FESTUM, FESTE, FEST, FETE.

No Matter How You Pronounce it This Is the Festival Season.

The people of Ancient Rome, when they had a gay time, and made a spread, they termed it a festum, and they were a great people for such occasions. If history tells us truly, they were a people who spent a great deal of time in enjoying themselves. Sometimes, like human beings of a later date, they carried their joy making too far, and then the end was a carousal. But that does not apply here.

The French call a festive occasion a fete, while the Italians retain the word in the Latin tongue except that they use the plural, festa.

A German cuts the word short and makes a fest out of it, while a Spaniard adds a considerable to it, and translates it into his own language as a fiesta.

The English people have a word that expresses the event. They call it a festival, at the same time showing proper respect for the Latin tongue.

Among English speaking nations this is the season for festivals. Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Years have for many generations been observed as festival occasions, and this particular portion of the year is very appropriately given over to occasions of pleasure and enjoyment. As a consequence we have all come to look for and anticipate something of the sort, and in so doing are seldom disappointed.

This year, in Ann Arbor, the ladies of St. Andrew's Episcopal Society have prepared for quite an elaborate festival. It is to be held in Harris Hall, which is already being prepared for it.

Booths are being constructed, in a very pretty manner. The design is to have one booth represent New Years, another St. Valentine's Day, still another Easter, a fourth Independence Day, a fifth Thanksgiving, and the last the best of all—as the little folks all think—Christmas.

Much time and labor has been spent by the ladies in preparing these booths, and providing them with suitable articles that would commend themselves to the wants of our people for these holiday times.

If you are at all in doubt about what you want for your mother or wife, or sister, or "cousin" or for your father, or husband or brother or "friend" just attend this festival and your trouble will vanish in a trice for you will find what you desire and your perplexity will be at an end.

Then the ladies in the New Years booth have made preparations to receive you, hospitably.

On each evening a fine musical program is to be rendered. On Friday evening the High School orchestra, a very creditable organization, assisted by Gerald Brown, the boy soloist of St. Andrew's choir, who is rapidly coming to the extreme front in that line will render a fine program.

On Saturday evening Prof Kempf will entertain the audience, and all know what that means. While on Monday evening, Prof. Stanley, who has yet to meet with anything like failure in anything which he ever undertook, will have charge of the program. On Tuesday evening there must be a surprise in store, for the ladies will not divulge what is coming.

But it will take too much space to tell you all this story as it deserves to be told. You will have to attend and gain the rest by experience, which is the best way.

The dates for this affair are Dec. 6, 7, 9 and 10, at Harris Hall. All the people of the city, county, state and nation are invited.

And right here allow us to say, and it is with the utmost pleasure we say it that no chances will be sold on anything. It is not a church lottery, but a festival, and everyone who attends will be made to enjoy himself.

REPUBLICANS IF COUNCIL.

The County Committee Meets to Talk Over Affairs and Takes Action.

The Republican county committee met in this city Saturday afternoon on the call of the chairman, to take into consideration what action, if any, was necessary in regard to the many stories afloat respecting C. P. McKinstry, the present register of deeds, who was nominated for the position by the Republican party, and elected by the people as a representative of that party. There was but one feeling among the members of the committee, and that was one of sorrow and regret that it should have been necessary even to call such a meeting. But at the same time, as the people had entrusted the offices of the county into the hands of the party, they felt that the honor of the party was at stake, and that if true, the reported misconduct could not be passed by without notice. After much discussion, and the presenting of the question in all its lights, the committee, unanimously without one dissenting vote, passed the following resolution:

"To the Honorable Seth C. Randall, Prosecuting Attorney of Washtenaw County, Michigan:—It having been brought to the notice of the Republican committee of said county, that C. P. McKinstry, register of deeds of said county is charged with certain misconduct, irregularities, and neglect of duty in the management of said office. Therefore, the said Republican committee through its chairman does hereby petition you to investigate said charges, and if you find them to be true, to take such steps as you may deem necessary and proper, under the laws of Michigan in such cases made and provided, to the end that the laws of said state may be duly vindicated."

There was no desire to hasten matters, no desire to persecute or prejudice, no desire to have this official removed if the rumors current should prove to be untruthful, yet the entire committee felt that they could not go before the people of this county and ask their support with such things unnoted, and that as the register of deeds office was one of great importance to all the people of the county, that its duties should be attended to promptly. There should be no fear by any citizen leaving a paper in that office that the same would not be properly filed and recorded.

There were 28 gentlemen present, Ypsilanti having its full complement of committeemen, so that it was the action of the Republicans from all parts of the county, and not of one particular section.—Daily Times.

An Unjust Accusation—

Deputy Revenue Collector William B. Cady of Sault Ste Marie, has been deposed on trivial and trumped up charges by the tough element in his party to whom it is a crime to be a gentleman and scholar. Mr. Cady is one of the most brilliant young men of the democratic party not only in the upper peninsula but even in the state, and if the officials at Washington understood the situation they would see they could not afford to have such an injustice and political blunder carried out.

The sick man knocking at the door of health gets in if he knocks the right way, and stays out if he doesn't. There are thousands of ways of getting sick but only one way to get well. Do whatever you will, if you do not put your digestion in good order, and make your blood rich and pure, you will not get well. Rich, pure blood is the only thing that can bring perfect health. Constipation is a disease of the blood. A large part of all diseases are traceable directly to impurities in the blood, and can be cured by eliminating them with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first thing it does is to put the whole digestive system into perfect order. It stimulates the appetite, excites a copious secretion of the digestive fluids and promotes assimilation. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be, kills them and forces them out of the system. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used with unvarying success for over 30 years.

A PLEASANT EVENING.

The Directors of the Y. M. C. A. Were Responsible for It.

The directors of the Y. M. C. A. gave the members of that organization a New England supper last Friday evening in the rooms of the association. Pork and beans, in true Boston and Plymouth Rock mode, and pumpkin pie in the various styles of Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Massachusetts, together with other delicacies, were served by the directors in person, who upon that pleasant occasion took the place of waiters. Some of the waiters acted a little awkward, and occasionally spilled a dish of coffee or knocked over a platter of pie, but on the whole they came out of the fray in pretty good shape. However much they may have accidentally soiled the garments of other people by their nervous greenness, they quite generally saved their own clothes—which, under the circumstances, was quite thoughtful of them.

But one thing the entire association can be thankful for, and that is that the directors did not attempt to do it all. They—very fortunately for their invited guests—called upon their wives to prepare the viands for the feast and set the tables. This the ladies did in a manner that certainly deserves much praise, for the tables were a pretty sight when they were ready for the feast.

It was quite 8 o'clock when the guests set down to the tables, and the festivities commenced. After the appetites had been satiated, Mr. Nathan Stanger arose and assuming the role of toastmaster, announced that the company would have their ears feasted with a good supply of crisp toasts, and the following program was then carried out:

- "The Association"..... Emil Richter
 - "Board of Directors"..... Fred Schall
 - "The Ladies"..... Samuel Mummy
- MUSIC
- By Sid Bangs, Mandolin, and George Rooney, Guitar.
 - Song, "Don't You Remember Sweet Alice, Ben Bolt?"..... Sidney Martin
 - Athletics..... C. Fred Gauss
 - Banquet of '95..... Mr. Buehlow
 - "The Educational Work"..... Miss Emma Fischer
 - By the Toast-Master, the young gentlemen who agreed to respond having flunked.
 - Song, "Oh Promise Me,"..... Herman Allmendinger
 - Piano Solo..... Miss Emma Fischer
 - Anything He Chooses to Talk About..... A. C. Hilder
 - Closing Words by Pres. Chas. W. Wagner.

Some of the responses were excellent, and all were good. In fact the young men who responded to the toasts surprised many an older one there by the fine manner in which they did it. When it came to the music and the songs, each one had to respond to an encore.

Mr. Stanger, as toastmaster, was right at home, and the fact was quite apparent that he roasted as well as toasted. He has a keen sense of humor and he brought it into play in a way that kept the audience convulsed.

If the affair was not a success, then appearances are terribly deceptive, that's all.

An Old Pioneer Drops Dead—

George N. B. Renwick, of Salem, died in this city very suddenly on Friday last. He had just finished unloading some grain at the Argo mills, on the Northside, and was returning to his wagon to drive away when he fell forward and expired.

Coroner Ball summoned a jury and a verdict of death from natural causes was rendered.

