Did all the congressmen get home in time to vote?

The people have spoken. Do you hear it Mr. President?

The McKinley bill seems to be all right in Ohio.—Howard City Record.

Gov. Rich has been made president of the National Wool Grower's Association.

The democrats have one consolation: Kentucky remains true to the Bourbons.

It is just possible that the old soldiers had a hand in the verdict of Nov. 7th.

The very latest is a Pingree smile. It is a good one, and visible at a great distance.

Will Attorney General Ellis bring any more suits, "Just to please the boys," do you think?

"The voice of Ohio will be the voice of the nation," said Larry Neal. Do you catch on?—Dundee Ledger.

Johnny Reb is on top for two years more but the Union soldiers were heard from last Tuesday.—Cassopolis Vigilant.

Jim Stocum of the Holly Advertiser, is advertising for eight cats. Must be he is running a rat office.—Fenton Independent.

The increase of schools in every country has generally been attended by a decrease of crime.—Cedar Springs Clipper.

The candidates who were supported by the Detroit Free Press have the sympathy of their fellow citizens. That appears to be all such candidates ever receive.

It was a mistake that all "the people" were for Pingree at the recent election in Detroit. The Considine gang to a man, supported his opponent, Godfrey.

The World's Fair is to disappear like a vision. This befits its rapid rise, like a scene from fairy land, in obedience to wizard enterprise.—Lelanau Enterprise.

After Mr. Cleveland has restored Queen Lili to her throne, he better restore that other iniquity, shut out by public sentiment, the Louisiana lottery. They are both of the same stamp.

"Be jabbers," said Pat, "yez fellers can laugh now, but we'll have a spical sission of congress and repeal the election hild Tuesday and then yez won't feel so funny."—Hillsdale Leader.

The "united democracy, of Detroit," as the Free Press was pleased to term the capitalistic opposition to Mayor Pingree, does not seem to be very powerful. It is "not in it," so to speak.

The Hill machine in New York has had a fearful wreck. It met the people on the same track, going the other way, and there isn't enough left of the concern to make a decent bonfire. Hurrah for the people.

The populists in Kansas, Nebraska and North Dakota were beaten as bad as were the democrats in the east. It was a triumph of correct political principles over theories and vagaries, all along the line.

The people by their votes in the last election, have said to the president and to congress: "Enact free trade measures if you dare!" Now we shall see how daring this congress and this president are.

Republicanism means good government, sound finance, business enterprise and national prosperity. Democracy means ruin and disgrace. When democracy goes out, labor comes in.—Three Rivers Tribune.

It is expected the democratic papers of Michigan will now repudiate Grover Cleveland. He signed all the bills passed by the recent session of congress. Just like Governor Rich.—Ingham Co. News.

Senator Hill insisted upon Judge Maynard's vindication at the hands of the people. He has got it. Will the wily senator kindly take a portion of the "vindication" to himself? It will be an appropriate thing to do.

Mr. Cleveland has already commenced to hedge on the tariff, and expresses the opinion that owing to the condition of the business in the nation, it will not do to take much of any action regarding the tariff. He knows when he is hit.

The people of New York State have shown what they think of a corrupt judge by burying the democratic tool of Tammany Hall, Judge Maynard, under about 90,000 majority. It was one of the most glorious results ever accomplished at the ballot box.

Sup't of Public Instruction Patten-gill does not believe that the board of visitors appointed to visit state institutions are worth the $1,000 or so that they cost, and consequently proposes to save the taxpayers that much money by not appointing them.

Cities and towns desiring new government buildings will not rejoice to hear that no appropriations will be made for that purpose at the next session of congress. A constantly decreasing deficit calls for retrenchment and reform.—Detroit Journal.

Not a voting precinct in any state where an industry is located, in the recent state elections, but gave a strong republican gain. The dinner pail brigade has been taught a practical lesson of democratic free trade. They believe in American tin now, and have no use for the tin plate liar.

The Ferris Wheel Co., has cleaned up a clear quarter of a million dollars, after paying the $300,000 the wheel cost, and all dues to the Exposition Co. And yet Mr. Ferris met with rebuff after rebuff when he attempted to interest capital in the enterprise at first. He deserves his good fortune.

We believe in the protection of American manufacturers, farmers and merchants, and we most firmly believe the time will come when a protective tariff wherever possible to create one, will be the recognized policy of the American people regardless of their politics.—Jonesville Independent.

This proves that the American people are proud of their children. More than ten thousand babies were cared for by Miss Hall's nurses in the children's building during the six months of the Fair. Only one of all that number was abandoned by its natural protectors. This one is a very small boy, hardly three months old.

Thoreau says: "In proportion as one simplifies his life, the laws of the universe will appear less complex, and solitude will not be solitude, nor poverty poverty, nor weakness weakness." That may be so, but you can't make any politician believe that what victory is victory, and defeat defeat, just the same, Thoreau or no Thoreau.

The sun came out gloriously Saturday. Was it because congress adjourned?—Ypsilanti Sentinel.

In part perhaps, but did you notice how it has continued shining in the same glorious way ever since? All because the people of these United States manifested such evidence of returning to their political senses on the 7th inst.

Secretary Gresham has allowed his petty jealousy of Ex-President Harrison to disgrace him in the eyes of all patriotic people of the world, for all time to come. A premier of England who would do what Gresham proposes to do in his letter, would be at once impeached, stripped of his office, title and honors, and banished or hung for treason.

It is a long time until 1896, gentlemen. There may be a great deal of history made between now and then, and those who seem to be now at the head of the republican party may have their place contested by others with just as strong claims. To-day it would be hard to choose between McKinley, Reed or Allison, but there may be others by the time the national convention meets for whom we will all gladly throw up our hats and cast our ballots. The Courier has no candidate now, but is for the best man in 1896, and that man will be the nominee of the party whoever he may be. The next president will be a republican.

THE NATION'S HUMILIATION.

If any one had doubted that this un-American administration was in full sympathy and accord with Great Britain, they now have those doubts fully set at rest. Secretary Gresham has issued a "state paper," not only repudiating all friendly intercourse with the present provisional government of Hawaii, but actually directing that the naval and military force of the United States be employed to place back upon the throne of that country the old queen, Liliuokalani.

No greater insult to the patriotism and intelligence of the American people could be offered.

It is a disgrace, and a deep disgrace, to the American people, that such a proposition should come from an American secretary of state, backed by an American president.

The proposition to use the naval and military forces of this republic to re-establish a monarchial government repudiated and thrown off by its own subjects, is something appalling.

If the sailors and soldiers of the United States are ordered to do such a dastardly act the patriotic people of the nation would uphold them in laying down their arms and flatly refusing to obey such an order.

England has for a long time had an eye on the Sandwich Islands. She wants them for their commercial and strategic importance. She wants them because they practically control the highway of the Pacific ocean, and are the key to its commerce.

Now President Cleveland practically hands them over to her.

What earthly excuse can he have for such a course unless he is owned body and soul by that power?

Those who are familiar with affairs on the Hawaiian Islands say that Secretary Gresham's orders can be carried out only through bloodshed. If any sailor or soldier of the republic of the United States steps a foot on Hawaiian soil with the purpose of helping to restore a monarchy there, he ought to be shot dead in his tracks, and it is the prayer of the patriotic citizens of the nation that he will be. Any official who would give such an order ought to be hung for treason.

If Gresham's "state paper" had been issued just before the recent elections instead of just after, the majorities rolled up, enormous as they were, would have been doubled and trebled. The citizens of this nation—with but few exceptions—are liberty loving patriots, and will never tolerate, for a moment the oppression of any other people seeking liberty.

This unpatriotic course is on a par with the commercial policy of this administration, which is warmly in favor of anything that will open up our markets without let or hindrance to Great Britain.

The republican party believes in the American bushel, the American yard, the American gallon and the American dollar. Each yard, bushel, gallon of the same quantity of any other of its kind, and every dollar the equal of any other dollar of paper, silver or gold. It does not believe in nor will it tolerate the introduction of South American or Mexican financial systems which make pons of the wage-workers and nabobs of the capitalists.—Pontiac Gazette.

The democrats brought out as a campaign card during the recent election in New York, the fact that Capt. John Palmer, the republican candidate for secretary of state, was "only a painter and decorator," a common laboring man, and so should be defeated by a gentleman of wealth. The people responded to that sort of "argument" in a way that made the democratic ears tingle, and elected Palmer by over 35,000 majority. He will now proceed to "decorate" the ring occupants of the secretary of state's office with a "ticket of leave."

The parties of this nation will find out after a time, perhaps that the judiciary must be kept pure. When dishonest and corrupt men like Isaac H. Maynard, of New York, are presented for the approval of the people they are rejected and cast out. When pure patriots, like Judge Gary, of Chicago, are up for vindication, they are vindicated. The election of Gary was a grand triumph for liberty loving American citizens over anarchism and anarchists like Gov. Altgeld and the red handed murderers he pardoned out of state prison where they had been justly sentenced.

In New Jersey the democrats had run the state government into a great horse jockey and race track association. The better element of the party protested in vain, the jockeys were in a large majority, and carried things with a high hand. The result was that there is now a two-thirds republican majority in the New Jersey legislature where it was formerly the other way. The people are a light in New Jersey when they once become aroused as to where they are at. They accomplished as nice a job as Hercules did in cleaning out the Augean stables, and as quickly, too.

A LONG VACATION.

Here is a sad admission by the Adrian Press:

"There is not on the statute books a law passed by the democratic party since 1861."

Nor will there be one during this century.

The people composing that party are not law makers, they are not builders.

They are critics.

They are negatives.

They are happy and expert only in tearing down what some one else has constructed.

It is their mission to everlastingly find fault, but never do anything.

They have all the power now.

They have the House.

They have the Senate.

They have the president.

But they dare not do a thing.

They dare not touch the tariff.

They dare not enact a currency law.

They dare not accomplish anything.

They may, possibly, repeal the Federal election law—tear down a protection to the purity of the ballot box, built up by republicans, but they dare not place a new stone in the foundation wall of this nation.

They are cowards when it comes to action.

They have not within their ranks the material that constructs.

That is what ails the democratic party.

To show how thoroughly the Tammany organization controls things in New York City, the fact is announced that in the 2d and 18th precincts of the 22d assembly district, there was not a republican vote returned, and yet there was present at the polls in each of those precincts, two republican inspectors, residents of the district and voters there. But the Tammany thugs who had control of the ballot boxes at those places returned every vote for the democratic ticket.

Under the city ordinance, pigs can now be kept in the city limits until April next, provided the pens are kept perfectly clean.—Ann Arbor Argus.

It is gratifying to note that at last the hogs and the Ann Arbor council can lie down together in peace. "Behold how good a thing it is, and how pleasant, for brethren to dwell together in unity!"—Adrian Press.

There is a gentleman in this city who desires to wager a goodly sum of money that the above quotation will not appear in the "Adrian Press Washtenawian" of the Ann Arbor Argus. He had no takers up to date.

