President James B. Angell, of the University of Michigan, has been appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary from the United States to Turkey. The appointment his acceptance of the position, a Washington dispatch says: 'The appointment of President Angell would have been made sooner than it was if the gentleman had consented. After the matter was broached to him by Senator McMillan he said he would have to know that the regents would consent to his absence, and that after that he would have to have assurances that the administration would back him up from the word go before he could undertake the ticklish job in Turkey. He received his assurances of solid support from McKinley very promptly, and as soon as enough regents had lingness to accept. This appointment will be the best of news to the American missionaries in selected by the missionary board of the Congregational church, wheh denomination has more missionaries in Turkey than any other, to press their claims for redress upon President Cleveland. It is an extremely delicate and important mission upon which Dr. Angell now goes, one of the most important foreign missions at the present time, and the minister has need of all the diplomacy and tact for which Dr. An- Spence will render Spohr's magnificent gell is noted. "Any afternoon one may see all around the edges of the chambers a fringe of dignified matrons and pretty young women, while here and there they are scattered among the seats, when a vacant chair next to husband or father gives the fair one a chance to sit close. A favorite spot for the ladies eems to be the corner immediately behind the seat of Representatives Sawyer, of Ann Arbor, and Peek, of Jackson. Mr. Sawyer is still a happy youth of about 50. He is stout and witty, and dances with all the grace of a youth of 20 when he repairs to the balls of the Knights of Pythias in Lansing. The ladies like him, and he shows his appreciaiton of their smiles by occasionally distributing candy for the delectation of his faithful visitors. The little nook behind Sawyer has grown to be

DEATH OF F. J. SWAINE.

A Well Known Ypsilantian Succumbs to a Brief Illness.

Frederick John Swaine, a well known and prominent citizen of Ypsilanti, died at his home in that city at 10:15 o'clock Wednesday evening after a brief ilness. Mr. Swaine was born in Westraham, Kent county, England, April 22, 1850. When 21 years old he made a pleasure trip to this country and coming to Ypsilanti to visit friends he was so pleased with the surroundings of the city that after a business trip to England he returned to Ypsilanti and has lived there ever since. His business was that of a maltster and he was well know through this section of the state in that connection.

In politics Mr. Swaine was a democrat and was for many years chairman of the city committee. At last fall's election he espoused the Sound Money side of the question and was at the head of the local club. He was a member of the F. & A. M., A. O. U. W., Knights of Honor and Arbeiter Verein. The funeral services will be held this afternoon and will be conducted by Rev. Wm. Gardam, rector of St. Luke's church. His wife and two daughters the Miss-

During the whole of his long illness he received the most unremitting attention and care from his mother and sisters, the doctors and nurses at the hospital and from the members of Otseningo Lodge, No. 295, I. O. O. F., and Ann Arbor Lodge, No. 352, B. P. O. Elks, of both of which or ders he was a member. His mother and three sisters are left to mourn his loss. The funeral was under the auspices of the I. Mr. Luce was born in Bermondsey, Loudon, England, and came to this country with his mother and sisters when a lad nine years of age. He was a very pleasant, industrious young man, a carpenter by trade, but was employed in S Rosenthaler's billiard hall at the time he was seized with his fatal illness, and was highly esteemed by his friends and acquaintan-

Had Both His Legs Broken.

On Saturday morning E. G. Banghart, who lives near the Quaker church, in Augusta township, met with a painful accident whereby both legs were broken below the knees. He was driving along on his way home from the Willis creamery and one of his neighbors was accompanying him. When he reached the neighbor's house the fellow jumped down from the wagon, which frightened the horses and they started to run. One of the boards on the wagon box pressed up against the haunches of one of the horses and the team became unmanageable. Mr. Banghart, in order to safe himself, jumped and both legs were broken below the knee. Dr. Batwell, of Ypsilanti, was summoned and set the fractured members. Mr. Banghart will be laid up for some time with his injuries.

Why Your Back is Lame-Why it Aches and Pains, and How to Cure it.

Do you know what it is to have a back that is never free from aches and constant pain, a lame back, a sore back, an aching back, in fact, a back that makes your life a burden? What have you done for it? And does it still keep you from the happiness that perfect health brings to all? We know full well if such is your condition a cure for it will be a blessing you no doubt desire. Plasters won't do it, but may assist in bringing strength. Liniment won't do it; for, while it may give temporary relief, it does not reach the cause.

