Mrs. Robt. Price had a buffalo robe stolen from her cutter which was left for a few moments in front of the residence of Mrs. Farnsworth's on Washington street.

It couldn't be possible that any man in this city would attempt to burn up a newspaper for fear of being exposed in his nefarious practice of dogging unprotected females about the city, and playing blackmailer for half his living; and yet—[Daily News.]

The contemptible puppy who would insult an unprotected lady is mean enough to do almost anything. But, brother, if you know of such an one, please give his name. The community should know to what you refer, and persons could then be on their guard.

An attempt was made Sunday morning at half past 12 o'clock to burn the Daily News office in the Botsford block. A quantity of papers had been saturated with kerosine oil and the can placed on top of the papers and then set fire to. Mr. Buss, who rooms at the St. James saw the fire from the window and immediately gave the alarm. Several persons in the hotel office rushed to the Daily News office and succeeded in smothering the flames with blankets taken from a bed in an adjoining room.

Enterprise: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rowe have gone to California. They took the southern route, passing through Kansas City, Colorado and New Mexico, and expect to take up a temporary home at Riverside, California. They expect to meet J. H. Fontaine, Ira and Alonzo Haight, and Mrs. Annibal, all of whom will undoubtedly be pleased to greet old friends and Manchesterites. We hope this visit to the "Italy of America," may prove both pleasant and beneficial. Their son Bert has returned to the Ann Arbor high school and Fred will remain with his uncle Milo, on the farm.

A. J. Sawyer in behalf of Messrs. Booth and James, had an interview Tuesday with Mr. Land. Mr. Sawyer fully set forth his reasons why the postoffice should not be moved to the Hamilton block. In the first place a majority of the business men were opposed to it. And they ought to be consulted in the matter. They had invested their money in business blocks, and they receive and send more mail than all the faculties combined. He stated that a man was paid by the state of Michigan to carry mail matter to and from the postoffice, and the question of its location was of no consequence to the professors.

The Century Magazine may now be considered fairly started on its way under the new name, and with the February (Midwinter) number, and the adoption of the new cover-design, by Eilhu Vedder, the name of Scribner's Monthly will no longer be continued as the sub-title. Since the change of name, there has been a decided increase in the sale of recent numbers of this magazine. The recent report of St. Nicholas in England has been even greater in proportion; for while 3,000 copies were sufficient there a year ago, 8,000 and 10,000 copies are now needed every month.

Nothing is more charming and attractive than a thoroughly healthy, properly formed woman; a bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked, laughing, joyous, happy-faced girl, one who finds keen pleasure in merely living. An invalid wife or mother is a constant object of sympathy in an otherwise contented household. Happy the home whose women folk enjoy perfect health. In my practice I have always recommended sickly women to use Brown's Iron Bitters. In case of irregularities, dyspepsia, indigestion, heartburn, nausea, sour stomach, nervousness, an exhausted debility, I find it exceeds all other remedies as a true medicinal tonic. It never fails to gently soothe, refresh and strengthen the system, and gradually those parts made weak by continued distress; and what satisfies me most, is that the cures, although in some instances gradual, are always permanent.—M. Patients are usually speedily cured according to directions several times a day. The medicine is perfectly safe, and means neutralized, and contagion is prevented, and marks are also prevented. Sold by all druggists. Send a pamphlet.

In locating the postoffice the business men should be consulted by "the powers that be." When a few professors and students (who don't pay any taxes) undertake to speak for the citizens of Ann Arbor, it has come to a pretty pass. We would like to know what difference it makes to them whether the office is on the corner of Main and Ann streets or opposite Swift's mill in the fifth ward. The professors have their mail carried to their offices, the state pays for it, and they are never obliged to go to the postoffice. The persons who would be inconvenienced the least seem to have the most to say.

James Bryce, member of parliament, Oxford professor, and historian of "The Holy Roman Empire," sailed for Europe the other day, after a second visit to America, during which he visited New England, the Middle States, the West (including California and Oregon), and the South, studying our institutions and social life, and delivering lectures in two of our principal cities, Baltimore and Boston. Professor Bryce, it is now stated, was the author of the very able anonymous article on Gladstone which appeared in Scribner's; and he has written for The Century a companion study of the late Lord Beaconsfield.

The Post and Tribune says that the nuptials of Miss Mariette A. Barnes, daughter of Hon. O. M. Barnes, of Lansing, and George W. Knight, of Ann Arbor, were solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and were followed by a reception. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Rufus W. Clark, rector of St. Paul's, Detroit. Among the distinguished guests were Gov. Jerome and wife, ex-Gov. Crosswell and wife, Judge T. M. Cooley and wife, J. H. Wade and wife of Cleveland, C. B. Hubbard, of Detroit, J. W. Knight and wife of Ann Arbor. The bridal presents were numerous and elegant, including a $6,000 check to the bride.

