JACKSON PRISON BARS.

Cuyler J. Barton Looks Through them to Liberty that he Does not Have.

BARN BURNING COSTS HIM FIVE YEARS.

The Fire Bug Confesses his Crime in Burning the Hadley Barn—Absolute Terror of the People of Unadilla and Lyndon—How he did the Dastardly Work—His Confession.

Safe in States Prison.

Cuyler J. Barton, the Unadilla barn burner, who long terrorized the inhabitants of that village and the farmers of Unadilla and the northern part of Lyndon township in this county, is now behind the bars in the Jackson state prison for five years, on the charge of burning the fine barns of Stephen O. Hadley, of Lyndon. Barton pleaded guilty when the case was called in the circuit court Monday forenoon, and was at once sentenced to five years imprisonment. Tuesday forenoon he was taken to Jackson. Tongues which have before been silent may now be unloosed.

The barn of Stephen O. Hadley, seven miles from Chelsea, in the northeast corner of Lyndon township, and two miles from Unadilla, on the Unadilla road, was burned Sunday night, July 16, 1892, between the hours of 12 and 1. The loss on the barn and the contents was $4,500. On the following Tuesday Mr. Hadley and his son came to Ann Arbor and reported the case to Prosecuting Attorney Thomas D. Kearney, who called in Deputy Sheriff Peterson and detailed him to investigate the matter. Near the burned barn was an oil bottle which had evidently been thrown away after being used.

Peterson at once went to Hadley's and soon found cause to think Cuyler J. Barton the guilty party. It had rained just before the fire. There were foot prints in the peach orchard and bean field near the barn and in the roads. Tracks were traced from in front of Barton's house leading towards Hadley's and back again, the back foot prints turning in to Barton's house. A pair of Barton's shoes which he afterwards admitted having worn that night, were obtained and they fitted the tracks exactly, the eight nail holes in one heel having left their marks in the foot prints.

In the meantime Barton had left home and Peterson traced him to Gregory, Pinckney, Howell and Stockbridge where he had tried to dispose of a note. Hadley went to Chelsea and swore out a warrant for Barton's arrest before Justice Turnbull and the warrant was placed in Peterson's hands who followed Barton to Jackson, where he learned that a man answering Barton's description had checked a satchel to Chicago. He went to the express office where he found that a man answering Barton's description had sent $220 to C. Barton, Chicago. The express agent wired the Chicago office to hold the money until Peterson could get there.

Peterson returned to Ann Arbor and reported to the prosecuting attorney, who ordered him to go to Chicago and get Barton. Peterson, who had never seen Barton, watched for him in Chicago from Thursday night until 8:30 Monday morning, when he saw a man who looked like the photograph he had, turn on State street down Monroe. Peterson followed him until he saw him go into the express office, when he notified Detective Flynn, of Chicago, and when Barton came out of the office, he was arrested. Barton denied his identity, claimed that his name was C. Brown, that he lived in New York, that he had never been in Michigan, never heard of Unadilla and also denied that his Sunday school photograph represented him. When asked to show his upper teeth, he drew his upper lip tightly over them and exposed a vast expanse of lower teeth. When taken to police headquarters, the police took hold of him and after administering a good shaking which set his teeth chattering and left him almost breathless, Barton was induced to admit his identity. That night Barton was in the Ann Arbor jail, just a week and a day from the time the Hadley barn was burned.

He was taken to Chelsea for a hearing before Justice Turnbull, which lasted three days, resulting in Barton's being bound over to the circuit court on light bail. The case in the circuit court was adjourned from time to time on one pretext and another, and finally came up for trial at this term of court.

About a year ago, William Barton, a nephew of Cuyler Barton, admitted to Prosecuting Attorney Kearney and Mr. Peterson that Cuyler had told him that he had set fire to the Hadley barn and had at the time endeavored to get him to set fire to other barns. He talked to him about burning the Bangs barns. These barns belonging to a wealthy man in Unadilla were afterwards burned with a loss of over $4000. Cuyler's trousers were obtained for the prosecution, one of the pockets being saturated with oil as if it had leaked from a bottle carried in the pocket.

A fire machine had been rigged up for the purpose of starting these fires which has so terrorized the neighborhood. One of these machines was on exhibition in the Argus office for a couple of months and Officer Peterson had two complete machines which had gone out before the fire had been set and the ruins of three more which had been taken from barns which had burned. These fire machines were taken from the Messenger, Webb, Bangs, North and McKinder barns. The machine was an ingeniously contrived one to allow ample time for the incendiary to get away after starting the fire. It was a common paste board corset box with a candle in one end with the proper ventilation and shavings, paper and wood saturated with oil in the other end, the two being connected with twisted twine so that before the candle had burned down to ignite the twine and the twine had slowly burned across to the oil and shavings, the incendiary could be a long ways from the barn.

Cuyler J. Barton is a man of about thirty-five, of fair education and one who if he had turned his wits in the proper direction might have made much of himself. His father was for twelve or fourteen years supervisor of Unadilla township and is described as being a fine man. Barton had been twice arrested before the Hadley fire and both times had been acquitted. The first time he was arrested was for burning a building in Livingston county. The case did not stick. He was acquitted on the charge of poisoning a horse.

A Reign of Terror.

Barton's sentence to Jackson brings to the public mind a terrible record of fire and terror in the section round about Unadilla. For the past few years the people of the neighborhood have rarely slept with any feeling of security. They have been held in absolute terror by the fire bug. Going to bed with everything in seeming safety, the residents were likely to be startled from an uneasy sleep in the middle of the night by the dreaded but not unexpected alarm of fire. None knew when his turn would come and fear reigned, an absolute monarch. The people tell that they often arose at night, feeling insecure and fidgety, to see if their buildings were all right. Night after night, some member of many families in the region would get up and make a tour of inspection. And it was not alone of arson that the people were afraid. They dreaded lest their stock would be poisoned, or that their wells might be seasoned with Paris Green, or that every meal they ate might contain the essence of death in some dread form.

This week Monday, the day when Barton came before Judge Kinne for trial, there were many people in court from Lyndon and Unadilla, anxious for the outcome, for it meant much as to their future peace of mind. It was with the greatest satisfaction that they heard the sentence of five years, upon confession of the one crime. The reign of terror in large part, at least, was removed.

The record of arson dates back fully ten years and includes the burning or attempted burning of over a dozen valuable buildings. In the first place there came the burning of a house and then a barn, without exciting much comment. But then came the burning of Hoyland's large grist mill in Unadilla, and the people became aroused to the uncomfortable knowledge that a dangerous incendiary was in their midst. Then followed the burning of an old house, used as a shop, and finally a school house was fired in the village of Unadilla, but it failed to burn. The attempt to burn the Messenger barns in Lyndon has become notorious. Regarding it Prosecuting Attorney Randall tells an interesting story of Willie Barton's connection with the matter. Willie tells that he was riding home with Cuyler one day, when his uncle asked him if Messenger's barn should burn, whom he thought it would be laid to Willie told him he thought it would be laid to his own door. Upon Cuyler's asking him why he thought so, Willie replied, "because you are in bad repute with the neighbors."

Cuyler went on to say that he would like to have a good fire and asked Willie what he would take to set one for him. Willie replied by asking how much he would give, and his uncle said he would pay him $25. Willie accepted the offer and shortly afterwards Cuyler showed him one of his machines and explained its working. Then Willie told him he had changed his mind and would not set the fire; there was too much risk and it was not right. Sometime later the barn was discovered afire and a machine was found in it. Two attempts were made to burn the barn of John Webb, of Lyndon, the second of which was successful. After the first attempt, one of the machines was found in the barn. The last attempt was only two months ago. Prosecuting Attorney Randall was one morning called to the telephone from Gregory, and was told of the burning. He sent Sheriff Judson there to investigate. The latter came back and said that a steam thrashing machine had been at work in the barn the day before and this fact would injure the prospects for making a case of arson out of it. Barton had worked with the thrashing gang and was suspected. The building was so soon in a blaze on all sides, that it was thought that Barton had placed his machine at different places and had so arranged them that they all started fires at the same time.

James McKinder was another farmer who came near suffering from the fire fiend. This was some time ago. His straw stack was fired but the fire went out and a telltale machine told the sure story of incendiarism.

