A HUNDRED WOMEN VOTED ON MONDAY.

A Divorce Wanted Badly.—Reports of the Condition of the Schools.—Wedding Bells are Ringing, Etc.

He Wants a Divorce.

Ernest W. Bordine, of Augusta, has filed a bill for a divorce from his wife, Mary Bordine, nee Smith. The couple is a very young one, Bordine now suing for the divorce by his next friend, although he gave his age on the marriage license nearly two years ago as 21 and that of his bride 18. They were married by Justice Pond, December 29, 1891. The divorce is asked for on the ground of extreme cruelty, Bordine setting forth in his bill that a year after their marriage his wife began to exhibit extreme hatred of his mother, who lived with them, exhibited by such acts as tearing the thumbs off kid gloves belonging to her. He also charges that in June of this year she administered tartar emetic to his mother, his sister, brother-in-law and himself, in their food, which made them sick so that a physician had to be called in.

Wedding Bells.

Guy B. Thompson and Miss Alice Beckwith, both of this city, were married Wednesday morning at the residence of the brides mother on East University avenue, by the Rev. M. M. Goodwin, of Ypsilanti. The bride is a popular young lady in society circles and the groom is a rising young lawyer of the firm of Thompson, Harriman & Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left on the North Shore Limited for the west. They will be at home at 48 Ann street, after November first.

Albert E. Gebhardt, of Portland Oregon, was married to Miss Olga Amalie Lentz, at the residence of the bride's father, A. Lentz, on Washington street, Wednesday noon, Rev. Max Hein officiating. The bride is well known and popular and the groom who has also many friends in this city being a graduate of the law department in 1891, is a practicing attorney. Mr. and Mrs. Gebhardt left on the afternoon train for their new home, stopping for some time in Chicago on the way.

The Annual School Election.

The annual school election in the city of Ann Arbor, was held last Monday and considerable interest was manifested owing to the efforts of the woman's suffragists to make a showing. Mrs. W. S. Perry was named by the woman's suffragists to oppose J. T. Jacobs, with out her knowledge and when the fact that her name was being used, was made known to her, for obvious reasons, she withdrew from the contest. The name of Mrs. Olivia B. Hall was then written by the ladies upon their tickets. There were 102 women's votes cast out of a total vote of 416 and the election resulted in the election of the three members of the old board as follows: L. Gruner 407; Dr. W. B. Smith, 399; Jos. T. Jacobs, 344; Mrs. W. S. Perry, 40; Mrs. Olivia B. Hall, 26; Ottmar Eberbach, 2; Mrs. Israel Hall, 1.

At the annual meeting held after the election there were only three citizens present besides the school board, clerks of election and reporters. The meeting unanimously voted a tax of $29,250 for school purposes and $100 for the school library.

Moran's Answer to the Register Publishing Company.

In the issue of the Ann Arbor Register this week, S. A. Moran has something to say concerning the suit brought against him by the Register Publishing Company. He says it is really the suit of two members of the board against the third member and avers that the charges took seven months to concoct. He says his answer is full and complete and makes this strong charge: It is, so far as we are able to ascertain, firmly believed, by everybody who is familiar with all the facts in the case and who is not directly interested in the scheme of the two complainants, that the charges were gotten up for the specific purpose of diverting the attention of the public from the actions of the aforesaid directors in their efforts to take advantage of the present stringency of the times, when a business like this would not, upon a forced sale, bring ten cents on the dollar, and of a technicality of the law which gave them the power, to gain possession, at their own figure, of a business worth from $25,000 to $30,000, and in which neither of the complainants now has, or ever has had, an interest of more than a few hundred dollars. It appears as if, in order to make sure after having made an assignment, so as to force the business to a sale during these hard times, that only certain persons would bid upon it, the property was, at the same time it was assigned, burdened with an expensive lawsuit, which would naturally repel prospective purchasers.

Congressman Gorman's Work for His Constituents.

While Hillsdale county is complaining that only three out of its 33 postmasters are democrats, Congressman Gorman has been rapidly securing changes in the postoffices in this district. That he is successful in other directions is indicated by the following dispatch to the Detroit Evening News:

Congressman Gorman is developing a great pull with the administration. In addition to two minor places which he secured for constituents earlier in the special session, he has just been given the naming of three more officeholders, one of them of considerable importance. R. B. French, of Blissfield, began duty today as watchman in the agricultural department. On Monday Charles F. Driggs, of Palmyra, will be assigned to a place in the postoffice department. Driggs is secretary of the democratic committee of Lenawee county, and his aim in becoming an officeholder is to complete his law studies, for which Washington presents exceptional facilities. The hours of lectures at the Columbia Law school are arranged with special reference to the convenience of departmental clerks, and there are many good lawyers in the country who could not have secured their professional training except through holding a government job.

The third place Gorman secures is one of the three commissioners to locate town sites in the Cherokee strip. It pays only $1,500, and the work will probably last but a few weeks. The office is a responsible one, besides presenting to the incumbent many opportunities in a legitimate direction. Chas. H. Burroughs, of Clinton, Lenawee county, gets the place. He is the manufacturer of a popular brand of chewing gum, which he can now introduce to the dark-complexioned girls of the Indian territory.

It is further said that Mr. Gorman has secured for Michigan another and one of the most important offices she has yet received. It will be announced in a few days.

The Condition of Our Schools.

Supt. Perry made a very interesting report of the public schools this year from which the following extract is taken:

The first item of such a report naturally concerns the facts of attendance; and as helping to interpret some of these facts two census items of the city are here introduced.

Population of the school district, estimated, 10,000. School population between 5 and 20 years, 3,036.

STATISTICS OF THE SCHOOLS.

Total cost of schools per capita	30.36	19.00	14.55	20.17

The above table shows a total increase of 151 in enrollment over that of the preceding year. Of this increase 112 were in the primary grades, 7 in the grammar grades, and 32 in the High School. In the first grade 217 had not previously been in any school, and of these 115 were only five years of age.

The increase in the Primary Department for the past two years, amounting to 231, has made unusual demands upon our school accommodations. Except one room in the 5th ward, not available, every schoolroom in the city, besides one rented room, has been occupied, while some of them have been too much crowded all the year. By employing cadet assistants in such rooms the classes have been carried through with reasonable success.

It is evident that the addition to the first ward building was decided upon none too soon.

It is an honor for any pupil (as it is also for his teacher) to maintain an unbroken attendance for a whole year; hence we print annually the names of such pupils as have been neither absent nor tardy during the preceding year. That list is as follows:

HIGH SCHOOL.

Lewis Allmendinger, Christian Allmendinger, Perry Biggs, Barbara Burt, Paul Cheever, Henry Gelston, Cornelia Koch, Louise Law, William L. The increase of enrollment in the Primary departments for the past three years has been at the rate of 100 and more within the past year. In consequence of this, at the last annual meeting the District authorized the Board of Trustees to issue bonds to the amount of $6,000 for the erection of such building or buildings as might be deemed necessary for the accommodation of the schools.

The proper location for a new building was not an easy matter to determine, as it was necessary to relieve Wards 1, 2 and 4 of a pressure of large numbers of pupils. It was thought desirable to find a location somewhere in the district bounded by Main, Huron, Fifth and Liberty streets. But when the conditions of play-ground and proper surroundings were considered, this was found to be impossible. It was then decided that an addition to the first or second ward building was the best thing to be done. The first was selected because its location would relieve the fourth ward much better than if placed in the second. An addition to the second ward would seem necessary in the near future. The addition now being built in the first ward will add two first class rooms to the working capacity of the schools. The addition is made larger than the one on the north side in order to furnish more cloak room—a convenience greatly needed, as the building hereafter will have eight school rooms. The new rooms are to be finished in first class style and will be heated by Smead furnaces. The satisfactory work done by these furnaces so far as they have been used in this building, seems to justify the Board in continuing this method of heating and ventilation.

