A new quartette choir at the Baptist church.

The Hobart Guild now has upwards of 400 members.

Wood is being fairly rushed into town on this good sleighing.

The name of John Babbitt, Ann Arbor appears in the pension lists.

There were 461 children present at the M. E. Sunday school last Sunday.

Rev. Dr. Jackson, of Illinois, will preach at the Baptist church next Sunday evening.

F. E. Yale, at the post office news depot smokes a fine new meerschaum pipe, the gift of a friend.

A decree was granted John G. Hornung and wife, against Michael Dieterle, for $1,522.55, in the circuit court yesterday.

The choir of the Bethlehem church took a slight ride to Michael Stein's, a few miles north of the city, Friday evening last.

Prosecuting Attorney Norris has moved his office, and will now be found over C. Riney's store, Judge Kinne's former sanctum.

The Forestry convention at Grand Rapids to-morrow and next day, ought to be well attended. The subject is one of great interest.

John Connelly, formerly a resident of Ypsilanti, was sent to the county jail for 30 days by Justice Pond Monday morning for being drunk.

A leap year party of ten couples went to the house of Wm. P. Groves, in Northfield, last Friday evening. Dancing etc., and a right merry time.

The Chequeamongs will play for a dance at the Follet house on the evening of Feb. 1st. The Ypsilantians know where to find good music.

Quarterly inspection of Welch Post, G. A. R., Friday evening. It is expected that action will also be taken on the tender of the hall by Mr. Jacobs.

If any one wishes to immortalize himself he can do so by paying 50 cents for a chair in the M. E. Sunday school and have his name inscribed thereon.

The M. C. R. R. has put down the price of 1,000 mile tickets to $20, or two cents per mile. That's the figure all rail roads will be obliged to reach before long.

We notice that one of the Detroit dailies put the title of B. F. Watts' new office as "grand high president." B. F. doesn't resemble Grover to any appreciable extent.

James Williams, through the kindness of Justice Frueauf, took up a 25 days residence with Sheriff Walsh, last Wednesday. Drunk On Saturday, James Brown was sent to the same place for 30 days.

The statement is made that there has been admitted to the county poor house on an order from this city, an able bodied man who draws $24 per month pension from the government. If it is true, it hardly seems as though it was right.

The Nil Dicit Club are to give a leap year party at Nickle's hall Friday evening, for which elaborate invitations are being sent. The gentlemen will not be allowed to ask for partners in dances, that being the reserved privilege of ladies.

No sooner has leap year leaped upon us than pop-con socials are announced. Yes, of course, it will be pop, pop, pop, all the year through, and if a fellow gets off with simply having his corns popped he will be fortunate—or unfortunate, which?

The heart of the plumber is made glad these days by the numerous water pipes which are bursting. It looks as though Jack Frost and the festive plumber were in league to run up bills for the householder to liquidate. We have not heard it stated that the plumbers' bills are any smaller this year than usual.

Notable days occur this year as follows: Washington's Birthday on Wednesday, St. Patrick's on Saturday, Easter Sunday on April Fools, Memorial day and Fourth of July on Wednesday, presidential election on Tuesday, Nov. 6th, and Christmas on Tuesday. It will be a century and a half ere Easter Sunday again occurs on the first of April.

The announcement that Prof. Roger's lectures occurred in the evening at the M. E. church, was erroneous. These lectures are before the bible class, at the close of the morning service, and the one of last Sunday is more highly spoken of than was the previous lecture. Next Sunday the third of the series will be given, at the close of the morning service, and will be entitled "Christianity."

Among the latest tricks in trade is that of "browning" oranges to give them the popular Florida hue. It is done by putting the fruit in a sieve and passing it over a hot fire until the oranges are sufficiently scorched or "browned" to give the Florida tinge. The oranges treated this way come from Mexico and the West Indies. Of course the succulent qualities of the fruit are not improved by the process, but the consumer does not realize the fact until he partakes of it.

The Cocker League program, Monday evening attracted an audience which filled every seat. The exercises were German in tone, as the musical selections of Mrs. Dr. A. H. Sylvester were by German composers, while the paper of Mrs. Carhart was about Queen Louise of Prussia. This paper gave an admirable sketch of the life of the queen, and was written in a chaste style which held the attention of the auditors in a manner seldom enjoyed.

