THEY DISCUSSED TAXATION

At the Meeting of the Webster and Salem Farmers' Club.

In response to a cordial invitation of several weeks ago, from the Salem Farmers' Club, the Webster Farmers' Club met on Wednesday at the residence the roads leading to Mr. Savery's were alive with teams and before the call for the well prepared noon feast sounded, over half a hundred carriages had deposited their loads of human freight at the place of meeting.

The entertainment was a royal one. Mr. and Mrs. Savery proved themselves masters of the situation and there seemed to be nothing left undone on the part of the Salem people to make the Websterites feel that they had fallen into good hands. The flow of sociability after dinner was over was exceedingly strong and President Smith delayed his call to order somewhat because of the apparent social enjoyment.

Rev. Hanaford, pastor of the Salem Congregational church, gave what was evidently a hurriedly prepared address on "Taxation," calling attention to the fact that taxes are made doubly burdensome through the scheming of our county officials, especially in the fee system, and their disposition to simply be pieces of ornamentation while the more poorly paid chap does the work. 'If these officials are there for the mere honor, let them take that commodity for their pay. It is sometimes the case. you know, that candidates for social positions are glaringly incompetent, yet their friends help them out by saying, 'Oh, the clerk does the work.' lighten the burden of taxation this thing should cease and let these officials earn this money as people in general do." The address was well delivered and received with favor by the large assembly. E. A. Nordman, Geo. S. Wheeler and Rev. Thrasher each seemed to agree in neatly made allusions to the address, and each gave fine suggestions on the subject. But it remained for Cyrus M. Starks to present contrary opinions. He pictured the individual who was not in sympathy with the existing conditions as fault finders, grumblers, and also used a large amount of elocutionary maneuvering to picture out the long populist. Fine music, elegant people, a sunin the evening at the exercises held shiny day, a genial host and hostess, there. Seats had been reserved for the all combined to make this gathering one long to be remembered by the Webster Club with pleasure.

Lioness and Puppy.

Here is a tale of a strange animal friendship told by a writer in a recent issue of The Westminster Gazette. The story is unique. According to the writer, a lioness that was kept in captivity in Somaliland adopted a bull terrier. There were several bull terrier puppies near the place where she was confined, and once in awhile the little fellows would come close to the cage. Then she would snarl, and the puppies would scamper back, but there was one that seemed to have the good will of the lionness, for one day when he approached the cage, instead of growling, she showed signs of pleasure.

The puppy was encouraged, and after blinking at the lioness he walked boldly was expecting to see the puppy quickly spelled Steinkohl.-Plymouth killed, the lioness stretched out her huge paw and gently drew the dog in. Always glad to illumine the derrick The little fellow was delighted with his reception, and he snuggled into her warm fur and has remained with her ever since. The curious thing is that the lioness will have nothing to do with the other puppies. If they come to the cage to see how their little brother is getting along, she growls at them in tones so loud and menacing that they are frightened off. Meanwhile the adopted puppy is treated by the lioness

TEN TIMES ROUND THE EARTH. Norman Ayers Has Traveled That Distance on the A. A. & Y.

The oldest man in point of service Five Little Ones Perish in a Burnon the motor line between Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti is Norman Ayers. He commenced in August, 1890, and has consequently been running on the road about six years and nine months. Dur. ing the regime of the old steam motor he made five trips a day for one week and seven the alternate thus averaging six trips a day. On every other Sun day he would make six trips also. This lasted for six years and three months. Counting 313 week days in a year, for six and one-fourth years with six trips a day and 7.76 miles from the car barns to the Ann Arbor junction this would make 91,033 miles he traversed. But in going to the junction he must necessarily have returned to the Ypsilanti barns for the next trip and consequently this distance must be just doubled for the round trips, and there results 182,-166 miles.

