RICH'S ADMINISTRATION SHOWN UP!

Congressman Weadock on the Doings of the Fifty-third Congress—Street Railway Collision—Supervisors Organize—Fair Prizes—A New Water Supply—Other News.

Governor Rich.

The Argus is credibly informed that the republicans intend to have his excellency, Gov. John T. Rich, in the city tonight, and that he and Hon. A. J. Sawyer will speak to a few of the faithful. From all appearances our friends the enemy intended to keep this matter quiet, but the Argus got onto their little scheme and hereby exposes it. The conference will be held at the rink, but the Argus is not informed by what right or benefit one can gain admission.

Now They Have Struck It.

The difference between the Ann Arbor Water Company and the rich man who tried to "tip" Lazarus for a drink from "the old oaken bucket," is this: The Water Company struck water and the other fellow didn't. The new well is a great success, and yields a gush of water from a gravel strata about 20 feet thick. Other wells will be sunk in the same territory to test the endurance of the water bed. It is not doubted, however, that the new location will yield an ample supply of water.

The Supervisors Organize.

The board of supervisors of Washtenaw began its work yesterday by electing a chairman. The democrats were on hand and had eleven majority on the opening day, the majority of the republicans not having yet put in an appearance. Thomas Young of Lyndon was elected chairman by a vote of 16 to 5, the five lone lorn republicans voting for John R. Miner of this city. Mr. Young was the choice of the democratic caucus for the position of chairman, the vote in caucus being 10 for Mr. Young to 5 for William B. Osborne of Sharon. The board having effected their organization for the session adjourned over until today.

Of Interest to Stamp Collectors.

Stamp collectors and others interested will avail themselves this week of the last opportunity of obtaining certain stamps at the Ann Arbor postoffice. The supply of Columbian stamps will be entirely exhausted this week. Only the eight cent Columbian stamp, on which the office happened to be overstocked, remains, and there are not enough of these to last through the week.

The department at Washington has issued a notice that the sale of stamped letter sheets will be discontinued in a few days. As the sale of these letter sheets has not been heavy, these stamps will probably soon be in great demand. The Ann Arbor office has now about 650 of them on hand, and such of them as are not sold within the next few days will be returned to Washington.

The local office will also on Monday next return to Washington all its unused 30 and 50 cent postage due stamps, which denominations will not hereafter be kept here.

A "Koide."

This is the name of what happens when two cars going in opposite directions try to pass each other on the same track. It has never been known to be successfully did. The effort of two street cars on N. University avenue last night to perform this act was no exception to the general rule. A car in the hands of motorman Allmand was going west when it was run into by a car in the hands of motorman Roe going east. It is claimed that the brakes failed to work causing the accident. Allmand sustained a bad fracture of the leg and the cars were damaged to the extent of $150 or $200. The old car carried a platform somewhat higher than the new car and when they came together the platform of the old car crashed through the front portion of the new car and slid over the platform smashing the leg of motorman Allmand in a terrible manner, and otherwise bruising him. The roof and ends of the cars were considerably disfigured by the shock. They will require much repairing before they are placed in commission again.

A Jubilee Convention.

It is well known that the present year marks the semi-centennial of the Young Men's Christian Association. Begun in the city of London by a group of clerks, under the leadership of Geo. Williams, it has spread until today there are fully 5,000 associations with a membership of a half million or more. The great jubilee conference in London last June brought together representatives from 27 nations in which the association is at work.

The Michigan associations will celebrate the anniversary with a jubilee convention, which will be held at Ann Arbor, Oct. 11-14. Delegates will be present from all the leading cities, and many of the smaller towns as well. Among the speakers will be Rev. Alex. Patterson, of Chicago, a leading evangelist; Mr. C. E. Dyer, of Minneapolis, chairman of the Minnesota state committee; and Mr. C. K. Ober, of New York City, who has been prominent in association work for a number of years. Mr. Clarence S. Willis, of Milwaukee, will have charge of the trained choir which will furnish the music for the occasion. Rev. Thomas E. Barr and Dr. A. C. Slocum of Kalamazoo; C. S. Ward, of Grand Rapids; Messrs. H. G. Van Tuyl, A. L. Parker, R. B. Smith, and Tracy McGregor, are among the Michigan speakers already secured. Reduced rates have been obtained on all railroads. Free entertainment will be given to delegates and indications point to a large and interesting gathering.

School Prizes at the Fair.

The school prizes offered by the county fair association at the recent fair awakened considerable interest. The first premium of $20, for the largest attendance of a graded school outside of Ann Arbor was won by the Saline Union School. The second prize of $15 was won by Dexter. Two United States flags were offered for the greatest percentage of attendance of schools within ten miles of Ann Arbor. Eight schools reported 100 per cent attendance. In order that justice might be done to all, the fair managers decided to buy six flags to fill the deficiency so that each of the eight schools might receive their well earned flag.

The eight schools were as follows:

- Dist. No. 1, fractional, Northfield; Ann Arbor, Superior and Salem, Miss Alice Quackenbush, teacher.
- Dist. No. 15, Ann Arbor, Miss Rose E. Burke, teacher.
- Dist. No. 5, Pittsfield, Miss Lulu Valentine, teacher.
- Dist. No. 5, fractional, Pittsfield and Ann Arbor, Miss Anna Rowe, teacher.
- Dist. No. 7, Scio, Miss Hattie Lucas, teacher.
- Dist. No. 8, Ann Arbor, Miss Inez Stocking, teacher.
- Dist. No. 3, Ann Arbor, Miss May Cavanaugh, teacher.
- Dist. No. 6, Northfield, Miss Estelle Donovan, teacher.

