

ANN ARBOR ARGUS-DEMOCRAT.

VOL. LXVIII.—NO 14

ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY APRIL 3, 1903.

WHOLE NO 3577

THE BONDING ISSUE IS SQUARELY PRESENTED

The City Paid Out In Interest Over What It Received Only $64.34

The April 1 Overdraft is $15,000 Less Than Two Years Ago, the Liquor Tax Will Wipe Out Three-Fourths of It—Why Bond and Pay $800 Interest

It is strange how tenaciously some people cling to the idea that Ann Arbor must be bonded. For two months the Argus has been conducting a campaign to prevent the city of Ann Arbor from being unnecessarily bonded. And yet, in spite of the evident protest of the people, Reuben Kempf, candidate for mayor, announces that the first thing he would do would be to see that an act was passed to enable the city to bond.

How differently Arthur Brown talks. If elected mayor, every city order that has been accumulating will be paid in full within two days after he takes his seat as mayor and there will be no bonds.

Mr. Brown produces figures to show the absolute senselessness of bonding. Here are his figures:

Overdraft, April 1, 1901.....$27,507
Overdraft, April 1, 1903..... 12,863
The overdraft is cut down $15,000 from what it was. Why bond for $20,000?

And while the overdraft April 1, if all orders were paid, including those not due until April 7, would be $12,863, over $9,000 will be received May 1, which would cut this amount down to about $3,000, and in July the taxes come in. What is called the $12,863 overdraft is made up as follows:

Orders passed by council in February$ 2,791 36
Orders passed by council in March 2,799 17
Orders for March at April meeting estimate..... 2,000 00
Bond due, Washington street paving 3,412 50
Bond due Ann street paving 344 65
Overdraft at bank April 1.. 1,315 50

Total$12,663 18
In spite of the overdrafts of the past year, and in spite of the fact that the State street paving was paid for out of the street fund a long time before bonds were issued, thus greatly increasing the bank overdraft, the city only paid the banks last year $64.34 more interest than they received. If Mr. Kempf's policy is adopted the city would pay the banks $800 interest on the $20,000 4 per cent bonds in one year. If Mr. Brown's policy is adopted the city will receive more interest from the banks during the coming year than it pays.

The city does not need to bond, and the Argus calls upon the voters to decide upon the issue so squarely presented.

MUST BEGIN OVER AGAIN

Petition for Liberty Street Paving Not Big Enough

JUDGE KINNE'S DECISION

Holds That There Are at Least 92 Property Owners and Not More Than 46 Valid Signers

Attorney Stivers knocked out City Attorney Sawyer on the Liberty street paving. Judge Kinne's decision in the case of Emma F. Peterson was as follows:

"In my opinion the only ground for an injunction rests upon the allegation that a majority of the owners of the property abutting the proposed paving district did not join in the petition to the common council.

"In my opinion this ground has been fully sustained upon hearing of the motion for a dissolution of said injunction. I find that the number of abutting owners who signed said petition do not exceed forty-six, possibly but forty-five, while the number of owners so abutting is not less than ninety-two, perhaps more.

"It follows that the proceedings must be held void and that the injunction must be retained; at least until the hearing upon the merits, upon proofs."

Mr. Peterson states that he is not opposed to paving but prefers brick paving both on account of its less cost and durability. A petition for brick paving is being circulated.

On the other hand, the advocates of asphalt paving claim to have a petition signed by 57 names of property owners, which would be a majority of 113.

MOVING TIME IN ANN ARBOR

This seems to be moving time. The Times has located in its new quarters on Washington street with Parker & Snyder.

The American Tyler has moved into rooms in the second story of the Retch block.

The Wood-Alien Publishing Co. has moved into rooms at 200 E. Washington street.

Frank A. Stivers, the attorney, has moved into a new office on the corner of Main and Washington, over Hoag's store.

Croup instantly relieved, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Perfectly safe. Never fails. At any drug store.

For Rent—On shares, three farms in Webster township. Good land, good buildings. E. Cranson, Dexter.

NEW TELEPHONES FOR THE CITY

Announcement of the Independent Line

FROM PENNSYLVANIA

Come the People Who Have Contracted to Build the New Telephone Plant

There have been some telephone developments in the past day or so and it begins to look as if Ann Arbor were to have two telephone plants. An effort was made to get a council meeting Monday to get some changes in the franchise granted to Messrs. Mack and Wagner, but the council was not in a mood to meet on short notice. The following announcement of the new line is made:

People from Pennsylvania have contracted to build an "up to date" telephone plant in Ann Arbor. Their engineer has been here for one week making a detailed plan for the work. The system will be built with full metallic circuits, central energy flashlight switchboard, over three miles of underground work. Aerial work will be mostly cable.

The company have purchased property and will erect their own building arranged especially for telephone purposes.

Arrangements have been perfected to give Ann Arbor subscribers connection with the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and all towns with independent telephone plants in Michigan.

SYLVAN CAUCUS WAS PACKED

A TOTAL OF 553 VOTERS AT THE CAUCUS

Democrats Were Numerous and Judson Won Over Glazier

The biggest caucus in the history of the county was held in Sylvan Monday when Bacon beat Riemenschneider by a vote of 320 to 233. The big caucus was the result of the Judson-Glazier fight and Judson won. The total vote was 553 which is, of course, much larger than the total republican vote in Sylvan. The vote last fall was Durand 341, Bliss 325, a total of 666, or only 103 larger than the republican caucus vote this year.

This gives some idea of the way in which the Sylvan caucus was run. A supporter of Judson says each side had in about an equal number of democrats. A democrat states that there must have been at least 200 democrats in the caucus.

Judson is jubilant. He claims to have won all along the line and to be stronger than ever in Washtenaw politics.

MILAN MAN WAS ARRESTED

Asa Lynn, of Milan, was arrested Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Brown, of Tecumseh, taken to Adrian and placed in jail.

It is claimed that on August 26, 1902, Lynn went to the dry goods store of Anderson & Rosacraus, Tecumseh, to purchase an empty box paying 15 cents for it. About this time a consignment of fur had been shipped to the firm, and it was found that one of the boxes, valued at $82, wholesale price, was missing, and instructions were given to watch Lynn. It was learned that he had sold one set of furs from the box. It seems that instead of an empty box, he had taken one containing the furs.

Deputy Sheriff Brown went to Lynn's home with a search warrant and found the furs. He was arrested and taken before Justice Sylvester P. Hosmer, of Tecumseh, and his examination set for Thursday, April 2. In default of $500 bail, he was committed to the county jail until that date.

SHAMROCK III.

All true lovers of sport in this country will look forward with much interest to the arrival of the new cup challenger, Shamrock III, which the English people expect will lift the cup this year. While America has held the supremacy in yacht building for years she also holds the supremacy in medicine. Take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for an example. No other country in the world has been able to produce a medicine so good to restore the appetite, build up the run-down system in the spring or to cure nausea, indigestion, flatulency, dyspepsia, constipated bowels, biliousness, or malaria, fever and ague. It is therefore, deserving of a trial. Be sure to get the genuine with our Private Stamp over the neck of the bottle. It will cure you.

THE DEATH OF MISS RUTH HOPPIN

FOR FIFTEEN YEARS PRECEPTRESS AT THE NORMAL

A Lady of Rare Literary Attainments—She Died Thursday at Three Rivers

Miss Ruth Hoppin, aged 70 years, died at her home in Three Rivers Wednesday. She was a lady of rare literary ability and years ago had more than a state reputation in the educational field. For fifteen years she was preceptress at the State Normal school at Ypsilanti. Of late her mind has been affected, owing to a loss of eyesight. During the outbreak of the civil war she was the most active person in Three Rivers and vicinity in helping to equip the Eleventh Michigan Infantry, and her regret was that she was not a boy that she could shoulder a gun in defense of the flag. Several languages were at her command, and in the use of them was considered an adept. She leaves no immediate relatives in this vicinity. Miss Hoppin was a graduate of the University and had taught in Smith college and the University of Dakota.

RINGING LETTER FROM MR. BROWN

He Is Against Bonding the City

REVENUES LARGE ENOUGH

To Meet All Expenses and Care for the Overdraft—What He Says on Grade Separation.

