr. G. A. Stillson, a merchant of Tampico, Ill., writes, August 10th, 1891: GENTLEMEN:—Your Kidney Cure is meeting with wonderful success. It has cured some cases here that physicians pronounced incurable. I, myself, am able to testify to its merits. My face to-day is a living picture of health, and your Kidney Cure has made it such. I had suffered twenty-seven years with the disease, and to-day I feel ten years younger than I did one year ago. I can obtain some wonderful certificates of its medical qualities.

WHAT A PHYSICIAN SAYS.

AGNEW, Ottawa Co., Mich., Feb. 14, 1893. FOLEY & Co., Chicago. GENTLEMEN:—Please send me six dozen Honey and Tar at once. I will say that within the past two months I have had three or four cases of Pneumonia, in all of which I have used your Honey and Tar with the most gratifying success. Yours truly, J. C. BISHOP, M. D.

FRIDAY, MAY 19, 1893.

The Register, this week, reiterates the old refrain about "the people who elected Mayor Thompson" demanding "the enforcement of existing laws and ordinances." True, quite true! All laws should be enforced, laws which suit the Register and laws which do not suit the Register. But the Register Publishing Co., is not a law abiding corporation. For two years it has violated a state law. It has not suited that corporation to give to the public the names of its stockholders, and its has not filed its annual report, which the law requires it to file in January. Its officers are subject to a fine for not doing it. There is a demand that the law be enforced, and the Register should be made to do what it preaches.

Ald. Prettyman went out of his way in the council meeting the other night to denounce the bids of the Argus, Courier and Times for printing the Council proceedings as tricky because the papers did not bid on pamphlets for the council, bids on which were not asked for. If there was any fault to be found with the bids it was because they fully complied with Ald. Prettyman's resolutions. When bids on one thing only are asked, it is not usually to bid on two things. The bids were like those always received by the council for printing. The Argus, for one, will not bid, where its motives for bidding are to be impugned. The printing was bid down to cost, so that the paper which prints the proceedings will gain nothing. There was no thought of trickery behind them. If the council wanted to publish the proceedings in only one paper, the Times made the lowest bid. If they wanted to publish them in two papers, the joint bids of the Courier and Argus and the Register and Democrat were exactly the same. The council should have taken its choice. If two papers were chosen the advantage of publishing in the Courier and Argus over publishing in the Register and Democrat is that of publishing in the leading party papers instead of in two papers without standing in their parties.

Ann Arbor, May 17, 1893.

Regular meeting. Called to order by the President.

Roll call. Full board present. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

The clerk reported that the common council had passed a resolution directing the Board to have the sidewalk in front of the engine house built. The matter was referred to Mr. McIntyre and Chief Siple.

The City Engineer submitted sidewalk grades for the east and west side of Second street, from Madison to Jefferson streets, on Church street west side from College street to Washtenaw avenue.

On motion of Mr. Keech the grades were approved and recommended to the common council for approval.

On motion of Mr. Keech, Prof. Chas. E. Green was appointed consulting engineer on building the proposed sewer.

Three Curious Words.

Filibuster, freebooter and buccaneer are words curiously interrelated. The French and the English sea adventurers once made common cause against Spanish settlements in the new world, and all three of these words came in time to describe the rude sea soldiers who despoiled the Spanish main and the towns upon the coasts of the Spanish possessions. Filibuster is said to be the result of an attempt to make a French word of freebooter, and the English borrowed it back from the French because it sounded less frankly brutal than the English word.

Buccaneer was originally French in form, and it meant at first one who hunted the boucan or wild cattle and hogs of the West Indies; then one who made jerked meat of their flesh, and finally, because this meat was used to provision the ships of the sea rovers, a filibuster or freebooter.—New York Sun.

A Hint For Rainy Weather.

During a recent stormy day a gentleman who had no umbrella, and who had just come into town by a local train, perceived before him as he stepped into the street a person whom he took to be an acquaintance, and who had a fine new umbrella hoisted over his head. Running up to him, therefore, he clasped him on the shoulder, saying as he did so by way of a joke, "I'll take that umbrella, if you please." The individual thus addressed looked round and disclosed a perfect stranger, but before the other could apologize he said hurriedly: "Oh, it's yours, is it? Well, I didn't know that. Here, you can have it," and broke away, leaving the article in the hands of the first party to the conversation. This narrative, which is strictly true, affords a valuable hint to persons who may be caught out without protection from the rain.—London Tit-Bits.

A Clever Parrot.

