METHODIST CONFERENCE NEXT WEEK.

Which Will Fill the City With Visiting Delegates.—Interesting Items of the Week.

Two Sunday Fires.

On Sunday last the fire department was called out by two alarms. At 1 o'clock in the morning the house of John Wilson; No. 5 Walnut street, was discovered to be on fire, and was almost entirely destroyed. The firemen succeeded in saving some adjoining property. The house was insured for $1,500 and the contents for $600. During the afternoon of the same day an oil stove took fire in the millinery store of Mrs. Christine Rentschler, corner of E. Washington and S. Fourth streets. By the presence of mind of Mrs. Rentschler's daughter a big fire was prevented, the girl carrying the burning stove the whole length of the store and pitching it out doors.

A Fine Tool Chest.

The finest chest and collection of tools in the state is owned by Superintendent of buildings and grounds of the University of Michigan, Hamilton Reeve. Mr. Reeve is a practical mechanic, having served an apprenticeship as carpenter in Brooklyn, N. Y., before the rebellion. Since coming to Ann Arbor in odd moments, he made the chest with his own hands. It is arranged with sliding drawers and a place for every tool. The chest is bound with beaten brass and looks very pretty. The chest and collection of tools is worth over $600 and is of interest to every one who has an eye for the beautiful.

Grand Reception for Rev. Fr. Goldrick.

The esteemed and beloved Pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Northfield, will return Wednesday evening Sept. 11th, on that occasion his many friends and admirers from far and near have decided to demonstrate publicly by a grand surprise Social, their appreciation of so genial a gentleman so worthy a citizen and so zealous a priest.

The members of his congregation most cordially invite every one to be present, regardless of creed, color or nationality, at 7 p. m. on the aforesaid date elaborate preparations, are being made for intellectual musical and eatable repasts, which will be served gratis to every one present. No one with in twenty miles can afford to miss a treat that will scarcely be parallel in a quarter of a century.

The New Atlas Out.

The Standard Atlas, published by Geo. A. Ogle & Co. just issued is now being delivered to subscribers. The work seems to have been executed with great care. It gives the ownership of every piece of land in the county outside of the towns and villages. The plats of all the towns are included in the work. These alone are of great interest will be constantly referred to. In addition there are maps of the world United States and State of Michigan. A list of the counties in the state and post offices of the state, a historical reference directory of Washtenaw county, an analysis of the land system of the United States and a digest of the civil government. The work is so complete that no family in the county can afford to be without it and every school district should possess a copy. Every one who studies the book cannot help, but become a better informed citizen for so doing.

Has Washtenaw Coal?

The coal deposits in Jackson county are well known, and it often has been surmised that they run over into Washtenaw county. The people of Manchester have surmised that there is coal under their village. Possibly the time has come when light will be thrown upon this question.

Samuel Tubbs near Osborn's mills five miles west of Ann Arbor believes that he has found something, that may solve the matter and it is this. He has recently found specimens of soft coal in a secluded spring on his land. The coal apparently comes from under a bank of earth that has caved in. Mr. Tubbs says there is no probability that the coal could have been thrown into the stream. Mr. Tubbs proposes to investigate his discovery at his leisure.

Death of Jesse Warner.

The friends of Jesse Warner, of York, were greatly shocked on Wednesday to learn that he had died the evening before. He had seemed in good health on Tuesday. In the evening he was taken with something like a stroke of paralysis and breathed his last after an hour of unconsciousness. Two years ago he had a slight stroke, from which he seemed to have recovered. Again two weeks ago this was repeated. Mr. Warner represented the town for five years on the board of supervisors. He was much respected for his sturdy honest character, and he wielded much influence for good during his life.

Mr. Warner was the son of Jesse and Margaret Warner and born April 30, 1827, in Ontario county, New York. In the year 1835 he emigrated with his parents to Washtenaw county, locating on section 31 in York township. He was married April 12, 1853. His wife and two daughters, Mrs. Theodore Jensenhans and Mrs. Everett Davenport, and two grandchildren, Jessie and Clyde Gauntlett, survive him. The funeral services were held yesterday, and were attended by a large number of friends.

Costello—Greening.

On Tuesday evening Miss Josephine Costello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Costello, of Dexter, and Mr. Frank Greening, of Chicago, were married in St. Joseph's church in Dexter, Rev. Fr. Fleming officiating. The bridesmaid was Miss Agnes McCune, of Chelsea, and the groom was attended by Mr. Daniel Cruise, of Chicago. A large number of friends were in attendance.

After the ceremony the bridal couple and friends assembled at the residence of the bride's parents, where, after a reception, 60 guests sat down to an elegant wedding supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Greening took the evening express for the east, where they will make an extended trip before taking up their residence in Chicago, their future home. The bride is one of Dexter's most prominent young ladies. For a number of years she was a successful teacher in the public schools. Mr. Greening has made an enviable record in the postal service. The large number of valuable, useful and elegant presents bestowed upon the happy couple was a slight expression of the many good wishes which a very large circle of friends hope may accompany them through life.

A Former Ann Arborite.

The many friends of Louis J. Fasquelle, in Ann Arbor, are always interested in his welfare, since he left this city for Petoskey some years since. During the past summer he has assisted in the management of the Clifton house, run by Mrs. Fasquelle's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. A. C. Rowan. Louie's well known executive ability no doubt served him well. The Resorser gives the following complimentary notice.

"Mr. Fasquelle is admirably adapted by nature for the position of landlord. He makes acquaintances quickly and is a genial, hospitable, 'hail fellow well met.'" He was born at St. Johns in this state in 1863. He was raised in the family of his grandfather, Prof. J. Louis Fasquelle, of Ann Arbor, whose name is familiar to old time students who used to delve in the pages of his French grammar. He graduated from the Ann Arbor high school in '80 and from the department of pharmacy in the university two years later.

In the summer of '82 Mr. Fasquelle was the business manager of the Northwestern Summer Institute, a summer school started in Petoskey by professors from Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, which was the precursor of the Summer University at Bay View. Mr. Fasquelle began the study of medicine at Ann Arbor but gave that up and went upon the road for a Detroit drug house until '88, when he started a drug store in Petoskey. Having sold out his drug business he took the position that he now holds some three or four years ago. He is a successful salesman, but the guests of the Clifton who have enjoyed his hospitality this season have endeavored to persuade him that his real forte is in the hotel business, and that others share this belief is evidenced by the fact that he has already had two or three flattering offers as hotel manager.

The Ministers Coming.

On Tuesday next the 40th session of the Detroit conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will be opened in Ann Arbor. With one exception it is the most influential conference in the country. It includes the churches of the northern peninsula and the eastern half of the lower part of the state, about 250 charges. Each one sends its pastor and one lay delegate every fourth year, this being the year for the presence of the lay delegates. The most important question to come up this year will be that of woman suffrage.

Bishop John F. Hurst, of Washington, is expected to preside at all the sessions of the conference. The exercises begin Tuesday evening, September 10, when, from 7 to 8, the official board of the Ann Arbor church extends an informal reception to the visitors. At 8 p. m. Dr. J. F. Berry, the talented editor of the Epworth Herald, lectures on "What a Tramp Saw in the Emerald Isle." Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock opens the business sessions of the conference to be continued every day at the same hour, except Sunday, till the close of the conference. Wednesday at 2 p. m. Rev. Seth Reed delivers the semi-annual sermon; at 7:30 p. m. is observed the anniversary of the Superannuated Preachers' Aid Society, with an address by Dr. Whittaker, of Detroit. Thursday at 2 p. m. is the anniversary of the W. F. M. S., address by Miss Mary Danforth, missionary to Japan; evening, educational anniversary, address by President Fiske and Dr. Edwards. Friday at 2 p. m., anniversary of W. H. M. S., address by Prof. Henrietta Bancroft, of Albion College. At 5 p. m. Prof. York, of Detroit, will give a free organ recital on the Columbian organ, and at 7:30 p. m. is celebrated the anniversary of the Freedman's Aid Society, address by Rev. J. C. Hartzell. The lady conference also meets on this day. Saturday afternoon is the Epworth League anniversary, at which Dr. Schell and Dr. Barry will speak. The church extension anniversary, address by Rev. Dr. Kynett, will occupy the evening of the same day. On Sunday there will be preaching in the various city churches, and in the evening Dr. A. B. Leonard will speak at the anniversary of the Missionary Society.

A Five Year Lighting Contract Passes.

At the council meeting on Monday evening business of importance was transacted. The mayor's nomination of Daniel J. Ross as member of the board of public works in place of Jacob F. Schuh, whose time was expired, was approved. The report of the board of public works on the Herman Hutzel claim, allowing only $516 of the amount of the claim, was adopted and a warrant ordered drawn, only to be paid if accepted by Mr. Hutzel in full for his claim. Aldermen Allmendinger, Koch and Laubengayer voted no, and Alderman Butterfield was excused from voting.

A petition of George Spathelf and others was presented, asking that an iron fence be placed about the north side pump. Ald. Butterfield, who filled the chair in the absence of Pres. Hiscock, thought it should be referred to the water committee. On motion of Ald. Brown the petition was referred to the board of public works. The finance committee reported bills to the amount of $8,850.45, which were allowed.

The lighting committee reported in favor of giving the Michigan Electric company, of Detroit, a five years' contract on its bid, the bond being raised to $10,000 and the lighting to come up to Prof. Carhart's standard. The committee further reported that the Ann Arbor Thompson-Houston Electric company offered to take a two years' contract on the basis of the Porter bid for lighting to 12:30 a. m., at $64.25 per lamp. The recommendation of the committee to give the contract to the Michigan Electric company, the lowest bid, was adopted, Ald. Snyder, Laubengayer, Taylor and Butterfield voting no. The motion that a contract be entered into with this company was adopted, only Ald. Butterfield voting no.

