ANN ARBOR'S WATER SUPPLY DOUBLED.

Dr. Leander Kapp Heard From.—Another Story on Sam Wooster.—The Ann Arbor Postmastership.—Improvement on the Ann Arbor Road.

An Arbor Water Supply.

The Ann Arbor Water company have almost doubled their present water supply by boring out the four inch well. About three feet of hard, packed sand was removed which immediately caused a great increase in the volume of water, so much so that with steady pumping all day, the supply in the catch basin could only be reduced one half. Within a few hours it was again filed up.

Improvements on the Ann Arbor Road.

H. E. Riggs, chief engineer of the Ann Arbor road, and Christian Stein, superintendent, were in the city, Wednesday. They contemplate making a number of improvements on the road. A gravel pit at Urania has been purchased and the road bed is to be thoroughly rebalanced. The pump-house, at the passenger depot in Ann Arbor, is to be completely rebuilt and raised to the level of the depot.

Dr. Leander Kapp Heard From.

Dr. John Kapp and family yesterday morning were made happy by a letter from their son Dr. Leander Kapp who disappeared so mysteriously from Chicago, February 15. The letter is dated at St. Louis, Mo., and he asks why his letter written in Chicago was not answered. He states that he has been traveling through Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado, and Missouri. The many friends of the family will rejoice with them that the fears of his death proved groundless. Dr. Kapp has been in Chicago twice to identify bodies taken from the river supposed to have been his son.

Marriage Bells Last Evening.

Last evening, Miss Elizabeth, daughter of Mrs. Lena Noll, of W. Huron street, was married at the residence of the bride's mother to Mr. August Schoenewald, of Ann Arbor, Rev. John Neumann officiating. Mr. Louis Noll, brother of the bride, and Miss Katie Schoenewald, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid and groomsmen. Only the immediate family and friends were present. Among those present were the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. John Schoenewald, and daughters, the Misses Kate and Clara, of Sandusky, Ohio. The presents were numerous and both costly, beautiful and useful. The happy couple will go to housekeeping at No. 105 W. Washington street.

U. of M. vs. D. A. C. Tomorrow.

The baseball season opens on the home grounds tomorrow afternoon, the first game being with the Detroit A. C. nine. This first home game will doubtless be one of the best of the season, as few amateur organizations in the country send out as strong a team as the D. A. C. Their team has played no games except practice games this year, but are reported to be in excellent playing condition. Their line-up will be as follows: Cobb, catcher; Palmer, Guthard, pitchers; Ducharme, 1 b.; Guiney, 2 b.; Crowley, s. s.; Miller, 3 b.; Rathbun, 1. f.; Marshner, c. f.; Gallagher, r. f.

The home team is practicing on the field now, batting and fielding being given most attention. The experience of their trip has materially improved their playing and they will be ready to meet their old rivals in the old time way.

Death of Edward Flemming.

The funeral services of Edward Flemming were held yesterday afternoon, Rev. Max Hein officiating, the interment taking place in Mr. Flemmings lot on Forest Hill.

The deceased was born February 14, 1828, in Germany, his father being a sailor. He learned the trade of tinsmith. His younger years he spent in Copenhagen, Denmark. He immigrated to America about 1852, and for a short time worked in Toledo and Detroit before coming to Ann Arbor. One season he was employed by the government on the locks at Sault Ste

Marie. He was unmarried, and the only relatives that he had in America, are believed to live in Wisconsin. He had been ailing some time and three weeks ago he was taken to the University hospital where he died. He was considered the most expert man at his trade in the state. He was an industrious man, and had many friends in the city.

Sam Wooster Again.

Coroner Clark tells the following story on the late famous character, Sam Wooster. In the winter of 1852 and 1853, Mr. Clark was teaching school in Green Oak, Livingston county. In connection with the school there was a debating society. One evening while the society was wrestling with the question of tariff, who should drop in but the eccentric Sam Wooster, clothed in the traditional rags and covered with the accumulated dirt of years. He insisted on making a speech, and was allowed to proceed. His speech astonished every one present. It showed him to be well read in the tariff legislation of the country, and the whole history of the country as well. He proved himself to be a good man on his feet, being a ready and even fluent speaker. His language was correct and forceful. The society was so surprised at his eloquence that its members concluded there was something in Sam's head besides dirt after all. The report in the neighborhood at the time was that he had at one time been a lawyer of considerable promise, but becoming disappointed in love, he lost his grip and his ambition and became a worthless vagabond and wanderer. In this latter capacity he became as famous as he might have been, under more favorable circumstances, in the law. Such are the vicissitudes of life.

Hospital for Consumptives.

At a meeting of the Michigan State board of health, held at Lansing shortly before the holidays, Prof. Vaughan, as chairman of the standing committee on "Epidemic, Endemic and Communicable Diseases," made a report on the subject of the restriction of tuberculosis in man by means of a proposed State hospital for consumptives, this subject having been referred to him at the last special meeting. The subject was discussed at great length, and it was resolved that "this Board request of the next Legislature an appropriation of $— for the purpose of building, equipping and maintaining a State Hospital for consumptives.

Prof. Delos Fall presented a preamble and resolution which were adopted as follows:

Whereas, It is desirable that every step shall tend toward giving the largest amount of sanitary education to the teachers and to the people of the State, therefore,

Resolved, That it is the judgment of this Board that the proposed State hospital for consumptives should be located at the seat of the State university at Ann Arbor, in order that it may afford the best opportunities for the observation and study of this most important disease, in conjunction with the investigations now being so satisfactorily pursued, in bacteriology and other departments of sanitary science, at the State laboratory of hygiene.

The Inland League.

Those who were privileged to be present at the concert given recently in the opera house, by the Ann Arbor Banjo and Guitar club, will be pleased to hear that the same club will give an entertainment on the Inland League course next Monday evening, April 30. The concerts given on this course this year, has all been of a superior order and have been very much enjoyed by the audiences, and this promises to be no exception to the rule. There is no club of this character in this part of the state which has received more favorable commendation from the press, or which has succeeded more in delighting its audiences where and whenever it has appeared, and a rare treat is promised to all who will be present. Miss McMonagle a popular young elocutionist of the high school, will render a couple of recitations in her usual pleasing manner. As the admission has been fixed at the low and popular price of ten cents, we have no doubt that a large audience will greet the second appearance of our enterprising and progressive young musicians. Mr. Mell Gillespie is the well-known director of the club. The association of his name with the concert, assures all interested that it will be in every respect a success.

Senior Hop.

Every effort is being made by the senior hop committee to make that event memorable in the history of university social events.

The hop will be given in Waterman gymnasium Friday evening, May 4. The full Chequamegon orchestra will furnish music for a program of about thirty dances.

No expense has been spared in securing an artistic souvenir program. On the cover appears the words "Senior Hop, U. of M. '94" embossed in gold.

Light refreshments will be served during the evening. The gymnasium will be lighted by electricity and all accommodations will be the best possible.

The committee of arrangements is as follows: R. Quinn, chairman; Messrs. Chickering and Martindale, Misses Texter and Wiley. The list of chaperones will be announced later. The tickets can be secured of any of the committee at a cost of 75 cents, ladies free.—U. of M. Daily.