The schools more than ten miles from Ann Arbor which won prizes were:

- Dist. No. 6, fractional, York and Saline, Mrs. M. E. Gill, teacher.
- Dist. No. 2, Salem, Miss Mary E. Thompson, teacher.

The prizes offered to the Ann Arbor ward schools were won as follows:

- 1st prize, $15, by the First Ward school.
- 2nd prize, $10, by the Sixth Ward school.

School day was one of the best days at the fair. The five thousand children scattered over the grounds made one of the finest sights ever seen in the county. If the society had offered premiums for fine appearance and happy faces of children or teachers, it would have been a hard matter to award the premiums. The board of managers were proud of their patrons.

Democratic Rally.

The democrats opened their campaign in this city Saturday evening, with Hon. Spencer O. Fisher, democratic candidate for governor, and Hon. T. E. A. Weadock, congressman from the 10th district, as speakers. A fair-sized audience, numbering about 500 people, were on hand to listen to the discussion of the issues of the campaign as seen from the democratic standpoint. The meeting was opened about eight o'clock by Chairman Brown, of the county committee, who said that Ann Arbor citizens had in the past been accustomed to hearing the ablest men of the state and nation at such gatherings, and that the present occasion was no exception. He then introduced Hon. S. O. Fisher as the first speaker. Mr. Fisher was in good voice and made himself heard in every part of the house. The strictest attention was paid the speaker, and his telling points were liberally applauded. He said he would confine himself in his discussion of the issues of the campaign to those points with which his business and public experience had given him the widest acquaintance. He said he was opposed to all features of paternalism in government, and consequently was for an economic system so adjusted as to furnish necessary revenue for the economic administration of the government without the laying of a single dollar of tax for protective purposes. A revenue tariff, he declared, would furnish all the protection any industry could justly claim. He declared that while he was and had been a producer of wool for the last ten or twelve years, having $75,000 invested, and 18,000 or 20,000 sheep, still he was for free wool. He believed the government had done its full duty to the citizen when it protected him in person and property, and that discrimination in favor of one industry at the expense of another was wrong. He believed free wool would be an advantage to all concerned. On account of the necessity of mixing foreign wools with our own in order to produce the various wools demanded by our trade, he was confident that free wool would stimulate the demand for our own clip, and thereby increase the price. He declared that he had a two years' clip on hand for which he had already been offered an advance of four cents a pound over any previous offer, since the placing of wool on the free list.

He was also for free lumber notwithstanding the fact that he was a large producer. He worked for free lumber while a member of congress, and had been accused of working against his own interests, but felt that as a legislator he had no right to support any measure that was for the benefit of the few at the expense of the many. He said it was puerile to assert that we, with our vast natural resources of all kinds and our ingenious population teeming with energy, and possessed of more inventive genius than any other nation, could not compete with the world. Give us, he said, free raw materials and plenty of money, and we will be the greatest people on earth. He favored the free and unlimited coinage of silver on the ratio of 16 to 1, and said if the question was divorced from politics 90 per cent of the people of Michigan would vote for it. The striking down of silver had been a serious blow to the business interests of the country, and its restoration would do much toward business revival and general prosperity.

Passing to the issues of state affairs he compared and contrasted the administrations of Govs. Luce, Winans and Rich. He said in substance:

I have here an abstract of the last annual report of the state treasurer. It shows that in Gov. Luce's first term, 1887-8, the amount raised by direct taxation was $3,408,551.20, in Gov. Winans' term, 1891-2, the amount was $2,863,051.22, and in Gov. Rich's term, 1893-4, $3,620,350.55. Governor Winans' taxation was $545,499.98 less than Governor Luce's first term, and $757,294.36 less than Gov. Rich's. The democratic administration of Gov. Winans saved the taxpayers of Michigan a round three quarters of a million dollars, as compared with Gov. Rich's. I have here also an abstract of State Railroad Commissioner Billings' last annual report. It shows the earnings of Michigan railroads to have been $38,377,426, and on these earnings taxes were paid to the amount of $893,762.01, or 2.33 per cent. Iowa's earnings were $43,913,833.92; taxes $1,322,532.22, or 3.10 per cent. Wisconsin earnings $31,732,050, taxes $1,220,674.85, or 3.10 per cent. New York earnings $114,203,855.95, taxes $6,264,158.96, or 5.50 per cent. Nebraska's earnings $22,521,574, taxes $1,112,997, or 5 per cent. Kansas earnings $49,303,503, taxes $1,798,322, or 3.75 per cent. The average taxation in these states named is 4.39 per cent. In Michigan the rate is only 2.33 per cent. Why this favoritism toward railroad corporations! Why are the common people, the little home owners and the farmers discriminated against and the railroads relieved of their just burdens?

Other corporations, such as the telephone and telegraph companies, should also be called upon to do their share in bearing the tax burden. He said if elected governor he would give the duties of the office his closest attention, and endeavor to administer the same in the interest of all.

In closing, he denounced those so-called conservative senators who deserted the party in its extremity and said the remedy was to bring them nearer the people by changing the mode of election. He urged the election of Barkworth to Congress. The speech of Congressman Weadock was confined to national issues. He reviewed the acts of the 53d congress, and said the tariff bill, while not all that was desired, was a very good bill, vastly better for the people than the McKinley Act. Mr. Weadock is a forceful and logical speaker and made an excellent impression.