Ald. Taylor offered a resolution that two road graders and two road scrapers be purchased. The pungent debate which followed showed that at least some of the aldermen are beginning to realize that the people will hold them accountable for their great expenditures. Ald. Brown questioned the advisability of investing in more machinery at this time of the year. Ald. Taylor said they could not use the steam roller without the graders and scrapers. Ald. Brown asked if after these were purchased still more machinery would be purchased. Ald. Taylor suggested a sprinkling cart. Ald. Koch thought they had better go slow, as he thought the council was criticized enough without giving the people more cause. Ald. Snyder thought the machines would save work. It was foolish economy not to buy the machines at the present time. The graders were absolutely necessary. Ald. Koch said if the statement made that of $700 paid out for labor $600 could be saved by these machines, was true, he did not believe in their purchase. He favored less machines and more labor done. Ald. Laubengayer said they had spent enough for the steam roller. They had better see what it would do before buying more machinery. Ald. Maynard asked what one scraper would cost. He would vote for one, but not for two. Ald. Taylor said he had put down two in his resolution to hear them talk. Ald. Coon said this council had received the reputation of being the most expensive one in years, and it was time to call a halt. Ald. Koch thought the next thing would be that they would want to put $1,000 in a building to house the machinery. Ald. Maynard moved as an amendment that one grader be purchased, and no scraper. Carried. Yeas, Ald. Maynard, Allmendinger, Koch, Snyder, Brown, Shadford, Butterfield, and Cady—8. Nays, Ald. Moore, Laubengayer, Taylor, and Coon—4. Ald. Koch moved as a substitute that the purchase be postponed until next spring. Lost by a viva voce vote. Ald. Coon said that when the steam roller was purchased it was argued that no further expense would be required, but it seems that was not the case. The motion as amended for the purchase of one grader then passed, only Ald. Koch, Laubengayer and Coon voting no. The aldermen then felt so elated over the purchase of another machine that they promptly adjourned.

The School Election.

The first gun in the short and sharp campaign that resulted in the election of Christian Mack, J. E. Beal and Mrs. Anna Bach as school trustees on Monday was fired Friday evening in the court room.

At 8 o'clock on Friday evening the court room was well filled with citizens, the women being well represented. M. J. Lehman, of the committee appointed last year for the purpose, called the meeting to order and M. J. Cavanaugh to the chair. His appointment was made permanent, as also that of Miss Emma Bower as secretary. The tellers appointed were Col. Henry S. Dean, John L. Duffy, Mrs. Finney and John V. Sheehan. With a very neat and appropriate speech Thomas J. Kearney nominated Christian Mack as a candidate. Edward Wells followed by nominating a candidate of the laboring men, Robert Shannon. The first ballot showed 211 votes cast; necessary to a choice, 106. They were: Colonel Henry S. Dean, 1; M. J. Cavanaugh, 1; Dr. C. S. Darling, 1; Daniel Hiscock, 1; Mrs. Anna Bach, 2; Robert Shannon, 73; Christian Mack, 132. Mr. Mack was declared elected.

Edward Wells then nominated Robert Shannon. John V. Sheehan presented the name of Dr. D. Zimmermann as one of the large taxpayers. This gave rise to some sharp remarks by D. Cramer that what was wanted was brains, not means.

Patrick McKernan presented the name of William G. Doty, and Mrs. Israel Hall the name of Mrs. Anna Bach.

There were 214 votes cast; 108 necessary to a choice. They were as follows: W. W. Watts, 1; blank, 1; Col. Henry S. Dean, 3; William G. Doty, 18; Dr. D. Zimmermann, 39; Mrs. Anna Bach, 69; Robert Shannon, 78. There being no choice, another ballot was taken. Whole number of votes cast, 204; necessary to a choice, 103. They were as follows: Dr. D. Zimmermann, 21; Mrs. Anna Bach, 61; Robert Shannon, 99; Judge Noah Cheever, 1; J. E. Beal, 4; William G. Doty, 10. A third ballot was ordered. O. E. Butterfield withdrew the name of Mrs. Bach in favor of Robert Shannon. The whole number of votes cast was 183; necessary to a choice, 92. The result was: Mrs. Bach, 48; Dr. Zimmermann, 29; Robert Shannon, 95; George Shannon, 1; D. Cramer, 1; J. E. Beal, 2; W. G. Doty, 4; blank, 2. Robert Shannon was declared nominated.

Nominations for the third trustee were now in order. O. E. Butterfield

IOWA IS STANCH.

New Battleship Can Stand Almost Anything.

REMARKABLE RESULT OF A TEST

Intended to Show the Effect of Heavy Ordnance on the Vessel's Armor and Also Her Frame—Shells Fired with Tremendous Force Show That She Can Stand Up Before the Most Effective Modern Guns Without Serious Injury.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The new battleship Iowa will withstand the projectiles of the best twelve-inch gun afloat. That was the conclusion drawn from one of the most important tests ever made at the government proving ground at Indian Head. Since the equipment of modern battleships with heavy armor there has been in naval quarters a question as to whether the framework of ships so armored could resist the crushing force of a blow from one of the big guns, even though the armor itself was capable of keeping the projectile out. Hitherto all tests of armor have been made against an unyielding wooden butt. Yesterday the United States, for the first time since the use of modern guns and modern armor, began experiments to determine the actual strain and injury to which a battleship would be subjected if struck by a projectile.

Fixed Up a Section of the Ship.

For that purpose a side armor-plate of the battleship Iowa, now building at the Cramp yards in Philadelphia, was fitted up on an actual reproduction of a section of the ship. It consisted of the inner and outer bottoms of five-eighths-inch steel, forming compartments with lateral steel bulkheads four feet apart. Outside the outer bottom was the skin of five-eighths-inch steel and between this and the fourteen-inch armor-plate were ten inches of solid oak backing. Above was the protective deck and below the main deck, the whole being backed above and below by oak of the estimated strength of the main decks. The plate itself was 16 feet by 7 1/2, 14 inches thick at a top and sloping toward the bottom to a thickness of seven inches.

Secretary Herbert Witnesses the Test.

The importance of the test was such that Secretary Herbert himself went down the river to witness it, and there were more than the usual number of officers from the ordnance and construction bureaus. The shots were fired at 300 yards at right angles to the plate, to secure the normal impact. The first was a 500-lb. Carpenter projectile from a ten-inch gun, driven by 140 pounds of Dupont's brown prismatic powder. It struck the plate with a velocity of 1,482 feet per second, or with an energy of 741,000 foot pounds. The projectile was driven into the plate about six inches, and not a single injury to the backing was discovered after a careful examination, save the loosening of seven bolts connecting the protection deck with the armor. This was not considered serious.

Gave it a Still Severer Test.

The second shot was also from a 10-inch gun, but the charge was increased to 160 pounds, which increased the velocity to 1,862 feet per second, so that it struck with an energy of 931,000 foot pounds. This shot also spent itself on the plate without creating a sign of a crack, or injury, or straining the framework. There was not a bulge in the plate or frame of the vessel. A single bolt, however, was driven out. Having thus tested the 14-inch plate it was decided to test the frame work to a still severer test and an 850-pound Wheeler-Sterling shell, driven by 460 pounds of powder, was fired at it from a 12-inch gun. The projectile struck with a velocity of 1,800, or an energy of 1,580,000 foot pounds. This shot should, according to the most estimates, have penetrated a 16-inch Harveyized plate.

Result Considered Remarkable.

Although it cracked the plate, which was already weakened by the two previous shots, and penetrated to the wood backing, it did not get through the backing. The enormous recoil of the plate, however, pulled it out from the wood about three-fourths of an inch. It also struck close to a bolt and sent it with tremendous force across the compartment against the inner deck, which was bulged, but not penetrated. The outer bottom was slightly bulged, also, and the bulkhead where the shot struck buckled. On the whole, the result of the test with the plate and framework was considered remarkable. The resistance of the framework really astonished Secretary Herbert, who was greatly rejoiced at the result.

NEARLY $3,000,000 INCREASE.

Public Debt Is $2,815,418 More Than It Was Aug. 1.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The monthly recapitulation of the national debt shows the following figures: Interest-bearing debt, $747,360,610; debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $1,695,870; debt bearing no interest, 677,906,968; total, $1,126,963,479. The increase of the debt during the month of August just ended was $2,815,418. There are also certificates and treasury notes outstanding, offset by an equal amount of cash in the treasury, amounting to $602,384,693.

The cash in the treasury is classified as follows: Gold, $149,410,926; silver, $511,447,944; paper, $150,284,584; bonds, disbursing officers' balances, etc., $15,817,839; total, $866,960,345. Against which there are demand liabilities amounting to $642,921,189, leaving a cash balance of $184,039,156. The decrease in the cash for the month was $3,110,874.

St. Louis Exposition Open.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 5.—The twelfth annual interstate exposition opened in this city last evening under favorable auspices. The last evening under favorable auspices. The governor and Mayor Walbridge made a few appropriate remarks, and then Sousa, whose band of fifty pieces has been secured for the season, began his first concert. The exhibits this year are very fine.

Has Been Duly Lynched by This Time.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 5.—John Wesley, the negro who assaulted Mrs. Rosalie Marmion at Manchester last Friday night, has been captured and is now in jail at Clayton. He has made a full confession of his crime.

FRAKER'S FRIENDS WERE FAITHFUL.

