The Verdict
 Said Mr. M— the other day: "I want one of your seamless hot-water bottles that you warrant. I had one of them and it lasted six months with constant use. I bought two at — and they gave out very quickly."
 We can give you the man's name if you want it.
 These bottles will last two or three years with ordinary use.

The State Supreme Court Decides the Long Fought Case of

THE HOMEOPATHIC COLLEGE

And Declares the Act of the Legislature Removing it to Detroit Unconstitutional.

Lansing, Mich., July 28.—In a unanimous opinion by Justice Grant, the supreme court today held unconstitutional the act of 1895 removing the homeopathic department of the university from Ann Arbor to Detroit.

The regents refused to comply with the act, on the ground that, in their judgment, it was not for the best interests of the university, and that the legislature has no constitutional right to interfere with or dictate the management of the university.

It appeared to the regents that, whatever advantages may accrue to the homeopathic department by removal to a larger city, they may, perhaps, be applied to any other department, and the attempts to remove suggested to them a movement for an entire change of that policy of concentration of all departments at the proper seat of the university, which has hitherto promoted the growth and advancement of that institution.

Justice Grant's opinion is very long and involves a thorough discussion of all phases of the case, after reviewing the history of the university from a constitutional and legislative standpoint.

The right of the state legislature to control the regents is the question discussed, the court saying that the board of regents is a constitutional body, charged by the constitution with entire control of that institution, and that the state legislature "cannot add to or take away from its property without the consent of the regents."

The court says it might properly rest its decision upon this case, and would do so, did not those who favor removal contend that this case does not apply. For this reason the opinion gives further reasons to show that the legislature has no control over the university or regents.

"The board of regents and the legislature," the opinion reads, "derive their power from the same supreme authority—the constitution. They are separate and distinct constitutional bodies with the powers of the regents defined. By no rule of construction can it be held that either can encroach upon or exercise the powers conferred upon the other. The board of regents is the only corporation provided for in the constitution whose powers are defined therein. In every other corporation provided for in the constitution it is expressly provided that its powers shall be such as the legislature shall give."

It is held, in conclusion, that no other finding is possible than that the intention was to place the university in the direct and exclusive control of the people themselves through a constitutional body elected by them, and that the homeopathic college removal act of the legislature in question is without force or effect upon them.

Don't bolt your food, it irritates the stomach. Choose digestible food and chew it. Indigestion is a dangerous sickness. Proper care prevents it. Shaker Digestive Cordial avert it. That is the long and short of indigestion. Now, the question is: Have you got indigestion? Yes, if you have pain or discomfort after eating, headache, dizziness, nausea, offensive breath, heartburn, languor, weakness, fever, jaundice, flatulence, loss of appetite, irritability, constipation, etc. Yes, you have indigestion. To cure it, take Shaker Digestive Cordial. The medicinal herbs and plants of which Shaker Digestive Cordial is composed, help to digest the food in your stomach; help to strengthen your stomach. When your stomach is strong, care will keep it so. Shaker Digestive Cordial is for sale by druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

About Those Cyclone Goods—

The Ypsilanti Sentinel never lets slip a chance to sting Ann Arbor, and taking the article recently quoted in these columns from the Oxford Globe, as its text, says:

"That charity which results in no sacrifice is not charity, is illustrated in the attempt to secure contributions of clothing and supplies for the cyclone sufferers, made at Ann Arbor. A very large shipment was sent to Oxford, but proved to be worthless because of the condition it was in. The recipients claim it looked as if the people had sent them nothing but cast-off stuff, worthless to anybody, to get rid of it. It is without doubt true that this method of giving is too often acted upon, and imagined to be charity; but the almsgiving that is easy is no great credit to the giver. When one takes off his own coat to give to his neighbor, it is a charitable act; to give him what one does not want—or desires to be rid of—is not charity at all."

In justice to the generous people here who gave in a charitable way, as the Sentinel correctly defines true charity, it should be said that nearly all of the goods in that car load were good, clean, wholesome, and a credit to the donors. There were a few things that might better have been left out, perhaps, but those who packed the car put them in thinking that if the people were really destitute and needy the things might do some good.

There was a lot of good furniture, not of the very latest pattern and design, but good, so good, that one of the gentlemen who helped pack the car, stated that he would gladly have exchanged it for any he had in his house. If any of the articles were broken they became so after leaving Ann Arbor. According to Gov. Rich's own suggestion there were dishes and household utensils sent, which he considered as much needed as money. Those that were broken or valueless for any cause were put aside and not sent.

The one thing the Globe seems to have vented the most sarcasm upon was a lot of out-of-date women's hats. A word of explanation might be properly given about them. A lady who keeps a millinery store here said to the committee: "I have a lot of hats in my stock that are out of style. They are all new, have never been worn, but are not of the latest pattern, and so not salable. Shall I send them?" She was told yes, supposing that some of the girls and women folks in the wind swept region might be only too glad to get them for everyday wear, but it seems by the Globe that they are so fastidious, that in accepting anything of the sort, they must have the latest fad.

The car load was valued at $300 easily, by those who packed it and know what it contained, and the committee who had the work in charge felt that they had done not only a charitable and kind deed, but one meriting commendation, and fully expected to hear from there that it was the best car load they had received.

There is one thing certain, the committee have no apologies to make, and they feel that it will be many a day before they will take hold of a matter of the kind again.

Undoubtedly

We will commence July 28 undoubtedly the greatest bargain sale the people of Ann Arbor ever knew. There are not many goods in this sale, but while they last they will go at great bargains. These are broken sizes from our stock of Fine Shoes accumulated mostly in the past few months. We do not want to ship these goods out of town, would much rather our customers should have them. Come at once.

JACOBS & ALLMAND,
 Washington Blk., Washington st.,
 Ann Arbor, Mich.

A. C. Schumacher and Herman Miller, two of Ann Arbor's finest young men, have formed a partnership and will soon open a new drug store in the store room now occupied by Anton Teufel's harness shop on S. Main st., between Washington and Liberty sts. The Times wishes the new firm the greatest success. If true manliness and business integrity win success these two young men will undoubtedly succeed.—Daily Times.

A DOCTOR FACTORY.

Any One Can Secure the Degree of M. D. by Paying $50 for it.

One of our prominent druggists, Mr. J. J. Goodyear, received a few days since a circular letter from what purports to be the "Wisconsin Eclectic Medical College, of Milwaukee, Wis., correspondence department No. 1001 West Congress st., Chicago Ill."

In the letter accompanying the circular are these two paragraphs:

"If you have any aspirations to a profession which runs side by side with that of Pharmacy, if you desire to become a physician and have the legal right to append M. D. to your name; then you are politely requested to carefully read and digest the contents of the inclosed prospectus. The plan as outlined therein gives to the pharmacist an open door to the legitimate practice of medicine, as an authorized physician."

"The diplomas of the Wisconsin Eclectic Medical College are perfectly good in law, binding and valid, and the total fees are exceedingly moderate, $55.00 all inclusive. We only ask your best thoughts on the matter. And in the meantime we shall be glad to hear from you and to explain any point or points not made quite clear by the prospectus, or any which may arise in your mind."

FRED RUTLAND, M. D., President.

The circular referred to has several pages condemning the laws of states that require examinations for physicians, and provide penalties for any unauthorized person or quack attempting to practice medicine. It is a very bold thing, made more so probably, since a great party, by its platform, has denounced the restraining influences of our courts of justice. It's closing sentence reads:

"Such laws then are a double wrong. Since they not only prevent the well qualified from practicing, but forbid citizens in the hour of sickness from employing the physician they would prefer."

After quoting from the charter of the "college" granted by the state of Wisconsin, this paragraph occurs:

"Therefore the Wisconsin Eclectic Medical College being a legally chartered and reputable institution both it, and its graduates are perfectly protected by the law, and no person or power can disturb them. It is the duty and policy of the officers of this college to point out to those desiring a medical education that it can be lawfully and honestly acquired even if they cannot attend our college or any other medical college in person, for it is an established fact that students can, and do, by the diligent and faithful study of the proper books at home, with the help of the experience they can get assisting a physician, acquire a more practical and useful medical education than they can attending monopoly colleges, and spending valuable time and hard-earned money on much that is speculative and theoretical."

Still further on, this:

"It is possible for students to graduate without attendance."

"During the course of our correspondence we often find persons that have been acquiring knowledge of medicine for many years past and some that have practiced medicine successfully for differing periods of time, but are at an immense disadvantage in States where monopoly laws exist. If such a person will please give us a statement of the circumstances, giving time they have studied or practiced or both, we will arrange for their examination before a Notary Public of their town and if the examiners of this College find it satisfactory they can be legally and lawfully graduated, receiving the Diploma of the College, conferring the degree of Doctor of Medicine without attendance at the College."

"Some are already fully qualified to pass the examination, while again others are deficient in some respect and not quite up to our standard, in such cases a diligent study of proper books will soon remedy the trouble and when they are sufficiently qualified, the degree of Doctor of Medicine, can be conferred at any time."

"The time of graduation and obtaining a legal Medical Diploma is a very great event in the life of any person, as the append of M. D. always raises the individual in the social scale no matter who he or she may be. It also gives to its owner a position and a general authority which is absolutely unobtainable by any other means.

