OUR RETRACTION.

In one of his characteristic productions, Mr. P. G. Sweeney demands the retraction of the term "Anarchist" which he claims was recently applied to him in these columns...

Webster defines "an anarchist" as "one who promotes disorder in a state." This you have attempted to do and in a measure have done, during your entire sojourn here...

The Detroit clarity which turned thousands of dollars into the homes of its needy ones and at the same time gratified the love of the beautiful of a host of Michigan citizens, meets for you words of derision only.

You mock at our courts. The worst criticism which can be made in reference to them is that they are too often cursed with ignorant juries, sometimes with the anomaly of jurors who cannot speak the language of the country...

The democrats need not hug any great delusion to their hearts. They have not increased their vote in a precinct in the state. There has been no change in sentiment, but merely apathy in republican ranks.

The editor of the COURIER has not been a candidate for office this year, and yet the Argus has treated him as if he was personally upon the ticket...

The thousands of friends of Hon. Rossell G. Hor will be rejoiced to learn that he has been tendered and accepted a lucrative position upon the editorial staff of the New York Tribune.

France pays annually $6,000,000, Italy, Austria and Spain each about $2,000,000 in subsidies to their steamship lines.

Would it be wise for the present congress to reconsider its action on the McKinley bill and adopt a free trade bill giving it immediate effect, and so give the people of this country a good dose of the medicine they evidently want?

The editor of the Hausfreund devotes several columns to the editor of the COURIER, and demands a retraction of the statement that "he is an Anarchist."

Capt. Allen may retire to his farm in Sharon, and be relieved from making appointments or striving to keep opposing promises—Argus.

The Argus man can retire with the pleasing(?) fact imbedded in his head that as a kicker he is not a success. That he hasn't quite got his party in his breeches pocket, and that hereafter, it will make little difference to democratic candidates whether they have the support of the Argus or not.

When it was proposed to establish a large factory in this city a few years ago, certain residents here said that they objected to it; that they would be sorry to see upon their streets mornings and nights workmen with their dinner pails going to and from their work; that it would degrade our city.

There need be no division in the democratic ranks in Washington. Mr. Brown and Mr. Latham will have the hearty support of the Argus during their term of office, in so far as they make good officers; and as we said before we believe Mr. Brown will make a very efficient clerk—Argus.

These wise gentlemen will no doubt be very grateful for this. And will bring in a subservient manner to the hand that smote them in the days of their need. If a candidate should ever feel grateful, it is for such flattering assurances after he has won the battle for himself in spite of his enemies.

You can have fuller sweep? We would suggest a residence for you not among Germans. Your love for them is all hypocrisy. Had Mr. Liesmer been given the nomination for Congress, that nomination would have been equivalent to an election, as matters have turned. You, of all the editors of German papers of the state refused assistance. In fact, you did your utmost in opposition because you could not control Mr. Liesmer. Love for Germans and for their interests was thrown to the dogs. Your real Italian character came to the light when you stabled Liesmer in the back. We therefore recommend you to somewhere join your countrymen, the dagos or macaronis.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In Dundee township, Monroe county, Capt. Allen ran ahead of his ticket.

The outcome in this congressional district proves that mouth is mightier than meat.

To be consistent the democrats should elect Mr. Crisp, of Georgia, as speaker of the next house.

Why such silence all at once about the marking up of prices because of the McKinley bill?

If this country ever adopts the English idea of free trade, salaries will be one of the cheapest things in America.

The Argus very modestly announces that it is not entirely its fault that the democrats did so well in this county.

Hurray for California and Ohio! Two blessed good states! May they live long and prosper in their republican faith.

From 1837 to 1840 free trade England paid English steamship lines in subsidies $272,000,000! That is her idea of free trade.

The old soldiers who kicked because things did not go just to suit them will probably get a per dem pension bill from the next congress.

There will be but three republican representatives in the next house from the southern states. The south is indeed in the saddle again.

The COURIER certainly hopes that the people who defeated Mr. Allen will be able to point with pride to the person whom they have elected.

Is there a republican who assisted the enemy in securing the defeat of his party at the late election who can look at the result and congratulate himself?

This district will have reason to feel proud of its new congressman, James S. Gorman. He is a man who will come to the front—Argus.

There will be no danger about that if he is asked up.

Now that election is over the democrats will probably call off their tin war peddlers. The people have learned a lesson from them that they will remember a long time.

Allow us to suggest Kilgore, of Texas, as chairman of the committee on pensions. He is enough of a kicker to suit the kickers. His appointment would be quite appropriate.

Will the democrats in the next congress adopt Mr. Reed's business method? How can they pattern after the Czar? But they will. They have always followed in the republican path.