The cause, there's the point; there's where to make the attack. Most backaches come from disordered kidneys, therefore you must correct their action if you would be cured. Read the following from D. D. Cook, whose address is No. 18 Michigan Street, Grand Rapids. He says:—
"I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and wish to say it is a truly great medicine. Thirty years ago I had nervous prostration while in the army, where I served for over four years. I think it was during this service that the seeds were sown which have caused all my trouble. Severe bilious attacks bothered me, and at such times my kidneys were worse. It is almost impossible to describe the pain which so often lamed me. I have been so lame that to stand up after I had been sitting down required a great exertion. Walking was at times an impossibility, even at night I did not rest, being forced to get up during the night. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and wondered if they could make an almost lame man well. I got some, and soon after taking them began to feel their good effects. I used them for some time, my lameness all left me and I have not felt it since. Doan's Kidney Pills have done me an inestimable amount of good."

STORY OF LITTLE AGNES.

BY A 12 YEARS OLD GIRL.

In a pretty little cottage situated about one and one-half miles from a large town lived Mrs. Carson and her little daughter Agnes. Mrs. Carson was a poor widow, and had to labor hard to provide for her little girl and herself.

Not far from their cottage lived a very rich lady and her little daughter Maude. This lady's name was Mrs. Johnson. It happened, I am sorry to relate, that Mrs. Johnson would not allow Maude to play or have anything to do with little Agnes Carson, because she said that Agnes' mother was very poor and did not dress her daughter nice enough to be seen with her little daughter Maude.

One day when Agnes came home from school she told her mother that there was a school picnic to be held in a small wood not far from their cottage, and she kept teasing her mother to allow her to go, who would not listen to her going. "You have no clothes to wear anywhere, so you must not ask me to let you go," she said. But Agnes said that she would wear her plain white dress and she didn't care if the other children did make fun of her. At last her mother gave her leave to happy day to come. Finally the day his own words is as follows: came and what a beautiful one it was. The sun shone brightly and the wind blew just enough to make that summer day a very cool and pleasant one.

The rest of the children there were dressed very prettily in their muslins and lawns. Maude Johnson locked very pretty in her muslin and laces; but Agnes looked far nicer in her little cotton dress, which her mother had taken so much pains in washing and ironing. The children had a merry time playing games. Near where they were playing was a small lake. Maude was standing near the dge of the water when somebody an up against her and knocked her nto the water. The children were frightened, and stood around the place with upraised hands, all but Agnes, who being not in the least bit daunted ran forward and plunging into the water soon bore Maude unconscious bat alive to the dry land. Many of those standing near saw Agnes perform the brave act, but they said nothing to her. When she reached home she told her mother the whole story. That night her mother thanked God for giving her daughter strength to perform this noble

The next day Maude and her mother The next day Maude and her mother went over to see Mrs. Carson and little into the enemy and my mule was shot Agnes, and you may be sure that lady was very grateful to Agnes for her noble act. She brought them over some very nice clothing and money and Mrs. Carson and Agnes were not too proud to take the gifts. Maude and Agnes now visit each other nearly every day. Mrs. Carson and Agnes are going to live with Mrs. Johnson and her daughter and you may imagine how happy our little heroine will be L. M. M.

Nourishing Gruels.

Nourishing gruels are always in demand for delicate persons as well as invalids Those most called for are of Indian meal or oatmeal. For oatmeal gruel put into a pan over the fire a quart of boiling water, add to it 2 tablespoonfuls of oatmeal by sifting it in slowly between the fingers, stirring all the while. When well mixed cover the saucepan and place it at the back of the fire, where it will simmer for two hours. Season with salt enough to make it palatable and sweeten it if desired. Strain it through a medium fine sieve. To a small teacup two-thirds full of this hot gruel add a teaspoonful of cream when serving it to an invalid. Indian meal gruel is made by mixing 2 level tablespoonfuls of meal with half a spoonful of flour, stirring into the dry ingredients half a cup of cold water before mixing them with a quart of boiling water. Let this mixture cook slowly at the back of the fire two hours, stirring it occasionally to prevent its sticking to the bottom of the pan, season generously with salt, a very little sugar and a suspicion of nutmeg. This gruel should also be served with cream, like the oatmeal gruel.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The Mount Lebanon Shakers have invented a great many valuable things. They were the first to make brooms by machinery; the first to put up seeds in little packages; the first to manufacture cut nails.

