MANY GRIEF STRICKEN

Families in Whitmore Lake as the Result of a

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT

Toledo Ice Co.'s Mammoth Ice House Collapsed

Yesterday Afternoon Carrying Death and Serious Injuries to the Men Who Were Working on It When It Fell Down.

The inhabitants of the village of Whitmore Lake and the surrounding country received a great shock yesterday afternoon when about 3:20 o'clock the mammoth ice house in process of construction for the Toledo Ice Co. collapsed without a moment's warning, instantly killing two men, fatally wounding five more and injuring several others.

The dead are: Oscar O'Connor and Albert Morey, of Whitmore Lake, both young men and unmarried.

Those who are probably fatally injured are:

- John McBride, foreman, of Owosso, badly crushed about head and body;
- Joseph Comette, Owosso, head crushed and internally injured;
- George Martin, breast crushed in and lungs injured;
- Henry Stilason, Whitmore Lake, arm crushed and hurt internally;
- William Foltz, Whitmore Lake, leg crushed to pieces and head badly hurt;
- John Baumgardner, Whitmore Lake, seriously crushed;
- The others less seriously injured are: Joseph Taylor, Ann Arbor, arm broken;
- Thomas Taylor, Ann Arbor, arm broken;
- Stephen Earl, Whitmore Lake, ankle badly sprained;
- Walter Spiegelberg, Whitmore Lake, ankle broken;
- Will Lowery, Whitmore Lake, ankles both sprained.

There were 157 laborers at work on the building yesterday afternoon, and the work was being pushed so as to get the big structure into shape so as to take advantage of the ice which is ready for the harvest. The building was 132 feet in width and about 320 feet long and was divided into five rooms. The west chambers were almost completed and the carpenters were busy putting on the plates, which are 50 feet from the foundation of the structure, when without apparently any warning, the west wall of the immense structure began to fall. It fell outwards, but loosening the hold on the five cross partitions, they went down like a row of ninepins, one after another. There was no chance of escape and the seventy odd men inside the building were pinned to the ground with tremendous force. The dull report, the cloud of rising dust and a few piercing shrieks told the story.

A crowd of willing workers was at the scene of the terrible accident almost immediately and the work of rescuing the imprisoned men at once began. The body of Oscar O'Connor was the first to be taken from the ruins. He had been instantly killed, partially impaled on a broken timber. Albert Morey died before he could be carried to the nearest house.

It was a most distressing scene. The rescuing party worked like beavers, and soon almost every house along the village street held its wounded inmate. Telegrams were sent at once to Ann Arbor and Hamburg for medical assistance, and a special train was dispatched from Ann Arbor to the lake, with medical men and other assistance and soon all that was possible was being done for the wounded men.

It is considered somewhat of a miracle that no more were killed than two, but the reason for this is probably found in the fact that the floor was covered with piles of unused lumber, and this broke the force of the falling timbers, leaving holes into which the men fell.

A month or two ago a company known as the Toledo Ice Co., said to be simply another name for the agents of Philip Armour, the great Chicago pork packer, began the construction of an enormous wooden building close to the shore of the lake for the storage of ice. It was to be 132 feet wide and 321 feet long, with walls over 50 feet high, and was expected to hold over 50,000 tons of lake ice when completed. The work of construction has been pushed with the utmost speed and a force of from 75 to 150 men constantly employed on it. The Ann Arbor Railroad's superintendent of bridges James Turnbull, of Toledo, had charge, while John McBride, of Owosso, acted as foreman of the job. It is not known where the responsibility for the accident, if any there be, rests. But, yesterday noon by some one's orders, supposedly those of Mr. Turnbull, the workmen began removing the inside braces, which acted as props for the great double walls. The roofing was not yet in shape, but was to go on at once, it being expected that the harvest of ice would begin within a week or ten days.

The total cost of the building when completed was to have been $25,000. The damage is estimated at about $10,000.

Justice Moss impaneled a coroner's jury, which viewed the dead bodies and the scene of the accident and then adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

ANN ARBOR POST OFFICE.

A Night Mailing Clerk Has Been Appointed

Ann Arbor keeps putting on city airs. The latest is a real improvement in the postal facilities and is a night mailing clerk in the Ann Arbor office with a messenger service meeting the night mail trains. This in many cases will save 24 hours in letters to Chicago and will save in time in other letters sent east and south as well as west. The service began last Tuesday night with Benj. E. O'Neill as night mail clerk.

It was made possible by the appropriation by the post office department for an extra clerk secured by the kindly services of Gen. Spalding, our representative in congress, who entered heartily into the plans for postal improvements in this city and who used his influence and made a telling argument before the department. It will afford our business men much better facilities in getting out their mail. For instance a business house in Chicago may write an Ann Arbor merchant at 9 o'clock Monday morning. The merchant gets this letter between 7 and 7:30 o'clock, Monday night and if he answers it before 9:45 that evening, the answer will reach the Chicago house on the first morning delivery Tuesday morning, or if his answer is in the Ann Arbor post office by midnight, it will reach the Chicago house during Tuesday forenoon. Letters for Detroit mailed by 12:30 a. m. will be delivered in Detroit on the first morning delivery. In the case of the Chicago letter under the old regime, if put in the Ann Arbor office after 8 p. m. it would not have reached Chicago until the close of business Tuesday.

When our business men come to understand the advantages gained by a night service many of them will make a practice of answering their correspondence in the evening. The change will also permit the office to get out the second and third class matter more promptly. The numerous publications here have in times past often congested the office, which condition the increase in the mailing force will greatly relieve. The postmaster states that the mails in the office are at least a third heavier than they were when he took possession of the office.

The mails received during the night from the east, west and south are now brought to the office as soon as received instead of remaining at the depots over night as formerly and are largely distributed among the carriers and box sections by the night clerk.

