ATTEMPTS TO DECEIVE.

The Argus up to its Old Tricks—But it Can't Hoodwink the People.

JUGGLING WITH FIGURES

By Taking the Supervisor's Reports Which Include the Democratic and Republican Expenses Together, it Builds its Fabrication.

Of all attempts to deceive the people, that in the last Argus is the most contemptible of any ever yet put before the readers of any paper.

That paper evidently has not the first grain of uprightness and justice left in it.

By taking the Supervisor's report of 1894 and those of 1895 and comparing them it makes out that the first year of republican rule cost the county $8,768.08 more than the last year of the democratic rule.

The trouble with those figures is, as the Courier had to explain one year ago, the figures given by the Argus include the last quarter of the democratic administration, which was the heaviest known for years. Why? Because the officers knew they were going out of office and everything went.

The first column in the tables published in the Argus shows the expenditures for the current year from January 1st to October 1st. The second column shows the expenditures for the three months previous to January 1st of the year. By taking the table for '95 it will be found that the republican expenses from January 1st to October 1st were $28,485.79, while the democratic expenses for their last quarter was $13,878.28. The two together make the total amount he Argus charges the republicans with expending.

The sheriff's fees charged up to Mr. Judson were his only in small part, but mostly belonged to his predecessor. If the mathematician who wrote the Argus article would look over the books he would find that the Courier figures were exactly true.

Some Plain Facts—

This the tax-payers can readily see for themselves, that during 1893, and 1894 there were $80,000 levied to pay county expenses, that during the year 1895 there was only $30,000 and this year will be only $20,000 raised. But don't take our figures, take your tax receipts and convince yourselves.

By saddling off their own extravagant expenses on the republicans they hope to blind the people, but it is too thin.

Some Democratic Extras—

For instance in the table given for republican extravagance in 1894, there is an expenditure of $591.35 for "hog house at county farm." That was built under democratic rule. There have been no "county canvassers" since the republicans came in power. $466.87 more. There has been no "expert testimony" since Mr. Randall and Mr. Judson took office; there has been no "assistance" for the prosecuting attorney, except in Sukey case. Aside from that he has done his own work, and made the most economical administration the county has ever known. There have been no small pox and scarlet fever cases for the county to pay for which alone was $2,131.72. There has been no $3,552 worth of supervisor's services since the republicans came into power. There has been no "allowance" to the county treasurer since Mr. Reh-fuss took the office, and so on for nearly every item of expense which was left as a legacy for the republicans, and appears in the report of 1894, that the Argus attempts to palm off as the first year of republican rule.

Where the Saving Has Been—

If any tax-payer has any doubt about the truth, and the exact truth, of the figures given in the Courier, we ask him to go to the county treasurer's office and see for himself. The books are open, and the tax-payers are welcome to examine them. Mr. Judson saves to this county $900 in his two years of office, and the figures show it.

Mr. Randall has saved several thousand dollars by refusing to let any "tramp prosecutions" be made, by doing his own work and hiring no assistance, by having no $500 for "expert" testimony, or any amount whatever.

The people also profited, not only in money but in other ways by the confinement in prison of Cuyler Barton, who had been a terror to the farmers of the north-western part of the county. The feeling was so intense that no insurance company would carry their property until after he had been disposed of and placed in state's prison.

Mr. Reh-fuss has saved hundreds of dollars in interest money and by an honest and economical handling of the funds of the county, and has had no "assistance" or needed no expert to examine his books.

Every republican official has saved the tax-payers' money by wise and careful management, and not only that but by collecting $3,500 which a defaulting county treasurer left the county in the lurch.

Red-Letter Years for the People—

The past two years have been red-letter years as far as the cost of running this county goes, and there never in its history, has been such good work for so little money.

The Argus does not take up a single assertion made by the Courier and attempt to deny it. Furthermore there was not one assertion made that can be denied truthfully.

There was an overdraft on the 1st of September, 1894, of $14,400, and there was a balance on hand Sept. 1st, 1896, of $14,700, and the Argus dare not deny it.

There was $80,000 raised for county purposes during 1893 and 1894, and there will be only $20,000 raised this year, and every penny of the indebtedness will be paid.

Democratic Expenses—

That the people may know a little something about what the expenses have been in the past we give the following figures, relative to the sheriff's office, taken from the printed proceedings of the board of supervisors:

For 1891—Dwyer.
October Session:
Board of prisoners.....	$5,355.90

	$1,900.32

October Session:
January Session.....	$4,800.10
	1,900.32
	$6,700.42

REPUBLICAN EXPENSES.
For 1895—Judson.
October Session:
Board of prisoners.....	$2,037.50
Sheriff's fees.....	700.99
Deputy's fees.....	1,620.41
	$4,358.90

Remember, please, that these figures are taken from the printed proceedings of the board of supervisors for these various years, and are absolutely correct if the printed proceedings are correct.

The people will do well to look these over, and if not satisfied take the proceedings of the board as printed and verify them.

Sound Money Meeting—

There will be a meeting of Sound Money or National Democrats, at the Opera House, on Monday evening next, October 12, which will be addressed by Walter M. Chandler, of Texas, and John V. Sheehan, of Ann Arbor.

Mr. Chandler is an orator who captivates his hearers. The Manchester Enterprise says of his recent speech in that place, that he equals in oratory Senator Burrows.

There will be a long list of vice-presidents, among whom will be Hon. E. B. Pond, Judge W. D. Harriman, Prof. B. M. Thompson, Judge Thomas M. Cooley, Prof. M. E. Cooley, Dr. Victor C. Vaughan, Fred H. Belser, S. W. Clarkson, Robert Phillips, John Burg, Frederick G. Schleicher, and others.

Y. M. C. A. Notes—

The entertainment committee of the Y. M. C. A. has engaged Mr. Chas Ege of Detroit to be present at the next association business meeting. Mr. Ege will give an entertainment with his phonograph. This will be free to members. Others will be charged a small admission. October 20th is the date and the Y. M. C. A. rooms the place.

The ladies auxiliary met on Monday afternoon of this week and made final arrangements for the Halloween social. A rich treat is promised to all who attend. The ladies are sparing no pains or labor in making this one of the events in the history of the association, long to be remembered. The members and all their friends are most cordially invited to come and enjoy the evening at the association rooms. Eat, drink and be merry, is the program for the evening.

Mr. B. B. Johnson will lead the men's Gospel meeting next Sunday at 2:45 p. m. Special music will be provided. All men are invited to the meeting.

The ladies are preparing to give a Thanksgiving supper to the members and their wives or lady friends.

This is a free country, everybody, it is said has the right to vote for whom he pleases, and yet in Colorado, the election commission refuse to allow the regular republican or McKinley electors, regularly nominated, a place on the ticket. For shame! What are the silverites afraid of?

Dr. J. Henry Carstens, of Detroit, at a meeting of Germans Monday night, stated that "of 549 German newspapers in the United States, all but two are supporting sound money candidates for president." What a grand record!

About Our Own Affairs—

The statement in certain daily papers that "the Courier office has been closed by the typographical union," is a malicious falsehood, made with the express and on'y purpose of deceiving people and injuring the office in a business way.

The Courier office has not been a "union" office for several years, ever since an agitator came up from Detroit, and succeeded in inducing the local union to interfere in an unwarrantable manner with the affairs and business of the office, endeavoring to force its proprietor to do things that were not to his interest, nor, in his opinion, in the interest of those in his employ. Later on, after the strike had died out, and the Courier had maintained its position, the union asked, and was granted the right to make this what they call an "open office." That is, allow union printers to work in it. It made no difference to the Courier or its proprietor, whether the workmen were in the union or not, as long as they were sober and industrious.

Recently, no doubt induced by outside influences, the union commenced another agitation, with a view to forcing the Courier to become a union office. While we have nothing against the individual members of the union, and no objection to hiring union men if they can earn their salary, yet to discharge the help who have stood by the office in its needs, and who are industrious, reliable, good workmen, to force them against their will to unite with the union, or replace them with other workmen, was something that could not be done.

As a consequence the union ordered its two men who were here, one receiving $15 a week, the other $12 a week, to quit on Saturday night, and they obeyed the order. Their places have been filled by competent hands.

It may dawn upon these two men, at no distant day, that the union has demanded of them a great injustice. It may be that the union itself, in ordering a man who has a wife and children to support, to quit work and become idle, will find out that it is taking upon itself a terrible responsibility. Every one admires loyalty to principle, but no one approves of injustice, especially when it may entail idleness and its attendant sorrows, cold and hunger.

This office has always paid its hands good wages, the same as union hands have received, providing they were capable of earning such wages, and its workmen have always received their cash every Saturday night. Such being a fact the proprietor desires to retain the privilege of managing his own business affairs without interference or dictation.

The Courier has malice toward none, and has often exercised a charity that should have been appreciated, but seems not to have been.

The Two Units Compared—

Henry Waldron, of Northfield, is a good talker, and an inventive genius in the way of argument, and has done more service for the silverites in this campaign than about all the other speakers in the county. He takes a gold dollar around with him and holding it between his fingers, asks his audience what he has got? Of course no one can tell, and there is no answer. Then he says, "I don't wonder you can not see it. Why, it is the unit of value, a gold dollar." At which those of the audience in sympathy with a currency without any unit, or some other unit, at once render applause.

How true this story is we will not vouch, but it is said that at a school house recently he had made this favorite "argument," when a tall, green looking chap arose in the back part of the hall and wanted to know if he could ask a question. Being granted the request with evident pleasure, he held up a piece of silver between his fingers and wanted to know if he, Waldron, could tell what he had? Of course Waldron could not tell, when he replied:

"I am astonished. It is your proposed unit of value, with several grains added. It is a Mexican dollar. You ought to be able to recognize your own unit."

Growing Children

One-third of all the children die before they are five years old. Most of them die of some wasting disease. They grow very slowly; keep thin in flesh; are fretful; food does not do them much good. You can't say they have any disease, yet they never prosper. A slight cold, or some stomach and bowel trouble takes them away easily.

