The Verdict

Said Mr. M—— the other day: "I want one of your seamless hot-water bottles that you warrant. I had one of them and it lasted six months with constant use. I bought two at ——'s and they gave out very quickly."

We can give you the man's name if you want it.

These bottles will last two or three years with ordinary use.

THE OLDER ALUMNI

Of the Ann Arbor High School Will Hold Their Second Triennial Gathering June 22.

FOUR F. C's WERE RAISED

Patriotic Day a Great Success—New Chapel for the Northside—Found Out at the High School Hall.

Older High School Alumni—

The older alumni and teachers of the high school, those connected with that institution between the years 1856 and 1876, have an association of their own, separate from the general alumni association of the high school.

These older alumni held their first reunion three years ago, and are now perfecting their arrangements to hold their second one upon Monday evening of Commencement week, June 22. The Presbyterian church parlors will be the place of meeting and the ladies of that church will furnish the banquet.

The president of the association is Mrs. Lucy Stowe Parker. Recording secretary is Miss Eliza Ladd, and corresponding secretary Miss Noble.

Every effort is being made to make the reunion a notable occasion. Invitations have been sent to everyone properly a member of the association whose address is known to the committee. The main difficulty with finding addresses lies in the fact that the girls have nearly all assumed new names since their departure from academic halls; but to all and every one, whether specially invited or not, an urgent request to come is issued.

Judge Aaron V. McAlvay, of Marquette, will be toastmaster, and responses will be made by Judge C. B. Grant, Regent Cocker, Supt. Perry, Irving K. Pond of Chicago, Mrs. Cogover Hamilton, Mrs. McIntyre Wetmore and many others.

It Will be Very Entertaining—

On Friday evening, June 12, an entertainment for the benefit of the Y. W. C. A. will be given at High School Hall under the direction of Miss MacMonagle.

"Found Out," a one-act comedy by L. M. Elwyn, is certainly amusing, and the adventures of Bridget O'Flaherty are exceedingly funny.

The "Fairy Revel" has been arranged for the children, by Miss MacMonagle for this special occasion and extra pains have been taken to ensure an unusually attractive entertainment.

Tickets may be secured at Adams Bazaar, or at the Y. W. C. A. rooms any afternoon.

Master Masons Have a Good Time—

Fraternity Lodge, No. 262, F. & A. M., raised A. C. Schumacher, Titus F. Hutzel, O. P. Cole and H. W. Connors to the Master Mason degree Friday evening, and the occasion was a memorable one in many ways. Work began early in the evening, some 50 persons sitting down to a substantial supper before going to work. Over 200 Masons witnessed the conferring of the degree, visitors being present from Detroit, Ypsilanti, Milan, Dexter, Chelsea and other places. Everything moved off like clock-work and old Fraternity has seldom appeared to better advantage. The visitors, one and all, witnessed to this in the most complimentary terms. One of the prettiest features of the evening's work was the use of the large new stereopticon belonging to the chapter, under the expert manipulation of Bros. Chute, Nichols and Goodrich.

Following the degree work came a splendid banquet in the drill hall adjacent to the lodge room. It was really a sumptuous affair. After doing ample justice to the food, Prof. L. D. Wines took charge as toastmaster. A large number of excellent speeches were made, among the speakers being Hon. H. Wirt Newkirk of Dexter, Hon. A. J. Sawyer, R. S. Greenwood, J. W. Bennett, R. C. McAllister, A. C. Schumacher, Titus F. Hutzel, O. P. Cole and H. W. Connors of this city, and Messrs. Spiers and Rohms, the architects of Detroit.

The work which was under the guiding hand of Worshipful Master Chas. B. Davison, assisted by Hon. H. Wirt Newkirk of Dexter, and H. B. Dodsley of this city, and Bros. Dorrance, Goodrich, Prettyman, Capt. Thos. Taylor, Rhead, Miller, McAllister, Ohlinger, Butler, and Greenman of this city, was pronounced by all Master Masons, as fine as silk.

A New Northside Chapel—

The energetic people of the Northside have in mind just now the building of a Chapel, the same to be used by all of the protestant denominations.

The present chapel is an old building, and is not what the thrifty present generation over there are satisfied with. It is owned by the Methodist denomination, and whether it can be obtained or not is a question not yet ascertained.

Whether the old chapel is obtained or not, there is a vacant lot on Broadway, which would be more convenient for the entire Northside. It is thought that if the new building is put in the hands of trustees, to be used in common by all denominations, the various views of all the residents can be in that way favored, and all will feel like giving.

It is proposed to erect an edifice costing about $2,000.

Success to the enterprise. It is a worthy one, and should be encouraged in both a financial and moral way by the people of the entire city as well as those of the Northside.

Patriotic Day in the Schools—

On Friday last occurred the second annual celebration of what has been appropriately named "Patriotic Day." The object is to devote one day out of the school year to teach the children what Patriotism is, and why they ought to love and revere the glorious flag of our country, the beautiful Stars and Stripes.

The elements showed their approval of the day by combining to make it extremely pleasant.

In the various wards the children had been rehearsing a number of the national songs, and at 2:30 o'clock p. m. they commenced assembling at the High School Chapel, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion with our country's flags, and our country's lovely messengers from Heaven: the flowers. Excellent taste was displayed in these decorations, and the chapel was made very inviting in appearance. The children composing the 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th grades assembled to the number of 750, and they formed a chorus choir that was sweeter to the ears of parents and friends than any that ever sang before in our fair city.

Prof. Perry presided, and upon the stage were several representatives of the G. A. R., the W. R. C., the S. of V. and of other patriotic organizations.

After the singing of several thrilling songs, prayer was offered, and then the orator of the day, Prof. Henry R. Pattingill, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, was introduced, and delivered a fine address, appropriate to the occasion. Not only the children, but the older people also, certainly had a clearer conception of their duty after listening to what he had to say.

This day should be a national instead of a local one. The children can not have too firmly impressed upon their minds the meaning of the word "Patriotism." They should be taught the cost in treasure and in blood, of the liberties they enjoy, and that to maintain those liberties they must ever be alert and vigilant.

What thrilling impulses and glorious thoughts arise at the word Patriotism! "Bereft of Patriotism, the heart of a nation will become cold and cramped and sordid; the arts will have no enduring impulse, and commerce no invigorating soul; society will degenerate and the mean and vicious triumph.

Patriotism is not a wild and glittering passion, but a glorious reality. (Continued on 8th page.)

THE REGENTS LOSE.

Judge Kinne Renders a Decision in the Famous Lewis Will Case.

NO MORE OF THE ART WORKS

Belong to the University if this Interpretation is not reversed by the Supreme Court—Review of the Case.

The Opinion in Full—

The evidence in this cause tends with more or less conclusiveness to establish the following state of facts:

Henry C. Lewis of Coldwater, Michigan, for many years prior to 1884, was engaged in making an Art Collection. He was inspired by no commercial motive, but expended his time and money on these lines, as a matter of personal gratification and pride, and in the pursuit of this pleasure he made several visits to Europe. He was a so-called self-made man, and his purchase of works of art, was often a mistake and probably an imposition. This is emphatically true of his earlier selections. As the years went on, his observation and experience enabled him to acquire some information and to make marked advancement in his knowledge of matters of art. His later acquisitions were of a much higher character and often possessed unquestioned merit. Much of his collection, would be neither instructive to the amateur or interesting to a person of culture. Later on, he came to recognize the crude and inferior nature of certain portions of his collection, but he seemed disinclined to discard them, and preferred to retain all of his Art Collection as evidencing his own historical growth and development in art.

On his return from his first visit to Europe in 1868, he brought the nucleus of his Art Collection and placed it within his somewhat spacious residence, which he occupied until his death.

Some time in 1870 Mr. Lewis erected the first part of his so called Art Gallery. It was of brick, located some twenty-two feet from his residence, and was connected therewith by a covered wooden passage-way resting upon brick piers. Some time thereafter, the gallery was enlarged to its present size. It has only sky lights and no windows.

After the erection of the Art Gallery, in general, the works of art had their allotted location therein. Purchases were made, designed for the residence and others for the Art Gallery proper, and as a rule they so remained without material change.