FEES AND TERMS.
 "The total fees for matriculation, examination and graduation are $50.00.

"The College system is Eclectic, as being the best and surest method of healing known. The Eclectic is a school towards which all other systems radiate. In it the two extremes of the Allopath and the Homeopath meet. The same is true of the Physio-Medical School which teaches the use of Botanical remedies alone, and again of the Hydropathist who uses no medicine whatever, but baths of various kinds alone.

"Thus it will be seen the best there is of all is taken and the rest left.

"The Eclectic Physician can use anything, everything that is good.

"Certified copies of the Charter of the College can be had at cost price, 25 cents each."

Here you see, is a chance for anyone, whether attending college or not to get a degree of M. D., for $50 entitling them to practice upon their fellow men.

The fact that regular medical schools have, almost without exception, extended their courses from two years to four years, and that here in Ann Arbor the extension of the course to six years is being seriously contemplated, shows how the medical profession regard the absolute necessity of a thorough and complete education before anyone should be allowed to practice.

It is a profession that ought to be filled by men, not only of great learning, but great skill as well, and any institution that will sell the degree of M. D. for either $35 or $50, without attendance upon college a day, ought to receive the sharp and careful scrutiny of state officials, even if it is chartered in one state and doing business in another.

The regular physicians in Illinois and Wisconsin owe it to the good reputation of themselves to look into this thing.

Of Interest to Cyclists—

The status of the bicycle while being ridden upon the highways, has been decided by the supreme court to be the same as that of any vehicle. The case which brought out the decision is as follows:

Hon. H. H. Hinds, of Stanton, while riding a wheel down a hill upon a footpath, came up behind a young girl, struck her, and she was severely injured. Her parents brought suit for damages, but the Montcalm circuit judge directed a verdict for the defendant upon the ground that it was not shown he was guilty of negligence.

An appeal was taken to the supreme court, and Justice Grant has handed down an opinion reversing the finding of the court below. The court holds that a bicycle is a vehicle, and the same laws must apply as to other vehicles. The defendant claimed that the accident was caused by his wheel striking a stone or other obstacle. The court holds that this is not sufficient. It is a rule of the road that if one vehicle attempts to pass another going in the same direction, the driver of the first is responsible for all damages that may occur because the peril is one of his own creation, and one which the driver of the second vehicle has forced upon him. The court holds that Hinds, by riding down a narrow path at the rate of five or six miles per hour, pedestrians being in front of him, was not exercising due care.

Lo, the poor Indian is rapidly passing away. The buffalo, mighty bison of the plains, is almost an extinct species. All efforts to preserve and increase them have failed. The only herd now known to exist is the government's small herd in Yellowstone Park and the one with Buffalo Bill's Wild West, together with one hundred Indians. To the grandchildren of the present generation the Indian and the buffalo will both be but little more than a tradition.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET.

For President,

WILLIAM MCKINLEY, Of Ohio.

For Vice-President,

GARRET A. HOBART, Of New Jersey.

For Representative in Congress, Second District, GEN. GEORGE SPAULDING, Of Monroe.

A vote for Bryan & Sewall is a vote for the continuation of free wool and the debasing of American products.

If Bryan is not in the employ of the silver mine owners he should sue the Chicago Chronicle for slander. That paper makes the challenge.

Bryan was not successful in the law so he took to journalism. Now he seems to be dissatisfied with his second love and is seeking the presidency.

The Bryan & Sewall platform demands the sweeping away of our courts of justice! That alone is enough to secure the refusal of every patriotic American to support it. To do that means anarchy.

You people who have deposited honest, hard-earned dollars in savings banks or other institutions of trust, do you want to have those dollars paid back to you in debased dollars worth only one-half those you deposited? If you do, vote for free silver.

Depression of Spirits

so common in summer-time, accompanied by loss of energy, lack of thought-power, means a deficient supply of nourishment. The vital force is lost. It isn't a question of muscle and sinew, but of resistance and endurance. At any age, but especially in youth, it involves the risk of lung disease. Loss of flesh and a cough are threatening signs.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with the hypophosphites, meets these cases perfectly. It tones up, fattens and strengthens.

In Scott's Emulsion the taste of the oil is fully disguised, making it almost as palatable as milk.

For sale at 50c. and $1.00 by all druggists. SCOTT & BOWNE, Mfg. Chemists, New York

It is useless to argue with a paper whose politics are paid for by mine owners or by anyone else.

Tillman believes that the old state's rights doctrine was not settled by the war, and advocates free silver as a sectional question.

Chairman Hanna of the republican national committee announces that he will have no headquarters, but that he will fight during the campaign in the saddle.

Free trade as enunciated in the Wilson bill, brought a panic and hard times; free silver will bring Black Fridays to the entire nation every day in the year.

Labor was "demonetized" Nov. 9, 1892, through the misrepresentation of the free traders. It should be restored to its former value. That the republican party demands.

Bryan's record of partisan loyalty is without a flaw, yet he reads all the articles of his democratic faith through populist spectacles.—Harper's Weekly. The Weekly is mistaken in its first assertion.

But, deprived of food, what use would be a mountain of gold to man, if he had no means of exchanging it.—Ypsilanti Sentinel.

If he had a mountain of silver, he would be all right, of course, for he could eat it, couldn't he?

Bryan is personally all right, with patriotic motives no doubt, but he is in bad company. The Altgeld's, the Tillman's and their followers are the ones he will be indebted to if he is made president, and they and not he will rule the country. That's a bad fact for Bryan's friends to contend with.

No one had made arrangements to pay for the free silver convention expenses at St. Louis last week and it looked at one time as if Charlie Towne's silver voice would have to be coined up into 53 cent dollars to meet the demand, but the hat was finally passed and sufficient nickles secured to save it.

To tell the truth about this free silver business is to say that it is a scheme, which has been shrewdly worked by the silver mine owners, to furnish a market for the silver they mine. It is a dishonest scheme and if carried out will make a few very rich and the masses miserably poor. Don't be fooled by it.

A. J. Warner, the great silver club organizer and free silver agitator, gets $10,000 a year. He is paid by Senator Teller and other silver mine owners. The Chicago Chronicle asserts that Bryan is now on the silver miners' payroll. Newspapers are in the pay of these same men. It means many millions to them if they succeed.

"You can better believe I will vote for 16 to 1. It is just what all laboring men want," said one of our free silver advocates to a crowd of politicians the other day. "You see I can work one week, get pay in six gold dollars and exchange each of them for sixteen silver dollars. Ninety-six dollars a week; how does that hit you?" A. V. Smith will vouch for the truth of the statement. He heard it.—Bellevue Gazette.

"Down with the National Banks," is one of the Democratic war cries. And yet it is a fact that Sewall, the candidate for Vice-President, is president of the National Bank at Bath, Maine. "Down with monopolists," is another watchword. Sewall is a millionaire ship builder, and has for years tried to be a monopolist not only on land, but on the water, for he is largely interested in vessels. He is a millionaire, and the Democratic management is willing to forgive his being a plutocrat, providing he taps the barrel.—Hudson Post.

Will free silver open any new markets for the American farmer?

Is it the quality of the dollar that makes it difficult for some people to get it?

Will the government raise the salary of its employes when free silver debases the currency in which those employes are paid?

Will free silver furnish a market for the farmer's wool? cereals? potatoes, fruits or any of his products? If so, how?

Will free silver put an extra dollar in the wagger earner's hand to pay the extra amount required to buy his necessities with? In other words, will it inflate the wagger earner's salary?

The question can be answered in advance: NO.

Price, the millionaire Baking Powder man, writes as follows: "Send me a dozen boxes of Gesslers Magie Headache Wafers. I would not want them for all the world. They are the best cure for Headaches I have ever found and leave no bad after effects. If you have a headache you cannot afford to be without them." They are guaranteed to cure or your money refunded. A. E. Mummery, your druggist, will tell you there are none half so good. Price reduced to 25 cents per box.

At Louisville, Ky., the sound money democrats have perfected an organization to wield its influence against Bryan & Sewall.

In Minnesota the anti-Bryan democrats have met and organized and have announced "no support for a populist nominee and platform."

John D. Rockefeller, the oil millionaire, of Chicago, has presented the city of Cleveland with $600,000 for park purposes. Good for Cleveland and good for Rockefeller.

The Coxeyites, at Washington, D. C., held an enthusiastic ratification meeting, and declared unequivocally for Bryan & Sewall. Carl Browne, the famous Coxey lieutenant, was the leader.

At Grand Rapids a conference of anti-populist democrats was held last Thursday, and a manifesto issued repudiating the Chicago platform and ticket. It was signed by ninety of the most prominent democrats of that city and county.

Once again; the only advocates of monometalism in this country are the free silver advocates. The republican party advocate and believe in the free use of both gold, silver, copper and paper as money. Don't be deceived by the glittering generalities and silvery assertions of the Bryanites.

You who have worked and saved and struggled to keep your life insurance paid up so that you can leave your family something in the event of your death, or have something in later years for yourself, do you want the amount to be paid shrunken to one-half of what you have been paying for? If so, vote for free silver.