Mr. Renwick was born in New York June 24, 1827, and came to this county with his parents the year following, having lived here ever since, on a fine 300 acre farm in Salem, which township his father, also named George, assisted in organizing. The elder Renwick was a member of the legislature of the territory of Michigan for four years, and of the State for ten years.

The deceased with others from his township, fought the paying of $25,000 in bonds voted by his township for aid to the Detroit, Lansing & Northern R. R., and carrying the case to the supreme court they won it, thus Michigan was saved many thousands of dollars, if not from bankruptcy.

Mr. Renwick was at first a Whig but afterwards a democrat. The only office he ever held was that of justice of the peace.

A RECORD TO BE PROUD OF.

That of Mr. Chas. B. Davison of This Office.

On Wednesday last December 28th, Mr. Chas. B. Davison, foreman of the Courier press room, completed his 29th year in such position. When he first commenced his duties in this office it was owned by its founder, Dr. A. W. Chase, and was then contained in the south building, the other part of the Courier block not having then been erected.

During that period Mr. Davison has lost very little time because of illness. A siege of la grippe in 1890, lasting for about three weeks being the only occasion of the kind. During all these years there has not been an accident of any account, or any injury to any person in the press room, or in the boiler room either one, both of which are in his charge. The writer of this can confidently assert that if all engineers were as careful as he is, there would be fewer explosions and disasters with steam boilers. He has handled steam all his life, and yet he is free to confess that he has never seen the day that he was not afraid of it. It is often the familiarity with this great power—so useful if properly handled, so disastrous to both life and property if not that cause trouble. He never allows it to become his master through carelessness.

In this connection it might not be out place to notice another characteristic of Mr. Davison, showing his thoroughness in whatever he undertakes. He is probably one of the best posted members of the Masonic fraternity to be found in the state, and Michigan is one of the best Masonic states in the Union. During the period mentioned he has held office for 12 years in the Masonic fraternity as senior deacon, junior and senior warden and as worshipful master. During the five years past that he has performed the duties of W. M., for fraternity lodge, he has raised on an average twenty-five Fellow Crafts each year to the sublime degree of a Master Mason, or 125 in all, and the work of this lodge has become so famous that members of the order from long distances come here to see the work exemplified, and during his occupancy of the chair of warden and master he has raised 160—a fairly good-sized lodge of itself.

Mr. Davison has not grown as old in service as one would think. Constant employment of one's ability does not wear out the system with as great rapidity as idleness rusts them out, as a consequence he is good for many years yet to come, at least so all of his many friends hope.

Assessments Chock Up—

Ann Arbor, Dec. 2, '95.
Editor Courier:

Dear Sir: Believing you are honest in your convictions of what you have said in regard to taxation and assessed valuation of the townships of Washtenaw county, I wish to speak in relation to the assessment of Ann Arbor township in two instances, where sales have been made. The assessment on 40 acres, on Sec. 10, was $1,200, and the actual sale was $1,100. Also on Sec. 22, an 80 acre farm was assessed at $5,200 and sold for $4,965.

These transactions of actual sales should be sufficient to prove that Ann Arbor township is assessed up to its full cash value in the meaning of the law.

AN ARBOREAN.

A Quiet Day—

Thanksgiving Day was very quiet and peaceful. There was no noise or shouting of any kind. The great victory of the football team over Chicago did not find enough students left in the city to get up a good-sized hurrah. The day was made happy to many families, however, with reunions and grand dinners, while the charitable people of the city saw to it that there were few homes that were not provided with plenty of food and some of the luxuries as well. Take it all in all, here in Ann Arbor, the day was passed as near to its intent as possible to have it.

Will some of our free trade contemporaries, who want everything cheap, tell us how they like it now that they have got it?

The only good thing to be said of the foreign policy of the administration is that it no longer includes the idea of pulling down the American flag.

Marriages in jail should be prohibited by law. It ought to be a crime against the law, as it is a crime against humanity, for any minister or justice to perform a marriage ceremony, where either party are in prison.

Colorado correspondents are beginning to say that it is a mistake to call that the silver state. When the gold-bug procession is formed a year or two hence Colorado may be found marching ahead of the golden Kafirs.

French geographers place the present steam railway mileage of Europe at 152,209 miles, or 28,000 miles less than are operated in the United States. When it comes to electric railway mileage Europe is nowhere in comparison with this country.

The official statistics prove that the excess of our imports over our exports during the first ten months of the present year was about $125,000,000 greater than in the corresponding period of last year. This shows the practical result of the democratic tariff policy, and at the same time helps to explain the outflow of gold to Europe.

Government records of the lake levels since 1860 show that there is an alternate rise and fall through a series of years, the changes depending on variations in the rainfall. While the level of Lake Michigan is a little lower than it has been since 1864, the condition is expected to disappear with the first wet season, and the small lakes reported dry will again fill up.

Hon. William M. Everts is now in his 78th year and partially blind, but his mental faculties are still in good order, as is shown by his prediction that "no power under heaven can prevent republican success next year." He goes on to say that the policy of the Cleveland administration has wholly changed the temper of the people, and made it impossible for the democratic party to gain their approval and support.

Perhaps the saze who writes the political paragraphs for the Adrian Press, will tell his farmer readers how much cheaper the farmer and the laborer buys his clothes now under free wool than he did under a tariff that made it possible for our farmers to raise wool at a profit? The farmer has had to kill off and practically give away all his sheep, he has no wool to sell now to buy any clothes with—he has very generously given the raising of wool over to his South American and Australian friends. And the laborer, now that the farmer has little money to buy with, finds that he has no work, and can earn no wages with which to buy clothes for himself and his family. This free wool business and free trade generally is a fine thing, a generous thing for the farmers and workmen of foreign countries, but death to our own.

"An old-time Democrat" writes to a Kentucky paper that "the democratic party wins whenever it deserves to win." This observation needs study to determine whether it is a word of good cheer or an epitaph.

Now we are to have a republican congress, it should show its good faith by passing a bill restoring the tariff on wool, knocking out all ad volorem duties, and restoring the reciprocity provisions of the McKinley tariff act. Of course the president will veto such a sensible act, but let him do it. Let him take the responsibility. But let this republican congress show the people that it fully understands their position and their votes.

No sooner had the name of the gallant grand and good Gen. Russell A. Alger been proposed as delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention in 1896 than every out-and-out-365-day-in-the-year republican newspaper in Michigan, in one voice acquiesced in a big YES! Ever since the Minneapolis convention in 1892 has the editor of the CLIPPER favored the selection of Gen. Alger as a delegate-at-large in 1896, and we never betray a friend—for him yet, and until he gets there.—Cedar Springs Clipper.

Here are a few words from the Adrian Press that ought to have weight with the authorities to whom it is addressed. The citations are not wholly applicable, but beyond dispute: "To the Hon. Hoke Smith, and Commissioner Lochren: Gentlemen, pensions are a vested right. We site you to Ohio on elections. November edition, majority section, page 85,000; New Jersey on ballots, Griggs edition 1895, sec. 27,000. Pennsylvania on succession, vol. 41, 1895 edition, Quay's reports. Also see Maryland on Man damn us."

They have a republican register of deeds in Washtenaw, a republican prosecutor, a republican sheriff and a republican judge. Ypsilanti is a republican city, and had a republican clerk, who is now the county register of deeds. There's a republican shortage of the people's cash in the city of Ypsilanti, and the amount seems to be about $1,900. McKinstry who is the register and ex-clerk, thinks the figures incorrect. He has staved off paying, to get time to look up the matter. He deposited a certified check for $1,400, and Monday he tried to take it back, but an injunction restrained the banker from giving it up. Looks like embezzlement, but perhaps it isn't. Just a "shortage."—Adrian Press.

That is the way our democratic contemporaries take to throw smut on republicans. But when this official was arrested a democrat came to his rescue by going on his bail bonds. He did it, rumor says, so that ex-county treasurer Suckey, whose defalcation was about $5,000, might have a running mate of another political color.

Wool is only 10 cents a pound, yet 19 out of 20 of the horny handed, hard working, honest and always economical and sagacious farmer pulls a cotton shirt over his head and mentally curses the tariff and all its supporters as the cold chills streak up and down his spine.—Manchester Enterprise.

Well, as the old saying is, if that don't beat the Jews. Bro. Blosser seems to think that the tariff is restored because everything has gone republican. Bless your soul, man, it is the lack of a tariff that every farmer is cursing and has so told you by his vote, for even Manchester has gone republican.