The Board has authorized the expenditure of several hundred dollars for fitting up chemical and botanical laboratories. We have endeavored to avoid all extravagance in the use of funds for the district. But we assume that the sentiment of the community is strongly in favor of keeping the facilities of the High School equal to the best that are found in other high schools. The Board have taken the first step toward better ventilation of the old High School Building by directing the Committee on Buildings to investigate and report to the Board on the best method that can be applied to this building. Some years ago the Board were authorized by vote of the District to raise upon bonds $1,000 for that purpose. The Board have held the bond for some eight years but have not used it. We trust that by careful investigation the Board will now find the best scheme and so be able to properly discharge its responsibility in this matter.

It may be proper to say that the Board, in the appointment of teachers, endeavors to act with the greatest caution, after the most intelligent investigation in each case. The only principle that is permitted to rule their decisions is the quality of the applicant, and the good of the schools. Also the same care is applied to candidates for positions as cadets. The purpose is to appoint no one to cadetship who does not seem likely to make a good teacher. We believe our schools are in excellent condition, that they are in the hands of skillful and upright teachers, and that they are working for the best interest of the patrons and the whole community.

For a more detailed statement relating to the management of the schools we refer you to the report of Supt. Perry, which has been printed for distribution. September 4th, 1893.

COUNTY AND VICINITY.

A creamery is being talked up at Whittaker.

Mrs. John Eschelbach, of Freedom, died suddenly August 31.

There are 272 children of school age in the Saline union district.

Mrs. Silas Loomis, of Sylvan Center, died August 30, aged nearly 90 years.

The Chelsea Lutheran church celebrates its twenty-fifth anniversary next Sunday.

Miss Maud Flagler is teaching the fall term of school on Collins' plains, Lyndon.

The assessed valuation of the property in the Saline union school district is $511,450.

A. J. Sangree died in Pittsfield, August 21, the result of a fall sustained some days before.

Mrs. Henry Neiderschmidt died in Chicago, August 23, of typhoid fever. Her maiden name was Miss Rena Farrell, and she formerly lived at Chelsea.

John Brady died at the Early hotel, Wednesday, aged about sixty years. About three weeks ago he drank, through mistake, some poisonous mixture, which resulted in his death.—Milan Leader.

Several hen roosts have recently been robbed in Grass Lake and the News says the thief is well known having been engaged in the business for years, possibly since he got his first taste of chicken by receiving one on subscription.

Mrs. Marianne Braun died at her home near Saline last Thursday, aged 53 years. She was born in Germany, coming to this country in 1869. The following year she was married to Mr. Braun. She leaves a husband, three sons and two daughters.

Erastus S. Cooper of Sylvan was in town on business last Tuesday. He says the bean crop will only average from six to eight bushels per acre. Occasionally a field is found which will yield ten bushels per acre, but such crops are rare.—Grass Lake News.

Frederick Kotts, an aged German who lives near Iron Creek, was walking on the railroad track north of three o'clock train struck him or he fell and was bruised quite badly. The train was stopped and he was picked up and brought to town.—Clinton Local.

School commenced Monday in Chelsea with the following teachers: Mr. E. E. Webster, superintendent; Miss Angeline Sherwood, preceptress; Miss Nettie Storms, Miss Elizabeth Dewey, Miss Cora Bowen, Miss Dora Harrington, Miss Mara L. Wheeler, Miss Maty Van Tyne, and Miss Sarah Van Tyne.

Tuesday morning Josie, the eleven-year-old daughter of George Semark, was playing with a rope, at either end of which was tied a pet sheep. She was leading them to pasture and in some way her foot became entangled in the rope and she was thrown down, breaking her hip. Dr. Tuttle was called and reduced the fracture, and the patient is doing nicely.—Clinton Local.

C. G. Slimmer, who at heart and by inclination is a Grass Lake man, but who lets on that he thinks Delhi is a veritable Sunday shaking earth, was in town Tuesday shaking hands with everybody. Slimmer has piles of friends here, and whenever his fairy form looms up on our streets, he is sure of a cordial greeting with an urgent request to come oftener and stay longer.—Grass Lake News.

Detroit is now claiming over 300,000 population, and this stimulates Chelsea to rise up and say she has 1,573 counting the last one born.—[Adrian Times. A Chelsea man at our elbow says the above figures do his town great injustice. Counting the two suburbs of Dexter and Jerusalem Mills, Chelsea places her population in round numbers at 7000.—[Grass Lake News. And counting in its Grass Lake suburb it may reach 7,500.

Luke Moulton, well known in this part of the country as a quarrelsome man when whiskey is in and his senses on a vacation, was in town last Saturday with his paint pail and brushes and painted a portion of the town at least a bright crimson shade. In the course of events, evolving from his imbibing strong drink, he batted a stranger in the mouth, causing a copious flow of blood; whereupon the stranger quelled his assailant's attack by drawing a revolver on him. The stranger, Mr. Bartholomew, of Akron, Ohio, then accompanied the marshal to the office of Justice James Doyle, where a warrant was issued for the arrest of Moulton. Moulton in the meantime got wind of what was going to happen and went home. That, however, only deferred matters. Monday morning he was arrested and brought before Justice Doyle, where he pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs.—Milan Leader. The case has been appealed to the circuit court.

It is now Capt. M. T. Woodruff. The editor of the Sentinel will appear in war toggery on state occasions.

A lodge of Ladies of the Macca-bees was organized in Saline, August 30, with eighteen charter members. The first officers are: Past Lady Com., Mrs. Hebron Rogers; Com., Mrs. William Derindinger; Lieut. Com., Mrs. Eugene Allen; Sergeant, Mrs. O. Lamkin; Record Keeper, Mrs. F. E. Jones; Finance Keeper, Mrs. Rob Cullen; Master at Arms, Eva Schaffer; Chaplain, Mrs. John Gates; Sentinel, Mrs. W. Rogers; Picket, Mrs. W. Mead.

John Lawson sold a bill of goods Tuesday night that he will probably never get any pay for. The party did not want to make any trouble so put them up himself while Mr. L. was out, and not having a key pushed up a back window and went in that way. The bill consisted of about 40 to 50 lbs. of pork, 15 or 20 doz. of eggs, syrus and other groceries, and perhaps other things that would not be missed out of a large stock, also a dollar or so in small change. Mr. Lawson hasn't them charged to any one as they were careful not to leave their name.—Whittaker correspondent, Milan Leader.

Our Public Schools

Are the main stay of our republic. In them are being cultivated the minds which are to be our future lawmakers and leaders in every walk in life. How essential it is that these minds should be united to strong, healthy bodies. So many children suffer from impurities and poisons in the blood that it is a wonder that they ever grow up to be men and women. Many parents cannot find words strong enough to express their gratitude to Hood's Sarsaparilla for its good effect upon their children. Scrofula, salt rheum and other diseases of the blood are effectually and permanently cured by this excellent medicine, and the whole being is given strength to resist attacks of disease.

The cat's "whiskers," the long hairs on the side of the cat's face, are organs of touch. They are connected with the nerves of the lip, and their slightest contact with any object is distinctly felt by the animal.

La Grippe.

During the prevalence of the Grippe the past seasons it was a noticeable fact that those who depended upon Dr. King's New Discovery not only had a speedy recovery, but escaped all of the troublesome after effects of the malady. This remedy seems to have a peculiar power in effecting rapid cures not only in cases of La Grippe, but in all Diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs, and has cured cases of Asthma and Hay Fever of long standing. Try it and be convinced. It won't disappoint. Free Trial bottles at Eberbach Drug & Chemical Co., Ann Arbor; and Geo. J. Haussler, Manchester.

In all that goes to strengthen and build up the system weakened by disease and pain, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the superior medicine. It neutralizes the poisons left in the system after diphtheria and scarlet fever, and restores the debilitated patient to perfect health and vigor.

An oak tree thirty inches in diameter was recently cut down in Hares valley, Huntingdon county, Pennsylvania. S. B. Green blocked the tree and with the aid of a glass counted its yearly growths and found that it was 436 years old. This tree was alive during the life of Columbus and thirty-five years before he discovered America.

