What was Torrid? The Weather and the School Election.

A JUMP THAT COST A LEG AND TWO TOES.

The Mayor Scorches the Water Company The Schools and the Fair.—General Steedman and the Battle Flags.—Circus.—Uncle Tom.

Struck a Snap in the West.

Dr. B. C. Burt, of this city has accepted a position in the Colorado University as Professor of Philosophy and Pedagogy. Dr. Burt is a scholarly gentleman a translator of several standard German works and is himself the author of an able English Work entitled "History of Philosophy, Ancient and Modern." The doctor will shortly remove to his new field.

The Primary Schools.

At the public meeting held at the council room, Saturday evening, to name a ticket to be voted at the election yesterday, Capt. Manly was made chairman and John Duffy secretary. After ballots, John R. Miner, Ewart H. Scott and John V. Sheehan were nominated. Mr. Bach, who had served continuously for 41 years, might have had a re-nomination, but he declined to serve longer.

A resolution was passed unanimously, thanking Mr. Bach for his many years of faithful, efficient and equitable services. It was a record of which Mr. Bach may indeed feel proud; and that his service is appreciated is doubtless a source of gratification to him.

An Awful Jump.

Saturday night Wirt Maston and Joseph Kennedy, of this city, young men, jumped aboard the platform of the Detroit bound Central train, to steal a ride to Detroit. Near West Detroit, Maston's hat blew off and he jumped after it, calling on Kennedy to do likewise, which he did, and fell under the train, where the right leg was so injured that it was subsequently amputated at Emergency hospital.

Maston was bruised against a pile of railroad ties, but not dangerously hurt. Kennedy's cries brought railroad men, who took him on a stretcher to the freight house and thence by ambulance to the hospital. Maston is now at home, and Kennedy's mother is with him at the hospital.

The Mayor on the Water Co.

At the council meeting last night, Mayor Darling sent in a message concerning the Water company and its water that "behold the ears of him that heareth it shall tingle." The mayor's stomach was badly out of order, on account of the quality of fluid the water company was furnishing, and he had a very "bad taste in the mouth." It was the mayor's opinion that there were too many things in the water that ought not to be there, and that in consequence the water had a smell of over-ripeness that suggested "something rotten in Denmark." The mayor advised the termination of the contract with the company.

A committee was appointed by President Wines to act with the existing water committee to conduct an inquest on the water works and make a report.

Schools and the Fair.

The educational department of the fair will not go ragged at the knees and run down at the heel, if the premiums offered are a warrant for interest. The Agricultural and Horticultural sections offer premiums:

1. For largest percentage of graded school (Ann Arbor city excepted), $20. Second premium, $15, for attendance at fair, Wednesday, Sept. 26.
 2. Highest per cent of children from district schools within 10 miles of Ann Arbor, two, first and second premium flags.
 3. Highest per cent of attendance from more than ten miles, two flags, 1st and 2d premiums.
 4. Largest percentage of attendance, on the 26th, of city schools up to and including the 8th grade, $15 and $10 premium.
- The 26th will be the great school day. Questions may be addressed to M. J. Cavanaugh, Ann Arbor.

The School Election.

It was hot. There were 988 votes cast. The rush of voting scorched the ballots as they swished into the box. The men worked hard and the women harder. Talk about your recipes for making jam! None of them can come up to a mixed school meeting when the interest is warm.

The candidates voted for were: Ewart H. Scott, John V. Sheehan, John R. Miner, Emma E. Bower, Mrs. A. B. Stevens, Mrs. L. C. Burt. A ticket bearing the names of John R. Miner, Emma E. Bower and Ewart H. Scott, Mr. Sheehan's name being left off, was extensively voted by ladies, although they disclaimed responsibility for it. Many split tickets found their way into the box. The vote resulted as follows: Ewart H. Scott, 582; John R. Miner, 660; Emma E. Bower, 524; John V. Sheehan, 470; Mrs. Stevens, 395; Mrs. Burt, 382. Miner, Scott and Bower were declared elected.

The question of continuing German in the ward schools was laid on the table for one year.

The appropriations asked for were voted.

Ringling Brothers' Circus.

Ringling Brothers' Worlds Greatest Shows have been vastly enlarged this season, and will exhibit in Ypsilanti, Tuesday, Sept. 18. The event will be a memorable one, for this great amusement enterprise now stands at the head of all the great circuses of the world. This proud eminence is the reward of years of untiring effort on the part of this great quintette of managers. In their efforts to give the public each successive season some new and hitherto undreamed of novelty, they have compelled every clime, habitable and uninhabitable, to pay tribute to their enterprise. The jungles of Africa and the pampas of the southern hemisphere have given up their treasures for this vast concourse of zoological, ethnological and aquatic marvels. The list of great riders embraces Miss Josie Ashton, Mike Rooney, the Ross Sisters and other celebrities. The Orient furnishes Atimoto's troupe of Japanese equilibrist and an entire tribe of Arabs. The menagerie presents the only Giraffe in America, the largest Hippopotamus in captivity and a thousand other zoological novelties. The horse fair will be a revelation to lovers of fine stock. The hippodrome races, given upon a great quarter-mile track, combine the best features of the modern turf, with the most exciting contests of the days when Rome was at the pinnacle of her power. The street procession which ushers in circus day, stands alone as the most resplendent spectacle ever exhibited free upon the streets of any city in the world.

Gen. Steedman and the Flag.

