

BLISS IS NOMINATED ON THE FIRST BALLOT

"Bill" Judson Ruled the Roost at the Republican State Convention Yesterday

Stearns Was Not In It at Any Stage of the Game—His Name Presented to the Convention by Judge McAlvay

BLISS WAS THE CHOICE.

Convention Hall, Detroit, 3:30 p. m.—Governor Bliss was nominated on the first ballot. Justus Stearns had but one seconding speech. Captain E. M. Allen, of Portland, presented Bliss' name in a forcible speech.

Convention Hall, Detroit, 3:46 p. m. On the first ballot Bliss was nominated. The vote is: Bliss 811, Stearns 214, Horton, 40, Patton 22, Gilchrist of Alpena 3.

Convention Hall, Detroit, June 26, 3:20 p. m.—(Special to the Argus.)—The temporary organization has been made permanent. G. J. Diekema has been re-elected chairman state central committee. Grant Fellows, of Hudson, nominated Horton for governor. M. T. Cook, of Hastings, named, with bitter denunciation of present methods, John Patton, of Grand Rapids. Capt. Allen, of Portland, then presented Gov. Bliss' name amid cheers and applause. Nominations closed with Judge McAlvay's speech naming Stearns.

Detroit, June 26, 2:40 p. m.—(Special to the Argus.)—The first gun of the Stearns forces was fired at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon when Dr. M. C. Sinclair, of Kent, submitted a minority report of the committee on permanent organization and order of business calling for a secret ballot, this ballot to be taken by tellers chosen by each congressional delegation. Big Wesselius, of Kent, called for the vote on this minority report by roll call. This was acceded to.

The vote was considered a test of the strength between Bliss and opposition and it resulted in a complete overthrow of the opposition by 771 nays to 316 yeas. There were loud cries for the anti-Bliss forces to climb into the Bliss band-wagon.

CAVANAUGH PREDICTS DEFEAT OF BLISS

Detroit, June 26, 1:30 p. m.—(Special to the Argus.)—Martin J. Cavanaugh, the Ann Arbor attorney, has just arrived at the Griswold house. Thomas D. Kearney and Prosecuting Attorney John L. Duffy are also here. All of the gentlemen say their presence at this time has no political significance. Prosecutor Duffy and Mr. Kearney refused to be interviewed. They were here, they said, simply on legal business, but might possibly take a look in at the convention. Martin J. Cavanaugh said that he, too, was here in connection with legal affairs, but was inclined to believe that there was no doubt that Bliss would be nominated. "How is Washtenaw for Bliss in case of his nomination?" was asked. "Well, I would rather not say at this time," replied the Ann Arbor attorney, "but I feel sure that if a good man is nominated for governor on the democratic ticket, Bliss will be surely defeated."

CONVENTION IS CALLED TO ORDER

Convention Hall, Detroit, Mich., June 26, 12:15 p. m.—(Special to the Argus.)—The republican state convention was to have met at 10 o'clock, but the vast hall was somewhat slow in filling up, although crowds of people were coming through the doors, and it was not until 11 o'clock that State Chairman Diekema brought down the gavel, called the convention to order and introduced Congressman William Alden Smith, of Grand Rapids, as temporary chairman of the convention. It was soon seen that Congressman Smith was an orator and in well rounded periods he sounded the keynote of the situation and campaign in brilliant oratory. His speech was largely devoted to national issues and was designed to arouse republicans to a feeling of party fealty over pride in national achievements.

The roll of the convention was called for nomination of members of the various committees and vice presidents. William Judson fell as Washtenaw's share into a membership in the state central committee. After the roll call the convention adjourned until 1:30 p. m.

WASHTENAW DELEGATION GOES INTO CAUCUS

Convention Hall, Detroit, Mich., June 26, 12 m.—(Special to the Argus.)—The caucus of the Washtenaw delegation held in a committee room of the convention hall this morning was a very harmonious affair, Wm. Judgovernors. Two years ago in the triangular fight between Bliss, Stearns and Ferry, Judson, through his deputies all over the state, led the movement which nominated Bliss, and Judson landed on his feet and with him such deputies as were hustlers.

There is a great demand for primary election law and the republican clubs have adopted a stringent resolution which they are striving to impress upon the convention. Judson does not favor primary elections and the doing away with caucuses. The resolution, if it finds a place at all in the republican platform will probably be so emasculated as to be meaningless.

JUDSON IS VERY MUCH IN DEMAND

Detroit, June 26, 9:30 a. m.—(Special to the Argus.)—"Bill" Judson has been busy since his arrival here yesterday having confidential tele-a-tetes in the hotel corridors with the delegates. It has just developed that about a week ago Judson sent out postal cards from Ann Arbor advising the delegates that he wanted to see them as soon as he reached Detroit. He omitted, however, to give his stopping place here and as a result many of the delegates have been running all over town looking for him.

Last evening a rather amusing occurrence happened at the Metropole. "Pop" Wheeler, of Salem, the former reform member of the legislature and the only anti-Bliss man on his delegation, approached the clerk of the hotel.

"Is Mr. Judson stopping here?" asked "Pop."

"Which Mr. Judson do you mean? There are two gentlemen of that name registered?" replied the man behind the desk.

"Oh, Mr. Judson of Washtenaw, 'Bill' Judson, of course," replied Wheeler. This was a cue sufficient for the hotel man, so without looking up the hotel room list he immediately responded in a rather aggrieved tone:

"I'm so sorry, but Mr. Judson left here a short time ago with Governor Bliss. He's gone over to the Russell house, I believe. You know that's Bliss' headquarters."

Your correspondent, wishing to find the result of Wheeler's search for Judson, followed "Pop" to the swill hosiery facing the city hall, presided over by Mine Host Will Chittenden. Cautiously opening the massive doors, Wheeler peeped into the spacious corridors. Bliss and Judson were sitting behind one of the large palms near the Cadillac Square entrance. Of course Wheeler, approaching from Woodward avenue, was unable to see the Red Chieftain and his Saginaw companion at first glance.

"Is Mr. William Judson here?" asked Wheeler, as he timidly approached George Chittenden, who happened to be behind the desk.

"Yes," replied Mr. Chittenden, "but Mr. Judson must not be disturbed now. He is having a conference with Governor Bliss, and cannot be interviewed."

"But I am not a reporter," smoothly rejoined Wheeler. "I am a delegate." "A delegate," said Mine Host Chittenden. "I really beg your pardon. There is an order here now for all delegates asking for Mr. Judson to be admitted to his presence at once. Let me show you the way," and hurrying from behind the hotel desk, Chittenden took Wheeler into the presence of the governor and the Washtenaw celebrity.

On the approach of Wheeler, Judson at first seemed somewhat dismayed, but he quickly took on his former self. He whispered to the chief executive and advancing toward Wheeler extended his hand, which was grasped rather frigidly by the man from Salem. There was a few moments' conversation between the two. Then Judson resumed his conference with the governor. Their talk lasted for almost half an hour, when a fond good night was said and the governor disappeared out of one door, while Judson left by another.

