I CAN TRUST.

can not say, with my short human sight,

Why God should lead this way or that I don't know he saith, follow me.

I know not why my path should be at times

So straitly hedged, so strongly barred

Why know I how God will keep the door?

But I can trust.

And no answer, often, when beset

With questions fierce and subtle on my

And often have but strength to faintly

But I can trust.

I often wonder at the hurrying ground,

I ripened fruit for God will there be found;

But I can trust.

I cannot know why suddenly the storm

Should rage so fiercely round me in its

But I know God watches all my path;

But I can trust.

I may not draw aside the mystic veil,

That hides the unknown future from my

ROBERT LUSH.

Mr. Chitty, an attorney in Shaftesbury, was leaving his office for the day,

when he was met at the door by a respectable woman and a chubbyfaced boy with bright eyes. He knew the woman slightly—a widow that kept a small stationer's shop in the town. She opened her business at once. "Oh, Mr. Chitty, I have brought you my Robert; he gives me no peace,

his heart is set on being in a lawyer's office. But, there! I have not got the money to apprentice him.

Only we thought perhaps you could find some place or other for him, if it was ever so small." Then she broke off and looked appealingly, and the boy's cheeks and eyes were fired with

THE JEANNETTE.

Lieut. Danenbrow writes to his father in Washington under date of Belun, month of Feb. Nov. 9, with a postscript dated Yakoutsk Dec. 17.

He says: The trip up the river from Bulun to Yakoutsk occupied thirty-six days, and was made on sledges with four men and a horse. He describes the journey as one full of severe hardships. There were several intervals on the way constructed of logs.

He describes the last of these, seventeen miles from Yakoutsk, the best of the lot, as a small log building with crowded quarters. It was composed

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

SECOND WEEK—TAX BILL READY FOR

GOVERNOR—CONGRESSIONAL RE-AP-

PORTIONMENT IN STATU QUO—FIRE

RELIEF—A BIG APPROPRIATION.

The tax bill which had passed the House when I last wrote was taken up by the Senate and considered in committee of the whole. It occupied two days in consideration and passed by a vote of 21 to 20. The Senate made four amendments to the bill as it passed the House, about thirty of which were finally adopted. The bill as it now stands is sure of the governor's approval. The state will then have a new system of assessing and collecting taxes, which no previous legislature

with its other work has been able to devise and pass.

The congressional reapportionment

bill elicited little discussion and after hurried consideration by the Senate in committee of the whole it passed by a vote of 23 to 5. The title of the bill was changed so that it is now simply a bill to divide the state into eleven congressional districts, subject to districting by one representative, as follows:

First, The First District shall consist of the counties of Bay, Benzie, Charlevoix,

Emmet, Grand Traverse, Ingham, Isabella and Montcalm.

Second, The Second District shall consist of the counties of Benzie, Leelanau, Hillsdale and Washington.

Third, The Third District shall consist of the counties of Jackson, Calhoun, Branch

Barry and Eaton.

Fourth, The Fourth District shall consist of the counties of Berrien, Cass St. Joseph,

Kalamazoo and Van Buren.

Fifth, The Fifth District shall consist of understood French and was taken to the governor, who treated him with great respect and interest. He de-

Northfield Democratic Caucus.

A caucus of the Democratic voters of the township of Northfield, will be held at Washburn's for the purpose of nominating candidates for township officers, on Thursday, March 30, 1882, at 10 o'clock P. M.

EDMUND L. KERRY, Chairman of Committee.

Register! Register!

ALL new voters, or voters who have changed their place of residence since the last charter election, should register their names Wednesday, March 30. This they must do in order to vote. A session of the board of registration will be held in the several wards on that day, commencing at 9 o'clock in the forenoon and closing at 7 o'clock in the evening.

The next council will be democratic.

which means an economical administration of affairs.

It seems to be the general opinion of many citizens that the city is abundantly able to build a city hall for the use of the fire department, and that the vote on the question of raising $30,000 for that purpose will be carried.

The democratic city convention which has been called to meet at the court house Saturday evening, April 1, should nominate a ticket that will command the support of every democrat in the city. Such a ticket can be elected.

THERE is no doubt a $30,000 city hall would be an ornament to the city, but the question with many is whether this expensive building is needed at this time. There is no doubt the fire department is sadly in want of a place to keep their machines, hook and ladder, trucks and hose and such other paraphernalia as may belong to the department. Hundreds of dollars are going to waste annually in consequence.