The Bangs barn in Unadilla is one of the most recent cases. It was burned since Hadley's and was a fine large structure. Rev. Mr. North, a Methodist preacher of Unadilla, was another sufferer.

Another case was that with which Edson May was connected, upon whom Barton's defense was endeavoring to throw discredit. May was about to move into a dwelling in Unadilla township, which was the property of the heirs of Gilbert S. May, when the house was set afire and was partly burned. For this crime, Barton was arrested in Livingston county and was in jail at Howell, for lack of $2,000 bail, when Sheriff Judson went after him last week, in order to bring him here for trial. This house was fired after the burning of the Webb barn.

Barton's Confession.

If Cuyler J. Barton told the truth in his confession to Sheriff Judson, there are other fire bugs in the region of Unadilla, who ought to suffer. For he denies the burning of most of the buildings that have been consumed.

Regarding the burning of the Hadley barn he said that the theories of how he accomplished it were away off. He set fire to the corner of the barn by means of one of his fire machines and not to a load of hay in the barn as was supposed. The tracks which were supposed to be made by him, he says he did not make, for he came to the barn by another route. As to the motive of burning the barn he said he had none other than a desire to see a fire.

"My first fire," said Barton, in his talk with Mr. Judson, "was the Hoyland grist mill a long time ago. I was hired to do the job and was to receive a $20 gold piece. All I ever got was 5. The reason why the man who hired me wanted the mill burned was that it interfered with some of his private interests."

"I never burned the Messenger barns and I know nothing of who did. And I never made any fire boxes, except those I used. I am not fool enough for that. When I had a fire to set, I made one, but I don't keep them around for people to look at."

"And I did not set the May house on fire, for which I was in jail at Howell. I did not put stuff in the chimney."

"Neither did I poison the horse of Dr. DeBoice."

Allowing that Barton's story is true, there are many fires that can yet be explained by some other persons.

Circuit Court Matters.

The circuit court has kept up a constant grind this week and many cases of the 130 on the calendar have been disposed of. The case of the people vs. P. G. Suekey was continued until next term. John Kapp and J. V. Sheehan are sureties in the sum of $5,000 for his appearance.

Two liquor cases were disposed of, enriching the county treasury. Martin Vogel pleaded guilty and a fine of $10 with $5.71 costs was imposed. Patrick Fitzaimmons paid a like fine and $5.35 costs. Geo. Letter pleaded not guilty to a charge of violating the liquor laws. George Efner paid a fine of $5.40.

Chas. H. Hines pleaded not guilty to the charge of robbery hanging over him. The case was continued.

In the case of the people vs. John Harrison and Anna E. Bryant, adultery, the defendants pleaded not guilty.

Jacob Mack entered a similar plea on a charge of false pretenses. Jacob Dingman pleaded not guilty to indecent exposure and his case was continued.

In the slander suit of Frederick Boos vs. Catherine Ryan, the jury rendered a verdict of $100 for the plaintiff.

Ann J. Walker in her case against the city was given until the next term to file a bill of exceptions.

In Breitenwischer vs. Clough, 30 days were granted in which to file a bill of exceptions.

The cases of the people vs. Samuel Graham and Chas. Walker were nolle prossed as was also the case against Amos W. Lampkin. In the liquor case of Gustave Brehm, the latter pleaded not guilty.

In the case of Frank Bangs vs. D. Cramer, plaintiff was ordered to give bonds in the sum of $30. In John Loney vs. R. Armbruster, the plaintiff was ordered to file security in the sum of $50 within ten days. In W. R. Bryan vs. S. D. Adams an order to file security in thirty days was made. In Peter Oesterle vs. Frank Glazier, defendant was granted 30 days to file a bill of exceptions.

S. Hudson has been admitted to the bar.

AFTER RESIGNATIONS.

Zion Lutheran Church People Ask Rev. Max Hein and Prof. Boes to Leave.

CHARGES MADE AGAINST THE PASTOR.

Lively Annual Meeting Last Monday Night—Post Office Receipts Forge Ahead of Those of Last Year—David B. Hill Will Show his Face in Ann Arbor—Circuit Court Grind.

Resignations Asked For.

At the annual meeting of Zion Lutheran church last Monday evening, the resignations of both Rev. Max Hein, the pastor, and Louis Boes, the parish school teacher, were asked for, the former within a month. The meeting was a very lively one as the record of it will show.

The first intimation of trouble was in the presentation of charges by Pastor Hein against Louis Boes, the teacher. The result was a close vote of 58 to 62, asking for his resignation.

It was evident that there were more resignations to be considered and a certain part of the members moved for adjournment, in order to avoid bringing up the question expected. Twice the motion was made to adjourn, but both motions lacked a majority vote, and the negative was so plain that Chairman Hein declared both lost. Then the pastor declared the meeting adjourned on his own authority, and together with nearly half of the members present, he left the church.

Those remaining decided that the pastor had no right whatever to declare the meeting adjourned, and in order to carry on business, they elected Frederick Schmid, one of the vestrymen, chairman. He asked for the further pleasure of the meeting, which was soon manifested in the shape of a resolution demanding the resignation of Rev. Max Hein as pastor within one month. This resolution prevailed by the vote of 48 to 0, fourteen members not voting, and Chairman Schmid declared the resolution adopted by a unanimous vote.

There were charges presented against the pastor in the annual report of the trustees of the church. These were relative to neglect of pastoral duties, and to his personal conduct. The trouble has been brewing for some time, and it is said by some of the prominent members of the church that the pastor, knowing that his head must fall, took the opportunity last Monday to cause the parish teacher's resignation to be asked for, in order to satisfy a grudge he held against him. It is also intimated by the same authority that Boes may continue to hold his position. The matter of his resignation was placed in the hands of the trustees, and as it was not demanded within any specified time, they may allow him to remain indefinitely. It is said that during the four years he has been at the head of the school, not a word has before been said against him. The charges formulated by the vestry in their report are said to be a unanimous expression of their belief.

It is charged by those opposed to the pastor that he packed last Monday evening's meeting with members of the congregation favorable to his side. They even go so far as to assert that he had men out drumming up the supporters of his cause. There seems to be a wide division in the congregation, and while those opposed to the pastor unite in praising his ability as a preacher, they say that his pastoral work does not suit them, hence the desire for a change.

Although the meeting was taken up mainly with the strife concerning the resignations, some other business was transacted. George Miller was reelected deacon and Michael Braun and John Walz were chosen trustees.

Increase in Post Office Receipts.

The receipts at the stamp window of the Ann Arbor postoffice during the year ending September 30, 1895, were $31,398.53. This is an increase of $2,742.38 over the receipts for the year ending September 30, 1894, when the receipts were $28,656.15. The gain for the last quarter, the summer quarter, was $719.24 over the summer quarter of 1894, an increase of over 13 per cent in receipts. The amount remitted to the United States Treasury after paying all the expenses of the Ann Arbor office was, during the year, $13,647.80. While the stamp sales are growing the box rents have been falling off, owing to the extension of the delivery system. During the past year the box rents amounted to $554.45 as against $720.85 for the previous year. From the sale of waste paper, $8.55 was realized last year as against $1.76 the previous year.

The receipts for September of this year were $2,374.56 as against $2,003.84 for September of 1894, an increase of $370.72 or eighteen and a half per cent. Every month shows an increase over the corresponding month of the preceding year.

Sir John Franklin.

It was in Warwickshire that I made the acquaintance of Sir John Franklin, while I was still quite a child. The stout, good humored gentleman, whose image appears before me as I write his name, is associated in my mind with an event in which he took the keenest interest—a total eclipse of the sun—but the amusement afforded by a rather absurd incident connected with it I am afraid engrossed my childish mind more than all the scientific explanations of the phenomenon which Sir John Franklin was so well qualified to give. In those primitive days it was held that the best mode of witnessing the obscuration of the sun was to watch it through pieces of smoked glass, with which we were all duly provided when we sallied forth to an open piece of ground where nothing impeded the view. The result was that in the course of a few minutes the noses of every one present were severely blackened—unconsciously to themselves—and the appearance of the whole scientific party was irresistibly comic. Sir John Franklin appeared then so full of life and energy and high spirits that it was difficult to think of him afterward as the worn-out suffering hero of that last fatal voyage, which held the country in suspense as to his fate during a period cruelly long and trying to his wife and to all who had relatives among his companions in the icebound vessels. One of my cousins was of the number, and I will remember the sensation in his home when some of the relics of the disastrous expedition, afterward brought back, were identified as having belonged to him.—Blackwood's Magazine.

