GREATER THAN EVER

The Third May Festival Was a Brilliant Success.

THE FINE SYMPHONY

By Prof. A. A. Stanley Is Pronounced a Great Work.

Choral Union's Fine Work in "Lohengrin" and "Samson and Delilah." The Kettle Drummer Received an Ovation and a Boquet.

The third annual May Festival, the greatest event in the musical world of Ann Arbor, and for that matter in Michigan, has come and gone and carried with it the proud name of being the finest and best of all. The series contained one more concert this year than that of last and in musical interest it surpassed that of 1895. Everything in connection with the festival was better arranged than it ever has been before. There was none of the crushing and crowding that characterized last year's entertainments and this was due to the care exercised in disposing of only as many tickets as they could accommodate holders. University hall, however, was at all the concerts comfortably filled, the interest seeming to intensify as each concert was passed and the crowds at the Saturday concerts were larger than at any of the three which preceded them.

The first entertainment of the Festival was known as a "Wagner evening," and all the music rendered was from the great German composer's works. It was heavy music but Frau Lohse Klafsky, ably assisted by Barron Berthold, Max Heinrich, Miss Gertrude May Stein and Gardner Lamson, rendered the selections from "Lohengrin" in a manner that brought out the enthusiastic applause of the large audience. At the close of the first part of the program Frau Klafsky and Mr. Lamson were presented with beautiful bouquets of flowers. In the second part Frau Klafsky again carried the house by storm with her rendition of Isolde's "Liebestod" and she was recalled again and again as she left the stage to take the train. Barron Berthold's fine tenor voice in his character of Lohengrin and in Siegmund's love song from "Die Walkure" came in for its share of the public applause and Max Heinrich, Miss Stein and Mr. Lamson also received the acknowledgment due to their efforts. The singing of the chorus and the playing of the orchestra was grand. In the chorus there are 300 voices, less than half of them men's, and owing to the careful training of Prof. A. A. Stanley, who conducted the "Lohengrin" part of the program, there are few that are on a par with it.

Friday afternoon brought with it the symphony program in which the burden of the work was thrown on the orchestra the soloists being Max Heinrich and Prof. Alberto Jonas, pianist, of the University School of Music. The special feature of the afternoon was the rendition by the Boston Festival Orchestra of Prof. Albert A. Stanley's latest composition, a symphony in F major. The piece Prof. Stanley had dedicated to James Burrill Angell, president of the University of Michigan, and he himself took the baton and guided the orchestra through it. The symphony is entitled "The Awakening of the Soul," and in its four movements represents four stages in the soul's existence. The first movement indicates the soul just waking to life and looking out on the world, the springtime of life, with its conflicting impulses. The second and third movements represent the transition of the soul from love-life to joy-life, and in the fourth movement, allegro deciso, there is the grand finale of resolute determination.

At the end of each movement Prof. Stanley had to bow his acknowledgments again and again to the applause, and when he had concluded he was greeted with round after round of handclapping. The climax was reached when a high grade bicycle completely enshrouded in flowers was brought forward and Prof. L. D. Wines on behalf of the Choral Union and other friends and admirers of Prof. A. A. Stanley, presented it to him with the words "A Victor to the victor." It was a complete surprise to the worthy and enthusiastic instigator of the May Festivals and in accepting it and replying to Prof. Wines' words and the applause which accompanied it he disclaimed the applause saying that whatever success the symphony had achieved was due entirely to the orchestra. In the second part Max Heinrich's ballad "Lohinvar" was encored and he then sang "Gypsy John" to his own accompaniment.

Prof. Alberto Jonas' playing of a piano concerto in F flat from Beethoven with orchestral accompaniment, was the most difficult piece he has ever attempted before a home audience. It is in three movements and was particularly pleasing to the many friends of Mr. Jonas who heard it. The last number on the program, Mozart's overture "Magic Flute," by the Boston Festival Orchestra, conducted by Mr. Mollenhauer, was one of the finest pieces of orchestral work ever heard in Ann Arbor.

The evening concert was enjoyed by a great many even more than the Wagner evening. The first number was a suite with three movements from Moszcowski by the orchestra. It was followed by Evan Williams, the tenor, who sang the aria from Haydn's "Creation," entitled "In nature's worth." His sweet though not strong notes pleased the audience and they compelled him to respond to an encore, which was a love song. Miss Rose Stewart's soprano voice is a great favorite of Ann Arbor May Festival goers and she was warmly welcomed when she appeared. She sang "With verdure clad," also from the "Creation," and had to respond to an encore. Campanari carried off the honors of the evening and held the rapt attention of the audience and from the first note that issued from his throat to the end of his second encore he never lost it. His number was the prologue from Leon Cavallo's "I Pagliacci." For an encore he gave aria No. 2 from the "Barber of Seville," for the second encore he sang the "Banzone del torreador" from "Carmen."

The fifth number was a fantasia for the orchestra, from Svendsen's "Romeo and Juliet." Then Gertrude May Stein, who like Miss Stewart, is an old favorite here, sang an aria from Bernberg's "Jeanne D'Arc." Her rich contralto voice gained for her an encore and she sang a song from "Carmen." The four soloists of the evening, Campanari, Williams, and the Misses Stein and Stewart, gave the next number, a quartet from Verdi's "Rigoletto." Miss Stewart and Evan Williams taking the solo parts. Once wasn't enough for the enthusiastic crowd, and the unwilling favorites had to sing it over again.

The closing number, an overture, "Sakuntala," from Goldmark, by the orchestra, aroused great enthusiasm for Mr. Mollenhauer and the virtuoso of the organization under him.

Saturday afternoon's program was a popular one and included some of the minor works of well known composers.

The first number was an overture by the orchestra, Mendelssohn's "Ruy Blas," and this was followed by a harp solo, Parth Alvars' "Moroccan character," by Mr. Van Veatchton Rogers. He was compelled to encore it. Then the little soprano, Rose Stewart, appeared and sang an air and variations from "Rode." When recalled she brought back the memories of last year's festival by singing Rubinstein's "Thou art like a flower," with harp accompaniment.

The ladies' chorus then sang Marchetti's "Ave Maria," a number repeated by request from one of the former Choral Union concerts, when its rendition brought Prof. Stanley an ovation. Mr. Hermann A. Zeitz, violinist of the University School of Music, played the "Rondo Capriccioso" of Saint Saens and was loudly encored and presented with flowers by his admirers. His first piece was one that called for great technical skill, and the way in which he interpreted it brought him the praise of all the critical musicians. In his encore he caught the whole audience more completely and quite carried them away. At its close Mr. Mollenhauer predicted a future for him as a soloist.

Miss Stewart then sang two more songs, "O, that we two were Maying," by Nevin, and "The daughters of Cadiz," by Thome. The first she sang with orchestra and the second with piano accompaniment. The concert came to a close with the rendering of the "Thanks be to God" chorus from Mendelssohn's "Elijah," by the Choral Union, orchestra and organ, Prof. Stanley conducting.

The concluding concert Saturday night was the production for the first time in Michigan of Camille Saint Saens three act biblical opera "Samson and Delilah." The solo parts were sung as follows: Delilah, Mrs. Katherine Bloodgood; Samson, Mr. Evan Williams; High Priest of Dagon, Sig. Guisepppe Campanari; Abimelech, Mr. Gardner S. Lamson.

The work of the chorus in the production of this work was simply immense and showed to a great deal better advantage than it did in the production of "Lohengrin" on Thursday night. It was Mrs. Bloodgood's first appearance here and she made an excellent impression on her audience. The orchestra work was particularly good and in this connection it is proper to remark that to Ann Arbor is due the first instance on record of a kettle drummer in an orchestra being honored with an ovation and a bouquet of flowers. In the scene where the thunder storm gathers about Samson there is a particularly large share of work for the kettle drum. The drummer played his part in the orchestra with such a vim and heartiness that he was enthusiastically cheered and presented with a fine bouquet by the Choral Union.

In every way the Festival has been a success and the management will feel justified in making equal efforts for as good a Festival next year as was that just passed.

A junius was given on the lawn of Junius E. Beal's residence on S. Fifth ave., Tuesday evening, for the benefit of the Young Women's Christian Association which was a very pretty and enjoyable event.