SCOTT'S EMULSION of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites is just the remedy for growing children. It makes hard flesh; sound flesh; not soft, flabby fat. It makes strong bones, healthy nerves. It changes poor children to children rich in prosperity.

Book about it free for the asking. No substitute for Scott's Emulsion will do for the children what we know Scott's Emulsion will do. Get the genuine. For sale by all druggists at 50c. and $1.00. SCOTT & BOWNE, New York.

16 to 1, 4-11-44—take your choice.

Even in Florida the democratic vote fell off over 6,000 at the late election.

The republicans want to watch close for some great slander or rooraback from now on, for the Bryanites are desperate and will stop at nothing.

No democrat can vote his state ticket without voting for prohibitionists, populists, and republicans. There are hardly enough democrats on the ticket to give it a flavor.

You can not go into a silver country on the face of the earth to-day, and find a single dollar of gold in circulation. And yet free coinage orators and advocates tell you they are bimetalists!

The election of Bryan would cause no more rivers of money to flow in the streets than flow there to-day. But many men who are at work to-day would be idle then, and without the little money they get hold of now.

The Detroit Tribune had big head lines over the statement that W. H. J. Traynor, the "big" A. P. A. man had come out for Bryan. Perhaps the letter written by Archbishop Ireland will be an offset for Traynor! What do you think?

George Du Maurier, the author of Tribby, is dead, having passed away Oct. 8, at his home in London. Upon his death bed he said of that book: "Yes, it has been successful, but the popularity has killed me." He died of heart trouble and over excitement.

Col. Bradshaw, a free silver orator, in a speech at St. Louis, Mo., said that "all Hebrews ought to be sunk to the bottom of the sea." And followed it up with many other savage remarks about them. As a consequence all members of that race are up in arms.

The populists nominated John O. Zabel for congress several weeks ago, and now some of the party want him to get off the ticket and leave the field clear for the free silverite Barkworth and Zabel won't do it. Zabel has the grit to stick to a good thing when he has got it.

The opposition press that are so solicitous for Mr. Pingree's welfare better pay attention to their own Silgh candidate. Mr. Pingree will not only get the ENTIRE republican vote of the state, but he will receive half of the democrat vote also. Stick a pin there.

Business men must not combine to help each other, but every nondescript political party in the nation can unite, form a trust, so as to secure enough votes to kill off honest money, prosperity and the right. The fusion party this year is a trust more to be feared than any business combine that ever was known.

If every laboring man in the United States could read the report of the committee sent by the Trades Unions to Mexico to investigate the condition of the laboring and common people of that republic, with a view to the effect of free silver, there would not be a laboring man's vote cast for Bryan at the next election. The report is simply appalling. No true man can ever vote to Mexicanize the United States.

The Chicago Record sent a postal card to every registered voter in the city asking him his choice for president. The result of the poll indicates upwards of 100,000 majority for McKinley in that city, 2 to 1. This settles Illinois in the sound money column by an enormous majority. Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Ohio, Indiana will all try hard to equal that great state.

In one of his speeches Bryan said that he had had some experience with banks, once having had a deposit when the bank failed. Now the bank officers come back at Bryan with the statement that he had $75 on deposit when the bank failed, but that he was a heavy borrower at the bank, and that his note for $1,000 is still unpaid, which they would be glad to take even 50 cent silver dollars for.

The Times reads Archbishop Ireland of the Catholic church, a lesson because he has dared to express an opinion upon the dangerous doctrines advocated in the Chicago platform. The opinion was expressed, not in the pulpit, but as a patriotic private citizen who loves his country and her institutions. Had the opinion approved that monstrous doctrine the Bishop would probably have never been humiliated by the criticism of the Times.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite, and gives refreshing sleep.

The republican party is the greatest friend silver has to-day or ever has had.

Bryan, Sewall and Watson's revolution is nearing a disastrous end. It has been the most remarkable campaign for wind against sound principles that this country ever saw.

Abolish our supreme court and appoint Altgeld dictator. That would be a fine thing. Then he could empty all the prisons and abolish all laws against crime, and let anarchy reign supreme.

The democratic party bobbing around in this great campaign, with every great leader, (without exception) out of it, makes one think of the antics of an old hen after having her head chopped off.

Gov. Culberson, of Texas, has not yet publicly announced that the translation of the Bismarck letter he gave to the public was a forgery. Would it not be honorable for him to do so? And as governor of a great state he ought to be an honorable man.

The election commission in Wayne county has assigned the various parties places on the ticket as follows: Republican, Democratic, People's Prohibition, Democrat-People's Union-Silver, Socialistic Labor. Campaign will appeal to the supreme court.

Bismarck demonized silver in Germany, himself, and placed that nation on a gold basis. As a friend would he advise this nation to re-monetize silver? No sir. Not he. He might chuckle to see the United States get into such a trap, but he has too much honor to advise it.

The populist papers that published the statement that Garret A. Hobart, the republican vice-presidential nominee was a member of the hard coal trust, have not yet seen fit to publish Mr. Hobart's denial of the lie. Oh, no, that would defeat the end the lie was manufactured for.

Senator David B. Hill laughs a gleeful sort of a chuckle and winks his left eye, when some of the free silverites threaten to read him out of the democratic party because he persistently refuses to become a Bryan tool. David knows a thing or two about politics that his critics never dreamed of.

It is as impossible for a free silver advocate to be a bimetalist as it is for the sun to shine on both sides of this round earth at the same time. Free coinage of silver means silver monometalism, and it means nothing else. And if the free silver advocate is honest with you he will tell you so.

Don't be deceived by the false statement of some of the silverites that they want the legal tender qualities of silver restored. Silver is a legal tender now, full, unlimited, for all debts, public and private, in any amount. And the government stands back of it, and makes it worth a full dollar. But let unlimited free coinage step in, and the government step out, and the silver dollar must of a necessity drop to its commercial or bullion value.

The Union veteran generals, Alger, Sickles, Stewart, Howard, and Corporal Tanner, were called "a lot of deplorable old hirelings," at Clinton, Iowa, by Coin Harvey. At which a number of old soldiers in the audience took offense, and the police had all they could do to save the shameless speaker from being mobbed by them. Harvey is the hypocrite who drew his bank deposit out in gold and hid it in a safety deposit vault to wait for its rise in value should his dishonest doctrine of free silver win.

The political liars who accused Mark Hanna of oppressing labor, found that they had a boomerang. The labor organizations sent one of their officials, Wm. A. Kearney, vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and steel worker's to the mines to find out about it. Mr. Kearney reports that the mines in which Mr. Hanna is interested have always paid their men the highest wages, and treated them more kindly than they were treated at any other mine. That the miners had been given the land to build their houses on, and no rents asked, which is not done at other mines, and the strikers have never molested his mines or the workmen therein been dissatisfied. T. L. Lewis president of the Ohio State Trades Assembly and secretary of the Ohio Miners' Union, reports practically the same thing for the seamen Me. Hanna employs, and Richard Powers, ex-president Seamen's Union, says, "all assertions to the contrary are falsehoods, manufactured for political effect and with a desire to mislead working people, and I denounce them as such." The populist liars who are seeking to slander Mr. Hanna better take up some other line of "argument."

DICKINSON IS ALL RIGHT.

Our Don M. Dickinson went down to New York and raised enough funds in an hour or two to carry on the National democratic campaign until election. In a speech at a democratic meeting in New York City he said: "I come from a great body of men in the west, upon whose votes depend the defeat of Bryanism. I come from a body of stalwart democrats who repudiate repudiation. We are democrats because we will not stand upon the un-democratic, un-American, unspeakable Chicago platform. "We democrats of the west, standing among republicans who are falling away to this silver craze, are the hope of the country that this Chicago conspiracy shall be stamped out by an overwhelming majority."

It is rumored in gold-bug circles that the Palmer and Buckner ticket will be withdrawn a few days before election, so that the gold democrats will be given an opportunity to vote for McKinley.—Daily Times.

Another "rumor" set afloat for effect. The silverites need not flatter themselves. The straightout democratic ticket will stick. It would be a good thing for Bryan if it was withdrawn, and his friends are endeavoring to produce the desired effect by setting the rumor afloat. But it won't work.

The last Adrian Press publishes a letter purporting to have been written by Major McKinley in 1890, when he was in congress, in which occurs these words: "I have always been in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of the silver product of the U. S. and have so voted, on at least two occasions." Then it accuses McKinley of changing his views since then. For one, the Courier does not believe McKinley has changed his views. The Courier believes just what the Major said in his letter, but not at a ratio of 16 to 1, my friend of the Press. He never advocated the folly that the Press and Mr. Bryan, and all the silverites are now advocating.

But talk about changing! Just take the Detroit Tribune of only a year or so ago; and read some of its hard money editorials! If you want political floggers take Senators Teller, Stewart and Jones. They all voted for "the crime of 1873."

Ex-Senator Calvin Brice, of New York and Ohio, has come out against the Chicago platform and ticket.

THE BARS OF HEALTH

once down, disease finds an easy entrance. If there is a weak spot in the body, disease germs will find it. They will lodge right in that spot and unless they are driven out at once, will increase and multiply and grow into seriousness. Weakness is a predisposition to disease. Whether the weakness be local or general, it is dangerous. Good healthy strength all over the body is the best safeguard against disease. Debility of any kind is a direct invitation to serious sickness. The reason that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures 93 per cent of all cases of consumption if taken in the early stages of the disease, is that it puts the whole body into a hearty, healthy condition. The poisonous tubercular matter is thrown off by the lungs, and the pure, rich blood coursing through them, quickly stops the inflammation, and makes the lungs perfectly strong and sound. Consumption is marked by wasting away of the bodily tissues and vice versa. A wasting of the flesh brings on consumption. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery induces the accumulation of sound, hard, healthy flesh. It increases the appetite and the capacity of the digestive organs for the assimilation of food. It is a purifier, a tonic and a powerful curative remedy, all in one bottle. All who will send their addresses, and twenty-one cents in postage stamps, to cover wrapping, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., will receive by mail a book of 1000 pages, which tells all about the "Golden Medical Discovery."