As a political prophet the Detroit Free Press has not proven itself wise. Hundreds of good democrats, relying upon what the Free Press told them relative to Godfrey's chances for election, staked their money on the result, and where are they now? They better have listened to the warnings of the Argus, which told its readers, candidly what to expect—only it did not prepare them for so much of it. This is not the first time the Free Press has fooled its readers, and they are rapidly losing confidence in its foresight. But its hindsight is something marvelous. Its tale of woe each day now would make the Gods of Ancient Greece join in lamentations loud and prolonged.

Correspondents should be careful in writing names, above all else. If the n's, m's, u's, r's, s's, in fine, all little letters without loop or stem, are made alike, we can usually decipher anything but proper names. At least we attempt to do so. People in general have little conception of the number of possible names from one of five or six letters indistinctly written. For example, a B followed by a scrawl may become in the type-setter's hands, Barnes, Bornes, Bar-rus, Borrus, Bawns, Bowns, Burns, Burrus, Burras, Burner, Barner, Bonner, and so on for two or three hundred more variations. Whatever else you do, write proper names plainly.—Gratiot Journal.

The supreme court of Michigan has decided that the woman suffrage law is unconstitutional, and the decision is sweeping. Of course, the court being almost unanimously republican, nothing different was expected. That party desires no intelligence in the matter of the ballot. It gave the right of suffrage to the freed slave, because it could always vote the colored man. But when it comes to the intelligent woman, the republican party wants none of it.—Adrian Press.

The Press forgets that the opinion in that case was written and delivered by Justice McGrath, a democrat, and that the dissenting opinion was by Justice Montgomery, a republican. The republican party has always been the party of intelligence, progress and right thinking, and always will be.

Dana Rejoices Over Cleveland's Late Infamies.

From the Civil Service Reform Association, of Boston, to the Evening Post office in New York, the facts are bravely acknowledged and openly deplored. The trust idea, in the famous and fondled Cleveland phrase, "Public office is a public trust," has given place to the "trough" idea, says the Post. Public office is a trough for democrats, and the mugwump pretensions of the late mugwump idol have been flipped out. The noble animal around whom they, the mugwumps, so joyously and confidently built a china shop has turned out to be a bull, and is now raging. The pieces will be worth about as much as a mugwump tear, certainly no more.

In justice to Mr. Cleveland we must ask for the production of the pledge he has broken. When did he make one, "this trip?" Where was the preliminary to his recent candidacy and canvas one of those fresh and praiseworthy semi-private epistles through which he was once accustomed to reiterate the first principles of mugwumpery with almost boyish simplicity? Mr. Cleveland's school days are over. He is a graduate and a democrat.—N. Y. Sun.

The present condition of Uncle Sam's strong box makes it peculiarly interesting to see how the democrats will be able to reduce the tariff without taking away the last vestige of security. To be sure the internal tax on tobacco and liquors might be increased and thus the consequent loss from duties on imported necessities be made up by a tax on the domestic luxuries.—Bellevue Gazette.

The Chicago Times (democratic) is getting awfully of the gang that is running things down at Washington. Hear this, taken from its columns: "The democratic party cannot hope to continue its ascendancy in the north, hold its place in Illinois, Wisconsin, New York, Iowa, and gain foothold in other of the great commonwealths of this section, if it is to be made eternally the apologists of unrepentant rebels who are now eating the bread of Uncle Sam and assuming to direct which way he shall go."

And again: "If the country has wearied of these ancient humbugs, blatant and boastful talkers, who seem to know nothing of the genius of the republic which survived despite their efforts to destroy it, it is small wonder. The fellows belong to a past age. A generation which is all business and cares nothing for rhetorical cant has no patience with the grandiose charlatans that are forever postponing the discovery of the precise location of that ultimate excavation."

The blacklegs, bums and anarchists of Detroit elected their mayor Tuesday.—Adrian Press.

That sentence is unworthy of the Adrian Press. The bums, blacklegs and anarchists were not successful in Detroit. They always stay by the barrel, and Pingree's opponent, Godfrey, had the barrel. Pingree had only the approval and affection of the great middle classes, the men who "hew the wood and draw the water," those who toil with their hands, who form the bone and sinew of the nation, in whose interests he has toiled fearlessly and unceasingly ever since he has been mayor; and who have proved to the world in this instance that when a man stands by them, they will stand by him, regardless of politics. The bums and blacklegs, including the Considine gang, were working against these people for Mr. Godfrey, openly and notoriously. Mr. Pingree is not under any obligations to that element. His followers are honest, fearless, manly, upright, courageous men, who believe in the right and who stand by those who attempt to do right. They get hoodwinked sometimes by crafty politicians, notably so a year ago, but they are now trying to make amends for that sad error of judgment.

GOOD ADVICE.

Every patriotic citizen should give his personal effort and influence to increase the circulation of his home paper which teaches the American policy of Protection. It is his duty to aid in this respect in every way possible. After the home paper is taken care of, why not subscribe for the AMERICAN ECONOMIST, published by the American Protective Tariff League? One of its correspondents says: "No true American can get along without it. I consider it the greatest and truest political teacher in the United States."

THE ENVY OF KINGS.

The Princes of the Earth May Envy the Poor.

RICHES AND FOWLS CAN'T MAKE LIFE PLEASANT OR HAPPY.

The True Way to Find Happiness for Those Who Have it Not.

Wealth does not make happiness. It does not make even comfort. Sickness blights everything. Kings and princes may envy the poor the blessing of a good health. If you are in pain or suffering you cannot be happy.

This is why the remarks of the well-known Harriet Robinson, of 74 Snell St., Fall River, Mass., have so much weight and are worthy of all attention. "I firmly believe," she said, "that I should not be living to-day if it had not been for Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Such awful pains in my head and back, and my stomach, oh, it was so bad! I have now and then naturally. I have no pains or distress. Thanks to Dr. Greene's Nervura I am well again. It was over two years ago that I was cured, and no trace of the disease has returned."

HARRIET ROBINSON.

Another widely known lady, Mrs. N. Blatt, of 73 Mulberry Street, Newark, N. J., speaking in the same vein, says:

"I have been suffering with pain in the back and head. I tried doctors, but found no relief. I was recommended to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I now sleep soundly and have no pain, and am well, thanks to Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy."

If you are a sufferer from disease it is plainly your own fault if you do not get cured. This wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy will certainly cure you. It is purely vegetable and harmless.

It is constantly prescribed and recommended by doctors. It is the discovery of a physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 W. 14th st., New York, the famous and successful specialist in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted without charge, personally or by letter.

A Literary Curiosity.

[The following little poem was a contribution to the San Francisco Times from the pen of Mr. H. A. Denning. The reader will see that each line is a quotation from some of the standard authors of England and America. The number of each line refers to its author below. The quotations are from thirty-eight poets.]

1. Why all this toll for triumphs of an hour?
2. Life is short summer, man's a flower.
3. By turns we catch the vital breath and die.
4. The cradle and tomb, alas! so nigh.
5. To be is better far than not to be.
6. Though all men's lives may seem a tragedy.
7. But light eyes speak when mighty griefs are dumb.
8. The bottom is but shallow whence they come.
9. Your fate is but the common fate of all;
10. Unminding joys here no man can befall.
11. Nature to each allots its proper sphere;
12. Fortune makes folly her particular care.
13. Custom does often reason overrule.
14. And throws a cruel sunshine on a fool.
15. Live well; how long or short, permit to heaven.
16. They who forgive most shall be most forgiven.
17. Sin may be clasped so close we cannot see its face.
18. Vice intercourse where virtue has no place.
19. Then keep each passion down, however dear.
20. Thou pendulum betwixt a smile and tear.
21. Her sensual snares let faithless pleasure lay.
22. With craft and skill to ruin and betray.
23. Soar not too high to fall, but stoop to rise.
24. We masters grow of all that we despise.
25. Oh, then, renounce that impious self-esteem!
26. Riches have wings and grandeur is a dream.
27. Think not ambition wise because 'tis brave.
28. The paths of glory lead but to the grave.
29. What is ambition? 'Tis a glorious cheat.
30. Only destruction to the brave and great.
31. What's all the gaudy glitter of a crown?
32. The way of bliss lies not on beds of down.
33. How long we live not years but actions tell.
34. That man lives twice who lives the first life well.
35. Make, then, while yet you may, your God your friend.
36. Whom Christians worship, yet not comprehend.
37. The trust that's given guard and to yourself be just.
38. For live we how we can, die we must.

Prevention is Better

Than cure, and those who are subject to rheumatism, can prevent attacks by keeping the blood pure and free from the acids which cause the disease. You can rely upon Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for rheumatism and catarrh, also for every form of scrofula, salt rheum, boils and other diseases caused by impure blood. It tones and vitalizes the whole system.

BURGLAR TOOLS.

The Curious Implements of an Unlawful Calling.

To the eye of an honest man no tool is a burglar's tool. Were he to find a most approved kit he would merely think that a mechanic had lost his stock in trade. Drills, punches, bits and ordinary jimmies have each almost a counterpart in open daylight work, and only to the sophisticated would it appear that the bits of steel were implements of crime. To those who know, the two distinctive burglar's tools are the sectional jimmy and nippers, the first being a steel bar so arranged that it can be unscrewed into several pieces for convenience in carrying. The other is described by the Philadelphia Times as like a pair of curling tongs, the clutched end being armed with little teeth, and is used for turning keys in doors from the outside. The manufacture of these tools is not, as has been supposed, confined exclusively to any set of men. A burglar, desirous of obtaining a kit, will go to a hardware store and purchase drills, brace and bits, punches and wedges, these latter being in a series, from the thinness of a knife blade to those the thickness of one's hand. This assortment of seemingly innocent tools he takes to a mechanic with instructions to temper them to a certain hardness. To another blacksmith he goes, and, drawing a diagram, has a piece of iron made in accordance. Still another makes him a second part, and finally the thief has a "drag," the most powerful and perhaps the most useful tool, from his standpoint, that can be used in opening a safe. It consists of a long screw, with simple iron braces to be attached by a link to the knob of the door. A hole is bored through the front of the safe by means of a bit, a block is adjusted on the inside, and on this is placed the point of the screw, which is turned by a crank. As the screw revolves it penetrates further and further until the back is reached. Then, as the tremendous pressure continues, something has to give, the front generally being ripped out. This apparatus, in addition to its simplicity and quick work, has the advantage of being noiseless.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS IN MINING.
Value of the Arc Lamps in Pit Sinking at Great Depths.

A novel application of the electric search light has been made in Scotland. To enable the workmen to labor through the night while a pit was being sunk a search light, the apparatus for which consisted of an arc lamp, a lens and a mirror, inclosed in a sheet iron case, was suspended over the pit's mouth. Access to the lamp was obtained by a sliding shutter on each side of the case. The light, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, was focused or adjusted by a screw on the top of the outside of the case, and when necessary the lamp could be adjusted to diffuse light throughout the whole shaft, or be concentrated at the bottom. The mirror, which was hung in its center, could be moved in a vertical direction, so to deflect the rays of light to any required spot, and could be fixed in any position by a thumb screw.