From Col. H. S. Dean's address and history of the now restored 22d Infantry battle flag, delivered at Pontiac on the 30th, is taken the following:

Maj. Gen. Steedman, speaking of the conduct of the regiment at Chamauga, Ga., said: "The 22d Michigan saved the Union army that day." As the shades of night were gathering the Union forces were withdrawn, leaving the 22d Michigan Infantry to hold the position it had captured, at a fearful cost of life and precious blood. On the morning of Sept. 20, 1863, there were present for duty 534 men. Co. B, with 60 men, was detailed for guard duty at Gen. Granger's headquarters, and 40 men were left in camp, leaving 484 officers and men who went into the engagement. Of this number more than 18 per cent, almost 90 per cent, were killed or wounded, being a larger loss than was sustained by any other Michigan regiment during the war, in any single engagement. While bearing this flag aloft on that terrible Sunday afternoon, Color Sergt. Philo G. Durkey, of Co. A, was struck in the breast by a grape shot, and fell forward clasp ing it to his heart, placing the seal of his devotion upon its folds. Corp. Richard A. Stansell, of Co. H, took these colors from brave Durkey's dying embrace, and he, too, sealed his devotion to this flag with his life. Corp. Pearl L. Mitchell, of Co. A, grasped the colors and raised them aloft amid the fearful leaden hail; a shot carried away his left arm, when Corp. Jonathan A. Vincent, of Co. C, seized and waved them defiantly in the face of the enemy, but he, too, soon fell severely wounded, when Sergt. Oscar Kendall, of Co. C, took the flag and carried it until the close of the engagement.

ANN ARBOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Superintendent Perry Presents His Annual Report.

To The Board of Education of the City of Ann Arbor.

GENTLEMEN:—Herewith I submit to you my twenty-fourth annual report of the public schools of this city.

The statistical history of the schools of the past year, so far as concerns their administration, are chiefly contained in the following table. Three preliminary items will throw some light upon portions of the table.

It should also be remembered that the school district boundaries extend in some directions beyond the city limits.

Population of the district, census of 1894. 11,311
Children of legal school age (between 5 and 20 years), census of 1893. 3,008
Children of legal school age (between 5 and 20 years), census of 1894. 3,132

STATISTICS OF THE SCHOOLS.

ITEMS.	High School.	Grammar Department.	Primary Department.	Total.
Enrollment, exclusive of transfers, Boys.....	330	289	559	1178
Enrollment, exclusive of transfers, Girls.....	335	260	484	1089
Total.....	665	549	1043	2257
Average No. attending.....	544	494	910	1948
Average daily attendance.....	521	478	895	1894
Per cent of attendance on number belonging.....	95.8	96.6	95	95.7
Number of non-residents.....	390	45	48	483
Number of men teachers.....	8	—	—	8
Number of women teachers.....	9	13	22	44
Number of special teachers.....	—	—	3	3
Total.....	—	—	—	55
Number of days school in session.....	190	190	190	190
Average daily attendance of each pupil.....	150	168	168	157
Average number of pupils to each teacher.....	30	34	41	37
Cost per capita for instruction.....	29.40	14.28	9.33	16.79
Cost per capita for incidentals.....	4.97	4.97	4.97	4.97
Total cost per capita.....	34.37	19.25	14.30	21.76

A comparison of the above table with a similar table in my report of '93, will show that the total enrollment is 40 less than it was the preceding year. The loss is found to be in the High School. However, an enrolment of 665 gives us a large High School, larger than that of any year preceding 1890-91. Probably we should bear in mind that in a time of serious business depression, money is just as hard to get for educational expenses as for any other purpose.

Notwithstanding the addition of two rooms to the First ward school, several rooms, particularly in the Second and Third wards, have suffered from large enrolments, in two cases beyond the seating capacity, so that the opening of a room in the basement of the Third ward building seems a necessity.

Turning now to the work of the schools, I wish first to do honor to those pupils who have preserved their school attendance intact during the year. The list is as follows:

HIGH SCHOOL.

Mary Bain, Waldo W. Burt, Benj. Brown, Grace Edwards, Ella Gardner, Viola Lusby, Anna Shannon, Ora Sperry, Albert H. Stabler, Grace Swindler, Edward Thompson, Mabel Van Kleek, Cora Wagner, Johannes T. Wurster. For two years—Henry Gelston, Wm. L. Mack, Carrie Shaffer, Geo. D. Shaffer, Oscar Weitbrecht. For three years—Pauline Wurster.

EIGHTH GRADE.

Clara E. Allmendinger, La Verne Brown, Harry J. Brown, Joseph P. Duffy, Frank Kelley, Geo. McCollum, Mary C. Polhemus, Thomas D. Sanford, Lucile Stone, Rosa Schiappacasse, Lydia Stollsteimer. For two years—John C. Burkhardt, Mark Cheever.

FIRST WARD.

SECOND WARD.

THIRD WARD.

Lelia Groat, Ethel Groat, Edith Hintz, Clara Schneider, Florence Schneider.

FOURTH WARD.

FIFTH WARD.

Ethel McCollum, Katie Sharpe.

SIXTH WARD.

Of course such a list cannot recognize the fact that a large number of other pupils would have been included except for causes beyond their control.

The amount of work done in a system of schools is generally, and properly, measured by the number of its promotions from grade to grade. In the following items will be found such a measuring rod for the Grammar and Primary departments:

	Grammar.	Primary.	Total.
Number in classes at close of the school year.....	457	750	1207
Number unclassified.....	14	100	114
Number promoted unconditionally.....	295	581	876
Number promoted conditionally (skipped a grade).....	8	13	21
Number detained in same grade.....	75	92	167
Number returned to a lower grade.....	10	13	23

All these promotions were made without special examinations, mainly on the teachers' estimate. The plan works admirably, especially with the best teachers. It imposes upon the teacher the duty of making a careful study of the capability and character of each pupil. Incidentally, also, it results in better teaching.