The Ann Arbor Postoffice.

The following Washington dispatch was published in this morning's Free Press:

Washington, April 26.—(Special)—President Cleveland this afternoon withdrew the nomination of Elihu B. Pond as postmaster at Ann Arbor and sent to the senate in his stead the name of ex-Mayor S. W. Beakes, the well known Washtenaw county editor. The new nominee is one of three candidates—Beakes, Schuh and Duffy—who were originally considered as candidates for the place. The papers of none of the three gentlemen were on file when Mr. Pond's nomination was made, but were all afterwards presented by Congressman Gorman. The president withdrew the nomination of Mr. Pond not through any lack of consideration for that gentleman or the eminent gentlemen who were his principal indorsers. Mr. Pond's nomination occurred through an error on the part of the post-office clerks, who failed to notify the postmaster-general that at the expiration of the present incumbent's term Mr. Gorman would make his recommendation in the case. At the time the case was called up the papers of but one of four known candidates were on file. Mr. Pond's nomination was made without consultation with the democratic congressman of the district, a gentleman recognized as a warm supporter of the administration. The nomination was withdrawn for the purpose of correcting the plain error. The three candidates, Beakes, Schuh and Duffy, were all opposed to the nomination of Pond, and joined in a telegram which was filed with the department, assuring their hearty indorsement of whichever one of the three should be named in his place. Congressman Gorman is naturally much pleased with the result. He is gratified at the selection, as he would have been with the choice of either Duffy and Schuh under the circumstances. He is especially pleased at the recognition by the president of his objections to the first named candidate. Telegrams were received at the executive mansion and at the post-office department from Ann Arbor this afternoon which indicate the satisfaction of the people of the city with the new nominee.

Answer to the Lant-Morgan Levies.

Several weeks ago Henry G. Blanchard, then United States marshal for this district, levied upon a number of pieces of real estate in Washtenaw county, valued at more than $2,000,000, to satisfy a judgement given several years ago in the suit of George Lant, Sr., against Elijah W. Morgan, since deceased. A petition by Otis C. Johnson and Edward D. Kinnie, surviving executors of the last will of Lucy W. S. Morgan, deceased, was filed in this cause in the United States Circuit Court yesterday, asking the court to restrain the United States marshal from levying any execution issued, or which may be issued, on the judgment rendered in that court in the action of Geo. Lant, Sr., on any other property than that described in the return to the writ of attachment, or any other property other than was attached by the marshal by virtue of the writ of attachment, and that the marshal be directed to release and discharge the levy made of any execution as to any other property than that attached by virtue of the writ issued February 2, 1891.

The petition states that on the last named day an action was commenced by attachment, in which George Lant, Sr., was plaintiff, and Elijah W. Morgan, then living at Ann Arbor, was defendant. On this writ the marshal made a levy on February 13, 1891, on certain parcels of land in Washtenaw county, appraised at $9,416. This writ of attachment had been issued on an affidavit by Charles R. Whitman, setting forth that the affiant had good reason to believe and did believe that Elijah W. Morgan had disposed of his property with intent to defraud his creditors. This affidavit was made on behalf of George Lant, Sr. Petitioners aver that they had known Mr. Morgan for some years prior to the making of this affidavit, that he had been of feeble mind, and that, on April 5, 1889, he had been adjudged incompetent by the probate judge of Washtenaw county, remaining under guardianship until his death, January 28, 1892. The action of attachment, above referred to, was based upon a judgment for $3,882.72, rendered by the Washtenaw circuit court on July 12, 1881. After Mr. Morgan's death Charles H. Manly was appointed administrator. The case was tried, and on June 2, 1893, judgment was rendered against Manly, as administrator, for $8,637.61.

The petitioners charge that Manly was appointed administrator entirely at the instance of Lant; that he had been in the employment of Lant, and had been regularly paid for his services in this cause and for assisting Lant to prosecute his pretended claim against the Morgan estate. The petition states that on August 5, 1893, an execution was issued which was returned as unsatisfied by the marshal on August 25. On February 24, 1894, an alias execution was issued, which is now in the hands of the United States marshal.

It is further shown that the marshal has levied this execution on a vast amount of property in Washtenaw county, said to be worth at least $2,000,000, and that it had been made at the instance of the attorney and counsel for Lant, and under the direction of Wilfred Eames, a nephew of Lant, who actively represents him in the litigation. Petitioners show that all these parties, except the marshal, knew that the lands levied upon had not been owned, or claimed to be owned, by E. W. Morgan. They aver that the title to none of this property has been in the name of Morgan since 1875, and that the levy was caused by Lant, his counsel and Eames, with the purpose of incumbering and clouding the title to all this property. The petitioners further allege that Lant and his attorneys for a long time past had been doing all they could to embarrass the estate of Lucy W. S. Morgan, the deceased widow or E. W. Morgan, thereby hoping to tire the petitioners by such litigation and embarrassment and cause them to pay to Lant his judgment for the sake of avoiding further litigation. They charge that this last levy was malicious, excessive and illegal in intent and purpose; that they have examined the titles to a number of pieces of the property levied upon, and found that in most instances, and, in fact, nearly every instance, there was no semblance of a title in Morgan, or Manly, as administrator. They found that the present owners had held quiet possession for many years, in some cases as long as thirty and forty years, and that furthermore, some of these pieces of property had an assessed value of twice and three times the amount of the judgment, showing, as they allege, that the levy upon so many pieces of land was malicious.

The petitioners state that as executors of the estate of Lucy W. S. Morgan they are owners in fee of a large number of pieces of property levied upon, and that they have demanded in writing of the marshal to release the levy, particularly on all such property not included in the writ of attachment issued in this cause, but that they are informed by the marshal that Lant's attorneys refuse to release any part of the levy made. They show that by the clouding of the title to the property belonging to the estate the management of the latter is greatly embarrassed; that thereby the sale of property is prevented and the estate much injured. It is also shown that the levy has seriously embarrassed the other property levied upon, not belonging to the estate, and that the owners of the property, being so numerous, are without remedy except by individual suits, which would be exceedingly numerous and prove expensive litigation to all the owners of the property.

Johnson and Kinnie's solicitors are Bowen, Douglas & Whiting, of this city.—Detroit Free Press.