COMPLETELY UNDER JUDSON CONTROL

Detroit, June 26.—(Special to the Argus.)—Among the prominent members of the Ann Arbor contingent is Mayor Royal S. Copeland. He has been quite uncommunicative since his arrival here. He has been in conference with a number of the Washtenaw delegation. It is said here that Copeland is strongly opposed to Judson and is disgusted with the latter's tactics in controlling the Washtenaw delegates. The delegates from Washtenaw seem to be thoroughly under the control of Judson.

TAX TITLES ARE QUESTIONED

Wolverine Land Company are in Court

SUITS HAVE BEEN FILED

In Which the Concern Play an Important Part—The Titles They Claim.

Suits to set aside certain tax titles were begun Wednesday against the Wolverine Land Co. by Attorneys Arthur Brown and J. W. Bennett representing the complainants, one of whom is John Ellis, who owns certain property on Ann street between Huron street and Fourth avenue.

The tax title to the property now owned by Ellis was sold to Hudson T. Morton in 1875, since which time it has passed into several hands. Lately the Wolverine Land company got hold of it from Morton, it is said, and now seek to have the present owners pay up back taxes, which it is said by their attorneys they know nothing of, they having bought the property believing that it was free at the time of their purchase from any back tax incumbrances. Another tax title which the Wolverine people have is that on the Michael Brenner property, and which they want to have a settlement made of. Messrs. Brown and Bennett, however, claim that the Wolverine concern have no valid title whatsoever, to the properties, as when the tax titles were sold, they were worth nothing, because of errors made by the assessors in valuing the properties at the time valuation was made by them.

A member of the Wolverine Land company, and who transacts most of the business of the company here, which is carried on from a residence on N. Ingalls street, is D. W. Closser. He is said to have lately settled up an alleged tax title claim with Mrs. Mary E. Sudworth for $200. Attorney Arthur Brown, who is Mrs. Sudworth's attorney, said that if he had known of this transaction he would have contested the case in the courts before he would have permitted Mrs. Sudworth to pay over the money.

The Wolverine Land company is composed of Mr. Closser, a man named Ellis, who is said to be street car conductor at Jackson, attorney at Jackson named Woodliffe, and several others. The stockholders are said to be made up of people in Ann Arbor and Jackson. One of these gentlemen, when approached and asked what he knew of the company, requested that his name be not mentioned as he had merely been given some stock in the company for services he had rendered when it was incorporated.

Mr. Closser, who acts as president of the company, is a young law student recently graduated from the University.

CONDEMNED IN MISSOURI AND CONFISCATED IN NEW YORK.

Judge Clarke of St. Louis has convicted and fined heavily a number of grocers for selling baking powders containing alum.

The week before the Health Department of New York seized a quantity of stuff being sold for baking powder which they found was made from alum mixed with ground rock, and dumped it into the river.

The health authorities are thus taking effective means to prevent the introduction into our markets of injurious substitutes in place of wholesome baking powders.

As alum costs only two cents a pound, there is a great temptation for those manufacturers who make substitutes and imitation goods, to use it. Alum baking powders can be detected by the health authorities by chemical analysis, but the ordinary housekeeper, whose assistance in protecting the health of the people is important, cannot make a chemical examination. She may easily know the alum powders, however, from the fact that they are sold at from ten to twenty cents for a pound can, or that some prize—like a spoon, or glass, or piece of crockery, or wooden ware—is given with the powder as an inducement.

As the people continue to realize the importance of this subject and consumers insist on having baking powder of established name and character, and as the health authorities continue their vigorous crusades, the alum danger will, it is hoped, finally be driven from our homes.

THERE MUST BE PUBLIC SUPERVISION FOR PUBLIC DEFENSE.

President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America, has called a national conference to meet in Indianapolis on July 17, for the purpose of considering the strike situation and to determine whether there shall be a sympathetic strike of the bituminous workers in aid of their anthracite brothers.

While this one man can say the word that would assure peace, it is said the government of the United States has absolutely no power in the matter. The country is threatened with a disaster to its industries of incalculable cost and possible and even probable bloodshed and destruction of property at the hands of thousands of idle men, yet the underlying cause of the trouble is claimed by those responsible therefor to be a private matter and no concern of the government's.

The plan of one of Michigan's beet sugar manufacturing concerns of taking boys from the cities and putting them in the beet fields to thin and weed beets is a departure which may be destined to become famous, like the plan of Hazen S. Pingree in using the vacant lands in the city of Detroit to plant potatoes for the benefit of the poor of the city.

The verdict in the Jones case meets very general approval among the people. The jury set a very good example also in doing their part with neatness and dispatch. The chain of evidence woven about the convicted man by the prosecution was very strong and evidently thoroughly satisfied the jury as to the guilt of Jones.

The state republican convention of Nebraska didn't do a thing to the two senators from that state who have opposed the administration in the matter of its policy relative to Cuban reciprocity.

It looks now as though the ship subsidy bill is not to become law this session of congress. This fact is pretty good evidence of the very strong opposition against the measure among the people.

George H. Pond is a mighty lucky man and is to be congratulated on his reappointment for postmaster for the coming four years. He has made a good postmaster and will make a better one during the four years to come.

It is said that Teddy is madder than a wet hen because his pet measure of Cuban reciprocity did not go through. He has not surrendered, however. He will, it is said, carry the war into Africa by making speeches in the districts of the insurgents.

THE CHANCE OF YEARS.

If the democracy of Michigan generally is imbued with the same sentiments as those expressed by the Hon. T. E. Barkworth in a Detroit interview recently, Bliss is likely to have a walk-away in the election this fall. The democrats may not be able to win this year, but certainly there will be a better chance of doing it, if Bliss is re-nominated, than there has been for some years heretofore.

Such a campaign as was put up by the democracy at the time Governor Winans was elected would do much toward rescuing the state from the conditions in which it is drifting today, and might result as did the campaign of 1890. At any rate the chance is worth the effort.

Dr. Angell in his baccalaureate address spoke warningly of the tendency of the times toward extreme specialization. This concentration on some relatively narrow line of work, he said, would undoubtedly yield some most valuable results but there was the danger in it of the specialists losing appreciation of other departments of learning than their own and, in the case of teachers who become original investigators, that they become negligent of their work as teachers that they may press their work as investigators.

The Wedding of Miss Jennie M. Woods

AT HER PARENT'S HOME

She Became the Wife of Mr. T. Ernest Rankin—Off for Their Wedding Trip

In the presence of about sixty guests and surrounded by a bank of wild-wood ferns, smilax and pink roses, Miss Jennie M. Woods, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heman M. Woods, was married Thursday evening at her home, 402 S. Main street, to T. Ernest Rankin. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Gelston, of the Presbyterian church, the opening prayer being made by Rev. Carl S. Patton.

The bride looked beautiful, attired in a simple gown of white. She carried a shower bouquet of pink and white sweet peas. Her bridesmaid, Miss Zoe BeGole, of Chelsea, wore a handsome blue gown and carried white roses.

The groom was attended by Mr. Olson, of Chicago, Master James Schmidt, of Chelsea, dressed in white, ushered the guests.