Registered letters dispatched and received will also in many cases be greatly hastened by the change. The receipts of the Ann Arbor post office from the sale of stamps and the rent of boxes during the last three months of 1897 were $10,320.19, of which $130.50 was from box rents and $10,189.69 was from the sale of stamps envelopes and postal cards. The expenses of the office during this three months including all salaries was $4,832.48, leaving $5,867.71 turned into the United States treasury. During the three months over half a million of stamps were sold, or to be exact, 533,308. This includes the stamps on envelopes and postal cards. The following is the number of each denomination of stamps sold: One cent, 91,395; two cent, 282,034; three cent, 2,603; four cent, 2,439; five cent, 5,023; six cent, 2,044; eight cent, 1,670; ten cent, 2,160; fifteen cent, 250; special delivery, 91; one cent postal cards, 59,483; two cent postal cards, 1,266; one cent envelopes, 5,867; two cent envelopes, 73,223; five cent envelopes, 41; one cent newspaper wrappers, 3,143. Figures are often hard to grasp and we can put these sales in another form. If the stamps sold were laid end to end with no space between them we would have a strip of postage stamps reaching from Ann Arbor to Ypsilanti.

A big business was also done in the money order department. Here in the three months of October, November and December 6,480 domestic orders were paid amounting to $49,483.19 and 66 foreign orders were paid amounting to $953.37. In the same time 2,862 domestic orders were issued amounting to $14,411.58 on which the government received $144.61 in fees and 140 foreign orders were issued amounting to $1,254.57 on which the government received $19.90 in fees.

Lost to Sight.

Another peculiar case that has come before the probate court for adjudication is that of Henry Gerlach. About three years ago Henry Gerlach, then an unmarried man 30 years old, living with a brother in Northfield, suddenly and mysteriously disappeared while on his way to Dexter with another brother, who is now in the insane hospital at Wayne. Shortly before disappearing Gerlach sold a farm of 60 acres in Northfield to John George Kempf on contract. Now Kempf is ready to pay for the land and get his deed, but there is no one to pay the money to. Gerlach's brother now comes before Judge Nawkirk and asks for some arrangement whereby the money can be collected and the deed given.

DEAD FOLKS' MONEY

Is the Cause of a Great Deal of Legal Bickering.

4 DIFFERENT CASES

Now Occupying the Attention of Washtenaw Courts.

One Administrator Wants an Accounting and Alleges Fraud.—Another Wants Instructions How to Construe a Big Will.

A suit which gives promise of many sensational developments has been commenced by Comstock F. Hill, administrator of the estate of the late Marie Osius, who died September 14, 1896, at the age of 95 years, against William Osius, her son, and Frederick Buss and Christina Buss, to compel them to give an accounting of what they have done with the $10,000 estate which belonged to Mrs. Osius.

The bill filed avers that for many years previous to Mrs. Osius' death, her son William Osius, with whom she resided, had exercised an undue influence over her and by misrepresentation, trickery and force secured possession of almost all of her real and personal property. That at different times she had desired to remove to the home of her daughter in Ann Arbor but had been prevented by her son, who is pronounced "penurious to the last degree." That Osius induced his cousin, Frederick Buss, to join him in his efforts to prejudice his mother against the other heirs, and prevented her from making a just will to dispose of her property. That on Dec. 11, 1895, she was induced to convey all her property to Buss under the pretense that she was making her last will and testament, and also executed a statement giving Buss power to distribute $3,054 among the other heirs and dividing the balance of the estate between Frederick Buss and William Osius.

The bill also asked that a temporary injunction restraining them from disposing of any of the property be issued, and on Friday Judge Kinne issued the injunction.

MRS. STARKWEATHER'S WILL.

Twenty-two Points in It Submitted to the Probate Court for Decision.

Robert W. Hemphill, of Ypsilanti, administrator of the estate of the late Mary Anne Starkweather, has filed a bill in the probate court asking for the construction of the court on 22 points in the will which seem obscure, before he would feel safe in paying off the legacies named in the will. One of the uncertain points is said to involve the disposal of $60,000. Some of the points are as follows:

One provision gives to Margaret Ann Newberry, $5,000. A codicil says: "I decree that the $5,000 left to Margaret Ann Newberry be divided with Fannie E. Newberry; $2,500 to each daughter of my brother, G. P. Newberry."

But G. P. Newberry has another daughter besides the two mentioned, and the executor is puzzled.

One thousand dollars is bequeathed to Ethel Deubel for education. A codicil provides that she shall receive the interest of this till she marries, when the principal will be hers. The administrator does not know whether the money shall go for her education, as provided in the will, or be kept until her marriage, as the codicil provides.

A sum is bequeathed to James Wilson for kindness to Mrs. Starkweather's husband. But Wilson has long been dead and this provision may or may not have lapsed.

The will provides that, after these bequests have been made, the remainder, about $200,000, be divided equally among the families of her three brothers, George Newberry, Henry Newberry and John S. Newberry. The second codicil provides that the three youngest children of John S. Newberry shall have no part of the estate, "as they have great expectations from other sources" but that the oldest one Harrie R. Newberry, shall share in the division, after all debts owed by him to the estate have been cancelled.

The executor is in doubt whether the debts of Harrie R. Newberry are to be paid out of his share of the estate or forgiven. He is also in doubt whether this man's share is the one-third of the whole estate which, according to the original will, was to go to the children of John S. Newberry, or whether it is one-fourth of this; the amount he would have received had not his brothers and sisters been disinherited. The decision will make a difference to him of nearly $60,000. Harrie R. now lives in Paris, France.

Another bequest was made to the Y. M. C. A., but the executor believes the Y. M. C. A. had legally ceased to exist at the time of Mrs. Starkweather's death.

A certain amount is bequeathed John Starkweather, if he is childless 10 years after the making of the will. He is still childless, but the 10 years have not elapsed.

Charles Newberry is to have $3,000 if he does not marry and have children. He is married, but has no children.

Whatever is uncertain, there is one thing absolutely certain, which is that the judge of probate will have his spare moments well filled for some time before he gets all the points involved decided.

HE GETS $900

But a Guardian Is Appointed Over the Remaining $3,100.

The suit of George Blumhardt vs. John G. Feldkamp, trustee of the $4,000 estate left him by his father J. G. Blumhardt, was heard in the circuit court on Wednesday. In his will the elder Blumhardt stipulated that the property was not to be paid over to his son unless he got to be "more saving." The trustee said Blumhardt was as big a spendthrift as ever. Blumhardt's attorneys claimed that the will was too ambiguous in its terms to stand. A. J. Sawyer, attorney for the trustee, sarcastically remarked during the trial "We will show that where George used to drink champagne, he now gets drunk on hard cider." Hence he is more saving.