Had you forgotten that we are still living under the free wool and free everything that the farmer produces tariff? Did you think the Wilson bill had been repealed? Oh, no! The farmer has added to his woes free trade in all his wares. And that he is not thankful therefor is quite natural. He has decided, however, by his ballot, that he will have a change. He has already changed the House, nearly changed the Senate, and by March 4, 1898, he will have the entire free trade crowd cleaned out, root and branch, legislative and executive. And then we may look for better times for the farmer, and not until then.

WHAT A CHANGE!

When President Cleveland was inaugurated March 4, 1893, the senate stood as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Party and Vacancies. Democrat 43, Republican 28, Populists 5, Total 76.

In the house of representative the political strength was:

Table with 2 columns: Party and Vacancy (Del.). Democrat 119, Republican 127, Total 246.

When congress meets next month it will show the strength of parties to be as follows in the senate:

Table with 2 columns: Party and Vacancy (Del.). Democrat 38, Republican 44, Populists 5, Total 87.

With the republicans are included Jones and Stewart, republican silverites. The house of representatives will have party strength as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Party and Vacancy. Democrat 245, Republican 104, Populists 6, Total 355.

When Mr. Cleveland's term comes to an end the senate will probably stand as follows:

WHITE VIOLETS.

I send you violets dim and white: Fragrance and brilliant hues they cannot claim. Yet keep they of their scented sisters bright The semblance and the name, Such is the love that lingers sad and pale, Within the heart though conquered by the Love that by his kiss and smile tells not its tale Yet ever love—love still!

One's physical feelings, like the faithful setter, search and point out plainly the fact of disease or health. If a man is not feeling well and vigorous—if he is losing flesh and vitality, if he is listless, nervous, sleepless, he certainly is not well. The down hill road from health to sickness is smooth and declines rapidly. At the first intimation of disease, the wise man takes a pure, simple vegetable tonic. It puts his digestion into good active order and that puts the rest of his body in order. The medicine that will do this is a medicine that is good to take in any trouble of the blood, the digestion, or the respiration, no matter how serious it may have become.

The medicine to take is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a remarkable remedy. It cures diseases in a perfectly natural way, without the use of strong drugs. It cures by helping Nature. It has a peculiar tonic effect on the lining membranes of the stomach and bowels. By putting these membranes into healthy condition, stimulating the secretion of the various digestive juices and furnishing to the blood the proper purifying properties, it reaches out over the whole body and drives disease germs before it into the usual excretory channels. It builds up firm muscular flesh, makes the skin and the eyes bright.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been found wonderfully efficacious in the treatment of skin diseases—eczema, tetter, erysipelas, salt-rheum—from common pimples or blotches to the worst case of scrofula.

Harper's Magazine

In 1896. Briseis, a new novel by WILLIAM BLACK, written with all the author's well known charm of manner, will begin in the December Number. A new and continuing serial, a new novel by GEORGE DE MATRIER, entitled The Martian, will also begin during the year. It is not too much to say that no novel has ever been awaited with such great expectation as the successor to Tribby. The Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc will continue and will relate the adventures of the heroine and martyrdom of the Maid of Orleans. Other important fiction of the year will be a novelette by MAXIM TWAIN, under the title, Tom Sawyer Detective; a humorous three-act farce called Two Marmos from Muddley, by LANGDON ELWYN MITCHELL; and short stories by OCTAVE THIBAUD, RICHARD HARDING DAVIES, MARY WILKINS JULIAN RALPH, BRADNER MATTHEWS, OWEN WISTER, and other well known writers.

Prof. Woodrow Wilson will contribute 6 papers on George Washington and his times, with illustrations by HOWARD PYLE. POLLY BIGNOLD'S history of the German struggle for Liberty, illustrated by R. CATON WOODVILLE, will be continued through the winter. The Harper's on St. Charles and the Mad Anthony Wayne's victory, by THEODORE ROOSEVELT, with graphic illustrations will be printed in the December Number.

A noteworthy feature of the MAGAZINE during 1896 will be a series of articles by CASPAR W. WHITNEY, describing his trip of 2000 miles on sledges and dogs. His expedition into the unexplored Barren Grounds of British North America in pursuit of wood-birds and musk-oxen. Mr. Whitney's series will have the added interest of being illustrated from photographs taken by himself.

The Volumes of the MAGAZINE begin Numbers for June and December of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order.

Remittances should be made by Post-Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss. Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of Harper & Brothers.

Harper's Weekly

In 1896. HARPER'S WEEKLY is a journal for the whole country. It deals with the events of the world that are important to Americans. In carrying out this policy, in 1895, JULIAN RALPH and J. H. HARRIS, and in 1896, RICHARD HARDING DAVIES took a trip through the Caribbean Sea; the relations of the new navy were described and illustrated by RUFUS F. ZOGRAFF. FREDERIC REMINGTON presented studies of Africa and Frontier life; POLITYSKY BIGNOLD attended the opening of the Klondike. In 1896 like attention will be given every happening. The chief events in art, literature, and music of the year will be artistically presented. W. D. HOWELLS, in the new department, Life and Letters, will discuss his interesting way books and the social questions of the time. E. S. MARTIN, sprightly gossip of the Busy World will be continued. The progress of the Transportation Commission around the World will be followed, and CASPAR W. WHITNEY will conduct the department of Amateur Sport.

In its editorials and through its special features the WEEKLY will continue to be an independent advocate of good government and sound money.

In fiction the WEEKLY will be especially strong. It will publish the only novel of the year by H. D. HOWELLS, and a stirring serial of a Scotch feud, by S. R. CROCKETT. The short stories selected are of unusual excellence. In every respect HARPER'S WEEKLY will maintain the high place in the illustrated journalism of the world.

The Volumes of the WEEKLY begin with the first Number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order.

Remittances should be made by Post-Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss. Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of Harper & Brothers.

COUNTY AND VICINITY.

Poultry thieves about Wayne are plentiful these days.

North Dakota has an Ypsilanti. The salvation of N. D. is certain sure.

John C. Jones, of Manchester, got a bad fall down his cellar stairs recently.

Guy Sherwood and wife of Osceola, Iowa, have been visiting their parents at Manchester.

Mrs. George Pencill, of Toledo, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Style—Ypsilantian. If there is anything that a newspaper likes it is a pencil of the right style.

By a vote of 174 to 53 the taxpayers of the village of Wayne have agreed to bond themselves to construct water works. Not a bad idea, especially in a dry season.

The funeral of Mrs. J. G. Spathelf, of Freedom, who died on the Friday previous, was held on Sunday, November 24, at the Freedom church, and was largely attended.

Helen F. Canfield has been awarded a verdict of $2,500 against the city of Jackson for injuries sustained by her by reason of a defective sidewalk. That sum would build a lot of sidewalks.

Fowlerville is all broke up over a criticism made by the Pinckney correspondent of the Howell Herald on an entertainment given by the minstrel boys of Fowlerville at Pinckney. The Observer comes back on the said paper and its correspondent with a lot of cuts.

Mat D. Blosser of the Manchester Enterprise must be older than he looks, by far. On Thanksgiving Day he had been married a quarter of a century and he and his estimable wife and family celebrated the occasion appropriately. May they live to enjoy the half century anniversary, is the wish of the Courier.

We can't see why a man of good sense whose opinions are not warped by drink can't just as well be on the temperance side as on the wrong side. However, that is one of the unsolved problems.—Stockbridge Sun. He probably is on the temperance side. There are many who are good temperate people, who believe in temperance and practice it, who do not believe in prohibition. They are temperate in their opinions as well as in their habits.

Judge Kinn last week sentenced Mrs. Larkins, of Monroe, to state prison for life. The prison officials refuse to receive her twin children, born but a few days ago, and it looks as if Monroe would have a star engagement with "A Pair of Kids." Monroe is quite a place for nurseries however. There's a report that Pete Gussenbauer wants to adopt the kids for service at the light house, but this needs confirming.—Adrian Press. While the affair itself is made light of, when one comes to think of two human lives ushered into this world under such awful circumstances, is it not rather one of sadness than mirth?

The Clinton Local tells this highly improbable story: "A young man of this village accused a young lady who is boarding at their house of sitting on the sofa with a certain young gentleman who is paying her considerable attention. She denied the allegation stoutly and stated she never knew a man she thought enough of to sit that close to him. The young man set about to satisfy himself by running a small wire from the sofa to another part of the house, the same being connected to an electric alarm bell. It was so arranged that one person sitting on the sofa would not ring the bell, but a second person's weight was necessary. It is needless to say the trap caught her, and he has had lots of fun at her expense since.