After the ceremony a delicious wedding supper was served in the dining room, which was decorated effectively with pink and white roses. MUSIC PUPILS ARTISTIC WORK

RECITAL AT ST. THOMAS CONSERVATORY FRIDAY

The Skill of the Young Performers Reflects Much Credit on the Work of the Sister

A lengthy recital was given Friday afternoon by the following pupils of St. Thomas Conservatory:

Duet, piano, Lizzie Keebler and Anna Allmendinger. A piano solo by Marie Wanzick was followed by some excellent string work on guitars by Cornwell Darrow and Ed. Vandawarker, who played several of the national airs. Solo work on the piano was done very creditably by Lizzie Keebler, Evelyn Hardinghaus, Margaret Kress, Anna Allmendinger, Winifred Orcutt and Irene St. James, all of whom, as well as Marie Wanzick, played without their music. Esther Darrow and Cornwell Darrow played a duet with mandolin and guitar, which was well received. Willie Parker played very well a violin solo, and then the first and second grade boys to about the number of thirty gave a school song that provoked much merriment.

St. Thomas juvenile orchestra crowded the stage with their violins, mandolins, guitars, etc., and made a very pretty picture while at the same time they discoursed admirable music. Wirt Darrow played a very difficult violin solo accompanied on the piano by Irene St. James. St. Thomas choir boys to the number of about fifty made the large hall ring with a well-rendered song. The program, which included seventeen numbers, came to a close with an eight-hand performance on pianos by the Misses Allmendinger, Hardinghaus, Kress and St. James.

The Conservatory closes the season today, when the final recital was given at 2:30 in the parish hall. The year has been one of the most successful in the history of the institution, which is the oldest school of music in the city, and the prospects for next year are better than ever. The performance of yesterday was exceedingly well rendered. The pupils played with a freedom and dash characteristic of those who know their work thoroughly. The highest praise is certainly due the sisters who have charge of the work, and the many congratulations they received is a proof that their efforts are appreciated. Fr. Kelly states that the Conservatory reopens September 8.

"WILKENA" WAS AN EASY WINNER

She Got the Purse in Races Friday

LEWIS' "CHARLIE D"

Was Seen to Good Advantage—Fairly Large Sized Crowd Saw the Events

The races at the fair grounds Friday were fairly well attended considering that the weather was far from being ideal and also the fact that the events had had little advertising. There were a number of ladies among the spectators who seemed to enjoy the sport equally with the men.

Besides the fact that Lepper's "Wilkena" won the $50 purse from Warren Lewis' "Charlie D" and gave ample evidence of having all the qualities that go to make a racer, the principal feature of the program yesterday lay in the American Trotting association again admitting Ann Arbor to its lists. When Lewis arrived here from Ypsilanti shortly after noon and found that Ann Arbor was in bad repute with the association, he refused to allow "Charlie D" to go upon the track. Then it was that a hurried meeting of the local association was held. It was agreed to remit to the American Trotting association the $150 fine that the latter had imposed against the Ann Arbor association last year because the local people had refused to pay a purse in a race which they determined was a fake.

Secretary Steiner of the American Trotting association was communicated with at Chicago and $150 was wired him. In response he admitted the local people to good standing in the American association. There was no time put up in yesterday's event. This had been agreed upon by the owners of the horses before the races began. "Wilkena" won the first and third heats and "Charlie D" the second. It was a fairly matched race, although "Wilkena" had apparently the best of her rival from the start until the wire was passed. Indeed there were some on the ground who were willing to bet that if Lepper, who drove the mare, had given her more head she would have left "Charlie D" much further behind than she did.

The betting was not enthusiastic. It was somewhat spoiled earlier in the day by the admirers of Lepper's mare, who had went around town offering all sorts of odds on "Wilkena" and while the Ypsilanti people had at the start come prepared to back "Charlie D," they balked when they found so much "Wilkena" money lying around loose.

John Gillen's "Billy G" and P. Irwin's "Dixie Boy" went three heats. "Billy G" won the first and "Dixie Boy" the last two heats. They put up a good exhibition, although it was apparent that there was no effort being made to have them try for a record.

HER TRUNK WAS ATTACHED

An attachment was issued Monday by Justice Gibson for a trunk owned by Miss Hattie Wolfe, a domestic employed by Dr. C. G. Darling. The attachment was served at the instance of E. F. It is also said that she owed accounts at other stores. When it was reported that Miss Wolfe was going to leave the city the attachment against her trunk was issued.

TAKES ISSUE WITH LETTER

Miss Eva Johnson's Epistle is Criticized

REV. E. D. KELLY

Spoke of Omega Publication at Both Masses Sunday—Has Caused Much Stir

The letter of Miss Eva Johnson, published in the Omega, the senior class annual of the High school for 1902, was criticized by the Rev. E. D. Kelly at both masses at St. Thomas church Sunday.

Referring to that portion of her letter which tells of cock-fighting in the Philippines Father Kelly said that the same obnoxious condition existed here, in Ann Arbor.

Fr. Kelly expressed much surprise at the fact that the authorities of the high school should officially approve of the letter, with its untruthful and unjust statements and allow it to be printed in a representative publication of the school.

In regard to the worship of images and other forms of idolatry referred to by Miss Johnson, Fr. Kelly said he would have thought that Miss Johnson was more conversant with the doctrines of the Catholic church, being a pupil of the high school, than to make a statement that members of the church in the Philippines or anywhere else worshipped images. The world at large, even out side of the Catholic church knew that the images used in the church are but reminders of the faithful works and spiritual deeds of those who have gone before and are incentives to piety.

The letter written by Miss Johnson, the daughter of Judge E. F. Johnson, who was appointed to a judgeship in the Philippines last year, is as follows: Lingayen, P. I., Feb. 12.

Mr. dear friend:—This evening my mind runs back to "my dear old Ann Arbor," and I imagine that I can see you all enjoying the pleasures and associations of sweet civilization. It seems to me, if I could only step in and visit you but for a moment, I would be happy indeed. I can deeply realize now the great advantages that one enjoys by living in a country composed of Anglo-Saxons. I am not sure that the American women fully appreciate the comforts afforded by their home in a land of civilization. One must see the poverty and degradation of the women of the Orient in order to fully appreciate the comforts of what Americans call a "home." When I see those poor people in their ignorance, idolatry, and poverty; when I see them kneeling down in great humility before their images; I am driven to the conclusion that I am living in the midst of heathens.

My brother and I went out for a walk this morning, and we stopped to visit the church for a few moments. Everywhere, upon floors and walls, are seen images which these people most reverently worship. The church here is a magnificent structure, large enough to contain the entire structure (except the steeple) of the First Methodist church at Ann Arbor, and then have sufficient room unoccupied to accommodate more people than the Methodist church at Ann Arbor will contain. The "Padre" in charge of the church here told me that upon every Sunday, between the hours of six and nine, from ten to fifteen thousand people worship in his church. Everybody goes to church on Sunday morning. The mere attendance seems to satisfy their consciences, for they will be seen on Sunday afternoon by the hundreds attending a "cock-fight" or other amusement that we in the States would consider very questionable. Cock-fighting is one of the greatest amusements of the people here. I have been told that natives have been known to put up as much as $5,000 upon the result of a cock-fight. It is not, however, the only gambling amusement of the people here. It is not an uncommon thing, as you pass by the native shacks, to see them filled with native men and women gambling at cards. I have seen houses filled with women gambling at cards, while their children were romping as dirty as dirt could make them.