Editor Argus:

Since the republican city convention and the speech made there by my opponent, Mr. Kempf, in favor of bonding the city, I have been asked my views upon the subject by many citizens without distinction of party. I wish to say, once for all, that I am totally opposed to any scheme for bonding the city of Ann Arbor. I believe that the entire legitimate expenses of the city can be kept within the amount allowed by law to be raised by tax— $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1 per cent—and the liquor money, which together will amount to about \$60,000 per year. This large sum of \$5,000 per month or over \$166 per day, will not only pay all city expenses but a sufficient sum can be saved from it, in my opinion, to gradually wipe out any overdraft which may now exist. I am also asked for my opinion upon grade separation. Whatever may have been the opinion of citizens upon that subject as an original proposition the present city government have virtually entered into a contract with the Wabash Railroad company to effect grade separation. In reliance upon the good faith of that contract the Railroad company has already made large expenditures and for the city now to attempt to escape from the contract would result in endless litigation with a great expense to the taxpayers than to faithfully carry out the agreement.

In a word, honesty in fulfilling the city's obligations and economy in spending the city's money will govern me if the people choose to elect me mayor next Monday.

ARTHUR BROWN,
Democratic Candidate for Mayor.

ARTHUR BROWN.

The democratic candidate for mayor named at Friday night's convention is no unknown man to the citizens of this city. He is one of the younger professional and business men of this community, but thoroughly well known through the public positions he has held and his energy and push in business and professional affairs.

Mr. Brown's first introduction to the people of Ann Arbor was in 1887 when he became county clerk, a position which he held for four years, when the people elevated him to the position of county clerk, and re-elected him for another term two years later. He made a thoroughgoing official, competent and businesslike in all matters. He has also served as alderman of his ward and in that capacity he was equally efficient and fearless in the performance of his duty. He was a valuable member of the council, regular in his attendance upon the meetings of the council and a student of the affairs which came before that body for its consideration. He knows the city charter well and the ordinances which have been enacted under its provisions.

His position on the important issues now before our people is well understood. They were up to the council while he was still a member of that body and he never was a trimmer with reference to any of them. He is known to be on the side of the people in the matter of the proposed bond issue. With him in the mayor's chair the city will not be stuck for a large sum, or any other sum if he can prevent it, in the important matter of grade separation. He believes in a business like administration of the city's affairs and while progressive, does not believe in waste or extravagance. He is successful in his own business affairs and he applies the same energy and force to his handling of public business. If elected he will make a good mayor.

VICIOUS PIECE OF LEGISLATION.

The Morarty bill which was rushed through the legislature on Thursday at the behest of Governor Bliss in order, as reported, to enable him to keep a young man, the son of a preacher friend of the governor, from going to the reform school, is one of the most subversive and dangerous measures passed by the legislature in many years. This bill gives the authority to all circuit courts and others of like jurisdiction, to parole criminals either before or after sentence and to annul sentence for crime whenever the trial judge may see fit to do so. This law is subversive of a well established principal of government of all English speaking peoples. In all such governments for years the pardoning power has been in the hands of the executive, where it properly belongs. It should never be vested in the hands of the trial court. Placing this authority in the hands of the judiciary of the state will subject our courts to everlasting and insistent importunities of all persons who have some relative or friend behind the bars, and to the wiles and influences of the political bosses who desire to conserve the wishes of voters with influence who have friends doing time.

Honest judges with plenty of spine will get along with this new burden all right, but how will it be with those who have a naturally weak backbone and who are politically ambitious? It will undoubtedly bring our courts into much closer touch with the prevailing political methods and impose upon them a burden grievous and heavy to bear. There is no possible classification of governmental functions that can be made by which this function can properly be brought within the judicial purview. It is a function distinctly and properly executive and should never be laid upon the shoulders of the judiciary. It is entirely safe to say that if this measure can pass the constitutional gauntlet, it will entail upon the state of Michigan more evil than all the other acts of the present weak and vacillating chief executive combined. This placing in the hands of the courts the power to traffic in paroles is an iniquity in characterizing which it is quite impossible to use too strong condemnatory language.

A SAD FATE.

The suicide of General Sir Hector McDonald is a sad thing to contemplate. Here was a man who rose from the ranks to become a major general and earned every one of his promotions for bravery and daring on many a bloody field. He was a genuine soldier and led the British flag to victory in various parts of the world. He was at Majuba Hill, where he was compelled to surrender his sword, but his life was saved by the Boer commandant when a rifle was aimed at his breast, because of the conspicuous bravery he had shown in the fight. He was recognized as one of the strong men of the late Boer war and was held in the highest esteem by his government. Since the close of the Boer war he has been in command of the English forces in Ceylon.

That the man must have had extraordinary talents to have reached his high station, is evidenced by the fact that his advancement was won in the famous Gordon Highlander regiment. A life time of faithful and brilliant service was behind him and his were the rewards of such service. But according to the charges there was in this otherwise splendid character defects, the consequences of which laid him low after twenty-nine years of service of his country of which any man might justly be proud. He was charged with gross immorality and at the time of his suicide was on the way back to Ceylon to face a court-martial. Just what these charges specifically were the world may never know, and it is best probably that it should not. But his resort to suicide rather than face the charges against him indicates that the matter of moral rectitude is become a living factor of even army life. It is regrettable that this brave and brilliant Scot, who had served his country so ably should not have served his own honor equally as well. And because of his great service to his country the world will regret that the mantle of charity could not have been thrown over his weakness and his life thus saved to additional deeds of honor to his country and possibly better service to his higher self. It is always a great shock when a public life like that of Gen. McDonald goes out under an eclipse.

THE NEW IRISH LAND BILL.

The new Irish land bill promises to be a great boon to that long oppressed country. For generations Ireland has groaned under a system of land tenure which has driven tens of thousands of Irishmen out of their native country. The land of the country is largely held by absentee landlords, who have cared little or nothing for their tenants' except to wring from them the last cent possible for rents. These landlords live in London or on the continent and being in practically every sense foreigners, have had no patriotic interest in Ireland's welfare. Irish tenant farmers have had to receive assistance from their relatives and friends in America and other parts of the world in order to live and make any improvements on their land holdings. But as soon as any improvements were made on their lands the landlords have proceeded to take practically the entire benefit thereof in increased rents. The bill introduced in the house of commons on the 25th by Irish Secretary Wyndham provides for the elimination of this obnoxious landlord system and offers a plan whereby the tenant farmers may become the owners of their farms. The bill proposes an out and out gift of sixty millions of dollars to help the tenant farmers in the purchase of their holdings. It is a great measure of justice and liberality and if successfully carried through parliament is undoubtedly destined to lead to vastly improved conditions in Ireland and to bring the Irish people up to a more loyal support of the English government. It will likewise cause the writing of the name of Secretary Wyndham high up in the list of great English statesmen.

The talk by Superintendent of Public Instruction Delos Fall before the Schoolmasters' meeting on the concentration of rural schools last week at the session in this city was well received and very evidently had the cordial support of the educators present. If the carrying of the concentration idea into practice was left to the judgment of the great body of the best teachers of the state, the plan would undoubtedly soon be under way. But the rural communities themselves do not move so rapidly. Sentiment is growing, however, in the rural districts and the time is not distant when there will be township high schools in Michigan. The children will be collected and conveyed to the school and home again too in wagons. This scheme will bring the rural schools under much better supervision and secure much better work. As it is at the present time the supervision of the district schools is very inadequate, it must necessarily be so. But when all the schools of a township are brought together in one building with a principal who is an experienced teacher in immediate general charge over all the teachers, and a county superintendent of still broader and richer experience over all the energies of the various teachers will be directed to much better purpose than at present with better work as the resultant. Under such a system greater and better returns will be obtained for a given expenditure of funds. Better teaching will be secured and the courses of study can be extended and enriched. With the better classification which will result, each teacher will have fewer classes and fewer teachers will be able to do the work. With the inauguration of the concentration plan a new era will open for the rural schools and the country boys and girls will be given opportunities more nearly equal to those who have the advantages of the best city and village schools.

During the past year the citizens of Ann Arbor have paid into the municipal treasury, bridge, culvert and cross-walk fund, main sewer bond and interest fund and lateral sewer bonds and interest fund and from the sale of bonds and in other ways, the sum of $123,000.85. This sum does not include the large amounts of taxes paid by the same citizens for school, county or state taxes. Does it not seem as though this is enough money to run the affairs of this small municipality liberally and well? Is there any one who desires the privilege of paying still more? If it be necessary to the proper conduct of the proper business of the city, to increase this amount, then unquestionably the people are willing to respond with more money, but is it necessary? How many citizens desire a $40,000 bond issue on top of all these taxes? Would it not be better policy to try and practice a little economy and thus conduct the affairs of the city within the present tax levy? Economy seems to be a lost art in these days so far as the conduct of public affairs is concerned. But it is an art that the people would do well to enforce upon their officials for a time. With Arthur Brown in the mayor's chair, the people can be assured that there will be no bond issue in the near future. The city government will be economically administered. And economy in city expenditures at the present is a virtue well worth cultivation.

