The Verdict

Said Mr. M.—the other day: "I want one of your seamless hot-water bottles that you warrant. I had one of them and it lasted six months with constant use. I bought two at —'s and they gave out very quickly."

We can give you the man's name if you want it.

These bottles will last two or three years with ordinary use.

TRUTH FOR THE BOYS

Upon Their Good Conduct Depends the Future of our Great University.

A THEATRE HIGH HAT.

A Brainy Idea About the P. O. Tiles—Joyous News for the Twin Cities.

Digging the University's Grave—

When a disgraceful fracas like that of last Friday evening occurs, every one who took part therein, together with their friends, is busy afterward in an attempt to throw the blame on to the shoulders of some one else. If any one is arrested or hurt it is sure to be an innocent person.

It is now asserted that the throwing of stones and damaging of property at Granger's was the work of town boys entirely, and no students had a hand in it. Many people desirous of courting favor with the students, for private gain and various other reasons, take up the cry, and "the town huddlums" are credited with the disreputable deed. One can hardly blame the students or any one else for a desire to sneak out of such affairs, and to make it appear that some one else did it.

Was it "the town huddlums," desirous of getting hold of a Freshman or two who stoned the house of Mr. Butler and broke in the windows a night or two previous?

The fact that one of the students arrested on Friday night had his pockets full of stones, had no significance; it was merely a little playfulness on his part; he never intended to throw any of them!

The fact that no one can give names or any idea as to who these town boys were, has no weight in the case!

If there were any town boys who took part in that affair their names should be made known and they should be made to suffer for it.

It is the duty of the students, not only as good citizens, but as a protection to their own reputation, to have them arrested and brought to trial. A neglect of that duty quite naturally casts a suspicion upon the sincerity of the accusers.

The Courier always has and always will stand by the students in all legitimate fun. It believes in having a good time, and a noisy time when occasion appears to demand it, but when it comes to the destruction of property, and deeds that are disgraceful, it does not believe in upholding or shielding either them or any one else.

It is just such things as occurred last Friday night that is fast turning the people of Michigan against the university. To be fully convinced of this fact, all one has to do is to go about the state and hear the speech of people.

If our legislatures and our state officials refuse to grant the university further aid, or even continue the aid already granted, the students themselves have their own actions to thank for it in continuing or countenancing such affairs.

There are conditions existing that might as well be looked squarely in the face, and this is one of them. When an institution is supported by the people as this university is, the students can not be as independent, and as indifferent to criticism as can the students of Harvard or Yale or other universities which are endowed. The people who pay their money in hard earned taxes are very jealous of their investment, and if they get the impression that their money is not being used judiciously, or to the best advantage, they soon begin to protest.

If the students here overstep the bounds, as they occasionally do, every tax-payer in Michigan who is an enemy to higher education at public expense—and there are hundreds of them—use the affair as an argument against giving the university any further support.

An affair like that of last Friday night is taken up and magnified, and made to appear much worse than it really was. Therefore the students can not be too careful in confining their pranks to pure fun.

This is not written in an unfriendly or faultfinding spirit. The Courier feels and believes that the U. of M. students are far superior in deportment to those of other great universities of the nation, but under existing circumstances it will be necessary for the conservative element among them to constantly repress the over-demonstrative and rattle-headed, who do not recognize the difference between fun and lawlessness. If they do not, and if these affairs occur in the future, there is grave danger to the life of the university itself.

She Got Angry About it—

The incident related below did not occur in Ann Arbor, but it might have done so many and many a time had there been a man here with sufficient sand to enact his part of it. It was no fault of the woman and the hat: A man found himself seated behind a hat of such large proportions that he could scarcely see the stage at all. After vainly endeavoring to catch a glimpse of the performers, he determined that the only thing to do was to get the woman to remove her hat.

"Madam," he said, in the politest tones, "would you be so kind as to take off your hat? It prevents me from seeing the performance."

"No, I will not," was the retort from the woman with the high hat.

The man accepted the rebuff very calmly, and he made a vain effort to see the stage for a while longer. Finally, he determined to try it again.

"Madam," he said, "I have paid for this seat, but by reason of your high hat I am unable to see the stage. Will you oblige me by taking it off?"

"I have paid for my seat, and I intend to wear what I please," was the answer received.

A happy thought struck the man. He reached for his silk hat and put it on his head. Immediately there was a cry of several voices from behind him: "Take off that hat! Take off that hat!" The man took his hat off, but the woman, not knowing what he had done, of course thought that the remarks were intended for her.

She was mad, thoroughly mad, and gathering herself together she left her seat and the theatre, and a smile of satisfaction swept over the man's face; revenge was sweet.

A Great Thought—

Many people who travel the tile floor of the post office and of the court house have remarked how much faster the white tiles wear out than the blue or colored ones.

Happening in the P. O. corridors the other day a genial gentleman of prominence remarked in this wise: "It has long been a mystery to me, and others have spoken about it, too, why those colored tiles lasted so much longer than the light ones. I have just thought it out." Then he ceased speaking, casting his eyes up to ours as if for an interrogatory.

"Well, speak, for mercy sake don't keep a person in suspense. Speak, man, and let us know."

"Why, because they are harder."

And then he passed out whistling the beautiful melody of "Paradise Alley."

Joy for the Twins—

The directors of the Ann Arbor Street Railway Co. and those of the Ann Arbor & Ypsilanti Street Railway Co., more generally known as the Motor line have held several joint meetings of late, and an agreement has practically been entered into by which the latter road will be equipped with electricity, and the two run as one line.

It is expected that the work will be commenced very soon, and it is hoped to have the new propelling force at work before summer is over.

This will be a glorious piece of news to the people of the Twin Cities.

Here is a valuable little receipt that you should either cut out and paste in your scrap book, or else impress indelibly upon your memory: "A severe paroxysm of coughing may be arrested by taking a tablespoonful of glycerine in a wine glass of hot milk."

NEARLY TWO MILLIONS

Of Deposits in our City Banks—W. K. Childs a Candidate for Register of Deeds.

ANN ARBOR'S FIRST PAPER.

It was Started Over 65 Years Ago—Primary School Funds—A Pretty Street—Sidewalks Belong to the City, Etc., Etc.

Nearly Two Millions—

The recent bank statements make a fine showing of good management and the confidence of the public. It is interesting to compare them with a year ago to note the gains in totals.

| LOANS. | |
|---------------------|-------------|
| Savings Bank | $75,882 |
| Farmers & Mechanics | 337,439 |
| First National | 306,115 |
| State Savings | 206,178 |
| Total | $1,842,124 |

| RESOURCES. | |
|---------------------|-------------|
| Savings Bank | $1,196,852 |
| Farmers & Mechanics | 430,785 |
| First National | 455,850 |
| State Savings | 204,575 |
| Total | $2,288,062 |

| DEPOSITS. | |
|---------------------|-------------|
| Savings Bank | $880,736 |
| Farmers & Mechanics | 340,785 |
| First National | 264,241 |
| State Savings | 208,643 |
| Total | $1,894,405 |

This shows a gain in deposits of a hundred thousand dollars, while the New York City banks have shown a decrease during the year. It also shows the surprising fact that there is nearly two millions of dollars on deposit in the four banks of Ann Arbor.

He is a Candidate—

"Are you a candidate for the office of Register of Deeds?" was asked of Mr. W. K. Childs by the writer, a day or two since.

"Well," was the reply, "in one sense I am. If my friends want me to run for the office, and if the republicans of the county think I would help the ticket, I should be very glad to be a candidate. If not, then my name will not be considered," or words of like import.

Mr. Childs is one of the staunch and solid republicans of this city and county. He loved his country so well that he enlisted as a private soldier, and went down south as a mark for southern bullets at $13 a month. He was a good soldier as he has always been a good citizen, and has just the qualifications necessary for the office of register of deeds.

Honest and industrious, but left in rather delicate physical condition from exposure in the camp, on the march, and on the battle field, he is not strong enough for any out-door employment, so he seeks office work from necessity.

Mr. Childs would add strength to the republican county ticket which will not be burdened with old soldiers, as there is only one such now in office, Prosecuting Attorney Randall.

Ann Arbor sets up no special claim to a place on the ticket, though she might in justice do so, but in Mr. Childs, she puts forth a worthy representative who, if the republicans see fit to nominate him, will make a conscientious, faithful official, who will always and at all times be on duty, and who will be a credit to himself and to his party.

A Pretty Street—

Editor Courier:—The lady who owns the house which is a stumbling block in the way of extending Catharine st. from N. State to N. Division st., and who in the last Courier attempted to help her cause by disparaging that handsome little street which she calls "Lover's Lane," by asking if the "city wants any more such?" made a mistake. For one I should answer yes, decidedly, yes. For a number of years I have sought its pleasant shade and cool, nice atmosphere when going to and from the postoffice, and to and from church on Sunday. I pass Liberty, Washington and Huron, and find pleasure in this little street. It is always shady, it is nearly always kept well sprinkled, the yards, though not large are almost without exception kept in a neat and tidy manner, delightful to the eye. I have often thought if all the other streets did as well, what a beautiful city we would have.