The democrats need not hug any great delusion to their hearts. They have not increased their vote in a precinct in the state. There has been no change in sentiment, but merely apathy in republican ranks.

The McKinley bill has not been knocked out by the election, and its provisions will be thoroughly tried before its enemies can possibly reach it. When the people find out how it works they will be entirely satisfied with it.

The democrats in this locality are already talking about unseating republican members who have been elected to the next national house by small pluralities. It is not necessary. The party has a sufficient majority already to hang itself.

The thousands of friends of Hon. Rossell G. Hor will be rejoiced to learn that he has been tendered and accepted a lucrative position upon the editorial staff of the New York Tribune. It is all the more pleasing from the fact that it came to him unsolicited.

France pays annually $6,000,000, Italy, Austria and Spain each about $2,000,000 in subsidies to their steamship lines. While the U. S. government paid the great California, China and Australia line the barge line of $1,875. That is why American shipping does not prosper.

Would it be wise for the present congress to reconsider its action on the McKinley bill and adopt a free trade bill giving it immediate effect, and so give the people of this country a good dose of the medicine they evidently want? Two years of "tariff for revenue" would be a corker.

The editor of the Hausfreund devotes several columns to the editor of the COURIER, and demands a retraction of the statement that "he is an Anarchist." We feel he will stand before his own picture, and while looking at his own picture swear he is not an Anarchist, we will take back what we did say.

Capt. Allen may retire to his farm in Sharon, and be relieved from making appointments or striving to keep opposing promises—Argus.

The Argus man can retire with the pleasing(?) fact imbedded in his head that as a kicker he is not a success. That he hasn't quite got his party in his breeches pocket, and that hereafter, it will make little difference to democratic candidates whether they have the support of the Argus or not.

Table with multiple columns listing names and numbers, likely a directory or election results table.

The fight over Senator Quay in Pennsylvania lost the republicans five congressmen. Was that the McKinley bill my democratic friend?

The gerrymandering of Ohio, Kentucky, Maryland and Tennessee, by the democrats lost to the republicans eleven congressmen. Was that the McKinley bill?

The fight over the Bennett law in Wisconsin, carried into Illinois, cost the republicans six seats in congress. Was the McKinley bill to blame my dear democratic brother?

Maj. McKinley only lacked about 200 votes of being elected in a district outrageously gerrymandered into a district with over 3,000 democratic majority. Was that the McKinley bill, my democratic friend?

The Evening News says there was great rejoicing in England over the result of the late elections in America. Certainly. Why shouldn't there be? The result was exactly what England wants. And her jubilee meetings are quite as numerous and much better attended than the democratic jubilee meetings here.

No man was ever nominated upon the republican ticket who did not receive the full, complete and hearty support of this paper. The COURIER never has been a kicker, and is proud of its record as a staunch and earnest defender of republican principles and the policy of protection to American industries and the American laborer.

The editor of the COURIER has not been a candidate for office this year, and yet the Argus has treated him as if he was personally upon the ticket. On two occasions communications have been admitted to its columns attacking in a personal and vindictive manner, neither of which were in any way called for, but whose author went far out of his way in an attempt to pour out his wrath on our head. Editorial courtesy has kept from these columns attacks upon the Argus man as an official. Personal attacks we will not allow against any one.

The Argus talks about the necessity of the republicans nominating decent and "respectable" candidates. The portion of the democratic ticket that the Argus did endorse, included some candidates that common report did not place on a very high plane of morality or decency, and yet that paper appeared to be especially zealous in their behalf. The public will be pleased to learn that paper's idea of decency and respectability in candidates. Chris. Jacobs, under indictment for bootlegging, supported for a reelection by the Detroit Free Press, against whom no democratic paper in the state has raised a whisper, is probably the Argus' ideal of a decent candidate.

The run of J. T. Jacobs for representative in the state legislature in this district when we take everything into consideration, was something phenomenal. This district gave Winans for governor a 919 majority, and Mr. Jacobs is beaten by only fifty votes. Had the year not been one of the land slide years Mr. Jacobs would have had at least 500 majority. Considering that his opponent is a farmer, and a genial man who makes strong friendships with his class of people, and that this year of all other years the farmers appear to have manifested their discontent with business men and business methods, Mr. Jacobs can well feel proud of the result.