SALES OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

Unequalled in the History of Medicine.
Honesty, Excellence, Faithfulness
Fifty Rewarded.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Never in the history of medicine has the demand for one particular remedy for female diseases equalled that attained by Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never in the history of Mrs. Pinkham's wonderful Compound has the demand for it been so great as it is to-day.

From Maine to California, from the Gulf to the St.
Lawrence, come the glad tidings of woman's suffering relieved by it; and thousands upon thousands of letters are pouring in from grateful women, saying that it WILL and DOES positively cure those painful

ailments of Women
It will cure the worst forms of female complaints, all ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb, and consequent spinal weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the change of life.
Every time it will cure

Backache.
It has cured more cases of leucor-rhea by removing the cause, than any remedy the world has ever known; it is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills
work in unison with the Compound, and are a sure cure for constipation and sick headache. Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative wash is frequently found of great value for local application. Correspondence is freely solicited by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. Lynn, Mass., and the strictest confidence is assured. All druggists sell the Pinkham's remedies. The Vegetable Com-

Wm. W. Phillips, one of Ypsilanti's well known citizens, dropped dead last Thursday at his home on Prospect st.
He had lived nearly all his life in that city. He served during the war as a Union soldier. He leaves a widow and four children.

The resignation of Rev. G. Eisen, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical church, which was tendered Sunday,
September 27th, has been accepted.
Mr. Eisen will soon take charge of the German Protestant Orphan's

It is supposed the picture was lost out of Capt. May's pocket during the battle.—Ypsilanti Commercial.

Miss Edna Clock is the timely name of a very pretty faced Flat Rock school ma'am. She is always on hand at the proper hour, runs all right when there is need and withal presents a striking appearance.— Northville Record. Very timely indeed, but how about the tick?

The joke is on Bert Rogers this time. In our last issue we mentioned his being home, and said that a friend accompanied him. It was his wife. He was married Wednesday September 30, to Miss Zoe E. Russel, of Somerset Center.—Saline Observer.

Bert certainly appreciates the joke.
The work of putting in the sewer on Normal street, was so much greater than was expected on account of the clay soil, that the money already raised for the purpose has given out, and the work has stopped until another assessment can be collected sufficient to finish the work.—Ypsilanti Commercial.

The supreme court has decided that a railroad in Michigan cannot charge more than three cents a mile. The L. S. & M. S. charged 25 cents between Trenton and Flat Rock. W.

Y. Chamberlain refused to pay it.
He got a judgment of $400 in a lower court for being made to walk home.
The court Tuesday affirmed the judgment.—Enterprise.

John McLaughlin, a farmer whose home was in Northfield, fell forward from his wagon while driving to Ann Arbor with a load of apples, on Wednesday last, and was instantly killed. His feet caught in the whiffle-trees, allowing his head to be crushed by the forward wheel, in which position he was dragged several feet.
He was 54 years old.

Because the value of the egg crop in the United States, exceeds the value of the silver output, some one has

No need of it, sir. The coinage is still, after they have been minted a certain length of time, we object to them as legal tender in exchange for what we had fondly looked upon as some of our best jokes.—Adrian Press.

R. C. Allen had a narrow escape from death or serious injury last Sunday. He was leading a couple of horses across the bridge over the Saline river on W. H. Hack's farm, and when in the center the bridge suddenly gave way, breaking square in two in the middle, and precipitated Mr. Allen and the horses fifteen feet below in five or six feet of water, and twenty or thirty feet from land, all struggling together. How they all reached terra firma safely and without injury neither Roscoe nor the horses are able to explain. As the horses (which belong to Mr. Hack) were uninjured, Henry has decided not to prosecute Roscoe for breaking down his old bridge.—Milan Leader.

If You Have a Sick Child This is Surely a Message of Hope.

This is the best of news for parents of weakly or sickly children. It is a fact that our people have heretofore not had the same opportunity for having their children who suffer from chronic or lingering complaints treated and cured by eminent specialists in children's diseases as do the residents of the great cities where such skilled physicians reside. In other words our people have been debarred from seeking a cure for their children by the great physicians, owing to the cost of travel to the large city and the high fees charged by such physicians.

Here, therefore, is a chance for the cure of the children of our community which should not be lost. Dr. Greene of 35 W. 14th st., New York City, who is beyond doubt the most successful specialist in curing diseases of children, offers to give free consultation by mail in all cases of children's complaints. Parents have the privilege of consulting Dr. Greene by letter, describing their children's diseases and he will, after carefully considering the symptoms, write a letter fully explaining the trouble, telling everything about their complaint so plainly that you will understand exactly what ails your children. He will also give his advice, founded upon his vast experience and wonderful success in treating such cases, as to just what to do to effect a cure. All this will cost you nothing and you can thus have consultation with the best known physician and acknowledged most successful specialist in the world without leaving home and at no expense whatever. The Doctor is the discoverer of that greatest of medicines, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and has discovered many other most valuable remedies.
Write to him now about your child,
for this is a chance of cure which you may never have again.

ENVIRONMENT.

NIXON WATERMAN.

Night or day or dusk or dawn,
We are eternally lived upon.
Shine or shadow, flame or frost,
Zephyr-kissed or tempest tossed.

Mystic builders in the brain—
Mirth and sorrow, joy and pain,
Grief and gladness, gloom and light—
Build on build my heart aright!

Oh, ye friends, with pleasant smiles,
Help me build my precious whilts;
Bring me bricks of gold to make Strength that wrong shall never shake.

Day by day I gather from All you give me. I become Yet a part of all I meet
In the fields and in the street.

Bring me songs of hope and youth,
Bring me bands of steel and truth;
Bring me love wherein to find
Charity for all mankind.

Place within my hands the tools
And the master Builder's rules.
That the walls we fashion may Stand forever and a day.

Help me build a palace where
All is wonderfully fair—
Build of truth, the while above
Shines the pinnacle of love.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction
City, Ill., was told by her doctors
she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida st., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial

DON'T STOP TOBACCO

IT'S INJURIOUS TO STOP SUD-DENLY and don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit con-

Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being at least. I tried the so-called "Keeley Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco-Cure." Three weeks ago to-day I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured; I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco Cure" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it.

Yours truly,
C. W. HORSTICK.

High School Notes—

The S. C. A. meets Friday afternoon from 4:45 to 5:45.

The Glenadis well meet Friday afternoon from 3 to 5.

The Lyceum and Areana debating societies, meet Friday evening.

The football team will play the Adrian High School team at Adrian Friday. Our boys are very confident of winning.

The Arena debating society took a poll on the money question last Friday evening and the result stood 12 to 8 in favor of sound money.

The football team will play their first home game with the Orchard Lake team on Friday, Oct. 23, at the athletic field. Admission will be 25c.

Dr. Smith has given the library sixty-two volumes of Harper's Monthly Magazine. One of the volumes dates back as early as the year 1855.

A bicycle shed has been built on the east side of the school for the boys of the 8th grade and a rack has been placed in the west lobby for the use of the high school boys. The girls will be next.

The Lovell Publishing Co. sent to the library three of their "American History Leaflets" which are an exact reprint of the original documents. They are as follows: "The Earliest New England Code of Laws," "The Ordinance of Secession" and "The Exact Text of the Constitution."

At the meeting of the Senior class recently it was decided not to publish the Omega, but to publish a High School Quarterly to take its place. Only three numbers will be published about Christmas time, the next number about the time of Spring vacation and the last number will be issued just before commencement. This number will be devoted mostly to the senior class doings. This is the plan the Senior class adopted, whether the Faculty will give their consent, is to be found out.

He Would Not Trade—

A populist democrat who came into this office the other day gave us a little shot on politics, and was asked why he was so much in favor of the silver standard? His reply in substance was: "Take a gold dollar now, what's it good for? Who wants it? What we want is something that amounts to something. A piece of money like this (pulling out a silver dollar) for instance, so when we have one in our pocket and put our hand down after it, we can find it. Those little pesky gold dollars ain't good for nothing."

"Well, what about the value?" was asked. "Does it not make some difference to you whether that silver dollar is worth a dollar or not?"

"Oh, you can't fool me by that kind of talk. Do you suppose the government would put its stamp on it and say it was a dollar if it wasn't a dollar?"

"Yes," said a bystander. "This government can not make silver dollars in unlimited quantities and uphold their value. Here, my friend, if you think so, trade pieces with me. Here is a piece of money containing more silver than is in your dollar, and the government of Mexico has stamped on it, 'this is a dollar.' Will you give me your American dollar for it?"

"No, I don't want to trade."

"Of course you don't. But you see the point, don't you?"

The silverite went away with the point sticking in him, but evidently not enough to penetrate to the core of the free silver boil and let the puss out.

Supervisors' Proceedings—

The board of supervisors met Monday morning and chairman John R. Miner proceeded to business at once. More was accomplished on that day than for any other first day within the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

Upon taking his seat the chairman announced the following committees:

Equalization—Leland, Boyle, Damon, Hall, Alber.
Criminal Claims, No. 1—Walter, Bibbins, Krapp.
Criminal Claims, No. 2—Hunter, Tuomy, Forsyth.

Civil Claims—Ball, Whitaker, Feiner.
To Settle with County Officers—Watkins, Case, Bibbins.

On Salaries of County Officers—Hall, Eberbach, Hauser.
On Apportionment of State and County Taxes—Lighthall, Howlett, Beach.

On Public Buildings—Kitson, Tuomy, Ball.
On Rejected Taxes—Davenport, Bailey, Wood.
To Examine Accounts of Superintendent of the Poor—Eberbach, Hunter, Krapp.

On Finance—Case, Whitaker, Kitson.
On Fractional School Districts—Howlett, Hauser, Leland.

On Drains—Voorheis, Lighthall, Davenport.
On Printing—Forsyth, Fischer, Alber.