Four years ago the democrats fooled the people by the cry of dear tin dinner pails, and the dinner pail has been empty ever since. Now the cry has changed from taxed tin to free silver, and if they fool the people again it will be even worse than before, for the country is not as well prepared to stand disaster as it was four years ago, when things were prosperous.

The silver mine owners have bought up a job lot of traveling street fakirs and sent them out around the country to preach free silver to the crowds they attract on the street corners. Quite appropriate to have a fake advocated by fakirs. But our people will remember the tin peddler fakirs of four years ago, and be slow to bite on another such "head I win tail you lose game."

A German from Wisconsin, who attempted to speak in the so-called silver convention at St. Louis last week, was howled and hissed down, and insulted. He was given to understand that his room was better than his company, and that "all Germans were gold-bugs anyway." They are nearly all sound money men, that's true, and this fellow got served just right for going off after strange gods.

The total coinage of silver dollars from the first coinage in 1792 up to January 1, 1873, was $8,045,838. The total coinage of silver dollars from January 1, 1873, to January 1, 1895, was $422,426,794! And a good many silver dollars have been coined since the latter date. And this is what the free silverites call "demonetization," is it? It is, and it is no more ridiculous than most of their other contentions.

He who would array any one class of American citizens against another is a traitor to his country. The great men of our nation almost universally come from the farm or work shop, and it is the only great nation on the face of the earth today where such a thing is possible. The masses rule the nation by furnishing its great leaders. McKinley and Hobart are each specimens of what the masses give this nation, and it is altogether probably that Bryan boasts of no "blue blood in his veins, though his running mate Sewall may do so. Therein lies the safety of the republic. When a war between classes is forced on this country it will result as history tells us it has resulted everywhere else. The common people will be the sufferers. He who advocates a war of classes is an enemy to the republic.

Forty of the most prominent democrats of southeastern Iowa have united in a declaration of hostility to the Chicago ticket. They say: "The action of the recent convention of our party at Chicago has proved a great disappointment. It nominated for president a man who in sentiment is more a populist than a democrat, and who has used his voice and influence in Nebraska to destroy the democratic organization there, and to merge it into the populist party. For vice-president it nominated a well-known lobbyist at Washington for bounties to ship builders and an outspoken protectionist." After reciting the fact that the platform repudiates the public debt, and seeks to place this country on a basis of China and Mexico, it asserts that "it is the platform of populists," and not democrats and refuses to support it.

My Nerves

Nerves are weak, many people say, and yet they do not seem to know that they are literally starving their nerves. Weak, pale, thin blood cannot give proper sustenance—that is why you are nervous, tired, exhausted. The cure for this condition is to purify, vitalize and enrich your blood. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla fairly and faithfully, and the rich, red blood, which it makes, will soon feed the nerves the elements of true strength they require; they will cease their agitation and will resume their proper place—being under the control instead of controlling the brain and body. Read Miss Bartley's letter:

"I want to express my gratitude for what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. My health has been very poor for three years, due to trouble with my

Kidneys

I was nervous, had pains in my back. I cannot tell what I suffered. My eyesight became affected and I was so dependent I did not have any interest in life. I had two physicians, but my complaints became worse. I was told that I was affected with Bright's disease. A relative urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I did so and in a short time I began to notice a change in my condition. Things began to appear brighter, my eyes improved and Sec'y Hoke Smith, the man who has so relentlessly pursued the union soldier pensioner for the past three years, says that although he believes that free silver coinage would work untold ruin upon the people of the nation in all sections, yet he hates the republican party that whipped the rebels so mercilessly in their great rebellion against this union of states and against humanity, that his paper, the Atlanta Journal, will advocate Bryan's election, although "protesting against the platform." A great hater, is Hoke. Those who credited him with belonging to the new South, didn't know him.

Who are the leaders of this silver craze? Tillman, Daniel, Jones, Harris, Vest, Cockerell, Blackburn, Mills, Bland, of the South, each and every one an ex-confederate; and Altgeld, Hinrichsen, Pennoyer, Waite, of the North, and others of that sort. On the other side will be found such men as McKinley—whose name the world over is a synonym for stalwart Americanism; Harrison—one of the very best presidents the United States ever had; Reed, Depew, Allison, Thurston, Alger, Foraker, and so on among the republicans; and among the democrats such men as President Cleveland, Secretary Carlisle, Senator Hill, Hon. Don M. Dickinson, and hosts of others of the best element of that party. Into the hands of which set of men mentioned would you care to trust your interests?

SEEDS OF HEALTH.

Eating the wrong things, and too much of them at the wrong time, gives the stomach and the other digestive organs too much to do—gives them work that they cannot be expected to do. Such things prevent the free and regular action of the bowels, bring sick headaches, biliousness, kidney troubles, restless sleep, lassitude, nervousness, and plant the seeds of disease in all parts of the body. Health comes just as easy as disease. It grows up from those little sugar-coated seeds of health—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are for nothing in the world but to keep the bowels regular, the stomach free from gas and fermentation, and the liver active.

They go about their business without making any fuss. They are very gentle in their action and cause no griping, or other unpleasantness. They do not take the place of Nature—they merely help her. No one ever becomes a slave to their use. When the digestive action becomes regular and vigorous—stop taking the "Pellets." When you have eaten too much—take one. When constipation shows itself and headache begins—take the "Pellets" for a day or two. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—it's an easy name to remember. Don't let a designing druggist talk you into "something just as good." He makes more money on the "just as good" kind. That's why he would rather sell them. That's why you had better not take them.

Hutzel's Water Back!

A very important invention which will be hailed with delight by every body using a stove or range for hot water circulation. After years of experience we have succeeded in producing a simple and perfect WATER BACK.

It overcomes all the present troubles of extracting lime and other sediments which accumulate in water backs, often making them useless and in great many instances becoming dangerous.

The outlay of dollars is reduced to dimes. No household using a range can afford to be without it.

No more trouble by using city water for hot water circulation.

Can be used in any stove. Ask your stove dealer for Hutzel's Water Back.

Mason & Davis Co's. ranges for sale at C. Eberbach are provided with our improvement.

Everybody call and examine this useful invention.

GROSS MISREPRESENTATION.

It is misrepresentation quite as much as anything else that is boosting along this unhealthy and diseased idea of free silver.

The advocates of that doctrine tell people that if the republicans are successful it means the use of gold alone as a circulating medium, and that silver will be thrown out, and many who do not know any better believe it.

The success of the republican party means the letting alone of our national money just as it is, having gold, silver, paper, nickel and copper as the money of this country, but the success of the democratic party means the use of silver only as money, with, for convenience perhaps, an issue of silver certificates in paper. The $600,000,000 of gold now in circulation; all the national bank currency in circulation—consisting of many millions more, all the treasury notes based on coin—several more millions—will drop out of circulation as quick as a bird shot through the heart with a bullet.

And then—and then comes the crash!
In which crash the poor man, the man who is attempting to carry on business, to build up a manufacturing enterprise; to save a few dollars for his family for a rainy day; or perhaps to pay for a little home,—he is the man who will go to the wall, go down in the dust; lose all he has saved, be ruined as completely as was the temple of Solomon.

It will not be the capitalists who will suffer, but the great masses of wage earners, of working men, of clerks, of those who live on a salary paid them for their labor—both in the country and the city.

The farmer who thinks he will be the gainer will be quite as likely to lose all he has, and there are ten chances to one that the hated man who has been smart enough to become a capitalist will become the owner of the farm.

It is not only a dangerous thing to change the basis of our monetary system, but a wicked thing to do, because it will entail so much ruin and suffering.

The populist, the socialist, the anarchist, who believe that the world owes every man a living, whether he works for it or not, are rejoiced in which they, having nothing now, may be landed on the crest of the wave to place and power.

If you, my good, law-abiding friend, want such a state of affairs you can have it by voting for free silver next November.

The republican party, with a protective tariff, had no "endless chain" debt. But just as long as a tariff for revenue continues to be the prevailing policy of this government, just so long we shall have that endless chain. All the free silver coinage in the world would not stop it, though it might transfer it from the government to the individual. The only thing to do is to restore the laws and the conditions to the republican policy under which this nation prospered as no other nation ever did, for 20 years.

A CORPORATION ATTORNEY.

Bryan a Missouri Pacific Lawyer
in Nebraska.

Some little surprise will doubtless be caused among the friends of William J. Bryan, candidate of the nondescript convention at Chicago, who do not already know of it, on learning that he has been for some time a paid employe of a very large and rich corporation.
This corporation is the Missouri Pacific railroad company. Mr. Bryan, in the intervals of his Populistic and free silver rhetoric, finds time to act as assistant attorney in the state of Nebraska, under General Attorney B. Waggener, of the Missouri Pacific.

A representative of the legal department of the Missouri Pacific railroad company was seen by a Sun reporter yesterday and questioned as to the boy orator's connection with the company.
He said:

"Mr. Bryan has been in our employ for some time, just how long I cannot tell you. His office of assistant state attorney is not an important one. In fact, I did not know until within a day or two, when my attention was called to it, that Mr. Bryan held an office in this company. Some of his utterances would seem to me incompatible with conscientious service in a railway corporation."