At the close of the speaking many citizens crowded upon the platform to shake the hand and greet the distinguished speaker. All in all it was a very auspicious opening of the campaign.

Democratic Meetings.

- HON. THOMAS E. BARKWORTH. At Chelsea Fair, Wednesday, Oct. 10, in the afternoon. At Dexter Opera House, Wednesday evening, Oct. 10, at 7:30 o'clock.

Does Gen. Spaulding oppose the income tax? The voters of this congressional district would like to be informed on this subject.

It is understood that there were just six persons in attendance at Barkworth's great afternoon mass meeting in Freedom Tuesday.— Ann Arbor Courier.

Congressman Weadock in his Saturday night's speech said any article the production of which became a monopoly or passed into the hands of a trust, should be at once free listed. This would compel the producer of the same to compete with the world for the markets.

The contemptible trick played by Congressman Burrows and would-be Congressman Spaulding in leaving the platform at the Lenawee county fair and going to the horse races, instead of remaining to hear the other speakers, saved the "Columbian Orator" the unpleasantness of being present while Mr. Barkworth removed great patches of his political hide.

The campaign that Hon. Thomas E. Barkworth is putting up in this district is a winner. Wherever he goes he strengthens his candidacy. This is because of his freedom from the arts of demagoguery and his masterful knowledge of all public and economic questions, which enables him to present the issues of the campaign in the clearest and most convincing manner.

According to the Marquette Mining Journal the feeble infant Michigan copper industry, over whose impending early demise, made imminent by the removal of the fostering care of a protective duty, the sympathetic republicans have shed many briny tears, has considerable vitality with which to stem the rigors of the coming winter.

One of the most widely known men of Washtenaw county is the genial and popular democratic candidate for county clerk, Jacob F. Schuh. Mr. Schuh, like a large portion of old Washtenaw's sturdy and substantial citizenship, is of German origin, but in business training and habits and all that pertains to public affairs he is as genuinely American as though native born.

of the board of public works. The duties of any position which he assumes are always promptly and efficiently performed. He served for a series of years as chairman of the democratic county committee and did much to promote the organization and interests of the party and his nomination as clerk is but a just recognition of his faithfulness in the interest of democracy.

The Courier has been shocked by the resolutions of the first district democracy. The results are certainly to be deplored since it has given rise to such vagaries as this:

"The man who goes to buy a pound of sugar even, and has to pay seven cents for it when he formerly paid but five, understands the gall of that resolution."

We fully sympathize with our neighbor in the limitations of his pocketbook, that forces him to buy a pound at a time as he must, since our grocer is perfectly willing to sell us goods at 18lbs for a dollar.

"What is the democratic record for the past two years? Here it is: The bonded debt of the nation has been increased $50,000,000."

Why not tell us just why the new treasurer had to issue $50,000,000 in bonds. Was it to anticipate an expenditure by the democratic administration? By no means. But it followed the proposed acts of Mr. Foster and was to meet the necessities of the empty till, from which over $48,000,000 had been filched as a bonus to pet bondholders, and that had been so otherwise drained that it required jugglery on the part of the retiring treasurer to even make it appear solvent.

"The gold reserve has been reduced $45,000,000."

True, but what was the cause and who is responsible?

The scare abroad and the dumping of our securities upon us by their foreign holders, brought about by the Sherman silver law of republican origin, compelling the purchase of 54,000,000 ounces of silver annually, to be paid for in gold obligations, thereby endangering the credit of the government.

"For the year 1893 alone there was a deficit of $74,000,000! And it has kept increasing all this year."

This deficit resulted from the vicious legislation of the Reed congress, which led to a dropping off in the revenues of $18,000,000 a year, while the extravagances of the Harrison administration increased the expenditures at the rate of $60,000,000 a year. The Cleveland administration handed over the government with not only sufficient revenues to meet all needs, but with a large surplus. Four years of republican misrule dissipated the surplus and left fixed obligations for the ensuing year amounting to $95,000,000 in excess of the revenues.

"The sugar trust has been voted $40,000,000 by congress."

If this be true, the fact remains that Henry O. Havemeyer, president of the sugar trust, testified under oath that the trust greatly preferred the sugar schedule of the McKinley law. Besides, the democrats saved to the treasury the $13,000,000 annually paid the cane growers of Louisiana.

"In order to keep within sight of the expenditures, an income tax, an old war measure, has been re-adopted."

This tax was enacted for the reason that the democratic party is not a devotee of the republican idea that the government shall legislate for the rich and that the rich will then take care of the poor. On the other hand, the democratic party believes in the equality of all men before the law, and that every man should bear the burdens of government according to the amount of protection received; that taxes should be levied according to the individual's ability to pay them, and not according to his necessities. The democratic party is willing to go to the country on its record on this question, as well as on all others.

ROUNDABOUTS.

A young men's prohibition club has been formed at Tecumseh President, Bert C. Day; treasurer (without bonds), Roy Conklin.

In the recent bicycle tournament at Tecumseh, Guy Davidson's steed became unmanageable and attempted to climb the fence. Davidson was unhorsed and stunned, and the wheel received a curvature of the spine, and may not recover.

The Tecumseh high school nine bested the Milanese at the Lenawee fair, which so exalted Tecumseh that even prohibitionists "smiled" and the preachers wore their silk ties slanted well back, and had something to say about there being "a God in Israel."

Nothing conduces more to the happiness of human lives than cheerfulness. The Pinckney Dispatch understands its value, and carols: "Hamburg is booming. Another saloon in that town now." Cheerfulness has saved people from dropping dead of heart failure.