It is a well understood principle that teachers never stand still. They are ever improving or degenerating. The teacher who does not seriously question her last year's methods is already on the descending scale. Teachers usually become progressive by studying and experimenting along definite lines of educational theory. Nothing of late years has been more stimulating to the thoughtful teacher than child-study as related to the teacher's method. With such a teacher, school duties never become simply routine. Evolution into something better is the uniform order.

Of our teachers as a whole it can most justly be said, they belong to the progressive class rather than to the class whose round of school activities consists in hearing recitations and drawing the monthly salary.

The subject that has probably commanded more special attention than any other in the lower grades is Nature Studies, in which our teachers have done considerable good work. The following brief summary of topics treated will be of interest to many of our patrons:

Plants.—Trees as to their parts and form; compared to shrubs as to size, trunk, branching and roots. Leaves—shape, color, classes, uses, fate. Flowers—their several parts, habitat, and some classifications. Seeds—kinds, protection, germination, distribution. Buds—for next year's leaves and flowers, arrangement, protection, unfolding.

All these things and many more were observed with the object at hand, described orally, in writing, drawing, and often in modeling in clay.

Animals.—Studied in a similar way. Domestic animals—description, habits, likes and dislikes. Wild animals—description, habitat, food, preparation for winter, etc. Water animals. Insects in much variety. Birds—migration, song, nesting, food, form, color, and some classification.

Heavens.—Daily record of temperature, sky, clouds, storms, kinds of clouds. Movements of the sun in the different seasons. Moon, its phases and movements. Snow, ice, dew.

Geography.—Observation of specific districts, noting reliefs, water-courses, drainage, erosion, springs, soil, products, etc.

Collections are made, as far as possible, of all objects studied, and such as are not perishable are arranged in cabinets, with which all primary rooms are supplied.

Classes occasionally make excursions into the fields and woods, but we have found that the school room is the natural place for inspecting all material that can be handled.

A word or two concerning German in the ward schools seems called for. The work in wards Two and Three has been well done, and has accomplished all that was anticipated. For future action it would seem wise to have in mind some conclusions that are being reached in the working out of the German problem in city schools. 1. The ideal method of conducting German in city schools is to have rooms set apart for its work where classes may go for recitation. 2. Instruction

Judging from the number of democrats of this district who are willing to have the congressional lighting strike them, they do not believe all the republican heelers say about having the second district already carried. They still seem to think there are democrats enough left to man a ticket and keep up the organization.

Carnegie and Pullman! A precious pair of grand old republicans! They are typical fruit of the policy of protection. They, or those for whom they are responsible, do not hesitate to endanger the lives of our seamen by using inferior armor plates and to sacrifice the honor and peace of the nation for sordid and dishonest gain.

The great iron and coal center in the Mahoning valley of Ohio reports nothing less than an old-fashioned business boom. No more agreeable bit of news has come from that section for some time, and it is a veritable body blow to the calamity howler.—Free Press.

From Lapeer comes the news that the two republican candidates for the legislature there are for Patton for senator. Let us see. Lapeer is the home of Governor Rich, and Governor Rich appointed this Grand Rapids lawyer without a client to the United States senate. Oh, yes, it is all clear enough.

The decision of John P. Sanborn to become a candidate for congressional honors in the seventh district against his long time enemy General Hartsuff will add greatly to the already wide spread republication unhappiness in Michigan, resulting from the internecine war of the irreconcilable factions into which the g. o. p. is split. The seventh district fight is the bitterest that has ever occurred in Michigan politics. For years it has given the district to the democrats and the democracy have but to name a good man this fall to sweep the district again.

From northern Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan come reports of great destruction of property and loss of life from forest fires, resulting from the long continued drouth. Fifty or more settlements, some of them good sized villages, have been wiped out. Many lives have been lost, running up perhaps into hundreds. Traffic on railroads is largely stopped through the twisting of rails by heat, and trains are reported hemmed in by the flames. Undoubtedly the calamity is the worst since the Chicago fire. The losses already mount up into millions, and will become much greater unless there shall be rain at once.

Republican reverence for trusts was only a few years ago expressed in the declaration of Protection's leading advocate when he said, "Trusts are private affairs with which we have no right to interfere." In view of recent republican cant and hypocrisy on this question, it would be proper to change this to "Trusts are republican affairs with which protectionists have no right to interfere." Talk about democratic trust favoring! History shows they are the evil progeny of the high tariff system. It should not be forgotten that if there had been half a dozen republican senators to act with the democratic reformers, the country would not longer be plagued with the sugar trust, which was made possible by the McKinley law.—Hudson Gazette.

Here is a decision of the Attorney General of the state of New York which is of interest to our soldier boys. He holds that the state military forces are liable to be sent into another state by orders of the president. Attorney General Hancock says:

"I am not aware that the authority of the State to punish for military offenses committed by its own citizen soldiers within the State's boundaries has been denied by our courts; but recent events have shown that doubts exist in many minds as to the power of the State and the United States to compel the militia of a given State to go beyond its borders for active services, and to punish for refusal, without lawful excuse, to do so. But it has been decided by the Supreme Court of the United States (Houston vs. Moore) that a member of the guard of Pennsylvania, who refused without lawful excuse to report for duty and render service in obedience to a call from the President may be punished as a court-martial may direct. I have not found that the statutes or decisions from which I have quoted have been repealed or modified, and hence I am of the opinion that not only is a member of the National Guard 'liable' to be called to duty outside his own State but that he may be legally compelled to do so and perform the same on the call of the President of the United States just as though he were a soldier of the regular army.