them. This nest the great crested flythe house, every twig and straw. They cleaned the house out completely and tled down comfortably for the summer. "But in a few days a pair of bluebirds came along, and they made for this house. It might have been the same identical pair of bluebirds that occupied it the summer before. I don't know about that, though I have no doubt that robins and other birds that have been south for the winter, hundreds of miles away, do come back in the spring to the same places and to the same trees. Anyhow this pair of bluebirds wanted that birdhouse, and they were ready to fight for it, and that is what they did. The flycatcher is a nice little bird and a pretty plucky sort of a fighter, but not a match for the bluethe house, and finally the bluebirds pitched the flycatchers out, and later they pitched out every stick of furniture that the flycatchers had brought in, cleaned the house out entirely and then brought in fresh material and built a new nest according to their own ideas, and they settled down for the summer. "Well, a few days after that a pair of wrens came along, and they took a the tally-ho until it was too late to fancy to that particular birdhouse, too, avoid the collision. Engineer Colligan and they sailed right in and tackled the bluebirds on the spot. You couldn't see the fight from the ground, but every now and then you could see a straw or a feather shoot out of the front door of the house. The bluebird is a good, sound fighter, but the wren is a better one, and the upshot was that the wrens fairly put the bluebirds out and took possession of the birdhouse themselves. And then the wrens did just what the others had done. They pitched out every scrap of stuff in the birdhouse-just tumbled it out of the door, to fall on the ground-and then they brought in new stuff and built a nest for themselves.

"Nobody molested the wrens. They staid there and raised their young there, and in the fall they all flew away and left the birdhouse again deserted for the winter."-New York Sun.

DISCOUNTING THE LABOR BILLS

An evil has grown up in this city on the laboring man, will some day, unless stopped, give rise to some interesting legal complications.

One bank in this city during the past among about 125 men. From inquiry among the laboring men the discount On bills less than $5, 5 cents; from $5 to $10, 10 cents; from $10 to $15, 15 cents; from $15 to $20, 20 cents. One man, for instance, got 25 cents for a 30 cent bill. But the scale has been detail. And then there are Sawyer and cents discount on a $17.94 bill; bank getting the 75 cents on the following Tuesday noon.

The Argus is not finding fault with the banks. These bills are merely bills, may never be audited. But the laboring men cannot afford to discount the pro- term. ceeds of their labor at any such rate The man who collected 25 cents on a 30 cent bill, about the middle of the month, pays the bank interest for that 65 cents was paying interest at the cases.

The whole principle is wrong. The general government does not allow its employees to assign their wages. It council to ask the banks to take these time slips? No power under the not audit bills, why should a bank be elegate its duty to pass on all bills.

Sawyer, Atkinson, Gordon and Thompson Were "The Whole Thing." He who would write the history of the legislature of 1897 must, if he desires to be strictly accurate, describe it as having consisted of four men-and no more. These four men who have constituted the legislature are William D. Gordon, A. J. Sawyer and John Atkinson in the house and William G. members have, for the most part, been familiarized himself with Maine polipawns, to be moved wheresoever the four players might direct. When it is considered that three of these four distinct legislative elements are opposed to Gov. Pingree and to his measures, discounting city bills for street labor, and that only one of them is a supporter etc., which besides the injustice done of the governor, the history of that part of the session dealing with constructive legislation is quickly told. Every Pingree measure was of necessity a 3 to 1 shot, to use the lingo of the book. makers, and while 3 to 1 shots somemonth has discounted 364 labor bills times win, it is a matter of record that amounting to $2,344.15, divided such a winning did not take place during this session.