It may be of interest to some republicans to know that Capt. Allen for congress received in this county 112 more votes than the republican candidate for coroner, on which there was no cutting. He also runs fifty votes ahead of Cahill for justice, and Berry for commissioner of the State Land Office, both on the state ticket and on which offices there was little or no cutting. The fact that Mr. Allen ran ahead of his ticket from 50 to 100 votes in this county where numerous kickers in his own party attempted to swamp him, will not be such a pleasant prospect for them to smoke as it might be. About the only consolation we see for them is to take upon themselves the glory(?) of the defeat of the entire republican ticket.

Washington and Oregon. This new empire of the North West is attracting universal attention and the reason for this is the almost unlimited resources that have recently been opened, and the surprising growth of this region.

Large agricultural areas, vast forests, immense deposits of precious metals are to be found in Oregon and Washington, and by reason of the varied natural resources of the country this section offers unequalled opportunities for the investment of capital and location of industries that are not surpassed by the older sections of the United States. The UNION PACIFIC on account of its fast time, through Pullman Sleepers and dining cars, FREE Reclining Chair cars and FREE Coal Stoppers from the Missouri River, is conceded to be the favorite route for persons going to either Washington or Oregon.

For the purpose of fully descriptive of the above named states, or for rates, time of travel or any information pertaining to the UNION PACIFIC call on or address your nearest ticket agent or the undersigned, who will most cheerfully furnish any information that may be desired. LOCAL.

There are several candidates for the reform school in this city.

J. T. Jacob's Camp, No. 90, S. of V. has received a case of arms for their use.

The city treasurer reports an overdraft of $1,457.50. About the same as last year at this time.

Misses Banghart, Gertrude Hamilton and Fanny Groves were appointed cadet teachers at the school board meeting last night.

George Crane, the painter so badly hurt by falling from a scaffold ten days ago, is out of danger and will probably recover.

The heavy of tough lads who make the postoffice corridors a loafing place are liable to get themselves in trouble if they are not careful.

There are numbers of young men who ride upon the street cars without dropping a nickel in the slot and then brag about it afterwards.

If you have any friends buried in the old cemetery, it would be well for you to communicate with City Clerk Bach, relative to their removal.

The city marshal reported 13 arrests during October, 8 for violating city ordinances, 4 for being drunk, and 1 for assault with intent to commit murder.

George Jewell was attacked by robbers on the campus Saturday night and robbed of what money he had with him. Police protection is needed in that section.

It is now proposed by the Board of Public Works to fix the south side of W. Huron street, at the crossing of Allen's creek, the same as it has been fixed on the north side. A commendable thing to do.

Remember the Baldwin lectures before the Hobart Guild, to be delivered by Bishop Garret, of Northern Texas, commencing at St. Andrew's church Sunday evening, Nov. 23rd.

At the Unity Club, Monday evening, Nov. 17th, Prof. P. C. Frier, will read a paper on "The Periodic System of the Elements." Miss Zella Hurd will read some select readings, and Miss Lucy Cole will sing some favorite Irish melodies.

Rev. Mr. Sunderland will preach next Sunday morning upon "Universalism," giving a short sketch of its history and relations to Unitarianism. In the evening Mrs. Sunderland will preach upon "What Jesus has Done for the World." Subject in students' bible class "The Story of the Flood."

There are a lot of saucy hoodlums hanging about the stores on State street evenings, smoking, swearing, interfering with the street cars, and behaving in a disgraceful manner generally. They ought to be hauled up for their evil deeds. The council ought to furnish a police officer for State street.

Sneak thieves are numerous just now, and people will do well to keep their hall doors closed. Within the last week over ten overcoats have been stolen from halls, and on Saturday evening a sealskin was stolen from No. 38 Division street. Monday evening some overcoats were taken from Mr. Prettymann's house on N. University ave.

The jewelry store of Wm. Arnold on S. Main st. was entered by burglars last Saturday night, and they filleted a valise with valuable articles, but in their haste to get away left the same in the alley to the rear of the store, falling to seal an eight foot fence with it. A burglar alarm attached to a door in the store awoke Mr. Arnold, and when he struck a light the burglars lit out. It was a close call for both Mr. Arnold and the burglars.

The Poley Guild are to give a dancing party at the Armory Friday evening.

Mrs. Mary A. Livermore is to be in Ann Arbor to lecture before the Unity Club on Nov. 22nd.

The new chancel at St. Andrew's church progresses slowly. Services were held in the chapel last Sunday.

A number of our democratic friends went to Manchester last evening to help paint that town a democratic red.

Al. Dodsley and Llewellyn Pond, two Ann Arbor boys, are now with the Standard Oil Co., at Fargo, N. Dakota.

The late Kendall Kittredge carried about $8,000 life insurance, $3,000 of which was paid by the Royal Arcanum last week.

Mr. Mamie, section foreman, whom Dr. Darling performed a very difficult operation upon for hernia, is recovering slowly.

