ONE MORE FATALITY

Charles May Drowned in McHugh's Lake, Northfield.

BOAT BEGAN TO FILL

And They Concluded to Swim to the Shore.

May's Heavy Boots Prevented the Free Use of His Legs and Becoming Exhausted He Sank to the Bottom.

To the long list of fatalities which have happened in Ann Arbor and vicinity during the past few weeks another was added on Sunday afternoon when J. R. C. May, a salesman in L. C. Weinmann's meat market, was drowned in a small mud lake on John McHugh's farm in Northfield, a short distance south of Whitmore Lake. In company with his wife and family Mr. May had gone out Sunday morning to visit his brother-in-law John Heinzmann, of Northfield. In the afternoon he and his nephew, a young man 18 years of age, went out on McHugh's lake to fish. The boat they took was a flat bottomed, leaky old affair, and the two fishermen had not been long in it before it began to fill with water. They were quite a distance out in the lake by this time and seeing it was useless to attempt to row ashore in the old tub they decided to abandon it and swim to the shore. Heinzmann wore heavy rubber boots and May had on a pair of heavy cowhide boots. The younger man managed to kick himself free from his rubber boots and after a hard struggle managed to reach land. Mr. May was not so successful with his leather boots as they had become wet and he could not get them off. His clothing was also heavy with water which was quite cold and he quickly became exhausted among the weeds that are plentiful in the lake and he sank to the bottom. An hour later his body was recovered but it was too late as life was extinct. Justice Moss, of Whitmore Lake, impaneled a jury, who viewed the body and subsequently returned a verdict of death from accidental drowning. The remains of the unfortunate man were brought to Ann Arbor for interment Monday. The funeral services were held at the late home of the deceased, 201 N. Ashley st., Tuesday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. John Neumann. The members of Ann Arbor Lodge, No. 27, A. O. U. W., of which deceased was a member, attended the funeral in a body and escorted the remains to Forest Hill cemetery where they were interred. Mr. May was 44 years of age and leaves a wife and two children. He carried $4,000 insurance divided between the Maccabees and A. O. U. W. He was a sober, steady, industrious man, and had many friends who sincerely regret his untimely death.

ATTEMPTED JAIL BREAKING.

Two Pickpockets Saw Off the Iron Bars in the Windows.

Tuesday evening between 5 and 6 o'clock Harry Wright and Edward Harris, who were arrested circus day on the charge of being pickpockets, were detected by Sheriff Judson in a determined effort to break out of the county jail. They were industriously sawing away at the iron bars in the window and had already sawed through three bars when they were interrupted. The tools used were fine steel saws and must have been furnished the men by outside parties as they have been in jail since Aug. 17.

Had they succeeded in their attempt a wholesale jail delivery would have resulted as there are at present in the jail the largest number of criminals charged with major offenses that have been inside it at one time since it was built—there are about 20.

The two men were placed in the safety cell in the upper story of the jail and a constant watch is kept of them as they both declare that they will not be in jail when the time comes for them to be tried and they say they would sooner die than go to state prison.

RAISED $20,000.

What the Detroit Presbytery Gave for the Missions.

The annual meeting of the Detroit Presbytery opened Monday at the Presbyterian church, Ann Arbor, Rev. J. H. Herbener, of Northville, preaching the annual sermon. At its close the Presbytery was formally called to order. W. H. Clark, D. D., of Detroit, was elected moderator and Rev. F. D. Ellet, of Detroit, and W. D. Buck, of Holly, clerks.

The standing committees' reports show that the contributions to home missions aggregate $7,312.95, of which the churches gave $3,633.67; women's societies, $2,534.25; Sabbath schools, $561.74, and young people's societies, $563.29. The sum given to foreign missions was $12,154. Two collections a year will be taken in the Sunday schools for foreign missions hereafter.

The resignation of Rev. W. S. Jerome from the Pontiac pastorate, not accepted by the parishioners, was ratified by the presbytery, and resolutions were passed commending Mr. Jerome.

Wanted It for His Pigs.

Sunday morning Frank Hagen, of Ann Arbor town, and his brother-in-law Fred Haas were standing talking in the road, when a man, whom we will call Michael, came along, driving in a buggy towards the city to get, as he said, "some medicine."

Shortly afterwards he returned and after he had gone some distance down the road he got out of the buggy, went into a corn field belonging to the Hagen estate, and proceeded to appropriate some of the ears of corn to his own use. He had got between 50 and 60 ears of corn in his buggy box when Frank Hagen and Fred Haas came along and caught him. Mr. Haas collared Michael and took him up to Jacob Hagen, who is the administrator of the estate. Michael said he "only wanted it for his pigs," but Mr. Hagen did not see it that way and as Michael has been at such tricks in years gone by he was given a reasonable time in which to settle the matter by a money payment or stand trial for theft in a justice court. And, unless he settles, the justice will get a job, for the boys are bound to punish him in some way.

School Board Committees.

At a special meeting of the Ann Arbor board of education held Friday morning President Bach announced the appointment of the following committees:

Teachers and Text books—Mrs. Anna Bach, J. E. Beal, E. H. Scott. Buildings and Grounds—Christian Mack, E. H. Scott, J. T. Jacobs. Finance—Ottmar Eberbach, Dr. W. B. Smith, Christian Mack. Library—Miss Emma E. Bower, Dr. W. B. Smith, J. E. Beal. Supplies—J. T. Jacobs, E. F. Mills, Ottmar Eberbach.

The board appointed a tuition committee consisting of Messrs. Christian Mack and E. F. Mills.

The $50,000 bond of Treasurer Beal with the following sureties was presented to the board and was formally accepted: Phoebe E. Beal, J. E. Travis, J. J. Goodyear, W. J. Booth, H. Soule and E. E. Beal.

Got Some Bad Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Lodholz, of the Northside, were both badly burned Friday morning by an explosion of wood alcohol. Mrs. Lodholz got up at 5 a. m. and at once set to work to light the gasoline stove. She used wood alcohol in the cups of the burners to generate the heat and while she was pouring the stuff into the cups it exploded and blew out the bottom of the can, set fire to her clothing and burned her legs and arms badly. Mr. Lodholz came to her assistance to put out the flames and he was also badly burned about the hands. The arrival of some of the neighbors who used energetic measures to put out the fire was all that prevented it spreading to other parts of the house. Dr. John Boylan dressed Mr. and Mrs. Lodholz' injuries and they are healing as well as could be expected.

BIG WASHTENAW FAIR

Will Be Ann Arbor's Attraction Next Week.

COMPLETE PROGRAM

Of the Special and General Features of the Event.

It Will Be the Best Fair That Has Been Held in Washtenaw in the History of the County.—Be Sure and Go to It.

Remember next week comes the event of the year, our own great county fair. Washtenaw county has always been noted for the success of the yearly exhibitions of the products of its soil. Our farmers have good cause to be proud of our fertile county, and in no better way can they proclaim the resources of their locality, than in this exhibition of its wonders.

This year's fair will greatly surpass all that have been held in the past. A larger number of entries is now being made than ever before, but there is still plenty of room for the best of your stock and produce. Read the premium lists, and you will see that it is to your interest to bring your prize cattle and mammoth pumpkins. The special premiums offered by our Ann Arbor merchants are of the finest goods of all sorts that are to be found. Try for them, you know there is no entrance fee required for the special premiums.

The races have been the object of special attention and you may be very sure of seeing some very quick time made in them.