Now they are out with a method of curing dyspepsia by resting the stomach. Their remedy is known as the Shaker Digestive Cordial. It supplies food in an artificially digested form and at the same time aids the digestion of other foods in the stomach. In other words, by the use of the Sha ker Digestive Cordial, a dyspeptic virtually gets along without the use of his stomach until it is is restored to its natural strength and vigor. A single 10 cent bottle will oft-times give marked relief. Get a bottle from your druggist and try it.

SKATING IN OLD DAYS.

How the Sport Became Popular In New York City.

While skating is now one of the most seh. popular sports of the winter season it is only comparatively a few years since it has become so in this city. When the Central park was being constructed in 1860 and the small artificial lake at Fifty-ninth street was nearly completed. the park commissioners announced that it would be thrown open for the use of skaters. A few men took advantage of the invitation, but women could not be induced to go on the ice. The skates then in use were of the most antique pattern, some of the runners extending a long way in front of the foot, ending in a ringlike curl. In a crowd these skates were quite dangerous, and the first year skating was anything except

During the next winter the larger lake at the upper end of the mall was in such condition that it could be used for skating. Here there was more room for the sport, but still the women could not be induced to venture on the ice. 3281. Frank M. Daniels, 46, Yp- A number of gentlemen determined to the New York Skating club, having a regulation patterned'skate, almost even with the sole of the boot, which was laced up tight to the ankle, while the objectionable strap was done away with, the runner being fixed to the sole while in use by a ball and socket and held firmly with a clamp. These became popular that winter with the men, and a lighter kind was made for women. The prejudice, however, still existed among the latter, until the club invited a lady, who was a fine skater, from Portland, Me., to visit the Central park and skate with the club. This dress, similar to that worn in winter by women skaters in Europe, and she created such a sensation by her artistic result was that before the season ended several young ladies were induced by the club to venture on the ice, and the season of 1862-3 found many, with

A French physician has invented a method by which he says iron can be given in large doses. Hens, he noticed, have powerful internal organs. They can digest considerable quantities of iron and then render it back, through the albumen of their eggs, in a form which is easily digested by the weaker stomach of mankind. So he feeds his hens with what he calls "a very absorbent salt of iron," mingled with grains of wheat, and they lay eggs extremely rich in iron already digested.

THE MARINE ENGINEER.

An Officer With Vast Responsibilities Who Seldom Gets Credit.

From the time, less than 60 years ago, when the first steam vessel crossed the Atlantic the evolution of the marine engineer has been rapid, but he is the one class of marine craftsman that, above all others, has kept pace with the developments of this fast speeding age, and he stands today the most finished product of a century that has created more new types and more new occupations than any that has preceded it. The marine engineer today is more important than any deck officer, but his importance is as little recognized by the nonseafaring man as his identity is concealed from the view of those who travel in ships. Down in the bowels of the vessel, he controls not only the propulsion, but the steering, lighting, pumping, anchoring, ventilation of the modern marine structure, and on the warship he is even responsible for the manipulation of heavy guns. The eyes that steer the ship are those of the officer of the watch, but the brain that guides the ship to her destination and regulates her internal economy is the brain of the marine engineer. His is the real responsibility, and, we are afraid, his is the least share of the honor that is given to those who serve their country or their employers with courage and devotion on the sea

All the world heard of the gallantry of Captain Kane of the Calliope in working his ship out of the Samoa anchorage in the teeth of a cyclone. Honest Failures.

No greater opportunity is afforded amenities of business than in a case of distress of his fellow man who has honestly failed in business. I say honestly failed because there are many such failures. These are the times when the commercial vultures descend beside the Christian Samaritan, one as the commercial gravedigger, the other as the physician with the balm of fellowship and brotherhood. The first will try to squeeze the lifeblood, but the second will stand and demand that, although it is stipulated in the bond that a pound of flesh shall be forfeited, one extra that which he might have received. Swedenborg said, "Charity itself consists in acting justly and faithfully in whatever office, business and employment a person is engaged in."—Hard-

An Old Proverb.

The proverb, "Necessity is the mother of invention," can hardly be traced to one independent source. The idea was expressed by Persius, the Roman satirist, about 60 A. D. and is found in the precise form now quoted in Richard Franck's "Northern Memoirs" (printed in London in 1694) and in various later English writers.