These four men who are the legislature are not without ambitions, apart scale seems to be about as follows: from their work as law-makers and On hills less than $5, 5 cents; from $5 law-killers for the state. There is the speaker, who has his federal job picked out, and, if rumor be correct, may have ito n call. The job that has been promised to Thompson has been discussed in greater at times. One man paid a 25 Atkinson, the rivals on the floor of the Blaine. house. The suave, smooth, oleaginous Sawyer is said to be harboring an am. about?" another paid 10 cents to get a 75 cent bition to represent the second district in bill discounted on Saturday night, the congress, to do which it will be necessary to retire the good George Spalding, he of the safe bimetallic remedy. The cynical, sarcastic, scorpion-tongued Atkiuson is also open to the soft impeachment of cherishing a desire to reptime slips of the street commissioner, resent the first district in congress, disnot audited by the council, and which placing the rowboat statesman who believes the interests of the state will suf-the only conspicuous figures on the floor of the house, and a pretty pair of opponents they make, too. Sawyer is unhalf month at the rate of 480 per cent maker in the legislature. No other reception, there being large crowds per annum. The man who discounted characterizaiton fits him, except the ex- everywhere, and he never had a more his 75 cent bill Saturday night to get pression: "He's a mighty nice old fellow." He has an affable manner, a smile that is saint-like and a smoothly. yearly rate of about 1850 per cent. Of shaven face that properly exhibited at a course these may be said to be extreme series of missionary meetings would enable its owner to clean up not less than a million dollars for the benefit of the heathen. Ever a forceful, convincing speaker is Sawyer, and when he talks he usually has the attention of the enwould be bad for their employees if tire house. When not engaged in mildthey did. Why should the city encour- ly puncturing Pingree legislation or age the assigning of claims against it? eloquently championing his own measures, Sawyer sits smilingly at his desk Why should the street commissioner and gives tone to the "amen corner," give out time slips for the men to get which, by reason of his sprightly con their money on? What right has the versation, has become as popular as the salon of a Parisian blue stocking in the days of the last Louis.

While Atkinson is not always listened heavens can pass on city bills but the to respectfully, he is listened to attencommon council. The clerk cannot tively. He can always command the andit bills, the finance committee can- attention of the house, and his words are always acid in the wounds of the opposition. There is ever sorrow in allowed to audit bills? The council the "amen corner" when Atkinson has cannot give it such a right. They have the floor. Chamberlain and Dudley no right to pass a resolution ordering squirm in unison, and it is noticeable and bank to cash labor time slips at that the smile of Sawyer's face loses face value. These time slips have no speaker is putty in the hands of the face value. The council can in no way colonel, and Gordon is apt to breathe much easier after Atkinson has finished

BLAINE'S MEMORY.

NEVER FORGOT A FACE OR THE NAME OF AN ACQUAINTANCE.

The Wedding Notice He Wrote When an Editor - Some Striking Incidents That Were Related by Ex-Governor Cumback of Indiana.

Upon taking editorial charge of the Thompson in the senate. The other 123 Kennebec Journal Mr. Blaine soon tics by studying the files of The Journal, and he studied them closely as far back as 1825. By this means he soon became the best posted man in the state on Maine politics, and he was looked upon as authority. His able editorials during the campaign bringing up political matters of the past showed careful research, and they were copied widely. It was while editor of The Journal that he was one day stopped on the street by an old lady whom he had never seen before and asked to write up the wedding of her daughter, which occurred the night before.

Blaine had served his time in congress and went to Maine to speak dur-ing his campaign, when at the close of his speech he began shaking hands with speech he began shaking hands with hands with began shaking hands with her ris, who sent them to jail for 10 and 15 st., for a few days. the masses crowded around him. An old lady with wrinkled brow and whitened hair, bearing a babe in her arms, approached and offered her hand.

'Why, how do you do?'' said Mr. ine. "Where's that daughter of yours I wrote up that wedding notice

"Poor Lucy is dead," said the old lady, and her eyes filled with tears. This is her child."

The man with the big, kind heart reached over and kissed the little blue eyed girl.

During the Greeley campaign in 1872 ex-Governor Cumback of Indiana spoke with Mr. Blaine in Springfield, O. This was early in the campaign. Just before fer in case he is defeated for a third the election Mr. Cumback was sent up in Blaine's state to make a speech. He Sawyer and Atkinson have long been was told by the committee that he would find Maine people very stiff and inhospitable and quite different from the western people. Mr. Cumback was questionably the most popular law surprised, however, at his enthusiastic enthusiastic meeting than at Augusta. He told Blaine of the incident and his agreeable disappointment. "Oh," said the statesman, "they had man of unusual stuff to get them stirred up! Such a man on a speech as you are would have a good reputation anywhere."