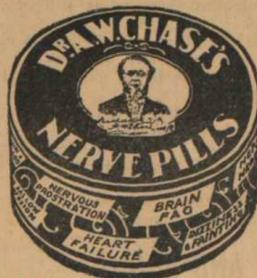

Among the products of the islands, from appearances, you would think that children was the principal one. There is scarcely a household that is not blessed with at least five or more. I am told that the "Padre," or priest, keeps coffins to rent as well as to sell. When a person is not able to buy one for the interment of a body, the priest permits them to carry their dead to the cemetery in one of his coffins which he keeps to rent for that purpose. Hundreds of persons are buried here with no other covering than a "patata," which is a web-like blanket, made out of a shrub which grows here. In no case is the coffin ever placed in what we call an "over-box." The coffin is set in the ground and is never lowered more than twelve to twenty inches. The price paid the priest for the use of the coffin varies in accordance with the ability of the applicant to pay. Priests own the cemetery. No person is permitted to bury there, unless he contributes to the priest.

A band always accompanies a funeral procession. This band generally plays a waltz or a two-step or some other music equally solemn.

Home Proof from Home People.

You cannot persuade honest, well-known people to endorse a medicine unless it is right. The fact that the testimony here offered is from Ann Arbor people, is positive proof that we are right when we say that in the cure of any and all diseases of the nervous system Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills is a medicine that stands head and shoulders above all similar preparations.

Mr. C. F. Schulz, of No. 629 Spring street, Ann Arbor, Mich., says: "Last winter I got a box of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills at Mummy's Drug Store and used them for sleeplessness and found splendid results from their use. I was feeling pretty well except that at night I would be nervous and could not sleep well. The pills corrected that trouble and I can recommend them."

I am sure you will be interested to know what kind of house I am now living in. It is quite large, with five rooms and a kitchen; of course as Oriental house, with all the living rooms on the second floor, as the first is only used as a storehouse. The sala, or parlor, is a room about eighty feet long and forty feet wide. The floors of all the rooms are made of what the natives call mahogany. It is red wood and takes a beautiful polish. All of our floors reflect images. We have them cleaned every morning with banana leaves. When all the windows are open there is but little space that is enclosed.

It seems almost like a fairy dream when I think of our mahogany floors, ebony chairs, tables and beds made of rosewood, most beautifully carved.

These people, as a nation, are but little removed from savages. Of course I see and hear about the very lowest class because of papa's position. He has had some very curious cases. Just the other day, he had a man in court who openly confessed to having killed some ten persons, the last being a baby, which he held in the fire until its legs were burnt off. A few nights ago, a man killed another because he owed him seven cents, Mexican. I could tell you of many, many equally bloody.

I am studying Spanish very hard. I have a teacher who can speak only five languages fluently, counting English. All these people are remarkable linguists and great imitators. I might take up your time for hours in giving you detailed accounts of the many things which have attracted my attention since reaching the Orient. While there are many here to interest me, I am fearful that they will soon become monotonous to you, and as I expect to return to the States in a year, to enter Wellesley, I will wait until then to tell you my varied and curious experiences.

As "taps" has sounded, I must close. Sending much love and good wishes, I remain,

Sincerely your friend in the Philippines,

EVA JOHNSON.

In referring to that portion of the letter where Miss Johnson says: "I can deeply realize now the great advantage that one enjoys by living in a country composed of Anglo-Saxons," Father Kelly dwelt at some length on the erroneous nature of any statement that might be made to the effect that this country was peopled by Anglo-Saxons. In this connection he reminded the congregation of the nationality of President Roosevelt, of Admiral Schley and other distinguished men of the country.

Inquiry among the members of the school board today fails to show that any of them knew anything about how the letter came to appear in the Omega. The authority for its publication was given by the officials of the school, it is said.

JUDSON IS TURNED DOWN

Mayor is Quite Sore on the Red Chieftain

POLITICAL CANDIDATES

Named by the Silent "Billy" will Have No Show With Copeland Who Declares Against the Boss

The story that Arthur Kitson is being put forward for the office of city treasurer by "Billy" Judson when George Vandawarker takes the office of assistant postmaster, to which he was lately appointed, does not seem to have much foundation in fact, at least if Mayor Copeland's latest pronouncement is any gauge to the situation. When asked what Mr. Kitson's chances were for the city treasurership and when he was told that Mr. Kitson had been reported to be the Judson candidate, the mayor said:

"You can say for me that no man whom Mr. Judson indorses will receive an appointment from me to any office. I know nothing of Mr. Kitson's reported candidacy for the office of city treasurer. Any one, however, who should be named by Mr. Judson or supported by him could not have an appointment from me."

The Red Chieftain, when told of the mayor's statement, said he didn't care anything about it. He had no candidate to put forward for city treasurer, he said. "There are a hundred men," he went on, "who would be suitable for the office, but I am not naming any of them."

When directly asked if he was not out for Kitson for the job, Mr. Judson said: "Mr. Kitson would make as good a candidate as any of them, but I am not interesting myself in the position in any way."

A BIG BILL FOR SERVICES

Daughter Enters it Against Father's Estate

HER WORK FOR HIM

She Says is Worth $1,065 and She Now Demands the Amount in Probate Court

The claim of Ellen M. Flowers, of Ypsilanti, against the estate of the late Joseph Follmore, her father, for $1,065 came up for hearing in the probate court Wednesday. The contestants, who are Morton F. Case, administrator of the estate, and others, are represented by Cavanaugh & Wedemeyer, while John P. Kirk, of Ypsilanti, represented Mrs. Flowers.

The case involves some strange features. Mr. Follmore died intestate. Commissioners on claims were appointed to settle up the estate, valued at about $6,000. At that time Mrs. Flowers put in no claims, alleging afterwards that she did not know that the commissioners were looking into the property. On February 26, 1891, it is said that she filed an affidavit declaring that there were no debts against the estate. Now she comes forward and asks for $1,065, which she says is due her for services in her father's house during his lifetime.

"It's an attempt, pure and simple, on the part of Mrs. Flowers," said Attorney Martin J. Cavanaugh, "to get more out of the estate than she is legally entitled to. Here she comes at this late day and asks for $1,065 for services, when she has already made affidavit that there were no debts against the property. It's strange that at the time she filed that affidavit that she had not thought of the amount she now claims."

Mrs. Flowers is still living at the old homestead in Ypsilanti with her mother. The property, however, has been sold and she is merely living at the place as a tenant.

THE REQUEST OF FRIENDS OF NEWLY MARRIED COUPLE

Happy Pair Were Miss Margaret Nickerson of Adrian and Fred S. Welch of Chelsea

Chelsea, June 25.—One of the events of the season occurred at the M. E. church here yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when Miss Margaret Nickerson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. Q. Nickerson, of Adrian, was united in marriage to Mr. Fred S. Welch, of this place. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, who was assisted by the Rev. Geo. B. Marsh, of Tipton, and was witnessed by a number of invited guests. Miss Ella Nickerson, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and Henry I. Stimson, of this village, was best man for the groom. After the church services there was a wedding dinner and reception tendered the young couple at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Glazier, where about 80 invited guests assembled to congratulate the newly married couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Welch left on a late train for Detroit, where they embarked on one of the outgoing boats for a trip around the lakes. Their trunks were liberally decorated with "Just married," and each passenger on the train between Chelsea and Ann Arbor was given a card that read as follows:

"Dear Public:
"This Card, presented to the Happy Couple, is good for one Introduction to Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Welch, just married! Please Make It Pleasant (?) For Them!"