Quite a large extension has been made to one of the stove factory buildings besides the new fire proof building. Another man has appeared and will settle with this village for $150, for its neglect of defective walks and pitfalls for the unwary. The foundation is laid and the frame to the Chandler warehouse is going up. The ladies of the M. E. church are preparing for their annual flower festival in May. Michael Hesselschwerdt, in the southwest corner of this town, is very sick of lung fever. Henry Frey has bought two lots from the Thomas estate and will build a good house on them this summer. The grounds around the M. E. church and parsonage have been graded and mostly sodded and put in fine condition. For years past there has been a general flocking to the cities and villages from the country to get employment at higher wages and live faster lives. It has been overdone and now there must be a large departure back to the country to get any wages or living at all. The growth of large cities is not an unmixed good, and not for the good of our government as history well demonstrates. People do not have to swim in wealth to be happy and virtuous. Chelsea is nothing if not original and progressive. We have Latin, German, Psychology and Trigonometry taught in our school on the free list, and there are some here who want Greek, Hebrew and Calculus on the same terms, while still others think that board, clothing, cigarettes and chewing gum should be furnished by the tax payers. Agonizing Pains Scrofula and Salt Rheum Cause Much Misery Hood's Sarsaparilla a Godsend to A Whole Family. "C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. "Gentlemen—My mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Wolfe, at the age of 72 years, was attacked with a violent form of salt rheum; it spread all over her body, and her hands and limbs were dreadful to look at. At the same time, my little daughter Clara, who was just one year old, was attacked by a similar disease, like scrofula. It appeared in the form of large sores under each side of her neck; had the attendance of the family physician and other doctors for a long time, but seemed to grow worse. A little book fell into my hands, in which were numerous testimonials from people who had been Cured of Scrofula by Hood's Sarsaparilla. As soon as we gave Hood's Sarsaparilla to Clara, she began to get better, and before the first bottle was gone, the sores entirely healed up and there has never been any sign of the disease since. She is a healthy, robust child. Her grandmother took Hood's Sarsaparilla at the same time, and the salt rheum decreased in its violence and was soon effected. It took about three months for her cure, and she ascribes her good health and strength at her advanced age to Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has certainly been a Godsend to my family." When one of our lectures on the above disease was read to me I took Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin, and found it acted just as represented. In three months I was a well man, and have continued well ever since.

Symptoms.—Dull pain in back; scanty, high-colored urine, containing albumen and various sediments; puffiness of the face and feet; dropsy of the legs; shortness of breath and general weakness; pallor and dryness of the skin; chilly feelings, alternating with fever and sleeplessness.

Treatment.—A tablespoonful of Pe-ru-na should be taken before each meal, between meals, and at bedtime, and enough Man-a-lin at night to produce one natural action of the bowels each day. When the disease is of long standing, heated Pe-ru-na should be applied to the back in addition to the above treatment, and the diet consist principally of milk and dry toast. ### HIDES AND LEATHER.

HOW FREE RAW MATERIALS AFFECTED THE TRADE.

Enormous Increase in the Tanning Industry and the Shoe Business—Wages Advanced 15 Per Cent Since 1872—Home Products Sold in Foreign Markets.

Those who really think that the removal of the duties on wool will destroy or greatly depress the domestic wool growing industry may find something to enlighten them in the effect upon the hide and leather industries of the removal of the duty on hides. When it was proposed in 1872 that hides should be admitted free, there was a loud protest. The domestic hide industry would be ruined, it was said. But hides were put on the free list, and everybody knows what a great development of the hide and leather industries has followed that change.

No one will say that the domestic industry of producing hides has been destroyed or that the growth of the cattle industry has been retarded. We continue to produce and to tan the green hides of the United States, and at the same time we receive enormous quantities of dry hides from South America, the tanning of which has become a great industry.

The value of our free imports of hides has risen to $27,000,000 per annum, and since the duty on hides was removed the quantity of sole leather exported has so increased that the annual average for the last four years was about 37,000,000 pounds, 75 per cent of which was sold in England.

A well known manufacturer of shoes in Massachusetts published not long ago the results of his inquiries as to the growth and condition of the leather industries. "Statistics show," said he, "that since hides were placed on the free list there has been an increase of 70 per cent in the shoe business and of 125 per cent in the tanning industry." Two of the leading tanners in the country had informed him that there had been an increase of 15 per cent in wages in their industry since 1872.

A consideration of the growth and condition of the tanning industry naturally directs attention to the tariff upon that industry's products. Under the law of 1883 the duty on sole leather, bend leather and belting leather was 15 per cent. This was reduced to 10 per cent by the McKinley act. The Wilson bill as passed by the house does not disturb the present duty on bend and belting leather, but cuts down the rate on sole leather to 5 per cent. The official reports show that the value of the exports and imports of such leather for the last four years has been as follows:

	Imports.	Exports.
1890	$16,189	$6,420,134
1891	20,054	6,168,362
1892	24,969	5,783,555
1893	35,824	5,192,063

A duty of 5 per cent is very small, it is true, but we do not see why there should be any duty whatever on sole leather. The present duty of 10 per cent is of course virtually prohibitory, for the tanners are exporting sole leather to the value of $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 per annum, selling it in foreign lands in open competition with the sole leather of other countries.

If they can do this, why should they require a tariff duty to protect them at home against sales of foreign sole leather here? If they can undersell the foreigners in foreign markets, after paying ocean freight charges, surely they ought, with the same prices, to undersell them here after the foreigners have been handicapped by the same charges for transportation. As we have said, however, the proposed duty is very low, and the retention of it will not be a matter of much importance. But it should not be increased.—New York Times.

Price of Wheat and "Protection."

A late communication, dated Feb. 10 and signed "An Alien," published in your paper, prompts me to submit some figures which the farmers of Illinois should study. The information is gathered from the official report of the Chicago board of trade:

Average annual wheat crop of Illinois for 20 years—1870-89—bushels.	31,500,000
Average value in round figures	$27,900,000
Applying today's price to the average annual crop the farmer would realize, at 60 cents.	18,900,000
Loss	$9,000,000

Again, taking the official figures of the board of trade as a basis and comparing the average of the lowest annual price of wheat during the existence of the three tariffs—viz, the Morrill act of 1862, the commission tariff of 1883 and the McKinley bill of 1890—with the per cent of duty levied under those tariffs, we have the following:

	Per cent duty.	Av. low. price wheat.
Morrill tariff	34 1/2	88
Commission tariff	45 1/2	71 2/5
McKinley tariff	60	69

Showing the higher the tariff the lower wheat. For fear the present low price may be attributed to the panic, let us compare the present value of wheat with the lowest price ruling on the board of trade during the panic of 1873-4—viz, 1873, 89 cents; 1874, 81 1/2 cents. A still further proof that the above deduction is correct is found in the following facts: The lowest price ever recorded for wheat during the existence of the Morrill tariff occurred in the year 1870, when it was 73 1/2 cents; during the commission tariff in 1887, 55 1/2 cents, and during the McKinley tariff in 1894, 58 cents. How do the farmers of Illinois like "protection" on wheat at 25 cents per bushel, or how does any kind of protection with such results "strike them?"—"Another Alien" in Chicago Herald.

A Played Out Policy. "The-foreigner-pays-the-tax" policy has run to seed in Europe. The impoverished condition of the protected continental workmen has compelled Germany, Italy, Austria, France and Spain to modify their tariffs in the direction of unrestricted trade. The boomerang of protection comes back in the shape of a bomb.—Courier.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

as second-class matter.

FRIDAY, APRIL 27, 1894.

The senate should be brought back into touch with the people.

Why should wealth not be taxed for national revenue? An income tax is sure to be a part of the national system in the near future.

Protection according to Bastiat should write over the halls of legislation this motto: "Whoever has influence here, may have his share of the legalized pillage."