K. O. T. M. Annual Jubilee at Lansing, Sept. 11th and 12th.

On this occasion the Michigan Central Ry. at Ann Arbor will sell round trip tickets on Sept. 11th and 12th, good to return until Sept. 15th at rate of $1.95.

The erstwhile Banker Spalding is now honest Farmer Spalding. It is alleged that he claims farming as his principal occupation and that banking is merely his incident. His natural inclinations are all in the direction of farm life and labor 'tis said. He is never so happy as when in the company of his brother tillers of the soil. He loves to meet, greet and shake the horny hand of his farmer neighbors and as the sweat of honest labor courses down the furrows of his anatomy to talk of his fine cabbages and pumpkins. He is no doubt as near an approach to the ideal farmer as can be found in the second district.

The Pontiac Post comments upon the growing evils resulting from the practice of members of the legislature traveling on passes and the neglect of duty and waste of time resulting therefrom. It then suggests the following remedy for the evil:

"There is, however, a possible and logical remedy for this evil. Change the pay of members of the legislature from a per diem to a fixed salary for their term of office and provide that absence from one's post, except for sickness or other sufficient cause, shall work forfeiture of salary pro rata. There will then be no inducement to prolong the legislative sessions till the flies drive the members out of the Capitol. On the contrary there will be an incentive to do the work as quickly as possible. If members had to be docked for their absence on Saturday and Monday the free pass would have few charms. Now members return to their homes at the end of every week. At least the first and last day of the week are lost, the week reduced to four working days, the session correspondingly prolonged and the expense to the taxpayers correspondingly increased.

The unanimous report of the congressional committee which investigated the armor plate frauds of the Carnegie company shows the guilt of the company beyond any question. It is a piece of infamy that we have no adequate laws to punish. The report shows that specifications were not followed, government inspectors were fooled, the testing machine was made to show false results, specimens were tampered with, and all this with the knowledge of the superintendents. That these men should go to work and deliberately put up frauds not only against the people but against the lives of our seamen and the nation's honor, is infamous and shows the depths of crookedness and fraud which such concerns are given to practicing upon Uncle Sam. It is but one more indication of the low moral tone which exists in business matters with the government. The severest penalty of the law should be visited upon the company for such villainy.

Republicans claim that protection is chiefly or largely for the benefit of the laboring man. But who ever heard of republicans howling for a raise in wages when tariffs were increased? If it be logical and necessary for wages to come down when tariff rates are reduced, it is logical and mere justice to raise wages when duties are put up. Employers consider themselves under no obligations to raise wages, however, when duties are increased. For instance, the New Bedford, Mass., cotton mills, whose operatives have gone on a strike because of the reduction of wages announced as a result of the passage of the new tariff, did not raise wages when the McKinley bill passed. Why did they not raise wages? Simply because they wished to pocket the entire profits flowing from the increased duties. And now they propose to continue those unjust profits by taking the amount out of the wages of their workmen. There is as rank injustice in this on the part of the mill owners as there is in a resort to violence on the part of strikers. There is nothing in the new tariff which warrants such action by the mill owners. Secretary Blaine is authority for the statement that the labor cost in American cottons is less than those in England. There the raw material is produced at home and there is therefore no cost of transportation and there can be no reason whatever why any protec-

"Honor to Whom Honor."

If the venerable and good ex-Governor Alpheus Felch is spared to see the 28th of September, the span of his life will have reached the 90-year mark. How few of all the teaming millions of human beings, hurrying to and fro in the busy activities of life, ever live to the age to which Gov. Felch has attained; and yet to all his friends—and who are not of the number?—this distinguished citizen seems as young, as active, as vigorous as if this day were 20 years ago. His step is firm, his manner is sprightly, his carriage erect and his mind, rich in experience and literature, is as luminous and his utterances as keen and incisive as ever. The years that have rolled over his stately head have whitened it but taken away none of the princely gifts, God placed in the inner temple of the brain. In intelligence, goodness, scholarship, knowledge of men and matters; in all that made Gov. Felch the great citizen of Michigan that he is, he stands today, the same grand, noble and now venerable oak among men, as when, the companion of such sturdy statesmen as the late lamented Senator Stewart, Gen. Cass and others of that time, he was an equal counsellor and moulder of the policy of the nation.

Deeming that it was fitting to take steps for the proper recognition of Gov. Felch's goth natal day, about thirty members of the Washtenaw bar assembled in the circuit court room last Saturday, with this purpose in view. The meeting was called to order by Judge Kinne, president of the bar association, and Arthur Brown was made secretary. Judge Kinne stated the purpose of the meeting in terms highly laudatory of Gov. Felch.

After discussion it was the sense of the meeting that a banquet should be given in Gov. Felch's honor, whenever he felt disposed to do so, for the protection of his health.

Judge Cheever stated that Mrs. Cole, Gov. Felch's daughter, had been consulted, and that the family would be willing to leave arrangements to the bar.

On motion a committee of five was appointed, with full power to act in the matter. The committee consists of A. J. Sawyer, J. W. Babbitt, B. M. Thompson, J. F. Lawrence and T. D. Kearney.

Rev. Mr. Coburn, of the First M. E. church, is absence at conference. Rev. F. A. Soul will fill the pulpit next Sunday morning.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF Washtenaw, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, on Tuesday, the 21st day of August, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four.

Present, Hon. J. Willard Babbitt, Judge of Probate.
In the matter of the application of the Drain Commissioner of the County of Washtenaw, for the appointment of three Special Commissioners to determine the necessity for a Drain through certain lands in the townships of Lima and Sylvan, and for the taking of private property for the use and benefit of the public for the purpose thereof, and the just compensation to be made therefor.