In 1875 Mr. Lewis published a pamphlet entitled "The Lewis Art Gallery Catalogue of Paintings and Statuary." In 1883 a supplement was printed. In these catalogues, his entire Art Collection, without discrimination as to location, was described and numbered, embracing all within the residence as well as all within the Art Gallery, and including worthless as well as valuable pictures, paintings and statuary.

Thereafter, on Saturday of each week, the Art Gallery was open to the public without fees. That part of the Art Collection within his residence was never open to the public, except by special permission or invitation.

The Art Collection within the residence embraced not only paintings and statuary but also bric-a-brac, curios, vases, and other works of art, some of which at least were appropriate if not designed for a private residence rather than for a public Art Gallery, and included in some instances family portraits.

The different rooms within the house had their own color and to some extent contained a corresponding Art Collection. The collection within the Gallery embraced only paintings and statuary and comprised as near as may be, about nine-tenths of the entire works of art both in quantity and value.

There were choice paintings and statuary in the residence as well as in the Gallery. Mr. Lewis estimated his Art Works at $250,000. This was probably a somewhat exaggerated valuation.

On the 16th day of July, 1884, Mr. Lewis was at Clifton Springs in the state of New York, an invalid. On that day he executed and delivered to his wife, Alma A. Lewis, a bill of sale, containing among other things this language, "—and also all household stuff, goods and furnishings of every name and kind in my residence in Coldwater to have and to hold the same forever." Mr. Dennis, who prepared this bill of sale, testifies that it was the intention of Mr. Lewis by this bill of sale, to transfer to his wife among other things, all of the Works of Art included within their residence.

In less than a month thereafter, on August 14th, 1884, four days before his death at Clifton Springs, aforesaid, Mr. Lewis executed his last will and testament; the legal interpretation of which, is the object and scope of this judicial proceeding.

In the first clause of this will, after giving the homestead (which included the Art Gallery building) to his wife, and his horses etc., he uses the following language, in further gift to his wife: "Also all furniture, carpets, silver, glass and china ware and other things used in our dwelling house, but not including my books and papers, nor any Art Works, but my library, Art Works, Art Gallery and grounds shall remain as they are at the time of my decease during the lifetime of my wife, and subject to her use and control, unless she shall otherwise direct."

In the sixth clause of his will is the following language: "I give to the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in the State of Michigan, all my paintings and statuary and all my art works of every kind and nature which are contained within my Art Gallery or building."

An annuity of $3,000 was also given to his wife. There were no children and the remainder of his property was distributed among friends, relatives and heirs at law. On Nov. 15, 1884, Mrs. Lewis elected to accept the provisions of the will.

She continued to occupy the residence and to control the Art Building and the entire Art Collection, until her death, which occurred on the 7th day of May, 1895.

The estate of Henry Lewis has been closed. In its settlement, an inventory was taken of the Art Collection contained in the Art Gallery, but not of that contained in the residence. The latter was treated as the property of Mrs. Lewis, and she so regarded it. During her life-time she sold and gave away a few paintings, but they were of inconsiderable value. She left a will giving the residence and all of its contents of every name and description to her nephew the defendant Root.

Evidence was introduced tending to prove that Mr. Lewis regarded and valued his Art Collection as a whole, as an entirety; that he usually spoke of it as his Art Gallery, and embraced in such term his complete Art Works; that it was his manifest intention to keep intact his entire collection during his own life and during the life of his wife, and at her death then the entire collection was to be given to the public.

On the other hand evidence tending to establish the fact that he always distinguished between the works of Art in his residence and those within the Art Gallery, and that he often expressed the purpose and intention to leave to his wife as her own property his residence and all the works of Art therein.

President Cleveland has vetoed the River and Harbor bill. It looks now as if it would be passed over his veto.

The city of St. Louis has lost upwards of $20,000,000, and 400 human lives by the recent cyclone. She has the sympathy of the world in her loss, and her people left destitute, will receive something more substantial.

M. M. Pomeroy, who is better known to the people as "Brick" Pomeroy, is dead. He gained considerable unenviable notoriety during the war of the rebellion by editing and publishing a copperhead paper at LaCrosse, Wis.

Is it not the duty of Ann Arbor to do something for the people of our own Michigan who are left destitute in the cyclone districts? Can this city afford to do nothing? Are we as a community lacking in that noble quality, generosity? How is it?

Harper's Weekly opposes the nomination, and will oppose the election of McKinley. The same paper opposed Mr. Blaine because he gave another house than Harper Bro's his book to publish. Perhaps Major McKinley has been writing a book. It looks extremely suspicious.

On the 14th of June, 1777, congress passed an act establishing the stars and stripes as the national emblem, and the anniversary of that day is now observed by common custom as Flag Day. The 16th of June will this year be Republican Day, with William McKinley as the leader.

The Adrian Press, in its usual terse and vigorous manner, jumps on a sentence taken from the Courier claiming it to be ungrammatical, according to the construction of the English language as absorbed by it from Kirkham's grammar. We are excusable, for we don't know any better. But Bro. Stearns gives his readers a lot of free trade and free silver slush each week that he knows to be as far from the truth as an Anarchist is from Heaven. He ought to be ashamed of himself.

When you ask for Scott's Emulsion and your druggist gives you a package in a salmon-colored wrapper with the picture of the man and fish on it—you can trust that man?

The free silver wing of the prohibition party needs some spirits—ardent, at that.

Mark Twain is just now receiving a benefit from the illustrated journals of the nation. Well, he is deserving of it. Hope it will do him some good.

The Courier does not give the date when Northfield farmers began to go out of the sheep business.—Adrian Press.

Well, if you want to be particular about it the Courier can tell you. It was on the first Tuesday following the first Monday of November, 1892.

Ex-Congressman Tom L. Johnson of Ohio, is a democrat, but he doesn't like the way his party has been running things. Her eis what he says: "What trust has been removed? What burden removed? Wages are lower and times harder than in '92. Wise men care nothing what parties call themselves, but what they do. By their fruits shall ye know them." He has asked some very hard questions for his party to answer.

The Greater New York bill is now a law. A city of 359 square miles, including Brooklyn and New York and many country towns, has been tentatively formed. It has about 3,500,000 inhabitants, 1,100 churches, 90 postoffices, a debt of $170,000,000, tax aggregate $2,583,000,000; 37,000 business houses; 130,000 dwellings, 6,000 acres of parks, 900 miles of paved streets, 1,100 hotels, 350 public schools. Right smart village!

The McKinley tariff was in operation until August 1894.—Adrian Press. Very true but the people knew they had put their foot in it two years before that time, in November 1892, and commenced preparing for democratic free trade and hard times. As a consequence down went the prices and factory after factory closed its doors waiting for the worst, which we are having now, and have been having since that time. The oft repeated singsong of the Press is so very stale that it fairly smells bad.

"The Pennsylvania railroad," it is announced, "has taken the novel step of offering the prize of an annual pass to the farmer along the line who will do the best in a given time to beautify his grounds adjoining the railroad." The Michigan railroads could improve on this plan by offering prizes to the farmers along their lines who make the best crops of any kind for the general market. It is a kind of liberality that would help the roads quite as much as the farmers, or more. A few farmers would win the prizes. The roads would haul all the increased crops.

A dispatch from Mexico reads this way:

"A sensation has been caused in the state of Tabasco by the appearance of a young Indian prophetess, who predicts a general conflagration to be preceded by signs and wonders, among them the falling of edifices and the premature speaking of infants. Several bridges have fallen, and the Indians, believing these incidents to be the fulfillment of the prophecy, are alarmed. The bishop of Tabasco has sent for the girl who claims to have had celestial visitors during her recent sojourn in the forests along the Grijalva river."

It is time for the Adventists to get on their robes and prepare for ascension.

In respect to the telegraph monopoly, brief abstracts of a paper by Parsons in the Arena for March gives statistics in proof of the assumption that the Western Union Company defrauds the public by watering its stock; the present stock of $95,000,000 represents a total expenditure of $16,000,000, which added to $15,000,000 in bonds makes $31,000,000 as the actual cost of the system; he estimates that the actual value of the property is about $20,000,000, leaving therefore $5,000,000 as the value left for the stockholders; after paying interest on the bonds the public should not be asked to pay the stockholders more than 6 per cent. on $5,000,000; for 1895 it appears that there was a profit of $6,000,000 on less than $5,000,000 of property; it is thought that at least half the receipts were profit; the $6,000,000 have in large part been received by men who put almost nothing into the plant.

