It will be agreeable news to residents on West Huron street, to learn that the old foundry of Tripp, Ailes & Co., has been purchased by R. B. Ailes, who intends to tear down the old buildings and replace them with a first-class foundry and machine shop. Our informant states that the work is to commence soon.

Pedestrians last Tuesday encountered a regular old-fashioned March gale. The dust in the streets flew in clouds, and when a particularly fierce gust would strike one the little pebbles stones would sting like young wasps. People who didn't keep their mouths shut that day had plenty of grit on their foreheads.

The friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. William Braley, of Plainfield, Livingston Co., gave them a very pleasant surprise party on Monday evening, the 15th inst. The occasion was the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage, and the guests presented the couple with a very handsome silver tea set. Some seventy-five couple were present, and the occasion will long be remembered by surprised and 'surprisers' alike.

The interior department of the United States desires to make a full census of vital statistics, and for such purpose blank forms for death records have been sent to nearly all physicians, in which they are requested to report all deaths occurring in their practice from June 1, 1879, to May 31, 1880. A large number of persons have been converted in the meetings now being held at the Methodist Church in this city. Over sixty have already united with the church. A temperance sermon was preached last Wednesday evening; a temperance prayer meeting held Thursday evening, and a temperance love feast is to be given this, Friday evening.

Birds are the best friends of everybody owning a farm, orchard or garden. Audubon, the naturalist, says a woodcock will eat its own weight in insects in a single night. Dr. Bradley says a pair of sparrows will destroy 3,960 caterpillars in a week. Woodpeckers are constantly engaged in ridding orchards of insects and their eggs, which they skillfully discover under the sprigs of dead bark. Robins through the spring and summer are continually hunting for worms and grubs. Don't kill the birds.

The "boss" auction of this county was held at Nelson Booth's last Tuesday. Over 1,000 persons were present, and 350 carriages by count. The sales footed up nearly $9,000. A better stock of horses, cows, sheep and hogs were seldom seen at an auction. One man said he had come 20 miles to attend it. "Nell," did his level best to feed the vast crowd, and it was a laughable sight to notice how rapidly the immense quantities of provisions vanished when those hungry farmers got a chance at them.

The committee appointed at the last meeting of the county pioneer society to take into consideration the publication of the history of Washtenaw County, met in this city on the 23d inst., and made preliminary arrangements with Mr. Abbott, the compiler of the history of Kalamazoo County, for publishing a history of this county. The matter will probably be consummated at a meeting of the committee to take place April 5th. In all probability the history will be an excellent one, and of great interest to the people of this county.

Austin McNeill, formerly a resident of this city, and employed on the T. & A. R. R., was run over and killed on the Wabash R. R. near Toledo, Monday night, while walking upon a track. He was employed as brakeman on the Canada Southern R. R. at the time of the accident. He has four brothers and other relatives in this city. There is some suspicion of foul play connected with this case, the deceased having but a short time previous been paid off, but not a cent of money was found upon his person. But we have learned of no further particulars.

One of the officers of the Supreme Lodge of Knights of Pythias was in this city last week looking up the death of Charles H. Gench, a member of the law class, who died on Monday, March 1st, on Huron street. The remains being sent to his former home, after a delay of some five or six days here, were not recognizable by any of his former associates, and it was surmised that there might have been some mistake. For instance a cadaver purchased to represent him, and the insurance companies cheated out of their risk. He held a policy of $3,000 in the Knights of Pythias endowment rank, and other policies amounting to some $15,000 or $18,000 altogether. There is certainly an air of mystery surrounding this case, though the official sent here for the purpose was fully convinced, we understand, that all was straight and right.

The anniversary week of the reform club bids fair to be the grandest thing in its line which has ever been held in this city. Pope, will all be here without fail, as will Capt. E. P. Allen, of Ypsilanti, and Rev. Dan. R. Shier, of Saline. It will be the biggest temperance boom that ever struck Michigan.

Last Friday evening, in the chapel of the High School, occurred the exhibition of the junior class. Pictures and flowers neatly arranged, together with festoons of evergreens formed very tasty decorations. The usual celebrities, together with participating members of the class, occupied the stage. Messrs. Wheedon and Osborn, and Misses Perkins, Winchell and Alabaster furnished the music, which was pronounced excellent. The following programme was observed:

"The Covenanters," Carrie P. Bell, Ann Arbor.