F. X. Zeigler of Columbus, Pa., has a parrot named Dick that is considered one of the family and is perhaps one of the most intelligent birds of its species in the world. Dick always takes a hand in household matters. If Mr. Zeigler's son does not get up in the morning at the usual hour to go to the office, the parrot will say to the girl, "Call Clem," and he will insist on his command being obeyed. I recalled on one occasion when the family was earnestly discussing some local event Dick broke in as follows: "Papa, do you love mamma?" "Yes, of course I do," replied Mr. Zeigler, when the parrot blurted out, "Oh, you old fraud!"—New York Telegram.

The Nervous System.

The average weight of the brain of an adult male is 3 pounds and 8 ounces; of a female, 2 pounds and 4 ounces. The nerves are all connected with it directly or by the spinal marrow. These nerves, together with their branches and minute ramifications, probably exceed 10,000,000 in number, forming a "bodyguard" outnumbering by far the greatest army ever marshaled.—Popular Science Monthly.

A YELLOW DOG'S LUCK.

How a Vagabond Canine Succeeded in Getting a Square Meal.

Alfred de Musset, the famous French poet, was at one time conducting a canvass for election to the French academy. Members of this distinguished body are elected to it by those who are already members, and custom requires that an aspirant shall go about soliciting the votes of members. Musset had gone from one academicien to another and was on his way, on foot, to the house of the Count de Sainte-Anlaire, just outside of Paris, whose vote he hoped to gain. When he had almost arrived at the place, a large yellow dog began to follow him, but the dog sneaked behind, and as the poet was too much wrapped in his thoughts to look around he did not know that what was perhaps the most hideous dog in Paris was at his heels.

When the poet rang at M. de Sainte-Anlaire's door, the dog watched his chance, and as the door was opened slipped into the house. The servant supposed the dog was the newcomer's, and the poet supposed that it belonged to the house.

The host and his family were warm admirers of Musset and gave him a hearty welcome, though they gazed askance at the horrible yellow dog, which had curled its long legs down on a beautiful rug woven by the young lady of the family as a present to her grandmother.

"Extraordinary taste in pets," said the host to himself. "But to a great poet anything may be pardoned."

"Strange," said Musset to himself, "that an elegant family like this should keep such a hideous cur!"

When presently the poet had been invited to remain to dinner and the dog had promptly accompanied the family and their guest to the dining room, the master of the house was in grave doubt whether "anything could be pardoned to a poet." The animal rushed around the table, grabbing a piece of food, frightening the venerable grandmother almost to death, and acting like the miserable, hungry vagabond that he was.

The hostess, by way of delicate compliment to her guest, caused a large plate of food to be placed for the dog. The animal ate it in a minute's time and galloped around the table for more. He barked ferociously when one of the family declined to give him a piece of meat that he saw on a plate.

The dog's actions prevented any conversation or any enjoyment of the meal. The host looked at his guest and wondered. The guest looked at his host and wondered.

As the party was rising from the table the dog rushed against a servant and caused him to upset the greater portion of a set of rare and precious china, an heirloom in the family. The ladies gathered about, weeping, and began to pick up the priceless fragments.

Something in the hostess' face inspired the poet with a sudden and fearful thought. He rushed up to the count.

"Can it be possible, sir," he exclaimed, "that you supposed that this dog belonged to me?"

"Why, of course we supposed he was yours," said the count. "He came with you, did he not?"

"I never saw the hideous beast before!" said Musset. "I supposed all the time that the dog belonged to the house."

Then the animal, which had shown signs of uneasiness during this little conversation, sneaked toward the door. He was kicked out, yelping, but once well outside he shook himself and trotted off with a complacent air, which seemed to say:

"Well, that's all right—so long as you didn't turn me out before dinner!"

M. de Sainte-Anlaire voted for Musset. "But," he said, "I shouldn't have done so if that dog had really been his. Upon such little things do great things depend!"—Youth's Companion.

A Ship That Was Once a Flier.

It is a fact and one that may not be generally known that the United States government label placed on every box of imported cigars sold in the United States bears a fine steel plate engraving of the steamer City of Washington, a sister ship of the ill-fated City of Boston. In the year 1861 the City of Washington, then plying between New York and Liverpool, covered the passage to the westward in January in 14 days 15 hours; April, 12 days 21 hours; May, 13 days 21 hours; July, 13 days; August, 13 days; September, 13 days 20 hours, and December, 15 days 10 hours.

In December, 1862, she made the trip from Sandy Hook to Queenstown in what was then the remarkably fast time of 9 days 19 hours and 30 seconds. The City of London made several passages to the eastward in 1863 and 1864 in less than 11 days.—New York World.

GIRLHOOD IN ANCIENT GREECE.

Somewhat Restricted and Eminent Religious and Practical.

