A GOOD MAN IS GONE

Ex-Gov. Alpheus Felch Passed Away Saturday.

HELD MANY OFFICES

And Retired From Public Life Forty Years Ago.

Beloved and Respected by All, Scrupulously Honorable, He Leaves an Unsuited Name to His Children's Care.

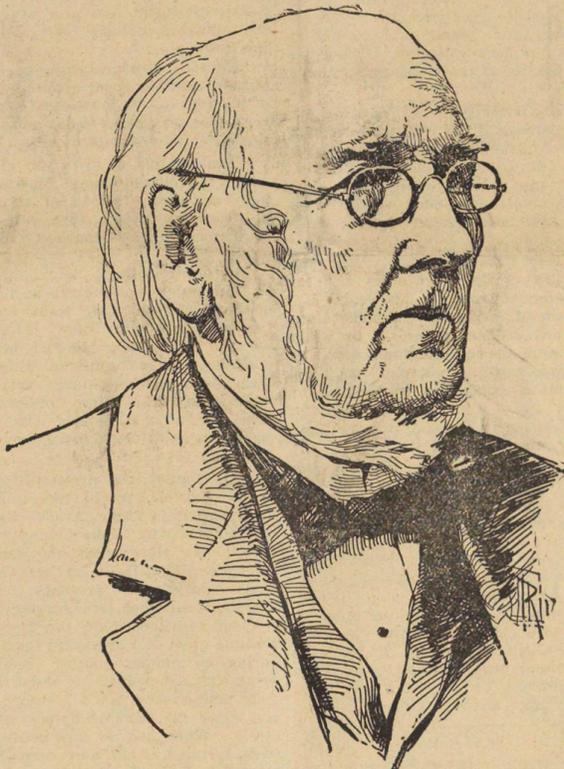

After a long life of probity and honor, a happy old age, blessed with the love and veneration of thousands who knew him, ex-Governor Alpheus Felch died Saturday afternoon, at 2:15 o'clock. The sad news quickly spread and the flags in the city were at once placed at half mast. He had been in vigorous health, considering his age, until during the past winter, when his friends became aware that he was rapidly failing. Four days before his death he became unconscious and he breathed his last without having regained consciousness. Around his bedside were his five children, Mrs. Dr. Jennings, of Detroit, Mrs. Judge Grant, of Lansing, Mrs. E. H. Cole, of this city, Dr. Theodore Felch, of Ishpeming, and Frank Felch, of Columbus, Ohio, and his grandchildren, Rev. Lawrence T. Cole and Miss Lillie Cole, of this city.

Alpheus Felch was born in Limerick, Maine, September 28, 1804, so that his life covered nearly the nineteenth century, only four years at each end of the over, March, 1853, President Pierce appointed him one of the commissioners to settle the Spanish and Mexican land claims in California, according to the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo. He was elected president of the commission, which began its labors in May, 1853, and continued them until March, 1856. In this connection, Gov. Felch performed his greatest services for the government, for the questions involved were of vast and increasing importance, including the fortunes of the new state and of thousands of native Mexicans as well as American immigrants, besides the claims of the Pueblo Indians to their lands and of the Catholic church to the lands of the missions. That the commissioners' labors were not light is shown by the facts that there are now forty or more large volumes in Washington containing their proceedings.

In June 1856, Gov. Felch returned to Ann Arbor where he has since lived a private citizen, though always in the public eye. With the rise of the republican party in Michigan, Gov. Felch's office-holding days were over. In 1856, he was the democratic candidate for governor being defeated by Gov. Bingham. He was twice the party nominee for justice of the supreme court and received the compliment of the votes of the democratic members of the legislature for United States senator. In 1873, he retired from the active practice of law. In 1875, he made a European trip. In 1877 the degree of LL. D. was conferred upon him by Michigan University and in 1879 he was appointed Tappan professor of law in the University, a position which he held for about six years.

For some years he had the distinction of being the oldest surviving member of the legislature, the oldest surviving bank commissioner of the state, the oldest surviving member of the century being lacking. His father and mother died when he was five years of age and he lived with his grandfather, who had been a soldier of the revolutionary war. He graduated at Phillips Exeter academy in 1821 and from Bowdoin college in 1827. After a thorough preparation in law, he was admitted to the bar about 1830 and opened an office in Houlton, Me., where he remained for three years. His health requiring a change, he came to Michigan in 1833, locating at Monroe and practised law there for ten years, removing to Ann Arbor in 1843. In 1835 he was elected to the state legislature from Monroe county and served three years. In the legislature he gained distinction by being the only member who spoke against the law which opened the way for wild cat banks. In his speech he pointed out all the disasters which followed the passage of the reckless measure, but only two other members voted with him. Two years later he was made state bank commissioner and did his best to remedy the harmful effects of the measure. After a year's service he resigned the position, which owing to his vigorous administration was occupying too much of his time. In 1842 he was appointed Auditor General of the state, but had been in office but a month, when he was appointed a judge of the state supreme court. He had not completed his term as judge, when in January 1843, he was elected to the United States Senate for an unexpired term. In 1845 he was elected governor on the democratic ticket and in 1847, before his term as governor had expired, he was elected United States Senator for the full term of six years. He served with Webster, Clay and Calhoun and steadily rose in prominence. He was for four years chairman of the committee on Public Lands.