Mary W. wife of Eli Manly, of the 5th ward, died Thursday last at 2 o'clock p. m., aged 47 years, after an extended sickness. Mrs. Manly had lived in the city for the past 21 years, and had been the wife of Mr. Manly 21 years, and they had buried two children. The funeral services were held Sunday p. m., in the M. E. church of the 5th ward, Rev. Dr. Ryder preaching the sermon. The G. A. R. Post turned out in nearly full ranks, and many of the L. O. O. F.'s were also present. Mr. Manly being a member of each order. Beautiful floral offerings were placed upon the coffin by loving hands, and a large circle of friends mourn the loss of one who was respected by all. Mr. Manly has the sympathy of the community in his affliction.

A note from Henry D. Bennett, at Pasadena, Cal., conveys the information that he and Mrs. Bennett are delighted with their California home, and would not exchange it for Michigan again.

While coasting on the State street hill last Friday night Mrs. Levi D. Wines, and her niece Miss Jennie Wines, were considerably injured by being thrown against the posts at the foot of State st., where the road turns to go down to the M. C. station house.

The accident was caused by the person who guided the bobs not making the turn quick enough. Mrs. Wines is improving now, but her injuries are quite serious.

Sand is a good thing on the icy walks.

Mr. Royer, corner of Division and Ann sts., has a telephone.

888, "when shall we three meet again?" 1 just one thousand years.

The incorporators of the Ann Arbor Mutual Fire Insurance Company will meet at the office of John J. Robinson 10 East Huron street, Friday evening next at 7:30 to elect officers.

Frank P. Bogardus, of Ypsilanti has been appointed post-office inspector. A position that pays about $4.00 per day and expenses. This is one appointment that gives satisfaction.

Rev. Jno. L. Jackson, D. D., of Bloomington, Ill., will address the Young People's Society of the Baptist church on Sunday evening, Jan. 29th. He will also occupy the pulpit in the morning.

A private leap year masquerade is to be held at Hangsterfer's hall, on Thursday evening, Jan. 26th. The committee having the affair in charge consists of: Misses Mattie Walz and Nellie Hoban, Mrs. Geo. Apfel and Mrs. Ross Granger.

Miss Grace Hiltz, of Chicago, sang in the M. E. church, Sunday morning and among the pieces was a voluntary composed by Orin B. Cady. Those who were fortunate enough to be present are warm in their praises.

Last Friday night at about six o'clock what seemed to be a ball of fire leaving a trail behind it of sparks, going from east to west, was seen by a number of our citizens, appearing to be only a short distance north of the city. It lighted up the heavens brightly for a few seconds.

C. R. Pattison takes up over two columns of the Ypsilanti Commercial in telling about Florida. The atmosphere of Florida has undoubtedly worked a great benefit to him, for he says: "We can see three times as far as in Ypsilanti, and the starry hosts of Heaven are thrice as luminous."

The most natural thing for the 3d ward children to do when they get out of school is to jump upon their sleds and go flying down the Miller Ave. hill. But it is a dangerous thing to do nevertheless, for the road is a much traveled one, teams, and some of them very skittish, are being constantly met, and aside from that fact is the still worse one that the tracks of the T. & A. R. R. cross the hill and are being used almost constantly. Some one is liable to get hurt on that hill.

Judge W. P. Ballinger, of Galveston, Texas, died last Thursday, of pneumonia. Judge Ballinger was the father of Thomas J. and Clara Ballinger, who pursued their studies for several years in our schools, being accompanied by their mother for a portion of the time, consequently the family are well known in this city. The Judge was perhaps the ablest lawyer in the state of Texas, and at the time John M. Harlan was appointed associate justice of the supreme court by President Hayes, Mr. Ballinger's name was prominently mentioned in the same connection.

Linus Clark, of Green Oak, Livingston Co., died on Jan. 18, aged 75. Mr. Clark was a brother of Martin Clark, of this city, and had been a resident of Michigan for 55 years. He came from the state of New York when Michigan was a wilderness and suffered all the hardships of a pioneer life. The farm which he purchased and cleared of its native forests he has lived upon all these long years and became prosperous and independent. He was a true christian man and liberally contributed his means to various benevolent objects.

On Sunday morning last, George W. Hayes died at his residence in Detroit, of paralysis of the heart, in the 64th year of his age. Funeral services are to be held this p. m. at 1½ o'clock, in Dexter, at the Congregational church, under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity. Mr. Hayes was at one time well known throughout this country. About forty years since he came to Dexter, and for nearly twenty years he did an extensive dry goods trade. Afterwards he came to Ann Arbor, and for several years had charge of what was known as "The Parsonage" office. After the business of the corporation was closed up Mr. Hayes went to Detroit and has lived there ever since. He was a man of temperate habits, strict integrity, an moral excellence, and in his death his wife and friends will receive the sympathy of many who knew and respected him for his true worth.