It was finally agreed that the trustee, John G. Feldkamp, should deliver over to Blumhardt $900 or thereabouts of the estate, and the balance of $3,100, which is invested in a mortgage on a farm in Pittsfield, should be turned over to Dr. C. F. Kapp, of Manchester, as guardian for Blumhardt, who pays all the expenses of the suit.

FELLOWS FAMILY REUNION.

A Joyous Meeting at C. M. Fellows' Home in Saline.

The annual reunion of the Fellows family was held at the home of C. M. Fellows in Saline township, Thursday, Dec. 30. About 30 of the relatives were present. The day was fine and warm which added greatly to the comfort of those who came with teams from a distance. The friends from Sharon, Manchester, York, Ann Arbor and Saline came early and spent the day, bringing with them bountiful supplies and all joined in loading down the table with the good things of life. After all had eaten and were full, R. K. Fellows, the toastmaster, after some brief remarks proposed the following toasts: "Our Family Tree an Evergreen." Responded to by C. M. Fellows, who said that many family records were kept in the form of a tree, the trunk bearing the parental name and each addition to the family being designated by a branch with the name written thereon. Different kinds of trees have been chosen for the records, the oak being the principle choice, representing hardness and endurance. But for our family tree the Evergreen is chosen, because of the honored position it holds in every well arranged yard, and because of its symmetry of form and uprightness of growth. Tradition says that all who bear the name Fellows in this country are the descendants of five brothers who came from England among the early settlers of the nation, and so far as we know no one bearing that name has ever been incarcerated in any prison or been an inmate of any county house or almshouse; and many of them are holding honored positions in the world. May our record grow higher and brighter like the evergreen.

"Our Ancestors," reply by Mrs. Iutt Leeson, of Manchester. She gave glowing tribute to the parents and grandparents who settled in this state and hewed out homes for themselves and their children amidst great privations and toil.

"Our Grafted Cousins." Response by A. G. McIntyre, of York, who said he was glad he married into a family with such a large relationship. As a graft he had been well cared for and made an excellent growth, especially since he sat down to the table.

"Our Family in the Late War." E. W. Hunt, of Saline, told something of the history and the privations of army life.

"Our Rising Generation; They Are Hustlers." Response by Miss Anna Fellows. After giving a list of the preachers, teachers, doctors, and other employments of the young people of the family, she closed with the following lines:

Here is to the memory of our forefathers,
So fearless and so bold,
Who in the early thirties,
Faced Michigan's storm and cold.
Many trials came their way,
Many a long day's toil;
Many hardships suffered they,
To break and till the soil.
They are sleeping now under the snow,
But their good deeds still live on,
Burning with a brighter glow
In the grandchild, daughter and son.
So here is to the Fellows cousins,
And to their true hearted grafts,
We count them by the dozens
So take deep long quaffs.
Then here's to the future, and the fame,
And the lofty aspiration
Of those who are honored by the name
Of this the Rising Generation.

Mrs. Esther Grisson, widow of the late Samuel Grisson, of this city, died in St. Paul, Minn., Friday last, after a very short illness, of pneumonia, aged 68 years. Her remains were brought to Ann Arbor Monday by her children and were interred in Forest Hill cemetery in the family burial lot. Rev. Henry Tatlock, rector of St. Andrew's church, conducted the services. Mrs. Grisson removed from Ann Arbor to St. Paul in 1885, where she had since resided with her son Robert A. Grisson.

A GREAT EXPENSE

To Carry on an Almost Helpless Fight - At Last the Fight is Over.

Our representative called at 26 Battle Creek Avenue, the residence of S. I. Robbins, and in an interview with him brought out the following facts: Mr. Robbins tells of his wife's experience in a manner that carries conviction with his words. He says: "I am sorry my wife is not at home this P. M., but no one knows better than I how she has suffered during past years. For twenty years she has been afflicted with the various forms of kidney complaint and an enlargement of the liver. She was often confined to her bed for more than two weeks at a time suffering untold agony. She has doctored constantly, and I have paid out in doctors' bills for her alone as much as $900.00, and then her relief was only such that she would be able to be around for a spell. Some time ago she felt the symptoms of another attack coming on, such as a pain in through the kidneys and back. I hardly knew what induced me to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, instead of sending for the family physician; however, I got some and she commenced their use. It was a surprise to us both to see their action; the attack was warded off, and she continued taking them with marked improvement each day of their use. She is better now than she has been in years, the pain in the back and others in the kidneys have entirely gone. About a day goes by that we do not mention the great good Doan's Kidney Pills have done her. I was always opposed to patent medicines, but confess that my wife's experience with Doan's Kidney Pills has done much to change my opinions. If it were not for those pills she would not have been able to be out this afternoon.

SAWING UP A LOG.

How Planks Are Cut Into Shape In a Great Western Sawmill.

W. S. Harwood contributes "The Story of a Pine Board" to St. Nicholas. After telling of the cutting down of the tree and its progress from the forest to the mill Mr. Harwood says:

Up from the yellowish brown depths of the slow moving river flowing so steadily on its way to the sea comes a huge, dark brown thing with a shining, dripping coat. It is our log, entering upon its last stage. It passes at once up a long incline called the "slit"—a trench of wood about eight inches deep and two feet wide at the top, so hollowed out that the largest log will lie in it securely as it is being drawn up the incline by the stout chains with which the slit is equipped. Projecting pieces of steel on this chain serve to keep the log steady, its great weight, causing it to sink upon these pieces of steel, which are like sharp teeth. A workman, standing at the side of the slit, by means of a lever throws up two powerful steel pointed arms, which lift the logs out of the slit and throw them upon tables, from which they are rolled down to the carriage which leads to the saws. When the log reaches the carriage, it is thrown upon the framework by the "jigger"—a long, ratcheted timber or piece of steel. This framework is like a section of an ordinary flat car running on a regular railroad track. Two men stand on the moving carriage and at a signal from the head Sawyer, who directs the cutting of the log, regulate the thickness of the plank or board by the levers of the carriage.

When the log has been adjusted, it rapidly advances to the saw, and in a very few seconds its water soaked sides have been trimmed by the sharp teeth. The carriage flies back to the starting place with the swiftness of the wind, and it is enough to make one shudder to see it go. You expect every instant that one of the men will be thrown off and terribly injured. They learn to balance themselves, however, though there are frequent accidents. One instant of inattention on the part of the head Sawyer, who regulates the speed of the carriage by his lever, would send the carriage flying back to the end of the mill with tremendous force and probably kill both of the men. One of the men on the carriage, called the "setter," fixes the width of the board to be sawed on signal from the head Sawyer; the other man is the second Sawyer.