Henry D. Morrithew, formerly of this city, was elected prosecuting attorney of Oscoda county on the democratic ticket at the recent election.

The secret of Mr. Brown's influence with the colored voters has leaked out. Michael (J.) Brenner says it is because of his name.

We wish again to call the attention of our readers to the lecture which will be given at University Hall, on Saturday night of this week by Rev. Robert Nourse.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Mironey surprised them Monday evening, at their house, that being the tenth anniversary of their marriage. It was a pleasant occasion.

There are 504 pensioners in Washtenaw county. With Kilgore, of Texas, at the head of the pension committee, (as he should in justice be) the list will probably be doubled.

Dr. Buckley, editor of the Christian Advocate in New York delivered a strong evidence Sunday evening before the Wesleyan Guild on Reason and Religion, to a crowded house.

The COURIER is not the kind of a republican paper which is circulated by democratic candidates for office, for it does not give comfort to the enemy while pretending to be republican.

The square contradiction between the advertising columns and the free trade editorials of the democratic papers is one of the funniest things in contemporaneous journalism—Chelsea Herald.

A handsome bouquet of flowers, consisting of pink, sweet mignonette, candy-tuft, larkspur, doubled daisies, carnations, and English Marigolds was picked from our garden Nov. 10th. Quite a record for November.

Two men while walking along the west side of N. Main street last Friday evening, were precipitated into the cellar by the giving away of a trap door in front of the old A. R. Hall bakery. As good luck would have it neither were injured, but it was a narrow escape.

On and after January 1st next the COURIER will be changed to an eight page paper. To any person subscribing now and paying $1 in advance the paper will be sent until January 1st 1892. Remember this is the only republican paper in Ann Arbor. $1 from now to Jan. 1st 1892.

The Ann Arbor stockholders of the A. A. & Y. street railway are J. T. Jacobs, C. E. Hiseock, Geo. F. Allmendinger, H. T. Morton, F. A. Howlett, W. B. Smith, T. J. Keech, J. L. Rose, A. L. Noble, M. J. Fritz, W. D. Harriman, J. H. Wade, B. E. Thompson, C. G. Taylor and J. E. Beal.

The Michigan Furniture Co. and George Visel have been ordered to build a sidewalk on their property on the east side of Fourth st., and the following persons on S. University ave. will also have to build a walk: H. T. Morton, Wm. Biggs, Mrs. Julia G. Taylor, W. W. Whedon, J. T. Jacobs, O. O. Sorg, T. F. Hill.

Mayor Manly sent a communication to the council last Monday evening recommending that the council provide a uniform police force of sufficient number to protect our citizens against the destruction of their property by lawless persons, and to ferret out the sneak thieves who are infesting the city just at present. Good suggestion.

Adolph Kemper, through his attorney, John F. Lawrence, asks the council to pay him $1,000 which amount he claims the grading of N. Fourth ave. has damaged his property. The grading of the hill at the north end of this street has left his lot up so high that there can be no ingress or egress by team. If he is successful several more will follow.

George Parker, for several years a compositor in this office, was married yesterday morning, at St. Thomas church, Rev. Fr. Fierle officiating, the bride being Miss Mary McDonald, of this city.

In this new life upon which George and his bride now enter they will find many friends to help them along the journey, and the best wishes of the entire COURIER force are and always will be with them.

The Scotch entertainment before the Unity Club last Monday evening was very interesting. Mrs. Sunderland gave an account of her recent visit to the home of Sir Walter Scott and the land of Robbie Burns, which was illustrated by stereoscopic views of the scenes she saw. Andrew Campbell read several selections from Scotch poets with a fine Scotch pronunciation and Miss Armstrong sang in a very sweet manner several Scotch songs.

The democrats had a great blow out last Saturday night. About 150 boys, preceded by the Ann Arbor City band, interlarded with a few voters paraded around the streets with torches, displaying an amount of patriotic enthusiasm rarely, if ever before equaled on this continent. After marching up on State street and then down again, the crowd went to the opera house to listen to the reasons given by Mr. Gorman, Capt. Manly, and others, for their little surprise party on the Tuesday previous. They all seemed to enjoy it.

The concert given by Gilmore's band last Friday afternoon, was very fine indeed. It gave a better satisfaction than the most concerts from the fact that the selections rendered were largely popular airs and United States music. The players were faithful in their execution, and the popular heart was touched by several airs rendered. The enthusiastic young southern element was brought out by "Dixie," which would not have been very bad had not the cheers for "Yankee Doodle," which followed, been hissed by them. A fact which does not speak very well for an audience in any loyal state.