It would seem, judging from Miss Emily Penrose's lectures on early Athenian customs, that the women of ancient Greece, though they were fair to look upon and inspired the sculptured ideals that have ever since set the standard of womanly loveliness, really had a very prosaic and stupid time of it among all the old poets and philosophers. And that it is a great deal nicer to live now, even with a hoop in your skirt and a stiff derby on your head, than in those days of poetry and high art, when a woman had no clubs or leagues, no social science sisterhoods, no sewing co-teries with nice men drifting in at the tea hour, no literary guilds or sanitary classes, no street cleaning organizations or hygienic fraternities, no nervous prostration, no crinoline, no careers and no stockings.

Little Athenian maids were kept closely in the women's apartments until they were married and very rarely appeared in public. They were taught reading, writing and dancing as accomplishments, but their real education consisted in learning to spin, to weave, to embroider and the treatment of simple illnesses among their slaves. They must also learn a great deal of elaborate ritual, as women took a prominent part in the family worship. In the courtyard garden in the center of the women's apartments the girls played among the flowers with their pet animals, the live playthings taking the place of the mechanical toys and talking dolls and small flirtations of today. At 7 years old a girl might become an Arrephoros—a most envied post—and take part in the festivals of Athens.

At 10 she might engage in the exciting operation of grinding the corn to make votive cakes for Artemis; after that take part in certain high festivals and processions. Girls were frequently married at 15, the husband being chosen by the mother. Marriage was looked upon as both a civil and religious duty, and it was thought desirable that the husband should be much older than the wife, but there could be little suspense or romance in so prosaic a wooing, and after the wedding a wife never went out unattended, but spent her time in looking after the house, superintending the slaves and preventing waste.

She was responsible for everything in her house, where all the food was prepared and all the clothing worn and made up. Her chief recreations were religious festivals and weddings, her only outside duties taking part in funeral ceremonies. Possibly this is the source of the inherent love of women for the mysticism of religion, the joy of weddings and the tragedy in death, for some women seem to enjoy the harrowing details of death's ceremonies as well as the melody of wedding bells. Still those un- emancipated women inspired the poets to glad bursts of songs and gave to the artist exquisite models of womanly grace and to the historian examples of heroism and self sacrifice which justified by facts the noble conceptions of the great poets who sang the charms of woman's virtue and beauty.

And they didn't have to fret because men wouldn't let them vote or worry because their last season's skirts would barely make sleeves for this season's gowns. So perhaps they were happier after all, and happiness is, next to beauty, the chief virtue of womanhood.—New York Sun.

Some persons profess to be able to guess approximately from what part of Italy a woman comes by the length of her earrings. Italian earrings lengthen as one goes southward, and in the extreme south of Italy the earrings of the women reach almost to the shoulders.—Exchange.

Man.

In one of the ablest speeches ever delivered by the "Grand Old Man" he showed conclusively that education is not a luxury but a prime necessity to the laboring man of today.

He says: "You want amusement, but that does not exclude improvement. Do you suppose when you see men engaged in study that they dislike it? No. There is labor, no doubt, but it is so associated with interest all along that it is forgotten in the delight which it carries in its performance, and no people know that better than the working classes."

If you let your children follow out their own impulses, they will ask questions, and if you provide the means of answering you will encourage them and cause delight and pleasure in research. Soon they will have a natural habit of learning a little each day, and learning will then be recreation to them. So that all they require is an Encyclopedia in the home to secure the most practical education.

Gladstone says further that it is now possible to go straight into the very heart, the very sanctuary of the temple of learning and become acquainted with the best works that men have produced.

"It is not to be supposed that workingmen, on coming home from labor, are to study Euclid and works of that character—and it is not to be desired except in cases of very special gifts—but what is to be desired is that some effort should be made by men of all classes, and perhaps by none more than by men of the laboring class, to lift ourselves above the level of what is purely frivolous, and to endeavor to find our amusement in making ourselves acquainted with things of real interest and beauty."

All the recorded wisdom of great writers, past and present, is contained in the Encyclopedia Britannica, so that every shade of taste can find its liking, whether it be such subjects as Euclid or the commonest topics of everyday life—whether to learn how to measure the distance to Mars or how to tie a square knot in a rope.

What a blessing that in this one library the laboring man can command the wisdom of the world.

In his speech on the occasion of the distribution of the prizes at the Nonconformist School at Mill Hill he compared the advantages of today with the advantages of the ancients: "All they have achieved is before you. The great experiences are at your service and command.

"You have this enormous advantage under the peculiar condition of this age."

Again he says: "Believe me when I tell you that the thrift of time will repay you in after life with an usury of profit beyond your most sanguine dreams, and that the waste of it will make you dwindle alike in intellectual and moral nature beneath your darkest reckonings. Get knowledge all you can.

Extravagant luxury for one may be absolute necessity for another. It depends on what you aim at.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

(OFFICIAL.)

Council Chamber, Ann Arbor, May 15, 1893.