Whereas, on the 21st day of August, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, an application in writing was made to this Court by the Drain Commissioner of the County of Washtenaw, for the appointment of three Special Commissioners to determine the necessity for a Drain through certain lands in the townships of Lima and Sylvan, and for the taking of private property for the use and benefit of the public for the purpose thereof, and the just compensation to be made therefor.

And whereas, There is now on file with this Court a description and survey of the proposed drain, from which description and survey it appears that the commencement, general course, and terminus of such drain are as follows:

Commencing at the upper end of the Pierce drain, 35 rods south of the 1/2 post between sections 5 and 6, in the township of Lima, County of Washtenaw, and running thence n 54 degrees w 11.60 chs., thence n 80 degrees w 10.90 chs., thence west 25.00 chs., thence n 62 1/2 degrees w 10.00 chs., thence n 54 degrees w 7.13 chs., thence s 88 degrees w 15.37 chs., thence n 81 1/2 degrees w 21.90 chs., thence s 81 1/2 degrees w 12.00 chs., thence n 64 degrees w 9 chs., thence n 83 1/2 degrees w 10.75 chs., thence n 73 degrees w 1.75 chs., thence s 41 degrees w 4 chs., thence s 75 degrees w 10.50 chs., thence s 72 degrees w 10.40 chs., thence west 10.02 chs., thence s 76 degrees w 5.68 chs., thence n 78 degrees w 5.53 chs., thence n 72 degrees w 23 chs., thence s 81 degrees w 12.75 chs., thence n 76 degrees w 3.45 chs., thence n 84 degrees w 11.30 chs., thence n 63 degrees w 6.42 chs., thence west 18.50 chs., thence n 82 degrees w 4.50 chs., thence n 70 degrees w 15.80 chs., thence s 77 degrees w 7.30 chs., thence s 69 degrees w 6.40 chs., thence s 80 1/2 degrees w 6.30 chs., thence s 85 degrees w 3.40 chs., thence s 70 degrees w 8.85 chs., thence s 89 degrees w 6.80 chs., thence n 73 degrees w 8.85 chs., thence n 82 degrees w 6.80 chs., thence n 68 degrees w 8.54 chs., to a point 13.16 chains south of the n corner of the 1/4 sec 3 of the w 1/4 of the n 1/4 of sec. 4, township of Sylvan, and there terminating at the upper end of said drain, and total length of 363.37 chains.

And whereas, It appears that the following described tracts of lands, owned by unknown persons or non residents of the townships of Lima and Sylvan aforesaid, the execution of a right of way of said drain, and the taking of private property for the use and benefit of the public for the purpose thereof, will be crossed by said proposed drain and will be subject to an assessment for its construction.

Now, therefore, all such unknown or non-resident persons, owners of the above described lands, and each of them, are hereby cited to be and appear before this Court, at the time and place last above set forth, to be heard with respect to such application, if they so desire, and show cause, if any there be, why the said application for the appointment of three Special Commissioners as aforesaid should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, that the said Drain Commissioner give notice of the pendency of said application, so far as it affects said lands and the persons interested therein, by causing a copy of this citation to be published in the Ann Arbor Argus, a weekly newspaper published and circulating in the said County of Washtenaw, in which said county all of said lands are located, for at least two weeks previous to said day of hearing.

Dated, August 27th, 1894.
J. WILLARD BABBITT,
Judge of Probate.

Commissioners' Notice.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF Washtenaw, ss. The undersigned having been appointed by the Probate Court for said County, Commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against the estate of John W. Morgan, late of said county, deceased, hereby give notice that six months from date are allowed, by order of said Probate Court, for creditors to present their claims against the estate of said deceased, and that they will meet at the late residence of said deceased in the township of Saline, in said county, on the 27th day of November, and on the 27th day of February next, at ten o'clock A. M. of each of said days, to receive, examine and adjust said claims.

When a horse has been a slave to a man all his life and breaks a leg, it would seem a very small return to the animal to mercifully end his misery with a bullet. A horse that had a broken leg was allowed to lie helpless all night, on Hill street. Two small cartridge shots were emptied in its head but these were not sufficient. Ladies of the Humane society called attention to the suffering animal and it was at last killed by J. J. Goodyear and M. C. Peterson.

Mr. Takenoski Furuya, from Japan, formerly a student of the University, was in the city last week, having revisited America in the interest of a tea house. He verified what Count Neshina had previously said of the high esteem in which the Argus is held in the Japanese islands. The Argus subscription list is steadily increasing.

A very happy feature of the late reunion of the Twenty-second Michigan Infantry at Pontiac, was the return of the old battle flag to the survivors by the identical ladies from whose hands it was presented thirty-two years ago. The ladies were then known as Julia Comstock and Emma Adams—now Mrs. D. S. Howard and Mrs. Wells Utely, of Detroit. That the same ladies who in behalf of the donors gave away the flag more than a generation ago, should have survived to re-present it, was one of the happy indulgences of time.

It goes that a traveling man who was in the city, last week, while walking in the evening with two ladies, was halted by two men who demanded 50 cents. He responded by drawing his revolver, and the men created immediate and sudden remoteness between them and him. The "half dol." was spent for ice cream and soda. So it goes all through life. Today we walk fourth in the pride, pomp and circumstance of manhood, with a half dollar in our pocket, and tonight it goes into the till of the frozen hearted confectionery man.

M. Shetterly, of Kalamazoo, and Mrs. G. E. Moore and daughter, of Port Huron.

At the Great S. S. Rally.

