Ann Arbor Township Registration.

The Ann Arbor Township Board of Registration will meet at N. B. Covert's shop on SATURDAY, NOV. 1, at 10 o'clock to register all new voters in the township of Ann Arbor. C. T. PAINSHALL, Town Clerk.

3d Ward Republican Canvass.

There will be a canvass of Republican electors in the basement of the court house, on Monday evening Nov. 3, at 7 1/2 o'clock to put in nomination a candidate for alderman, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Thos. Kearns. BY ORDER OF THE COM.

A vote for Gorman is a vote for free trade, bootlegging, and for lowering the standing of this district in congress. A vote against Allen is a vote against protection, against fair elections, and against the best interests of Washtenaw. Beware the men who, because of personal disappointments, seek to lead others astray. Their republicanism is doubtful, for they show they were with the winning party for office only, not for principle.

MICHIGAN LUMBER HELPED.

Logs were put on the free list seven years ago owing to the rapidly diminishing supply of our lumber to enable Canadian forests in helping us out. Thereupon our lumbermen purchased thousands of acres of Canadian pine lands to get logs from their mills in Michigan. But we received no advantage from this since the Dominion at once levied an export tax of $2 a thousand feet on pine logs, afterwards increasing it to $3. This was a direct tax on American consumers of lumber.

The McKinley bill makes a reduction of one-half in the duties of sawed pine lumber and sawed timber from Canada, provided that if she maintains her export tax our duties shall remain the same as before. This offers to them an opportunity for opening our markets to them if they repeal their export tax on logs. This is just since our own timber is becoming exhausted. It does not hurt our Michigan mills because if Canada reciprocates it will give us free logs on which there is now a $3 tax, thus reducing the duty on lumber some $2 a thousand feet. By this lumber is cheapened to the buyer without taking away protection to Michigan mills. On the other hand it will give employment here in mills which otherwise would have to shut down and move away, on account of the scarcity of supplies.

This law had only been in force a week when the Canadian government abolished the export tax not only on pine logs but on spruce logs and shingle bolts. The effect will be to open up the great pine forests of Canada containing some 250,000 square miles of pine lands, or an area five times the size of Michigan. It means the running for many years of the mills in this state, and better still the lumber to the consumer for from $2 to $3 cheaper than it would otherwise be in the future, for prices have been steadily advancing in view of the rapidly falling supply at home. The Canadian lumber we would soon need at any price, and through the passage of the new tariff law we shall get it cheaper.

The significance of this fact will be apparent to every reader when it is remembered that we consume twenty thousand million feet of sawed lumber every year, and that we shall in the near future have to depend mainly on Canada for lumber as she does on us for coal.

This is one of the effects of the new tariff law that our free trade friends say nothing about, for obvious reasons.

FULL TRUE.

The personal efforts of sore-headed office-seekers against Allen should be considered for what they are worth. As republicans they sought office and as there were not enough offices to go around some did not get it, but when they go about now exhibiting their sores people not only mistrust them but despise them. On the other hand, the man who desired office, and failing to get it, stands true and unwavering in his loyalty, merits the esteem and favor of all true men. Such men will receive their reward, while unhappy will be the fate of the kicker.

He who seeks to cover up the real issue of principle by petty personal matters on a congressman makes a grave mistake which will haunt him afterwards. The great issue is not shall Allen or Gorman be elected. It is shall a republican, upon whom there is no doubt of his ability and loyalty, or a democrat who is open to suspicion, represent this district in congress. We have a man able, experienced and of influence at Washington. Shall we now put a man there who will be without any of those requisites which make for success?

Allen will be elected despite the treachery of men who should be true, and the men who vote on the winning side will never have cause to regret it. Those who are not for him are against him, but he is sure to triumph over all the petty jealousies and spite, the use of money to defeat him and the dirty slanders of his foes. The obvious duty of every republican is to pull true and to work hard for the whole ticket.

HOW IT GOES.

Said Mr. John Wanamaker to a representative of the Press: "One of the best known manufacturers of Great Britain, an old and very able business man and a member of Parliament, said to me when visiting this country some months ago: 'Give us some special orders; we have not been able for a long time to run all our looms, and we will be willing to set apart certain looms for you and make any specialities you wish, and confine the goods solely to your house.'"

"Why don't you run all your machinery, I asked." "Your confounded protection is my trouble," he answered. "Well, then, pull up stakes and move one of your large factories over here. America would welcome such an industry as yours."

"CONTEMPTIBLE JOURNALISM."

This is how the proprietor of the large canvas establishment in Hudson, Mich., puts it: "We shall stop buying. We cannot afford in the present state of the market, to buy at former prices, and pay extra cost of the goods. There is no certainty that our earnings market the goods at the increased price we must ask."

HIT 'EM WITH THIS.

If a Democrat Says the New Tariff Raises Prices, Strike Him Dumb With This.

A fair calculation of the increases in prices to consumers caused by the new tariff law is about $3.05 per year per family. That is to say, if the additional cost of articles in the tariff schedules, resultant from increased duties, were spread over the entire population evenly, it might amount to that sum. On the most liberal estimate it could not amount to so much as $4.