This method of illumination was found to give the following advantages: The light in the shaft bottom was far in excess of that given by the ordinary sinker's lamp, consequently more work could be performed in a given time. The lamp, being stationed on the surface, could be got at easily at any time for adjustment without inconvenience to the sinkers, and in the event of the strata giving off fire-damp it gave perfect immunity from danger of explosion. Another point of not a little importance was that by the aid of the light those in charge could see from the surface what was going on below, and a practical mining engineer who visited the colliery gave as his opinion that this alone was worth all the outlay, even if the light served no other purpose.

HOW MICE MAKE WAR.

They Face Each Other Standing on Their Hind Legs.

Before we had much observed mice, the use of their long tails was a question that had puzzled us. We do not know of what service they are to the mice, but to the bucks they are, we feel, of use in their combats; for when they fight they very often face one another standing on their hind legs, the tails then making, as with kangaroos, the third feature of a tripod.

Their appearance, when they thus stand facing one another with their heads thrown back and their paws in front of their faces is, on account perhaps of the resemblance it bears to the posture of prize-fighters, extremely comic, says a writer in the Northwest.

Small mice, also, when attacked by their bigger congeners, raise their paws before their faces, the attitude in that case strangely suggesting one of deprecation.

What occurs when belligerent bucks actually engage only instantaneous photographs could record, so rapid are their movements. Presumably, they try to bite, but must consider defense the better part of valor, for they never appear to get hurt much and between the rounds will nibble away at the crust which brought them into the vicinity, only showing their excitement by rattling their tails against the ground. Occasionally a tail seized by the teeth leads to one mouse having to drag his enemy over the floor till the latter lets go.

Great Memories.

Great men are usually said to have great memories, but it does not follow that all who have great memories are great men. An idiot in Ohio was a great curiosity many years ago. He knew the whole Bible by heart from beginning to end, and if any verse was read or repeated to him he could tell exactly in what book and chapter it was to be found, and its verse number in the chapter. He was considered a great marvel in this particular, but in every other he was a mental imbecile, and could not be trusted even to feed himself.

CHINA'S CURSE OF OPIUM.

People Who Become Confirmed Smokers Live Ten Years on an Average.

"Seven-tenths of the people of China are opium smokers, and two millions of them die annually from its effects," said a Chinese missionary recently who has spent twenty-two years of his life in the Flowery Kingdom.

"This habit is rapidly growing," he went on. "It is confined to no class or sex, but men and women, officials and coolies, use it alike. As soon as opium smoking becomes a confirmed habit with a Chinese coolie he knows that he has about ten years to live. That seems to be the average. I consider it easier to reform a sot in the gutter, one of your lowest type of drunkards, than an opium smoker. Place them behind iron bars, if you like, and after being imprisoned a short time they begin to beg and plead for opium. They rave like maniacs and their sufferings are terrible to behold. Their act like wild men."

"The opium vice is ruining China. The people know it and the government knows it, but they take no action. In twenty-two years it has increased fifty per cent. Fertile fields that were once used in the cultivation of rice are now growing the opium weed. The provinces in northern China, where the terrible famine occurred a few years ago and where thousands perished for want of food, had been for years given over to the production of opium instead of food grains. When food was short the people found they could not live on opium, so they starved to death."

"A parallel to the suffering during that famine is hardly equalled by any event in the history of the world. Human beings died in the streets of villages and on the roads. People turned cannibals. Some dug up roots and others were found on the roadside where they had died biting the bark off the trees. The dead were not buried, for the living had all they could do to take care of themselves."

"Now to-day rice is one-third higher in price than it was a score of years ago, because the crop has fallen off. Opium shops are everywhere. You may be traveling along with your chair coolie when the first thing you know he will put you down and leave you sitting in the streets while he goes in to take a smoke."

A WONDERFUL NEW STAR.

Suddenly Increased in Brilliance Sixteenfold, and Then Faded Out.

The romance of astronomy is well illustrated in an article by Edward S. Holden, director of the Lick observatory, in the Forum. Mr. Holden describes the queer antics of a new star discovered last year, which resembles our sun and which in two days increased in brilliance sixteenfold and then gradually went out.

Such phenomena as this star has presented, says he, are of the extreme value to astronomers and physicists. By the study of exceptional cases old laws are tried and new ones discovered. Apparent exceptions "prove" (i. e., test) the rule. Such cases are also of the greatest popular interest since they throw a light on the past and on the future of the solar system. The Nova was, no doubt, a star like our sun. It was, no doubt, very distant from the earth, since its original luster made it at least as faint as the ninth magnitude. The catastrophe which we say occurred in December, 1891, was announced to us by light which reached us then, but this light must have left the star twenty, perhaps fifty, years earlier. This recent event is, in fact, ancient history. Let us imagine what fate ours will be, if our sun should suddenly increase in light and heat some hundreds of times, and then fall off some thousands. Every vestige of life on our earth would be extinguished; and the only sign of it to the universe at large would be that a small star—our sun—had gone through a remarkable cycle of changes.

PRODUCES NO GREAT MEN.

Paris Draws on the French Provinces for Most of Her Native Notables.

The city of Paris with its environs boasts nearly one-twelfth of the total population of France, yet, according to the New York Evening Post, it does not escape the charge, which lies against so many other large cities, of being a huge maw into which the best of the national life is sucked. Only in the slightest degree is it the parent of the energy and distinction which it displays on so great a scale. In the political field scarcely one of the distinguished men of the time is Paris born. The president of the republic is not, nor is the president of the senate or of the chamber; not one of the ten cabinet ministers, neither of the chief justices nor of the attorneys general of the higher courts reckons Paris as his birthplace, nor does the governor of the bank of France. Somewhat similar results are obtained by scanning the lists of distinguished scholars, artists, journalists, soldiers. From the provinces have come a disproportionate majority of the men whose success in life makes Paris famous. Such facts are more striking in the case of the French capital, whose preponderance over the rest of the country has been so long established, than they would be in a newer country, where the headlong rush to the cities is a comparatively new thing.

Carries Large Loads.

A camel has twice the carrying power of an ox. With an ordinary load of 400 pounds he can travel twelve or fourteen miles a day. They are fit to work at 5 years old, but their strength begins to decline at 25, although they usually live to 40. The Tartars have herds of these animals, often 1,000 belonging to one family. They were numerous in antiquity, for the patriarch Job had 3,000. The Timbuctoo or Meharri breed is remarkable for speed, and used by couriers, going 800 miles in eight days with a meal of dates or grain at nightfall.

A "simple" statement—Idiocy.

NOT AN AMERICAN.

The Briton Was So Stupid as to Talk About the Weather.

One of Chicago's schoolma'ams, who is young, good looking and independent, is employing her long vacation in the profitable pastime of seeing the fair, says the Chicago Post. Often she goes along and studies what she most wants to without outside hindrance and is happy in the freedom of American womanhood. At such times, naturally, she lurches alone. One day on her way to the grounds she dropped into the cafe of a fashionable downtown hotel. The luncheon was good, and she was so taken up with attending to her share of it that she would not have noticed her vis-a-vis had it not been for his remarking affably:

"Aw, good morning; it's a nice day-ay." The young schoolma'am looked up suddenly, but the man was a stranger to her, and she only gave him a look which ought to have conveyed a meaning even to the density of a British mind. That didn't discourage him the least bit.

"A vevry nice day-ay for the fair," he commented.

Then the young woman took heart of grace.

"You are not an American," she said.

The fellow bristled up—he was encouraged then; so he settled his glass in his eye and tugged at his mustache and exclaimed: "Aw, no!" in a way that was perfectly killing.

"I thought not," said the young woman, quietly. "Americans are mostly gentlemen!"

Afterward, in telling the story, she remarked naively: "But, you know, I don't believe I should have been so resentful if he had started the conversation with anything else but a remark on the weather. I couldn't stand that kind of an idiot, could I?"

AN ELEPHANT'S LOVE.

It Was Restored on a Surgeon for His Kind Offices.

An English civil engineer, resident of Calcutta, has in his possession a valuable elephant, to which he is much attached, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Not long ago the animal was afflicted with a very troublesome inflammation of the eyes, from which he lost his sight. The disconsolate owner consulted a surgeon and begged him to do his utmost to cure the elephant. The surgeon decided to use lapis infernalis, a remedy which is very efficacious in similar afflictions of the human eye. The keeper was called, and a few moments afterward the elephant was made to kneel down before the man of science, who quickly treated one of the inflamed eyes with the caustic. As soon as the elephant felt the effects of the burning solution, he uttered a terrific roar and, maddened with pain, ran around in his cage, tearing down everything that came in his way. It was several hours before he could be pacified by his keeper. When several days afterward the surgeon paid his second visit, he found to his great surprise that his treatment had worked wonders, for the eye was entirely cured. He decided to use the same remedy on the other eye, but, to avoid all danger, ordered the animal to be chained. This precaution, however, was unnecessary, for as soon as the elephant heard the surgeon's voice he knelt down before him of his own accord and during the entire operation, which was very painful, uttered no cry, but instead rubbed his trunk caressingly up and down the surgeon's body. When the latter had finished the operation the animal followed him to the door of his cage and seemed loth to part with him. The second treatment resulted in the entire cure of the eyes of the elephant.

THE FRACTIOUS PERIWINKLE.

Canard's Veteran Marcher Talks of Its Eggs, Edibility and Tribulations.

"Did you ever see periwinkles' eggs?" said the denizen, as he cast his line for snappers off Canard's. "Fishing last summer over at Broad channel, between Rockaway and that strip of land yonder, I pulled up some jointed strings, a foot or more in length, that made me think of rattlesnakes' rattlers. I asked an old fisherman aboard with me what I had got. 'Them's periwinkles' eggs,' he said, and, pulling some of the little compartments open, showed me the eggs lying within like a golden pulp. Afterward he showed me places on the beach which were covered with the empty shells of the periwinkles, and he told me of the belief that young lobsters destitute of houses of their own took up their abode in these shells."

"That reminded me that once upon a time while cruising with a friend about Jamaica bay we had caught a dozen periwinkles, and my friend had told me that they were young lobsters; so, in that belief, we took them home and cooked them. Although the shell looks like anything but a lobster's, the creature, when taken out of it, is so like a lobster in shape you might readily believe it to be one; but they were genuine periwinkles, far different in flavor and not nearly as good as lobsters. But it seems to be established on trustworthy authority that when a periwinkle crawls out of its shell, like a snail, to drag it along behind in its journeyings, the young lobster, with all its armor on and claws squared away for action, is apt to take up its quarters in the shell, crowding the rightful owner out of his house in a way that must be a great inconvenience to him not ultimate destruction to him."

Gracefulness of Siamese Girls.

The Siamese girls are the most graceful women in the world. Their joints are very supple, and a part of their education is made up of bending their joints back and forth to make them so. They are all short-haired, and when young they are as plump as partridges and as straight as the palm trees of their own beautiful land. As they grow older they become wrinkled and ugly, and the most of them ruin their teeth from chewing the betel.

WONDERFUL CURES!

THOMAS MINCHIN.

MAJOR W. A. SIMFIELD.

Before Treatment. After Treatment.