Mr. and Mrs. Welch will make their future home in Chelsea.

BREEZY NOTES FROM WHITMORE LAKE

Whitmore Lake, June 22.—About 200 guests assembled at the Lawn Basket picnic at Henry King's last night. Whitmore Lake had a quota of 75 and some of the baskets sold for 75c. The L. O. T. M. realized $28 and the only regrets were that the party forgot to take their wraps and overcoats along to counteract the zero weather, but the younger element kept the blood in circulation by dancing on the lawn to piano music. A prize of a very pretty fan was given to the lady with the handsomest trimmed basket and was carried off by a Miss Mooney, of Detroit. A splendid time was had all around. A short literary and musical program was given, including an instrumental solo by Miss Anna Welch, songs by the Misses Mooney, of Detroit, a recitation by Station Agent Perry's better half, and by Miss Lulu Sutton and Mrs. John Monahan in fine style and well received. The Faded Rosebud was sung by Willie Welch and was heartily encored. The lawn was well lighted with Chinese lanterns and T. Frank Taylor, the grocer, sent napkins in abundance.

Chelsea's latest industry bids fair to be one of the thriving places in this bustling burg. John P. Foster is the proprietor and he manufactures a cement fence post that is very practical. The post has a steel bar that runs the entire length of the post, through which is drilled holes at the proper distance for the light of the fence and use in building wire fences. Mr. Foster says that he is crowded with orders, and without a doubt it is the coming post, because of its durability and cheapness.

NEWKIRK FOR TREASURER

May Have City Office if He Wants It

APPOINTMENT TENDERED

By the Mayor But Judge Newkirk Has Not Yet Decided on Accepting it

It was learned from an authoritative source Wednesday that Judge H. W. Newkirk had been offered by the mayor the office of city treasurer, to be shortly made vacant by the recent appointment of George Vandaworker to the office of assistant postmaster.

The acceptance of the city treasurer-ship by Judge Newkirk will probably rest on the date of Mr. Vandaworker's relinquishment of his present office. If he decides to withdraw from his present duties on July 1, Judge Newkirk will probably accept the city treasurer-ship, if however, Mr. Vandaworker sees fit to hold on to his present job until August 1, it is very questionable whether Judge Newkirk would take up the duties of city treasurer.

The July tax collections are an important item in the city treasurer's remuneration, the pay for his services being mostly in fees and as the city treasurer's term expires April 1 next, it will be seen that should Judge Newkirk not take the office until August 1, he would lose the July fees, which are quite considerable, when the term of his appointment would only last about nine months.

When seen Judge Newkirk admitted that he had had some talk with the mayor in regard to the city treasurer-ship.

"Will you accept the office?" was asked.

"I don't know," was Judge Newkirk's reply, as he looked thoughtfully out of his office window. "I have not decided yet what I will do. I do not know when Mr. Vandaworker will resign."

It was suggested that Mr. Vandaworker might resign on July 1, but Judge Newkirk said he had not been advised yet as to just what Mr. Vandaworker intended doing.

There is no question, however, as to the fact that Mayor Copeland has offered the city treasurer-ship to Judge Newkirk. The acceptance of the office by the judge will probably depend on Mr. Vandaworker's decision in retaining his present office until August 1, or resigning July 1.

WEDDED AT HIGH NOON

A very quiet but dainty wedding took place at high noon Tuesday when Miss Ida Allen became the wife of Dr. Pollock, of the University. The ceremony took place at the bride's home and was performed by Rev. Mr. Crooker, of the Unitarian church. Standing beside a bank of marguerites, the bride looked charming in a gown of white batiste, trimmed with real lace insertion and made entrain. She carried a shower bouquet of white bridal roses. Her niece, Miss Rhoda Selleck, of Spokane, Wash., who acted as bridesmaid, was gowned in silk blue. The groom was unattended.

After the ceremony an elaborate dinner was served to the family in the dining room, which was decorated effectively with pink roses. Owing to the recent death of the bride's father, there were no guests at the wedding except her relatives.

Dr. and Mrs. Pollock left on the 1:35 train for the west, where they will tour through several states. They will be gone six weeks. About the first of October they will take possession of their new residence which is being erected on Church street.

Although the wedding was a very quiet one, the bride received numerous and beautiful presents.

At the station, several of the bride's friends played the accustomed pranks and had a merry time. Instead of rice, they threw showers of gold hearts.

YOUNG WOMEN'S RUMMAGE SALE

For several years the Y. W. C. A. have conducted a rummage sale each summer and have disposed of a large number of articles at each sale.

The articles are contributed by persons who found no use for them or who were willing to give them for the benefit of the association.

People in cleaning house and in moving often come across articles of wearing apparel, furniture, etc., which they are glad to contribute and the sale of which furnishes money for the association and also provides poor people with the articles at a small cost to themselves, which they would not accept as charity.

Another sale was opened Tuesday at 110 W. Huron street with a large array of useful articles. If anyone having anything, large or small, which they are willing to give to the association, will notify Miss I. Markham or Miss C. Woodmansee the articles will be called for.

The name of Postmaster George H. Pond was sent to the senate by President Roosevelt Wednesday afternoon for a second four years term as postmaster at Ann Arbor. This was simply in line with former Argus dispatches, the matter having been settled several weeks ago. His confirmation will promptly follow.

Mr. Pond is the first postmaster at Ann Arbor in the last quarter of a century to secure a second term, the last postmaster to be so fortunate being C. G. Clark, an appointee of President Grant.

The postmasters at Ann Arbor since the office was first established in 1825 have been: John Allen, Anson Brown, Charles B. Thayer, Mark Howard, George Danforth, F. J. B. Crane, Caleb Clark, H. D. Bennett, John J. Thompson, Judge C. B. Grant, Col. H. S. Dean, C. G. Clark, J. C. Knowlton, Edward Duffy, Eugene E. Beal, S. W. Beakes and George H. Pond.

WEDDED AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Miss Wilber Was United to J. A. Bird

IS A MICHIGAN GIRL

Bride Graduated from the University in 1898—Won Fame as An Orator

A very lovely wedding was that of Nina Allene Wilber and James Pyfir Bird, which took place at the First Baptist church Wednesday evening.

The wedding blossoms were marguerites, and the church was a bower of green relieved with clusters of those dainty flowers.

Promptly at 8 the organ pealed forth the triumphal wedding march from Lohengrin, and the wedding party entered in conventional order.

The beautiful bride looked her fairest in a gown of mousseline de sole over silk, en traine, and heavily trimmed with Mechlinberg lace. A veil of filmy tulle swept to the bottom of the skirt and a magnificent cluster of brides' roses completed the lovely picture.

