Ann Arbor Milling Co.

THE RECORD OF THE WEEK.

The P. O. Officials to be Caged—Harrington Climbing—Henry Ostrom the Evangelist—Bar Banquet—Caspar Whitney Here.

A PLAY ON DIRECTORY NAMES.

How the Germans and Irish Settled in Ann Arbor—Dedacence of the Milling Industry—A. D. White's Life in this City, etc.

They are to be Caged—
President Cleveland is not slow. For some time he has viewed with great alarm the fastly depopulating ranks of the democratic party, and has evidently struck upon a scheme to help stop it in a measure. He is having United States P. O. inspectors visit all the country post offices, and where there are none already, is having cages put in, so as to keep such officials as are left, secure.

Last week an inspector dropped in at the Ann Arbor post office and ordered a cage put in here, and Saturday Mr. Beal let the contract to build the same to a Toledo house.

The Bar Banquet—

The second annual banquet of the Washtenaw County Bar Association took place at the Cook House on Friday evening last Jan. 31. There were a number of prominent attorneys present including H. Wirt Newkirk of Chelsea, Capt. Allen, D. C. Griffen and others, of Ypsilanti, A. F. Freeman, of Manchester, A. W. Wilkinson of Chelsea, et al. The guests were received in the parlors of the hotel, by Attorney John L. Duffy, until about 9 o'clock, when the order was given to file into the banquet room, which was obeyed, the older and more prominent members heading the procession. The tables looked very nice and the feast was one that was appreciated by those present.

It was all strictly legal, even to the menu cards, which were labeled "Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw. In re Second Annual Banquet Bar Association. Bill of Particulars. Filed Jan. 31st, 1896, 9 p. m."

The Hon. John F. Lawrence took the position of toast master, and he did it well, keeping the guests in the best of humor the entire evening. The toasts and responses were as given last week. It would be a pleasure to give each and every one of them to our readers, but space forbids, but they will probably be published in full in pamphlet form, which will give them a more extended circulation. The banquet for 1896 can be counted as a great success.

A Scrap of Local History—

A prominent gentleman of this city, of Celtic extraction, tells a story illustrative of the characteristics of the Irish and German people. He, like the most of his race, is a bright and active man, with his heart the biggest part of his anatomy.

In conversation with a Courier reporter a few days since he said, "Did you ever hear the true history of the way Ann Arbor came to have such a supply of German and Irish citizens?"

He was given a negative answer.

"Well, I will tell you how it was. In the early days this state of Michigan had a great many schemes on hand or internal improvements. Among others was the building of the M. C. R. R. The work of constructing these roads attracted, quite naturally, many foreign emigrants, of which at that time there were only two classes, those from Ireland and those from Germany. In constructing the Central railroad from Detroit through this county, a large gang of each class were employed, and they liked Ann Arbor so well that they all settled here.

"The Germans worked hard, lived sparingly and saved their money. The Irish worked hard, lived well and did not save their money.

"The result you see. The Germans own the town while the Irish are digging away yet.

"The Germans," he continued, "selected Christian Mack and his partner Fred Schmid, as their bankers. They poured their savings into the tills of those gentlemen, confined their trade to them or to other Germans, never bought a cent's worth of an Irishman or anyone but a German if they could avoid it, and thus built up a strong community in a financial sense.

"The Irishman was different. He confided his savings to no one. He traded with a brother Irishman if he liked him and if he did not he traded with a German or Yankee or anyone else he chose to. Thus he has failed financially.

"Messrs Mack & Schmid proved worthy of the trust imposed in them, made money for themselves and money for those whose savings they handled, until as you know, they became the strongest firm financially in this section of the state.

"That is a pretty good history, is it not? And it is true."

The gentleman then ceased talking, but he was in an evidently dissatisfied frame of mind.

Henry Ostrom, the Noted Evangelist

Henry Ostrom, the great evangelist, and Oliver Wellman Crowell, "one of the sweetest singers on this continent," will begin a religious campaign in the First M. E. church of Ann Arbor, on Saturday evening, Feb. 8th. Mr. Ostrom has had a remarkable career as an evangelist. He had great meetings two years ago at Madison, Wis., the seat of the state university, and since then he has seen great effects follow his labors in more than 30 cities. A month ago the city of Indianapolis was stirred by him as it has never been since Moody was there, and he is now seeing the same effects follow his preaching at De Kalb, Ill.

The Chronicle, DeKalb, Ill., Jan. 20, 1896, says: "Sunday he preached three times to great overflowing congregations, spoke at three committee meetings, prayed and sung, and at the close of a hard day's work he seemed fresh, ready and able to preach as at the beginning. His sermons are thoughtful, logical, interspersed with beautiful figures, amusing and helpful anecdotes, quotations from our best authors, food for the head and heart and in it all there is but one aim, to glorify Jesus Christ."

In the Methodist church, beginning Saturday evening Feb. 8th, '96.

Curiosities of Names, Etc.—

The new County Directory just issued by Glen V. Mills is very complete and contains 600 pages, the largest one ever issued.

There are 2,948 families in Ann Arbor which multiplied by 5, the usual multiple, gives this city a population of 14,740, which is probably about right.

That of course does not include the 3,500 foreign students attending the various schools in the city.

By the same rule Ypsilanti has a population of 8,240, she having 1,648 families. This is an increase of 2,129 for Ypsilanti, and 3,669 for Ann Arbor since the census of 1894.

In looking over the pages devoted to Ann Arbor some things were noted that may be of interest. For instance, while we have but two Angells, we have 8

Tenfels and a couple of Helles. There are but 10 American Cooks and 18 German Kocks in the whole city. There are 8 Wild men, 1 who is Wilder, another Wildanger, and 1 simply a Crossman.

In all its variations there 43 Browns, 65 Smiths and Schmidts, 38 Johnsons, 22 Joneses, 25 Moores, 56 Millers, 15 Mills, and the somewhat Teutonic Allmendinger occurs 24 times.

The Wagners number 24, the Whites 19, the Stolls 15, while there are only 11 of the usually numerous Davises. There are only 30 Taylors, and the German Staebler occurs 31 times, Schneider also 31, with plain Snyder but 4 times, and Lutz 29.

The points of compass are represented by East, Easterly, West, and North, South not being in it. The colors are in line with Browns, Grays, Greens, Alabaster White, but no Blacks in Ann Arbor, though there is a Blackburn.

Sweet and Sauer both abound.

The employments or callings are numerous and include: Archers, Bakers, Barbers, Barkers, Brewers, Binders, Butlers, Butchers, Bowman, Carpenters, Clerks, Cleaners, Crockers, Coopers, Cooleys, Cooks, Dancers, Dyers, Deans, Divines, Deckers, Farmers, Fullers, Fishers, Gardeners, Grangers, Glovers, Glasiers, Hunters, Joiners, Miners, Millers, Messengers, Parsons, Proctors, Porters, Popes, Readers, Saddlers, Shepherds, Smiths, Stampers, Schumachers, Tinkers, Trainers, Turners, Tylers, Wainwrights, Wheelers, Wrights.

In the animal King dom, the Field, including Bird and Fish, is prolific: There are Badgers, Bullocks, Behrs, Cambells, Canines, Coons, no Calve but Buntings, Rattis, Doves, Drakes, Hawk, Katz, Kerrs, Partridges, Robbins, Pike, Roach, Roe and Leach.

In names ending with man or mann, there is a long list:

Chad-man,	Chap-man,	Christ-mann.
Cush "	Ding "	Eisen "
Erd "	Ea "	Enke "
East "	Edge "	Hansel "
Feld "	Fez "	Heinz "
Free "	Gold "	Herr "

Rud "	Sted "	Tack "
Tea "	Stone "	Wide "
Well "	Water "	Wein "

Then the Good and God families are represented by:

GOOD ALE DEN. DARD.
HEW HIGH DEN.
RICH FRYE.
SPEED. KIN.
YEAR.
WIN.

And here is another Breed:

BACK HAUS, GARLINGHOUSE.

An indication of the Scotch and Irish element may be obtained in the fact that 115 names commence with Me, and 49 with O'. The French D' or de, is very scarce, but the Polish ski quite cloudy.

Gill has no Jack, but Jack's son is in it. There are Brooks, Ponds, Marshes, but no Lakes and Rivers—have to go to Ypsilanti for them.

Daily Darling Dancers with Dukes having Diamonds, Dickey's, Derbys and Stockings, Maybe found around the Docks, Downs, Dells and Dales, having a great Diel of pleasure. Not Illi Dunn. No, Dunwell.