As soon as his term in the senate was

Supreme Court of Michigan, the oldest surviving United States senator and the oldest surviving Michigan lawyer.

In politics, Gov. Felch was always a firm democrat. Until the past few years almost every party meeting beheld him on the platform. He made an excellent speech at the ratification of President Cleveland's election in 1892. He was on the platform at the Washington birthday exercises in University hall in 1895. His last speech in public was at the banquet given by the Washtenaw bar in September, 1894, in honor of his 90th birthday. Prominent lawyers were present from all over the state and from other states, and the speech of the occasion was made by Gov. Felch. He seemed that night in full possession of bodily and mental vigor.

Upon receiving intelligence of Gov. Felch's death, Governor Rich issued a proclamation ordering all the flags on the state buildings at half mast and the state departments closed on the day of the funeral. In the proclamation reviewing Governor Felch's career he says: "He rendered signal service in laying the foundation of Michigan's statehood." "As a lawmaker, expounder of the law, and executive, charged with its enforcement, he honored his state, and in the broader field of national legislation as a colleague of Webster, Clay, Calhoun and Benton he served with distinction and honor."

Judge Cooley pays Gov. Felch the following tribute: "I had known him for 53 years, most of the time intimately. He was a man of most noble qualities, and one for whom I have always had the highest regard. It was before him that I tried my first case. I first met him in Adrian 53 years ago, when he came there as the justice of the supreme court did in those days, to hold circuit court. He was a very

74 WILL GRADUATE

From the Ann Arbor High School Today.

ANNUAL CLASS DAY

Exercises Wednesday Were Bright and Inspiring.

The Class Poem and Class Prophecy Were Particularly Good.—A Full List of Those Who Will Receive Diplomas.

The class day exercises of the '96 high school graduates held at high school hall, Wednesday afternoon, were largely attended and very interesting. The hall was nearly filled with people, mostly scholars and their friends, and it was appropriately decorated with the class colors, purple and yellow. Above the stage hung a banner with the class motto "Y gwyr yn erbyn y bydd," "Truth against the world," emblazoned on it, above the motto the figures '96. The rear end of the hall bore the junior class banner with "'97. Prorsum Sursum" on it. Miss Charlotte H. Walker, president of the class, made an excellent presiding officer and introduced each number of the program in a clear and distinct manner. The Chequamegon orchestra furnished the music and it is needless to say that it was good.

Mr. Voorheis' oration, "The new woman," was a good one but given in a mechanical manner. Miss Durand's class poem would have been better appreciated had she been the possessor of a stronger voice. Fred M. Longnecker's essay "Shucks," was delivered from manuscript. It was well thought out and received considerable applause.

Miss Florence G. Spence made the presentation of the class memorial—Prof. Perry's portrait—in a short but neat speech. The class song by Miss Christine M. Lilley, sung by the class, was a dainty bit of verse, which is more than could be said for the singing of it. The class history and class prophecy by Ralph H. VanCleve and Miss Barbara Burt, were the best numbers on the program and were full of witty allusions to the professors and scholars.

The exercises closed with the president's address—a series of well turned remarks delivered in a clear, distinct voice—and music by the Chequamegons.

At the meeting of the school board held Wednesday evening, the high school faculty recommended the following names for graduation today, and they were duly accepted by the board. GOV. FELCH'S WILL.

It Makes a Just and Equitable Division of His Property.

The last will and testament of the late ex-Governor Alpheus Felch has been filed for probate in the probate office of this county. The instrument is in his handwriting and was executed by him, May 9, 1896, and the witnesses are John V. Sheehan and W. D. Harriman.

The will contains 14 clauses and after providing that all his just debts be paid as soon as possible after his decease, he wills to his eight grandchildren $500 each and to his two great grandchildren $200 each. To his sons-in-law, Claudius B. Grant and Charles G. Jennings and to his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Hettie C. Felch he gives $500 each.

The seventh clause bequeaths to the regents of the University his entire library of books, excepting school books and such volumes as are usually kept on the tables in the different rooms of the house, also all the periodicals, pamphlets and newspapers belonging to him, together with the book cases and boxes in which they are kept.

To the Ladies' Library Association he gives $300 to be expended in books for its library.

To his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Cole, he gives the use and occupation of the homestead on N. State st. for her natural life, also his share of the proceeds of the Benham farm, which is worked on shares for him so long as the present lease runs. He also gives her all the household furniture and other effects in the house with the exception that each member of the family is to be allowed to select some one piece of ornament as a memento of their mother. The rest of his estate is to be divided equally between his five children, share and share alike, who are also named as the executors of the will.

It is a remarkably plain will, written in the simplest language and free from all perplexing legal phraseology. He sent it to Judge Babbitt for safe keeping, May 15, 1896, and it has been in the probate office since that time.

B. Grant, Regent Cocker, Supt. Perry, Prof. Lawton, I. K. More

Medicinal value in a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla than in any other preparation. More skill is required, more care taken, more expense incurred in its manufacture. It costs the proprietor and the dealer but it costs the consumer less, as he gets more doses for his money. More curative power is secured by its peculiar combination, proportion and process, which make it peculiar to itself. More people are employed and more space occupied in its Laboratory than any other. More wonderful cures effected and more testimonials received than by any other. More sales and more increase year by year are reported by druggists. More people are taking Hood's Sarsaparilla today than any other, and more are taking it today than ever before. More and still more reasons might be given why you should take Another pest has made its appearance in this section, this time it is grasshoppers and they are doing a wholesale business. We have reports from Geo. Flehman, Geo. They go in swarms and come down like a cyclone on the crops they seek.—Saline Observer.

