

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT—
JAMES A. GARFIELD, of Ohio.
FOR VICE PRESIDENT—
CHESTER A. ARTHUR, of New York.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

A republican state convention to nominate candidates for state officers and electors for President and vice-president of the United States, and for the transaction of other business, will be held at the opera house in the city of Jackson at 11 o'clock a. m., on Thursday, August 5, 1880.

In accordance with a resolution adopted at a meeting of the state central committee at Detroit, June 23, 1880, the secretary of each county convention is requested to forward to the secretary of the state central committee by the earliest mail, after the delegates to the state convention are chosen, a certified list of such delegates as are entitled to sit in the state convention.

H. P. BALDWIN, Chairman.
W. L. LIVINGSTON, Jr., Secretary.
J. W. COIT, Treasurer.
J. C. SHAW, Recording Secretary.
J. C. TOLSON, Corresponding Secretary.
E. G. D. HOLDEN, Executive Committee.
W. H. HARRIS, Executive Committee.
W. H. HARRIS, Executive Committee.
W. H. HARRIS, Executive Committee.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

A republican county convention to elect delegates to the state convention, will be held at Jackson, on Thursday, Aug. 5, 1880, and to transact such other business as may properly come before it, will be held at the court house in the city of Ann Arbor, on Tuesday, July 27, 1880, at 12 o'clock. The several cities and townships will be entitled to delegates in the county convention as follows:

Ann Arbor City—4

WHY WE PRAISE GARFIELD.

For gallant and meritorious service at Shiloh.
For gallant and meritorious service for three years during the war.
For gallantly and ably serving his country in the councils of the nation.
For nobly sustaining the principles of his party upon the electoral commission.
For his grand championship of the rights of the oppressed at all times and under all circumstances.
For a fearless and conscientious devotion to duty, regardless of consequences.
For his persevering and manly struggle against adverse circumstances from boyhood up.
For his pureness of character and morality of life.
For his devotedness and attachment to his aged mother, which so truthfully portrays the pure gold of the man's character.
For an hundred and one excellent traits of his nobleness, ability and uprightness.
For his humble beginning.
For his gritty boyhood.
For his sturdy young manhood.
For his excellent literary attainments in middle life.
For his spotless military record.
For his constant devotion to the principles of right and justice through all the different and honorable positions occupied by him.
For his able generalship and still more able statesmanship.
Finally, for his pre-eminent fitness for the duties of the presidential chair, and because of all these things the republican party

WILL ELECT HIM.

NOTES EDITORIAL.

Whist! Jefferson Davis has declared for Hancock and English.
President Paul A. Chabourne, of Williams College, has resigned.
Are we, or are we not, to have any fraud howled at in this campaign?
We learn that the Blissfield Advance has been purchased by F. Sampson.
Why don't Kelley go to "Grimmirey," and shake with Sammy himself?
At the late commencement the honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon President Hayes.
The democratic state convention to nominate state officers, is called to meet in Detroit, on the 17th of August.
Gen. Garfield, because of his excellent sound money principles is favored by the business men of the country.
Because Garfield once drove upon the tow-path of a mule, the democrats now term him a "mule-whacker."
The Chippewa county News, published at Sault Ste Marie, has moved into a new, new office of its own. Glad to hear it.
Who will condone the unpardonable insult the Cincinnati convention gave the south by placing a union soldier at the head of the ticket?
The democrats have accused Garfield of almost everything under the sun except being a horse thief. That charge is expected soon.
It is said that the Roman Catholics are coming over from the democracy by scores to Garfield, because of Gen. Hancock's connection with the Surratt affair.
Prof. H. S. Tarbell, formerly superintendent of public instruction of Michigan, has been re-engaged as superintendent of the Indianapolis city schools at $3,000 per year.

Much of the glory Gen. Hancock won in upholding republican principles during the war has been tarnished by his tending to the fire-eating element of the democratic party.

Wm. H. English accelerated his start in the world greatly by loaning out money to his fellow clerks, while a government clerk in Washington. He is like a sponge, absorbing all the wealth in reach but giving out none.

The story so persistently circulated by the democracy that Gen. Hancock is a descendant of the famous revolutionary patriot and signer of the declaration of independence, John Hancock, is false. He had no descendants.