The special attractions are marvelous in their variety and the quality of the artists. You will have the privilege of witnessing the unparalleled achievements of Prince Schumann the invincible king of the steel wire. You will also see Signor Hernandez, the champion bucking broncho rider, in his great feats of rough riding. The Kennedy Brothers will give a very interesting and instructive exhibition of the riding characteristic of the western plains. There will be a marvellous showing of exquisite skill in the throwing of deadly glittering steel knives as close as they can come to a live woman without cutting her.

Nothing has ever been seen here which could equal in novelty the great "Ocean Wave." You must ride on this, for it will give you some delightful sensations which you have never before experienced.

A day at the fair will be for everyone a gala day of recreation, a fete of fun and a day to be long remembered for the wonderful sights seen there. The Salvation Army will hold services every noon in the big tent. The Ann Arbor Music Co. will give daily concerts by some of the best musical artists of the state. Three bands of music will furnish their inspiring martial strains. You will have the best time of the year to see all your friends and in every way profit greatly by a day at our big fair.

Wednesday and Thursday the visitors will be treated to a game of football under the management of the Ann Arbor high school team.

The program outside of the special attractions will be as follows:

Tuesday, Sept. 28—Entries and assignments.

Wednesday, School Day—To be participated in by all of the schools of Washtenaw county. Music by Becker's band. Exercises will be conducted by County School Commissioner Lister. At 1:30 will occur a grand cavalcade of all live stock on the grounds.

Thursday, Farmers' Day—Governor Pingree and other speakers will address the people. The wedding of O. E. Killenbeck, of Augusta, and Nellie M. Ferguson, of Ypsilanti, will take place on the grounds at 2 p. m., and the bridal couple will be the recipients of a complete housekeeping outfit, the gift of Ann Arbor merchants. Races—3. 2:30 trotting, purse $100. 4. 2:25 pacing, purse $100.

Friday, Ann Arbor Day—All of our merchants will close their stores and with their employees will take in the fair. Races—5. Free for all trot and pace, purse $100. 6. 2:35 pacing, purse $75. 7. Dean & Co.'s, special running race for sugar.

Monday morning the Fair office will be moved to the building on the grounds and the work of arrangements will begin in earnest. The track is being worked and promises to be in excellent condition. An addition is being built to the grand stand to accommodate the expected crowd.

The plumbing for the new addition to the Cook house will cost $2,000. It comprises 10 bath rooms and 15 closets. Schneider Bros. have the job.

U. OF M. ALUMNUS SUICIDES.

His Wife of a Few Hours Also Attempted to Kill Herself.

The lamentable suicide of a former well known student of the U. of M., and the attempted suicide of his wife of only a few hours has been a great topic of conversation among those who knew the young man well while he was in college, for the past 10 or 12 days. The following story of the affair is taken from the columns of the Detroit Journal and was written by one who knew the young man well:

"George J. Bunday and Blanche Warren were secretly married in Chicago last Monday evening (Sept. 13) by the Rev. Dr. Brown, of Christ church. They crossed to Milwaukee and the young man sent a dispatch to his father back in Chicago saying that he would bring his bride home that night. An answer to that fatal telegram was received by George Bunday almost immediately telling him that his parents would neither receive him nor his wife so long as the girl was his wife. Despondent over being turned out by his own father, young Bunday bought morphine, and in a room of the Plankinton house, Milwaukee, he and his wife administered the poison. He died, but she is still living, with fair chances of complete recovery.

"George Bunday was well known here and equally well liked. He numbered his friends by the hundreds almost, for no one ever knew him who was not glad to call him 'friend.'

"There was never a more popular fellow in college than George Bunday, and with the girls he was considered a sort of hero; not that he ever entered into the sports of the average college life, but just because he looked like me. He was tall, over six feet probably, with a splendid head set upon broad shoulders, and surmounted by wavy golden hair. He was a strikingly handsome fellow.

"In university society he was a prominent figure during his entire college course, and no function was complete without him on the floor, or at last 'sure to come.'

"It was three years ago that he graduated with honors in the law department at the University of Michigan, having taken a literary course at the same time. Upon his leaving college he went directly to Chicago and opened a law office in the Rookery building of that city, where his father for many years had been a successful real estate dealer.

"It was seven years ago that George Bunday met the woman for whom he killed himself in the Milwaukee hotel a few nights ago. She was a Bay City girl, daughter of B. E. Warren, then cashier of the First National bank. For a long time previous to the year mentioned the Warren family had been the leaders of Bay City society. Mr. Warren possessed one of the finest libraries and collections of pictures of private ownership in the country.

"About that time Mr. Warren lost his position in the bank mentioned, and all his valuable articles that had made his home the most beautiful in the city, were sold.

"At this time Blanche Warren was engaged to be married to Rev. Bert Howard, pastor of the Presbyterian church, but with the reverses which met the family, and the call to Los Angeles, California, which Dr. Howard received, the engagement was broken off. Then she met George Bunday and their friendship grew into love.

"His parents lived in Albion then and when they heard of the attachment which had sprung up between their son and the daughter of the Bay City family that had met with disastrous reverses, they frowned upon the suit and for a time George seemed to have forgotten Blanche.

"But when he went to Chicago to begin the practice of law two years ago she followed to accept a position as nurse in one of the city hospitals. They were constantly together in Chicago very much to the regret of the young man's family, who thought the woman their son was known to care for much beneath his station in life. As everyone who knew George Bunday would know, that made no difference to him.

"So last Monday night they were married secretly and crossed the lake to Milwaukee. There they registered as 'Mr. and Mrs. George Bunday, Chicago.' Then, as has been said, the young man notified his parents of his action. They refused to receive him and his wife. The result was that the two young people, that is young as the world goes, decided to die together. They took morphine. George died and was taken to the morgue, where his distracted parents found him on their arrival in the city. His wife is still living.

"George Bunday was big and handsome, and 28 years of age. The woman who now bears his name is dainty and petite, light of complexion and charming in all the little manners the society girl possesses. She was three years older than her husband.

"That's the story of the love between George Bunday, whose name today is familiar to hundreds of students of the University of Michigan, who never saw him, and Blanche Warren, a girl as well known to Detroit society eight years ago as many living in the city itself."

The Tame Fox.
Southey's story is of a tame fox at Bridgewater, which had been brought up from a cub to run in the wheel as a turnspit. One day, however, his vagabond instincts proved too much for him, and he determined to take a holiday. The fleshpots of his Egypt were as dust and ashes to his palate compared with the chickens of his own selection. Unfortunately he chose the hunting season for his excursion, and soon came in contact with his hereditary persecutors. He evidently determined to give them a good run, for he took them twice through a stream called the Parrot, after a grand circumbendibus, which involved a chase of nearly 80 miles. He made his way back with hounds in full cry, and re-entering the kitchen resumed operations in the wheel with as much unconcern as though he had never left it. The fat cook, with whom he was a great favorite, succeeded in beating the hounds off until the arrival of the huntsman, who humanely assisted in saving a life which, if sagacity and ingenuity be virtues, well deserved to be spared.—New Illustrated Magazine.

A Mathematical Wonder.
Jedediah Buxton was the greatest prodigy of mathematics that ever appeared in England. His education was very limited, and he had never been taught arithmetic or indeed any branch of mathematics, so that his abilities in this respect were peculiarly natural. He would walk over a piece of land and tell with exactness how many acres and square rods were contained in it. His memory was so great that while resolving a question he could leave off and resume the occupation again the next morning or at a week, a month or several months later and proceed regularly till it was completed.