Nervous Debility and Catarrh Cured.
Thomas Minchin says: "I was reduced to a nervous wreck—only weighed 115 pounds. The result of early abuse was the cause. I had the following symptoms: Miserable mental and physical condition; nervousness, weakness, specks before the eyes, dizzy, poor memory, palpitation of the heart, flushing, cold hands and feet, weak back, dreams and losses at night, tired in the morning, pimples on the face, loss of ambition, burning sensation, kidneys weak etc. Doctors could not cure me, but Drs. Kennedy & Kergan by their New Method Treatment, cured me in a few weeks. I weigh now 170 pounds. It is three years since I have taken their treatment."

Before Treatment. After Treatment.

Blood Disease and Dyspepsia Cured.
Major Simfield says: "I had Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach for many years. To make matters worse I contracted a Constitutional Blood Disease. My bones ached, blotches on my skin looked horrible. I tried sixteen doctors in all. A friend recommended Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. I began their New Method Treatment and in a few weeks was a new man with renewed life and ambition. I cannot say too much for those scientific doctors who have been in Detroit for fourteen years. I conferred with hundreds of patients in their offices who were being cured for different diseases. I recommend them as honest and reliable Physicians."

SEVEN MAGAZINES IN ONE.

ST. NICHOLAS

FOR YOUNG FOLKS.

"WIDE AWAKE," Now Merged in it.

Enlarged by 200 additional pages in the volume. Everything Illustrated.

Of all publications for boys and girls, St. Nicholas, conducted by Mary Mapes Dodge is unquestionably the best. It has been pronounced the greatest of the kind in the world—its circulation is unprecedented among magazines for young folks. Beginning with the number of November, 1891, it is enlarged by the addition of about 200 pages in the volume, and for 1893-94 it will have the greatest program in its history, including:

A NATURAL HISTORY SERIES,

brilliantly illustrated, describing the quadrupeds of North America in a popular way, by W. J. Hornaday, recently Chief Taxidermist of the U. S. National Museum.

"TOM SAWYER ABROAD,"

a Serial Story by Mark Twain, in which the great humorist's famous creations, "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn," visit the eastern hemisphere (in a flying-machine); a series on by Bradner Matthews, setting forth in clear and simple form the main biographical facts and the chief literary qualities of famous men in American literature, including Irving, Cooper, Bryant, Hawthorne, Emerson, Lowell, etc.

Stories of India by Rudyard Kipling.

When Rudyard Kipling was a boy in India he used to read St. Nicholas, and now he takes his turn at bringing delight to the thousands of young folks who read it to-day. He has written for St. Nicholas a series of remarkable stories of boy and girl life in the jungle and with animals.

"Recollections of Wild Life," by Dr. Charles Eastman, a full-blooded Sioux Indian, and a graduate of a famous college (Dartmouth); a description of Indian life—in camp and on the war path—described from the inside. A novelty in literature.

Papers on the Government.

"How money is Made," (the Mint); "How the Treasury is Guarded," "How the Government Promotes Industry" (the Patent Office), "The Dead-Letter Office," "With the West Point Cadets," "How Artisans Talk to Each Other," "Life on a Man-of-War," etc.

SERIAL STORIES BY

Howard Pyle, Francis Courtenay Baylor, James Otis, Molly Elliot Sewell and The Author of "Lady Jane."

THE FAMOUS "BROWNIES,"

by Palmer Cox, will also be a feature of St. Nicholas.

Are you going to have St. Nicholas in your home in '94? New subscribers should begin with November. The price of St. Nicholas is $3.00 a year. Everything in it is illustrated. Subscribe through book-sellers and newsdealers, or remit to the publishers by check, draft, money, or express-order. Don't miss the Christmas Number.

The CENTURY

in 1894.

THE GREATEST OF ALL THE MAGAZINES. 2000 Pages of the Best Literature. 1000 Illustrations by the Greatest Artists of the World.

The Programme of the new volume of The Century Magazine, beginning with the November number, is one of rare interest to every reader of literature. The chief serial feature is a

New Novel by Mark Twain

The most dramatic story ever written by America's greatest humorist. Like several of Mark Twain's stories it has for its scene a steamboat town on the Mississippi River forty years ago. "Pudd'nhead Wilson," a hard-headed country lawyer, the hero of the story, furnishes much of the fun that one naturally expects to find in a work written by the author of "The Innocents Abroad," but he appears in quite a minor light in the murder trial which forms the thrilling climax of the story. The plot introduces a novel and ingenious employment of science in the detection of crime, and the characters are well drawn and their every action is interesting. The Century will contain a

A Series of Superb Engravings of the Old Dutch Masters;

Articles on

Hunting of Fierce Game;

Articles describing

ARTISTS ADVENTURES,

by leading American artists, with their own illustrations; Articles descriptive of Important Expeditions

in all the great continents, including the adventures of two young men who traveled over on bicycles; A novel series on

Tramping with Tramps;

How a young man disguised as a tramp, traveled over America and learned all the secrets of the "profession";

Important Papers on Music

by the greatest living composers and musicians; Unpublished essays by

James Russell Lowell;

Short stories and novelettes by all the leading story-writers, essays on timely subjects, humor and fun in the "Lighter Vein" department, etc., etc.

The Great Christmas Number contains a sermon by Philip Brooks, seven complete stories, a magnificent array of full-page engravings, a new picture of General Grant, letters from Edwin Booth, etc.

UNIVERSITY.

The sophomore lit. have selected a class name.

The U. of M.'s defeated the DePauw University team Monday 34 to 0. That's the stuff.

Remember the next lecture in the S. L. A. is on next Saturday evening, Nov. 18, by John Temple Graves.

Assistant Librarian Jordan, of the general library has been ill for a day or two, for the first time in his history.

The Thanksgiving number of the Wrinkle will contain 16 pages of red-hot humor. The Christmas number will be still larger, with additional and new wrinkles.

On Saturday next, on the athletic field, the Northwestern University football team will endeavor to defeat the U. of M. team, but our boys have now started to win.

The U. of M. Republican Club held a jollification meeting last Monday evening over the recent republican victories. They sent a dispatch of congratulation to Gov. McKinley.

The U. of M. football team defeated the Purdue team Saturday by a score of 46 to 8. It is thought now that they have got their winning suits on, and will push forward to glorious victories.

It is expected that the meeting of the state assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew at Harris Hall next Wednesday afternoon and evening will be of much interest to young people, especially young men.

President Harper, of Chicago University, is to give three prizes of $50 each, to the one who comes out ahead in speaking, at the contest held in the middle of each quarter. Here is a cue for our own U. of M.

The effort of the senior lit. class to establish a scholarship as its memorial gift, is one that should it be successful, would probably do more good than anything that has ever been accomplished in that line. It is a move in the right direction.

The hearts of the U. of M. football team have been in their boots, ever since their defeat by the Minnesota crowd. The story about the silver states being all broke up, over the repeal of the Sherman act, is a doggedged no such thing.—Adrian Press.

Mr. Rockefeller has given $500,000 more to Chicago University conditioned on the raising of $400,000 more to secure a $1,000,000 gift by another gentleman. This makes something over three millions given by Rockefeller, and still the University is hard up.

Prof. Barbour, of Ypsilanti, scores the modern game of football. He says "he is a lover of sport, but there is no sport in it, it is brutality and cowardice—slugging on the sly. The game has degenerated into a mere test of brute strength, and is quite outside the realm of athletics."

The reception given by the ladies of the S. C. A. to the students of the law department last Friday evening, at Newberry Hall, was a great success. The "Law Department Song," written by Miss Gertrude Buck, and published at the end of these items, was sung for the first time, and created a great furore.

The Wrinkle has taken a firm hold on University people, and others as well, and is so bright and witty that almost everybody buys it in preference to other humorous papers. The editors are making special efforts to give the public the very best to be had.

Dr. H. B. Asadoorian, medic '88, of Castle Gate, Utah, is visiting his many friends in this city. Dr. A. holds a very lucrative position as surgeon for a railroad corporation, and also for a coal mine co. Very few of our boys can give a better record of success after five years from graduation.

The senior lit. have chosen the following officers:

President—Daniel F. Lyons. Vice Pres.—Miss Gertrude Buck. Orator—W. W. Wedemeyer. Poet—J. Raleigh Nelson. Sec'y—Miss Jessie M. McIntyre. Treasurer—Richard Quinn. Prophetess—Miss M. U. Strong. Historian—F. L. Osenburg.

The wife of Charles S. Morris, a junior law student, of Washington, D. C., died Sunday. The deceased was a grand-daughter of Hon. Frederick Douglass, the famous colored orator, and he came here Monday, and accompanied the remains to Washington, D. C., where they were taken for interment. Mrs. Morris had been married only a few months.

One of the greatest triumphs in the legal world was achieved recently by one of Ann Arbor's promising young lawyers, who spends his vacations in Sylvan. Our "Modern Athens" is a great genius producer, and no mistake, for who but a product of the U. of M. could with a brand new gun in one vacation kill—not a dozen men—but fifty-three ducks? Let it be recorded in the annals of our literature that posterity may know of this mighty deed.—Chelsea Standard.

LAW DEPARTMENT SONG.

Air "Tutara Boom-de-ey."

BY GERTRUDE BUCK.

I. A smart and jolly gang are we, Flower of the 'Varsities. Not too stiff, but gay and free, Yet as right as right can be. Never forward, never bold, Often bought, but seldom sold, Just the sort of boys—we're told, That in your hearts most dear you hold.

Chorus.

We are the Laws, you know, We are the Laws, you see! We are the U. of M., We are the 'Varsities!

II.

We're not extravagantly shy, And when a sweet co-ed is nigh, For her heart we always try, And mostly catch it on the fly! Few there are resist our wiles, Honeyed words and witching smiles, Voices soft as cross-cut files, Tempters as sweet as nutmegs.

III.

Of nerve we're quite a competence, Of self-esteem an affluence. We cock the roost on common sense, The campus owns we're just immense! Ere our verses we conclude, We'd also like it understood, Though free as air, we're never rude, We're not too bad and not too good!

IV.

You should see us paint the town! Though the Dean and Prexy frown, And the campus roasts us brown, They can never turn us down. Just you watch us top the heap, Of every office make a sweep, See the lads sit down and weep, It's early yet when we're asleep!

V.

We're the boys who run them all, Rings and combines, big and small. Wires we yank and meetings call, Ballots stuff and votes enthrall. We're the fellows, don't you know? Any fresh will tell you so. We're the folks who run the show, We're the boys who make it go!

Joshua Simpkins.

Reno & Ford's sensational rural comedy drama, "Joshua Simpkins" will be produced at the Grand Opera House Nov. 17. The play contains an interesting and intelligible plot but it is not allowed to interfere with the fun, which is said to be in abundance. During the run of the play some startling scenes and situations are seen, principal of which may be said to be the country saw mill, in the third act, shown in complete operation cutting up real timber. The saw used is the genuine article, same as used in large country saw mills. An excellent band and orchestra accompany this attraction. The band will parade at noon when some good music may be looked for.