One of Them Refuses Immunity and $18,000 to Give the Doctor Away.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 5.—J. S. Hackley, one of the best-known liquor drummers in the United States, whose territory extends from ocean to ocean and from the lakes to the gulf, whose business address is Louisville, Ky., and whose residence is Moberly, Mo., is the man who outstripped the best detective talent in the country in "turning up" the big life insurance swindler, Dr. George W. Fraker. Hackley was in St. Louis yesterday. In speaking of the case he said: "One of the most important witnesses is dead. He was drowned in Kansas on Aug. 13, the day after the insurance companies paid the money over to J. E. Lincoln, for the Fraker estate under the order of the court, and the other one is now in jail at Springfield, N. M., awaiting trial for burglary. "The first man was drowned under the name of Phillips. I have excellent reasons for believing, however, that this was an alias, and that his real name was Jim Triplett. Triplett, George Harry, who is now in a New Mexico jail charged with burglary, and an old negro who has since died, were with Fraker when he was supposed to have been drowned. That is all I will say about the matter at present."

"Hadn't the insurance companies been after Harry and Triplett?" he was asked. "Of course they had, but they could get nothing from them. I know positively that Mr. Herick, attorney for the Kansas Mutual, not so long ago offered to lay $18,000 in Harry's lap and guaranty him immunity if he would tell him Fraker's whereabouts."

CONCLUDED TO TRAVEL INCOG.

Supposed Iowa Woman Who Gives a False Name When She Falls Off a Train.

BATAVIA, N. Y., Sept. 5.—When the Knight Templars' excursion train from the west was near Batavia a lady passenger left her seat beside a little girl and went upon the platform of the car. The woman was seen to fall off the train, and when found she was considerably bruised. She gave her name as Mrs. Metcalf, after some hesitation. Chief of Police Sanford, of this village, has received a letter from G. Wilcoxon, of Seneca Falls, asking for any information which he could give concerning Mrs. Metcalf.

Mr. Wilcoxon, who is president of the Seneca Falls Savings bank, fears that the alleged Mrs. Metcalf is Mrs. George Kirlin, of Storm Lake, Ia. Mrs. Kirlin, the letter states, left home on the Knight Templars excursion for Boston with her little girl Mildred. It was her intention to stop at Seneca Falls on a visit. Mr. Wilcoxon has received letters every day from Mr. Kirlin, of Storm Lake, addressed to his wife, in his care, but nothing has been heard of her. It is believed that Mrs. Kirlin gave an assumed name with the hope that by so doing her friends and relatives would not be alarmed.

Wild Storm in Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 5.—The storm which visited Huntington was the severest in its history. Its course was northwest, and it was accompanied by torrents of rain. The Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway station was completely wrecked, with the exception of the telegraph office, in which several persons were seated. The debris from the freight department fell in such a shape as to protect it. The roof was blown from the main Southern Normal university building. On the public square the large brick storehouses occupied by W. H. Carter, grocer; Head & Sons, dry goods; Kurman & Lusky, dry goods, and Scott & Bowles, clothing, were unroofed and their stocks damaged. Other damage was done.

Strike Likely To Be Settled.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 5.—President Edensborn, of the Consolidated Wire and Steel company, met a committee of the strikers at the Baackes Wire Mill works. He informed the committee that he would do all in his power to do away with the differences between them. The main cause of the trouble seems to have been misinformation given the president as to the wages paid in the Cleveland mill of the Consolidated company, and an immediate and satisfactory settlement of the strike is looked for.

Put Him in Jail for "Protection"

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 5.—At 10 o'clock at night a mob of 150 or more negroes and whites went to the house of Elder Tanner, colored, to run him out of town. About fifteen shots were discharged, two or three of the rioters were shot, and also one woman living in the neighborhood. Tanner escaped injury. Policemen finally interfered and broke up the riot. Tanner and some of his supporters were brought to the city jail for protection. Several of the rioters have been arrested.

Death of Judge J. G. Strong.

BLUE RAPIDS, Kas., Sept. 5.—Judge James G. Strong, formerly well known in political and railroad circles, died here yesterday. He was born in Boone county, Ind.; located in Dwight, Ills., in 1850, and was later sent to the Illinois senate. In 1870 he introduced the first bill for the appointment of a board of railroad commissioners to regulate fares and freight charges. He was a prominent Mason. His remains will be taken to Morris, Ills., for burial.

Scientists Elect Officers.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 5.—The American Association for the Advancement of Science has unanimously voted to meet next year at Buffalo, beginning Aug. 24th and continuing one week. These officers were chosen: President, Edward C. Cope, of Philadelphia; permanent secretary, F. W. Putnam, of Cambridge, Mass.; general secretary, Charles S. Barnes, of Madison, Wis.; secretary of the council, Asaph Hall, Jr., of Ann Arbor, Mich.

Turns Out To Be a Tough.

DAYTON, O., Sept. 5.—William Foley, who was admitted to St. Elizabeth hospital here Sunday night, suffering from two wounds, turns out to be wanted at Galton, O., for shooting with intent to kill. He is a member of a tough gang that had a fight with a policeman there Foley played "possum," and while the policeman was chasing the others escaped. He has been identified by a Galton officer and will be taken back there.

Biggest Boat on the Lakes.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 5.—The Cleveland Shipbuilding company has taken a contract to construct for the Zenith Transit company, of Duluth, a steel steamer which will be larger than any boat ever launched on the lakes. It will be 490 feet in length, 45 feet beam, and 28 feet depth of hold, will cost $260,000, and is to be finished next June.

Downed Its Opponents.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 5.—The American Book company won a decisive victory in the annual school election here. Eight of the retiring members of the school board voted for a change in the geographies used from the "trust" to an outside concern, and of these only three survived the fight. The members who voted for no change in text books were all re-elected with little opposition.

Fire Costs Boston $300,000.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—One of the most disastrous fires that has occurred along Boston's water front in years started on the docks at East Boston, and before it could be controlled destroyed three piers, two storehouses, a freight shed, fifteen loaded freight cars and a large quantity of freight, and slightly damaged a number of dwelling houses. The loss is estimated at $300,000, partly insured.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house, and his family has always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best Cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested? Trial bottles free at Eberbach Drug and Chemical Co.'s drugstore, Ann Arbor, and at Geo. J. Haussler's, Manchester. Regular size 50c and $1.00.

Presented Their Checks Too Late.

LIBERTY, Mo., Sept. 5.—Two checks were presented at the Commercial Savings bank, where the Fraker insurance money is deposited, but were not honored. One of the checks was for $1,000 and was given to Mrs. Cynthia Hatfield, of Macon county, sister of Fraker, by Executor J. E. Lincoln. The other check was for $100 and given to George Magruder, a brother-in-law of Fraker.

Teaching the Little Ones To Sing.

Read before the Inland League February 11, 1895, and illustrated by 50 school children.

How do we teach little ones to sing? you ask, and in answering I ask another question—what is singing? and what place has singing in child life?

Every mother knows that if her babe is comfortable and happy it lies in its cradle and coos most contentedly—but if anything causes discomfort it signifies it immediately by lusty and vigorous cries.

These are the beginnings of song—the first expressions of emotion.

A child's emotions are very clearly defined, either pure and absolute joy or the most genuine and intense grief—the one expressed in song or laughter (and where can be found a more beautiful song without words than the rippling laughter of a happy child) the other expressed in sobs and tears!

Every child sings at its play long before it has any distinct idea of related pitch or melodies. But a child is so largely a creature of imitation in the first few years of its existence, that the song or soul-life it expresses seems rather to be a reflection of the soul-life expressed by those about it. Let me here urge the necessity of more music in our homes—if not piano or voice or violin music, at least the far richer music of gentle, happy voices, merry laughter and singing about the house.

If there is any soul-life in a home, let it be expressed every day and hour. All parents desire that their children should develop morally and spiritually as well as mentally and physically—but they thoughtlessly allow the cares and worries of life to so stifle the expression of their own soul-life that the little natures become starved and dwarfed. Eye and bye when these little ones have grown older, the parents wonder why they are not better boys and girls and send them to church and Sunday school and provide them with the most moral books for reading, never thinking, or knowing, perhaps, that the real time to start them in the path of truth is when their little souls are pliable as wax and may be moulded into that most beautiful and eternal form of soul-life which only mother-love and patience can develop.

Yes, we must have more music in our homes. If we are worried or tired or sad, singing helps make the burden lighter and at the same time develops and educates the child musically and spiritually.

Clara Kathleen Rogers says, in the introduction to her most interesting book, "The Philosophy of Singing," that it might as properly have been called "The Philosophy of Life," and most clearly does she show in the succeeding chapters that the philosophy of singing is the philosophy of life.

Thus we may truly say that singing is to the child a means for the expression of his soul-life. The child is very early given a means for the expression of his mental life in words and sentences—why not give him, just as early, a means for the expression of soul-life in tones and melodies?

Plenty of material is at hand for the expression of the child's mental life, but, alas! how little, how very little music or poetry is written which is suitable or even intelligible to the child mind.

It is really pitiful to look at much that has been written in the way of songs for school use—the words are pure doggerel and the music—well, it is not music at all. For example—with the evident intent of impressing geological facts upon the youthful mind—the following is taught the child:

"Our lights and fires, our vitals and drink All come from the earth with many a clink Oil, coal and salt thus make us think, And thousands of queer little fossils. Mastodons, mammoths and Ichthyosaurs, Pterodactyls and almost centaurs, But we shall surely break our jaws Naming these delicate fossils."

Here is another—evidently an attempt at inculcating good morals:

"Cigarettes and gum we've banished from our school, While learning is so free, no one should be a fool, And we believe the books and doctors all agree That rum, beer and cider are a very bad three, So we shall do without them and win the battle too, And stand by 'Old Glory' ever firm and true."