Among those who attended the great Sunday school rally at Detroit last week, was Mr. J. Nelson Lewis, of this city, whose graceful oratory a ready ideas flow fourth in rippling cadence on extemporaneous occasions and enchant his audiences from the start. Concerning him, the Tribune says among other things:

Mr. Lewis made himself popular early in his address by his easy, original oratory. "I come before you as the last letter of regret," he began. He spoke of the significance of Rally Day, and said that allegiance to God is the only safe standard of manhood. He said that a few years ago it was to be good christianity not to do wrong things. Now, he said, it was to be realized that christianity is not a negation—not merely abstaining from certain things. On the contrary, it is doing something. He told of a Toledo lady who expressed the fear that establishing church cadet companies would teach the youth to think of war instead of peace.

"Now the only danger of boys' brigades," said Mr. Lewis, "is that we won't get such a big crop of dudes as we have in past generations. There will not be so many long necks and spindle calves. The modern church is teaching the cultivation and development of the body as well as of the mind."

He commended the idea of organizing girls' cadet companies, similar to the one from Simpson Church which marched in the parade. Girls, he said, deserve to have good bodies, and they should be afforded opportunities to develop them.

Mr. Lewis closed his address by urging the Sunday school workers to bottle up some of the enthusiasm which was in the air, and take it home for use during the year."

WASHTENAWISMS.

A new doctor has arrived to stir up the livers of Saline.

About one-tenth of Ypsilanti, taxes remains uncollected.

The soft aeolian melody of the chimney sweep intoxicates the ears of Manchester.

The Schubert Symphony club, of Boston, will appear in Cleary hall, Ypsilanti, Sept. 14.

A male serenading party is using its powers to exterminate the Russian thistle, at Chelsea.

Miss Fredrick Schneider and Adam Eppler, of Chelsea, were married Thursday evening of last week.

A rattlesnake snapped a Denton boy, named Coveau, last week, but he was too much for snake poison and lives.

The angel of death last week bore away the four-year-old spirit of a Coralloid colt owned by J. C. Wood, of Saline.

Mr. Dansingburg, of Augusta, is dancing a lively jig for the nomination of county clerk, on the republican ticket.

Emanuel church yard at Manchester has been filled in and leveled up, and it is now good, even grade, christian ground.

Mart Hendershott, of Manchester, has purchased a phonograph and will take negatives of the campaign speeches.

Chelsea people do not see any real excellent reason why they should not possess a lecture course. Neither does the Argus.

The Dexter cider mill has been placed in commission, and is now ready for the manufacture of "the Devil's kindlingwood."

Mr. Hough, of Manchester, last week harvested his second crop of strawberries. O, this is a cloudless California climate!

Most of the deaths in the recent mine disaster in Washington were Poles and Italians. What a pity!—Saline Observer.

The Enterprise insists with great unanimity on a re-enforcement of the village waterworks. This is wetting down a dry subject.

About Tuesday, Sept. 11th, will be the day of the bicycle, sack, foot, tub, huss and other races at Manchester. Baseball and prizes also.

C. H. Foster, a former Ypsilanti grocer, opens a shoe store in Fenton. He catered to the body and now addresses himself to the sole.

Miss Frobus, near Whittaker, last week while washing, run a needle in her thumb, so deep that chloroform and a doctor were required in its extraction.

Rheumatism having "dowed" Dr. Gregg, of Whittaker, a new doctor is angling for his patients. Still, the death rate has not yet increased in that region.

A new arc light dynamo, is about to render Chelsea the best lighted town in Michigan, according to the standard, but the light of the gospel is not included.

Edward Rogers, of Saline, has fitted up a one-man machine shop, with scroll saws and all sorts, and is as cozy and happy as "Jolly Old Roger, the tinnemaker man."

T. W. Hunt has finished taking the census. He reports in this district 415 children between the ages of five and 20 years; 238 females and 177 males.—Manchester Enterprise.

A threat proceeds from Lima to the effect that E. A. Nordman, the hurricane populist orator, will assault the citizens of Washtenaw county with campaign speeches this fall.

At the Bethel church mission service in Freedom, Sunday, last week, the sum raised amounted to $146.50, which will tend greatly to relieve the tight finances of the heathen.

After a Good Templar speech at Dexter by A. L. Moon, of North Farmington, next Friday evening, a saturnalia of ice cream and lemonade will follow, at popular prices.

The sun has so polished the grass at Saline that Mrs. Agnes McKinnon, last week, in walking across a plat, slipped as though on a greased floor and falling, broke one of her wrists.

School seat agents, who want to sell seats to the new Seminary at Ypsilanti, are so thick that it is doubtful whether if the seminary were seated, their would be room to seat them all.

While threshing in Sharon, last week, Seymour Kendall received a pitchfork jab in the hand that was as keen as a stab from a friend, but was relieved to find that it was not a rattlesnake bite.

Aside from Prof. DeWitt, who has been engaged as superintendent, and Mr. Kent, of Ann Arbor, who will act as preceptor, the teachers of last year will be retained in the village schools.—Dexter Leader.

Miss Genevieve Kinne, of Ypsilanti, returned last week to New Haven, Conn., where she is the head of the department of ancient languages. She is a very live lady at the head of a very dead department.

This is, we suppose, the result of placing wool on the free list: Dogs killed eleven of the flock of sheep owned by John P. Teary, of Manchester. But hold on! The free wool schedule is not effective yet.

The Chelsea town hall with its new desk and new scenery is quite a "daisy." It will hereafter be against the rules to throw paper wads and tobacco quids at the scenery, especially when the actors are on the stage.