On Monday afternoon of last week, A. C. Coe and Chas. Rogers, of Saline, started on their wheels for Ann Arbor. A very pleasant school picnic was held in Seyler's grove in Lodi on Thursday afternoon of last week. A number of Ann Arbor folks were present, including Commissioner Wedemeyer, who made a few remarks.

Recently at the farm of Mr. Pfeifle, who lives three miles north of Ypsilanti, a cow died under such mysterious circumstances that it was decided to hold a sort of post mortem examination. The stomach was opened up and it was found that the cow had succeeded in collecting a specimen of nearly everything on the farm. A stone as large as Corbett's fist, a tin can, and pieces of clothing seemed to be what the animal was striving to thrive on. The cow was certainly far from being an epicure.—Evening Times.

The Only One To Stand the Test.

Rev. William Copp, whose father was a physician for over fifty years, in New Jersey, and who himself spent many years preparing for the practice of medicine, but subsequently entered the ministry of the M. E. Church, writes: "I am glad to testify that I have had analyzed all the sarsaparilla preparations known in the trade, but AYER'S is the only one of them that I could recommend as a blood-purifier. I have given away hundreds of bottles of it, as I consider it the safest as well as the best to be had."—WM. COPP, Pastor M. E. Church, Jackson, Minn.

"The Apple and the Serpent, or the Fall of Man," was the subject selected by Rev. Cobern, last Sunday evening. Rev. Cobern and Bob Ingersoll seem to be agreed in calling it an "apple" but the latter blasphemously laid the blame of the fall on Jehovah, asserting that "when Eve took that apple, had the Lord just risen up from behind the fence and said, 'Ah' she would have dropped the apple before ever breaking the skin."

There isn't a dog in Manchester, that will shake hands with Blosser of the Enterprise, or recognize him on the streets with a bow-wow, even, since the following cursory observation in the Enterprise:

"There is a growing sentiment among our citizens that about nine out of ten of the dogs in this town can be spared, yea—that they ought to die, and if they would die, they should be killed."

When you find a town or city in which the citizens hang together and help each other, instead of trying to pull each other down, then you find a prosperous town.—Manchester Enterprise.

Um! We're agin it neighbor, so far as Manchester is concerned, until after one more election. We want to give that place one more show before we see the citizens hang together, besides, it makes most too quiet a place. If Manchester goes republican this fall, we wouldn't mind how "prosperous" it became, after Bloss and the other democrats had time to move over into Freedom.

Prof. Stanley, the director of music in the U. of M., would like to spend his vacation in Ann Arbor, but he wants the city to "come down with the dust." He allows that the lack of enterprise, that fails to provide for street sprinkling, prevents a great many eminent men from coming there to spend vacation where they get the absolute quiet of a graveyard inactivity during the summer months. But they dread Ann Arbor dust. It obscures the quiet, and chokes out all enjoyment, and stops up the windpipes of all music. What Athens now needs, is a street sprinkler, and now that Prof. Stanley has started out to secure it, we can only exclaim with that other great enthusiast, "On Stanley, on!"

Epilepsy 20 Years.

Cured by Dr. Miles' Nerveine.

A few years ago, Mr. L. W. Gallaher, was an extensive, successful expert manufacturer of lumber products. Attacked with epilepsy, he was obliged to give up his business. The attacks came upon him most inopportunely. One time falling from a carriage, at another down stairs, and often in the street. Once he fell down a shaft in the mill, his injuries nearly proving fatal. Mr. Gallaher writes from Milwaukee, Feb. 16, '95.

"There are none more miserable than epileptics. For 20 years I suffered with epileptic fits, having as high as five in one night. I tried any number of physicians, paying to one alone, a fee of $500.00 and have done little for years but search for something to help me, and have taken all the leading remedies, but received no benefit. A year ago my son, Chas. S. Gallaher, druggist at 191 Reed St., Milwaukee, gave me Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerveine, and I tried it with gratifying results. Have had but two fits since I began taking it. I am better now in every way than I have been in 20 years."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by druggists on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit or price refunded. Book on the Heart and Nerves, free. Address, Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Few men have lived who have held the respect and esteem of so large a number of their fellow citizens as ex-Governor Felch, whose funeral took place in our midst last Tuesday. He was at peace with all mankind. He had no man's enmity; he had every one's esteem, and the affection of those who came to know him more intimately. There was absolutely no affectation about him. He was gentle and sympathetic. He was the soul of courtesy, one of the few rare gentlemen to be met in these days. He was a man of ability and he left his impress upon the early life of the state. He made a national reputation and retired from public life forty years ago. There have been few men who have been entrusted with so many and varied positions of public trust, and in each instance it was the office seeking the man. And yet it was in the prime of life, at the age of 52, that Gov. Felch retired from public positions. To this generation the names of Clay, Webster and Calhoun are those of the giants of the U. S. Senate in the early history of this country. It is hard to realize that in our midst has been living until the past week, one who served side by side with these men, had their respect, friendship and esteem, and attained a respectable prominence in a senate made up of such intellectual giants.

