BEAKES & HAMMOND, PROPRIETORS. PUBLISHED EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY for $1.00 per year strictly in advance.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1895.

DISCOVERED TOO LATE.

Numerous cotton mills in New England are considering the question of removal to the south, and those at Lowell, Mass., have determined upon that step.

The soft coal used for making steam is close at hand in the south. It is also close at hand in Massachusetts, but a tariff tax is placed upon it that prevents her manufacturers from using it.

Why is it that the advocates of the "home market" idea, those patriots who have been wont to dilate upon the advantages of consuming at home our entire body of products, are so wrought up over the exclusion of the American steer from the European markets?

In a speech on Jackson day, Congressman William M. Wilson gave utterance to the following sentiments which are worthy of the thoughtful consideration of every believer in democratic principles:

Jackson—the party of free institutions—is pledged to wage a war of extermination. Moderate and just taxation is indeed the highest achievement of legislative action.

In view of the do-nothingism so rampant in congress, certain members of the cabinet and others are urging the president to send a special message to congress, setting forth the imperative reasons for doing something to relieve the country and the treasury from present intolerable conditions.

A new use for trolley cars has been found. In Brooklyn they recently came into use in the postal service with, it is said, very satisfactory results.

As Nero is said to have fiddled while Rome was burning, so the people's (mis)representatives at Washington fiddle away their time in gossip over Senator Hill's dining engagements, while the imperative needs of the nation are allowed to go by default.

Currency Reform and Silver.

To the Editor: I believe that it is generally conceded that the unparalleled depreciation in the value of all products of human industry as well as land, the basis of all wealth, is the cause of our present business depression.

all balances must be settled, that affects business conditions. If the recognized unit is manifestly too large and yearly becoming larger, it follows that the debtor must suffer, trade become cramped and industry falter.

For a general commercial nations have by ages consent used gold and silver as measures for all other kinds of property, and the experience of those ages demonstrates the fact that those metals possess the two essential features of sound money—elasticity and stability.

When the commercial world is allowed the unrestricted use of both of these metals as full legal tender money, the average prices of all other commodities must bear a direct relation to the combined stocks of gold and silver in the world's possession.

The bill will first provide for the issuance of 2 1/2 per cent. bonds to the amount of $500,000,000 which are to be paid in gold and are to be used both for the purpose of meeting the current expenses of the government and the redemption of United States and treasury notes.

The restoration of this dollar to its time honored place in our monetary system will relieve the enforced demand for gold. It will enable the government to go out of the credit money business and relieve the treasury of the strain of maintaining an enormous volume of credit money.

I am aware that many objections to the coinage of silver have been raised, and with your kind permission I will discuss some of them in a future communication. Respectfully, CHAS. A. WARD.

WAITE AND E. V. DEBS AGREE.

The Ex-Governor Greatly Pleased with His Visit to the Woodstock Jail. CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Ex-Governor Waite visited Woodstock, Ills., for the purpose of making a visit to Debs. The visit was not of great length, but Waite after his return to the city expressed himself as greatly pleased with the trip. He said: "We discussed the railroad strike of last summer at great length. Debs, in my opinion, violated no law, and it is hard that he should be imprisoned." Waite addressed an audience in Central Music hall on the "Emancipation of the White Race." His audience was very enthusiastic and applauded him freely. He said that Washington was the richest man in America when he died worth $90,000,000, but now it is only a question that the bright children of our public schools can solve when the blessed 400 shall hold all the riches of the country and the masses shall in truth become the slaves of capital. * * * There is no use nor sense in crying peace when there is no peace. * * * Victory for the masses is only to be won through the defeat of the British bankers and the money power of America. * * * Europe is paying usury from its poverty and degradation, the United States from its earnings. * * * The old parties would not change it if they could and they could not if they would. * * * I have an abiding faith in the virtue and intelligence of the people. The republic is safe."

Gentlemen who have acted in his behalf have authorized me to make this statement, and I will state that he is no longer to be considered." The object of the caucus was to select a candidate on whom the Cook county delegation could concentrate. No decision was reached.