On Contagious Diseases—Feiner, Bailey, Clark.
On Per Diem—Hauser, Damon, Fischer.

To Prepare Statement of County Expenses—Boyle, Eberbach, Watkins.

The probate judge reported the commitments to the insane asylum, and the jail. Inspectors also made their report. The communication from the auditor general, stating the amount of taxes, was received and placed on file.

The supervisors agreed to equalize on the old basis of $25,000,000.

An order of business was adopted, which, if adhered to, will make the session about one-half the usual length.

To-day will be spent in receiving the report of the drain commissioners, tomorrow county treasurer, and visit to the county house. Friday a county superintendent of the poor will be elected.

Yesterday the board re-elected Martin J. Cavanaugh as member of the board of School Examiners. They also elected as a board of county canvassers Judge Babbitt, Horace G. Prettyman and Arthur Brown.

Children Cry for

The Close-Kempf Nuptials—

One of the prettiest weddings that has ever taken place in the city of Ann Arbor, occurred at St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Wednesday evening, Oct. 7th, when the lives of Mr. Elmer Harry Close, of Toledo, Ohio, and Miss Nell, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. Reuben Kempf of this city, were united in marriage.

At the church a canopy was erected and the way carpeted from the curb to the church entrance. Inside, the scene was fairly like, the chancel being beautifully decorated with palms and smilax. The auditorium was comfortably filled with friends, in wedding attire, to witness the ceremony.

As Prof. R. H. Kempf took his place at the organ, the vestry door opened and the groom, accompanied by Mr. John Kempf, brother of the bride, marched in, taking their places on the right in the chancel. The choir of 40 voices, followed, marching down the side aisle, through the vestibule, and up the center aisle, singing "O, Perfect Love," by Barnaby, which was so well rendered that its beautiful strains are yet ringing in the ears of many of the guests.

As the choir marched up the center aisle and took their proper places, they were followed, in slow and stately tread, by the ushers in pairs, they in turn by the maid of honor, Mrs. Lella K. Close, of Toledo, and the little niece of the bride, Madalene Hosac, dressed in pure white, scattering roses along her path. Then came the bride resting on the arm of her father. As she approached the chancel steps, the groom met her with extended hands, assisted her to the chancel rail, where they both knelt, and received the silent blessing of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Henry Tatlock.

The ceremony was then proceeded with in the regular form of the Protestant Episcopal church, the entire audience remaining standing until its close.

One little incident that added to the joyousness of the occasion might be mentioned with propriety. The bride, as she turned from the altar and the ceremony that had changed her relations in life, glanced up to her mother and gave a sweet, happy smile, one that every guest who saw it will carry in his or her memory through life. And instead of the solemn and funeral like character that the march from the altar usually takes on, this was one of pleasant smiles and evident joy. Many were the friends who remarked to each other, "I hope the couple's journey through life may always be as bright and happy."

The ushers were Messrs. Harry Phillips and George Kirkman of Chicago, William McArthur, of Cheboygan, Mich., and William Tyler of Toledo, Ohio.

There were many elegant costumes worn by the ladies of the bridal party, a proper description of which is not within the power of our pencil.

The couple and those belonging to the bridal party then proceeded in carriages to the house of the bride's parents on N. Ingalls street, where a reception was given. The residence was tastefully decorated with palms, ferns and smilax, together with pink and white roses.

The gifts were numerous and in keeping with the wealth and position of the contracting parties.

After the reception the couple took the east bound express for a wedding trip, which will be quite extensive, it is understood.

Mr. and Mrs. Close will be at home after December 1st, at the Hotel Madison, Toledo, Ohio.

It may not be out of place to add that Mr. Close has taken from our city one of its best young ladies, and one who by her joyous, happy, and always lady-like ways, has won for herself friends without number.

Death of Mrs. Morton—

For several months past Mrs. Wm. Morton, who has resided at the old homestead on Packard st., at the junction of the motor line, has been confined to her home by the infirmities of age and disease. On Thursday morning last, death came to her relief, and it came quietly and peacefully, taking her spirit almost before those at her bedside could realize the fact. This death, although not unexpected, was peculiarly sad, from the fact, that a number of years past some member of the family has been followed to the grave each succeeding year.

Mrs. Morton had reached 74 years of age, had been a resident of this county since an early day, and had lived at the home where she died for upwards of thirty years.

Funeral services were held at the residence Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Dr. McElroy of the M. E. Church conducting the same.

But two children are now left of the family, Dr. John W. Morton, of E. Ann st., and Wm. H. Morton who lives on the homestead.

Pitcher's Castoria.

An Interesting Incident—

The life of Hon. Andrew J. Poppleton, that passed away on the 24th of September, last, at his home in Omaha, had in it at least one incident in which our readers will be interested.

Mr. Poppleton was born in 1830, at Birmingham, Oakland county, in this state. At the age of 18 years, or in 1847, he entered the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, and remained three years, until 1850. At that time a great war was inaugurated upon secret societies, and especially by college faculties upon the Greek letter fraternities. The faculty here at the U. of M., passed a rule that all these societies should be abolished, that no student should be allowed to remain in the University unless he would renounce his membership in any fraternity he belonged to, and no Freshman was allowed to cross the entrance threshold of the University unless he took an oath not to unite with any college secret society.

This rule caught Mr. Poppleton in his senior year. He was then a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity, and had been for some time. He considered the rule not only tyrannical but exceedingly unjust, and when he was called before the faculty he firmly refused to dissolve his relations with his fraternity.

The faculty would not recede from their stand and neither would he, and so with bitter feelings in his heart, he went away, and graduated at Union college in 1851.

Time passed on. Mr. Poppleton went to Omaha and began to rise. He became a member of the legislature, a lawyer of much prominence and power. He did much to shape the legislation and formulate the laws when Nebraska entered the sisterhood of states.

Later on he was sought after as an attorney, and was retained in nearly all the great cases that came to trial in the west. He was attorney for the Union Pacific R. R., and attained national prominence through his able defense of Oakes Ames in the famous "Credit Mobilier cases." He was the first president of the Omaha Board of Trade, of the Omaha Bar Association and the organizer and for many years the director of the Omaha public library.

In 1892 disease took hold of him and he lost his sight. It was about this time that knowledge of his treatment by the faculty came to the ears of the regents, and they voted unanimously to confer upon him the degree that he would have taken had he been allowed to complete his course here. It was all the restitution they could make, and they did it so feelingly, that Mr. Poppleton accepted the deed in the spirit it was tendered.

It was a great comfort to him in his declining years, we have been told, that Michigan University had at last rectified the wrong done him. The reason why he felt so intensely upon the subject, was the fact that the faculty had later on practically acknowledged themselves in the wrong by rescinding the rule and permitting the fraternities to remain unmolested.

Mr. Poppleton remained a firm friend to his society up to the day of his death, and when the Beta Theta's bought their chapter house here, he sent them a handsome check to help the cause.

Age and Wisdom—

S. S. Whipple, of Denton, 86 years of age, called at The Ypsilantian office this morning to express his views on the silver issues, and they are very clear views too. His memory carries him back through a long period during which there were many changes in the currency, sometimes for the worse and sometimes for the better, but in all this time he says the country never had better money than now, and he is decidedly opposed to free silver coinage and a depreciated dollar. He is a Jackson democrat and finds none of his principles in the Chicago platform. He will vote for McKinley and sound money.—Ypsilantian.

There is one man in the United States who has dared to stand by the grand old republican party, when such action has taken courage. That man is Senator Wolcott, of Colorado. Deserted by his friends, left alone by his republican associates, facing an overwhelming opposition, he still stands for McKinley and the party of hope, with a courage and fearlessness that only inspires those who feel that they are in the right, and have faith that the right will win. We, here in Michigan, know nothing of the stamina it takes for a man to be a republican in Colorado, where but a short time since a man who declared for honest money took his life in his hands by so doing.

Senator Wolcott is entitled to the highest praise for the manly courage with which he has maintained his convictions, resisting the turbulent tide of populism which has saved the republican party of the state from utter demoralization. In closing his speech at the late state convention he kindled the enthusiasm of his audience to the highest point with the following burst of genuine patriotism and true eloquence:

"Fellow-citizens, the boundaries of the states which form our Union are imaginary, not real; the mountains yonder, which look down upon us, stand like a serried column; yet just beyond our view they open to the west in gentle undulations, and our fertile orchards merge and blend with the commonwealths of the Occident. To the eastward the plains slope into the great prairies, the granaries of the world. The rivers which find their source in our mountain crags, wind a tortuous course through many sister states before they fret their way to the sea. From the gray summit of the mighty peak which now casts its shadow over us, on, on to the rocky coast of Maine, there is but one land, fed by the same dews, watered from the same heaven and kissed by the same sun. No stockade or bristling forts divide us. We are of one race, one destiny, one common and immortal hope. In the century now dying, we, who are the inheritors of the liberties secured us by our forefathers, will build no barrier of sectional haste to sunder us from brothers whom we love, or to exclude from our vision the hills and valleys far away, where our childhood was nursed and our dead lie buried. The sacred memories which cluster around the contest of '61 are too near our hearts for us, in our day and generation, to find room for hostile or disloyal sentiments toward any section of our common country or any class of our fellow-citizens; and with fervent lips and patriotic impulse our greeting and message to-day to every true republican within the borders of our dear Colorado shall be: One country, one hope, one flag, and everywhere within this commonwealth, whether on its broad plains or in its deepest mountain recesses, the right, as God gives us grace to see the right, and the courage to stand by an honest opinion!"

Think it over.

Have you ever heard of a medicine with such a record of cures as Hood's Sarsaparilla? Don't you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla, the One True Blood Purifier, has proved, over and over again, that it has power to cure, even after all other remedies fail? If you have impure blood you may take Hood's Sarsaparilla with the utmost confidence that it will do you good.