It was Gov. Felch's rare good fortune to retain even in his old age the rare use of his facilities vouchsafed to but few men of whom Gladstone is another great example. Surrounded by loving ones, he sank to rest, after a life which was a benediction to all thrown in contact with it—a life which is a great example to the young of the happiness to be found in this world in an upright, straightforward life of probity, gentleness and courtesy, and faithfulness in all things.

He always retained his interest in young men, and those who were so fortunate as to have been in the law department when he was a professor of law, will always remember the private chats with which he favored those who came into his office, and the helping hand he was always anxious to extend. It was almost an education to have known him.

He has been laid at rest but his life lives after him and the world is the better because he lived in it.

Death of John Jacob Koch.

By the death of John Jacob Koch, at his home, 24 E. Washington st., on Saturday night at 11:50 o'clock, Ann Arbor loses a respected citizen who has resided here for 34 years, an aged mother loses a dutiful son, and his wife and children a kind husband and father. Mr. Koch had been a sufferer from rheumatism for over 21 years. Since November of last year he had been a constant sufferer from it and was confined to his bed most of the time. Dropsy of the heart finally set in and he died as above stated.

Mr. Koch was born in Diebingen, Wuertemberg, Germany, May 7, 1843, and was the second son of a family of six children. His father having died, the mother and family emigrated to America and settled in Ann Arbor in 1862. Two years later the subject of this sketch married Miss Fredericka Loeffler. Four children, Sophie, August, Amanda and Emma were born of this union and with his widow survive him. The other surviving members of the family are John Koch, of this city, Mrs. Gottlieb Benz, of Webster, Mrs. Jacob Trautwein, of Dexter, Mrs. Widemann, of Ann Arbor town and their mother, Mrs. Anna Koch, aged 75 years.

The funeral services were held at Zion church, Tuesday afternoon, Rev. C. Clessler, of Bridgewater, preaching the sermon. The remains were interred in Forest Hill cemetery.

Mr. Koch was a member of the German Workmen's Society and of the A. O. U. W.

Y. M. C. A. Building Fund.

The Young Men's Christian Association building fund is growing. On Friday morning last, Fred G. Schleicher handed George W. Moore, the treasurer of the association, a check for $100 with the remark that the Young Men's Christian Association is doing more real work than any other organization in the city and deserves better support.

Wm. E. Pardon, the Liberty st. grocer, is the third business man to give his check for $100 to help swell the Young Men's Christian Association building fund.

Prof. Volney M. Spaulding has also handed in his check for $100.

William Goodyear, Hon. Thomas M. Cooley and Hon. Rueben Kempf have also added their checks for $100 each to the fund.

THE MILLS DISTRICT SCHOOL.

Its Patrons Perpetrate a Genuine Surprise on the Teacher.

The teacher and scholars of the Mills district in Pittsfield were treated to a genuine surprise last Friday afternoon by the patrons of the district. The matter had been kept very quiet so that the event did not take the nature of the conventional surprise where "no one was surprised." An excellent program was carried out under the direction of F. E. Mills, after which, on behalf of the patrons Mr. Mills presented the teacher, Miss Lena Mallory, with a number of splendid books as a token of appreciation of the efficient work done by her as teacher in the school during the past five years. He also announced that Miss Mallory would be found at her post as teacher once more in the fall. Ex-Commissioner Cavanaugh and Commissioner Wedemeyer were present and made short talks. At the conclusion of the program all adjourned to the school grounds, where a splendid supper was served. The interest shown by the patrons on this occasion is but characteristic of the interest always exhibited by them in their school, which is without a doubt one of the very best district schools in Washtenaw county.

Argus Weddings.

The press room of the Argus office has been in a demoralized condition the past week and it has been all brought about by the preconceived determination of the pressman and his assistant to enter into Hymen's bonds. On Tuesday evening at the future home of the contracting parties, No. 13 Detroit st., in the presence of a few immediate friends and relatives, Mr. Fred D. Coats was married to Miss Dora E. Schleicher. Rev. T. W. Young performed the marriage ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Coats were remembered by their friends with some nice, useful presents.

On Wednesday evening at 7:15 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, 17 W. Fourth st., by the Rev. John Neumann, Mr. Charles Binder, jr., and Miss Lydia K. Weitbrecht were united in marriage. A large number of relatives and friends had gathered to witness the ceremony and wish success to the bride and groom.

The bride was attended by Miss Emma Kemper and was attired in a white organdie gown and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Miss Kemper's dress was of white mull. The best man was Mr. Robert Gwinner. Miss Eliza Armbruster played a wedding march as the bridal party took up their position in the front parlor. After the wedding ceremony had been performed an elegant and bountiful repast was served which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The balance of the evening was spent in listening to serenades by Becker's Military Band, the Lyra Maennerchor and Will Cooper and the Jones brothers (the harmonica trio) interspersed with conversation and piano music. The wedding presents were numerous, handsome and useful. So many chairs were presented them that Mr. and Mrs. Binder will have no occasion to buy a parlor suit. They have gone to housekeeping at No. W. Liberty st.

To both these newly wedded couples the Argus extends its best wishes for health, happiness and prosperity.

Three More Divorces.

