Baking Powder Figures THAT DON'T LIE!

The Royal Baking Powder Oo. try to give the inference that their powder contains more Cream Tartar and that its Leavening? Power is greater than any oilier made, as stated in their advertisement on the "Comparative Worth of Baking Powders," exhibited by black lines. Our name was mentioned in connection with one of our cheaper brands, made of different materials as the trade might depend our Cream Tartar brand of Amirow's Pearl was omitted evia demand. Our Cream Tartar brand of Amirow's Pearl was omitted, evidently for a very good reason, judging from the relative merit* of ANDREW'S "PEART." and the Royal, as clearly demonstrated by the Government Chemist, Dr. PETER COLLIER of the Department of Agriculture, at Washington, from samples received by him from dealers who furnished the samples from their stocks on Hand

DR. COLLIERS'ANALYSIS

C. K. AHDBKWB & Co.—Gentlemen: I received by expres- from Thog. Lydon and J. P. Harkins & Co. Grand Ave., Milwaukee, and Harper Bros., Chica-go, 111, samples of Andrews' Pearl and Royal Baking: Powders. The cans were in good condition when received ant) the seals unbroken. I find upon analysis that Andrews' Pearl Baking Powder contains about four and a halt (4)£) per cent, more cream tartar than the lioyal Baking Powder, and a proportionately larger percentage of carbonic aeld ffaa, and I Hnd it to be free from alum, and any injurious substances

Sincerely yours, PETER COLLIER, U. S. Chemist, Dept. of Agriculture.

Government demist Collier's Analysis as to tlie Leavening dualities.

ANDREWS' PEARL

No wonder the Royal Co. omitted Andrews' Pearl from their "Comparative List," as Government'Chemist Collier's analysis shows conclusively two things: Ist, That Andrews' Pearl contains more Cream Tartar than the Royal, us shown by the cuts above; 2d, That the Leavening Power of Andrews' Pearl is greater than the Royal, as shown by the two black lines above.

CHALLENGE.

We will "sve the Royal Co. or any one else $1,000 or $5,000 if they can prove by any fair mutual test that Andrews Pearl Baking Powder does, or ever did, contain slum or any Injurious substances, and this challenge is open forever. Andrews Pearl Baking Powder i3 sustained by a testimonial as to itspurity and strength by the only genuine commissioned Government chemist, such as the Royal Co. )ed out for a few moments. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Robbing, and ex-J. R. Joyner's barn on A street was consumed by lire Monday morning- beween 12 and 1 o'clock, together with buggies, a sleigh and cutters. The barn ti to Ann Arbor. was not very valuable, and was uninsured. It has been a rendezvous for tramps all summer, and the probability is that it was 'accidentally set ou lire by one of those who occupied it that night. It is rumored that Thomas Birkett will auild a hotel worth from $2,500 to $0,000 ;o be used as a pleasure resort, at Base Lake. We do not Bee why an establishnent of that kind would not pay during the summer season there; nor do we see why the chain of lakes up there may not be soon made a pleasure resort to outrival Whitmore or Cavenaugh lakes. A narrow gauge road from Dexter up to the lakes would fix matters "solid."

Rev. R. C. Mosher, who has been serving the Baptist church in this village for the last three years, tendered his resignation of the i astorate last S.tbb Uh tnor liiv The resignation is conditioned upon the church increasing his salary to $1,000, and one week is allowed the church in which to determine that point. The probability is that the condition will not be met, and if not, Mr. Mosher will leave between this date and the first of October next for Minnesota We understand that a pastorate awaits him at 'Herman, Min nesota, which will yield him the above salary in addition to the amount required to move his family and effects thither. MANCHESTER. From tho Enterprise They are moving the dirt and getting ready to lay the foundation for the Wat-