Wolcott, Paine and Stevenson to Visit Foreign Countries.

ACT AUTHORIZED BY CONGRESS.

The Mission of the Envoys Is to Bring About an International Monetary Agreement-Chandler's Scheme to Have the Government Seize Big Plants and Turn Out Armor Plate and Afterward Compensate the Owners-Washington Notes.

Washington, April 13.—One of the first acts of the president after his return to

Washington Monday was the appointment of three envoys to foreign governments to bring about an international monetary agreement. Senator Edward O. Wolcott of Colorado, Charles J. Paine of Massachusetts, and Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, former vice president of the United States, are the envoys named. The authority for these appointments was found in the monetary conference act passed by congress in February and approved by President Cleveland the day before he retired from office. This act provided that whenever the president should determine that the United States should be represented at any international conference called with a view to securing by international agreement a fixity of relative values between gold and silver as five or more such commissioners to such Authority for the Call.

money he was authorized to appoint

The act also provided that the president might call such conference in the name of the government of the United States to assemble at such point as might be agreed upon. It also contained the folowing paragraph under which the three envoys were named: 'And he is further authorized, if in his judgment the purpose specified in the first section hereof can thus be better attained, to appoint only one or more special commissioners or envoys to such of the nations of Europe as he may designate, to seek by diplomatic negotiations an international agreement for the purpose specified in the first section hereof. And in case of such appointment so much of the appropriation herein made as shall be necessary shall be available for the proper expenses and compensation of such commissioners or envoys."

Will Include Walcott's Trip. It is not known what nations of Euope will be designated by the president for these envoys to visit, but the countries recently visited by Senator Wolcott will be included. Senator Wolcott found on his visit to Europe that he was handicapped by the absence of any authority to represent this government. On his return early in March he had a long conference with the president, and convinced him that much more could be gained by envoys officialcommissioned by the United States. Though the act of congres fixed no time for the selection of envoys and eft the whole matter to the discretion of the president, after hearing the report decided to appoint the envoys at the earliest possible moment. CHANDLER HAS A PLAN.

Would Have Government Turn Out Armor Plate at Carnegie's.

Washington, April 13.—Senator Chander of New Hampshire said Monday night that he would introduce two bills directing the government authorities to take possession of the great armor plate factories of Carnegie, Phipps & Co. (Limited) at Homestead, Pa., and of ernment forces until all the armor place needed to equip the new battleships have been completed.

The bills will further provide that then the work is completed, suit shall e begun in the usual way before the court of claims for compensating the two companies for the use of their factories, and that on a report from the court of claims to congress, an appropriation shall be made to reimburse them. These measures are the sequel to the recent failures of the navy department to secure bids from the Carnegie and the Bethlehem works for armor plate within the rate specified by congress, $300 a ton.

Washington, April 13.—A letter from Secretary Gage was received by the senate Tuesday responding to the resolution of inquiry as to orders issued to customs officers to delay liquidation of entries made of merchandise arriving after April 1 last. The secretary plains that the order is in accordance with authority conferred on him by law. ollowing the reading of the letter Vest of Missouri presented a resolution de-claring that the order "is without authority of law, and in violation of the ounce of blood will cause the loss of statutes and customs regulations governing the payment of import duties at the ports of entry where the same may be collected." LABORERS UNDER COURT BAN. Striking Wire Factory Employes Forbid-

Cleveland, April 13.-Deputy United States marshals broke into a meeting of striking employes of the Consolidated Wire company Monday night and served writs of injunction upon all the men present. Pending the hearing of the case the Rod Mill Workers' association of the United States and the local strikers by name are forbidden to interfere with the working of the plant, and even from congregating near the works. The writs were allowed by Judge Sage, who was applied to by the company in the absence of Judge Ricks, who is in California. Saturday night the company made a proposition to the workmen which the latter had under consideration Monday night, when the deputy marshals interrupted the meeting. The writs were secretly obtained on April 9, and is claimed they were withheld until a favorable opportunity presented itself to demoralize the strikers. The management of the strike is now in the hands of President Eberhorn of Chicago, the chief officer of the consolidated company. The strikers claim that the company had already lost the strike, and that in a last effort to recover lost ground the injunction was applied for The Central Labor union will take up the matter and arrange for the em-

New York, April 13.—General Julio Sanguilly, accompanied by his son, arrived in the city Monday night from Florida, and went at once to the house of his brother-in-law, Edelberto Farres. In an interview he said: "When I started about ten days ago for a trip weather, as the damp atmosphere then prevailing in this city was very annoying to me, troubled as I am with rheumatism, and old wounds. It was not, as reported, to go to Cuba. Interviews with me as printed by some papers, did not take place as alleged."