Willis H. Dakin, of this city, has filed a petition for divorce from his wife, Dr. Nora M. Dakin, to whom he was married Sept. 14, 1879, at Mason, by Rev. Mr. McLaren. The couple have two children, a girl and a boy, aged respectively 15 and 11 years. He applies for the divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty on the part of the defendant. In his bill the complainant sets forth that he first came to Ann Arbor for the purpose of allowing his wife to graduate in medicine at the U. of M., which she did in 1893. He also shows that he expended large sums of money for that purpose which he obtained by selling his property and working at his trade. After she graduated they moved back to Dannville, their former home, where Mrs. Dakin practiced her profession and became infatuated with a married man named Edward Walker. There Mrs. Dakin and Walker at various times acted in such an improper manner together as to become objects of public gossip and scandal. In June of last year all parties concerned moved to Ann Arbor and lived in the same house together until Feb. 17, 1896, the conduct of Mrs. Dakin and Walker at all times causing scandalous gossip among the neighbors. On that date while Walker and Mrs. Dakin were absent in Dannville the complainant moved his household goods from the house they then occupied to one on Fourth ave. When Mrs. Dakin came back and found this out she immediately left the house in company with Walker and has not since been back and is now in the west somewhere with him. Mr. Dakin also asks to have the care, custody and education of his son Earl Dakin.

Wm. E. Miller, of Ann Arbor, has applied to the circuit court for a divorce from his wife, Mary Miller, on the ground of adultery with one Charles Thompson. The couple have been married six years and have two children, both girls, whom the complainant asks to have the custody of. Mrs. Miller's maiden name was Mary Crawford.

Mrs. Essie Miller, of Ann Arbor town, has filed a bill for divorce from her husband, David Miller, on the ground of cruelty towards her, neglect and drunkenness. The couple have been married four years and have one child seven months old, of which she desires the custody.

The Elks' Excursion.

The Elks' excursion to Detroit Thursday of last week was a hummer from the word "go". It arrived in the city of the straits at 10:30 a. m., and from that time until it left in the evening it was one round of fun and jollity for all concerned. The procession after the arrival of the train with its sour tempered jackass and snow white billy goat, calithumpians, etc., was immense.

The ball games at Bennett Park after dinner, together with the exhibition of kicking against the umpire given by the donkey, the side show and the toy balloon race, were laughable in the extreme.

For the ball games the Detroit and Ann Arbor lodges each had four teams, which had paired off to play an inning apiece. Clay Greene and Walter Ross were umpires. The first game was between the Ann Arbor "Clover Seed Champions" and the Detroit "Wheeler's"—score 3 to 1 in favor of the "Wheeler's." The second game, the "Rialto Sluggers," of Ann Arbor, lost to the Detroit "Reubens," score 9 to 2. The "Weary Willies," of Ann Arbor, contested the third with the Detroit "Dudes," but lost by the score of 10 to 5. The last game was between the tough young men of Ann Arbor "The Boiler Avenue Terriers" and the "All Nations" crowd, of Detroit. The score was 4 to 4. Detroit thus won the series by the score of 26 to 12. A fully 2,000 people witnessed the games and sports.

Twenty-two of our colored citizens have been initiated as Knights of Pythias and have organized Lucullus Lodge, No. 4, K. of P. The following officers have been elected for the ensuing year: Joseph Scott, C. C.; Archie Miller, V. C.; Rev. Wm. S. Braddon, P.; Robert Carson, K. of R. & S.; Josh J. Hall, P. SATURDAY

A HUMMER

Last week we advertised the purchase of (1600) Sixteen Hundred (1600) suits of Men's Clothing, which we bought at our own price in the East the week before; and it was a pleasure to see them go out. Every suit is an ad, for us and this week we expect to be crowded with buyers.

Dealers who have been slumbering, like Rip Van Winkle for twenty years, must not expect to clothing selling at the old prices when they wake up. We carry an immense stock and are able to make a specialty of every price, from $5.00 Suits to $30.00 Suits. We are anxious to make this the largest year of our existence, and to do this are willing to part with our merchandise at a small margin. This is the greatest sale we ever made and the purchasers realize and appreciate our efforts.

It will do you good to see what we are able to do for you in the line of Men's, Boys' and Children's wear.