MR. BAYARD REPLIES.

His Answer to Secretary Olney's Communications.

NO SATISFACTION FROM ENGLAND.

That Country Prefers to Delay the Venezuela Matter Until the Meeting of the American Congress—United States Cruisers Likely to Be Ordered to the Mouth of the Orinoco—Cubans to Appeal to Our Congress—Washington News Notes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The Chicago Press correspondent telegraphs his paper as follows: The state department has recently received replies from Ambassador Bayard to the three communications which were sent to him by Secretary Olney touching the Venezuela affair. The state department naturally declines to give out for publication any definite information concerning Mr. Bayard's dispatches, but it is learned that he has not been able up to the present time to secure from Great Britain anything like a satisfactory reply to the suggestion of the United States that arbitration be resorted to to settle the points in controversy. It is generally believed that the British ambassador will hold off until the Minnesota syndicate goes to take possession of the property ceded by Venezuela. This will be some time before the 1st of December.

The Impression in England.

In the meantime word comes from England that the impression there is that the Republican congress will not be willing to indorse the action of the administration in the matter of the enforcement of the Monroe doctrine. For this reason England prefers to delay the whole matter until congress meets. On the other hand, there is positively no reason to believe that the administration will take any backward step. On the contrary at least two cruisers, and possibly the battleship Indiana, are likely to be ordered to the mouth of the Orinoco river about the time the syndicate's operations begin in order that American interests may have the protection at least which the presence of American men-of-war will certainly give them.

POLICY OF THE CUBANS.

Our Congress Will Be Appealed to as Soon as It Assembles.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The Cubans will appeal to congress as soon as it assembles for their recognition by the government of the United States. No application will be made to the executive branch of the government until the assembling of the legislative body. Care will be taken to see that there is uniformity in the steps proposed to congress. At the time of the last Cuban uprising there was no less than forty different Cuban resolutions in the house, as a result of which nothing whatever was done. In this connection an interesting precedent has been found in the recognition by President Monroe of the South and Central American republics when they broke away from Spain. The Spanish minister at Washington made the most urgent protests, to which John Quincy Adams, secretary of state, replied, stating the policy of this government in giving recognition. The propositions then advanced by Spain and the replies made by the United States are said to be exactly parallel in the statements of facts to the status of the Cuban affair today.

Will Pay Mora the Money.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—In a day or two the custodian will pay to Antonio Maximo Mora $700,000, the amount due him from the Spanish government. The other beneficiaries are Dr. John I. Rodriguez, Mr. Mora's attorney since 1870, and Nathaniel Page, who was at one time identified in the prosecution of the case. In the original agreement between Mora and his attorneys Mora was to receive 60 per cent, and the attorneys 40 per cent, the latter sum including legal expenses.

Talmage Formally Accepts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The Washington Presbytery convened at Kensington, a suburb of Washington, and the Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage, who was present, announced that he accepted the call to come here as copastor with the venerable Dr. Sunderland of the First Presbyterian (president's) church. It was arranged that the ceremony of installation, which will be of an impressive nature, should take place at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, Oct. 24.

Mrs. Grant Buys a Home.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Mrs. U. S. Grant has bought the home of ex-Senator Edmunds on Massachusetts avenue, in the northwestern part of the city beyond Dupont circle, and will have her household belongings brought here from New York.

AYER'S SPECIFIC FOR SCROFULA. "Since childhood, I have been afflicted with scrofulous boils and sores, which caused me terrible suffering. Physicians were unable to help me, and I only grew worse under their care. At length, I began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and very soon grew better. After using half a dozen bottles I was completely cured, so that I have not had a boil or pimple on any part of my body for the last twelve years. The Ann Arbor Argus

DEAKES & HAMMOND, PROPRIETORS.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY for $1.00 per year strictly in advance. Subscriptions not paid in advance $1.25 a year.

FRIDAY OCTOBER 11, 1895.

The tide is turning. Two municipal elections were held Monday. In Indianapolis, the democrats elected their mayor by 4,000 majority. Two years ago the republicans had 3,100 majority in the city. In Chattanooga the democrats overturned the 1,200 republican majority of last fall. Republican extravagance in office is enough to sicken the people. The dawning of better times as the Wilson bill gets in working order is also having its influence.

Luxuries come high. That is the reason the state taxes show such an enormous increase. The republican legislature was needed only as a luxury. Have not the dear people their surfeit of such luxuries?

When you pay your state taxes this fall, you will find out what an expensive luxury the republican legislature really was.

ODDFELLOWS HAVE GONE.

They Held the City Tuesday and Wednesday — Homeliest and Handsomest Men of All Live in Battle Creek.

Tuesday and Wednesday the city was held by the Odd Fellows of the state, who came in on Monday and early on Tuesday, to the number of four hundred. There were two separate bodies in session, the grand encampment and the state cantonment.

The encampment began its business sessions Tuesday morning in Macabree hall, when Grand Patriarch Josiah Dandy, of Grand Rapids, called the encampment to order. The grand patriarch then presented his annual report, showing the lodges of the state to be in excellent condition. One new encampment was organized during the year, at Lowell. The report of Grand Treasurer Andrew Harshaw, of Alpena, showed $1,256.92 in the treasury, after the bills of the year were paid. On Wednesday Grand Scribe Whitney gave his annual report, which showed a total of 115 encampments in the state, with membership aggregating 3,688, an increase over the previous year. Officers were elected on Tuesday as follows: Henry Lever, of Newaygo, grand patriarch; Frank Shepherd, of Cheboygan, grand high priest; William Skimin, of Port Huron, grand senior warden; E. H. Whitney, of Lansing, grand scribe; Andrew Harshaw, of Alpena, grand treasurer; Robert Donovan, of Charlotte, grand junior warden; Josiah Dandy, representative to the sovereign grand lodge which meets in Dallas, Texas, next year.

The grand patriarch appointed new officers on Wednesday as follows: N. A. Metz, of Marquette, grand marshal; Earl Fairbanks, of Luther, grand inside sentinel; B. D. Harper, of Buchanan, grand outside sentinel. The officers were installed on Wednesday. The encampment adjourned on Wednesday, for a year, when it will meet in Allegan.

The cantonment was not here for routine business, the only thing done in a business way being the revision of the code of by-laws. Their mission was to show off their fine feathers in drill and parade. Their first opportunity came on Tuesday, when the prize drill took place on the fair ground. Three cantons were in line, Detroit, Flint and Battle Creek. Flint easily came out ahead, with Detroit second and Battle Creek third, the prizes being $75, $50 and $25. On Wednesday morning occurred the sword contests, which were held on court house square. Nineteen chevaliers entered for prizes. Flint took every prize. Capt. C. S. Martin won first, Chevalier Stanard second, Lieutenant Hall third, and Chevalier Hodge fourth, not leaving one for the other cantons interested. Flint also took two other prizes, the canton drawing one for having more men in line than any other place, and Captain Martin drew another for having the best drilled men in line.

Wednesday afternoon came the closing feature of the cantonment, the grand parade, which formed around court house square, with 600 Odd Fellows in line. Milan and Dexter had big delegations out and both Ann Arbor lodges were out in force. The parade wound around the city and returned to court house square, where the individual prizes were given out. Battle Creek receive a $25 prize as the canton traveling the largest distance. C. A. Dorrance, of Owosso, received the prize for the oldest man in line his age being 71 years 1 month. M. Sellers, of Battle Creek, was the youngest. The tallest man in line was A. G. Frost, of Charlotte; the shortest H. L. Gamble, of Detroit; the largest W. H. Hendershot, of Battle Creek, weight 212 pounds. The lightest was C. H. Royce, of Detroit, weight 114 pounds.

Huron lodge of Dexter, took the prize for having the largest attendance of subordinate lodges, while Milan came first for traveling the longest distance of an subordinate lodge.