And not alone do we find poor words written for children's use, but very poor and inappropriate music used for passably good words. In searching for Christmas songs this year in the various school journals, I found one poem with very good Christmas sentiment set to the tune of "Master O'Tool," a comic Irish song; another was to be sung to "Updece."

But what better ideas could one expect from school journals when teachers' institutes are found singing such verses as these:

"We've come here, fellow teachers, Our ferules laid away, To tell the progress we have made And hear what others say. We hope to get the dust rubbed off And some old ruts filled up, To feast our minds on learning lore And quaff from learning's cup."

If we are hide-bound pedants Let's loosen up the hide Cast overboard our follies And throw off all false pride, And as we journey onward In our pedagogic ways May all our toll be lightened By these happy, useful days."

One could not be censured for harboring serious doubts of our boasted American progress in the educational matters, when he hears teachers' institutes singing such lines as these.

However, let us hope that no Michigan teachers' institute would give them a place on its program.

But if a body of school teachers could sing with evident enjoyment such verses as these, how such mistakes as the following could result from their teaching.

A lady who lives right here in Ann Arbor was, during the Christmas vacation, visiting an aunt in a city not many hundred miles distant. Her little cousin, six years old, was singing a little song about the house which she had learned at school. Not hearing the words very distinctly, she questioned the child and found that the song related the story of a little rabbit that was chased by a dog, the verse ending with these words—"and he fell in a hole close by"—the child had been singing it, "and he fell in a Holy Ghost pie." The teacher probably taught the songs, words and music at the same time without explaining the meaning of the story and possibly a cold or indistinct enunciation on her part assisted in bringing about the unfortunate result.

Many of our ablest vocal teachers complain bitterly of the inability on the part of their pupils to read music. They will tell you that they cannot take time from their work of voice building and tone production for teaching the elementary principles of music. The piano teacher will tell you the same thing—he must teach piano playing (not music, you observe). So each specialist wishes to teach only his particular instrument of expression.

Some years since it was the custom to speak of anyone who taught any branch of musical expression as a "music teacher." It is now considered better form to designate Mr. Blank as "a teacher of the piano," "a teacher of the violin," or "a teacher of the voice."

Is it a mere accident of speech, or is it possible that the public generally consider that a pupil, under the ordinary instruction on piano, violin or guitar is simply gaining a knowledge of the instrument and how to transfer written music from the staff to the instrument—that he is not, however, studying music, its content or how his particular instrument may be made the means of expression for true music.

Then where is the child to gain a knowledge of music in its elementary principles—a key, as it were, that will enable him to understand and enjoy good music? Nowhere but in the public schools. There he must gain his musical vocabulary—there he must learn the grammar and rhetoric of music, so he may be able to read and understand good music, just as the study of language, reading, spelling, grammar, enable him to read and understand good literature.

Just what do we mean by the elements of music and how much can be taught in our public schools? Rhythm, melody and harmony are the principal elements of music. It is generally conceded by our best educators that in the study of these three elements, when properly presented to the child, lies as much mental development as in any other moral and spiritual development accompanying the study depends largely upon the teacher. That is, upon the spiritual or moral relations existing between teacher and pupils. By that I mean that, if the discipline and duties of the school room are carried on under any principle other than mutual love and respect, the moral and spiritual development of the pupils, yes, and the teacher too, is necessarily retarded.

Technically our work in the public schools is to teach sight-reading. But how do we obtain mental and musical development by purely technical work?

We must proceed along the same pedagogical lines used in other branches of instruction.

The child upon entering school has, generally, a good vocabulary of words in ordinary use. All the teacher does in teaching him to read is to teach him the written symbol for what he already knows and uses constantly to express his thoughts and feelings.

But, alas! in so many homes this child does not hear music or singing of any degree, so that upon entering school his musical knowledge is far behind his knowledge or language. So we give him plenty of songs until he has formed some idea of melody and rhythm. Where he has learned to sing, we give him the signs and symbols of song. So all exercises should present tone before the symbol for tone.

But it is not simple tone that we have to present to the child. He has been singing melodies composed of tones having certain relationships of rhythm and pitch. He has not only to learn the symbols for certain tones or pitches but the relationships of all the tones composing his musical alphabet, the scale. And it is just as possible for a child to mentally hear these relationships as it is for him to mentally see the animal when he sees the written word "dog."

This, then, is what we mean when we speak of teaching a child to read music—that he shall learn to quickly recognize pitch in its proper relationship when the symbols for such relationship are given him. One can readily see the mental development in such a system of musical training. And is it not right here that the moral element in school music comes in? If things go wrong in the school room we let the children sing a favorite song and everything is smooth and beautiful again. We say they are rested by singing or that it allows them to give vent to their pent up feelings of restlessness or nervousness, but does it not do more? The bending of the mental energies, for a few minutes, entirely to the expression of perfect and beautiful relationships in melody, reflects upon the soul of the child, producing correct relationships there and we have again established the true moral atmosphere of the school room. And is not this really the end and aim of all education—success and happiness in life; both of which as we see from the illustration of the school room, result from the establishing of correct relationships with our surroundings.

Just here permit me to quote from an article on the "educational value of music in schools," written by Mr. A. E. Winship, of Boston, editor of the Journal of Education, and one of the soundest educational thinkers of the day.

He says: "We study geography and reading that we may know more, arithmetic and drawing that we may do more, language that we may say more, physiology and singing—that we may be more. Singing is closely related to health, to choices, to intellectual activity; consequently it is vital to character. To make a man is more important than to make a mechanic, to make a good man is more important than to make a brilliant man. We must get more out of singing than a knowledge of the scales or ability to sing a song. What the public school wants of singing as a branch of instruction is the grandest possible teaching of the art, intellectually and fervently, as a means of providing the most manhood and womanhood. Singing is to be taught the whole child. His entire being, mentally, morally, physically, industrially is to be vibrant with health, elasticity, energy and cheerfulness.

"These things being so, singing, when well taught, is as important a subject for the school room as any other branch, and unlike most other branches, it needs to be taught from the lowest primary grade to the highest. It is needed for patriotism, for morality, for health. It it needed to make discipline lighter, school attendance more regular, study more interesting, recitation more spirited. What the wings are to the bird, what the blossom is to the plant, what the juice is to the fruit, what the eye is to the face, what fervency is to the voice, singing is to the school. May the day soon come when every child shall be so taught in the art of singing as to make a brighter student, a nobler man, a better citizen."

I have been requested to give my thought in regard to music in ungraded and district schools. I have felt for some time that music ought to, and would before long, become a part of the every day work of each district school in the country. For the past year I have visited, once a week, the Mills district, 2 1/2 miles south of Ann Arbor, and have given them an hour lesson in singing. This work has proven to me, beyond a doubt, that music can be taught to great advantage in district schools, this school having accomplished in one year what graded schools usually require three years to accomplish. This may have been due partly to the newness of the work for the children, partly to the teacher, who evinced great interest in the work, and partly to the fact that the school room (which, by the way, is the most completely equipped and the best furnished district school room I have ever seen) contained a good organ which was used for devotional singing, marching kindergarten game songs. This gave the children some idea of tone relationships and melodies.

The child's alphabet in learning to sing is the scale (do, re, mi, fa, sol, la, si). These eight tones and their relationships must be well fixed in the mind of the child before he is allowed to see the symbols for tones, namely notes. Just as every child learns to talk and to use words in their proper relationship, in sentences before he learns to read, so the child must learn many little melodies and know the tones of the scale thoroughly before he learns to read notes.

For little children I often place a tree on the blackboard with eight birds of different colors on a branch, and then let each bird sing one tone of the scale. After a time I name the birds do, re, mi, fa, etc. For variety eight bells can be placed on the blackboard, or the numerals 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8. The manual signs of the tone sol-fa system are excellent also. When the child has mastered all the tones and intervals of the scale, then give him the staff and notes, and it is astonishing how quickly he will learn to read in all keys and all kinds of time. Time should also be made a mental concept, accent being carefully observed.

Our best teachers give it as their experience that a vigorous drill of ten or fifteen minutes at the opening of school upon tone and time work proves to be an excellent tonic for the heavier studies of the day. Can we not have similar music work in every district school in the county? Would we not take natural pride in having Washtenaw county take the lead in introducing music into its ungraded schools? And this can be easily done. There are very few teachers who have not music enough in them to learn to sing the scale correctly and to impart a knowledge of it and its relationship to the mind of the child. There is very little literature bearing on this subject, but the following will be found helpful: The Whiting Music Course has an excellent book for ungraded schools. Frank Damrosch's New Method of Sight Singing is also an excellent work and contains some valuable aids and suggestions for teachers.

MISSIONS IN CHINA.

Letter Relating to the Situation in That Country.

ENGLAND AND AMERICA AT FAULT.

Recent Riots the Result of a Temporizing Policy and Planned by Chinese Officials—Minister Denby's Course Criticized—Plea That the Almond-Eyed Heathen Authorities Cannot Protect Foreigners Declared False—Li Hung Chang's Proclamation.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 5.—The Commercial Gazette prints a letter dated Shanghai, China, Aug. 9, written by Rev. E. T. Williams, six years pastor of the Central Christian church of this city, and now secretary of the Foreign Mission Society of the Christian church, and on a tour around the world visiting missions. The salient points of the letter are that the recent riotous assaults on Europeans in China were the result of the temporizing policy of the United States and England with China. He says the English accept money indemnity for outrages, which the mandarins are only too glad to pay, as they extort it from friends of the outraged, thus accomplishing a double purpose.

Condemns Minister Denby's Course.