It May Do as Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill. writes that he had a Severe Kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called Kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all Kidney and Liver troubles. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c. for large bottle. At The Eberbach Drug & Chemical Co's drug store, and Geo. J. Heussler, Manchester.

Another Argus Corker.—

Here is another corker on the Argus. This time it is taken from that sterling democratic sheet, the Adrian Press. You just wait and see the fur fly when the Argus strikes back:

"The board of supervisors of Washenaw county solicited bids for printing and the Ypsilanti Sentinel was awarded the job. Then the vote was reconsidered and the printing went to a combination bid by the Courier and Argus. The Sentinel denounces the skulduggery in round terms. Bless you neighbor, that's nothing. The Press put in a far lower bid for printing here, than any other paper, but the board just gave it to the Times. To the victors belong the spoils, and the Press isn't kicking. But when a democratic board runs off with the printing to some little way side opposition paper or to a job office, then we shed our coat. Such democrats won't keep their party out of the cemetery. Over in Washenaw, the Sentinel is a square out and out democratic paper, one of the best in the state. That reconsideration was a fraud, and we don't blame Bro. Woodruff for "hooting."

DR. HARTMAN SAYS

Now is the Time to Guard Against Colds—The First Cold Weather.

In a recent lecture at the Surgical Hotel, Dr. Hartman is reported as saying that no one need catch cold if he is willing to give the matter slight attention; that a cold is the beginning of chronic catarrh, consumption, disease of the liver, stomach, kidneys and pelvic organs. All this could be prevented by taking his advice. The doctor's professional duties compelled him, for many years, to be much on the road night and day, by carriage, railroad and steamboat. During all this time he never caught a cold. This could not have been done without Per-na, he says. At the slightest evidence of a cold a few doses of Per-na invariably check it.

This is especially seasonable advice for the cold winter is here, with its storms, sudden changes, sleet, rain and snow. Thousands of people will contract diseases from which they will never recover, by catching cold. Dr. Hartman's advice should be heeded. Per-na cures catarrh of any stage or location. It is the most popular remedy for lagrippe, coughs, colds, etc.

Send for a free copy of an illustrated book on catarrh. It contains 64 pages of valuable instruction. Address The Per-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio. Ask your druggist for a copy of The Per-na Almanac for 1896.

The Song Journal—

The Song Journal for November has a portrait of Alfred Hoffmann, the violinello virtuoso, as a frontispiece and the usual amount of musical news. There is a portrait of Verdi from a recent photograph, which is excellent. Also one of M. Christian Singl and Paderewski. The music consists of a song by Anton Strelezki, entitled "Spring Cometh," and two instrumental pieces, one by Frank P. Atherton, and another by Frederick A. Williams. The principal article is a letter by Henry Marteau, on European Musical Comment.

Easy Enough to Get Fat.

Skinny people generally are so because of their inability to digest the food which is passed from the stomach into the bowels. The bowel digestion is weakened. Starches of the grains, make fat tissue, but if the bowel digestion is weakened by coffee, tobacco, whisky, etc., the person remains skinny. Leave off the weakening habits and use in place of coffee Postum Cereal, the food drink. It is made entirely of grains and is fat-free. It looks like the finest Mocha coffee. Persons who are to lay aside their hurtful habits and eat plain, well-cooked food and some fruit, and drink Postum Cereal will feel a great improvement in a week's time. Nature is a powerful builder if left free to work without drugs and poisons.

Nervous women will find relief in Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it enriches the blood and thus strengthens the nerves.

Never again will there be another Special Offer made on this great Standard Dictionary and Encyclopedia of the World's Knowledge. We fully intended to advance the price on October 31st, but thousands of people in all walks of life have requested an extension of time until Christmas. After careful consideration, we have decided to continue our Special Offer until the above date. This is done simply and only as a means of advertising this wonderful storehouse of information. We do not expect to make money by this offer, as the very low price on extremely liberal terms little more than pays for paper, printing and binding; but the tremendous amount of talk created will help to advertise this most modern and up-to-date home reference library. No advertisement can do the work justice; it is its own most eloquent advocate. Recently adopted by the schools of St. Louis, Mo., and many other cities, in preference to all other dictionaries and encyclopedias. It is equal to a college education.

FOR A CHRISTMAS GIFT NOTHING COULD BE BETTER!

Your pastor, teacher, friend, parents, or your children will appreciate this great work beyond expression. It will last a life time and always give satisfaction. No business or professional man, teacher, student, mechanic, housewife or any other person who wishes to keep abreast of the times, or who is interested in the laudable enterprise of self-education, can afford to allow this rare opportunity to pass without careful investigation. Understand, this great work embodies all the features of a complete Dictionary and a thorough Encyclopedia. The new and entirely up-to-the-time is now offered all readers of this paper at the rate of 7c. per day, in regular payments of $2.00 each, until the sum of $14.00 is paid. This is but little more than one-third the monthly price.

This greatest of Dictionaries was edited by some of the world's renowned scholars as Dr. Robt. Hunter, A.M., F.G.S., Prof. Huxley, Morris, Herbage, Estoclet, Williams, etc., assisted by scores of other specialists in various branches of knowledge.

Don't forget this special offer holds good only until Christmas Eve, at which time the price will be advanced to $42 to $70 per set, and absolutely no deviation from these prices will be made. It is not for sale in book stores, and can only be obtained from us or our authorized representatives

The above is an exact reproduction of THE ENCYCLOPAEDIC DICTIONARY Four massive volumes in a handsome case of polished wood. Weight about 40 lbs.

Over $750,000 Required to Produce This Magnificent Self-Educator.

It is a Complete Dictionary of the English Language. Every word is exhaustively treated as to its origin, history, development, etymology, pronunciation and various meanings. It is a Thorough Encyclopedia of anatomy, botany, chemistry, zoology, geology, art, music, agriculture, physics, philosophy, mechanics, history, mythology, biblical knowledge, etc.

It is better than all other dictionaries, because the latest edition of Worcester contains but 16,000 words and 2,128 pages; the latest Webster contains but 140,000 words and 2,011 pages; the Standard contains but a little over 200,000 words and 2,318 pages, and even The Century contains but 220,000 words, and sells for $50 to $100. Encyclopedias of various kinds sell for $50 to $200. This great ENCYCLOPAEDIC DICTIONARY, containing 3,377 pages, over 3,000 illustrations, bound in four handsome volumes, has over 250,000 words, 50,000 encyclopaedic subjects, and is the accepted authority of the English language.

Lacey, Chairman, Course of Study Com., St. Louis Board of Education.

I have Webster, Worcester, and the Century, and for Encyclopedias I have the Britannica and Appleton's. The Encyclopaedic Dictionary is a magnificent substitute for all of them.—J. H. Atwood, Esq., Attorney-at-Law, Leavenworth, Kan.

Rev. Barkley's Splendid Effort—

Those present last Friday night at the Presbyterian church, in attendance upon the second entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. Lyceum course, were delightfully entertained. The University Orchestra, about 20 strong, rendered a number of selections that were not only excellent, but fine, very fine.

The young gentlemen composing this orchestra have placed the Y. M. C. A. under great obligation for their services so generously and freely tendered. It was a kind act and fully appreciated.

And the lecture. What shall be said of it? And the lecturer, What shall be said of him?

The lecturer, what of him? He was simply inimitable. He had a subject in which he could throw his entire heart and soul, and he had a thorough command of language in which to express his ideas in a telling way. He imitates the late John B. Gough in many ways, for he is an actor as well as a talker, and many of his keen points are made more keen by his theatrical way of putting it. He not only lectures but he entertains as well. There has not been a lecturer on the platform in Ann Arbor in many a day that could equal him. He is a success, and success to him wherever he goes.

The lecture took the audience through the great civil war from beginning to end. It told them of the battles, the reverses to the Union army, the reverses to the Confederate army, the wavering of victory between the two sides and its final settlement upon the banners of the Union under the leadership of that peerless soldier Ulysses S. Grant. It told of the characteristics of the Southern people, of their natural military temperament, their dash and love of display and titles, which gave the South, together with the foresight of Floyd, secretary of war under Buchanan, who transferred all the U. S. army supplies and ammunition to Southern arsenals before the war began, and the further fact that two-thirds of the graduates of West Point were Southern men, these gave the South a wonderful advantage in the beginning of the mighty struggle. But they were not able to contend against the mighty perseverance and energy of the North when fully aroused. It told of scenes that were ludicrous, and scenes that were sad, and it told many truths, among which was this one, that the war was one which the people themselves did not understand, but which the leaders, the politicians forced them into. It told of a Southern underground railway from Salisbury prison, and how a large number of Union prisoners reached the Union lines by means of it. It further told how the people of the South condemned the inhuman treatment of the Union prisoners, which was stigmatized in no unmistakable terms. In fact it was a noble setting forth of the war, its causes and effects, from the mouth of a Southern man, who fought, and who today we believe to be as loyal a citizen who breathes the air of American freedom. The feeling tribute paid to Abraham Lincoln was a touching and beautiful one from an eloquent tongue.