But the new tariff puts articles on the free-list which last year were imported to the amount of $385,000,000, and on which the people paid $85,000,000 in purely revenue taxes. The abolition of the sugar duties alone will save nearly $5 per year to every family. In other words the remission of the sugar tax more than offsets the entire increase in prices caused by the new law.

But in practice the law will operate in this way: The taxes it has remitted did actually fall on every family, and therefore by their remission every family profits; while the new taxes it imposes will fall entirely upon the wealthier classes, for they are taxes on fine goods, and, therefore, only those will be called upon to pay who can well afford to do it.

It was the enterprise of our fellow-townsmen J. T. Jacobs, that effected the building of the T. A. & N. M. R. R., and that has meant from 50 to 100 per bushel on nearly every bushel of grain any farmer in this country has had to sell.

Why? Because the road opened up the Toledo market to them which is the best market in the entire west, grain always being higher there than anywhere else, and it also gave to them the great benefit of a competition in rates. And now the gentlemen so benefited have a fine opportunity to pay Mr. Jacobs a compliment for the trouble and expense he went to at that time to secure those great benefits.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Vois for Wm. J. Clark, the one-armed veteran, for register of deeds. It will be a good deed on your part.

The P. of I. ticket at Galesburg had been withdrawn. This seems to be the general drift of the Patrons in many places.

Allen has given his personal attention to the claims of five hundred old soldiers at the pension office in Washington during his present term.

It would seem as if the Free Press and the News would get weary in trying to rope Gov. Luce into their network of falsehoods before long.

If Mr. Gorman as state senator sold out his farmer constituents in the meat bill, what would he do with their interests at Washington if he got there?

Amariah F. Freeman, the candidate for prosecuting attorney, is a man who if elected would make a record in that office that no citizen would be ashamed to refer to.

The republicans of Washtenaw county never presented a better, cleaner or more deserving ticket to the voters than is presented this year. And it ought to be elected.

A vote for A. F. Freeman, of Manchester, for prosecuting attorney, is a vote for one of the cleanest gentlemen who ever plead a case at the Washtenaw county bar.

Vote for John W. Bennett and Archie W. Wilkinson for circuit court commissioners. They are both good and worthy young attorneys, and the office would be a help to them.

Edward Gorman, the republican candidate for county treasurer, is an old soldier, and a man who is in every way worthy of the office. Vote for him, work for him, and put him there.

Does the Ypsilanti Sentinel and Adrian Press notice anything contemptible in their methods of defaming and lying about James M. Turner and also about the McKinley bill?

For the office of register of deeds Wm. J. Clark, the old soldier, who left an arm down in Virginia as a souvenir for the Johnny Rebs, asks your vote. Can you afford not to give it to him?

The farmers should remember that Mr. Gorman in his letter of acceptance says he shall vote for free raw materials. That means wool at 14c and 15c per lb. instead of 25c to 30c as at present.

How an Irishman, or a descendant of an Irishman, can vote to perpetuate the English policy of free trade, that has cursed Ireland and brought it to poverty, is a mystery of mysteries.

When a free trader tells you that sugar is going up in price, refer him his own theory that "a tariff is a tax," and then show him the McKinley bill that sugar has been placed on the free list.

Over 500 pensions have been secured through Capt. Allen's aid and influence during the past four years. And yet there is one old soldier in this city who kicks because he didn't get a postoffice.

If the tariff is a tax, why don't the long list of articles taken from the dutiable list by the McKinley bill and placed on the free list, reduce the price of those articles? Will Mr. Gorman please answer?

Out of 70 postmasters appointed in this district within the past two years, 32 have been old soldiers. And yet there is one old soldier in this city who kicks because he didn't get a postoffice. Poor fellow?

What free trade has done for Ireland and what free trade has done for America if it gets a chance. If America had slave labor we could afford to have free trade, but with paid labor, and well paid labor, we cannot.

A vote for Gorman in congress is a vote for free trade.

Manufactured boots and shoes have been reduced from 30 per cent. duty to 25 per cent. duty, and hides placed on the free list, and yet some ignoramus who believes a tariff is a tax will tell you that boots and shoes have gone up on account of the McKinley bill.

The laboring man who votes for free trade views, or against protection views votes to take the bread and butter out of his own mouth. If this country is to compete with foreign countries in manufacturing it will be a sorry day for the man who has to work for a living.

Pleanty of money is being used here at Ann Arbor. Mr. Gorman's interest—One or two sore-heads here have had the silver salve applied to their sores by one of Gorman's helpers, and it appears to work well in their case. What the future may develop remains to be seen.

The office of sheriff in the hands of Capt. Boutelle, of Ypsilanti, would be a public trust, and criminals would find him just as great a terror as any previous sheriff has ever been. He is one of the finest gentlemen and G. A. R. veterans in Michigan. The republicans made no mistake in putting him on the ticket.

Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, says of the sugar schedule of the McKinley bill: "The effect of the abolition of sugar duties will be to cheapen the cost of sugar to all consumers at least two cents per pound, and to increase its use. It will develop an important industry by stimulating the use and production of canned and preserved fruits."