Just what basis there may be in fact in all the rumors about the prospective release of Frank C. Andrews is difficult to determine, but that there is something doing in this connection is probably true. That Andrews has powerful friends who are working for his release is undoubtedly true. Gov. Bliss indignantly denies that he is contemplating changes in the constitution of the pardon board with the view of Andrews' release. This may mean something or nothing, as it is well known that the governor is not the keeper of his own mind on any public matter. In all probability Andrews will not begin to see the termination of his sentence behind prison bars.

In their resolutions the republicans in city convention formulated a string of words for the consumption of the laboring men and then turned round and defeated the laboring man's candidate for city clerk. Such is political consistency.

A GOOD CLEAN TICKET NAMED BY DEMOCRATS

Arthur Brown Will Make a First Class Mayor of the City

Granger Wins Out as Clerk—Close Contests an Interesting Convention Ending in Good Feeling

The democrats named a very strong city ticket Friday night, a good clean ticket, which will, if elected, give the city a good, clean, business-like administration and without bonding or raising taxation free the city from its floating indebtedness while seeing that labor is promptly paid. The ticket named is as follows: Mayor—Arthur Brown. President of the Council—John C. Walz, Jr. City Clerk—Ross Granger. Justice of the Peace—William G. Doty.

Assessor—Benjamin F. Watts. The convention was the largest city convention ever held in the city and was animated and interesting from start to finish, indicating a feeling that this year it was believed that the democrats were to be given an opportunity to put the city on a sound financial basis without increasing taxation or mortgaging homes.

E. B. Norris as chairman of the city committee called M. J. Cavanaugh to the chair. Mr. Cavanaugh said the democrats were rich in candidates who would honorably fill the offices and expressed the belief that the convention would follow the rule of previous conventions in placing before the voters men worthy of the suffrage of not only every democrat but of all the people.

On motion of William Murray, William Seery was made secretary. On motion of E. B. Norris, the chair appointed the following committees: Credentials—Col. Frazier, J. W. Dwyer, H. W. Douglas.

Permanent organization and order of business—John L. Duffy, Eugene Oesterlin, James R. Bach. An intermission of ten minutes was taken to allow the committees to report, but a little more time was needed by the credentials committee.

A SPEECH WHICH TOOK.

Warren H. Smith, the democratic candidate for school commissioner, was called before the convention and in a neat little speech created one of the best impressions that a candidate ever made. He spoke of the importance of the rural schools and how their welfare was indirectly of great interest to the city. Referring to his five years' residence here attending the University, he said he had not become so well known because he had not engaged in hair cutting and so had not got his name in the papers. Mr. Smith is a direct, straightforward, pleasing speaker, and indicated his familiarity with schools and the best educational methods.

John L. Duffy presented the report of the committee on permanent organization and order of business, making the temporary officers permanent, fixing the order of business and providing that the city committee be empowered to fill any vacancy that might occur, especially as they understood there was no candidate for assessor. The nominating speeches were limited to three minutes and the seconding speeches to one.

CONTEST ON CREDENTIALS.

Col. Frazier presented the majority report of the committee in favor of seating half of each delegation from the seventh ward, the minority report of Prof. J. W. Dwyer being in favor of seating the Meyers and Betke delegation.

J. C. Lewis moved the adoption of the report down to the part referring to the seventh ward delegates, which carried.

M. J. Martin spoke in favor of seating the Betke delegation, Charles A. Ward spoke against it. He said it was not a question between workmen and silk-stockings as had been charged, but a question of honest politics. He objected to the introduction of Judson methods in democratic caucuses. Mr. Meyers denied this. Mr. J. W. Dwyer spoke for the minority report, claiming that the Betke delegation was the legal delegation. There was a little sparring and Mr. Dwyer moved the substitution of the minority report. The chair put the question and a division was called for pending which Mr. T. D. Kearney poured oil on the troubled waters and moved that both delegations be admitted, each delegate when it came to balloting being given half a vote. This carried without dissent. On motion of Henry Meuth the chair appointed as tellers William Walz, J. W. Markey and John Fisher.

BROWN FOR MAYOR.

The roll of wards being called for nominations for mayor, F. G. Schleicher presented the name of Gottlob Luick, James R. Bach the name of Arthur Brown, William Murray the name of Louis J. Lisemer, William Tuomey the name of Eugene Mann.

Mr. Mann asked permission to withdraw his name and asked the delegates to vote for some other candidate. The contest for mayor was close and it took three ballots to decide. The first ballot resulted:

L. J. Lisemer	47
Arthur Brown	37½
W. D. Harriman	27½
Gottlob Luick	13½
Eugene Mann	8
Scattering	2
Total	135½

The second ballot resulted:

Arthur Brown	53
L. J. Lisemer	52
W. D. Harriman	23½
Gottlob Luick	11
Total	139½

Mr. Luick's name was withdrawn and the third and final ballot resulted:

Arthur Brown	70
L. J. Lisemer	53
W. D. Harriman	13½
Total	136½

AN ECONOMICAL ADMINISTRATION.

On motion of Col. Frazier, the nomination of Mr. Brown was made unanimous with a will and Mr. Brown was called upon for a speech. His speech was short, but it was evident that he meant every word he said. Mr. Brown said:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention—I wish to thank you all, but I hope the election won't be quite so close as the nomination. The hour is already late and I will not detain you. But if I am elected I will do all in my power to give you a good, clean, economical administration. I will make it my most earnest purpose to save the taxpayers and to see that the taxes are kept at lowest point possible by an economical administration. I promise that if elected I will not appoint anybody to office who will represent a railroad with which the city is dealing. I have heard it charged that I was for a railroad, but gentlemen, that railroad has been built. I am not connected with any railroad or with any other corporation. My only effort if elected, will be to give the city a good, clean, business administration." Mr. Brown's speech was received with cheers.

GRANGER FOR CLERK.

The roll being called for nominations for clerk S. W. Beakes presented Ross Granger, M. J. Cavanaugh presented James Boyle and M. J. Martin presented John Baumgardner. It took two ballots to decide this nomination, the first resulting:

Granger	65½
Boyle	55½
Baumgardner	14½
Scattering	1
Total	136½

Mr. Granger was nominated on the second ballot, Mr. Baumgardner's name being withdrawn, by the following vote:

Granger	70
Boyle	64½
Scattering	1
Total	135½

THE OTHER NOMINATIONS.

For president of the council, S. W. Millard presented the name of John Koch. No other names were presented and a motion was made to instruct the secretary to cast the ballot of the convention for Mr. Koch, but Mr. Koch said that while he appreciated the honor, he didn't think it fair to nominate a man who had served the city for eight years, and declined the nomination. T. D. Kearney presented the name of John Walz, Jr. The nomination was made by acclamation.

For justice, S. W. Beakes presented the name of William G. Doty, and Mr. Doty was nominated by a unanimous vote.

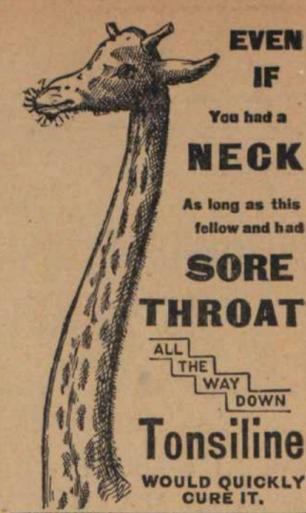

M. J. Martin named Benjamin F. Watts for assessor and he was nominated by acclamation.

On motion the chairman of the ward committees were made the city committee and the convention adjourned.

WHO CANDIDATES ARE.

Arthur Brown, the candidate for mayor, is a lawyer, who has been county clerk and alderman. He is a good clean business man, who has been successful in his own business and has a reputation among renters of houses as the best landlord in the city. He is straightforward and outspoken. Mr. Brown has developed rapidly. He is a close student with a quick mind and with the legal knowledge necessary to aid in untangling the city from the legal muddles into which the last administration has plunged it. Mr. Brown has the disposition and the ability to make a record as mayor and will make one of the best, if not the best mayor the city has had.