Dr. J. T. Felling, Des Moines, Iowa, a man that is way up in his profession and a specialist in nervous diseases, writes as follows: I have used Gessler's Magic Headache wafers in my daily practice and find them to give excellent satisfaction. I have prescribed and given them in a great number of cases and have yet to hear of the first case they did not cure. I do not hesitate to recommend them to both practitioners and the public as a sure cure. A. E. Mummery sells them at 25 cents a box.

The popocratic orators are getting all the gold they can out of the banks on the plea of using it to illustrate their speeches. Even Henry Waldron and Arthur Brown have gold in their pockets when they make speeches.

The prohibitionists of this district have nominated Rev. O. H. Perry of Hanover, Jackson Co., for congress. Of course, by so doing they only show their grit, but this year grit is a good thing when so many are stultifying themselves.

Those interested in voting this year should remember that registration day is on the Tuesday preceding election, Oct. 27. All who have changed their residence, or who have become of age since the last election, should remember this and act accordingly.

The labor committee to investigate the condition of the common people of free silver Mexico, report that workmen put in from ten to fourteen hours a day at from 25 cents to 50 cents, the prevailing price being 37 1/2 cents for a day's work. Do we want to be Mexicanized?

The Times claims to have picked up a republican canvass of Pittsfield township, which gave 28 democrats who would vote for McKinley, and 17 republicans for free silver. The republicans have made no canvass of Pittsfield, so this must be either the popocratic or prohibition canvass.

It is to be regretted that for Senator Eugene Hale, of Maine, who is to speak in Ann Arbor on Saturday, Oct. 24, a larger auditorium than the court house can not be secured for his speech. Even the opera house, which is engaged for other purposes that evening, would not hold the people who will want to attend.

Why has not a clergyman, in this free country, as good a right to express his views upon the great questions effecting the welfare of the people as any other citizen—if he does it as a private citizen, and not as a clergyman? He is interested the same as any other citizen, and should have the same rights—and does have them.

By order of the state oil inspector all persons delivering or selling oil shall display a card on the side of their wagon showing the date when and by whom the oil was inspected. About 85 per cent. of the oil now sold is delivered by tank wagons and comes to the distributing tanks in tank cars, whereas before it came in barrels, which were stamped with the date their contents were inspected.

Every lady reader will figure this out, sure: A lady asked a naughty editor how to make "not enough" out of the word "enough" and he told her that it was done by disposing the letters into words like this: Take the third, second and first of the word enough for the first word, and the sixth, fourth and fifth for the second word and you have two words that signify something that is not enough for any young lady.

All aboard for Canton! The Ann Arbor R'y will run an excursion train to Canton, O., on the 16th, Friday, for those who have any desire to make a pilgrimage to that place and see the next president of the United States. The trip will cost only $2.50, for railroad fare. The train will leave Ann Arbor at 11:30 a. m., and returning will leave Canton at 12:30 the evening of the day following. It is thought that a large number of our citizens will take in the journey.

Our Kitchen

No kitchen is kept cleaner than the premises devoted to the manufacture of NONE SUCH Mince Meat. No housewife can be more fastidious in the matter of preparing food than we are in the selection and preparation of the materials of which it is made. The cleaning of the currants (for one thing) is more thoroughly done by means of perfected appliances, than it would be possible to do it by hand.

Its cleanliness, purity, wholesomeness and deliciousness are good reasons for using NONE SUCH Mince Meat. The best reason is its saving—of time, of hard work, of money. A ten cent package affords you two large pies, without trouble to you beyond the making of the crust. Makes just as good fruit cake and fruit pudding as it does mince pie. Sold everywhere. Be sure and get the genuine.

There is an old adage presumably obtained from the Indians, which states that any day in the fall when the sun "passes over" and seems meeting the horizon, then is the time that the climate for the winter could be foretold by the way the wind blows. In direct pursuance to the rules of the adage it is to be found that the wind was a heavy northerly wind, and Friday last was the day which seemed to fill the conditions. So, as the adage runs, a northerly wind points to a cold, severe winter.—Howell Herald.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

ONE EFFECT OF THE WILSON
TARIFF ON THE FARMERS.

How it Has Injured Their Markets in the Lumber and Mining Regions—Their Best Customers Becoming Competitors
—Farmers' Institutes in the Upper Peninsula.

The direct effect of tariff reduction upon certain farming industries has already been considered at some length in these columns. The indirect losses of the same class of producers, through suspended industries of other kinds, are almost as great, though not quite so apparent.

Next in value to the farm products of the state, and following close upon them, are the products of the pine and hardwood forests, the pine lumber, lath and shingle cut alone, having, in its best years, reached a value of over $60,000,000. When these two industries are booming the pine and hardwood forests and mills furnish the best market there is for the products of Michigan farms. The lumber camps, in winter, create a demand for immense quantities of hay, oats and bran, together with market for draft horses. They are also heavy consumers of every staple article of food for man, especially for those products in which Michigan excels, wheat flour, beans, potatoes, apples, beef cattle and pork. Following the breaking up of the lumber camps in the spring comes the starting of the sawmills, which continue the demand through the summer and fall. In the most prosperous years for lumbering the farmers north of the D., G. H. & M. railway have had a market for their products almost at their own doors and at their own prices.

Changes in the tariff have had an immediate effect upon this industry by transferring a good deal of the sawmill work to Canada, while the general depression of business has greatly reduced the demand for lumber. Not since 1857, when it was in its infancy, has the lumber business of Michigan been so paralyzed as during the present year. Operations in the camps last winter were smaller than for many years before, and the mills are running light this summer. Stocks on hand are heavy and their owners find it difficult to realize on them. As a result the farmers have lost the excellent market which they formerly had in the woods and the sawmill towns, and have to pay freight charges and commissions before they can get Detroit prices, while they become competitors with their brethren from other parts of the state in the Detroit and eastern markets. The depression in this one industry has made a difference of many hundred thousand dollars in their receipts since the Wilson bill passed.

Next to the lumber camps and sawmills, the mines of the upper peninsula employ more men and pay out more wages than any other single industry in the state. In 1892, before the election turned the country over to the Democracy, many of the iron mines of northern Michigan were running night and day shifts, with as large a force of men as they could work to advantage. Wages were good and the men and their families were liberal purchasers of clothing and of all food products. With the threat of tariff changes came reduced prices for iron ore, and the threat was followed by the enactment of the Wilson tariff, which dealt to iron manufacture a heavier blow than to any other branch of manufacture except that of woolen goods. Within one year after its enactment that law "doubled the importation of bar iron, destroyed the cotton industry in this country and closed up the factories, almost doubled the imports of steel ingots and blooms, and increased the imports of tin plate." The direct result of these increased imports is a lessened demand for American iron ore and the evil is aggravated by the general depression of business caused, in part, by the same tariff. The result is disastrous to the Michigan mining district. During the past six weeks, when operations ought to have been more active than at any other time in the year, mine after mine has ceased work, and in some cases the pumps even have been stopped, allowing the mines to fill with water. Many of the miners, instead of being the most liberal of purchasers, are likely, during the coming winter, to require aid from public appropriations or private charity.

The purchasing and consuming power of thousands of families has thus been seriously impaired. Not only that, but many of them have become producers of farm and garden products. When the miners were earning from $2.50 to $3.50 a day, with plenty of work, they had neither time nor inclination to work farm or garden under the disadvantages of soil and climate that exist in that region. But, under the stress of enforced idleness and reduced pay, they have undertaken both. Last winter witnessed the novel spectacle of farmers' institutes in a region which before that had possessed little of the quality of an agricultural district, and another series of institutes has been arranged for this winter.

The Wilson tariff has thus helped to destroy a good market and to raise a competitor. Do the farmers of lower Michigan want four years more of it?

All the prosperity enjoyed by the American people, from the founding of the United States down to the present time, has been under the reign of protective principles; and all the hard times suffered by the American people have been preceded either by a heavy reduction of the duties on imports, or by a threat of such reduction, or by insufficient protection, thus refuting all free trade theories on the subject.

NATIONAL BANK VICE-PRES.

A Most Important and Distinguished Testimonial For Dr. Greene's Nervura.

Hon. J. H. Hastings, Judge of County Court,
Senator, and Vice-Pres. National Bank,
Tells the People to Use Dr. Greene's
Nervura to be Cured.

JUDGE J. H. HASTINGS, VICE-PRESIDENT NATIONAL BANK OF WATBURY, VT.

You are sick and out of order and want to get well.

To get well you desire to take the remedy which will surely cure you—the one which is strongly recommended by some one in whom you have perfect belief and confidence.

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the medicine which will surely cure you.

And here is the strongest possible recommendation to use it by one of the most eminent and distinguished Judges in this country, Hon. J. H. Hastings, of Waitsfield, Vt., an Associate Judge, Senator in the Vermont Legislature, Vice-President and Director of the Waterbury National Bank, and Treasurer and Trustee of his town.

Such is the exalted standing of the famous Judge and able Financier who is enthusiastic in praise of the wonderful curative powers of Dr. Greene's Nervura, who has used it with most remarkable benefit in his own family and who tells you that he has known so many cases cured by this grand medicine, that he advises you to use it by all means, if you wish to get well.

Judge Hastings says:

"I have heard Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy most highly recommended by my friends and neighbors who have used it, and know of several decided cures where people have been in a very feeble state of health and had failed to get relief from the usual sources.

"A lady who lived in my family has often spoken of the wonderful good which Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has done her mother who was cured of nervous prostration by its use. One of my near neighbors who used the Nervura and derived benefit from its use, advised me to use it in my own family. They are all enthusiastic in its praise and I join in the same. You are at liberty to publish this letter for others' good."

You can depend upon Judge Hastings' word. You can depend upon Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to cure you.

Take it, you who feel weak, nervous, tired, without your old-time snap, energy and vim; it will give you strong nerves, pure blood, sound, natural and refreshing sleep, from which you will rise strong and vigorous instead of languid, tired and exhausted. If your stomach troubles you, if you have gas, indigestion, dizziness, distress after meals, bloating, faint feeling at pit of stomach, constipation, kidney or liver complaints, Dr. Greene's Nervura will give you perfect digestion and regular and natural action of all the organs. It will cure headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, and is the best remedy in the world for female weakness and nervous debility.