There can be no complaints about old soldiers not being appointed to office in this district when it is remembered that they have been put in charge of the post offices in Adrian, Tecumseh, Morenci, N. Adams, S. Allen, Southerst, Mayhew, Woodstock and Saline, and that five veterans have been re-instated in the postal service.

Joseph B. Moore, cashier of the Peninsular Bank in Detroit was in town Saturday. He is immensely popular wherever he goes. He will be one of the leaders on the ticket, as the people of lower Michigan are going to vote for him pretty unanimously, because they do not want the money of the state treasury all taken up into the upper peninsula where the democratic candidate lives.

Henry A. Robinson, of Detroit, who ran for congress on the republican ticket four years ago, and of whom the Adrian Press, the brightest democratic paper in the state said: "He is the candidate of the socialists and anarchists. They are the ones who first named him. They are no respecters of law and order. They are no respecters of life. HE SHOULD BE SHUNNED AS MUCH AS A CHIEF CAGO BOMB THROWER. Robinson could be defeated in that district AND COMMUNISM STAMPED OUT." Now this same "anarchist and communist" of the Adrian Press is to speak in favor of the men who lashed him so unmercifully. He must be happy in his work.

The Store

There has been more gratuitous and contemptible lying about the McKinley bill than about any other measure that was ever passed by congress. But there is so much satisfaction, the bill is a law, and no matter how much misrepresented it may be, its merits will be thoroughly tested and shown to the people before it can possibly be touched by its enemies should they by any chance happen to get the power.

Under republican rule in Michigan the average annual tax has been only 1.32 mills on the dollar, while under former democratic rule it was 2.55 on the dollar. Mr. Taxpayer make a note of this fact.

That last fall, the state has today over $10,000,000 in public buildings and institutions to show as the result of republican low taxation. Under democratic high tax, what did the state have to show? A state indebtedness of over $2,500,000! How would you like to turn the state over to democratic extravagance again?—Hillsdale Leader.

The kickers upon our present currency ought to go back to the good old democratic times of 1858-60. They would probably be satisfied to have the government go into the wildcat business, so that money would be cheap, and everybody have money. There are a great many thousand dollars worth of that money in existence to-day, but it is even yet so cheap that not even G. A. F. would care to take it in payment for his wheat, wool, or produce. He'd rather have the detested gold, we reckon.

If ever a man deserved the sympathy of the people of the commonwealth because of vile and slanderous attacks brought against him for political reasons, that man is James M. Turner, the republican candidate for governor, and the vile slanders ought to be so rebuked, and we believe will be so rebuked by the people of Michigan next Tuesday that they will never venture upon the field of defamation again. When a man is set upon by bounds, simply out of personal reasons, the people always resent it.

When the Detroit Free Press gets so hot to attack one of its party like Hon. C. P. Black, who was its district attorney for the eastern district of Michigan, under the Cleveland administration, it is in a truly pitiable plight. Wherever Mr. Black is known this attack will fall harmless, for he is a man who draws around him warm personal friends. The Free Press is so violent over its failure to make its campaign mud stick to Mr. Turner, that it is trying to despoil the character of everyone who failed to bend their knees to its infamous work.

For the benefit of the farmers of Michigan, who are deeply interested in the tariff legislation affecting their interests, we give herewith the duties on farm products under the old and new laws:

Table with columns: Old Law, New Law, and various agricultural products like Barley, Beans, Butter, etc.

It will be remembered that the Mills bill, which is the democratic tariff platform, put all grades of wool and various other products of the farm on the free list, reducing the duties on still other products below the protective point.

This is the kind of baldheaded the Detroit Evening News and other democratic papers are serving their readers with to mislead the people and get them to vote the democratic ticket:

A story is going around in Washington that Mrs. Heaton recently went to Baltimore on a shopping tour and was horrified at the increase in prices of goods, and when she inquired the reason, was blandly informed that it was caused by the McKinley bill.

Such a story is being howled all over the country by the democratic tariff platform, and the sinking democrats are grasping at this dispatch shows how the merchants of Adrian treat the matter and what is true of Adrian is true of every city in Ann Arbor, or any other city in the district:

"ADRIAN, Oct. 22.—E. B. Wibaux, democratic candidate for governor, spoke at Crosswell opera house last night. Mayor Seth man presided, and in his remarks introducing the speaker, he charged that the McKinley bill would necessitate a 50 per cent. duty on the retail stores of the city would vindicate his heart. To-day the leading merchants in all lines of trade unite in a card denouncing the mayor's statement as detrimental to the business interests of the city, denying that their prices have been or are likely to be advanced by the late tariff legislation."

DEAR MADAM: As I am about leaving here for my southern home I would like to give you a testimonial of the great benefit I have derived from your treatment that others similarly afflicted may try it.