As I stood one day in one of these mills, watching the men flying forth and back on the narrow carriage, and almost expecting that one or both of them would be thrown off in the swiftness of their flight, I took out my watch and timed them, and I found that they traveled on an average on this little railroad not more than 20 feet long, 168,000 feet a day, or about 31 miles.

MR. STABLER SAYS

Local Treatment for Catarrh Does No Good.

Mr. E. M. Stabler, Payne, Ohio, writes: "I had catarrh of the head. I tried a local catarrh remedy and it did me no good; I tried two different catarrh snuffs and they did me no good I tried a catarrh balm and it did me no good; our home doctor and his medicine did me no good; I tried a Port Wayne doctor and he did me no good. I gave them all up, for they were doing me no good. All they were after was my money, and they got it, and that was all they wanted. Then I got a Pe-ru-na Almanac. I read it all through and saw that Pe-ru-na was highly recommended for catarrh. I took eight bottles and they cured me sound and well. I am 59 years old and I can do a good day's work right along. I think Pe-ru-na is the best medicine that was ever got up for catarrh. I think every one that has catarrh should use it, as I believe it will do the same for others as it has done for me."

Grant and Longstreet.

General Grant had as much to do with Longstreet's becoming a Republican as any one else. They had been schoolmates at West Point, had been graduated the same year and received their commissions at the same time. They fought among the cactus bushes of Mexico and had drunk mescal from the same jug a thousand times. It was at Jefferson Barracks, near St. Louis, that Longstreet introduced his cousin, Miss Julia Dent, to Grant, and it was Longstreet himself who told the young lady of the worth of his friend. They were married, and the Georgian was at the wedding. When they next saw each other, it was at Appomattox. After the formalities of the surrender were over General Grant took General Longstreet to one side and said: "Julia wants to see you. Go home and see your family and then come to see me, won't you?"

Longstreet promised, and he kept his word. When General Grant became president, he asked for his advice and begged that his former adversary now be one of his advisers. General Grant never had a truer friend during his administration. They knew each other. When the tragedy took place at Mount McGregor, Longstreet suffered as if it were the loss of a brother. He has often visited the tomb on the Hudson and has laid the gentlest tribute of a friend upon the marble. —Chicago Times-Herald.

ATHLETE AND SCULPTOR.

A Tale of James E. Kelly's Powers, as Related by a Friend.

Although he is not large physically, several good stories are told about the prowess of James E. Kelly, the sculptor whose bronze statues of Molly Pitcher, General Buford at Gettysburg, "The Battle of Harlem Heights" and "Sheridan's Ride" have brought him fame. A friend of his said of him:

"He has more courage to the square inch than any man of his size I know, and on several occasions he has been called upon to show it unexpectedly.

"One day an expressman, six feet high and strong in proportion, invaded his studio. The expressman had overcharged the sculptor, and the latter desired to refer the matter to the main office. When the irate expressman entered, it happened that a tall friend of the artist was visiting the studio. With an oath the expressman said that he had come for satisfaction.

"I intend to smash you to smithereens," he ejaculated, shaking his fist and advancing toward the sculptor.

"Do not wait a moment," answered Kelly.

"The big man sprang at the artist, and at this critical moment the tall form of the latter's friend vanished through the back door. Quick as a flash the sculptor jumped behind the enraged expressman, seized him by the back of the neck, and with all the strength he could summon pushed the burly fellow to the front door and kicked him into the street. It was all done so quickly that the bellicose intruder hardly knew how it happened. He fell on the sidewalk, and his face was bruised. He got up and ran away. The sculptor returned to his work, and after a few minutes his vanishing friend entered timidly from the rear.

"What have you done with that Goliath?" he asked. "You know I have heart trouble and cannot stand scenes, and so I went out to keep calm."

"Oh, there was no scene," replied the sculptor. "It was an act in three kicks and a push." His heart trouble friend to this day thinks the sculptor is a piece of surcharged dynamite." —New York Commercial.

Indigestive poisons are the bane of the dyspeptic's life. When sick, see if your sickness is caused by indigestive poisons. If so, take Shaker Digestive Cordial. This is the only certain way of being permanently cured, because it is the only way that gets rid of the poisons. You know that fermented food is poisonous. You know that poison is unhealthy. Shaker Digestive Cordial clears the stomach of fermented food, and purifies the blood and system of indigestive poisons. It cures indigestion and the diseases that come of it. Headache, dizziness, nausea, stomach-ache, weakness, flatulence, constipation, loss of appetite, irritability, etc. These are a few of the symptoms, caused by indigestive poisons, cured by Shaker Digestive Cordial. Court Fools Who Owned Whole Towns.

Hitard, who was attached to Edmund Ironsides, is the first court jester of whom we have record. He owned the town of Walworth, a gift from the king. He held it through four succeeding reigns, and before leaving England for Rome, where he spent his last days, he presented it to the church, placing the deed upon the altar of the cathedral of Canterbury.

Gallet, Galet or Gollet, a native of Bayeux, was one of William the Conqueror's jesters. He was attached to William when only Duke of Normandy and saved his master's life by disclosing a plot for his assassination. Berdic was another. He is enrolled in domesday book as jocular regis and lord of three towns, all rent free, and five carucates in Gloucestershire. Rabere was jester to Henry I, and William Piculph, or Piccol, jester to King John. Master Henry, who, it is thought, may be identical with Henry of Avranches, the poet laureate or versificator, was jester to Henry III.—Amelia Wofford in St. Nicholas.

Did She Ever Live In Boston?

A young lady of Buffalo who wanted something that would keep her stockings up where they belonged thus addressed the terror stricken young store clerk:

"It is my desire to obtain a pair of circular elastic appendages capable of being contracted and expanded by means of oscillating burnished steel appliances that sparkle like particles of gold leaf set with Alaska diamonds and which are utilized for keeping in position the habiliment of the lower extremities which innately delicacy forbids me to mention." —Buffalo (W.Y.) Voice.

Gained Very Much.

"My wife was afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for three years. Seeing an advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla we concluded to give it a fair trial. After she had taken a few bottles she gained very much and she continued its use until she was cured." Charles B. Abbott, Coldwater, Michigan.