The carefully compounded prescription of our most successful physician in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City, this greatest of medical discoveries is perfectly adapted to cure just these complaints. The Doctor can be consulted free of charge, personally or by letter.

BUYING SILVER TO PAY DEBTS.

Mr. Bryan says he wants things fixed so that a man who is in debt can go to the market, buy silver, have it coined without charge, and pay his debts with it. Of course the man will buy the silver at the market price. At present the market price of such a chunk of silver as Mr. Bryan wants coined into one dollar is about fifty-three cents. Therefore, it is logically argued, Mr. Bryan wants a man to be able to pay a debt of one dollar with what costs him—and is worth in the market—only fifty-three cents.

Against this some silverites rage with superheated rhetoric, declaring that no man, except, perhaps, the author of such an argument, would be fool enough to sell a bit of silver that could be coined into a dollar for fifty-three cents. The market price of silver would instantly, upon the adoption of free coinage, rise, until a pit of silver big enough to coin into one dollar would intrinsically be worth one hundred cents.

All right. Then what in the name of all the senses, common and uncommon, is the use in the man going into the market and buying the silver and having it coined to pay his debt with? Why not pay the debt at once with the money he buys his silver with? Why go to the bother of getting silver and having it coined?

The free coinage silver dollar either will or will not be worth as much as the gold dollar—that is, one hundred cents. If it is, as the silver men—or some of them—contend, it will not help a man to pay his debts, not in the slightest. It will take just as much work or just as much produce to get it as it now takes to get the gold dollar. And it is sheer nonsense to talk about a man going into market with a hundred-cent dollar and with it buying a hundred cents' worth of silver and having it coined in a dollar to pay his debts with, when he could just as well, and a good deal more easily, pay the debt at once with the original dollar. If, on the other hand, the free-coinage silver dollar is not worth as much as the gold dollar, then Mr. Bryan's plan is, as we have interpreted it, a scheme to pay a debt of one dollar with something worth less than one dollar. And that is flat repudiation.

N. Y. Tribune.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT.

Listen to these facts, and then think about them: The Central American silver states have a per capita currency in circulation of $3.78; Japan $4.09; India $3.33; China $2.08; Mexico $5.47.

The gold standard countries have the following per capita of currency in circulation: United States to-day $24.34 England $19.98, France $36.76, Germany $18.78, Belgium $27.82.

If more money is what is wanted, changing to a silver basis and getting cheaper money will not accomplish it.

The thing that bothers poor people will, but bother them just the same with a high per capita, i. e., how to get hold of money with nothing to get it with.

Chancery Notice.

State of Michigan, Washtenaw County—In Chancery.
Dated, September 4, A. D. 1896.
Morris Hill and Joseph H. Woodman, complainants vs. Agnes E. Flickinger, Daniel E. Flickinger and The Rochester Savings and Loan Association, defendants.
Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw in Chancery at Ann Arbor on the 4th day of September, A. D. 1896, in this cause it appearing from affidavit on file that the defendant, The Rochester Savings and Loan Association, is not a resident of this State, but resides at Rochester, in the State of New York, on motion of John W. Bennett, Complainant's Solicitor, it is ordered that the said defendant, The Rochester Savings and Loan Association, cause its appearance to be entered herein, within four months from the date of this order, and in case of its appearance that it cause its answer to the complainant's Bill of Complaint to be filed, and a copy thereof to be served on said complainant's Solicitor, within twenty days after service on it of a copy of said bill, and notice of this order; and that in default thereof, said bill be taken as confessed by the said non-resident defendant.

And it is further ordered, that within twenty days the said complainants cause a notice of this order to be published in the Ann Arbor Courier, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said county, and that such publication be continued there at least once in each week, for six weeks in succession, or that they cause a copy of this order to be personally served on said non-resident defendant, at least twenty days before the time above prescribed for its appearance.

J. W. BENNETT, Complainant's Solicitor.
E. D. KINNE, Circuit Judge.

Mortgage Sale.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made and executed by Darwin Nelson and Lydia J. Nelson his wife, of Allen, Washtenaw County, State of Michigan, to Henry Yanson, of the same place; and assigned by said Henry Yanson to Charles Yanson; and further assigned by said Charles Yanson to Lucinda M. Yanson; and further assigned by said Lucinda M. Yanson to William H. Weed, which said last assignment was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Washtenaw County in Liber 12 of assignments on page 391, August 19th, 1896; said original mortgage having been recorded in Liber 52 of mortgages, page 727 on the 28th day of March, 1877, at 2 1/2 p. m. On which mortgage there is claimed to be due and owing at the date of this notice the sum of Five hundred and ten and seventy-two hundredths dollars ($547.72), also an attorney's fee provided for in said mortgage and allowed by statute; and no suit or proceeding at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage or any part thereof. Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on Saturday, December 19th, 1896, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, I shall sell at public auction to the highest bidder, at the south door of the court house in the city of Ann Arbor, Washtenaw County, Michigan, (that being the place and building where the circuit court for the county of Washtenaw is held) the premises described in said mortgage or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage with nine per cent interest and all legal costs, expenses and attorney's fees contained or agreed upon therein. The premises being described as follows in said mortgage: "Beck's premises described in acres south of the road and off from the west side of the east half of the southwest quarter of section No. twenty-seven in township No. one south, range seven east, township of Salem, Washtenaw County, Michigan." September 22d, 1896.

A HUMOROUS VIEW.

Great Truths Related Years Ago in a Funny and Peculiar Way.

The following was written for the Toledo Blade in 1878 by Petroleum V. Nasby:

Confederate X Roads (which is in the state of Kentucky), Jan. 22, 1878.—I ain't so certin that I want the silver bill to pass ez I was. The fact is, the thing don't work ez I sposed it wood, and I ain't clear onto it. There is subtle principles in these finanshel questions wick requires a great deal uv thought, and there is underlying principles which a man has got to understand afore he is competent to set hisself up ez authority. One thing I'm certin uv, Bascom ain't no finansseer, nor never will be, and I told him so.

"Wat is a finansseer?" asked he. "A finansseer," sed I, asooming the look of Dan'l Webster, "is a man wick kin pay his debts with nothin—a man wick kin git suthin with nothin."

"The Corners, then, is full of finansseers," he remarkt, bitterly, casting a casual glance at his slate, which wuz jist full enuff to turn over and begin on tother side.

But he hezn't any uv the sience uv it. I wuz argooing with him the other day in favor uv my noshun uv a leather currency, though I told him silver wuz much the same thing, and, for example I would asoom that silver wuz to be the currency uv the fucher.

"Now, don't yoo see, Bascom, that ef I hed twict ez much money, I could drink twict ez much whiskey and pay for it?"

"HOW MUCH IS TWICE NOTHIN'?" wuz the unfeelin' answer uv the tyrant who holds the destinies of the Corners in his hands. "That's wot yoor capitle hez bin ever since I knowd you."

"Parson," sed he, "I don't see what earthy difference it's goin' to make whether silver is currency or anything else. How are yoo goin' to git silver ef it is made legal tender? Ef silver wuz ez plenty ez bricks, w'at hev you got to get any uv it with?"

"Troo, G. W.," wuz my answer; "but can't yoo see that hev silver wood relieve the dettor class? Even, now afore it is legal tender, it's only wurrth 92 cents on the dollar, and when the country is floodid with it, it will go still lower. Then we—or rather sich uv us ez hev property to raise money on—kin pay off."

"Eggsactly so," retorts Bascom; "you kin pay me for the good honist likker uv mine, wick you hev consumed, in coin, which is less than the dollar yoo promised. All rite. But look here—come in here, all uv yoo. I want yoo silver men to know exactly

"W'AT YOO ARE RUSHIN' INTO." And this feend led us into the back room—that back room wick contanes the subsistence uv the Corners. There, in long rows, wuz Bascom's stock There, in barrils, piled one on top uv another, wuz the delishus whiskey uv Louisville, uv different ages, rangin' from that uv two weeks old to that wick hed jist left the still and was scarcely cold yit. There it lay, and ez my eye ranged affeckshunately over it I felt ef I could hev the drinkin' of all that likker I wood be content to lay down and die when the last drop wuz gone.

Bascom pinto to the immense tank wick he had erected within a few days, with a pipe runnin' in from the roof. "I shan't raise the price of likker in consekence of being paid for it in deprehiated currency," sed he. I fell on Bascom's neck, in an extacy uv delite, while the others shouted, "rah for Bascom."

"G. W.," I remarked, while tears suffused my eyes, "I never placed you much below the angels, but this generous act has bisted you a hundred per cent in my estimashun. Bless you, G. W., bless you."

"But I'll tell yoo w'at I sheld do. Do you see that tank?" said he. "May I ask w'at that is for?" I sed.

"That tank will fill with RANE WATER," sed he. "The moment you git to payin' me in silver, I sheld take out uv each uv them barrils jist eggsackly three and one-fifth gallons uv likker, and fill it with water."

"Merciful heavings," we all exclaimed, "and poor likker so weak now!"

"And when silver gits down to 75 cents on the dollar, I sheld take out 25 per cent uv whiskey and fill her up with 25 per cent of water. And so on down. Ef silver goes up I sheld add whiskey eggsackly in proporshen. In short, my whiskey is jist agoin' to foller currency and nothin' shorter. Yoo fellers wick work for wages may swet, but I won't."

"But yoo'll increase the size of yoor glasses?" sed I.

"Not eny. But you may drink twice ez many times to git the same amount uv drink es before, by payin' for each drink."

And Bascom stalked hawtily back and took his posishen behind his bar. Ther wuz consternashun in the Corners sich ez I hev never seen. Ther wuz a hurried consultashun at the Deekin's house and I sected that we emancipate ourselves from the dominyun uv this tyrant by startin' a groseery uv our own on the joint stock principle, wick wuz agreed to, each man agreein' to contribut $10 to the capital stock, wick wood be enuff to buy a bair' or two, for a be-ginnin'.