I have frequently in summertime walked down State st. when the dust would be so thick that one could scarcely see a block away, much less breathe the freely, and turning on to this so-called "Lover's Lane," have found myself at once in a different atmosphere, with everything clean, clear and nice. If the proposed extension of Catharine st., through this same block, will give us another such an oasis of a street, for one as a taxpayer, I should favor it, even if the city had to pay the cost.

Very truly yours,
G. S. M.

Ann Arbor's First Paper—

There are, piled away in the Pioneer room of the court house, a number of volumes that are of great value being files of Ann Arbor papers, dating back into the early days of this city and county. Among other volumes is one of the Western Emigrant, the first paper published in Ann Arbor, and in the state outside of Detroit, and nearly the first in what is now the great west.

The bound volume commences with No. 1, of Vol. 1, dated Ann Arbor, Wednesday, Nov. 18, 1829, nearly 73 years ago.

Thomas Simpson was the publisher, and the paper was a five column folio. The terms were "$3 a year in advance, or $3.50 at the end of the year. Mail subscribers, if out of the Territory, payment always in advance. Country produce taken in exchange for the Emigrant, if delivered." (That is if the produce is delivered.)

The first article is the Declaration of Independence, which occupies two columns of the first page. Then follows a long article on Hemp, and another on Tobacco, which fill the page. In the latter is a table giving the exports for the year previous, which amounted to 96,000 hogsheads, valued at $5,269,960. The countries to which this was exported, were Great Britain and Ireland, Netherlands, Hanse Towns, France, Sweden & Norway, Gibraltar, Italy and Malta, Attels, etc. Our school children of to-day would have hard work finding some of these places on the map.

On the first column of the 2d page was an official proclamation by Lewis Cass, governor of the Territory, setting apart "Thursday Nov. 26th as a day of Public Thanksgiving and Prayer."

The paper does not contain a line of editorial or local. There are very few advertisements aside from the Laws of Michigan, published by authority, not to exceed one column altogether.

E. Clark advertised for a lad 15 or 16 years of age to serve in a store, etc., and also "for a few thousand bushels of grain, for which a fair price will be paid in goods or whiskey."

"John Allen & Co. on the corner of Main and Huron sts.," advertise all sorts of dry goods, and supplies of all kinds.

Benjn. Sutton, administrator of the estate of Nathan Brundage, wants "all claims and demands of all persons against said estate handed in at once."

Israel Branch very appropriately had fruit trees for sale.

Castle Sutherland has "established a gun-smith factory in the village of Ann Arbor."

A "select school for young Gentlemen and Ladies in Ann Arbor Village," had the most voluminous ad. in the paper. This school was "conducted by T. W. Merrill, late instructor in the academic and theological institution, N. Hampton, N. H.," and

Now that the Pingree craze is subsiding, the county officials who did not put their foot in it are congratulating themselves and being congratulated by their friends.

It is a shame that while modern democrats are having so much to say about Jefferson, that Jefferson cannot be heard on the subject of modern democrats.—Journal, Boston, Mass.

Would you believe it? The Chelmsford Standard is responsible for the remark that Hon. James S. Gorman of that place is prominently mentioned as the democratic gold-bug candidate for governor! Good for Jimmie!

If Senator Quay made the remark accredited to him that he would rather see ex-Gov. Patterson, of his state, a democrat, president, than Major McKinley, he ought to be made to eat his words or keep out of republican conventions. A man who will seek to bring an opposing candidate into disrepute in any such way as that is unworthy the confidence of the party, and deserves ostracism.

During 1895 we imported 20,748,108 pounds of shoddy, more than during any other year, while in 1892, a year during which the republican tariff was in full operation, we imported less than 300,000 pounds. They are the American people bought and were able to pay for good honest cloth, woven from American wool and spun in American mills. Now they are wearing foreign shoddy and are compelled to buy it on credit.—Burlington Hawk-Eye.

A number of papers are printing a paragraph in which "a neighboring judge" is credited with ruling that: "the streets belong to teams and vehicles, and pedestrians have no more business upon them than the teams and vehicles would have upon the sidewalks." That may be common custom, but it is not the common law which holds that a pedestrian has the right of way upon any highway, the only thing being that he must use due diligence in keeping out of danger.

We do not mean a shake of the hands; but a genuine malarial chill. Quinine is the best remedy for this. Yet when the chills have ceased, there remains a debilitated system, with loss of appetite and poor blood. For this condition take Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites. The cod-liver oil is a valuable food, furnishing needed elements to build up the tissues. It also makes rich blood, bringing back color to the cheeks. The Hypophosphites increases the appetite, and gives vigor and strength to the nervous system.

When you ask for Scott's Emulsion and your druggist gives you a package in a salmon-colored wrapper with the picture of the man and fish on it—you can trust that man!

SILVER THREADS AMONG THE GOLD

It is with regret The Sentinel notes Hon. Don M. Dickinson's assertion that not more than 25 per cent. of Michigan democrats favor the free coinage of silver. He certainly is in error, or has been misquoted. If 25 per cent. represents any fraction of the party it is that favoring gold monometalism, but the fraction is too large for that unless the party has fallen off.—Ypsilanti Sentinel.

There appears to be a difference of opinion here.

If but 25 per cent. of the democratic party favors a gold standard, there must have been a terribly stupid lot of free silver delegates sent to the recent state convention at Detroit, which declared against their views. Either the brains of the party are all on the gold side or else there is a mistake in the Sentinel's figures.

There is not the least mistake, however, about the democratic party having "fallen off."

The Sentinel has a further bone to pick with Mr. Dickinson. Hear it: "In his talk with the Evening News, Mr. Dickinson charges that 'The free silver men had battalions of men around this state establishing free silver clubs, establishing newspaper organs and hiring editors, and if any money was used in this state it was used in behalf of the free silver syndicate, organized and existing outside of this state, and furnishing money to carry on the campaign in this state.' The Sentinel considers this an outrageous calumny and demands of Mr. Dickinson his proof of the charge."

Now Don M. has the floor.

Pistols and coffee?

D. M. Ferry, of Detroit, has accepted the chairmanship of the republican state central committee, and the leadership of the party in Michigan. He is an able man, and will make an excellent chairman.

All of the delegates to the republican national convention have been chosen, and McKinley is the choice of 568 and upwards. A glorious majority. Maj. McKinley is the choice of the rank and file of his party.

Last year was the first one for six years when our exports fell below $800,000,000. Opening the markets of the world with the Wilson democratic tariff key so far has not proved a hilarious success.—Louisville Commercial.

Charles Francis Adams says a young man should be able to write and speak the English language correctly before entering college. The rule would be a good one also for a man leaving college, but it would seriously cut down the list of graduates.

While many of the leading daily papers are already engaged in making up a McKinley cabinet we make this prediction, that on the 4th of March, 1897, Gen. Russell A. Alger of Michigan, and Congressman Nelson Dingley, of Maine, will be "strictly in it."—Cedar Springs Clipper.

It is hinted that Mr. Platt of New York, and Senator Quay of Pennsylvania, are to work from now on with the republican delegates to convince them that these two men know more than the combined judgment of the entire party. Republicans should be on their guard. Any other nomination than that of McKinley, under present circumstances, would disrupt the party.

If Spain shoots those Americans she found on the Competitor, she'll witness a meteoric shower from American guns, that will fill her coasts with wreckage.—Ypsilanti.

McKinley served all through the war, and for the first fifteen months as a private soldier. In the award of honors richly earned the man who carried the knapsack stands second to nobody, and his figure will adorn the presidential pedestal.—Mason News. And, by the way, where were Senator Matt Quay, and ex-Senator Platt during all the years of the war?

Hon. George S. Wheeler, of Salem, who made a plucky fight for the vice of Judge of Probate eight years ago, when there was no more show for a republican than there is for an anarchist to enter Heaven by the front gate, is again a candidate for the position, it is understood. Mr. Wheeler is one of the war horses of the republican party of this county. He has helped fight its battles when it was only a forlorn hope that stood up to be counted. Now the party has an opportunity to show its gratitude.

Memorial Day Services.

1st. In obedience to General Orders from National Headquarters, Memorial Day, Saturday, May 30th, will be observed by this Post.

2d. Each comrade will report at the Post Room at 8:00 a. m., Saturday, May 30, 1896.

3d. A detachment will be conveyed to St. Thomas Cemetery; starting at 9 o'clock sharp, who will properly decorate the grave of our departed comrades there; and on its return to the Court House, the Post will fall in and march to Forest Hill Cemetery, where services in accordance with the Ritual will be observed, after which the graves will be decorated; the Post reassembled, and marched back to the hall to disband.