A candidate at an election was known to be strongly in favor of flogging in the army. He said he saw no necessary disgrace attached to being flogged. "Why," cried he, "I was flogged myself once, and it was for telling the truth."

Graduates of Indian Universities.

I think that the sorrows of a childless wife in India are not nearly so great as Mrs. Steel describes them to be, simply because of that "curious resignation, that impressive acquiescence, which," she says, "does more to separate east from west than all the seas which lie between England and India," and because, even if the barrenness of the first wife necessitates the marrying of a second (with a view to the future performance of religious rites), there can be no jealousy between the two, for to them "marriage has for its object the preservation of the hearth fire, not the fire of passion, and the jealousy which is a virtue to the civilized is a crime to these barbarians." Mrs. Steel, I fear, has also fallen into the common error (it would have been a marvel had she not) of assuming that every graduate of an Indian university is a prig.

The Indian graduate is also the pet aversion of Mr. Rudyard Kipling. But both are wrong in their assumptions. In the discharge of my academic duties, not so very long ago, I came daily into contact with more than 700 undergraduates of the Calcutta university, and I did not notice in them as a class any particular priggishness, anything which would differentiate them in that respect, say, from English varsity men.—Academy.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and is made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

Floating Up a River.

It was a vexed question in 1890 whether the Pilcomayo river, which flows for hundreds of miles from the Bolivian Andes to the Paraguay, might be used as a commercial highway from Bolivia to the ocean. Our countryman, Captain Page, settled this question so conclusively that no further effort to utilize the Pilcomayo is likely to be made, and in this work, that cost him his life, for he died of his privations after being hemmed in for months by hostile Indians, he devised a plan for steaming up river when the water was so low that his vessel was stuck in the mud. He was determined to go still farther, though his little steamer, which drew only 18 inches, rested on the river bottom, so behind the boat he threw up an embankment of earth clear across the channel, backed it with palm trunks and brushwood, and before long the water had risen a couple of feet, and the little Bolivia was able to go on her way four miles before she stuck again. Then another dam was built, and this process was repeated seven times, and with the aid of the dams the vessel advanced about 35 miles above the highest point she could reach at the natural low water stage.—Harper's Round Table.

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

Of the Judge of Probate for Washtenaw County.

To the Taxpayers of Washtenaw County: Believing that you will be interested in knowing the amount of business which has passed under my supervision during the past year.

The salaries, books, blanks and total expense of this office per year is about $3,000.

The class of cases requiring the most watchfulness on the part of a probate judge, are cases where guardians are appointed over the person and property of minor children.

As minors are often young when placed under guardianship, the estate may be in the hands of their guardian for ten, fifteen, or twenty years before it can be closed up.

During the past year but one contested case has been appealed from this court to the circuit court.

The office has been kept open from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m., and we have sought to have the day's work all completed when the hour came for closing.

REPORTS OF CITY OFFICERS.

The Monthly report of the City Marshal, Chief of the Fire Department, and Superintendent of the Poor were read and ordered filed.

To the Honorable the Common Council.

Gentlemen:—The case of Bryant Walker, Adm. vs. The City of Ann Arbor was heard in the county of Washtenaw, in chancery, on the 29th day of November last.

Judge Kinne filed his opinion in the case on the 22nd day of December, and as it is brief and to the point I report it in full, as follows:

"An important and necessary public improvement was made in this City. The estate of Corydon L. Ford received its due benefit therefrom.

ATHENS THEATER ATTRACTIONS

Cissy Fitzgerald.

Cissy Fitzgerald is coming. She is now playing at the Empire, Detroit.

Cissy is the young lady who left an elegant home in England, and against her family's wishes, took up the life of an actress.

She became the rage in London and has set the theatre-going people wild in the eastern cities since her arrival here.

She will be at the Athens on Wednesday evening, Jan. 12.

Tuesday's Detroit Free Press says: of Cissy Fitzgerald, who is to appear at the Athens next Wednesday evening, Jan. 12: Miss Fitzgerald is the music hall sensation, Tricky Maybud, made her first appearance on the scene near the end of act second.

Her cheery presence, buoyant spirits and arch manner, coupled with her unquestioned natural grace and acquired skill as a dancer, made at once an agreeable impression on the spectators, who applauded her with much warmth and called her back to continue her dance.

Between acts second and third she introduced her hoop-skirt dance, which is billed as "the rage of the present London season." It enables her to demonstrate how physical grace may overcome awkward conditions.

Her costume consists of a gown spread by a hoop to enormous and unwieldy dimensions, and a mass of filmy and prettily embellished white skirts and other rather more intimate garments.

All these, including the lady's waist-band, were freely exhibited. Perhaps the Young Person (who was numerous present) shivered a little, but up to the hour of writing no serious casualties have been reported.

KILLED BY HIS OWN GUN.

Henry Walker, of Salem, Died 10 Days After the Accident Happened.

A sad and ultimately fatal accident occurred in Salem, Dec. 24, by which Henry Walker came to his death on Saturday last.

Mr. Walker was out hunting with a party of friends and was resting his gun on a sleigh when, either the horses suddenly started up and threw the gun to the ground, or else it slipped and fell.

At any rate the gun went off and Mr. Walker received the charge of shot which it contained.

When his friends, who were a short distance away, arrived on the spot, they found that the entire load had entered his left arm at the upper muscles and was lodged in the shoulder.

He was taken home and his wound, which was a very bad one, was dressed by a surgeon. He improved somewhat until Saturday when some serious complication set in and he died the same evening of lockjaw at the age of 58 years.

The funeral services were held Wednesday. He leaves a widow to mourn his sudden death.

General Debility and Loss of Flesh

Scott's Emulsion has been the standard remedy for nearly a quarter of a century.

Physicians readily admit that they obtain results from it that they cannot get from any other flesh-forming food.

There are many other preparations on the market that pretend to do what does, but they fail to perform it.

The pure Norwegian Cod-liver Oil made into a delightful cream, skillfully blended with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, which are such valuable tonics, makes this preparation an ideal one and checks the wasting tendency, and the patient almost immediately commences to put on flesh and gain a strength which surprises them.