Regular session. The Council was called to order by Pres. Watts. Roll called. Full board present. The Journal of the last session was approved.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR.

To the Honorable Common Council, Gentlemen:—Your attention is called to the fact that there is no ordinance regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors in this city. It is desirable, in my opinion, that there should be such an ordinance for the following reasons: First, the entire cost of police supervision is paid by the city and therefore all fines collected should go into the city treasury. Second, when there is a violation of the law, the punishment should be prompt. This is impossible when the prosecutions are under the state law since the circuit court is in session only four times a year and there is an attendance of a jury in that court for about ten weeks during the whole time.

It is generally understood that there is an ordinance permitting saloons to keep open beyond the time fixed by the statute. This is an error however, in the opinion of the city attorney and in his opinion I concur. Of course no complaint has been made against any person for keeping his place open after nine o'clock. I have thought that simple justice required that what everyone supposed to be the law should be regarded as the law for the present.

Your attention is called especially to this matter and your immediate action requested, if you desire to take any action, as I shall assume in its absence that you desire to have the statute enforced and the saloons closed at nine o'clock.

B. M. THOMPSON, Mayor.

On motion of Ald. Prettyman, the communication was referred to the ordinance committee.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

A communication from Welch Post No. 137, G. A. R., extending a cordial invitation to the common council to participate in observing the coming Memorial Day, May 30th, was received and read.

Ald. Prettyman moved that the invitation be accepted and the chair appoint a special committee of three to make the necessary arrangements for observing said Memorial Day. Adopted.

Pres. Watts appointed the following committee: Alds. Prettyman, Manly and Herz.

To the Honorable Common Council: A meeting held by the Board of Health, May 15th, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted, for your consideration: Resolved, That inasmuch as the council has prohibited the keeping of pigs in the city limits and said action was done by the direction of the Board of Health, we would respectfully ask your honorable body to devise some measure to remove garbage and "swill" that accumulates at houses, which was taken away formerly by persons keeping swine in the city. We would suggest that the honorable council appoint some persons to remove said accumulations at least once a week during the hot weather, at a reasonable compensation, or empower the Board of Health to appoint them; said garbage to be removed to some place designated by the Board of Health.

Resolved, That the honorable common council, enforce the ordinance relative to slaughter houses, enacted Dec. 5th 1892. By order of the Board, W. J. MILLER, Clerk.

Ald. Manly moved that the communication be accepted, filed and ordered printed. Adopted.

A petition signed by John Karberg and eighteen other residents and property holders of the 3d ward, asking for the grading and filling in of N. First street, between Miller ave. and Kingsley street. Referred to committee on streets.

A petition signed by Rev. E. D. Kelly and eleven others, residents and property holders on North State st., city of Ann Arbor, asking that sidewalks be ordered built on the west side of North State st., from Kingsley street to Fuller street. Referred to the committee on sidewalks.

A petition signed by the business men and citizens on State street, asking that the council delegate one of the patrolmen of the city, as a night patrolman on State street. Referred to the committee on police.

A petition signed by Adam Schrater and twenty-seven others, residents and property owners of the 3d and 4th wards, asking the council not to grant the laying of a track on depot street crossing Fourth ave. Referred to committee on streets.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

FINANCE.

To the Honorable Common Council: Your committee on finance, to whom was referred the petition of property holders adjoining the Court House square, praying that the city cause to be done the sprinkling of the streets adjoining the Court House square, respectfully report that they have had the subject matter under consideration, and would recommend that the petition be denied, for it is a matter for the consideration of the board of supervisors and not the council.

We would recommend that the bid of the Ann Arbor Savings Bank for the custody of the City's money, be accepted, their bid being the highest. Respectfully submitted, WALTER L. TAYLOR, WILLIAM HERZ, A. H. FILLMORE, Finance Committee.

Ald. Taylor moved that the report be accepted and approved. Adopted as follows: Yeas—Alds. Schairer, Wagner, Herz, Martin, Snow, Fillmore, O'Mara, Ferguson, Taylor, Manly, Prettyman, Kitson, Pres. Watts—13. Nays—None.

Chairman Martin of the street committee, reported progress and asked for further time. Granted.

To the Honorable Common Council:

Your committee on Fire Department, to whom was referred the petition of Richard Kearns, praying that permission may be granted him to erect a frame dwelling-house on lot 3, block 3, North Range 4 East, City of Ann Arbor, said house when completed to be three rods from any building on adjoining property, respectfully report that they have had the matter under consideration, and your committee feel that the fire limits ought not to extend any further north than Catherine street, on Main street, as said building between Catherine and Kingsley streets being built up with residences, and your committee would therefore recommend that the prayer of said petitioner be granted. Respectfully submitted, J. O'MARA, W. G. SNOW, Committee.

