Sanitary.

The sanitary convention at Ann Arbor was on Tuesday favored with an address from Dr. C. J. Lundy of the Michigan College of Medicine, on Hygiene in its relation to the eye.

After describing that organ and the laws which control its muscular movements, the lecturer showed why it is not possible to use the eyes indefinitely without fatigue.

If a school girl can not walk one hour without becoming fatigued should she expect to use her eyes 10 or 12 hours without fatigue?

Most of the eyes are in some way defective in shape; and if perfect eyes suffer from disease, how should not the imperfect? Reading on railroad cars is a misuse. Poor light, in quantity or quality, is a source of eye trouble.

Natural light is the most desirable and agreeable. In school rooms the window surface should be equal to one-fourth the floor surface.

One of the Detroit school buildings, in which the gas is sometimes lighted at noonday, had furnished the lecturer many pupils. In using artificial light the lamp should be placed at the left of the reader.

Incident shall direct the angle formed by the book and the eye. The lecturer referred to the electric light, which may give us something better than we have, but will require improved apparatus, for the benefit of our eyes.

At present its unsteadiness, or marked glare, is a great objection. The use of alcoholic liquors and tobacco is often injurious to the eyes. The lecturer closed with the following suggestions.

1. Avoid reading and study by poor light.

2. Light should come from the side, and not from the back or from the front.

3. Do not read or study while suffering greatly bodily fatigue or during recovery from illness.

4. Do not read while lying down.

5. Do not use the eyes too long at a time for near work, but give them occasional periods for rest.

6. Reading and study should be done systematically.

7. During study avoid the stooping position of the head and face.

8. Select well printed books.

9. Correct errors of refraction with proper glasses.

10. Avoid bad hygienic conditions and the use of alcohol and tobacco.

11. Take sufficient exercise in the open air.

12. Let the physical keep pace with the mental culture, for asthenopia is most usually observed in those who are lacking in physical development.

Justice Cooley's address before the sanitary convention was on the question: "What can the Law do for the Health of the People?"

He considered the causes which render the interposition of the state necessary to the health of the people. Individual rights are not adequate, and especially when diseases prevail over a large field. Then organized action, and even the employment of force, may be necessary. So, also, when individual imprudence threatens more than individual injury. All countries adopt and enforce quarantine laws, and the tendency to increase the number of people. Individual rights are not adequate, and especially when diseases prevail over a large field. Then organized action, and even the employment of force, may be necessary. So, also, when individual imprudence threatens more than individual injury. All countries adopt and enforce quarantine laws, and the tendency to increase the number of people. The Memphis Avance in referring to Miss Annie Pixley commented as follows: We have heretofore recorded our conviction of this gifted actress and pretty woman. In her line she is unparalleled, combining the frolic and chic of Lotta with the archness of Charlotte Thompson. We know no actress who could combine so much in this part as does Miss Pixley.
Recorder Douglas reports the condition of the finances of the city as follows: General fund, on hand, $1,221.31; general street, on hand, $519.77; first ward, $449.04; second ward, $988.50; third ward, $105.73; fourth ward, $87.21; fifth ward, $165.88; sixth ward, $363.62; contingent fund, $3,159.87; cemetery, fund, $2.72; dog tax, overdraft, $7.20.
The children attending the third ward school who live east of the Toledo road, and who go and come on Miller avenue, have been late many times this winter on account of cars standing across the avenue. In some instances they have been compelled to await the pleasure of train men for half an hour at a time. It is an outrage, and the nuisance should be abated.
Those persons who are the most enthusiastic in nominating a citizens' ticket, propose to call a meeting of citizens irrespective of party, and in advance of the other nominating conventions. It is expected that the candidates will be endorsed by either the democrats or republicans, in which event they hope to elect some of their men. But in case there is no endorsement they will go it alone.
The spring series of teachers' examinations will be held as follows: Ypsilanti, March 29, in union school building; Ann Arbor, March 31, court house; Chelsea, April 5, union school building; Saline, April 7, union school building. For further accommodations of teachers the secretary will be at his office in the court house, the second and fourth Saturdays of each month, until June 1, 1882.
As our citizens will not have an opportunity of seeing the great tragedian Thos.