The Ypsilanti Commercial has been looking up the matter a little and finds that in 1854 Ypsilanti city and town were assessed together at $1,088,000 and Ann Arbor city alone at $889,200. These two cities then constituted about one-fifth of the equalized valuation of the entire county. Now the city of Ann Arbor alone constitutes one-fifth, and the two cities over one-third of the entire valuation of the county. There has been a change, since those days.

The latest fad—fall fashions.

Let it be recorded indelibly in your memory that the A. A. L. I. will reproduce the Midway Palsance at the Rink Nov. 21st to 25th.

These warm rains this fall are a thing unheard of heretofore. A fall rain has been almost without exception followed by a freeze up. Perhaps the climate is changing.

The youngsters had dreams of coasting in their heads as they first looked out of the window this morning. But neither the dreams or the light flurry of snow on the ground lasted long.

An elevator to run by electricity will be put in the new store of David Rinsey on Fourth st. He will use the upper stories for storage of his stock, while the Gas Co. will occupy the ground floor.

It is truly wonderful to what straits a cheap boarding house can sometimes be led into. The other day a woman came rushing into a bakery just before dinner, and called for four pies. The goods were quickly done up for her and she, without paying for them, hastened out of the store. The merchant was amazed and sent a clerk out after her, but the woman was too fleet for him and getting to her house first took the pies off the pans, ran up stairs and threw them out of the window, saying to the clerk: "There's your pie tins."

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER MOST PERFECT MADE.

A pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant. 40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

One of our exchanges remarks: "A three-year old girl was taught to close her evening prayer, during the temporary absence of her father, 'and please watch over my papa.' It sounded very sweet, but the mother's amazement may be imagined when she added 'and you better keep an eye on mamma, too.'"

Shlawassee American: "The Ann Arbor Milling Company bought C. J. Stuart's elevator and moved it to the south side of the T. & A. tracks. The Ann Arbor Milling Company have two large flouring mills with a capacity of 500 barrels per day, and consequently will consume a large amount of wheat."

The Inland League social, postponed from last Friday evening on account of the death of one of its members, will be given next Friday evening, Nov. 17, in the parlors of the Church of Christ. A short musical and literary programme has been arranged. The next regular entertainment on the course will be a Wagner evening, Monday Nov. 20th, under the direction of Mr. U. J. Corey, of Boston.

The annual meeting of the Michigan Conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches, was held last week Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at Mt. Pleasant. Rev. W. D. Simonds, of Battle Creek, preached the opening sermon. Rev. J. T. Sunderland of this city, read a paper on "Why I Believe in Prayer." Prof. W. H. Pettie of the University, was elected vice president of the conference for the coming year.

There is one nuisance in this city that should be stopped. Hardly a day passes but what the pedestrians on some of our business streets have to duck under a dirty, dusty coat slute, or go away out into the street around a coal wagon to avoid it. The coal deliverers—in some instances, not all—appear to own the sidewalks, and do whatever they desire to, regardless of the fact that the sidewalks belong to pedestrians, and every person who places an obstruction thereon breaks the law. There should be some way devised of delivering coal to business houses, that will not discommode so many people.

The Burdick & Wood Co., manufacturers of Physical and Chemical apparatus, and finer grades of instruments for universities, colleges and schools, have moved into the south store of the Courier block. This company has bought out that department of the Eberbach Drug & Chemical Co., with whom Mr. Burdick had been associated for a number of years as instrument maker, and started off with a fine trade already worked up. In their line there are no superiors in this country, and they have the utmost confidence of the teachers and professors here, both in High School and the University.

When a dissipated youth goes astray, friends gather around him in order to restore him to the path of virtue. Gentleness and kindness are lavished upon him to win him back again to innocence and peace. No one would suspect that he had ever sinned. But when a poor confiding girl is betrayed she receives the brand of society, and is henceforth driven from the ways of virtue. The betrayer is honored, respected and esteemed; but his ruined, heartbroken victim knows there is no rest for her this side of the grave. Society has no helping hand for her—no smile of peace—no voice of forgiveness. These are earthly moralities—they are unknown of heaven. There is a deep wrong in them and fearful are the consequences. The injustice of society is vividly brought to mind in such cases.

The L. O. T. M.'s Have a Good Time.

The banquet given by the Lady Macabees last evening, upon the occasion of their second anniversary, was one of the most enjoyable of the many happy occasions that have taken place from time to time in Macabees Hall. The banquet itself was very tempting. The tables were loaded with substantial and delicacies, all that the most exacting palate could desire, and the feasting was followed, by a literary programme that was unqualifiedly excellent. It was pronounced by all as the finest and best entertainment Arbor Hive has ever given.

Hood's Pills are easy and gentle in effect.

WE NEED MONEY!

And to get it we are selling goods at prices that cannot help but bring us the required amount.

We have had our choice of fine stocks from manufacturers who are hard up for cash, and in buying so liberally we feel the need of ready money.

Ours is the finest in the state. We have created a demand for fine goods, and the trade comes to us for anything they need that is right.

Cheap stuff is expensive at any price, but good goods at fair prices are always cheap.

FOR STYLE AND FIT WE LEAD. Before leaving your measure for a suit or overcoat, just call in and see our tailor-made suits and overcoats; make a purchase, guess what time the clock stops, and you may get a present of $40, $30, $20, or $10.

LOCAL.

Revival meetings will begin at the M. E. church next Sunday.

A number of trees have been planted on the hospital grounds.

The Ann Arborite can find something to go to almost every evening in the week, now.

Hereafter the bookstores will be closed at 8 o'clock every evening, except Saturday evenings.

It is announced that a gift of $5,000 has been made to the building of Trinity Lutheran Church.

Apples, but not very good ones, are being peddled about town, from wagons, at $1 per bushel.

And now that election is over buck-wheat cakes come in for approval. Our advice is to vote "yes."

Mr. E. F. Mills has generously donated a large amount of material for the sewing school last Saturday.

The meeting at Unity Club next Monday evening will take the form of a social. All are cordially invited.

Who is thy neighbor? He whom thou hast power to aid and bless: Whose aching heart or burning brow Thy soothing hand may press.

Thy neighbor? Pass no mourner by: Perhaps thou canst redeem A breaking heart from misery: Go, share thy lot with him.

A Fair woman—Mrs. Potter Palmer.

The $30,000 of sewer bonds have been sold to Spitzer & Co., of Toledo, Ohio, who take the entire issue at par.

Rev. Dr. Coburn exchanged pulpits with Rev. Dr. Ryan, of the M. E. church of Ypsilanti, Sunday evening last.

M. J. Lehman has moved into the Masonic Block where he has his law offices on the north side of the entrance.

If the Indians made this late summer that the first week or ten days of November gave us, they did a good job.

The new city offices are about completed and ready for occupancy. They are very fine. The furniture has not been placed therein yet.

The next lecture in the S. L. A. course will be delivered by John Temple Graves, in University Hall, on Saturday evening, Nov. 18.

Chas. Eisele, a lad about 15 years old, had his collar bone broken Sunday while playing on the commons opposite St. Thomas' school.

The $2,000 policy held by the late James M. Stafford in the Knights of Honor, was paid by B. F. Watts finance keeper, to his widow yesterday.

On Saturday last, Allmendinger & Schneider shipped one car load of flour to Maine; another to New Hampshire; and a third to New York.

Rev. Mr. Olinger, a Korean missionary, filled the pulpit of the M. E. church last Sunday morning. He gave the audience a missionary sermon.

The Choral Union is meeting with excellent success in disposing of season tickets. There is a general desire to "be in it," as the slang expression goes.

John Zeigler died very suddenly at his home on West Liberty street, Sunday p. m., and funeral services were held yesterday, from the family residence.

Some of the professional potato peddlers have the smallest bushels that you ever looked at. It takes a microscope to find a bushel after it is emptied.

The Great Executive Committee of the L. O. T. M.'s held a meeting here Monday and Tuesday, at the office of Miss Bower, the Great Record Keeper for this State.

The concert at the M. E. church last Friday evening was excellent, and has seldom been surpassed by any given in the city. The large audience enjoyed it immensely.

Onions have a thick skin, indicating a mild winter, so it is said, while the heavy corn husks indicate a severe winter. The onions are the strongest. Hope they'll win this time.

There are lots of boys loafing about the streets continually. They are taking lessons in the school of vice, that will land them either in the penitentiary or put them on the road as tramps.

Now that the electric lights are used so extensively in dwellings, it would be a nice thing to have the light so that it could be used in the morning, say from 5 o'clock a. m., until daylight.

The Ann Arbor Gas Co. expects to move into their office in the new building of David Rinsey's, on S. 4th ave., by Dec. 1st. If they do there will have to be some tall hustling by the contractors to get it finished.

The lecture of Judge Cooley before the Unity Club, on Monday evening last, upon "The Influence of Habits of Thought upon Institutions," was a remarkably fine production, and ought to be printed and receive wide circulation.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, is to hold a county convention in Saline village, on Friday, Dec. 1st, during afternoon and evening. As it is a post Thanksgiving meeting, it will probably be a good one.

City Clerk Miller is the hardest worked official there is in this city, without exception. Any private citizen requiring the work to be done that he does for the city would have to pay $2,000 therefor. And yet he only gets $800.

The candidates for the postoffice have all "got their skates on" just now and are securing names to petitions in a lively manner. The various candidates at present are: Capt. J. F. Schuh, S. W. Beakes, Edward Duffy and Dr. John Kapp.

The Young Men's League, an account of the organization of which will be found in another column, is a tardy step in the right direction. It is devoutly to be hoped that it will go forward to success without any hitches or halts. It is a worthy cause.

He failed for sixty thousand. Took a last look at the wreck. And when next they found him, Was suspended by the neck.

His creditors said he drank; His wife said he was robbed; While his moneyed country partner Simply sat around and sobbed.

But the wily coroner (His brain was extra sized) Said the man was plainly crazy, For he'd never advertised.

Rev. Grindall Reynolds, of Boston, one of the most eminent clergymen in the Unitarian body, will preach at the Unitarian church next Sunday morning and evening. Mr. Sunderland's sermon announced for the evening on "Jesus and Miracles" will be postponed one week.

Some 250 or 300 Ann Arbor people went to Detroit on the excursion last Friday. Each and every one nearly, carried one or more packages of goods on their return home. It was a nice thing for Detroit merchants, but not a nice thing for Ann Arbor merchants.

Prof. H. L. Willits, who is organizing the Church of the Disciples during the absence of Rev. Mr. Young, is delivering a series of sermons on young men and young women, that are proving of much interest. He asks these young people why they do not attend church more regularly and gives the answers.

Emanuel Mark Staebler, a member of the freshman dental class, died at the home of his parents on Cherry st., in the 3d ward, on Thursday last, Nov. 9th, of typhoid fever, and funeral services were held Saturday p. m., from St. Andrew's church. He was a young man of much promise, and his death is very sad indeed.

The Owosso American publishes this item: "It is announced that Hon. Chas. Kline, an Ann Arbor lawyer, has been looking up evidence against the T. A. A. & N. M. Road in connection with the wreck at Hamburg, and will commence suits for Mrs. DeBollen. Mrs. Alberts and the relatives of Milligan in the sum of $20,000 each."