In the written diagnosis of my case given me by Dr. Dunster, of this city, after a careful examination on Sept. 28, 1888, he pronounced my disease "Multiple Fibroids—four large and easily separable tumors and other smaller and inseparable ones, with considerable mobility, sub-peritoneal in origin and attachments, nervous symptoms, very pronounced, etc. I have advised very positively against any operative procedure for the removal of the tumors."—Dr. E. Dunster.

When he made the examination he told me a surgical operation would be certain death. My husband soon after showed Dr. Dunster's diagnosis to Dr. Thomas, a distinguished physician of New York, who read it through carefully and then said there was nothing on this earth that would help me.

The tumors continued to increase in size and numbers. We have consulted the very best physicians in the United States and in that order, but all pronounced my case incurable. One doctor said the tumors weighed at least fifty pounds.

I had suffered a great deal, and had given up all hope of being helped when chance led me to try your treatment, which produced a marked impression on the tumors from my first trial. The soreness is all gone. They have gradually diminished in size, and the smaller ones have disappeared entirely. All this has been accomplished in two months' time. I now feel that I can safely go home and state of health and kidney trouble." Mrs. S. D. HEATH, Putnam, Conn.

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla for catarrh with very satisfactory results. I have received more permanent benefit from it than from any other remedy I have ever tried." M. E. READ, of A. Read & Son, Wauson, O.

"I can give a word of encouragement to any one who is afflicted with catarrh, give them my name and have them write to me. Very gratefully, Ann Arbor, Mich., October 16, '90."

Paul G. Mehlin.

Catarrh

Is a constitutional and not a local disease, and therefore it cannot be cured by local applications. It requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, working through the blood, eradicates the impurity which causes and promotes the disease, and effects a permanent cure. Thousands of people testify to the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for catarrh when other preparations had failed.

Catarrh

"I will say I have been troubled for several years with that terribly disagreeable disease, catarrh. It is a permanent cure, and the very best results. It cured me of that continual dropping in my throat, and stuffy up feeling. It has also helped my mother, who has taken it for run-down state of health and kidney trouble." Mrs. S. D. HEATH, Putnam, Conn.

"I recognize the fact that outside of your health you are in the hands of God to aid you in carrying on your work. If I can give a word of encouragement to any one who is afflicted with catarrh, give them my name and have them write to me. Very gratefully, Ann Arbor, Mich., October 16, '90."

Paul G. Mehlin. IS THE TARIFF A TAX. Well, Yes; it Taxes Foreigners for the Privilege of Selling their Goods in Our Markets.

(From a speech in the Canadian Parliament by Sir John A. Macdonald, Premier.) Suppose the man has 100 acres on the Canadian side of the line and 100 acres of land on the American side of the line. Suppose he grows 1,000 bushels of barley on each of his farms. He takes his 1,000 American bushels to the American market and gets $1 a bushel for it. He takes his 1,000 bushels of Canadian barley to the American market and gets but 85 cents per bushel, because he has to pay 15 cents duty for taking it across the line. How can it, in this case, be said that the consumer pays the duty? It comes out of the pockets of the Canadian farmers.

Republican Rally!

CONGRESSMAN E. P. ALLEN WILL SPEAK AT THE RINK!

ALLEN THE RINK!

Friday Eve., Oct. 31

EVERYBODY INVITED

LOCAL.

The first snow storm of the season occurred today. A very mild one. Remember the speech of Hon. E. P. Allen at the Rink, Friday evening. A man who sells out his principles to gratify personal spite makes a sad mistake. Halloween occurs on Friday evening. The usual serenades will probably be given. Politics has so absorbed everything that the local department of the paper is rather light this week. Next Tuesday will decide the political fate of a great many people. Sad for some; glad for some; mad for some. The Detroit and Ann Arbor High School teams will have a game of rugby on the fair grounds in this city, on Saturday, Nov. 1st, at 2 1/2 o'clock p. m. The election booths for the city voting precincts have arrived, and will be put in position soon. They were bought in Grand Rapids by City Clerk Bach, and cost $5 each. It would be an honor to this representative district to send such a man as Joseph T. Jacobs to Lansing. He is a clean man every way, and one of the most indefatigable workers in the state. Wm. Walsh, having resigned as chief of police, Mayor Manly has appointed James Murray to the position. Mr. Murray has been patrolman for two or three years and will make a good official. On Thursday evening Oct. 30th at 8 p. m. a reception will be given in the parlors of the M. E. church for Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Rast. A cordial invitation is extended to all who would enjoy meeting the pastor and his wife at that time. The Boards of Registration in the city are in session, and an entire new registration of voters is being made. The lists show that a fair vote will probably be polled. Up to this noon the following were the figures for the various wards: 1st ward..... 425 2d ward..... 320 3d ward..... 321 4th ward..... 255 5th ward..... 156 6th ward..... 195 The Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti railway is being pushed rapidly. The ties have arrived, grading is commenced, and at a meeting of the directors yesterday the equipment was ordered. Everything will be in first class style, the handiwork of cars, etc. Capitalists of our two cities take the bonds and will own a majority of the stock, so it will be distinctly a home enterprise. Last Thursday the engine of the street car company used to run the dynamo, was disabled by the blowing out of the head of the engine. This laid the cars up for a couple of days. Arrangements were then made to use the electric light work's engine temporarily and the cars are running on time as of yore. The break was caused by the engine being defective, we understand. Postmaster Beal has been in correspondence with the free delivery department at Washington with reference to extending the service in this city, and has received a communication giving good encouragement, that his request for at least two additional carriers will soon be granted. The securing of this will certainly be appreciated by those living a long distance from the office, and who are not now reached by the carriers. When a store keeper or clerk tells you that everything in their store has been advanced in price by the McKinley bill, just take that bill as published last week and have him show you what the tariff is on the articles advanced, the chances are ten to one that the free list is on the free list. If not on the free list it is probably reduced from the old tariff. Some smooth talkers are taking the course to secure votes against the republican party and against the best interests of the farmers and laboring classes of the entire nation.