The next meeting of the S. W. Farmer's club will be held on Friday, September 5th, at the residence of Benj. G. English. The question for discussion will be—What changes, if any, would it be advisable to make in our rotation of crops, in view of the present and future markets of Papers on the question will be read by C. take charge of the Ann Arbor toll gale. His son will then assume control of the Ypsilanti gate, in his stead. The oat crop now being harvested is excellent both in yield and quality; and if the corn crop is secured in good condition our farmers will not have to hypothecate stock, as many of them had to do last build a skating rink, iu size fifty by eighty or one hundred feet. The exact plan aud location not decided upon; yet. Mr. E W. Ford is now absent inspecting other rink buildings, and will return to commence work at once. It is their purpose to have it finished by October first, or loth at the latest. On Tuesday afternoon lightning slrtick the grain barn of J. Dancer, of Pittsfield, three miles northeast of here, and burned everything to the ground. The barn contained considerable hay and 328 bushels of wheat, just threshed and some oats. No insurance. We learn that Mr. D. works the iarm by the month, and that the loss will fall upon the owner, a Mr. Graves, of Flint, a very wealthy gentleman.

Wednesday as Len Laeey was working at the edging machine in Sturm & Davenport's mill at Cone station, by a defection in the board a piece flew and hit him in the stomach, prostratiag him to the floor in an instant. His fellow workmen pick- Laflamine, Joseph ed him up, but he was severely hurt in-

The above gentlemen also rode 14 miles in 50 minutes on Monday last.

YrSII.ANTI. From the Sentinel.

A buggy standing in front of Aments Saloon on Congress street, was smashed by the contact of a run away team from Ann 7\rboi Tuesday. The question of damages will probably cause a law suit. New wheat arrives In moderate quanand brings about 85 cents. It is evident that iew farmers in this section. are so pinched for money that they need hurry their whoat to market, and the relief of business, by the sale of wheat a 8o cents, will come slow—especially while the corn prospect is so uncertain.

From the Commercial. Miss Helen Post, so many years at tlie head of the Grammar department, has been transferred to the Normal proper. A deserved promotion for marked fidelity. Howthe old Printer Passc<l|Anay.

BY BOB BURDETTE.

And so, year after year, he wrought among the boys on a morning paper. He went to bed about the lime the rest or the world got up, and he arose about the time the rest of the world sat down to dinner. He worked by every kind of light except sunlight. There were candles in the olh'ce when he came in; then they had lard-oil lamps that smoked and sputtered and smelled; then he saw two or three printers blinded by explosions of camphane

#Hid spirit gas, then kerosene came in and heated up the news-room on summer nights like a furnace; then the ofliee put in gas, and now the electric light swung from the ceiling and daz/lcd his old eyes, and glared into them from his copy. If he sang on his way home a policeman

bade him "cheese that," and reminded him that he was disturbing the peace and people wanted to sleep. But when he wanted to sleep the rest of the world, for whom be had sat up all night to make a morning paper, roared and crashed by down the noisy streets under his window, with cart and truck and omnibus; blared with brass bauds, howled with hand organs, talked and shouted; and even the shrieking newsboys, with a ghastly sar-Gasm, murdered the sleep of the tired old printer by yelling the name of his own man's case; smart young proof-readers scribbled sarcastic comments on his work: on the margin of hia proof slips, they didn't know how to read, long-winded cor- full of wonder and affright, and a respondents learning to write, and long-haired poets who could never learn to mouth that opens at regular intervals to emit a plaintive "miaou." haired poets, who could never learn to =pell, wrathfully cast all their imperfections upon his head. But through it all tie wrought patiently, and found more a stranger, not ouly to the pat, but to the sunshine than shadow in the world; he woman at his side and the children in had more friends than enemies. Printers, and toremen, and pressmen, and reporters and editors came and went, but he stayed, dissembling is a dismal failure. Selfand he saw uews-room and sanctum filled and emptied, and filled and emptied again, ure of bis agonized visage. His very While Forbes Ballard of Augusta was in the city on Saturday morning, his son, aged 12 years, got hold of a revolver and proceeded to investigate. He found it had a silent pity, that came as near being passenger in the car.