Keene, this season without going to Ypsilanti, we are pleased to announce that he will play this evening in the Ypsilanti opera house. He will take the character of Richard the Third. Those leaving here on the afternoon trains can return at 11:17, thus having ample time to witness the entertainment. Select your seats at Wats' jewelry store.
As to who shall be the democratic nominees for aldermen from the different wards, is one just now interesting the people. Already the following candidates are mentioned: Thos. Keene, Frank Ortman, Michael Fleming, G. F. Lutz, Hiram Kitredge, and others to hear from. It may be that not one of the many names will be called upon to occupy a seat in the council. The office is not a very desirable one, and yet some men think it is a big thing to be an alderman. Whew!
If gaining recall after recall at the close of every act be proof of success, then Mr. Thos. W. Keene may well count his first appearance in Richard III. at the Boston theatre a triumph to be remembered. It was indeed, a strong piece of acting says the Boston Globe. And the Boston Herald adds: Mr. T. W. Keene's second performance of Richard III., was equally successful with the first, and won—and merited—an amount of applause from the large audience present, which any theatrical star of the first magnitude might be proud of. Thirteen nights in an evening are a compliment worth having, and indicate the regard in which Boston play-goers hold this grand good actor.
It is well known that for some time Mr. E. H. Hudson of the Cook house has had an eye on the St. James, and that Nelson Booth, half owner, has been ever anxious to have him take the management. Saturday a lease of the property was signed, and Monday morning Mr. Hudson stepped in as landlord. He has retained the St. James for one year with the privilege of two. Under his management the hotel will continue to flourish, and although he will have his hands full running both hotels, he is fully equal to the occasion. Mr. Woodard, the popular clerk of the St. James, will continue in that position. Of Mr. Hudson's popularity THE DEMOCRAT has before alluded.
The annual reunion and banquet of the Phi Delta Phi society of the law department, at the St. James Friday evening was a grand affair. The committee on invitation was J. C. F. Bush, M. J. Neblack, Austin Hawley, on reception, C. E. Pierce, E. F. Tierney, O. E. Sauter, C. E. Temple, H. W. McArthur, C. P. Deolittle, R. B. Latham, C. D. Long, E. W. Parkhurst; on arrangements, E. F. Tierney, A. C. Denison, D. M. Alston, J. S. Heaton, H. M. Snow. After a merry greeting by the Phi Delta Phi quartette an address was delivered by Wm. P. Wells, of Detroit. L. F. Bartels officiated as toastmaster. The menu was fine, and Mr. Frank Rice, of the St. James, fully sustained his well known reputation as a caterer.
The democratic city committee is as follows: First ward, Gottlob Luick; second, A. D. Besmer; third, P. Winegar; fourth, M. Fleming; fifth, F. Ortman; sixth, J. H. Stark. Ward committees, First, C. H. Rindick, J. F. Schuy; second, A. D. Besmer, J. Hoffstetter, P. McKernan; third, Wm. McIntyre, P. Winegar; fourth, O. L. Spafford, A. Kemper, Alex. McDonald; fifth, Frank Ortman; sixth, J. H. Stark. There is no use waiting until the very last moment before calling the city convention. It is an injustice to the candidates whoever they may be. All the democrats need do is to place an unexceptionable ticket in the field and it will command the unanimous support of the party, and can be elected. Will it be done?
Quite a sensation was created Tuesday evening on account of the attempted shooting of Miss Fannie Hobson, daughter of the taxidermist, by S. A. D. Bycraft. It is alleged he went to the young lady's residence on Huron street between 7 and 7 and 1-2 o'clock, and rang the bell. Miss Hobson answered the call, and as she opened the door Bycraft fired. The ball from the revolver struck her in the forehead and glanced off. It was a very narrow escape. Bycraft was arrested at his father's residence and taken to jail. Yesterday he was brought before justice Winegar, when he gave bail in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance for examination this morning at 10 o'clock. Jealousy is said to have been the cause of the shooting. Bycraft denies the charge and will attempt to prove an alibi.
Obituary.
The board of county examiners of schools, adopted the following resolutions on the death of Zeolotes Truesdel:
Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God by an irretrievable Providence to remove by death our beloved and respected secretary, Zeolotes Truesdel.
Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the Divine will, we can not but deplore and deeply feel the loss the country has sustained in his death, combining as he did the qualities of mind and heart that endeared him to all with whom he came in contact and enabled him to become, as he was, a man of unusual ability and high moral character, a successful organizer and disciplinarian possessing that tact, sound common sense, executive capacity, energy and culture that placed him in the front ranks of the educators of our county and state.
Resolved, That we hereby express to Mrs. Truesdel and her daughter our heartfelt sympathy and condolence with them over their irreparable loss, trusting that an all-wise Providence may support them in their bereavement.