Ross Granger, the candidate for clerk, is proprietor of Granger's academy. He is major in the state militia and was a captain in the Spanish-American war. He was born in Ann Arbor, has always lived here, and has a clean, honorable record. He is methodical in his ways and will make the kind of a city clerk that the city needs.

John Walz, Jr., the nominee for president of the council, the second ward's representation on the ticket, is the cashier of the State Savings Bank, the youngest cashier in the city. He has business ability, has always taken an interest in city matters, though never seeking office, will make a good presiding officer and his judgment will be of value to the council. He would also throw his influence in favor of that judicious economy in city matters which while not stopping improvements or robbing labor of its just dues, will protect the pockets of the taxpayers.

William G. Doty is the best man for justice in the city. He attends strictly to his duties, is always found in his office, has that judicial temperament which the office needs, dispenses exact justice, is highly educated, has a good grasp of legal principles, is exact in his drawing of legal papers, is just the man for the poor man's court. He has well earned a second term as justice.

Benjamin F. Watts, the nominee for assessor, has lived in the city more years than any man who will be named on either ticket. He has been city treasurer and coroner. For years he ran a jewelry store. Everybody knows him and likes him. He has a good knowledge of values and is in every way a competent man for the office.

It is a most excellent ticket from top to bottom.

$85,000 FOR CITY PURPOSES BESIDES PAVING EXPENDITURES

Did you ever stop to consider how much money was spent by the city of Ann Arbor last year?

The present administration say they have no money. Perhaps it would be well to know how much money they had to spend during the past year.

That is easily told and the figures cannot be disputed. Here are the figures of the amount received:

Tax levy for city funds.....	$50,000 00
Bridge, crosswalk and culvert fund.....	18,000 00
Main sewer bond and interest.....	2,700 00
Lateral sewer bonds and interest.....	2,750 00
Total tax levy of last June.....	$73,450 00
Other city receipts.....	11,553 85
Total city receipts.....	$85,003 85

city tax is far in excess now of the school tax. This should go a long way towards disposing of the talk that this vast expenditure is justifiable because the city is so much larger than it used to be. If the argument was good, should not the school expenditures have kept equal pace with the city expenditures?

The Argus has placed before itself the task of aiding in freeing Ann Arbor from all floating indebtedness, so that for no month next year will there be an overdraft, while labor will be paid what it justly earns and paid promptly and public improvements will be carried on. This can be done without increasing the tax over last year and without bonding the city for any more money.

Hence the Argus appeals to the democratic city convention tonight to place in nomination a man equipped to do this, for as it believes it can be done, it also believes that it will be the task of a democratic mayor to do it, if only the convention nominates a man whom the people will believe capable and willing to take upon himself this task.

The taxpayers are burdened sufficiently. It should now be the task of the city officials to put the city into good financial condition, without further increasing the burdens of taxation, present or future, and without stopping improvements.

There was absolutely no contest in the fourth. Mr. Wedemeyer was out of the city and Mr. Judson goes to the convention. The following ticket was named:

Supervisor—Herman Krapf.
Alderman—William C. Jacobus.
Constable—John Cox.
Ward Committee—A. A. Pearson, Wm. Judson, Willis Johnson.

FIFTH WARD.
Supervisor—W. J. Perkins.
Alderman—Sid Bangs.

SIXTH WARD.
Supervisor—Arthur Kitson.
Alderman—William Goodyear.

SEVENTH WARD.
Supervisor—O. L. Robinson.
Alderman—Henry Bliton.

REPUBLICAN WARD CAUCUSES

The Candidates for Ward Offices

R. KEMPF FOR MAYOR

That is the Republican Slate for Monday—Col. Dean Vouches for His Acceptance

The republicans held their ward caucuses Friday evening and all indicated a strong leaning towards the nomination of Reuben Kempf for mayor. Mayor Copeland at the last was willing to take the nomination only if it came to him unanimously, but last night's caucuses put his unanimous nomination out of the question and he will not accept.

FIRST WARD.
A lively contest for alderman was on in this ward. John R. Miner was endorsed for supervisor. Clement W. Gill was nominated for alderman, although Otto Hans gave him a close race. The ballot resulted:

C. W. Gill.....	29
Otto Hans.....	27

William Eldert was nominated for constable.

Ward Committee—Frank E. Jones, Wm. E. Eldert, John R. Miner.

The delegates to the city convention were instructed to vote for Reuben Kempf for the nomination of mayor, after Col. H. S. Dean had vouched for it that Mr. Kempf would run. The caucus also voted that its preference for city clerk was George L. Moore.

SECOND WARD.
The following ward ticket was named:

Supervisor—Eugene K. Frueauff.
Alderman—William Shadford.
Constable—Fred Huhn.
Ward Committee—Silas W. Saxton, John Haarer and George Apfel.

THIRD WARD.
The third ward caucus was a tame affair and the following ticket was named:

Supervisor—Wesley E. Howe.
Alderman—Charles L. Miller.
Constable—C. J. Shoeman.
Ward Committee—Edw. Hiscock, Leo Gruner and Wm. A. Clark.

The tickets for delegates were printed slips showing that the delegation had been made up ahead of the caucus. There was no contest. Since the caucus the following notice has been handed the Argus:

"I am very thankful to my friends who had me nominated as candidate for constable of the third ward. I hereby positively decline to run.

"C. J. Shoeman."

FOURTH WARD.
There was absolutely no contest in the fourth. Mr. Wedemeyer was out of the city and Mr. Judson goes to the convention. The following ticket was named:

Supervisor—Herman Krapf.
Alderman—William C. Jacobus.
Constable—John Cox.
Ward Committee—A. A. Pearson, Wm. Judson, Willis Johnson.

FIFTH WARD.
Supervisor—W. J. Perkins.
Alderman—Sid Bangs.

Alderman—William Goodyear.

SEVENTH WARD.
Supervisor—O. L. Robinson.
Alderman—Henry Bliton.

DELEGATES TO CITY CONVENTION.

Second Ward—John W. Haarer, Silas W. Saxton, George Apfel, Louis Lucas, William Shadford, Samuel Henne, Herman Gundert, Emanuel Schneider, J. L. Chapman, Fred Huhn, William Schleede, Eugene K. Frueauff, Ernest Lutz, Charles Bailey, George Roehm, Henry Meyer, Bert Krause, Herman Marquardt, H. M. Woods.

Third Ward—Charles E. Hiscock, Wesley E. Howe, Lester Canfield, E. P. VanKleeck, Robt. E. Christman, George P. Stauch, William J. Wenger, A. C. Schairer, Leo Gruner, Charles F. Myers, Chas. S. ROBBED THE GRAVE.
A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts. guaranteed. A. E. Mummery and H. F. Miller, druggists.

A LETTER OF APPRECIATION

LOADED DOWN WITH TAXES

The Ladies of Ann Arbor Appreciate the Argus Stand for Economy in City Expenditures

Mr. Editor: I have read with the keenest interest your articles concerning our municipal affairs. Being one of a large class of citizens who are taxed and yet on account of sex have no representation, no voice in the selection of those whom we are to have transact such business for us, naturally at such a time our helplessness comes home to us with renewed force, and we wonder if the many women who are reading these articles are waking up to the importance of the ballot for women. Surely we need the help of all good men, in these perilous times. Not only the men who know, but men who will act fearlessly, as you, Mr. Editor, are doing, men who will not be bought or sold, but men who are fired with the true spirit to work for the honest good of all. This is patriotism, as true and worthy of men right here and now as ever it was to shoulder a musket in defense of our country. Our city needs such men and may you find many such rallying to your standard. Words are feeble to express the attitude. I am sure hundreds of women of this city feel for the work you are doing.

One of the Helpless Ones.

REV. MR. GRAFTON GOES TO ANDERSON

HE HAS ACCEPTED THE CALL TO CHURCH THERE

Which Has the Largest Congregation of Any Christian Church in Indiana

Rev. T. W. Grafton has accepted the call to the Christian church in Anderson, Ind., and will begin his duties some time next month. His new church is the largest of its denomination in Indiana. Rev. Mr. Grafton has made many friends while pastor of the Christian church in this city, who will regret his leaving Ann Arbor.