UNIVERSITY ITEMS.

The time to help the gymnasium is just now.

"Guilty or not guilty?" We should say guilty.

The Rugby team has had its photo taken collectively.

A "Ladies' program" at the Alpha Nu Saturday evening.

A. L. Noble furnishes the senior medals with silk plugs.

Let's all turn in and help the "gym" by giving our "dins."

The Phi Kappa Psi are the latest $100 subscribers to the gym. fund.

E. L. McAllister, of Detroit, will return to college and graduate with '89.

The Sigma Chi's of the law department have moved into a new house, 91 E. Huron st.

The lit. class of '91 alone will adopt the English cap and gown. Won't they look funny?

The new professor, Dr. Gibbes, is expected to arrive from England almost any day now.

The glee club report a good house and a fine time at Adrian. Successful financially, also.

L. B. Lee, lit., '83, leaves college this week to accept the principalship of the Flint high school.

The Homeopathic hospital is filled to overflowing with patients, and the clinics are numerous.

Prof. M. E. Cooley was chosen first director of the State engineering society at Lansing last week.

Prof. Griffin now delivers ten lectures upon "Mining Laws," having completed a "Federal Jurisprudence."

The 23d of February law committee have been having hard luck in securing a speaker for that occasion.

The law students think Judge Brown resembles somewhat Daniel Webster, and they love him for that.

The boat club at Harvard University is an unequalled success if reports are true, viz: It is $800 in debt.

Hon. S. B. Chittenden, of Brooklyn, N. Y., presents Yale college with a new library building costing $135,000.

If a few of the postoffice rascals could accidentally break their necks, perhaps it might be a sad but salutary warning.

The senior laws are listening to two lectures each evening this week by Prof. Hammond of the St. Louis law school.

The class of '90 has agreed to give $100 to the gym, and '91 doesn't propose to be counted out and agree to do the same.

Okano and T. Furuga are two new students who arrived from Japan, Monday, making 23 Japanese now in the city pursuing studies.

Volakuk has obtained academic recognition in Germany. The University of Munich has arranged for a course of lectures in the universal language.

The Chronicle favors the formation of a State Inter-college base ball league, and thinks that base ball ought to be encouraged as a worthy college game.

Dr. H. C. Adams will deliver an address entitled "Our National Surplus" before the Political Science Association in room 24, on Friday, January 27th, at 8 p. m.

According to the Argonaut, the use of the general library is rapidly increasing, 601 books being called for in one day recently. The average is between 300 and 400 daily.

Amson on Contracts, edited by Prof. J. C. Knowlton, are sold faster than the booksellers can receive them, and orders are being taken for the work, which speaks well for Mr. Knowlton.

There will be a branch of the Michigan Republican Club organized at the University, a call having been issued for the same. The initiation fee of $5 will be waived in their case.

Five special courses are offered in oratory, and this in connection with the library advantages of the University, ought to make it attractive to those seeking advancement in that line.

Prof. C. E. Greene read a paper before the Michigan Engineering Society upon the subject: "Highway Bridges and Frauds in the Construction of Them." A subject on which much can be said.

The photographs of the University Rugby team are to be placed on sale. What a rush there'll be.—Evening News.

Now, it will make us sort of huffy if you think to slight our Duffy, so you had better buy.

The '89 sleighride to Whitmore Lake Friday night resulted in a tip over by a careless driver, and when they got there it was so warm and calm that they couldn't sail on the lake with any pleasure.

The University is ready now to measure earthquake shocks. Bring on your shocks. But won't they have to move quick, though, to "catch on" to what's going on in time to take the measurement?

Alpha Nu will have a "Ladies' Program" next Saturday evening. There will be a piano solo by Miss Franc Crosby; a recitation by Miss Blanche Brainerd; an essay by Miss Carrie Britten; a recitation by Miss Nellie Johnson; a select reading by Miss Edith Atkins; a poem by Miss E. R. Clark; an instrumental duet by Misses Frank and Hattie Crosby; and by Alpha Nu Sibyl by Miss Flora Potter. An invitation is extended to those who wish to attend.

President Angell's Annual Report for 1887 is now being distributed in pamphlet form, and we wish every teacher of the State could procure one. Dr. Angell shows by carefully compiled statistics that the sons and daughters of the rich do not form a large percentage of the students in the University, that the rates for tuition of indigent pupils are more than those charged by neighboring States, and compare favorably with those of Eastern institutions.