Formula For Letter Writing.

After a breezy disquisition on "How a Woman Writes a Letter" and a London journal sums up its hints and suggestions in the following:

"Recipe: Take a sheet of paper and pen and ink. Be sure you know to whom you are going to write the letter, as some people are a little vague in this matter. Let the address and date be at the top, for this shows a good cook—I mean scribe—who has her mind as well as her materials at hand. Begin with some usual formula of address. Add in 2 parts of family news, 2 parts of answers, 2 parts of genuine and kind inquiries; mix with a light hand. Add gradually 6 parts of odds and ends, well beaten up, such as weather, dress—this is naturally a large and valuable item—personal remarks and so on, not forgetting the inevitable gossip, which must be suggested and taken in lightly at the last. Finish up and take care to add a P. S. after the signature, for like a tail to a kite this balances the whole concern. It is in the P. S. that woman's individuality is charmingly shown to the greatest advantage.

"The size of the letter, the length of each part and the choice of words must be left to the writer's feelings, but care must be taken to put in all the 12 ingredients. Then place it in an envelope, and serve hot—that is, send it off to the right address by the next post. As a million letters a year are posted in London with no address, this final warning does not seem to be amiss."

Amusement For a Child.

My mother used to seat me before a table in a rather high chair, give me a long, shallow tin pan, a little sieve or gravy strainer and about two pounds of common table salt in another tin dish.

I then proceeded to have a miniature snowstorm by sifting the salt upon the long tin, in some places piling it high in drifts. I was fortunate in having among my toys a "farmyard," consisting of a little house, some wooden trees and all kinds of animals. These I distributed about in my field of snow, making paths through the drifts and building pens for the animals.

A handful of wooden toothpicks will suffice to make fences, wood piles, etc., and a tiny mirror or bit of looking glass serves as a beautiful ice pond in the midst of the fields.

The "farmyard" of course is not necessary. Green leaves will serve for trees, and a log cabin can be made of little bits of wood.—Cor. New York Recorder.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

NEVER A FAILURE.

The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota has never had a failure of crops. It produced 30,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals in 1890. Farms can be had on the crop plan, or long time cash payments. It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop. It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal & railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values. It is one of the most fertile and promising regions in America not yet fully occupied. In the rush to the far west, however, this rich valley has been overlooked. It has room for a million more people. Write to F. I. WHITNEY, St. Paul, Minn for particulars. Publications sent free.

As good as new—that's the condition of liver, stomach and bowels, when Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets have done their work. It's a work that isn't finished when you've stopped taking them, either. It's lasting. They cure, as well as relieve. And it's all done so mildly and gently. There's none of the violence that went with the old-time pill. One tiny, sugar-coated Pellet's a gentle laxative—three to four act as a cathartic. Sick Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks and derangements of the stomach and bowels, are prevented, relieved and cured. As a Liver Pill, they're unequalled. They're purely vegetable, perfectly harmless—the smallest, cheapest, and easiest to take. They're the cheapest pill you can buy, because they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You only pay for the good you get. Can't you see the peculiar plan all Dr. Pierce's medicines are sold on.

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that visited in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable 'zombi' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 157. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recommendation, and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as in mine.—James Kane, La Rue, O.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

A High Priced Hotel.

One of the elevator boys in the Waldorf hotel is credited with a smart saying. An old New Yorker was showing a party of friends from out of town through the hotel a day or two ago. One of the strangers was deeply impressed with the elegance and costliness of the decorations and furniture, and he exclaimed, "Well, well, this must be a very high priced hotel." The aforesaid elevator boy, who overheard the remark, retorted: "I should say it was. If you only change your mind here, they charge you $10."—New York Times.

Homes for World's Fair Visitors.

In view of the crowded condition of Chicago and its hotels during the World's Fair period, Poole Bros. have done a public service in issuing a very carefully prepared list of the homes in Chicago that are thrown open to the public on this occasion. The list is complete and gives the name, location, and number of rooms, etc., so that correspondence may be had and arrangements made before the visitor comes to Chicago. This list is accompanied by splendid sectional maps of the city on a large scale, by which the location of every house can be accurately found. Copies can be obtained at the Michigan Central ticket office at the publisher's price, 50 cents—less really than the value of the maps themselves.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1893.

The little differences which seem to have arisen between the council and the board of public works over the matter of sewerage construction will undoubtedly be quickly straightened out. They arise from a misapprehension of the relative powers and duties of the two bodies. It is not true that the board of public works has ignored the council in regard to the sewer, or in the purchase of sewer pipe, as one or two of the aldermen intimated Monday. The council itself ordered the board to purchase the pipe, after the bids, specimens and a full report of the tests had been submitted to the council. That the sewer committee of the council has not also reported is not the fault of the board of public works. If the council had desired such a report, it should have called for it. The sewer committee of the council has no business to take charge of the construction of the sewer. Yet it is an important committee within its sphere. For the council has the right to determine just where the sewer shall go, how much money shall be spent in its construction, and all bids, etc., after being opened by the board of public works, are referred to the council for their acceptance or rejection. The line of demarcation between the council and the board is plain. The council is no longer an executive board. It is legislative in its functions. The board, on the other hand, is an executive body. The council determines what shall be done. The board recommends what shall be done, and after the matter is determined executes the wishes of the body. A body of thirteen men is too large to take charge of the work of construction. A body of three men can from its very smallness of numbers perform more and better executive work. Both bodies are working for the same end. We want sewers. We want the work to begin at once, to give employment to labor, and harmony must be infused into the city government.

Not Seriously Ill.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Representative Samuel Stephenson is not seriously ill. He has been confined to his room for several days for prudential reasons on account of changeable weather. He is greatly annoyed by accounts of his alleged dangerous illness.

No New Developments.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 7.—There is no new development in the Louisville and Nashville shopmen's strike. No one has applied for work at the shops and no efforts have been made to replace the strikers.

Cholera Record.

ROME, Sept. 7.—Five deaths and 10 new cases of cholera were reported in Palermo Wednesday; in Casino, one death and seven new cases; in Naples, four deaths and nine new cases.

A Terrible Waste.

"Speaking of broken engagements," remarked a young girl the other day, "makes me think of a funny story. A friend of mine was expecting to be married and had everything ready but her gowns. All the table and bed linen was hemmed and marked and put away in lavender, while dozens of trays, cloths, dories and bureau scarfs were made. She had even prepared a large supply of house cloths for windows, silver, etc., and had put away six rolls of linen bandages, in case any one should cut a finger or sprain an arm.

"Well, the engagement was broken, and what do you think she did with all those things upon which she had lavished so much loving care? She made a big bonfire

Sustains the Receiver.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 7.—A special from Bloomfield, Ind., says: The attorneys in the Evansville and Terre Haute receivership case have been before Judge Briggs discussing the discontinuance of the receivership. Judge Briggs, however, sustains the receiver and has ordered all the property and money of the road turned over to him.

Three Seriously Injured.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 5.—Two of those injured in Sunday's streetcar accident are expected to die in a few hours. Nearly all of those injured will carry marks of their experience through life. A similar accident occurred on Broadway Monday. William Bolan, Gus Bernard and Lewis Bernard were seriously injured.

Defaulting Treasurer Arrested.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 7.—J. A. Jenkins, the defaulting treasurer of Clark county, Ind., was arrested here and taken across the river to Jeffersonville. Jenkins' shortage amounts to $2,000.

OLD VETERANS MEET.

GRAND ARMY ENCAMPMENT AT INDIANAPOLIS.