Perfect Wisdom.

Would give us perfect health. Because men and women are not perfectly wise, they must take medicines to keep themselves perfectly healthy. Pure, rich blood is the basis of good health. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the One True Blood Purifier. It gives good health because it builds upon the true foundation—pure blood.

SOME OF OUR EXCHANGES.

Cedar Springs is too big a town; too nice a town; too many good people in it, and will not play ball on Memorial Day. It is not a day for horse racing, dancing and ball playing.—Clipper.

All towns should be too big and all people too good to hold anything of a gay or festive nature on that day; or, if such things are held, all good people should stay away from them.

The law faculty of the University has formally disapproved of the practice of clandestine marriages, several of which have recently been reported among students. It is to be regretted that some one in authority does not censure the practice of "suppressing" marriage licenses in aid of clandestine marriages. One of the principal objects of the license law is publicity, and no county clerk should "suppress" a license issued by him for a single day, or even for an hour, if inquiry is made for them. As well neglect or refuse to make the required record of the marriages after the proper return to his office.—Enterprise.

A Michigan farmer would not show good sense to raise wool at 25 cents a pound. A tariff of a dollar a pound wouldn't raise the price of wool a cent a pound, either.—Adrian Press.

Queer assertion that first one. What do you think about it my farmer friend? The last assertion is one that the Press has been singing for years, and yet the price of wool went down at once under the anticipation, even, of free trade until the farmers have killed off or sold off nearly all their sheep. The Press has the most wonderful gall of any paper in the country by claiming that things are not what they are, but are what it's editor wants them to be. The Press man asserts that black is white and sticks to it, but the record of votes show that he can't pull free trade wool over the eyes of Lenawee county farmers.

ABOUT CURRENT LITERATURE.

An entirely new near view of Grant is given in McClure's Magazine for June, in a paper written by the man who was chaplain of the 21st Illinois when Grant was colonel of the regiment, and who lived, during that time, in the closest intimacy with him. It reports interesting conversations with Grant and relates a number of characteristic anecdotes.

The taste for the pleasures of the willie now, which is rapidly increasing in this country, will be gratified by a paper on "The Onananche and his Canadian Environment," announced for publication in the June number of Harper's. By the employment of the name "Onananche" the author, Mr. E. T. D. Chambers, introduces a decidedly pretty and somewhat unfamiliar word into the popular vocabulary; but it should not be inferred from this that he makes a secret of his theme or a hopeless mystery of the angler's art. Quite the contrary.

The current number of Harper's Bazar contains several features of unusual interest. Under the head of "Women's College Alumnae Associations," Miss Carolyn Halsted describes the objects and aims of the alumnae of Smith, Vassar, Wellesley, Bryn Mawr, and other colleges for women, showing how unselfish is their ambition, and how generously they plan for educational and philanthropic progress. The article is enriched by a number of portraits. Mrs. Annie Nathan Meyer tells the story of Barnard College from its inception to the present. A fine portrait of Dean Smith is given in connection with this paper. A short story of homely feeling, brilliantly told, is "Lizzie Lee's Separation," by Lillian Bell.

TO HELP OUT THE COIN.

Congressman Spaulding of this district, has introduced the following bill in congress:

"That on and after the first day of July, 1896, all impost duties collectable by the government of the United States, shall be payable in United States gold and silver coin in as nearly equal proportions as the value of the various coins of the two metals may permit."

The bill should be presented to the House and put on its passage. It is about the only method in sight for supplying the government with coin.

James T. Hurst of Wyandotte, who was elected a delegate to St. Louis from this district, at the recent convention in this city, was quite severely injured by a runaway accident last week at his home.

Nerves are weak, many people say, and yet they do not seem to know that they are literally starving their nerves. Weak, pale, thin blood cannot give proper sustenance—that is why you are nervous, tired, exhausted. The cure for this condition is to purify, vitalize and enrich your blood. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla fairly and faithfully, and the rich, red blood, which it makes, will soon feed the nerves the elements of true strength they require; they will cease their agitation, and will resume their proper place—being under the control instead of controlling the brain and body. Read Miss Bartley's letter:

How the Word "Teetotaler" was Coined.

The late Rev. Joel Jewell, of Troy, Pennsylvania, is said to have originated the word "teetotaler." The story goes that a public temperance meeting in Hector, New York, in 1828, he introduced into it the pledge the let—"O. P." for "old pledge," which pledged against distilled liquors, and "T" for "total" including both distilled and fermented liquors. When names were being taken a young man in the gallery said: "Add my name and 'T' for I am a T-totaler." Mr. Jewell adopted the word in speeches and writings. Some four years later an Englishman named Dick Turner employed the word, and its origin has also been claimed for him.—June Ladies' Home Journal.

Splendid Opportunities.

For home-seekers and others desirous of changing their locations are offered in the great states of Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota and Nebraska. Fertile and productive land is for sale on the most reasonable terms, and there are many openings for all classes of business men, particularly farmers and dairymen. Those interested will be furnished full information, free of charge, upon application to W. B. KNISKERN, 22 Fifth ave., Chicago, Ill.

Old Rip Van Winkle went up into the Catskill mountains to take a little nap of twenty years or so, and when he awakened, he found that the "cruel war was over," the monthly magazines had "fought it over" the second time and "blown up" all the officers that had participated in it. This much is history, and it is also a historical fact that, during the same length of time, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery had become the most celebrated, as it is the most effective, Liver, Blood and Lung Remedy of the age. In purifying the blood and in all manner of pimples, blotches, eruptions, and other skin and scalp diseases, scrofulous sores and swellings, and kindred ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" manifests the most positive curative properties.

Every disorder that can be reached through the blood, yields to its purifying qualities. Besides, it builds up whole-some flesh and strength; not merely fat like filthy Cod liver oil and its nasty "emulsions" but solid flesh.

A scrofulous condition of the blood invites catarrh, bronchitis, and consumption. We're all exposed to the germs of consumption, grip and malaria—yet only the weak ones suffer. When you're weak, tired out, and debilitated, or when pimples and blotches appear—heed the warning in time. The "Golden Medical Discovery" sets all the organs into healthy action—especially the liver, and that's the point of entrance for these germs. Then if the blood be pure, they'll be thrown off. There's no risk.

CAUTION.—Accept no substitute for the "Golden Medical Discovery" that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.

Hutzel's Water Back!

A very important invention which will be hailed with delight by every body using a stove or range for hot water circulation. After years of experience we have succeeded in producing a simple and perfect WATER BACK.

It overcomes all the present troubles of extracting lime and other sediments which accumulate in water backs, often making them useless and in great many instances becoming dangerous.

The outlay of dollars is reduced to dimes. No household using a range can afford to be without it.

No more trouble by using city water for hot water circulation.

Can be used in any stove. Ask your stove dealer for Hutzel's Water Back.

Mason & Davis Co's. ranges for sale at C. Eberbach are provided with our improvement.

One feature of bicycle riding this season is that there is a vast improvement in the position of the riders. Too many men and boys still arch themselves hideously over their handlebars, apparently in the absurd conviction that it gives them a professional air, but there are fewer of these ambitious souls than formerly, and the women,
a sthey have always done, sit well
and ride easily.—Chelsea Standard.

Or the People, Lincoln was Never above Them.

"Horace Greeley once said; I doubt whether man, woman or child, white or black, bond or free, virtuous or vicious, ever accosted or reached forth
a hand to Abraham Lincoln and detected in his countenance or manner any repugnance or shrinking from the proffered contact, any assumption of superiority, or betrayal of disdain."
"Frederick Douglass, the orator and patriot, is credited with saying: 'Mr.
Lincoln is the only white man with whom I have ever talked, or in whose presence I have ever been, who did not consciously or unconsciously betray to me that he recognized my color.'"
"George Bancroft, the historian, alluding to this characteristic, which was never so conspicuously manifested as during the darker days of the war, beautifully illustrates it in these memorable words: 'As a child, on a dark night, on a rugged way, catching hold of the hand of its father for guidance and support, Lincoln clung fast to the hand of the people and moved calmly through the gloom.'"