The bridesmaids, Mary Hudson Church, of Nelson, B. C., Mary O'Connor, of Chicago, Myra Louise Bird, of Ypsilanti, and Marilee Blossom, of Howell, and the maid of honor, Miss Gertrude Palmer, of Ann Arbor, were visions of summer loveliness in organdie gowns, with shower bouquets of Marguerites and maidenhair ferns.

Dr. Charles Wilson Southworth, of Buffalo, N. Y., acted as best man. The ushers were Albert L. Smith, of Detroit, William Baur, of Cincinnati, David B. Bird, of Ann Arbor, and Frederick D. Fairchilds, of Pomona, California. Rev. Dr. T. W. Young officiated. The wedding music was exquisitely executed by Miss Minnie Davis.

After the church services a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Wilber, 725 South Twelfth street, to intimate friends and relatives. Here again the green and white color scheme was repeated. The double parlors were a bower of ferns and marguerites, the massing of green in the great bay window producing a particularly charming effect.

In the library, which was decorated entirely with American beauties, the gifts were displayed, their number and richness attesting the great social popularity of the young couple.

Mrs. Ralph Callamore, of Detroit, presided over the supper, assisted by Helen Grahame, of Detroit, Mabel Hazard, of Detroit, Genevieve Mills, of Ann Arbor, and Miss Susan Dorance, of Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Bird will remain in Ann Arbor for the summer. In September they sail for Europe, where Mr. Bird will pursue his studies in Romance languages for a year or more. Mr. Bird is a graduate of the class of '93 and has for the past five years held the chair of ancient languages at the Southwestern University of Jackson, Tennessee, which has granted him a two years' leave of absence for study. His bride is a Michigan girl of the class of 1898.

After graduating she spent two years at the Emerson College of Oratory, Boston. Her fame as a platform reader and elocutionist won her the professorship of oratory in the University of Idaho, which she held for the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bird have hosts of friends all over the country, both possessing unusual personal charms and magnetism, and if a deluge of messages and telegrams of good wishes can insure happiness they start on their journey with every good augury.

POND HAS BEEN CHOSEN

Smith Names Him for the Office of Postmaster

GEORGE VANDAWARKER

Will be Mr. Pond's Assistant if Present Arrangements Are a Go—No Doubt They Will Be

Congressman H. C. Smith, has recommended Postmaster George H. Pond to the president for re-appointment as postmaster of Ann Arbor, just as a Washington dispatch published exclusively in the Argus some days ago, and which was such a big "news scoop" that various contemporaries tried to question its authenticity, said he would do.

The news of Mr. Pond's reappointment will be well received in this city, which has not been asking for a change of postmasters. Mr. Pond was 56 years old last Monday and was born in Michigan, where he has spent his life. His birthplace was in Livingston county, but he has been a resident of Ann Arbor since 1859, with the exception of eight years. For 14 years previous to his appointment as postmaster, he was editor of the Ann Arbor Courier. He served three terms as city recorder, who at that time acted as city clerk and alderman. He served two terms as city treasurer, and has been a member of the board of supervisors, as well as a county school examiner. He has served on city and county republican committees and been an active political worker.

GEORGE H. POND.

During his term as postmaster the office has been advanced to a first class office, the carriers and clerks force has been largely increased, while the revenues of the office have been rapidly growing. The revenues for the current year will exceed $45,000 from the sale of stamps.

Mr. Pond has made a good postmaster and has devoted his entire time to the work of the office.

It has been some years since an Ann Arbor postmaster has had more than one term, the last postmaster to be so fortunate being Postmaster Clark, back in Gen. Grant's time, but this has been due to the changing politics of the administrations.

It will be remembered that according to the Washington dispatch Judge Kinne and John F. Lawrence were to have a hand in naming the assistant postmaster. It is now said, on good authority, that the new assistant postmaster will be City Treasurer George Vandawarker.

It is stated that Judge Newkirk was not averse to taking this place, but that Vandawarker was the lucky winner. It pays $1,500 a year in salary.

This will make an opening in the city treasurership, when another anti-Judsonite can find a place after the Argus comes out tonight and it is known that Mr. Vandawarker is to be assistant postmaster.

The latter claims that he was employed as agent by English to sell wire fence, that he sold $2,500 worth of same and that he is entitled to $400 for his services.

NO SUBSTITUTE WANTED.

No! I did not ask for a bottle any cheaper, or twice as large, or one made by yourselves. I did ask for and will not have any substitute for Perry Davis' Painkiller. I have used it, my father used it and I would not be surprised if my grandparents did so too; there is no imitation that can equal it. That I am sure of—for stomach ache.

LIGHTNING'S WORK IN FREEDOM

Freedom, June 20.—Supervisor Frank Detling and wife are rejoicing over a little daughter, who has just arrived at their house.

Lightning struck the house of Henry Bertke about 5 o'clock last Sunday afternoon. It tore a large hole in the roof, splintered a rafter, and a ball of fire struck the floor down stairs within a foot of where Mrs. Bertke and son were, tore a large hole in the carpet and then ran back of the stove and out through the wall. Some of the electric fluid badly burned Mrs. Bertke from the hip down, running along the side of her left foot, tearing a hole in her shoe and stocking and burning a hole in her stocking.

FIRST DISCOVERY OF GOLD.

After careful investigation it has been determined that the date of the discovery of gold in California was January 28th, 1848. About that same time there was another important discovery, which to thousands of people became worth more than all the gold, because it restored them to health, and that is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This wonderful medicine continues to cure stomach and bowel complaints, the same today as in the past, and although many medicines have come and gone, the Bitters still remain the people's favorite. To those who suffer from dyspepsia, indigestion, headache, heartburn, constipation or biliousness, and have tried other medicines without obtaining relief, this remedy will prove a blessing, because it will surely cure them. Try a bottle and satisfy yourself.

DEXTER ROAD TO BE GRADED

The latest news about the prospects for the Boland road is favorable. Mr. Boland in a private letter not intended for publication, informs a gentleman in this city that he has just instructed the Jackson office to let a contract for grading between Dexter and Ann Arbor.

Mr. Boland has already invested $15,000 in rights of way, grading, etc., between these two points, and this is one of the indications which add to the belief that the road to Dexter, which has been so greatly desired here, will eventually be built. Good progress has been made on the road west of Jackson.

COAL REGION CUSTOMS

Queer Traditions of Slavs, Russians, Poles and Italians.

MUCH HOLIDAY MERRYMAKING.

There Are Twenty-nine Feast Days For Greeks and Twenty-six Among Certain Roman Catholics, to the Despair of Miners Wishing to Work—Strange Marriage Rites.

Nowhere else in all the United States are such odd customs observed as in the anthracite coal regions by the Slav, Lithuanian, Russian, Pole, Italian and Hungarian inhabitants, says a Wilkes-Barre correspondent of the New York Tribune. They have been brought from the only country and represent hundreds of years of tradition. The observance of them is as regular as the holidays. The oddity is interesting at first, but when they are so consistent as to celebrate all the various feast days of their church, both Greek and Roman Catholic, with the customs of the old country, it is decidedly annoying to the English speaking miners. The Greek Catholics have twenty-nine feast days and the Roman Catholics, among the Poles, Huns and Italians, have twenty-six, and nearly all are celebrated. The result is that many mines have to be idle because half the force remains away from work, to the despair of the operators and the disgust of the men who want to work.