It cost the city $100.83 to care for its poor during October.

The Western Union's business has so increased in this city that it has become necessary to put on another messenger, and telegrams by this company are now delivered free to any part of the city.

By order of President Harrison Thursday Nov. 27th will be observed as Thanksgiving. The democrats will have qual on toast this year if it is against the law. Republicans will take plain roast beef, and thank the Lord that they have even that. With two or three years of democratic free trade we would all be satisfied with raw potatoes and no meat at all.

Miss Eliza Collar, a lady about 50 years of age, who lives at 34 S. Ingalls st., while walking along S. University st. on the evening of Sept. 4th, fell at the corner of S. Ingalls st. and broke her limb near the high joint. Now, through her attorney, D. Cramer, she presents a claim for damages to the city council, alleging that the cross walk at the corner where she fell was defective, and that the light at that corner was not lit that evening. Amount of damages asked, not stated.

We understand that candidates for official positions under Gov. Winans are numerous herabouts. For instance, the following are talked about: Capt. C. H. Manly for Superintendent of the soldier's Home; E. B. Pond for warden of the State prison at Jackson; Frank E. Mills for State Oil Inspector; E. B. Norris for deputy auditor general; James R. Bach for State Insurance Commissioner; Capt. J. H. Schuh has not yet chosen his office, but will be there all right, and is deserving too. Chas. H. Kline private secretary to the governor; Capt. E. J. Sumner, commissioner of the Blind school; and so on, with several precincts to hear from. Since the above was in type the following candidates for state oil inspector have developed: Thos. D. Kearney, Ann Arbor; Paul G. Suckey, Henry Paul, Pittsfield; Henry Stumpfenhausen, Lester Yost, Walter Hawkins, C. A. Nims and Ed. King, of Ypsilanti.

Last evening as the usual lines were formed at the postoffice to receive the evening mail one young man attempted to bring on a rush and was immediately arrested by Chief of Police Murray and taken to jail. This of course raised an excitement among the boys and they went to the jail and made some demonstrations to which the officers took exceptions, and more arrests followed, seven in all, including one town-boy. Mayor Manly appeared on the scene and commanded the crowd to disperse, which it did. Had the boys not been too demagogic the officers say that the first man arrested would have been released without further trouble. The deportment of the mass of students who come to the postoffice for their mail evenings has been excellent this year, and with one or two exceptions there has been no attempt at rushing. But of course in such a crowd one or two mischief loving or evil disposed persons can soon make serious trouble, and when they do attempt wrong doing they should be promptly suppressed.

The Late Thos. F. Hill.

The people of this city were shocked last Saturday to learn of the sudden death of Thos. Fox Hill, with apoplexy, at his home on S. Division street. Mr. Hill had been about town during the forenoon in his usual health apparently, and had returned home, and while waiting for the noon meal he was taken ill and expired in almost a moment.

The deceased was born at Charlemon, Mass., on July 18, 1818, and was consequently 72 years of age, though he did not look to be much past fifty. He came west in 1840, but returned east again, and finally made Michigan his home in 1849. Mr. Hill had been engaged in the lumber and other business in this state in an early day, but of late years had followed no particular occupation except the management of his estate and that of the late Mrs. Risdon.

He had been twice married, but leaves but one child Mrs. Ella Hill Kingsley, wife of George Kingsley, of Paolo, Kansas.

He leaves a devoted wife, with whom life for the past few years had been a continual source of happiness, and in her great loss, she will have the deep sympathy of a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Hill was made a master mason in this city in 1864, and a Royal Arch mason the same year. He was made a member of Ann Arbor Commandery in 1865, being one of the oldest Knights in the organization at the time of his death.

His funeral was attended yesterday p. m. from the family residence on S. Division street, and under the auspices of the Commandery. Over sixty Sir Knights were in line, and about the same number of blue lodge members representing Golden Rule and Fraternity Lodges, the former of which he was a member.

The deceased was an excellent man, a peaceful, law abiding citizen, a warm-hearted genial friend, an exemplary mason, and a Sir Knight whom each and every companion turned to as a true brother in every sense of the word. He will be missed from our ranks, and it will be many a day before any one will take just the place that Mr. Hill filled. Peace be to his ashes.

How He Fell.

A prominent republican was met by a prominent democrat on the street a couple of days after election and the democrat commenced eulogizing him on the results, ending with:

"Well, how do you feel, anyway?" "Well," answered the republican, "I will tell you how I feel. I feel very much as did Lazarus, of old."

"As Lazarus? how was that?" "Why, as if I had been licked by dogs." The conversation ended there.