But what do you know about my speech?" asked the governor.

"Didn't you speak with me over at Springfield?" said Blaine in a way as a reminder. Then he went ahead and told Mr. Cumback all about his speech, of the crowd present and gave promptly all the main points of the speech and even named the party with them. He also remembered at what hotel they put up and what day of the week it was.

Another instance of Blaine's great memory is cited in the following story, as told by Mr. Cumback:

During the Garfield campaign Mr. Blaine spoke in Cumback's town. He was entertained by Mr. Cumback and driven over town.

'There's a sick man in that house there that has been talking you up for president for four or five years," said the governor, "and he thinks there is no one like Jim Blaine." "Me for president?" said Blaine.

"Yes, you for president. Do you

Like Real Soldiers,

At the encampment next August the state troops are to have a taste of real military life. The State Military Board has purchased a supply of shel-ter tents, enough to fit out one regi-ment, and with them a full outfit of camp furniture, such as kettles, tin plates, knives and forks, and other paraphernalia necessary for forced ment will be given a turn this year at practical camp life. The shelter tent

Without warning, the men of each regiment will be suddenly called upon to don their "pup tents," haversacks, canteens, load up their kettles and supplies, and march out and away from the main body of troops for twenty-four hours. Carpeted tents, ice boxes, ice cream, napkins, water-melons and other luxuries will all be left behind and the boys will find themselves thrown upon their own resources. After their long march, instead of finding a mess tent well stocked with roast beef, strawberries and other delicacies, they will first make their own camp, then get out their big iron kettles, chunks of meat, potatoes and other vegetables, build their fires and cook their own meals, serve them upon their own tin plates and eat after the manner of soldiers, upon the ground, with plates in their laps. In other words, each regiment will spend at least one day under real regular army discipline and fare. It will be a novelty and the officers have faith that it will be a most beneficial one. It is probably that another year will see the whole brigade fitted out in this manner and that the encampment will be conducted upon a plan entirely

A SIMPLE TIRE REPAIR.

Punctures in the well known Morgan & Wright tire are mended about as easily as a man would close a hole in his finger with a bit of court plaster. Inside of the inner tube of the tire lies a long strip of patching rubber, like this:

By injecting M. & W. quick-repair cement through the puncture into this inner tube, and then pressing down on the tire with the thumb, like this,

the repair strip inside is picked up by the cement, thus closing the puncture, like this:

Very simple, but-now every rider should remember these two "buts," or he will fail:

Before injecting cement, pump up the tire. If you don't, the inner tube will be flabby, like this, and the cement will not get inside of it, where the repair strip lies.

When you have a puncture, get right off. Riding a tire flat, when it has a tack or nail in it, may damage it considerably.

Some people suffer with headaches. many people are worn out and weary all the time, many more people have lame back and backache. Few people understand the real cause of their aches, and fewer yet know how easily they can find a cure. Just a word of explanation before we prove that what we say is frue. The back is the key-note of the kidneys. It aches; that's a sign that the kidneys are not working properly; it is lame; another sign, the kidneys are out of order. The kid-neys, you know, are the filters of the blood, filters sometimes get clogged up This means in their case that the blood courses through the entire system impregnated with poisonous uric acid, bringing on many a disorder which, if neglected. means disease perhaps incurable. And now about the cure :- Don't take our word for it; read what others say :

Mr. David C. Oaks is proprietor of the well known hardware and paint shop at 220 East Main Street, Kalamazoo. Mr. Oaks has suffered a great deal from kidney ailments; he described his condition and cure as follows: "I had a bad, lame back, which I suppose was caused by my kid-neys; was confined to my bed during bad attacks. I might say, from time to time, I have been in that condition for years. The urinary organism was affected, urine being scanty, highly colored, and difficult I was in a bad shape when in passage. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, about which I had heard. I have used now two boxes of them, and the pills have removed all the pain and trouble. There was a marked improvement right from the first, and it has continued right along. Doan's Kidney Pills are the right thing in the right place.