If strength is what you want, you should study what causes your weakness.
It is practically lack of food.
But you eat three meals a day, and all you can eat at a time.
Yes, but do you digest it?
Food undigested, is not food. It is not nourishment.
It doesn't create strength.
To digest your food take Shaker Digestive Cordial at meals. After a while you will digest your food without it. Then you will get well, and strong and healthy.
Shaker Digestive Cordial cures indigestion and all its symptoms, such as nausea, headache, giddiness, pain in the stomach, giddiness, loss of appetite, etc. It makes your food nourish you, and make you fat and hearty.
Druggists sell it. Trial bottles 10 cents.

The Late Col. J. W. Childs—
Col. J. W. Childs, a former Washtenaw resident, died on Monday of last week, at his home in Washington, D. C., aged 62 years.

He was an old soldier, having served through the war with the 4th Mich. Volunteer Infantry.

The deceased was the oldest child of the late Hon. Aaron Childs, of Angusta. He was a brother of Mrs.
Robert Campbell, W. K. Childs and Miss Alma C. Childs, of this city, and E. M. Childs, of Ypsilanti. He leaves a widow and one daughter, Miss Elaine Childs, who is a member of the class of '96, literary department of the University of Michigan.

Col. Childs entered the service in May 1861, as major of the Fourth Michigan Inf. and was afterwards colonel of the regiment and as such took part in nearly all of the battles in the army of the Potomac. At the end of his service as colonel of the Fourth Regiment, he entered the regular army and served until 1868, when he resigned from the service to enter business.

For the past 12 years or more he has held an important position in the government employ at Washington.

Thus one by one are the men who took an active part in the late war
fast passing away.

The Detroit Free Press of last Thursday, contained the following account of Col. Childs' funeral:

Washington, D. C., May 27.—The remains of the late Col. Jonathan W.
Childs, formerly commander of the Fourth Michigan Infantry, arrived in the city over the Baltimore & Ohio
Ry from Hanover, Md., the late home of the deceased, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. They were met by a committee of the Grand Army, headed by Gen. I. C. Abbott, formerly colonel of the First Michigan, and a committee from the Michigan state association headed by Acting President Edwin Willits. Many friends of the deceased also assembled at the depot.
The funeral party formed at the station and was driven to Arlington cemetery, where Col. Childs was buried. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Byron Sunderland, the veteran pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who was a personal friend of the deceased."

The Mission of a Newspaper—
There are many people who believe it is the duty of an editor of a newspaper to try to publish and expose those who in their opinion do not conduct themselves properly. When they see law violated they are too cowardly frequently to themselves lodge the complaint before the proper legal authorities, but at once rush to the editor and demand that he shall become judge, jury and executive to punish the misdeeds of which they complain.

Then there are fellows who when they have a grievance or spite against anybody, try to use the editor to ventilate their ill-humor and punish their enemy. What a poor idea they must have of the editor, when they think he is willing and anxious to do their dirty work for them!

It is the duty of the editor to publish the news, champion virtue and morality, and denounce evil, immorality and wrong. But he mistakes his calling if he undertakes to become the especial guardian and regulator of the conduct of every individual of the community.

DON'T STOP
TOBACCO

IT'S INJURIOUS TO STOP SUD-DENLY and don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about BACO CURE. It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with BACO-CURE. It will notify you when to stop and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An iron clad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded. Price $1.00 per box or 3 boxes (30 days treatment and guaran-

Dear Sirs— I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being at least. I tried the so-called "Kinky Cure," "Kinky Cure," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco-Cure." Three weeks ago to-day I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured; I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco Cure" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it. Yours truly, C. W. HORRICK.

KAFFIR KOLA EXTRACT

Is the Greatest Remedy and Cure of the 19TH CENTURY

It is an extract made from the juice of the nut of the Sacred Kola tree of South Africa. Used by the Kaffirs and Zulus in their tribes for many generations as a positive cure for all nervous diseases in man or women, from any cause; dyspepsia; constipation;
kidney and bladder ailments, and diseased liver. It cures rheumatism and blood affections. We are the sole agents for the United States for this wonderful extract. As a guaranty we return the price paid to the person having used one third bottle and not being benefited thereby.
Price $1.00, enough for a full month's treatment, and in ordinary cases enough for a cure. Ask for it at druggists, or order from us direct; we pay all charges.

Richard Kearns of Detroit, was a Sunday visitor at his parent's home. Mrs. F. M. Hamilton of Fifth ave., is visiting at her former home in Bucyrus, O.

Deputy Co. Clerk Fred Dansingburg is visiting friends(?) at Hartford for a few days.

Mrs. Dr. Weissenger has been entertaining her sister Miss Julia Crawford, of Chicago.

Miss Anna Frothingham of Detroit, was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. Goodyear last week.

Mrs. May Adams, nee Breakey, is the guest of her father, Dr. W. F. Breakey, for a time.

Mrs. B. Day and Mrs. Ferdon have gone to St. Paul to be present at the wedding of John Ferdon.

Mrs. A. H. Holmes of Ann Arbor, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Briggs, on Church street—Coldwater Courier.

Dr. James R. Breakey, of Pontiac, spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of his father on E. Huron st.

Miss Alma Chase of Dexter was the guest of Miss Alta Beal and other friends in the city, during the past week, returning home Monday.

Dr. W. H. Payne, chancellor of the Nashville University, at Nashville, Tenn., is spending some time in Europe, for the benefit of his health, which has been very delicate of late.

The Nashville American of May 28 states that the honorary degree of LL. D. was conferred upon Isaac N. Demmon, Professor of English Literature in the University of Michigan, by the University of Nashville at its recent commencement exercises.

THE VICE PRESIDENCY.

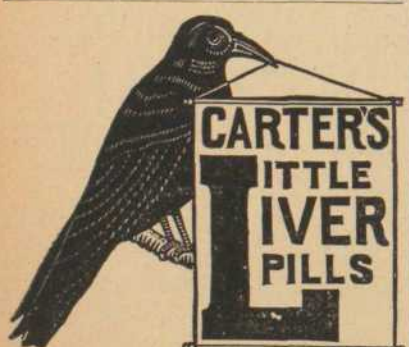

McKinley being sure of over 500 votes at St. Louis, therefore of the nomination, the next interest centers on who is to be chosen as his running mate. Reed of Maine, is first thought of, but many doubt that he would take it. Still, he has had all the honors the House can give, while the presidency of the senate is a step higher, one of more dignity, and has the additional charm of being next to what he most wanted—the presidency of the U. S.

If Reed does not want it, the eyes of the delegates will be turned toward New York for some one to heal the differences there. One attractive name mentioned is Gen. E. A. McAlpin, president of the National Republican League and chief of Gov. Morton's staff. He is a good business man and a strong republican. That would make the ticket on it of "Two Macs," McKinley & McAlpin—not a bad combination.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

"Christian Discipleship and Fellowship," will be the topic for the last address of the series, at the Adventists church, cor. E. Liberty and S. Division sts., next Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. "Whosoever will let him come!" Seats free.

Patrick Ryan, one of Ann Arbor's oldest settlers, died at his home on Beakes st., last evening at 7:10 o'clock, aged 84 years. Deceased was born in Tipperary, Ireland, in 1812, coming to this country in 1848, and has since been a resident of this city. He leaves 10 children to mourn his loss, Mrs. P. H. Fennell, of Chicago, Sister M. Eustis, of St. Vincent's orphan asylum in Cleveland, Ohio, Miss Margaret and Hannah Ryan, of this city, Frank J., Edward, John and Michael Ryan, of this city. Funeral tomorrow morning at 8:45 from his late residence and at 9 from St. Thomas' church. Interment in St. Thomas' cemetery.

Toledo is Courting Ann Arbor—

Since the completion of the Ann Arbor Railway an effort has been going on, steadily and persistently, to accustom the people living along the line of that road to become acquainted with Toledo, and if not to do all of their trading there, to at least do a portion of it, the distance being only a trifle more than to Detroit.

To this end cheap excursions have been frequent. Trains are run to Toledo upon any occasion whether of prominence or not. Theatre trains are often run for those who want to attend the play, and only 75 cents charged by the railroad for fare both ways.