The handsomest chevalier was picked out by a delegation of Rebekahs and was M. Sellers, of Battle Creek, while John Stayman, of the same place was designated as the homeliest man. Each received $2.50 for pin money. With the distribution of prizes the cantonment broke ranks for good, all well pleased with the treatment given by the local brethren.

HELP A GOOD CAUSE.

And be Entertained at the Same Time—The Y. M. C. A. Lyceum Course.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Ann Arbor, in order to place before the people of this city a number of entertainments of a popular order at a price that all can afford, has secured the following first class class concerts and lectures, to which another will be added if sufficient encouragement is given, making six entertainments for $1.00, or less than 17 cents apiece. The character of these entertainments is such that they will be enjoyed by the masses. The music will be by superior artists, but all of a popular nature, combining melody with brilliancy of execution. You know we all love the melody of old songs "Home Sweet Home," or "Way Down Upon the Suanee River." In the lectures the best talent on the American platform has been secured, including Robert J. Burdette and J. M. Barkley.

Price of season tickets admitting to all entertainments, $1.00.

This is the lowest figure at which such a course has ever been offered. The Young Men's Christian Association desires to furnish a similar course each year, and it is sincerely hoped that our citizens will give this enterprise such encouragement as will enable it to accomplish that object.

This course consists of three concerts and two lectures, as follows:

1. Laura Dainty Concert Co., Oct. 17. This company consists of Laura Dainty, the world famous reader and impersonator, accompanied by the Misses Robertson, solo violinist and harpist, nieces of Helen M. Gougar, the noted lecturer, and ladies of the highest social standing, as well as of eminent talent. Mr. William Richards, a pupil of Kandegger, of London Eng., is also a member of this company. A more attractive evening has never been offered in this city than these entertainers will produce.

2. Nina Drummond Leavitt, and the Ann Arbor Concert Co., Nov. 27th. Mrs. Nina Drummond Leavitt, of Brooklyn, N. Y., has no superior as a banjoist and in rendering dialect songs most of which are those quaint and beautiful melodies of the southern colored people. She gave a recital in the Y. M. C. A. rooms last August, and those who heard her are unanimous in the opinion that they never before heard banjo music. She will be assisted by the Ann Arbor Concert Co., an organization that has had many good words said of it in its tour through surrounding cities. This company is composed of some of the best musical talent in Ann Arbor. No concert given in this city this season will so appeal to the lovers of popular music as will this.

3. Lecture by Robert J. Burdette, December 19th.

Of this world renowned humorist it is hardly necessary to say anything. He is known to everyone. He has, by his wit, humor and pathos, satisfactorily entertained more people than any other living man, and his writings have pleased a multitude of readers. This lecture alone in all prominent cities costs more than is asked for this entire course.

4. Lecture by Dr. J. M. Barkley, Jan. 16th. Dr. Barkley is an entertaining speaker. He will give an extremely interesting and instructive talk regarding his experience in the "Rebel Army," in which he served a time during the great Civil War. No one can afford to miss hearing him. Selections will be rendered by a local orchestra during the half hour preceding the lecture, which commences at 8 o'clock.

5. Royal Hand Bell Ringers, Feb. 18th, '96. The finest concert in its line is given by this troupe, with their Carillon of 131 sweetly toned bells, ranging from 11 1/2 lbs. to 3 1/4 oz. This is the standard company of the world. It is universally conceded that in point of artistic excellence they have no rivals. They are so far beyond all other troupes of bell ringers that no comparison can be made.

In Great Britain and on the continent their reputation is unrivalled. They have appeared many times before the queen and royal family, and the nobility and aristocracy of Europe. Their dress is the court costume of the reign of Edward IV.

The sixth and last entertainment will be equal to any of the above, providing the residents of Ann Arbor give the Association sufficient encouragement so that they can afford to give it.

When asked by the Young Men's Christian Association boys to purchase a course ticket, will you not cheerfully comply with the request, and help an association that is doing a great deal of good for the young men of Ann Arbor, the only association in fact that has this one distinct object in view?

Andrew Jackson Lucas died at his home, No 6 Thirteenth street, Tuesday evening at five o'clock, of Bright's disease, aged sixty-three years, three months and twenty-four days. The funeral services were held at the Second Baptist church Thursday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Ypsilanti, officiating. The remains were buried in Forest Hill cemetery. Mr. Lucas was born in Bracken county, N. Y. June 14, 1832, and had resided in Ann Arbor about eighteen years. He leaves a wife and daughter.

The case of Dr. Kapp, of Manchester, against Jacob Heimendinger, to obtain payment for medical attendance in the Heimendinger family during the small pox epidemic at Manchester, came up in circuit court on Monday, in the shape of a motion to file a bill of particulars. It seems that Dr. Kapp's bill for services amounts to some $1,645 for forty-five days of attendance upon the family, two or three of whom were ill at once. While the bill seems high, there are circumstances which give the doctor's case considerable weight.

The great interest shown in the series of faculty concerts in the University School of Music justifies the statement that the concerts are among the great attractions of the season. The first concert in this series took place last evening, in Frieze Memorial hall. There will be five concerts during the first semester. Tickets are now on sale at the usual price. As the number is limited it would be well to secure tickets as soon as possible. The Choral Union series this year will be more brilliant than ever and will consist of at least nine, possibly ten, concerts.

The thirtieth reunion of the Twentieth Michigan Infantry Volunteers was held in Chelsea Wednesday. About 100 members of this noted regiment were present. A business meeting was held at 2 p. m. and the officers elected for the ensuing year were: Col. C. B. Grant, of Lansing, president, and J. T. Hammond, of Jackson, secretary and treasurer. At 6:30 p. m. the members with their friends assembled in the Congregational church and listened to the annual address of Capt. C. T. Allen, of Detroit, which was liberally applauded. At 7:30 they assembled at the town hall, where a delicious repast had been prepared for them. Numerous addresses and toasts were delivered.

Rev. J. M. Gelston made an interesting report at the state synod in Adrian on Wednesday, regarding the work of the local Tappan association. He stated that effective religious work had been done all the year, that there were 401 Presbyterian students in the University, 49 in the high school and 67 unclassified. Recommendation was made for an endowment of $80,000. It was recommended that Chas. F. Buncher and Edward Pendleton, of Detroit, be chosen to succeed Rev. Wallace Radcliffe and E. C. Walker as trustees of the association. Prof. Kelsey read a very interesting paper on the subject of the Presbyterian students of the United States, compared with the number in the University. He said that from 1840 to 1850 the average number of graduates going into the ministry was 24 per cent of the graduates, but it had gradually decreased to 16, 13 and 8 per cent. Still out of 146 students going to theological institutes from the University the Presbyterian college secured 54, and the Unitarians had obtained but three. With the establishment of sectarian colleges, and with a prejudice existing sometimes against the University and the necessity of there being special instruction for the ministry, it would be a wonder if a single graduate would fit himself for the ministry. He defended the University as a worthy place for students and allowed that with 600 Presbyterian young people to "leave the lump" the moral tone must be high.

Tomorrow's foot ball game will be with D. A. C., on the athletic field.

Chas. H. Warren has bought the Geraldine Staebler house on Cherry street for $2,000. E. A. Spence effected the sale.

The Bible institute which has been in progress in Newberry hall his week, closed Wednesday evening. It was well attended throughout.

The Eberbach Drug and Chemical company has pleasant news for Argus readers in the new advertisement which appears today.

A house belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Whiting, in Pittsfield, just east of the city, caught fire on Wednesday, and was considerably burned.

The committee having the Hay & Todd subscription matter in charge have succeeded in raising the amount to $2,600, almost $1,000 higher than last week.

Robert Staebler was made a Patriarch Militant Wednesday evening by some of the prominent Odd Fellows, who remained in Ann Arbor to exemplify the degree.

Sheriff Judson's force raided the rooms over Polhemus' saloon Wednesday evening and three women were arrested. They will be tried in Justice Pond's court on Monday. Jacob Polhemus furnished bail for the three.

A lively contest has just closed in the Y. M. C. A. During the month of September the membership committee divided, with Frank Parker and J. A. C. Hildner as leaders, each side striving to see which could get the larger number of new members. J. A. C. Hildner's men came out ahead, 48 to 25, and the defeated side will now furnish a hearty supper to the victors.