 Justice Andrew E. Gibson was married to Miss Ada Geeding, at Lebanon, O., yesterday. They will reside at 28 N. State st.
 C. J. Snyder's son Howard, aged 11 years, received a severe injury to his leg on Monday by the explosion of a brass cartridge of which he had made a toy cannon.
 Arthur Van Duran, a law student from Holland, Mich., and Miss Daisy Shetterly, daughter of Mrs. Clara Shetterly, of Maynard st., were married in Detroit, Wednesday of last week.
 A horse attached to a buggy became frightened at a street car on Tuesday afternoon near the street car barn and ran away, throwing two ladies and a child out. Luckily none of them were seriously injured.
 W. F. Harsen, who has been clerking for the Eberbach Drug and Chemical Co. for some months past, skipped Monday night and took with him about $200 belonging to the firm. No clue to his whereabouts is known.
 Miss Bertha J. Rose, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. B. Rose, of this city, is to be married Thursday next to Cassius E. Wakefield, of Morenci, Mich., in Golden, Col., at the residence of Mrs. Hills, sister of the bride.
 The ladies' aid society of the German M. E. church are trying to raise money for a bell in their new church. They have made a quilt of bells in which donor's names are to be put. You will no doubt be called upon as it is desired to raise $125.
 At 10 o'clock Tuesday morning Rev. Henry Tatlock solemnized in St. Andrew's church the marriage of George E. Bilger, of Chicago, and Miss Cora A. Fox, of this city. The bride was given away by her brother and was attended by her sister as bridesmaid.
 Rev. C. M. Cobern received a telegram on Tuesday from Trinity church, Denver, Colo., asking him to assume his pastorate there July 1. He promptly answered that it was impossible. Mr. Cobern says there is no church that could tempt him to leave the one here if it were not for the five year limit forcing him to do so.
 James Goodhew, the Observatory street florist, has leased the greenhouses on Miller ave., known for many years as Toms' greenhouses and will operate both these and his own. In the hands of an experienced florist as Mr. Goodhew, these gardens and greenhouses will undoubtedly soon be restored to their former glory.
 Charles L. Eddy, a professional gambler, and an ex-student named Farrell, were arrested by Marshal Peterson Sunday for "skinning" Joe Parker out of $100 in cash and a watch, chain and scarf pin, which he put up as security for $70 more that he lost. Eddy was released on $400 bail furnished by Gus Brehm and skipped.
 On Monday night some wantonly destructive person or persons went onto Hanover park and broke off two fine healthy trees, one a horse chestnut, the other a basswood. It took considerable trouble to do this as the marks of the soles of their shoes, where they had swung on them in their endeavor to break them off indicate. Such acts as these deserve severe punishment.
 Charles B. Davison was agreeably surprised Saturday evening, as he was about to take the train for Hamburg Junction, at receiving from the hands of M. J. Fritz a handsome fishing rod with the compliments and best wishes of three of his friends. Engraved on the mounting of the rod is the following: "Presented to C. B. Davison by A. Schumacher, Titus F. Hutzler, M. J. Fritz, June 6, 1896."
 St. Andrew's branch of the G. F. S. A. will give an entertainment in Harrier hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, consisting of recitations illustrated by "Living Pictures," music and song. The society will be assisted in the entertainment by competent artists. The admission fee is 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for all under 12 years of age. The proceeds will be devoted to help on Christian work.
 An inspection recently made of the flush tanks in the Ann Arbor sewers revealed that 37 of the 43 flush tanks were in operation, some dumping every hour and some once in twenty four hours. A careful estimate indicated that the 37 tanks in use dumped 274 times per day. As each tank holds 30 gallon of water, this would mean that in these 37 tanks 30,000,000 gallons of water is used per year, which would cost $2,174 to pump.
 Wadhams, Ryan & Reule's clothing store was burglarized Sunday night before 12 o'clock. The thieves gained entrance by breaking in at the back door. J. D. Ryan and T. D. Kearney were in the store at the time the burglar was and heard his footsteps, but supposing the noise made by someone walking in the offices in the second story paid no attention to it. It is not known how much was taken from the store and there is no clue as to who did the job.
 Speaking of the determination of G. B. Shetterly, the landlord of the new St. James' hotel, in this city, to still continue the management of the Hotel Arlington, at Sreator, Ill., the Daily Monitor, of that place, says of him: "He (Mr. Shetterly) has leased the Arlington again for a term of years, and will continue it on the same general lines that has made this neat and comfortable house so popular under his management. Next Monday he will go to Ann Arbor and make arrangements to open up the new St. James', which he has also leased. Mr. Shetterly is a competent hotel man and excellent citizen. The St. James under his management will no doubt be as successful as the Arlington has been."

He or She DON'T KNOW WHAT HE WANTS

Had to give him up, is the way they refer in most Furniture Stores, to a man or lady who walks out without buying.

They are wrong; they know what they want—that's the trouble. People who are hard to please in Furniture Stores are generally good judges of Furniture. They have a gift of spotting bad goods, bad styles and poor work; they know how Furniture should be made.

We complain of such people. Why should we? They are our best and most appreciative customers.

Are You Going Anywhere?
One of the neatest and most attractive publications in which summer tourists would have an interest, is entitled "A Summer Note Book," and is published by the Michigan Central Railroad Co. for the benefit of the public.

All of the summer resorts both in Michigan, Canada, New York, Vermont, and the New England states are briefly described and artistically illustrated. Some of the illustrations are extremely attractive and give a longing desire to see the cool, shady and beautiful places represented.

One is taken to all the Sanitarium cities and towns of Michigan reached by that railroad, together with the famous Island Route from Cheboygan to Petoskey, to the Les Cheneaux Islands, Mackinac, Sault Ste Marie, Top-in-a-bee, etc. There is a delightful little landscape of the famous Huron river, that hurries by our fair city, but Ann Arbor has no place in the book, and has to be content by having Ypsilanti given that prominence—all because of the ill-smelling mineral wells which our eastern suburb glories over. The book is one that every person who is thinking about taking a vacation, should have. Call on the Michigan Central station agent, H. W. HAYES, Ann Arbor.

no trees

Walk through an old dense forest and you see nothing but trees, and in spring a host of things will shoot from the ground. These did not appear before because every thing was not favorable for their growth.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, prevents consumption because it keeps the system in such good condition that things are not favorable for the growth of the germs of that disease. Cod-liver oil makes rich blood; and the hypophosphites strengthen nerves.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been endorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby.

Unfair Treatment Accorded the Normals in the Intercollegiate Sports.