In the Neighborhood of Thirty Thousand Visitors Arrive the First Day—Ex-President Benjamin Harrison Dedicates Camp Walder in Military Park.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 5.—Thanks to Queen's weather and successful carrying out of the arrangements by the local committee the Twenty-ninth annual encampment of the Grand Army opened most auspiciously. So far as the number of visitors from outside points is concerned, the success of the encampment is already assured. All day long the railroads poured a stream of people into the Hoosier capital. No less than 50 trains with an average of 10 cars to each are reported by the officials as having arrived at the Union depot for the 12 hours ending at 7 o'clock Monday night and as each car has its full quota of passengers, to say nothing of those in which even standing room was at a premium, somewhere in the neighborhood of 30,000 must have been turned loose into the highways and byways of Indianapolis during the day.

Not all of these, however, were veterans. In fact, the boys in blue are almost lost in the throngs. The hardy, hoop-pole yeomanry, with their wives and children and other relatives near and remote, form a large proportion of the arrivals. It is a real live national Grand Army encampment, within easy reaching distance, and to keep away from it would be worse than treason. And so they are here in their tens of thousands with the prospect that their numbers will be doubled before another sunset. As to the veterans, the arrivals outside of the state posts are not by any means up to expectations. A good many states send less than half the total that had been scheduled a month ago as certain to be here, while a few are likely to make even a poorer showing. In the encampment proper fully 100 delegates, if not more, will fail to answer to the rollcall.

Almost on the very spot in Military park where, 31 years ago, the citizens presented to Colonel Harrison, and his newly organized Seventeenth regiment of volunteers, the standards of Indiana and the United States to carry before them to the war, the ex-president Monday afternoon dedicated "Camp Walder," the name bestowed upon some 800 tents in which reunions of regiments and old soldier societies will be in full blast for the remainder of the week.

Ten thousand people packed Monument place and the adjacent blocks to witness the inaugural electrical illumination of the soldiers monument.

Sixty-five hundred incandescent lights bordering the base and tower of the shaft circling the approaches and arranged in flag and other devices on the four sides combined to produce an effect that almost eclipsed the gorgeous illumination of the administration building at the world's fair.

BOYS IN BLUE PARADE.

Years Ago They Marched to the Same Stirring Strains.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 6.—The stronghold of Hoosierdom has capitulated to the boys that wore the blue. With flying flags and keeping step to the same strains that led them through valleys and over mountains three decades ago, the veterans marched like a victorious army up and down the principal streets Tuesday amid the plaudits of a multitude of enthusiastic spectators.

The sun had scarcely risen when the people began to gather along the thoroughfares of the line of march to see the parade—the biggest one Indianapolis has ever seen. The police had been out before them and had stretched wire cables along the streets to keep the crowds away from the marchers. Against almost every available building and in every dooryard, stands of seats had been erected.

In front of the courthouse was a great amphitheater 400 feet long with seats in it for 2,000 people. In the center extending out into the street like a bow window, was a gorgeously decorated reviewing stand from which the commander-in-chief and his staff saw and were cheered by the marching thousands. As the hour for the parade approached the crowd became greater and thronged every spot from which a sight was possible. Not one house along the entire line of march was undecorated, and on the most of them were elaborate and beautiful arrangements of flags and other patriotic devices.

The great column began forming early in the day at the corner of Meridian and Seventh streets, with the various detachments extending many blocks on all the adjoining streets. The line of march was down Meridian street to New York, west to Pennsylvania, south to Market, east to New Jersey, south to Washington, west to Washington, past the reviewing stand fronting the courthouse to Tennessee, where it was dismissed.

The parade was over a distance of three to four miles. It was headed by Major General Carnahan. The rear of the column was brought up by the department of Indiana, which comprised nearly one-half of the entire number of veterans in line. There were bands of music by the score, flags and banners too numerous to count. Indianapolis had promised at Washington to "do itself proud" if it was given the national encampment, and it more than redeemed the pledge.

NEARING AN ADJOURNMENT.

Disposing of Business Rapidly—Three Officers Elected.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 7.—The Grand Army people will probably finish their business and leave for home this evening. Already the jam at the Union station of people leaving has begun. Seven train loads were taken out within half an hour Wednesday afternoon without making a hole in the crowd. The encampment proper shows a disposition to rush through with its business rapidly. The election of officers was brought up Wednesday afternoon and the three following were elected, practically without opposition:

JOHN J. B. ADAMS of Massachusetts, commander-in-chief.

COLONEL I. N. W. WALKER of Indiana, senior vice commander.

J. C. BIGGER of Texas, junior vice commander.

The new commander-in-chief, John J. B. Adams, or "Jack" Adams, as he is called at home, is one of the most popular veterans in New England. For years he has been identified with the Grand Army as one of the most active and influential members of the department of Massachusetts. No considerable assembly of the Grand Army is complete without him. Above all things he has a record that any man may be proud of. In 1861, before he was 20 years old, he enlisted as a private in the battalion which became the nucleus of the Nineteenth Massachusetts. He served through the war, rising step by step to the rank of captain. When not disabled by wounds he participated in every march and in every battle of the Army of the Potomac, in which his regiment took part.

At Fredericksburg he saved the regimental colors from capture after eight color-bearers had been shot down. He was severely wounded in the second day's fight at Gettysburg and a second time before Perryburg, where he was captured, and suffered the horrors of a southern prison. Not infrequently the old wounds take him to a bed of pain for days at a time. He is a member of Lander post of Lynn, Mass., the second in membership in the country. Last year his ardent friends presented his name to the Republican convention for the candidacy for lieutenant governor, and without canvass or organization his name called out a large vote.

Captain Adams' friends claim for him a large and enthusiastic following. He was one of the most effective department commanders the organization in Massachusetts has ever had. He will be 53 years old in October.

The only report of interest during the session was that of Commander-in-chief Weissert, which was devoted almost entirely to pensions.

The next encampment goes to Pittsburgh. There was no other applicant.

MICHIGAN METHODISTS.

A Large Attendance at the Fifty-Eighth Annual Conference.

GRAND RAPIDS, Sept. 7.—At the opening of the fifty-eighth annual session of the Michigan conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in the Division Street Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. E. H. Day of Lawton invoked the divine blessing. Bishop Thomas Bowman of St. Louis, senior bishop of the Methodist church, presided and briefly expressed his gratitude to divine providence for the privilege of being present at the gathering.

Rev. P. Maveety of Benton Harbor then called the long roll of the conference. The result showed a good attendance of the brethren under the new plan applied for the first time at this meeting by which no free entertainment is given, but reduced rates are given at hotels and boardinghouses. The roll showed that only about 25 members out of the 455 members and probationers on the rolls were absent, five brothers having died during the year. Rev. Maveety was made permanent secretary by acclamation.

The usual standing committees were appointed and a committee for next year was named, one from each district. L. M. Edmonds of Leslie introduced a series of resolutions, the object of which was to nullify the present method of aiding superannuated clergy looking to the old methods of collections for the purpose. After a prolonged discussion the substitute was adopted and the conference went to dinner.

In the afternoon the anniversary meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society was held, Mrs. Moore presiding. At night the annual meeting of the Church Extension society was held, Rev. Dr. M. S. Hard of Philadelphia addressing both. The conference will continue until next Monday.

WILL HAVE TO DIE.

Two of the Condemned Choctaw Indians Will Be Shot Friday.

CADDO, I. T., Sept. 6.—Captain Simon Wade and Solomon Lewis, two of the nine condemned Choctaws who were convicted at Wilburton last September, will be shot Friday. The Indians will be blindfolded and placed on their coffins, stripped to the waist, with a small picture of a heart will be painted directly over their hearts. The sheriff of Gaines county will step off 15 feet, take aim at the little heart and fire. When the men are dead, their enemies as well as their friends, will gather around them, as if they died on the battlefield. The other seven have been granted a new trial.

A Deputy Sheriff In Charge.

CROWN POINT, Ind., Sept. 5.—At Hammond, Judge Gillett, on the petition of Judge Elliott of Indianapolis and Prosecutor McMahon of Lake county, has appointed Benjamin Hayes receiver of the Columbian Athletic club of Roby, and Sheriff Frederick was instructed to put him in charge at his peril. The receiver was also instructed not to permit any more prize-fights or to allow a transfer of the property. Hayes is a deputy sheriff of Lake county, Ind.