There are Hardy and Hale Hunters who Hunt Honey or Hawks' by the Hazelwoods overt he High Hills near the Hinsdales, where the Householder's House, with its Hand some Hall and Kitchen is a Haven for Mann. This is the Hull of it. We will not Harris our Readers by Hatch ing up any Moore, A Liebig. Jenney Jones Jewel's Jolly Joys Jahr not a Jaffe says Jaeger Johnson's Jetter.

With Ladds one Kahn Tripp Quick Down Lanes, Fields, Woods and Parkes, never minding Frost and Snow, to the Quarry by the Mills and talk Love—yes, Howlett—on the Wing. In Case the Falks de Kline hire Sawyer and fly Swift to the Courts; after the Wahr, then Pray. This is no Guy, clear as a Bell.

If you have no Ray of Hope after Wade ing through this, we don't care a Rapp, for it's Rahr. If not, these are: Guichtel, Guntow, Buchsenschuss, Olschefski, Chautaubriend, Haentzsche, Navetrob, Prieshorn, Michalfelder, Schiappacasse, Schneebeger, Kajuska Rothenbuecher, Rogenmoser, Schwemin, Schulholz. Here goes the Uegle thing in the Schluppe!

But we might Gallup along for Weeks Butt's not Wuerth it. To change the subject, Ann Arbor has 148 streets and the directory thereof is exceedingly convenient. North and South Main streets combined is the longest and contains the greatest number of dwellings, 306. Huron follows with 278.

Ypsilanti has 84 streets, Congress st. containing the largest number of residences. There is a map of the county showing each wagon road, and a plat of each city and village.

Harrington Still Climbing—

The Seattle (Wash.) Post-Intelligencer of Jan. 28, has the following in reference to a former noted citizen of Ann Arbor: "Mark W. Harrington, president of the state University of Washington, has recently received a diploma as Honorary member of the Societe Francaise d'Hygiene, of Paris.

President Harrington is already a member of the Royal Linnean Society, and the Royal Meteorological Society of England, an honorary member of the German Meteorological Society of Berlin, the Austrian Meteorological Society of Vienna; of the Anthropological Society of Moscow; of the Geographical Society of Lima, Peru; and the Antonio Alzate of Mexico.

President Harrington was elected vice president of the International Meteorological Congress at its session in Munich in 1891, which office he has but recently resigned.

Behold, he Comes!

Caspar W. Whitney, the athletic editor—or rather editor of the athletic department, of Harper's Weekly, took the Courier's advice and came to Ann Arbor last Monday. To be sure he remained only a short time, and his visit was very unsatisfactory as far as the athletic people here are concerned, but it was long enough for him to express surprise at the magnitude of the University. His one-horse ideas of the west are no doubt being gradually dissipated, and after he travels a little more and familiarizes himself with the country he has to write about, and purges himself of the proverbial provincialism of the east, he will no doubt, become a broad-gauge and eminently fair critic.

Dedacence of a Huron River Industry

Under the head "Retrospective," the last Dexter Leader gives this readable account of what the mill property on the Huron river once was: "The burning of the Scio mills last Wednesday night removes another old landmark that testified to the past greatness of the Huron river as a water power.

"Looking backward a couple of generations we see the Huron one of the greatest milling streams, if not the greatest in southern Michigan. But time and invention have augmented the process of natural decay, until today there is left but a shadow of its former greatness. While this may not be so noticeable as we travel toward the mouth of the river, from the source a distance of twenty miles it is emphatically true.

"The first of the great flouring mills to succumb was the one located at Hudson which was removed to make place for the Birkett Manufacturing Co's pulp mill, which was afterwards burned and rebuilt. This flouring mill was once a good property and sold as high as $16,000. This was in 1868, when it was purchased by Mr. Birkett.

"No finer milling property could be found on the Huron twenty years ago than Thomas Birkett's Dover Mills. Not only were the building and machinery the best that money could purchase, but it was the head water power on the river and Mr. Birkett spared no expense in making the dam and raceway perfect. For years the mills ground day and night and four or five teams drew barreled flour to this station, which was the

A colony of Bay City people went to Georgia to live recently, and news comes back from there that they are all homesick and want to get back to Michigan.

It is said to be an astonishing fact that Sena'or McMillan, Governor Rich and Mayor Pligree are all agreed on the high bridge across the river at Detroit. Good.

Hungary celebrates its 1000th anniversary this year. It has a great national history and a spirited, patriotic population, but, with all its attractions, 750,000 of its people have chosen to become citizens of the United States.

The South American republics are not all that they should be. But they are far better than if they were kingdoms or colonial provinces. They deserve sympathy and encouragement from Americans, not supercilious criticism.

The John Brown farm is now the property of the state of New York, and it is gratifying to add that it was acquired without calling on the National Treasury for an appropriation or passing around the hat in New Jersey.

It will not be Foraker's fault if a boundary dispute does not arise within the present year between him and McKinley.—Kansas City Star.

The Star mistakes the case. It means to say that it will not be the fault of the democratic newspapers if such a dispute does not arise.

It is a curious fact that while Great Britain looks the world over in vain for an ally, Russia has a choice of every country in Europe and Asia, including Great Britain itself. Mr. Bull's reputation as a partner is that he always expects 100 per cent. of the profits.

President Kruger, of the Boer Republic, is noted for having his own way in the end. In dedicating a Jewish synagogue in Johannesburg recently he reviewed Jewish history in an admiring strain, but concluded with, "And so I dedicate this building to the worship of the Triune God."

storms

The Weather Bureau employs a skilled force of men, supplied with the most delicate scientific instruments, to foretell the weather. Perhaps you know when a storm is brewing without any word from the papers. Your bones ache and your muscles are sore. Your chronic muscular rheumatism gives sure warning of the approaching storm.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, would be a most valuable remedy for you. The oil, with its iodine and bromine, exerts a peculiar influence over the disease, and the hypophosphites render valuable aid.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been endorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

The annual profits of the Suez Canal amount to $8,000,000, and the ships using it save $10,000,000 a year after paying the tolls. Its great success will stimulate the building of ship canals during the coming century.

Now they are cabling to the effect that the plight of American citizens in the Transvaal is pitiable. Well, they have our sympathy, but the fact is, the only place for a good American to be safe and happy is at home, and the sooner they all find it out the better.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Massachusetts people to the number of 1,300,000 have in the savings banks of the state the neat sum of $440,000,000, or an average of $1,000 for each family. As the deposits are increasing more rapidly than at any time since 1878, the thrift of Massachusetts may be pronounced satisfactory.

The Adrian Press insinuates that the Courier's fish story was not original. Never claimed it to be. It was given as told us, and no questions asked as to where it originated. But if it was chrestnutty and moldy, the Press must have enjoyed it because of its affinity to the free trade editorials that are ground out weekly in that paper.

An exchange remarks that "if the students of the University at Ann Arbor would pay more attention to the development of their brains, and less to the clicking of their heels, the tax-payers would no doubt feel somewhat different about supporting that institution. Is it not time for the Regents to put a stop to the nonsense, in the best interests of the University?"

A bale of goods from Europe is a depressor of American wages under a low tariff. The American manufacturer without adequate protection, must meet the European price or suspend operations, and he can meet it only by reducing the cost of production which is mainly labor cost. Add this to the fact that laborers of the cheapest, and often the most degraded classes are pouring into this country to make the competition sharper among wage earners, and it is perceived that the right method of advancing wages in this country is, not to try to fix wage rates by governmental decree, but to build higher the tariff barrier against foreign goods and to impose severe restriction upon immigration.—The Press, N. Y., Dec. 31, 1895.

Is there not enough new blood in the United States senate to wipe away the old and decrepit rules that have hampered it these many years, and which has at times prevented needed legislation? The masses of the people are becoming disgusted with the red tape and formalities of that body, and are already casting about for some method of changing its make-up. The only thing so far presented is to change the method of electing senators, so that they may be directly responsible to the people, thus placing them on the level with the House of Representatives, and making our government a prey to every crazy and wild scheme that may sweep over the nation, the same as France is to-day. The Senate itself can do much toward checking this discount by throwing off its useless and old-fogy red tape, and keeping pace with the people.

Senator Walthall, of Mississippi, has introduced a bill in congress, looking to the equalization of land grants given by the government to various state universities.

President Angell in a letter to Senator McMillan, made public a few days since, recites the fact which will be a surprise to most people, that the University which has risen to the greatest prominence, is one that received the smallest grant of land from the government. She probably has made better use of what she received.

The amounts given several state universities is as follows: Utah 156,000 acres, each of the Dakotas 86,800, Minnesota 82,640, Alabama 92,160, Ohio 69,120, Michigan 46,080 acres.

Of course President Angell favors the equalization bill, and urges the member of congress from this state to push it. If Michigan is granted any additional land, it will probably be given from some other state, as there is very little left in Michigan.