Communion service at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath. A through car now runs from Toledo to Saginaw, without change. Capt. E. P. Allen is to speak at Milan at the rink, on the evening of the 30th. The Young People of the Baptist church give a social to the S. C. A. next Friday evening. J. Q. A. Sessions, of this city, has been elected secretary of the 7th Michigan cavalry re-union association. Last evening Dr. Henry Wade Rogers and wife were given a reception at the home of the editor of the COURIER. Gen. R. Haviland will be at the First National Bank on Saturday, all day, to supply those wanting tickets for the Choral Union series. The wonderful success of the hotel Prettyman, with its 204 boarders is a mystery to the great crowd of boarding house keepers in Ann Arbor. The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet next Wednesday, November 5th in Hobart hall. All members and friends are requested to be present. D. E. Osborne, the medical missionary in Mongolia, is the happy father of a boy born in June. That boy will have to get naturalized when he comes to this country. Wm. Walsh and Edward Clancy have bought Fred Rettich's saloon on E. Washington st., and have taken possession of the same. Mr. Rettich, whose health is poor, will try and regain the same by a long rest. A bicycle road race will be run to Ypsilanti and return Saturday at 2 p. m. The first prize is a lamp from Wagner & Co., second a gold medal from Lew Clement, third a pair of kid gloves from Jacobs & Co. There was received at the Fruit Works last week about 4,000 bushels of apples, and some 35 hands are steadily employed there yet. The works will make money for the stockholders this year, even though fruit has been extremely scarce. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Webber, who live at Osborne's Mills, where Mr. Webber is employed, have been afflicted by the loss of their two children with diphtheria, within a short time. In their great sorrow they have the deep sympathy of many friends. The Ann Arbor Business Men's Quartette, composed of A. W. Wiley, Dewitt C. Fall, B. St. James, C. E. Mutschel, gave the people of Salem a fine treat at the meeting at that place. Prof. Osband and Col. Dean in a plain and common sense way explained which side the people's bread was buttered on. When Mr. Gorman was here this week there was quite an effort made to create the impression that he was an old soldier, and had lost his arm in the service. This is incorrect, the arm was taken off in a threshing machine, and he never went to war. Better tell the truth gentlemen; fair play is a jewel—Hudson Post. The annual county convention of W. C. T. U. of Washtenaw county will be held in the Congregational church of this city Thursday and Friday, October 30th and 31st. First series at 10 a. m. Thursday. Prof. Hinsdale and Steere will address the audience in the evening. Rev. Mr. Gelston will speak Friday evening. All are cordially invited to attend all the meetings. Sunday night Bishop Andrews of New York delivered the first address of the year before the Wesleyan Guild. The house was crowded and deep attention was paid to his masterly discourse on "Jesus of Nazareth as the Founder of a new Society." The speaker based his argument on the life of Christ and his plan, simple, without ostentation, and to supplement the state, rather than to supplant it. On Saturday last Elmer W., the oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Warren W. Wadhams, died of diphtheria, aged about four years. The affliction of this family is such as to touch the hearts of the community. Mr. and Mrs. Wadhams' remaining child, and Mrs. Wadhams' mother, Mrs. Easton, are all confined to their beds with the same disease. Certainly the hand of sorrow and affliction is being pressed heavily down upon this worthy family, and a sympathy that finds no expression in words goes out to them. The students indulged in a "rush" at the postoffice one evening last week and for a time Uncle Sam's place of business was in possession of a howling mob. It is almost impossible for people who had business with the office to enter. Why are such rough performances allowed?—Saline Observer. Because, in this instance, at least, it only occurred in the mind of the young man who got a penny a line for sending such stuff to the Detroit papers. It is a fair sample of how everything about our student population is exaggerated in the public prints. Rev. S. T. Morris pastor of the Congregational church, Dexter, was ordained yesterday. The examination was an unusually excellent one, and the board passed the candidate unanimously. The members of the board of examiners consisted of the following ministers: Revs. Fisk and Robblee, of Jackson; Bradshaw and Colwell, of Ann Arbor; Claffin, of Ovid; Bailey, of Chelsea; Thurston, of Pinckney, and Lincoln, of Webster. The ordination sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Fisk, of Jackson, and the audience was a very large one. When a subscription paper is passed around in the city for any worthy object there is never any question whether J. T. Jacobs will put down his name. A little incident a few months ago expressed it exactly. One of our business men was soliciting subscriptions for a poor man who had been unfortunate, and Mr. Jacobs was out of the city. The solicitor wondered if Mr. Jacobs would give anything if here, and a friend standing by remarked: "You put down Mr. Jacobs' name for just as much as any man on your list, and I will guarantee the payment of it." It was done and the subscription was paid cheerfully. Don't you think he is a pretty good kind of a man to vote for? The rink was crowded full of people last Friday evening to listen to Senator Stockbridge and Representative Burrows in a discussion of the political issues of the day. Senator Stockbridge was first introduced by Mr. J. E. Beal, and made a short resume of the work of the last congress. He told how the party pledges had been kept and how the past congress had accomplished more work than any similar body for many years. Congressman Burrows took up the tariff stand. If that speech could be listened to by every voter in this county, old Washtenaw would wheel into the republican column next Tuesday by an overwhelming majority.