The gross receipts from internal revenue for the fiscal year just ended will be in the neighborhood of $123,000,000, an increase of $10,000,000 over the receipts for the previous fiscal year and $2,000,000 over the estimates of the department.

Every insurance commissioner of nearly every state in the union has his finger at the co-operative insurance societies, yet they go right along, flourishing and progressing and doing good in the world, just as if nothing had been said against them.

Another libel suit against a newspaper has ended in a verdict of "no cause of action." This time it was against the Gratiot County Journal, published at Ithaca, by Robert Smith. The case grew out of an alleged larceny of a suit of clothes by a doctor at St. Louis, and was brought by Dr. G. S. Case and one Suydam, a clerk, claiming damages to the extent of $10,000. The jury couldn't see it.

Geo. William Curtis, the king of the "scratches," who represents 20,000 voters of his ilk in New York state, says that Gen. Garfield will carry New York, and that Gen. Hancock, though a distinguished General of the regular army, does not excite great enthusiasm, and that he "represents nothing but the inability of his party to unite upon some one of their distinguished leaders." Hal! hal! how's that, Mr. democrat?

Ex-postmaster general Marshall Jewell, of Connecticut, has been chosen chairman of the national republican committee. He was one of Gen. Grant's cabinet officers, but not a Grant man, however. The secretary, ex-senator Dorey, of Arkansas, was a supporter of Gen. Grant at Chicago. Both are admirable officers and will push the campaign with vigor. Senator Logan, of Illinois, takes the chairmanship of the executive committee for the western states.

Gen. Butler has been interviewed respecting the coming presidential canvass, and says: "I think it will be a fair test of the full strength of both parties. Each candidate, both Garfield and Hancock, will carry the full vote of either party." He thinks that both are "political adepts." That's all right, Ben., but how about your candidate? How many votes will the respectable Gen. Weaver poll? Are you giving him away by totally ignoring his presence in the field?

Another terrible disaster on water has to be recorded. On the 28th ult., the Sea-wake, a large boat which leaves New York daily for Roslyn, L. I., took fire from an explosion near the boiler and was burned to the water's edge. There were 500 passengers on board, and about 150 were burned to death or drowned. The captain of the boat, Chas. Smith, stood at the wheel until he grounded the vessel and nearly lost his life thereby, but did a noble deed. Chas. A. Dana, of the N. Y. Sun, was on board, but was saved.

There is something bewildering about the rush of loyalty to the union which now fills and overflows the bosom of the average democratic patriot. He prances around and vociferates so loudly for somebody to deny that he ever opposed the war, that the unobtrusive republican citizen almost has doubts whether he has been right in his views of what happened a few years ago. There was once a countryman who ventured to doubt the integrity of some sausages which were offered him at a tempting figure. When a volley of vituperation and profanity was poured out in their defense, he was induced to modify his opinion: "I don't say nothin' agin them sausagers. I only notice that where them sausagers is plenty dogs is scarce."

The terrific Hancock boom gets all warped out of shape some way, when they are sifted down to bottom facts. For instance the Free Press stated that D. Bethune Duffield was of the opinion that Gen. Hancock would be elected president, whereupon that gentleman sends that paper the following note:

To the Editor of the Free Press.
I was surprised by a local announcement in your paper of this morning, that I was "of the opinion that Gen. Hancock will be elected president." Suffer me to say in reply that some democrat must have dreamed this; and "dreams," you know, "always go by contraries." Certainly I never held such an opinion; could therefore never have expressed it; do not believe it now; and am too true a republican not to prize a green wax stamp imprinted in good sense and abiding loyalty of the American people has not yet gone to wreck.

Respectfully yours,
D. BETHUNE DUFFIELD.

Wordberries in town June 23d. The earliest of any season ever known.
Our streets are lined with teams loaded with wool the past week. Kempf Bros. seem to be the most extensive buyers.
We would like to know where the marshal is of nights. There are some sailors that do not pay attention to the ordinance in regard to shutting up at reasonable hours.
The schools of our village closed last week for the summer vacation. On Friday last Prof. Richards went with his class in botany to North Lake. On the same day the departments taught by Mrs. Miller and Miss Satie Van Tine, had a picnic dinner at the school house. The departments taught by Miss Oldenham, Miss Depew and Miss Everett, went on the same day to the farm of Jay Everett, in Sharon, where, in his farm buildings and grounds, they had a most enjoyable picnic party.