4th. The comrades will assemble at the Post Room at 1:00 o'clock, sharp, and as soon thereafter as possible fall in and march down to Huron St., east on Huron to opposite the south door of the Court House, where they will be joined by Joe T. Jacobs Camp, S. of V., Co. A, M. S. T., and such other organizations and citizens, either on foot or in carriages, as wish to join with them in the exercises of the day. The parade to be under the direction of Major Soule, Marshal of the Day, to whom all organizations are requested to report. From thence they will proceed to the Fifth ward Cemetery, where the graves will be decorated, and the exercises of the afternoon observed.

5th. The comrades again will assemble at the Post Room at 7:00 o'clock p. m., on march to the University, to take part in the services to be observed in University Hall.

6th. All old soldiers are cordially invited to fall in with the Post, thus lending their assistance in observing the exercises of the day.

7th. The comrades will assemble at the Post Room on Sunday morning, May 24th, and be ready to march at ten o'clock, a. m. sharp, for the purpose of listening to a Memorial Sermon at the Unitarian Church.

8th. The comrades will assemble at the Post Room on Friday, May 29th, at 1:30 p. m., and march to the High School Hall for the purpose of attending the Patriot Day exercises to be held there. By order of

In combination, proportion and process Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself, and unequalled in true merit. No other medicine ever possessed so much curative power, or reached such enormous sales, or made such wonderful cures, as Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever made to purify, vitalize and enrich the blood.

That is the secret of its success. Read this statement:

"When my son was 7 years of age, he had rheumatic fever and acute rheumatism, which settled in his left hip. He was so sick that no one thought there was any help for him. Five sores broke out on his thigh, which the doctor said were sores. We had three different doctors. Pieces of bone came out of the sores. The last doctor said the leg would have to be cut open and the bone scraped, before he could get well. Howard became so low that he would eat nothing, and one doctor said there was no chance for him. "One day, a newspaper recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla was left at our door. We decided to try this medicine. Howard commenced taking it the last of February, after having been sick for a year and a half. He hadn't taken it a week before I saw that his appetite began to improve, and then he gained rapidly. I gave him five bottles, when the sores were all healed and they never broke out again. The crutches he had used for four years were laid aside, as he had no further use for them. I give all the credit to Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. ADA L. MOODY, Fay Street, Lynn, Mass.

Annual Pioneers Meeting of Washtenaw County.

The Annual Meeting of the Pioneer and Historical Society of Washtenaw County will meet in the Congregational Church in Chelsea on June 10th, 1896, at ten o'clock a. m. sharp. A large attendance is expected and the hospitable people of Chelsea and Sylvan and adjoining towns are making arrangements to welcome all the old settlers of the county, and their sons and daughters, and furnish them with a bountiful dinner, as well as a literary feast, comprising addresses on pioneer life and biographical sketches of some of the old pioneers who have recently bid us a final farewell and passed over the river to an abiding place, believed to be even fairer and more inviting than Washtenaw County.

Among those who are expected to be present and address the audience are Capt. E. P. Allen, M. T. Woodruff, W. D. Harriman, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Dibble, J. W. Wing, and others. The Chelsea quartette and J. W. Williams, of Dexter, will entertain the audience with excellent music and pioneer songs. Come early so we can adjourn in time for the railway train going east in the afternoon.

J. Q. A. SESSIONS, THOMAS HOLMES, Secretary. President.

Very often Nature needs only a little help to get over an obstruction. When a boom of logs is floating down a river, all goes well until one single log strikes something and sticks. Then there's a "jam"—and trouble. It is just so in the progress of food through the digestive organs. Everything goes well till something sticks. Then the process of digestion stops. That's indigestion. Unless the impediment is removed, poisonous putrid matter begins to accumulate. There's a "jam"—constipation, and trouble. Sick headache, biliousness, sleeplessness, vertigo, heartburn, loss of appetite—these are some of the symptoms. Just a little help at the appearance of the first one would end the trouble. Nature is a hard worker, but she needs assistance if too much be put upon her.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets offer the best and simplest method for furnishing this assistance. They are prompt and very effective in their action, but they are not strong nor severe. They cause no violent wrench of the system. They go right to the "log" that is fast and loosen it. Nature does the rest. By and by, with a little care in dieting, Nature will do it all. That's one great advantage of the "Pleasant Pellets" over the many strongly cathartic pills—you do not become a slave to their use. They really cure the trouble they are meant to cure. Even the worst kind of chronic constipation disappears with their use.

CAUTION.—Some designing dealers do not permit their customers to have Dr. Pierce's Pellets because inferior pills afford greater profits. Such dealers are short sighted. They overlook the fact that next time you will go where you are supplied with what you ask for.

Hutzel's Water Back!

A very important invention which will be hailed with delight by every body using a stove or range for hot water circulation. After years of experience we have succeeded in producing a simple and perfect WATER BACK.

It overcomes all the present troubles of extracting lime and other sediments which accumulate in water backs, often making them useless and in great many instances becoming dangerous.

The outlay of dollars is reduced to dimes. No household using a range can afford to be without it.

No more trouble by using city water for hot water circulation.

Can be used in any stove. Ask your stove dealer for Hutzel's Water Back.

Mason & Davis Co's. ranges for sale at C. Eberbach are provided with our improvement.

Everybody call and examine this useful invention.

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes, and a sallow complexion will defy his best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is good for the complexion because it makes the whole body healthy—because it clears and purifies the blood, makes the digestion strong and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to assimilate nutritious food, and by the infusion of its own ingredients it enriches the blood and so makes solid, healthy flesh. It cures diseases of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, skin and scalp, simply because all these diseases spring from the same cause—a disordered digestion and consequent impure blood.

The Pinckney Dispatch has taken to the government postoffice way of writing it "Amarrbor." Looks queer don't it?

Luther Palmer died at his home in Dexter on May 11, aged 72 years. He came to this county in 1836, settling in Dexter.

It will take 60,000 plants for Mr. Laidlaw, the M. C. landscape gardener at Ypsilanti, to carry out his plans this year.

The village dads of Manchester propose to plant a lot of German carp in the mill pond of that place to keep the weeds from choking out the water.

The bicycle riders in Pinckney have been abusing the privilege of riding on the sidewalks, and the council will probably be asked to shut them off entirely.

A miserable whelp of an anarchist cut down the pole on which the school flag floats at Fowlerville. And that village will pay $25 to find out his name.

Mrs. Mary Starkweather having given $10,000 for a new Student's Christian Association building at Ypsilanti, the contract has been let for the same to a Detroit builder.

On the 22d there is to be a grand field day at Howell, the high school boys of that place inviting all the schools in the county to take part in the exercises and sports of the day.

Saved my Child's Life.

J. S. Weaver, Secretary Iron Steamboat Company, New York, says: "I wish to say to the public that I had a child about four years of age, lying at the point of death with summer complaint (diarrhoea), the doctor and all of us having given up hope. The doctor, however, advised us to get some of Speer's Port Wine, and give her a little at a time—very little, but often. As a last resort we did so, and I say that Speer's Port Wine saved her life. She is my only child. I had never seen Mr. Speer, but with tears of joy I went and told him that his wine had saved the life of my only child."

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Rives Junction, she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work, and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at Eberbach Drug & Chemical Co's drug store, and Geo. J. Haussler, Manchester. Regular size, 50c and $1.00.

Miss Lulu Love and William Shuck, were recently married at Adrian. He gets 'a lulu' of a love and she barely a shuck. It often happens so in the lottery of marriage. O shucks!

—Monroe Democrat.

The way the girls over in Milford get husbands is thus related by the Truthful James of the Democrat at Monroe: "A Milford girl, considering that it was leap year, took the fellow who had been hanging around her, by the lappel of his coat and with a loving smile in her eye and a revolver in her hand, remarked that she wanted him for a husband. The lover saw the point—and the revolver—and the license and marriage speedily ensued."

Nearly 70 children are busy with the preparations, and as one enthusiastic lady puts it, "the wee little folk give an entertainment from the heart which fills the soul with rapture."—Ypsilanti Sentinel.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season but perhaps more generally needed when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine had often averted a long and perhaps fatal bilious fever. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c and $1.00 per bottle at Eberbach Drug & Chemical Co's Drug Store, and G. J. Haussler, Manchester.

Price, the millionaire Baking Powder man, writes as follows: "Send me a dozen boxes of Gesslers Magic Headache Wafers. I would not be without them for all the world. They are the best cure for Headaches I have ever found and leave no bad after effects. If you have a headache you cannot afford to be without them." They are guaranteed to cure or your money refunded. A. E. Mummery, your druggist, will tell you there are none half so good. Price reduced to 25 cents per box.