A LETTER TO WOMEN.
A few words from Mrs. Smith, of Philadelphia, will certainly corroborate the claim that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is woman's ever reliable friend.
"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly.
" For nine weeks I was in bed suffering with inflammation and congestion of the ovaries. I had a discharge all the time. When lying down all the time, I felt quite comfortable; but as soon as I would put my feet on the floor, the pains would come back.
" Every one thought it was impossible for me to get well. I was paying $1 per day for doctor's visits and 75 cents a day for medicine. I made up my mind to try Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has effected a complete cure for me, and I have all the faith in the world in it. What a blessing to woman it is!"—Mrs. JENNIE L. SMITH, No. 324 Kauffman St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Scotty's Reckless Generosity.
On his first visit to Aberdeen an English commercial traveler, having received some marks of kindness from one of its inhabitants, exclaimed in an offhand way on his departure:
" If at any time you or any of your people come up to London, don't put up at a hotel, but come to us."
" Oh, thank ye!" replied the Scot laconically, and away the southern went.
Six months passed, and the Englishman had long forgotten the incident, when, to his surprise, he received one morning the following note:
" MY DEAR FRIEND—As myself, my wife and four children are coming up to London for a fortnight, we will be glad to avail ourselves of your kind invitation.
Facing the situation with unquestionable courage, the southerner put himself to unutterable inconvenience to accommodate his guests. He took them everywhere, paid for everything, and at the end of the stipulated time they announced their departure. The host accompanied them to the station and in the fullness of his gratitude at the exodus invited the father to have a parting drink.
" Come along, old fellow. What is it to be—whisky and soda, as usual? Two Scotchies and soda, please, miss."
" Na, na!" replied the Scot solemnly.
" Name o' that. Ye've been vera guid to me and mine durin the last fortnicht—hae ta'en us everywhere and paid for everything. Na, na; we'll hae a toss for the last."—London Answers.

On the Pronunciation of Pepps.
The Hon. Walter Pepps has collected 17 varieties of the spelling of the name, and he lays some stress upon the French form Pepp as authority for the pronunciation favored by him. Pepps seems to follow the usual practice, as Weems for Wemys, and, moreover, it is that adopted by the descendants of the diarist's sister Paulina, the family of Pepps Cockerell. Pepps is also the traditional pronunciation adopted at Cambridge. Here is, I think, strong evidence in favor of Pepps. At the same time I believe that in this name, as in other words, the pronunciation of the vowel e has changed since the seventeenth century, and that the name in Pepps' own day was actually pronounced Papes. This opinion is grounded on the phonetic spelling Peaps and Peyps which have come down to us, and both these would represent Papes; ea—a, as in yea, break, great; ey—a, as in obey and here. In this matter, however, I have not the courage of my opinion, and I am not, therefore, prepared to adopt this pronunciation.—Notes and Queries.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

Could Not Weaken Such Testimony As This.

(From the Kalamazoo Telegraph.)

The following statement is one of great interest to many a citizen of Kalamazoo, and a man as well known as Mr. Wallace should carry more than ordinary weight with our readers. Here it is as taken down by our representative:

My name is John A. Wallace. I am a member of the firm of J. A. Wallace & Co., doing business as tinners, etc., at 106 Eleanor Street, Kalamazoo, in which city I also reside. For the past nine or ten months I have been having attacks of kidney complaint, the pain in my back over my hips was very severe at times; my urinary system was also in a bad state of derangement, sometimes the urine was scanty and then again the amount would be excessive, and a difficulty of passage always existed. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills at a time when I felt that I was going to be sick, but their use warded off an attack, and I am now feeling very much better; the urinary organism has regained a normal condition, and the terrific pain in my back is much reduced in severity, while it is now fast going away altogether. I am continuing the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, with positive feeling that they will effect on me a permanent and speedy cure. I have unbounded confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills as a remedy for all kidney ailments; have good reason to be, as they have done so much for me.

Can you ask any more than this? Doan's Kidney Pills are relieving more backs of the burdens they have been forced to bear through the kidneys than all other means devised, and, better still, they are doing this right here in Michigan. Ask any one who has ever taken them and see what they will say.

The severe wind storm of Sept. 16 did considerable damage to trees and corn. The corn is in a very bad condition to harvest, nearly all of it lying on the ground.

Jack Frost visited us in earnest last Monday night. It's a little too soon for some. But very few have corn out of the way. Late potatoes took a sudden ripening.

On Saturday of last week Milo Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hammond, went to Ypsilanti to have some teeth extracted, which was accomplished. One was an eye tooth and the other a double tooth next to it. It commenced bleeding when he left Ypsilanti about 2 o'clock and bled all the way home, a distance of seven miles. Everything was done to stop the flow of blood without success. Medicine was procured from Dr. Post which he supposed would be efficacious, but it was not successful. About 2 o'clock Sunday morning Dr. Post arrived and succeeded in stopping and closing the artery, which would spurt the blood into the mouth at every pulsation of the heart. Milo is able to be out again now.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Stowell, of Dundee, were called Saturday to the death bed of a Mr. Warren near New Boston. They stayed with him until he died Sunday and after taking tea at Geo. N. Hammond's, of Willis, left for home. Half a mile from Mr. Hammond's house the horses took fright at a bicycle ridden by a young fellow and one horse tried to go forward while the other tried to go backward. The result was the leather straps which held the tongue of the carriage up were broken and the tongue dropped under a plank in the bridge at the point where the accident happened and was broken short off, a long sliver from it flying backward and grazing Mr. Stowell's leg after passing through the dashboard and eight thicknesses of a woolen blanket, so great was its force. The team soon cleared themselves of the carriage and it was landed on top of Mr. and Mrs. Stowell in a very deep ditch. Both were badly bruised and out up, particularly Mrs. Stowell, who is a woman of 240 pounds weight. The bicyclist who caused the accident did not stay around to see what damage he had done.

LOWER TEMPERATURE

Improves the Fever Situation at New Orleans.

NO GREAT FEAR OF AN EPIDEMIC.

Interview with Dr. Touatre, an Experienced Yellow Fever Physician and Member of the Board of Experts—No Further Yellow Fever Developments at Cairo, Ills.—Outfit for a Detention Camp Two Miles South of Edwards, Miss.

New Orleans, Sept. 21.—The local fever situation was greatly improved Tuesday by a materially lower temperature, the thermometer at 6 o'clock being 62. Incubation of yellow fever germs requires a sustained Fahrenheit temperature of 70, and if the present cool spell continues, conditions promise steadily to grow better. While eighteen cases were reported Monday at least nine were properly to be accredited to Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and only one of these cases was of anything but a mild type, the exception being an unacclimated stranger. Dr. Touatre, an eminent and experienced yellow fever physician, and a member of the board of experts, says in an interview that the records since 1853 show that yellow fever has never been declared epidemic in any year after its appearance here inside of two or three months. That was the case in 1853, 1858, 1867 and 1878.

Waned with Cold Weather. The history of the epidemics of the last half century prove that all epidemics waned with the first cold of October, disappearing almost entirely in November. If we add a month and a half more to the period of incubation for infectious foci to establish themselves, we are brought almost to the end of October to have an epidemic. An epidemic at that late date is out of the question. Dr. Touatre produces a number of instances where fever broke out in August, September and October, only to be quickly stamped out by the frost before it had assumed the proportions of an epidemic. The government put in effect Tuesday its baggage inspection at trains and steamboats. It will require at least five hours each day in which to do this work of inspection and the railroads have issued notices to outgoing passengers to have all their baggage and handbags at depots at least five hours before the departure of their trains and steamboats.