"A Plea for the Mediator Church," Nathan Corbin Bartleson, S. C. "Beauty," Celis L. Burke, Ann Arbor.

"Laugh and be Happy," Jennie Cornwell, Ann Arbor.

"The Acquisition of Wealth," Clara A. Dawson, Ann Arbor.

Last Monday morning the Chandler House people were thrown into a tumult of excitement consequent upon the attempt of a lady boarder, Mrs. Wm. O. Howard, to take her own life. The lady has been married but about five weeks, and has been boarding at the Chandler House ever since. On Monday morning last her husband, who is an upholsterer in the city, having a place of business in the McMahon block, went to Detroit on the early train, on business. At about 7 o'clock Mrs. H. went to a drug store and procured a bottle of morphine and attempted also to purchase some strychnine, giving a reason that she wished to kill bed-bugs with it. This aroused suspicions, and she was followed to her room, but before she could be prevented, had swallowed the contents of the bottle, and in enough to kill a good sized regiment of people. The overdose acted as an emetic and made her vomit quite freely, but she fought every attempt to use the stomach pump, or any other effort to save. Dr. Maclean was not easily discouraged, however, and by the use of other means he finally succeeded in overcoming the effects of the drug, and the next morning found the lady as lively as ever. No reasons are given for the deed. Her married life seemed to be pleasant, and everything harmonious between herself and husband. It was certainly a dangerous as well as curious freak, and probably will not be attempted again very soon.

The convention of delegates from all and all temperance organizations of this, the 2d Congressional district, consisting of Lenawee, Monroe, Hillsdale and Washtenaw counties, met at the Opera House in this city, on Wednesday, the 24th. After the usual preliminary work and appointment of committees, the committee on credentials reported 250 delegates as entitled to seats.

The committee upon permanent organization reported the following names for permanent officers: President—R. E. Phinney, of Monroe. Vice President—G. W. Hall, Saline; E. P. Allen, Ypsilanti; G. W. Hall, Saline; A. H. Lott, Adrian; J. E. Sinswood, Wheatland; Mrs. J. C. Rowley, Adrian. Secretary—D. B. Taylor, Chelsea.

Judge Phinney thanked the convention in very pleasing terms for their compliment to him. Rev. Dan. R. Shier, of Saline, chairman of the committee on resolutions, reported the following, which were adopted as reported, with the exception of the seventh, which was amended previous to adoption: WHEREAS, At a meeting of the Red Ribbon Convention held at Lansing on the 6th day of Nov. 1879, the following resolutions were adopted, to wit: That the manufacture and sale of spirituous, malt and vinous liquors in this State, except for medicinal, chemical and sacramental purposes; therefore, we, the members of the said convention, representing various temperance organizations of the said Congressional district, do hereby adopt the following resolutions: 1. Resolved, That in our opinion the people in our form of government have a right to express their opinions on any subject upon questions of interest to them as citizens.

2. Resolved, That in the opinion of a large number of the citizens of this State the sale and use of intoxicating drinks is detrimental to the material interests of the State, and a source of crime, pauperism and the moral degradation and sorrow of the people, and that the State should take measures to prevent the manufacture and sale of such liquors. 3. Resolved, That we believe it to be the duty of the legislature to afford the people of this State an opportunity to vote upon whether they will longer tolerate such an evil in their midst.

4. Resolved, That in requesting the legislature to submit this amendment to the people, we desire that the people of this State shall have an opportunity, regardless of party or other ties or affiliation, to express their opinion on the question. 5. Resolved, That we do not demand of the legislature an expression of their own opinion, but simply ask that the constitution shall have an opportunity to vote for or against the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors within this State.

6. Resolved, That in our opinion no fair-minded citizen should be the only voter in the form of government under which he lives, who is in favor of submitting to the people an amendment to the constitution entirely interfering with the traffic in spirituous liquors. 7. Resolved, That in view of the recent action of the Michigan State liquor dealers association in calling for united effort in their interest, we accept the issue there made, and do most earnestly request all temperance organizations, of whatever kind or nature, and call upon all Christian people of the 2d district to co-operate in securing the proposed amendment by voting at the polls, and petitioning the legislature; and it is especially recommended that all temperance speakers in their addresses urge the importance of this resolution.