He says that within two months riots have emptied twenty cities in China of European and American missionaries, and yet the American minister entrusted the interests of Americans to a junior British consul and to a commission composed of Chinese officials implicated in the riots. He says these riots are anti-missionary, instead of anti-foreign—that the government blue book against foreigners contains lies so indecent that it would be a violation of law anywhere in the United States to repeat them. He writes that tracts containing blasphemous lies and illustrated with horrible pictures, written by mandarins in 1890, are still in circulation, and are misleading the ignorant and inciting riot.

Riots All Planned in the Yemens.

No American or British authority has uttered a word of protest against these monstrous lies. He says furthermore that all the riots have been planned in the yemens and winked at and assisted by the officials on the plea that the officers were unable to prevent riots. He says that this is a mere subterfuge, for during the late war they did protect foreigners and made it safer for them than ever before, whereas now their journals are urging the Chinese to wipe out the disgrace of defeat in war by murderous riots on unarmed missionaries.

Another View of the Matter.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Robert E. Speer, secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church in the United States, has received a letter from Rev. I. W. Houston, of Nanking, China, dated July 12. The letter contains a copy of the proclamation issued by Li Hung Chang, the viceroy, which not only requires the Chinese to refrain from molesting missionaries, but speaks in terms of praise of the work done by them.

LADIES AT BOXING MATCHES.

New Departure in "Physical Culture" at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 5.—The Olympic club tried a new experiment last night, and had boxing bouts between pugilists made up of members of the club. There was a large crowd, including many ladies, a special effort having been made to induce the latter to attend. The boxers appeared in athletic shirts and knickerbockers. The feature of the evening was the bout between Herman Bernau, of Galveston, and Australian Billy McCarthy.

It was intended for ten rounds, but McCarthy was very much out of shape, and in the fourth round Bernau landed a right-hander on the jaw, which knocked the Australian silly, so that the other rounds were not necessary. The club intends more affairs, including an international tug of war.

ONE BRAVE MAN AND A MOB.

Captain of a Launch Stands Off Some "Temporarily Insane" People.

NEW WHATCOM, Wash., Sept. 5.—The sheriff was preparing to bring B. H. Straub, who killed Leo Sauterman, from Blakey island to New Whatcom for safe keeping. Straub and Irving Parberry, the boy who was responsible for the murder, were taken to the wharf. A mob had been organized to lynch them, and followed them to the wharf.

The launch arrived just in time, and Lieutenant Carden, its commander, drawing a pistol confronted the crowd of fifty armed men. He announced that he would shoot any man who fired on the United States flag or upon any man under its protection. The mob weakened.

An Ishpeming Mine Goes to Work.

ISHPEMING, Mich., Sept. 5.—The miners' strike situation has been somewhat changed by the announcement that the mine of Frederick Braastad, ex-state treasurer, would open today. Braastad offered $2 a day for miners, $1.75 for trammers, and $1.50 for surface laborers. The miners held a meeting, and the question of returning to work was decided in the affirmative, with but few dissenting votes.

Cheap Rates to the Prize Fight.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—The western roads have made a rate of one fare for the round trip to the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight at Dallas. This rate applies from Kansas City, Peoria, Chicago, St. Joseph, Mo., from Oct. 15 to Oct. 31, inclusive, final return limit to tickets being Nov. 30.

Ripsey Is After Young Fair Now.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—C. W. Ripsey, who three years ago shot John W. Mackay, the millionaire, for which he served six months in the county jail, is now pursuing Charles L. Fair. The latter's friends fear that Ripsey will try to repeat the murderous attack.

German-Americans at Berlin.

BERLIN, Sept. 5.—The German-American veterans of the war of 1870-71 placed wreaths upon the sarcophagi of Emperor William I and of Emperor Frederick III. They also visited the castles and Potsdam, where they saw the palace and gardens of Sans-Souci.

Surgeons in Session at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—The eighth annual convention of the American Association of Official Surgeons has opened here. Over 100 representative surgeons of the country are present.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The annual Sunday school picnic of St. Andrews Episcopal church was held in Relief park Wednesday.

J. F. Avery, of Saline, has purchased the Taft homestead on Church st., and will move into the same with his family.

Some 15 to 20 members of the Y. M. C. A. expect to go to Dexter Sunday afternoon and hold a meeting for young men.

Hutzel & Co. received the contract for the new boilers for the high school for $1350 and the Koch Bros. for the boiler house at $3825.

Evening services were re-resumed in the Bethlehem church Wednesday. They will also be resumed in Zions church next Wednesday evening.

The Ann Arbor Typographical union carried off the silk banner at the labor day parade in Detroit, having had the largest number of men in the parade of any visiting organization.

The First National bank are now settled in their renovated quarters. The new plate glass windows and paint make a great improvement the offices looking bright and cheerful.

The horse attached to the bakery wagon of William Gerstner's caused some excitement on Main street Monday, by running away. He was stopped before any damage was done.

William Hanke, of Bridgewater, was in Ann Arbor Thursday on probate business. He reports there are no apples in his section and the farmers will have to go without their customary cider this year. Wheat has only half a crop, oats were a little better, and fall potatoes and corn are looking well.

Dr. R. S. Copeland, of Bay City, who has been appointed as the successor of Dr. D. A. MacLachlan of the Homeopathic College resides with his family No. 46 Catharine st. He has rented the suite of offices in the post office block formerly occupied by Chas. R. Whitman.

Geo. A. Peavy and Thos. Poland were before justice Pond last week, charged with stealing a spring wagon on which they had a bill of sale, were honorably discharged. Pho. Atty. Randall investigated the case and found them innocent of wrong doing.

The front frame building formerly used as an office by the Ann Arbor organ company, has been moved from its old position on the corner of W. Washington and S. First sts. to the south side of W. Washington st. west of Allen's creek. It will be used in future as a warehouse.

The weeds growing along the edges of Allen's creek, are almost as tall as a man and will soon have an abundant harvest of seeds. As they look very romantic in the eyes of the board of public works, it would be asking too much of the street commissioner to insist upon the removal of the weeds.

The Epworth League have been fortunate in securing Dr. J. F. Berry of the Epworth Herald who will lecture on the subject "What a Tramp saw in the Emerald Isle." This lecture promises to be of more than ordinary interest, as Dr. Berry, besides being a tramp, is a very entertaining speaker and has some amusing experiences to tell. The lecture takes place on Tuesday evening, Sept. 10th at 8 p. m. Tickets are on sale at Noble's star clothing house, Goodyear's drug store and Calkin's pharmacy. Admission 25 cents.

The Methodists of Detroit give an excursion to this city next Friday.

The children of St. Andrews Sunday school think Henry Richards the largest man in the city. He presented them with fifty pounds of candy Wednesday.

Next Thursday at three o'clock the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold a regular meeting in the parlors of the Presbyterian church. A full attendance is desired.

Rev. E. E. Kelly returned from his eastern trip Saturday. He was much pleased with his visit in Montreal and Quebec, and interested in seeing the historical points in both of those cities.

Rev. Robert M. Beach, of Cambridge, Mass., has been appointed assistant minister of St. Andrew's Episcopal church. Until he has settled upon rooms, he is the guest of the rector, Rev. Henry Tatlock.

Major Harrison Soule, treasurer of the University, has been elected president of the Sixth Michigan reunion society at the meeting held last week in Battle Creek. The reunions are remarkable in that all the time is consumed in visiting, speeches being strictly tabooed.

Mrs. Prettmann, the wife of the manager of the Campus club, Ald. H. S. Prettmann, proposes to have a little something ready for the winter rush of guests. Among the trifles that she has in store are 50 bushels of canned berries. On Tuesday she will commence canning 300 bushels of peaches. They don't live on air at "Prets."

Harry F. Coleman, of St. John, formerly managing editor of the U. of M. Daily has purchased an interest in the Oakland Co. Post. The new firm will be Fitch & Coleman. His friends wish him success. The Oakland Post under Mr. Fitch's management is one of the ablest papers in the state. With an increased force, it ought to be a hummer.

John Schmid, of West Huron street, returned Friday from Council Bluffs, where he went to look after his real estate interests. He says the farmers of Iowa and Nebraska will have immense crops this year. He heard of one farmer who threshed 1,100 bushels of oats from ten acres. Oats are selling for 13 cents a bushel. Real estate is very much depressed in Council Bluffs and Omaha, and many houses are vacant. The people in Washtenaw county do not know what hard times are compared with the people in the west.

The annual election of Ann Arbor chapter No. 122, O. E. S. was held Wednesday evening in Masonic Temple. The following officers were chosen: Worthy matron, Mrs. Mabel K. Pond; worthy patron, Chas. B. Davison; associate matron, Mrs. Kate Doty; secretary, Mrs. C. E. Fitzgerald; treasurer, Mrs. L. Mae Nichols; conductress, Mrs. Matilda Granger; assistant conductress, Mrs. Minnie Adams. The installation of officers will be held later in the month when the balance of the officers will be appointed.

"Yes," said a gentleman, "there is more in the electric cars than people are aware of. I believe the time may come when physicians will recommend riding by the hour, for the purpose of receiving the beneficial influences of the slight stream of electricity deflected through the car. I know of one lady in Ann Arbor who claims that riding in the cars for an hour in the evening will cure her insomnia for that night. One gentleman in Cincinnati has taken to riding by the half day to cure his rheumatism. There may not be anything in the theory, but it don't cost much to try its practical effects, and I believe it is beneficial to the system."

Ex-Supervisor Emory Leland and wife, of Northfield, returned last week from an extended visit to relatives in Vermont and Massachusetts. He found business pretty quiet there, compared with his former visit 14 years ago. The farmers had much rain and the crops were very good. They spent some time at Bennington, near where the celebrated battle was fought, in which an ancestor of his wife took part on the side of the patriots. Although over 100 years have passed since then, there is still some feeling left against the descendants of the Tories who helped the English. He says the people in the east live well. In some towns, where formerly all was bustle and business, now hardly a team is seen on the streets. Hoosic Falls has suffered very much, over 500 families having moved away.