About Easter especially there is much time spent in merrymaking. Good Friday is first observed with a great deal of ceremony. In the Russian Catholic churches there are built tombs representing the one in which Christ was laid, and these are watched for twenty-four hours by guards in elaborate uniforms, usually red, with gold bands and braids, a big shako and glittering sword. They are members of military societies connected with the churches. Four men form the detail on duty each hour. They stand at each corner of the tomb, rigid as statues, never moving in all the hour they stand on guard. During the twenty-four hours the members of the congregation enter the church on their knees and so proceed all the way to the altar.

On the Saturday before Easter the congregations take to the churches great baskets of food to be blessed for the Sunday feasting. The priest sprinkles holy water over it and it is borne away in triumph ready for the morrow.

On Easter Sunday the first thing eaten is a piece of egg. However many or few there are in a family—and in some of the boarding houses there are twenty or thirty—only one egg, specially blessed, may be used. It is hard boiled, and each gets a piece to break his fast, delicate and skillful carving being needed where the family is large. All Easter is spent in feasting and merrymaking, which frequently lasts all night.

On Easter Monday the women are privileged to throw water on the men, and they do this with such eagerness that the poor fellow who escapes without a cold is lucky. It is a form of wishing good luck and is also believed to show partiality. Thus if a young woman empties a bucket of water down the back of a young man she is supposed to indicate her affection for him, and if on Easter Tuesday, when the men have their turn, a young man throws a girl into the creek and drags her out by the hair he is presumed to be much in love with her. The custom arose from the habit of wishing a little extra joy at the conclusion of Lent to one's friends, this being expressed among the higher classes with a delicate spray of perfume on a friend's coat or dress. The poorer classes, unable to buy perfume, used water, and gradually became more and more practical jokers in the use of it. The Easter jollity lasts all through the week following Easter.

Christmas time is another period of merriment. One of the most picturesque customs then is for several men, known as "Kosa" and somewhat similar to the mummers of England, to go about from house to house. Their mission is to tell of the birth of Christ, and the performance is carried on with considerable dignity and also much fun. There are three "Brothers of the Church" (Stary Bracia) to represent the three wise men of the east. One carries on the end of a stick a miniature house to represent the church, to which all must look up. The other two walk by his side and with songs tell the story of the Nativity. They are accompanied by grotesque figures dressed to represent the devil, heathen and unbelievers of all types, and these dance and grimace and indulge in ludicrous performances to furnish the fun for the occasion. The brothers of the church play at trying to persuade these unbelievers to worship, and their efforts are rewarded with money or cakes. The money is placed in a box and is all turned in to the priest, it being a Christmas gift for him.

The week between Christmas and New Year's day the Kolenda, as it is called, sees all sorts of fun and polly. During this time, instead of sending presents to each other, friends distribute "piroge," little cakes containing plums, apples, onions, cabbages, etc., all told some seventeen different vegetables and fruits, and there is also mixed in each household an enormous piate, usually about thirty inches in diameter and several inches in thickness, which contains all the seventeen different things selected and of which each member of the family must eat. Barley mixed with honey is a dainty for this period. When first made, the householder throws a spoonful of it against the ceiling. If it sticks, it is a sign of prosperity and happiness throughout the year and the festivities continue. If it falls, it means bad luck; and all the funmaking in that house ends.

On New Year's it is the custom for his fellow countrymen to troop into the home of the wealthiest of their class in the village and throw handfuls of wheat, corn or rye upon him, the significance being that they wish it to grow on good ground and continued prosperity to the lucky recipient of the favor. He must lose money at first, however, for he is expected to give them some or furnish drinks and cakes. They consider it one of the luckiest of happenings if a Hebrew is the first to cross their threshold on New Year's day.

The marriage customs are singular. Among the Russians there are certain days of the week when the girls are privileged to approach a group of young men and shout at them until the shouting is supposed to become unbearable. Then the young men start in pursuit, and each one tries to catch a girl. If he does, he may make love to her for the rest of the evening.

The girls keep their hair down until after they are married, and then, on the second day after the service, it is put up with a great deal of ceremony. The bride is seated in the middle of a circle of married women, who dance and sing for hours while each takes turns at putting up the bride's hair until the task is ended.

After the wedding ceremony the bride is put in a room with a lot of other girls, each with a sheet over her head, and the groom is expected to go in and discover at first choice which is his bride. If he selects her at once, she, it is believed, will lead a happy life. Usually she is clever enough to make some sign to attract his attention and so take no chance with fickle fortune.

On the day of a wedding the orchestra at the house is supposed to play as long as the bride and bridegroom are within hearing. This invariably results in the musicians being bribed to stop or getting filled so full of "polinky" that they cannot proceed.

Among the very poor classes a bride gets a pair of boots on her wedding day, and they delight in those with red tops. They do not wear these after the wedding, fearing to wear them out, but often to church or to festivals a woman may be seen carrying her boots on her shoulder as an American girl might wear a bit of jewelry in which she takes special pride—to show that she had a pair. Many of the women save these boots to be buried in.

A Polish girl cuts off bits of her veil and throws them to her girl friends, who sleep upon them to dream of the man they are to marry as an American girl desires a bit of wedding cake. The Italians, when desiring to be especially generous, empty flour bags full of candy over the heads of the bridal party so all the spectators may scramble for it.

AID IN THE USE OF X RAYS.

Paraffin Shield Found to Prevent Burning of the Skin.

Dr. J. Mount Bleyer of New York announces a discovery regarding the use of X rays that does away with the injurious effects of a prolonged application of the rays. He has found, according to the New York Tribune, that a paraffin coating one-eighth of an inch in thickness which is applied to that part of the person on which the rays are directed prevents burns. Prolonged application of the X rays, such as is necessary in treatment of cancer and tuberculosis, has been found to result in so called virulent burns. Because these burns do not develop till several days after the application it has been a theory that they are due to secondary infection and that the rays drive dust floating in the air into the skin of the patient. These particles carry inoculation.

Acting on this theory, Dr. Bleyer, by experiment, found that paraffin would catch and hold the virulent particles which were carried by the X rays.

Various other efforts have been made to prevent irritation from the atmospheric impact produced by the Rontgen discharge. An aluminum screen has been often employed. But the disadvantage of this and similar devices is that a screen of such material blocks the rays of three-fourths of their efficiency. The paraffin coating permits the uninterrupted current, but stops the flow of alien particles.

Novelty in Fireworks.

Among the new fireworks for the glorious Fourth a clever 1902 piece is the "loop the loop," says the Philadelphia Times. This looks like a rolling hoop with a little block of wood attached to its inner rim. A spark transforms the hoop into a blazing circle and the block of wood into a car, which races round and round inside the circle till all its power is gone, throwing off as it goes gaudy showers of red, white and blue sparks. The "loop the loop" is fastened against a fence or a post after the manner of the pinwheel, of which it is a variation.

Gift For Sheldon's Kansas Heroine.