Frank D. Hammel died Wednesday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hammel, in Pittsfield township. The cause of his death was blood poisoning, contracted from a slight wound on his leg, received at the county fair by jumping off a fence. He was sixteen years old. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock and the remains will be buried in Lodi cemetery.

A meeting of the school board was held Tuesday evening. The most important matter considered was the resignation of Trustee Gruner, who wishes to retire from the board. The resignation was laid on the table. Bills to the amount of $4,500 were allowed. Miss Ella Bennett was employed as teacher four hours a day and Mr. Osborne was placed on full time until January 1. High school hall was granted to the Ladies' Library association for an entertainment.

Jacob Hoffstetter died Wednesday evening at his home, 48 East Washington street, of consumption, from which he has been a sufferer for some time. He was 46 years old. He acted as well as usual Wednesday noon, ate heartily and was preparing to go driving when he was taken suddenly worse and died at 5:45. Mr. Hoffstetter was born in Etzingen, Oberamt Balingen, Wurtemberg, Germany, coming to Ann Arbor when five years old. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Forest Hill cemetery.

Ex-State Senator David G. Rose, one of the best known men of Washtenaw county, died Monday night at his home in Sharon township, after a long illness from dropsy. He was sixty-nine years old and leaves two daughters and a son. Senator Rose was married twice, his second wife being Mrs. Rowe, of Grass Lake. Mr. Rose was born in Sharon, Ct., and with his parents removed to Sharon in 1833, where at the age of 15, at the death of his father, he was left to build up the home. In his early manhood he supplemented his district school education by a course at the Grass Lake academy, and has always been an honored citizen, holding various township offices, and was state senator in 1881.

Flag Raising in Superior.

A beautiful flag was raised at the school house in district No. 4, Superior, last Saturday afternoon. A splendid program was carried out by the scholars under the direction of Miss Helen Duncan, who is teaching her third year of school in the district. The exercises were of a patriotic nature, and were attentively listened to by a large audience. School Commissioner Wedemeyer was present and made an address.

This school is certainly one of the very best of all the district schools in the county. On the walls of the school are some exceedingly fine drawings, the work of the scholars. Some of these drawings took prizes at the fair. The school board, with W. H. DePue at its head, as director, does everything possible to keep up the high standing of the school, while the patrons generally show a lively interest in school matters. The school is a model in every way.

DEMOCRATS WIN OUT.

Tom Taggart Elected Mayor of Indianapolis.

SOME CAUSES OF THE OVERTHROW.

Strange as it may seem the Sunday Base Ball Question Cut the Greatest Figure—Charges Against Both Candidates Kept Many People from the Polls—Democrats Gain Twelve Councilmen Out of Twenty-One—Vote on Both Sides Short.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 10.—Republicans here met the worst overthrow in the city election ever experienced in the history of Indianapolis. The best estimate from the returns indicate that Tom Taggart, the state Democratic chairman, is elected mayor by 5,000 plurality. Out of 173 precincts in the city, eighty show a net Democratic gain that will reach 6,436. The rate of gain, however, is growing and is expected to reach 8,000. Republicans elected Denny two years ago by over 3,000. Preston C. Trusler the Republican candidate, runs 1,500 behind his ticket. Lee Nixon, renominated for city clerk, heading the ticket. Two years ago Nixon ran ahead of Mayor Denny 1,000 votes.

Causes of the Overthrow.
Harry S. New, editor of the Indianapolis Journal, concedes Taggart's election by 3,500 at least. Republicans have one consolation in the stunning landslide in that the result comes from purely local issues. Democrats nominated the most popular man in the party, while Republicans selected one who was admittedly unpopular from the start. Thousands of citizens, including many Republicans, parade the streets with horns and bells shouting for Taggart and Sunday baseball. Strange as it appears, the Sunday baseball question is regarded as one of the greatest causes for the Republican overthrow. This came up as a side issue to the Nicholson law, which is really back of the whole thing. Mayor Denny has given Indianapolis a puritan administration. He was backed up by the element that lobbied the Nicholson law through the last legislature.

Victory for "Wide Open" People.
The election is perhaps the greatest victory the wide open town people have achieved in the state. Republicans have conceded from the first Mayor Denny's policy would wreck the party in Indianapolis, and it was a foregone conclusion that Sunday baseball and less stringent restrictions on the saloons and public amusements generally would follow the election of either Trusler or Taggart. There is another element that cost Trusler probably 1,200 votes. The precinct returns show an average of nearly ten Republican ballots to the precinct with no vote for mayor. This is attributed to the scratching of the radical Harrison men, who refused to forgive Trusler for opposing General Harrison after his second nomination for president. In Mr. Harrison's own precinct the poll books showed fifty-one Republicans who refused to vote. The stay-at-homes amount to thousands. The vote on both sides is several thousand short of an average vote.

Charged with Being an Atheist.
At the last moment the charge of being an atheist was brought against Trusler, the Republican candidate. This fact was brought before every minister and congregation in the city last Sunday and resulted in keeping hundreds from the polls. Taggart being a saloon-keeper (running a bar in his hotel) and Trusler denominated an atheist, many church people were thus kept from the polls. Democrats gain probably twelve councilmen out of twenty-one, making the new council stand seventeen to four. Republicans are reasonably safe in the Second, Third, Seventh and Eleventh wards. The ticket completed will be as follows: Mayor, Thomas Taggart; clerk, Charles H. Stueckmeyer; police judge, Charles Cox; council—Democrats, seventeen; Republicans, four.

Election at Chattanooga.
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 10.—There is great rejoicing in this city among Democrats over the re-election of George W. Ochs as mayor and the election of five out of eight aldermen. A great political fight was made over the election, the Republican forces being marshalled by H. Clay Evans. It was expected that the Democrats would be divided on account of the recent gubernatorial contest, but the Democrats presented a solid vote and carried the day, reversing a Republican majority of 1,250 last fall.

Lake Schooner Goes Ashore.
ALPENA, Mich., Oct. 10.—The new steel schooner Tyrone went ashore at midnight at False Presque Isle. The boat was running four miles an hour when she struck, and ran out well forward. The boat is reported not to be leaking, but is probably considerably damaged. The Tyrone was in tow of the steamer Nimick and was bound down with iron ore from Ashland. The towline parted when off Spectacle reef, and the Tyrone was going into shelter at False Presque Isle when she stranded. The captain of the schooner came to Alpena overland for assistance.

Schools Closed by Diphtheria.
GREENVILLE, Ills., Oct. 10.—The board of health has issued a proclamation in conjunction with Mayor Seaman closing the public schools and prohibiting children from appearing on the streets and where public gatherings are held, on account of the prevalence of diphtheria. Several deaths have resulted from the disease and it is spreading with alarming rapidity. The board of health hopes to check it by confining the cases to those already afflicted and those who have been exposed.

Three Men Buried in the Wreck.
GOODLAND, Kan., Oct. 10.—An extra Rock Island stock train of sixteen cars struck some cattle on the track a mile east of Flagler, Colo., ditching the engine and six cars. Engineer Joseph Cane, Fireman Swearingen and Brakeman Wolf, all of Goodland, were buried in the wreck. Engineer Cane is dead and the other two are so badly scalded that they are not expected to live.

Kosciusko's Heart To Be Transferred.
PARIS, Oct. 10.—The heart of Kosciusko, the Polish patriot, and a general under Washington, will be transferred on Oct. 15 from Vezia to the Polish museum in the Chateau Raperswyl, near Zurich.

Will Contest Masury's Will.
NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The will of John Masury, the Long Island paint maker, who died recently worth $15,000,000, is to be contested by Masury's two grandsons.

NO CRUEL PRACTICES.

Marshal Peterson Makes a Thorough Investigation of the Medical University Laboratories.

(From Wednesday's Daily Times.)
Humane Agent Peterson, otherwise known as City Marshal Peterson, peeketed his star and his city marshalship yesterday afternoon and inspected the University laboratories in behalf of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals. President J. J. Goodyear and Agent Peterson have been receiving numerous appeals from tender-hearted persons and humane societies about the state, requesting that the local society show its vigor by overthrowing the terrible customs supposed to prevail on the campus. Horrible tales have obviously been told, of writhing, tortured cats and dogs, gloated over in fiendish scientific glee by professors and students; killed by inches to illustrate some physiological fact, as readily taught from charts or models, if the teachers could only be induced to think so. It was in response to such appeals and representations that yesterday's inspection was undertaken.