A petition signed by a large number of citizens of the second, third and fifth wards was presented to the council Monday evening, making a general complaint against the Toledo, Ann Arbor & Grand Trunk railroad, whose persistency in blocking the streets in the wards mentioned has become an intolerable nuisance. After brief remarks by Ald. Besmer the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:
WHEREAS, On reading and filing the petition of Chas. J. Gardner and others, residents of the second, third and fifth wards, praying that the Toledo, Ann Arbor & Grand Trunk railway be required to station and maintain flagmen at the intersection of South Main, West Liberty, West Huron, Pontiac street and Miller avenue, and it appearing from said petition that the public interest and safety require the stationing and maintaining of such flagmen, therefore,
Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the mayor whose duty it shall be to take such measures as shall be necessary to procure the stationing and maintaining of such flagmen. And if further appearing that said railway company have not procured the conveyance to the city of the land for a street leading south from Chubb street from near in front of E. G. Wildt's, which was the conditions their being permitted to obstruct Chubb street on the east end, therefore, it is further
Resolved, That said committee be directed and authorized to procure such deed, or that in default of such conveyance that they cause the obstructions to Chubb street to be removed. And it further appearing to the council that said railway company have rendered Felch street, by the construction of their railway, impassable for vehicles, and have neglected for a long time to put said crossing in good condition for crossing, it is further
Resolved, That said committee be authorized to take such measures as shall be necessary to compel said railway company to put said street crossings in as passable condition as they were previous to the construction of said road.
The mayor appointed as members of the committee Ald. Besmer, Dow, and Keene.
THE PIONEER MEETING.
A Good Attendance and Pleasant Time.
Notwithstanding the various disadvantages, such as bad roads, poor railroad accommodations, etc., the meeting of the Washtenaw county pioneer society, held at Saline Wednesday, was a complete success. The attendance from abroad was, for the reasons above stated, not very large, but this vicinity was well represented.
At the appointed hour the meeting was called to order and in the absence of Rev. Dr. Holmes, president of the society, Mr. E. D. Lay, of Ypsilanti, was chosen president pro tem. After prayer and the singing of the Doxology in the good old fashioned way, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and various reports made. As we heard the names read of those of the society who had died since the last meeting, only three months previously, we could not but realize the rapidity with which our good old pioneers—those who struggled against hardships and privations to make our glorious old Washtenaw what she is—had passed away, the number being nearly twenty. Following these came the relating of incidents of pioneer life, by various members, among them the worthy secretary of the society, Mr. Davis, of Ann Arbor, who did much to make the meeting interesting. He related his experience in coming from Ypsilanti to this place in 1829, in a two wheel cart, before even a road was cut through the woods. Others told of howling wolves and ugly bears.
At about 12 o'clock an adjourned dinner, which was waiting for them in the hotel below. Here again the ladies of this vicinity maintained their reputation of being unexcelled in their ability to administer to the wants of the "inner man," as the tables were literally loaded down with good things of every description. The pioneers too, showed their appreciation, by doing the meal ample justice.
At two o'clock the meeting was again called to order and the programme of the morning continued. Rev. J. C. Wortley made a short speech, in which he acknowledged the weakness Methodist ministers had for good dinners, like the one just served. Rev. Bush related various incidents, and made pleasing remarks. Secretary Davis occupied some time in criticizing the new county history, in which, in our opinion, he blamed the publisher to some extent, unjustly, as it is almost an impossibility, for a stranger especially, to compile a volume of such magnitude, and composed so largely of names and dates, without making errors. We blame the local committees who were appointed to revise the manuscript.
At about 4:30 p. m., after some excellent vocal music by the pioneer choir, the meeting adjourned, to meet again at Ypsilanti, on Thursday, June 1, 1882. After many a friendly good-bye, and the expression of the wish, "may we meet again," the venerable party disbanded, some of them, no doubt, never again to meet on earth. May the remainder of their days be pleasant ones, and their final reward, heaven.—Saline Observer.

SAVED BRACK HARBOR OF REFUGE.

The house in Washington passed the bill introduced by Mr. Rich. It is a bill for the government and control of the harbor of refuge at Sand Beach, Lake Huron, Mich. The bill provides that the secretary of war shall assume full control over this station now in course of construction, and all pilots, breakwaters, docks, etc., pertaining thereto, including channels and approaches to said harbor, and the secretary shall prescribe such legislation as he shall deem necessary to fully protect and preserve said harbor. The bill further provides that the secretary of war shall appoint, upon the recommendation of the engineer officer in charge of the work, a custodian of said harbor and the improvements thereon. Said custodian shall have power to direct and regulate the stationing and anchoring of steam vessels and water craft in said harbor and the mooring thereof and laying out and discharging of ropes and ballast in said harbor, and shall be the duty of said custodian to report to the U. S. attorney all violations of this act. Regarding the government taking control, the report says that the necessity for control of the harbor of refuge at Sand Beach by the government is shown by the experience of the past season, during which boats and vessels persistently crowded together and made it difficult to break water in such a manner as to insure the safety of the work and the construction and use of the harbor by others, compelling vessels to slip their cables and leave the harbor during gales. Steam craft persistently deposited cinders and other refuse inside of the harbor.