On the auspicious day, which the astrologer has selected, there is a feast to which relatives and friends have been invited. The baby's head is washed for the first time, and his name is chosen. An English lady residing in Burma describes the process of selecting the name:

The limits of the choice are determined by the day of the week upon which he was born. Burmese custom. divides the letters of the alphabet among the days of the week, and a child born on Monday must receive a name initialed by one of the letters belonging to that day.

Ka, kha, ga, gha, nga, Taninla Sa, hsa, za, zha, nya, Ainga. Ta, tha, da, dha, na, Sanay, is the beginning of a jingle which every Burmese child learns, as you and I learned, "Thirty days hath September, April, June and November."

A child born on Taninla (Monday) must have a name beginning with "k," 'g'' or "n," and when he is old enough to go to the pagodas the nature of the offering he carries, or rather its shape, is determined by the day of his birth.

Each day of the week is under the protection or subject to the fury of some animal. Pettigrew's Amendment.

Senator Pettigrew has introduced ar amendment to the Dingley bill which provides for the admission free of duty of articles controlled by trusts. Should it become law and be carried out honestly, how much revenue would the bill yield? There are trusts in sugar, coal, window and plate glass, lumber, pottery, wall paper, rubber, cutlery and in nearly all kinds of hardware. There is no trust in tea, but that is probably because there has been no duty to encour. age it. There are also trusts in the woolen and cotton industries. Revenue will be scarce if such a law should be enforced. But will those elected by trust funds destroy the system which fosters trusts? They may pass some such law, as they did the Sherman antitrust law in 1890, but it will be only another dummy.

One of the best speeches made in the house while the Dingley bill was being the voice of the people that schedule discussed was made by John C. Bell of Colorado. With facts which are indisputable and logic which is unanswerable he exposed many of the fallacies of protection. His exposure of the absurd claim that protection helps the workingman is especially good. Here is a part of it:

"But our friends upon the other side say that they levy a tariff for the benefit of the wageworkers. I say to you that any tariff bill, I care not from whom it comes, that does not contain a provision for prohibiting the free inflow of immigration from foreign countries is oblivious of the rights of labor and is opposed to the interest of all wageworkers. [Applause.]

is asked in behalf of the poor laboring man-just enough to cover the difference between the European scale of wages and our own. What hypocrisy! Who ever heard of the laboring man getting rich manufacturing? The statisticians clearly figured from the census of 1880 that about 6 per cent on our dutiable list would cover the difference between the European wage schedule and ours, or that about 18 per cent ad valorem covered the entire labor cost of our list of 1880. While the manufacturer then asked for the poor laborer his 6 per cent he got for himself at the hands of congress six times 6 per cent.

"Is there any reason why a high tariff affects wages injuriously? Yes; by enabling employers to build up a vicious trust system for the manufacturer and against the laborer. The high tariff makes the manufacturer complete master of the wageworker.

"In the review of R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade, dated Feb. 12, it is stated:

'No other event of the week approaches in importance the disruption of the steel rail pool. In two days,' says the report, 'after it a greater tonnage of rails was probably purchased than the entire production of the last year, reported at 800,000 tons. And instead of $28 in December and $25 in January, $17 is now the price at which works east and west are seeking orders. And further,' says the report, 'the Carnegie company has been selling at $17, Chicago delivery. These sales will employ many thousand hands, with an important decrease in the cost of track laying on renewal of railroads.'

"Now, my friends, let me ask you,

The New Sugar Scandal. Is the country to be afflicted with a second sugar scandal? Are the "senators the finance committee, and are they to be permitted to dictate the important sugar schedule?-Chicago Evening Post (Ind. Rep.). The senate committee's bill, whether designed to do so or not, will give the come law. For that reason the country is bitterly opposed to the senate sugar schedule, and if the senate will heed will not be embraced in the new tariff.