Tax laws should be enforced, there is no doubt of this, but that saloon men will be obliged to toe the mark any better if there is a majority of republicans in the council is all bosh. It is by this argument that the republicans hope to carry the spring election. If the democratic city convention will trot out one of the best men in the party, we are sure of winning a victory. The republicans know it and hope to contract the influence by the bug bear story that the democratic party is opposed to enforcing the ordinances.

Courteous Students.

The other day Messrs. D. W. Wood and B. Burns proceeded to Ann Arbor to visit, for the first time, the city and the university buildings. They had heard and read much of the rudeness and boisterous conduct of the students, and half expected to be "guyed," "hazed," and perhaps "boured." But they were happily disappointed, and cannot speak in too high terms of the gentlemanly treatment offered them. They were received, on making application at the college, by the most courteous and courteous manner by the professors and the students alike, and were conducted through the various departments. The dissecting room presented special attractions to Mr. Burns, who lingered long with the fascinating but lifeless forms; but Mr. Wood found nothing of interest in the study of anatomy, and after obtaining one which he felt he had a pressing call elsewhere. They were exceedingly pleased, however, with the information obtained, and the elaborate and thorough facilities afforded those seeking education. They feel especially grateful to Mr. Blackmar, of Napoleon, this county, who is a student at the university, and will not credit any of the stories aloft that the students are anything but gentlemen of the first-class.—Evening Star, Jackson.

Presentation.

A pleasant little affair was the presentation to Mr. B. F. Jarvis, auditor of the Toledo, Ann Arbor & Grand Trunk railway, of an elegant gold headed cane, by a number of the employees of the road, as a mark of their good will and esteem.

The presentation took place in Mr. Jarvis' office just as the duties of the day had been completed, in the presence of a dozen or more of the employees. In a few well chosen words, Conductor J. Carland made the presentation, assuring the recipient that the gift had been prompted solely by their respect and esteem, and expressing the hope that the staff would aid him as he trod the "down hill" of life.

Mr. Jarvis was visibly affected by the mark of esteem, and was so completely surprised that it was with difficulty he could acknowledge it. He did so, however, thanking the donors and assuring them of his keen appreciation.—Sunday Journal.

It is now understood that if the republican city convention and ward caucuses nominate good men, a citizens' ticket will not be put up. The Courier thinks the reason the tax is the lowest in Sharon is because a taxicendant of Andrew Robison has charge of affairs there.

Dr. A. W. Chase sold his royalty in the Chase receipt book for $2,000 cash. The book is to be printed in this city, but published in Ohio. Wm. Greenman, whose parents live in the fifth ward, has been sentenced to the Lansing reform school until 18 years of age. He is now 13. Sterling & Co. of Toledo, have something to say to the citizens of Washtenaw county in to-day's paper. Their advertisement will be found on our local page. O. L. Matthews is a prominent candidate for justice of the peace on the democratic ticket. He is a young man, well qualified for the position and could be elected. Nathan Rouse and Miss Catharine Futh miller of Freedom were married Monday night, and the neighbors gave them a charivari. Things for a little while were red-hot.

The Toledo railroad company are disposed to make matters right, and fix up the streets generally that have been rendered impassable—because they are obliged to. Miller avenue from near the Walker house to the Toledo railroad track, is in an awful condition. As soon as the weather will permit the road should be gravelled. There was a temperance meeting Sunday at the residence of Jno. P. Herbert in Lodi. The next meeting, a week from Sunday, will be held in the school house on the plains. Those persons living on the west side of Allen's creek in the third ward want an alderman up that way, and would like to see Thos. Kearns, or some other good man, nominated. Butter is a scarcity—Pork has taken a tumble—Beef has gone up—Eggs are doing a business in the poultry line—Eggs are down a little, 15 cts. a dozen—Potatoes $1.25 per bushel and on the rise.

The Register printing and publishing company contemplate doing a large business when they get in their new quarters. The institution is in the hands of five men who propose to push things. Two patients were operated upon in the homeopathic hospital last week by Prof. Franklin, for stone in the bladder. One patient has returned to his home in Pontiac and the other lives in Brighton. J. Haller & Son have an old "grandfather's" clock that was left with them nearly six years ago for repairs. As the owner does not put in an appearance it is thought he is dead, or left the country.