Schools will open next Monday. Bring your old school books that you have no use for to Sheehan & Co., State street, and exchange them for new. Second-hand books at half price.

City Clerk Mills is wearing an unusually happy fatherly smile, since the arrival of his assistant clerk on Wednesday. Twenty two years hence she will probably insist that she has a right to vote at a school election.

Hiram Storms, the well known proprietor of the woolen mill on the north side, died this morning, aged about 79 years. He had been in poor health for some years. He was one of the pioneers of the city.

John G. Kurz, of West Second street, celebrated his birthday anniversary on Tuesday evening, by entertaining the Phoenix Gesang Verein. The evening was passed very pleasantly with music and refreshments.

Little business was done at the meeting of the board of public works on Wednesday evening: The clerk was ordered to notify Dr. Chas. Rominger to have his plumbing changed as provided by the rules, or he would be cut off from the use of the sewer.

Seven boys were before Justice Gibson yesterday, charged with being disorderly. Their hearing will be next Tuesday and Thursday. Their disorderliness consisted, it is alleged, in throwing over the large monument in front of John Baumgardner's marble works.

The funeral services of William O., son of Samuel O. Tubbs, of Delhi, were held at the Webster church yesterday, under the auspices of the Delhi Tent No. 651 K. O. T. M. Mr. Tubbs was aged 25 years and died of remittent fever. He was a young man of excellent character and had many friends.

The case of the People vs. Jerome Quinn before Justice Gibson, Tuesday, was adjourned two weeks. The case is the outcome of a little fracas on Sunday evening, which might have terminated fatally. Constable Paul Schall and Quinn had an altercation, and afterward, when Quinn started for Schall, the latter drew his revolver and fired, the ball striking a tin-type in Quinn's breast-pocket. The tin wrapped itself about the ball and passed out through the back of the coat, no injury being done to Quinn's person. Later in the evening Schall and Quinn met again and this time Schall got badly pounded. For this Schall had Quinn arrested.

AT THE SEASIDE.

Fashions That Pass in Review on the Crowded Board-Walk.

Upon the promenade at a very fashionable summer seaside resort is daily given a wonderful view of an ever-changing throng of superbly attired women—a very kaleidoscope of color and movement. Not a few of the costumes are undeniably gaudy—silks that the color-loving Orientals would delight in, and a combination of shades and patterns that cause the eyes to ache as they rest upon them, making it a relief to turn to the quieter lines, which are by no means lacking in that great medley of color. Among many charming toilets noted was one all black, and the other black and white. The last named was of white glace silk, so narrowly striped with fine hairlines in black that a silvery effect was produced. The skirt was immensely wide at the hem. The sleeves formed one very large puff, terminating above the elbows. The vest front was made of accordion-plaited white chiffon, overlaid with broad black velvet ribbon. A velvet girdle confined the waist and a full plaited ruche of chiffon encircled the throat. The very small toque was of black straw, trimmed with jetted lace and white field daisies. A frilled white silk parasol and long gloves of white suede kid, stitched with black, completed an elegant and most becoming toilet. The black costume was made of crepon of corrugated design. It was extremely full in the back, falling in heavy flutes that tapered toward the waist. The bodice of black satin, softly draped with chiffon, was brilliant with a mass of superb arabesque trimming of finest French jet that covered its upper half. The sleeves of satin, draped with the chiffon, formed one immense puff to the elbows, above which fell long Vandyke points of the jet. The tiny head covering was a mass of jet, and the parasol of black chiffon. The whole formed a costume that stood out from among the more garish gowns as distinctly elegant and ladylike.

IN THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW are always found

THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW is recognized on both sides of the Atlantic as the foremost Review in the English language, and no expenditure is spared in maintaining it in its unrivalled position.

The REVIEW is the mouthpiece of the men and women who know most about the great topics on which Americans require and desire to be informed from month to month. Its list of contributors forms a roll of the representative men and women of the age.

AMERICAN WOMEN

receive constant and special attention. Among topics recently discussed are: "Women Suffrage in Practice"; "The Renaissance of Woman"; "Woman in Politics"; "The New Aspect of the Woman Question"; "The Modern Girl"; "The Future of Marriage"; "Evils of Early Marriages"; "The Servant Girl of the Future"; "The Financial Dependence of Women"; "Trades-Unions for Women"; "The Lack of Good Servants"; "American Life and Physical Deterioration"; "Good and Bad Mothers"; "The Tyranny of the Kitchen"; "The Amateur Nurse"; Mark Twain's Defense of Harriet Shelly, etc., etc.

A NEW FEATURE FOR 1895.

The REVIEW will publish in 12 chapters, beginning with the January number, the Personal History of the Second Empire, a historical work of unsurpassed importance, which will throw a flood of new light upon the chequered career of Napoleon III., and the influences which led to the collapse of his Empire in the gigantic struggle with united Germany, under Wilhelm I. and his Iron Chancellor. It is as fascinating as a romance, being richly anecdotal and full of interesting details drawn from sources hitherto inaccessible, presented in the graphic and vivacious style which "The Englishman in Paris," by the same author, has made familiar to thousands of readers.

Uniform Laws Commissioners Meet at Detroit to Discuss Important Subjects —Chinese Offer to Make Reparation to Americans for the Recent Outrages.

For More Uniform Laws.

The annual session of the boards of commissioners, appointed by the several states to bring about, by voluntary state action, greater uniformity in the statute laws prevailing throughout the states and territories, was held at the Cadillac Hotel, Detroit with 16 states represented. For many years past there has been a great desire among lawyers and the people generally for uniformity of law throughout the country. The law was passed in 1889 in New York state, creating an expert commission of three members to consider the subject and advise with similar commissions in other states. Massachusetts, New Jersey, Georgia, Michigan, Delaware and Mississippi fell in line with the idea. The statutes creating these commissions have largely the same wording in the several states, and the men serve without pay. The subjects that have invited the attention of the commissioners were marriage and divorce, the execution of wills and deeds, notarial certificates, bills and notes, and commercial notes generally.

Chinese Want to Conciliate Uncle Sam.

Washington: The Chinese minister called at the state department and held a conference with Acting Secretary McAdoo and Assistant Secretary Rockhill concerning the progress of the investigation into the recent Chinese riots. The minister assured the secretaries that he called upon the express direction of his government to convey direct official assurance of the desire on the part of the Pekin authorities to make adequate reparation for the injury done to American interests by the Chinese rioters and to set at rest the reports which represent a different spirit on the part of the Chinese.

Hong Kong: It is reported that the Chinese officials are working actively and thoroughly in the investigation being made into the recent massacre of missionaries. Ten Vegetarians, it is added, have already been convicted. There is said to be no danger of any fresh disturbances in that district during the sitting of the commission.

13 MINERS DROWNED.

Flood Breaks Through into Two Mines and the Poor Fellows Perish.

The accidental flooding of the American and Sleepy Hollow mines at Central City, Colo., caused the death of 13 miners. The water in the lower workings of Fisk mine, east of the main shaft, broke through the old workings of the vein that has not been worked for a number of years. It struck the American where two Italian miners were at work in the lower part of the shaft and they were both drowned. In its course the water diverted to the Sleepy Hollow mine, the easterly portion of the Fisk vein. Fourteen men were working in the Sleepy Hollow, three of whom escaped. A courier was sent to the adjacent mines and all their workmen escaped.

Armenians Fear Another Massacre.

Advices received from Erzingham, Armenia, say that great terror prevails there owing to the attitude of the Turkish authorities. The latter, in consequence of an attack which was recently made by brigands upon a Turkish colonel during which a member of his escort was killed, are believed to be taking steps which will have most serious consequences. The Armenians are accused of being the authors of the attack on the colonel and it is alleged that a large force of Turkish troops has been retreating by attacking the villages and monasteries of the vicinity and engaging in other acts of violence. The Armenians, fearing a recurrence of the of the Sassoun outrage, have appealed to the ambassadors of the powers at Constantinople for protection.

Chinese Coming Down Considerable.

Foo Chow, China: Firmness has brought the Chinese to terms. Foreigners are now present at the trials of the natives implicated in the recent attacks upon missionaries. The Chinese officials afford every facility to the foreign commissioners of inquiry. Six of the Chinese who had a hand in the massacre at Hwasang have been convicted of murder. New arrests are made daily. Foo Chow is quiet.

Peculiar Double Fatality.

A very strange double fatality occurred at the World building at Cleveland. Three men were on a ladder placing a sign at the top of the fifth story. The rope slipped and the ladder turned over. Alois Zechmeister fell and in his descent struck John Wickson who was passing breaking Wickson's back and both legs. He cannot live. Zechmeister was instantly killed. The other two men on the ladder escaped by a miracle. Lawrence Cronenberg's feet caught in the rope, and he hung suspended over the pavement, head downward, until rescued. The other man grabbed the cornice at the top of the building and worked his way around to a fire escape.

Joshua Tiller, Albert Seifert and Oscar Voorhees, striking laborers on the waterworks trench at Wapakoneta, O., attempted to interfere with some men who had taken their places, a fight followed and all three were shot and Tiller died. Several others were seriously injured.

London: A dispatch from Shanghai says that Li Hung Chang had an audience with the emperor and as a consequence will remain in Pekin as imperial cancellor. Wang-Wen-Shoo has been nominated as viceroy of the province of Chi-Li, which office Li Hung Chang formerly held.

TROOPS AT ISHPERING.