"Has any word been received here indicating an intention on his part to resign his office?" asked the reporter.
"Not that I am aware of," replied the lawyer, and I should probably have heard of his resignation had it been sent in."

It is not to much to say that the Missouri Pacific railroad company is not Populistic in its nature and trend.
The president is Mr. George J. Gould.
One of the heavy stockholders is Russell Sage. Many of Mr. Bryan's most ardent supporters have said harsh things about "money kings," "souless corporations," ringing the changes on these phrases with no little ardor. No doubt it will grieve them to be forced to a realization of the fact that their candidate is an employe of these gentlemen: that, in fact, their clay idol's feet are gold.

But they are not without a crumb of comfort. One of the vital principles of Populistic ethics is to get all that is possible out of the capitalist and the corporation. Mr. Bryan has been faithful to this principle. He has drawn his salary regularly.—New York Sun.

WHO SEWALL IS.

Last week we did not know who Sewall, the Popocrat candidate for vice-president was. Since then the telegraph has informed the country, and here it is:
He is the richest man in Maine.
His wealth is estimated at $5,000,000 or $6,000,000.

He is president of the American shipping league, an ironclad and copper-fastened trust of ship builders and owners.

He is president and owner of the national bank of Bath, Me.

He is a large owner of stock in national banks at Portland and Boston.

He is ex-president and is now one of the directors of the Maine Central railway company, described as the most grasping and powerful railway corporation in New England.

He is stockholder and director in nearly every corporate monopoly in the state of Maine and in many other New England corporations.

He is a lumber baron and saw logging.

He is proprietor of the biggest shipyard in New England.

He is a typical capitalist, monopolist,
lobbyist and plutocrat.

KAFFIR KOLA EXTRACT

Is the Greatest Remedy and Cure of the 19TH CENTURY

It is an extract made from the juice of the nut of the Sacred Kola tree of South Africa. Used by the Kaffirs and Zulus in their tribes for many generations as a positive cure for all nervous diseases in man or woman, from any cause; dyspepsia; constipation;
kidney and bladder ailments, and diseased liver. It cures rheumatism and blood affections. We are the sole agents for the United States for this wonderful extract. As a guaranty we return the price paid to the person having used one third bottle and not being benefited thereby. Price $1.00, enough for a full month's treatment, and in ordinary cases enough for a cure. Ask for it at druggists,

SIXTEEN TO ONE WHAT IT MEANS.

"What is the meaning of all this talk about free coinage and sixteen to one?" This question was put by a Western farmer to the cashier of his bank. The reply was:—"Why, John, it means in this part of the country there are sixteen fools to one man of sense."

Farmers are not the only persons who are asking this question. Letters are every day received by the Herald from otherwise intelligent men of various occupations requesting a plain explanation of the phrase "sixteen to one."

Although most readers are thoroughly familiar with the controversy, it may be well to briefly outline the facts for the benefit of those who are only now awakening to its importance. The pure silver in the big dollar weighs about sixteen times as much as the pure gold in the gold dollar. The exact weights are 23.22 grains of gold and 371.25 grains of silver. Hence "sixteen to one."

When the mint was founded Hamilton and Jefferson agreed that a pound of gold was worth in the markets about fifteen pounds of silver, and accordingly the ratio for the coinage at first was made fifteen to one. Anybody could bring as much of either metal as he pleased to the mints and have it stamped into coins. This free or unlimited coinage of both metals is called bimetalism, and the country was said to have a double standard of values. The bullion in either dollar was intrinsically worth as much before being coined as it was afterward, but the government's mint stamp was a guarantee of the weight and fineness of the metal and made it a legal tender.

Subsequently it was found that fifteen pounds of silver were not worth as much as a pound of gold, and in order to conform to the relative market value of the metals Congress decided that the silver dollar should thereafter weigh sixteen times as much as the gold dollar. In doing this Congress went to the other extreme and put too low an estimate on silver. The European nations composing the Latin Union made their coinage ratio fifteen and one-half to one, and the owner of silver here would not exchange sixteen pounds of it for one pound of gold because he could obtain the same thing in Europe for fifteen and a half pounds of his silver. In other words, the quantity of silver in a dollar was worth more than one hundred cents. Consequently holders of silver bullion ceased to send it to the United States mints and the silver dollars previously coined were hoarded.

When the mint laws were revised in 1873 the provision for the free coinage of silver dollars was dropped. This attracted little attention at the time because none of these dollars had been in circulation for a generation; and, in fact, only eight millions of them in all had been coined from the foundation of the government up to that time. Owing to the discovery of new mines the world's production of silver began to steadily increase, and the price consequently began to decline, and the European nations were in self-defence compelled to close their mints against further free coinage of the depreciated metal. While silver was high the mine owners cared nothing about the mint, but when it got so low that a pound of gold would buy seventeen pounds of silver in the market these gentlemen began to clamor for a restoration of the privilege of selling to the American people, through the mint, at the old ratio of sixteen to one. It was then that they discovered that the act of 1873 was a "crime."

As a concession to them the Bland law was passed, under which nearly four hundred million silver dollars were coined, the Treasury, however, buying the bullion for this purpose at its market value. In 1890 the Sherman law was passed, compelling the Treasury to buy 140 tons of silver every month and issue notes in payment. This produced the panic of 1893, and was then repealed. As a result of these laws we have coined or issued nearly six hundred million dollars of silver. Despite all these purchases by the Treasury the price of silver steadily fell. To-day it takes about thirty pounds of silver to buy a pound of gold, but the free coinage advocates demand that the government—that is to say, the people—shall take sixteen pounds of silver as the equivalent of a pound of gold. When the 371½ grains of silver that go to make a big dollar were worth more than a hundred cent the mine owners sold their product in Europe. Now that 371½ grains are worth about fifty-three cents they insist that the government shall stamp it into a dollar and shall open the mints to all the silver in the world at this ratio of "sixteen to one."—Copied by permission, from the New York Herald, July 2, 1896.

GREENBACKISM, FIATISM, SILVERISM.

In a special letter to the Courier, Henry Clews, the great New York financier, gives this excellent exposition of the three isms given above:

The greenback craze twenty years ago had many features in common with the silver furor of the present day. It appealed to the weak spots in human nature, and its crafty managers played upon the feelings and prejudices of the working man, and the artisans, and the skilled laborers particularly, who are very easily persuaded that they are greatly underpaid for their services. The promises of abundance of money and higher wages with employment for everybody willing to work, were the alluring baits held out to every man who had a vote. How the fiat money was to be got into circulation after it left the printing press was a part of the subject too remote for inquiry, or was regarded as an impertinent question presumably put by a hard money crank. The idea of something for nothing always appeals forcible to the imagination of those who have had to struggle for every dollar they have obtained.

So far as the fiat money is concerned, the enterprise of the old greenbackers had some points of superiority to that of the modern silverites. In the latter case, it is part fiat and part intrinsic value; and the Solons of the modern silverites propose to create an inverted pyramid, and expect the lower part to sustain the entire weight of the top-heavy structure. The scheme of the old greenbacker was more scientific; for he made the nation at large a base of his pyramid, leaving illimitable space for its height even to the moon and the stars.

There are some interesting points in the parallel between the financial managers, the men with the "boodle" who ran the greenback Utopia, and those who are now supplying the sinews of war for the promised land of silver in prospect.

Peter Cooper was easy of approach and had a ready ear for every tale of woe. Upon this weakness the crafty tricksters, the needy agents who attended to his canvass, played with never-failing success. It was pitiable to see, as an eye-witness of some of those scenes during the greenback campaign has told me, the grand old man being fleeced by those political harpies through the relation of some story of distress in the West, until the check was forthcoming to relieve it.

Jones of Nevada, I am told, is very similar in his yielding propensities to Peter Cooper, and will "give up" quite as easily, with this difference that he may become utterly oblivious afterwards as to where it has gone, or to whom he has given it.

It is said that Silver King Stewart is almost of the same stripe as his royal brother Jones. I allude to these facts in no unfriendly spirit, but simply to show the enticing field that is open to modern adventurers in politics; these parasites of the Silver Kings whose great anxiety is to make use of the unlimited resources of the millionaires for their selfish purposes.

But, seriously speaking, though the silver movement has cut a broader swath than the greenback adventure, yet when the wind gets out of it, after the Convention, it will be found that it has very little more of the quality of durability in it than the older scheme of inflation.

The solid educational campaign tried the old scheme, and found it sadly wanting. The balloon collapsed long before November, 1876; and the scheming adventurers retired into private life, leaving their candidates in the consumption, with the memory of a few months' excitement, and sad wailings over departed cash.

This historic analogy in finance and politics will, in all probability, preserve its parallelism to the end of the chapter. McKinley will undoubtedly be elected, in which event the gold standard will be maintained; our international credit will be sustained, our securities will find strong holders both at home and abroad, panic will be averted, and a boom will be inaugurated, not only in Wall Street, but throughout our broad land, with which no old-time revival can compare in point of prosperity.

THE "ST. JO GAZETTE."

BY EUGENE FIELD.