But the children, the little nuisances, contempt as his good, forgiving old heart head of his thigh bone, where it will re- could feel, for an editor who had not worked his way from a regular devilship up r-ast the case and the imposing-stone.

He worked all that night, and when the hours that are so short In the ball-room and so long in the composing-room drew wearily on, he was tired. He hadn't thrown in a very full case, he said, and he had toclimb clear into tlie boxes and chase a type up into a corner before he could get hold of it. One of the boys, tired as nimself—but a printer is never too tired to enough in the case to last him through the take, aud he wouldnt work any more tonight. The type clicked in the silent room, and by-and bye the old man said:

"I'm out of sorts " And sat down on the low window-sill by his case, with his stick in his hand, bis hands folded wearily in his lap. The types clicked on. A galley of telegraph waited

Slug Nine, passing by the alley, stopped to speak to the old man sitting there so quietly. Tlie telegraph boy came running in with the lost manifold sheet, shouting: "Thirty!" They carried the old man to the foreman's long table, and laid him down reverently and covered his face. They took

"Only two," said the man from Elk

Neck. "What has that to do with the snake item?" " Oh, a great deal, "answered the editor. We always deduct nine feet from the snake for each drink of pear cider taken by tile man who brings in the snake item. Making the u«ual deductions for Cecil county pear cider, your snake was twelve inches long. A good snake for the season. Come in again when you have a snake item."

And the editor held the sanctum door wide open for the man from Elk Neck to pass out.-Middleton Transcript.

"Father," queried young Fenderson, what is a 'society event?' " 'A 'society event' is what I call one of your mother's crazy-quilt parties, if I can get tlie editor to put it in for nothing. If I can't get it in for nothing I call it a shame, and ask him when he's going to print something the people like to read."—Boston The Cat.

There i* nothing very funny in the mewing of a cat, and under ordinary circumstances it receives no other at tention than an expletive or two, with possibly an old boot or a boot-jack fchrown in-or thrown out, to speak more accurately. But there are times when the voice of Grimalkin sets everybody on the grin or the giggle, according as they belong to the grinning or the giggling sex. You are seated in the steam car, for instance. Everything is quiet, or as quiet as anything can be which is pounding along at the rate of thirty miles an hour. The passengers are reading their newspapers or their nov-els, or sleeping over the funny books for which they have foolishly parted with their dimes, when a sudden "miaou" pierces the startled air. Instantly every eye is open, smiles take the place of frowns and solemnity, and an hysterical giggle comes from the two young ladies in the rear seat. The sound arises somewhere about midcar. and the heads of the passengers in front swing about in unison, as if moved by machinery, while the heads of those in the rear seats are craned forward toward the common center of interest. A wumau with a basket in her lap and a blush all over her face sits be side a man, apparently her husband, while upon the seat facing them are a little girl aud a small boy. The woman is what slio would call

"so flustrated," and holds on to the cover of the basket with the desperation with which a drowning man is said to Year after year Ihe foreman roared at Year after year The foreman roared at him to remember that this wasn't an afTherefore the foreman roared at cling to a straw.

Why a drowning man should cling to a straw when there are so many tube to have a blind man put on that dead things which might prove more effectual life preservers is not easily explained; however, that is nothing to do rwith the cat, whose head pushes up the cover of the basket, showing two eyes

The man pretends not to see or hear the cause of all the commotion. He would have the passengers think him front of him. It is hard, almost imand foremen, and pressmen, and reporters possible, for a man not to be a coward consciousness is written in every feat-

But the children, the little nuisances, they sympathize not with their distressed parents. The diversion is a boon to them. The ride had become monotonous, and tho voice of puss is to them a glad evangel.

