It was an awful temptation. I knew both Mollie and I would be safe, for I was a good swimmer, and should the boat not reach the shore, I could save her and myself; but then if I did this, would I not deliberately expose every one of the three hundred souls on board to destruction? True, the boat might keep in her course during the short space remaining to be passed merely from the impetus of her approach, but again she might not-and then?

I looked at my dear wife inquiring-'Stick to your post, Bob!' she said. 'No, sir,' I shouted back. 'I shall stick to my pos!; I shall stay here till I run her clear on the shore or die first!" ·My brave Bob-my noble Bob!" mur-

My arms, released from their guardianship over the wheel, clasped Mollie close to my heart; but my eyes and brain were busy seeking for some mode of escape from death that seemed each instant more certain.

All at once my eyes rested on the paddle box. It had not taken fire yet; the run through the ears on the opposite flying spray had saved it. I had only to dash across the flame-swept deck and fling open a little door on its side, which afforded ready access to the wheel, to lower my precious charge to the water beneath with safety. No sooner thought of than done.

'Take my hand, Mollie,' I said, 'and run with me. We shall be saved after Two of the half-tub blocks fill a barrel, all. Wrap your shawl across your

The refined acid ly handled it is indeed very effective in late summer and just before the fall frosts suddenly quench its fiery colors; but it is the luxury of the rich rather moderately strong suds, and apply with than the comfort of the poor. The outlay for plants is considerable, and the outlay for keeping out the grass from the edges, and the weeds from all the bed is considerable, and until August, there is little to reward all this outlay. To my mind, the Dutch bulbs for early effect, followed by some of the best annuals, such as mignonette, larkspur, petunia, phlex, and many others, are more likely to give satisfaction to the average gardener. Unless considerable time is easily to be spared for keeping the garden bed in order, avoid lacing it in the lawn; the grass will be constantly encroaching, especially if couch grass abounds, as is very often the case in old lawns. The seeds of the annuals, if started in a hotbead, or April, will flower a month earlier than when sown outside, and be more sure of germinating besides. > HOME RELIGION. - Home religion should be leving first of all, and last of all it should be-loving. It should be very patient, too, especially on those days when it is hard to be patient. It should be cheerful, especially when it takes wit to invent occasions of mirthfulness. It should be brave, not to face troubles that are within. A kindly word, a pleasant speech, a cheerful or sympathetic look, a touch of the hand in the old tender fashion of the courting days, a stroking of the cheek and the soft mevement of the palm over the hair-"Foolish tricks?" are a fool if you say it, friend. You didn't think they were foolish tricks once, and you were wiser then than you are now that you have dropped them. Domestic Hints.

New Kettles: The best way to prepare a new iron kettle for use is to fill t with clean potato parings; boil them for an hour or more, then wash the kettle with hot water, wipe it dry, and rub it with a little lard; repeat the rubbing half a dozen times after using. In this way you will prevent rust, and all the annoyancees liable to occur in the use of a new kettle.

Baking Powder: In using baking powder be sure not to use too much. Beside being unhealthful it spoils the delicate flavor of cake and of biscuit; it is a great temptation to put in a little more than that given in a receipe to make sure of the desired lightness, but it cought to have sure of the desired lightness, out it ought to be resisted. A renedy will sooner or later be found for this state of things. The first remedy to be applied should be to consult semeinstead of sentiment in establishing and managing state institutions. The next remedy should be to consult semeinstead of sentiment in establishing and managing state institutions. The next remedy should be to place them under a common management, say a board of governors. While the savages saw the beat moving, and rivalry would be to work of the savages saw the beat moving, and rivalry would be to work of the savages saw the beat moving, and rivalry would sill remain, the evil resulting from the ambition and rivalry of separate boards of control would be overcome. A short step has already been taken in this direction in a bill which is pending requiring a uniform system of accounts in all state institutions. The principle needs to be excluded so as to conprehend a uniform government,

DRAIN TILE

All our Drain Tile are made of Fire Clay, are of unusual strength and light weight, which ma-terially reduces the breakage and expense of transportation.

The ditching for this class of tiling is less expeu sive, as they do not require to be laid below frost, but only deep enough to escape the plow.

While this is more economical it also aids in obtainings better "fall" or grade to the drain.