This country produces $5,000,000,000 worth of goods annually. Where are the people to come from to consume these goods, if the republican idea of a home market is to prevail?

During the six years David B. Hill was governor of New York, he never made a peep against the income tax law of that state. Why is he so bitterly opposed to an income tax now? Echo answers, why?

The majority in the senate should adopt a rule limiting debate. The long winded talks and readings from various books which opposition senators are preparing to fire off, will change no vote in the senate or outside. What the people want is the passage of the tariff bill at once. The less talk the better they will be suited.

A constitutional convention for the State of New York will convene on May 8. It will be composed of 175 members. This convention should have met, according to constitutional mandate in 1887, but the republican legislature refused to obey the constitution because a democratic governor would not allow the passage of a scandalously partisan measure.

Government is established for the purpose of protecting the person and property of its subjects. It should receive its support, therefore, from its subjects in proportion to the amount of protection afforded. Some are advantaged by government only to the extent of being protected in person and ability to make money, while others are directly benefitted through laws which discriminate in their favor, such as the protected manufacturers and sugar producers and others. No tax possessing a higher degree of justness can, therefore, be devised than an income tax which measures with exactness the benefit the government has been to its subjects. The income tax should by all means be an important source of government revenue.

The democratic party stands pledged to a reform of the tariff in the interest of revenue only. If the bill now pending in the senate is the most practicable embodiment of that principle obtainable at this time, it is the duty of every democrat to support the measure on the final vote. That it does not please each individual senator in every particular, is not sufficient reason to excuse any for voting against it. The party is under the most imperative obligations to the country in this matter and it must meet those obligations or stand discredited before the people. The final vote on this bill will be a vote for or against the democratic party, and no other possible interpretation can be placed upon it. Any democrat, therefore, who votes against the bill will vote to vitiate the hard earned victory of 1892, and cast the party out of power.

No more important words of wisdom and patriotism have been uttered in many a day than those which fell from the lips of Archbishop Ireland in a recent address before the Loyal Legion, of New York. The prominence, known ability and genuine Americanism of the Archbishop, together with his influential official relations with a large portion of our foreign born population, give to any words of counsel from him upon matters pertaining to the proper relations and duties of naturalized citizens the deepest significance. That he sees from the standpoint of the broadest and most patriotic Americanism, the true relations of foreigners who assume American citizenship, cannot be doubted. He says:

"This country is America; only they who are loyal to her can be allowed to live under her flag, and they who are loyal to her may enjoy all her liberties and rights. Freedom of all religion is accorded by the Constitution; religion is put outside state action, and most wisely so; therefore, the religion of the citizen must not be considered by voter or executive officer. The oath of allegiance to the country makes the man a citizen; if that allegiance is not plenary and supreme, he is false to his profession; if it is he is an American. Discriminations and segregations, in civil or political matters, on lines of birth place, or of race or language—and, I may add, or of color—is un-American and wrong. Compel all to be Americans, in soul as well as in name; and then let the standard of their value be their American citizenship."

The so called "conservatives" in the United States senate are but "herring" protectionists in disguise, the meanest, breed of all. They say they are in favor of a protective tariff equal to the difference between the wages paid here and foreign wages, which is the doctrine of the republican platform pure and simple. They leave the people in the dark also as to what foreign wages they mean. Perhaps they mean the wages of Canada and Australia which are practically the same as our own. They may mean the wages of England which are a little less, or the wages of Germany or Italy, or even of Egypt or India which are from eight to twelve cents a day. They fail to tell the people what the difference of wages is in these different countries in proportion to the amount of work done. They do not explain either how they will make up the difference between the lower wages paid here in the coal mines and the wages in the only countries which compete with us in coal. Perhaps they would put a premium on imported coal. Then how are they to distribute this difference to the laborers? Were any of them ever known to pay their workmen a dollar more than they were obliged to on account of the extra profits accruing on account of the government favoritism? All such talk to the effect that protection gives to labor better wages and must be retained for the benefit of labor is mere vamping to deceive the unwary. The only way to protect labor is by the methods adopted for the protection of manufacturers, viz., by laying a tax upon foreign laborers who would come here. The "conservatives" should remove their disguise, go over to the party where they belong and become at least honest protectionists.

THE DISEASE AND THE REMEDY.

For thirty years the policy of a protective tariff has held the undisputed right of way in this country. Each succeeding change, and there have been many, has been in the direction of more distinctive protectionism. All industries desiring protection have received practically all they asked. No principle or policy was ever given a fairer trial. It is still in full operation, and yet the industries of the country, according to the most approved republican authority, are flat. If this policy is all that is claimed for it, it is folly to argue that the mere apprehension of a slight reduction of tariff rates, could cause such an industrial stagnation as exists throughout the length and breadth of the land. An industrial policy which, after a third of a century of unquestioned supremacy, will leave the business interests of the nation in such a precarious condition as to need but the mere breath of apprehension to sweep them from what ought to be rock foundation, must have inherent weaknesses which are fatal to its claims. Furthermore, the premonitions of the coming storm were unmistakable long before the people declared for tariff reform in 1892. In fact the germs of the disease from which the country is suffering are inherent in the policy of protection itself. Similar crises have marked its history throughout. The great panic of 1873 came upon the country when there was not the least apprehension of a change of policy, and threw 3,000,000 men out of employment. Strikes, lockouts and great labor unrest in those industries most heavily protected, have marked its entire course. How could such a policy be expected to operate otherwise? It was designed to operate in the interest of the few at the expense of the many. It has tended directly to the concentration of wealth in the hands of the few, and the corresponding impoverishment of the masses. Claiming to operate in the interest of labor, it has robbed labor to enrich the manufacturer. The manufacturer has absorbed practically all the profits of the government favoritism, and whenever labor has made a demand for its share, it has been locked out and its place supplied by the very dregs of the labor population of Europe. And so unfair has been the division of the profits of protection that even this ignorant foreign labor has repeatedly rebelled against the degradation to which it was subjected, as soon as it became acquainted with the conditions of its environment. The whole system being artificial and unnatural, has led to a corresponding development of certain industries and an overstocking of the market with various protected products. This in turn has resulted in the closing down of the mills and a constant disturbance in the labor market. The remedy for this condition of things lies in the direction of a change of policy, a "separation of government and taxation from the control of private and selfish influences." As the removal of the restrictions and discriminations laid on the commerce between the states under the confederation resulted in immediate and lasting improvement in all kinds of trade, so now the abolition of duties laid in the interest of protection would undoubtedly result in the removal of many of the causes of the present industrial depression and revival and improvement in the business of the whole country.

Montmorency's County Seat.

GAYLORD, April 23.—The latest news from Atlanta, the county seat of Montmorency county, seems to indicate that Lewiston will not secure the county seat, which was voted to the latter place at the last election. It appears that the Lewiston people (Albert township) colonized a lot of voters besides rushing about 80 in the township from Waters. Judge Emerick of Alpena appeared before the board and induced them to throw out Albert township on account of gross frauds.