Mr. Grafton's resignation was as follows:

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 29, 1903.
To the Members of the Memorial Christian Church:

I herewith present my resignation as pastor of this church to accept the pastorate of the Central Christian church of Anderson, Ind. In doing so I desire to bear testimony to the uniform and as far as I know, the unanimous good will that has characterized our labors together, and to express my gratitude for the kindly interest shown myself and family from the beginning of my ministry among you; and I assure you that I am actuated in my decision only by a desire to make my ministry more fruitful. Trusting that the Lord may guide us both into the fullest realization of his kingdom, I am

Your brother,

THE DEATH OF MRS. W. B. SEAMAN

The neighborhood of Dixboro was greatly shocked Friday to hear of the death of Ella, wife of Wm. B. Seaman, after a short illness.

Mrs. Seaman was a very bright, pleasant young woman and had a host of friends in the vicinity. She leaves her husband and one little daughter to mourn her loss. Short services were held at the home in Dixboro Sunday at one o'clock and the remains were taken to Dansville for interment.

Easy to Polish a Stove.

Easy Applied—No Odor—No Dirt. To polish a stove like peppering a beefsteak may seem odd to those who have never used Sifter Stove Polish, but nevertheless, it is the newest, easiest and most convenient method known. Sifter Stove Polish is put up in a large, round box with a perforated top similar to a pepper box. The polish never dries out and does not require soaking in water before using. There is never any waste. It is good to the last pinch. It is gently sifted on the stove, brushed with a damp cloth and lightly rubbed with a dry cloth. A brilliant, jet black lustre is obtained. There is no odor, no dirty saucers or pans, no rusty boxes to cover. The Sifter box is always clean. Sifter Stove Polish is cheap. It costs 5 cents a box, will polish more stoves than three times its cost in any other polish. All dealers.

HON. WELLINGTON R. BURT.

Brief Sketch of a Busy and Successful Life.

OUR NOMINEE FOR REGENT.

A Broad-Minded and Successful Business Man, Whose Experience and Ability Will be of Great Value to the University.

In the nomination of Hon. Wellington R. Burt, of Saginaw, for regent of the University, the Democratic State Convention selected one of Michigan's foremost men. For many years Mr. Burt has been identified with the growth and progress of our state, and the rare business ability which has made him so successful in his own affairs is needed by the people of this state in the management of their great University.

HON. WELLINGTON R. BURT

Wellington R. Burt was born in the state of New York in 1831, and came to Michigan eight years later, his parents locating in Jackson county. He received a common school education, and attended college at Albion and Adrian. He spent three years in travel through Central and South America and Australia, broadening his mind by contact with the world, and returning from his travels settled in Saginaw, which has ever since been his home, and the growth of which is largely the result of his energy and enterprise.

He has always been a very successful business man, interested in several of the large enterprises of the Saginaw Valley. In early days he was engaged in the lumber and salt business, retiring from those interests to turn his attention to manufacturing and banking. Later he became interested in the C. S. & M. R. R., and of which he has been for many years a director. When the Toledo & Ann Arbor road went into bankruptcy he was made receiver and for a number of years has been president of the road.

Mr. Burt was mayor of the city of Saginaw, and in 1888 was nominated for governor on the Democratic ticket against Cyrus G. Luce. He made a wonderful campaign, and the taxpayers of Michigan would have saved millions of dollars had they listened to the warning words of Mr. Burt in that campaign, concerning the extravagance and corruption which were then, and have ever since been, piling up burdens upon the shoulders of the taxpayers. Mr. Burt represented his senatorial district in the state senate in the legislature of 1894, and the personal sacrifice which he made in accepting the office redounded to the profit of the state. In 1900 Mr. Burt accepted the nomination for congress in his district, and made a phenomenal run against overwhelming odds.

Mr. Burt's strong personality, his genial manner, and dignified bearing, added to the qualifications with which his business and political training have endowed him, eminently fit him for the important position for which he has been nominated, and it will be money in the pockets of the people of Michigan if they will improve the opportunity to secure in the conduct of their great university the unexcelled business capacity which Mr. Burt will bring to the management of that institution.

JUDGE HOOKER'S RECORD

Republicans Charge Him With Being a Corporation Judge

"Judicial record of Judge Hooker, Jan. 1st, 1893, to Dec. 31st, 1901; 95th Michigan to 125th Michigan. Railroad and street railway cases. Total number written by Judge Hooker, 68.

In favor of companies, 51.
Against companies, 17.
One out of four against companies by actual count.

No wonder C. B. Joslyn, Attorney Detroit United Ry., and H. Geer and L. C. Stanley, Grand Trunk Ry. Attorneys, are out hustling for Hooker."

The above is an extract from a circular circulated at the recent Republican State Convention by Republicans who believe that Judge Hooker's decisions have been unjustly favorable to the corporations.

All efforts to prevent his nomination failed, however, owing to the fact that the Wayne delegation had been packed for Hooker under the manipulation of the notorious graduate of Jackson state prison, Tom Navin, who has recently received an appointment on the prison board as a reward for his work in behalf of the machine Republicans.

There is but one thing which the voters can do to show their disapproval of such practices. That is to go to the polls and cast a vote against Judge Hooker, and in favor of Jas. H. Pound, an able and experienced lawyer, an honest man, and a friend of the common people.

State taxes have increased ten times as fast as the growth of the state, not because the increase was necessary, but simply because the voters have seemed willing to stand any imposition put upon them.

THE CAMP-MARTIN WEDDING

A very pretty and informal wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Camp, of Dixboro, when their daughter, Bertha Mae, was united in marriage to Chester I. Martin, in the presence of relatives. Rev. Field of Milan performed the ceremony.

Miss Grace Martin, sister of the groom, and Miss Zada Quackenbush acted as bridesmaids, and Mr. John Martin, brother of the groom, and Lee Pray acted as best men.

The bride wore a gown of white silk mull, tastily trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The groom wore the conventional black. The bridesmaids wore light blue organdy and carried white carnations. The best men wore suits of black.

After the ceremony and the many congratulations, the company sat down to an elaborate supper. Mr. and Mrs. Martin left that evening for an extended trip.

Mrs. Martin has been one of the most popular young ladies of Dixboro, having a host of friends throughout the community, and will be missed by all.

Mr. Martin is one of the most highly esteemed young men of Ypsilanti. He is employed by the American Express company and is thought highly of there. The happy young couple will be at home after April 1 at 205 S. Washington street, Ypsilanti.

Broke Down With Nervous Prostration.

Confined to Bed, Doctors Failed, But Dr. Miles' Nerve Cured Permanently.

"Some six years ago I completely broke down from evangelistic work. I suffered from nervous prostration and stomach trouble and was confined to my bed and room for months. While I had as good a physician as this city affords he failed to pull me out, and I tried many remedies and they were so hard on my stomach that I could not take them. At last I found Dr. Miles' Nerve. Ah, that was a nail in a sure place and enabled me to cry out 'Eureka!' I was soon able to be out and at work. I consider Dr. Miles' Nerve the thing for nerve and stomach trouble. I also use in my family most of Dr. Miles' Medicines, as household remedies."—Rev. Geo. W. Draper, Dansville, Ill.

"About a year ago I failed in health and my case was said to be nervous derangement and heart trouble. My stomach was also affected and I suffered from a variety of symptoms such as wind on the stomach, shortness of breath, smothering spells, pain around the heart and left shoulder. My ankles were frequently swollen and my face was often feverish. There were little puffs under my eyes at times and I had headache almost constantly. I wrote to you for advice and in addition to general directions as to taking care of myself you prescribed Restorative Nerve, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills. I will state that my complete and permanent return to health followed."—Miss Josephine Kern, Galena, Ill.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

GOOD SIZED WARD CAUCUSES

Held by the Democrats of Ann Arbor

HOT FIGHT IN TWO WARDS

Over Delegates to City Convention—Contesting Delegation in the Seventh—Good Candidates Named for the Offices

The democratic caucuses were quite largely attended throughout the city and considerable interest was manifested in the outcome. The only place where any serious difference arose was in the seventh ward, where the caucus after nominating ward candidates split on the question of delegates to the city convention, and two sets of delegates were elected, one the Lester delegates and the other anti-Lester.

FIRST WARD.

Quite a large caucus was held in the first ward and absolutely no contest developed. H. W. Douglas was made chairman and W. H. Smith secretary. Warren W. Wadhams and Adam Sauer were made tellers but had no work to do, as the following were nominated, the secretary casting the unanimous ballot of the caucus. Supervisor—John R. Miner. Alderman—Paul C. Meyers. Constable—To be filled by committee.

Ward Committee—S. W. Beakes, J. D. Ryan, J. F. Schuh. The 24 delegates were elected by acclamation. Over 50 were in attendance at the caucus. The delegation was instructed to vote for Eugene Mann for mayor. Mr. Mann announced his unwillingness to accept.