Henry Renan, of Sharon, has recovered from a wound inflicted on his foot by stepping on a nail, which went through his boot. George Osborn, of Whittaker, was forced to take to crutches by having his heel come into contact with the wheel of a wagon, to the detriment of the heel. Mrs. John Stoll, of Saline, has received the $1,000 insurance on her husband's life in the Knights of Maccabees. The money was paid within two weeks after his death. Milan boasts of three deputy-sheriffs. The latest is Thomas Redman. If this thing keeps on Sheriff Judson will have every republic in the village as deputy. Saline has a wide-awake literary club which will discuss J. Whitcomb Riley tomorrow evening at the residence of Mrs. J. Sturm. Each member is expected to give a quotation from Riley. Mrs. John Frank died in Saline, January 6, aged 57 years. She was born in Germany, and she was married in 1856, and the same year came with her husband to this country. They removed to Saline in 1877. She is survived by a husband, three sons and two daughters. The Manchester court of Foresters, No. 1656, will be officered this year as follows: C. D. H. C. R., Fred A. Cotts, C. R., J. H. Kingsley; V. C. R., Mat D. Blosser; R. S., Chas. J. Robison; F. S., M. H. Sikhowitz; treas., C. W. Case; S. W., Earl F. Chase; J. W., A. M. Yocum; S. B., Fred Herman; J. B., Wm. Koebbe; P. C. R., F. E. Ortenburger; chaplain, Rev. D. H. Yocum; physician, E. M. Conklin, M. D.

The following officers of the Independent Order of Foresters have been installed at Milan: C. D. H. C. R., F. W. Elwood; C. R., A. E. Putnam; V. C. R., J. R. Gump; R. S., Fred G. T. Wilson; F. S., E. Case; treasurer, Charles E. Patterson; S. W., W. Draper; S. B., A. W. Chadwick; P. C. R., C. M. Blackmer; chaplain, W. Fitch Allen; physician, A. G. Mesic; delegate to high court, A. E. Putnam; alternate, J. R. Gump. Geo. and Delia Croman, of Waterloo, have been married 43 years and have always lived in the same door-yard since their marriage. Mr. Croman has lived in this same door-yard nearly 60 years. When he settled upon that farm Jan. 15, 1835, the nearest resident was Mr. Putnam's people on the place where Mrs. Albert Yocum lives, four miles away, and the next nearest neighbor was on the Andrew Greening place in London, eight miles east. The longest time they have been from the farm was once for three weeks and again for two weeks. After thus farming it sixty years Mr. Croman has rented his farm to Henry Lehman, who will take possession about the first of April, and Mr. and Mrs. Croman propose then to make some long-promised visits. Mr. Croman informed a representative of the Sun that his brother-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Emmons, who have been married 42 years, beat their stay-at-home record, having spent but one night away from home in the whole 42 years.—Stockbridge Sun.

W. H. Lehr is building a new ice house in Manchester. It looks as if Manchester would have a canning factory. Dexter is living in lonely expectation of having a brass band. Stella, daughter of Matthias Saley, of Manchester, died of pneumonia, January 5, aged 12 years. The little four-year-old daughter of Nicholas Webber, of Dexter, was severely scalded Thursday by the overturning of a kettle of boiling water. The following are the officers of M. E. Sunday school of Manchester: Superintendent, Mr. H. Leeson; assistants, Mr. E. Essery, Mrs. Rowe; secretary, Ida Sillery; treasurer, Bessie Torrey; organist, Margaret Blosser; historian, Chas. Leeson. The Southern Washtenaw Farmers' Mutual Insurance company has 297 members, a gain of 9 during the year. It has $696,655 at risk, a gain of about $4,000. The expenses during the year were $317.31 of which $256.66 were for losses. There was no assessment during the year. Large assortment of stable blankets, cheap, at Fred Theurer's. Children Working in a Glass Factory. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 14.—Upon the report of Miss Florence Kelley, state factory inspector, that a large number of children under 14 years of age were working in the Alton glass factory, Governor Altgeld ordered the children discharged, their employment being a violation of the law. A committee of representatives of the glass factory called on the governor and told him that 700 boys were employed and that their wages averaged 40 cents a day; that many of the children helped earn a support for their families; that to employ men to do the work would make the product cost more than it could be sold for, and that it was impossible to pay higher wages. The governor was inexorable. He gave the company until Feb. 1 to get rid of the boys under 14 and to March 1 for those under 14.