Circus trains, Sunday trains, Presque Isle park trains, any sort of an occasion will bring a train to Toledo with only a nominal fare for the round trip.

At first this did not pay the railroad, but it does now. Scarce a train is run but it is well filled with passengers.

The result is that our people are beginning to like Toledo, and the same may be said of Howell and Owosso. You often hear ladies say: "I think Toledo is a better city than Detroit to do shopping in," and other similar remarks of like import.

Couple this persistence on the part of the Ann Arbor R'y and the people of Toledo, with the stolid indifference of the M. C. R'y and perhaps many of the Detroit people also, and one can easily see what the result will be. In the not distant future the citizens of this section will become weaned from Detroit, and attached to Toledo.

Then there is another thing. The daily newspapers of Detroit are inclined to treat this city, at least, unkindly in some respects. They belittle our great events, like the May Festival, or else refuse to take the same notice of them as of similar occurrences elsewhere. They appear to feel that it is for the best interest of Detroit to detract from or depreciate efforts made by interior cities to do something out of the ordinary, carrying the idea that Detroit is the only place that ought to attempt Musical Festivals and that sort of thing on a large scale. In which they make a mistake—at least many think so—for it is believed that the saying: "You can catch more flies with sugar than with vinegar," is a true one.

Then again Detroit papers often exaggerate the doings of the students here, making mountains out of mole hills. This fact is sometimes urged in Toledo's interest also.

Detroit is the metropolis of Michigan, and as such is entitled to the loyal support of all Michigan interior cities. For one the Courier regrets to see its tendency toward our Buckeye neighbor (she might have become a Wolverine when she had a chance).

There are many things which bind us to Detroit. Her wealthy people have been very generous in a number of instances to the University and to Ann Arbor. The observatory is their gift. The McMillan library, McMillan Hall, Hobart Hall, Newberry Hall and other buildings and things here attest their interest in this University city, and are appreciated by our citizens.

But the fact still exists that persistent and constant courting sometimes wins when it ought not to.

Those interested in this matter, the M. C. R'y, for instance, and the Detroit business men, perhaps, and the Detroit newspapers, may be; should understand what the situation is, and if there is any desire to change the trend, make the effort before it is too late.

The City Fathers Meet—

Yesterday's Times had the following account of Monday night's meeting:

The regular meeting of the common council last night was for business and not for pyrotechnic display and so considerable business was attended to. The aldermen succeeded in turning down ex-City Attorney Kline and the Forest Hill Cemetery and showed great glee at being able to do so. Ald. Soule came in late and completed the full attendance.

Petitions asking that the willow trees on Beakes st. be removed, that a crosswalk be built across Spring st., repairs be made on Miller ave. sidewalks and for a crosswalk across Packard st. at Mary st. were read and referred.

The B. P. W. asked the council to make arrangements with the Ann Arbor Savings Bank to pay all labor bills weekly at par. This seemed a popular and reasonable request, but was simply received and placed on file. Mrs. Olivia B. Hall was granted permission to connect with the Washington st. sewer.

The fire commissioners recommended that $300 be appropriated to purchase a team of horses for the fire department. Referred to the committee on fire department.

Warrants were ordered drawn on recommendation of the finance committee to the total amount of $4,005.26, taken from the various funds as follows: Contingent, $1,458.52; sewer and general, $2.25; street, $1,596.17; bridge, culvert and crosswalk, $62.81; police, $266.75; firemen's, $94.96; cemetery, $38.

The committee on finance presented the following estimates for next fiscal year and the same was unanimously adopted: Street, $10,000; fire department, $7,000; police, $2,000; poor, $2,500; water, $6,000; delinquent tax, $455.45; contingent, $4,000; University aid, $2,400; bridge, culvert and crosswalk, $3,000; main sewer bonds interest, $3,200.

Arthur Sweet's petition asking for payment of damages for alleged injuries received in the Hill st. sewer cave-in was referred back to the council by the finance committee without recommendation, and by the council to the city attorney. Charles H. Kline's bill for May salary as city attorney was laid on the table.

Sidewalks were ordered constructed on Second st., and Oakland ave. A crosswalk is to be built across Oakland ave. on the northwest side of Arbor st.

Bonds of Rettich & Hochrein, plumbers, and Ann Arbor Savings Bank were presented and accepted.

Dr. Dell was given use of Felch Park for a pony ring, the trees of the park were ordered trimmed. The recommendation that water be put in the park was referred to the B. P. W.

The monthly reports of the city clerk, chief of the fire department, city marshal and superintendent of the poor were read and ordered placed on file.

E. S. Manly presented his resignation as one of the commissioners of the city cemetery. It was accepted.

Expert Examiner John R. Miner reported everything correct in the books of the city clerk and treasurer and complimented the officials highly on the same.

City Engineer Key presented an estimate of $142.50 for drain on E. University ave. and Prospect st. The work was ordered done according to the estimate.

A plank sidewalk was ordered constructed along the north side of Geddes ave. on the south side of the cemetery from the cemetery gate to the west line of W. A. Nichols.

The matter of macadamizing Detroit st. was taken from the table and referred to the city attorney.

Council then peacefully adjourned.

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything it is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman too, it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from over-exertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all its attendant horrors.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

Church Unity is Progressing—

Rev. Dr. Coberp spoke yesterday morning of the influence of the general conference and emphasized particularly its good influence in encouraging fraternal relations between the different churches. He remarked among other things that he himself had been invited to preach in two of the Protestant Episcopal churches of Cleveland—not to occupy the reading desk, but to preach from the pulpit. He accepted one of the invitations. He had been offered the robe, which, however, he declined, and had received every attention that could have been given to a clergyman of that church. More than this, many people in the congregation came forward afterwards and shook his hand, saying that they had long hoped to see just such indications of fraternity. What is even more remarkable is the fact that this courtesy was extended to our Methodist brother by the rector after consultation and with the sanction of the bishop of the diocese.—Daily Times.

The Art School Exhibit—

The exhibition of the Ann Arbor Art School is for the public and will continue through the entire week. The admission is merely nominal—only 10 cents—so that all lovers of art studies and color work will find much to repay a visit. Several hundred studies have been accepted by Mr. Paulus, the director, and the people can feel assured that among a room full of studies many will be of merit and interesting as well. No special invitations are issued this year, but everybody is invited and everybody expected to call.

There is often a feeling that exhibitions abroad, in some other town, are worth taking a trip to see while home work is neglected. Let no one deceive himself this time and neglect to see the work of the school, right here in Ann Arbor. A table of beautiful china, the work of Mrs. Spencer, a professional china decorator will constitute one of the strong attractions.

Mr. Paulus will have four pieces on exhibition—his "Gird in Red," "Nineteenth Century Girl," and two other pieces—which many Ann Arbor people saw at the Art Loan in Detroit, and which have called forth such favorable criticism recently for their exhibition in Indianapolis.

Electric Light THE BEST

Some of the Advantages of Electric Light:

	Cubic feet of air vitiated.	Cubic feet of carbonic acid produced.	Heat produced in 1 h Watt's raised 1° Fahrenheit.
12 c. p. Incandescent Lamp	None.	None.	13.8
12 c. p. Gas Light	345.25	3.21	278.6
12 c. p. Kerosene Lamp	376.30	3.54	232.6

Some of the Disadvantages of Gas:

Air consumed.	Carbonic Acid thrown off.
Heat.	Unsteadiness of Light.
Freezing Pipes.	Danger of Suffocation.
Humidity.	Danger from use of Matches.
Ceilings Blackened.	Water and Air in Pipes.
Sulphur thrown off.	Metals and Gildings Tarnished.
Ammonia thrown off.	Sulphuretted Hydrogen thrown off.
Gas cannot be inverted to throw light down.

None of these Disadvantages Accompany Electric Lighting.

In general the Incandescent Electric Light is much healthier and much more convenient to use than any other method of lighting, and is more economical for amount of light furnished than gas.

Saturday was one of the old-time Memorial Days—it rained. For several years this special day was sure to bring a rain, but the two years previous to this one have been exceptions.

Hundreds of young people took their lunches with them last Saturday and wandered up or down the river as they pleased. Not many of them caught any fish, but a large number got caught—in the rain, without even an umbrella.