"Pussy, pussy, poor pussy!" says the little girl, coaringly, reaching forward to correct the large. to caress the house pet.
"Be still, Nellie!" says her mother under her breath, at the same time pushing the cat's nose from view and holding on to the cover tighter than ever.

Nellie tries to peer through the chinks of the basket, while Johnny be good-natured—offered to change places with him, but the old man said there was enough in the case to last him through the Pa frowns, says "Johnny" in an authoritative way, and then fixes his eye on the hole through which the bellrope passes over the front door, as though that were the only thing in thio world which at all interested him. Presently there is a scratching; a bustle, a struggle and— "O, ma, kitty's got out!" Aa though ma didn't know it! The car is alive with excitement.

Everjbody is tajking with everybody else, as though they had been acquainted all their lives. "Them she is." •'Ain't she cuuning?" "Did you ever?"

Such are a few of the more common remarks which are heard on every side. Pa, when the cat got out of the basket, was forced to let the cat out of the bag. He was compelled to own his connection with the disturbing element. He jumps from his seat, scurries about the car, running this way and then that, chasing puss down the aisle then up again, now reaching under a seat, and now feeling behind the stove, until he finally grabs puss by the tail, and pullfish, he folds her firmly in his arms, her in as he would a very heavy and sweating and puffing from his unwonted exercise, he shoves her into the basket with a desperate lunge; and if the ears of the passengers in the seat behind do not deceive them, he says it sounds like, either. Then father, mother and the children sit silent for the rest of the journey. They looked as though some great sorrow had fallen upon the family, or as if some great crime had been committed something which sounds like "Jam the cat!" although that is not exactly what

by some one. When they reached their station they are the cynosure of all eyes. They walk out like criminals bound for the scaffold. Nobody laughs now. The scene is too solemn. But none present in tho car will ever forget that cat, and when-ever he thinks of her, a smile will come to his face, though he be at the time suffering from any or all the ills which flesh is neir to.—Boston Transcript.

THE STATE TICKET.

The republican state convention that convened in Detroit on Wednesday last was a gathering of earnest, honest, enthusiastic men, who felt that upon their action depended to a great extent the success of the party in this state at the coming general election. And the work accomplished by them was well accomplished. The ticket put in nomination is a good ticket, strong at the head, strong clear down the list. It is a ticket no good re-"scratching." There isn't a poor or objectionable name on the ticket. There isn't a name on the ticket, that the wint democrat in the land can raise the slightest objection to, nor would his fingers tingle a particle, except with pleasure, shotild he perform the laudable deed of dropping a copy of said ticket into the ballot box on next November. The work of the convention was well done. The ticket presented is an excellent one. And the people nill ratify the work b}' electing every candi-

CAPT. ALLEN'S CHANCES.

Up to the time of going to press (Wednesday noon,) nothing definite is predicted respecting the outcome of the congressional convention of this the 2d district, which meets in Adrian to-ruorrow, but the prospect for the nomination of Capt. Allen of Vpsilanti, is considered very bright, indeed. We sincerely hope that such may be the case.

It has been many years since Washtenaw county has been recognized in n congressional way by the republican party, and her claim is a just one. Mr. Allen is very popular, which taken together with his acknowledged ability and fitness for the position, makes him a candidate whose election would be assured from the out-

The prompt and manly mannei in which Mr. Blaine meets the foul and filthy scandal given to the public by the demociatic Indianapolis Sentinel, is in sharp contrast with the evasive and vascilating manner in which Mr. Cleveland treated the Buffalo Telegraph's article, (another democratic paper.) Mr. Maine strikes back as quick as lightning and directs a suit to be brought AT ONCE And it is to be hoped that there may be no petty technicalities interposed by Mr. Blaine's maligners to put oil' the trial in the case. Of course it will be their policy to delay as much as possible, and carry the idea that the prosecution dare not come to trial. But such

So it justifies him by gloating over half-forgotten and never-believed tales circulated by the Tory enemies of George Washington and Thomas Jeft'erson. While these slanders are undoubtedly without foundation, even were they (rue they would not justify such conduct in any of our public men.