When I help 'em run the local on the "St. Jo Gazette,"
I was upon familiar terms with every one I met;
For "items" were my stock in trade in that my callow time.
Before my muses tempted me to try my hand at rhyme—
Before I found in verses
Those soothing, gracious mercies, Less practical, but much more glorious than a well-filled purse is
A votary of Mammon, I hustled round and sweet
And helped 'em run the local on the "St. Jo Gazette."

The labors of the day began at half-past eight
A. M.
For farmers came in early, and I had to tackle them;
And many a noble bit of news I managed to acquire
By those discreet attentions which all farmer-folk admire.
With my daily commentary
On affairs of farm and dairy,
The tone of which anon with subtle pufferies
I'd vary—
Oh, many a peck of apples and of peaches did I get
When I helped 'em run the local on the "St. Jo Gazette."

Dramatic news was scarce, but when a minstrel show was due,
Why, Milton Toole's opera house was then my rendezvous;
Judge Grubb would give me points about the latest legal case,
And Dr. Runcie let me print his sermons when I'd space
Of fever, fractures, humors, Contusions, fits, and tumors.
Would Dr. Hall or Dr. Braines confirm or nail the rumors?
From Colonel Dawes what railroad news there was I used to get—
When I helped 'em run the local on the "St. Jo Gazette."

For "personals" the old Pacific House was just the place—
Pap Abell knew the pedigrees of the human race;
And when he'd gin up all he had, he'd drop a subtle wink,
And lead the way where one might wet one's whistle with a drink.
Those drinks at the Pacific,
When days were sportive,
Where what Parisians (pray excuse my French) would call "magnifique;"
And frequently an invitation to a meal I'd get
When I helped 'em run the local on the "St. Jo Gazette."

And when in rainy weather news was scarce as well as slow,
To Saxou's bank or Hopkins' store for items would I go.
The jokes which Colonel Saxon told were old, but good enough
For local application in lieu of better stuff;
And when the ducks were flying,
Or the fishing well worth trying—
Gosh! but those "sports" at Hopkins' stor could beat the world a-lying!
And I— I printed all their yarns, though not without regret.
When I helped 'em run the local on the "St. Jo Gazette."

For squibs political I'd go to Col. Waller Young,
Or Col. James N. Burnes, the "statesman with the silver tongue,"
Should some old pioneer take sick and die, why, then I'd call
On Frank M. Hessegate for the "life" and poeagete knew 'em all.
Lou Tullar used to pony
Up descriptions that were tony
Of toilets worn at party ball, or conversation;
For the ladies were addicted to the style called "deckolett."
When I helped 'em run the local on the "St. Jo Gazette."

So was I wont my daily round of labor to pursue
And when came night I found that there was still more work to do—
The telegraph to edit, yard and yards of proof to read,
And reprint to be gathered to supply the printers' greed.
Oh, but it makes agility,
Combined with versatility,
To run a country daily with appropriate ability!
There never was a smarter lot of editors, I'll bet,
Than we who whooped up local on the "St. Jo Gazette."

Yes, maybe it was irksome; maybe a discontent
Rebellious rose amid the toil I daily underwent
If so, I don't remember; this only do I know—
My thoughts turn ever fondly to that time in old St. Jo.
The years that speed so fleetly
Have blotted out completely
All else that which still remains to solace me so sweetly.
The friendship of that time,—ah, me! they are as precious yet
As when I was a local on the "St. Jo Gazette."

This basin he fills with boiling water, which kills every worm in the roots and lower portion of the trunk, and does not injure the tree.

A Y. M. C. A. brass band is now being agitated. The boys think they have the wind to run it with all right.

The rain and electric storm Sunday night and Monday morning was a wild one. The water came down in torrents, and the lightning was incessant.

W. B. Phillips, G. G. Stimson, J. E. Benz and H. G. VanTuyt, chairman of the state committee of the Y. M. C. A., will go to Chelsea next Sunday to hold a number of meetings.

The Ann Arbor Riflers at a meeting last night decided to build a float representing the Goddess of Liberty to precede the company in the parade on German day, Aug. 27. It will be well done.

Marshall Field has given Chicago $2,000,000 with which to build and equip the Marshall Field Museum, etc. As Field made his money in Chicago, he very generously devotes a share of his fortune to the city that made him. A hint to citizens of other cities of lesser note.

Night lighter than day is said to be a literal fact at the evening performances of Buffalo Bill's Wild West. There are 20,000 seats for the spectators, each of which commands a clear, unobstructed view of every foot of the arena, and every feature of the marvelous performances.

The barn on a farm belonging to Jas. L. Babcock, in the north-east corner of Superior, was struck by lightning Sunday night and burned up. Insured in the Washtenaw Mutual Fire Ins. Co. for $250. Wm. Duncan, who lives on the farm had $400 insurance in the same company on the contents. Which was a total loss.

William T. Whedon, lit '81 son of W. W. Whedon, has blossomed out as a musical composer. It is a polka entitled "Leploe," and when played as a piccolo solo at a band concert last week in Norwood, Mass., all the people with musical ears rose up and called for more, off the same peice, that is they called for it with their mouths and not their ears.

The Summer Normal opened last Monday with about sixty students in attendance, a much larger number than last year. The instructors are Ex-School Commissioner M. J. Cavanaugh, Prof. M. A. Cobb, of Ypsilanti, and Miss Cecelia Brennan, of the Chicago schools, who has charge of the Grammar topic, and also of Kindergarten work.

Fred G. Schleicher has sold his house on Detroit st., between Kingsley and Division sts., to Dr. H. J. Pearson, of West Milton, Ohio. Dr. Pearson will take possession at once and enter upon the active practice of his profession. The doctor is a successful practitioner of many years' experience. The Times is glad to welcome Dr. Pearson to our city and hopes that his residence among us may be pleasant and profitable. The transfer of realty was made through the Bach & Butler agency.—Daily Times.

Here is news for Ann Arbor people. Bryan's only opponent for the nomination on the Populist ticket at St. Louis was an Ann Arbor boy. Seymour F. Norton, of Chicago, received 321 votes by Bryan's 1042. Norton lived with his parents over in the Fifth ward for several years early in the sixties and received his education in our public schools and in the University. In 1867 he graduated from the law department of the University. He has been a faithful and popular attorney in the Windy City for many years besides taking a prominent position in his party's councils. In the recent convention at St. Louis it was only the fact that strenuous attempts were made to cause a stampede to Bryan that made Norton's vote so small.

The finest building on the campus, when it is completed, will be the finest gymnasium in the entire country, and it will have cost the tax-payers of Michigan not one cent. This building is a magnificent affair, and will furnish to the young women students as well as the young men, a thorough and complete physical training, which many of them, especially the diligent students, need so much. Taking this building and the various gifts the university has received in the way of books, scholarships, art works, museum specimens, etc., etc., and it figures up surprisingly, to say nothing of the $75,000 in cash given at various times, and the land on which the university is located, both the gift of the people of this city, the state has received almost as much as it has appropriated. —Daily Times.

MISSING AN OPPORTUNITY.

Our esteemed contemporary the Hausfreund and Post in commenting upon our opposition to Bryan affirms that we can see it is all up with gold bonds, high per cent. and high taxes. Bro. Dancer will have to guess again, for the Courier has too much confidence in the awakening common sense of the people to think they will much longer endure these hard times brought on by the Wilson bill. Neither are they going to run any chances with debased silver currency. Speaking of gold bonds and high per cents., we are inclined to ask our brother if he ever noticed where money commands the highest interest and where the lowest. The highest interest payments to-day are in the free silver countries of China, Peru and Mexico, while the lowest interest is in England. In Mexico it is from 10% to 20%, but in London it is 2% to 4%, because the latter is on a sure gold basis. Interest is always lowest where the security is strongest. The editorial referred to closes with the statement that the Courier sees the "mene, mene tekel upharsin" on the wall. That's right, we do see it. When the awful warning appeared on the wall of Nebuchadnezzar's palace, it meant the end of his bad reign—that his administration was to be thrown out of power. It means just the same to-day to the misrule of the party in power. They are to be annihilated this fall. Our only regret is that our worthy contemporary is not true enough to the strong instincts of the great German race for sound money. If it had the courage of its true convictions it would come out as a leader just as have the Chicago Staats Zeitung, Abend Post, N. Y. Staats Anzeiger, and most other German papers of wide circulation. The Hausfreund is missing a rare opportunity which it will see before a year comes around.

A question which is greatly agitating the minds of the college boys is, How will the next freshman class be designated? Last year's class was known as the class of '99, but the coming class, which will be graduated in 1900, must go down in history as '00. The two naughts admit of but little opportunity for the oral outbursts so essential to the happiness of the college boy, and, consequently he is filled with consternation as the situation confronts him. Especially is this true of the youngster who has just emerged from preparatory schools, and who hopes to enter upon his college career in the fall. "The class of '00" is too suggestive of innocuous desuetude to suit him, and something must clearly be done to give individuality to the class. One bright young man has suggested that it be known as the class of naughty-naught, and the suggestion is too good to be ignored. There is an aroma of delightful wickedness about the "naughty" which quite condones the objectionable "naught."