LIL FORNULLE, Jan. 5 via San Francisco. HONOLULU, Jan. 5.—The report is current that a few days ago some of the most prominent advisers of the ex-queen informed her of the impossibility of restoring her to power by force, and acting upon their advice the ex-queen has forwarded a petition for annexation to President Cleveland, at the same time asking the United States government for a life annuity for herself. The talk among the Dole people here is all for annexation to the United States, and how it shall be brought about, and the government is leaving no stone unturned to that end. Woman Suffrage for Michigan. LANSING, Jan. 14.—Notice has been given in the house of a general woman suffrage bill; of a joint resolution for a constitutional amendment relative to the election and salaries of legislators, making the term of half the members four years and having half elected every two years and having every four years; of a anti-cigarette bill; of a bill to compel weekly payment of employees; of a primary election law for cities of 15,000 population. Chopped His Wife to Bits. MEMPHIS, Jan. 14.—Hayward Graham chopped his wife to bits with an ax at his home near Lucy, a small town in this county. The murderer fled, but was captured after being clubbed into into insensibility and lodged in jail here. Was a Member of Grant's Staff. GALENA, Ill., Jan. 14.—Colonel Ulysses G. Scheller de Buel died here aged 70. All through the late war he was a member of General Grant's staff, with the rank of colonel. ABLAZE IN A BLIZZARD. Fire at Bradford, Pa., Forces People into the Storm Unclad. BRADFORD, Pa., Jan. 14.—Just before the opening of the morning fire broke out in the Sheehan house, No. 39 Mechanic street, and before it was quenched it had destroyed seven buildings, including several brick blocks, and cost the owners thereof about $100,000, with about one-third insurance. Over 100 firemen were severely frostbitten by the ripping air and several of the people who occupied the different buildings as roomers, etc., had narrow escapes from being burned to death and others were frostbitten to death and seek the bitter cold streets in their night clothes for safety. Two women, Mary Callahan and Mary Dorean, jumped from second-story windows in their night clothes. Miss Callahan had her left wrist and ankle fractured and nearly died of cold. Mrs. J. F. McQuincy was rescued by the firemen with a ladder with her hair ablaze; her husband had his hands badly burned and hands and ears frozen. Robert Sisco and Robert Helme, of a hose company, were so badly frozen that their condition is critical. Ice an inch thick formed on the firemen's clothing and helmets, for a fierce blizzard was raging at the time. All the roomers, tenants and boarders lost everything they had except the clothing in which they escaped. WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 14.—Fire, supposed to be started from natural gas, burned out thirteen firms at Barnesville, O., thirty miles east of here, and damaged a dozen others. The total loss, including the damages, will be nearly $100,000, with about $85,000 insurance. COLOR LINE AT ST. LOUIS. The "Black Patti" Refused the Hospitality of the Lindell. ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 14.—The color line was sharply drawn at the Lindell hotel when the proprietor refused to entertain Mrs. Sissieretta Jones, better known as the "Black Patti." Jones for the past several years has been engaged two weeks ago. On the refusal of the Lindell management to accommodate the black Patti and her husband the entire company engaged quarters at the LaClede hotel. Mr. Jones indignantly declared that he will bring suit against the proprietors of the Lindell hotel for $5,000 damages.

TWO BOLD BANDITS.

Do a Neat Job in the Train Hold-Up Line. GET AWAY WITH EIGHT THOUSAND Without Firing a Shot, Stopping the Train or Alarming the Passengers—A Point Near Ottumwa, Ia., the Scene and the Burlington Road—Express Employees Surprised, Bound and Gagged—Bill Cook Reported Caught Again.