The government could help a worthy cause just now by coming to the aid of the U. of M., for as President Angell says "this University, perhaps more than most of the others, needs additional help since, under its extraordinary growth, its resources have proved too small."

Woman's Work

Is never done, and it is especially wearing and wearisome to those whose blood is impure and unfit properly to tone, sustain, and renew the wasting of nerve, muscle and tissue. It is more because of this condition of the blood that women are run down,

Tired, Weak, Nervous, Than because of the work itself. Every physician says so, and that the only remedy is in building up by taking a good nerve tonic, blood purifier and vitalizer like Hood's Sarsaparilla. The people do not want an autocratic President; nor a Free-trade President (until this becomes a creditor nation like England); nor a President head and shoulders above the average intelligence of the country; nor a President who is a genius, like our Websters, Clays and Calhouns; for such men are too apt to run beyond the control of the legislative body. A good President should ordinarily be influenced by the majority action of the lawmaking power. The United States Government has three heads—legislative, executive and judicial. They are separate and distinct functions of power, and harmony and co-operation for the good of the country should generally prevail among them. A clash between these three heads of the Government is invariably attended with disastrous consequences to the welfare of the nation. The best President that the country can have is a good level-headed, all-around man. This requires above all else horse sense backing, together with sufficient genuine patriotism and sincere regard for national interests to be of the people, for the people and with the people. A man who fills that niche is the man to nominate every time for the good of the country. This country will always thrive best under the guidance of a wise, conservative Executive. The question now is, who is the man who approaches the nearest to that ideal standard?

Endorsement of Speer's Wine by the Faculty of N. Y.

The Committee of Physicians requested to examine into the merits of the wines of Alfred Speer, report these wines strictly pure, acceptable in flavor, palatable and rich body. Dr. Cyrus Edison, of New York Board of Health, says there is no better wine in the world.

Hood's Pills become the favorite cathartic with every one who tries them. 25c.

Bravery of the Russian Troops.

In spite of the enemy's numerical inferiority, Napoleon had been thwarted by the weather, by unsurpassed bravery of the Russian soldiers, and by the able tactics of Bannigsen. The latter had not been worried in the arbitrament of arms, yet the Emperor's character for resolution and energy had virtually defeated the Russians, and had given him not only a technical, but a real victory.—Prof. Sloane, in February Century.

One of the wrong things in this world is that a woman has to wait for a man to speak. Her happiness may depend upon him, but she is not permitted to tell him so, as he would be to tell her. She must depend upon his ability to create and foster in him a favorable and ardent feeling. To do this, she must depend much upon her appearance. No man admires a sallow skin, dull and sunken eyes and circled lips, bloodless cheeks, and a man wants to marry an invalid. Very few invalids are attractive to either sex. It is a natural health in a woman brings clear complexion, red lips, vivacity, sparkle of eyes and intellect. Eternal watchfulness is the price of health. The downward road to disease is fatally easy to travel. Little disorders, little irregularities, little drains, lead to the most serious consequences. Put a stop to them! Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do it without the embarrassment of examinations and "local treatment" so much dreaded by modest women. In nine cases in ten, there is absolutely no need of them. The "Favorite Prescription" has been prescribed by Dr. Pierce for over 30 years and has cured the very worst forms of female troubles. A book of 100 pages, profusely illustrated, written by him containing much valuable information and letters from hundreds of grateful women, will be sent absolutely free on receipt of twenty-one cents, in one-cent stamps, to pay postage and wrapping only, by WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 603 Main St., Buffalo, N. NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

LEADER of the REPUBLICAN PARTY

Are You Willing to Listen to a Suggestion?

The New York Tribune's broad columns and large print make it the easiest paper in the country to read, either on cars or at home. Henry Romeike, proprietor of the largest Newspapers Clipping Agent in the world, testifies in a published card, that his clippings for over 4,000 clients shows that The Tribune contains, "day by day and week by week, far more original matter than any daily newspaper in New York City." He proves the fact by figures. The Weekly ranks the same.

Business men find the market reports of The Tribune absolutely without an equal. The Tribune is the only paper in New York City whose reporters actually visit all the different markets in person.

The Tribune now prints the best and freshest humorous pictures of the day from the comic press of two continents, and supplies plenty of other entertainment.

By its special telegrams and correspondence, its able editorials and high literary character, The Tribune maintains a splendid position in the regard of Republicans, lovers of music, art and good books.

The Tribune's society news is known everywhere for excellence. Its Fashions have always been of special value, and changes of style are, as a rule, foretold in The Tribune sooner than in any other newspaper.

The New York Tribune is recognized, officially, as the leading newspaper of the Republican party.

As for farming and labor, The Tribune has for 50 years demanded, and yet demands, that every possible dollar's worth of food commodities, consumed by the American people, shall be produced by the American people. For this cause, The Tribune labors in its various editions 365 days in every year.

A man is judged by the newspaper he takes. He who reads The Tribune is wide awake, progressive, respectable and capable, worthy of the confidence of business and social friends. If you are a young man, you will live in a rut all your life (except by catering to that which is base) if you feed your mind upon newspapers full of scandal, vulgarity and inanity. Think for a moment of the people who read newspapers of that class. On the other hand, The Tribune has probably the largest clientele of the very people who can help to improve a young man's position, of any newspaper in the United States. Associate yourself with them.

VICTORIES OF THE TROWEL.

Walking to day among the beautiful churches, and the grand public buildings of Washington, I am reminded that while the victories of the sword have often been sung, and the power of the pen has been recognized, and sculptor's chisel has been honored, there is one employment that has not come to due appreciation. The trowel has had much to do with the world's history and progress. I celebrate the victories of the trowel. When the Prince of Wales in England, after the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of a bridge, or art-gallery, or castle, or church, hangs up the trowel which he used at the ceremony among the hundreds of trowels of similar occasions with which he has adorned a room in his palace, he only honors that implement which has been potent for ages. The sword does well, but it must have an armory in which to drill. The pen does well, but it must have a library building in which to put its productions. Sculptor's chisel does well, but it must have a gallery in which to stand its achievements. Science does well, but it must have a laboratory to shelter its batteries and telescopes. Religion does well, but it must have churches in which to pray. Come, then, all progress, all literature, all science, all civilization, and all religion, and help celebrate the victories of the trowel. It is an unpretentious implement, and is thrown carelessly among the kit of mechanic's tools. The world has allowed all the years from the creation to this moment to pass without one word of eulogy or appreciation. We all know the sound of it, and day by day we hear it on the rising walls of our cities, and we hardly look up, and do not realize what the trowel has done, and is now doing in the nations. As it rings out on the air, it gives the keynote to the Grand March of the centuries. Oh! the trowel! When it moves, the world moves, and when it halts the world halts, and when it goes down the world goes down, and when it rises, the world rises. The Pantheon of Rome, the Parthenon of Athens, the Alhambra in Spain, the Taj Mahal in India, Solomon's Temple in Jerusalem, the cathedrals of Salisbury and York and Lincoln and St. Paul, Arch of Trajan, Arch of Titus, Arch of Constantine. All these are children of the trowel. What built Thebes? What built Babylon? What built London? What built these great sea-coast cities? What built the bright homes of the hemispheres? The trowel. It has been the iron hand that more than once has held in its palm the destiny of the nations. May the blessing of God come down upon all who wield it! May its victories in the future surpass its victories in the past! And long after the last sword has clanked into its scabbard, never again to be unsheathed, may the trowel go on building up our individual, domestic and national prosperities.

COSTS MORE THAN COFFEE.

The New Beverage is Expensive in Some Families.

A gentleman while making the morning purchases in the family grocery, said they found Postum Cereal rather expensive at his house. "We drink more of it than we used to of coffee because the children all drink it, and there are four of them, and wife and myself, that makes six using Postum, while formerly I was the only one who drank coffee; wife used it now and then, but it didn't agree with her."

"Send up two packages of the Postum Cereal. We find it is food and nourishment, and for the same money we get three cups of Postum to one of coffee. The way my family drink it, however, it costs us more than coffee but we all feel well and that is something."

"The old liver trouble I used to have is gone. I suppose because I have quit using the article that caused the trouble. I don't believe much in drugs, for in nature is given a fair show it will make most any one well."

Founding the Congo State.

During my descent of the Congo I had revolved over and over in my mind the question of the destiny of the river. Seated at the prow of my boat, which led our flotilla and daily watching the river developing itself, I was preoccupied with these thoughts every leisure moment. There was, it seemed to me, no other power but England that could interest itself with this part of Africa; and, as I said, there was not a single white man in possession of any portion of the equatorial belt, except a few traders had gathered. But despite numerous addresses in England upon this subject, I failed to awaken more than a geographical interest in Equatorial Africa. The terror of the African climate in general was too strong upon everybody.