DETENTION CAMP.

It Will Be Located Two Miles South of Edwards, Miss. Jackson, Miss., Sept. 21.—Dr. John F. Hunter, secretary of the state board of health, has arrived here from Vicksburg to confer with Passed Assistant Surgeon Geddings of the United States Marine hospital service to arrange the details of the detention camp to be established by Dr. Geddings two miles south of Edwards. A special train has gone to that point carrying the camp outfit. Surgeon Geddings will await instructions from Surgeon General Wyman at Washington before going to Edwards.

Dr. Purnell has been boring wells at the camp site. One has been finished which contains eight feet of good water. Dr. W. G. Kiger, a member of the state board, reached here Tuesday from Vicksburg, and Drs. Hunter and Kiger will carry on the work of the state board from this point. The weather here is decidedly cool and bracing.

Nothing New at Cairo.

Cairo, Ills., Sept. 21.—There are no further developments in yellow fever here. One man who was put off the steamer Oakland direct from New Orleans sick, notwithstanding the so-called quarantine by the state board of health, was sent back by the city authorities by rail. The two cases diagnosed by Dr. Guiteras as mild cases of convalescing, non-infectious yellow fever are nearly ready to leave the hospital. One suspect case at St. Mary's infirmary, diagnosed as the same by Dr. Guiteras, was examined by two expert Kentucky physicians, who pronounced the disease malarial fever.

Suspect Case at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Sept. 21.—William Trift, aged 30, employed on the government tug boat Alpha from Cairo, Ills., was taken to the Marine hospital here Tuesday as a yellow fever suspect. The Alpha had been employed in taking yellow fever patients to Cairo. Dr. Max Starkloff, president of the St. Louis board of health, was informed of the case and immediately drove to the hospital with Dr. Jordan. In an interview Dr. Starkloff declared that he did not think the case one of yellow fever, but said he would take all necessary precautions and isolate the patient.

Belleville Miners at Work.

St. Louis, Sept. 21.—Pursuant to an agreement reached at the mass-meeting of miners held in Belleville, Ills., Sunday, work was resumed at a number of additional mines in the Belleville district Tuesday. This agreement was that all should go to work who could get the scale of 3 1/2 cents a ton, mine run. The operators who have not yet agreed to pay the scale are Reinecke, Bradenburger, Donk Bros., Crown Coal company, Scott Coal company, Wilderman, St. Clair and the Consolidated Coal companies.

Sheriff Martin Arraigned.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 21.—Sheriff James Martin and about forty of his deputies were arraigned in court Tuesday, charged with the murder of twenty-four striking miners at Lattimer on Sept. 10. After several witnesses had testified the judge held the sheriff and his deputies in $4,000 each for trial. Bail was furnished and they returned to Hazleton.

Battleship Monterey Ashore.

Point Arena, Cal., Sept. 21.—The battleship Monterey, bound south from Puget sound, ran ashore in a fog six miles north of Point Arena lighthouse Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The steamer got off three-quarters of an hour later and continued on her voyage. It is not thought that much damage was done.

General Miles and Party in London.

London, Sept. 21.—General Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., Mrs. Miles and the general's aide-de-camp, arrived here Monday from Paris. They will make a tour of Scotland and Ireland before embarking for home.

THE HAYSEED.

We can all of us remember How along about September The papers used to tell of the circus or the fair; And those fellows from the city Used to get almighty witty On the fellow with the duster, who had hayseed in his hair.

They had fun in legislators With the man who raised potatoes If by any hook or crook or chance elected And sent there; And those reportorial friskers Used to comment on his whiskers And the carpet sack of Billson, who had hayseed in his hair.

Yes, by gum, he rode his pass out, And he used to blow the gas out, And he'd drink hard cider when he went upon a tear; And he used to squeeze the dollar Till the buzzard had to holler; The man cut up ridiculous that had hayseed in his hair.

But, by gum, if you've been reading You'll observe a strange proceeding, 'Tis the fellow with chin whiskers that is slowly getting there; And it won't be too surprising If, by slowly organizing, Old parties may wake up and find hayseed in their hair.

When the fashions change you fellows Will all carry green umbrellas And wear trousers wide across the seat to make the dudelets stare; And in those days, if you pass muster, You must wear a linen duster, And if you want to throw on style put hayseed in your hair.

Electro-magnetic Voice.

Professor W. E. Ayrton of London stated recently that "there is no doubt the day will come, maybe when you and I are forgotten, when copper wires, gutta percha coverings and iron sheathings will be relegated to the museum of antiquities. Then, when a person wants to telegraph to a friend, he knows not where, he will call in an electro-magnetic voice, which will be heard loud by him who has the electro-magnetic ear, but will be silent to every one else. He will call, 'Where are you?' and the reply will come loud to the man with the electro-magnetic ear, 'I am at the bottom of the coal mine, or crossing the Andes, or in the middle of the Pacific.' Or, perhaps, no voice will come at all, and he may then expect the friend is dead. Think what that will mean. Think of the calling which goes on from room to room, then think of that calling when it extends from pole to pole—a calling quite audible to him who wants to hear, absolutely silent to him who does not."

CANNED GOODS.

The Most Flagrant and Extensive Kinds of Adulteration Are Practiced. Under one heading we may consider several groups of food stuffs, which, while different in composition, are alike in the form of adulteration which is resorted to. These groups include the varieties of canned vegetables, fruit butters, jellies, preserves and catchups. The forms of adulterations common to all of these consist in the use of coloring matter, of imperfect vegetables or fruits, of other fruits and vegetables than those called for or of preservatives. In the case of canned vegetables there is an accidental adulteration from the ingredients of the can, such as lead and tin, and which may, as a rule, be attributed to a lack of care in canning.

In all of the groups mentioned the adulteration practiced is of the most flagrant and extensive kind. Catchups are made of skins and cores instead of the pure vegetables, then colored with a coal tar product and loaded with salicylic acid to prevent fermentation. Fruit butters are nothing but parings and scrapings of fruit to which glucose, starch and coloring have been added, with salicylic acid as a preservative. Jellies are made from glucose flavored with essential oils and colored, to which salicylic acid is added. Some fruit jellies marked as pure have never seen a trace of fruit. What is true of jellies is true of preserves. Put together refuse material, the cheapest sort of glucose, some coloring and salicylic acid, and you have the composition of some of our grocery stores. Of these coarser forms of adulterations it will be unnecessary to say even a word. They are universally recognized as unfit to be used, and every honest dealer is of the opinion that the sooner they are driven out of the market the better it will be for trade.—Sanitarian.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

OFFICIAL

COUNCIL CHAMBER, Ann Arbor, Sept. 23rd, 1897. Regular session. Called to order by Pres. Luick. Roll called. Quorum present. Absent Ald. Moore, Sweet, Coon, Cady.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR. To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Ann Arbor: Gentlemen:

I beg to call your attention to Section 8 of an Ordinance Relative to Sidewalks as amended Feb. 17, 1896 approved Feb. 18, '96 reading as follows: Section 8. Whenever the common council shall order any sidewalk to be constructed, repaired or renewed, it shall be the duty of the Board of Public Works to cause any filling or excavation that may be necessary in order to bring the said sidewalk to the prescribed grade to be made at the expense of the city: Provided, That the said Board may, in their discretion, build a trestle instead of an embankment for raising a sidewalk to the required elevation; and Provided, That the foregoing provision shall not be construed to charge the city with the expense of removing old sidewalks, or of filling excavations resulting from such removal. And it shall further be the duty of the said Board of Public Works to cause all sidewalks in process of construction, repair or renewal, in said City, to be inspected from time to time by competent persons, to the end that the requirements of this ordinance may be fully complied with or that complaint may be made promptly for any violation thereof. It shall be the duty of the street commissioner to inspect the sidewalks of this City from time to time and report promptly to the Common Council all sidewalks requiring to be repaired or renewed in said City; and the said street commissioner shall attend all special meetings of said Council or of any committee thereof to which he may be summoned and shall be ready to furnish the Common Council with complete information with regard to the condition of the sidewalks reported by him and with regard to the probable cost of repairing or renewing the same. The Board of Public Works are hereby authorized and required to cause such temporary repairs to be made in sidewalks, at the expense of the city, as may be immediately necessary for the safety of pedestrians, and all bills for that purpose when duly certified to by the street commissioner, or president of the Board of Public Works shall be allowed by the Common Council and paid out of the street fund. It shall be the further duty of the Board of Public Works, whenever the Common Council shall permit by resolution the construction, repair or renewal of any sidewalk in this city of any other material than stone flagging, artificial stone or cement, to prepare suitable specifications to govern said construction, repair or renewal, and such specifications shall be of the same force and effect as though incorporated at length in this ordinance.

The effect of the adoption of this section was to make the city bear all the expense of grading and from June 1896 to date, the Street Commissioner informs me it has cost the street fund $2158. This is a heavy burden and liable to continue year after year, and I would recommend the repeal of this part of the ordinance.

Chas. E. Hiscock, Mayor. Referred to the Ordinance Committee. Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 20, 1897. To the Hon. Common Council of the City of Ann Arbor: Gentlemen—I beg to call your attention to the fact that the street fund, after current year's appropriation has been added, is overdrawn and I respectfully urge you not to order any new street work at present or appropriate any further sum of money for this purpose.

Chas. E. Hiscock, Mayor. Received and placed on file. FROM THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS. To the Common Council: The Board of Public Works respectfully refers to your honorable body the estimates of the City Engineer for various improvements, also the report of the Engineer relative to disposing of the storm water, and the fifth estimate for completed work in sewer district No. 6.

Clen V. Mills, Clerk of the Board of Public Works. I submit the following estimates for your consideration: IMPROVEMENT OF MARY ST. Geo. F. Key, City Engineer. Referred to Street Committee. Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 15, 1897. To the Board of Public Works: Gentlemen:—In regard to the matter of emptying storm water into the lateral sewer system at the intersection of Washtenaw and S. University Ave, also at the intersection of Monroe-st and E. University Ave., would say: 1. That the sewers are not designed to carry storm water. 2. The maximum flow of sewerage would occur during the time of the most severe storm. 3. It is contrary to the adopted Plumbing Rules to empty storm water into the sanitary sewers. 4. Negligence to keep catch basins cleaned after every storm would tend to get the sewers clogged with leaves etc., which might give a great deal of trouble in the future. I would therefore recommend very strongly against the proposed idea of using the lateral sewers for the disposal of storm water from the street.

Geo. F. Key, City Engineer. Referred to Sewer Committee. Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 15, 1897. To Board of Public Works, Gentlemen:—I herewith offer for your consideration the following plan for temporary relief from storm water at Monros and E. University Ave: Build three catch basins, one at head of Monroe street, one at intersection of E. University Ave. and S. University, one at Willard and E. University Ave. An estimate per cost of these is 3 catch basins at $30 each, $90.00.

Geo. F. Key, City engineer. Similar catch basins on State street, N. University Ave., and S. University Ave., are working satisfactorily and have been for past two years. Japanese Sacrifice. On board the Matsushima one man, who had been shot in the abdomen and whose intestines were protruding from the gaping wounds, refused to be carried to the surgeon's ward, because, he said, he did not want to take any of the fighters from their work in order to carry him below. Another, after having had his body burned out of all recognition in attempting to extinguish a fire, stood by helping all he could till the flames were put out, when he died. A third (mortally wounded) man, whose every gasp brought forth a gush of blood, would not close his eyes until he had told a comrade where the key of an important locker was and what the locker contained. A chief gunner, whose under jaw had been shot away and who could, of course, not utter a word, signed to a subordinate with a nod to take his place and fell dead after he had placed the handle of the gun lever in his subordinate's hand.—"Heroic Japan."

OPINION OF MCKENNA.

Attorney General on Section 22 of Tariff Bill.

TEN PER CENT. DUTY NOT APPLIED.

Goods from Foreign Countries Via Canada Free of Discrimination—Postmaster General Gary's Data on Postal Savings Banks—Says the System in Vogue in Canada Is the Best—Appointments by President McKinley—Other Washington News.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Attorney General McKenna announced his opinion in the matter of section 22 of the new tariff law. He holds in effect that goods coming directly into the United States from foreign countries through Canadian ports are not subject to the discriminating duty of 10 per cent., and also holds that foreign goods shipped from countries other than British possessions in British vessels are not subject to the discriminating duty.

Two Questions Asked. Two questions were asked the attorney general, the first of which was, in effect, whether the discriminating duty of 10 per cent. provided for in section 22 should be assessed against an invoice of tea from China which had arrived at Vancouver in British vessels and thence shipped through Canada to Chicago; the second question was whether the discriminating duty should be assessed against a cargo of manganese ore from Chili which recently arrived in a British ship at Philadelphia. Both these questions the attorney general answers in the negative.

CANADA SYSTEM BEST.

Postmaster General Gary's Data on Postal Savings Banks.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The interest which Postmaster General Gary is taking in the establishment of a postal savings bank will result in a wonderful popularization of the idea. A campaign of education which has already been entered upon in a straggling way will before long be made to yield results. The postoffice department is collecting official information on the subject from every source, and by the time congress meets the lawmakers will have at command an immense amount of data showing what has been done in countries where postal savings banks have been in use for a period of years.

Postmaster General Gary in his forthcoming report will pay particular attention to the Canadian system which seems to be adapted to the needs of the western hemisphere rather better than the systems in vogue in the old world. The Canadian postal savings bank had deposits on hand at the time of the last official report amounting to about $29,000,000, which represented the savings of 154,000 depositors. The population of Canada approximates 5,000,000. It is altogether probable that if a similar system is established in the United States the proportion of depositors and of savings will be larger than in Canada, but even allowing that it is the same, the number of persons who would trust their savings to the care of the government would be 2,620,000 and the amount of money they would have on deposit nearly $500,000,000.

CLAIMS 130 ACRES IN CHICAGO.

Chief Pokagon Going to Obtain Large Section of That City.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 21.—Simon Pokagon, chief of the Pottawatomie tribe of Indians, and Lawyer Ingalls of Hartford, Mich., were here Tuesday, en route to Chicago to interview W. H. Cox, a Chicago capitalist, in relation to a claim that the Pottawatomie tribe holds to 130 acres of land in the heart of Chicago, which land is mostly in possession of Mr. Cox.

According to the Indians the land became their by virtue of a treaty executed in 1833 between the father of the present chief and the government. This 130 acres, as claimed, formed part of an immense territory which the Indians afterwards sold. It is stated that when Mr. Cox attempted to obtain an abstract to the land he was advised by the government that the property was part of the Pottawatomies' tract.

STATE'S CASE CLOSED.