Personality Statement.

FORTORIA, O., Sept. 7.—The personal statement of Charles Foster has been given out. His resources, consisting of bills and accounts receivable, stocks, real estate, personal property and life insurance policies, aggregate $623,849.61. The appraised value reduces this to $414,259.72. Liabilities and bills payable, $75,800. J. V. Jones, J. L. Mickey and W. J. Wagner were the appraisers.

Promises to Be Successful.

TORONTO, Sept. 6.—In the presence of a vast assemblage, Hon. J. G. Kirkpatrick, lieutenant governor of the Province of Ontario, formally opened Toronto's great annual industrial exhibition. The exhibition promises this year to be the most successful ever held.

A "safety oil lamp" has been invented which cannot upset.

TO THE CALENDAR.

THE BILL FOR A JOINT SELECT COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

Senator Stewart Consumed the Remainder of the Day on His Speech Before Tuesday—The House Adopted Rules for the Fifty-Third Congress.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The indications in the senate did not point to speedy action on house bill to repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman act. The first two hours were occupied by Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) in advocacy of the resolution which he had offered on Tuesday to provide for a joint select committee on finance, and which, he avowed, was intended to supersede the finance committee of both the senate and house. There were 10 minutes to spare after he took his seat before the repeal bill would come up as the "unfinished business," and that interval was occupied in a somewhat acrimonious colloquy between senators, and in a year and may vote on a motion to take up the repeal bill. The bill was taken up by a vote of 37 to 21 and Mr. Morgan's resolution went to the calendar, from which it can only be taken up on a motion and by a majority vote. The remainder of the day was consumed by Mr. Stewart (Rep., Nev.) in a continuation of the speech on which he had spent four hours of Tuesday's session.

IN THE HOUSE.

The Code of Rules to Govern the Fifty-Third Congress Adopted.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The house adopted the code of rules which will govern it during the Fifty-third congress, subject to the decision of the committee on rules, which, under the rules, has an almost absolute power to direct the business of the body. The rules vary but little from those that controlled the Fifty-second congress. When first reported they contained one radical change and re-enacted the clause which permits 100 members to constitute a quorum in the committee of the whole. This clause was borrowed from the rules of the Fifty-second congress, and although every member of the committee on rules was in favor of it, the pressure brought against it on the Democratic side proved too powerful, and the committee, gracefully yielding, surrendered their point and the clause was stricken out. After agreeing to the rules the house at 3:50 p. m. adjourned until Saturday.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Senator Wolcott spoke against repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman bill. Mr. Caffery spoke in favor of repeal; Mr. Peffer's resolution was referred to the finance committee. House: The rules for the Fifty-third congress were referred to the background and the rules for the Fifty-first congress came in for the chief part of the discussion.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Mr. Vance spoke against the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman silver bill. In the house the new code of rules was discussed, but no action taken.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The bill for the repeal of the Sherman act was informally laid aside for the day; the bill appropriating $300,000 for the execution of the Chinese exclusion act was referred to the committee on foreign relations. House: The new rules commanded the attention of the house Saturday; the senate amendments to the urgency deficiency appropriation bill was agreed to.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Only the senate was in session Tuesday. Speeches were made on the Sherman law by Senators Cullom, Coke and Peffer. House joint resolution making Sept. 13, 1893, a legal holiday in the District of Columbia was passed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Senator Stewart addressed the senate in opposition to the repeal bill; Senator Peffer introduced a bill for a department of education and for an appropriation in aluminum coins of $800,000,000.

Michigan Patents.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The following patents have been granted to Michigan inventors: David J. Bowser, Lucas, corn plaster; Ferdinand Jakel, Detroit, water heater; Charles M. Lamb, Adrian, two patents for gate hinges; Joseph H. Pike, Ypsilanti, equestrienne tights; James B. Rhodes, Grand Rapids, saw grinding machine; Henry B. Robisheeny, Kalamazoo, brakebeam; Albert D. Stearns, Detroit, apparatus for holding and dipping pills; Isaac M. Warner, Bronson, fence machine; David J. Davidson, Port Huron, machine for turning rolls; Wilson G. Reynolds, Bangor, hammock support.

Trains Collide—One Man Killed.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 6.—Big Four express No. 5, going east, collided with a freight train near Batesville. An unknown man, supposed to be Robert Stevenson of Cincinnati, was killed. The trains crews received slight injuries and both engines were wrecked. The trains were slowed up preventing a more serious disaster. No passengers were injured.

Organization Perfected.

DULUTH, Sept. 6.—Organization has been perfected of the Lake Superior consolidated lines controlling the Masaba and Gogebic iron mines and the Spanish-American mines in Cuba. John B. Rockefeller, Colgate, Hoyt, Wetmore and others are in it. The capital is $30,000,000 and the head office will be in New York city.

The marriage of O. E. Butterfield, Esq. of this city to Miss Amy Iola Dunklee, of Brattleboro, Vermont, is announced to take place in this city next Thursday. They will make their home on the corner of Catherine and Thayer streets. The bachelor members of the legal fraternity are getting few and far between.

Mrs. Patrick Ryan died yesterday morning at her home on Beakes street after a weeks illness, of pneumonia. She was born in county Cork, Ireland, about sixty-five years ago. She came to America when quite young, and in 1861 was married in this city to Patrick Ryan. The funeral will be held in St. Thomas church Saturday, at 9 o'clock. Her husband and six children survive her.

Mrs. Desire D. Smith died last evening at her home in this city of old age. She was born near Springfield, Mass., October 6, 1802, and married to Dr. Ransom S. Smith in 1842 with whom she removed to Ann Arbor in 1858 and has since made this city her home. Dr. Smith died in 1876. She had two daughters, Mrs. Miranda Lukins, of this city, and Mrs. Alice E. Grant, of Detroit.

The Board of Education organized, Monday evening, by re-electing Christian Mack president, W. W. Whedon secretary, and L. Gruner treasurer. The following committees were reappointed: Teachers and text-books, W. B. Smith, J. E. Beal and C. Mack; buildings and grounds, E. H. Scott, L. Gruner, J. T. Jacobs, finance, P. Bach, J. V. Sheehan, W. W. Whedon; library, J. E. Beal, W. W. Whedon, C. Mack, Supt. Perry.

The Evening News of last evening says: As a member of the committee on military affairs Congressman Gorman has been assigned to duty on the sub-committees on "retirement" and "desertion." He is chairman of the sub-committee on "arsenals, barracks and military reservations." While other congressmen have but one secretary, Mr. Gorman has appointed two. Burt Turnbull, of Chelsea, will look after matters requiring attention in the different departments, and C. F. Andrews, of Jackson, will look after his correspondence.

probate the will of her father, Edward Y. Powell, who died May 14, 1893. The will which was probated left the property to the wife, Mrs. Laura G. Powell, during her lifetime, after which it was to be divided in the following proportions: Mary E. Stoner, of Bridgewater, two fifths; William P. Gale, Rosalie, Washington, two fifths; Minnie Kimball, Elmer Kimball and David Goodrich, each one fifteenth. Mrs. Stoner seeks to set it aside on the ground that Mr. Powell was under undue influence when he made the will, and that he was incompetent to make a will at the time the will was made.

Mrs. Margaret Harkins died in this city Saturday last, aged seventy-seven years. She was born in Ireland, but came to Syracuse, N. Y., with her parents when five years of age. She was married to Bernard Harkins in 1836, and settled in Ann Arbor in 1841. Eight children survive her, all but one residing in Ann Arbor: Mrs. A. J. Smith, of Williamston, Mrs. John Schumacher, Mrs. Marion Goodale, Misses Maggie and Mary Harkins, and John Bernard and James Harkins. The funeral services were held on Monday morning.