Bill Nye often spoke his witticisms laden with the greatest truths. Among the most noticeable, most New-fish and most apropos is the following: "A man may use a wart on the back of his neck for a collar button; ride on the back coach of a train to save interest on his money until the conductor comes around; stop his watch at night to save the wear and tear; leave his 'I' and 't' without a dot or cross to save ink; pasture his mother's grave to save corn; but a man of this kind is a gentleman and a scholar compared to a fellow who will take a newspaper, and when asked to pay for it, puts it into the postoffice and has it marked, 'Refused.'"

Also Two Tails.

Several years ago one of the popular humorists, scientifically inclined, concluded to make some experiments with feed tea, the popular summer drink. The result of his investigations is given in his own words.

"I secured a sample of the tea at one of the restaurants in town to get a fair average of the article used. I took a teaspoonful of the liquid to the household pump; it was stirred into a large tub filled with water and in a moment the color of the tea had disappeared. Anyone will admit that this solution would seem harmless even to the healthy lower animals. We had some young puppies in the barn yard and I procured two of the smallest of them; they were allowed to lap at the liquid and then their heads were held under the water for fifteen minutes. It resulted in the death of both puppies and the dangerous properties of the decoction were made apparent."

It is all very well to have a bit of fun from the experiments in food and drink, but there are many nowadays who are really hurt, and hurt seriously from the use of coffee.

A new breakfast beverage has been produced which looks like coffee in the deep seal brown color and which changes to the rich seal brown color of thick Mocha when cream is added. It has been introduced extensively this season and is made from cereals, the common grain of the field. It is nourishing and healthful, without having the hurtful properties of coffee. The weakest stomach can handle the grain coffee and the taste and the color is so agreeable and coffee-like, that it fills the place nicely. This food-drink, Postum, can be given to small children regularly for coffee at breakfast and is nourishing and fattens their bodies. It is a liquid food made from the grains the Creator intended for man's subsistence. Manufactured by the Postum Cereal Co., Lim., Battle Creek, Mich.

"Just as good" as Postum Cereal are words used to defraud the public.

Bill Nye often spoke his witticisms laden with the greatest truths. Among the most noticeable, most New-fish and most apropos is the following: "A man may use a wart on the back of his neck for a collar button; ride on the back coach of a train to save interest on his money until the conductor comes around; stop his watch at night to save the wear and tear; leave his 'I' and 't' without a dot or cross to save ink; pasture his mother's grave to save corn; but a man of this kind is a gentleman and a scholar compared to a fellow who will take a newspaper, and when asked to pay for it, puts it into the postoffice and has it marked, 'Refused.'"

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season but perhaps more generally needed when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine had often averted a long and perhaps fatal bilious fever. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c and $1.00 per bottle at Eberbach Drug & Chemical Co's Drug Store, and G. J. Haussler, Manchester.

Price, the millionaire Baking Powder man, writes as follows: "Send me a dozen boxes of Gesslers Magic Headache Wafers. I would not be without them for all the world. They are the best cure for Headaches I have ever found and leave no bad after effects. If you have a headache you cannot afford to be without them." They are guaranteed to cure or your money refunded. A. E. Mummery, your druggist, will tell you there are none half so good. Price reduced to 25 cents per box.

The man known as "Prince Michael," the head of the Flying Rollers, who was convicted in the circuit court here, will be released from the state prison at Jackson on the 19th of next month. The prison walls are expected to shake on that day.

The Y. M. C. A. Lyceum committee are at work securing a course of entertainments for next year. The indications are that they will be very successful in presenting one of the most attractive courses of six entertainments ever presented in Ann Arbor.

An exchange gives the sweet girl graduate who is trying to get up an essay to match her commencement gown, this advice: "Make the essay match the gown in these particulars, let it be plain and substantial, not too thin, for service rather than for show, avoid ruffles, eschew frills, beware of burbels; do not aim to have it too sweet for anything."

The bicycle craze is so rampant and wheels are becoming so very numerous on our streets that accidents will be more or less frequent. Riders should be careful to have their wheels under full control, at all times adhere to the rules of the road, when passing approaching vehicles or pedestrians, or wheelmen, or wheelwomen, turn to the right, and those going in the same direction turn to the left. Avoid humping and scorching on city or village streets and keep of the sidewalks.

Edward Dorm, who is probably the oldest citizen in Ann Arbor, was burned out Monday night. He lost all his belongings, together with his shanty.—Detroit Tribune. Why any one should burn out an old man, is past explaining. He must have suffered great pain during the operation, which added to the loss of everything else, makes it a case of great hardship. What horrid torture some people inflict, to be sure.—Adrian Press. Very true. The editor of the Press, for instance, with his pencil.

The board of directors of the Washenaw County Mutual Fire Insurance Co., met last Wednesday and Thursday and transacted considerable business. There were thirteen claims to consider mostly losses from lightning. Of these ten were acted upon and allowed the amount aggregating $3,070. The three other claims were partially considered, and laid over to the next meeting which will be subject to the call of the secretary. These latter claims amount to upwards of $1,000. This season of the year seems to be particularly unfortunate for the farmer's companies for the lightning in every thunder storm appears to hit something valuable.

This is Another Chance.

J. F. Schuh has received another big lot of the 4-ply warranted to stand 300 lbs pressure, rubber garden hose. The price will remain as before, 20 cents. Hose for 12 cents. It is a bargain. If you need hose, try it.

A PROMINENT PIONEER GONE.

Hon. Jeremiah Day Williams Passes Over to the Majority.

At about four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon last, death came to the relief of Hon. J. D. Williams, after an illness of some days. He lived at No. 25 N. University ave. He was 81 years of age, and he died on the anniversary of his first marriage.

Funeral services were held Saturday forenoon at 9:30 o'clock, Rev. J. W. Bradshaw of the Congregational Church officiating. The remains were taken to the family burial lot in Webster township.

The following account of his life is taken from the History of Washtenaw County:

"When Michigan was yet a wilderness there arrived within its borders a race of men, in color, white, and contrasting strangely with the appearance of the noble red man, who then claimed this region as his own. These men entered land, built log cabins, felled the mighty trees, and planted crops of corn, wheat and oats in their stead. They were called 'pioneers,' and to this class belongs John Williams, the father of Jeremiah. He was born in Orange county, N. Y., and emigrated to Washtenaw county in the spring of 1828, and located in Webster tp. His wife was Lydia Huggitt, and they were the parents of 10 children, of whom Jeremiah was the seventh, and was born at Sempronius, Cayuga Co., N. Y. When his father came to this county, Jeremiah was in his 13th year, and he was reared on a farm, and did his full share of the hard work in clearing and cultivating what now constitutes four farms. Before he came to Michigan he was sent to winter schools, but made very little progress in learning the three R's, 'reading, 'ritin', and 'rithmetic' being all the main studies undertaken. Millard Fillmore was the first male teacher whose school he attended as a pupil in New York. In 1834, a school-house was built in the neighborhood wherein he lived, and subsequently he attended a select school in Ann Arbor, taught by Wellington A. Glover, and an academy, over which Henry H. Griffin and John McNeil officiated as instructors. In 1839, he was appointed Postmaster of Webster tp., the commission bearing date Feb. 1, 1839, and signed by Amos Kendall, Postmaster General. He officiated in this capacity for nearly two years. The same year he was elected Township Treasurer, and from that time until the present he has served the people almost continuously in different official positions. In November, 1854, he was elected Representative to the state Legislature, from the fifth district of Washtenaw county, and faithfully looked the interests of the Washtenaw citizens during his term of office. During 1841 and '42 he traveled through the greater portion of the New England and Middle States, and returned home in the fall of 1842. He was a farmer until March, 1873, when he sold out his farm and moved into Ann Arbor city. With the exception of the year and a half he spent in travelling and attending school, he worked for his father until 28 years of age, at which time his earthly parent was gathered to his father, and there awaits the final day. Mr. Williams was united in marriage, Nov. 19, 1843, to Frances B. Smith, at China, St. Clair Co., Mich. The companion of his bosom was laid away in the cold and silent tomb, and May 13, 1846, he was joined in the bonds of holy wedlock with Jane L. Stark, of Webster tp., Washtenaw Co., Mich.

Manchester has a lot of unused streets, and will lease them to adjacent land owners for planting to tobacco, corn and garden sass. They have very quiet ways over there.—Adrian Press.

The following officers of the High School Athletic Association were chosen last week: Pres.—Stewart Moore; vice pres.—Florence Green; secretary—Walter Vaughan; treas.—Ladd; members of the board of control—Harry R. Brown, R. G. Holgate; base ball manager—Victor Swift.