Be sure you get SCOTT'S EMULSION. See that the man and fish are on the wrapper.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A SONG FOR MOTHERS.
Oh, weary mothers, mixing dough,
Don't you wish that food would grow?
Your lips would smile, I know, to see
A cookie bush or a pancake-tree.
No hurry, no worry, or boiling pot—
No waiting to get the oven hot;
But you could send your child to see
If the pies had baked on the cherry tree.
A beefsteak bush would be quite fine;
I read he plucked from its tender vine:
A sponge cake plant our pet would be;
We'd read and saw 'neath the muffin-tree.

The concert given at the Bethlehem church Saturday evening for the benefit of the fund to purchase the new grand piano was very largely attended and the concert was a gratifying success from both points of view—financial and artistic—and highly enjoyable. The number of people present can be judged from the fact that $55 was realized from the sale of tickets at 10 cents and 15 cents each. The piano is a "B. Shoninger Grand," and is said by judges of musical instruments to be an exceptionally fine one. It was purchased from Schaeberle's music store.

Small debts are what blight the business of the country. Every storekeeper has a large number of small debts on his books, and when it is remembered that the aggregate amounts, in many cases to hundreds of dollars, and that it comes out of the profits of the business, it can be readily seen why the small debt system of the country figures largely in discouragement and losses to trade. Pay your small debts promptly.—Ex. That's just what casts a blight on the newspaper business. Do you "sabby"?

Countess von Goetzen, the bride, is the widow of the late William Mathews Lay of this city. She is a native of Baltimore, where she was first married. Her beauty has always made her much admired and it is said that no other woman in society has received more attention. Her acquaintance with Count von Goetzen began just a year ago at a New Year's dinner given at Corcoran house by Mrs. Calvin S. Brice.

Heart Rescue in 30 Minutes after momentarily expecting for years that death might snap the vital cord at any minute. This is the story thousands could tell and have told of the almost Divine formula, Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. D-O-D-D

THE PECULIARITIES OF THIS WORD.

No Name on Earth So Famous—No Name More Widely Imitated.

No name on earth, perhaps is so well known, more peculiarly constructed, or more widely imitated than the word DODD.

No imitator has ever succeeded in constructing a name possessing the peculiarity of DODD, though they nearly all adopt names as similar as possible in sound and construction to this.

Why is the name "Dodd's Kidney Pills" imitated? As well ask why are diamonds and gold imitated.

No medicine has ever name kidney pills till years of medical research gave Dodd's Kidney Pills to the world.

HAMMERING AT HANNA

Everything Possible Being Done to Defeat Him.

HE IS STILL TWO VOTES SHORT.

Hanna Men Claim to Have Secured Pledges from Griffin and Joyce, Who Voted for Mason for Speaker—Claim of the Combined Opposition—State Senator Burke on Hand—Sits with Republicans but Votes with Democrats.

Columbus, O., Jan. 4.—Previous to the assembling of the legislature there were conferences on both sides on the senatorial contest. The Hanna men claimed to have secured pledges from Representative Griffin of Union and Joyce of Carroll, who voted for Mason for speaker, but with these doubtful accessions they were still short two votes of enough to elect.

Claim of the Combine. The combined opposition to Hanna claims to have enough votes to defeat Hanna, but they have not yet claimed enough votes for any one senatorial candidate mentioned by the combine to elect.

Bills Against Corporations.

In the house all sorts of bills were introduced against corporations. These measures were regarded as thrusts at Senator Hanna, whose affairs are of varied interests. An amendment to the Nichols law which taxes the earnings of express, telegraph, telephone and other companies was introduced so as to include street railways, electric light and power equipment, artificial or natural gas, pipe line, messengers, sleeping car and all other corporations.

Joined in the Chorus.

The Springfield delegation afterward called on Senator Hanna and then joined in the chorus of other visiting delegations that are coming in to protest against the action of Republicans who are combining with the Democrats to defeat Hanna.

Revolvers Are Drawn.

During the noon recess there were several disputes that bordered on fist fights. While several outside workers have indulged in such methods, the only member of the legislature present during such controversies is Representative Snider.

Following was given out in the afternoon by the Republican steering committee:

"The sentiment of the house and senate, as expressed to the chairmen of the two Republican caucuses, is that it is unnecessary to call a senatorial caucus. The universal expression is that, as Mr. Hanna had been endorsed by the Toledo convention and by the county conventions of the state and was nominated by the people in their primary capacity at the polls, it is more respectful to their constituents to accept their action as conclusive, in accordance with the precedent of two years ago, than to supplement it by a formal nomination of their own. No caucus, therefore, will be called."

Notice of Reduction Posted.

Waterville, Me., Jan. 4.—Notices were posted at the doors of the Lockwood cotton mills announcing that a reduction would be made in the wages of the employees, to take effect Jan. 15. The amount of the reduction was not stated. The mills employ more than 3,000 hands.

THE WONDERS OF SCIENCE.

Lung Troubles and Consumption Can be Cured.

An Eminent New York Chemist and Scientist Makes a Free Offer to Our Readers.

The distinguished chemist, T. A. Slocum, of New York City, demonstrating his discovery of a reliable cure for Consumption (Pulmonary Tuberculosis), bronchial, lung and chest troubles, stubborn coughs, catarrhal affections, general decline and weakness, loss of flesh, and all conditions of wasting away, will send THREE FREE BOTTLES (all different) of his New Discoveries to any afflicted reader of this paper writing for them.

His "New Scientific Treatment" has cured thousands permanently by its timely use, and he considers it a simple professional duty to suffering humanity to donate a trial of his infallible cure.

Science daily develops new wonders, and this great chemist, patiently experimenting for years, has produced results as beneficial to humanity as can be claimed by any modern genius. His assertion that lung troubles and consumption are curable in any climate is proven by "heartfelt letters of gratitude," filed in his American and European laboratories in thousands from those cured in all parts of the world.

The dread Consumption, uninterrupted, means speedy and certain death.

Simply write to T. A. Slocum, M. C., 98 Pine street, New York, giving post-office and express address, and the free medicine will be promptly sent direct from his laboratory.

Sufferers should take instant advantage of his generous proposition. Please tell the Doctor that you saw this in the Ann Arbor Argus.

BERTHS FOR EX-PRESIDENTS.