UNIVERSITY. The '92 ladies are organizing a champion foot ball team. The Choral Union now has 230 members, the extreme limit. The tug of war between the Freshman and Sophomore will take place Nov. 8. The Albions were defeated Saturday by the U. of M. rugby team, by a score of 16 to 0. The University library has received an importation of 400 volumes of valuable books from Germany. The university has purchased the Lawrence property on State street, to be used for athletic purposes. This is an important act, and one that will be gladly learned. The Student's Lecture Association tickets have arrived, and are now on sale at Moore & Taber's on State st., and at the post office news depot. Secure one early. The new lectureship on dermatology with a clinic occurs Tuesday at 10:30. Interesting cases come before the class and with all the other clinics is increasing rapidly in work. The Beta Theta Pi Club of Michigan has been organized with a capital stock of $30,000 for buying land and building a fraternity house. The directors are Julius E. Beal, J. J. Goodyear, J. H. Tafts, F. L. Parker, Ann Arbor, Wm. A. Moore and Levi T. Griffin of Detroit and John H. Grant of Manistee. The Palladium prizes, which will be announced next week are as follows: Full page design, 1st prize, $10; 2nd prize, $10. This design may be for title page, fraternity page, college organizations or for any department. Song, $10; poem $10. These prizes are open to alumni and undergraduates, of all the departments of the university and it is hoped that a large number will compete for them. Prof. Walter Stanley and Kelsey have consented to act as judges upon the literary productions. Competition will be open until Jan. 7, 1891.—Chronicle-Argonaut. The City Salted Again. The Board of Supervisors have done this year what they have done regularly now for several years, and heaped more taxes upon Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti and taken it off the townships, though in this instance a little more modest than usual. If a year happens to roll around, in which they do not do this thing, there will be strong hopes of the millennium. The first of the series of concerts to be given by the Choral Union will occur on Saturday evening, Nov. 1st, at University hall, and will be given by Miss Adele Aus der Ohe, one of the most extraordinary pianists in the world. Our music loving people remember her entertainment last season with pleasure. Aiden Benedict's dramatization of "The Vendetta," entitled "Fabi Romani," was presented at the Academy of Music Sunday afternoon and will be the attraction during the week. It has the elements of great interest. Walter Lawrence, as Fabi Romani and Conte Cesare Oliva "a man of mystery," was very good. Miss Frances Field's Nina was remarkably well done. She is an actress whose talent would rank among the best. Good work was done by Charles L. Farwell, as Respetta, the rag-picker. Miss Addie Farwell did very creditably acting in the role of Mother Biscardi, an old hag. Mr. Benedict is entitled to a great deal of credit for constructing an interesting play from so horrible a story. The house was packed to the doors, and hundreds turned away at night.—Chicago Herald. We give below the programme for the first concert in the Choral Union series, Saturday, Nov. 1, 8 p. m. sharp, University hall: 1. Sonate C major, Op. 53..... Beethoven 2. Song..... Liszt 3. Nocturne B major, Op. 99..... Chopin 4. Valse A flat, Op. 42..... Liszt 5. Meditation..... Wadhams 6. Fantasia C major..... Schubert 7. Autumnal Gale..... Grieg 8. Nocturne..... Liszt 9. Don Juan Fantasia..... Liszt 10. Miss Adele Aus der Ohe..... Pianiste 11. Mary Boney..... Contralto 12. Contralto 13. Contralto 14. Contralto 15. Contralto Aiden Benedict's "Fabi Romani" "a great romantic, spectacular drama," commenced a week at the Academy Sunday afternoon. The story is similar to "Monte Christo." A return from the tomb, a murder, a duel, and an earthquake contribute toward animated action, and villainy is operated at high pressure. Walter Lawrence played the title role in an excellent manner. The part of Nina, the unfaithful wife, proved to be an anomaly in melodrama, in that it was made consistent to the last. Miss Frances Field assumed the character and handled it with great intelligence, making it the most prominent part of the cast. The scenery was quite good. A large audience was present, and greatly enjoyed the performance. The business has qualified the capacity of the house.