If there is a person in Ann Arbor who disputes a word of the following, let him stand up, for him have we offered: "Every town has a liar, a sponger, a blatherskite, its richest man, some pretty girls, a girl who giggles, a weather prophet, a woman who tattles, a half dozen lunatics, a neighborhood feud, at least one justice of the peace, a man who knows it all, more loafers than it needs, men who see every dog fight, a boy who cuts up in church, and a 'thing that stares at women.'"

The old saying is that if it rains on Ascension Day that it will not rain again all summer. And it rained last Thursday. But then, the same old saying had it that if a thunder storm came in March we would have a cold, backward spring. We had the thunder storm, a couple of them, last March, and we never had an earlier or more beautiful spring within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. The truth seems to be that nature has changes which she brings out in the seasons, and what would prove true in one season will not in another. This is one of the record breakers in that line.

One of the oldest inhabitants arises and remarks that the spring of 1851 was even earlier than this year. It may be so, but that's a long while to remember.

This day is the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Not the American Declaration but the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. Wonder how many of our high school pupils could tell what that document is?

The month of April 1896, and the first half of May will pass into history as being very remarkable for humidity and beauty. It is stated by a joker that the mercury in the thermometer got up so high during April that it could look over the top of the tube without standing on tip-toe.

There is some pressure being brought on the common council to raise the salaries of certain city officials. These hard times are not good times to increase taxation. If any city official cannot do the little work occasionally required of him for the salary let him step aside and resign. There are hundreds in town just as well fitted to fill their places who would be glad to do it for the present salary. There would be a pretty mad lot of citizens if any salaries are raised this year.

If Ann Arbor had some generous person who would step forward like Mrs. Starkweather, of Ypsilanti, and give $10,000 for a Young Men's Christian Association building, or a building, which would combine sufficient room for the use of that organization together with the Y. W. C. A., what a glorious thing it would be, not only for those two associations, but for the city of Ann Arbor and for the generous and noble donor him or herself. But alas, and alas, Ann Arbor has no such a lass or laddie either, for that matter.

Electric Light THE BEST

Some of the Advantages of Electric Light:

| | Cubic feet of air vitiated. | Cubic feet of carbonic acid produced. | Heat produced in 1 1/2 Watts raised 1° Fahrenheit. |
|----------------------------|-----------------------------|---------------------------------------|--|
| 12 c. p. Incandescent Lamp | None. | None. | 13.8 |
| 12 c. p. Gas Light | 345.25 | 3.21 | 278.6 |
| 12 c. p. Kerosene Lamp | 376.30 | 3.54 | 232.6 |

Some of the Disadvantages of Gas:

Air consumed. Heat. Freezing Pipes. Humidity. Ceilings Blackened. Sulphur thrown off. Ammonia thrown off. Gas cannot be inverted to throw light down.

Carbonic Acid thrown off. Unsteadiness of Light. Danger of Suffocation. Danger from use of Matches. Water and Air in Pipes. Metals and Gildings Tarnished. Sulphuretted Hydrogen thrown off.

None of these Disadvantages Accompany Electric Lighting.

In general the Incandescent Electric Light is much healthier and much more convenient to use than any other method of lighting, and is more economical for amount of light furnished than gas.

Electricity for all kinds of Power. Electricity for Heating.

At Northville the water board allow citizens to choose their own time for sprinkling, with only this proviso, that water shall not be used more than two hours each day.

Next Sunday evening at 7:30, the Rev. Dr. George H. Trever, of Milwaukee, Wis., will deliver the last lecture in the Wesleyan Guild lecture course at the Methodist church.

The Young Woman's Christian Association will hold their annual election at their rooms Monday evening June 1st, at 7:30. A list of the nominations will be found at the rooms.

Rev. G. C. Tenney, editor of the Review and Herald, will give an address in the Adventist church, cor. E. Liberty and S. Division sts., on Friday evening at 7:30, on "The Nature of the Soul." All seats free.

Judge Kinne yesterday in the circuit court dissolved the injunction in the case of Mrs. North vs. Mrs. Lum, and refused to appoint a receiver. This is a victory for Mrs. Lum in the somewhat famous Goodrich will case.

Mr. Inch lives in Pontiac. He is a third cousin of Mr. Barleycorn of Saginaw, and a distant relative of Mr. Foote of Jackson. He wouldn't go a rod to see either of them.—Adrian Press.

If Plato had lived until to-morrow he would have been 1,467 years of age. Poor Plato, he has been a long time dead. Now the Marquis de Lafayette is celebrating 62 years ago yesterday.

The S. C. A. of the high school will be officered as follows the coming year: President, Walter Himes; 1st vice president, Miss Cady; 2d vice president, Miss Cooley; secretary, Miss Bancroft; treasurer, Markham Cheever; pianist, Miss Bradshaw; Bulletin editor, Edward Boylan.

Dr. C. M. Cobern offered a resolution last week at the conference, to change the time of the General Conference from four to six years. There are many good reasons for this change, one on the score of economy as it costs $2,500 per day expenses of the conference.

Next Sunday is Whitsunday, and services will be held at St. Andrew's church as follows: Celebration of Holy Communion at 7:30; morning prayer at 9:30; second celebration of Holy Communion and sermon at 10:30; evening prayer and sermon at 7:30.

The teachers of all the primary grades of the public schools, are requested by Mr. W. K. Childs, chairman of the committee on flowers, to have their scholars bring all the flowers they can to the court house basement, on Friday afternoon, May 29th, where they will be taken care of and used for the Memorial Day services. This is requested because of the difficulty in making the bouquets and arranging the flowers if they are not brought until the morning of Memorial Day.

Extensive preparations are being made by the college girls for serving coffee and ices after the May Festival concerts. Rooms A and B have been given up for this purpose, one of which will be a Japanese room and the other is to be decorated with flowers which have been kindly lent by Mrs. Cousins. The decorating is under the direction of Miss Alice Hunt. It is hoped that these efforts will be rewarded by a generous patronage and a goodly sum may be added to the fund for the Woman's Building.

Calling upon the members of the fire department to act as special police, in cases like that of last Friday evening, is something that should not be repeated. Firemen are not intended to act as special policemen except in case of a fire. Supposing an alarm of fire should be sent in and all or a large part of the firemen were absent on special police duty? Would the citizens not complain, and justly, because of such a situation? For one the Courier believes that the members of the fire department should be confined to duty as firemen.

The Ascension Day services held by Ann Arbor Commandery K. T., Sunday afternoon, were very fine. The Commandery, with fifty swords in line, marched to Forest Hill cemetery where the graves of twenty-one brothers were decorated with flowers, and at the grave of Hon. Hiram J. Beakes the ritual service was read, and a fine address delivered by Sir Knight Rev. W. L. Tedrow. This service in memory of those who have passed away, is a beautiful one, and should be perpetuated as long as the order lasts, which no doubt will be as long as there are any inhabitants here.

J. F. Schuh has the contract for plumbing in Schaler & Millen's store.

The University Masonic Club will have a banquet at Prettyman's June 6th.

The employes of the Ann Arbor R'y have been fitted out with new blue uniforms.

Stanton D. Brooks has been appointed principal of the high school at Adrian.

Our county board of supervisors will meet on the 21st of June to take up the question of again equalizing the county.

Say, did you know that Christopher Columbus died just 390 years ago to-day? Well he did, or history is at fault.

The first 150 of the swing chairs manufactured by the Ann Arbor Chair Co. are now ready for market. They are elegant.

In the first meet of our base ball team with Chicago we were their meat. The second time they were our meat. It is meet.

The jury was paid off and discharged last Thursday, after a couple of weeks of extremely laborious exercise on the court house chairs.

If you want to run up against something worth all the money asked for it what's the matter with taking the Ann Arbor Courier one year? It costs only $1, and is well worth $5.

The Coldwater Courier states that "Prof. E. H. Harriman has announced his intention of resigning his position, and will enter the U. S. A. to complete the studies necessary to secure an M. S. degree."

The heavy wind that prevailed all day Sunday, stripped all the dead limbs off of shade trees in the city, and many live ones were broken off also. The young and tender foliage on trees and plants was also injured.

On an out-of-town printed job—an advertising scheme of as little value as the clothes worn by the average hobo—the name of one of our prominent business men is printed as "Haugsterfel's." There are so few printing offices in the city you know.

Paul Day, lit '92, was married last Friday evening to Miss Rebecca Scotten, daughter of Daniel Scotten, of Detroit. The wedding was a magnificent affair, one of the most brilliant ever held in that city. Prof. Earl W. Dow was present as a guest.

Harnessmaker Volland, of Ann Arbor, has been in the tugs of the business 54 years. Very few men have been harnessed to a trade so long. Volland is still active and intends to pursue his calling till death unbuckles the bellyband of life and checks his career.—Monroe Democrat.

Miss Mary Williams, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. John W. Langley, is to be married June 2d to Dr. Henry B. Herrick, at Beckwith Memorial church Cleveland, Ohio. The bride and her parents were former residents here and have many friends who will wish the couple a long, joyous and useful life.