TERRIBLE CYCLONES

Visit Michigan and St. Louis, Mo., This Week.

THOUSANDS INJURED

And Hundreds of People Have Lost Their Lives

By the Terrible Wind.—The Destruction of Property Will Mount Up Into Millions of Dollars.—Dire Scenes of Ruin.

This week has been a week of terrific winds and cyclones in various parts of the country, and never has the work of these cyclones been more terrible and death-dealing. Sunday night a cyclone swept through Central Iowa killing 41 persons and doing an immense amount of damage. Monday night, the great wind storm struck Michigan, tearing through Oakland and Macomb counties and leaving a list of 45 dead, scores badly injured and $1,000,000 property destroyed. Wednesday afternoon a cyclone raged for thirty minutes in St. Louis Mo., and East St. Louis, inflicting millions of dollars damage and killing over 400 people and injuring thousands.

In Michigan the work of the cyclone Monday was through the northern part of Oakland and the southern part of Lapeer counties and southeast through Macomb county. It crossed Lake St. Clair just beyond Mt. Clemens and did some destruction in Canada. Several villages were destroyed or badly damaged and its path is marked by ruined farm houses and barns. Forty-five persons are dead and more will die from the terrible injuries inflicted. Two funnel shaped clouds met at 6:30 o'clock seven miles northeast of Ortonville and near Grand Blanc. Avoman was killed in the first house struck; a woman and two small children were killed in the second house in its path; two adults and three children were killed in the third house; the owner of the fourth house was fatally injured; the owner of the fifth house was carried fifty feet and left dead, his wife died within a few hours and other inmates were badly injured. From here on the storm swept everything in its path, injuring many, though the fatalities were not quite so thick. Including these, eighteen were killed about Ortonville, nine at Oakville, six at Thornville, three at Thomas, two near Metamora, one at Fairgrove, one at Whigville and one in Mt. Clemens. Over a hundred persons were severely injured. Farms were swept of their live stock, dead sheep, horses, cows, and swine were to be seen everywhere. The village of Thomas, which contained 150 inhabitants, was entirely destroyed, there not being a house left standing. The loss in Oakland county is estimated at between $300,000 and $400,000. In Macomb county the loss was $300,000 and in Lapeer over $200,000. Mt. Clemens was the only large place to suffer from the cyclone which did considerable damage and a number of persons were injured. The funeral of ten of the victims near Ortonville was held at the Baptist church there Wednesday and six more were buried there yesterday.

The cyclone at St. Louis, Mo., started at 5:15 o'clock Wednesday evening and did its damage along the river front where it followed a valley, doing damage about ten blocks wide. The fury of the storm was especially felt over a space six blocks wide. Jumping the Mississippi river and tearing every vessel loose from its moorings, wrecking part of the great bridge across the Mississippi, it spent its fury on East St. Louis, Ill., where factory after factory went down and over 200 people were killed. Fire added to the horrors of the wind and reached many buried alive in the ruins. A passenger train crossing the great bridge was overturned but fortunately without loss of life. The grand stand in St. Louis fell, but the police had done good work and fighting the mob like heroes, kept them from going to their own destruction. The gas works were swept away, columns of burning gas leaped high in the air. A prominent hotel with its guests in East St. Louis was swept into a creek. A poorhouse containing 1,030 patients, was unroofed and the tower crashed through to the basement but not a life was lost. At Rushville, Mo., at four o'clock a school house was demolished and 50 children killed. At Darke, Ill., a school house was also demolished and 80 children killed.

The latest estimates place the loss of life at 400, with thousands injured more or less severely. The exact number will not, however, be known for many days. The greatest damage was inflicted in a three mile strip along the Mississippi. Many buildings collapsed from the force of the wind, miles of telegraph and telephone wires were torn down and the streets in the storm district are covered with debris, in many places 10 feet deep. The hurricane came at a time when the business center of the city had begun to send its workers to their homes, and the destruction and devastation of lives and property is awful.

The great Eads bridge across the Mississippi had the upper portion for a distance of 50 feet carried away. Great iron girders were twisted like strings and tons upon tons of masonry were thrown upon the tracks. A Chicago & Alton passenger train was caught by the wind and turned upside down, and three trolley cars on the upper portion of the bridge turned over severely shaking up their occupants. Many steamboats are at the bottom of the river and others are wrecked and dismantled.

Steps to relieve the immediate necessity of the residents of the stricken city have been taken in Chicago, many citizens coming forward with noble offers of pecuniary assistance. At Washington the house and senate concurred in a resolution that the war department send a sufficient number of tents to St. Louis to afford temporary protection to those without homes.

Andrain county, Mo., was also visited by the cyclone but the damage done there was not so great although several were killed and injured.

Struck With an Ink Bottle.

Attorney M. J. Lehman was assaulted in his law office Saturday evening by two Polacks, named Gottlieb Kugath, a mason, and Franz Korzuck, a carpenter. The three men had a dispute over some small sum of money which Kugath and Korzuck claimed was due them by Mr. Lehman. He peremptorily refused to pay them and ordered them out of the office, and emphasized his order to get out by giving Kugath a push towards the door. Further words and scuffling ensued during which Korzuck struck Mr. Lehman over the back of the head with a glass bottle which stood near by, breaking his stiff hat but not injuring him. Kugath's weapon was a stone ink bottle which stood on a bookcase and with it he struck Mr. Lehman over the top of the head inflicting a wound which it took four stitches to close up. Mr. Lehman had Kugath by the throat at the time, otherwise he believes he would have been more seriously hurt if not killed.

Will Celebrate His 25th Anniversary.

Alumnus of the University of Michigan are receiving invitations from the regents and senate to be present at the 25th anniversary of the presidency of James Burrill Angell, which will occur June 24. The day will be marked with special exercises and social functions at which many persons from all over the country will be present. At 10 o'clock the invited guests will assemble in University hall and listen to the greeting from the regents and the congratulations of other universities. A dinner will be prepared in the gymnasium for 2 o'clock, and at 8 o'clock the "gym" will be the scene of a reception which the president and senate will tender to the invited guests.

Prof. Charles M. Gayley of Berkeley, Cal., will write a new song for the occasion.

The Dexter citizens estimate that it will cost $8,000 to put in an electric light plant in Dexter and that it would take 16 lights of 2,000 candle power each to light Dexter.

The Ypsilanti Young Women's Christian Association has adopted a very high sounding name for its new home. It will be hereafter known as the "Palais Royal."

The senior class of the Saline high school numbers 14, the largest in the history of the school. The most remarkable fact, however, is that the boys and girls are equal in number.

Dan Q. and Josephine are the two most promising youngsters of the Simonsville stock farm, Ypsilanti town. The first named will be entered in several race meets this year and it is expected that he will give a good account of himself before the season is over.

Capt. E. P. Allen will deliver the Memorial Day address at Elgin, Ill., tomorrow. The Ypsilanti Commercial speaking of it says: "This said that the Captain's popularity as a lawyer is so great in that manufacturing city that several of its watches are already 'hunting cases' for him."

Henry Richardson died at his home in Ypsilanti, Monday morning from the effects of a stroke of paralysis received about two years ago and from which he had been gradually getting worse. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. B. J. Neff and two sons, one of whom resides here the other in Detroit.

Miss Grace Davis believes there's something in a name. Her bicycle is a "Stormer," and in endeavoring to mount it near the mill race bridge Saturday evening it refused to be guided by human intelligence and went off into the race with its fair rider, and both took an involuntary plunge beneath the water. Miss Grace thinks it is a "Stormer" indeed.—Milan Leader.

Several Ypsilantians were trimmed by a "Cheap John" who was around the city selling suit patterns which he claimed he imported from England and escaped paying duty on because they were remnants. He also agreed to come back and make up the goods for $8 a suit. When some of them made inquiries among the tailors as to what they would make them up for they found that the cloth was not worth the $11 they paid for it and they had been trimmed from $5 to $7 each.