Bad Day in Court for Luetgert, the Alleged Wife Murderer.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Judge Tuthill ruled in favor of the state Tuesday, and allowed the prosecution to introduce testimony tending to show the motive that is supposed to have actuated Adolph L. Luetgert the fateful night of May 1. The testimony came from Frank Blak and Frank Oderofsky, former employes at the factory, and did not throw a favorable light on the defendant. In brief, the two witnesses drew a picture of Luetgert's conduct with other women, while his wife—for whose alleged murder he is now on trial—stood in the background weeping bitterly. The defense knew the effect such evidence would have on the average jury and fought hard to have it excluded, but the court refused to grant the request, although repeated time and again.

Judge Tuthill declared that any evidence—even though indirect—that the defendant was unfaithful to his wife was as competent as showing a motive for the murder. Attorney Vincent declared in protest that such testimony would prejudice the jury against Luetgert. There is no doubt it did. In fact, the evidence would have placed a much more respectable citizen than the sausage maker in a very bad light. At 11:30 o'clock Mrs. Johnson went on the stand, and after her testimony the case of the state was closed and the defense began when Attorney Vincent rose to deliver his opening address.

FRANCIS JOSEPH ANGRY.

Publicly Rebukes a General on the Conduct of His Troops.

Budapest, Sept. 21.—Among the incidents in connection with the arrival here Monday of Emperor William of Germany are the following: On his way to the railway station to meet the German emperor Emperor Francis Joseph passed a Bosnian division commanded by a general. The emperor rose in his carriage and cried in a loud voice: "Is that how you drill your men, general? Look at them. They are a disgrace." To a Bosnian colonel the emperor said: "Teach your soldiers the rules, colonel, before you let them march out of the barracks."

At three points along the route Emperor Francis Joseph stopped his carriage and angrily remarked upon the conduct of the public, who persisted in trespassing within the lines of troops. When the procession, headed by the two emperors, was returning from the railroad station the horse of the censured general became restive and the general, sheathing his sword, ordered the Bosnians to open their line and, before the general party arrived, he rode out of sight, evidently fearing the emperor would again censure him.

"Purgatorial Pills."

The druggist would hardly smile if you asked for "purgatorial pills"; there are many of them, but he would probably recommend a pill that did not sicken or gripe; a sugar coated pill, gentle in action, and sure in effect; they are Carter's Cascara Pills. Price 25 cents. For sale by H. J. Brown.

Odd Fellows on Parade.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 21.—Several thousand Odd Fellows, headed by bands from all over the state, marched through the streets of Springfield Tuesday cheered by crowds such as this city probably never saw before. General J. P. Ellcott was the grand marshal of the parade, which disbanded at the state fair grounds. Following the parade was a prize drill by the patriarchs' militant. In the evening a reunion of past grand representatives was held at the First Methodist Episcopal church; also the exemplification degree of the encampment by the Decatur staff.

Tramps Hold Up a Train.

Minneapolis, Sept. 21.—Three tramps held up a Great Northern cattle train at daylight yesterday morning near Smith Lake, Minn. They made their way to the caboose, where they found three cattlemen sleeping. They aroused the cattlemen and at the point of their revolvers compelled the cattlemen to give up their valuables. Only small sums were secured. While this was going on the conductor and brakemen suddenly appeared and the robbers made a break to escape. Two of them succeeded in jumping from the train, while the third was cornered and arrested.

Indiana Corn Crop Safe.

Indianapolis, Sept. 21.—The corn crop, both early and late, is now beyond all danger from frost, and will make a good yield. Turnips are nearly a failure. Peaches are fairly good, and apples will be quite plentiful. No late potatoes have been dug up yet, and it is feared the crop will be light. Pasturage is dry and stock water is very scarce.

HE HAS THE METEORITE

Arrival of Lieutenant Peary at Sydney, N. S.

EXPEDITION WAS SUCCESSFUL.

The Meteorite Carried in the Hold of the Hope Embedded in Ballast—Relics of the Ill-Fated Expedition Led by Greely Also Obtained—Peary Brings Back Several Esquimaux Who Will Go with Him on a Search of the Pole.

Sydney, N. S., Sept. 21.—The steam sailing bark Hope, with Lieutenant R. E. Peary and party on board, arrived here at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon from north Greenland. All on board are well. The Hope came into port burning her last ton of coal, and with her bulwarks and decks giving evidence of the furious seas of an unusually stormy summer. She is nearly as deep in the water as when she left here in the latter part of July, with her bunkers full of coal, for the huge Cape York meteorite, the largest in the world, is in her hold, and bedded in tons of ballast. Lieutenant Peary has on board also six Cape York Eskimos, who will go with him when he returns next year to attempt to reach the north pole.

Relics of Greely's Expedition.

The expedition visited Cape Sabine, and relics of the ill-fated expedition led by Greely, have been obtained. The summer in Baffin bay was marked by almost continuously stormy weather and by an unusual scarcity of ice. The investigating party from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, under R. W. Porter, landed at Cape Haven Aug. 3, and did not re-embark until Sept. 13. The party led by Hugh Lee, the arctic explorer of Meriden, Conn., landed at God Haven on Aug. 7, and re-embarked Sept. 7. Professor Schubert's party, representing the National museum, landed at Onemak Aug. 8, re-embarking Sept. 4. The party, led by Robert Stein of the United States geological survey, was on land from Aug. 10 to Sept. 2. The Hope will coal here and then proceed to New York, where she will land the meteorite.

COLORED PEOPLE ARE ANGRY.

Discrimination in the Alton, Ill., Schools Stirs Up Trouble.

Alton, Ill., Sept. 21.—The public schools of this city opened Monday under the new arrangement separating the colored children from association with the white pupils, the former being assigned to two new schools by themselves. There is much dissatisfaction among the colored people over this change, based on race prejudices and it was feared that there might be trouble. In anticipation of this the city council vested all janitors in the white schools with police authority, but there has been no demonstration of any kind so far. The colored citizens have raised a purse of $500 and state emphatically that they will fight the new order on the grounds of justice, to the highest court.

Ex-City Clerk Arrested.

Cape May, N. J., Sept. 21.—George Bogart, the ex-city clerk of Evanston, Ill., who was arrested here Monday last week, after eluding officers and detectives for a month, and who was indicted last Wednesday by the grand jury of that place for embezzling $8,883 of the city's funds, was taken from here Tuesday by Police Captain John Marsh and Constable Samuel Harrison, both of Evanston, the latter a bondsman of Bogart, and are now on their way to Evanston.

Ex-Minister Taylor in London.

London, Sept. 21.—Hannis Taylor, the former United States minister to Spain, arrived here Monday evening and called at the United States embassy. In an interview Mr. Taylor said: "The grave negotiations pending between the United States and Spain as to the war in Cuba are now entirely in the hands of General Woodford, who has had fruitful experience, both in peace and war, and will be equal to the occasion whatever it may be."

Husband Wouldn't Pay the Fine.

Oshkosh, Wis., Sept. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. William Goddard, the latter an old resident and possessed of considerable means, were tried in the municipal court on the charge of disorderly conduct. Mrs. Goddard was convicted and fined $5 and costs amounting to $36.15. She could not pay, her husband wouldn't and she went to jail for thirty days.

Railway Conductor Killed.

She Was Prepared.

A certain minister always felt it to be his duty to give each young couple a little serious advice before he performed the marriage ceremony, and for this purpose he usually took them aside, one at a time, and talked very soberly to each of them regarding the great importance of the step they were to take and the new responsibilities they were to assume. One day he talked in his most earnest manner for several minutes to a young woman who had come to be married to a bright looking young man.