SECOND WARD.

Sid W. Millard was made chairman and a lively caucus resulted. There was a large attendance and a number of voters were challenged as being republicans or socialists, some of whom did not vote, others swearing in their votes. Eugene Oesterlin was nominated for supervisor by acclamation, but two ballots were necessary to settle the aldermanship. The first ballot resulted:

William Herz.....	27
Titus F. Hutzel.....	27
Louis Kurtz.....	17
Scattering.....	3
Total.....	74

The second ballot nominated ex-Alderman William Herz as follows:

William Herz.....	39
Titus F. Hutzel.....	27
Louis Kurtz.....	10
Total.....	76

Martin Walsh was nominated for constable. Ward Committee—Theodore Apfel, John Walz, Jr., William Murray.

THIRD WARD

There was a good attendance at the third ward caucus. All the nominations were made by acclamation. John Kenny acted as chairman and Clinton J. Snyder as secretary. John C. Fisher was renominated as supervisor and William J. Clancy for alderman. There were two nominations for constable, Charles Ryan and Charles Schott, Mr. Ryan promptly withdrawing his name. Mr. Schott was nominated.

The ward committee elected was William H. Dancer, Richard Kearns and Paul Schall.

FOURTH WARD.

Prof. J. W. Dwyer was made chairman and James Boyle secretary. There were about 60 out at the caucus but no contest. Martin Seabolt and William Walsh were made tellers. The ticket was named by acclamation as follows:

Supervisor—Joseph Donnelly. Alderman—Philip Schumacher. Constable—Peter Hertenchen. Ward Committee—The chairman, who was empowered to name them, said he would do so later.

FIFTH WARD.

Asa Allen was made chairman and James Boyle secretary. The only ballot taken was for supervisor, resulting in the nomination of George W. Weeks by the following vote:

George W. Weeks.....	14
Chris. Allmendinger.....	7
Blank.....	1
Total.....	22

Alderman—Ernest T. Rehberg. Constable—George E. Lavear. Ward Committee—James Murray, Asa Allen, Fred Luebke.

SIXTH WARD.

Bradley M. Thompson was made chairman of the caucus and the following nominations made: Supervisor—M. J. Cavanaugh. Alderman—Col. B. M. Thompson.

SEVENTH WARD.

There was a big caucus in this ward, the western part of the ward, where the laboring men live, being out in force for Lisemer, while the balance of the ward was out against him. The result was two delegations to the city convention. Ex-Senator Charles A. Ward was made chairman and H. J. Abbott secretary and duly sworn in. The following nominations were made without division:

Supervisor—B. F. Schumacher. Alderman—Daniel Fleicher. Constable—Jacob Schlummer.

The ward committee selected was Charles A. Ward, Fred H. Belser and H. J. Abbott.

At this point the scrap began, each side named a candidate for delegate. Then it was suggested that 14 names be voted on at once. Finally in the midst of the confusion, some one moved that the caucus adjourn to outside the building. The chair put the motion and declared it carried and a good part of the caucus moved out the door, including the caucus officers. There they reassembled and after sending in an emissary or so to see if harmonious action could not be brought about, adjourned to Fischer's grocery, where they named their delegates. Those that remained in Weinberg's shop named Ernest Betke as chairman and elected another set of delegates. A. J. Sawyer, jr., acted as notary public and legal adviser.

DELEGATES ELECTED.

The delegates elected to the city convention to be held this evening were as follows:

Fantastic stories have been written of magic mirrors in which the future was revealed. If such a thing were possible many a bright-faced bride would shrink from the revelation of herself, stripped of all her loveliness. If there is one thing which would make a woman shrink from marriage it is to see the rapid physical deterioration which comes to so many wives. The cause is generally due to womanly diseases. Lost health and lost comeliness are restored by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures irregularity and dries weakening drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I tell you what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' have done for me," writes Mrs. Emma L. Bankes, of 1925 North 7th Street, Harrisburg, Pa. "They have done me a world of good. I had female weakness for six years, sometimes would feel so badly I did not know what to do, but I found relief at last, thanks to Dr. Pierce for his kind advice. I have this medicine still in my house and will always keep it."

If you are led to the purchase of "Favorite Prescription" because of its remarkable cures of other women, do not accept a substitute which has none of these cures to its credit.

Free. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Or for cloth-bound volume send 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

M'NITT WON IN ORATORY

In the Excellent High School Contest

WITHOUT A TRAINER

McNitt Won by Sheer Force of Will—All the Speeches Were Excellent

high school oratorical contest has more enthusiasm been manifested than when, in the final contest Friday night, Mr. Beal, the presiding officer, announced that Harold McNitt had won first honors and George Howard second with Jarrett Clark third honor man. The crowd of students fairly overwhelmed the victors with congratulations.

Mr. McNitt spoke on "The Battle of Saratoga," presenting in a forcible manner the situation of the colonies prior to the battle, then a description of the battle itself, in which Arnold won everlasting fame and finally of the far-reaching effects of the American victory. With intense earnestness he related the story, and like the American forces, he won by sheer force of will. The school will have in him an able representative in the contest of the Peninsular Oratorical league. Great credit is due him when it is considered that this is his first oration, and that he has had no trainer or adviser to prepare him for a struggle against men experienced and confident from former contests.

George Howard dealt with the relations of labor and capital in his oration entitled "Sovereignty Within a Sovereignty." Clearly and impressively he analyzed the present industrial conditions and pleaded for the rights of union labor. In spite of sickness, which had prevented his using his voice for several days, he made a splendid effort and was easily second honor man.

Another of the contestants who was well received was Jarrett N. Clark. Laboring under the disadvantage of being the first speaker, he threw his whole soul into an address that for earnestness and sincerity was unrivaled. All three of the honor men are members of the famous Cleanderum debating society. They have indeed good reason to be proud of the record they have made for themselves, their society and their school.

The following was the list of speakers with their subjects: Jarrett N. Clark, "The Triumph of Industrialism." George Howard, "Sovereignty Within a Sovereignty." Wm. O. Sutherland, "False Ideals of the American Financier." Harold A. McNitt, "The Battle of Saratoga." Miss Rosina C. Schenk, "The Man for the Crisis." George Rathbone, "The Labors of LaSalle."

A GREAT SENSATION. There was a big sensation in Leesville, Ind., when W. H. Brown of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. He writes: "I endured insufferable agonies from Asthma, your New Discovery gave me immediate relief and soon thereafter effected a complete cure." Similar cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Grip are numerous. It's the peerless remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50 cts., and $1.00. Guaranteed by A. E. Mummary and H. F. Miller, druggists.

ARGUED ON THE INJUNCTION

Judge Kinne Takes Paving Under Advisement

WAS THERE A MAJORITY

Of Property Owners on the Petition for Liberty Street Paving the Question Before the Court

The Liberty street paving injunction came up for argument Monday in the circuit court on a motion to dissolve it, made by City Attorney Sawyer. The question finally simmered down in the argument as to whether or not the petition to the council had been signed by a majority of the property owners. Mr. Sawyer claimed 48 signatures out of 88 property owners and Mr. Stivers claimed there were but 44 signatures out of 106 property owners.

To cut the signatures down to 44, Mr. Stivers argued that Anton Schaeberle's name was on twice, G. F. Stein signed as guardian without authority, G. W. Stimson was not included in the list of property owners set up by the bill and George J. Frey's name should be taken off. He wanted to put in proofs to remove several other names. He claimed that the O'Brien heirs who owned the property after their mothers' life estate and the Foster heirs, who were in the same condition.

Mr. Sawyer seemed to concede that Stein's name be removed, but claimed that the other signatures were good. He claimed that the Foster grandchildren's interest was too remote, no property right yet resting, and claimed that the O'Brien property should be counted once.

Mr. Stivers objected to the answer being taken as proven as not being sworn to. Judge Kinne, took the matter under advisement to see if he could determine whether or not a majority of the property owners had signed the petition.