Ald. Kitson asked time to make a minority report on the matter. Granted.

Chairman Prettyman, of the Bond committee, reported that several bonds had been presented to him this evening, and asked for further time to report on them. Granted.

REPORTS OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

SEWERS.

To the Honorable Common Council:

Your committee on sewers would respectfully report, that at a recent meeting of the committee and Board of Public Works, it was determined that better progress would be likely to be made if certain matters were first acted upon by the Common Council. The committee find that while the route of the main sewer has been fixed substantially, still some parts of said route pass over private property, and hence the route is dependent upon obtaining a right of way over such private property, and also over and under the right of way of the Michigan Central Railroad Company. Also, to enable any person to bid for the construction of such main sewer with intelligence, or the city to place its bids with justice to the taxpayer, it will be necessary after such route is fully determined upon, to procure a complete survey of the same, a profile to be made, also plans and specifications of the manner of the construction. Your committee, therefore, would recommend as follows: First, that the Council refer the matter of the route as already determined up to the Board of Public Works with directions to obtain a release of the right of way over all private property, including the railroad company.

Second, the Board be directed to cause the City Engineer, under the supervision of Prof. Charles E. Greene, to make a full and complete survey of the route, also a proper profile of the same. Also plans and specifications of the manner of construction, that such profile, plans and specifications be filed with the City Clerk and reported by the Board of Public Works to the Common Council for consideration and approval. Your committee discussed somewhat the subject of construction of lateral sewers, and the best method of payment of the same, but reached no definite conclusion, or at least, no conclusion which we are able to report at this present time. Your committee, therefore, ask leave to report on such question at another time. Respectfully submitted, CHRISTIAN MARTIN, CHAS. W. WAGNER, C. H. MANLY, A. A. FERGUSON, H. G. PRETTYMAN, W. G. SNOW, Committee.

Ald. Martin moved that the report be, and the same is hereby approved. Adopted.

Ald. Kitson made the following minority report: Your committee to whom was referred the petition of Richard Kearns, asking permission to erect a frame dwelling inside the fire limits, would respectfully report it has had the subject matter under consideration, and cannot see how it can grant the prayer of said petitioner without violating a city ordinance, and your committee having no desire to do that, recommend the petition be denied. Respectfully submitted, ARTHUR J. KITSON.

Ald. Ferguson moved that the report of Ald. Kitson be laid on the table. Adopted as follows: Yeas—Alds. Herz, Martin, O'Mara, Snow, Fillmore, Ferguson, President Watts—7. Nays—Alds. Schairer, Wagner, Taylor, Manly, Prettyman, Kitson—6.

Ald. Ferguson moved that the majority report made by the Fire committee be, and the same is hereby approved and confirmed.

Adopted as follows: Yeas—Alds. Schairer, Wagner, Herz, Martin, Snow, Fillmore, O'Mara, Ferguson, Taylor, Manly, Prettyman, Kitson, Pres. Watts—13. Nays—None.

ON CITY OFFICERS.

To the Honorable Common Council: Your special committee on building of city offices would respectfully report that they are thoroughly convinced of the necessity of obtaining a building put up with the view of furnishing suitable offices for City Clerk, City Assessor, City Engineer, etc. The Clerk's office contains many documents of great value to the city, and to speak of the large number of mortgages on file, which are in great danger of fire. No business man would keep such valuable papers in such an unprotected building. Hence the city's good fortune that it has hitherto escaped great loss by fire. Many papers of value have heretofore been lost owing to the frequent removals of the offices of the city, and the removal of the City Assessor's office to the present location. And the loss of these papers has frequently, in the past, entailed expense upon the city. The office for City Clerk must necessarily be provided with a fire-proof safe, with plenty of room for filing papers. Such an office cannot now be rented. The City Assessor having now become a regular salaried officer to take his office during the summer months, it should be provided with an office in which he may keep his plans, books and notes and keep track of the various transfers. The City Engineer should have an office in which to keep the files, the various grade plats, maps, etc., and do the work which will be required from him during the time the sewerage system is being constructed. The want of such an office has caused the loss of many grade plats through the city and has frequently occasioned the same work being done over several times. The Marshal's office should be provided with an office, so that in case the City Marshal is not at hand, the City Clerk may be able to inform inquiring parties where he may be found. It would be well to have the city taxes collected at the same place every year, as many citizens are at a loss each year to know where taxes may be paid, whether, as hitherto, at a printing office, drug store, a hardware or jewelry store. Owing to the fact that the city is now to be taxed for putting in a system of sewerage, it does not now seem to be expedient for the city to go to the outlay of erecting a city building.