—Chicago Times. Organ Recital by Prof. A. A. Stanley, assisted by Miss Ethel Fountain, at Unity Club, Unitarian church, Friday evening, Oct. 31st. Regular admission ten cents. The following is the program: Fantasia in C Major..... Tours Andante Con Moto..... Balkin (b) Sortie..... Baliste (c) Offertoire..... Grison (d) The Harbor Bar..... Salomon, Dolley (e) Bridal Song..... Tensen (f) Meditation..... Malmgre (g) Offertoire..... Satone Vocal "Time Eyes so Blue," Edward Lassen (h) Andante from G Minor Sonata..... Merkel (i) Wedding Music..... West (j) Nocturne..... Chopin (k) March in B Flat..... Silas Overton (l) Bonded Slave..... Suppe The Choral Union expect to have two concerts given by the great Boston Symphony orchestra. Paul G. Mehlin. Think of it, $4,000 worth of concerts for $2.00. New York Tribune: Because prices of many articles higher than a month ago or a year ago it is falsely alleged that the new tariff is making necessities of life more costly. The assertion has not even a grain of excuse in facts, though it is true that some dishonest and shortsighted dealers are taking advantage of popular ignorance, and marking up prices of goods which the tariff does not touch. In the least, using that measure as their pretext. Consumers can punish this extortion, if they choose, by transferring their trade to merchants who are more honest. That they have some right to guide them, a brief review of prices may be timely. Breadstuffs are higher than a month ago and the reason which controls the trade is found in the official report of the Department of Agriculture, showing that the frosts of last winter and the drought last summer caused a loss of about 30,000,000 bushels of wheat, about a fifth of the corn crop and about 200,000,000 bushels of oats. The tariff did not cause either the frosts or the drought, nor has it caused the recent decline in some vegetables, and in cattle. With a short crop of corn, hog products are naturally higher, but the supply of hogs has been so large that the effect is as yet but little felt. Sugar, lard and rice cost just what they did a month ago, and are quoted as a little lower. On the whole, farm products are much dearer than usual, but owing to causes with which as yet the tariff has nothing to do. Cotton is a little lower than a month ago while print cloths, sheetings, and other cotton fabrics have not changed in price. Wool is a shade higher, on many grades about 1 cent per pound, but no change has yet been made in prices of woolen goods of domestic make, and if higher prices are by any body charged for imported wools it is in goods which were imported at the old rate of duties, so that an advance in price is simply taking advantage of customers. Carpets and linoleum are quoted just as they were a month ago, and also boots and shoes, but in the latter a moderate advance was made some time before the tariff passed, on account of the higher prices of hides and leather. Since the act has passed hides have not changed at all and leather is a little lower. There has been no change in iron or steel, or any of their important products since the new bill passed. Tin plates were advanced about a month before the act passed by heavy buying abroad in order to import into this country, though most tin duty does not take effect until July 1, 1891. Tin in active in speculation though the new law makes no change for three years in the duty, and copper has not changed in price. Lead and products of lead advanced sharply before September, because of the act. Lumber and brick are lower than a month ago, and lime, lat, glass, paints and paper are unchanged. The truth is that the new tariff does not enhance the cost of a single necessary of life, but reduces the duties on many. If higher prices are charged by dealers for any necessary of life, and the tariff is mentioned as an excuse, the customer may know that he is being cheated and can find more honest traders who make no such excuse. The cost of living has indeed been enhanced by the partial failure of important crops, and the effect of that serious loss is not yet fully felt perhaps. But there is no manufactured product, in any measure a necessary of life, the cost of which has up to this time been affected in the least by the tariff. The political tricksters who pretend the contrary need the merited correction of defeat in November. Tickets for Choral Union series $2.00. GOOD MEN WANT GOOD ROADS.