The Glazier stove company has mailed over fifty bushel baskets of catalogues within the past week to stove dealers in the United States. They paid Uncle Sam over $200 for postage for the same.—Chelsea Standard.

It is claimed by the Washtenaw Times that Ypsilanti has not in six years been able to convict a saloon keeper who has stood trial. This shows that they are nothing near so guilty as charged—"deed they aren't."

Dr. Ryan gave the P. U. S. S. an address on temperance, Tuesday afternoon. The doctor knew what he was talking about, and gave some straight truths that we fancy did not set as well as they ought with some few.—Pittsfield Cor. Ypsilanti. So? What had Puss done—"yowed" at a minstrel show?

With last Sunday's service the contract between Rev. Z. G. Potter and the Saline M. E. Church closed by maturity. The esteemed clergyman has "shunned not to declare the whole gospel," and leaves a village full of friends.

Miss Chloe N. Daniels, of Gregory, Mich., has been chosen general assistant in the Normal school. She is a B. A. graduate of the Michigan University and has had large experience in teaching in Pennsylvania and California.

Prof. Harry Thompson, of Ypsilanti, has the distinction of being the original discoverer of the Russian thistle in Michigan. It was at Charlevoix. He sent specimens to the Agricultural College, and is credited there with priority of identification.

It is probable that the meteor that knocked a hole through a colt at Ypsilanti was not the only one that was hanging around. Some mysterious magnetic influence has pulled up the nails in the Dexter sidewalks till the walk looks like a flax-betelch.

A stranger, supposed by papers found on him, to be Thomas Irwin, of Chatham, Ont., met the Central fast train at Ypsilanti, Friday afternoon, and was hurled thirty feet and instantly killed. He was walking on the track and apparently did not observe or hear the train.

The Argus stated recently that Al-sike clover about Clinton, yielded 30 bushels to the acre. We are informed that our types made the clover yield at least 20 bushels too much at the very best. But how should he know? He was only a farmer. Don't the editor know everything?

A young horse owned by George Webb, of North Lake, soaked his system in a spring a few days ago; and the more he filled up with the spring, the less "spring" there was in him (how strange this is!), so now it is not likely that he will ever equal on the track the time of "Robert J."

Those who engage in pedro playing and other card games are among those to suffer from the new tariff bill which places a revenue of two cents upon every pack of cards put upon the market. Our dealers have been called upon to whack up for what they have on hand. What next?—Saline Observer.

The Ypsilanti Commercial is rather disgusted, after sending samples of its own original squash bug to Prof. Burrows, the squashbugologist of the Agricultural college, to learn that the professor pronounces the beast to be no other than the plain, every-day anarchist of the squash vine. Plague take him!—the bug.

A large gathering of Saline citizens, armed with curiosity and crow-bars pried open a ceresus bloomer, at the residence of Mrs. J. H. Barr, last week. The flower was 4 inches deep and 9 inches across. The ceresus has a strange fascination. Ladies, too ill to attend church without catching their death, will drag themselves by inches to Mrs. Honeysuckle's home, and sit in the dew till midnight to see a night-bloomer open.

George Nissly, sr., of Saline, died on the 24th ult. He was a much esteemed citizen and well known throughout the county. He was born in Wurtemberg, Germany in 1826 and came to America with his parents at the age of 21 years. He located near Saline and had been a resident of the vicinity afterwards up to the date of his death. He was the father of George Nissly, jr., formerly of the Saline Observer.

At the meeting of the Saline farmers' club, to be held next Friday evening, the question for discussion will be, "Should not a law be passed by which the consumer of bogus butter shall be absolutely certain that the representation is not pure butter?" Is there not such a law? If not, there ought to be, because there are so many people in the cities who would be glad to know they were not buying the disgusting ointment produced by some dairy people and mislabeled butter. They would like to know that they were getting oleomargarine, straight.

C. S. Woodward, of Ypsilanti, has discovered that dry and wet seasons are recorded in the wood-rings of a tree, those of a dry season being thin and those of a wet season, thick. The discovery bids fair to become useful, as for instance in this manner: A man usually knows the year in which he set out an orchard or shade tree. When these trees are grown and some old weather liar gets to telling that such or such a year beat every other year for rain or drouth, he can be shown to be a liar and a horse thief by cutting down part of the orchard and noting the rings.

W. D. Meade, of Saline, last week caught his horse in the pasture and twisting the halter strap about his wrist (this is the proper caper if your horse is skittish, as if he runs you will be with him), and was in the act of mounting when the unregenerated nag took it in his head to exercise William by dragging him at a gallop and bobbing him up and down, now on the ground, now in the air; here in the dirt, there with his heels above the trees; and he looked when the race was over, like an Adrian after a ball game at Monroe. He gets out of it by telling his friends that he was stepped on by an earthquake.

New Play Coming.

Monday evening, Sept. 10, will witness a remarkable pageant in Ann Arbor, it being no less than the grand spectacular appearance of a play, that will be likely to have a run. Ed. Davis' Uncle Tom's Cabin will be here in all its glory with its pathos, wit, glory, bulldogs, Marks, Topseys, and incidentally Uncle Tom himself. See advertisement on what there is left of the bill board in front of the Argus office. It is said that the characters of Uncle Tom, Eliza, Little Eva, and Marks, are ably presented, and the large corps of colored singers and dancers, bloodhounds, etc., give a realism to the performance. The scenic and mechanical effects are good, and the picturesque transformation scene forms a fitting close to the whole.

ANN ARBOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

In German is more profitable in grammar grades, than in primary grades. 3. German in grammar grades ought to be elective. 4. In a system of schools all pupils of like grades in which German is taught should have like privilege of electing it.