The guunt, attenuated appearance of our contemporary shows that the people will not support a sheet which defends shotgun murders, ballot-box stuffing, libertinism.and fraud. Even though it is in its last ditch, a little self-respect might help it to kick a little longer.

THE PARTY TO BELONG TO.

One of the best efforts Congressman Horr ever made, was on Wednesday evening of last week, at Detroit. His speech was tilled with strong points as well as witty hits. The following closing remarks give an idea of the strength and power of his arguments:

a party that rejoices when the people re- a strong speaker. He frequently talk? oice; that grows stronger when the people are happy. I told them at Grand Rapids, and let me repeat it here, I like to belong to a party that is always trying to ested in a meeting to be held at Adrian, benelit this great nation of ours, and has always stood by the American flag. [Applause.] I like to belong to a party that originated the greenbacks when they were needed to save the nation, and stood by them until they were made as good as gold. I like to belong to a party who found the nation bankrupt and to-day-have placed it so that its credit is better than that of any other.nation on the face of the globe. [Applause.] I kuow my democratic friends say that one thing they charge us with is that we have got so much money in the treasury, and just let us come into power, Mid we will empty your treasury for you. [Laughter and applause.] I have no doubt my friend, you would do your best; but tin: n.'1'u'jlh au j.<-uu have been able to run the nation, and have money enough in the treasury to keep its credit good, and have paid off so much of our debt that the greatest financier of England, Gladstone, said the other day that the financial management of the United States was the wonder of the civilized world. [Applause]

I like to belong to a party that stood by the colored man after he had helped to fight our battles and save our nation. I like to belong to a party that since the war has stood by the soldier, their widows, and their little ones. [Applause.j As I told well and faithfully many know. So it is them at Grand Rapids. > Now, fellow-citizens, these great questions are before you. The question is again to be decided in this country whether we will keep the destiny of this nation have asked that the question be put to the submission to them of a prohibitory constitutional and the people are and ought to be the final arbitrators of this question, and as the inorillaud intelligent people of the state have asked that the question be put to the submission to them of a prohibitory constitutional and a submission to them. la the hands of a party whose people have always loved it, have always sustained it, and who to-day understand so well the great business interests of our nation. To do that there is only one course left open, and that is to vote for Blaine and Logan,"

BLAISE AND ST. JOIIX.

One of the prohibition electors, A. C. Morehouse, of New fork City, in withdrawing his name, shows a well balanced and sensible mind in the following letter publican can have the least excuse for which contains truths good for prohibitionists to consider:

I am notified by the chairman of the Executive Committee of this State that I am chooeu uy me recent Prohibition Convention held at Albany, July 8, as one of the Presidential electors and though I am a strong, what some would call a radical prohibitionist, I do not think it wise to undertake to elect a President now. I never dare expend my eftbits to accomplish what is an impossi' biliby, and between the two men who are to bechosen I consider Mr.Htaine and his views upon the national questions very far superior to Mr. Cleveland's, and the great Republican party In its past record as far more conducive to the development of the industry and welfare of this Nation, than the Democratic party. We as temperance men have nothing to hope from the success of the Democrats, and If as temperance men we within the lines of the Republican party and the few temperance Democrats all unite and concentrate our energies in purifying the parties and also unite as a balance of power to east our votes for the man of either party who is nearest right, as we believe, we shall much more speedily accomplish our great object than by supporting the nominee of the third party. I therefore will be compelled to de-cline the honor, as it would not be consistent for me to accept unless I fully accorded with

Our colored readers who are always interested in hearing what their great leader, Frederick Douglass says, will find solid sensible thought in his advice to them on Emancipation day when he spoke as follows:

I imagine I hear some of my brethren asking me what course to pursue in this campaign. I say to every colored man the republican party is the deck on which you should stand. All roads that lead from the republican party lead back to the democratic party. A vote given to the prohibition party is And the prohibition party will taketen votes from the republican party where it takes one myself. But I am for doing one thing at a time, and until the colored race have justice I have no other mission. Now, my friends, I ask you to remember us. My abolition friends,do not lay down your armor until you have secured for us all the rights that belong to us as American citizens. Do not go off on any side issues. We have watered your soil with our tears, tilled it with our hands, and enriched it with our blood. Wo only ask to be treated as well as those who fought against you. We love this country, of the assertions possible to obtain about and we only ask to be used as kindly as those j the matter. It is unfortunate that any who once haled it.

THE MAN WITH THE FOG HOKN. "Capt. E. 1\ Allen, 'the noblest Homan of them all,' is generally mentioned in connection with that euphonious Greek name. Ypsilanti, though he belongs to the whole county of Washtenaw. He is built on a large scale all over. He is tall; there is a good big distance between his shoulders; his head is large and so are his brains and his ideas. He is now 45 years old. He looks younger. His hair is light brown and his moustache of the same color, while the rest of his face is always smoothly shaven. His countenance at first appears severe, but any Impression of this sort vanishes as soon as acquaintance discloses the open-hearted and sincere nature of the man. Mr. Allen enlisted in twenty-ninth Michigan infantry and was commissioned first lieutenant, subsequently made adjutant, and finally promoted captain of Co. II. He was mustered out of the service in September, 1SG5. He was elected to the house of representatives in 1876 and again in 1878. He did duty on important committees both sessions and at the latter one was speaker pro tern. '• Xow, rellow citizens, I like to bulonsr tn Capt. The following Is the platform of prinriples, as amended and adopted by the republican state convention at Detroit on

The republicans of Michigan, in state onvention assembled, declare anew their devotion to the principles and organiza-tion of the national republican party, and adopt as their own, the platform of the national republican convention upon the question of national policy and phd^e their utmost effort for the success of the platform ami candidates.

The republican party recognizes the need of more efficient laws to protect the rights of the laboring men of the state in obtaining the just rewards of their labor, and therefore promises that it will favor the enactment of such lien laws and other measures as will carefully guard and promote the interests of the laboring men.

The republican party pledges itself to resent the practice of importing into the state the convicts and contract laborers of

It is the fundamental right of the people to alter, from time to time, the organic law of the state, as new circumstances or growing evils may require, laying its foundation on such principles and ment, which he obtained soon after passing a lirst-class examination under the hours and just get solid comfort thinking organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. The evils of intemperance have become so great that in untiring disposition he takes this posi- this people—[applause]—whereas, if I temperature have become so great that in the name of patriotism the most efficient tion, which alone would satisfy many, were a democrat, especially since this last measures ought to be taken to reduce those evils to a minimum, and, as the members of no political party are wholly agreed as to whether this can best be done through prohibition or the regulation of the traffic in taxing liquor, and as the people are and ought to be the final arbitrate of this outcome. stitutional amendment, we declare that we believe that it would be wise and pariotic for the next legislature to submit such an amendment to a direct vote of the people, and we demand that it be so submitted.

For thirty years the 'Republican party has administered the affairs of this state with such wisdom, Integrity and economy and efficiency as to assure prosperity at home and honor and credit abroad. It has fostered and promoted educational and charitable institutions. It has stood for the integrity of the nation and the liberty of the nation. It has developed all the great industries and resources of the state. The history of its administra-tion in the past is its best pledge and promise for its conduct in the future.

The Next Governor.

The name of I'usaell A. Alger, of Detroit, has been placed at the head of the republican state ticket for the high office of governor, and there can be little doubt of his election. The following brief sketch of his career will be of interest to our readers: Gen. Alger was born in Lafayette, Medina county, Ohio, February 27, 183(i. At eleven years of age he was left an orphan—worked on a farm for means to procure an education—was admitted to the bar In 1859—health failed under practice of the law—removed to Grand llapids and went into the lumber business.