At a meeting one evening last week the Ypsilanti Light Guards discussed the question of attending the Memorial Day services at the M. E. church of that city last Sunday morning, as an escort to Carpenter Post, G. A. R. Had Dr. E. W. Ryan been at home to preach the sermon, there is no question but that they would have unanimously refused to go, and as it was on the first vote only 25 out of 55 voted "yea." It was only by dint of hard striving on the part of Capt. John P. Kirk and others that the full company finally decided to go. The cause of this animus is found in the criticizing remark made by Dr. Ryan in the pulpit three years ago, "God pity the poor mother who has a son in the Michigan state troops"; also in the bitter personal attack the Rev. gentleman has made upon Capt. Kirk, who is highly esteemed by his company.

She was born in Verona, Oneida county, N. Y., and came to live with her grandfather, Lemuel Allen, in Ypsilanti, when she was 18 years old. She then removed to Battle Creek where the crime for which she suffered was committed.

The cause of this animus is found in the criticizing remark made by Dr. Ryan in the pulpit three years ago, "God pity the poor mother who has a son in the Michigan state troops"; also in the bitter personal attack the Rev. gentleman has made upon Capt. Kirk, who is highly esteemed by his company.

At a meeting one evening last week the Ypsilanti Light Guards discussed the question of attending the Memorial Day services at the M. E. church of that city last Sunday morning, as an escort to Carpenter Post, G. A. R. Had Dr. E. W. Ryan been at home to preach the sermon, there is no question but that they would have unanimously refused to go, and as it was on the first vote only 25 out of 55 voted "yea." It was only by dint of hard striving on the part of Capt. John P. Kirk and others that the full company finally decided to go. Tom Kearney has been appointed city attorney of Ann Arbor. He used to be a democrat, and we notice that he was confirmed by a unanimous vote. Let him give his opinion on Judge Kinne's tree, and we can tell in two minutes, whether or not he is a good lawyer.

Grass Lake has a literary organization called the "Saturday club." One of the exercises on the program last week was a quotation from Burns. A young lady present said that she let the curling iron slip that morning and her quotation from Burns, would hardly be allowable.

Lewis Ladin purchased of Jos. Breining yesterday a peculiar flock of sheep. There were 10 ewes with 2 lambs, the lambs all born since April 1. One of the ewes had triplets which accounted for the odd number.—Ypsi. end of Washtenaw Times. Every effort to depress and ruin the sheep industry, it seems is not successful. Capt. Allen ought to be ashamed to look this flock of ewes in the face. He can't convince them that free wool, will ruin American flocks, and he need not try. No ewes.

Ah, the evil influences that lie hidden around a republican newspaper office. For 20 years, was S. Edward Rogers, city editor of the Jackson Citizen. Later he was employed in the office of the Ann Arbor Courier. Today, he is dying in the Berrien county almshouse, a mental physical and financial wreck, legitimate results of practical republicanism. He has swallowed several printing offices, in his day, as illustrative of republican teachings on temperance. Can James O'Donnell ever be governor of the state of Michigan, or Junius Beal ever be elected a bishop of the M. E. church, with such an example of ruin traceable to their immediate personal influence? Never. Retribution points its bony index finger, more than three feet seven inches long, straight at them, as his Mephistophelian majesty cruises along the Styx picking up his own.

By dint of extra puffs in the Press for two years the Ann Arbor school of music was enabled to win a national reputation in producing a musical festival, the attendance being largely secured through a belief that they were to hear us in our vocal renditions of Mendelssohn, Beethoven, Moses, and Bill Nye. Though indisposition prevented our taking part, the other attractions were so equally meritorious, that the second year's effort rendered further advertising and puffing unnecessary, and tickets for the present May festival were sold six months in advance. And the unappreciative management didn't do a thing but shove their hat over on their right ear and loftily assume it to be their own work, never speaking to us as they passed by. Alas, how ungrateful are republics and music schools. We did not attend the May festival this year. Not much. Come to think of it, we never attended one.

The Ann Arbor Courier believes that "McKinley and Reed" would make a presidential ticket that would be "a hummer." So it would. The scene would resemble that of a pair of tailed cats, hung over a clothes-line.

Miss Mary Purfield, of Ann Arbor, smitten with student Partridge, married and left him in ten days and applied for a divorce which has just been granted on the ground of cruelty. What she took for a "Partridge," it seems was a hawk.

It has been so long since there was a Fourth of July at Ann Arbor that many children born there since the war never heard the Declaration of Independence read. This year there will be a "bust" of Americanism. Not this year, Bro. Smith, the scheme "busted" up through lack of enthusiasm or something.

"Holmes" the murderer, was not Holmes, but Herman W. Mudgett, and as Mudgett his name appears in the general catalogue of the Michigan University as a graduate in 1884. The Argus states that no residence is assigned him in the catalogue. Whatever of obscurity may have then enveloped the question of his habitation, there is none as to his present residence, or else we have been educated in an erroneous ecclesiastical faith.

Marvelous Results. From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." ## The New York Fashion Letter.

The wash dresses of this year are more beautiful than ever in coloring, design and texture. The novelties in dress cloth, which is extremely fashionable, are remarkably varied in design. Gray and bright effects as well as the daintiest subdued tones appear in these fabrics. The skirts of summer gowns are trimmed with a narrow cluster of ruffles, puffs, tucks or lace on the bottom. The waists are made in a very simple fashion, with yoke or fichu effects. Cotton materials with embroidered designs are much in vogue. Sometimes the skirt has an additional ruffling of insertion, or it is plain with a beautiful embroidered waist. Ribbons as belts and sashes are generally worn. Several plain tailor gowns of wash material are favorites of the summer. Of all the beautiful fabrics created for the season the flowered muslins surpass everything in color as well as design. Every conceivable flower appears in harmonious tints and artistic arrangements on these diaphanous gowns. These dsinty dresses are usually made with a silk underskirt of some fashionable tint. Costumes of black and white have again a wide popularity. Skirts, fancy waists, collarettes as well as hats carry out this charming combination. One of the great features in summer millinery, is a certain combination of green and blue brought out in a mixture of delicate tulle, Dresden ribbons, Bluets, or conventionalized flowers of blue and green. Hats of plaited straw in bright colors are much in vogue. Aigrettes in peacock colors, spangled lace and every imaginable garland of flowers adorn this gaily colored head gear. This McDowell Fashion Magazine of the month furnishes abundant illustrations of the new fancies.

"La Mode de Paris" and "Paris Album of Fashions" cost $3.50 per year's subscription, or 35 cents a copy. The "French Dressmaker" is $3.00 per annum or 30 cents a copy; and "La Mode" $1.50 a year or 15 cents a copy. If you are unable to procure either of these journals from your newsdealer do not take any substitute, but apply by mail to Messrs. A. McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th Street, New York.

Cures, absolute, permanent cures have given Hood's Sarsaparilla the largest sales in the world and the first place among medicines.

Death of a Bridgewater Pioneer. Hiram Welch died at his home in Bridgewater, May 15, of pneumonia. He was 92 years of age, having been born in Skaneateles, N. Y., March 26, 1804. His grandfather served in the revolutionary war and his father in the war of 1812. His mother lived to be 94 years of age. He came to Michigan in 1812 and settled in Pittsfield, four miles south of this city.

After clearing a farm there, he bought 160 acres of land in Scio to which he removed. After three years he moved to Howell, when he purchased 200 acres of wild land, put up a log hut and cleared forty acres. This took two years and he then moved back to this county, buying a farm in Lodi on which he remained eleven years. He then moved to Grand Rapids and cleared up another farm. In 1852 he moved to Bridgewater and located on the farm on which he died. He was four times married, the first time to Miss Amanda Briggs, in 1824, by whom he had five children. His wife dying in 1841 he was married to Miss Maria Isbell, by whom he had two children. His second wife died in 1869 and in 1871 he was married to Mrs. Louisa Lathrop. His last marriage was to Miss Hammond, who survives him. He left descendants in the fourth generation. He was an industrious man, liberal to his family and community. He was a good neighbor and an upright citizen. Possessing a mirthful disposition and being very quick at repartee, his society was much sought after by young and old. Usually having vigorous health for one of his age, he was frequently seen driving to and from the villages near. His last illness was of short duration.

Wm. A. Walker of 10th Street says:—"I have suffered untold agonies for my 'gay life.' I was indiscreet when young and ignorant. As 'One of the Boys' I contracted Syphilis and other private diseases. I had ulcers in the mouth and throat, bone pains, hair loose, pimples on face, finger nails came off, emissions, became thin and despondent. Seven doctors treated me with Mercury, Potash, etc. They helped me but could not cure me. Finally a friend induced me to try Drs. Kennedy & Kergan, by their New Method Treatment. # CASTORIA for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know

that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Sam. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper.