The proposition of David Rinsey to erect a suitable building on Fourth Avenue, near Huron street, to be built as the city desires its offices arranged, to be rented to the city at a rental of ten per cent. (10 per cent) of the cost of the construction strikes your committee as the most feasible plan for the city at present. The building can be erected for three thousand ($3,000) or three thousand five hundred ($3,500) dollars. It will also furnish for the First Ward a polling place, something it has long needed. All of which is respectfully submitted. A. P. FERGUSON, WALTER L. TAYLOR, ARTHUR J. KITSON, D. F. SCHAIRER, Committee.

Ald. O'Mara moved that the report be, and the same is hereby approved, confirmed and filed. Adopted.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The Boston Symphony Orchestra.

This evening this celebrated musical organization will be heard in Ann Arbor. The superb work of this organization is nowhere more cordially recognized than here in Ann Arbor. The discriminating audiences gathered annually in University Hall to listen to the fine programs has inspired the orchestra to do its best, and the performances in Ann Arbor have always been memorable ones. The members of the orchestra always look forward with high anticipations to this visit, and they have spread abroad the reputation of our University as well as city to such an extent that it is openly stated by managers that nothing which is not strictly first-class can hope to succeed in Ann Arbor. The program to be presented is a memorable one in many respects. It opens with the Flying Dutchman overture by Richard Wagner. This is a wonderful piece of descriptive writing. In it are pictured the ocean in storm, the restless surging hither and thither of the phantom ship, the despair of the doomed captain and the final salvation which shall come through Senta's love, a love "true to death."

Next follows the celebrated scene and Aria from Der Freischütz, sung by Miss Felicia Kaschocksha, formerly one of the leading sopranos in the Metropolitan Opera, New York. The Eroica Symphony No. 3, Beethoven, is the next number. This is one of the greatest symphonic works of all time. It is written in a triumphal strain, and depicts the life of a great hero, or rather, the elements of a heroic life. One of the most celebrated movements in this symphony is the Funeral March. Handel's immortal "Largo," (which never falls on one), and two numbers from the "Damnation of Faust," Berlioz, make up a delightful group of shorter numbers. It will be a delight to listen to these numbers, which are all familiar to the most of the audience. Listz's "Les Preludes," symphonic tone pictures, as they may be called, complete this beautiful program. May we not look forward to a scene of enthusiasm and an evening of ideal enjoyment? It is a matter of regret that Mr. Nikisch's health has been so affected by the arduous duties of the past season, that he did not dare attempt the fatigues of the western trip. Mr. Franz Kneisel, who is a superb conductor, and who is, musically, entirely saturated with Mr. Nikisch's ideas, will conduct. The reports from the cities in which the orchestra has already played indicate that the members are playing with an enthusiasm and virtuosity which exceeds any previous records made by them. This month will be a memorable close to what has been a wonderfully attractive musical season, a season equalled in interest by very few cities in the country. Tickets for the evening (sold under the usual restrictions), $1. On sale at Ann Arbor Organ Co.'s and at Calkins'.

A Great Resemblance.

The striking resemblance between Judge Champlin's features and those of Judge Walker, depicted on the canvas recently presented to the law department, is a matter of general comment amongst the laws. Judge Champlin has been lecturing all this week, and an ample opportunity has been afforded to compare the features of the two, as the picture referred to hangs just above his head. It requires a careful scrutiny to note any difference, unless, perhaps, in the expressions. Judge Champlin's expression is slightly more bland than that of his silent "double." His eyes are set a little closer together and his whiskers are a trifle heavier at the sides. The picture might be consistently labeled "Judges Walker or Champlin."—U. of M. Daily.

BOW (RING)

It is easy to steal or ring watches from the pocket. The thief gets the watch in one hand, the chain in the other and gives a short, quick jerk—the ring slips off the watch stem, and away goes the watch, leaving the victim only the chain.

This idea stopped that little game:

NEVER A FAILURE.

The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota has never had a failure of crops. It produced 30,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals in 1890. Farms can be had on the crop plan, or long time cash payments. It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop. It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal & railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values. It is one of the most fertile and promising regions in America not yet fully occupied. In the rush to the far west, however, this rich valley has been over-looked. It has room for a million more people. Write to F. I. WHITNEY, St. Paul, Minn for particulars. Publications sent free.

There are people, still, who do not quite understand what is meant by "Ann Arbor Day."

The night spoiler of Ann Arbor flower gardens should be given a chance to pick bird-shot out of his legs.

M. B. Moon has become superintendent of a Chelsea Sunday school. The light he shed on the scriptures, the scholars call Moonshine.

Prof. Rolfe, of Ann Arbor, matched his imported setter in joint debate with a Ypsilanti motor. We give the professor this "pointer"—to be more careful of his next setter.