Rev. Ramsdell was returned to the charge of the M. E. flock at Clinton, to the delight of the church, though some of the young ladies of the fold have hardly forgiven him for dodging the love snares they set for him when he first went there. But another "had the pull" on his heart strings and she reeled him in.

A fellow near Pontiac owns a cow that is a trotter. He drives her to harness and wants to stake money that "that gol dinged critter can out-trot any farm hoss that dare go agin her." Butter owner may be mistaken. Think cow that Jersey would look in a trotting match, with udder on the swing and tail crooked to interrogation point!

The Adrian Press, commenting on the row of the Blackburns, wherein one of them was hacked into mince-meat, remarks that "the officers seemed to think that a little thing like that was not worth notice." O, yes, it was. The slasher was arrested and had a fine of $5 "socked" right to him. The slasher was sewed together and will live.

V. Entwisle, of Dundee, planted a melon patch, but the "jofired" bugs bothered him and the vines started so late that Entwisle declared that a few consumptive melons were no offset to the manure and manual labor bestowed on them. But just when all seemed dark, and Entwisle had made affidavit that it was his last melon farming, thieves stole the whole lot. The owner was "onto them" and they paid him $5 apiece to settle, and as there were eight or a dozen in the raid the returns from the crop were fine. He will plant melons next season, as he knows of no crop that has paid him better.

Country newspaper correspondents sometimes hit hard, and this is the way one from Leoni, Jackson county, attempts to do it: "Yesterday morning a couple of staid old ladies, Mrs. Lane and Mrs. A. F. Smith, one a widow and the other—well, perhaps she would like to be one—started overland with a good horse and buggy, to visit friends at Dexter, Delhi and Ann Arbor. In answer as to when they would return, one said they would not return in 40 days if the weather continued bad for so long a time. Now, an interested (though not a praying) man will certainly pray on this occasion that the weather will continue fair."

Baldness is often preceded or accompanied by grayness of the hair. To prevent both baldness and grayness, use Hall's Hair Renewer, an honest remedy.

The Dexter K. O. T. M.'s visit Chelsea, Oct. 29.

Supervisor Jacob Jedle, of Dexter, is around on crutches.

The Argus for the rest of the year only twenty-five cents.

Subscribe for the Argus. It costs less than a cent a number.

It is not very far from poll to poll at Chelsea, and the Herald kicks.

Mrs. J. O. Hoyt has had her residence in Dexter freshened up with paint.

Rev. William Walker has been asked to become the pastor of the Chelsea Congregational church.

William and Gottlieb Benz, of Webster, shipped a car load of barley to Ypsilanti, last week.

Conrad Schade, of Bridgewater, is suffering from an accidental slash in the arm with a knife.

The Webster Congregational church will give a pleasant entertainment next Saturday evening.

The ladies of St. James' church, Dexter, gave a tea social at Mrs. Frederick Warner's, Thursday afternoon.

James Wing, of Wampler Lake, died on the 26th, ult., of cancer, leaving a wife and child in destitute circumstances.

Hon. J. V. N. Gregory, of Dexter, a great lover of a good horse, invested in "Trixy" at the Milan sale of blooded stock, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scadin, long residents of Webster township, leave today for Clay Springs, Florida, where they will hereafter reside.

Mrs. Edward Northard established a record for pedestrianism recently by walking from Pinckney to Dexter, a distance of ten miles. She is seventy-nine years of age.

W. C. T. U. societies in different parts of the county observed Sept. 28th with exercises, that being Miss Francis Willard's birthday. On that day Miss Willard was years old. Fill the blank to suit yourself.

Fred Vogel, of Chelsea, has been offered the management of the City Mission Publishing Company, of Pittsburg. He will inquire into the worldly and spiritual remuneration there may be in it, and perhaps remove to Pittsburg.

Rev. Geo. Mount and family, of Sharon, left last week for Springfield to reside. This leaves John J. Robinson as about the only man in the town whose piety is sufficiently rock-ribbed to stand up against house-cleaning time.

Night-cap and necktie socials are coming into favor again, as the fall season advances. Chelsea has just had one and other places are intending to do so. Night-caps are well enough, we suppose, but neckties should not retire in their neckties. It is vulgar.

Among the unadvertised exhibits at the county fair was a corps of office seekers who lost no time in placing themselves in the most attractive light. We call attention to this exhibit as an illustration of the fair management showing more than they advertised.—Dexter Leader.

Harvey Kies, of Manchester, has achieved military fame and position of third ranking officer of the Orchard Lake Military Cadets. He is a little too "kiddish" for the command of a Japanese regiment in the peninsular war, but may grow old enough before the "shindy" closes. The Japs are partial to American officers.

"Almost killed" is the way in which the Ann Arbor Argus describes a runaway which narrowly missed a baby in its cab.—Ypsilanti Sentinel.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Martin, of Sioux City, Iowa, are visiting his parents, it is the way in which the Ypsilanti Sentinel describes the presence of some visitors.

Very serious trouble has befallen several Chelsea boys. They went up to Grass Lake, and in attempting to steal a car ride home, were discovered and given the "fire bodily" from the train. In return for this mark of esteem they heaved a big rock into a car, and have been arrested. The way of the transgressor is tough.

While Fred Schabile, of Manchester, slept, a thief by night entered his room and explored his pants pockets for wealth. Eighty-five cents forsook Fred and went away with the thief. This dispensation will touch Mr. Schabile better than to have 85 cents hoarded away in his breeches, when the county is distressed for want of currency.