The late Frederick Kempf left a will giving to his sons W. Bernhard and Andrew the homestead of 184 acres; to his wife, Christina Kempf, the use and occupation of the farm until W. Bernhard Kempf shall become of age, or in case of his death until Andrew reaches his majority. He also bequeaths to his wife the household furniture and goods, horses, cattle, etc. To his sons George and Frederick $1,000 each; Chas. Kempf, $3,000 and a span of three year old colts; to his daughter Julia, $500; his step daughter, Regina Stabler, $300; the trustees of the German Lutheran society of Scio, $300 and $100 of this amount to the mission. Frederick Pistorius and Christina Kempf are appointed executors. The will bears date June 7, 1879 and is witnessed by H. R. Hill and Arthur S. Polhemus.

Circuit Court Proceedings. Russell Congdon vs. Wm. Kingsley, jury trial, for defendant. E. P. McOmber vs. Theo. Taylor; verdict for plaintiff, and damages assessed at $300. Defendant granted two weeks to move for a new trial. Samuel T. and Albert H. Guthrie vs. Geo. Taylor; verdict for plaintiff, $8. The People vs. Thos. Honey; sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and $20.25 costs.

KAROKA, Mo., Feb. 7, 1880. I purchased five bottles of your Hop Bitters of Bishop & Co., last fall, for my daughter and am well pleased with the Bitters. They did her more good than all the medicine she has taken for six years. M. T. McCURR. Man's heads are like weasels; they rat prod prodigiously when there is nothing in them.

The tonic effect of Kidney Tonic is produced by its cleansing and purifying action on the blood. Where there is a general debility in the urine, or urinary,ropy urine from disordered kidneys, it cures without fail. Constipation and piles readily yield to its cathartic and healing power. It is in dry vegetable, or in liquid (very concentrated) either acts promptly and surely.—Troy Times. "Alcohol will clean silver out of your pocket."

Women that have been pronounced invalid by the best physicians in the country, have been completely cured of female weakness by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Send for a copy of the "Ladies' Friend," 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for pamphlets. Excessive drinking of water by farm animals is said to increase the consumption of fat in the body. Too watery food, and especially drinking water, are to be avoided, especially in winter, if we wish to attain the most rapid and abundant formation of flesh and fat.

The only jokes women like to read are those that reflect ridicule on the men. Hence, when a woman picks up a paper, the first thing she looks for is the marriage column.

SPECIAL NOTICE! We are credibly informed that Mr. N. H. Winans, merchant tailor, has taken a new partner, who comes in between now and Feb. 1. The style name of the new firm we understand will be Winans & Stafford. Mr. Stafford is said to be a gentleman of extreme fine taste, and one of the best FIRST-CLASS CUTTERS which the country affords. We have such a man in our midst, and feel confident we speak the sentiments of the community of both CITIZENS and STUDENTS, when we say it is one of the branches of industry which needs bringing up to the proper standard in this city. Mr. Winans has done nobly in working up so fine a trade. One would hardly think possible, when taking into consideration the many obstacles which continue to pile up mountain high before him. Mr. F. H. Olcott, late with C. H. Mabley, Detroit, will hold the situation of cutter until Mr. Stafford arrives. So it is very easy to observe that the wheel will keep right on rolling as heretofore. Only remark: Just as the track is smoother, and the wheel properly balanced.

Livery Sale and Boarding Stable. I have opened a Livery, Sale and Boarding Stable opposite the Court House on Fourth street, where livery rigs can be obtained at any time of the day or night. A fine lot of new carriages and good horses, at reasonable rates. Breaking colts and handling track horses a specialty; good references given. P. IRWIN, Ann Arbor.

FLORIDA'S FAMOUS SAURIAN.

There are nine other stations in the Arctic region and two in the Antarctic region.

There is every reason to believe that there will be one or even two additional Arctic stations...

Not long since a correspondent sent to a provincial paper an anecdote of which his six-year-old boy was the hero.

Children's questions are often no less embarrassing than they are amusing, as may be instance in the story of the mercenary little boy who overheard a conversation respecting a wedding that was soon to take place.

On seeing a house being whitewashed, a small boy of three wanted to know if the house was going to be shaved.

At a wide exhibition, a youngster suddenly asked, in the most innocent way by her little son of five years old if those were the malist that held up heaven.

A boy who had always refused to eat oatmeal, in spite of his mother's urgings that it was a strengthening diet, suddenly surprised her one morning by calling for oatmeal.

The father of a family, after reading from the morning paper that the cold night before was intense, the thermometer registering many degrees below freezing-point, said: "Now children, I suppose you are taught all about that at school."

A gentleman somewhat advanced in life, who was never remarkable for his good looks, asked his grandchild what he thought of him.

The following remark of a little girl shows an opinion of her elders the reverse of flattering.

Every lake that I saw in South-Florida large enough had its family of alligators. Near the settlements there were many alligators shot at and disappear at the approach of man.

The following executive Superintendents were appointed: Cattle, J. H. Butterfield; horses, W. H. Cobb; sheep, D. W. Howard; swine, John Lester; poultry, Charles Kapp; miscellaneous, A. F.