Miss Nina M. Fall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Fall, is to be married on Dec. 4th, to Mr. Walter S. Hubbard. The ceremony is to take place at the home of her parents at Los Angeles, Cal. Cards to this effect were received here this week. The bride has many friends in Ann Arbor who will send their very best wishes for a happy married life.

Mrs. Georgia Adams Rathbone, wife of Prof. John H. T. McPherson, of the University of Georgia, died on Sunday Nov. 13, at the residence of her mother Mrs. Elizabeth A. Rathbone, on N. Division st., of consumption. Funeral services were held last evening in St. Andrew's church, at 8:30 o'clock, and the remains taken to Jamestown, N. Y., for interment.

The old people are fondly anticipating it! The young men are anxiously waiting for it! The young women are sighing for it! The children are crying for it! What? Why the Midway Plaisance to be given Nov. 21st to 25th, at the Rink, by the Ann Arbor Light Infantry. It is to be the grandest show on earth. Don't allow your memory to skip it.

The annual praise meeting of the Missionary Societies will be held in the Presbyterian church next Friday at 3 p. m. An excellent programme has been prepared. Mrs. Wallace Radcliffe, of Detroit, will give an account of her recent trip to Alaska, and a returned missionary from Corea will also tell of the work in that land. All ladies who are lovers of missionary work, are earnestly requested to attend.

The San Francisco papers give full accounts of the large wedding of Clinton E. Worden to Mrs. Evelyn Towne-Shaw, at Grace Episcopal church. Afterwards three hundred guests sat down to a splendid banquet at the home of the bride's father who is vice president of the Southern Pacific road. A few nights before the wedding a large farewell banquet was tendered Mr. Worden at the Pacific Club of which he is a member. This was a very recherche affair.

Rev. B. Fay Mills, the evangelist, will come here with an assistant and a musical director. He will have five meetings at the Presbyterian church in the evening, and prayer meetings forenoon and afternoon in the M. E. church. Also one Saturday evening and one Sunday evening meeting at University Hall, and prayer meetings with students, during the Sabbath. Mr. Wiley with his trained choir of 135 members, will help to furnish excellent music.

County Clerk Brown, a member of the Washtenaw county bar, and also of the senior law class, tried his first case Saturday before Justice Bennett. A colored man by the name of Brown, has been arrested for complicity in a watch stealing case, and employed the senior law Brown to defend him. It showed the colored Brown's good judgment, for after hearing the eloquent plea of the counsel, the jury hardly left their seats before returning a verdict of "not guilty." Like the Count in the play of Monte Christo, Lawyer Brown now holds up his right hand and extending the index finger, tallies one.

is a grand success. Nothing like it in the County. It is a Money Catcher, as it is a Money Saver. Every garment shown worth $15.00 and $16.00.

We had a great sale last week. People were surprised at the values offered, and bought accordingly. This week we put in 75 suits additional—better quality than before—some worth $18.00 and $20.00.

We overloaded ourselves with Fine Suits for men when in New York, but the goods were offered at such ruinous prices we could not resist the temptation. Now WE MUST UNLOAD. Let every man in the County visit our store during the next ten days. You can't come any too quick.

Rev. Walter Elliot, Paulist, of New York City, speaks every evening for one week at Newberry Hall, on living subjects, commencing Friday evening, Nov. 18th his subject being: "Types of Character, or the Elements of True Manhood and Womanhood." On Saturday evening: "Can we get along without the Bible?" On Sunday evening: "Three Infallibilities—Reason, Church, Bible." Monday evening: "Intemperance; or Why I am a Total Absterger." Tuesday evening: "What Becomes of Our Dead?" Wednesday evening: "Why I am a Catholic." Thursday evening: "The Voice of Conscience—whose Voice is it?" On Sunday morning Rev. Mr. Elliot is to fill the pulpit of St. Thomas' church, his subject being "The Confessional, its Origin and Object." At Newberry Hall a question box will be placed at the entrance and the speaker will be glad to answer all questions on moral and religious topics.

Hood's Cures

Even When Called Incurable
Terrible Seige—Sciatic Rheumatism

"They said I was incurable, the doctors did, but the result has proven that Hood's Sarsaparilla was able to cure. I had Sciatic Rheumatism and was confined to my bed six months. Three physicians did not help me and I was given up to die."

When I was in this terrible condition, unable to move hand or foot, I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. The first bottle had a little effect, and while taking the second, I gained so rapidly that I could sit up in my chair. My system had been so run down by other medicine, that it took me quite a while to recuperate. By the time I had taken four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, I could walk around, and now, as I have taken six bottles, I am cured and can do a good day's work. I do not feel I can praise enough."

Revolutions of History.

1867. Overthrow of the empire in Mexico; Maximilian shot. Since 1821 it is said there have been 246 revolutions or insurrectionary outbreaks in Mexico.

1868. Mutiny on Spanish fleet began a revolution; flight of Isabella; a provisional government formed.

1870. The Provisional Government of Spain declared at an end and Amadeus crowned as King.

1870. Revolution in Paris, the Emperor having been made prisoner at Sedan. A republic proclaimed.

1870. Republican uprisings in all parts of Italy under Mazzini and other leaders; all unsuccessful.

1870. Rome vacated by French troops, who were recalled to take part in the Franco-Prussian war; a popular uprising and provisional government formed; general election held on the question of union with Italy; overwhelming majority in favor of that measure; the Papal dominion annexed to Italy.

1871. The German Empire re-founded on treaties concluded between Prussia and the smaller states.

1872. Revolution in Peru; change of government and constitution, and several changes since.

1873. Spanish revolution; abdication of Amadeus; a republic declared.

1874. Peaceable revolution in Switzerland against certain abuses of the old constitution; new constitution adopted by a heavy majority vote.

1875. Spanish Republic overthrown and Alfonso XII. proclaimed king throughout Spain.

1876. Insurrection against the Turks in Herzegovina, Bosnia, Albania, and other provinces; the Russo-Turkish war; Bulgaria and Montenegro made independent, and Bosnia annexed to Austria.

1889. Revolution in Brazil; the Emperor Dom Pedro II. forced to abdicate and sent out of the country a provisional government established, succeeded by a republic.

Coffee as a Disinfectant.

The following paragraph contains no new information, but it is perhaps not without interest from the fact that it was published more than a hundred years ago in a work by a well-known chemist of that day, and it shows therefore, that the disinfecting properties of coffee have been long recognized by scientific people.

Numerous experiments with roasted coffee prove that it is the most powerful means not only for rendering animal and vegetable effluvia innocuous but of actually destroying them. A room in which meat is in an advanced degree of decomposition had been kept for some time, was instantly deprived of all smell on an open coffee roaster being carried through it, containing a pound of coffee newly roasted. In another room exposed to the effluvia occasioned by the cleaning out of the dung pit, so that sulphuretted hydrogen and ammonia in great quantities could be chemically detected, the stench was completely removed in half a minute on the employment of three ounces of fresh roasted coffee, whilst the other parts of the house were prematurely cleared of the smell by being simply traversed with the coffee roaster, although the cleaning of the dung pit continued for several hours after. The best mode of using the coffee as a disinfectant is to dry the raw bean, pound in a mortar, and then roast the powder on a moderately heated iron plate until it assumes a dark brown tint, when it is fit to use. Then sprinkle it in sinks or cesspools, or lay it on a plate in the room which you wish to have purified. Coffee acid or coffee oil acts more readily in minute quantities.—Merchant's Review.

Nothing the Matter.

A plainly dressed man who introduced himself as Mr. John Smith, walked into a doctor's office in a Texas town, and after explaining his symptoms asked the doctor how long it would take to cure him. The doctor, who had treated the visitor with every possible courtesy, replied:

"You will require careful treatment under my personal supervision for about two months before you are able to resume your labors in the bank."

"Doctor, you are fooling yourself. I am not Smith the banker, but Smith the street car driver."

"Is that so? Well, my good fellow, I don't see what you came to me for. There is nothing the matter with you except that you are not a banker."—Texas Siftings.

What the Human Body is Made of.

An interesting exhibit at the National Museum shows the physical ingredients which go to make up the average man weighing 154 pounds. A large glass jar holds 96 pounds of pure water which his body contains. In other receptacles are 3 pounds of white of egg, a little less than 10 pounds of pure glue—without which it would be impossible to keep body and soul together—48 1/2 pounds of fat, 8 1/4 pounds of phosphate of lime, one pound of carbonate of lime, 3 ounces of sugar and starch, 7 ounces of flouride of calcium, 6 ounces of phosphate of magnesia, and a little ordinary table salt. Divided up into his primary chemical elements the same man is found to contain 97 pounds of oxygen—enough to take up, under ordinary atmospheric pressure, the space of a room 10 feet long, 10 feet wide and 10 feet high. His body holds 15 pounds of hydrogen, which, under the same conditions, would occupy somewhat more than two such rooms as that described. To these must be added 3 pounds and 13 ounces of nitrogen. The carbon in the corpus of the individual referred to is represented by a foot cube of coal. It ought to be a diamond of the same size, because the stone is pure carbon, but the National Museum has not such a one in its possession. A row of bottles contain the other elements going to make up the man. These are 4 ounces of chlorine, 3 1/2 ounces of fluorine, 8 ounces of phosphorus, 3 1/2 ounces of bromine, 2 1/2 ounces of sodium, 2 1/2 ounces of potassium, 1 1/2 of an ounce of iron, 2 ounces of magnesium and 3 pounds and 13 ounces of calcium. Calcium at present market rates, is worth $300 an ounce, so that the amount contained in one ordinary human body has a money value of $18,300. Few of our fellow-citizens realize that they are worth so much intrinsically.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

There Was Luck in It.

A man in Bremen who was passing an idle hour sat down in a small park. While there he saw a four-leaved clover and at once picked it up as an emblem of good luck. The next moment he was arrested and taken before the authorities for breaking a rule forbidding visitors to touch anything in the park. In vain he protested that he was about to sail for America, that his baggage was aboard the steamer and that it sailed in two hours. Before he could settle the matter and pay his fine, the steamer had sailed. The boat was wrecked and a number of the passengers drowned, but, thanks to the four-leaved clover, our belated traveler was saved.

Vibration on Big Steamers.

The changes lately made in the new Cunard steamer Lucania, to try to overcome the vibration, has set many ocean voyagers talking about the peculiarity of the big Campana, on which they say the vibration is so extraordinary that many people find it impossible to sleep, no matter what the position of their staterooms. One well-known lady who went abroad in the Campana had to change her tickets and come back in another steamer, as she found it impossible to sleep without the aid of drugs, all the way across. They certainly will fast and wonderful steamships abroad, but experts say that one excellence possessed by American-built steamships is that vibration is overcome.

Only a Bell Boy, but a Hero.

"Say! What you doin' there? Don't you know Jimmie hadn't slept none for goin' on two days?"