Heart Disease Cured

By Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

Fainting, Weak or Hungry Spells, Irregular or Intermittent Pulse, Fluttering or Palpitation, Choking Sensation, Shortness of Breath, Swelling of Feet and Ankles, are symptoms of a diseased or Weak Heart.

MRS. N. C. MILLER.

Of Fort Wayne, Ind., writes on Nov. 29, 1894: "I was afflicted for forty years with heart trouble and suffered untold agony. I had weak, hungry spells, and my heart would palpitate so hard, the pain would be so acute and torturing, that I became so weak and nervous I could not sleep. I was treated by several physicians without relief and gave up ever being well again. About two years ago I commenced using Dr. Miles' Remedies. One bottle of the Heart Cure stopped all heart troubles and the Restorative Nerve did the rest, and now I sleep soundly and attend to my household and social duties without any trouble.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at Geo. J. Haussler, of Manchester.

Items From Willis.

The Willis correspondent of the Ypsilantiian speaking of the death of an old soldier of Sumpter township says: "He carried on his person wounds that established his claim of participant in the liberties for which he fought. His was a devotion that enlarges as we contemplate the hardships that he endured while battling for the right. Earnestness of purpose he carried to the front where among companions in arms he braved the dangers of the camp and the deadly missiles of the battle field, that his country and its liberties might remain. We shall miss his tottering steps and his far-away look that seemed to be taking in the grandeur and glory of the better world."

And he wound up a description of the cyclone of May 14 with the following poetical effusion:

"The Leviathan of the air With tongue of flame Did fearful work, But why complain? The work it did Was not done in wrath; For God was in The cyclone's path."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

CUT THE SALARIES.

The Board of Regents is Bound to Economize in Some Way.

When the board of regents of the university adjourned on Friday morning last it was found that it had used the pruning knife pretty vigorously on the salaries of some of the professors while it had been in executive session. It is the belief of the board that the amount of work being done could be accomplished by a smaller force and a resolution was adopted that where any department has two or more full professors, only the senior by date of appointment shall at any time receive a salary of more than $2,500. Law and medical professors, if they practice their respective professions are to receive $2,000, and if they do not, $2,500. In the literary faculty instructors are to be dismissed from the departments of French, German, history, Latin and philosophy. The psychological laboratory will be discontinued for one year. Dr. Waite, instructor in Greek and Sanscrit, will be connected with the Latin department, and assistants are to be dropped from the departments of English literature and political economy.

Prof. Hensch was appointed to succeed Prof. Calvin Thomas in the chair of German and Max Winkler will be assistant professor, at salaries of $2,500 and $1,600 respectively. Moritz Levi becomes assistant professor of French, salary $1,600; Prof. Ziwet, junior professor of mathematics, $2,000; Prof. Scott, junior professor of rhetoric, $2,000, and Prof. Craig, the Assyriologist, is retained another year at a salary of $2,500.

Prof. John W. Campbell resigned from the law faculty, and Marshal D. Ewell was not reappointed on the list of non-resident lecturers. The work will be divided among other instructors, and their places will not be filled. Instructor E. F. Johnson was made assistant professor, $1,600, and H. L. Willig acting professor, $2,000.

The following instructors were appointed for three years, salary $1,200: C. L. Meader Latin, and lecturer in the law department on Roman law; Chas. H. Cooley, sociology; Carl E. Gude, physics; C. G. Wrentham, drawing; Ernest Voss, German. Assistant Librarians Jordan and Finney were reappointed at $1,200 each. Prof. Lloyd was reappointed in philosophy, one year, $1,600.

Keene Fitzpatrick was reappointed director of the gymnasium, and several men on the one-year list reappointed; Instructors F. R. Lilley, J. W. Glover, L. A. Straus, E. C. Goddard, H. J. Goulding and H. L. Coar. E. B. Lease was made assistant professor of Latin for one year, in place of Prof. Rolfe, absent on leave.

Assistant Prof. F. M. Taylor was reappointed, and C. E. St. John made instructor in physics, and E. A. Lyman in mathematics, $1,200 each. Dr. A. Laebman, holder of Stearns chemical fellowship, was made instructor in chemistry, without pay.

The non-resident law lecturers will be H. H. Swan, admiralty; Jas. L. High, receivers; M. M. Bigelow, insurance; John B. Clayberg, mining law; A. H. Walker, patent law; Frank B. Reed, copyright law.

Lecturers in the law department from the literary faculty, without salaries, are Thomas M. Cooley, interstate commerce; A. C. McLaughlin, V. C. Vaughan, R. Hudson, H. C. Adams and C. L. Meader. Some changes were made in the B. S. degree. Only one such degree will hereafter be granted by the literary faculty; 120 hours of work, equal to from 16 to 18 hours a week in class for four years are required, a few courses in French, German, English, mathematics, physics, biology and chemistry being prescribed, the remainder of the course being practically elective by the student.

It is expected that this cut will cause many changes in the faculty should better positions offer themselves to those whose salaries have been affected by this action.

Says the Hillsdale Leader: "Wool is low. So is wheat. There is scarcely a farmer in the land who does not know and talk that wheat is low because of over-production and competition with new wheat countries, and that supply and demand have regulated the price entirely, under high tariff, low tariff and no tariff. The same causes precisely are responsible for the low price of wool. The only difference is that wool competes with shoddy, with a more disastrous effect upon its price than that sustained by wheat, because you cannot substitute a shoddy wheat—there is none. If the measure of the price—the currency—has something to do with the low prices of these staples, it affects them nearly alike. But do not attribute the low price of your wool to the removal of the tariff upon it. That statement is too full of holes to hold water. Ten years ago Hillsdale county farmers received about thirty-five cents per pound for their wool; and the price has steadily declined under a moderate tariff, then declined under a high tariff (the McKinley law) and has remained nearly stationary under the present tariff law. You must look for other causes than the tariff for the low price of your wool. And with only one eye on a dark night you will have no difficulty in finding those which are entirely sufficient to account for low wool."

Those who speculated in May Festival tickets last week got badly left. In many instances tickets that cost their holders $4 each did not realize more than $1.50 to $2 for the series. Tickets, even on the night of the Wagner concert, could be purchased for 25 cents and 50 cents each. This was bad not only for the holders of the tickets, but also for the May Festival itself.

The management had given out weeks before the Festival that only standing room tickets were left unsold. This was absolutely true, but the reason of this was that the tickets were in the hands of scalpers. Many people from out of town were thus prevented from purchasing these tickets and attending the concerts, for they would not come here on the uncertainty of being unable to obtain anything better than standing room, or if they were fortunate enough to obtain seats, have to pay an exorbitant price for them. The prices asked by those who held the tickets was out of all proportion, $10, $12 and $15 were the usual figures, but as stated above the prices obtained will leave the speculators in the hole.

The law faculty of the university has formally disapproved of the practice of clandestine marriages, several of which have recently been reported among students. It is to be regretted that some one in authority does not ensure the practice of "suppressing" marriage licenses in aid of clandestine marriages. One of the principal objects of the license law is publicity, and no county clerk should "suppress" a license issued by him for a single day, or even an hour, if inquiry is made for them. As well neglect or refuse to make the required record of the marriages after proper return to his office—Times.

The Argus is sorry to say that the office of the county clerk of Washtenaw county is no exception to this practise of suppressing marriage licenses. It is no uncommon thing when one looks over the marriage licenses on file to find a missing number. It is a wrongful practice and should be made punishable by fine or imprisonment.

Some one has put in interrogative form some of the points in Secretary Carlisle's Chicago speech, and asks the following questions:

- "First, is there a free silver coinage country in the world today that is not on a silver basis?"
"Second, is there a gold standard country in the world today that does not use silver as money with gold?"
"Third, is there a silver standard country in the world today that uses any gold as money along with silver?"
"Fourth, is there a silver standard country in the world today that has more than one-third as much money in circulation, per capita, as the United States have; and
"Fifth, is there a silver standard country in the world today where the laboring man receives fair pay for his day's work?"
We request our free coinage friends of the Adrian Press, the Ypsilanti Sentinel and the Washtenaw Times to answer these interrogatives.