The ladies in the University numbered 365 last year, and still maintained their record for good scholarship and good health. We most heartily endorse the closing session of report which reads: "We have the fullest confidence that we shall be properly sustained in all well considered efforts to make the future career of the University worthy of the splendid history and worthy of the fame and intelligence of this prosperous commonwealth."—School Moderator.

HIGH SCHOOL.

An examination in United States History will be given in room No. 2, to-morrow afternoon.

Lycium No. 2, will hereafter meet in Miss Chittenden's room on the 2d floor instead of on the third floor.

The term essays are due as follows: 1st year, Feb. 14th, 2d Year, Feb. 21st, Junior year, Feb. 28th, Senior year March 6th.

Delta Epsilon Literary Society will not meet this week, having accepted an invitation from its sister society, Lycium No. 1, to attend its special program.

Lycium No. 1, has a special program this week. Everyone interested in the work being carried on by the Lycium is cordially invited to attend, Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

A Junior sleigh ride to Ypsilanti, will be given by Miss Nellie Monroe next Friday evening. The members are requested to meet at the home of Miss Alice Cramer on Huron street, at 6:30 sharp. Every member should come. The more, the merrier.

At the regular meeting of Unity Club, Monday evening, Jan. 30th, Mrs. Sunderland was read a paper on Michael Anselm, by Rev. E. L. Walter. Mr. Walter will give a paper on Victor Hugo the novelist, and an original story will be read by Miss Elsie Jones.

Phoebe C., mother of Harvey G. Weed, of this city, has been granted a pension.

By the time the supervisors get around to make the assessment on mortgages, under the new law, there will be hardly a mortgage owned in the county, if one may judge by the proceedings of a few who have commenced the sharp practice of assigning their mortgages to other parties, usually outside the state. It is probable that they will do this, as the law is not recorded. And so the law is evaded. If a poor man should conspire to evade the law of the land, would he not be arrested for conspiracy, or something of the kind?

Prof. E. Baur, Secretary, announces the monthly meeting of the Washtenaw Pomological Society will be held on the 4th of February, at 2 o'clock p. m., in the basement of the house, topics: "Some Climatical Results of Removing Forests," by Prof. Mark W. Harrington, director of the observatory "Fruit Exchange," opened by Pres. Baldwin, who presided in receiving general attention, and all the friends of the prosperity of our beautiful state are requested to participate in this most important and neglected question. To fruit growers the topic "Fruit Exchange," will be an essential question. Exhibit of fruit, green, dried and preserved. Flowers.

Last Friday evening, when B. F. Watts returned from his grand chapter conquest at Grand Rapids, where he captured the title of G. H. P., he was met by many congratulating friends. As there are 118 chapters in the state, and he is now 40 R. A. M.'s assembled, who soon gathered around a well-filled table, H. P. James L. Stone presiding, and giving out the texts. The congratulatory speech fell upon Hon. A. J. Sawyer, who presided entirely equal to the demands of the hour and the time. The next best man in the line of responses was Wm. G. Doly, whose words were pleasing ones and ready to drink in by the listening ears. There were many other responses which were happy and full of good cheer. At the close, the only man out of the lot who had not been called upon arose and requested an opportunity to say something himself, and in a few pleasing words he presented to the society, a beautiful piece of workmanship. L. C. Goodrich made the presentation. This was a fitting climax to perhaps one of the most enjoyable Masonic occasions ever held in the city.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Only one more social at the Hobart Guild before Lent sets in, and that on Thursday evening, Feb. 22nd. It is expected that it will be a good one.

The lectures of Dr. John C. Eccleston, of Staten Island, N. J., upon Dante, are to be illustrated, and will probably excite anything of the sort ever before given in Ann Arbor.

Monday evening, Feb. 6th, there is to be a musical evening by the Unity club, under the guidance of Mr. Ross Cole, who will read a paper on "The French School of Composition," to be illustrated.

The New York Herald remarks on the "Aunt Bridget" entertainment: "The feature for which, beyond all others, the comedy brillit, 'My Aunt Bridget,' deserves special mention in the naturalness and ease of its most ludicrous situations. They are equal to Daly's happiest thoughts. We laugh, and actually can't tell the reason. Its musical numbers are of that light, catchy, brilliant character that popularized Gilbert and Sullivan's best efforts. Monroe and Rice are old favorites in New York, and Monday night's performance added another successful link to the long chain of their brilliant career."