-Indianapolis Journal (Rep.). The storm over the sugar schedule is steadily increasing. All the examinations which have been made since its report, instead of clearing it up, only make it look the blacker. It has apparently been made of a very complicated character to baffle analysis and to disguise a job, but, intricate as it is, it does not conceal the fact that it embraces a very large differential for the benefit of the trust. This conviction is universal, and it is aggravated by the stories of personal profit in connection with it.-Philadelphia Press (Rep.).

The specific charge by a responsible newspaper in Chicago that three mem-"Protection is always asked in the bers of the senate speculated in the seinterest of others. Now, observe how it crets of the committee room after the sugar schedule on the senate tariff bill had been framed, and profited $30,000 by the transaction, is altogether too serious to be treated by the senate with contempt or indifference.

The peculiar influence which the magnates of the Sugar trust have exerted in the framing of the new sugar schedule has already created suspicions as to the integrity of the framers of the bill. If the charge against the alleged speculators shall not be investigated, it will serve to strengthen, if not confirm, this suspicion. -Philadelphia Bulletin (Rep.).

Why Dingley Rates Are So High.

Afraid to open your chops about the McKinley bill before the election, having won, you are cut-Heroding Herod, out-McKinleying McKinley, because the men who furnished the money to carry the election are relentless taskmasters, clamorous for their remuneration. They have such ravenous appetites that you have been compelled to make the rates higher than in the Mc-Kinley bill. Let this not be forgotten, inscribe it on the tablets of your memory. Be it known that the average tariff tax under the McKinley bill was 49.58 per cent ad valorem; under the Wilson-Gorman bill, 39.94 per cent, and under the Dingley bill, 57.03 per cent. Hence the average rate of taxation on something like 4,000 articles of every day consumption is 8 per cent higher under the Dingley bill than under McKinley's law, and 17 per cent higher than under the Wilson-Gorman bill.-Hon. Champ Clark in Congress.

Mason submitted a petition from the National Business league urging immediate and effective action of the tariff bill and stating that this was the general sentiment of business interests. The tariff bill was taken up immediately after the disposal of the routine husiness. Mr. Aldrich withdrew the proposed committee amendments to paragraph 90, china, etc., leaving the rates as reported by the house, viz. Decorated, 60 per cent. ad valorem; undecorated, 55 per cent. Jones of Arkansas moved to reduce these rates to 35 and 30 per cent. respectively. Without debate a vote was taken and the proposed amendments were defeatedyeas 23, nays 34. The house Tuesday witnessed a sharp attack on the speaker by Simpson and Richardson because of the non-appointment of the committees. On motion of Dingley, by 90 to 55, the house upheld the speaker's refusal to recognize the resolution of Lewis of Washington relative to Cuba as privileged. A special order was then presented for immediate consideration of a resolution providing for transportation of supplies to India and permitting the use of any vessel, instead of restricting the sending of famine relief in American ships. After further talk by Simpson and others concerning the alleged autocratic power of the speaker, the order was adopted.

kets? They never will. They will sit down comfortably and sell their limited supply of goods for increased profits, making them more than whole, while the laborer tramps the country in search of work just as he now does under the trust system.

"It is unfortunate that the humdrum of the tariff has been sounded in the ears of the people until many of them really believe that foreign trade is unimportant, if not a curse. Why did the breaking of the steel rail pool put so many men to work? It was because the consequent lowered price for iron and steel brought most liberal orders from abroad as well as at home. Suppose the tariff had been prohibitive and we would have been confined to the home market. Would the manufacturers have made so many goods? No, but they would have doubled their profits on what they did make. The people could not have bought so many because of the increased price. Who would have suffered? First, the workmen, because they would have had fewer goods to make; secondly, the consumer, because he could not have bought so many at a higher price. Who would have been benefited? The manufacturer, because he might have made and handled less goods, made a double profit, and really have gained, as he would have had fewer to handle for the same profit.

'This bill will increase the manufacturer's profits on the individual articles, but will lessen the power of the people to buy or use his wares.

"It is the poverty of the buyer, not the producer, that must be relieved before things will thrive.