Elsewhere, however, the reports of my addresses in the English newspapers were taking effect. After nearly nine months' busy life in England, the King of the Belgians invited me to visit him, and I was then informed of his strong inclination to undertake for Africa what I had been so sternly advising Englishmen to do. He was already president of the African International Association, which was about to set on foot a humanitarian enterprise from the east coast, and he led me to understand that if I were free from other engagements he would like to employ me in opening the Congo basin to European influence and civilization.

It was my opinion that the best way of setting about the work was to construct a light surface railway which should skirt the cataracts of the Lower Congo, and then to launch steamers on the upper waters, which I estimated would furnish about 6,000 miles to navigation. We argued about this matter from August to December, 1878. The best Belgian engineers were consulted, but after the most elaborate calculations as to cost, it was finally decided that, as the expense would be great, we should content ourselves with making wagon roads past the cataracts, and build a series of military stations for the protection of caravans, and that the annual expenditure should not exceed $60,000.—Henry M. Stanley, in the February Century.

The African Climate.

As for the climate, it is no worse than that found elsewhere in tropic lands. The heat is not so great as in India or as it is sometimes in New York in summer. Fortunately, the coast belt on both sides of Africa, where the heat is greatest, and where the climate is most unhealthy, is narrow. In four hours a railway train at ordinary speed would enable us to cross it, and so avoid the debilitating temperature. Ascending the sides of the coast range by the same means of conveyance, we should in two hours reach a rolling plain which gradually rises in height from 2,500 to 3,500 feet above the sea. Here the climate is sensibly cooler, and the white man can safely work six hours of the day in the open without fear of sunstroke, though he must not count on immunity from fever. In from ten to twelve hours the traveler by train would meet another steep rise, and would find himself from 5,000 to 8,000 feet above the sea, on the broad central plateau of the continent, which varies from 600 to 1,000 miles across. It is in this section that the great lakes snowy mountains and tallest hills are found. Here we have cold nights and a hot sun when the skies are not clouded, though the air in the shade is frequently cool enough for an overcoat; and it is on this immense upland that the white man, when compelled by circumstances, may find a home.—Henry M. Stanley, in the February Century.

Salisbury's Jingoism.

It is doubtful if any considerable body of men exist who have a sincerer love of fair play, a more honest desire to see impartial justice done, or a truer respect for self-restrained and unselfish action, than the mass of American and British citizens, when they lay aside personal prejudice and calmly consider the right and wrong of a course of public or private policy; but it is not at all doubtful that to induce them to do this would be regarded as bad politics and worse journalism by the great authorities in the political and journalistic world.

One of the commonplaces of their economy, indeed, is that power consists, not so much in the clear vision and firm grasp of truth, nor in a plain and unadorned appeal to the best judgment of their fellow-citizens, as in a "pull" upon their prejudice, and in an ability to arouse them to blind and unquestioning "enthusiasm." Hence the free coinage of watchwords in every campaign, which as a New England clergyman once suggested to the writer, is likely to prove as dangerous to the commonwealth as the free coinage of silver. Doubtless it has been so since politics began. The demagogue and the poor are ever with us. I have cited the case of Lord Palmerston, however, because it is so marked, and because its influence has proved so lasting. The Jingoism of the Marquis of Salisbury, for instance is undoubtedly a culture from the original Palmerston microbe, although the virus may have become somewhat attenuated in the process.—Edward M. Chapman, in the February Century.

Your Boy Won't Live a Month.

So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 84 Mill st., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had Lung trouble following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying: "Your boy won't live a month." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles restored him to health and enabled him to go to work a perfectly well man. He says he owes his present good health to use of Dr. King's New Discovery, and knows it to be the best in the world for Lung trouble. Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being at least. I tried the so-called "Kely Cure, No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco-Curo." Three weeks ago to-day I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured. I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it. Yours truly, C. W. HORVICK.

...THE... North American Review

The Topics are always those which are uppermost in the public mind—in religion, morals, politics, science, literature, business, finance, industrial economy, social municipal affairs, etc.—in short, all subjects on which Americans require and desire to be informed. No magazine follows so closely from month to month the course of public interest. All subjects are treated of impartially on both sides. The Contributors to the Review are men and women to whom the world looks for the most authoritative statements on the subjects of the day. No other period can point to such a succession of brilliant writers. The Time when these subjects are treated of by these contributors is the very time when the subjects are in the public mind.

W. E. GLADSTONE, On "THE FUTURE STATE," and the condition of man in it. The series will begin in the January number.

TYPICAL EXTRACTS FROM THE VERDICT OF PRESS,

Ahead of any magazine this country has ever seen in the importance of the topics discussed and the eminence of its contributors.—Indianapolis Journal.

Cannot be ignored by the reader who keeps along with the current discussion.—Indianapolis Journal.

Continues to grow in interest. Its discussions of topics of present concern are marked by ability of the highest order the most eminent representatives on both sides being chosen to expound their theories.—St. Paul (Minn.) Globe.

Numbers among its writers a larger list of men and women distinguished in the religious, literary, and political world than any other periodical of the kind. It should find a place in every household.—Etandale (N. D.) Leader.

This Review is alive and could almost be described as a Preview.—The Christian Advocate, (N. Y.)

An Endorsement from Burdette—

The Imperial Carillonners. What does that mean? It means an evening's entertainment by the Royal Hand-Bell Ringers, of London, Eng. This company is again playing in the United States after an absence of five years, and everywhere they appear there is praise and praise and nothing but praise.

Robert J. Burdette, who recently appeared here in the Y. M. C. A. Lyceum course, writes to Mr. McAllaster in reference to this troupe:

De Soto, Mo., Jan. 14, '96.

"My Dear McAllaster:

"Yours of Jan. 7 met me here today, and this was the very place it wanted to meet me. Because right in this little city, and under the management of this very Lyceum committee, the chairman of which, Mr. C. M. Gill, is a Michigan man, a Hillsdale graduate, and another member, Mr. Bean, a prominent attorney here, is an alumnus of Ann Arbor. Your Bell Ringers gave an entertainment which makes music in the memories of the people of De Soto unto this day. But the verdict is the same everywhere. I have followed the Bell Ringers in a number of lecture courses, and hear nothing but praise of them. Always there is a desire to have them come back again, which is the best endorsement any organization can receive from the people. They will give the patrons of your course a most delightful evening. This I know because I have heard them, and know that my warmest praise will fall short of doing them justice.

Sincerely Yours,

ROBERT J. BURDETTE."

The above endorsement is all that any company ought to need. They appear here in Ann Arbor on Thursday evening of next week, Feb. 13, at the Presbyterian church, and there will be a crowd to greet them. The small admission fee of 35 cents is all the Y. M. C. A. management charge.

The Chicago Tribune: "As bell ringers this company is superior to any ever seen here."

Chicago Inter Ocean: "Home, Sweet Home," and "The Sailor's Hornpipe," were given with such delicacy and fine tone coloring that it seemed as if an organ accompaniment were subduing the metallic effect in soft blown measures.

Brooklyn Eagle: They did their work as no bell-ringers ever before succeeded in doing in this country. All who heard them long to hear them again.

Boston Transcript: Music of a high order was rendered in a way that placed them at the head of bell ringers.

The Michigan Club—

The following announcement is made of interest to Ann Arbor republicans:

Club headquarters at Chamber of Commerce. Open all day and evening Feb. 21. Banquet at 7 p. m. same day at Auditorium. Best efforts will be made to secure good seats for the Ann Arbor delegation. Tickets will be on sale Feb. 5, price $2. Tables will hold 30 persons each. Secretary of Michigan Club suggests that those desiring to attend order tickets at once through the secretary of the U. of M. Republican Club, so that tables can with justice be reserved for the Ann Arbor delegation.

The speakers will be: Gen. Horace Porter, New York—"Washington." Col. Fred Grant, New York—"Our Country."

Congressman W. P. Hepburn, Iowa—"The Republican Party."

Gov. Henry Clay Evans, Tennessee—Subject to be announced.

Four or five other speakers are on the list, among the number being Speaker Reed, from whom an answer is not yet positive.

Round trip rate on special train 65 cents to any one.

Register with Librarian of Law department, with H. G. Prettyman, or C. Lincoln McGuire, Sec'y of U. of M. Republican Club.

It is said that the only books President Kueger, of the Transval Republic ever read are the Bible, Pilgrim's Progress and the entire works of Mark Twain. That accounts for his sagacity.

The postponed lecture of Capt. Allen before the Unity Club on the Greatest American, will be given on Sunday evening at the Unitarian church, instead of Monday evening, and the lecture will be free. Those desiring to hear this most admirable lecture should make it a point to come early for there will be a crowded house.