The Methodist had a very enjoyable time last Sunday, it being the occasion of their annual children's day. In the morning service after singing, prayer and responsive reading of the scriptures, Mr. David Taylor, Prof. Richards, Andrew Morton, and Mrs. Richards, of Alpena, Mich., addressed the children and young people in a very happy manner. In the afternoon the children and young people did their part in entertaining the congregation. The programme of recitations, songs, etc., was quite a large one, but everyone was so prompt that the services only lasted about an hour and a half. The church was profusely and tastefully decorated with evergreens and flowers, and about twenty-five birds added to the musical notes of the occasion. As a whole the day was a very pleasant one to all in attendance. The Congregational and Baptist Sunday schools were invited to the afternoon services.

Robt. De Viney and wife, of Lansing, are visiting this place. They are the guests of J. T. Honey, and intend staying about four weeks. Mrs. D. is quite ill and is here under medical treatment.
The gross receipts from internal revenue for the fiscal year just ended will be in the neighborhood of $123,000,000, an increase of $10,000,000 over the receipts for the previous fiscal year and $2,000,000 over the estimates of the department.

The teachers for the Dexter schools for this year are, so far as appointed, as follows: C. A. Cook, principal; Julia A. Ward, preceptress; Emily Palmer, grammar department; Lena Guerin, intermediate; Miss Conlan, primary; Julia C. Ward, school.

The following officers were installed last Tuesday night, at the R. R. club hall: R. P. Copeland, president; W. C. C. Clark, secretary; R. J. Landon, committee on music, and Rev. C. A. Clark on public entertainment. Ten dollars was voted to the county campaign fund.

Prof. Hoffman, teacher of the Dexter band received his walking papers last Monday from said organization. Having failed to fulfill his contract with the band in three important particulars, he was told that his services were no longer desired, and he started away from Dexter immediately.

Rev. J. C. Wortley, of Hudson, formerly pastor of the M. E. church here, spoke before the temperance club last Sunday evening. He took a somewhat new course in his lecture, which has created considerable discussion among moderate drinkers and total abstinence men. Discussion is what is needed. Agitate.

In our last communication to the COURIER, two weeks ago, we omitted the name of Herbert A. Williams, the only gentleman of the graduating class in the union school. We regret having done so, and make this correction cheerfully. We would further remark that he acquitted himself admirably at the commencement delivering in a fine manner a declamation entitled "Mt. Tabor."

It is reported that a daughter of Mr. Krause, of Webster, was playing with a revolver, when suddenly a leaden ball passed through her index finger. Another warning which most people will fail to heed, not to be too careless with a loaded revolver. "Didn't know it was loaded" is about the only excuse given on such little accidents. It is a pleasant little incident to remember when tempted to meddle with a loaded pistol. Moral—!

What's the matter with the reform club that it must advertise its speaker as having promised that he "will positively address the club on such and such an evening." Will not the simple statement that a man is going to speak on a certain evening carry more weight with it than it will resort to means that will leave a doubt in the minds of many people as to whether it is really so or not? The simple announcement of the fact that a good speaker is to address the club or meeting is all that is needed to attract attention.

A change in the mails of this place has been effected lately. Instead of the mail on the 9 o'clock train, it now comes on the 6 o'clock train in the morning. The mail for this early train is made up at 8 o'clock the previous evening. There is no mail of the 9 o'clock train. The noon or Pacific express carries mail. There will hereafter be three mails west—6 in the morning, noon, and 6 in the evening; and there will be two east—at 10 in the morning and 5 in the evening. Persons having business the postoffice should bear these changes in mind.

This village has not yet been able to raise a political pole or banner, or badge of any kind, so far as your scribe has observed. It is reported now that a Hancock and English pole will be erected this week, and an H. and E. club organized. Garfield and Weaver all have some supporters here, but we have not heard of who declared himself on the side of N. Dow, that old prohibition war-horse. Some of our out-and-out temperance people have the courage to vote as they talk. Neal Dow will have a goodly following here, if.