The fruit prophet will not be still with his lugubrious howl. Beaten in his predictions that the winter freezes and the spring nips had "cooked the apple crop," he now says that apples over in Scio, Lyndon, Lima, and Manchester are rotting so fast that they cannot be made into cider soon enough to save them. Why it is that the fatal dart of death goes forth and strikes down the pure, the trustful, and the grand, and yet misses this base, pinched, blue-knuckled, false prophet, passeth the understanding of man. How inscrutable are the ways of Providence.

The Dexter school building has been repaired.

The Argus costs its readers less than one cent for each copy.

Miss Allie Goodison, of Ypsilanti, has entered an art institute at Philadelphia.

The Dexter school, which took a $15 prize at the fair, will buy reference books with it.

The Chelsea fair begins today, and big preparations have been made for a very successful fair.

The Normal Conservatory of Music is crowded this term, and the air in that locality blossoms with harmony.

Barkworth, the next congressman, makes the first political speech at Dexter this year, tomorrow (Wednesday) evening.

Charles Chamberlain, of Webster, will sail for Paris, France, on Wednesday of next week, to continue his art studies.

Bert Mount, of Sharon; has entered the medical department of the University, and in due course of time will become one of the "mound builders."

The time for stump speeches has arrived. We saw a load of stumps going through the town yesterday.—Political paragraph in Manchester Enterprise.

Charles Ryan, of Ypsilanti, has entered the homeopathic college at Cleveland. What is the matter with U. of M. homeopathy—arn't the pills small enough?

The Peninsular Paper Company, of Ypsilanti, have recently bettered their property to the extent of several thousand dollars. What hard times the Wilson bill has produced!

C. T. Conklin, of Sylvan, hitches his windmill to a buzz-saw and compels it to cut his wood. Said an Irishman: "I believe the Yankees will harness the devil and make him work, yet."

Sneak thieves are now in possession of a winter supply of vegetables and canned fruit, "cooned" from the cellar of A. C. Fingerle, of Ypsilanti. Fingerle would like to get his fingers on them.

The indifference of Grass Lake bachelors to the marriage relation is engendering the prejudice of society against them. The young ladies are anxious for proposals but Barkis isn't willing.—Grass Lake News.

Some of the forest of the Normal campus has been cut down and "lugged off," the big willow and several elms being among the victims. The campus is injured by the change, but it is doubtful if the co-ed's like it.

The great hunt between the well known Manchesterians is on today, and the woods are full of them and their followers. Farmers have housed their stock in the cellars and are there with their families, to avoid stray bullets.

Henry Mellencoup, of Norvell, has secured a guardship in the Jackson penitentiary. Let him remember the fate of Guardsman Haight, and decline the mixed drinks of the polite murderer, Latimer. Politeness is commendable, even in a matricide, it is true, but cold poison kills.

In the general bustle of tearing down and rebuilding at Manchester, the Odd Fellows' stairway was torn down, and no meetings can be held yet. The goat is reported to have eaten up the three links, the altar and the mallet, and at last account was butting at the lodge bible.

Some anonymous individual who relied upon an error in the time card of the Sentinel "and got left," has written the editor an insulting note. This does not suit well with the digestion of Mr. Woodruff, who invites him to the disclosure of his identity and the risk of an editorial drubbing—in the newspaper.

Bert Tate, a former merchant of Clinton, has become a horny-handed Cincinnatus of Bridgewater. The plow is held and potatoes dug for Tate and other farm work booms under his personal manipulation. When he has had all the fun he wants with the soil of his farm, he will quit it and return to merchandizing.

The Chelsea Herald would stuff us to believe that the "picnic" is "wholly an institution of the 19th century." Perhaps so; but then, why did Solomon, who had some hundred wives, say that it was "better to dwell in a corner, than in a wide house with a brawling woman"? No picnics in those days, eh?

The Chelsea Standard notes the fact that an Ypsilanti man, 63 years of age, has become a great-grandfather. Yes, and at last accounts the old man was doing well, and, it was thought, would pull through, barring some unlooked for set-back. The record of the horse race has been greatly lowered this year, and that of the human race, also. The 60-year-old great-grandfather will come in before the century goes out, or else our horoscope is as false as a fruit prophet.

C. S. Wing, a former principal of the Manchester schools, started out with as promising a career before him as a man need have, and had he kept on might ere this have been one the salaried aldermen of Manchester, but he drifted off to Ludington, was tempted, fell, and is now running for senator on the democratic ticket, and sure of an election.

A young man from Lyndon, with a stomach like an anaconda, went over to Chelsea last week and sucked a dozen eggs as rapidly as he could break the shells. This form of idiole is less harmful than that other style of pointing an empty revolver at a friend and blowing his brains out, while the point that the fellow is a fool is just as well brought out. It is the better style.

C. M. Baldwin, in the Manchester Enterprise, is writing sketches of his visit to the active volcano of Hawaii. In his last he has progressed far enough toward the crater to feel the heat through his shoes, and note that the hand cannot be held close to one of the crevices in the rocks. A sulphurous fate awaits him in the near future unless he pauses in his career, and his stifled wail, beyond the reach of prayer and mercy, will ascend with the smoke of Hilo. Baldwin, turn back!

It is expected that Secretary Atkins will be appointed to the receivership of the Farmers' and Horseman's Mutual Live Stock Insurance Company. For some reason live stock insurance companies do not thrive. Tuberculosis, murrain and splenic fever get hold of their constitutions, and then cometh the receiver.