Ann Arbor once more has an excellent board of public works, composed of Thomas J. Keech, Wm. H. McIntyre and Dr. W. B. Smith. Now that the mayor has satisfactorily solved the board problem, we may hope to see the street work handled in a businesslike and economical manner, the improvements of a permanent character and all quarrels and bickerings with the council relegated to the rear. All three of the members of the board have had previous valuable experience in city affairs, all three have served on the council, two have already done good service on the board, Dr. Smith has served several terms as mayor and what is better yet, all of them are men of good judgment.

It is not strange that some of the enemies of an honest currency should be scaring themselves with the bug-a-boo of Cleveland's renomination. Were it not for the fact that Cleveland has had two terms, he could defeat straddler McKinley. But no president will ever serve three terms in this country and President Cleveland is not the man to fly in the face of the unwritten law of the country which firmly fixes the number of terms one man may hold the presidency. In spite, however, of this fact, some of the fellows who must have a bug-a-boo with which to keep themselves and their fellows in constant terror, still lay awake nights thinking about it.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

Resolution Passed of Great Benefit to Workmen.

The new board of public works had its initial meeting on Wednesday evening. It was called to order by City Clerk Mills. Messrs. McIntyre, Keech and Smith were present. On motion of Mr. Keech, the clerk was instructed to cast the ballot of the board for Willard B. Smith for president and he was accordingly declared elected.

Mrs. Olivia B. Hall was granted permission to connect her houses on Voland st. with the Washington st. sewer, but that she be not exempted from taxation when the district covering such lots is laid out.

The petition of W. B. Groves to have house connections laid up to his lots on E. Washington st. was placed on file.

The bills of Thomas Nickles and J. F. Schuh for work on relaying house sewer branches were referred to the city engineer, he to report at the next session of the board.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for 3in. oak lumber.

The president was ordered to secure bids for painting the two bridges over the Huron river and the viaduct over the M. C. R. R.

The street and sewer bills for May were allowed.

On motion of Mr. McIntyre it was resolved that this board recommend to the common council that they take action relative to making arrangements with the Ann Arbor Savings Bank, the custodian of the city's money, whereby the labor bills properly certified to will be paid by the bank at par, the same as warrants. And, further resolved, that the street commissioner be directed to issue such bills and give the same to the laborers at the end of each week.

At this juncture Zenas Sweet's voice broke into the harmony of the meeting.

Said he: "I protest against Mr. Ross acting as street commissioner any longer, gentlemen, because he is not a citizen of the United States."

This was considerable of a staggerer for the members of the board, but Mr. Keech recovered himself sufficiently to ask the acting street commissioner how long he had been a voter. "Twenty years," replied Mr. Ross.

Mr. Keech: "When you joined the militia you swore allegiance to the flag and the constitution, did you not?" inquired Mr. Keech.

Mr. Ross: "I did."

"I make the motion Mr. chairman," continued Mr. Keech, "that we elect a street commissioner."

Daniel J. Ross was unanimously elected street commissioner.

A Lively Runaway.

An exciting runaway occurred on S. Main st. Wednesday afternoon, and while it lasted it caused lively movements among pedestrians and horses that were on the street. It was tied in front of the First National Bank and in some manner pulled its bridle off. This was no sooner done than it dashed down the street. At Mann's drug store it swerved into the sidewalk frightening Will Baxter's horse and it jumped up on the sidewalk squealing and kicking so that people were quite ready to give it a wide berth. Dashing across the street it ran up on the sidewalk and plumped its nose up against the plate glass window in Reimold's saloon. J. F. Schuh's horse which was standing near by, started off on a run down Main st., but was caught before doing any damage. From Reimold's the first runaway dashed along the sidewalk to the corner of Liberty st., thence across the street where the horse freed itself from the buggy and disappeared. There was very little damage resulted from this runaway. The buggy and harness were broken up a little but no one was injured.

DEATH OF COL. J. W. CHILDS.

He Was a Former Well Known Resident of Washtenaw County.

Col. J. W. Childs, late of the old 4th Michigan Infantry, and well known to the older inhabitants of this county, died at his home in Washington, D. C., on Monday, of a complication of diseases contracted while serving with the Army of the Potomac in the war of the rebellion. Col. Childs was the oldest son of the family of nine children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Childs, of Augusta township, and was born and brought up in this county. Of the family of nine children only four are now left: Mrs. Robert Campbell, W. K. Childs and Miss Alma C. Childs, of this city, and E. M. Childs, of Ypsilanti. His widow and one child, Miss Elaine E. Childs, who is a member of the class of '96 literary department of the University of Michigan, also survive him.

As above stated, Col. Childs was born and brought up in Augusta. His first rudiments of education were obtained by walking two miles through the woods to school every day when he was six years old. Subsequently he attended and graduated from the Normal school at Ypsilanti. He also attended a military school at Norwich, Conn., where he got the military education that was afterwards so useful to him. At the outbreak of the war in 1861 he was teaching school in Uniontown, Ky. It was known among the secessionists of that town that his sympathies were with the north and that if war broke out he intended to go north and enlist. Steps to prevent him doing so were taken by the secession leaders, but their efforts were frustrated by his friend, Norman Berry, who although a southern sympathizer, let Col. Childs into the secret that he was to be retained and helped him to get away.

In the Virginia campaign Col. Childs heard that his friend Berry was a major in a Kentucky regiment and by the aid of the pickets a meeting was arranged between the two friends and they again saw each other.

After coming north in 1861 Col. Childs entered the 4th Michigan as its major under the first call for three years' men and went into camp at Adrian. He afterwards became colonel of the regiment and as such took part in nearly all of the battles of the army of the Potomac. At the end of his service as colonel of the Fourth he entered the regular army and served until 1868, when he resigned from the service to enter business. From that time until 1880 he was a trader in Florida, when he went to Washington and engaged in the real estate business. He then entered the government service, first as adjuster of claims in the land office, and from there into the pension office as a member of the board of referees, which position he held at the time of his death.

The funeral services were held Wednesday and his remains were buried in the Arlington cemetery where so many of those who fought in the war of the rebellion are resting.

THE NEW ST. JAMES HOTEL.

Many Improvements Made in the Well Known Old Franklin House.

Michael Brenner, the owner of the new St. James hotel, on W. Huron st., (formerly the Franklin house) has wrought quite a change and improvement in the old house. Exterioirly the look of the place is much improved. The old dwelling house rookery, which stood at the west end of the hotel building, has been torn down and the ground on which it stood transformed into a lawn which is already well covered with grass. The outside of the hotel has been painted and over the office door an iron portico with oval roof will extend clear over the sidewalk resting on two iron posts at the edge of the curb.

Inside the improvements are even more marked. Partitions have been torn down, the dining room enlarged the location of the office changed, many bedrooms enlarged, and it has been repainted and repaired throughout. The pipes for steam heat have been all put in position and before fall the radiators will be attached, a large boiler placed in the cellar and the whole house will be heated by steam. On the ground floor the two sitting rooms which used to be at the west side of the house have been made into one room, a new floor has been laid, a handsome oak counter and an open fireplace put in, and the result will be a fine office 24 x 28 feet in size. The little old dining room which used to be at the back of the office on the east side of the house has come in for its share of the improvements. What used to be the office has been added to it and there is now a large dining room 23x52 feet, capable of seating 100 people. There is also a well lighted sample room 18x18 feet on this floor. Behind these are the kitchen 18x22, the pastry room 12x23 and the cutting room. The kitchen is being fitted up with an improved range and is provided with two wash racks, one for cooking utensils, the other for table ware, etc.

On the second floor are a parlor and nine bedrooms all of good size and well lighted. On the third floor there are 16 bedrooms. A ladies' water closet and bathroom with sewer connections is on the second floor and there is also a water closet downstairs.

The house has been leased by George B. Shetterly, at present proprietor of the Arlington house, Streator, Ill., a hotel man of wide experience, who will take possession of it June 10. He will furnish the house throughout with oak furniture of the latest designs and will carpet the house throughout. Mr. Shetterly was formerly a resident of Ann Arbor, and is a brother of C. J. and A. L. Shetterly.