The scheme is again being talked about of consolidating the Palladium and Castal'an, the two college annuals; one issued by the fraternities and the other by the Independents. It will probably end in talk as usual, though the combining of the two would no doubt be better and less expensive for all concerned.

There will be a special meeting of the legal voters of Ann Arbor School District No. 1, called by the district board, at the supervisor's room in the court house, on the 25th day of May, 1896, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of voting on the question of building an addition to the 3d ward school building.

The wheelmen who have suffered considerably by having tacks and broken glass scattered on walks or paths, hope to effect a cure for this species of unkindness or as some call it, "cussedness," by raising a fund and prosecuting some culprit for scattering the injurious articles—if they can ascertain who does it.

The scarcity of young colts this spring is remarkable. Very few are seen through the country. The bicycle and electric street railways have evidently reduced the prices so the farmers have ceased breeding them. In two or three years there is liable to be a demand for a few good young horses at fair prices with no supply to meet it.

A contemporary in urging the improvement of country roads says: "It is not necessary to increase taxes to get better roads; all that is necessary is a better expenditure of the taxes levied to-day." True. There are many miles of country roads in this country on which $3,000 per mile has been spent in the last thirty years without the least betterment of the roads. There are occasional communities that can see the folly of such a waste, but they are so rare that country roads as a rule are a disgrace to the men who control them.

SCRATCH AND SCREAM

My baby broke out with a rash. He would scratch and scream. It would take two to hold him, and one to put medicine on him. We had to hold him sometimes an hour before we could get him quieted down. All said that they never saw such a face or body on any baby as on him. I had to tie his hands tight in a cloth, night and day, for five months. My sister had used CUTICURA, and I began to use it. After only one application, he lay down and slept as he had not for a month, poor little fellow. He has not a scar on him now, and is as fair and his flesh is as soft as any baby. While he had this disease I had to cut the sleeves out of his clothes, and put gauze underwear on him to keep him cool. I had to keep pieces of soft cloth around his neck, it was so wet with moisture from the sores, and I had to change the cloths sometimes ten or twelve times a day. Mrs. A. HAYNES, Labor, N. D. SPREAD YOUR TREATMENT FOR BABY RASHES.—Warm baths with CUTICURA SOAP, and gentle applications of CUTICURA Ointment, the great skin cure. Sold throughout the world. FOSTER DRUG AND CHEM. The mosquito crop is an excellent one this year and fishermen ought not to complain for bites are plentiful.

Wm. Herz and Christian Martin will attend the state convention to be held at Muskegon June 9-11 inclusive, as delegates for the D. O. H. The tall chimney of the Hay & Todd Mfg Co., opposite the Courier building on N. Fourth ave., was tried for the first time Saturday, and found to work all right.

The early hours and the late hours, of Wednesday night and Thursday morning resounded with: "What have we done? Oh! what have we done? Scooped Chicago six to none!"

The new hotel which Michael Brenner is making out of the old Franklin house will be one of the most commodious and complete in the city when finished.

An Ann Arbor colored man last week took poison because his wife refused to remove to Toledo with him. He was insane without a doubt.—Monroe Democrat. Sure.

The members of the local branch of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association attended mass and received communion in a body at St. Thomas' church early service last Sunday.

Herman W. Mudgett, alias H. H. Holmes, the murderer who was hung at Philadelphia recently, was a student in the medical department, entering in '82 and graduating in '84. The first instance on record of a student of this college being executed, and it is devoutly hoped it will be the last.

The anniversary meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening, May 24. The program will consist of music, reports of the year's work and an address by Rev. J. M. Gelston. All are invited to be present and become acquainted with the aims and work of the Association.

The putting on of a new night train each way on the Ann Arbor Railway makes it very convenient for the many people of Ann Arbor who are members of clubs or have summer houses of their own at Zukey and neighboring lakes. People can go from here in the evening now, after business hours and return in the morning before business commences. The railway company will reap the benefit too.

It is not often that a literary society of the High School ventures to give a public entertainment, but when such a step is taken it should receive the hearty support of the citizens of Ann Arbor. Lyceum No. 1 of the High School has challenged the Crescent society of the Normal, to a joint debate, which will be held in High School Hall on Friday, May 29, at 8 p. m. Music will be furnished by the High School orchestra. Let all interested in the school attend, as this is distinctly an entertainment gotten up by the students.

The calendar for the University School of Music for the year 1895-6 has just been issued from the Courier presses, and is increased this year to a pamphlet of 26 pages. It takes five pages to hold the names of the 180 students in attendance upon the school. If you have not already done so, secure a copy and send to some friend who is thinking of obtaining a musical education, or hand the name to Prof. Stanley or to Mr. Spence at the office. The school is getting famous for the good work it does, being thorough in everything.

Crop Report for May.

The weather in April was very favorable an crops of all kinds made good progress. Not more than two or three per cent. of the wheat sowed will be plowed up because winter killed or otherwise destroyed. With few exceptions the reports show no damage by insects. The average condition of wheat in the southern and central counties and the state is the highest reported in five years. The figures are: Southern counties 91; central and northern counties 94, and state 92. In 1894 the figures were 89 in the southern and central counties, 95 in the northern, and 90 for the state. The average yield per acre in 1894 was 16.86 bushels on 1,272,170 acres.

IN THE TRIBUNE, ADVERTISERS REACH THE LARGEST NUMBER OF GOOD READERS.

While half a century old, The Tribune is as youthful in spirit and fresh in tone as when it was founded. Properly managed by young and eager men, a newspaper could never grow old, and The Tribune has not.

The paper is absolutely for America and the American people, against foreign encroachments of any kind, either upon American trade, territory or interests.

For farmers it has no superior, containing an excellent and useful department of agricultural information every week. Nothing is lacking to make The Tribune a good, all-round family newspaper or to maintain its position at the head of the Republican press of the United States. The poor inventor can have his ideas exploited in The Tribune free of charge, if these possess enough novelty and real merit. The quaint and masterly writings of Roswell P. Hoar will be continued; and love stories, jokes, household matters, fashions and other dear to the heart of woman are given amply. The paper is full of illustrations, which include, among other things, the best and freshest comic pictures of the two continents.

Above all things, The Tribune is decent. If poor erring humanity descends into depravity and crime, The Tribune gives the necessary news, but does not revel therein, gloat over the wretched criminals, or fill its articles full of suggestions and remarks which can only debase those who read them. It is probably this, among other things, which has entrenched The Weekly Tribune so firmly in the homes of America.

A dollar cannot be spent to better advantage than in buying The Weekly Tribune for a year. Even more important than keeping one's person and clothes clean and pure is the keeping the mind pure, the conscience honest and the perfect patriot, and that The Weekly Tribune will do.

Its print is large and easy to read. Of the Daily, Henry Romeke, proprietor of the greatest clipping agency in the world, certifies voluntarily, that "day by day and week by week, The Tribune contains far more original matter than any other newspaper in New York." With perfect truth he might have said this same of The Weekly Tribune.

Republicans should go into the clash of battle armed with The Weekly Tribune. Its accuracy of facts is unquestioned, and even the most case-hardened adversary is obliged to admit its penetrating power.

Mistaken Idea of Teasers.

It has been asserted by some one that every human being has a right to happiness. If that be the case, most of us miss it mightily—that's all we have to say. A good deal of our failure to be happy is our own fault, but much of it is undeserved and purely the fault of others. If we chose to stop and think, we would soon see also how we in turn inflict unhappiness upon others in a most uncalculated way.

When we find one of our friends in an irritable mood, do we try to soothe him or go away and let him alone? Not by any means. We cast about in our minds to see what suggestions we can make that will irritate him a trifle more. This we do as a wholesome lesson, we profess. We want to teach him that there's no use in getting so cross about trifles. And what are we that we should set ourselves up as mentors to teach anybody anything! Let them learn their own lessons from life. That is a better teacher than we could possibly be.

Half the unhappiness that comes into children's lives—nay, three-fourths, we may say—arises from the unkind teasing and irritation of those older—even their adult relatives. "Oh, Mary's so cross!" they say, and then they proceed to make her crosser if possible by every petty aggravation they can think of. This should be classed under the head of cruelty to children, we think.—Philadelphia Call.

Critics and Managers.

Mr. Charles Wyndham has explained that his contempt for the press is not, like Mr. Penley's, absolute, but refers only to Christmastide criticisms. He holds, in short, that the critics are "but mad nor-nor-west. When the wind is southerly, they know a hawk from a heronshaw." The truth is that some actor managers are superstitious in their reverence for the press so long as it prophesies smooth things for them. A critic the other day got into correspondence with a manager who thought he had slighted one of his productions. By way of conclusive testimony to its merits the manager sent him a paragraph emanating from an obscure press agency, to the effect that "if there is one thing in the world the lessee of this theater understands it is the histrionic tastes of the English people." This was of course most gratifying, but the beauty of it was that the writer of the paragraph evidently had not and did not profess to have seen the play, and had sent the paragraph to the manager with a demand for a couple of seats "so as to give further particulars in our next." Such is the flattering unctious which some managers lay to their souls.—London World.