The university people were surprised, as Mr. Peterson failed to notify them of his coming. Mr. Frank Bourne had learned of the numerous complaints coming in to the local society and readily agreed to escort Mr. Peterson about and show him the most sacred precincts. So yesterday afternoon the descent was made.

The hygienic laboratory of which Dr. V. C. Vaughan is director was first taken in. Here hundreds of rats and many rabbits and guinea pigs die annually of diseases fatal to the human family. Dr. Vaughan in person showed the way rats were used for testing the hundreds of samples of water submitted annually to that laboratory. "We inject a healthy rat with a hypodermic syringe with some of the water submitted to us. If he dies shortly of typhoid fever, we notify the people sending the water that it was found dangerous to health. We also test cheese, ice cream, meat and many other foods in much the same way, using guinea pigs and rabbits."

The cages and rooms in which the animals were kept were found surprisingly clean, and the animals sleek, well fed and lively, except two rats suffering in behalf of a Washtenaw county farmer who had a suspicion of his well. His suspicions were evidently well founded. "When an animal dies his cage is thoroughly cleaned, fumigated and sterilized. It would spoil our work to have our animals suffering in any way or from any cause, except from the diseases we fight them purposely," explained Dr. Vaughan.

The rats used there are raised by the University, the white and spotted varieties being preferred. A fine young family was disturbed for the amusement of the spectators.

Dr. Cushman was next visited, in the old medical building. Frogs are his principal material, with an occasional cat or dog for certain special purposes. In this laboratory the work in testing the action of drugs upon the human system is carried on, and so far as it is safe the students experiment on themselves or each other. Here the students are taught to administer ether, chloroform and other anesthetics, their first subjects being dogs. "It is better to kill such animals learning to handle these dangerous, but necessary drugs, than to kill human beings," remarked Dr. Cushman. "No animal in a conscientious condition would be worth anything to us here. The dog must be perfectly passive or we cannot try our delicate tests or apply our delicate apparatus; and when the experiment is over we kill the animal, if he has been cut into or injured, never allowing him to recover his consciousness. It's a painless death."

Dr. Lombard, who has charge of the work in physiology, was then seen. Frogs are his principal subjects also, but a few cats, rabbits and dogs die annually before his classes. "A frog," said the Doctor, "is worth more to me dead, than alive. I kill him first and then experiment always. Other animals cannot be used in my work to advantage unless perfectly passive. They are always reduced to unconsciousness by means of ether or chloroform, then operated upon and finally killed without being permitted to recover consciousness."

The rooms where the animals are kept, now in the basement of the old medical building, were visited. Frogs were there in great numbers, some magnificent big bullfrogs attracting especial attention. Several dogs were there, one puppy belonging to the janitor of the building, put there for convenience in caring for, and not for scientific purposes, he explained. All the dogs, cats and rabbits confined here were in well lighted and ventilated rooms and plentifully supplied with food. "These rooms," said Mr. Bourne, "cause all the evil reports about us. Some lonely dog howls, and it is promptly reported that the medics are torturing another poor animal."

The surgical laboratory was next visited, in the old homeopathic hospital. Here dogs are chloroformed and some surgical operation performed upon them. They are allowed to recover consciousness after the operation, and are nursed back to sound health again. When the wound is cured the dog is killed painlessly and then dissected by the student who treated him, who thus inspects the exact results obtained. The operations are entirely confined to opening the body of the animal. It is thought wise to let the young surgeon remove the verniform appendix of a dog at least once before attacking a man.

Prof. Wooster's laboratory was not visited, as earthworms and frogs are about the only animals slaughtered there, the other specimens being of lower forms of life than those.

Mr. Peterson expressed himself as well satisfied that the animals used by the University are well cared for up to the point of reaching the classroom, and he was unable to see why anyone should complain of the further proceedings. The facts learned will be duly reported to the society whose agent he is.

MEYER PLOTS MURDER

The Imprisoned Physician at His Old Tricks.

EVIDENCE FOUND AGAINST HIM.

Since His Incarceration in Sing Sing Prison He Has Been Able to Send Letters Underground to His Wife Planning the Murder of Some Person for Insurance Money—P. test Sentenced to Seven Years Imprisonment for Rape.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Warden Sage of the state prison at Sing Sing has discovered evidence almost conclusive that Dr. Henry F. C. Meyer has been planning another murder since he was sent to prison for poisoning Ludwig Brandt.

DR. H. C. MEYER.

The crime he is believed to have plotted is similar to the killing of Brandt, and for a similar purpose—that of receiving life insurance money. This money, if thus gained, was to be used to effect the wily doctor's release from prison.

The evidence consists chiefly of letters and memoranda found in Meyer's cell. It seems almost certain that Meyer, since his incarceration, has been able to send letters underground to his wife and other persons outside the prison. In these letters he is alleged to have given his accomplices directions how to get the desired policy of insurance on the proposed victim's life, and carry out the rest of the plan.

How the Letters were Sent.

There have been several masons and other citizen mechanics employed inside the prison walls during the summer, and it is suspected that some of these have afforded the prisoner means of communication with his outside accomplices. Some time ago Dr. Meyer handed a letter to the prison chaplain to be mailed. It was written in German and addressed to Mrs. Meyer. In it he said that on a certain day he would send an "underground" letter wherein he would give the "prescription" to be used. From references in this letter it was made clear that the prisoner had sent other letters through the underground channel. Then Warden Sage ordered Meyer's cell to be searched. The keepers found her letters, memoranda and other proof which gave the authorities the clue to the great crime.

PRISONER SENTENCED TO PRISON.

Father Flaherty of Mount Morris, N. Y., Gets Seven Years for Rape.

GENESEE, N. Y., Oct. 10.—After six hours' deliberation the jury in the case of Father Flaherty, the Mount Morris priest charged with the rape of a member of his church under 16 years, brought in a verdict of guilty. Sentence was fixed at seven years in prison. In 1883 Father Flaherty was charged by Mary Sweeney, the adopted daughter of prominent residents of Mount Morris, with being the father of her child. In the court of sessions Father Flaherty was convicted and sentenced to seven and a half years in Auburn prison. He appealed on the ground of prejudice and the general term granted a new trial. Father Flaherty was the rector of St. Patrick's church at Mount Morris for about ten years.

Jail Delivery at Peoria, Ill.

PEORIA, Oct. 10.—There was a jail delivery here. On account of the crowded condition of the jail it was found necessary recently to transfer a number of prisoners to the female corridor and transfer the female prisoners to the insane department. William O'Brien, in for perjury; Patrick Hart, three charges of highway robbery; Bede Brown, larceny, and James Redon, colored, burglary and larceny, succeeded in getting the door of the corridor open and escaped.

Double Tragedy at Scranton, Pa.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 10.—Edward F. Roach shot his wife on the street here, and then shot himself, dying instantly. The woman was taken to Lackawanna hospital. She will die. Letters found on the husband indicate that he came from Hyde Park, Mass., and she from Brockville, N. Y. They had lived here about a year, and it is said were of unsavory reputation. No cause is known for the deed.

Foul Assassination.

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 10.—Mrs. Hathorne, wife of E. D. Hathorne, a farmer living near Morrison, was assassinated in the presence of her family by being shot through a window with a double-barreled shotgun. Thomas Wade, a negro, has been arrested. The citizens say he will be lynched if the coroner's jury implicates him.

Preferred Death to Prison.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 10.—Fred Knodle, an election judge under indictment for frauds, committed in last fall's election, committed suicide with morphine. Knodle was soon to be tried for the crime and it is presumed took his life to avoid the punishment that seemed inevitable.

Postoffice Robbers Under Arrest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Jim Ross, alias Jim French, and Jim Mahoney, who are under arrest at Denison, Ia., charged with postoffice robbery are wanted in this state for the same offense. Postmaster Doerch of Nyack believes them to be the men who, on April 22, robbed the postoffice there of $5,780 in money and $10,640 in stamps. A requisition will be secured for them.

Illness of the Czarowitz.