WON PRIZES FOR SHORT STORIES

Mrs. S. Maria Talbot, a sister of Mrs. William G. Doty, of this city, and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Talbot Campbell, were awarded first and second prizes at the Denver Woman's Press club last week in the short story contest. The Denver, Colo., Daily News in giving an account of the contest prints excellent portraits of Mrs. Talbot and Mrs. Campbell, who are most cordially remembered by their friends in Ann Arbor. The Denver News states that nine stories were submitted in the contest, and the judges found some difficulty in making a decision on account of the excellence of all the stories. Mrs. Talbot is the wife of Judge George D. Talbot, her story was entitled "Marcelle." Mrs. Talbot began her literary work in writing for the Chicago Times, and is now writing for some of the magazines. Mrs. Campbell's story was called "The Jack Whacker of the Rockies." One of her stories, "A Celestial Garment," will appear in McClure's magazine next summer, and another, "An Up to Date Apology," was published in Leslie's Monthly last October. Mrs. Campbell is the wife of Alexander McCune Campbell, of Montezuma, manager of the Mine Developing company of Cleveland. It seemed quite remarkable that the first and second prizes should be awarded to mother and daughter.

CARRIES THE STRAIN

Quite a strain on a child to grow. You find it about all you can do to live along as you are and keep well. Your child has to do all that and grow besides. Some children can't stand the extra strain. They get weak and sickly as a result of it.

This is where Scott's Emulsion does some of its best work. It is a strong "growing" medicine. It starts up new life in the backward child and strengthens the weak ones.

Scott's Emulsion takes all the extra strain and carries the children along until they are strong enough to stand it alone.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

Tired Out

"I was very poorly and could hardly get about the house. I was tired out all the time. Then I tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and it only took two bottles to make me feel perfectly well."—Mrs. N. S. Swinney, Princeton, Mo.

Tired when you go to bed, tired when you get up, tired all the time. Why? Your blood is impure, that's the reason. You are living on the border line of nerve exhaustion. Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and be quickly cured. $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

BOLD WORDS AND TRUE

Hon. James H. Pound's Letter of Acceptance

A Declaration of Principles Which Every Voter In the State Should Read

"Hon. Thos. E. Barkworth, chairman Democratic State Committee:

"Your notification of the great honor conferred on me by yourself and confers upon the committee is duly received and the draft is honored and accepted.

"Although I have hitherto been in no sense a candidate for this office, I feel that my years of experience and labor in my chosen profession will warrant me in accepting the honor your committee has unanimously placed upon my shoulders, and although I have a great undertaking upon my hands, I do not despair of success, if the people will but understand the situation.

Concerning Justice Hooker.

"As to the distinguished gentleman, my opponent, who has now occupied this high position for fourteen years, I have nothing personal to say, except that I am not in favor of life tenures in office. He has trod the judicial ladder from justice of the peace to chief justice of this great state, and has been in office altogether about one-third of a century, and for that reason, in my opinion, should give way for another.

Not a Political Issue.

"Elections for higher offices of the judiciary and regents were never intended by the framers of our state constitution to be the contention of political parties. For this reason, they were separated from the general state ticket elections and placed apart by themselves, so that men and measures might be considered as pertaining to the state's domestic economy.

HON. JAMES H. POUND

"The delegation from the Seventh ward are prepared to make a sworn statement that neither Liseimer nor any other individual in this city, or in this world paid the delegation, collectively or individually, any sum of money, or any part of a sum of money, not a dollar, not a cent, to carry the ward for Liseimer.

"I am also prepared to make affidavit to the effect that I never paid the Seventh ward delegation, or any member of that delegation, or any other individual in the Seventh ward, money to further my candidacy for the mayorship.

"It was the members of the Seventh ward delegation, the ward in which I reside, who first requested me to become the union laboring man's candidate for the office of mayor. Members of other labor unions in the city also called upon me with the same request saying that my candidacy would advance the cause of union labor in this city, as the labor unions had decided to take an active part in municipal affairs. I finally acceded to their wishes with the distinct understanding, however, that no money whatsoever must be used to further the interests of their candidate.

"I take pleasure in congratulating the labor unions of Ann Arbor who now number five hundred men, upon the excellent showing they made for their candidate in the convention, and thank them for the consideration of my name. The politicians will have to reckon with the unions hereafter.

"Appropos, a number of labor union men have informed me that it is the intention of the labor unions to place a ticket in the field on next Tuesday. As their friend and well-wisher, I counsel them, under existing circumstances, not to do so.

that is upon the carrier. We are told by the text books that only the act of God, or of the public enemy, will exempt common carriers from a safe delivery. Therefore, where a citizen passenger or his wife and child are ignominiously ejected, after payment of full fare for transportation, and covered with shame and mortification, wrongfully, owing to the mistake of a carrier's servant, I believe that a jury's judgment is the proper method of compensation for the injuries, trusting to the jury's good sense, rather than to permit the judges to arbitrarily say that the sum of the injured one's recovery shall be limited to the amount of fare unearned of the ticket purchased—which, in effect, is no warning or punishment at all to the carrier or his agent, or protection to the passenger.

No Discrimination in Carriers.

"I wish it to be understood that I believe this rule should apply to all common carriers alike—not to corporations alone, against whom, as corporations, I have no feeling or prejudice or pique and never have had, and whose rights under the law to the preservation or conservation of their property are, to my mind, as sacred as those of any individual but no more so.

But it seems to me that a hackman, who is a common carrier, who would take a passenger from a depot to a hotel, and charge him, because he was a stranger, $5, when his legal fare was but twenty-five cents, and who, when the passenger would not pay the $5 demanded, and who, perchance, had refused the tender of the legal fare of twenty-five cents—took the passenger by the throat and forcibly dragged him from the hack and beat and wounded him, and threw the passenger, like a dog, into the street—should pay more than nominal damages, although the passenger, in fact, had $5 with him, and could have avoided all difficulty by submitting to the extortion. And I believe that the proper tribunal to assess the damages in such a case is a jury, and not the judge, and I think that this is no more true in the case of a hackman than any other common carrier.

Electors Are All-Powerful.

"I make this statement because, as a last analysis in this country, and particularly in this state, the electors make the law. They determine between diverging schools of law instructors and expounders, which shall govern in the selection of the incumbents of the office.

"Every elector who votes at the ensuing election in casting his ballot will in effect pass upon the question of whether he is in favor of the determination of facts by a jury, under proper instruction (which I stand for) or whether he is in favor of a curtailed system of trial by jury, wherein the trial judge shall be the dominant factor and the limitation of damages by the judge, through the jury (as my honorable opponent stands for), as demonstrated by the opinions which he has written and signed.

Monopolies Must Be Controlled.

"Third, I also believe that private property, in the nature of a monopoly, affected with a public use, is subject in its tolls to the reasonable regulation and supervision of the courts—something which has been the law of England for upwards of two hundred years, and which in my opinion should be the declared law of Michigan. And this is no novelty with me, but it is a just and righteous doctrine, fathered by Coke and Hale, as well as Ellenborough, and the Supreme Court of the United States. Higher judges, nor ones of greater repute, we have no history of, and a greater court than cited it is not possible to conceive of.

Trial by Jury a Sacred Right.

"I am willing to trust the electors upon the question as to whether they want their sacred right of trial by jury clipped here and nicked there, the whole amounting to a considerable invasion of the jury's province. It is for them to say whether, when sufficient evidence to satisfy twelve honest men has been given in the trial of a cause, as well as the trial judge himself, it is for a bench of judges to say that there is absolutely no evidence warranting a question about the controversy among reasonable men, which will alone justify their interference and who overturn the verdict for that reason.

"Trial by jury is a sacred right of my fathers, it is a heritage of my lineage, and I certainly never will, knowingly, impair its usefulness. If the time is ripe to sustain this attempt to limit their power and prerogatives, I am not the man for the place. But if it be the pleasure of the Michigan electorate to preserve the rights and privileges of this priceless governmental jewel, then, trusting in God and the righteous cause I am drafted into, I expect to be elected an associate justice of the Supreme Court of Michigan. Yours respectfully,

"JAMES H. POUND."

THE PEOPLE MUST FIGHT FOR THEMSELVES.

There is a fact which the voters of the country ought to know, and it is this, that a party organization must be supported by the people if the people are to control it. If the great corporations furnish the funds to carry on campaigns and to circulate literature among the people, it will be difficult, if not impossible, to prevent these same corporations from controlling party nominations and party administrations.—Bryan's Commonwealth.

WHAT SHADE TREES TO PLANT

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY GIVES GOOD ADVICE

Written by an Expert—Our Citizens Should Read It Carefully

The season when shade trees may be planted to the best advantage is now upon us, and in view of the many gaps in the lines of trees along our streets and of the many unsightly stumps and cripples which should be replaced by young and healthy trees, the writer ventures to offer the following suggestions in regard to the selection and planting of shade trees, not only along the streets but upon private grounds.