The Civil Service Commission at Washington has ordered that an examination be held in this city on Saturday, October 7, 1893, commencing at 9 o'clock a. m., for the grades of clerk and carrier in the city post-office. Only citizens of the United States can be examined. The age limitations are as follows: For carrier, not under 21 nor over 40; for all other positions, not under 18 years. No application will be accepted for this examination unless filed with the undersigned in complete form, on the proper blank, before the hour of closing business on September 28, 1893. The Civil Service Commission takes this opportunity of stating that the examinations are open to all reputable citizens who may desire to enter the postal service, without regard to their political affiliations. All such citizens, whether democrats or republicans, or neither, are invited to apply. They shall be examined, graded, and certified with entire impartiality, and wholly without regard to their political views, or to any consideration save their efficiency, as shown by the grades they obtain in the examination. For application blanks, full instructions, and information relative to the duties and salaries of the different positions, apply at the post-office to

The editor of the Dexter Leader, upbraids people who go late to church. Newspaper men should be careful about making statements upon heresy.

Wm. McCreery, of Ann Arbor, has cut down 600 of his peach trees, on account of the "yellows." Such luck is enough to give a peach grower the jaundice.

George Flowers, of Ann Arbor, is in jail again, for drunkenness—sent up by Justice Pond. Flowers is a sort of Pond lily it seems; but he should take more to water.

Miss Mabel Moore, of Dexter, returning from Texas, brought along a five-foot rattlesnake skin. There is a young lady who does not climb the fence and scream when she sees something moving in the grass.

Saline saw the largest population Thursday last week, that her borders ever contained. It was German day, "and the Dutch took Holland." Mr. Sweeney delivered an address and the Ann Arbor Rifles contributed their presence.

Tight-lacing of the finances has pinched the corset stay factory of Ypsilanti, till it is out of breath and will rest a short time. The underwear factory is in full operation, and will stay in the field as long as there's a shirt to its back.

Twenty-four dollars of the cash taken from under the pillow of Lieut. J. P. Kirk, of Ypsilanti, at the encampment, has been found in the purse of one of Africa's down trodden sons—one Edward's who has been arrested. The colored troop fought nobly.

A Plymouth correspondent of the Ypsilanti Sentinel exploits one Al. Gayde, of Plymouth, as a young man of many admirers among the fair, declaring that he has won the esteem "by being as courteous and polite as the ghost of Lord Chesterfield." Does he wear russet shoes with evening full dress?

Robert Sherwood, of Superior, will be examined in Ypsilanti, charged with stealing sheep. We hope the accusation against Mr. Sherwood is not true, although we never saw him, and as far as we know he is not related to us. But a man who will steal sheep this year with wool where it is under the blessed law of St. McKinley, is a nasty, mean thing.

The Dexter Leader knows of an old bachelor who appeared on the shore of Portage Lake one evening where some ladies were bathing clad in the spotless robes of the first woman, and though entreated to retire, he refused, and was set upon and ducked by the fairies, who, after nearly drowning him, let him escape. The only thing about this narrative that dampens our joy, is the firm conviction that it is a lie.

Every pathmaster in the county ought to be fined for not removing the stones from the highways as the law requires.—Chelsea Cor. Argus. That is right. In Latin phrase, "sock et tu um!" They're not only guilty of violating a state statute but the divine law, by which they are commanded to "cast up a highway and gather up the stones." They'll "get it" in the future, of course, but we can't wait. Prosecute them.

Neighbors and friends to the number of thirty, comprising the progressive young men of Superior township, Washtenaw county, recently planned and executed a surprise upon Tom Cowan, of the same township, and presented him with a rich suit of clothing. Possibly it might have been a little fantastic for a fellow of Tom's plain appearance, he being tall, lank, bald, with a scraggy hedge of red festooning the region of the cerebellum and responded to, by the chin, with long, cow-rod or light bay whiskers. His friends met him out-door, removed his every-day suit to the last rag, spread on his new undershirt with a paddle and spanked him with it, to revive his silence when he grew vocal or demonstrative. Tom's baldness also disappeared, and in its place there grew a luxuriant crop of feathers; and feathers also adorned his body. That was the kind of a "rooster" he was when his friends bade him good night, not forgetting to first anoint his whiskers thoroughly with the "dye" and tie his hands. Cowan had held a drunken orgie with neighbor Mulholland, who was also drunk. Mulholland brutally beat his wife, and Cowan encouraged him. The woman lies in bed in a precarious situation from kicks and blows. Her breasts and abdomen are horribly bruised by kicks from Mulholland's boots. She has a young child. Mulholland has disappeared, but when he returns he will learn that his geography of hell is at fault, in locating the institute of the damned wholly in the next world.

A SURE THING. Old Cases of Malaria Need No Longer Be Invalids.

There is no use trying to dodge the fact that quinine will not always cure malaria. While it is doubtless true that large doses of quinine or some other derivative of Calisaya bark will cure more cases of chills and fever than any other drug, it is equally certain that in chronic malaria it is, in a majority of cases, a flat failure. In every malarious district there are thousands of people who continually take quinine and yet continually have more or less frequent attacks of malaria. These facts need no argument. Every person who lives in a malarious locality knows them to be true.

A remedy capable of curing these cases of chronic malaria that quinine will not relieve would be a great blessing to humanity and produce a genuine sensation in medical circles. This is exactly what the remedy—Pe-ru-na—will do. It cures all those old and stubborn cases of chronic malaria that have taken quinine perhaps for years without result. A thorough course of Pe-ru-na is sure to remove the malarial poison from the system.

A publication containing the latest information concerning the nature and origin of malarial poison and the cure of malaria in all its forms is being sent to malarial sufferers in all parts of the civilized world by The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company of Columbus, Ohio. It will be sent free to any address for a limited time.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

(OFFICIAL.)

COUNCIL CHAMBER, ANN ARBOR, SEPT. 4, 1893.

Regular session. Called to order by President Watts. Roll called. Quorum present. Absent—Ald. Schaefer, Wagner, Ferguson, Prettyman—4. The journal of the last session was approved.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE MAYOR.

To the Honorable Common Council: I have to report to your honorable body that I have appointed Robert Shannon to the office of Supervisor for the Third Ward of this city, to fill vacancy occasioned by the removal of James Kearns from said ward. Sept. 4, 1893.

B. M. THOMPSON, Mayor.

Ald. O'Mara moved that the appointment of Robert Shannon to the office of Supervisor from the Third Ward, to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Mr. James Kearns, is approved, and Robert Shannon is hereby declared duly appointed to fill said vacancy.

ADOPTED AS FOLLOWS:

Yeas—Ald. Herz, Martin, Snow, Wood, O'Mara, Taylor, Manly, Kitson, Pres. Watts—9. Nays—None.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

To the Common Council: The Board of Public Works beg leave to submit the following report of its doing in the matter of bids for the construction of a stone culvert across creek on Fifth street (Second ward).

The Board caused notice of the city's wants to be published in the Ann Arbor Argus, and also distributed said notice among local contractors; and as a result, on the day set for closing such offer, had three bids as follows: John Mahlke, furnishing all labor and material $490; Koch Bros., furnishing all labor and material, $585; furnishing all labor and material except stone, $321. C. Schaefer & Son, furnishing all labor and material, $864; furnishing all labor and material excepting stone, $566.

All things considered, we recommend that the bid of Koch Bros. be accepted, and that a contract be made with said Koch Bros. at contract price of $585.

The Board of Public Works recommends and asks for the following appropriations, to wit: $200 for the grading of Broadway at the north end, and $100 for the grading of Prospect street; also $80 be appropriated to paint the bridge over the Michigan Central railroad tracks, as the painting of said bridge has become very necessary.

By order of the Board of Public Works. WILLIAM J. MILLER, Clerk.

That part asking for appropriations referred to the Street Committee.

To the Common Council: The Board of Public Works, to whom was entrusted the supervision of the construction of sewers, would respectfully report progress to the Council.