E. L. Bonner Believes That They Should Be Sent to the Senate.

New York, Jan. 4.—E. L. Bonner of Montana, in the course of a conversation, made the suggestion that every ex-president of the United States should be sent to the senate. Mr. Bonner, who is on his way to Italy, is one of the wealthiest citizens of Montana, where he has large mining, agricultural and industrial interests. He said:

"There is one thing that should be settled and that is the term of presidents and the treatment of them when their terms expire. I think a president ought to be elected for a term of eight years and then be ineligible for reelection. Upon his retirement I think he should be placed upon a pension equal to one-half the salary he drew as president. Thus he would go into office practically unfettered and would not have to trim, politically or otherwise, toward the future. It does not seem to me that an ex-president should be compelled to go to a small town and practice law for a living. I think he should be sent to the senate, to remain as long as he lives. His knowledge of the affairs of the nation would be extremely beneficial to that body."

BISMARCK NO BETTER.

Unfavorable News Received at Berlin from the Ex-Chancellor's Home.

London, Jan. 4.—The Berlin correspondent of The Daily News says: There is unfavorable news from Friedrichruh, although the recent alarming rumors were grossly exaggerated. The rigorous way in which the manor house is closed to everybody facilitates the circulation of unfounded reports. Dr. Schweniger has expressed the opinion that Prince Bismarck's gout is taking its normal course and will soon pass over. It must not be forgotten, however, that his medical advisers are doing their utmost to prevent any unfavorable reports from reaching Bismarck, who takes a very pessimistic view of his condition.

Colonel Morrison's Successor.

Washington, Jan. 4.—While no information of an official character is to be obtained at the White House regarding the successor of Colonel W. R. Morrison on the interstate commerce commission, the belief is general that the president has not yet decided whom he will appoint. It was supposed for a time that Judge Paxson of Pennsylvania had been definitely determined upon, but the indications now are that the president will appoint a western man, probably a man from Illinois, if those interested can reach an agreement. It is reasonably certain now that no decision will be reached as to Colonel Morrison's successor for several days.

San Jose, Cal., Jan. 4.—Rebecca Smith, the 5-year-old daughter of George F. Smith, was fatally shot by her 10-year-old brother. The children were playing in the garret of their home with a revolver. He pointed it at his little sister and pulled the trigger. A bullet penetrated the child's eye and she died in five minutes.

Dundee, Ills., Jan. 4.—Fourteen years ago Charles S. Kilbourne failed in the creamery business here and at Barrington. He effected a settlement with creditors for a fraction on each dollar and they considered the incident closed. Lately Mr. Kilbourne has been writing to his former creditors, asking their address. He proposes to pay all in full and has had this in mind ever since he failed. It will require about $10,000 to do this. He is under no legal obligation to make the payments.

TWENTY-FIVE KILLED.

Frightful Accident Occurs at London, Ont.

ELOODY END OF A CELEBRATION.

While the City Hall Is Crowded with Hundreds of People the Floor Gives Way and Precipitates Them to the Basement Below—Wild Rush of the Survivors for Safety—Cause of the Disaster—Much Indignation Expressed.

London, Ont., Jan. 4.—No new victims have been found in the city hall ruins. The following is a revised list of the dead and the more seriously injured. The dead: Benjamin J. Nash, carriage maker; John Turner, carriage maker; John Burridge, shoemaker; Frank Robinson, plasterer; Crawford Beckett, contractor; Edward Luxton, Farmer; W. H. Dell, baker; R. S. Leigh, plumber; Abraham Phillips, flour dealer; Benjamin Jacques, painter; Stephen William, laborer; W. C. Smith, gardener; L. W. Burke, insurance agent; John Fellows; James Harris, molder; Wilson Carruthers, farmer; W. J. Borland, woodworker; Noble Carruthers, son of Wilson Carruthers; Fred Heaman, son of W. Heaman; W. E. Talbot, son of W. Talbot; Oswald Bruce, son of W. Bruce, shoemaker; Allen Towe, son of E. Towe; John Burgess, laborer; Herman Hilbert, peddler; James McLean, young son of James McLean. The total numbers twenty-five.

Structure Was Crowded. The disaster was caused by the collapse of a floor of the city hall building. The structure was crowded, as it was the end of the municipal campaign and the successful candidates were to make speeches. There was a sagging of timbers and the next moment hundreds of people were hurled twenty feet to the floor below.

A large safe stood in one corner of the hall, and with a huge steam coil weighing half a ton, came crashing down on the heads of the victims. Following the crash there was a wild rush for the doors. At the south door, where the majority of the crowd had entered, there was a wild panic. Those in front were thrown down by the oncoming rush, all shrieking and fighting for the door and safety. Only one-half of the rear door, a space probably three feet wide, was open. In the mad rush no one thought to open the door in its entirety and 500 people struggled through the narrow space, the strong bearing down the weaker.

Caused by a Breaking Beam.

City Engineer Graydon states that the cause of the catastrophe was the breaking of the heavy beam which runs beneath the floor, almost at the center of the space which gave way. This beam was composed of twelve 3x4 timbers securely joined together. The joists ran east and west from the beam, resting on the front and rear walls of the engineer's office. There was a span of eighteen feet, the beam broke in the center, rolling all the people standing in this space into one mass.

The engineer stated that the supports of this part of the floor were not taken away in making recent alterations. The wall where this joist ran was taken out in 1888. The engineer did not consider the hall dangerous, and says that the tremendous dead weight simply caused the beam to snap.

Indignation is high that an old structure that should have been condemned years ago was permitted to be used for the public business when so many knew it was unsafe. One inquest will be held over all the dead victims. A verdict of censure for the officials in charge of the city hall is expected.

How Cigarettes Are Made.

A man pursuing a strange vocation attracted all sorts of attention on the streets of Ypsilanti Monday afternoon. Carrying in his left hand a pasteboard box minus its cover he would go along the gutters and every time he would come across a cigar stub he would pounce down on it like a hawk would on an inoffensive chicken. When the box was filled he would empty the snipes into a bag strapped around him and proceed over again. He acknowledged that he was employed by a cigarette factory to collect the stubs.—Times.

Showed That Harmony and Prosperity Exist in the Company.

The "smoker" given by the civil board of Co. A. M. N. G., to the members of the company and invited guests at the armory last evening was a delightfully informal and pleasant affair. The guests began to assemble at 8 o'clock and the time from then until mess call at 9 o'clock was occupied in playing cards and social visiting. Fractured Her Hip.