1. Observation and experiment teach us that certain kinds of trees are better suited to our soils here in Ann Arbor than others. Upon the gravelly soil of the east side of town the maples, while they thrive for a time, are not long lived or thrifty after a few years. The cause is undoubtedly the dry soil, for the hard maple naturally grows on moist clay soil and both soft maples are swamp living trees. Elms, although swamp trees, do better and seem to grow for a longer time without becoming diseased than the maples do, and should be given the preference in dry places.

The various oaks seem especially adapted to our conditions here, and the bur-oak is certainly the species which has shown about ideal indifference to all the hardships it has had to undergo here, and for long life, thriftiness and beauty it is not excelled. If transplanted when young from the nursery, the oaks make rapid growth but cannot usually be moved successfully from the woods.

The chestnut should do well as a shade tree here, and the hardy catalpa, the hickories, tulip tree, some of the poplars, both native and European, horse chestnut, white oaks and sycamore, all are more satisfactory in their growth on the gravel than are the maples. Upon the clay soils the maples grow well and may be planted freely and in the valleys, along the river, etc., almost any of our native trees may be planted and be certain to do well.

2. Shade trees should be planted before the season is so far advanced that the leaves have unfolded.

3. In selecting trees for planting, it is better to buy well grown, transplanted, nursery stock, than to go to the woods and dig up natural seedlings of even smaller size, or to buy such trees. The nursery-grown trees have been transplanted, usually more than once, and their roots are compact and not injured by moving. The natural seedling on the other hand is often much injured by digging up, and is several years in recovering, by which time the nursery grown tree will be far ahead of it in size and thriftiness, and as for beauty, the two cannot be compared.

Plant a tree and plant a good one that those who come after you may remember you.

The Judson-Wedemeyer-Green controversy has broken out here with Judson in the lead. The consensus of opinion is that Wedemeyer associated himself with Judson because he couldn't better himself, Judson did the best he could and Green hung on behind so he got mine. This is republican opinion. But the democrats say the reason Mr. Judson could not control Washtenaw is on account of the splendid administration our democratic officials have given to the county the past four years. May it long continue.

MR. LISEMER DENIES BRIBERY

MAKES A DEFENSE OF SEVENTH WARD DELEGATION

counsels That No Labor Ticket Be Placed in the Field This Year

To the Editor of the Ann Arbor Daily Argus:

In his speech on the floor of the democratic city convention, held at the court house last Friday evening, ex-Senator Charles A. Ward is said to have made the statement that money had been placed into the Seventh ward to secure a delegation for Liseimer, or words to that effect.

The members of the Seventh ward request me to publicly deny these charges in the press of this city, and indicate them.

REPUBLICANS DECLARE FOR BONDING THE CITY

They Have Nominated Reuben Kempf for Mayor Monday Night

Turned Down the Labor Candidate for Clerk and Adopted Resolutions Favoring Bonding, Kempf Declaring Himself for Mayor

The republican party in convention assembled Monday evening in favor of bonding the city of Ann Arbor, in favor of placing a mortgage upon the home of every man and woman in the city, a mortgage entirely unnecessary, for every man can be promptly paid his just dues and the city not have a dollar of indebtedness after August 1 at any time during the coming year and without any increase in the taxes. To carry out this bonding policy, the convention nominated a banker, possibly to make more sure of its being carried out as the banks as a rule own the bonds of the city.

To indicate their love of labor the convention turned down the only genuine labor candidate before either convention this year.

E. F. Mills was elected chairman and Glen V. Mills secretary and the following committees appointed:

Permanent organization, order of business and credentials—W. J. Booth, J. E. Harkins, L. D. Wines.

Resolutions—J. F. Lawrence, H. S. Dean, J. E. Beal, George H. Pond, D. W. Springer.

A recess was taken and after re-assembling Chairman Booth presented the report making the temporary officers permanent. On credentials he reported 99 delegates present, each delegate entitled to have one vote.

A. J. Sawyer, sr., tried to be facetious and protested against the report. He knew that the chairman was not full and he was not full. The only man in the convention who was full was—and he mentioned a certain prominent democrat, who was certainly much more sober than the speaker.

The report was adopted on motion of John R. Miner.

Mr. Lawrence reported the following resolutions:

First, that we demand an economical administration of the city financial affairs and that the payment of whatever the city owes should be paid in installments extending over a series of years so that taxation will not be a burden to the taxpayers in paying off the city debt.

Second: that we endorse the passage of a primary election law by the present legislature as provided for by the republican state platform.

Glen V. Mills jumped to his feet and offered the following labor resolution as an amendment:

Resolved, that the republican party through its delegates do hereby pledge its nominee for mayor by this convention and its nominees for the common council at the forthcoming election, if elected, to make arrangements for the payment of all claims for labor contracted for by the city or its agents once a week without any deductions, discounts or interest.

The chairman of the resolution committee after hesitating finally accepted the amendment.

D. W. Springer moved that an informal ballot for mayor be taken without nominations. Mr. Sawyer asked that the wards be called by number. Mr. Judson suggested that the number entitled to vote in each ward be called out. The informal ballot for mayor resulted in the following scattered vote:

- Reuben Kempf.....162
- Dr. C. G. Darling.....13

On motion of Mr. Miner, Mr. Kempf was declared the nominee.

Mr. Kempf accepted by promising to do the best he could. We have a depleted treasury. He was not pledged to anyone and intended to be mayor of the whole city. He planted himself squarely upon the charter and the laws. He would try and give a good, honest, straight conservative administration. It is not to the credit of Ann Arbor that labor checks are passed around, the city should be in shape to pay this labor. If these obligations are met you will have to provide the wherewithal. We can't give anybody even a bone. If elected I shall recommend that the bill permitting the people to bond for say $20,000 be submitted at the earliest possible moment. This overdraft had been growing until it reached the point that the banks would not longer pay the order. He thought the city was able to pay its debts and pay them as contracted and that there was no authority in the charter for an overdraft. "If you have confidence enough in me," he concluded, "to elect me mayor, I expect you to have confidence in my judgment."

H. G. Prettyman nominated Mr. Charles Esslinger for president of the council and on motion of Frank Jones the nomination was by acclamation.

W. K. Childs in nominating James B. Saunders for clerk said the democrats had put in nomination for this office a soldier and he thought it was highly proper that the republicans should do so. But the republicans did not see it that way for after E. F. Mills had put George L. Moore in nomination in a neat speech praising his qualifications, the ballot resulted: George L. Moore..... 51 James B. Saunders..... 48

Mr. Childs moved that Mr. Moore's nomination be made unanimous and Mr. Moore returned his thanks.

Ald. Hamilton presented the name of E. L. Seyler for assessor and Mr. J. F. Lawrence strongly endorsed him. The nomination was made by acclamation.

G. Frank Allmendinger presented the name of Andrew J. Sawyer, sr., for justice of the peace. The convention broke into a roar of laughter. John R. Miner seconded the nomination. Mr. Sawyer said he was not surprised that the convention wanted to put some respectable person on this ticket. If elected his first duty would be to send a number of people in the convention where they belonged, but he didn't care to depopulate the city. He referred in bitter terms to the Argus and sturred one of the editors. Mr. Sawyer concluded by naming Eugene K. Frueauff for justice.

While Mr. Sawyer was making his speech a loaded cigar in the mouth of one of the delegates blew up, creating a diversion.

Mr. Frueauff's nomination was seconded by Ald. Fischer and the nomination was made by a unanimous vote.

The chairman of the ward committees were made the city committee.

Mr. Sawyer took the floor again to state that the ticket named was one that all could support and wanted Harkins to sing "Reuben is Coming." Harkins didn't know that Reuben was. Neither did he know "When Reuben Comes to Town," but he did start to sing "Trouble" and finished with "I Got Mine."

Mr. Sawyer got the floor again in his enthusiasm for the ticket and hoped that the time had arrived when every republican could march to the polls in a solid phalanx. "Silent Bill" Judson unbuttoned his silence long enough to support this idea. He too wanted solidarity because it made him a state boss, and all the antics had gained last fall would be swept away.

The convention then adjourned with Sawyer and Judson leading the phalanx.

Mrs. Mattie R. Newman, proprietor of the Newman house, took an overdose of the laudanum Tuesday night and Dr. Pearson was called in Wednesday morning to bring her to consciousness, which took considerable time. Mrs. Newman has been having some financial difficulties of late and had gotten into the habit of taking laudanum to induce sleep. She took too much Tuesday night. She is recovering all right.