The Y. M. C. A. made no mistake in securing Rev. Barkley, for every person present went away feeling that he had been made better by hearing it.

The statement that the republican county committee met Saturday to discuss the successor to Mr. McKinstry, was entirely untrue. No word was said about his successor the only thing agitating the committee was the honor of the party and what ought to be done to protect it.

In case of removal from the office of Register of Deeds of Mr. McKinstry, Messrs. George Alexander, Alonzo Ford, Frank Creech and George Cook are candidates for appointment.—Ypsilanti. There seems to have been a little too unseemly haste to grab in this instance before there is anything to grab. Republicans should be less demonstrative. Too much haste doesn't look well, sometimes.

The lover of the beautiful could feast his eyes, and the poet find food enough to feast his soul for weeks, in the landscape that everywhere presented itself Sunday night and Monday morning. The fleecy flakes of snow had clung to the trees and the little twigs thereof seemed to bear a foliage beautiful beyond words to describe. The painter's brush that could reproduce any portion of the scene would have to be wielded by inspired hands. The filthy streets, the unsightly debris covering the earth, all was given a crystal coat that sparkled like innumerable diamonds, dazzling the eyes and almost bewildering the senses with its loveliness.

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held last night at the rooms. The report of the General Secretary, B. B. Johnson and several other officials, will be made at the next monthly meeting. The report of the Librarian, Alfred Schairer, was read and was very interesting. It showed that the association had made excellent use of the 50 books secured from the state, and action was taken to return these books and have another lot issued in their place.

At the election of directors the retiring gentlemen were reelected except W. B. Phillips, who declined and was succeeded by Ralph McAllister, both from the Presbyterian church.

At a meeting of the directors subsequently held, the following officers were chosen:

Secretary—E. S. Gilmore.
Treasurer—George L. Moore.

The chairman of the entertainment committee, Mr. Ralph McAllister, reported the net proceeds of the excursion given last summer as $135.25, which was ordered placed in the Savings department of the F. & M. We would like to look into the pleasant face of some one who has never had any derangement of the digestive organs. We see drawn and unhappy faces of dyspeptics in every walk of life. It is our national disease, and nearly all complaints spring from this source. Remove the stomach difficulty and the work is done.

Dyspeptics and pale thin people are literally starving, because they don't digest their food. Consumption never develops in people of robust and normal digestion. Correct the wasting and loss of flesh and we cure the disease. Do this with food.

The Shaker Digestive Cordial contains already digested food and is a digester of food at the same time. Its effects are felt at once. Get a pamphlet of your druggist and learn about it.

It has just leaked out over here, how Kentucky happened to go republican. Captain Allen was engaged to make speeches a little south of the middle of Ohio, and Kentucky heard him. The captain is an effective speaker.—Monroe Democrat.

It seemed very natural and very good to see the little ones gathered again last Saturday to take part in the useful instructions given at the Sewing School. This was the first meeting of this school for a long time, and it was enjoyed by the little ones.

The Adrian Press remarks: "The Ann Arbor Democrat says 'Winter is here.' Probably that's because Mrs. Snow filed a bill for divorce there last week from Wm. Snow, for drunkenness. She tried to prevent a Snow fall in November, and couldn't. Winter is there."

The examination of C. P. McKinstry, charged with embezzlement, is set for Dec. 16, before Justice Childs, of Ypsilanti. The Ypsilantian states that Mr. McKinstry will be defended by the somewhat notorious Thos. Nayin, of Detroit, and City Attorney Chas. Kline, of Ann Arbor.

It is but just to the correspondent of the Detroit Free Press to state that the dispatch that appeared in Sunday's issue of that paper was not as sent by him, and that he disclaims sending any such "news." As accidents will occasionally happen the Free Press will probably have to be excused this time.

The meeting of the Schoolmaster's Club last Friday and Saturday was one full of interest to the masters, and the discussions were in earnest, showing how the participants were in their work. Time and space both forbid such a report as the meeting deserves. A proper impression can not be given of the meeting in a brief synopsis.

An incipient fire was discovered just in time by Patrolman Campion, in the basement of Wadhams, Ryan & Reule's store Sunday night. It was caused by some defect in the furnace, and the floor underneath the store had already caught fire. In about five or ten minutes more it would have done many hundreds of dollars damage. The fire boys were there on time.

The old boys of the Presbyterian church are to give the social Thursday evening. Sid Clarkson is chairman of the committee; Jimmie Babeock is general superintendent; Willie Stimson and Charlie Maynard look after the eatables; Georgie Moore and Freddie Gage take care of setting the tables and decorating the rooms, while Ralphie McAllister takes care of the cash.

On Monday afternoon at the probate office, Judge Babbitt issued an order committing to the Pontiac asylum Mrs. Minnie Collier, of this city. The case is a very sad one. Mrs. George Rauschenburger, of Whitmore Lake is a daughter, and quite well known to our young people. Emma Otto, a niece, will move here from East Saginaw, and take charge of the household.

The lecture of Miss Mary T. Wadsworth, of Boston, Mass., at the Unitarian church last evening was excellent. Her subject was Thackeray and she was evidently in love with her subject. She pictured Thackeray, and many of his characters, in glowing colors, but not more so, perhaps, than those who have read the works of this great novelist would consider deserving. For the American public are rapidly coming to place this man where he belongs, at the head of English writers of fiction. Miss Wadsworth is not young and gushing but middle-aged and sensible. She has a keen intellect and a bright eye through which it shines. The Unity Club was fortunate in securing her for its course. She would be welcomed again.

University Hall was crowded Monday evening to listen to the second concert in the Choral Union Series. It was a song recital by Madame Clementine De-Vere-Sapio, assisted by Miss Charlotte Jaffe pianist, and Mr. Herman Zeitz, violin. Madame De-Vere Sapio was pleasing and disappointing both. She has a phenomenal voice in some respects. It is clear and of great range, and highly cultivated; perhaps too much so. A different selection might have produced a different result, but she did not sing herself into the public heart, for some reason. Mr. Zeitz came the nearest to making a hit in his selection from Wieniawski, of the Legende, and the Mazourka from Zarzkycki. There was a melody about them that was very sweet, and he displayed much skill as an artist in their rendition.

An Important Office.

To properly fill its office and functions, it is important that the blood be pure. When it is in such a condition, the body is almost certain to be healthy. A complaint at this time is catarrh in some of its various forms. A slight cold develops the disease in the head. Droppings of corruption passing into the lungs bring on consumption. The only way to cure this disease is to purify the blood. The most obstinate cases of catarrh yield to the medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla as if by magic, simply because it reaches the seat of the disease, and by purifying and vitalizing the blood, removes the cause. Not only does Hood's Sarsaparilla do this but it gives renewed vigor to the whole system, making it possible for good health to reign supreme.

He proposes to keep everything in first class style for first-class patrons, and will see to it that there are no objectionable people admitted. One of the happy events of Thanksgiving Day was the marriage of Martin Schaller and Miss Bertha Weimann, Rev. Max Hein performing the ceremony. The best men were Louis C. and Philip Weimann, and the bridesmaids Miss Emma Weimann and Miss Lizzie Kemper. A wedding supper was served, and the festivities were pleasing indeed to the guests. Among the presents was a check for $500 from the groom's father, who resides in Germany.

A falsehood tenaciously adhered to is as good as the truth itself, is evidently the motto of the Argus. While it says not a word about the democratic officials being responsible for any portion of the expenses of the county for the past year, it reprints its tables and re-asserts that because the republicans are now in power that they are responsible for the increase in expenses for the year. Very well, if it make the people believe such stuff it is welcome to all it makes out of it. The people will not be so easily hoodwinked, it will find.

By the spreading of the rails the passenger train south on the Ann Arbor road yesterday afternoon was thrown from the track. It occurred about a half a mile this side of Azalia, and while none of the cars were overturned, and no person injured, it was a very close call. The wheels of the engine and cars were buried in the earth clear up to their top rims. The accident caused considerable delay in trains, all passengers and baggage having to be transferred around the wreck. The engine and cars stationed here went down and brought up the passengers from the south.