"And now," he said in closing, "I hope you will fully realize the extreme importance of the step you are taking and that you are prepared for it."

"Prepared!" she said innocently. "Well, if I ain't prepared I don't know who is. I've got 4 common quilts and 2 nice ones and 4 brand new feather beds, 10 sheets and 12 pairs of pillow slips, 4 all linen tablecloths, a dozen spoons and a good six quart teakettle. If I ain't prepared, no girl in this country ever was."—Dundee Times.

Books Which Come High.

A writer in a critical review says that one-half of the book buying public does not know what the other half buys. All the books that are published are by no means to be found in the bookstores. The most beautiful and costly books never find their way into the shops at all, are not sent out for review and are known to a very limited number of people. Immense sums are yearly spent on the making of such books, which bring from $100 to $1,000 each. These expensive volumes are not sold in the ordinary way, but entirely by subscription, and the business of selling them in the United States is in the hands of about half a dozen men, who neither sell nor attempt to sell anything else. Their season is short, but the profits are large, and they live about luxuriously in broughams with a man servant in attendance to carry the books.

Children Cry for

Long Ago Life in Washington.

There are some entertaining pictures of life in Washington 70 years ago in Stratford Canning's diary and letters. "My predecessor," he writes, "had greatly the advantage over me in his collection of good stories. I record one of them to serve as a pattern of the rest. He was Sir Charles Bagot, a man of very attractive manners, intelligent, witty and kind. An American minister and his wife dining with him one day, he heard Lady Bagot, who was at some distance, say rather quickly, 'My dear Mrs. S., what can you be doing?' The salad bowl had been offered to Mrs. S., and her arm was lost in it up to the elbow. Her reply was prompt—'Only rollicking for an onion, my lady.'"

AGURAI IN MAROCCO.

The Whole Population of the Town Is Descended From Renegades.

Agura is a small town surrounded with walls of from 40 to 50 feet in height and built of tabia, or consolidated rubble. It owes its existence to Mulai Ismail, who held the throne of Morocco from 1722-1757. One gate alone gives entrance to the place, and in this respect, as well as in its architecture within and without, it much resembles the "ksor" of the Sahara described in the writer's "Taflet." But it owns one feature of curiosity which was lacking in the desert, for almost without exception the entire population are descendants of the renegades and Christian slaves of the time of Mulai Ismail, with the addition of stray renegades who have been sent there since. Probably no such cosmopolitan place exists in the world, for its 300 or 400 inhabitants are representative of no less than 13 nationalities. Each family remembers and is proud of its origin, the Arab equivalent being applied as surnames.

The family in whose home the writer spent the few days of his visit were Flemish, while the next door neighbor on one side was an elderly female, whose father, an Englishman, had become a renegade some 80 years since, and who quickly tired of it, leaving a wife and daughter, the neighbor in question. The other neighbors were the descendants of Spanish gypsies, the head of the family being "Absalam ben Mohammed el Gitano el Espanoli." They were particularly proud of the "Gitano" (gypsy) part of the surname and begged me not to confound them with the ordinary Spaniards, of whom there were many descendants in Agurai. The ancestor of this gypsy family was two generations back. He had left his country, they naively told the writer, because he was not on good terms with his sultan, who wanted to imprison him, being afraid of his influence. Probably it was more of an affair of the police courts than political intrigue.

The "Ulud el Aluj" ("sons of the converts"), as the inhabitants of Agurai are called, have entirely, except in one or two cases, lost the type of their European ancestry, and through marriage, no doubt, are as largely Berber in appearance as the wild tribes that surround them. They speak among themselves both Arabic and Berber, and both, curiously enough, with a strong foreign accent, easily distinguishable. They are exempt from all taxation, but have to serve in the sultan's army, where they perform the duties of cooks and butchers.—Geographical Journal.

COURIERS BACK NUMBERS.

No Longer Any Need to Go Through Europe With Them.

Up to times within the memory of living men almost no one of means traveled through Europe without a courier. Before railroads were built and before good guidebooks were printed he was almost indispensable. His tribe survives, but in greatly diminished numbers. To the self reliant traveler he is of no use whatever. Indeed he is frequently a positive incumbrance, and worse. To my mind one of the great pleasures of travel is in learning to travel by myself. There are satisfaction, pleasure and education in planning routes, deciphering time tables, making bargains, learning by observation the lay of the land.

The time may have been when a courier could save a traveler more than his cost. Most certainly that is not the case now. On the contrary, as he gets a percentage on every purchase his party makes, which, of course, comes out of the purchaser in increased price, and as it is often for his interest to advise the more costly route, the more costly hotel or the more costly excursion, he eats up much more than his wages, while saving positively nothing. Bean declares that in a two weeks' trip in southern Spain, which he made side by side with a couple having a courier, he invariably reached the hotel first, got better rooms and saw all the sights to as good advantage, yet the courier was, of his kind, an expert. The fact is that travel has become so general, tourist companies, railroads and landlords have so well studied its needs, books are so plentiful, that you couldn't very well get off the track or have a mishap if you tried.—Herbert Luce in "Going Abroad."

What He Played.

A member of a military band at a certain barrack came to the surgeon recently with a long face and a plaintive story about a sore throat.

"Sore throat, eh," said the surgeon pleasantly. "Let me see. Oh, that's not so bad. A slight irritation; nothing more. You'll be all right in a day or two. I think you had better take no risk in renewing the trouble by using your throat, though, so I will recommend you for a fortnight's sick leave."

Armed with the surgeon's certificate, the bandman obtained his two weeks' sick leave. The two weeks had just come to an end when he met the surgeon on the parade ground. The bandman saluted. The surgeon recognized the face and stopped.

"How's the throat?" he asked pleasantly.

"It's quite well, sir," was the reply. "That's good," said the surgeon. "You can get back to your duty without fear. By the way, what instrument do you handle in the band?"

"The small drum, sir," said the musician.—Chicago News.

From the top of the cathedral spire in Mexico you can see the entire city, and the most striking feature of the view is the absence of chimneys. There is not a chimney in all Mexico, not a grate nor a stove nor a furnace. All the cooking is done with charcoal in Dutch ovens.

Bowling, billiards and card playing are unlawful in Michigan, according to some dead letter statutes.

Suffered 20 Years.

MRS. MARY LEWIS, wife of a prominent farmer, and well known by all old residents near Belmont, N. Y., writes: "For twenty-seven years I had been a constant sufferer from nervous prostration, and paid large sums of money for doctors and advertised remedies without benefit. Three years ago my condition was alarming; the least noise would startle and unnerve me. I was unable to sleep, had a number of sinking spells and slowly grew worse. I began using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve and Nerve and Liver Pills. At first the medicine seemed to have no effect, but after taking a few bottles I began to notice a change; I rested better at night, my appetite began to improve and I rapidly grew better, until now I am as nearly restored to health as one of my age may expect. God bless Dr. Miles' Nerve."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on diseases of the heart and nerves free. Address, DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

The Wall Fell Down.

By the giving way of some old masonry on which a supporting iron beam rested a part of the brick front of the new addition to the Cook house fell into the street last evening. The portion which fell was about 30 feet wide and full four stories high, the workmen being engaged in laying the final layers of brick, when the foundations gave way. The wall was old, being part of the old original Cook house, and was only eight inches thick. The weight resting on it was too great for it. Luckily the trestles were on the inside. The wall falling outwards no one was hurt, although there were a number of narrow escapes. The damage is considerable. A. L. Nowlin, of Ypsilanti, is proprietor of the hotel.