Seven Miles of Clothline.

One of the most extensive laundries in the world is situated in a southern suburb of London, and was recently visited by one of our own representatives.

The principal building, he writes, is upward of 400 feet long and four stories high. Over 250 hands are employed, and the machinery cost about £18,000. There are ten solid ironing machines 9 feet long, and each capable of finishing 1,500 serviettes per hour.

The vast extent of this business may be realized on learning that 15,670 articles a week are received from one great west end club, and 35,000 in the same period from each of several mammoth hotels. A hotel like the Metropole or the Grand, by the way, uses upward of 4,000 towels every day. Nearly 3,000,000 pieces of linen of all kinds pass through this laundry in the course of a week, and seven miles of drying lines can be run out at once.—Pearson's Weekly.

A Model Citizen.

If anybody wants a model for a citizen of the highest class, he may find it in this eulogy of a Boston man, written by a friend who was worth having: "Martin Brimmer, freed from private care, dedicated himself to the commonweal; he took his part in legislation, in charities, in education, in cultivation of art. He mingled in all public affairs—not only mingled, but led. Nature had made him prepossessing. His dignity, his deliberation, his reserve were imposing, his gentle courtesy was winning, and when at last he uttered a few pregnant words in a judicial tone the majority of his hearers fancied that he was but expressing their sentiments, while the minority decided that opposition was vain. The fusion was complete."

He Had His Orders.

"Have you any children?" asked the janitor. "I have," replied the prospective tenant. "Then you can't have the flat," said the janitor decisively. "But you don't understand," protested the prospective tenant. "My youngest child is 20 years old, married and lives in New York, and the other two are in St. Louis." "That makes no difference," returned the janitor. "Orders are orders, and I have orders not to rent this flat to any one with children."—Chicago Post.

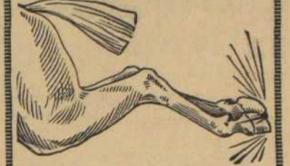

The Burglar's Bugbears.

A reformed burglar, who has no further use for the knowledge himself, says there are three things a night thief dreads. One is a baby, the second is a little whiffet dog that can sleep with both eyes open and barks when a needle falls, and the third is a newspaper. Almost always the paper rattles or crackles when a foot touches it. Unless a burglar is so desperate that he will risk his own life, he will leave the moment he strikes a house strewn with newspapers.

On Another Lay Now.

"I remember," said Mrs. Wickwire impressively, "you once said that if you had the world you would gladly lay it at my feet." "Oh, did I?" asked Mr. Wickwire. "Yes, you did. And now I have to nag at you for three days to get you to lay a carpet."—Washington Star.

Material For Cavalry.

While the United States does not boast of a large standing army, the few regiments of cavalry which have seen service on the plains will not only compare favorably with the mounted men of other nations, but for the particular kind of work to which they have been trained they are without equals in the world. We have had no reason to keep them in training, but if put to the test we could certainly raise a magnificent army in a very short time. Unlike the early days of the recent rebellion, we would have plenty of horsemen to call upon.

Whereas, in earlier days, equestrianism was unknown, comparatively speaking, it has in later days become so general as a means of exercise, recreation and health that old and young are fairly good riders. The various sports of polo, hunting and racing have served to stimulate interest in equitation. The military troops formed throughout the country are also factors.

All of these sources would be drawn upon for officers rather than for private soldiers. They do not represent a large number in comparison with the force necessary to cope with a foe, but they would certainly prove a valuable nucleus on which to build.—Rider and Driver.

Wouldn't Stand It.

The Syracuse Standard tells of an amusing correspondence that recently took place between a Wisconsin farmer and a local boiler firm. The farmer wrote as follows:

DEAR SIRS—I have 1,000 acres of trees that I want cut. I'm pore but in willing to pay two hundred dollars for an engine that will do my work.

The boiler firm saw that the engine necessary to accomplish the devastation of his virginal forest would cost $3,000, and they informed him to this effect.

A week passed and then the following pithy epistle came from the Wisconsin woods:

DEAR SIRS—What in h—l wud I want of an engine or boiler if I had $3,000?

Diamantine.

A very attractive ornamental art of recent introduction is, as stated, the production of an imitation beadwork on fabrics of various kinds by means of what is known as glass powder, or "diamantine," the result being patterns which present an appearance similar to that exhibited by glass beads on close or open meshed fabrics. The method of operation in carrying out this idea is said to be simple—that is, the fabric is coated by means of molding boards with resinous substances, composed of, say, 60 parts of gualacum and 30 parts of shellac, dissolved in 100 parts of alcohol, 10 parts of glycerin being added to the solution under continuous stirring. After the composition has been carefully distributed over the surface of the fabric the glass powder is strewn on it and firmly pressed by repeated rolling, etc., the glass powder being prepared by thorough pulverizing or pounding, and may be of any or many colors.—New York Sun.

"Moses Merrill, late teacher in a select school, Albany, N. Y."

On February 2, 1831, the paper appeared as simply the Emigrant "published by S. W. Dexter, and with 'Allen, Dexter & Corrells, Editors.' But the amount of editorial matter produced by these three men, would not make over a half-day's work for a common local reporter of these times. In December of 1831 the paper changed from a five to a six column folio. At the head of the editorial page is found this ticket:

For President, WILLIAM WIRT, OF MARYLAND. For Vice President, AMOS ELLMAKER, OF PENNSYLVANIA.

These were the Antimasonic Nominations, of which but few people remember.

Here is an announcement that may interest some:

"New Year's Ball, for the year of Our Lord 1832. The Ladies and Gentlemen of this vicinity and the neighboring towns, are respectfully solicited to honor us with their company at the above ball, at the Eagle Tavern in Ann Arbor, on the 2d of Jan. next, at 3 o'clock P. M. A splendid entertainment and everything necessary to render the assembly joyous may be confidently expected.

The gentlemen are severally requested to wait on one or more ladies. The tickets will be had at the Bar."

This is signed by a committee of arrangements consisting of Joseph Harrington, W. J. Heath, James Wilcoxson, Franklin Chubb, S. Scott, S. Denton.

Mark Norris advertises his mills at Ypsilanti and to "pay cash for wheat, rye (and corn if well dried)."

H. Griswold was the fashionable hatter in this city at that time.

Several columns might be filled with notes of interest from those old volumes, if time and space only permitted.

In Time it Will be so Done—

The action of the board of public works in sending men about the city and repairing the walks where needed, is right. It saves trouble all around.

Even if the city had the entire amount to pay it would be better than paying $1,000, or $2,500, or $4,500 in judgments, as many cities have been obliged to do, Ann Arbor not excepted.

Many people believe that the sidewalks are a part of the city's business as much as are the streets.

If a sidewalk is ordered upon any street the lot owners have it to pay for anyway, so what difference does it make to them who they pay for the work, the city or a private individual?

And it often happens that the city can do the work cheaper than an individual can hire it done, because the city buys lumber in large quantities and its workmen are hired by the month.

As all sidewalks are for the benefit and convenience of the entire public, and as the corporation owns and controls them after they are built, why should not the work be done systematically from the first?

Then all walks owned would be uniform and of the same material in all blocks. Now they are built in hit and miss sections. First a little patch of tar walk, then a plank walk, then artificial stone, followed by natural stone and in turn succeeded by a board walk laid crosswise, and so on to the end.

How much better it would be if an entire block was laid at a time, all of the same material, and all on the line and the same grade.

And the time is coming, and it is believed by many is not far distant, when this change for the better will be made.

There Will be no Celebration—

There will be no celebration of the Independence Day of our nation on July 4th next. Although there was an almost universal expression among the business men of the city that such a celebration would be a good thing yet but few of them turned out to the meeting Friday evening, and those who were present came to the conclusion that there was not enough interest manifested to warrant going forward with the affair. Those present, however, were quite decided in the opinion that Ann Arbor should have a big celebration next year, and as the day falls on Sunday, it was thought best to celebrate on Saturday so that everybody could come to town and join the jubilee. It was also thought best to commence making the arrangements at least six months ahead, thus securing bands, military companies, etc., before other places had got in ahead of us.

Now honestly, do you know of any one not engaged in either the bicycle or newspaper business?