It has impressed itself upon many minds that we ought to do more than we have done for that class of our youth who do not attend any school, and who are coming up to manhood without any adequate preparation for citizenship. The compulsory school attendance law was made for the benefit of this class of boys and girls. But to make the law effective we need an ungraded department. Our truant officer is much embarrassed in his duties by the fact that we have no such school. An ungraded school would often be an aid to the regular school in temporarily caring for unclassified pupils. It seems clear to me that the ungraded department is one of the serious educational needs of the city, and that the district should be asked to provide means for establishing it.

The benefits of a system of schools spring more from what the pupil is stimulated to do, than from the knowledge imparted to him, just so far as his character is of more consequence than his stock of information. Then the studies of youth should be selected with reference to the admitted principle. If this reasoning is sound, our course of study ought to emphasize more than it now does such branches as literature, nature studies, history, especially biography—studies that put the pupil in touch with human conduct and motive, that offer noble examples of conduct, lead up to high ideals, inspire a pure ambition. It is here, we believe, that we shall find the true unification of our educational work.

HIGH SCHOOL.

This department has passed another successful year. The instruction was especially good, possibly better because the classes were somewhat smaller. The new laboratories are clearly increasing the efficiency and value of the courses in Chemistry and Botany. The large graduating class and its excellent quality fully maintained the reputation of the School.

The proper supervision and care of our non-resident pupils must always rest upon us as a serious responsibility. Some of this class are quite young; others have special need of our watchfulness. The freedom of life accorded to our pupils makes this duty more imperative. If I could get the ear of all the families in the city that receive High School pupils into their homes, I would say: "You can be of great service to these young people by showing a friendly interest in their welfare and notifying the teachers of any waywardness or evil habits observed in their conduct." Another suggestion: The order required of pupils while in attendance upon school duties might be more helpful by being more insistent upon quiet and gentle manners. Moreover the individual influence of teachers might be stronger for good by personal contact and kindly admonition.

In this connection the organization of the Athletic Association in the High School seems likely to diminish various evils incident to a student community. So long as the Association moves in the direction of good morals it should receive our heartfelt support.

The action of the Board in offering courses in Music and Drawing in the High School is a step forward towards making the department complete in all facilities for getting an education.

Manual training in the High School has been the subject of some discussion during the past year, and merits our sincerest consideration. Manual training has become a well-established department of educational work in some of our larger cities, and has been a blessing to hundreds of young people of both sexes. Evidently it has its place and function. But from the fact that it has not been adopted in many of the public schools we may infer that it has its limitations which may exist either in local conditions or in the nature of the work or in both. Probably no one would contend that manual training could be substituted for the literary and scientific branches of the school curriculum, and to add to these courses would seem to be unparadonable. A few sentences from the pen of Hon. W. T. Harris will set the case in a clear light. "The intellectual factor of manual labor is never very large, and any amount of manual training conducted in a school is no equivalent for the school education in letters and science. The theory of all tool work is soon exhausted, and the deadening process of habit sets in. Science is perpetually living, always educative." Mr. Harris thinks the ordinary school education best even for the manual toiler, for he says, "The scientifically educated laborer is of a higher type than the mere hand-laborer, because he has learned to see in each thing its possibilities."

If it is not good policy to introduce manual training into a high school having an organization and a mission like our school, I think there is a field where good work of a kindred kind may be done. The ungraded day school has been discussed in another part of this report; an ungraded night school might be established that would accommodate artisans, clerks, and any ambitious youth who are too busy during the day to attend school. The expense would be small compared with that of a manual training plant, and if wisely conducted in the interest of the classes patronizing it, the enterprise might be productive of lasting good.

It revives a pleasant memory of last year to recall that the High School was suitably represented at the Columbian Exposition, and that it received an award for the excellence of the exhibit.

Our Library continues to be a most valuable factor in the work of the High School. It is also well patronized by citizens. There were added to it during the year 273 volumes; and the whole number of volumes now in the Library is 4,718. It is in every way in excellent condition.

As usual we insert a table showing the number of pupils that have pursued each branch in the several courses of study during the year.

The members of the class who participated in the way of essays and orations were Ellen B. Bach, Benj. N. Braun, Maud A. Bisbee, Mary T. Carson, Wm. L. Mack, Sophia D. Kiesselbach, Martha A. Slater, Olaf G. Peterson, Pamela Taylor, Gertrude E. Vaughan, Frederick E. Wright.

The year closed pleasantly June 22, 1894, with the Graduating Exercises of the Senior class, and the distribution of 87 diplomas. The literary part of the occasion was of special merit, but much of it was lost to the large audience by reason of the poor acoustic properties of the Hall.

The complete programme of Graduation Day was as follows:

MUSIC.	PRAYER.	MUSIC.
1. False Patriotism.....	Frederic J. Austin, Ann Arbor.
2. Punctuation Marks.....	Winifred Beman, Ann Arbor.
3. The Elective Franchise.....	Walter G. Curtis, Salem.
4. Effects of Invention.....	Josephine Daniels, Gregory.
5. Influence of American Mothers.....	Ralph Farnum, Ann Arbor.
6. Nature's Climax.....	Genevieve E. Mills, Pittsfield.
7. Our National Flower.....	S. Louise McKenzie, Ann Arbor.
8. Individuality.....	Delia Read, Sheuandah, Iowa.
9. General Lee.....	Joseph B. Scarborough, Flagstaff, Arizona.
10. Self-Luminous or Reflective.....	Louise P. Weinmann, Ann Arbor.