A number of our crack shootists had a pigeon shoot on Chas. Bates' farm, about 12 miles from this village. The shooting was not remarkable for excellence, the highest being eight out of a possible ten. There were three ties for first and second prizes, a green wax stamp imprinted in which Jas. McNamara carried off the prize. The census enumerator returns the population of this village at 1,008, much lower than most people expected. The Leader says the census of Dexter taken in 1874 returned the population at 1,343. It further remarks: "Judge Crane has just finished taking the census of 1880, and he tells us there are just 1,008 persons in the limits of the corporation. From a general observation of the village we believe the Judge is nearly correct, and we are not alone this belief. Why then the difference in the figures? If any one can inform they will confer a favor. We give it up." Your correspondent is also anxious to know how this difference of 335 persons has been brought about. If this number was added instead of deducted from the population six years it would be more easily accounted for. As the Leader says, the houses are all full and there are no signs of such a falling off of population in the past six years. There is certainly some mistake somewhere. Who will explain it? [The mistake was probably made on the count of 1874.—Ed.] James Hoy, son of Patrick Hoy, of Webster, met with a serious accident last Saturday. He was attending to the patent hay fork in the barn when the upper pulley broke and came down upon his head in such force as to fracture the skull. Drs. Taylor and Chase were both called in at separate times, but finally the Drs. Maelan of Ann Arbor arrived and dressed the wound, taking out some fractured bones. The boy is reported doing well now under the combined treatment of Drs. Maelan and Lee.

MANCHESTER.
From the Enterprise.
A movement is on foot to have the several church societies of this village unite on Sunday evenings and hold their meetings at one church only. The Presbyterians and Baptists will unite.
Postmaster Walbridge did not raise his pole, on Saturday afternoon, as intended, but postponed until to-morrow (Friday) afternoon. There will be music by the band, and speakers will undoubtedly be secured for the occasion.
Marshal Rose, of this village, was arrested this morning, for alleged false imprisonment of John Walker, in the lock-up. Frank Hewlett, of Jackson, is attorney for Walker, and village attorney Norris is for the defendant. The trial is set down for the 9th inst., before Justice Goodyear.

The fourth annual reunion of the alumni association, of the Manchester union school, was held at Goodyear hall on Friday evening last. The attendance was large and the exercises very interesting. The music by Smith & Lambert's band, of Hillsdale, was first-class. The supper was superb, and the reception highly noted.

Extracts from a Letter from Leadville, by Fred S. Hubbard.

I commence now a letter which I will finish in my spare moments from time to time, and in which I will endeavor to give an account of myself and my doings during the past eight days.
After reaching Chicago and spending a day, I engaged by the noon train for Kansas City a berth, and started a good half hour before train time for Kansas City from 26th street, but the street car was so terribly slow that I arrived at the depot just in time to see my train disappear. Want it provoking? But I made the best of it, and spent the most of the afternoon making myself acquainted, as far as it was possible for me to do in so short a time, with the business portion of the city.

The next morning I made an earlier start and got to the train in plenty of time, and had no trouble in exchanging my berth ticket for one on the proper train.
From Chicago to Kansas City I occupied the same section with a very pleasant lady from Washington, who was going to Colorado Springs, for medical treatment. She was an entertaining converser and a very SILKS and SATINS.—The close buyers have long since decided that nowhere in Ann Arbor can they buy Silks and Satins for as little money as at Mack & Schmid's. Delighted crowds are daily attracted by the genuine great inducements offered in COLORED and BLACK SILKS. Every lady in Washtenaw Co. should embrace the opportunity for buying a Black Silk Dress lower than she had ever before had it offered to her. We will charge nothing for showing the goods but, on the contrary, we will show them cheerfully to anyone, and we make no boast in saying that if we do not offer BLACK SILKS for any less price than any other House in the State, then we will not ask anyone to buy them.

Special attention is called to the perfect light in which all our goods are exhibited. Ladies can buy of us with the satisfaction and pleasure of perfectly seeing just what they are BUYING. LEGAL NOTICES.

Estate of Sarah Fuller.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Washtenaw, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, held at the Probate Office in the city of Ann Arbor, on Wednesday, the thirtieth day of June, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty, Present, William D. Harriman, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Sarah Fuller, deceased, on reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of William H. Lavey, praying that a certain instrument now on file in this court, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, may be admitted to probate, and that he may be appointed executor thereof.

Thereupon it is ordered, that Monday, the twenty-sixth day of July next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be set aside for the hearing of said petition, and that the devisees, legatees and heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be holden at the Probate Office, in the city of Ann Arbor, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the time and place for the hearing of said petition, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Ann Arbor Courier, a newspaper printed and circulating in said county, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing. (A true copy.)