The Streator, Ill., Free Press, speaking of his departure from that city says: "George B. Shetterly, who has conducted the Arlington hotel in this city as a $1,500-a-day house—he coming here from Peoria—has decided to give up that hostelry, and will move to Ann Arbor, Mich., his old home, where he expects to continue in the hotel business. Mr. Shetterly is a good hotel man, but has not been doing enough business of late to satisfy himself, probably because the difference in the rates of his house and those of the Plumb and the Columbia—50 cents a day—is not sufficient to catch the traveling public."

Justice Court.

Jacob Schmitter, on a charge of assault and battery was again taken before Justice Pond Saturday morning. He charged his plea of not guilty and was fined $1 and $7.50 costs which he paid.

George Meyer, of Pittsfield, pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a set of harness from Norman Rowe, of the same town, and was fined $2 and the assessed costs. He took the harness without process of law to settle a debt that Rowe owed him.

On Monday morning Thomas Collins, drunk, was sentenced by Justice Pond to two days in jail for his offense.

Harry I. Weinstein, was taken before Justice Gibson Tuesday for taking part in the freshman banquet row and was released after examination.

George Heinbecker was sent to jail for 10 days by Justice Pond yesterday afternoon for being drunk and disorderly.

Sweet

Science is "knowing how." The only secret about Scott's Emulsion is years of science. When made in large quantities and by improving methods, an emulsion must be more perfect than when made in the old-time way with mortar and pestle a few ounces at a time. This is why Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil never separates, keeps sweet for years, and every spoonful is equal to every other spoonful.

In other emulsions you are liable to get an uneven benefit—either an over or under dose. Get Scott's.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been endorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always salutis—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby.

THE PROHIBITIONISTS.

National Convention in Session at Pittsburg.

STEVENS TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN.

Chauncey M. Dunn of California Objects to the Pennsylvania and Throws the Convention into an Uproar—Police Called in to Eject Unruly Delegates—The First Clash Results in a Victory for the "Narrow Gauge" Faction.

PITTSBURG, May 28.—It was long after 10 o'clock when Samuel Dickie, chairman of the national central committee, stepped upon the platform and called the national Prohibition convention to order. When he had done this he called upon the Rev. L. A. Banks of Brooklyn to invoke the blessing of God. The call of the convention was then read, after which H. L. Castle of this city made an address, welcoming the delegations to the city. After reviewing the history, progress and growth of the prohibition movement, he concluded as follows:

"And may God Almighty bless your coming, and may an Almighty God through your curse and blight and wither and destroy the legalized liquor traffic, the greatest foe to God and humanity ever invented in hell or patented on earth."

Chairman Dickie replies.

When the applause following this address had died away, Chairman Dickie made a brief reply, in which he thanked Mr. Castle and the citizens of Pittsburg for the cordial treatment the representatives of the Prohibition party had received. He had attended many conventions of the party. He had attended it when it was a party of minor importance in the eyes of the older political bodies, but he thanked God that he had lived to see it become of such proportions that it was now recognized throughout the nation. Both speakers were frequently interrupted by applause.

When he had finished his response to the address he said he had the honor to introduce the gentleman chosen for temporary chairman by the national committee, A. A. Stevens of Pennsylvania.

Dunn Told to Sit Down.

When he had said this Chauncey M. Dunn of California arose and said he had a minority report to offer. He would present the name of E. J. Wheeler, and moved it be substituted for that of Mr. Dickie, but refused. An uproar followed cries of sit down. Mr. Stevens took the chair. Mr. Dunn refused to sit down and appealed from the decision of the chair. He was again told to sit down and there was another storm of disapproval.

"I'm asking Mr. Dickie to rule upon my appeal," yelled Dunn. "We won't submit to this gag rule."

There were cries from all parts of the house for Mr. Dickie to come forward and make a ruling on the appeal. He came out at length, amid hisses and howls, and said there could be no appeal taken in an unorganized body. Finally, for harmony's sake, Wheeler withdrew his name, after the police had been called to eject unruly delegates.

Order Finally Restored.

Mr. Wheeler was loudly cheered and there were denunciatory cries against what the broad gauger termed outrageous gag rule. It was the first clash between the free silver and gold standard delegates on the convention floor and the single issue crowd won. Mr. Stevens, the temporary chairman, finally succeeded in restoring order and then proceeded to address the convention. In conclusion, he said the Republicans would at their convention declare for tariff reform, the Democrats for sound money and the Populists for free silver. Each had a dominant issue to advocate. The Prohibition party should now come forward with its dominant issue. It should have prohibition and none other. He was loudly applauded when he had finished. At this point Mr. Dickie said he had neglected to name a temporary secretary in behalf of the national committee. The gentleman chosen was A. B. Wilson of Illinois. A recess was then taken to give the committees opportunity to act.

VERMONT DEMOCRATS.

The Maintenance of a Gold Standard of Value Demanded.

MONTPELIER, May 28.—The Democratic state convention for the election of delegates at large to Chicago assembled here Wednesday. The names of Cleveland, Whitney and Russell were cheered roundly. F. M. McGretty was chosen permanent chairman. The platform adopted declares as follows on the money question:

"We demand the maintenance of a gold standard of value as being for the true interest of all our people and especially for those who are obliged to labor for what they receive, and we are opposed to the free coinage of silver except under international agreement." Other planks commend the able, patriotic and statesmanlike administration of Grover Cleveland, and especially his brave and timely Venezuelan message; thank Secretary Carlisle for his conscientious and efficient management of the treasury department; express sympathy with the Cubans; denounce the Republican protection theory and favor a tariff-got revenue not fostering trusts, nor necessarily interfering with business interests, and denounce the Republican party for fostering the "secret, un-American, cowardly and despicable A. P. A. organization."

Nominations for state officers were made as follows: Governor, Dr. J. Henry Jackson, Barre; lieutenant governor, Dr. Ralph Sherwood, St. Albans; treasurer, James H. Williams, Bellows Falls; secretary of state, William W. Riner, Bristol; auditor, E. T. Seaver, North Troy.

Republican Convention Hall.

ST. LOUIS, May 28.—Work on the Republican convention auditorium has progressed so far that all the chairs have been placed in position and the railings dividing the various sections put up. The decorators are at work, and within a few days will have their job completed and all the lights in place. Dedication exercises will be held in the building on the evening of June 15, when Hon. Chauncey M. Dewey will make an address. Local Grand Army posts will have charge of the exercises.

Wisconsin Republican Convention.

MILWAUKEE, May 28.—At the meeting of the Republican state central committee Wednesday Aug. 5 was named as the date for the state convention.

WHOLE FAMILY SLAIN.

James Dunham's Terrible Crime in California.

RESULT OF DOMESTIC TROUBLES.

Colonel R. P. McGlinchy, His Wife and Daughter, Who Was the Wife of the Fiend Who Committed the Crimes, and Three Other Persons Shot and Hacked to Death—The Interior of the House Shows Signs of a Desperate Struggle.

SAN JOSE, Cal., May 28.—Colonel R. P. McGlinchy and wife, their daughter, Mrs. James Dunham; James Wells, a son of Mrs. McGlinchy; a hired woman, Minnie Schesler, and a hired man, James Briscoe, were killed at Campbell by James Dunham, a son-in-law of Colonel McGlinchy, who made his escape. About midnight a neighbor named Page heard the report of shots in the direction of the McGlinchy home. Almost immediately thereafter there came the sound of galloping hoofs on the country road. Hurriedly dressing Page went to the home of the McGlinclys and found the body of McGlinchy lying in an outhouse in a pool of blood.

Shot, Stabbed and Hacked to Death.

Entering the house he found the bodies of James Wells, who had been shot; Mrs. McGlinchy and her daughter, who had been stabbed to death, and the hired man and girl, who had been hacked to death with a hatchet. The interior of the rooms where the bodies of the victims lay was bespattered with blood, and there was every evidence that the murdered victims had made a desperate struggle for their lives. Page, finding that all were beyond help, notified the authorities in this city. At 3 a. m. one of the officers returned to the city from the scene and said: "The scene at the McGlinchy home is almost beyond the powers of description. In the reception room was found the body of Wells. Evidently a terrible struggle had taken place between Wells and the assassin. Wells was shot two or three times. In the room adjoining no bodies were found, but the furniture was smashed into fragments, showing a fearful fight had taken place there."