We wuz enthoosiasic till we come' to ballotin' for the man to keep the place, when it wuz found insid uv my bein' chosen, yoonaniously, es I eggspected to be, that every man hed, vottid for hisself. Ez not a spul uv them would recede, the skeem wuz blocked rite there, and finally hed to be abandoned and we went back to Bascom's and submittid. That tryant hez us.

Uv course we can't stand likker dilootid in that manner. We are willin' enuff to diloot the currency with wick to pay for likker, but we want our likker full strength. We coodent help it, but that nite we signed and sent to our representative a remonstrance agin' the silver bill. The Corners is now for a honest currency. Wood, O wood, that we hed some uv it.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY, Finansseer.

In one respect there is a similarity in the perditions of both Mr. Bryan and Mr. McKinley—that is so far as the results their respective parties hope to accomplish are concerned: Mr. Bryan tells us that free silver will raise the price of farm produce. Mr. McKinley says that protection will raise the price of farm produce. Thus we see no matter which ticket is elected, the laboring man is stared in the face by the proposition that he must pay a higher price for the products he uses. In such a dilemma, which horn will he grasp?—Dexter Leader.

With this difference. Protection gave the farmer a market for his produce—that has been tried and found to be true. It gave him a market by giving the laborer employment, so that he could buy. Free silver will not raise the price of any thing on earth. It will simply cut the value one has to buy with in two.

The farmer will receive no more for his wheat than he does now, but the laborer will have the dollar that he is paid off in reduced in value about one-half, so that he cannot buy as much as he does to-day. Congress can change the name of the foot stick and have it called a yard stick, but it will still remain the length that it was by its first name. Congress can stamp "one dollar," on a piece of silver, and by having a sufficient amount of gold to redeem it in, float a great many of them and the people will have confidence and receive them at the face value. But it cannot stamp an unlimited quantity of them and maintain their value. Consequently unlimited coinage means a cheap dollar. It not only means a cheap dollar, it means a debased currency. Protection means better prices by furnishing work to idle men, and putting them into a position where they can buy the farmers products. The great demand will increase prices, and they can be increased in no other way under heavens.

"It is better to open up our factories and mills to the labor of the American workman then it is to open up the mints of the United States to the silver of the world."

No greater truth was ever uttered.

About the Century.

The September Century abounds in articles of timely interest, and in an unusual variety of fiction. No serial story of the present time is attracting so much attention as Mrs. Humphry Ward's "Sir George Tressady." Mr. Howells's lively story of Saratoga, "An Open-Eyed Conspiracy," is continued; and Mrs. Amelia E. Barr contributes the first part of a novelette, "Prisoners of Conscience," which deals with life in the Shetland Islands, and is strikingly illustrated by Louis Loeb.

The short stories of the number are "Sonny's Diploma," by Mrs. Ruth McEnery Stuart; "Abner," by Lynn Roby Meekins; and "The Healing of Meechum," by Frank Crane. Mr. Richard Burton gives an account of the life of Mrs. Stowe, the author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which is illustrated by several portraits, including the frontispiece, from a daguerreotype taken in 1852, and a facsimile of the original MS. of the story. A paper of timely interest is an Arizona miner's account of his hard experiences in "The Gold-Fields of Guiana," illustrated by photographs, some of which show the manner of carrying on placer diggings both in the Parima river region, of the disputed territory, and in the Potaro river district to the south. "The Bicycle Outlook" is discussed by Isaac B. Potter, Chief Consul of the New York Division of the League of American Wheelmen.

CAN CURE ASTHMA AND HAY FEVER.

A Noted Physician Offers to Prove This to all Sufferers in Ann Arbor.

The majority of sufferers from Asthma and kindred complaints, after trying doctors and numberless remedies advertised as positive cures without avail, have come to the conclusion that there is no cure for this most distressing disease, and these same persons will be the more in doubt and skeptical when they learn through the columns of the press that Dr. Rudolph Schiffmann, the recognized authority who has treated more cases of these diseases than any living doctor, has achieved success by perfecting a remedy which not only gives immediate relief in the worst cases, but has positively cured thousands of sufferers who were considered incurable. These were just as skeptical as some of our readers now are. Dr. Schiffmann's remedy no doubt possesses the merit which is claimed for it or he would not authorize this paper to announce that he is not only willing to give free to each person suffering from Asthma, Hay Fever or Bronchitis in this city, one liberal "free trial box" of his Cure, but urgently requests all sufferers to call at Good-year's Drug Store, Ann Arbor, within the next three days and receive a package absolutely free of charge, knowing that in making the claim he does for his Cure, a strong doubt may arise in the minds of many and that a personal test, as he offers to all, will be more convincing, and prove its merits, than the publishing of thousands of testimonials from persons who have been permanently cured by the use of his Asthma Cure.

"Dr. Schiffmann's Asthma Cure," as it is called, has been sold by druggists of this city ever since it was first introduced, although many persons may never have heard of it, and it is with a view to reaching these that he makes this offer. This is certainly a most generous and fair offer, and all who are suffering from any of the above complaints should remember the date and place where the distribution will be made, and avail themselves of the same. Persons living out of this city who desire to test the efficacy of this most wonderful remedy will receive a package free by writing to Dr. Schiffmann, 330 Rosabel street, St. Paul, Minn., providing their letter is received before Oct. 16th, as no free samples can be obtained after that date.

With this difference. Protection gave the farmer a market for his produce—that has been tried and found to be true. It gave him a market by giving the laborer employment, so that he could buy. DOWN THE BLUE DANUBE.

In an Open Boat—Eleventh Letter of this Interest Voyage.

Heidelberg, Germany, Sept. 4, '96.

I wonder if you ever saw a Hungarian hog. He looks like a half empty meal sack as he listlessly suns himself in the historic mud of the Danube. He wears a bell, but rarely moves enough to ring it. He has a way of lining up his several selves upon the bank of the river and thus constructing a sort of scalloped border for our horizon.

There is a rather pleasing monotony about this part of the river. It is no longer bridged, not even by those swing bridges constructed like the Mohammedan bridge Al Serat, which leads to Paradise Islands, sometimes miles in length, and again clustered and confusingly numerous, make it hard to decide upon which channel to choose. But the Danube current itself is the Ariadne's thread which guides us out of all these labyrinths. Upon these islands we see so many huts of fishermen and the piscatorial artist himself paddling about in his clumsy craft. They have such varied arts for catching the unwary fish; trolling line, hook, line and pole, small scoop nets, large spoon nets, long nets, like a tennis net, round nets, which are attached to a long rope and thrown from the bank, and great yards netted in and stationary, into which they entice the fish at night by means of a flaring light.

Some days the sun is hot, and Sancho arranges the blankets comfortably and succumbing to my suggestive quotation, "Sleep, Sancho, for thou wert born to sleep," passes a monotonous hour in slumber. But every village or town breaks the sameness, and gives something new at which to marvel. As we approach we are saluted by a sound of battering quite suggestive of an assault on Troy. This proves to be long line of washerwomen standing hip deep in the water and slapping dirty clothes on a wooden stand. These dusky aphrodites, as they rise from the foam, which their efforts at cleanliness produces, are a very amusing sight. Once ashore we are surrounded, and some offshore fellow, with a German education, is deputized to question us.

We recite our story, and you would laugh to see my wife in her bloomer costume, standing amid a motley crowd of men, women and children dressed in every conceivable costume. Men in regular mother-hubbard gowns or else a linen frock and baggy linen trousers; women with red, yellow, or any gay headress and other garments to match, and children whose dusky skins are not clothed enough to speak of, cluster about.

I have in my kodak a scene wherein my wife stands beneath two brass basins; a barber's sign in this country; and entertainers, while I have gone to buy some milk. The group consists of eight or ten little darkskinned rascals, with a wee cotton shirt apiece, peasant women with short, gay, plaid skirts, very full, and adorned with green and blue ribbons, a yellow black and red kerchief on head, and purple embroidered kerchief about her neck; and men dressed as above described. The scene is what you might expect on the Congo, but hardly in central Europe. Everyone is very courteous to the "schone Frau" and many a luckless imp gets soundly cuffed by some respectful bystander for daring to get too close to the object of interest. These boys are black as Africans and have eyes like sloes. They are amphibious, so sun and water accounts for their complexions. When I went after milk I was guided up a narrow lane bordered by little huts with thatched roofs. We came at last to a hut larger than the rest and having a yard filled with dirty geese and hens. My guide opened the door and I saw the three old withered beldames sitting in a very smoky atmosphere, with some black pots before them, in which they were brewing some black, mysterious substance with a sickening smell. They seemed not at all anxious to sell milk and simply humped their backs a little more and scowled at me. The solicitations of my guide finally prevailed and one of them mumbled and crooned while she got the milk.

After leaving this village we came soon to a canal about five miles in length, cutting off a long loop, which the winding river makes at this point. Of all things melancholy, this canal is chief. Nothing but sand dunes on either side and cawing crows sitting upon the ridges while we passed. Tall, rustling reeds whispered unhappily and made it all seem dreary enough. There were ugly swirls in this canal, which twisted our little boat quite viciously. But we at last reached the noble river itself and drifted happily down to Mohacs.

Before landing we passed a coal barge, which was being loaded at the wharf by a gang of women with wheelbarrows. We had no sooner gone ashore than we came upon a group of girls in gay dresses, who were singing merrily and carrying buckets of water, with which they were making mortar for a new stone building. Not far up in the town we saw some young women carrying bricks up a ladder to some "lady masons," not members of the "Eastern Star," who were laying the bricks. I tried to get a picture of the brick carriers

The following paragraphs are all clipped from the files of the Detroit Tribune, and show what the paper thought before it lost its sanity:

Immutable Laws Control—

Free coinage is, therefore, a system which makes the government simply an assayer and stamper so far as the value of the precious metals contained in the coinage is concerned, and which leaves the determination of the value of coined gold and silver to the same immutable laws which control the values of wheat and cotton and corn. Un-American, Unpatriotic.