On Sunday next at 2:45 p. m., the meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms will be known as German Day, and as 45 per cent. of the membership of the association are Germans or of German descent, the meeting will no doubt be a very entertaining one. Rev. John Neumann will deliver an address, there will be solos, trios, etc., in German, using only the English Gospel hymns. Everybody invited.

The council held a brief session Monday evening because many of the aldermen desired to go to the show. If there was some such attraction every meeting night it would tend greatly toward harmony. The expenses for January were $2,990.87, from the different funds as follows: Contingent $1,120.77, sewer $333.41, street $217.85, fire $897.22, police $294.61, poor $127.01. It was ordered that some one be hired to attend telephone at the fire dept. The city marshal reported 15 arrests for the month, the plumbers' bond of Charles F. Rettich was presented and approved.

"In the Beginning,"

Of a new year, when the winter season of close confinement is only half gone, many find that their health begins to break down, that the least exposure threatens sickness. It is then as well as at all other times, and with people even in good health, that the following facts should be remembered, namely: that Hood's Sarsaparilla leads everything in the way of medicines; that it accomplishes the greatest cures in the world; has the largest sale in the world, and requires the largest building in the world devoted exclusively to the preparation of the proprietary medicine. Does not this conclusively prove, if you are sick, that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine for you to take?

Last evening death came to Mary H. Duncan, at the home of her sister Mrs. John Ross. The funeral services will be held at the residence, No. 6 Jefferson st., to-morrow afternoon, at 3 o'clock p. m.

Right Rev. George D. Gillespie, Bishop of Western Michigan, stopped in the city Tuesday, on his way home from delivering an address before the Normal students at Ypsilanti. He was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Tatlock.

According to the reports in the Detroit Tribune in the State Association of Farmers' Institutes at Lansing yesterday, much was said in criticism of the University. And yet it is the children of farmers who are being benefited thereby.

A Georgia paper says that the man who says to his wife, "Give me the baby, dear, and I will try to put it to sleep," is greater than he who taketh a city. It seems to us that it is according to the man. Some ministers, for instance, might do an easy job.

There is one thing very noticeable. Almost invariably those who criticize our University and our schools are those who have no children, or whose children have grown up and do not need the benefits of them. Just watch this assertion for yourself. These people do not want to be taxed, even a little, for educating their neighbor's children. And yet none of them will be able to take a cent with them when they bid good bye to this world. When Michigan drops her educational system, good bye to Michigan. She will drop into merited insignificance at once.

The quarrel of the fraternities over the famous Junior Hop has been settled for this year by the Palladium fraternities taking the affair out of the city, and holding it at Toledo. A special train has been secured on the Ann Arbor road for the evening of Feb. 14, leaving here at 7:30. At Toledo a train of electric street cars will take the dancers from the station to their hall, and back again after the ball is over. This is considered a great coup d'tat for the Palladiums, and coup de main against the other fraternities.

Ex-President Harrison has written a letter declining to have his name considered as a presidential candidate. This will relieve the minds of many candidates and their friends. But the fact still remains that he made one of the ablest presidents the nation ever had, and to-day would be the safest—all things considered—of any of our public men in whose hands to place the reins of government. He has been tried and not found wanting. But his desire to avoid the burdens of the great office is quite natural.

When there is lactic acid in the blood. Liniments and lotions will be of no permanent benefit. A cure can be accomplished only by neutralizing this acid and for this purpose Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine because Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only true blood purifier prominently known in the public eye.

The times have been so hard, work so scarce, money out of sight and the young men so shy, that a young lady thinks a charity ball might be a good substitute for a leap year party. Is there any reason in the world why a leap year party can not be a charity ball, or a charity ball a leap year party?

The Monroe Democrat doubts the truth of the recent fish story published in the Courier, and remarks: "In short we look upon the story of the watch in this 'case' as a lie on its 'face'." Just like that editor. Take a thing that can be sworn to—or at—and he disbelieves it. Take a Monroe fish tail and he swallows it.

The Nashville, (Tenn.) Banner of Jan. 28, gives an account of the election of Will R. Payne, as secretary of the Board of Education of that city, without opposition. The new board appears to have started in with a lively fight on its hands, caused by the expulsion of some boys who stole some examination questions, and prepared for that dreaded day in advance. The boys were proven guilty and expelled.

The Song Journal for February has a good portrait of Ann Arbor's famous pianist, Alberto Jonas, for its cover page. The red violets are a little off color, other wise the page is attractive. In the table of contents is an illustrated article by Henri Marteau. There is also a new piano Mazurka by Alberto Jonas, and a Story of a Neglected Tenor, illustrated. There is also a fine portrait, accompanied by a sketch, of Varri Stefanski, the famous American born pianist.

An absent-minded professor in the University at Ann Arbor was walking down town hurriedly one day last week when he ran against a cow. In the confusion of the moment he is said to have raised his hat and exclaimed: "I beg pardon, madam."

Discovering his mistake he rushed on and soon ran up against a lady in the street. Without looking up he yelled: "Is that you again, you brute."—Grand Rapids Democrat. In behalf of that professor it is but fair to state that the Democrat's story was a chestnut while he was yet a boy. Quite a few years ago.

PLUMS.

Now come the Plums! We have accumulated a few dozen odd sizes of shoes during the great "Money Getting Sale," which we are going to move right off. Note the following: These goods are no samples that have been hawked about the country for six months; these goods are from no bankrupt stock, that have been on the shelves of some country store for years. We never buy such goods, even at 10 cents on the dollar. Our trade will no have such goods, and neither would we insult them by asking them to look at such goods.

The goods we will offer you as "Plums" are from such stock as we have built up our phenomenal business with, and we will use during this sale, and in the future, the same methods, namely, one price to all, and fair dealing. Generous and courteous treatment to our customers, always giving lowest prices.

The goods we have laid out for the slaughter will simply be cut one-third of the price, that is, we will honestly sell them one-third less than the regular price.

This sale will last until March 1st, if the goods hold out. The $2.00 Men's Calf Shoe, which we have been selling at $1.44, will now be closed out at $1.39.

It is said that ex-County Clerk Brown of Ann Arbor, resembles to a marked degree the newly elected senator from Utah. The Ann Arbor man is contemplating going to Washington pretty soon and having a good time by passing himself off for the senator.—Chelsea Standard. Our Brown can have as good a time as he wants without resorting to such measures. For instance, he has been chairman of the democratic county committee for two years, and when he wants a really good time, he just sits down and looks over the result of his labors, as it has shown itself in the election returns. Very jolly.

The Detroit Tribune states "of the $50,000 needed for the woman's gymnasium, $35,000 have been given by the Regents on condition that $15,000 be raised by the women." This statement will create a false impression. The $35,000 was not given by the Regents, but by two members of the Board of Regents individually. Regent Barbour gave $25,000, and Regent Hebard $10,000, so that this building will not be built at the expense of the tax-payers but will be a present to them. A fact that it seems difficult to make the mass of the people comprehend. They all appear to believe that it is their money that is paying for this.

"After the ball is over," the "inside" and "outside" fraternities of the University, who have lately made of themselves spectacles for gods and men, by their quarrel over the management of the annual foot-shake, and who now pass each other by with a stony glare of non-recognition, will recover their senses and probably ask as a favor to be taken out to a back lot and chained in a recumbent posture in sight of an unfettered male sheep, gifted with the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine.—Monroe Democrat. It certainly seems as though this senseless quarrel should have been ended long ago. It is such silly things that disgust the people of the state, and hurts the cause of the University.

On and after the 15th of this month the M. C. R. R. will charge three cents per mile between stations, giving up the even five and ten cent plan. It will make no material change, but will cause station agents to carry a lot more pennies in their tills. For instance, the distance between Ann Arbor and Dexter is 9 miles, and the fare will be 27 cents, instead of 25 as now, while between Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti it is but 8 miles, and the fare will be 24 cents instead of 25 as now. The fare from here to Chelsea will be 48 cents instead of 50 cents as now. The return ticket rate has not been announced. The fare to Detroit will be $1.14 instead of $1.15 as now. The fare to Jackson will be the same as to Detroit, $1.14.

George J. Haussler, of Manchester, expects to close out his business before long and go south because of the poor health of his wife.

The Good Roads State Mass convention to be held at Lansing March 3d should not be forgotten. Some counties are taking a lively interest therein.

The Wayne Review advises its readers "not to cut off their nose to spite their face." Good advice. Just contemplate for one moment a noseless face!

Milo Clark, who lived near Sallie, to the south, died last Thursday, after a brief illness, aged 71 years. He was one of the oldest pioneers in the county.

A very pretty wedding was given by Mrs. M. L. Calkins, of Manchester last week Tuesday for her niece, Miss Cora F. Lapham, who married Henry A. Horning, of Norvell.