The Chicago Times was very kind in its criticism of Miss Caruthers. It said: "The special interest was in the first Chicago appearance of Miss Julia L. Caruthers, a young pianist of Michigan, of whose talents who had heard her had said pleasant things. She played the piano part of the Schumann quintet, Op. 44, with which the program was ended. She is very plainly an artist, who studies closely the meaning and meaning of the composer. She displays excellent technique both in the right and left hand, playing octave passages particularly well. Her touch is firm, crisp and clear. She shows strength and delicacy, plays with breadth of tone, individualizes her work strongly, and puts into it not only clean execution, but heart and brain."

Chicago Daily News has this to say of a recent performance of Miss Caruthers in that city:

The closing number was Schumann's quintet, Op. 44, for piano and strings, the piano part played by Miss Julia L. Caruthers, who in this work made her debut in this city. As Miss Caruthers approaches the piano from hereafter, it is proper to say that she is a blonde of about 20 years of age, and in person and manner at the piano, bears a striking resemblance to Miss. H. V. King. She has the repose, the same implicit confidence in the success of her performance, and the same absolute mastery of the instrument, which was masterly for so young a pianist—artistic in the best sense. She played without notes and gave the piano a better and more impressive interpretation than it has had in New York. Withal, and one of the study, she should make one of the best artists this country has produced.

Miss Caruthers is to give the Ann Arbor people an opportunity of witnessing her playing on Saturday evening, at Hobart Hall.

Lots of fun at the Grand Opera House next Saturday evening, Jan. 28th. Here is what the New York World says of the entertainment: "My Aunt Bridget," a new farce-comedy by Scott Marble, was given for the first time last night at Windsor theatre, with George W. Monroe and John C. Rice in the star parts. Mr. Monroe made a hit as our Bridget in George S. Knight's "Over the Garden Wall," and in this play he starts out as a star with a play of his own in which Bridget is made the central character. "My Aunt Bridget" is a great play, and it gives Mr. Monroe a chance to show his ability as an Irish comedian and John C. Rice as a dancer and light comedian. The comedy was good, and the performance last night gave excellent satisfaction.

George W. Monroe and John C. Rice, supported by their own company, appeared at Windsor theatre last night in a play constructed by Mr. Scott Marble and called "My Aunt Bridget." Mr. Monroe achieved his present stary position in the dramatic skies by performing in a play Mr. George S. Knight's part similar to that which he now performs. He is just as good in this as he was in that. That a great many people in the world like see this kind of acting is not to be denied. That it has any claims to critical notice cannot be affirmed. It is merely necessary to mention as a matter of record, that the performance and the audience appeared to be greatly pleased with it. The theatre was crowded, and the outlook for the engagement is encouraging to those engaged in it.—New York Times.

THE KINGS OF MINSTRELSY.

Standing room only, the little sign that never fails to gladden the heart of Mr. John T. Ford, was displayed last night at Windsor theatre. The sign did not accurately describe the situation. It should have read: "If you are not six feet high you have no chance to see stars." The attraction was Thatcher, Primrose and West Minstrels. It is a startling thing to announce that a minstrel performance is entirely new, but it is true in this instance, for it is radically different from the old-liners. Burnt cork and swallow-tail coats have been discarded, by the end men, for white faces and handsome court costumes. And this is not the only change. Ancient jokes have given way to new ones, and the specialty acts are not as they were, but are fresh and novel and interesting. In its entirety the company is decidedly the best ever seen in Baltimore. That the audience were of this opinion was shown by their screams of laughter and uproarious applause.—Baltimore Sun.

possibility in which the baroness finds herself to produce the marriage certificate to challenge the legality of her marriage, and they gain their suit. So the baroness and her daughter are now penniless and without a name, are on the point of going back to Germany, when there appears a young man of good figure and winning speech, surrounded by mystery, who offers to restore her name, her rank and fortune, and, as a reward, he asks for the young lady's hand. This one promise provided he fulfills his pledge.

The 2d Act of the play is trying to intimidate the relatives by reciting to each some page of their respective histories, which they would rather keep concealed; and he promises to give them the damaging documents, which are contained in a package, the Memoirs of the D—, now in the hands of the baroness. In the 3d Act, the relatives come to Ronquerolles in the hope of securing the "Memoirs," as Nicholas is supposed dead, by intimidating or deceiving the baroness. Nicholas reappears suddenly, and one of the relatives manages to secure the papers and burn them. Fortunately two leaves have been saved by the young daughter and it proves to be the means of discovering the hiding place where the defunct baron had put the duplicate of the marriage certificate and his will. Nicholas wins the hand of the young lady and the relatives go away in despair and rage. The sale of seats will begin on Wednesday, February 1st. 50 and 35 cents.