In pursuance of the resolution of the Council, the Board on Thursday last closed a contract with the Ohio Valley Fire Clay Company for the purchase of sewer pipe, to be shipped in such quantities as the Board of Public Works desires. It is believed that a quantity of the larger sized pipe is already on the road. At our last meeting 200 feet of 24 inch cast iron pipe were authorized to be purchased by Mr. Schuh and the City Engineer at $21.70 net per ton, f. o. b. cars at Ann Arbor, Michigan, from the Lake Shore Foundry, of Cleveland, Ohio. The Board on August 28th started the City Engineer making the necessary survey for the sewer. They engaged William Rosencrans as assistant engineer at $2.75 per day. The Board fixed the compensation of the City Engineer, during the construction of the main sewer, at $150 per month, which salary the Council is asked to confirm: It is believed that the work of putting in the main sewer will take three or four months. It now seems probable that the Board will be able to begin the work of construction of the main sewer by September 11th. Street Commissioner Sutherland, City Engineer Key and Prof. C. E. Green, as consulting engineer, will be given charge of the construction.

By order of the Board of Public Works. WILLIAM J. MILLER, Clerk.

Ald. O'Mara moved that the report be accepted and adopted.

WALTER L. TAYLOR, WILLIAM HERZ, FRANK WOOD, Finance Committee.

Ald. O'Mara moved, that the report be accepted and adopted, and warrants ordered drawn for the sums stated therein.

ADOPTED AS FOLLOWS:

Yeas—Ald. Herz, Martin, Snow, Wood, O'Mara, Taylor, Manly, Kitson, Pres. Watts—9. Nays—None.

ORDINANCES.

Chairman Manly, leave having been granted, introduced "An Ordinance Relative to Baggage Wagons, Drays, Omnibusses, Hackney-Carriages and other Public Vehicles," which was read the first time by its title.

STREET COMMITTEE REPORT.

To the Common Council: Your Committee on Streets, to whom was referred the following resolution by Alderman O'Mara:

"Resolved, And it is the sense of this council that the Board of Public Works, do cause the grading and cutting down East Huron street to conform to the established grade."

Respectfully report that they have had the subject matter of said resolution under consideration and would recommend that the resolution be adopted.

Respectfully submitted.

CHRISTIAN MARTIN, W. L. TAYLOR, W. G. SNOW, Street Committee.

ADOPTED.

SIDEWALK COMMITTEE REPORTS.

To the Common Council: Your Committee on Sidewalks would report that they have had the following sidewalks under consideration and find that the grading and construction of the sidewalks herein named are all a necessary public improvement and would respectfully recommend that the following sidewalks be ordered graded and constructed, viz:

On Prospect street along the northeasterly and southwesterly sides, from E. University avenue to Wells street.

On State street along the east side in front of Miss Sarah Prescott's property.

On Ann street along the south side in front of the Mrs. Kezia A. Rogers Estate property.

On Vine street along the west side, from Liberty street to Samuel Henne's property.

Respectfully submitted. WILLIAM HERZ, FRANK WOOD, J. O'MARA, Sidewalk Committee.

Received and filed.

To the Common Council: Your Committee on Fire Department to whom was referred the petition of M. J. Martin, asking permission to build frame barn on lot No. 10, Block 3, north range 4 east, said lot is located between Fourth avenue between Catherine and Kingsley streets, would respectfully report that the prayer of the petitioner be granted.

Respectfully submitted. J. O'MARA, ARTHUR J. KITSON, W. G. SNOW, Fire Department Committee.

Alderman Manly moved that the report be accepted and adopted.

ADOPTED.

REPORT OF LIGHTING COMMITTEE.

To the Common Council: Your Committee on Lighting to whom was referred the petition and resolution asking for electric lamps to be located on the intersections of West Liberty and Ashley streets and on the corner of Main and Catherine streets, respectfully report that your committee visited the different localities Thursday evening, August 31st, and fully inspected the same and would recommend the following, namely:

The petition for light at the intersection of West Liberty and Ashley streets be granted, as the said intersections of streets is quite dark, and used largely by the traveling public for the T. A. & N. M. R. depot.

That the resolution for light at the intersection of Main and Catherine streets be granted, this light is much needed as the double track of the street railway is located at this point which makes it very dangerous.

Respectfully submitted. WILLIAM HERZ, W. G. SNOW, Lighting Committee.

Alderman Kitson moved the report be, and the same is hereby approved, confirmed and filed.

The Man Under the Bed.

By CHARLES B. LEWIS (M. QUAD).

[Copyright, 1893, by Charles B. Lewis.] At a quarter to 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Sept. 8, 1884, the paying teller of the Sixth National bank in the city of C— cashed a check for $8,000 drawn by the firm of Burke & Burke in their own favor. It was presented by the cashier of the firm. There were a dozen men in line, and the transaction did not occupy two minutes. Burke & Burke could have had $50,000 as well as $8,000. At 3 minutes to 3 the cashier of Burke & Burke handed in his book and checks and money amounting to $6,000. Bank tellers always remind me of the dealers in the big games of chance. They are automatic. They are sphynxlike. They are imperturbable. Even when they receive a check and stamp it "No funds" and shove it back through the window it is done in a machinelike way, the same as clothespins are made. You want small bills for a fifty. The teller picks up your bill, reaches around for his stamp, stamps it "counterfeit," and away you go while he is cashing a check for the next man in line. On this particular occasion, however, as I have several witnesses to prove, the paying teller was startled. He changed color. He looked frightened. He didn't ask Burke & Burke's cashier if he was there 12 minutes previously. He called some one to take his place, disappeared from view, and within 10 minutes the police were at work on the case. The check presented at a quarter to 3 was a forgery. The man who presented it was a counterfeit—that is, he had been "made up" to pass for James Long, cashier for Burke & Burke. This was not a difficult matter. Both men were about the same height, weight and complexion. Long hadn't spoken 10 words to the teller in a year. He always wore Scotch tweed, no matter what the season. He always wore a stiff hat. No one at the bank ever saw him without eyeglasses. Long had a nod for other patrons whom he knew, but seldom opened his mouth. The paying teller had been done up with his eyes wide open, but he moved so rapidly that it seemed as if the sharper must be nabbed. Officers were sent to the railroad depots; others made the tour of hotels; others yet made the rounds of gambling houses and saloons. If the fellow hadn't a secure hiding place selected in advance, the chances were more than even that he would be caught. In room No. 17 of the Inter Ocean hotel, which I will admit was only a third class hostelry, but rich enough for a man earning only $25 per week, I read most of the particulars given you above in an evening paper. The bank officials had made every effort to suppress the facts, and the detectives were as mum as clams, but "our reporter" had caught on after all. A sharp, shrewd class of men, these reporters. Give them a lead, and they never let up until they have the case in hand. I had come in from the store tired out, and on going to my room after supper I pulled off my boots, lighted my pipe, sat down with my feet on the bed, and this bank business was the first thing I struck in the evening paper. I had just finished the article when the night clerk came up. "Heard about the bank swindle over at the Sixth National?" he asked as he entered my room. "Just read it." "Cool chap, that, but what do you think? There are two detectives down stairs who claim to have shadowed him here and want to search the house. They are on the floor below and will soon look in on you." "All right. I wish I had the boodle." Ten minutes later the officers came in. I was a head shorter than Burke & Burke's cashier. I hadn't his complexion, his build, his facial expression or hair of his color. Indeed there wasn't a point of resemblance. The clerk had vouched for me, as I had boarded there a year or more, but those "old sleuths" came in on tiptoe, looked at me from the corners of their ferret eyes and sat down to question me. It was a quarter of an hour before they let up, and then they appeared to feel injured because I hadn't beaten a bank or committed a murder. Queer fellows, these detectives. Sometimes I have felt a bit conscience stricken over not doing something for which I could be arrested and sent to prison for their glory. Before my visitors left one of them contended that I might as well be taken along anyhow on general principles, as there was no telling what I wouldn't own up to after being locked up for three or four days, but the other was more conservative. He assumed a fatherly interest in me, called me "my son" and tried to make me realize how much better it would be to restore that money and take a clerkship in a bank at $1,200 a year than wear a zebra snit for 20 years in state prison. I refused to disgorge, and he went out saying that I had missed a golden opportunity. The hotel was thoroughly searched, everybody questioned and cross questioned, and the detectives finally withdrew. At 10 o'clock I was smoking my third pipe and had long before exchanged my paper for a book, when a queer thing happened. My bed stood in the middle of the room. I sat in a chair on the left hand side, with my feet across the middle. I had my book up on a line with my eyes, and all had been quiet for 10 minutes, when a voice suddenly observed: "Well, old man, that must be an interesting yarn!" As I dropped my book my eyes rested on a man standing on his feet on the opposite side of the bed. To say that I was astonished is drawing it mild. I sat there with my mouth open and my eyes bulging out until he laughed heartily and said: "If you could see a photograph of yourself with that expression on your face, you'd laugh yourself into a fit." "Who are you?" I finally gasped out. "Well, that's a fair question," he replied as he sat down on the edge of the bed. "For the last three hours, up to a minute ago, I was the man under the bed. Owing to a change of position I am now the man on the bed." He was a cool hand. I could read human nature well enough to know that he had lots of nerve back of that assurance. As he sat down I noticed a revolver in his hand. The thing had been sprung upon me in such a way that I was not rattled. The evening paper had given a description of the swindler, and as I looked the man over it dawned upon me that he was the identical chap. "You were hiding under the bed when I came in here three hours ago?" I queried as we sat looking at each other. "Exactly," he replied. "You heard what the clerk and the detectives said?" "Every word." "And, to come right down to business, you are the man who got the $8,000 of the Sixth National bank this afternoon?" "I am." "How did you get here?" "I had other plans, but they miscarried. In fact, a pal of mine lost his nerve at a critical moment and left me in the lurch. I dodged into this hotel in search of a temporary asylum and was lucky enough to find your door unlocked. Carelessness of the chambermaid probably. Did you ever see $8,000 in one pile? Good for sore eyes! See here." He bent over and picked up the money from the floor. There were three separate packages—$5,000, $2,000 and $1,000—but he had tied them all together and made one large package. Most of the bills were new, and the bundle was worth a second look. "This means store clothes, quail on toast, a trip to London, Paris and Berlin," he said as he fondly patted the money. "So the affair is already out, eh? Please hand me the paper." I passed it over, and he read the account with a smile on his face and said: "Pretty close shave that, but a miss is as good as a mile. Sorry for the paying teller, but I suppose his bondsman are good for it and that he will wriggle along some way. Excuse my impertinence, but what do you do for a living?" "Head of a department with Gill & White, retail dry goods." "Married?" "No." "Ever been abroad?" "No." "Look here, old chappie," he continued as he coolly stretched at full length on the bed. "I'm willing to divvy with you. Hand in your resignation and make a European tour with me. It'll help your health and broaden your mind. This boodle will enable us to travel first class for a year." His impudence aggravated me. I had now recovered from my surprise, and as he looked at me for an answer I said: "I'll see you hanged first. I'm not making European tours with bank sneaks and forgers. Your trip will end at the front door of the state prison!" "Too peppery—altogether too peppery for the head of a retail department," he quietly observed. "And do you think I'll be arrested?"