The republicans of Dexter village held a meeting at J. T. Honey's office one day last week, and a majority voted that they were dissatisfied with Thos. Bell as a deputy sheriff at that place. Sheriff Judson was present.

Jacob Deckert died at his home in Dexter village Jan. 23, aged 70 years. He was a native of New York, removed from there to Dexter in 1864; served in the U. S. navy during the war; was a member of the G. A. R. post at Dexter, and also of the Macabees.

The Northville Record is mistaken. The Courier does not know the man who caught that fish. He knows the story that was related to him by a man who saw another man, whose friend saw the man who said he caught the fish. Entirely here-say evidence.

A farmer's method of farming can be pretty fairly estimated by hunting up his plows and harrows, his drills and rakes, and binders in the winter. If these are found in the fields, or even in the barnyard, unprotected from the snow and rain and sunshine, you may pretty certainly conclude that the farmer is not a good model, and is not getting rich.

A young man named Randall from Ypsilanti, who has been visiting at the home of B. W. Waite, in Scio, came near ending his life here Sunday evening, by accidentally taking an overdose of medicine to relieve neuralgia pains. He became helpless on the way home from church and was driven to the home of F. S. Alley and a physician summoned. It was with the greatest difficulty that his life was saved.—Dexter Leader.

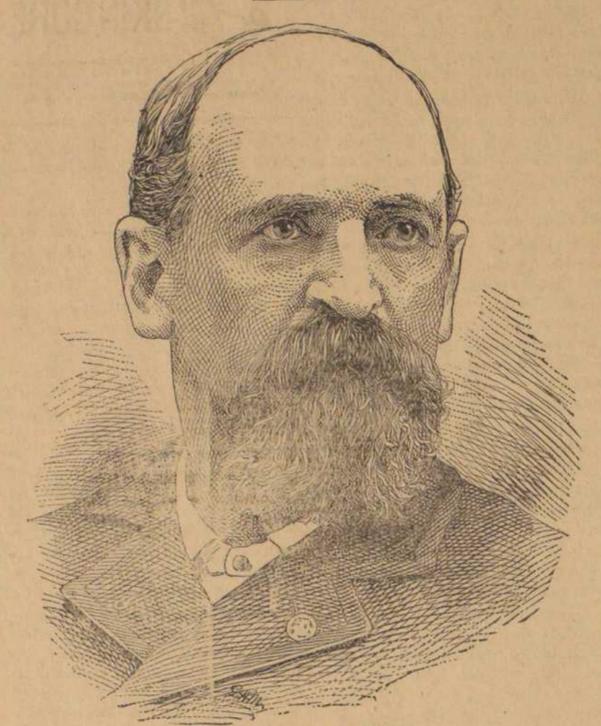

The Ann Arbor Railroad Co. has been trying to get some land near the city, that it may not be compelled to make such a curve to enter the city. But the farmers ask so much, that the company goes into court and institutes condemnation proceedings, and will let a jury decide if land is worth per acre, ten times what it is assessed for. The price at which the farmers value the land to the company, hardly corresponds to that which they give to the supervisor.—Adrian Press.

DR. GREENE'S NERVURA

Cured Gen. Buzzell, Department Commander of New Hampshire G. A. R.

The Famous Commander Writes to the People to Use Dr. Greene's Nervura. It Cured Him. It Will Cure You.

GEN. CHARLES E. BUZZELL.

Gen. Charles E. Buzzell, of Lakeport, N. H., Department Commander of New Hampshire G. A. R., has something of interest to say to the people in regard to the remarkable curative powers of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Few men are more widely known than Gen. Buzzell, who is Street Commissioner of Lakeport, and the most prominent builder and contractor in the State. The General says:—

"I was terribly run down in health and as a result of over-work, became nervous, weak, tired and without my old-time energy and ambition. I grew so fearfully nervous that I could not rest nor sleep nights, but would be obliged to get up and walk about several times each night. I would get tired and nervous so easily and quickly that it became almost impossible for me to attend to my business. At the same time I had most severe and distressing backache.

"I took Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and it helped me right away. My nerves were so strengthened and invigorated that the nervousness left me, and I could again sleep soundly nights, and wake mornings refreshed and feeling strong and vigorous. The backache is completely cured. I am now perfectly well and better able than ever to attend to my business. I have recommended this wonderful remedy to several others and it has cured them all. I urge people to use it because I know it will make them well."

Gen. Buzzell's case was like thousands of others. People from overwork strain upon brain and nerve or other cause, break down in health, feel that they are physically weak and that their nerve strength, energy and power are greatly diminished. Just so sure as night follows day will prostration and debility, the wreck of nerves, brain and body, follow if a cure is not immediately sought.

Neglect is the fatal thing. Never allow the first symptoms—that tired feeling, the weakened nerves, the loss of power of endurance, the lack of snap and energy—to drift you into total loss of health. Take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy now, and it will cure you as it cured Gen. Buzzell, as it has cured thousands upon thousands of others. It is the great curer of disease, the great strengthener of nerves, the great builder up of blood, the great invigorator of brain and body. It will make you well.

Do not class this most valuable remedy with patent medicines. It is a physician's prescription, and its discoverer, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City, has the largest and most successful practice in the world in nervous and chronic diseases, and can be consulted free of charge, personally or by letter.

In Ann Arbor they threaten arrest to any engineer who continually blows the whistle of his engine while passing through town. They are satisfied to hear the bell ring.—Howell Herald. Yes, and the threat works, too.

Hon. E. P. Allen, the enthusiastic president of the State Sunday School Association, has been engaged to attend the coming county convention to be held at Howell, February 20-21. Every school is requested to elect delegates without delay.—Howell Herald.

Mr. Daniel B. Brown of Ann Arbor, is said to be the oldest resident of Washenaw county. He is 91 years of age.—Ypsilantian. This will do for Washenaw county but just over in Clinton two of the most active citizens are 95 and 92 respectively.—Tecumseh Herald.

The Macabees at Mooreville have installed the following officers: Com., A. E. Montonye; L. Con., J. N. Lawrence; R. K., D. P. McLachlan; F. K., F. S. Olds; Sarg., M. M. Davenport; Chap., Irving Clark; Ph., D. P. McLachlan; M. at A., John Clark; 1st M. of G., Elmer Conde; 2d M. of G., Alden Davenport; Sen., George Schrin; Picket, Herber Gillman.

Hon. James McMahan, judge of the Mason county circuit court, a former Manchester boy, has hit upon a scheme for reducing the number of divorce cases in his court. In the last decree of divorce, which was granted to Herman and Lulu Bennett, because of Herman's desertion, he stipulated that Mr. Bennett could not remarry for two years. As Mr. Bennett had, during the trial, half admitted that he had found a new love and was only waiting to get his first wife out of the way before securing a second, the judge took the above method of postponing the second marriage.—Manchester Enterprise.

A farmer's wife, one who is alive to the world and what is going on therein, remarked the other day that: "A farmer's wife can so arrange her work as to make it little harder than that of the merchant's wife. She can have time for reading, sewing, a certain amount of fancy work, and visiting, if she but uses her head to save both her feet and time."

Talk about going south for a warmer climate! Read this from the Saline Observer: "We have before us a very fine, well developed potato, which was dug by P. A. Wilson in his garden last Saturday. This patch was planted the first of last June, the family soon after moved to Ann Arbor and the potatoes were left to grow as they pleased. It was late in November when they came back and the potatoes were supposed to be frozen and nothing more thought of them until by accident they were last Saturday found to be in a fine state of preservation."

The annual meeting of the Saline Farmer's Club was held Friday Jan. 10, at the home of Leonard Josenhans when the following persons were elected as officers for the ensuing year: President, A. A. Wood; vice president Leonard Josenhans; lady vice president, Mrs. Theo. Josenhans; secretary B. N. Smith; cor. secretary, G. L. Hoyt; treasurer, A. G. Cobb; executive committee, H. D. Platt, C. R. Cobb, Theo. Josenhans, Mrs. G. Hurd, Mrs. S. R. Crittenden, Miss Fredrika Josenhans. Delegates to state association of Farmer's Clubs held at Lansing Feb. 4th and 5th, S. R. Crittenden, H. D. Platt.—Saline Observer.

Rev. Bastian Smits, pastor of the Congregational church, Ypsilanti, has been called to Benton Harbor, but his own congregation, by a vote of 185 to 0 voted to have him remain.

The Ann Arbor R'y will have to pay John Bergen $325 and H. G. Beach $615, two Hamburg farmers, for land needed to straighten the track of the road. The award was made by a jury at Howell.