Men at Work on the Steam Shovel at the Mines—Strikers Very Sullen.

In response to requisitions from both Sheriff Broad, of Marquette county, and Mayor Johnson, of Ishpeming, Gov. Rich ordered the companies of the Fifth regiment, Michigan National Guard, located at Houghton, Calumet, Ironton and Marquette to report to Col. Lyon of the Fifth at Ishpeming at once. Assistant Quartermaster-General Avery left immediately with necessary camp equipment and 1,000 rounds of ammunition. The first and third divisions of the Michigan Naval Reserves, located at Detroit, were also ordered to be in readiness, with their Gatling and rapid fire guns, to proceed to Ishpeming on short notice.

The cause of all of this military gathering was for the purpose of protecting the men and property at the mines at Ishpeming, it having been decided to start the steam shovels at the mines. The mining companies had asked their men to report for work, but they refused and when the companies announced that they would start the shovels with other help the strikers became very threatening. Sheriff Broad and Mayor Johnson, upon consultation, agreed that they could not muster force enough to protect property and workmen and finally decided to ask Gov. Rich for troops with the result previously stated.

Thus it was that within 36 hours almost 300 troops were at "Camp Ishpeming" ready for duty. The following are the companies which reported first: Co. H, of Ironwood, commanded by Capt. Winslow, 62 men; Co. D, of Calumet, Capt. Grierson, 70 men; Co. F, of Houghton, Capt. Miller, 57 men; Co. G, of Houghton, Capt. McArthur, 52 men. Total 287 men. Col. Lyons is the officer in charge.

Promptly at 7 o'clock the steam shovels were started at the Lake Angelina, Lake Superior and Salisbury mines. The presence of the troops seemed to have a quieting effect upon the strikers for although they assembled on the surrounding hills in great numbers they did not venture dangerously near the picket lines. The women were out in force and were more demonstrative than the men. They gathered in groups and crowded towards the stock piles, where the men are employed, and keep up a continuous cry of "blackleg" and "scab." Their conversation was of the most inflammable nature. The parade of the strikers to Union park was very largely attended by strikers from both Ishpeming and Negaunee. President Coad, of the miners' union resigned and John Roberts was chosen as his successor.

Desperate Murder and Suicide.

Mrs. John Wilson, wife of a hack driver at Battle Creek, left her husband because he did not support her. Wilson several times threatened her life if she did not return, and finally he went to the home of Lee Prine, where she had rented rooms, and tried to shoot her. Wilson pulled a revolver, but his wife grabbed the weapon and threw it through a window. The enraged man then caught her by the hair and dragged her down the stairs and into the yard where he found the revolver. The woman broke away, but as she ran Wilson fired and the shot struck her behind the left ear and came out of her eye. He then put the revolver to his temple and fired, killing himself instantly. Mrs. Wilson was taken to the hospital, but she cannot recover.

An Alibi for Smalley—But 'Tis Too Late.

Mrs. John Smalley, wife of the man who was shot and killed at McBain by two deputy sheriffs on the supposition that he was one of the C. & W. M. train robbers and murderer of Detective Powers at Grand Rapids, has received a letter from J. C. Anderson, of Brinton, who says that Smalley was at Brinton on the night of the train robbery and also on the night of the murder of Detective Powers. S. E. Frye, a notary public of Brinton, gives confirmation of this, and has affidavits proving that Smalley was visiting relatives and friends at Brinton, 75 miles from the scene of the train robbery and the murder of Detective Powers during the time of these occurrences.

Hot Lumber Fire at Saginaw.

One of the hottest fires ever witnessed in Saginaw broke out in the lumber piles of Randall & Boyd. A stiff wind was blowing and the blaze was in a few minutes a whirling mass of flames that rapidly spread from pile to pile. The big plant of the Allington Curtis Co., manufacturers of dust separators, caught fire and seemed certain of destruction, but good work on the part of the firemen was so effectual that the loss was only $6,000, covered by insurance. In the Randall & Boyd yard about 750,000 feet of lumber valued at $15,000 was consumed.

American Bar Association.

Some of the most eminent of America's lawyers visited Detroit in attendance upon the annual session of the American Bar association. The subjects discussed by the association were some of the deep things of legal lore and the addresses and papers—including particularly the address of President Carter—were very interesting, instructive and important. One of the features of the convention was a splendid reception given by Gen. R. A. Alger.

Dangerous Forest Fires.

A "Soo" special says: The city and river are obscured by smoke, and dangerous forest fires are raging between here and Waislat Bay. The fire is about four miles wide. Ashes are falling in the city. Farm houses and settlements are in danger and considerable loss of property has already resulted. It is very dry. Navigation in the river is made difficult.

P. C. Yates, an old resident of Nashville, was killed by a train.

Four members of the Salvation Army were arrested at Ypsilanti for disturbing the peace by their singing and praying.

Small pox caused the death of Frank Drum, near Galesburg. Local undertakers refused to bury him. An epidemic is feared.

Mrs. Dr. C. M. Raynole, of Birmingham, was thrown from a buggy and had her right leg, two ribs and her collarbone broken.

The dead body of an unknown man was found in a box car on the T. A. & N. M. railroad at Monroe. There was a bullet wound in his right temple.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

A Shanghai dispatch says that official reports show that there were over 40,000 deaths from cholera in Pekin during August.

Three Indians were held up near Lewiston, Idaho, by three masked men and robbed of $2,300 paid them by the government for land.

Wm. Haygood, while blaspheming at High Shoals, Ga., declared there was no God, no heaven and no hell, had his tongue paralyzed.

A boiler explosion at the car factory at Warsaw, Ind., killed instantly Quincy Nebruner, the fireman, and James Hoffman, a teamster.

The jury in the Frank Clancy inquest at Ann Arbor returned a verdict that Clancy came to his death from a blow on the head by some person unknown. The jury censured the Toledo authorities for not investigating the case more thoroughly.

Bristol tunnel, 1,200 feet long, on the B. & O. railroad near Zanesville, O., caught fire from sparks. One hundred feet of the tunnel has fallen in. Efforts are being made to prevent the fire from reaching a point where a coal vein projects from the tunnel's sides.

A special from Kingston, Jamaica, says that Capt.-Gen. Martinez de Campos has written to the Spanish consul there, it has leaked out, that the struggle against the insurrection in Cuba is hopeless. The conceding of autonomy, he adds, is the only means by which Spain can avoid losing the island. The Cubans are jubilant.

H. M. Romberg, a prominent liveryman of Decatur, Ind., left about two months ago to visit his old home at Hamburg, Germany. Word has been received that he has been taken by the German officials and sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment, charged with whipping an official in the army prior to his coming to this country.

Window glass manufacturers from Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois met at Cleveland and organized a combination, the purpose of which is to advance prices to meet the increase in the price of raw materials and the prospective advance in wages. It was decided not to resume operations at the factories until September 27.

A fight took place in a covered bridge near Rockport, Ind., between Belle Levi and Frank Hurst, on one side, and Wm. Broshears and Charles Williamson on the other, in which Miss Levi and Hurst were mortally wounded. The fight was the result of an old feud between Broshears and Hurst. Hurst was taking Miss Levi home in a buggy when the attack was made.

An unknown tramp was murdered on a Pennsylvania freight train near Mansfield, O. His throat was cut from ear to ear. Two tramps on the train were suspected. They boarded an Erie train and were met at Ashland by officers. The tramps, five in number, opened fire and the battle raged five minutes before the tramps were handcuffed. The engineer and firemen were wounded.

Constantinople: The sultan has sent a dispatch to the Turkish ambassadors at Paris and St. Petersburg, bitterly complaining of Great Britain's attitude regarding Armenia, which is described as discourteous and derogatory to the sultan's prestige. The dispatch concludes with an appeal to the French and Russian governments to use their good offices with Great Britain to modify her present attitude.

A dispatch from Londres, France, says: Fourteen railway trains loaded with sick and maimed persons arrived from Paris, and their wretched occupants are lying helpless about the station clamoring to be carried to the sacred grotto. There are now 25,000 persons waiting to be dipped in the healing water, many of whom appear to be at death's door. Seventeen of the occupants of the last train from Paris died on the journey.

A heavy letter addressed to Baron Alphonse Rothschild was delivered at the baron's office, at Paris, during his absence. The baron's confidential clerk, M. Jadowsky, opened the package, whereupon it exploded. The clerk's eyes were almost torn out of his head, and one of his hands was so badly shattered that three of his fingers had to be amputated. Anarchists are thought to be responsible, and 30 were arrested on suspicion.

In cases of burns, sprains, scalds, or any of the other accidental pains likely to come to the human body, Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil gives almost instant relief.

Cuban Filibusterers Captured.

At Wilmington, Del., 20 men captured at Penn's Grove, N. J., were lodged in jail, charged by the United States authorities with the violation of the neutrality laws in having organized a hostile expedition to Cuba. It had been suspected for several months that a Cuban filibustering party was at work at Wilmington and that at least one expedition had been dispatched from there. Detectives shadowed the suspected men and found that they had chartered a tug to carry freight to Penn's Grove. They were allowed to go to that point, but before the steamer which was to take them to Cuba arrived the party was arrested. When the detectives examined the tug they found 27 cases of arms, a large quantity of ammunition, provisions, clothing, etc., all of which was seized.

Capt.-Gen. Campos Yacht Blown Up.

A dispatch from Havana says that the Spanish steamer Villaverde, used by Gen. Campos as a private yacht, was blown up at sea by the explosion of a ton of dynamite which was being carried from New York to Havana, and which Gen. Campos intended to use in his campaign against the insurgents. The steamer was blown into fragments.