This action of the board was unanimous with the exception of Mantz of Albert voting no. Mr. Avery of Alpena, who is largely interested in Montmorency county, donated a site for the new courthouse and also the brick for its construction, whereupon the board accepted his proposition and immediately voted moneys out of the treasury for the construction of county buildings.

The Train Ran Five Miles Without Steam.

A marvelous race, up grade and down, in which momentum was the motive power, took place on the Consolidated road Saturday. Five miles below Stamford the cylinder head of the big engine, No. 247, blew out while the train was making express time. Instead of stopping and getting stalled, Engineer Scofield let the machine have its head and pulled into Stamford station on time, and not even the conductor knew that anything was the matter until the engineer called for another engine and No. 144 was put on and pulled the train to this city. The five miles were run without a pound of steam and solely on the momentum the train was under when the mishap took place.—New Haven Palladium.

A SUGAR BOUNTY MAP

INSTRUCTIVE IN SOME WAYS, BUT FAILS OF ITS PURPOSE.

It Shows That the Country Is Paying $10,000,000 Per Year to Support an Industry Yielding $7,500,000 Profit—The Country Taxed to Support the Cane-fields.

A small map of this large country is distributed gratuitously where it is expected to serve its purpose best, with the compliments of Delgado & Co. It is instructive in various ways, besides being in some respects picturesque. It shows how all roads lead to the sugar cane-fields of Louisiana. An explanatory remark in manuscript states that it shows how "other sections" will be "affected" by the murder of the sugar industry "by the Wilson bill as it now stands."

Upon its face are depicted numerous trains of cars, said to be loaded, some with fruit from California, others with meat from the wild west, others with oil and coal from Pennsylvania, others with grain from various sections, others with manufactures of different kinds from the east, others with cow peas from the Carolinas and so on, and all destined to the cane-fields of Louisiana. Besides the trains there are vessels on the exaggerated bosom of the Mississippi, on the gulf and on the Atlantic careering majestically toward the same destination. The inference suggested is that if the cane growing industry should be slain by the Wilson bill all this commerce would cease, and all sections of the country would be involved in the Louisiana ruin, even as the Philistines perished with Samson when that mighty man of muscle pulled down the pillars of the temple.

A summary statement in the margin conveys the information that the total value of the commodities shipped annually to the cane-fields from all parts of the country is $29,910,000, and that those fields yield $25,000,000 worth of products. It follows that the fields do not produce enough to pay for what they get from other parts of the country, the deficit being $4,910,000 annually. This is an instructive exhibit. It would be more so if accompanied by an explanation of the way in which this deficit is made good. Perhaps it is not made good. In that case the loss must fall upon the people of other sections who supply the beef, wheat, oil, mules, cow peas and other things, and the trade might better be destroyed than not.

The further information is imparted that the \$25,000,000 worth of cane products support 600,000 people. That gives each of them \$41.66 $\frac{2}{3}$  annually for support. This also is instructive. It shows at once how unprofitable the cane growing industry is, and how little it takes to support a person in southern Louisiana.

The point of it all is that the bounty of 2 cents a pound must be kept up, or the market for $29,910,000 worth of products from all parts of the country will be destroyed. Calling 25 per cent of that sum profits, which is a liberal allowance, the entire profit on this trade would be $7,477,500. But the bounty last year exceeded $10,000,000 a year for trade yielding a profit of less than $7,500,000. The people would be better off to let the trade go and keep in their pockets what they pay in bounty to the cane-growers.

But there is no danger of losing the trade. The people of Louisiana may produce less sugar if they get no bounty, but they will produce more cotton, more rice and more of various other things. They are not going to stop producing if the bounty is stopped. They will produce about as much as ever and will be able to buy about as much from the people of other sections. There will be about the same trade and the same profit, and the bounty will be saved to taxpayers.—Chicago Herald.

Ax Trust Reduces Wages.

Another reduction of wages in the factories of the American Ax and Tool company is announced, and of course the employees are told that the Wilson bill is the cause. A reduction was ordered on Dec. 30, and it was then said in press dispatches that during the year then closing the workmen's wages had "been reduced several times." The American Ax and Tool company is a combination that was originally composed of fourteen factories. It was formed while McKinley and his associates were making their tariff bill, and we published some time ago the testimony of a member of the combination that after the organization had been completed the price of axes was increased by $2 a dozen.

This is the combination that said, in a letter addressed to Senator Aldrich two years ago, which he published, that "American manufacturers (of axes) supply the world." This was an admission that the combined manufacturers were exporting axes and underselling foreign manufacturers in foreign countries. It follows that the industry needs no protective duty to enable it to control the home market absolutely if its prices here are as low as its prices abroad. But the Wilson bill gives these manufacturers a duty of 35 per cent, which, on account of the reduction or removal of duties on raw material, is about equal to the present duty of 45 per cent. It will be rather difficult, in view of all these facts, for the combination to prove that the change of the duty has compelled the several reductions of wages which have taken place.—New York Times.

SUICIDE AT SAGINAW.

Sherman Tenney Found Dead In His Room.

WAS SIXTY-SIX YEARS OF AGE.

The Victim Found Hanging by a Rope With His Head Nearly on the Floor. Death Evidently Resulted From Strangulation—No Cause Known For the Strange Act.

SAGINAW, April 25.—Sherman Tenney, an old man 63 years of age, was found dead in his room, having committed suicide in a strange manner. He was found hanging by a rope with his head a few inches from the floor, having laid down as one would go to sleep, with his feet and the greater part of his body resting on the floor, but his head slightly elevated. Death must have resulted from slow strangulation and the suffering endured must have been intense.

The proprietor of the hotel at which Tenney boarded has known him for years and says that he knows of no reason for his strange act. He was employed regularly, but was always quiet and strange in his actions.

Some years ago he had some matrimonial difficulties while residing in Boston, having lost considerable property and all ambition in life, it is supposed that this as much as anything led him to take his own life.

Changes in the Game Laws Suggested.

FARWELL, April 25.—The subject of game and fish protection has been agitating the sportsmen of this vicinity lately, and to afford better protection in isolated counties, where the supervisors are lawbreakers as well as law-makers, the following changes in the game laws are suggested: That county game wardens be appointed, subject to same conditions of pay as deputy sheriffs, and with like power. This will enable the warden to get pay for his labor, where now he is obliged to depend on the board of supervisors, as was the case in Clare county last fall; the board refused to reward him for his work, for the reason, probably, that one of the convicted men was a member of the board of supervisors. It is also proposed to change the opening of the trout season to April 15 and close Aug. 15, the reason for this change being that the trout are very heavy with spawn the latter part of August, and prohibition from capture will materially aid the fish commission in stocking the streams. These changes are approved by William B. Merston, Vincent Kinder and other enthusiastic sportsmen of Saginaw.