It was a chunk of a bell-boy, with white hair and almond eyes, at one of the down-town hotels, talking, and his remarks were addressed to a second blue-coated urchin who was engaged in an attempt to arouse Jimmie, the hero of this story.

"Well, if you don't let him alone, I'll smash you," continued the speaker, and he advanced to put his threat into execution.

"How is it Jimmie gets to sleep while the rest of you work?" I asked the pugilistic call-boy.

"This is the first sleep Jimmie's got for more than thirty-six hours," said Jimmie's friend, "and I'm here to keep the porter from seeing him. You see that little squint with a scar on his nose here the other day? Well, he's been sick, and Jimmie stood his watch so he wouldn't get doctored. Dis boy helps his ma, who's sick, and he tells Jimmie what awful times dey has, so Jimmie just does his watch."

Now, when de porter sees Jimmie and tells the clerk, then he gets de run, and that's what I'm doin' here."

To my way of thinking, Jimmie is a hero. He may never be president of the United States or even go to congress, but if I was proprietor of the hotel, I would see that he got a better position just as soon as he could take care of it.—Kansas City Times.

A SISTER TO HIM.

[Atlanta Constitution.]

You can see it on the meadows that stretch out beneath the sun. You can hear it in the brooklets as they ripple onward. You can note it in the schoolboys' eyes as they scramble into line. And behold it in the pumpkins that are smiling on the vine. When we're gathering in the fodder how our fingers it benumbs! But we always like the season.

When The first Frost Comes.

You can see it blush to crimson the sumacs down the lane. You can view it coat prismatic tints upon the window pane. You can note it on the tassels that are swaying in the breeze. And watch it kalsomine the grapes that cluster in the trees. We gather up the hickory nuts, while the pheasant loudly drums. And vow it's mighty jolly.

When The first Frost Comes.

WHEN THE FIRST FROST COMES.

They walked and rode and dallied. The whole long summer through; They disagreed, then rallied. And soon they were friends again. He called her Nell and she him Ted. And they were jolly chums they said.

They spent long days in boating. And fishing near the shore. And oft their skiff went floating. Amid lily pads; Nell wore. The drooping blossoms, dewey white, Tucked in her silver belt at night.

Sometimes fair Nellie flirted. With other happy men. And candidly Ted blurted: "You don't love me with Jen." And each in each confided when Affairs were waxing true again.

And then Ted left for college. One day in early fall. To gain mature knowledge. Of cricket and foot-ball. Out on the porch he stooped and kissed her—Do not be shocked, Nell was his sister! —N. Y. Sun.

Rules of Whist.

If you the modern game of whist would know, From this great principle its precepts flow: Treat your own hand as to your partner's joined.

And play not one alone, but both combined. Your first lead makes your partner understand.

What is the chief component of your hand; And hence there is necessity the strongest That your first lead be from the suit that's longest.

In this with ace and king, lead king, then ace; With king and queen, king also has first place; With ace queen, knave, lead ace and then the queen.

With ace, four small ones, ace should first be sent; With queen, knave, ten, you let the queen precede.

In other cases you the lowest lead. Ere you return your partner's suit, your own suit play; But trumps you must return without delay. When you return your partner's lead, take care.

To lead him back the best your hand contains. If you receive not more than three at first; If you had more, you may return the worst. But if you hold the master card, you're bound in most cases to play it second round.

When you've made a lead it seldom wrong. To lead up to the weak or through the strong. If second hand, your lowest should be played. Unless you mean "trump signal" to be made; Or if you're king and queen or ace and king. Then one of these will be the proper thing.

Mind well the rules for trumps, you'll often need. When you hold five, 'tis always right to deal them.

Or, if you lead won't come in time to you. Then signal to your partner so to do. Watch also for your partner's trump request. To which, with less than four, play out the best.

To lead through honors turned up is bad play. Unless you want the trump suit turned away. When second hand a doubtful trick you see, Don't trump it if you hold more trumps than three.

But having three or less, trump fearlessly. When weak in trumps, yourself, don't force your friend. But always force the adverse strong trump hand.

For sequences stern custom has decreed. The lowest you must play if you don't lead. When you discard weak suits you ought to choose. For strong ones are too valuable to lose.

Edison on Brain Food.

Said Edison in a recent interview: "Every man has his own ideas as to what he should and what he should not eat and what quantity of food he should partake of during the course of twenty-four hours."

"As a general rule, you may put it down that hustlers eat very little. I mean brain hustlers. They don't need much fuel. I eat very little."

"How much?"

The famous inventor picked up a scrap of yellow blotting paper lying before him and drew upon its rough surface a diagram. The broad brow of the thinker contracted. It must have been a difficult thing to determine just how much food substance it took to supply the system of the thinker. The result showed that Mr. Edison eats but 24 ounces of food a day.—Brandon Bucksaw.

Taste Life While Ye May.

O gin I were a sodger lad, a blithe lad I would be, Or if a sailor I'd been bred, right weel I'd like the sea;

But, oh! this weary work in town, It is nae work for me— I canna tole the three-legged stool, I canna bide the pen.

My father is a country child, he can's the cart and plough, He labors bairn in farm and field, as I full fain would do;

Abune his head the lavrock sings, the caller air blows free, But he is auld, his heart's grown cauld, and little heed takes he.

It's little pleasure folk can win when once they're auld and dune, And siller comes but slowly in, it's lang or fortune's won;

For wealth comes but wi' toil and care, and care suns turs us gray; Then haste ye, lads, to do and dare, and taste life while ye may!

November Crop Report.

Wheat sowing was delayed this fall by the dry weather that prevailed previous to the middle of September. The rains that began on the 12th of that month placed the ground in condition that it could be worked, and wheat was sowed from this time on until near the middle of October. A much larger percentage than usual was sowed the early part of October.

The area sowed this year compared with acreage sowed in 1892 is estimated as follows: Southern counties, 75 per cent; central counties, 77 per cent; northern counties, 91 per cent and state, 77 per cent. The reduction in area here indicated is not greater than it was reasonable to expect, and is due in part to the dry weather.

Wheat is doing fairly well. It is small because late sowed, but is yet growing, and but little damage has been done by insects. Less than a dozen correspondents in the southern counties report damage by insects. Compared with vitality and growth of average years the average condition is as follows: Southern counties, 88 per cent; central, 90 per cent; northern, 98 per cent, and State 89 per cent. The per cent for the southern counties is the same as in 1891, but five points above the condition November 1, 1892.

The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed in October is 1,127,516. The number of bushels reported marketed in the three months August, September and October is 4,654,020, which is 797,117 bushels less than reported marketed in the same months last year.

Corn in the southern counties is estimated to yield 44 bushels of ears per acre, in the central 54, the northern 61, and the State 47. The average yield of corn in the State for a long series of years is about 50 bushels of ears.

The acreage of clover seed harvested in the southern counties is about two-thirds, and in the State seven-tenths of an average. The yield in the southern counties is 1.12 bushels, in the central 1.47 bushels, and in the State 1.20 bushels per acre. The yield of the small, or June clover, is very light, but the mammoth yields fairly well.

Potatoes are estimated to yield as follows: Southern counties, 54 per cent; central, 62 per cent; northern, 68 per cent, and State, 67 per cent, of an average crop.

The condition of live stock is rather below the condition one year ago, the averages, however, are all above 90 per cent.

The statistics of land in farms in May of this year, as shown by returns made by supervisors, are as follows: Total number of farms in the State, 141,235; acres of improved land, 8,366,022; acres of unimproved land, 4,347,876; average size of farms, 90.02 acres.

The statistics of wheat, corn and oats raised in 1892, and acres of wheat in 1893, as shown by the farm statistics, are as follows: Acres of wheat, 1,622,244; bushels, 25,284,190; yield per acre, 15.59 bushels. Acres of wheat in 1893, 1,582,127. Acres of corn in 1892, 700,570; bushels of ears, 34,599,245; average per acre 49.30 bushels. Acres of corn in 1893, 825,833; bushels 24,638,787, average per acre, 29.84 bushels.

YOUR FUTURE IS IN YOUR OWN HAND.
Palmistry assumes to tell what the lines in your hand indicate. It will amuse you, if nothing more. The above diagram almost explains the theory. The length of the LINE OF LIFE indicates probable age to which you will live. Each BRACELET gives you thirty years. Well-marked LINE OF HEAD denotes brain power; clear LINE OF FORTUNE, fame or riches. Both combined mean success in life; but you must keep up with modern ideas to win it. You will find plenty of these in Demorest's Family Magazine, so attractively presented that every member of the family is entertained. It is a dozen magazines in one. A CLEAR LINE OF HEART bespeaks tenderness; a straight LINE OF FATE, peaceful life; the reverse if crooked. A well-defined LINE OF HEALTH spurs you to better things; so will the health in Demorest's. No other magazine publishes so many stories to interest the home circle. You will be subject to extremes of high spirits and depression if you have the GIRDLE OF VENUS well marked; keep up your spirits by having Demorest's Magazine to read. By subscribing to it for 1894 you will receive a gallery of exquisite words of art of great value, besides the superb premium picture, 17x22 inches, "I'm a Daisy!" which is almost a real baby, and equal to the original oil painting which cost $300; and you will have a magazine that cannot be equaled by any in the world for its beautiful illustrations and subject matter, that will keep you posted on all the topics of the day, and the fads, and different items of interest about the household, besides furnishing interesting reading matter, both grave and gay, for the whole family; and while Demorest's is not a fashion magazine, its fashion pages are perfect, and you get with it, free of cost, all the patterns you wish to use during the year, and in any size you choose. Send in your subscription at once, only $2.00, and you will really get over $25.00 in value. Address the publisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York. If you are unacquainted with the Magazine, send for a specimen copy. A large QUADRANGLE means honesty; a small one, dishonesty; a general good look, a good character; the LINE OF TRUTH, strong will; LONG SECOND DIVISION, reasoning faculty. THE MOUNT OF JUPITER bestows nobility; the SATURN, prudence; the SUN, love of splendor; MARS, courage; MOON, imagination; VENUS, love of pleasure; and MERCURY, intelligence. Make advice as above and you will be sure to possess the last and most valuable quality.

Hutzel's Water Back!

A very important invention which will be hailed with delight by every body using a stove or range for hot water circulation. After years of experience we have succeeded in producing a simple and perfect WATER BACK.

It overcomes all the present troubles of extracting lime and other sediments which accumulate in water backs, often making them useless and in great many instances becoming dangerous.

The outlay of dollars is reduced to dimes. No household using a range can afford to be without it.

No more trouble by using city water for hot water circulation.

Can be used in any stove. Ask your stove dealer for Hutzel's Water Back.

Mason & Davis Co.'s ranges for sale at C. Eberbach are provided with our improvement.

Everybody call and examine this useful invention.

Freedom has a new postoffice, named Eckert.

Mary E. Scott has moved from Mooreville to Ypsilanti.

At Saline last week 20 pupils left to attend the German school.

The new M. C. passenger station at Wayne is one they brag about.

C. Saley, of Bridgewater, has been suffering from a run away accident.

The Tecumseh Herald speaks of "Col. Chas. H. Kline, of Ann Arbor."