Try the Argus until January 1st. It will cost you only 25 cents, and you will get two papers every week.

The floral offering, "Gates Ajar," sent to the funeral of the late Prof. Estabrook of the Normal, is described as a beautiful tribute.

Rev. F. E. Wright, of Rockford, Mich., has been called to the pastorate of the Grass Lake Baptist church.

The Congregational ministers of the Jackson association will congregate in and about Grass Lake, October 16 and 17.

E. L. Cooper has coopered the contract of furnishing the Methodists of Grass Lake with good music. He should at once engage Carlton of the News as his basso profundo.

House cleaning and fights are said to be on at Milan. Old batchelors who don't know as much about it as a hog does about making a watch, assert that domestic life is a mating. It's not so.

The musical entertainment, "Busted Community," played at Bridgewater, recently, was not as well attended as was hoped. It will be repeated and if the audience is not larger, the players will present the living embodiment of "A Busted Community."

W. E. Webster and wife, of Leoni township, are in receipt of twins—a boy and a girl. The former weighed 8 1/2 pounds and the girl 8 1/4. As the boy was born last Sunday just before midnight and the girl later on Monday morning, of course they cannot celebrate their birthdays on the same day. Another peculiarity is, the boy was born in September, the girl in October. We are indebted to Dr. Chapin for these facts.—Grass Lake News.

Dr. K. Greiner, of Dexter, has packed up his pill case, and will attack the inhabitants of Lisbon, Kent county. He leaves many friends and few headstones.

The Chelsea Herald corrects in its last issue a typographical error of the previous number, referring to the address of Prohibitionist Fanning, where in he was reported as "argumtental and abusive." The Herald intended to say "argumtental and not abusive," but the "not" was not there, the "notty" compositor having left it out.

A steam laundry is to be opened in Chelsea. Just in time for the "dirty linen" of the campaign.

Miss Maggie Wheeler, of Saline, thumps a fine banjo, won by her at the fair, and presented by the Ann Arbor Organ Co. for the best rendering of "The Happy Farmer." She gave it such a realistic style that some of the old farmers jumped up and became forgetful of "that darn rheumatism."

Mrs. Charles Carmen, of Saline, last week endeavored to drive a colt into a shed, but the animal refused and lifting a heel planted a blow on the lady's cheek that soon swelled the eye shut. It was feared that the eye was ruined but it sees again as usual.

The Ypsilantian asks its friends to have their probate notices published in that paper. The Ypsilantian is an excellent newspaper and the architect of this paragraph is its friend; but not even for friendship's sake will he accede to the Ypsilantian's request as long as he has breath to refuse. There is a place where the line must be drawn between disinterested friendship on one hand and personal interests on the other.

At a "Pumpkin Pie" social to be held by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Free church of Superior, Oct. 12, an etched quilt will be the reward to the person guessing the nearest to the number of seeds in a specified pumpkin. Every "pumpkin seed" who wishes may guess and get a supper for 20 cents and be ashamed of himself that all this costs him so little.

Postmaster Kishpaugh, of Clinton, has washed the fly specks of the Harrison era off the glass of the letter boxes and made many substantial improvements in the building. The man who dares fire a charge of tobacco juice on the elegant new floor will be squirted in the eye with pepper sauce.

Lewis Feldkamp, of Manchester, was thrown from his conveyance last week, and received a fracture of the clavicle. We could just as well have said that Lew. Feldkamp was flipped out of his wagon and busted his collar bone; but "conveyance" is more recherche than "wagon", "clavicle" sounds more scientific than "collar bone", "fracture" more euphonious than "busted"; and to say "Lew" for Lewis would be treating a man pretty roughly, smashed up as he was.

A cow over in Pittsfield recently discovered the 13-year-old son of William Clements and gave chase. The lad was a sprinter. So was the cow. It was a nice race till the bovine bested the boy and invited him to "take a horn" with him. He took two, and was likely to respond to an encore, when the cow saw a dog and lunged off after him. Young Clements then got out of the field, quite a used up boy, and a doctor was called. He will live and to his dying day will recollect the incident in the cow pasture and may be compose bad poetry about it.

The Chelsea Herald, on the recent prohibition speech of M. J. Fanning, in Chelsea, on the occasion of the prohibition senatorial convention: His address was argumtental and abusive, and was listened to with great interest to the close. The time was when prohibition meetings were opened with prayer, sandwiched with singing, and closed with the benediction, but since the party came into power it has grown godless and abusive.

"Jesusum waxed fat, And down his belly hung, Against the Lord his God he kicked, And up his heels he hung."

"Resolved, that the miser is more injurious to society than the spendthrift." Subject of Alpha Sigma debate at Manchester. Decision in favor of the negative. The case should be appealed. The spendthrift sows his money right and left and equalizes the floating medium. This is a benefit to society and business. Church socials grow rich out of him, and business prospers as long as he lasts. This is a benefit to society. When he lasts no longer; when his money has flown and he has no more coming, he sees that he has been a donkey and tells his friends so, and they all reply that they knew it. This teaches the spendthrift the folly of living a fool, and thus he is benefited also. Not one of these benefits could be driven out of the heart of the miser with a cast steel punch.