"The manufacturer has every facility to produce, but no facility to sell. "It is the consumption that must first be stimulated, and that will stimulate production.

"There are but a few crumbs in this bill to aid the oppressed farmer of the interior or the laborer, but thousands of things to further oppress him. Higher sugar, higher salt, higher lumber, higher clothing, higher manufactured products and absolutely nothing to raise the price of labor-a high tariff on labor's products, limiting the demand for his labor by narrowing the market, but throwing the ports wide open for the free importation of other laborers from foreign countries to freely compete with his work.

Sugar Trust Profits Cinched.

The trusts have a cinch on Dingley bill profits. Of course they will make many times more if the bill becomes law in anything like its present shape, but they are already engaged in taking part of their profits.

Sugar has risen considerably in anticipation of greatly increased duties, and merchants all over the country are laying in stores because still higher prices are expected. The Sugar trust is consequently busy and rolling up profits. In April it imported 757,799,527 pounds of raw sugar, valued at $14,747,139. An extra profit of one-half cent per pound on this amount-which is already realized or guaranteed-means nearly $4,-000,000 to the trust.

If the bill is two months longer in its passage, the trust will surely pocket $10,000,000 extra profits before the bill becomes law. Who says protection is not a good thing? And why shouldn't Senator Aldrich push it along and in turn get his street railway syndicates pushed along by the Sugar trust? Isn't this reciprocity? Wouldn't Aldrich be an ingrate if he should desert his friends and backers when he has an opportunity to help them?

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Next Sunday is "Woodworkers' Day" at the Y. M. C. A. rooms and every man who follows this trade should be present and see that the meeting is a success. This meeting is not for woodworkers only but for all classess of men as well. It will be conducted by the different woodworkers of the Association.

The second Everybody's Social of the Y. M. C. A. was another great success. The cold weather did not seem to have any effect, for about 250 persons were present and spent an enjoyable evening. The program was praised by all, each number being called back. The best part of the program was the music furnished by Becker's Band. This band deserves much praise and should be encouraged by the people of the city.

At the second annual track and field meet between Michigan and Chicago at Detroit, Saturday, Michigan came out on top, the final score standing 93 to 45. Michigan won 11 events and Chicago five. In the baseball game in the afternoon, by superior work in the field, Michigan won from Chicago. The score was 5 to 3. At the conclusion of the game the students went wild and unhitching the horses from the carriage in which the players were, they dragged it down Woodward ave. to the hotel; preceded by the U. of M. band and hundreds of yelling marchers. The attendance at the game was 3,000.

K. T. Ascension Day Exercises.

On Sunday afternoon about 50 members of Ann Arbor Commandery, No. 13, K. T., observed Ascension Day (May 27) by holding the usual services at Forest Hill cemetery. Sir Knight Rev. William Gardam, of Ypsilanti, conducted the services according to the ritual of the order and delivered a brief address from the text "Lo, I am with Minnie Belle Jenkins, 25, Portland. you even to the end." The services were held at the grave of the late Judge Hiram J. Beakes. Floral decorations were placed on the graves of all the deceased fraters who are buried in the cemetery.

Gov. Pingree in Ann Arbor.

Gov. Pingree and Eli R. Sutton paid a flying visit to Ann Arbor Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of keeping track of matters in connection with the Merriam bill, which the governor has referred to the law faculty with the request that they express their opinion as to its constitutionality. The governor thinks the plan of referring legal questions to the law professors a good one, and says that he will give them a chance to do more good service in this direction. Mr. Pingree ran across some of the regents, who showed him around the campus in an informal manner.

Robbed by the Hired Man.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Beman, of Sylvan, attended an entertainment in Chelsea, Tuesday evening, leaving the hired man named Vickers at home with the children. There was also $75 in the house when they left. On their return home they found that Vickers had put the children comfortably to bed, abstracted the $75 and left for pastures new. The loss was reported to Sheriff Judson Wednesday, who at once dispatched his officers on track of the thief.