Blissfield sent 300 people to the World's Fair. That was bliss indeed.

You can shoot partridge and quail—if you can find them—up to Dec. 15th.

The Baptist Society of Salem celebrated its 61st anniversary last week Friday.

Mrs. Richard Wheeler, of Sylvan, has had a new sheep barn built on her farm.

A citizen's lecture course is what the Pinckney people are attempting to get up.

A climber is wanted to replace the rope in the flag staff of the school house at Saline.

No more red ears to be found at North Lake. Farmers have their hunking all done.

Mr. McHale has retired from blacksmithing at Salem, and the firm is now Haywood & Son.

The Byron Herald states that the Farmer's Alliance in that township has wound up its affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hendrick have sold their millinery store at Ypsilanti, and removed to Detroit.

The South Lyon Excelsior reaches this office about once every month or two. What's the cause?

Chairman Thos. Young, of Lyndon, was in Ann Arbor last Thursday, signing the remaining county orders.

The editor of the Wayne Pilot says that the editor of the Wayne Review is to marry a Dearborn girl soon.

Celery raisers at Tecumseh cultivate 120 acres, and expect to realize $48,000 this year from their crop.

Rev. Wm. Benton is to preach the Thanksgiving sermon, at the Congregational church, Salem, on the 30th.

J. Sober, of Salem, fell from the top of the hay mow in his barn recently and received quite severe injuries.

Wm. A. French has moved his family back to Dundee from Presque Isle. He will continue his lumber business up there.

Northville can no longer sing "our fire company is the best company," for she hasn't any. They have all resigned.

An entertainment is to be given November 17th, in Haywood's Hall, Salem, by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. of that place.

On Friday evening next the ladies of the Saline Baptist church are to give a social at the residence of Mrs. Preston Rouse.

Congressman Gorman and private secretary, B. B. Turnbull, returned home from Washington last Saturday.—Chelsea Herald.

On account of poor health, Rev. J. L. Cheney, pastor of the Baptist church at Ypsilanti, has resigned and will leave there in a few weeks.

There will be a prayer and conference meeting at the Robert's school house, Pittsfield, next Friday evening. All Christians are invited to be present.

Mrs. S. H. Moulton, of Coldwater, died very suddenly on the 2d inst., aged 75 years. She resided at Saline, in this county, some 40 years ago.

It is reported that R. C. Glenn, of North Lake, has over 100 bushels of walnuts stored away for winter.—Chelsea Standard. No chestnut about that.

Only sixty years ago there were only three steamboats on the great lakes. There are many times that number now.—Chelsea Herald. Oh! Shaw! you must be joking.

Saline appears to be doing a lively trade in run away this fall. Almost every week some equine takes the bits in his mouth and goes it alone. And there is no street railway cars to get scared at either.

Poultry is being shipped from the various railroad stations in this county by the car load every day almost. It is often a wonder where so many come from.

The farmers who have plenty of hay and grain are out buying sheep to feed it to this winter. $1.50 to $2.25 buys a good sheep now.—Manchester Enterprise.

Geo. M. Cartwright, of Wyandotte, is about opening up a quarry of lime rock, for building purposes, at Newport, Monroe county. It is said to be a superior building stone.

Recently the residence portion of Saline, on Chicago st., narrowly escaped a bad fire which had started in the house of A. W. Lashier. Cool judgment and quick work saved it.

The friends of Abe Losford, the old colored man who has lived at Howell some 40 years, gave him a nice load of provisions Halloween. A grand way to spend that evening, in doing good.

Matt Blosser of the Manchester Enterprise, is not considered to be very much stuck up, himself, but the last issue of his paper received at this office was. Flour is cheap and paste plentiful, we suppose.

It is said the old M. E. church choir assembled in the audience, last Sunday evening, and drowned out the present choir. It resulted in a little fracas in a certain blacksmith shop next day.—Wayne Review.

The citizens of Manchester, one of them, anyway, proposes to have a hole bored into the earth there to find out what is underneath. They have a sneaking suspicion that they are directly over a coal seam. Hope so.

Twelve nails in the track of a boot heel, last week landed a whole family of Pittsfield grain thieves behind the lattice. How uncertain are all things here below. Especially for a grain thief with twelve nails in his boot heel.—Adrian Press.

George Walker, Sr., one of the old residents of Salem, died on the 5th inst., aged 76 years. He came to Michigan in 1830, and was married and settled down in Salem in 1840. His widow and seven sons and three daughters survive him.

Bill Mulholland, of Dixboro, the great big cowardly beast, who so cruelly beat and kicked his wife and afterward made his escape, has at last been arrested. If he does not get full justice in court "may the devil fly away with him!"—Adrian Press.

The electric light plant is started now at five o'clock a. m. and run till daylight. This service was began last week and will continue throughout the winter.—Clinton Local. This is probably a bluff, to make people believe that Clintonians arise early in the morning.

A 38-caliber, silver plated revolver, formerly owned by the desperado Frank James, has been placed in the gun hospital of Mr. Rogers, for repairs. It is an old revolver of the American Eagle pattern and has undoubtedly seen some rough usage.—Dundee Reporter.

The big fish in the Huron river will have to keep in deep water if they don't wish to meet an ignoble death on the lines of a spear. We counted no less than a dozen fish lights between here and Ann Arbor last Friday evening.—Dexter Leader. What were you doing to see all that?

The Standard complains that the trust officer needs to scour the streets of Chelsea and take a number of children therefrom and compel them to go to school. It also warns parents that some of their children whom they suppose to be in school are not there, but are playing truant.

The man who could not afford to pay 50 cents a bushel for a few apples for his children to eat during the winter, but who put in 500 gallons of cider for his own use, has been heard from. He lives within—well less than one hundred miles of Dexter. A shining mark for a conversion.—Leader.

Thirty-six years ago Jacob Sturm came to this village a transient. He stayed over night and finally decided to start in business, which he did and has since successfully carried on the harness and carriage business until last Saturday when he sold his entire stock to his brother Lewis.—Saline Observer.

A good many of our town's people are still hunting for their gates that left for parts unknown on Halloween. The large gates between the Presbyterian church and the manse are missing and Mr. Belding is determined to prosecute if he gets wind of the party who eloped with them.—Northville Record.

E. J. Reed, of Northville, has traded his interest in a farm, for a Newway county newspaper. Never was much of a farmer anyway. The cut of his job, was that of an editor. Everybody last spring saw that he ought to quit the farm, when he tried to plant potatoes with a grain drill.—Adrian Press.

A Circassian fortune teller did a paying business in Adrian. All the unmarried ladies wanted to know who were to be their future husbands, and the married ladies sought information relative to divorce matters. The men always asked how to get rich, and the answer invariably was, "Leave Adrian."—Hudson Post.

This item is going the rounds: Storing apples in barrels lined with newspapers is an experiment made by a Michigan farmer. He opened barrels that had been packed for a long time, and found that in those unlined more or less of the fruit was decayed, while in paper-lined barrels every apple was sound and in a fine condition.

Mrs. Alice Church, the Tecumseh thief who was caught in the act of burglarizing a house, was sentenced to three years imprisonment in the Detroit house of correction. Her daughter Bessie was sentenced for three months. As the women knew they were searching for valuables in an editor's house, it would seem as though they should have been adjudged insane.—Hudson Post.

It shall be hailed as a very great year for the people when the virtue of honesty can embrace politics as well as other things; when partisan papers will tell the truth about partisan matters as carefully as they do about ordinary affairs. Do they do it now? How many people will question the statements of any paper they read, about a public enterprise of any other character, or doubt its sincerity in an argument for a theory or a belief in any other direction? and how many are there who accept those respecting partisan politics? This tells the story, and suggests how public confidence and the public conscience need that honesty should embrace politics as well as other things, and what a very great year for the people it will be when that occurs.—Ypsilanti Commercial. Now if the Commercial would be as honest and careful in its political assertions as is the Courier, for instance, there would be a good start toward the millennium in this respect.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS, ANN ARBOR, NOV. 8, 1893.

Regular session.
Called to order by Pres. Keech.

Roll called. Full Board present.

Minutes of the previous meeting read and approved.

Sidewalk Inspector Sutherland reported that he had personally inspected the sidewalks which had not as yet been constructed, on the south side of East University avenue, in front of the property of A. L. Noble, John R. Miner, and Fred C. Brown; on the south side of Volland street, in front of the following property, Charles J. Schmidt, Mrs. Clarissa Johnston, Mrs. Peter Lang, Mrs. Olivia B. Hall, A. J. Kitson, Henry Kenney, Mrs. L. J. Johnson, and Mrs. Jane Ottley; on the west side of Ashley street in front of the property of Philip Viesel; on the north side of Geddes avenue in front of the property of Frederick Schujd, Emma James, Frances St. Johns, Catherine Parsons and C. H. Kenney; and that such sidewalks ought to be built without delay.

Mr. Keech moved that the report be received and filed, and the street commissioner is hereby ordered to take the necessary steps to build all sidewalks so reported not built to this Board, also on W. Huron street, north and south sides.

Yeas—Messrs. Keech, Schuh and McIntyre.

The clerk was directed to notify the sewer committee to be present at the meetings of the Board of Public Works.

H. T. Morton, Secretary of the Ann Arbor Street Railway Co., asked to have several crossing fixed so that they can use scrapers on their tracks.

Referred to Mr. Schuh and street commissioner.

A communication from the Ann Arbor Gas Co. was read notifying the Board of Public Works and the street commissioner that it claimed title to street running from Depot to Summit streets, between Fifth avenue and Beakes street, and would hold the board and street commissioners responsible for any damage done to the alley.

On motion the Street Commissioner was ordered to consult with the city attorney and act under his directions.

On motion of Mr. Keech, the Clerk was directed to ask for prices on one and a half ton pig lead.

On motion the Board adjourned.

W. J. MILLER, Clerk.

A NEW MONEY.

[New York Sun].

Then up rose Mr. Peffer, from the flat and windy state, And wanted to inject himself Into the great debate

"I move," he said "a motion That will settle this dispute, And give the country money Which is warranted to suit.

"I've tried to have established A mint for coining hay, Or oats, or wheat or laters, In promises to pay.

"But somehow all my efforts Have thus far been in vain; And now I come as final With one that gives me pain.

"But we are patriotic, And make a sacrifice, If people who demand it Desire to pay the price.

"Therefore, I move a motion, To wit, hereby, herein, Resolved we coin as money The whiskers on my chin!" (Great applause).

Jas. Boss Filled Watch Cases are all gold as far as you can see. They look like solid cases, wear like solid cases, and are solid cases for all practical purposes—yet only cost about half as much as an out-and-out solid gold case. Warranted to wear for 20 years; many in constant use for thirty years. Better than ever since they are now fitted, at no extra cost, with the great bow (ring) which cannot be pulled or twisted off the case—the

Can only be had on the cases stamped with this trade mark.

All others have the old-style pull-out bow, which is only held to the case by friction, and can be twisted off with the fingers.

Sold only through watch dealers. Ask to see pamphlet, or send for one to the makers.