According to the following article taken from Monday's Washtenaw Evening Times' Ypsilanti correspondence, the Normal athletes received very unfair treatment at the intercollegiate sports last week:

"It was a pure case of freeze out for Albion and the Normals at the intercollegiate sports last week. Hillsdale and Kalamazoo put up a neat combination which worked as smoothly as a three-shell game. Kalamazoo had been beaten by Hillsdale for the Brackett cup and what they most desired then was the relay race championship. Albion was most feared in this race and she had to be put out of the way in some manner. The Normals were most feared by Hillsdale in the baseball championship and the pedagogues were considered as the proper receptacles of a soup tete-a-tete with Albion. Curtis, of the Normals, was protested on the grounds that he had not been identified with the school long enough and although Prof. Barbour was present and showed the board of directors that he had been a student a sufficient length of time to entitle him to play, the protest was allowed and he was disqualified, which disqualified the whole team as they could not continue without their catcher. This made the way clear sailing for the Hillsdales, who eventually won the cup. In return for Kalamazoo's help in this scheme, Hillsdale proceeded to do her share of dirty work on the board of directors.

Albion was entered in the relay race strongly, but in the contest the first Albion man was continually fouled by Kalamazoo's runner crowding him to the pole and continually poking him back with his elbow and fist. Kalamazoo came in first and Albion protested but it counted for naught. Kalamazoo voted the relay race by the directors and Hillsdale the Brackett cup for one year. The Normals came very near drawing out of the league, but finally decided to continue their membership."

Your Boy Went Live a Month.

So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 34 Mill St., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had Lung trouble, following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying: "Your boy went live a month." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles restored him to health and enabled him to go to work a perfectly well man. He says he owes his present good health to use of Dr. King's New Discovery, and knows it to be the best in the world for Lung trouble. CROSS-EXAMINATION

Could Not Weaken Such Testimony As This.

(From the Kalamazoo Telegraph.) The following statement is one of great interest to many a citizen of Kalamazoo, and a man as well known as Mr. Wallace should carry more than ordinary weight with our readers. Here it is as taken down by our representative: "My name is John A. Wallace. I am a member of the firm of J. A. Wallace & Co., doing business as tinners, etc., at 106 Eleanor Street, Kalamazoo, in which city I also reside. For the past nine or ten months I have been having attacks of kidney complaint, the pain in my back over my hips was very severe at times; my urinary system was also in a bad state of derangement, sometimes the urine was scanty and then again the amount would be excessive, and a difficulty of passage always existed. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills at a time when I felt that I was going to be sick, but their use worked off an attack, and I am now feeling very much better; the urinary organism has regained a normal condition, and the terrific pain in my back is much reduced in severity, while it is now fast going away altogether. I am continuing the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, with positive feeling that they will effect on me a permanent and speedy cure. I have unbounded confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills as a remedy for all kidney ailments; have good reason to be, as they have done so much for me."

Can you ask any more than this? Doan's Kidney Pills are relieving more backs of the burdens they have been forced to bear through the kidneys than all other means devised, and, better still, they are doing this right here in Michigan. Ask any one who has ever taken them and see what they will say. Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers, price, 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Mrs. Julia B. Stannard's Address. In making the presentation to the Washtenaw Pioneer and Historical Society of the saddlebags used by her late father, Judge Samuel W. Dexter, Mrs. Julia B. Stannard used the following words at the pioneer meeting in Chelsea last week: Mr. President, Ladies, and Gentlemen, pioneers of Washtenaw county: I rejoice to be with you at another annual meeting of old time friends, these are the happy days; as we journey toward the setting sun of life, today, we think and speak of the past, with all its pleasant memories. At this annual meeting these lines of the poet seem appropriate:

"We're growing old," they tell us, Every year; "We're more alone," they tell us, Every year; "We can win no new affection, We have only recollection, Deeper sorrow and dejection, Every year." Too true—life's shores are shifting, Every year; And are we seaward drifting, Every year; Old places, changing, fret us, The living more forget us, Every year. But the truer life life draws nigher, Every year; And its morning star climbs higher, Every year; Earth's hold on us grows slighter, And its weary burdens lighter, And the dawn immortal brighter, Every year.

It is an honor and a pleasure to me to present to the Pioneer and Historical Society of Washtenaw county, a relic of olden times. I am commissioned by my mother, Mrs. Millicent Dexter, who sends kindest greetings to friends of olden times, to transfer to your kind care and keeping, the saddle bags which were used by my father, Samuel W. Dexter, to carry the mail between Ann Arbor and Dexter, in the year 1827, and for some time after that date. As I look at this family keepsake, I think of the loving messages which were there carried, from the dear old New England homes, to those brave pioneers, and the answers to those letters, telling of the new homes in Michigan, and of life in a new country. The spirit of cheerful self-denial exhibited by the men and women of those times, should ever be an inspiration to self forgetfulness. The postage upon letters was twenty-five cents, if the distance was over three hundred miles, but my father, thinking that was too much for the new settlers to pay, always returned one-half of it. And now, Mr. President, I present to your society this relic of sixty-nine years ago.

Mr. G. A. Stillson, a merchant of Tampico, Ill. writes, August 10th, 1891: "Clinic Kidney Cure is meeting with wonderful success. It has cured some cases here that physicians pronounced incurable. I myself am able to testify to its merits. My face today is a living picture of health, and Clinic Kidney Cure has made it such. I had suffered twenty-seven years with the disease, and today I feel ten years younger than I did one year ago. I can obtain some wonderful certificates of its medical qualities." A. E. Last month Surveyor Main, who was with Benham when the glasses were lost, happened in the locality and concluded to hunt for them. He cleared away the brush and undergrowth at random and found the glasses. It was simply by chance that the right spot was picked upon. The glasses were uninjured.—Times.