When the war broke out he enlisted in the Second Michigan Cavalry, and was mustered in as captain of Company C. He fought In some of the fiercest battles of the last war—was twice wounded was advanced by merit to the rank of Major, Lieutenant Colonel and Colonel; and at last was brevetted Brigadier General and Major General "for galhint and meritorious services on the field."

He is extensively engaged in pine linds and lumber; in the Detroit, Bay City and Alpena railioid; Peninsular car company, and other business enterprises. He uses his capital ingivingeinploynient to a large number of laborers whom he thus puts in the way of establishing themselves in business. He asks no man to work herder than he does. He has a work harder than he does. He has al-ways been an active atid Influential republican, but iie has never sought nor held a civil salaried office.

In 1801 he married Miss An':ette, daughter of W. G. Henry, of Grand Rapids. Their home is graced with six children. There are a few ranges of so-ciety or conditions of life with which his varied experience would not bring him into quick and appreciative sympathy.

The story that first came to us of the horrors of the Greeley expedition to the arctic regions, has been supplemented the past week by the assertion that the survivors of that ill fated expedition maintained life until rescued by eating the flesh of their dead comrades. And some of the aewtpaperi have been pandering to the vicious appetite of the morbid hungerers after sensation by publishing in detail all such revelations should have been made. Even if the stories told are true, what posisfiedof his ability and fitness for the of- matter should be consigned to eternal si-

Ben, F- Butlor has issued hil Setter accepting the nomination of the greenback and anti-monopolist parties for president.

The letter is a long one, but the substance is all summed up in these words: "I want to be president very much, and as (hero is corruption in both the old parties, it would be a good thing to break away for attaining this result is the best and and anti-monopolist parties for president. woidd be a good thing to break away from them and vote for me." He asserts that the republican party and the democratic party are both controlled by monied interests and monopolists, and yet he favors joining hands with both of them under certain circumstances in order to carry out his plans. It Is difficult at this moment to tell just what effect Mr. But- he liquor traffic, we invite them to coler's candidacy may' have. But there is one thing that looks a little peculiar. And that is, for Ben. Butler, with his millions of dollars, made out of manufactures", to call down upon the heads of others like him the anathemas of the people—the working people especially. Mr Butler [knows as well as anybody that capital and labor must work together to be successful, and that to attempt to antagonize them for a little political elevation, is doing rank injustice to both.

Gen. Alger is the candidate of the soldier element. He was a brilliant and dashing cavalry officer, and has made his way unaided, from the ranks of the people to his present honored position. In speaking of this gentleman's qualifications the Coldwater Republican says:

"Mr. Alger is said to be an exceedingly "Mr. Alger is said to be an exceedingly kind man in his dealings with those who are in his employ. He employs a first class physician, and it any one working for him in his lumber camps is injured or sick he is cared for by this doctor at the General's expense. It is also said that he never stops the pay of a sick man, and that men permanently injured while in his employ are pensioned. This is, light his employ are pensioned. This is, light and commendable in any man. It implies however, that he makes money very rap-idly, or else even he could not do it. It is very seldom that men in business can thus coin money so as to do by their employes all that in their hearts they would wish to do.

lu a list of alleged former republican papers alleged to have repudiated the candidacy of Mr. Blaine, now going the rounds of the democratic press, we notice among others in the list, the Chicago Inter Ocean. But a perusal of the columns of that paper fails to elicit any repudiation of Mr. Blaine, or of the republican party. The New York Herald is also given, but when did the Herald ever profess to be a republican paper? Besides, the Herald is owned and controlled entirely by British citizens and British gold. At St. Petersburg, Russia, several deaths have occurred from blood-poisoning, induced by the stings of flies which had been feeding upon cattle infected with the rinderpest. Some of our thin-skinned brethren of the democratic fold better be warned. There may be danger from insects that have been feeding upon the scandals of the presidential candidates-especially upon the editor of the Indianapolis Sentinel.