A child of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Durkee living two miles east of Gregory, was so severely burned as to die after two days of severe suffering. The father was about his chores, and the mother had stepped out for some errand, being outside but a moment when she heard the screams of the children, and rushing in found the little one, about 18 months old, was enveloped in flames. In her fright, the mother caught the child and ran out doors where the father who had heard the screams, met her, took it and ran to a bed where he extinguished the flames, but the little body was too badly burned to survive. The lamp was found tipped over on its side on the table. Mr. and Mrs. Durkee, who have the sympathy of all, are suffering from severe burns received in attempting to save their baby.—Stockbridge Sun.

Seems as if consumption always picks out the brightest and best. Fully one-sixth of all the deaths that occur in the world are caused by consumption. Many things were once considered impossible. It would be strange if medical science did not make some progress. The telegraph and telephone, the phonograph, the electric light—all were once impossible, and once it was impossible to cure consumption. That was before the time of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical discovery. Taken according to directions, this standard remedy will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. Consumption is caused and fostered by impurity in the blood. It is cured by purity and richness in the blood—surely, certainly cured by the "Medical Discovery." It builds up solid healthy flesh and vigorous strength.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a 1008 page medical work, profusely illustrated, will be sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover postage only. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Rich London Merchant.
Air: "Villikins and His Dinah."

"Tis of a rich merchant who in London did dwell
And of sick Mistress Free-Trade whom he loved so well;
John Bull's smoothest daughter, about fifty years old,
With a very fine fortune in silver and gold.
The rich London merchant cast his eyes 'cross the sea,
And said: "There is wealth there for Free-Trade and me.
Go then, darling Free-Trade, and dally awhile,
And every Protectionist try to beguile."
And then Mistress Free-Trade sat down on the knee
Of the lone fisher chieftain of demersee;
Then came the big Panic of 1893
Which smothered the fires of each factory.
The rich London merchant when out went our fire
In our forge—while his own mounted higher and higher—
Sent over his ships stuffed from cabin to hold,
And he raked in our fortunes of silver and gold.
And the smart Yankee voter paid shillings and pounds
For a bit of good training—the sort that sounds
In lessons that ought in the future be made
A warning to shun Johnny Bull and Free Trade.
And this smart Yankee voter though pitched off the track,
Soon rose with a very sharp pain in his back.
He rushed off to the polls with his vote in his hand,
Sweeping Panic and Free-Trade at once from the land.
Soon the flag of Protection shall our country enfold,
And we'll keep our fine fortunes in silver and gold.
An American statesman will preside in the States
And stop pauper products from entering our gates.
—American Economist.

LITERARY NOTES.

Scribner's Magazine for February might be called a mid-winter outdoor number, as it contains an unusual number of articles of life and adventure in the open air. First among these is the leading article of the number on the Colorado Health Plateau, by Lewis Morris Iddings, which is a delightful social study by a man who has traveled in many regions of the world, and who knows the region around Colorado Springs thoroughly, having spent a number of winters there. He describes picturesquely and with a great deal of invaluable information the life that is led there by those whose health makes it necessary for them to reside in that climate. Most of them are compelled to leisure, and therefore driven to every device for amusement, which makes the life particularly bright and attractive, so that there is not a touch of invalidism in Mr. Iddings' account of it. It is a pleasing and interesting social picture that he draws, and what he has to say of the delights, conveniences and necessities of "Life in the Altitudes" is most entertaining. It is seldom that such an article is written by one who has the felicity in making phrases that stick, which Mr. Iddings shows so admirably. The illustrations, of unusual beauty, are by Orson Lowell, and were made during a recent visit to that region.

The article in the February St. Nicholas that will attract widest attention is the concluding selection of "Letters to a Boy," written from Samoa by Robert Louis Stevenson to Austin Strong of San Francisco. This favored lad was the ward of the romancer, and the latter wrote him characteristic letters, some of them on the most delightfully inconsequential of topics. They show, more than anything else from Stevenson's pen, unless it be "The Child's Garden of Verses," the current of boy nature that was also so strong within him. Some of the letters give an account of the peculiarities of the native servants in Samoa. One of Lloyd Osbourne's notes describes a wonderful war-game, sometimes lasting for weeks, that he and Stevenson used to play with tin soldiers. In Albert Stearns' serial, "Sindbad, Smith & Co.," the great sailor and his little American friend start out on their first partnership exploring expedition.

The Ladies' Home Journal for February contains a splendid article on "The Cultivation of the Palm," and it is so full of good hints that we advise ladies who have the care of plants of any kind to send for a copy and to read it carefully. It is well worth the ten cents it costs.

Harpers Weekly for February 8th will contain a strong paper on an important subject by Julian Ralph. The title is suggestive: "Poison in the Civil Service." The same number will contain an interesting letter from Walter Besant on the subject of encouraging the friendly relations between English people and American visitors in England; a timely article on a "Winter Campaign in the Russian Army," fully illustrated; a spirited marine double-page illustration by R. F. Zogbaum, entitled "Fire Quarters in Action," a striking front page drawing by T. de Thulstrup, of a Cuban cavalry charge. Etc., etc.

Catarrh in the Head.

Is due to impure blood and cannot be cured with local applications. Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured hundreds of cases of catarrh because it purifies the blood and in this way removes the cause of the disease. It also builds up the system and prevents attacks of pneumonia, diphtheria and typhoid fever.

The body must be well nourished now to prevent sickness. If your appetite is poor take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

THE GOLD PRODUCTION.

Some highly interesting statistics are furnished in regard to the world's gold production during the past 12 months. The United States is shown to lead all other countries on the globe with a production of 2,970,827 ounces, having a value of $44,870,998. The whole of South Africa comes as a very close second to the United States, with a valuation of gold produced amounting to $44,750,000. Australasia is third with $44,000,000. Russia is next with $33,990,000. In British Guiana there was a falling off in the value of gold produced during the past year of about $400,000, leaving the total gold production for that territory at $2,052,500.

The total amount of gain in gold taken from the earth during the past year over the year 1894 was $23,775,000, of which increase the United States can claim $5,110,000.

The decline in silver produced from domestic ore in this country last year as compared with 1894 was 7,608,111 ounces, but that does not represent the exact loss in wealth to the country from the falling off in production of the white metal, because the price of silver in 1895 was advanced to 65.3 cents per ounce against 63 cents in 1894.—Financial Times.

nearest railroad point, from where it was shipped to all parts of the country. With the innovation of rollers, the opening up of the great western wheat fields and mills, and the building of the northern railroads, this mill lost its prestige and gradually lapsed into a custom mill. A few years ago it was sold to the Birkett Manufacturing Co., and subsequently was entirely consumed by fire. It was, we believe, insured for about $5,000. The property cost Mr. Birkett $20,000.

"Coming down to Dexter the first building we see as we enter by the river road, is a large, dismantled four story frame structure, tenanted only by memories of the past. This ruin is all that remains of the Peninsula Mills, at one time one of the largest and most flourishing mills on the stream. With the passing of the mill stone this mill, too, dropped out of line, and finally ceased to be operated, being sold at last for less than $4,000 to Mr. Birkett, who has had most of the machinery removed. This mill was for years one of the greatest producers in Michigan. It changed hands several times, perhaps the most successful owner being the late R. A. Beal of Ann Arbor. The property was sold once during the 60's for $22,000.

"The Scio Mills, the burning of which called up this retrospect, also had a checkered career. They passed through several hands. A former owner once said in our hearing that the mills were 'hoodooed,' and never made a dollar for but one owner of them. They were once the property of N. Briggs, who paid $3,500 for them and sold them in flourishing milling days for $12,000.

"The Dexter firm of Costello & Everts paid this figure for them and afterwards laid out $14,000 in improvements which made the mills cost them $26,000. They met with financial reverses and the mills were sold for less than half this amount.

"That this decadence was inevitable, we are not prepared to dispute. Although a young man the writer of this article recalls pleasant memories of days when not only these mills, but Dexter, (in common with many other villages) was doing a business of thousands of dollars where it now does one of hundreds, and as we view the town in perspective, we sometimes wonder if there may not be in store for it a decay as complete and unalterable as in the case of the once flourishing industries, the brief obituary of which we have just penned."

His Life in Ann Arbor—

In the February issue of Appleton's Popular Science Monthly Prof. Geo. L. Burr, has a very interesting sketch of Andrew Dickson White, accompanied by an excellent portrait. This gentleman was recently appointed on the Venezuela Commission by President Cleveland. The portion of the article relating to President White's life in Ann Arbor, will surely be read with interest. It is as follows:

"It was then, with his future profession all undecided, that he chanced to stray within the sound of the voice of President Francis Wayland, who was delivering at Yale one of the addresses of the commencement season; and the orator's plea for the new and growing west as a field for the young scholar sank deep into his mind. The next year he spent in graduate study at Yale, and before its end, declining all other offers, he had accepted the chair of History and English Literature at the University of Michigan.