BERLIN, Oct. 10.—Professor Leyden has received a dispatch to the effect that the czarowitz is growing rapidly worse. His condition is reported to be alarming.

HOLOCAUST AT CINCINNATI.

One Person Dead and Three Others Are Fatally Burned.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—A sudden bursting out of flames shortly after midnight in a tenement house caused the instant death of one woman, the fatal burning of three persons, and the partial asphyxiation and serious burning of four more. It was nearly 1 o'clock when a patrolman standing at Sixth and Mound streets heard screams from a four-story tenement house 536 West Sixth street, near Smith. He found the building in flames with no fire-escape and the occupants cut off from egress by the stairway. Every window not aflame was filled with frightened inmates shouting piteously for help. Very soon the fire engines and police were summoned, and the first work done was to rescue the horror-stricken inmates. Fortunately, the fire was soon got under control, but not until its deadly work had been done.

Mrs. Mary Holmes, 60 years old, was the first victim. Little Raphael Davis, the 4-year-old son of the janitress, was so badly burned that his injuries were pronounced fatal. He is, however, still alive, as are the others who were taken out, as are the hospital Mrs. Pendery, daughter of Mrs. Holmes, had just arrived from New York, where she is known to the stage as May Edwards. She was carried from the fourth floor prostrated from fright and painfully burned about the face and neck. As soon as she could speak she implored the firemen to save her sick sister, Miss Mamie Pontzo. Miss Pontzo was rescued, unable to speak. Within an hour all had been removed and the list besides those already named was as follows: Mrs. Emma Davis, aged 80; Theresa Lang, aged 30; Jennie Davis, aged 6; Ida Minowicki, baby. The fire was caused by putting hot ashes in a barrel near the back stairway on the first floor. Thus the flames rapidly reached the top story and cut off exit by the stairway.

Railway Station Destroyed.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 10.—The New York Central railroad station in this city was destroyed by fire. The station had been evacuated Sunday for the new railroad building and was not in service at the time of the fire. It was to have been torn down, and on this account the loss is small. An express car containing $500,000 consigned to the sub-treasury at New York was in the station at the time the fire was discovered and caught fire. It was rescued with difficulty.

Crushed by Falling Falls.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 10.—Fire which started from a lighted cigarette in the three-story brick building at Fourth and Walnut street, occupied principally by the Theatre Comique, completely destroyed that structure. A. E. Kennedy of insurance patrol No. 1, a brother-in-law of Chief Hale, was crushed by falling walls and cannot live. The pecuniary loss is about $25,000. The building was an old landmark.

Fire in Missouri Penitentiary.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10.—A special to The Star-Sayings from Jefferson City, says: Fire started in the Missouri penitentiary at 10 a. m. in the Straus Saddlery company's building. The penitentiary was threatened with complete destruction, but was saved by the fire department. The saddlery building is an entire loss at a cost of $40,000.

WANTS TO HELP CUBA.

Postmaster Said to Have Used Government Funds for That Purpose.

OCALA, Fla., Oct. 9.—Kirby Griner, postmaster at Dunnellon, Fla., disappeared several days ago and the postal authorities at Washington have ordered an examination of his accounts, which are said to be short $1,500. Griner is a young man who has taken a deep interest in the progress of the revolution in Cuba, and it is said he has been preparing for months to join the insurgents. One of Griner's most intimate friends is authority for the statement that the young man has been using the government funds to equip an expedition to aid the insurgents. Griner is said to have been buying and shipping arms to some point on the east coast for two months.

Recently he purchased a small schooner, which he ordered to cruise near the spot where the arms were stored. When he left here his friends say he proceeded to the east coast, loaded the arms on the schooner, and left for Cuba. Four young men who have been intimate with Griner left about the same time he did, and are said to have accompanied him to Cuba. It is stated that Griner took about twenty men with him in all, and that he had when he left here a captain's commission in the insurgent army.

Evangelical Lutheran Church Council.

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 10.—The twenty-fifth convention of the general council of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of North America met here. There are about 100 delegates present, representing Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, and adjacent states, the Evangelical Lutheran synod of Ohio, the same of Pittsburg, the Scandinavian Evangelical Lutheran Augustana synod and synods in Canada, Indiana, Texas and the northwest.

Was Another Jackson Hole Fake.

SALT LAKE, Oct. 10.—The Tribune has received the following dispatch from Fort Hall Indian reservation: There are no Bannock Indians in the vicinity of Jackson's Hole. The so-called Captain Smith and other Jackson Hole citizens who fired on the Bannock Indians last July are reported to have passed Poconello in charge of United States marshals en route to Evanston, Wyo., for trial before the United States court on the 6th inst.

Struck a Vein of Iron Ore.

MIDLAND, Mich., 10.—Iron ore has been discovered in Midland county, about two miles from this city. The vein has been traced and lies from a few inches to a few feet under the surface for a distance of one and one-half miles without coming to the end of it. The vein is eighty rods in width. Large samples of the ore have been taken to Bay City. If it proves to be a good grade, of one mining operations will probably begin before long.

Parade of the Veiled Prophets.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10.—The seventeenth annual parade of the Veiled Prophets took place with all its attendant festivities and splendor. Thousands of people who had also come to attend the fair and exposition, crowded the hotels and streets. The subject of the parade was "The Flight of Time." It illustrated the mythological fates and augurs connected with Zoroaster, and days of the week and the months of the year.

Monday's Council Meeting.

Ann Arbor's city council has begun keeping late hours. Last Monday it was nearly Tuesday when the business of the evening was disposed of. Considerable routine business was transacted. A communication was read from the board of public works recommending that the south side of the row of trees on South University avenue be parked and that Hoffman Bros. be given the job at $1.50 per rod. With the provision that the work be postponed until next spring, the report was adopted and the work ordered done.

Dr. A. K. Hale, receiver of the Ann Arbor Water Co., petitioned the council for more remuneration for flushing the sewers, saying when the contract was made automatic flush tanks were not mentioned and the charge was accordingly low. His request was referred to the water committee.

The council was petitioned to open Catherine street from Division to State street.

The report of the finance committee showed expenditures for September to be as follows: Contingent fund, $1,005.04; street, $1,615.22; sewer, $8,681.46; bridge, culvert and crosswalk, $480.85; police, $329.25; fire $475.28; poor $105.42; cemetery, $9; total, $12,701.53.

Alderman Butterfield was of an inquisitive turn of mind and wanted to know what authority the board of public works had to buy $126 worth of gravel without asking the council about it. It was explained that the board could spend $25 without asking the council and they bought gravel one day amounting to $25 and the next day bought more for another street, and so on, until the bill stood at $126 and they were all the time within the scope of their authority.

On motion of Alderman Prettyman, President Hiscok appointed City Attorney Kline, Aldermen Ferguson and Prettyman a committee to draft resolutions of appreciation of the rechristening of the T. A. A. & N. M. railroad.

The druggist bond of W. G. Palmer was approved, with L. P. Hall and W. Wadhams as sureties.

Matters became quite warmed up at the close of the session, when the report of the street committee was read, reflecting upon G. W. Bullis. The report said that $75 had been appropriated to grade Tappan street, which would have been enough had the work been done as ordered. But the street commissioner now asks for more money to complete the work. The report said the dirt was drawn to Mr. Bullis' lot, and he should pay for it. The report was laid on the table until the next meeting.

Heart Disease Cured

By Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

Fainting, Weak or Hungry Spells, Irregular or Intermittent Pulse, Fluttering or Palpitation, Choking Sensation, Shortness of Breath, Swelling of Feet and Ankles, are symptoms of a diseased or Weak Heart.

MRS. N. C. MILLER.

Of Fort Wayne, Ind., writes on Nov. 29, 1894: "I was afflicted for forty years with heart trouble and suffered untold agony. I had weak, hungry spells, and my heart would palpitate so hard, the pain would be so acute and torturing, that I became so weak and nervous I could not sleep. I was treated by several physicians without relief and gave up ever being well again. About two years ago I commenced using Dr. Miles' Remedies. One bottle of the Heart Cure stopped all heart troubles and the Restorative Nerve did the rest, and now I sleep soundly and attend to my household and social duties without any trouble. University Doings for a Week—A Co-ed Wins the Elisha Jones Classical Scholarship—Foot Ball Notes.