OTTUMWA, Ia., Jan. 14.—Several hundred passengers on the Burlington passenger train No. 4, with the conductor and other trainmen, were greatly surprised on the arrival of the train at the Union station in this city to learn that the train had been held up. The event, which transpired in twenty minutes, while the train was in transit, was the most daring, coolest and most consummate train robbery ever attempted in this country. The train is a through train and carries many passengers, but it also hauls much through-bound mail and express. At times there are big amounts in the express car safe. This fact the robbers were evidently acquainted with, as they were with the movements of the train. The agent at Chillicothe, a small station seven miles west, had seen two roughly-dressed men about the station in the afternoon, but had paid no particular attention then to them. Enter Two Bold Railway Brigands. When No. 4 arrived at his station at 6:30 p. m. they disappeared. When the train moved out he tracked "good day" to the Ottumwa train dispatcher's office, locked up and went home. The company keeps no night agent at that point. The two men had boarded the passenger train, and as the agent looked up his office they crouched on the front end of the Adams express car. Inside Messenger John T. Page, of Burlington, sat by his open safe, checking up his run into Ottumwa, and his assistants, L. Hawk, of Chariton, and Ed Wright, of Ottumwa, stood a short distance away. Sudden a noise attracted Page's attention and he glanced up to look into the faces of two masked men with a revolver in each hand, who had entered through the front-end door, which had been left unsecured. On Serious Business Intent. The first thing Wright heard was the ominous: "Hold up your hands." "Go to thunder," answered Wright. "This is no joke," cried the robber. "I'll kill you if you don't hold up your hands." Wright saw that it was business and threw up his hands. All three were rounded up, bound and gagged, and thrown into a corner. Just then a mail clerk sauntered in from his car adjoining to pass the time of day with the express boys, and arrived just in time to become a fellow with them at the surprise party. He was bound and gagged and thrown on the floor. The robbers then rifled the safe and put the contents into a sack which they carried. Surprising to their silent watchers they did not continue to the mail cars or to the passenger coaches, but stood leisurely to the passenger train, slacked up for the Milwaukee railroad crossing, a mile west of the city, when they doffed their caps to the quartet of prisoners and walking to the platform leaped from the train. SAME GANG BEAT FROM BEFORE. Their Hiding Place Abandoned Coal Mines in Wapello and Monroe Counties. The place where they alighted is right on the river bank, and in the middle of the river is an island a mile long which has been said to be the rendezvous of all sorts of desperadoes by tradition and legend of years. It is believed they crossed to the island on the ice, walked the length of the island and passed to the other side of the river, which is the beginning of a huge stretch of wild territory honey-combed with abandoned coal mines in Wapello and Monroe counties, where there is unquestionably a gang of moonshiners and counterfeiterers. It is believed that these men are of the same gang as Johnson and Collet, in the United States prison at Council Bluffs for shooting Deputy United States Marshal Wray at Albia and releasing a pal in his custody for illicit distilling. It is thought that confederates met them at this point with horses and they are now out of reach, for United States marshals have even got so close to moonshiners in this locality as to exchange shots with them and then were unable to secure them owing to the numerous hiding places in the wild river country thereabouts. When the robbers left the train at the crossing the mail clerk succeeded in getting his bonds loosened, and he lost no time in releasing his companions. By that time the train was at the station at Ottumwa and the alarm was given. Two charges were started in pursuit. One in possession of Burlington Detective Jim Harrison took an engine and started for Chillicothe. Harrison is the man who killed one bandit and wounded another at Batavia a short time ago. The sheriff took another posse up to the island to pick up the trail there. Nothing has been returned by them yet. The robbers were medium-sized men. Both wore brown overcoats and caps with flap masks. One had on gray jeans pants and the other wore overalls, and both had high boots. Local officials estimate the amount taken at $8,000, but on account of it being the habit of banks in small towns to send money to Chicago Saturday it is believed the amount is much larger. SEEM TO HAVE BILL COOK. The Celebrated Train Robber Rounded Up in New Mexico. NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—A special to the World from Santa Fe, N. M., says: Marshal Hall has received the following telegram from Deputy Marshal C. C. Perry, dated Fort Stanton: "Captured Bill Cook, of Oklahoma territory, this morning. Will take him from here to Roswell, thence to Oklahoma territory." Cook is the leader of the band that has been terrorizing the Indian Territory for the last few months. ROSWELL, N. M., Jan. 14.—Desperado Bill Cook was captured in Yates corral near Coke Grays, five miles from Fort Stanton by Sheriff Perry, of Roswell. He was placed in Roswell jail and has been identified by several persons. In fact, he does not deny his identity, but says he has never killed a man, nor robbed a poor man except when in absolute need. He denies that he was in a tenth of the robberies that he was reported and says he never robbed a bank, confining himself exclusively to railroads.