Chelsea Will Have Waterworks.

Frank P. Glazier is one of Chelsea's most enterprising business men, and is always looking out for the interest of his village. He is foremost in all village enterprises and has done much to make Chelsea the most thriving of Michigan villages. It is due, by the way, to the possession of such energetic, wide awake and progressive business men that Chelsea has made such great strides in progress. Mr. Glazier's latest scheme will result in giving Chelsea an excellent system of waterworks, which will afford Chelsea protection from the disastrous fires which would have been bad set backs to any less progressive village than Chelsea. A contract has been entered into between the village council and Mr. Glazier under which Mr. Glazier is to construct a system of waterworks before October 1 of this year. The works are to be on the reservoir and pumping plant and mains are to be laid on Main street as far south as Summit street and on Middle street from Grant to Polk streets, and eight fire hydrants are to be placed along these mains. The village pays $1,105 rental, and if additional fire hydrants are to be put in $42 per year per hydrant. The council may order an extension of the fire mains at any time by putting an extra hydrant for every 700 feet of new main so ordered. The contract runs for ten years, and the village has the right to purchase the waterworks at any time it sees fit. If the price cannot be agreed upon between the parties, provision is made for disinterested arbitration as to the price. Provisions are also made for furnishing private individuals with water for sprinkling or manufacturing purposes at prices not higher than the average charge in other villages of Michigan.

Chelsea will now have waterworks, electric lights, telephone exchange and all the other modern improvements.

fine appearing man, of imposing personality, and one of the best presiding judges I ever knew. His public duties were discharged with great credit to himself, and he was able to render important services to the people in his several public capacities. He was a noble hearted man, well worth the universal esteem—almost reverence—in which he was held during all his later years." President Angell says of him: "He was a man of a wonderfully simple, transparent, beautiful character. Benevolence was a very marked trait in him and was most clearly written upon his face. I have been frequently impressed by the legal accuracy of his mind, and its thoroughly logical processes, and these qualities he maintained to the last moments. His writings are in a delightfully simple, clear, vigorous style."

The funeral services were held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The body lay in state from 10 to 1 o'clock on that day and many friends took their last look at one whom they esteemed so highly. The business places of the city were all closed as was the post-office by special direction of the department at Washington. The services at 3 o'clock were held at the house and were conducted by Rev. Henry Tatlock and Rev. J. M. Gelston, the beautiful Episcopal service being read. At the grave, the services were conducted by Rev. Lawrence T. Cole. Two beautiful solos were sung by Gerald Brown. The honorary pall bearers were Judge Cooley, President Angell, Governor Rich, ex-Gov. Luce, Judge Champlin, B. M. Thompson, Andrew Ten Brook, E. B. Pond, Rufus Waples and Raymond Davis. The active pall bearers were Judge Kiune, Dean D'Ooge, Dr. Herdman, Judge Harriman, John F. Lawrence and S. W. Clarkson. The Washenaw bar, the Monroe bar and the Ann Arbor council attended and there were present a number of distinguished men from different parts of the state.

WOMEN CAN NOW VOTE.

The Episcopal Diocese of Michigan Convention Lets Down the Bars.

A victory for women was scored at the Episcopal church convention held in Detroit last week and hereafter in the diocese of Michigan, they can vote at the annual parish meetings on any and all questions that effect the welfare of the church of which they are such faithful members. It took a lot of argument to settle it and the majority of the committee appointed to report on its advisability reported against it, but that faithful champion of the ladies' right to vote, Rev. R. D. Brooks, of spoke and labored earnestly in behalf of the movement, ably seconded by Rev. Dr. Prall, of Detroit, Rev. R. E. Macduff, of Flint, Elliott G. Stevenson, of Detroit and Gen. Withington, of Jackson, and others. The movement was bitterly opposed by Rev. Dr. McCarrroll, Rev. C. L. Arnold, Wm. C. Maybury and Jas. Smith, of Detroit, but when it came to a vote it was found that the clergy had sided with the women by a vote of 28 to 20, and the laity had done much better for them, the vote standing 36 to 15 in favor of the minority report recommending that women be allowed to vote.

The office of archdeacon was created, the holder of which will be ex-officio, vice president of the diocese, board of management and member ex-officio of each convention. He will be the representative of the bishop as chief missionary of the diocese, have charge of all missions, providing for their temporary supply within the limit of the annual appropriation and will hold missionary services in different parts of the state when so needed. He will collect the reports of all missionaries in the diocese and present them at each annual meeting. His salary will be $2,000 and traveling expenses.

It stirred up considerable feeling among some of the reverend gentlemen, notably Rev. Wm. Prall, who was afraid that the archdeacon would have priority over his ministerial brothers.

Rev. Henry Tatlock was reappointed dean of the southern convocation.

Rev. Henry Tatlock proposed a resolution, which was adopted, calling for the appointment of a committee to report at the next convention on the matter of so changing the canons that one-third and not the whole vestry of each parish be elected at the Easter elections. This insures continuity of policy and prevents any sudden changes. It is the law in the five dioceses in New York.

The convention then adjourned and will meet next year in Jackson.