E. C. Shields has been elected base ball manager for next year.

Instructor B. P. Bourland is now in Vienna taking post graduate work.

Two students are now enjoying the new scholarship given by Mrs. Clara Harrison Sranahan, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Each scholarship yields $500 annually.

St. Clair's delegation at the University this year includes: Walter Langell, Alex. H. Langell, Wm. Baird, Hugh Hart, Otis Rankin, Frank Bacon, Elibu Boynton, Kathleen Baird, Laura Moore, Electa Solis, Esther Solis, Helen Solis.

Mary Gilmore Williams, '95 lit, of Painesville, Ohio, has obtained the Elisha Jones classical fellowship of the University for the next two years, by competitive examination.

A mass meeting in the interest of foot ball was held in University hall last Friday evening, which was addressed by Manager Baird, Coach McAnley, President Prentiss, Prof. McCreedy and E. C. Shields. Subscriptions were taken amounting to $500.

The University eleven won its first foot ball game of the season last Saturday, Orchard Lake being the victims. There were twenty minute halves played, at the end of which the score stood 34 to 0.

The Wrinkle board has been organized as follows: Geo. R. Barker, '98, managing editor; E. H. Humphrey, '97, business manager; Norman Flowers, '96, F. H. Petrie, '96, S. E. Galbraith, '97, A. M. Smith, '97, H. M. Bowman, '98, Chas. Parsons, '99, associate editors.

Castalian officers have been elected as follows: Managing editor, L. A. Woodard; assistant managing editor, F. R. Cutcheon; secretary, Miss Annie L. Bacon; business manager, C. A. Manning; assistant business managers, W. H. Thompson and G. T. Lamont.

The glee and banjo club held their first meeting Monday evening. About one-half of the old members were present. C. H. Morse, jr., P. G., presided. After the roll call the club elected Sidney Beach Tremble, '98, assistant manager. The manager, F. R. Waldron, then gave an idea of the proposed trips. No long trips will be made. At Christmas time a trip will probably be taken through Ohio, Indiana and perhaps Illinois. In the spring vacation a trip will be taken west, including the places visited last year, going as far west as Denver and perhaps to Salt Lake City and return. In addition a home concert will be given before Christmas. A mandolin club will be formed this year. The glee club elected E. C. Worden, '98, as leader, and R. D. Ewing, '96, was elected leader of the mandolin and banjo clubs.

Theodore Roosevelt, the New York reformer, will appear in the Students' Lecture association course on the evening of April 24, when he will tell about the processes of reform in the great metropolis. Hjalmar Hjorth Boyesen was to have given a lecture, too, but his death last week upsets the plans of the association somewhat.

Mrs. Mary W. Loomis, of Cherokee, Iowa, has been chosen to succeed Anderson H. Hopkins as assistant librarian in the University library and she has already begun her new duties. Mrs. Loomis seems to be well fitted for the position, having had seven years of experience in library work. She is a graduate of Lenox college, Iowa, A. B. '79, M. A. '89. She also took a full course in the New York state library school.

The Gilbert Opera Company.

Petoskey Resorter: La Mascotte as presented by the Gilbert Opera company last evening deserved a larger patronage than the fair sized audience present. Resorters were in the majority and many rich gowns made the hall a very pleasant sight. All the parts were well taken, unless Bert St. John as Rocco scored a success. Georgie Tompkins is a favorite, and several beautiful bouquets were handed over the footlight to her.

THE TRAMP QUESTION.

Interesting Report by Rev. J. W. Bradshaw, President of the Anti-Tramp Society.

"A body of vagrants twice as large as the standing army of the U. S. has compacted itself together in this county by common aims, methods of action and manner of speech. Little is known of it in whole or in part; for it is like the Irishman's flea or the "little joker" of the gambler, no sooner discovered than lost. To study it, one must become joined to it, part and parcel of its manifestations." So writes Mr. Josiah Flynt, in the current number of the Century; and in accordance with the thought expressed, Mr. Flynt has for long periods at different times become a member of the tramp fraternity and so acquired the ability to speak with authority concerning the tramp, his spirit and his manner of life.

First of all, the tramp will not work. He is not in search of work; but instead is determined to live without work, upon the unwieldy charity of the sympathetic. The wandering beggar who is at all willing to work becomes an outcast from tramp society is given an offensive title and is despised and derided by the genuine vagrant.

The purpose of the Anti-Tramp Society is to diminish the evils of vagrancy in this city.

First, by providing a test whereby it may be determined whether a beggar is a worthy man in need of employment or a tramp.

Second, by furnishing to all who are willing to avail themselves of it, opportunity to earn meals and lodgings by a moderate amount of work.

During the year past both purposes have been accomplished in encouraging degree by means of a wood-pile. A large number of genuine tramps have been moved to seek a more congenial clime by being brought face-to-face with a saw-horse. Early in the year quite a number of such men made application for assistance, to Mr. Siple, our Superintendent, and on being offered opportunity to earn meals or lodgings took a speedy departure. As the time has gone on the number of applications by men of this class has largely decreased.

It is also believed that the operation of the society has had influence greatly to diminish the number of such vagrants infesting the city. Those having opportunity for observation in some instances express the opinion that during recent months there has not been one such tramp begging about the town where formerly there were five. There have been frequent illustrations of the truth of Mr. Flynt's statements concerning tramp character in general and his persistent refusal to work in particular.

A beggar applied for breakfast at the house of a member of this organization and was offered a ticket referring him to Mr. Siple for employment. His answer was, "I have three of those already; what I want is something to eat." Another tramp was overheard to say, "I don't take any of their 'hand-outs,'—(food that is given at the door)—if they give them to me I put them in my pocket till I am out of sight and then throw them away. I want a sit-down (a seat at a table) with coffee, and I go till I get it."

Another applying to a housekeeper for coffee in the middle of the forenoon was told that it would be impossible to give him coffee, but he would be furnished a bowl of bread and milk. His courteous reply was,—(pardon the profanity) "D—n you, I am weaned."

That the number of this class infesting the city has been somewhat reduced,—as there is reason to believe has been the case—is surely cause for congratulation.

The one thing needful in order that the city may be thoroughly rid of these professional tramps is that all housekeepers decline to feed beggars at their doors, and that all citizens, housekeepers and others absolutely refuse money to unknown beggars. The most serious obstacle in the way of successful prosecution of the work of this society is undoubtedly the proverbial kindness of heartedness of women, perhaps especially of German women.

Mr. Flynt says, "the Germans (through their great sympathy with the unfortunate) are led into being the most generous people in this country. They are the best friends that the tramps have, and I have never known one to refuse a hungry appeal."

Now if we can but persuade the tender-hearted women of Ann Arbor, both German and American that they will cause no worthy person to suffer by refusing to feed beggars at their door, the work of this society will be easy. If housekeepers who are so called upon will refer all beggars to Mr. Siple at the engine house, they will be given opportunity to earn meals or lodgings by doing a very moderate amount of work.

Let not the sympathetic be deceived by the statements of tramps that they have applied for work and been refused, or that an unreasonable amount of work is required. Work will always be furnished between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m., and the amount paid for wood-sawing has always been in excess of prices paid to laboring men of the city for the same kind of work.

Therefore, let the citizens of Ann Arbor refuse to relieve tramps at their doors, and send them to Mr. Siple where they can be sifted by the magic of a wood-pile—the idle sent about their business and those honestly seeking employment provided with it. It is impossible to give the precise number of persons who have secured meals or lodgings from this society during the year; but 16 cords of wood have been sawed—140 meals and 42 lodgings have been provided.

As indicated in the report of the treasurer the total receipts have been $56.70, total expenditures $47.40 leaving a balance in the treasury of $8.30; and with some confidence I venture the assertion that it would be difficult to point to any work of equal value to the public conducted at so slight expense. Once more I repeat let the citizens of Ann Arbor but regard the appeal of this society, refuse aid to tramps at their doors and send them to Mr. Siple. By so doing they will be saved from the annoyance of contributing to unworthy persons, and also from any possible danger of leaving the deserving to suffer. Any person willing to earn a supply for his present needs will always be given the opportunity on application to the Superintendent at the engine house. The work need only the cooperation of the citizens in one particular in order that it may be far more effective in the future than in the past, and may render a service of real value to the city.