A number of young people of this city will give an entertainment in the A. O. U. W. Hall (over John Burg's shoe store) next Friday evening, Dec. 6, at 8 o'clock, for the Orphans home in Detroit. They will present the very amusing play entitled "The Deestrick Skule" after which ice cream and cake will be served. The admission for the play has been put at the nominal sum of 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. The object is a very worthy one and everyone should go and contribute their mite and enjoy a very pleasant evening with these young people.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and is made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

BEFORE THE CONVENTION.

Hobart Guild and Harris Hall Were Presented in Able Manner to That Important Body.

Harris Hall came in for considerable recognition at the last General Convention of the Episcopal Church, Rev. Henry Tatlock being one of the members of the committee on education. In the report of the committee is the following paragraph: Our committee cordially and heartily endorses the plan adopted by the late Bishop Harris in the establishment of Harris Hall at the University of Michigan. This experiment has been tried for ten years, and proved in every way, a complete success. The Bishops of Milwaukee and of West Virginia have undertaken to have similar foundations at the University of Wisconsin and the University of West Virginia. Young men attending the universities may live in the halls as practically members of the family of the clergyman-in-charge. In both instances the religious interest of the students is quickened and sustained under the healthiest and finest influence. The Church life in the university is concentrated, and, at the University of Michigan its influence is reinforced by the two courses of lectures upon the Baldwin and Slocum foundation, delivered annually to all the students by eminent clergymen of the Church. The erection and endowment of such halls as these in connection with every large secular university in the country would be a vast gain to our educational work.

Two of the members of the committee were given ten minutes each to speak on the report. Mr. Tatlock was selected as one of the two, and his speech which was listened to with interest was as follows:

"I was not aware, until just before coming into the session this morning, that I was to be asked to say anything to you on this great topic of Church halls. I shall speak to you on three subjects: (1) The occasion of Church halls in connection with great universities under the care of the State; (2) the method of their operation and (3) the results which they secure.

"The United States census of 1890 shows that there are in universities and colleges of the United States, under the direction of the various states, 46,000 students and over. In the universities and the colleges of the older sort, which exist as private corporations, like the colleges of New England and the Middle States, there were, at the same time, 103,000 students. So that in 1890 there were nearly one-third of the total number of students in universities and colleges gathered in these State institutions, which are in no way whatsoever connected with any religious body; and I have no doubt that today the number of students in the institutions is fully one-third of the total number of students in the colleges and universities. Here is our opportunity—one-third of the young people who are receiving higher education in institutions which are in no way connected with any religious body, by the side of which we may plant our Church and set up our banner. We are, or ought to be, fishers of men; and I represent to you, gentlemen, that these institutions where these young people are gathered for higher education are good places for us to go and fish.

Now, as to the method. The Rev. Bishop of New Hampshire has represented to us the importance of establishing the parish church in connection with schools and colleges. That, I believe, is the very first step to be taken. The college hall will accommodate nothing except as it is the adjunct of the Church. The Church is first—the Church, with her services, the Church in all her fullness and her power—and then let the Church hall come in as an arm, as an instrumentality of that Church that Church, that parish, with its clergy, may seek out and gather together and influence the young people who are enrolled in universities. That is the method. It is, of course, after all, the method of personal influence. The hall is nothing, excepting as it is the means of enabling men to meet other men and to bring the influence of the Church to bear upon young men gathered into universities, to bring the influence of the Church upon those young men through the instrumentality of men who are themselves imbued with the spirit of the Church.

Now, as to the results. I suppose I have been asked to speak to you upon this topic simply because I chance to be connected with that Church hall to which reference has been made this morning; the Church hall which Bishop Harris founded, of which so many of you have heard. Undoubtedly many of you have listened to Bishop Harris himself when he pleaded with you for your assistance and your aid that he might establish this institution. There are men connected with this convention who cooperated with him in that effort and who helped him not only by counsel, but by giving him money that he might establish this institution in connection with the great University of Michigan where there are gathered some 3000 students. I say I suppose I have been asked to speak upon this subject because of my personal connection at the present time with that institution and therefore I suppose that you wish me to say is what the result has been.

That hall is now called Harris Hall but was not called Harris Hall when first erected. Bishop Harris named it Hobart Hall and it was after his death that the name was changed to Harris Hall and I think that fact should be stated. It is therefore now the monument of Bishop Harris in the diocese of Michigan of his great work there in connection with education and of the influence of the Church upon it. I will simply say though I presume my time is already exhausted that though the influence of this instrumentality and of the Church with which it is connected there are now in attendance upon the services of the Church some 400. There are about 250 students who are communicants of the Church and fully 150 more who are to a greater or less extent regular attendants upon these services of the Church; a large number of students are confirmed every year and not a few of those students have become earnest, faithful, loyal workers in the service of the Church in that neighborhood and have gone all over the country. That institution has students from 44 states and territories and 17 foreign countries. Those young men who come here are brought under the influence of the Church, and go forth into the world and carry into every part of the world whatever influence the Church may make upon them as they live there during their years of college life.

SOME TIME.

Last night, my darling, as you slept,
I thought I heard you sigh,
And to your little crib I crept,
And watched a space thereby;
And then I stooped and kissed your brow
And oh! I love you so—
You are too young to know it now,
But some time you shall know it.

Some time when in a darkened place,
Where others come to weep,
Your eyes shall look upon a face
Calm in eternal sleep;
The voiceless lips, the wrinkled brow,
The patient smile shall show—
You are too young to know it now,
But some time you shall know it!

Look back ward, then, into the years
And see me here to-night—
See, O my darling! how my tears
Are falling as I write:
And feel once more upon your brow
The kiss of long ago—
You are too young to know it now,
But some time you shall know it.

A Well-Known Editor Recommends Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm.

For the first time in my life I give a medical testimonial, said Rev. H. Y. Rush, of Dayton, Ohio, the other day and only do so now from a sense of duty that I owe to other sufferers. Mr. Rush was thirteen years editor of a religious weekly in Dayton, Ohio, and has been a minister of the Gospel for forty years, so that with his age and experience he does not speak lightly when he says: "I have given your Catarrh Balm a most thorough trial and found it all and even more, in its immediate and permanent good effects, than I had anticipated. From the beginning of its use and continuously it was highly beneficial and curative. For catarrh, colds, difficulty in nasal breathing, prevention of colds, soreness of throat, it is the only remedy myself and family have found that does all and more than it promises." Nasal catarrh in some of its forms is so common and every day a matter that the fact that it may prove a dangerous ailment is apt to be overlooked. Pretzinger's for a cold in the head is a charming remedy; used at night the cold will be gone in the morning; used while the choking system is on, the paroxysm will cease instantly and the breathing will come naturally. Three or four jars will cure a chronic case of catarrh. A small sample will be sent on receipt of 2 ct. stamp by Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, Ohio.

Two Object Lessons for Women.

Organization should be the sun-glass that brings to a focus the scattered rays of high endeavor. If this is true the Convention of Women's Clubs held last week in Brooklyn was a failure. Whatever may be the lofty aims of the federation they will always be dissipated and rendered ineffective under the methods pursued at the late convention.

A clever, young and sympathetic woman who attended the various sessions of the convention likened the whole affair to the lost dog on a railway platform of which the station agent said: "I don't know where he's going; he don't know where he's going; nobody don't know where he's going; he's et his tag."—N. Y. World.

Everybody Talking About it.

Everybody is talking about the great free offer of Dr. Greene's, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and who discovered that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. He makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence, and all who accept his offer are astonished at the marvelous success of this method. His office is at 35 W. 14th st., New York City, where he receives and carefully examines every letter sent to him by persons describing their cases and telling him their symptoms. After thoroughly studying each case he answers the letter, explaining the cause of each symptom and telling a sure way to get well and strong. He makes the patients understand exactly what ails them and tells them all about their complaint, and all this is entirely free of charge. They save the expense of a trip to the city, have no fee to pay, and have the benefit of the best medical advice and consultation. Here is an opportunity for you to get well, reader, you can either accept or reject it. Which will you do?

A GREAT LAW SCHOOL.

The Law Department of the U. of M. as Portrayed by a Good Writer.

The last issue of the Law Students' Helper, published in Detroit by W. C. Sprague has the following excellent write up of the U. of M. law department. It is well worth reading:

"The course in this law school is much more rigid than ever before. The seniors have eight more lecture each week than their predecessors. Several of the law text-books which have been considered fixtures in the department for many years have been changed for modern books. Probably the most notable change is the displacement of Cooley's Edition of Blackstone's Commentaries by Robison's Elementary Law.