"Certainly. I'm going to take you down stairs and turn you over to the police." "That's all wool and a yard wide, but it will shrink when you come to try it on," he said as he flung his feet off the bed and stood up. "I don't know that I blame you for refusing the trip to Europe, but please don't be an idiot in other directions." "How do you mean?" I asked, also getting up. "Just figure for a minute. I'm no chicken. Having played for a big stake and won it, I'm not going to prison as you would lead a calf. Your own common sense should tell you that. I'm willing to put my liberty and this boodle against your life if it comes to that, though I hope it won't. I'm armed, as you see, while you are not. Even without the revolver, being the larger man, I could do you up." "You cold blooded scoundrel!" I muttered as I realized the situation. "Don't call names," he pleasantly remarked. "Let's ask what your duty is in the case. I've beaten a bank. Banks are soulless corporations. They have no mercy. Last year 93 banks in the United States closed their doors and beat thousands of depositors. Every failure was brought about by fraud of some sort. Right here in this city the president of the Third National stole $80,000 of the deposits. And don't flatter yourself that you owe a duty to the public. The public would let you starve or freeze. The public denies that it owes you anything. The public would rob you of your last dollar. You owe a duty to yourself. It is to preserve your present state of health." "You mean that you will shoot me if I give an alarm?" I queried. "Certainly. I may kill you or only inflict a wound which will lay you up for weeks. It may result in my arrest, but where is your gain? The firm might bury you or the bank might pay your doctor's bill, but where will the profit come in for you in either case?" His arguments silenced me, and coming around the foot of the bed he continued: "I thought I was right when I first sized you up. We have now come to an understanding. I've got to ask a favor or two, but won't bother you long. Ah, here are your scissors! I must sacrifice this mustache. Please sit over by the window." He laid his revolver on the dresser and used the scissors to clip off as fine a mustache as you would see in a week's travel. I sat watching him and wondering over my own placidity of mind. "You shave yourself, don't you?" he finally asked as he turned to me. "Yes, it's in the right hand top drawer." "Ah, thanks. Good razor, good brush, good soap. That makes shaving a luxury." He handled the razor with the deftness of a barber, and in seven or eight minutes he was clean shaved. He had sandy hair, while his eyebrows were almost red. There was a bottle of black ink on the dresser. He used his handkerchief for a sponge and colored his eyebrows. With the same fluid he made up as neat a black eye as one rowdy ever gave another, and he was chuckling as he turned to me to say: "Just one thing more, old man—a suit of clothes—your oldest suit. I'll pay cash for it." I had a much worn suit in the wardrobe, which I handed out. "Rather a tight fit, but I'll make it do," he said as he began to peel off. "My object is not to pass myself off for you, but to get rid of the Scotch tweed. You can sell that suit for at least $10, and here's $25 for yours." "I don't want your money." "Don't be finicky. That's no part of this boodle, but was honestly earned. I'll leave it on the dresser. Now, then, to wrap up the money in this newspaper and take my departure. Look here, my boy, take this thousand and put it where it will give you a start." "I'd starve first!" "Too goody good to ever get ahead of the game! What course are you going to pursue when I leave the room?" "Kick myself for a fool and then go to bed!" "Go to bed without doing the kicking act. You are the most sensible young man I've met in a year. If I'm arrested, I shall say nothing about what has happened here. If I get away, I shall always feel hurt that you wouldn't take some of the money. Tra-la, old man!" When he had closed the door, I locked it and sat down. After a quarter of an hour had slipped away I tumbled into bed. I fell asleep after a bit, and it was 7 o'clock before I opened my eyes. While I was dressing I had to go to the bureau for a collar button, and the ink stained handkerchief caught my eye. As I picked it up, lo! there was the $1,000 package of greenbacks in plain view. Did the man get away? Yes. He walked down stairs and out of doors unquestioned, and the detectives never got a clew on him after that night. He probably went right to one of the depots and took a train. About the money, I returned it to the bank by mail, and my action is still a puzzle to the bank officials and detectives. I couldn't enlighten them, but I shall not.

Estate of Chauncey Joslyn.
STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY of Washtenaw, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, on Thursday, the seventh day of September in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three. Present, J. Willard Babitt, Judge of Probate. In the matter of the estate of Chauncey Joslyn, deceased.
On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Sarah M. Joslyn, widow of said deceased, praying that an order be made assigning to her, the said petitioner, the personal property of said estate in accordance with the statute in such case made and provided.
Thereupon it is ordered, that Tuesday, the 3d day of October next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the administrator of said estate and the heirs-at-law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said court then to be holden at the Probate office in the City of Ann Arbor, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted. And it is further ordered that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereon, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the ANN ARBOR ARGUS, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing. J. WILLARD BABBITT, Judge of Probate. Wm. G. DOTY, Probate Register.