Let it be remembered by friends of morality and decency all over this great nation, thut the Buffalo Telegraph and Indianapolis Sentinel are both democratic papers. But no suit has been instituted as yet against the Telegraph.

Blaine has sued the Indianapolis Sentinel for libel in charges against his character. We have not yet heard that Cleveland has done likewise with the Buffalo Telegraph.

The democrats thought to make a strong point in the canvas for themselves by nominating a man without a record. But they should have gone further and taken a man with a character.

Ann Arbor is getting quite a reputation for its fine berries. We have had a six weeks' season already, and the indications are that it will last two weeks longer. The entire raspberry and blackberry shipment from this city the present season will be 2,000 bushels, it is thought. Seventy-five per cent, of these go to the Detroit market, which is much better now than a few years ago, and for Ann Arbor berries especially. The remainder of the shipments £O principally to Toledo and Chicago. The shipment this year is about one-third more than last year's. In rates they can be got to Detroit at an expense of 17.1c. per bushel, and to Chicago for 02.1 c. Witli a good market at Detroit, that city, of course, has the preference. Of the three largest shippers at this point, Benj. Day's sale this season of raspberries and blackberries will be about 600 bushels; Evart H.Scott's, 400; and Dr. W. W. Nichols's, 310. By the bye, Dr. Nichols had ninety bushels of strawberries on I£ acres of ground this year, for which he received from $-1.50 to $5. per bushel. It is said that the earliest shipments of raspberries this season netted $0.50 per bushel. The berry business is evidently a good one, and much better tliuii peach growing.

A speed contest between bicycles and horses has been In progress at Chicago this week, and the machines seem to have the best of horse flesh so far. At the end of the 2d day. yesterday, the score stood bicycles '317 miles; horses, 300 miles, The weather was extremely hot.

C. B Davison and W. F. Stimpson returned Tuesday evening, highly elated with the success of their trip. Aside from the fact that the Canadian custom house authorities at Windsor delayed them a short time, everything passed off happily. Leaving Detroit Saturday morning on their bicycles they sped over 07 miles of road on that day, staying over night at Ridaetown. The following day along and did the Falls up in good shape, riding their machines over suspension bridge. They feel quite proud of this fact as they are the first ones of the Ann Arbor club to perform that feat. They met with a cordial reception from all the Canadian wheelsmen, especially from the members of the St. Thomas and London clubs, to whom they are very grateful for favors shown. The roads through Canada are in poor condition, so they report, and many highways that were excellent for bicycling purposes in the spring are now all cut up and impassable. The country has been suffering from a drought Lower Town, who presided Emancipation Day, is no ordinary man. He was born a slave In Virginia, but while a child his master moved to Raleigh, N. C, where he was reared and taught the trade of blacksmithing. His master always hired him out, and when grown his services commanded from eight to nine hundred dollars per year, not one dollar of which was ever given him; and even when he tried to earn a few pennies extra, they also were pocketed by others. A Northern teacher was employed to teach his master's children, from whom he secretly learned a letter at a time, until, by dint of perseverance, he could put words together, thus evincing a good, sound intellect, as well as unusual bravery, for the penalty of being seen with a book in hand, for a slave, was thirty lashes. Two years before the war ended, his master's estate becoming involved, necesliam was sold to an Arkansas planter. After two years'faithful service for his new master, by reason of tyrannical treatment be resolved to escape, which he did, starting at midnight in company with another slave who had just been whipped and goaded to action. They traveled by night, through swamps, fording streams by means of log rafts, resting by day, obtaining food as best they could, shaping their course by means of a pocket compass which they had fortunately secured, till, nearly naked, they reached the North and freedom. A history of his early life would be well worthy of BACH & ABEL'S COLUMN.