TAYLOR NOT YET ARRESTED.

The South Dakota Sheriff's Whereabouts Is Still Unknown. CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The telegram from Taylor, the South Dakota ex-treasurer, had been arrested there seems to have been a mistake, and his friends here say he is somewhere on the Atlantic Ocean. A Pierre, S. D., dispatch says that the actual shortage which would have been revealed when Taylor came to transfer his office to his successor was about $170,000 in cash. It is therefore believed that he must have appropriated about $200,000 more when he found out how matters stood, on the theory that he was in for it any way. The Pierre dispatch also says that Mayor Ruth, of the office of school lands, is accused of complicity with Taylor. In June last it is alleged he held back his semi-annual apportionment of school lands funds for several months, and then only apportioned a part of it, and when the November apportionment became due refused to make that until Dec. 27. Then it was too late for county treasurers to make requisitions, and $90,000 went with Taylor. Taylor and Ruth were close business associates.

Missouri 40,000 Years Hence. According to the engineers of the hydrographic bureau, the level of the gulf of Mexico is one foot higher than it was in 1859, and, of course, the encroachment on the surrounding coasts has been greater or less, pending on their character. In some places, where the marginal lands are composed of high, rocky bluffs, this change of level has gone on from year to year without attracting attention. On the other hand, many low lying points (some that were once inhabited by the primitive inhabitants or by the pioneer white settlers, are entirely submerged. The cause of this change of level has not as yet been ascertained, but it is reasonably certain that it is the result of either a settling of the dry land or of a general and uniform rising of the sea level in the gulf bed. No man who has given the matter a moment's thought will argue that there is more water in the gulf now than there was 35 years ago. On the contrary, there isn't the least doubt but that there is much less. However this may be, if this aqueous encroachment is steadily maintained, Keokuk will be a deep water harbor and St. Louis and the whole of Missouri will be entirely submerged in less than 40,000 years from Jan. 1, 1895.—St. Louis Republic.

On Reading.

To sit down in a chair without an object is to jump into a thicket of temptations. A vacant hour is always the devil's hour. When time hangs heavily and the wings of the spirit flap heavily and slow. Then it is that a book is a strong tower, nay, a very church, with angels lurking among the leaves as if they were so many niches. Reading helps to make conversation harmless, by making it less petty and censorious, by furnishing us with other topics than our neighbors' faults and foibles. It is very hard for a person who does not like reading to talk much in company without sinning. Furthermore, a taste for reading often hinders our taking the wrong side in practical questions which are mooted in the world, but bear upon the church. It does this either by the information it has enabled us to obtain on the subject itself, or by making our instincts accurate and sensitive through our familiarity with right principles.—Faber.

Both Wicked.

"My husband," said the large, fleshy lady, "has a habit of marking paragraphs in the paper that say mean things about women." "Still you will not fail to see them, eh? Still that is not as mean a trick as mine plays. He cuts them all out. Then I have to get another paper only to find that I have been fooled again."—Indianapolis Journal.