Airship Mystery.

THE BOBBING MOTION EXPLAINED.

Position of the Eight in the Heavens and the Hour of Setting Coincide with Those strong love of country, which has of the Star Betelguese-Engineer Says He Saw the Airship in Daylight Traveling at the Rate of 150 Miles an Hour-Seen by Others.

Appleton, Wis., April 13.-Arthur C. Lunn of Lawrence university watched the supposed airship carefully Monday night, and, after calculation has proven beyond a doubt that the supposed ship is the star Betelguese in the constallation Orion. There was some excitement on the streets Monday night when a peculiar light was seen in the west. The light was no larger than a large star, but changed color from red o a piercing white, closely resembling an electric searchlight at several miles distant. What was even more peculiar the "airship" seemed to bob up and down with at times a lateral motion When still some degrees above the horizon, it disappeared, reappeared again in an instant, and finally became invis ible. Students of Lawrence university who saw the phenomenon called up C. Lunn, recognized as an expert ir tronomy by all the members of the ulty, and he took close observations of the star, as he termed it.

Calculations Coincide.

The star finally set at 10:40 and Mr Lunn recorded the angular distance from the west point, together with the time of the apparent setting of the star over the sensible horizon. Tuesday afternoon Mr. Lunn calculated the angular position and setting time of the real star, taking the mean of the atmospheric refraction. The two calculations the one on the airship and the star Be-telguese, coincide within the posible limit of error in the eye estimate, which is very low. Mr. Lunn made a very comprehensive explanation of the illusion, saying that Betelguese is a red star with a light of a quality that greatly exaggerates the twinkle of all stars when it is near the horizon. Atmospheric disturbances easily occur and in a moment's time will make the at mosphere much more dense, causing a greater refraction of some of the light rays. When, for example, two red rays near together in the spectrum are re fracted so that at a given point there is a certain difference in the wave length, interference occurs and neither Explains the Different Colors.

This, with other phenomena of re-fraction, explains the different colors manifested by the star and the same principle of refraction also explains the apparent vertical vibration of the star which Mr. Lunn gave as being Monday night at least 35 minutes. A lateral vibration was also noticed and though not so evident, was still present. This vibration is now being studied by as tronomers at Yale college. Mr. Lunn explained the movement stated from southeast to northwest in the following manner: The first appearance in the southeast might be due to the rising of Antares, a red star of the same magnitude of Alpha Orionis; and after it has risen, the western star is seen going through the same movement in the northwest. While rising in the east, the stars pass the meridian considerably to the south of this latitude.

AIRSHIP SEEN IN DAY TIME.

An Engineer Estimates That It Travels 150 Miles an Hour.

Burlington, Ia., April 13.—Engineer states that when he left Chicago Monday morning he saw a huge machine in the sky moving along in the same direction as his train. He watched it for a few minutes and then was compelled to give his undivided attention to his engine for five or ten minutes. When he again looked out the ship was some distance ahead. He said that the train was going at the rate of seventy miles an hour at the time and that when he reached Lisle, Ills., the ship was lost sight of, being many miles ahead. Mr. Bullard thought that this aerial schoon er must have been traveling at the rate of 150 miles per hour.

Seen at New Carlisle, Ind.

New Carlisle, Ind., April 13.-Fully 100 residents of this place saw what they call an airship going in a northwesterly direction at 8:30 o'clock Monday night. The vessel was probably 500 feet above the earth and was moving rapidly. At one time the craft rose slowly and afterward seemed to drop a long distance. In addition to the headlight smaller lights of blue, green and red were seen at the ship's stern. The ship was in sight at least ten minutes. So many people saw it that there is no disputing the fact. Moline People See It Twice.

Moline, Ills., April 13.—The so-called airship has been twice seen within two days by reputable citizens of Moline and vicinity. Saturday night the thing hovered over this city and finally disappeared to the northward. Monday morning about 8:30 the craft itself was seen by farmers living on the Rock river bottom, three miles south of here They describe it as having a cigarshaped body with broad wing-like at-

Thought Prayer Would Save Her.