We will commence July 28 undoubtedly the greatest bargain sale the people of Ann Arbor ever knew. There are not many goods in this sale, but while they last they will go at great bargains. These are broken sizes from our stock of Fine Shoes accumulated mostly in the past few months. We do not want to ship these goods out of town, would much rather our customers should have them. The State Teachers' Institute for Washtenaw county will be held at Ann Arbor, beginning August 31st, and closing September 27th. Full information may be had on application to W. W. Wedemeyer, Ann Arbor. The institute law allows teachers, whose schools are in session at the time appointed for the county institute held under the direction of the State Superintendent, to close their schools during the continuance of such institute, without forfeiting their wages, for as many half days as they are in attendance at the institute.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

MORE OF THE "CRIME OF 1873."

It is one of the stock complaints of the free silver partisans that the "crime of 1873" is the cause of the depreciation in the price of silver. When the fact is pointed out to them that increased production of silver, like increased production of any other commodity without a correspondingly increased demand for it, necessarily lowers its price, they reply that the trouble in this particular case is the demand and not the supply. They contend that the closing of the mint to the free coinage of silver decreased the demand and thus lowered the price. The obvious answer to this argument, of course, is that a mint, open or closed, can never affect nor create the demand for any metal, be it gold, silver or lead. The demand must come from the people, and the value is dependent on both the supply and demand. The mint merely stamps the metal with a certification that it weighs so much and is of a certain quality. It neither adds to nor takes from the value the metal had before it was stamped.

But obvious answers do not go with people whose minds are poisoned with false logic and appeals to prejudice and supposed self-interest, so it may be worth while at this time to repeat the well-known facts as to the course of silver production and price both before and after the passage of the law of 1873. For eighty-one years, 1792 to 1873, when the United States mint was open to the coinage of free silver, the demand for silver was so great in proportion to the supply that little or none was offered for coinage. It was worth more as bullion than as coin, and what little did happen to get through the mint was promptly melted up again. During that period the price fluctuated, just as it has since, in proportion to the supply, with a gradual downward tendency as the supply increased. In 1855 the world's output of silver was 31,300,000 fine ounces, the average price that year was $1.344 an ounce. In 1865 the output was 39,800,000 ounces, and the average price was $1.338. In 1875 the annual output had reached 62,262,000 ounces, and the price had dropped to $1.248. By 1885 the output jumped to 91,652,000 ounces, and the price fell to $1.0645, while in 1895 the output was 165,000,000 ounces, and the price $0.6549.

During the twenty years from 1855 to 1875 the United States mint was wide open to silver for the greater part of the time, but only a few hundred thousand silver dollars were coined. During the twenty years from 1875 to 1895 the mint was partly open to silver for the greater part of the time, and the whole credit of the government was exerted to maintain the price of the metal, but without avail. It was only when the credit of the government was on the verge of collapse that the effort was given up. In that time 420,000,000 silver dollars were coined, and additional silver bullion to the amount of over 140,000,000 ounces was purchased, which is represented in circulation by Treasury notes. Yet in spite of all this the price of silver has continued to decline as the production has increased.

In 1870 the population of the United States was a little over 38,000,000 persons; in 1890 it was about 70,000,000. In 1870 the total supply of money in the United States was $722,868,461, or a per capita supply of $18.73; but none of this money was coin except a few million dollars in gold on the Pacific Coast. In 1895 the total supply of money was $2,398,290,534, or a per capita supply of $34.32, of which over one-half is gold and silver in about equal proportions. How the "crime of 1873" did contract the money supply!

Andrew Mitchell, the celebrated chemist, formerly professor in chemistry in the University of Michigan, writes: "I have made a careful examination of Gessler's Magle Headache wafers and find them free from Antipyrine, Quinine, Morphine Chloral or any harmful narcotics. I cheerfully recommend them for headache and neuralgia. Physicians and druggists everywhere say they are the only remedy we have ever found that will positively cure where all others failed. 25 cents at A. E. Mummy's."

ONE OF LIFE'S TRAGEDIES.

I found him seated beside the road,
Vacantly staring away into space;
A glistering globe slowly flowed
Down either side of his wan, drawn face.

My heart was touched by the old man's woe
I paused and inquired from whence he came;
Of that which had wounded his feelings so;
Of whether he went and what was his name.

"Alas!" he murmured and deeply sighed,
"Harsh fortune has wrecked me as now you see;
My brain is a-whirl, and of all inside,
But one fact lingereth still with me."

"Tell it," I urged, "and perhaps from that May all of the pages now blank be read,"
He nervously twiddled his old brown hat,
And "I was a Democrat, sir," he said.

FRANK PUTNAM.

MORE BOLTERS.

The Democratic Papers are Making a Great Kick.

Last week the Courier published a list of 110 democratic papers that had declared against the democratic platform and candidates. Since then we notice that one of the papers, the Atlanta, Ga., Journal, has said that it would support Bryan, though protesting against the anarchistic platform he stands on. But to take the place of the Journal here are nineteen more democratic papers which refuse to support either the platform or the candidates:

- Albany, N. Y., Argus.
- Bloomington, Ill., Daily Bulletin.
- Brooklyn Citizen.
- Binghamton, N. Y., Leader.
- Cincinnati, O., Volksfreund.
- Dennison, Tex., Daily Herald.
- Dennison, Tex., Sunday Gazetteer.
- Eastern Argus.
- La Fayette, Ind. Journal.
- Milwaukee, Wis., Seebote.
- Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser.
- Mendota, Ill., Register.
- Minden, Ct., Journal.
- Milford, Mass., Times.
- New London Morning Telegraph.
- Nashville, Tenn., American.
- Providence, Me., Bulletin.
- Windham, Mass., Reformer.
- Wabash, Ind., Times.

Of the lists already published 39 are from southern states, representing the best papers in the south, and 12 are German, these two being added to last week's list:

- Buffalo, N. Y., Demokrat.
- Cincinnati, der Volksfreund.

GREAT ARE THE GAUCHOS

The Wild West show is coming this way, led by that famous scout, frontiersman, and hero of the plains and prairies, Buffalo Bill, Col. W. F. Cody is universally known. The Wild West exhibition has been conducted with honor and success and with tremendous patronage all over Europe, in 1893 at the World's Fair in Chicago, and last year in New York City for a season of six months. It has brought together to compete for equestrian prowess most of the races and types of the world's most celebrated and remarkable horsemen. Col. Cody and his indefatigable partner, Nate Salisbury, have not been content with reproducing the stirring scenes and incidents of frontier life, and in assembling in friendly rivalry Cowboys, Indians, Vaqueros, and Cossacks, but they have gone farther afield in their search for living exemplifications of modern methods of equitation. Among the latest additions are Gauchos from the distant pampas of South America, which has contributed a band of wild riders from the llanos of the Argentine Republic. The Gaucho differs in many respects from the other rough riders of the only partially civilized sections of the earth. He is the production of a peculiar scheme of existence and of savage conditions of life that obtain in no part of the world save on the boundless prairies of the North and the limitless llanos of South America. From the Gaucho's earliest infancy the half-wild horses of his native plains have been inseparably associated with his daily doings. At an age when the English or American child is learning to stand on his feet without the assistance of his nurse, the infant Gaucho is being taught by its fond mother to balance himself on the backs of colts of the herd. At four years of age he has learned to ride the wildest colt that roams the pampas, and henceforth he is to all intents and purposes an integral portion of the animal he bestrides, no more to be dismounted against his will than if he and the horses were really parts of one creature. No wonder, therefore that the Gaucho is a horseman of remarkable dexterity in the management of his four-legged friend and servant. The Gauchos are reputed to be the most expert lassoers in the world. Their skill in the use of the bolas is almost beyond belief. This instrument consists of a number of rawhide thongs fastened to a central thong, and with an iron ball at each end. The Gaucho can hurl this at a flying horse or ostrich from a distance of sixty feet, and cause it to be inextricably entangled about the legs and bring the victim helplessly to ground. This rather than the lasso is the favorite weapon in capturing wild animals or fighting in war. It will be understood, therefore, from this brief description of their peculiarities, that they are a novel acquisition to the many other novelties of the Wild West exhibition. Together with the other rough riders of the show they form a contrast to the trained, but none the less skillful, horseman furnished by several of the world's great military nations, including the big cavaliers of France, Germany, Russia, England, and the United States, all of whom will be represented in the vast arena of the Wild West show, which is to appear on Monday, Aug. 3d.

Battle Ax Plug

A woman knows what a bargain really is. She knows better than a man. "BATTLE AX" is selected every time by wives who buy tobacco for their husbands. They select it because it is an honest bargain. It is the biggest in size, the smallest in price, and the best in quality. The 5 cent piece is almost as large as the 10 cent piece of other high grade brands.

The Democratic Bolters.

The number of individual Democrats and Democratic papers that have bolted the Chicago convention and platform is constantly on the increase. Early last week a list of 80 such papers was published and others have been added since then. A few of them support McKinley, but most of them advocate the calling of another Democratic convention. The list includes 22 southern and 17 western papers, among the latter being the Chicago Chronicle, Abend Post and Staats Zeitung, the Davenport, Iowa, Democrat, Detroit Free Press, Lansing Journal, LaCrosse, Wis., Chronicle, Milwaukee Journal, Minneapolis Times, St. Paul Globe and St. Louis Anseiger.