"Mrs. Ellen Prentice Russell, the only sister of the late Professor Wm. P. Wells, has presented the department with a fine plaster bust of Professor Wells, which will be placed in the law library. Professor Wells was for many years Kent professor of law, and one of the most revered and popular professors who ever appeared before this department.

"The resignation of Professor Knowlton as dean has taken effect, and Professor Hutchins is now in full charge. Professor Knowlton has been connected with the department for many years, and has been one of the most potent factors in building up this great law school.

"Jerome C. Knowlton was born at Plymouth, Wayne county, Michigan, December 14, 1850. He is descended from that sterling New England stock which furnished so many of the noble men who made the great Northwest. His early life was spent upon a farm, and it was at this time that he fostered that love of books and zeal for knowledge which have so characterized him in his manhood. In 1867 he entered the State Normal school, but in the same year went to the Ann Arbor High School completing its course in 1870. In the fall of that year he matriculated in the classical course of the University of Michigan, taking his A. B. degree with the class of 1875, ill-health having compelled him to lose one year. He then entered the law department, and after graduation, went into the law office of Hon. A. J. Sawyer, of Ann Arbor, with whom a year later he formed a co-partnership under the name of Sawyer & Knowlton. President Arthur, in 1882, appointed him postmaster of Ann Arbor. In 1885 he was appointed assistant professor in the law department, and was given charge of the recitation work. While so engaged he edited the second American Edition of Anson on Contracts, so that we might have a thoroughly excellent text-book upon that subject for the use of beginning students. Professor Knowlton was appointed Marshal professor of law in 1889, and acting dean in October 1890, upon the resignation of Dean Henry Wade Rogers, when that learned professor was elected president of Northwestern University. In the following June Professor Knowlton was made dean, and he most acceptably filled that office until the end of last year. Although a young man, Mr. Knowlton has already made a name for himself at the bar, no less an authority than Judge Cooley having said of him that "he was one of the best lawyers in the State." Professor Knowlton will not retire from the faculty, but only gives up the office and duties of dean. He will continue to teach his special subjects of contracts, bailments and carriers, criminal law, criminal procedure, and the law of railways. In September, 1875, Professor Knowlton was married to Miss Adelle M. Pattengill, who, appreciating his aspirations, has ever been an inspiration as well a companion in his successes.

"Another of the prominent and beloved professors in this department is Hon. Levi T. Griffin. Of the many eminent lawyers in this State, none have achieved greater prominence as practitioners at the bar than Professor Griffin. It has been said of him that he has probably tried more cases, particularly jury cases, than any other lawyer in the State. It is certain that his clientele has been large and his practice extensive and lucrative. Professor Griffin was born in Clinton, Oneida county, N. Y., May 23d, 1837. His father, a gentleman of refinement and culture, especially noted for his genial qualities, inherited a considerable landed estate which had been conveyed to his paternal ancestors by George Washington in 1790, DeWitt Clinton signing the conveyance as an attesting witness. In 1847 the family removed to Michigan. At the age of sixteen Professor Griffin entered the University of Michigan, where he maintained a good position in his classes and was proficient in all his studies except mathematics, which he never examined sufficiently to appreciate. After graduating in 1857 he entered the office of Moore & Blackmar, of Detroit, as a law student. Through the influence of Mr. Moore a distinguished member of the bar, then assistant United States district attorney, he secured the appointment of court deputy. With this financial assistance he was able to get through the first year of his studies. During this time he was accustomed to sleep in the office on a bed improvised for the occasion. He was admitted to the bar May 29th, 1858. After a few months he moved to Grand Rapids and associated himself with Lucius Patterson, for some years one of the best known lawyers of Western Michigan. Here he remained until 1860, when he returned to Detroit and resumed his connection with Moore & Blackmar, where he remained until 1862, at which time the partnership of Moore & Griffin was formed. In the fall of 1865 he entered the army as a commissioned officer, and continued in the service until mustered out July 1st, 1865, having been brevetted major of volunteers for gallant and meritorious conduct. Major Griffin belonged to the famous Fourth Michigan Cavalry, the regiment that captured Jefferson Davis at the close of the war. He was regarded by both his superiors and inferiors as an able and gallant officer. Returning to Detroit at the close of the war, he again entered the practice of law, associating himself with Hon. Don M. Dickinson. In politics Professor Griffin has always been a Democrat and prominent in the councils of his party. In 1887 he was its candidate for justice of the Supreme Court of Michigan, but was defeated Hon. James V. Campbell, who so long honored the Supreme Bench of his State, ranking as one of the great American jurists. When Mr. Charles A. Kent resigned the Fletcher professorship of law in the University of Michigan Professor Griffin was appointed his successor by a unanimous vote of the Board of Regents, and he still holds that chair. His special subjects are Evidence, Federal Jurisdiction, Common Law Pleading and Personal Property. In the fall of 1892 Professor Griffin was nominated and elected as the representative in Congress from the Detroit district. He is a man of pronounced individuality and of indefatigable industry, and although one of the most rigid and strict members of the faculty, no professor in the university occupies a warmer place in the hearts of his students.

Professor Bradley M. Thompson, another of the older members of the faculty, was born April 16th, 1835, at Milford, in the then territory of Michigan. He entered the University of Michigan in 1854, graduating from the literary department in 1858, and from the law department in 1860 with the first class. He immediately took up the practice of his profession at East Saginaw, where, in 1862, he formed a partnership with Hon. William L. Webber and Judge Chauncey H. Gage. In the same year he entered the army as captain of the Seventh Michigan Cavalry, which belonged to Custer's brigade, and served until mustered out in 1865, having been brevetted colonel for gallant and meritorious services on the field of battle. During the years of '73, '74 and '75 he served as city attorney for East Saginaw, and during the years '77 and '78 held the office of mayor of that town. In the year latter he was nominated by his party as a candidate for Congress in the triangular contest, in which Hon. R. G. Horr and Hon. H. H. Hoyt were the other candidates, all being residents of the same city and ward. Professor Thompson carried his county by a large majority, but Mr. Horr was elected. In 1880, there being a vacancy in the office of circuit judge, the bar of the district, at a formal meeting recommended Professor Thompson to the governor of the State as its choice for that office. In 1887 the Board of Regents selected Professor Thompson to deliver a course of forty lectures on the subject of Real Property, and at a meeting of the board in the June following he was made Jay professor of law. In 1893 Professor Thompson was elected mayor of the city of Ann Arbor. In private life he is genial, open-hearted and hospitable; in conversation he is brilliant and instructive. Among all classes he is most highly respected; he is a man to whom the people, and particularly the students, can go, and do go, for counsel and advice with the full assurance of a careful hearing and of the right kind of assistance. Professor Thompson is enthusiastically interested in true professional education. His style is clear and pointed. He has been in the active practice of the law for the past thirty years and his practice has extended to all courts of the state and United States. His special subjects are equity pleading, real estate, mortgages and suretyship. Through the kindness of Prof. Thompson we are enabled to present to our readers a copy of the program of the first commencement of the Law Department. It is a small four-page folder, printed, we presume, in the best style of that day, but by no means an example of the printer's art of the present time.

"The meetings of the law classes in Ann Arbor have been for years notoriously turbulent. Something unprecedented in the history of the department occurred, therefore, when the class of '96 obtained a presiding officer who succeeded in maintaining order at a class meeting. In this case the presiding officer was Miss Octavia W. Bates, vice-president of the class. Miss Bates is an admirable presiding officer, and a thorough master of parliamentary law and practice. Few, if any, women in the country have had more experience in presiding over meetings than she. She is a handsome, intellectual-looking woman, with a commanding and impressive, yet winning, presence, that is very effective with her audience, whether she appears as a presiding officer or the principal speaker upon the rostrum. Miss Bates has long been prominent in movements for the betterment of woman's condition and for the advancement of the equal suffrage idea. We do not imagine that she is studying law for the purpose of practicing it, for she is a woman of independent fortune, and we imagine that her idea is merely to obtain this addition to her already wide and deep education to enable her to work more effectively in woman's cause."

I mean to be quite calm and cool,
And not behave just like a fool,
When Jack proposed—
Intended to be dignified,
And say, "Perhaps, I'll be your bride

In spite of all I thought to do,
My plans so cherished never came true
When Jack proposed,
I laid my head against his breast,

THE RECORD OF A YEAR.

The Annual Sermon of Rev. H. Tatlock of St. Andrew's Parish, Containing Much of Interest.