8. Resolved, That we request the state central committee to insert the words 'give away after the word 'sell,' in sec. 20, as found in the proposed amendment. Mr. John Schumacher, from the committee appointed to report a congressional committee, and also a committee from each county, recommended the following, which was adopted:

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE. J. H. Osborn, Lenawee; J. D. Rodan, Washtenaw; Hallett, Hillsdale; A. Worden, Monroeville, Mich.

COUNTY COMMITTEE. Lenawee Co.—W. S. Wilcox, J. W. McKeever, Z. Cook. Washtenaw Co.—D. R. Shier, Saline; H. C. Keweenaw, Chelsea; Chas. Arthur, Ann Arbor; Monroe Co.—J. C. Drow, Dundee; Charles Graham, Monroe; Dr. C. W. Brown, Hillsdale Co.—Dr. Wheeler, Geo. Knickerbocker, M. McIntyre, all of Hillsdale.

Law and Dental Commencements. The annual commencement of the law department of Michigan University, occurred Wednesday, of this week, in University Hall, commencing at 10 o'clock a. m. A large and appreciative audience assembled to listen to the exercises, which consisted of the conferring of the degree of LL. B. upon 175 graduates, including two ladies, and a dress to the class by Hon. James V. Campbell, LL. D., Marshall Prof. of law in the University. Music was furnished by Spill's orchestra from Detroit. The address of Judge Campbell was one of great interest to the young gentlemen about entering upon their profession, and an effort of much merit.

The commencement of the COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY occurred in the afternoon, the exercises commencing at 2 o'clock. The degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery was conferred upon 34 graduates. The address to the graduates was delivered by J. A. Robinson, D. D. S., of Jackson, Mich., and music furnished by the same orchestra which entertained the morning audience so well.

Among the graduates was one lady, Mrs. Alma W. E. Fuellgraf, of Elmhorst, Holstein, Germany; also one gentleman from Manchester, England.

To the Fruit Growers of Washtenaw County. On the first Saturday of April next, at 2 o'clock p. m., an important meeting of the County Pomological Society is to be held in their room at the court house. They are to consider the subject of insects injurious to fruit, and how to prevent their depredations. Fully one-third of our apples, nearly all of our plums, much of our currants, gooseberries, grapes, and many of our peaches, are either entirely destroyed or rendered unfit for home use or for the market. Now the question is, shall we quietly look on and see this wholesale destruction, or shall we give battle to this powerful insect army—this army of codling moths, of twig borers, canker worms, curculio, rose bugs, and a host of others? But the question is, how shall we set the battle in array, and what shall be the weapons of destruction? This is the question we come together to discuss. We cheerfully invite every man and woman who has a tree or plant to be protected from the ravages of these little pests, to attend this meeting, and give their method of attack, and from each other we may learn how to defend ourselves against their encroachments, and decide which shall dominate, the little insect, or he who is made in the likeness of Him who made us all. ANN ARBOR, March 23, 1880.

Somewhat Personal. That the readers of this paper may know something of the 'new man on the Couriers,' as the term goes, we clip the following from the Mirror, the little paper published at the institution for the deaf, dumb and blind, at Flint, with which he has been connected since the introduction of printing into that school:

As it was announced in last week's Mirror, the relations which Mr. George H. Pond for the past five years has sustained to the institution as editor of this paper and manager of the printing office has been lengthened further by his special work here in the manner in which he has been connected with the institution since he was appointed to the position of principal of the school. This is the question we come together to discuss. personally it is a much more serious thing to his associates in this institution. His character was such that he would never cover them. The social circle, too, in which he mingled here, will long miss his cordial manner and genial conversation, while regretting the necessity which calls him away, all alike, offering up their prayers for his welfare, and wishing him God-speed in his new undertaking.

Mr. N. J. Allport, of Webster, formerly of this village, and proprietor of the "Dexter Exchange," died Tuesday night, of apoplexy. Mr. Allport had reached an advanced milestone in the course of life. He was 72 years of age, and came to this place quite early in life. His demise was sudden, though not altogether unexpected, as he was in poor health for some time, although this manifestation of the disease was not looked for. He was as well as usual, and in conversation with Judge Crane on Tuesday afternoon, when he talked about exchanging land. They were standing in the air, and upon Judge Crane's suggestion proceeded to the house. When in the house the Judge asked him to speak louder as he (Crane) was hard of hearing. But receiving no response, he soon discovered that he was sitting in his chair unconscious, with his head bowed upon his chest. The Judge ran for help, and later a physician was called in, but life went out without any further manifestations.