Miss Elizabeth Meyer, a student of Washburn college, Topeka, is the heroine of Rev. Charles M. Sheldon's book, "Born to Serve," and he has presented her with the copyright and royalties, says a dispatch from Hiawatha, Kan., to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The book is the story of a college graduate who went into the kitchen of a helpless family and restored order and inspired everybody to work and help one another. Miss Meyer has done this much in truth for a Topeka family and yet has found time to complete her college course.

WAR BETWEEN SALOON KEEPERS

Rival Liquor Dealers in a Lively Tussle

WHITMORE LAKE PEOPLE

May Have to Appear as Witnesses on Charge Brought Against Jacob Zeeb

George Rauschenberger, the Whitmore Lake saloonkeeper who was bound over to the circuit court for trial by Justice Gibson, applied to the latter for a warrant Tuesday for the arrest of Jacob Zeeb, whom he accused of keeping his saloon open on last election day. Zeeb is the man who was responsible for Rauschenberger's arrest.

Up until a few months ago Zeeb was in the saloon business at Whitmore Lake. He sold out his place to Adam Meyer and since that time it appears that Rauschenberger and Zeeb have not been on friendly relations. The climax in their disputes came when Zeeb made the complaint against Rauschenberger for violating the liquor law.

Since then there have been doings of considerable excitement going on between the two men, in which Meyer, Zeeb's friend, is said to have played an important part. Last week, it is alleged, Meyer ejected a man from his saloon. Rauschenberger, it is said, was appealed to by the fellow whom Meyer had put out of his place, with the result that Rauschenberger went to the saloon owned by Meyer and demanded that the fellow who had been put out of the place be allowed to enter. At this point there was a considerable war of words between Rauschenberger and Meyer. Threats were made and it is alleged that for a few minutes there were lively times around the Meyer place until friends interfered and prevented the disputants from further carrying on their aggressive tactics.

But the trouble does not seem to have ended here, judging from the fact that Rauschenberger swore to a warrant for Zeeb's arrest Tuesday, giving the names of a number of Whitmore Lake people who, he says, are ready to appear against Zeeb.

WAS A DAINTY HOME WEDDING

MISS FEINER IS THE BRIDE OF WILLIAM VALENTINE

Marriage Ceremony Performed Under an Arch of Smilax and Marguerites

One of the daintiest home weddings of the month was solemnized at the home of the bride Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Miss Clara Feiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Feiner, of 313 Fourth avenue, became the wife of William H. Valentine, of Webster.

The wedding was a marguerite one, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Mr. Wilkinson, under an arch of smilax and marguerites, festooned with white ribbons.

The bride was gowned handsomely in white Persian lawn. Miss Emily Feiner, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. She wore a blue gown. The groom was attended by Mr. Lemen.

After the ceremony about 50 relatives, who were the only guests, repaired to the dining room, where a sumptuous dinner was served. The table was decorated prettily with smilax and marguerites.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents, among them being handsome pieces of cut glass and hand painted china. Mr. and Mrs. Valentine left at 5 o'clock on their wedding trip, which they will spend in the east. On their return they will reside in Webster, where the groom has a very valuable farm.

TOOK HER TO THE ALTAR

David Prochnow Weds Miss Emma Fohey

HANDSOME BRIDEGROOM

He is the Popular Bookkeeper for C. F. Pardon of this City—The Wedding Trip

A very pretty and elaborate wedding was solemnized in Northfield Wednesday at 3 o'clock p. m., the contracting parties being David Prochnow, the well known bookkeeper of C. F. Pardon, and Miss Emma Fohey, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Fohey, of Northfield.

The bride was becomingly attired in blue broadcloth and white silk, handsomely trimmed with white applique. She wore a large picture hat of white chiffon and carried a shower bouquet of white bridal roses. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Edna Fohey, who was gowned in blue chey-lot and hite silk. She carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations. The groom was attended by his brother, Fred Prochnow.

After the wedding ceremony a reception was tendered the newly wedded pair at the home of the bride's parents about 150 guests being present. After extending congratulations, the guests repaired to the dining room, where a sumptuous repast, in charge of an Ann Arbor caterer, was served. The dining room was effectively decorated with smilax, roses and carnations.

The bride received many beautiful and costly presents, consisting of furniture, silverware, linen, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Prochnow left on the evening train for an extended visit in the east. They will be at home to their friends after July 25, at their residence on N. Fifth avenue.

Friends from abroad at the wedding were: Theodore Prochnow, Wm. Darrow and family, Robert Kuebler and A. Ledue, Ann Arbor; G. Prochnow, Jacob Peer and family, South Lyon; Mrs. Jas. Gore and daughter, J. D. Fohey, Toledo; F. Fohey and family, LaPorte, Ind.; Miss Kearney; Dexter; Mrs. Agnes Conklin, Howell.

HORACE PRETTYMAN THE COMPLAINANT

A bill of complaint to set aside a deed was filed Wednesday by Attorney Arthur Brown, representing Horace G. and Jenny Prettyman.

It is averred that the Prettymans are joint owners in fee simple of lots 1 and 2 in block 2 south of Huron street, range 13 east. That they derived their titles by a deed of conveyance from Otis C. Johnson, executor of the estate of the late Lucy W. S. Morgan. In July, 1881, it is claimed that George Lant, Sr., obtained a judgment for $5,882 against Elijah Morgan, husband of the deceased Lucy Morgan, and that the property was sold to John Laughlin at sheriff's sale, the judgment against it not being satisfied. This sale, it is claimed, was irregular as at the time the sale was made the property belonged to present complainants, Mr. Prettyman and his wife.

On the death of John Laughlin his heirs began proceedings to have the property turned over to them, hence the present bill to set aside the deed given to John Laughlin. The Prettymans set forth that they have been in possession of the property for twenty years.

HOME WEDDING OF MISS SCHWEITZER

MARRIED AT THE HOME OF HER PARENTS

An Elaborate Menu Served after the Nuptial Ceremony Was Concluded

A very pretty wedding was that of Miss Mary Sweitzer and Henry Schlanderer, of this city, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, near Saline, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lydia Schweitzer, and by Miss Louise Schlanderer, sister of the groom. Messrs. Fred Schweitzer and Emanuel Stadel acted as best men.

As the beautiful Mendelssohn wedding march was rendered by Miss Yeva Thorne, the wedding party entered the parlor and took their places beneath an arch, entwined with ferns and pink roses, where they were united in marriage by the Rev. Mr. Lederer, of Saline.

The bride looked very lovely in her wedding gown of white organdie, which was daintily trimmed in valenciennes lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

The bridesmaids were daintily gowned in simple white mull gowns and carried white carnations. After the congratulations had been tendered the newly wedded pair, the guests sat down to an elaborate wedding supper.

The bridal table was beautifully decorated in pink and white. The menu was a most elaborate one and the guests did full justice to the delicious viands. Mr. and Mrs. Schlanderer left on the 5 o'clock train for Grand Rapids and other points in the western part of the state.

Miss Admiral Lovell is moving into the store at 323 South State street for the summer months. The store which she formerly occupied, on the corner of Williams and State street, which is owned by F. M. Hamilton, will be torn down and a fine new three story brick building will be erected within the next few months. The first story, when completed, will be occupied by Miss Lovell and the second and third stories will be fitted up for fine office suits.