"He was but five and twenty, and looked a boy, but the vigor of his thought and the finish of his style soon dispelled all doubt as to his maturity. 'He came to Ann Arbor,' says one who listened to him, 'fresh from European studies, and he entered upon his labor with that peculiar enthusiasm which is instantly caught by students, and is perhaps the most successful element of all good teaching. His instruction in history was a genuine revelation to those who had been accustomed to perfunctory text-

PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

MOST PERFECT MADE.

A pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant. 40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

Good Woman, just think a moment.

FIGURES and facts are serious things, but it is necessary to consider them.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER is shown by the U. S. Government tests to yield 160.6 cubic inches of leavening gas per oz.

The alum powders were shown to yield about 60 cubic inches.

Is it not economy to use the ROYAL, even though the alum powders do cost but half as much?

Again, ROYAL is a pure cream of tartar baking powder, recommended by health officers and physicians generally because of the healthful qualities it actually imparts to the food.

Alum baking powders are condemned by physicians and boards of health as unwholesome. Their continued use will eventually cause serious digestive troubles.

Therefore, cost aside, is it not imperative, the actual wholesomeness of the food being at stake, that you should stubbornly reject the injurious and employ the healthful agent?

Whenever baking powders are sold, either wholesale or retail, at a lower price than "Royal," reject them. They are almost invariably made from alum, and therefore inferior and dangerous to health.

There is both health and economy in the use of the ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

book work, and the hearing of dry colorless lectures. The exceptional excellence of his instruction consisted largely of the spirit which he infused into his students. He had in a remarkable degree the rare gift of seizing upon the most important principles and causes and presenting them in such a manner as to illuminate the whole course of events with which they were connected. He not only instructed, but, what was even more important, he inspired. While he remained in his chair perhaps no study in the University was pursued with so much enthusiasm by the mass of students as was that of history.

"In the general development of the University he was like his old friend Frieze, whom, to his joy, he found a fellow-member of the Michigan faculty, a loyal supporter and adviser of President Tappan. And there was work to do outside the institution. The University, in order to keep its hold on the state, from which it drew its support, loved to send out its faculty as lecturers into the towns and villages of Michigan, and into this task, too, the young Professor of History went with zest and success.

"On the eve of his going to Michigan, he had married, at Syracuse, Mary Outwater, a neighbor's daughter, whom he had known and admired since her childhood. He was fond of entertaining his colleagues and students; and Mrs. White united in her character a sweetness and a dignity which made her the most charming of hostesses. Their home soon became at Ann Arbor, as afterward at Cornell, the very heart of the University's social life. There, in his growing library, amid the influences of art and music so dear to him, Prof. White ministered a hospitality which could have meant hardly less to the culture of those who shared it than did the work of his class room."

All About Your Heart—

Young people who have trouble with their hearts for one cause, and old people who have trouble with their hearts for another cause, and still another class who feely maintain that they have no such thing in their anatomy as a heart, all learned something about that wonderful machine on Monday evening at the Unitarian church. Dr. Wm. A. Campbell, of the University, told about it, and he did it in a remarkably clear and entertaining manner. He told his hearers things they never dreamed of, and convinced the most skeptical that they not only had hearts, but that their hearts were alright. The lecture was certainly a very fine one.

A Scholarship Free—

The following appeal has been issued by the chairman of the gymnasium committee of the Woman's League: The Woman's League of the University of Michigan offers a one year scholarship (matriculation and tuition fees) in the U. of M. to any graduate of any approved high school who will raise and send them before Oct. 1, next, the sum of $500 for the women's building fund.

For 25 years women have enjoyed the privileges of this institution. Nearly 700 are now in attendance. Until the present year no special arrangements have been made for them. The coming spring, however, a wing, to be known as the women's building, is to be added to the Waterman Gymnasium for their use.

This building will be under the care of the newly elected dean, Dr. Elvira S. Mosher, the first woman professor in the university.

The women's building will contain a well equipped gymnasium with bath-rooms and swimming tank; also a suite of parlors, reading room, committee rooms, kitchen, assembly room, etc., for social purposes, forming a central home for the women of all the classes in the departments of the university. The plans are already completed and bids are being received for the contracts. Of the $50,000 needed $35,000 have been given—(these were personal gifts)—by two of our regents, on condition that $15,000 be raised by the Women's League to complete the necessary fund. Of this sum $11,000 are yet to be secured to insure the realization of our hopes with the opening of the next college year.

Our Kin Across the Sea.

The American is always instituting comparison between himself and his English cousin. The Englishman is ever contrasting his American kinsman with himself. Personal comparisons are proverbially ungracious. The accentuation of supposed contrasts is peculiarly so. Moreover, since men generally find what they seek faithfully, both comparison and contrast tend toward a factitious result. Thus it comes to pass that in most American newspaper offices there is a lay figure, clothed in with insularity, armed to the teeth in view of a possible opportunity for aggression, his face aglow with bitter and ill concealed hatred of all things American. This is the "property" Briton, and his services are invaluable in those not infrequent seasons when the chariot wheels of editorial imagination drive heavily.

We are assured, upon the other hand that well ordered English households commonly harbor a corresponding American bogey. He is a fellow of infinite variety, who, when admitted to the drawing room, slaps strangers on the back, consumes unlimited tobacco, and interlards his speech with barbaric slang. He serves the British matron as the wine-bibbling Helot served his Spartan master. He is even brought into requisition by the British author when that worthy adventures an American tale. He is of inestimable worth to Mr. Justin McCarthy, and it is to be feared that in moments of weakness even Mr. Andrew Lang has taken counsel of him.—Edward M. Chapman, in February Century.

The Professor Talks to His Classes.

Dr. Liebman, professor of Pathological Anatomy, asked his class of several hundred young men how many of them had catarrh. Over two-thirds raised their hands and the Professor said, "It is evident that among the people a very much larger proportion will be afflicted. In your practice you will find men, women and children who have either a simple catarrh from a slight cold in the head, or with the mucous passages of the head entirely eaten away and the disease extending to the throat and still other forms the disease has reached the acute form making breathing almost impossible. In my daily practice I prescribe a salve made in Dayton, Ohio, known as Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm, that is not a secret patent medicine but which carries large quantities of camphor, act directly on the passages of the head, giving instant relief. This Balm can be prescribed with every confidence."

A small sample will be sent by Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, Ohio, on receipt of a 2 cent stamp.

Of Interest to Y. W. C. A.'s—

A joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Board of Managers and the finance committee will be held at 8 o'clock Friday evening at Mrs. Parker's, No. 24 E. Ann St. to consider the possibility of employing the general secretary for another month. The past four weeks have proved beyond a doubt that there is great need of her work. Though it is true that the Y. W. C. A. "has money in the bank," it must be kept for the rent of the coming year, as their plan is to pay down for their rooms. Hence this sum is not available for any other purpose, and they dare not assume a responsibility unless they see a way of meeting it. The entertainment committee are a grand help in the finances of the society but they have already assumed all the responsibility that it is wise for them to undertake. Hence the meeting of Friday evening is to be an important one. If any friend of the girls has a suggestion in regard to the matter, they will be glad to receive it. Either write to them or speak to Miss Hayley at E. F. Mills' store.

Mr. Geo. M. Seward, state treasurer of Topeka, Kas., a man respected by the community for his integrity and his honor, and occupying one of the highest offices of trust in the state, writes: "I have tried every remedy under the sun for headaches but nothing has given me relief until I tried Gessler's Magic Headache Wafers." When a practical druggist and one holding the confidence of the entire community like A. E. Mummery, will sell them on a positive guarantee, they must be good. Price 25c a box.

Tiny Republics.

A quaint little republic came to light only recently, when the citizens of Andorra boldly threw off the yoke of tribute to the French. 'Tis true it was only the sum of $200 which they refused to pay; but their action was sufficient to recall from obscurity for a moment the little republic of the Pyrenees. The vale of Andorra measures less than eighteen miles in either direction; but it is the home of one of the oldest republics in the world, the constitution of which is four years older than England's Magna Charta. The Andorrese number in all but 10,000 souls, and these and their ancestors have lived for a hundred years in the heart of Europe, without having written one word of its history.

But Andorra is only one of a score of tiny republics—miniature nations, some of which are only to be found marked on navigators' charts. Tavara, for instance, is the smallest republic on the face of the globe. It occupies an island off the northeast coast of Sardinia, and comprises fifty-five people. It enjoys, however, the distinction of equal suffrage. Then there are Goust, Franceville, and San Marino, all smaller than Andorra. Truly, one-half of the world knows not the other half.