Michigan Patents.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The following patents have been granted to Michigan inventors: Lewis A. Aspinwall, assignor to Aspinwall Manufacturing company, Jackson, potato cutter (reissue); Andrew Beers, Danville, paddle propeller; Robert M. Bidleman, Adrian, apparatus for the manufacture of gas; Solomon Chambers, assignor of one-half to J. G. Myers, Bay City, reclining chair; Thomas Craney, Bay City, grate; Claude Heme, Bay City, stove pipe fastener; Thomas H. Hicks, Detroit, armature for dynamo electric machines or electric motors; William H. Merritt, Minden, fence wire carrier and stretcher; Frederick W. Nall, assignor to G. Huntington, H. E. Kenny and S. L. Slade, Detroit, coin counter and deliverer; John R. Oliver, assignor of one-half to W. H. Oliver, Portage, egg crate; Charles H. W. Relyea, North Adams, car coupling; George B. Richmond, Lansing, dental disk carrier; John F. Shepard, Jackson, vehicle brake; Duncan Symington, assignor of one-half to Frontier Ironworks, Detroit, steam engine governor; George S. Tiffany, Tecumseh, clay working mill; Edward D. Weston, assignor of one-half to R. Gage and B. D. Legg, Jackson, fine cleaner.

The Parsons Case.

SAGINAW, April 25.—The question is now asked, will Newell B. Parsons, the alleged bond stealer, be tried in the circuit court? One of the judges upon being asked the question stated that it would not only be impossible, but improper, for the court to say when the trial would come off, and that so far as far as the court was concerned it has not yet had notice of any such case. The general rule when there is much criminal business and there are a number of prisoners in the county jail is to take up criminal business the first part of the term, but the judge said that it would be impossible to say whether that course would be pursued or not. Parsons expressed himself as perfectly satisfied with the new developments and did not seem affected in any way. He appeared to be in excellent spirits.

While doing so he tripped in a hole in the roadbed and had his arm terribly crushed, necessitating amputation above the elbow. Lately mortification is said to have set in on the stump as a result of the injuries and Mr. Breen is said now to be at the point of death.

Says He Killed Two Men.

VAN COUVER, Wash., April 25.—Howard Nolan, arrested here last week, admits that his name is John Howard Nolan of Harlan C. H., Ky., and that in the year 1891 he killed Edward Pace and John Selzer about eight miles from Harlan C. H. He strenuously denies ever having killed a woman. ### ANOTHER LARGE CROWD

Called Out by the Trial of Parsons.

MANY TURNED FROM THE DOOR.

Confinement Seems to Be Telling on the Prisoner—Friends Assure Him Their Confidence is Unshaken—Opposing Lawyers Cause General Laughter by Exchanging Chews After a Fierce Tilt.

SAGINAW, April 23.—The continuance of the examination of Newell B. Parsons on the charge of grand larceny in the taking of $468,000 in Cincinnati, Saginaw and Mackinaw railroad bonds from the vault of Wells, Stone & Company, called out another large crowd Saturday afternoon, many representative ladies being present. The officers had great difficulty in keeping the surging mass of humanity back and when the doors of the courtroom were closed several hundred people were turned away.

The testimony of E. P. Stone, A. W. Wright, Floyd W. Packard, Herbert Aldrich and W. T. Knowlton was read over to them by the stenographer, and signed after some minor corrections and additions had been made. E. P. Stone stated in addition to his previous testimony that the defendant never had the bonds in his custody either before or at the time they were taken, also that Nat Wright had been in the employ of the company three years. He knew him as a boy in school. Wright was first employed by the A. W. Wright Lumber company in the lumber department, which department was in charge of Wells, Stone & Company.

The continuance of the examination was adjourned until this afternoon, when Fred W. Knight and several other witnesses will have their testimony read to them before appending their signatures.

Parsons, who was the cynosure of all eyes, toyed with a memorandum book while E. P. Stone was on the stand, varying his time by fixing a piercing glance on the witness. He was dressed with his usual care, and wore a large red rose in the lapel of his coat. The confinement seems to be telling upon him and a careworn, anxious look stole over his face every now and then. Both his brothers were present, and when the hour of adjournment came, numerous friends rushed up to Parsons and assured him that their confidence was unshaken.

Prosecuting Attorney Snow says that the complaint already made charging Parsons with grand larceny in taking the books from the Wells, Stone & Company vault will be changed to-day, simply by including the larceny of jewelry, the value of which is now estimated to be $5,000 instead of $2,000, as before stated. Prosecuting Attorney Snow and Dan P. Foote, one of Parsons' attorneys, after a fierce tilt exchanged chews of tobacco and smiled benignantly at each other amid general laughter, in which Parsons heartily joined.

VERY EASY TO IMITATE.

Parsons So Remarkable of a Signature.

SOME DAMAGING TESTIMONY GIVEN.

Only Three Persons Authorized to Sign Checks For Wells, Stone & Company.

SAGINAW, April 26.—The examination of Newell B. Parsons, the alleged bond stealer, on the charge of forging a $5,000 check on Wells, Stone & Company, was taken up in the municipal court Wednesday morning.

W. T. Knowlton, confidential man for A. W. Wright, who visited Wells, Stone & Company's office every day in the interests of Mr. Wright, and in the absence of Mr. Stone had the exclusive right to sign checks, never signed a check payable to Parsons' order for $5,000, and never authorized any such check.

Samuel Borland, head of the logging department of the firm, had 50 or 60 blank checks during the time he was connected with the firm. To his knowledge Parsons had not been given checks signed in blank since Jan. 1.

E. Solmes, teller of the First National bank, testified to cashing a check on March 9 for $5,000 drawn to the order of N. B. Parsons and purporting to be signed by E. P. Stone, under the usual stamp. He cashed another check for Wells, Stone & Company the same day, and noticed a difference of over 700 in the numbers of the checks.

James Montross, stenographer for Wells, Stone & Company, gave the only sensational testimony offered. He received vouchers from the bank bookkeeper and gave them to Parsons. In the middle of March Parsons called the attention of the witness to the signature of E. P. Stone, and remarked that it was a "dead easy" signature, and expressed the belief that he (Parsons) could duplicate it so that an expert could not tell the difference.

The prosecution then rested, and the case was adjourned until this morning. It is rumored that the books and other valuables of the firm have not been destroyed, as first reported, but that Parsons knows where they are and will produce them at a time when he thinks they will do him the most good.

There are also numerous stories about the bonds, one being that he can prove that he had a right to do with them as he did and acted in good faith.

After Illegal Fisherman. FLINT, April 26.—C. E. Brewster of Grand Rapids, deputy state game and fish warden, has made a complaint against John Goff of Montrose for violating the fish laws.

iam Hartsuff of Port Huron has resigned as member of the municipal commission appointed by Governor Rich, pursuant to a resolution of the last legislature, to frame a general bill under which cities and villages can incorporate, and thus do away with the vast amount of municipal legislation which occupies the greater portion of each legislative session, and Hon. Mark S. Brewer of Pontiac has been appointed his successor.

Health of the State. LANSING, April 26.—Reports to the state board of health show rheumatism, neuralgia, bronchitis, influenza, tonsillitis in order named, causing the most sickness in Michigan during the week ending April 21. Scarlet fever is reported at 49 places, measles at 37, diphtheria at 21, typhoid fever at 10 and smallpox at 3 places. Consumption was reported present by 46 per cent of the observers making weekly card reports.