The Daily Times has leased the Bross store on S. Main st., for a period of ten years, and the building will be fitted up for the use of that paper. A new front will be put in, new floors laid, and the entire building will be put in tip-top shape. The editorial and counting rooms will be on the 1st floor, the Hausfreund will have the 2d floor, and the press room will occupy the rear of the first floor. N. Main st. will be sorry to lose this office. The change will be made about July 1st.

The residents of Ann Arbor are just now enjoying a series of graduating recitals at the School of Music that at almost any other time would create a furor. To select any particular one as being superior would be unjust, but we feel sure that those who attended the recital given by Miss Emma C. White of New Haven, Conn., on Thursday last, will pardon this brief reference to its excellence. It was very fine indeed, and well deserves special mention. The friends of the School of Music as well as those of Miss White, will be greatly pleased to learn that she has been retained the coming year as a member of the faculty.

The U. of M.—Chicago game which was declared off at Detroit because of the rain, will be played to-morrow, Thursday, at the athletic field. It will be a great game, and there will be a great crowd to witness it, if the weather is pleasant.

A horse at Ann Arbor, glanced in the direction of a street car and fell dead. Some say he was frightened at the car, and others affirm with avowement that the road should secure motormen who are devoid of that fierce look.—Monroe Democrat.

Prof Stanley says he expects to spend the summer in Ann Arbor, which he would not object to if it was not for the intolerable dust. He thinks if the streets of Ann Arbor could be sprinkled, hundreds of people would come here to remain during the summer.

The hen that leaves her nest after a day's setting because she does not hear the chirp of chicks, is something like the merchant who quits advertising after the first few "throws" because his first calls haven't filled his store with clamoring customers.—Printer's Ink.

The Congregational people of Ypsilanti have inaugurated the excursion season, and it looks now as if they had made a big hit by starting their train from here next Saturday. It will cost only 80 cents, children under 12 years half rates, to spend the day in Detroit or Belle Isle.

It is an ill wind that blows no one any good. The recent cyclones have given our agents some business. Within the past week W. K. Childs has written up over $18,000 in cyclone insurance, and it is blowing in to him yet. He has a good and a reasonable Michigan company.

There was very little sorrow expressed among many old soldiers and their friends over the rain last Saturday interfering with the base ball game between the U. of M. and Chicago, at Detroit. There is a strong feeling that these games are a desecration of the day. They say that the University faculty would at once "set down on" the students for playing a game on Sunday, and yet here is an occasion as sacred as Sunday, which they allow to be desecrated without protest even.

The Y. M. C. A. Lyceum course has been secured for the coming year, and names and dates will be made public in due time. There will be six entertainments—as fine ones as the great lecture bureaus present. The course will be given in the Presbyterian church and season tickets will be the same as last year, $1, although the course is a far more expensive one. The association has set its stake at the $500 mark this year. All to go into the new building fund. Help this along, can't you?

The debate between the Lyceum and Crescent societies at the High School building Friday night was slimly attended, but was interesting and hard fought throughout. The speakers were: Lyceum—Messrs. Fox, Boylan and Seery, and Crescent—Messrs. Pearce and Cross and Miss Downing. The local society won the decision, but the Crescents went home to Ypsilanti feeling that they had made a good fight. The high school orchestra furnished the music and the judges were Messrs. Wedemeyer, Ingraham and VanKirk.—Daily Times.

The Nashville, Tenn., American of May 21st, had this item which will be of interest to many of our readers who know Will: "The promotion of Capt. W. R. Payne to brig engineer, with the rank and title of Colonel has given more general satisfaction than any appointment yet made. Col. Payne is one of the best working Pythians in the state. He has more applications to his credit than any one person probably in the world. He has proposed to his lodge over 200 new members. He is also a good worker in the Uniform and Endowment Ranks of the order."

In the archives of the court house at Ann Arbor, may be found the bound volumes of the newspaper first published in the county, dating back to Nov. 18, 1829. A glance at the paper, and a cursory examination of the journalistic lying of that date, compared with the columns of the newspapers of that city to date, shows the steady advancement made in teachings of Annanias, and illustrates the doctrine of evolution by the rear flank. This is explained by the fact that the paper of 1829 did not contain a line of editorial, on either tariff, Cuba, finance or Pingree.—Adrian Press. The Press man is such a consummate tariff and free silver liar himself that he has come to look upon everybody else with lenses reflecting his own concentrated article.

In the Athletic events at Lansing last week Friday and Saturday, Ann Arbor did not even take second place. Grand Rapids took first with 22 points and Detroit second with 15 points. Hall won 2d in feather-weight boxing; Davis 2d in light-weight boxing; Lond 2d in feather-weight wrestling; Neal 2d in middle-weight wrestling, all high school boys.

May Costello Firestone, of Chicago, daughter of Mrs. Ambrose Kearney, of this city, has just written a book which is attracting considerable attention. It is entitled "Whence We Came, Whither We are Tending," and issues in paper covers from the press of Donahue & Henneberry. It is a book of 208 pages and treats of the currency question and the tariff question, and the millionaires are handled without gloves.—Daily Times.

The Chattanooga Daily Times of May 14, in its account of the Tennessee State Homeopathic Society's annual meeting in that city, has this paragraph: "Dr. Harriet Carbaugh, of Lookout Mountain, presented a very valuable paper on 'Typhoid Fever, and the Successful Treatment of that Disease.' Mrs. Carbaugh is known to Ann Arbor people as Miss Hattie Swathel, and graduated in the Homeopathic department with the class of '80."

The regular annual convocation of the diocese of Michigan will be held in Detroit next week, commencing Wednesday, June 9th, and continuing through Thursday, at Emanuel church. St. Andrew's parish of this city, will be represented by Revs. Henry Tatlock and Lawrence T. Cole, and by three lay delegates, Col. E. M. Thompson, Prof. C. S. Denison and Geo. H. Pond. The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held on the Tuesday preceding.

The Knights of the Loyal Guard is the new fraternal insurance order which was organized at Flint in Feb. 1895. It now has 75 divisions and 5,000 members, a phenomenal growth, and has paid out $20,000 to 17 different families and had only three assessments. A division is being organized in Ann Arbor by W. H. S. Wood of Howell and B. K. Boyd of Fenton. A goodly number have already been examined by Dr. Belser over the National Bank and others who wish to secure charter rates should be examined at once.

The Monroe Democrat remarks: "The editor of the Adrian Press shyly intimates that he is a singer; but when on the occasion of his last public appearance as a prima donna, he let loose the solo, 'I'm Saddest When I Sing,' the audience, with moist eyes, declared that it had the same effect on others. Courtesy to a newspaper brother compels us to refer as delicately as possible to Mr. Stearns' voice, and we will no more than state that when Mr. Stearns was about half through with his solo, a saw filer rose and left the audience and was never seen afterward."

The Clack Book is the rather unique name given a very neat and tasty publication of the magazine. (If we can be allowed to coin the word) to fit the periodical order. It has its home in Lansing, Wells & Hudson being the proprietors. It contains verse, fiction, original ideas, art sketches, and quaint illustrations. The June number has a very readable dialect story from the pen of George R. Barker, lit '98, one of the Wrinkle editors. The subscription price is 50 cents per year, and if future numbers are as meritorious as the one before us, it ought to be extremely successful in obtaining subscribers.

When the Ann Arbor Register Publishing Company got into a row with itself three years ago, Selby A. Moran took possession of the newspaper end of it and hung on with his teeth and eyebrows while he fought his enemies with both hands. When clubbed over the nose he simply shut his eyes tight and tightened his jaw hold. Hip and thigh, over and under, they had it, but Moran never let go. He has just secured titular possession by settlement out of court. Now let some friend of Moran, pry his jaws loose with a crowbar. They need rest.—Monroe Democrat.

"Miss Virginia Dox tells the thrilling story of 'How Marcus Whitman Saved Oregon,' with a power, a self-restraint, a sustained interest that holds her hearers' absolute attention from start to finish. Those who have never before heard of Whitman's patriot deed learn in one short hour a new and most significant lesson in American history and Christian self-sacrifice."—The above is from Rev. D. M. Fisk, D. F., Toledo, Ohio. Miss Dox will tell the above story to the Young Men's Sunday evening Club, of the Congregational church, Sunday evening, June 7th. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Jacobs & Allmand have a change of ad. this week, which is quite interesting to wearers of shoes. We all know they mean just what they say.