SNATCHED FROM THE GRAVE—A Warning From the Living.
Emissions "At 15 I learned a bad habit. Had losses for seven years. Tried four doctors cured, and now tonic by the score, without benefit. I became a nervous wreck. A friend who had been cured by Drs. Kennedy & Kergan of a similar disease, advised me to try them. I did so, and in two months was positively cured. This was eight years ago. I am now married and have two healthy children." C. W. LEWIS, Saginaw, Mich.

Varicocele "Varicocele, the result of early vice, made life miserable. I was weak and nervous. Cured. My eyes sunken, bashful in society, hair thin, dreams and losses at night, no ambition. The "Golden Monitor" opened my eyes. The New Method Treatment of Drs. Kennedy & Kergan cured me in a few weeks." I. L. PETERSON, Ionia, Mich.

Syphilis "This terrible blood disease was in my system for eight years. Had taken mercury, cured, but two years, but the disease returned. Eyes red, pimples and blotches on the skin, ulcers in the mouth and on tongue, bone pains, falling out of hair, weakness, etc. My brother, who had been cured of Gleet and Stricture by Drs. Kennedy & Kergan, recommended them. They cured me in a few weeks, and I thank God, consulted them. No return of the disease in six years." W. M. JACKSON, Mich.

A Minister The Rev. W. E. Sparks, of Detroit, says: "I know of no disease so injurious to the mind, body and soul of young men as that of Self Abuse. I have sent many victims of this lustful habit to Drs. Kennedy & Kergan for treatment. I can heartily endorse their New Method Treatment which cured them when all else failed."
A Doctor "I know nothing in medical science so efficient for the cure of Syphilis and recommends Sexual Diseases as the New Method Treatment of Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. Many cases which had baffled scores of physicians were cured in a few weeks." T. E. ALLISON, M. D. have seen this with my own eyes and know it to be a fact."

The Ann Arbor Art School.

The Ann Arbor Art School is now in a position to accommodate all grades of art students, beginners as well as those more advanced. It is now required that beginners should spend at least one year in black and white, to gain some facility in drawing, as well as a fair knowledge of values before beginning color. Pupils who have learned their drawing elsewhere can enter one of the color classes upon satisfying the teacher that their knowledge of drawing will warrant the step.

Miss Alice Hunt will conduct the classes in black and white on Saturday mornings, beginning Oct. 5. This class will include work in pencil, charcoal and pen and ink.

A beginning class in color will be organized for Saturday afternoons, teacher to be announced later.

Miss Helen Roby, of Detroit, will have charge of the advanced class in color, on just what day is not yet known.

It is hoped that pupils from Ypsilanti and adjoining towns, as well as those from Ann Arbor will desire to reap the benefit of Miss Roby's superior knowledge and treatment of color and join the Ann Arbor Art School.

Terms are low as possible to cover expenses. Further information may be obtained of Mrs. Zina P. King, 30 Liberty st., or of Mrs. W. S. Perry, 61 Washington st.

WORKMEN BURIED

Fatal Accident at the Illinois State Fair Grounds.

TWO KILLED, ONE FATALLY HURT.

Four Others Badly Injured, and Another Falls on His Head in a Mortar-Bed and Is Only Bruised—Tower on Machinery Hall Collapses—Five Men Caught by Escaping Gas at Providence, R. I., and Instantly Asphyxiated.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Sept. 5.—A horrible accident occurred at the state fair grounds yesterday afternoon. The west tower on the great machinery hall, which is now being roofed, collapsed and fell in, burying several men beneath the ruins. Charles Hobson, a plumber, of Lincoln, Neb., who was at work on the ground floor, was killed. He was covered with several tons of brick and mortar. The injured are: Fred Reed, carpenter, badly mangled; N. Williamson, carpenter, both ankles broken; Samuel Davenport, of Chicago, boss carpenter, badly injured about the back; John Gethard, carpenter, gash cut in his head; Charles Brownell, aged 18, water carrier, both legs and both arms broken, badly burned by mortar and fearfully lacerated, will die; James Clancy, a slater, fell from the roof into a mortar bed and struck on his head, but escaped with a few bruises.

Caused by the Hard Rain. Neither building nor tower was braced, but whether this caused the accident is not known. It is the general opinion that the hard rain loosened the mortar which had not time to dry, work having been rushed on the building in order to have it completed in time for the fair, and that this caused the accident. Old brickmasons say there is some danger of the east tower of the building falling also. The James Westwater company, of Columbus, O., has the contract for the building. The loss will amount to several thousand dollars. A temporary roof will be put on where the new one was torn off by falling debris, so the building can be used for the fair. LATER.—It has been learned that another must be added to the death list. James Parke, of this city, a plumber, was also buried in the debris and killed. He had been married only about two weeks.

DEADLY GAS STANDS GUARD.

While the Corpses of Five Men Lie for Hours Where They Died.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 5.—Five employees of the Providence Gas company went to their death in the cellar of the Westfield street gas-holder, asphyxiated by gas. The names of the dead are: James Colton, John Riley, John McManus, Lawrence Kearns and John Mance. The accident was a peculiar one. For several days leaking gas had been detected in the holder and the company sent six men and a foreman to repair the leak, which proved to come from a defective valve. The men had just returned from dinner, and going down the wooden stairs, which led from the entrance of the holder to the cellar below, began to work on the broken valve. They disconnected it and tied a cloth bag about the large main extending in from the street, when the big gas way and an immense volume of gas rushed out. In less time than it takes to tell it all were overcome, with the exception of one who managed to grope up the stairs where the fresh air enabled him to recover sufficiently to reach the street. Immediately after it became known that the men were there and unable to get out willing hands attempted to go to the rescue, but nothing could be done while the escaping gas rushed up the stairs. Foreman Allen did all he could, but there was no cut off in the street and he knew not what way to turn.

The police were quickly on the spot and roped off Westfield street, and Medical Examiner Palmer stood in the doorway to prevent anybody from going down the stairs. At the foot of the stairs lay one of the men, who had almost reached the bottom stair when he was overcome and sank back. A look of anguish was on his countenance. Soon after 3 o'clock the gas company sent a gang of men to dig up the street to get at the main shut-off further along, it being understood that no other means of shutting off the gas could be attained and even then it meant two hours' work.

Foreman Allen took a hand in the excavation, and was overcome before the digging had proceeded far. He was taken to the Rhode Island hospital in the ambulance, which arrived a short time before his life expired. Jason Blackmar, who lives opposite, turned his house and yard into a hospital of need, and stood in readiness to aid the authorities in any way possible.

field nominated Mrs. Anna Bach. Hon. Chas. H. Manly said he had hoped to see a different result than the nominations made so far. He said the fifth ward had been originally the backbone of the city, and had come into the city with all its improvements paid for. This ward was not represented on the board. He would name a gentleman not loaded with wealth, but one who would do credit to the city, a graduate of the high school. It was Spencer D. Lennon. Ed. Wells, in behalf of the friends of Mr. Shannon, endorsed the nomination of Mrs. Bach.

At this juncture M. J. Lehman sprung to his feet and declared that evidently a deal was on hand and he felt ashamed of it.

Mr. Manly withdrew the name of Spenser D. Lennon in favor of Mrs. Bach. This caused a general rout of all opposition and Robert Phillips withdrew the name of Dr. D. Zimmerman in favor of Mrs. Bach and she was made the unanimous third nominee of the convention.

The committee appointed to call the convention for next year appointed was M. J. Lehman, Hon. Chas. H. Manly and Col. Henry S. Dean.

It was believed that another convention was called for Saturday evening but only eight men responded and they came out of curiosity to see what would be done.

The pot was boiling over Sunday and on Monday morning four tickets appeared with the following names in various combinations; Christian Mack, J. E. Beal and Mrs. Anna Bach, W. W. Whedon and Robert Shannon.

On Monday the election was held in Firemans hall. A moderate vote coming out, as there were only 686 ballots cast, with the following result, Christian Mack 587, J. E. Beal 485, Anna Bach 457, W. W. Whedon 227, Robert Shannon 201, and six scattering.

The study of the election is interesting. The way the women voted showed that they were not guided by ordinary political ethics. Mrs. Bach would not have received the nomination in the caucus if it had not been for Mr. Shannon's friends, but this fact did not hinder them from throwing Mr. Shannon overboard. Many funny scenes transpired about the ballot boxes. One woman rushed up to vote and when asked for her ticket said "Really a came away from home in such a hurry, that I did not bring any." One woman was pounced upon by three others and asked how she voted. Upon saying that she took a ticket from a nice looking man, she received a reprimand that she will not soon forget.

Some women were so annoyed at being refused a vote because not being on the assessment rolls or having children of the required school age, that they determined upon seeing the assessor and being put on the rolls.

After the vote was announced the regular school meeting was adjourned to the court room. The annual report was passed around. It showed the expenditures for the years 94-95 to be $47,242.77. The estimate for the coming year is $47,925 with estimated receipts $18,337.86 the difference being voted to be raised. Then followed a long discussion on the question of raising $6,000.00 for the purpose of putting in two boilers at the High school and put up a janitors residence at the fourth ward school.

The $30,000 asked for by the board to meet current expenses was cheerfully voted but the taxpayers began talking economy, some of them belaboring the common council over the heads of the school board. The right to bond for $6,000 for the boiler house and janitors residence met with some opposition. The janitor's house was stricken out and the amount of the bonds cut to $4,000, which was then unanimously voted. A resolution was adopted requesting the board to practice economy. The attendance at this meeting was the largest in years. On motion of Mr. Cavanaugh, the hours of election next year were fixed from 9 o'clock until 3, with the business meeting to be held in the court house as soon as the votes were counted.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know

that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Dr. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.