Pardoned by Governor Rich. LANSING, April 26.—Governor Rich has pardoned Henry Grandahl, sent from the recorder's court, Detroit, May 25, 1893, to the Detroit house of correction, for two years for receiving stolen property. The pardon was recommended by the complaining witness, trial judge, prosecuting attorney and pardon board. Grandahl's former employer agreed to give him work.

Coruna Coal Miners Strike. OWOSSO, April 26.—The 60 coal miners at the Coruna mines, four miles from this city, have joined the general strike. The strike is sanctioned by the owners of the mines, who will help the men hold out until the price of mining soft coal is brought up to a living figure.

Stricken With Paralysis. ADRIAN, April 26.—Justice George W. Westerman was stricken down with paralysis while on the street, and was taken home unconscious, and lies in a critical condition. It is the third attack, and no hope is entertained of his recovery.

Hurt In a Runaway. BATTLE CREEK, April 26.—A horse belonging to W. H. Brownell ran away. It collided with Charles Robinson, breaking three ribs and cutting him seriously about the face.

It is reported that Bert Parkhurst of Ionia has fallen heir to $50,000,000. James Bennett of Coloma had several of his teeth knocked out and his face badly cut while trying to shift a belt from one pulley to the other.

For several days past a big marsh up in Muskegon township, Muskegon county, has been burning, defying all efforts that have been made to quench it.

Grand Rapids has a "cycle association" composed entirely of married people. The club now has a membership of about 70 couples of the best people of the city.

Three boys went hunting on Mountain lake, near Hesperia, recently, and one of them, named Easton, was accidentally shot while pulling a gun toward him. He may live.

Work on the new county buildings at Atlanta will be commenced very soon. O. Avery of Alpena has promised to build them for nothing, provided they are placed on his land.

Ann Arbor High School.

Two examinations this week in botany and first term rhetoric for those who had these studies to make up. At a senior class meeting held last Tuesday, the class decided to have a picture taken. The sitting will probably be given inside of one or two weeks, the decision as to the time being left to a committee appointed for the purpose. The S. C. A. meeting this afternoon will be led by Miss Maud Hess. Subject, "Ignorance of Christ." The remarks made by Prof. Perry in chapel, Tuesday, were very appropriate. All of our students should attend to paying their tuition as soon as possible after the commencement of a new term, for even with the present arrangements, there is an endless amount of work connected with the crediting of those who have paid. Let those who are the habitually tardy ones in this respect see to it that they are more prompt in the future. The baseball game last Saturday afternoon between our team and the Detroit high school was a very good one from the first. Very little kicking was done and the Detroit boys distinguished themselves for being very gentlemanly fellows. The home team did some excellent work. The pitching of Norris and the wide-awake playing of Hartman helped a great deal to win the game. The score was 17 to 7 in favor of the Ann Arbor high school. In spite of the rain and the bad walking there were probably 300 spectators. Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock there will be another game between our boys and the Normal nine. Everyone should go out and see the boys play. The game is to be played at the Athletic grounds and the admission for gentlemen is 25 cents, while the ladies will be admitted free. The president of the senior class has appointed the committee on arrangements for the senior banquet. The committee is as follows; Mr. W. E. Turton, chairman, Messrs. Weinstein, Danforth, Waite, James Noble, and Misses Cole, Mack, Flagg, Clark and McOmber. Tomorrow evening in the chapel there will be an entertainment given for the benefit of the Athletic association. The following programme speaks for itself;

MUSIC.

Flower Scene from Ingomar, Act II, Scene I. Ingomar, Mr. J. S. Handy; Parthenia, Miss Clarabel McMonagle. 6. Jennie Brown's Sister's Wedding, Miss Pauline Wurster. 7. Sasca, Mr. C. G. Clark. 8. The Classical Parson, Miss Cora Orcutt. 9. Sam's Letter, Mr. J. S. Handy. 10. Scene from "Uncle Tom's Cabin," Miss Ophelia, Miss Agnes Pfeifle; Topsy, Miss N. Mingay. The admission to the entertainment is but 10 cents, and all of our students should attend. The programme commences at 7:45.

The Home vs. the School.

EDITOR ARGUS:—A woman wonders while reading the article in last week's Argus, in regard to having cooking and sewing taught as a special branch in our public schools. I wonder if the children of Ann Arbor had no mothers. If they have mothers why are not these things taught at home? A mother's first and highest duty should be to teach her daughters the habits of industry and thrift and all the cardinal virtues which lie at the foundation of our homes. It is folly to suppose that anything learned by a child at school can make up for the loss of the mothers training at home. The children are already taken too much from the home, while the mothers are rushing with speed to educational clubs, sewing school, charitable union, Political Equality club, lectures, etc., ad-infinitum. I meet them upon every street, at all hours of the day, rushing breathlessly away, making haste to be wise. But is it wisdom? Is there not also a large amount of mis-applied charity in Ann Arbor making garments to sell at half cost to people who are abundantly able to pay what a thing is worth, teaching children to sew whose mothers are perfectly capable of teaching them at home? Is it not true that all this tends to encourage idleness and shiftless methods in the younger generation? Have we not had enough of this nonsense, feeding the vanity of a few idle women by helping them to increase our pauperism by taking away the independence of our future men and women? If it is true that cooking and sewing must be taught in our schools, is there not something radically wrong in our home life? Is it not the part of wisdom to halt a moment or two and try to find out "where we are at?" The nurture of the Christian home supersedes all else, and when mothers let go this anchor, then are we in deep water indeed. This is what a woman thought while spending a few months' in Ann Arbor and being greatly amused at seeing the "wheels go round."

Arctic Expedition.

The Yale News says that an Arctic expedition is being organized under the direction of Dr. F. A. Cook, ethnologist of the recent Perry expedition. A number of Harvardites are going, and according to the report, Michigan University will be represented by ten men. Pres. Angell has heard nothing concerning our representation on the proposed trip. He thinks, however, some interest might be aroused among the boys to go on a skating party.

Fruit and Flower Mission.

During the year the mission has enabled three patients to remain in the hospitals, each for several weeks. On Easter Sunday fruit was distributed among the patients, and Easter lillies placed in the wards. In the afternoon several friends of the mission entertained the patients with music, giving two or three songs, and selections on the guitar, 'cello and flute. The contributions to the funds of the mission from different boarding houses, fraternities and S. C. A. amount to $103.25.

Will Take a Vacation. LANSING, April 23.—Mrs. Henry D. Sleeper of Lansing and Mrs. Elizabeth E. Haight of Ludington, clerks in the state department, have been notified by Secretary Gardner that their services will not be required after May 1, until work is commenced on the computation of the state census which is to be taken in June.

Sold For $100,000.

PAW PAW, April 23.—The foreclosure sale of the Toledo and South Haven railroad took place Saturday. It was bought by Howard Mansfield, the representative of the bondholders. The seller was John S. Lawrence, master in chancery, and the price $100,000.

STATE ITEMS.