The list of individual Democrats in Detroit who repudiate the platform and ticket includes such prominent party men as G. V. N. Lothrop and his sons, John G. Hawley, T. P. Hall, Robt. T. Gray, S. L. Smith, Wm. B. Jackson, W. J. Gray, Sidney T. Miller, Postmaster John J. Enright, R. W. Gillett, and many others. Some of their utterances are quite pointed, as for instance: John G. Hawley: "I think very badly of the Chicago convention. It violated all the historic traditions of the Democratic party, and went over, body and breeches to the Populists and anarchists."

Cyrus G. Lothrop: "I think that I speak the sentiments of the whole family when I say that we cannot vote the Democratic ticket on the platform adopted at Chicago. We want nothing to do with that crowd or their ruinous policy. I hope to see the Democrats defeated in every state in the union."

Wm. J. Gray: "Neither the candidates nor the platform will do at all. I cannot support either one."

Robert T. Gray: "Get the strongest denunciation of the platform and ticket that you can find and credit it to me."

James D. May: "I don't blame the Free Press for bolting. Every respectable Democratic paper in the country is doing the same thing."

Wm. B. Jackson: "I cannot accept the fallacy of the free silver doctrine in the Democratic party. I cannot vote the Democratic ticket on that basis."

S. L. Smith: "I do not think the Democratic platform is sound Democratic principle and I do not purpose to vote for it."

Postmaster Enright: "I would not, on such a platform vote, for Thos. Jefferson if among us."

T. P. Hall: "The tariff question is not the issue, neither is it the silver craze, for that is but a stepping stone to something worse, the utter destruction of free institutions. These revolutionists are striking at the very foundations of society."

These local utterances may very properly be supplemented by one from Jas. H. Eckles, controller of the currency: "The larger the contribution of Democratic votes to the defeat of the Chicago nominee the better in the end for the Democratic party."

Legal Tender Functions of Coin and Paper
 Gold coin is a legal tender in all payments, without any limit as to amount. The silver dollar of 1792, 1837 and 1878 is a full legal tender to any amount. The trade dollar was a legal tender to the amount of five dollars, but has no legal tender qualifications now. All fractional silver coin now minted is a legal tender to the amount of $10. Minor coin is a legal tender to the amount of 25 cents.

United States notes ("greenbacks") are a legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private, except for duties on imports and interest on the public debt. Gold certificates are not a legal tender, but may be issued in payment of interest on the public debt, and are receivable in payment for customs, taxes and all public dues. Silver certificates are not a legal tender, but are receivable for customs, taxes and all public dues. Currency certificates are not a legal tender for any purpose, but may be counted as part of the lawful money reserve of banks, and may be accepted in the settlement of clearing house balances.

United States treasury notes of 1890 are a legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private, and are receivable for customs, taxes, and all public dues. They may be counted as a part of the lawful reserves of the banks, and are redeemable in gold or silver coin in the discretion of the secretary of the treasury.

National bank notes are not a legal tender except that they are receivable for all dues to the United States, except duties on imports, and for all debts and demand owing by the United States, except interest on the public debt and in redemption of the national currency. Each national bank is required to receive at par, for any debt or liability to it, the notes of every other national bank.

One of the assertions with which the campaign liar is attempting to deceive the ignorant is that the silver dollars are not legal tender beyond the amount of $10. The truth is they are legal tender to any amount. It is only upon the subsidiary coinage that the restriction as to amount of legal tender is placed.

Voters will remember that as party lines are drawn this year free silver and free trade go together. The voter cannot be too often reminded of the tariff plank in the Chicago platform, which proposes to perpetuate the Wilson tariff schedule and emphasizes the theory that "tariff duties should be levied solely for purposes of revenue."

Just what the debtor class hope to gain by establishing free coinage and giving the mine owners a dollar for 53 cents worth of silver is not apparent.

The Farmers and the Tariff

There is probably no class of men in the country, not even the manufacturers, who have suffered more during the past four years on account of threatened and accomplished changes in the tariff than have the farmers. The threat of modifying the tariff, on free trade lines, commenced its mischievous work as soon as the result of the election in 1892 was known. From that time on the agitation of the subject was a constant menace and a disturbance to business of all kinds, until the passage of the Wilson-Gorman act completed the destructive work. The farmers have suffered in two ways. In the first place the paralysis of general business, and especially of manufacturing, has diminished the consuming power of the country so that the home market is nowheres near as good as it was in the prosperous times of 1892. In the next place the Wilson tariff gave unfair advantage to the farmers and wool growers of other countries. These are the main causes of the present low prices of farm products. A third cause, which applies particularly to wheat, is the opening up of new territory in the Argentine Republic and in Russia, and the improved means of transportation by which their surplus can be taken to the European markets. The last named cause is beyond our reach. The other two can be remedied by the voters at the next election. What the farmer needs more than anything else is to have the tariff question settled on the protective policy and settled for a life time, so thoroughly settled that he will have time to raise and market a crop before the question is again agitated—time to grow a flock of sheep and get some benefit from them before the tariff on wool is again taken off. There is one way and only one to accomplish all this and that is to elect McKinley president with a good Republican majority in congress. But multiplying words on the subject is superfluous. The whole case was succinctly stated in a single sentence by Mr. McKinley himself in a recent speech, in which he said, "What this country needs is to get back to that policy that will give us work and wages."

What is Free Coinage?
 A good many inquiries are made of the newspapers as to exactly what free and unlimited coinage of silver means. It means that any one, citizen or foreigner, individual or corporation, may take bullion, old spoons or foreign coin worth 53 cents, and have it coined, free of cost, into a dollar with a debt-paying power of 100 cents. The word unlimited means that there should be no restriction as to the amount of silver thus coined, and the word independent, often used in this connection, means that this government proposes to try that experiment without reference to what any other nation is doing. Under the Bland act the government purchased bullion in open market and coined 2,000,000 silver dollars per month and made whatever profit there was on the coinage. Under the Sherman act it purchased 4,500,000 ounces a month and either coined it or issued silver certificates against it, the profit going to the treasury. Under the plan proposed by the Chicago convention and the free silverites the profit would go, not to the government, but to the individual or corporation that carried the silver to the mint.

Pick the Best Man.
 A number of the county conventions which have already been held have set a good example for those which are to follow in selecting as delegates to the state convention at Grand Rapids, some of the strongest men and most reliable Republicans in their localities. The national convention framed a platform on which the loyal Republicans of Michigan can stand and win, and the national committee has outlined a good general plan for the canvass. But in a campaign where so many attempts are made to break into party lines, and where issues are presented in some new forms we need to bring our best men to the front, both as delegates and as candidates. There will be no equivocation or evasion, we take it, about the platform. There should be wisdom shown in the choice of candidates to make the canvass, and for a starter nothing is better than a routing state convention. Let us have as delegates men of the stamp that gave character to the meeting under the oaks in 1854, and to the honest money convention in Detroit in 1878.

Why the Distinction?
 In a large proportion of the mines now worked in this country silver can be profitably produced at 60 cents an ounce, and it is now selling at a trifle over 69 cents. The free coinage people propose that the government shall take this silver, and by coining it, give it a purchasing or debt-paying power to the owner of $1.29. Who gets the benefit? Not the government as it did under the old coinage acts. Not the people generally. The mine owners alone. Why should the government, that is, the people, confer such a benefit upon this one class of producers? The silver product of the country in 1895 was actually worth about $33,000,000. The copper product was worth $38,000,000, pig iron $105,000,000, soft coal $115,000,000 and the wheat product, even with small yield and low prices, was worth, in the New York market, over $300,000,000. Why should the government double the value of silver to the mine owner and leave the other products to take their chances at commercial rates?

Among the Democratic papers that have bolted the Chicago platform and ticket is the Louisville, Ky., Evening Post, which uses the following vigorous language: "That the ticket named at Chicago will be beaten is as certain as the sun shines today in old Kentucky. The secession-revolutionary action, anarchy and free silver can never be the watchwords of Democracy."

General Orders for Encampment—

Quartermaster General Kidd has issued a circular to the effect that his department will establish and put in readiness the camp at Island Lake. All tents will be pitched, bed sacks filled and everything will be in readiness for the arrival of the troops. It will not, therefore, be necessary for companies to send details in advance for the purpose of preparing quarters. He suggests that stores and baggage be packed as closely as possible and that they go forward on the same train as the company, 150 pounds of baggage or company stores being allowed each person, and any excess charges must be paid by the shippers.

Arrangements have been made with the grocer, butcher and milk dealer to occupy the store house and furnish supplies at reasonable rates.

Transportation tickets and time tables will be sent company commanders August 1, giving route, time of starting and arrival at Island Lake. It is hoped to make arrangements so that all companies will arrive in camp before 6 o'clock p. m., August 18.

Transportation tickets either to or from camp must not be used on any railroad or steamship other than those designated for the respective companies, and tickets used otherwise will be deducted from pay rolls without allowance of amount over designated routes. Transportation furnished to other than commissioned officers, enlisted men, cooks, waiters and hostlers will be deducted from the pay-rolls of the officers issuing it at full railroad rates.

Field and staff officers residing at home stations of companies will take the route designated for the company. Such officers desiring the Quartermaster General to furnish horses for use at camp, must notify that officer before August 5, while those desiring to bring horses from home stations will be furnished with horse transportation tickets. Brigade and regimental headquarters will be allowed horses, transportation and hostlers.