COVERED WITH SCALES

Eczema made its appearance on my head in its worst form, and it continued spreading until my face was covered with scales and became a horrid sight. I had a fine head of hair, seven years' growth, and had to sacrifice it. I was in despair. The physicians had failed even to relieve me, when one recommended CUTICURA SOAP. My father procured a set of CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in three weeks the scales left my face and the skin lost its flaking hue. In six weeks I was entirely cured. My face was smooth and my complexion clearer and finer than it had ever been before.

A Curious Incident—

The same storm that did so much damage around Thomas, Metamora, Oakwood, Mt. Clemens, etc., gathered near this city, and the clouds were very savage with occasional flashes of lightning, which were almost blinding.

An incident is related of Mr. M. H. Alexander, who lives in Webster, some miles north of this city, that was curious, to say the least. He was standing in his barn, a few feet from the door when lightning struck a large oak tree about forty rods distant. It was a terrific explosion, splintering the tree into kindling wood, and although it was a thrifty growing oak, it was set on fire by the electric fluid and burned up.

The shock did not phase Mr. Alexander a particle, but a horse that was in a stall a few feet away was knocked down flat upon the floor, as if dead, and a dog that was by his side, was picked up into the air about eight or ten feet high, and sent whirling end over end through the barn door, alighting about twenty feet in the yard, the canine yelping for dear life all the time.

Mr. Alexander says that every time the dog has heard it thunder since, he drops his head, commences to howl and starts on a dead run for the house.

This incident is as unaccountable as many told about the odd antics of the cyclone in the devastated districts.

The barn of J. W. Reeve, struck by lightning the same afternoon, had simply the purline plate taken out, with hardly any other damage.

An Opportunity for Reciprocity—

The University of Michigan having been invited to send representatives to the coming celebration by the University of Glasgow, Scotland, of the commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of Lord Dillvon's connection with that institution, the request has been complied with. Prof. A. B. Cushman, and Dr. Wenley have been delegated to represent this college at that time.

Now the University of Glasgow should reciprocate, and send delegates to the coming celebration of the quarter of a century anniversary of Dr. Angell's presidency.

Will this opportunity for reciprocity be improved? Probably not. Our students, professors and learned men seek the ancient east for study and research. Those already in the east appear well satisfied with themselves and remain in the east, not coming to the new western world very much. Which they might do, however, to their own advantage, for they might learn how a new people build up a country, which ought to be of as much importance as to learn how an ancient people destroyed one.

SUCCESS OF THREE SISTERS.

Reverses in Fortune Induce Them to Open a Lunch Room.

The city of Cincinnati possesses a striking example of what can be done by woman's pluck when accompanied by practical common sense. Twelve years ago the Misses Stewart, three young women who had been reared in wealth, were by business failures thrown upon their own resources.

They secured a room in a business block and established a lunch-room, where they made a specialty of home cooking. Most of the work they did with their own hands, and the excellence of their supplies soon created a demand. The little lunch-room became a success, and at the end of five years, when the great Chamber of Commerce building was put up and there was to be a large restaurant connected with it, the Misses Stewart boldly applied for it. They were backed by many of the best business men of the city, who had known them in their days of wealth and been impressed by their ability as business women. Their bid was accepted, the Misses Stewart assumed charge of the "Glencairn" lunch-room, and have conducted it without a break or a failure for the last seven years.

The clientele is very large. For rent and services alone the yearly expenses are $10,000. The prices charged for food are very reasonable, yet the sisters not only paid all expenses, but live in comfort and are becoming wealthy. They have never lost social position by going into business, and during their entire career have never had to borrow a dollar.

POISONED AIR.

What Produces Discomfort in a Crowded Room.

A very important investigation into the nature of the substances contained in air expired by human beings, says the London Graphic, has just been completed by two prominent men of science in America, Dr. J. S. Billings and Dr. S. Weir Mitchell. As a result of their extended researches they declare that "the discomfort produced by crowded, ill-ventilated rooms, in persons not accustomed to them, is not due to the excess of carbonic acid, nor to bacteria, nor in most cases to dust of any kind. The two great causes of such discomfort, though not the only ones, are excessive temperatures and unpleasant odors." But though the air actually expired by healthy men and animals contains no more poisonous substances than carbonic acid gas, experiments on the air in inhabited rooms and hospital wards are said to show that an important source of contamination is the minute particles of dust, in which there are micro-organisms, and it seems probable that these are the only really dangerous elements in the air. These views, and the conclusion that the presence of carbonic acid gas is not a trustworthy criterion of the existence of other and more poisonous exhalations, are likely to be questioned by many students of ventilation.

THE RICHEST MAN'S WIFE.

Some Amazing Truths About Marchioness Li and Her Home.

Of the wife of Li Hung Chang, millionaire of millionaires, a writer in Pearson's Weekly says: Marchioness Li is very beautiful, and compared with her fellow-countrywomen, an exceedingly learned lady. Her age is more—possibly a great deal more—than 50, yet she looks 30, or even less.

The wife of the richest man in the world, she spends royally, although not without keeping a detailed account of her expenditures. In her magnificent home on the banks of the Pei-Ho she lives in great splendor, surrounded by song birds, peacocks, aquaria, pottery, gems and botanical collections.

One thousand attendants and servants answer her beck and call. In her wardrobe are guarded 2,000 coats, 1,200 pairs of "trousersettes" and 500 fur robes, made from the finest skins. Her feet have been compressed until they are quite inefficient for the original purpose, and the marchioness is unable to walk more than a few yards at a time.

Twice a day she bathes in oil of orange and acacia blooms and afterward takes an airing in the coolie sedan. Finally she dresses her hair in 50 ways, each more miraculous and a more perfect example of the coiffeur's art than the one that goes before.

HIS MISTAKE.

A Young Lawyer's Happy Retort to a Presiding Judge.

The New York Recorder gives a story of a young lawyer who evidently did not consider the well-known learning of the judge a sufficient reason for omitting evidence of his own attainments.

The judge was compelled to listen to a case that had been appealed from one of the police courts. The young practitioner who appeared for the appellant was long and tedious; he brought in all of the elementary text books and quoted the fundamental propositions of the law.

At last the judge thought it was time to make an effort to close the argument. "Can we not assume," he said, pompously, "that the court knows a little about law itself?"

"That's the very mistake I made in the other court," answered the young orator, "and I don't want to let it defeat me twice."

Pope Was Not Offended.

The London Morning Post tells a pleasant story of Pope Leo's kindness. It seems that not long ago an English lady, a Protestant, with her little son, 11 years old, and her daughter, obtained an audience of the pope, through the good offices of Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state. The latter invited the boy to kiss the pope's slipper. "We don't kiss people's feet in England," said the little fellow, "but he's a nice old gentleman, and I'll kiss his hand, if he likes." The pope was delighted with the little fellow's answer, and paid him several compliments in Italian.

AN ELABORATE MOSAIC.

Executed for a Beautiful Palace in Vienna.

The British vice-consul in Venice in his last report says that mosaics still continue in great demand there, says the London Times. A well-known company executed last year a splendid mosaic for a palace now in course of construction in Vienna. It measures 1,000 square feet and is copied from cartoons by the painter, Edward Weith. It represents the five parts of the world. Europe stands in the center of the frieze, represented by the symbolic figures of its various nations, having on one side the emblems of industry and trade and at the top the emblem of the flying genius of light. On the right are the figures of Asia, India, China and Japan, with their rajahs, mandarins and the allegorical chrysanthemum. Next follows Africa, with camel-drivers, palm trees and other African symbols; on the left, America and Australia, with natives on horseback and on foot, foliage and other emblems.

All this variety of types, from the fair Circassian down to the negro, and the display of costumes, from the most decorative to the simplest, have enabled the painter to arrange 24 figures with great delicacy of color and in an artistic manner. Over these figures, which rest on an ornamental base, a blue sky reflects all around its light so as to unite all the tints of the mosaic and to give the whole a harmony of effect which is said to be most delightful to the eye. The same company is executing another important mosaic for the apse of the Guards' chapel at the Wellington barracks in London from cartoons.