In the case of the professors who are quarreling over Dr. Obez's proposal to fuse the two medical schools of the University, we recommend aconite in grain doses. Administer every fifteen minutes till the pulse drops.

One Joe McGrath, of Ypsilanti, is said to collect a gas bill so politely that customers do not begrudge the money. He compliments all sorts of Misses and mamas and kisses all kinds of babies, but the company pays him well.

Prof. Scott, of the University, has been offered the chair of English in a Massachusetts college, and is considering the offer, but has some hesitation about undertaking the language in a state where it is so little spoken and so violently opposed.

It would have taken but a few moments for the Saline council to have secured a piece of hemlock slab from the sawmill and nailed it down with an old axe; but it didn't do it and Mrs. Baty fell through the hole in the sidewalk and now asks the corporation for damages.

Clarance Green, of the Normal nine, at Lansing, last week, was hit on the cheek by a ball, with such rapidity that he immediately knew nothing more, for an hour afterward. General surprise is expressed that a "Normal" should have been so affected by a blow in the face.

In trying to cross a freight train at Ann Arbor last week, a foot belonging to Chas. Hewitt, of Nint, was caught between two bumpers and crushed. However, he fell on the side he desired to reach, which was considerable satisfaction and he limped off with his hat on one ear.

It is said that the University students spend annually in Ann Arbor over $1,200,000. This statement, at the first blush, looks like a stupendous aberration of the moral fancy, but the sum is really only about $400 per student, and does not include what is spent at poker.

Four hundred dollars will pay off the debt of the Petersburg Fair association, and the Sun thinks that amount of stock should be immediately taken. Of course it should. There can just as well be a fair at Petersburg this fall and a ballonist killed, as not. By all means let the citizens awake.

Closely following the cyclonade or hurriclyone—the newspapers have not yet decided which it was—comes the news from Ypsilanti that the society young men there have taken to wearing their undershirts outside. The Ypsilantian is authority for this. What strange effects are sometimes produced by fright.

Prof. Vaughan, of the University, has drafted a bill to regulate medical expert testimony. The professor will have time to discover several new kinds of tyrotoxicon before his bill becomes a statute. The time for introduction of bills before the present matchless aggregation of oddities, expired long ago.

Unless an immediate and combined effort is put forth to prevent, Ann Arbor will have a raging poet in her midst. He is E. F. Johnstone, of the senior law class. He has already issued a volume and some extracts appear in the papers. The attention of the board of health is invited to this new danger.

Mrs. William White, of Ypsilanti, said to her husband that she could remove with gasoline the paint on his pantaloons, and she did remove some of it before the explosion, which interrupted further experiment. The report that White was blown to fragments is not true, but Mrs. White was considerably burned.

Mr. Marsh, of Waterloo, Jackson county, is aged 79 years, is the father of twenty-one children, has three wives lying in a row in Waterloo cemetery, and three others that he wishes were there. Judge Peck granted him a divorce from wife No. 6, on the ground of desertion for he pitied the old man. What a matrimonial Waterloo was there!

And the Normal baseball team spake unto one another, saying: "Let us go up unto Albion and smite the Dickieites hip and thigh; and behold; they shall become our meat." But when they were come, the Dickieites fell upon them and pounded them around the diamond 10 to 7, and they returned home on a shutter. Verily "all flesh is grass."

Supervisor Jim Gilbert of Chelsea, has received from State Grease Examiner McMillan, an official parchment in which it is set forth that the said McMillan "having great confidence" in Gilbert's ability to detect the difference between a caddy of kerosene and a barrel of black strap, does appoint him a deputy gauger, for the 10th district. It takes a good, strong man to draw the salary in the 10th.

The Lake house at Grass Lake will soon have another story erected on top of it, making it a three-story building. The landlord's name is Teufel. He looks down upon Lord, who runs a dry goods house in the same block—Ann Arbor Argus.

When the last story is finished, it will be an auspicious time to repeat an old trick, by Teufel taking Lord to the top of the building and showing him "all the kingdoms of the earth and the glory of them."

State Treasurer Hambitzer the other night stopped at an Ann Arbor hotel. As he had no baggage and the clerk didn't know him, he was compelled to cash up the price of a night's lodging, before the clerk would consent to house him. One of the sublimest things about our republic is the democracy of its citizens. Even state treasurers—such of them as are not in the penitentiary or Canada, for default—may deceive the eye and be mistaken for tramps.

A series of lectures, designed to show what light modern discoveries have thrown upon the Bible stories of Adam and Eve, Jonah and the whale, etc., will begin next Sunday evening in the M. E. church. The first lecture will discuss the "Creation."—Ann Arbor Argus.

It is to be hoped that before the lectures close, some light will be shed on the question as to whether Jonah did or did not feel "down in the mouth" when gobbled by the whale.