Ligonier, Ind., April 13.—Mrs. John Miller, living north of Bremen, died after a week's illness. She was not attended by physicians, and trusted entirely to the efficacy of prayer for re-covery. Her sufferings were intense, but she was firm in her belief that divine supplication would work a miracle, and a Chicago faith healer was appealed to. He appointed an hour for prayer, during which Mrs. Miller declared she experienced relief, but a few hours later her agony was ended by strengthened with each year of her life abroad for 25 years, Mrs. Field has lived a life of self renunciation in London. In her own homesick heart she has borne the sufferings of her compatriots and done much to alleviate them. Her social position in England is of the highest, but Mrs. Field's life has been devoted to her husband and children, and she has found little time until recently to

But for the most part she has given her time to the conscientious discharge of her home duties. Elizabeth Lloyd Field is the daughter of Richard Lloyd of Boston. Her grandfather, Robert Lloyd, came over from England in 1812, leaving large estates in Yorkshire. Mrs. Field will return to England in the spring. To make a perfectly wholesome lettuce cream pour a quart of boiling water over half a peck of the full grown outside green leaves of several heads of lettuce. After the lettuce has stood a moment drain off the water and chop the lettuce fine. Put it in a clean towel and wring out all the juice that can be extracted. Only the dry pulp will be left in the towel.

Put this juice in a small saucepan of bright tin and boil it down for two or three minutes. There should be about three tablespoonfuls of the green liquor. Set this aside. Procure half an ounce each of white wax and of spermaceti and 4 ounces of oil of almonds from a thoroughly trustworthy druggist. Put the materials in a large cup and set the cup in a pan of boiling water. The water should reach to the same depth as the materials in the cup. Let the wax and spermaceti slowly melt into the oil. Stir it occasionally. When the mixture is perfectly smooth and no lumps remain, add the lettuce juice and stir the F. L. Bullard, on engine No. 950 of the mixture thoroughly. New Orleans, April 13.—Davis island, a 5,000-acre tract in midriver off Warren county, Miss., is reported to be flooded. Word reached here that the levees on the island's northern end had broken through, letting the water have full sweep the whole length of the isl-

Davis island had 2,500 inhabitants when the flood began, but many of them have been moving since. Only Monday morning the steamer St. Joseph arrived at St. Joseph, La., having been detailed at Ursinal plantation on Davis island, taking on women and children and mules, cattle and other domestic animals.

Planters Were Not Frightened.

It was not apparent to the people on the boat that the planters were panicstricken. It was ascertained, however, that they feared the levees would not stand much longer, though every effort had been made to hold them. The water had overtopped them in several places causing an exodus to take place. Davis island is not within the limits of any na, and in doing so threatenes to de stroy property to the value of several million dollars. Monday night the river broke through its banks about mile above where it left the old chan-nel twenty years ago, and is running two broad streams across what were fertile market gardens. These streams run into Florence lake, a relic of a former cut off. From Florence lake the water is pouring into Cut Off lake and it now seems only a question of a few hours until East Omaha is moved into Iowa and all the property in line of the flood is swept away.

BadState of Affairs in the Sunflower River District.

Vicksburg. Miss., April 13.—The steamer Lake Palmyra has arrived with two barges, boat and barges loaded with refugees and their stock from Sunflower river. The people coming out are mostly the families of planters, only a few negroes being on board. The boat returned to that section loaded with supplies. Her passengers report a very bad state of affairs there, but nothing like what had been apprehended, there being no loss of life.

The people have looked after themselves in true overflow style, getting on rafts in some instances, and into the gins in others. There is great loss of cattle, however. Old planters say the present overflow is the worst they have ever known, and there is much depression on account of the fear that it will be impossible to make a crop in this section.

About Catching Fish.

To those who think they have a right to catch fish in whatever manner they be of benefit: Since the fish and game law of 1893 was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, it has been supposed by many that the entire law regarding the spearing of fish in inland lakes was void. But a late opinion of the Attorney General declares that the law of 1891 is still in force and that it is unlawful for anyone to catch or kill any fish in any inland lake except with hook and line. A person found upon the waters of any lake with spear, net, trap net, set line, artificial light, dynamite, powder or anything explosive, shall be deemed prima facie evidence of a violation of the law, and on conviction may be fined $25 or imprisonment for 30 days.