Investigating Committee's Report—

"Pursuant to resolutions, your committee, with the police committee, met at the council room, in the city of Ann Arbor, on Wednesday, the 6th day of May last, and carefully and thoroughly examined the dockets of Andrew E. Gibson, and compared the report of said Gibson with the said dockets, as said justice of the peace, and found the report which he made for the use of said committee in all things correct, and by said report and from said examination of said docket we found remaining in his hands as said justice of the peace, the sum of $50, which he thereupon paid to Glen V. Mills, city clerk; and the said Andrew E. Gibson, on his oath before said committee stated that he had not been able to procure a printed copy of the Charter of the City of Ann Arbor, and that he did not know until your committee had been appointed, that he should have made a report of the fine money in his hands at the end of each quarter, but on the contrary he was of the opinion that a report at the end of each year, or at the end of his term of office was sufficient; that he had placed the money as soon as it had been received by him in the bank, and that he could have turned it over to the city treasurer at any time.

"And your committee are unwilling to believe that the said Andrew E. Gibson is chargeable of any wrongful intent of retaining said money in his hands, and are inclined to accept his testimony in this regard as full explanation of his conduct.

"Your committee also met with the police committee at the council room, in the city of Ann Arbor, on Friday, the 8th day of May, last, and examined the reports of the city marshal, and compared said reports with the dockets and official records of Justices Pond and Gibson, and found that all moneys paid to M. C. Peterson as city marshal, by said justices or by any other persons, and all moneys received by him from any other source, that belonged to said city, had been paid to the city treasurer by said marshal; and that said report and rumors above referred to in the above resolution (the resolution of Ald. Maynard at the last council meeting) so far as the marshal is concerned were entirely without foundation, and that no investigation of his official conduct was called for, and that said rumors and reports, so far as your committee have been able to learn, are wholly false."

THE COMMON COUNCIL.

A Busy Meeting and Lots of Work for the Future.

To the Daily Times we are indebted for the following account of Monday evening's meeting:

The regular meeting of the common council was held in the council chamber last evening. There were present Ald. Maynard, Moore, Koch, Laubengayer, Dell, Burke, Brown, Shadford, Rhodes, Coon, Soule, Cady, Danforth and President Hiscock.

His Honor, the Mayor, appointed Thos. D. Kearney city attorney. All of the aldermen present voted yea.

The Soldiers' Relief Commission of Washtenaw county invited the council to participate with the old soldiers in the Memorial Day exercises on May 30, 1896. Accepted.

The attention of the council was called to the Foundry water pond, which is crossed by Washington and Third sts. The communication branded it as a nuisance. It was referred to the city attorney.

A petition signed by Mrs. Olivia B. Hall, asking for the privilege to construct a private sewer was read and referred to the sewer committee.

A petition signed by George Johnson and 10 others asking for an electric light was read and referred to the lighting committee.

A petition signed by H. Hochrein and 9 others asking for the construction of a sidewalk on Second st., was referred to the sidewalk committee.

A petition signed by W. B. Smith and 29 others asking for an electric light at the corner of Fourteenth and Washington sts. was read and referred to the lighting committee.

A petition signed by W. P. Groves asking for the building of the house branches along his property on E. Washington st. was read and referred to the sewer committee.

The clerk presented a summons in the case of Bernhard Mast and Anna Mast vs. the City of Ann Arbor, which was referred to the city attorney.

The bids of the State Savings Bank for the city money at 3 per cent for daily balances and 6 per cent on overdrafts, of the Farmers & Mechanics Bank at 3 per cent on balances and 6 per cent on overdrafts, of the Ann Arbor Savings Bank at 3 3/4 per cent on balances and 6 per cent on overdrafts were read.

President Hiscock smiled and the council cheered. Everybody present expected a speech from Smiling Charlie, but all he said was: "The bids are very close, gentlemen." (More cheers.)

The bid of the Ann Arbor Savings Bank was accepted.

The committee on sewers recommended that the sewer at the manhole in front of the residence of Miss Gardner be lowered four feet.

The committee on streets recommended that the grade of Walnut and Linden sts. be fixed and established.

The committee on sidewalks and streets recommended that $500 be appropriated from the street fund to grade the street and sidewalk on Walnut st. and S. University ave., from Washtenaw ave. to Oxford st.

The committee on streets recommended that the bridges over the Huron river at Broadway and Wall sts. be replanked with hemlock plank two and one-half inches in thickness; also that a water tank be located in front of the store of Wm. Lodholz; that the street commissioner be instructed to widen Felch st. between the Ann Arbor railroad and Spring st.; that the street commissioner be directed to put an oak box culvert across Thayer st. on the north side of Hill st.

The committee on streets recommended that the board of public works be directed to macadamize Detroit st. from Fourth ave to the viaduct over the M. C. R. R., and Fourth ave. from the north line of Ann st. to Detroit st.

Ald. Soule, Danforth, Moore and Koch spoke against the project because it was impracticable. The street was not sewered, and there was too much travel on the street for macadam to hold out. Ald. Moore said that he had read of these points in a city paper (of course the gentleman referred to The Times) and they were correct. Ald. Maynard moved that the report be laid on the table for a week. Adopted.

The committee recommended that the oak tree located in the sidewalk at the corner of Maynard and Liberty sts. be removed and the street commissioner be directed to remove the same at once.

Ald. Soule objected to the removal of the tree and said that he would like to hear from residents in the neighborhood.

"The tree is directly in front of my house and in a dark night one is liable to run into it, besides the tree is practically dead," said Ald. Maynard.

"I have never been in condition to run into the tree," replied the Major. (Loud laughter.)

The liquor bond of Martin P. Vogel was accepted.

The city marshal and Justice of the Peace Andrew E. Gibson were exonerated by suitable resolutions from all suspicion in misappropriating funds.

The appointment of Emma R. Mills as deputy city clerk was adopted.

Ald. Maynard moved that the communication of the board of public works relative to the Liberty st. sewer be taken from the table.

Mr. Stevenson, of the firm of Stevenson, Reed & Co., who built the Liberty st. sewer, was present and said he had waited two years and was willing to settle for $400, the amount that was due him for building that sewer.

Mr. Bullis, a former member of the board of public works, said that Stevenson, Reed & Co. were not entitled to pay for any claim for the reason that the firm did not comply with the specifications, and gave his reasons.

Mr. Stevenson said that the parties who were accused of hoodluming probably did not comply with the specifications either. He himself had paid $20 blood money.

"Then you are just as guilty of hoodluming as anybody," said Mr. Bullis.

The war of words between Stevenson and Bullis continued for some time, and amused everybody present.

The further consideration of the claim was indefinitely postponed.

Stevenson will now sue the city for $1,500. He would have settled for $400.

Adjourned.

The business of the Ann Arbor Road is steadily improving. For the first week in May '95, the earnings were $21,405, and for the same period this year $21,973. From Jan. 1st to May 7, '95, the earnings were $356,227; this year they were $390,353.

"I am familiar with the system by which counties in Texas employ convicts in road making," writes a western cyclist. "Convicts sentenced for not more than two years are formed into camps and worked with splendid results. Wheelmen could do much in directing such work, and should talk the matter up in every state. Such a move would add to the pleasure of all and to the wealth of the nation. It would benefit the health of the convict, teach him habits of industry, and remove his services from competition with free labor."

Leonard Gruner, having a desire to know the true value of gold and silver coins, wrote to the U. S. mint at Philadelphia, recently, and received this reply: "The gold in a gold dollar has an intrinsic value of $1, and the silver dollar from 48 to 50 cents, owing to the market value of silver. A damaged gold coin without loss of metal, will fetch face value at this mint, while a silver coin under the same circumstances will be worth only one-half of face value."

Things Wise and Unwise—

It may be set down as a rule that one can never afford not to be a gentleman. It is best to learn this rule early and practice it late. It is not well to say mean things of another, because in most cases you will have to take it all back in bitterness of heart when he does you an unexpected favor. It is not wise to treat anyone brusquely, because you cannot all ways judge a bird by the feathers he has on. It is not well to look down on anybody, because the time may come when he will look down on you. There is a certain selfishness in every one which should be respected. We have no right to infringe upon it. It is not morality, it is not mere conventional rule, it is not simply a social regulation; it is something in the nature of things that you should always show a delicate regard for others. One who did not fall here was never known utterly to fall elsewhere.

An Emphatic Opinion—

The Adrian Press some times expresses decided views on matters and things. Here is an instance:

"Miss Sparrow, of Lansing, has lost her case in the supreme court, and must go to the insane asylum on the verdict of the jury, rendered at Mason some time since. It is a most damnable outrage, however, and is as clear a case of perversion of justice as we have ever heard about. The woman is not half so daff, as the members of the jury which sent her there. The supreme court holds that there is no appeal however from the trial jury. But the supreme court should direct a writ of habeas corpus from that body, and bring the matter to a hearing before themselves. It is a case of human liberty. Hell would be disgraced by the admission there, of those who have done this outrage to the woman."