Literally Slashed to Pieces.

"Adjoining the dining room was the apartment occupied by Mrs. McGlinchy. There she was found literally slashed to pieces with a hatchet. Blood was everywhere, and, as in the room of Wells, there were evidences of a terrible struggle having taken place between the poor woman and her fiendish son-in-law. The other victims were found in other apartments."

The last seen of Dunham he was riding rapidly toward San Jose on horseback. Family troubles are said to have caused the murder. The only being in the house who escaped alive was a baby 1 month old, the child of Mrs. Dunham and the alleged murderer. Colonel McGlinchy was one of the California commissioners to the World's fair at Chicago.

HANNIBAL, Mo., May 28.—In the United States court the grand jury has returned an indictment against Crockett Ragsdale, formerly bookkeeper in the First National bank of this city, for embezzlement. The defendant is a young man, and prior to the discovery of the embezzlement was highly esteemed.

An indictment was also returned against Clarence Gray of Macon City, who committed the same offense in the National bank of that city. Gray entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

APPALLING DISASTER.

Heavily Loaded Electric Car Goes Through a Bridge.

PROBABLY 100 PERSONS KILLED.

The Disaster Occurs at Victoria, B. C., While a Large Number of People Are En Route to See a Sham Fight—Beside the Car a Number of Carriages and People Who Were on the Bridge Are Carried Down to Death.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 28.—The Ellice bridge was the scene of a frightful accident shortly before 2 o'clock Tuesday. An electric car loaded with people was precipitated into the water through the breaking of the bridge. Another car also heavily laden passed the span but a moment before the collapse. Carriages and other vehicles crowded the driveway. Several fell into the stream. It is supposed there were upward of 125 people on the car, but it is known that a number of them escaped.

While many Victorians were on the fatal car the majority were visitors and the work of identification is consequently difficult. Fifty-seven bodies have thus far been identified. There are others whose names cannot be ascertained and still more undoubtedly whose bodies have not yet been recovered from the water.

Thousands of sorrowing friends and relatives crowded around the approaches to the bridge eagerly scanning each body as it was brought to land. Mothers, crazed by the loss of husbands or children, attempted to jump in the water in their eagerness to rescue their loved ones. As body after body was brought to the shore, crowds rushed forward to search each mangled face, yet dreading the possibility that it might be that of some one whom they hoped had escaped from the death-trap.

Heartrending Scenes. Children were carried down by those who were stronger and fathers who had struggled from beneath the debris of the bridge and carriages returned to their doom in vain endeavors to rescue their babies. The waters of the Arm for yards around were dyed red with blood and floating out to sea went corpse after corpse borne on by the tide. The shrieks of men, the screams of women and children filled the air and moved the crowds of rescuers on to efforts that endangered life and limb. The number of carriages lost and the passengers carried down in the wreck cannot be learned. It is claimed by many that fully two hundred people went down with the span and more than half of them perished. The rescue of some of the victims was, under the circumstances, almost miraculous.

Rescue of Mrs. Foster. Among those saved were Mr. and Mrs. Foster of Seattle. Mr. Foster was on the outside of the electric car and his wife was seated within. When the car went down he jumped and dived. Coming up and catching a bridge timber he saw his wife's cloak appear upon the water. He called to a man to save her and not in vain for the man swam to Mrs. Foster's rescue and bore her to the land. Supt. Wilson of the Canadian Pacific Railway telegraph was driving a carriage containing his wife and five children behind the ill-fated car. His vehicle was swept down; in a moment the entire family was struggling in the water. With rare presence of mind Mr. Wilson succeeded in saving his wife and four of the children. The fifth child, a little boy, was wedged beneath some wreckage and drowned.

Sixty Lives Lost in Michigan. DETROIT, May 28.—Careful search through the twenty miles of territory devastated by the tornado which swept over Oakland, Macomb, and Lapeer counties Monday night shows that fully sixty lives were lost and nearly seventy-five people seriously injured, of whom many will die. Fifty square miles of the choicest farming land in Michigan, including the prosperous towns of North Oxford, Ortonville, Thomas and Oakwood, are reduced to wreckage. The property loss will aggregate upward of $500,000.

Forty Killed at McGregor, Ia. DEBUIQUE, May 28.—It is now reported that forty people lost their lives in the storm at McGregor, this number of fatalities being reported from a sixteen-mile strip along Bloody run alone.

Are Vagabonds and Rogues. LANSING, Mich., May 28.—The supreme court has affirmed the conviction of "Dr." Arthur Elmer, who appeared at Ionia last July and proclaimed himself a modern seer, capable of reading the future, peering through the keyhole of the hereafter, and all that sort of thing. In affirming the conviction Judge Grant quoted from the old English law, which holds out that persons claiming to possess such powers are vagabonds and rogues.

Victims of Diphtheria. NEGAUNEE, Mich., May 28.—Alderman Hans Peter Johnson, who has lost several children in the last ten days from diphtheria, has himself succumbed to the disease and is most dangerously sick. The physicians believe that the further progress of the disease has been stopped.

Bank Teller Sentenced. BOSTON, May 28.—Chester W. Cross, the defaulting teller of the Palmer National bank, was arraigned in the United States circuit court here Tuesday, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to serve five years in Pittsfield jail.

THE GREAT CREDITOR CLASS.

Workmen Will Suffer Loss by Cheapening the Dollar.

In Mr. Carlisle's instructive speech to the Chicago workmen he especially directed their attention to the extent to which working men and women in the United States are themselves entitled to be ranked in the class of capitalists and creditors. For the purpose of reader apprehension we have set out in tabular form a statement of depositors and deposits in the banks of the country:

Table with 2 columns: Name of bank/institution, Amount of Deposits. Includes Savings banks, State and private banks, and National banks.

Of the depositors in the national banks 1,724,000 persons had sums less than $1,000 to their credit. These figures serve to show who own the bulk of the bank deposits.

Now the whole amount of money of all kinds in circulation in the United States is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Type of currency, Amount. Includes Gold, Silver and silver certificates, Subsidiary silver, Greenbacks, and National bank notes.

It will be perceived that the depositors in the savings banks have more money to their credit in those institutions than the amount of all the gold, silver and paper currency in the country, besides the still greater sums held for them by the national and state banks, trust companies and private bankers.

In the light of the fact that money is only a measure of value, what interest can the workingmen of the United States have in cutting down the measure one-half so that every dollar of the immense amount which the banks and other institutions owe to them in gold can be paid with silver at the rate of 50 cents on the dollar?—Philadelphia Record.

How Calamity Howling Hurts. It is an established fact that a perfectly healthy man can be made to feel symptoms of illness by the assurance of a number of persons that he is looking very sick.

It is no less certain that the condition of trade and industry depends largely on the opinions of manufacturers and other employers of labor as to the prospects of a good demand for their products. Owners of capital will not invest in new industries unless they think they will be successful.

During the past few years a lot of office seeking agitators have been howling in congress and in calamity newspapers that this great country was on the verge of ruin for lack of 50 cent silver dollars. In season and out of season have they cried "Hard times!" and "Business stagnation!"

Even though it is known that the assertions of the silverites are unfounded, their constant preaching of blue ruin and despair has had the result of scaring investors and business men generally, and thus bringing about some of the evils which it was alleged free silver would cure.

The United States fishery commission distributes annually millions of shad fry, many of which escape their natural enemies and grow to be marketable food fish. It is believed that this process of restocking the rivers is of great service in maintaining the shad fisheries.

When the Populists and silverites get control of the government, they will at once introduce a reform which will save all the expense of propagating the young shad. This will be done by simply printing the words "This is one shad" on millions of bits of paper, which will be thrown into the rivers. Instead of setting nets, the shad fishers will then go out in boats and gather up the paper. On presentation at the fish commissioner's office each paper will be redeemed in one boneless shad, produced by a Populist genius who has discovered a method of crossing the ordinary shad with the hitherto worthless jellyfish.

"Fiat fish and no bones" will be the platform of the shadites in the year 1900.—W. D.

Name One. The Atlanta Constitution says: "No man can be a bimetalist or have any conception of bimetalism who is in favor of measuring all values in gold."