It's Water-proof. Interlined "Celluloid" Collars and Cuffs turn water like a duck's back and show neither spot nor soil. They are not effected by perspiration, and always look as if right out of the box. When they get soiled you can clean them in a minute by simply wiping off with a wet cloth. These are but a few of the advantages of wearing the "Celluloid" Collars and Cuffs. There are many others that you will readily discover the first time you wear one. They are the only waterproof interlined collars and cuffs made. Be sure to get the genuine with this trade mark.

THE CELLULOID COMPANY, 427-29 Broadway, NEW YORK.

Barkworth's speech at Grass Lake drew a big crowd.

A cherry tree at Leoni was out in full bloom last week.

Dan W. Clark, of Grass Lake, raised potatoes this year which weighed two pounds and a half each.

Our readers in the northwestern part of the county didn't forget that the Stockbridge fair was held last week.

The time made by Wilkie Knox at Chillicothe recently, has been corrected and found to be 20:04.

Theo. Buss, of Freedom, aged 22, is paralyzed in the lower limbs and probably cannot live, from the effects of a headlong fall from an apple tree.

Alfred Davenport, of Mooreville, recently delivered about 15 loads of celery at Tecumseh. Is this the way Tecumseh gets her reputation of being "the great celery center" of southern Michigan?

The editor of the Grass Lake News is advertised to open a chicken pie at the Baptist social in that village at exactly fifteen minutes after six tomorrow evening. It is a sight worth driving twenty miles to see.

Rev. Mr. Smith, Sunday last week preached his last sermon at Mooreville, and the Baptist church, knowing the peculiar fondness of the Baptist clergymen for yellow-legged poultry, on Tuesday evening tendered him a chicken pie social. Mr. Smith was there.

Walter Robbins has been having trouble on account of an accusation of theft against him before Justice Childs, of Ypsilanti. Geo. N. Hammond, of Willis, accuses him of stealing 48 bushels of wheat.

Rev. M. M. Goodwin is still at Bluefields with the navy, and uncertain when he will secure his release. Between supplications for the blessings of Providence on the American war shipping, the homesick chaplain retires to his closet where his petition is "How long, O Lord, how long?"

"Milton Reynolds a few days since favored us with a handful of pawpaw, picked near Macon. The fruit somewhat resembles a banana in shape, and in taste is a cross between a pineapple and a muskmelon." Coming, as this does, from that excellent exchange, the Saline Observer, it is very hard to doubt, and we don't doubt it at all. We now only want to know whether the Macon referred to is in Lenawee county or Georgia.

While Mrs. Anna E. George and family, of Ypsilanti, were attending the opera, Friday evening, burglars were attending to the valuables at the home of the George household. Fred George is in consequence not now provided with a winter overcoat and a gold watch, but the thief is. A suit of Fred's clothes were also discovered by the burglar to be about his size, and he took it along as a souvenir. No clew, but "The Sorcerer" is suspected.

The Chelsea Herald grabs its toe and exclaims: "Some postmasters seem to forget that the picking up of loose stones is a part of their duty." The Herald is right. Common sense dictates it; divine law commands it. It is written, "Cast up the highway and gather up the stones." The postmaster who refuses to read this scripture, "has denied the faith and is worse than an infidel." Let him be "anathema maranatha"; that is, not re-elected.

The Sentinel, referring to the banquet to Gov. Felch, says: "No local reporters were invited, so the Sentinel, believing the affair to have been purely a private matter, will not mention it at all." Here in Ann Arbor, all who know and honor the venerable Gov. Felch, are deeply gratified that the bar of Washtenaw county saw fit to bestow upon him a compliment which, age being regarded, comes to but few of the nation's distinguished men, and in this gratification the newspapers of Ann Arbor share to such a degree that they willingly overlook the lack of courtesy toward the newspapers, as in the major part a minor affair.

It must be that the editor of the Argus has lived on the clay knolls of Ann Arbor where they raise Tom Thumb corn and red-eye beans, so long that he thinks the correspondent of the Observer lunny on raising corn. If he will come down from his perch to the southern part of the county he may get his eyes open.—Mooreville Cor. Saline Observer. This slap at the farmers of Ann Arbor is going to make the husky-eared grangers of the city very much enraged.

Hon. S. O. Fisher is not only a highly successful business man, a bold champion of tariff reform, with clear ideas of the situation and the nerve to urge an aggressive fight for principle, but is also well versed in the lore and language of the bible, as any interviewer may discover in the course of a short conference with him.

A. L. Alexander of this city, is becoming known for his busts. "Busts" is not here used in a Bacchanalian sense, as there is no occasion for competition. There is no more business than he is capable of attending to, although he is sometimes hustled a little, when wicked persons from Ypsilanti, Dexter, Saline, and Grass Lake come here and start a row with our peaceful community.

Squire Pond now has the monopoly of justice in the supreme court of Ann Arbor; but there is no occasion for competition. There is no more business than he is capable of attending to, although he is sometimes hustled a little, when wicked persons from Ypsilanti, Dexter, Saline, and Grass Lake come here and start a row with our peaceful community.

A. M. Clark has been chosen president of the board of public works vice Mr. Keech resigned. G. W. Bullis succeeds to the vacant membership of the board.

Bicycle races at Battle Creek on the 11th. It will be the first tournament given there by the club. The Adventists of the city have gone wholly back on the bicycle, believing that a "header" does not "head" toward glory; but this will not interfere with the exercise on the part of hopeless sinners. The tournament will take place.

A volume instead of half a volume in the new Commentaries, soon to be issued, has been assigned to Dr. C. M. Cobern. Many recent disclosures from Assyrian records have been made confirmatory of the narrations of the bible, and along this line Dr. Cobern is esteemed as an authority.