Let us see prominent people on improvement of Highways.

Letters were sent out not long ago from New York by Mr. Isaac B. Potter to some of the prominent men of the country on the subject of road improvement. Following are extracts from a few of the many replies received, and show how great is the interest now felt in this important matter by representative men:

Hon. John M. Thayer, governor of Nebraska: I am heartily in favor of any movement which may lead to the improvement of our highways, and hope that your efforts in that direction may meet with success.

Hon. L. Bradford Pringle, governor of Missouri: I will be glad to co-operate in any project of road improvement.

Hon. James A. Beaver, governor of Pennsylvania: Our last legislature authorized the appointment of a committee to investigate the subject and report to the next legislature. I hope some practical plan will be recommended, and my commission is in the main a good one, and will, I think, agree upon some common sense, practical basis for road improvement.

Hon. George W. McBride, secretary of the state of Oregon: As good roads are the best safeguard of our country civilization, better roads in our country will be evidence of progress and improvement which every good citizen should desire. There is no tax which yields such good results for the investment as a road tax carefully expended.

Hon. F. J. Fleming, governor of Florida: I am thoroughly in sympathy with any movement which will improve our public highways and give the people better roads. I called the attention of the last legislature especially to this subject in my last message to them, and I shall repeat it in my next message.

Hon. J. F. H. lieutenant governor of Kansas: Shall be only too glad to heartily co-operate for better roads. Kansas is noted for good natural highways, but there is plenty of room for improvement.

Hon. S. E. Merwin, lieutenant governor of Iowa: I can readily see the cause you represent is a growing one, and will demand more attention in the near future.

Hon. Charles E. Laughton, lieutenant governor of Washington: We are a new state, and it will necessarily be a long time before we can expect to have roads to bring our roads up to the standard of the eastern perfected highways, but I assure you that I will extend my hearty co-operation in any plan to bring about this result.

Hon. George L. Shoup, governor of Idaho: I am heartily in sympathy with your suggestions in regard to the improvement of highways.

Hon. A. A. Lesueur, secretary of state of Missouri: Allow me to express myself as being in hearty accord with any organized effort for the bettering of the condition of our public highways.

Hon. W. E. Woodruff, treasurer of Arkansas: The subject is one in which for a long time I have taken great interest, and may be able to forward in this state in the near future.

Hon. T. E. Burton, member of congress from Ohio: You may count upon me for any influence which I may possess to improve our roadways to a standard more nearly equal to those of Europe and more worthy of our own country.

Hon. Charles S. Randall, member of congress from Massachusetts: You can count upon me for any co-operation in any way and at any time when I can be of service.

Hon. Henry Stockbridge, member of congress from Maryland: I have taken so much interest in the matter of better roads for years, and should be considered a crank on the subject.

W. B. Roberts, private secretary to Governor Hovey, of Indiana: Governor Hovey directs me to state that he cordially indorses all you have to say in behalf of the improvement of our public highways, and that he will do all in his power to collect data on this subject to present to our next general assembly with a view of effecting a radical change in our present road laws.

Hon. W. E. Simonds, member of congress from Connecticut: I am greatly interested in the improvement of our roads.

Hon. J. W. Covert, member of congress from Long Island: The question of improved roads is now the subject of earnest discussion in the western part of my district (Long Island), and I shall be most glad to have anything that has been or may be issued by your association bearing upon the subject. I am most thoroughly in accord with the important work.

Hon. Robert M. LaFollette, member of congress from Wisconsin, of the committee on roads and canals, has been most glad to have anything that has been or may be issued by your association bearing upon the subject. I am most thoroughly in accord with the important work.

Hon. Seth L. Milliken, member of congress from Maine, chairman of committee on public buildings and grounds, Washington, D. C.: I am in favor of improving all roads in this country.

Hon. I. Estabrook, superintendent of public instruction, Michigan: I am in most hearty accord with the movement and anxious to see a vigorous movement in our own state.

Hon. D. B. Henderson, member of congress from Iowa: Having spent the first twenty-five years of my life in farming, and been on the road more or less ever since, I think I can appreciate the importance of anything that will bring about a good system of highways.

Hon. C. A. Campbell, United States district attorney, Cheyenne, Wyo.: I am in full sympathy with the undertaking, and in my own way will do all in my power to aid you and your association.

What is the Use?

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to get the public, and who offer to sell reliable medicine like Salsaparilla? I think so, as they cured me of Catarrh after suffering three years.

By malarial disease, the human machinery cannot perform properly, being a certain amount of blood, digestion, secretion, evacuation are disordered, the blood becomes watery, the nerves feebly, the complexion sallow, sleep disturbed, and appetite capricious. Terrible is this disease, and its consequences. There is, however, a known antidote to the malarial poison, and a certain remedy against it. In malarial disease, as well as in the various diseases of the stomach, bowels, and bladder, the source exists, this imitable preparation, known as "Carter's Little Liver Pills," has during the last thirty-five years, been a constant and reliable remedy for biliousness, liver complaint, dyspepsia, constipation, kidney troubles, and general debility are all remedied by it.

Hon. George W. McBride, secretary of the state of Oregon: As good roads are the best safeguard of our country civilization, better roads in our country will be evidence of progress and improvement which every good citizen should desire. There is no tax which yields such good results for the investment as a road tax carefully expended.

Hon. F. J. Fleming, governor of Florida: I am thoroughly in sympathy with any movement which will improve our public highways and give the people better roads. I called the attention of the last legislature especially to this subject in my last message to them, and I shall repeat it in my next message.

Hon. J. F. H. lieutenant governor of Kansas: Shall be only too glad to heartily co-operate for better roads. Kansas is noted for good natural highways, but there is plenty of room for improvement.

Hon. S. E. Merwin, lieutenant governor of Iowa: I can readily see the cause you represent is a growing one, and will demand more attention in the near future.

Hon. Charles E. Laughton, lieutenant governor of Washington: We are a new state, and it will necessarily be a long time before we can expect to have roads to bring our roads up to the standard of the eastern perfected highways, but I assure you that I will extend my hearty co-operation in any plan to bring about this result.

Hon. George L. Shoup, governor of Idaho: I am heartily in sympathy with your suggestions in regard to the improvement of highways.

Hon. A. A. Lesueur, secretary of state of Missouri: Allow me to express myself as being in hearty accord with any organized