Mrs. John Chapman, of 152 N. Fifth ave., received word Tuesday, that her mother, Mrs. Catherine McCann, of South Oil City, Pa., had been taken to the hospital in that city Dec. 28, suffering from a severe fracture of the hip joint of her right leg. The patient, who is nearly 70 years of age, and who is living with her son, P. J. McCann, of the Derrick composing room, was walking across the kitchen floor, which is of hard wood and was damp from recent mopping, when she fell. Physicians were called who decided to have her removed to the hospital where she could have the additional advantages of skilled nursing and attention. Mrs. McCann was for many years a well known and highly respected resident of Ann Arbor, and much sympathy for her is felt by her many friends, as her advanced years make the injury especially serious.

A New Mileage Book.

have formed an organization called the Northern Mileage Ticket Bureau for the purpose of issuing and selling and properly accounting for an interchangeable thousand mile ticket differing from the form of ticket issued by the Central Passenger Association, and possessing the following features:

It is good for passage upon any regular passenger train (excepting limited trains) of any and all the lines parties to this agreement, upon presentation to the conductor on compliance with the reasonable provisions of the ticket required for the purpose of identification.

It will be sold to the public at all principal ticket offices of lines parties to this agreement, for the sum of thirty dollars, with rebate of ten dollars after use or upon expiration, upon compliance with the agreement upon which the ticket is issued.

This ticket will be placed on sale February 1st, 1898. This ticket, of course, can be used only upon the lines of road parties to this agreement, and will be issued in addition to the tickets of the Mileage Bureau in the Central Passenger Association.

The interchangeable mileage tickets issued by the Mileage Bureau of the Central Passenger Association will be accepted by such of the above mentioned lines as are parties to the Central Passenger Association, upon compliance with the terms and provisions of that ticket.

Passengers desiring to hold tickets good upon all of the lines of the Central Passenger Association, can procure such tickets until further notice on the lines of the parties which are members of the C. P. A., but must present and exchange mileage for passage tickets at the ticket office before boarding the train, and comply with all the other terms and conditions of the Central Passenger Association tickets.

THEY WILL CONSOLIDATE.

The A. A. & Y. and the D., Y. & A.

A. Will Soon Be One Company.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Ann Arbor & Ypsilanti Electro Railroad held Monday the question of consolidating with the Detroit, Ypsilanti & Ann Arbor Co., came up for discussion. Mr. Angus, the vice president of the Detroit company, and Attorney Sullivan were present. Another meeting was held Wednesday afternoon and it was practically decided that the consolidation be made. The matter will be finally settled as soon as the consent of all the stockholders is secured, the papers will then be signed. The material needed for the line between Dearborn and Ypsilanti will be on hand by the time the frost is out of the ground. The work of construction, it is thought, can then be pushed to completion within 30 days.

Came to a Compromise.

The chancery case of the City of Ann Arbor vs. the Farmers & Mechanics Bank et al., came to a close in the circuit court Friday afternoon when the lawyers on each side of the case at the suggestion of Judge Kinne agreed to a compromise of the case on the basis of the city paying the engineer's estimate of $3,200.67 due Henry Collins on lateral sewers Nos. 3 and 4 and $1,000 for extras. The Farmers and Mechanics Bank and the other claimants to accept 70 per cent in full settlement of their claims. The National Surety Co., bondsmen for Mr. Collins, will make up the amount needed for these settlements.

The several companies interested will meet here next Monday to complete the compromise. The claimants involved and the several amounts due them are: Farmers & Mechanic Bank, $3,425.00; Ann Arbor Water Co., $59.77; Ann Arbor Organ Co., $43.11; Louis Rohde, $60.58; C. Eberbach, $27.78; Holmes, Strachan & Co., $387.50; McCullough Bros., $851.50; Union Sewer Pipe Co., $2,391.32; Flush Tank Co., $1,200; Central Sewer Pipe Co., $2,700; Hatzel & Co., $69.40; J. T. Wing & Co., $111.80.

At its meeting Monday night the council had a warm discussion on the question of allowing its $1,000 share of the compromise and finally deferred the settlement of the question until last night when it passed by a vote of 11 to 1.

An Interrupted Wedding Trip.

Don C. Jewett and Miss Ruth Gould were married in Ann Arbor Thursday evening of last week and at once went to Ypsilanti where they purposed taking the train for the west. At the depot Mr. Jewett was met by officers representing Westfall & Son, to whom he owed a livery bill of $1.50, and James H. Lepper of the Hawkins house, to whom he owed $76.50 for board. The first bill was settled all right before the train left, but the bridegroom had to tell his bride to get off the train at Ann Arbor and then go on up street with the officers, before the larger bill was settled up to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The Editors Have Never Rested.

In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth. Then he made editors, liberal patronizers and prompt paying subscribers, and it was good. The next day a Minnesota blizzard set in and he created a man who didn't take his home paper and another who didn't believe in advertising, and He rested. Then the devil got into the moulding room and he created the fellow who takes the editor's paper for several years and then fails to pay for it. Then the devil got rested, but the editor hasn't had any rest since.—Manchester Enterprise.

Uniform Rules in Probate Courts.

The Michigan Association of Probate Judges has taken the initial step in what will be the most beneficial improvement in the management of probate offices. At a meeting of the association last March Judges E. O. Durfee, of Detroit, Harry D. Jewell, of Grand Rapids, and J. T. Hammond, of Jackson, were appointed a committee to draft a code of rules of practice for the probate courts of the state. The committee met in Jackson Wednesday and Thursday of last week and its report will be presented to the association at its next meeting. When adopted it will be recommended to the state supreme court which body by the constitution is given the jurisdiction to regulate the rules of practice of the lower courts. At present every probate judge makes his own rules and an attorney often finds himself at sea when going to the probate court of any other county than his own.

NOT ALWAYS UNDERSTOOD.

A fact often overlooked, or not always understood, is that women suffer as much from distressing kidney and bladder troubles as the men. The womb is situated back of and very close to the bladder, and for that reason any distress, disease or inconvenience in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort.

The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided by setting urine aside for twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need doctoring. If you have pain or dull aching in the back, pass water too frequently, or scanty supply, with smarting or burning—these are also convincing proofs of kidney trouble. If you have doctored without benefit, try Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy. The mild and the extraordinary effect will surprise you. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures. If you take a medicine you should take the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention The Ann Arbor Argus, and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.