The following is the annual sermon of Rev. Henry Tatlock, delivered last Sunday, which contains many items of interest to the general reader:

It is my custom, on the first Sunday in Advent, to present to the congregation a review of the previous year. I choose this day for making that review because the first Sunday in Advent is the beginning of a new year of our joint labor in the parish.

The year which closed yesterday, like those before it, brought us many and sore losses at the hand of death.

On the 24th of January, we were called to give up our senior warden, Mr. Edward Treadwell. Mr. Treadwell had been a member of this congregation for thirty years, had served on the vestry for sixteen years, and had held the office of treasurer of the parish for fourteen years. Mr. Treadwell was a faithful communicant of the church and a generous contributor toward the support of the parish; while in the discharge of his duties as vestryman and treasurer, he gave without stint of his time, and served the parish with fidelity and ability, in countless labors, for which he should be held in undying gratitude by this congregation. Nor in his life time alone did he purpose to serve the parish, but left behind him a legacy of $1,000 towards its endowment.

In the death of Mrs. Amanda Butts, on the 10th of March, we lost from our midst a saintly woman. She had been a member of this congregation for twenty years; and during all that time was an active worker for the church and for the welfare of the community. Hers was a beautiful character, strong yet gentle; steadfast for the right, yet richly endowed with the gift of charity.

On the 19th of March, Mrs. Julia A. Clark, a veteran soldier of the cross, exchanged the labors of earth for the rest of heaven. She had been a member of this congregation for forty-two years. She was a gentle Christian woman and had the esteem of all who knew her.

In the death of Mrs. Georga B. Hess, on the 24th of April, a bright young life was brought to an early close. Mrs. Hess was a young woman of strong and lovely character, was a faithful member of the church, and her loss is sorely mourned.

Mr. John W. Johnston died, away from home, on the 7th of May. He had been a member of this congregation for nearly twenty years. For some time he had served on the vestry and for many years he had been an efficient worker in the Sunday School and Missions of the Parish. He was a good man, faithful to every trust, and he has gone to the reward that remaineth for the people of God.

In the death of Mrs. Matie Parsons, on the 19th of May, another young life went out of the world. She was a gentle spirit, kind and trustful, and she was a prayerful Christian woman.

On the 29th of September, yet another young soldier of the cross, Miss Lucy M. Seyler, was called from the vicissitudes of earth to the triumph of heaven. Miss Seyler was a lovely girl, a joy in her home, and a delight among her friends. She was a devout communicant of the church, and we sorely mourn her loss.

On the 20th of October, Mrs. Catherine Hangsterfer departed this life in the calm faith of a Christian. Mrs. Hangsterfer had been a member of this congregation and a loyal supporter of the parish for upwards of twenty years. She was a woman of strong character, and she had the esteem and regard of all who knew her.

In the death of Mrs. Harriet E. Terry, on the 10th of November, the church lost a faithful member, who had been a communicant in this parish for thirty-five years. She fought a good fight under the banner of Christ and she has gone to her reward.

On the 12th of November, an honored member of this congregation and a prominent citizen of our state, Mr. James Clements, departed this life. Mr. Clements had been a devout worshipper in this church and a liberal supporter of this parish for thirty-five years. During the most of that time he had served on the vestry of the parish. He was one of those who co-operated in the building of this church edifice, and contributed generously to that object. He was widely known and universally esteemed as a man of business, and in him this parish and our whole community have lost a most valued member.

Let us who remain heed the solemn warning which this record must bring to our minds, "Be ye also ready; for ye know not when the time is."

The Seaman Fund, for maintaining the Sunday School Library.....	$1,000 00
The David Henning Fund, for the Sunday School and County House Christmas Festival.....	500 00
The John M. Wheeler Fund, for the Poor of the Parish.....	1,000 00

The Kezia A. Rogers Fund, for the support of the Parish.....	500 00
The Treadwell Fund, for the support of the Parish.....	1,000 00

It will be observed that three of these funds, amounting together to $2,500, are devoted to special objects, while the rest, amounting also to $2,500, are to be applied towards the maintenance of the Parish. (Of course, it will be understood by everyone that only the income of these funds may be used.)

The wisdom of the founders of these various funds cannot be too highly praised. The objects selected by the founders of the special funds could not have been better chosen, while the funds which are applicable to the general support of the Parish constitute the nucleus of an endowment which it is most desirable to increase, and I hope that many of the friends of the church will make provision for legacies to the Parish, so that as time goes on this general endowment may steadily grow.

What more fitting thing can we do, if we are able, than to make provision so that a part of our money, when we are done with it, shall be used for maintaining the work of the church which we love! What more beautiful thought than that of being an instrument to carry on and perpetuate the influence of the church which has been a blessing to us, so that it shall continue to be a blessing to generation after generation in all the years to come.

The following are the various departments of effort and organizations for work within the Parish:

- I. For Religious Instruction and Worship.
 1. The Parish Sunday School.
 2. The Parish Bible Classes.

These are the various departments of activity organized within the Parish. I have named them for three purposes, first, that I might give the information thus conveyed to those in the congregation who have recently come among us; secondly, that I might extend an invitation to all who are not now doing what they can, or all that they can, to help on the work of the church, to offer themselves for work in some one or more of these departments, for we need the help of all who are willing to help; and thirdly, that I might express my heartfelt gratitude to each and everyone of the officers and workers in all these various organizations for their invaluable assistance in carrying on and carrying forward the great work of this noble Parish.

Inland League's First.

It is with pleasure that we are able to announce that Prof. Francis L. York, of Detroit, so well known to our citizens, has been induced to take charge of one of the evenings in the Inland League. The concert under his direction will be given in this course at the Church of Christ, on the evening of December 12th. Mr. York will be assisted by Miss Jessie Corlette, soprano, Mr. Herman Breuckner violinist, and Mr. Alfred Hoffman 'cellist. Miss Corlette is one of the foremost sopranos of Detroit. She has been received with great favor in many concerts, as the following press notices will show:

The gem of the evening was a solo by Miss Corlette, "Knowest Thou the Land," by A. Thomas.—Saginaw Courier Herald.

It remained for Miss Jessie Corlette to move the audience to tumultuous applause last night.—Detroit Tribune.

Miss Corlette has an excellent voice and her Arias are beautiful. Her voice is so full of melody and her delivery so artistic that it is always a pleasure to listen to her.—Detroit Song Journal.

A Great Waste of Water—

What will the city now do for water? It is alleged that a great deal of the water we use comes from the river and that is going to be stopped, say the Ann Arbor Milling Co. Also that the wells cannot be used.

The Ann Arbor Milling Co. has this afternoon filed a bill in chancery against A. Kent Hale, receiver of the Ann Arbor Water Co., asking that a permanent injunction be issued restraining the Water Co. from using any river water. In the bill the petitioners aver that upwards of 6,000,000 barrels of water are taken from the river annually and that the mill for this reason has not the proper quantity of water with which to operate it. They also allege that on account of some drive wells from which the company takes water, some subterranean streams are used which otherwise would flow into the river, but now flow into the wells. Attorney Grove Campbell, of the office of Atkinson & Haigh, Detroit, is in the city working on the case in the interest of the Milling Co.—Daily Times.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO

IT'S INJURIOUS TO STOP SUDDENLY and don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about BACO-CURO. It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with BACO-CURO. It will notify you when to stop and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An iron clad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded. Price $1.00 per box or 3 boxes (30 days treatment and guaranteed cure), $2.50. For sale by all druggists or will be sent by mail upon receipt of price. SEND SIX TWO CENTS STAMPS FOR SAMPLE BOX. Booklets and proofs free. Eureka Chemical & Mfg Co., La Crosse, Wis.

Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being at least. I tried the so-called "Keely Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco-Curo." Three weeks ago to-day I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured. I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it. Yours truly, C. W. HORNICK.

Here is a scheme that other churches will do well to watch, and see how it turns out. The Congregational church of Flint has introduced a decided innovation. The trustees have authorized the pastor to throw the church doors open on Saturday afternoons, in order that farmers and others who come to the city may, notwithstanding the saloon, find a place to warm themselves and to spend a pleasant hour. Music will be provided and all will be cordially welcomed.

Sealed proposals for about 100 cords of hard wood, four feet long, sawed ends, young, body growth white or yellow upland oak, in quantities of not less than ten cords, and about twenty-five cords of bass wood, good quality, will be received by the undersigned until the 16th day of December, 1895, inclusive. The days after awarding the contract, at the school houses, in such quantities as directed. The right to reject any and all offers is reserved.

Secretary,