The new public park, formed out of the old cemetery, has been named by the council Alpheus Felch Park, in honor of Gov. Felch. A happy thought and graceful and appreciative act would have been to have conveyed to the venerable ex-governor, on the night of the banquet in his honor, official notice of the action of the council, in an address by the mayor befitting the occasion.

The Star laundry horse, having heard much of the lowering of records this season, concluded to start in himself last Friday, and hoisting the clean shirts as his ensign, scud away on Main street. The wagon became rattled, the king-bolt "bolted," and the wagon segregated. The horse was caught near the court house, with the two front wheels of the rig still in his custody. Note:—$2 for advertising the Star laundry.

LOST.—On South Main street or East William street, a pair of gold spectacles. If the person finding them will leave the same at No. 33 South Division street, they will receive reward.

Three lawyers and a jury before Justice Pond tussled with a "hoss" note case last Friday. Plaintiff recovered $33.30, and feels quite cheerful to think that the judgment will go quite a little way toward feeing his attorney, saying nothing about the fun of coming out on top. But for such spics, life would be a melancholy hum-drum, and suicides would be more frequent.

The first general reception of the Students' Christian Association was held at Newberry hall, Friday evening. The hall was neatly decorated and a splendid program had been arranged, but owing to the machinations of the old fellow with the split hoof, or from some mechanical defect, the electric light gave so much trouble that the literary bill of fare could not be served. It will keep, however, and will be presented at the next general reception to be held in a few weeks.

Work on the lateral sewers will soon be commenced. The work must go forward at an industrious rate to reach completion "before the snow flies". On the arrival of material the Washington and Liberty street work will begin. Ann Arbor labor will be chiefly employed. On October 15 the council will sit as a board of review on the Washington and Liberty street assessment districts. Taxpayers who "have a kick coming" are invited to try the effect of foot propulsion on the defences of the review board.

The ladies of Ypsilanti are endeavoring to raise $1,000 to put with another $1,000 donated by Mrs. Starkweather on condition that it was made $2,000 by other gifts, to erect a soldiers' monument in Ypsilanti. In furtherance of this praiseworthy project, a cheap excursion will be given to Detroit on Saturday, October 26, from Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. From Ann Arbor the rates for the round trip will be adults, 95 cents; children, 50 cents. From Ypsilanti the rates for the round trip will be, adults, 80 cents; children, 40 cents. A special excursion train will be run, leaving Ann Arbor at 7:30 a. m., and Ypsilanti at 7:45 a. m. Returning the train will leave Detroit at 5 p. m.

Some people have ability to do more than one thing and do it to perfection, as has been demonstrated at the last two fairs. A prize was offered for the handsomest baby. Mrs. D. B. Fletcher, of this city, had her baby at the fair two years ago and won the first premium. This year this same lady won prizes as follows: First prize for best window garden by an amateur; first prize on best display of bread, biscuit and cakes. first prize on best collection of eight classes of canned fruit—eight preserves, eight pickles, and ten domestic fruit jellies.

Next Saturday and Monday, Oct. 13 and 15, the people within reach of Ann Arbor will be given an opportunity to attend the largest fur sale ever known in Ann Arbor. The largest house in America—the John Rusitz Fur Company—will be at Mack & Schmid's cloak and fur department with their entire line of sample garments, which will be sold direct to the customers at 75 cents on the dollar. Special orders for new work, also repairs in fine furs, will be taken during this sale. Every one is invited, whether in need or not.

FUR SALE

SATURDAY AND MONDAY,

OCT. 13 and 15.

The Great Syndicate Sale Continues!

ANOTHER LINK IN THE GREAT CHAIN OF UNMATCHABLE BARGAINS.

Replete with values of incredible magnitude of wonderful low selling and remarkable cheap buying, that have won golden opinions from thousands of wide awake customers who came to us in response to our announcement two weeks ago. We told you then we would inaugurate a sale unlike anything known heretofore. The crowds in our establishment last week testified to the manner in which we carried our intentions. We have combined fine goods with low prices, revolutionized trade in favor of the consumer and have made the Big Store the talk of the county. The good work goes on.—We intend to keep it up the entire season.—We must keep it up to dispose of our enormous purchases, which, now that they are all received far exceeds our calculations.

DRESS GOODS, CLOAKS AND FURS

Are here in enormous quantities,—unlike anything heretofore seen. It positively frightens us to contemplate the extent of our buying.

DRESS GOODS SALE, EXTRAORDINARY

In the great Dress Goods Department—in our unique Dress Goods Stock—where more new, foreign, exclusive Dress Goods ideas prevail than in all other Dress Goods stocks combined.—where fashion centers, and bargain centers, are most radiantly reflected,—where whatever is particularly new and novel in style and rare in value finds freest representation.—Were it not you would not always see the largest crowds of shrewd buyers at these counters. It is here our greatest efforts will be made.

New Fall Dress Fabrics ^{FOR} WINTER

No three Dress Goods Stocks in the county can show as extensive and as exclusive a variety of Scotch, English, French and German Novelties as "The Store" has on exhibit now, all the result of our great Syndicate purchasing at prices lower than they will ever reach under the new tariff law and consequently lower than possible for any other concern to reach.

Storm Serges. Our claim to the lowest prices is nowhere better exemplified than where these goods are found. We place on sale 50 pieces 50-inch, soft, fine, thick Storm Serge, in blue and black you would unhesitatingly pay 75c or 85c for if we asked it, at 50c.