The Constitution cannot point to a country in the world which has practical bimetalism that is not on the gold basis. It cannot point to a country in the world which has the free and unlimited coinage of silver that is not on a silver basis. It cannot point to a country in the world that has the free and unlimited coinage of silver that has also a bimetallic currency. The only countries which use both gold and silver as currency are the gold standard countries. And yet the advocates of the free, unlimited and independent coinage of silver call themselves bimetalists.

How He Got His Pension.

John George Staebler, who recently received a pension of $12 a month through W. K. Childs' agency, applied for his pension over three years ago and nearly all of that time has been spent in establishing his identity. He was a soldier in the German army for six years and after he came to this country when the war broke out he enlisted in the 5th Missouri Mounted Infantry, part of Siegel's brigade. In one of the battles Mr. Staebler received an injury to his head and ever since then he has experienced a difficulty in recollecting matters. So when it came to applying for his pension he said that he served in a regiment which sometimes fought on foot and at other times on horseback, and the company and regiment he served in was only found through his knowing the names of many of his comrades as the name of "George" Staebler was not on the rolls although his full name John George Staebler was. It was a pleasant thing for Mr. Staebler to get this pension as it brings with it a nice sum in pension arrears.

IS NOW A FULL BOARD.

The Mayor's B. of P. W. Nominations Unanimously Accepted.

A special meeting of the common council was held Monday evening. In the absence of President Hiscock Ald. Coon occupied the chair. The nomination by the mayor of Thomas J. Keech and Dr. W. B. Smith as members of the board of public works was received and unanimously confirmed.

At this point in the proceedings everybody was ready to go home but a discussion was precipitated which held the aldermen in a wrangle until 10 o'clock. Prof. H. B. Hutchins is laying a cement walk in front of his property on Packard st., and was having a curbing put in to prevent his lawn terrace from washing away, when the workmen were stopped by Street Commissioner Ross as the curbing was partly on city property.

Ald. Cady offered a resolution to allow Prof. Hutchins to go on with the work and A. J. Sawyer and Mr. Hutchins spoke to the council about the matter. For the opposition to the work, Ex-Ald. Butterfield presented a protest signed by some of the neighboring property owners. City Attorney Kearney stated that it would be illegal to grant such a privilege and Ald. Brown also spoke against the legality of thus giving away the city's rights and property. Ald. Soule stated that the council had the week previous voted just such privileges to Mr. Brenner at his new hotel, but Ald. Brown could not see any similarity in the two situations. Ald. Dell and Koch next had a turn at the wind mill and the street commissioner added his mite to the whirlwind. Ald. Danforth was also strongly opposed to the proceedings. When a vote was taken it stood six for and six against and the resolution failed of passage.

Prof. Hutchins has abandoned his idea of coping his lawn and will have an 18 inch strip sloped off from it.

A Highly Satisfactory Report.

Below is given the report of John R. Miner, expert accountant, on the condition of the books and papers of the city treasurer and city clerk. The report is a very complimentary one to Treasurer Manly and shows that his work has been performed in a painstaking and conscientious manner: To the Finance Committee of the Common Council of the City of Ann Arbor:

I have the honor to report that in accordance with your direction I have carefully examined the books and vouchers, cancelled bonds for the year ending May 1, 1896, and find the same correct. The balance in the city treasury at the date mentioned was $21,821.31, which amount is duly certified to as being on deposit by the cashier of the State Savings' Bank.

I have carefully examined the books and reports of the city clerk and find them correct.

I would call your attention to the large increase in the amount of work in the offices of the city treasurer and city clerk during the past year and to the careful and accurate manner in which the duties of those offices have been performed. Respectfully,
JOHN R. MINER.

FREE COINAGE OF FALSEHOOD.

Free Silver Would Create a Money Famine Instead of Curing One.

The Denver Republican echoes a common assertion of all the free silver advocates when it says: "The reopening of our mints to the free coinage of both metals at the ratio of 16 to 1 would do a great deal to right the wrong of demonetization. It would put an end to the existing money famine which is forcing lower prices every day."

Now, first, there is no "existing money famine." We have in use the enormous sum of $2,197,000,000 of gold, silver and paper money. Our actual per capita circulation is $24.34, against Great Britain's $18.42, Germany's $18.54 and Austria-Hungary's $9.75. To talk of an "existing money famine" in this country is simply to talk nonsense and falsehood.

Secondly, neither a money famine nor anything else "is forcing lower prices every day." On the contrary, prices are rising. About a year ago cotton was at 5 cents. It is now worth 8 1-8. Wheat, which was at 50 cents a bushel, is now at 70; silver bullion, which sank awhile ago to 55 cents, is now worth 68 and more. These are samples. It is simply not true that anything "is forcing lower prices every day."

Finally, free coinage, so far from curing an alleged "money famine," would create one. It would drive instantly out of circulation all the gold and all the gold bearing paper extant, and these, according to official statistics, amount to $1,077,000,000, or about one-half the total currency of the country.

There can be no question about the facts in this case. They are supported by the official records and by universal human experience. Free coinage, urged on the plea of more money, would in fact and with certainty reduce the value of money by one-half and produce a contraction greater and more disastrous than has ever been known in any civilized country under the sun.—New York World.

Some Things Ex-Senator Ingalls Doesn't Know.

Ex-Senator John J. Ingalls of Kansas was recently asked by a correspondent of the New York Mail and Express for his opinion as to the causes of the hard times which this country experienced in 1893 and 1894. His reply was: "The contraction of the circulating medium of all the great nations by the destruction of the money functions of silver is, to my mind, the chief cause." In reply to another question he said, "President Cleveland coerced a reluctant congress into the stoppage of the coinage of the silver and left our industries paralyzed."

Mr. Ingalls has achieved a national reputation as a brilliant politician, but his statements in regard to matters of fact show him to be either very ignorant or altogether unreliable. His assertion that the circulating medium of all the great nations has been contracted simply is not true. France, Germany, England, Austria and Russia have increased their joint stock of money by more than $1,000,000,000 during the past 20 years. Instead of contracting there has been a great expansion of the currency of the great nations.

Nor is it true that the money function of silver has been destroyed. On the contrary, there is now in the United States $549,700,000 in full legal tender silver, in France $434,300,000, in Germany $105,000,000, in Spain $126,000,000 and in Austria, Belgium and other European countries $242,000,000, all of this $1,457,000,000 being full legal tender money. Does that look like the destruction of silver?

The charge that President Cleveland coerced congress into stopping the coinage of silver is another error. Since March 4, 1893, nearly 8,000,000 silver dollars have been coined, almost as many as during the entire history of the country previous to "the crime of 1873." It is true that the silver purchase law of 1890 was repealed under the present administration, but the panic of 1893 began early in that year and was at its worst several months before the purchases of silver bullion were stopped. So that it could not have been the failure to store pig silver and issue certificates for it which caused the hard times. In reality it was the danger that the United States could not keep its increasing mass of silver currency at par with gold which brought about the panic from which trade and industry are now rapidly recovering. If men of the standing of Mr. Ingalls would cease giving aid and comfort to the business destroying free silver agitators, we should soon hear nothing of hard times as a political issue.

Art School Annual Exhibition.

The annual exhibition of the Ann Arbor Art School is announced for the first week in June, beginning on Tuesday evening June 24 and continuing all the week, in the Masonic block.

This exhibit will include the work of the school during the year, work in pencil, pen and ink, charcoal, oils, water colors, and pastel. Work in pastel is a new feature of the school, and some effective and pleasing work has been done in that medium. The school has had a membership of forty under the instruction of Mr. Francis Paulus, an artist who is fresh from many years study abroad, who has taught in the art schools of Detroit and has given to this school most conscientious and generous criticism, and a great impetus in the right direction. At this time he will give to Ann Arbor people the pleasure of seeing some of his work which has been much admired in exhibitions in Detroit, Chicago and more recently in Indianapolis. The admission fee is only 10 cents, that all friends may visit the exhibit more than once. Five o'clock tea will be served which is a social feature everyone enjoys.

Good Advice.

"We can draw attention to Oregon," says the Portland Oregonian, Republican, "we can advertise Oregon, more effectively by electing a sound money and gold standard man to congress from the Second district at this time than by all the efforts of immigration societies during the next 15 years."