The electric light company of Mason paints its line poles white and bright red. The postoffice at Harris, Ingham county, has been discontinued. Mail will go to Webberville. Crosswell Odd Fellows have recently added $200 worth of furniture and fixtures to their lodgerooms. The Gratiot County Agricultural association will hold their annual fair the last week in September. The Plymouth Fair association announces that it will hold its 10th annual meeting on Sept. 25 to 28. Mrs. S. Wheeler of Newark, Gratiot county, who is 76 years of age, has just finished a quilt containing 4,940 pieces. The union conference of the Young People's Society Christian Endeavor of Sanilac and Huron counties, will meet at Port Sanilac April 26 and 27. Carsonville has a fire engine, but no company to man it, and the enterprising citizens are taking steps toward properly organizing a fire company. The large stove and heading mill owned by C. W. Althouse, which burned at Ithaca recently, has been rebuilt and is one of the finest and best equipped mills in the state. The citizens of Ithaca subscribed $2,500 towards retaining the location of the mill.

GROWING IN INTENSITY.

An Underground Fire Raging at Evansville, Ind. EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 23.—The combined efforts of the Evansville fire department and hundreds of workmen, who are digging trenches and filling them with water, have failed to check a fire here that has been growing in intensity for several days. The fire started in a slab pile on Pigeon creek and territory embracing several acres of reclaimed ground, filled in mostly with slabs and logs and then covered with several feet of earth, is now on fire. The firebed is about 20 feet deep. On this territory is a large furniture factory, the terminals, freight and passenger depots and roundhouse of the Peoria, Decatur and Evansville railroad, all of which, besides millions of feet of lumber and logs and numerous small buildings, are threatened with destruction. There is talk of using dynamite to tear up the reclaimed ground in the hope of heading off the fire and saving the property.

Gambling Houses Will Be Closed.

DENVER, April 23.—In obedience to the order issued by the new police and fire board all gambling houses will be closed at noon today. The proprietors will evade the law by moving their establishments to Colfax, a suburban town but a few miles from the center of the city and easily reached by street car lines. Already several of the houses have established games there which are run openly day and night.

Eight Prisoners Escape.

PERRY, O. T., April 23.—Eight prisoners escaped from the county jail here by cutting their way through the roof. Otto Riley, one of the escaped prisoners, is the notorious outlaw jailed some time ago on the charge of highway robbery. Wright Manley, another escaped prisoner, is a notorious outlaw, and is said to belong, with Riley, to a gang to liberate them. The other six prisoners were accused of grand larceny.

THE MYSTERY EXPLAINED.

Frank Hatton Reviews In Facetious Style Senator Morgan's Hawaiian Report. Some day, in the sweet by and by, perhaps, we shall know exactly what Senator Morgan's report on the Hawaiian investigation really means. We shall know whether it is intended as a manly demonstration of American sentiment or a suave and servile whitewashing of a discreditable blunder—whether it is a shriek of the noble bird of freedom or the still small warble of the lowly cuckoo. For the present we are able to disentangle from the bewildering labyrinth of its language one isolated fact of moment—the fact that Mr. Morgan and a majority of the committee with him believe in the annexation of the islands. Out of that wild and tossing sea of rhetoric we have succeeded in snatching this lonely derelict. But all the rest of it is enveloped in a tender haze of volubility, which, while it accomplishes wonders in the way of stimulating guesswork, is valueless as a guide to definite conclusions. The utterance appears to be confused with however and notwithstanding and moreover, and there is in it an opulence of "if so, why not" profundity that baffles exact analysis.

According to this astonishing document, everybody connected with the Hawaiian incident behaved like a statesman, a scholar, a hero and a patriot. Mr. Stevens was correct, and so was Mr. Blount. President Dole is a great man on the right track, and Liliuokalani a perfect lady, if somewhat in distress. The United States authorities acted wisely in recognizing the queen's downfall, and the administration has kept well within its lawful powers in trying to set her up again. In a word, the report furnishes a common ground upon which all men may meet and where all sorts of opinions can find encouragement and sympathy.

As we say, there is just one downright proposition to which the bewildered citizen may cling, and that is the clear, unequivocal and unmitigated declaration by seven out of the nine parties to the report that they favor the annexation of Hawaii by the United States.—Washington Post.

A REMARKABLE CURE.

A Case of Piles of Eighteen Year's Standing Cured by Pyramid Pile Cure.

There are plenty of pile cures which give relief and sometimes cure a mild case of piles, but there is only one which can be depended upon with certainty to cure obstinate long standing cases, and that is the Pyramid Pile Cure.

Endorsements and testimonials are received daily from men and women whose integrity and reliability are above question, and in this connection a letter received from the Rev. Jas. H. Westbrook, of Browne, Mich., may be of interest to pile sufferers who have sought in vain for a cure. He says: I have used the Pyramid Pile Cure and I know that it is all that is claimed for it. I had been troubled with piles more or less for about eighteen years and I had tried other remedies, but the piles grew worse until about ten months ago I used the Pyramid Pile Cure. It gave almost instant relief and I have been free from piles ever since. Rev. Jas. H. Westbrook.

The remedy seems to act equally well in every form of piles, blind, bleeding, protruding, or itching. It stops all pain almost immediately, allays irritation and removes constipation, and anyone who has suffered the annoyance and pain of a rectal trouble will appreciate the excellent results which invariably follow the first application of the Pyramid.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is prepared by the Pyramid Drug Co., of Albion, Mich., and sold by druggists everywhere at one dollar per package.

LOST IN ALASKAN WILDS.

An Explorer's Disregard of His Companions' Advice Costs Him His Life.

Death from either starvation or exposure in the biting winter weather of southwestern Alaska or perhaps suicide as the only means of avoiding the horrible fate in store for himself—such is the fate of M. Gross, a Canadian surveyor.

Gross, with four companions, left Fort Wrangle on the 29th of January, the party intending to hunt, fish and perhaps do some prospecting. When they got to Portage bay, they made permanent camp. It was early morning, and Gross told his companions that he intended to dive a little into the interior and would be back before night.

He was cautioned against going out alone, as it was known that he was not familiar with the surrounding country, and it was feared that he might get lost in the woods. He disregarded the advice of his companions, however, and at 6 o'clock the same evening the other members of the party heard a shot in the brush some few miles distant. They hailed and by other signs tried to guide Gross back to camp, but were not successful. The whole of the next day was spent in the search, which had to be finally given up.

Gross is said to have been from Victoria. He was last year a member of the Canadian survey party sent up to Alaska to officially determine the territory's boundary line.—Seattle Press-Times.

Income Tax Stands.

In studying the tariff bill as reported to the finance committee the parrots should not overlook the significant fact that the income tax is one of the few features of the bill that were left untouched. As it stands in the bill, the income tax invites opposition that would not be challenged by a bill properly framed. But even in this unsatisfactory form the crucial ordeal of the senate committee room, in which all the malcontents took their turn at mutilating the bill, has proved that the tax is too strong both in and out of congress to be successfully assailed.—New York World.

The Canon Smokes Cigarettes.

Those who delight in discovering inconsistencies in personal conduct are pointing out that Canon Wilberforce, the new canon of Westminster, is an inveterate cigarette smoker, says a London correspondent. He has for years waged a fierce crusade against intemperance, the opium trade and vivisection.