With its pessimistic slander of American institutions and its calumnious indictment of American morals, politics and social conditions, its bombastic and grandiloquent asseveration of purpose and its ridiculously inadequate remedies for the evils which it portrays as the most gigantic ever known, the People's party platform is un-American, unpatriotic, and unpopular. No party will ever sweep this country or any considerable section of it on such a platform or with such a candidate.

Ignorant and Destitute—

When the people know nothing of finance except that money is scarce in their own pockets, demand that the currency be regulated to suit their notions, and set themselves up to be "the people" on the very ground that they are poor, ignorant and destitute of experience, politics begins to be a comedy, with motley fools as the chief fun-makers. There is enough common sense left in the United States, we make free to believe, to prevent "the people" and the people's party from doing the harm they are so frantically anxious to accomplish.

Good Advice—

The young man who is to cast his first vote this fall should be able quickly to decide which side he will join. If he is in doubt let him compare the records of the two great parties, and then compare the men who represent them in congress. Let him go where Democracy is strongest—in the toughest ward and slum holes of our cities; then let him go where republicanism is strongest—in the clean wards and in the thrifty country towns where churches, schoolhouses, farms and factories are seen, instead of dives and brothels and bleary-eyed bachelors. Young men, you who are to cast your first vote this fall, which side will you walk over to?

WOMEN TO VOTE.

For President.

For the first time in the history of this country an opportunity for women to publicly express their choice for president is offered. The method is unique and will result in showing on Nov. 4th just what effect the woman's vote will have on national affairs.

A manufacturer who has business relations with most of the prominent newspapers in the United States, proposes the plan as follows:

All women over 18 are entitled to one vote. The votes by states will be shown in the papers every week until Nov. 4th. Women are requested to read more than one side of the question and act upon their own judgment. Write the name of the candidate on a postal card and write your own name and address clearly, also city and state. On the lower left hand corner give the name of a banker or grocer who knows you.

This precaution is to prevent flooding the mail with fictitious votes. Names unknown to grocer or banker will be thrown out. Be very careful to write clearly and an acknowledgment of the receipt of each vote will be sent to each voter. Send the postal to Postum Cereal Food Coffee Co., Battle Creek, Mich. It is urged that every earnest woman will not hesitate to expend a penny to register her preference at this most interesting period of National history.

This company have a national reputation and pledge their integrity and honor to report the vote exactly as received, without fear or favor. A sworn statement of the final vote polled up to 7 p. m., Nov. 4, will be published No. 7th and the vote as it progresses will be shown every week between now and then.

QUEER LOT OF HASH.

A Conglomerated Mass of Amalgamated Isms Jumbled Together.

Didn't Want the Honor (?)—

The convention held in this city last week to nominate a candidate for state senator in this district, was a great affair. No wonder Capt. Manly passed the word around among his friends, after he got there that he didn't want the nomination. No one blames him. It was the most amalgamated conglomeration of political "principles" that any one has seen for many a day.

McDougall Mulcted—

The silver republicans and the pops that formed the mass convention at the recent representative convention which the Courier told about, were there, together with Mr. Wing, and an ex-republican from Jackson county. Then the prohibitionists were out in usual force. These all "colluded" with the soft democrats, and the result was McDougall.

Peters Tells All About It—

After the nomination speeches were called for and Hon. Gus. Peters responded. He recited a tale of woe that was more effecting than the tall of one of the famous killkenny cats, or the monster sea serpent. He said the farmers had been completely overwhelmed, drowned in pure, unadulterated misery, and it wasn't due to the tariff nor anything of that kind. It was due to the demonetization of silver, to that cursed act of 1873, passed in the night, in the dark, by a trick, and through fraud. He said the republicans needn't lie about it, he "knew that the act was passed by congress when there didn't three men in that body know what they were doing."

"Now I'll tell you where you can find out all about it," said Gus. "You just get Harvey's Coin book, called 'Coin's Financial School,' that's got the bull thing in just as it was done." The populist orator closed with an effecting peroration in which he asserted that "this year we'll lick the cussed money power, the Wall street sharks, out of their boots." (Great applause.)

Boylan Has a Reason—

Then Chas. Boylan was called upon and gave his views from a prohibition standpoint. He said that both the old parties ought to die, and he wanted to help kill them, and this year they were going to commence by killing the republicans, (using the democrats as a tool).

The reason he would not vote for McKinley was because he (McKinley) owned a building that was rented for saloon purposes. At least he had heard that to be a fact, and a friend of his here in the city had written to McKinley some two or three weeks ago, and asked if that was true, and no attention had been paid to the letter. That was why he believed the story and should vote for Bryan. The speaker seemed very jubilant over the fact that the democrats had put some prohibitionists on their state ticket, and pledged the party to stand by the combine. He said this would be the first time in some 20 years that he had had an opportunity to vote for anyone who had a chance of being elected, (referring no doubt to the two prohibitionists on the democratic state ticket.) (Great is principle in politics!)

Spalding is All Right—

Others were called upon and excused themselves. A Mr. Ware, of Jackson, who pretends to have formerly been a republican, got up and gave Gen. Spalding a dig, accusing him of pretending to favor silver ideas when he voted in congress with sound money men. For the benefit of the gentleman it might be well to state that Mr. Spalding stands where he has always stood, for the free coinage of silver and gold at the true or commercial ratio, or by international agreement, the only sane method. He has never yet tried to deceive his constituents, but stands squarely on the St. Louis platform, as all honest republicans do.

WHO ARE ITS ENEMIES?

Prior to 1873 there were coined in the United States, all told about 8,000,000 silver dollars.

Since 1873 there have been coined in the United States 547,913,340 silver dollars.

And yet these silver maniacs will tell you that silver has been in the hands of its enemies since 1873. What nonsense!

Andrew Mitchell, the celebrated chemist, formerly professor in chemistry in the University of Michigan, writes: I have made a careful examination of Gessler's Magic Headache wafers and find them free from Antipyrine, Quinine, Morphine Chloral or any harmful narcotics. I cheerfully recommend them for headache and neuralgia. Physicians and druggists everywhere say they are the only remedy we have ever found that will positively cure where all others failed. 25 cents at A. E. Mummery's.

THREE MEN FROM ILLINOIS.

Abraham Lincoln was from Illinois. Gov. Altgeld is of Illinois. Thank heaven, there the similarity ends. Altgeld, at the recent so-called national democratic convention, inveighed in bitter terms against the U. S. supreme court, and had a plank inserted in the platform of his party pledging it to pack the supreme court of our nation in the interest of anarchy if that party should get in power.

Lincoln, in 1857, when the supreme court had made that infamous Dred Scott decision, said: "We think the Dred Scott decision is erroneous. We know the court that made it has often overruled its own decisions, and we shall do what we can to have it overrule this. We offer no resistance to it."

Stephen A. Douglas was one of the most eloquent democrats Illinois ever produced. He said: "The supreme court is a sacred trust, to resist it is anarchy."

But then those two great men of Illinois were not Altgelds! They were patriots! They were statesmen. They were men who loved their party, but they loved their country more than all things else.

A million miles of macadamized road would cost $4,000,000,000, but would dispense with about half the draft animals in the country, and thus save $737,000,000 in the annual feed bill. This is three per cent. interest on $36,000,000,000. Consequently, if road bonds were issued bearing three per cent. interest, the New England Homestead estimates that more than 6,000,000 miles of macadamized road could be built without increasing the annual expenses one dollar. The people are paying three per cent. on $36,000,000 in order to keep up the present bad roads. So the apostles of good roads figure.

Edwin F. Uhl, whom every resident of this county probably knows, has written a letter to Daniel J. Campau, in reply to an appeal for campaign funds, that is not only plain and sensible, but very patriotic. He tells Mr. Campau in plain words that he does not consider the present crew that have hold of the democratic party, democrats; frankly states that he would not vote for Mr. Bryan if he were at home, and consequently can not give money for a campaign that he believes to be wrong. He pronounces the Chicago platform unpatriotic, un-American and in direct opposition to democracy.

Foreign and Home Markets.

George B. Curtis in his book, "Protection and Prosperity," gives the tariff history of every nation on earth. His object is to see just how much there is in the cry for foreign markets. He concludes that part of his work as follows:

Over 300,000,000 people in Europe are not only preventing and maintaining their home markets, but are glutting every market on the face of the globe with every conceivable commodity made by the handcraft of man. Every port in the world, every warehouse is filled with articles from their factories offered for sale at prices which furnish small reward for capital, and but a scanty return for labor. These are the conditions under which the United States is asked to contest for foreign markets. Never in the history of the world has it been so difficult for the U. S. to maintain its wage rate and the comfort and opulence of their people under free competition as to-day. The very fact that European countries are undervaluing the industrial life of Great Britain and that her industrial centers are filled with alarm and her manufacturers and artisans crying out with distress, makes the proof doubly strong that if the United States should let down or remove her protective barriers every industry would be closed, every wheel silenced and every laborer thrown out of employment. There is scarcely an article made in the United States but that can be made cheaper in some other part of the world. As long as this situation remains, the only hope of our industrial prosperity lies in the perpetuation of the policy of protection.

ESTATE OF CHARLES SPOOR.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Washtenaw, ss.
At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the city of Ann Arbor, on Friday, the 2nd day of October in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety six.
Present, J. Willard Babbitt, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Charles Spoor, deceased.
On reading and filing the petition duly verified of Susan Nichols, praying that a certain instrument now on file in this court, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, may be admitted to probate and that administration of said estate may be granted to herself, the executor in said will named or to some other suitable person.

Thereupon it is ordered, that Monday, the second day of November next at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the devisees, legatees, heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be holden at the Probate Office, in the city of Ann Arbor, in said county, and show cause if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted. And it is further ordered that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Ann Arbor Courier, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.
[A true copy.] J. WILLARD BABBITT, Judge of Probate.
W. G. DOTY, Probate Register.