It Will all be Here—

General Manager Major J. M. Burke, of Buffalo Bill's Wild West, passed through Ann Arbor today. In speaking of the size of the exhibition the major was very desirous of our citizens dispelling any fears regarding the magnitude of the outfit. "Tell them Col. Cody guarantees them the same exhibition he gave in Chicago in numbers of men, horses, completeness of program and larger than in Europe, either London, Paris or Rome." It will indeed be a great day for Ann Arbor and its merchants should see that their country patrons are informed that they can see at home here the only living existing exhibit of the great World's Fair, Chicago. Every comfort as regard seats for all auditors, covered from sun or rain and complete and well illuminated night performance equalling the afternoon exhibition will be given. This is not the first time Col. Cody and his big show has been here.

The major dwelt particular upon the fact that the big show is given in its entirety just as presented at the World's Fair and this he said was its strong point. The great exhibition will be seen here Monday, Aug. 3.—Daily Times July 25th.

Monroe Democrat's Doctorin'—

W. W. Wedemeyer, a young republican, seconded Gen. Spalding's nomination on behalf of Washtenaw. The three-double-yewed Washtenawian is the highest kind of a protectionist—six feet six in his X ray stockings.

Capt. C. H. Manly found a pocket-book at noon today, containing a considerable sum of money. The Captain says that if it is not called for inside of 48 hours it will be turned over into the democratic campaign fund.—Washtenaw Times. Good for Capt. Manly. Behold a democrat, "in whom there is no gall."

The hatchet of harmony was freely used at the recent Washtenaw republican convention. A. J. Sawyer, bristled like a porcupine whenever Cap. Allen put in his gentle fog horn. Sawyer wanted no man who did not accept the St. Louis platform, to dictate to the convention. Sawyer and Allen love each other "as a cat loves soap." Some feared there would be blows, but lo, they could never get within hitting distance of each other owing to the spheroid magnificence of their abdominal breastworks.

Justice Gibson of Ann Arbor, in 1885, owned a gold watch, but he lost it. Time went on, regardless and the justice got married. That has nothing to do with the watch, however. It is an independent sentence. The justice's sentence was for life; but that has nothing to do with it. The justice is in the last quarter of the honeymoon. But about the watch—after having been plowed, harrowed and planted for the last three years, a boy found it the other day. It needed a little cleaning, but that was all, to set it running. The justice goes home to his meals by the gold standard.

Cook House Repairs—

Many changes are being made at the old, reliable Cook House, both in the building and in its equipment. The painters and paperhangers have been at work on the interior and the parlors and halls are cozily beautiful and homelike with artistic coloring and bright new furnishings. Mine host, E. T. McClure, is thoroughly in earnest in his efforts to make the hotel the best in the city. Mechanics are also busily at work putting in a fine new boiler, altering and improving the dining room and otherwise providing for the comfort and convenience of the guests. Landlord McClure is to be congratulated upon the present and prospective successes of the hotel.—Daily Times.

Right of Way for Electric Road—

The Ypsilanti township board met at D. C. Griffin's office Saturday and granted to people who own a controlling interest in the motor line for an electric line from the eastern limits of the city to the Wayne county line. The franchise is not yet signed, as there are one or two minor matters that will have to be looked into, but will be in a day or two. The Ann Arbor town board was to meet Saturday and do likewise to people representing the Ann Arbor Street Railway Co. It has not yet been learned whether this was done or not. If they were successful there are little doubts but that a complete right of way from Ann Arbor through Ypsilanti and to Wayne county will be forthcoming.—Daily Times.

About Trimming Trees—

A correspondent gives these views to the Daily Times:

In Saturday's Evening Times you give space to a short editorial on the trimming of the trees on the University campus. I think that Mr. Taplin, who has the work in charge, will find that he has made a grave mistake. Experience has taught me that forest trees will not stand pruning. I was born and brought up on a farm, and a new farm at that, and I have a distinct remembrance of a bare-footed boy and an old ax whose principle work during July and August was grubbing, or, in other words trimming the sprouts off from the live stumps. All girdling was also done in these months. Every person is aware that nature put the leaves on trees for other purposes than beauty and the convenience of shade for the passer-by. Leaves are feeders that absorb certain gases which go far to nourish and keep the tree alive. If a tree is girdled the leaves die. If there are no leaves there are no feeders and the tree will die. Many of the trees on the campus have been shorn of nineteenth of their leaves. They are so much nearer death.

Roots and rootbeds are also feeders. If they do not receive proper nourishment the tree cannot put forth leaves. Now the campus with its many walks and suburban steam heat passages is not just an ideal place for trees to do well, as these walks, etc., have a tendency to keep the ground dry and hard. The same can be said of the trees on our streets. The more stone, tar, or cement walks we have the more dead trees. Is not this so? I ask every thinking person if they ever went into a city of cement walks and paved streets if they found a good growth of shade trees along the street? The Times rightly says: "Our trees want nourishment, the dead leaves are unsightly and are gathered up and burned. The grass is cut every week and taken away. The fact is the soil is cropped to death. The only nourishment that is given it is water. Every farmer knows that to be successful we must give the soil a fertilizer of some kind for root nourishment for his crops. Every farmer knows that he cannot pasture land year after year without returning potash to the soil in some form.

Now the grass on the campus is kept closer by the use of a lawn mower than any pasture is kept by the eating of the grass by cattle. What the campus wants is manure. Now it is not to be expected that it will be made the dump ground of various barn yards, which would make it a vile unsightly mess. Potash fertilizers can be bought very cheaply, they can offend no one. They will give the soil proper nourishment and the trees that are now untrimmed will live and prosper, but all the fertilizers in existence can not cause branches and leaves to grow on a telegraph pole. Do not cut off a man's hair to cure his corns.

BRYAN AS A BOLTER.

The following correspondence in the Detroit Free Press, may be of interest to some of our readers:

To the Editor of The Free Press: D. Cramer, of Ann Arbor, sends you a lecture in which he reproves you for declining to support the ticket of repudiation and anarchy. In his zeal for "regularity" he out-Herods the populist Bryan himself. It looks very much as if the Pops had stolen the livery of Democracy to serve the dishonest and un-Democratic cause of 16 to 1.

The Hon. William J. Bryan at Jackson, Miss., June 11, 1895, said: "So help me God, I will die in my tracks before supporting the action of a Democratic national convention which did not declare for free silver at the ratio of 16 to 1." At Birmingham, Ala., in the same year, he said in a speech, "Nothing in heaven above, on the earth below, could make me support a gold standard candidate on a gold standard platform."

At Mount Vernon, Ill., March 17, 1896, in an address on "Bimetallism," Mr. W. J. Bryan announced that "he was not a Democrat." Further, he said, he intended to be present at the Chicago convention and that his support of its nominees depended upon its adopting a free coinage platform, with the repetition "no power in heaven or hell could induce him to vote for that nominee on other than a free silver platform." He bragged that he was not a democrat in March. He is not a democrat now. He himself a threatened bolter time and time again, will find that the honest people of this great country will cast "regularity" to the winds, democrat and republican alike unite to save the United States from the evils of repudiation and anarchy, free traders and protectionists sinking their theories to crush the common enemy.

JOHN C. CHALMERS.

Pittsfield, July, 20, 1896.

Healthy, happy children make better men and women of us all. A little care and a little planning before birth is often more important than anything that can be done after. On the mother's health and strength depend the life and the future of the children. A weak and sickly woman cannot bear strong and healthy children. Most of the weakness of women is utterly inexcusable. Proper care and proper medicine will cure almost any disorder of the feminine organism. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been tested in thirty years of practice. It is healing, soothing, strengthening. It is perfectly natural in its operation and effect. By its use, thousands of weak women have been made strong and healthy—have been made the mothers of strong and healthy children. Taken during gestation, it makes childbirth easy and almost painless and insures the well being of both mother and child. Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

Charles J. N. Jacobs, of A. Hamburger & Son's, Los Angeles, Cal., who has been taking a vacation at Catalina Island, in the Pacific Ocean, says that in about two hours' fishing he helped to catch 40 fish weighing from five to eight pounds each. There were caught, he says, while he was there fish weighing 200 to 350 pounds of Tunis and Jew fish. The Tunis fish will grab the hook and draw the boat from a half to three miles, he says. Charley was called a truthful boy when in Ann Arbor, but we see he has formed the habit of all Californians, telling big stories. He speaks of meeting Mr. A. C. Hiscock and wife on the island, who made it very pleasant for him. Mr. Hiscock is a nephew of Daniel Hiscock of this city.—Daily Times.

Just What's Needed.

Exclaims thousands of people who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla at this season of the year, and who have noted the success of the medicine in giving them relief from that tired feeling, waning appetite and state of extreme exhaustion after the close confinement of a long winter season, the busy time attendant upon a large and pressing business during the spring months and with vacation time yet some weeks distant. It is then that the building-up powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla are fully appreciated. It seems perfectly adapted to overcome that prostration caused by change of season, climate or life, and while it tones and sustains the system, it purifies and vitalizes the blood.