OUR DAILY BREAD.

The Kind Most Common Now Was Unknown Last Century.

Much rye bread was eaten in this country in the beginning of the century, and much rye and Indian—a healthful compound that disappeared when stoves superseded the huge brick oven in which the maize ingredient was rendered digestible by being cooked all night. The snowy wheaten loaf, as the staple bread of the land, dates only back to the cultivation of the wheat fields of New York in the early part of this century; and simultaneously there seems to arise a "fashion" of white bread. The using of bread made from anything less than "the best Genesee flour" was thought a mark of poverty. About 1840 there appeared about an even distribution of dyspepsia throughout the northern and eastern states, more especially among those well-to-do people who used only the "best Genesee." One investigator announced that the root of the mischief lay in robbing the wheat of its best elements in the process of milling, and taking away its outer coating. This man was Sylvester Graham—a monomaniac on his own hobby, but he rendered an important service to the science of alimentation, though the epithet "bran bread" was derisively applied to the sort that still bears his name.

gium the daring hand of Geefs has reared a monument full of glorious meaning to the three hundred martyrs of the revolution.

By the soft blue waters of Lake Luc-erne stands the chapel of William Tell.
On the anniversary of his revolt and victory, across those waters as they glitter in the July sun, skim the light boats of the allied Cantons; from the prows hang the banners of the Republic, and,
as they near the sacred spot, the daughters of Lucerne chant the hymns of their old poetic land. Then bursts forth the glad Te Deum, and Heaven again hears the voice of the wild chivalry of the mountains, which some five centuries
ago pierced the white eagle of Vienna,
and flung it bleeding on the rocks of Uri.

And in our own glorious Republic we revere the patriot fathers, and hold glorious that July day when they flouted
the Declaration of Independence in the face of King George and his minions,
and pronounced America forever free.
The vital spark of Patriotism must ever lie kindled in the breast of free men;
when the name and the fame of a Washington and a Lincoln shall be forgotten,
then, and not till then, will this Union
be destroyed.

A terrible tragedy occurred at Waterloo, near the western line of this county, on Sunday last. Because of jealousy Louis Heydlauff shot and killed Emma Moeckle, and then attempted to take his own life. The two families live about a half a mile apart, and the two young people had been playmates. The tragedy has caused great excitement in that vicinity. Both were known here in Ann Arbor, Heydlauff being a brother-in-law of Chas. W. Vogel, the Ann street butcher.

It Begins to Dawn—

For many years the business men of Ann Arbor have been invited, yes, more than invited, urged, and in some instances threatened with a boycott
if they did not give to the fund for University athletics. Then when any great game of either foot-ball or base ball, such as they all desired to witness came off, it would be taken to Detroit. This not only prevented them from seeing the game, but also took many people to Detroit to trade
who would otherwise trade here.

The U. of M. Daily, in a very fair article upon this subject, says:

"The fact that the merchants of Ann Arbor are entitled to some consideration should also be a factor in favor of this change. The business men of this town have been asked to contribute to athletics every year and they have responded liberally, but scant return has been given for their generosity—not even a public acknowledgment of their contributions has been made. The Detroit game takes considerable money to that city which would otherwise be spent in Ann Arbor. A fair spirit of reciprocity should be shown in this matter, especially when there are no
out-weighting reasons to the contrary."

The managers of the Athletic Association can see in this, one great reason why it is becoming harder and harder each year to secure any subscriptions among Ann Arbor business men for athletics.

THE REGENTS LOSE.

It appears by the evidence that there was no continuity or special relation existing between the collection within the residence and that within the Art Gallery; that neither was essential to the unity of the other.

It is in the light of the foregoing facts that a construction of the will must be made.

The precise question is presented,
whether the works of Art within the residence are, by virtue of the will,
the property of the University, or whether Mrs. Lewis obtained title thereto by virtue of the Bill of Sale,
and held and transmitted the same to Mr. Root.

It appears that Mrs. Lewis was a very worthy woman and never doubted but that the works of Art within her residence were her own property. During the period that she survived her husband a few paintings were taken from the Gallery and placed within the residence. A list of these, however, was preserved and at her death they were all voluntarily surrendered to the University
as forming a part of the Art Gallery.

If it was clear that Mrs. Lewis obtained title to the Art Collection within her residence by virtue of the aforesaid Bill of Sale, and that Mr.
Lewis subsequently by his will gave this identical property to the University, the solution of the problem in this case would not be difficult.

Inasmuch as she elected to accept the provisions of the will, she would be bound by its conditions. If she took its benefactions and gifts, she also assumed its burdens, and if the will gave to the University that part of the Art Collection within her residence, even though she had previously acquired title thereto through her bill of sale, she would nevertheless,
by accepting the provisions of the
will, be deemed thereby to have waived and surrendered all claim thereto, and the property would pass to the University.

But the real difficulty is not thus escaped.

We are confronted with the question did Mr. Lewis by his last will and testament intend to bequeath the Works of Art within his residence to the University.

The counsel for the University frankly concede that if the University takes title to the Art Collection within the residence, it is by virtue of the sixth clause in the will as above quoted.

Its language is, "I give and bequeath
to the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in the state of Michigan, all my paintings and statuary and all my Art Works of every kind and nature
which are contained within my Art Gallery or building."

This language seems to me to be simple and plain, and I have not been impressed with its doubt, ambiguity or obscurity. If it had been the intention of Mr. Lewis to embrace in this gift the works of Art within his residence, I am unable to understand why he should have confined and restricted the gift, "to my Art Gallery or building;" and unless the other clauses of the will or extraneous facts and circumstances are permitted to enlarge the scope of these words of gift, it seems to me that it is irresistibly fatal to the claim of the complainants.

Doubt, however, is cast upon the foregoing conclusion by reason of the language used in the first clause of the will as here in before quoted, which apparently excludes from his proposed gift to his wife his books, papers
and "Art Works."

His books and all things pertaining to his library were given by the will to the Public Library of the City of Coldwater, and they were all within his residence. Among these books was a collection of more than one hundred and fifty volumes, containing the engravings of Hogarth and Dore,
from the original plates and it is contended by the defendant that reference was had to these Works of Art by the term "Art Works." This view is disputed by the complainants.

It is true that the intention of the testator is to be obtained from a consideration of the entire will; but when there are clauses apparently inconsistent with each other, the rule in the construction of wills directs that the latter clause shall prevail, as being the last expression of the will of the testator.

I regret that after a careful consideration of the will and all the evidence allude, there should remain
any doubt respecting the intentions of Mr. Lewis. Such a doubt, however, does exist. There is room for an honest difference of judgment, but in my opinion there is no reasonable escape from the plain language of the sixth clause of this instrument, which describes and limits the University gift to those Art Works "which are contained within my Art Gallery or building."

The complainants could not well
have otherwise discharged their trust,
than by a submission of this question to a Judicial Tribunal. It may perhaps be well to remember, that this gift of the contents of his Art Gallery by Mr. Lewis to the University, in point of intrinsic value is unprecedented in the history of the institution, and that especially in view of his somewhat moderate estate it was a princely and munificent bequest. Under such circumstances, to enforce or resolve a doubt against the heirs of Mr. Lewis, would seem to impinge upon the wise, generous and catholic policy which has so conspicuously distinguished the University during the last quarter of a century. I think the Bill of Complaint should be dismissed.

Complimentary to Capt. Manly—

Below is given the report of John R.
Miner, expert accountant, on the condition of the books and papers of the city treasurer and city clerk. The report is a very complimentary one to Treasurer Manly and shows that his work has been performed in a painstaking
and conscientious manner:

To the Finance Committee of the Common Council of the City of Ann Arbor:

I have the honor to report that in accordance with your direction I have carefully examined the books and vouchers, cancelled bonds for the year ending May 1, 1896, and find the same correct. The balance in the city treasury at the date mentioned was $21,- 821.81, which amount is duly certified to as being on deposit by the cashier of the State Savings' Bank.

I have carefully examined the books
and reports of the city clerk and find them correct.

I would call your attention to the large increase in the amount of work in the offices of the city treasurer and city clerk during the past year and to the careful and accurate manner in which the duties of those offices have been performed. Respectfully,
JOHN R. MINER.