At a recent meeting of the University Press Club, Miss Gertrude Buck, in a paper on "Legitimate Sensationalism," held it to be the business of the newspaper to communicate all truths, and to do so dynamically. "Dynamically" would be better etymology. Yes, that is the way newspapers should be run. They ought to tell the truth about people, but in mercy they don't do it. We are acquainted with a score or more of whitened sepulchers whose reputations and standing in good society depend wholly on the forbearance of the newspapers from telling what they know about them. Stripped of their disguise they would be shunned as more loathsome and contemptible than a Damascus leper. Yet these people carry their heads loftily, look down on the humble newspaper man and act as though they thought it his duty—aye, his unpaid, thankless duty—to gloze over their crimes and bulge out their consumptive virtues. Some day—and we feel that day drawing nigh—forbearance with us will have run its course, and, smarting under unusual provocation, we shall cut loose on this masquerade of iniquity, strip off the habiliments of hypocrisy, and with the whip of truth "lash the rascals naked through the world," "and don't you forget it!"

Beware of Swindlers. We have exposed, during the last year, many swindlers who advertise, under the name of medicine, vile compounds which only increase human suffering. To all who need a pure medicine and blood purifier, we can honestly recommend Sulphur Bitters.—Editor Sun.

Strong Witnesses. Among the thousands of testimonials of cures by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, is that of Nathan Allison, a well-known citizen of Glen Rock, Pa., who for years had shortness of breath, sleeplessness, pain in left side, shoulders, smothering spells, etc.; one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and one box of Nerve and Liver Pills cured him. Peter Jaquet, Salem, N. J., is another witness, who for twenty years suffered incurably by physicians, death stared him in the face, could not lie down for fear of smothering to death. Immediately after using the New Cure he felt better and could lie down and sleep all night, and is now a well man. The New Cure is sold, also Free Book, by Eberbach & Son's.

In Paint the best is the cheapest. Strictly Pure

White Lead is best; properly applied it will not scale, chip, chalk, or rub off; it firmly adheres to the wood and forms a permanent base for repainting. Paints which peel or scale have to be removed by scraping or burning before satisfactory repainting can be done. When buying it is important to obtain properly made. Time has proven that white lead made by the "Old Dutch" process of slow corrosion possesses qualities that cannot be obtained by any other method of manufacture. This process consumes four to six months time, and produces the brands that have given White Lead its character as the standard paint.

"Armstrong & McKelvy" "Beymer-Bauman" "Eckstein" "Fahnestock" "Anchor" "Kentucky" "Morley" "Southern" "Shipman" "Red Seal" "Collier" "Davis-Chambers" are standard brands of strictly pure Lead made by the "Old Dutch" process. You get the best in buying them. You can produce any desired color by tinting these brands of white lead with National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors.

For sale by the most reliable dealers in Paints everywhere. If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card to do so.

Hood's Cures After all Others Fail Running Sore on the Face.  Vinnie Davis Constantine, Mich. "I cannot tell in this letter all that Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for us, but can say this much: Our son Vinnie had a running sore on his face, beginning on one side and moving over his chin to the other side. We tried every thing to cure it, but no help came, and for four long years it continued, unsightly and very troublesome. Several persons urged us to give him Hood's Sarsaparilla, and we found that he improved while taking the first bottle. We kept on giving it to him until he had taken four bottles. The sore has entirely healed up, nothing remaining but the scar, which he will carry all his life. He is sound, strong and healthy, and we give all the praise to Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mr. and Mrs. G. W. DAVIS, Constantine, Mich. Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient, yet easy in action. Sold by all druggists. 25c.

EVERYBODY knows that wall paper, with its vegetable paste and its colorings in animal glue, is unsanitary, and that to apply repeated layers of such is a very "nasty practice," as well as dangerous. Kalsomine is temporary, rots off and scales; paint stops "wall respiration" needed to purify walls. Send us for a paper from Michigan State Board of Health report on this subject, recommending Church's Alabastine and plastic only for walls of dwellings. Alabastine forms pure, permanent and porous coatings, and does not require to be taken off or renew from time to time; is a dry powder, ready for use by adding water (the latest make is used in COLD water and is never sold in bulk); can be easily brushed on by any one; made in white and twelve fashionable tints, and in three shades, from which decorators make the balance of forty shades shown on their card. N. B.—It is not claimed that all wall paper in papered walls die much before their time, but they will enjoy better health with wall paper (P.P.P.P.) Pure, Permanent, Porous and Plastic. For Sale by Paint Dealers everywhere.  "It won't rub off." Send for Alabastine Rock for Souvenir, Free; also Tint Card. Mention this paper. ALABASTINE CO., GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.