He Had No Ring.

A young man called on County Clerk Schuh the other evening to get a marriage license in a hurry. It was after office hours, but Cap. is nothing if he is not obliging, so he went to the court house and issued the paper. Then the question of some one to tie the marital knot came up. Mr. Schuh recommended a minister, but the prospective bridegroom said no, as a ring would be necessary for the ceremony if performed by one of them and he said "We've not known each other long enough to have a ring." Justice Pond was finally settled on as being a staid, mature man, and he tied the knot at about 8:30 o'clock at his residence. The names on the marriage license read Sam Polk Walker and Effie Kennedy, both of this city.

Would Curse No One With It.

The other day two well known gentlemen of Ann Arbor were talking over city matters. Among other things the stone crusher owned by the city bobbed up. Said Mr. B. "What our city council should do, is to give away that stone crusher to any person or city that wants it."
"No, never," said Mr. R., "do not curse anybody in any such a manner. Put a dynamite cartridge in the blamed thing and blow it to pieces." Which latter would be an excellent way of getting rid of the most useless and most expensive piece of machinery the city ever owned.

When a man is so mean and cranky that nobody wants to have anything to do with him, his wife always says he has a peculiar disposition.—New York Press.

NANSEN'S WONDERFUL PIGEON.

It Carried a Message Thousands of Miles to His Wife.

The opening number of the Students' Lecture Association in November will be a lecture by the world famed Norwegian Arctic explorer Dr. Nansen. He is a fluent English speaker and an account of his wonderful adventures in the land of ice and snow will be one of a most thrilling and interesting nature. At this time when so much interest centers about the movements of carrier pigeons and the great desire to hear from M. Andree, another Arctic explorer, is so intense, it is probable that the following, taken from the London Times, and copied in all the leading European papers, will be of interest to our readers. It will be seen that it is by no means an impossible thing to hear from Andree, should he be successful, by pigeons, as should he reach the exact location of the Pole, it would only be one hundred and twenty miles farther than this message came by this carrier pigeon from Dr. Nansen to Mrs. Nansen.

"One day a wonderful bird tapped at the window of Mrs. Nansen's home at Christiana. Instantly the window was opened, and the wife of the famous Arctic explorer in another minute covered the little messenger with kisses. The carrier pigeon had been away from the cottage thirty long months, but had not forgotten the way home. It brought a note from Nansen stating that all was well with him and his expedition in the Polar regions. Nansen had fastened a message to a carrier pigeon and turned the bird loose. The frail carrier darted out into the blizzarding air, it flew like an arrow over a thousand miles of frozen waste, and then sped forward over another thousand miles of ocean and plains and forests, and one morning entered the window of the waiting mistress, and delivered the message which she had been awaiting so anxiously. We boast of human pluck, sagacity, and endurance; but this loving little carrier pigeon, in its homeward flight after an absence of thirty months, accomplished a feat so wonderful that we can only give ourselves up to the amazement and admiration which must overwhelm every one when the marvelous story is told. Mrs. Nansen's pigeon is one of the wonders of the world."—Times.

Walter C. Mack is now in New York picking up the very latest novelties to be found in that great city for Mack & Co.'s several stores. While the bulk of all their dry goods, dress goods, worsteds, flannels, etc., were purchased several months ago when these goods had reached the lowest point in price ever known, there are always many late novelties for ladies' wear brought out at this time of the year not possible to purchase earlier and which Mr. Mack is desirous of securing for his big establishment. He is anxious that nothing shall be omitted that will add to the attractions of "The Store."

ATHENS THEATER ATTRACTIONS

Walker Whiteside, the Tragedian.

"If there lived a man who could really know in advance just what the public would say of an untried play, he could open an office and charge a hundred dollars a minute for his time. And he would have it all taken."

This was the rather emphatic statement of Walker Whiteside, the tragedian, when asked about the new play he was to produce in Pittsburg, Sept. 6, for the first time on any stage.

"Experience only teaches how hopelessly impossible it is to prophesy public opinion." Mr. Whiteside went on. "All the honest actor can do is to do his best and await the verdict as calmly as possible. That is what I have done and shall do. I have secured a play carefully and brilliantly dramatized by a prominent writer, from one of the foremost novels of the day, Stanley Weyman's, 'The Man in Black.' I have surrounded myself with a sterling company of experienced actors, one of them, Mr. Frederick Paulding, having long been a successful star. My tour will be under the direction of Mason Mitchell. I have had special scenery and costumes made and rehearsed the company carefully. I shall throw all my interest and all my ability into the dual role.

Mr. Whiteside will appear at the Athens Theater Monday night next, Sept. 27, in this play "The Man in Black."

"A Boy Wanted."

Charles E. Blaney's big extravaganza success, "A Boy Wanted," interpreted by a strong company of comedy and vaudeville artists, will be presented at the Athens Theater, Thursday next, Sept. 30. Mr. Eddie Herron will this season be seen as "the boy," and from all accounts he has made the greatest hit in his theatrical career. The comedy is divided into three acts, first representing the interior of Herman Highball's evening paper, "The Keg," showing the press room in full operation, the much abused printer's devil and a host of pretty type setters. Second act shows the exterior of the Starview Hotel. During this act a number of clever and unique specialties are introduced, along with some clever mechanical effects; one effect in particular, termed "the fiery dragon" or "monster of the sea," which emerges from the ocean and after slowly wriggling down to the footlights is transformed into ten beautiful girls attired in rich Japanese costumes, who introduce the up-to-date Vassar girl. The last act shows the Starview Hotel at night and introduces the Sisters Gehrue in their novel dances.

Laying Wires to Get State Offices.

It leaked out at the recent soldiers' and sailors' encampment at Grand Rapids that Col. C. V. R. Pond, assistant adjutant general of the department of Michigan, G. A. R., has political aspirations and wants to be the candidate on the republican ticket at the next election for secretary of state. Attorney General Fred Maynard is also not yet tired of office, but he is anxious for a change. He would like to succeed Judge C. B. Grant on the supreme court bench. Judge Grant's term expires next, and Maynard wants to be the Pingree candidate for the job. It is a well known fact that the governor and his lieutenants have no love for Judge Grant. Maynard, it is said has already served notice of his intentions on Justice Grant, who will doubtless expect a renomination since he has served but one term.

Traveling Libraries.

State Librarian Mrs. M. C. Spencer announces that she will be pleased to hear from granges, farmers' clubs or farming communities interested in the traveling library movement. About 100 libraries are now in circulation, and the appropriation made last winter will permit of about 50 more. Special libraries will be prepared for the use of study clubs engaged in special work. She will mail information and instructions concerning the libraries on request. The system has so far proved an unqualified success.

A SIMPLE TIRE REPAIR.

Punctures in the well known Morgan & Wright tire are mended about as easily as a man would close a hole in his finger with a bit of court plaster. Inside of the inner tube of the tire lies a long strip of patching rubber, like this:

By injecting M. & W. quick-repair cement through the puncture into this inner tube, and then pressing down on the tire with the thumb, like this,

the repair strip inside is picked up by the cement, thus closing the puncture, like this:

Very simple, but—now every rider should remember these two "butts," or he will fail!

Before injecting cement, pump up the tire. If you don't, the inner tube will be flabby, like this, and the cement will not get inside of it, where the repair strip lies.

When you have a puncture, get right off. Riding a tire flat, when it has a tack or nail in it, may damage it considerably.