Several hundred voters who favor running a citizens' ticket, have signed petitions to that effect. Judging from what is going on in the temperance camp, the coming election will be hotly contested. J. B. Davis while engaged in surveying on Main street Tuesday discovered the wooden stake which was driven into the ground by a Mr. Stratton, nearly half a century ago, when this place was first plotted. The Ann Arbor city band is to hold a bazaar for a week, commencing about April 6. The boys wish to raise money to attend the band tournament, to furnish their uniforms and purchase some new instruments.

Since the commencement of the present school year $4,100 has been received in tuition. Before the year closes the board expect this amount will be increased to $6,000. No other school in the country can make such a showing. It is to be hoped that there won't be any more vacancies on the supreme bench to be filled while Arthur is president. The thought of Grant as a justice of the supreme court is too paralyzing for our patriotism.—Mining Journal.

The following corporation officers were elected in Chelsea Monday: President, J. L. Gilbert; clerk, J. D. Schmittman; trustees, J. A. Palmer, S. S. Guirra and L. H. Van Antwerp; treasurer, Thomas McKone; assessor, W. F. Hatch. Mrs. Morgan asks $4,000 for 40 feet front adjoining the new postoffice site. She has been offered a reasonable price, but refuses to sell. Certain parties wanted to purchase the land and erect a building in connection with the postoffice.

Annie Pixley played to a large audience. We have no doubt if she was to come again the opera house could not hold the people. She fully sustained her reputation as a clever actress, and was called before the curtain at the end of each act. Now that the council has paved the way for a city hall and engine house, it remains to be seen whether the tax-payers will vote to raise $20,000 for that purpose. The whole sum will only amount to one-half of one per cent of the taxable property of the city. Commercial: St. Patrick's day is to be observed by the Land League of our city by a grand demonstration. Speeches, etc., at Follet hall. Capt. Allen and Bro. Frazier are to be the orators of the occasion. Won't St. Patrick's bones rattle? A saint used for political ends.

It is very important that the right men be nominated for constables. Everybody knows with what a high hand certain officers have been running things the past winter. They have unnecessarily made this county hundreds of dollars' expense to replenish their exchequer. The confectionery company pay R. A. Beal $1,500 per year for the rent of the vacant store next to the Courier office, and for the room now used as a bindery. For this Mr. B. is to furnish power to run the machinery day and night if need be. In case the company should require more room, he will also build an addition 60 x 60 feet for their accommodation.

From a published report it appears that according to the assessed valuation for the year 1881, on each $1,000 of state, county and township, the highest amount was in Lyndon, $7.38; Freedom, $5.44, and Augusta, $5.90. The smallest tax was in the following townships: Sharon, $3.40; Webster, $3.56; Lima, $3.58; Manchester, $4.30; Northfield, $4.18. The following is from the Lansing Republican: As the awful hour, pregnant with fate draws nigh, the average candidate for a city office is more easily recognized. His eye has grown wilder, his smile broader, he stops longer on the corner to "see a man" who is two blocks away, and his grip is more hearty as he asks you to—"just step around the corner."

The Lansing Republican has the following good words to say of our fellow-citizen, E. H. Hudson: It is not every man who can successfully keep one hotel, but "Herb" Hudson, the popular landlord, will run both the Cook and the St. James hotels at Ann Arbor for the next two years. If any man in Michigan can carry through such an enterprise "Herb" is the individual. If the citizens of Ann Arbor furnished the money to build the Toledo & Ann Arbor road, as THE DEMOCRAT claims, why did not that burg furnish the officers as well and save the city from the "indignities" referred to in "Pontiac Enterprise." Because the money was given to Gov. Ashley as a bonus and to aid him in constructing the road. The "indignities" will be remedied. If they are not the railroad commissioner will have something to say.

Jan. F. Boyce, an old pioneer of Washtenaw county, died Saturday morning aged 76 years. He was born at Norwich, Connecticut, in 1805, and afterwards went to live in Sullivan county, where he resided until 1839 when he came to this place. Having learned the trade of a cabinet and chair maker, he worked at this trade for some time, and subsequently became proprietor of a carriage manufactory. At one time he was deputy sheriff of this county. Monday afternoon a young man in the employ of R. Hendrickson, on State street, was chopping wood when the ax flew off of the helve and struck him in the wrist, making a bad wound. As there was no doctor handy, H. W. Hartwell, a junior medical student who happened to be in an adjoining store went to the wounded man's relief. He unbandaged his wrist, tied the arteries, and dressed the wound as if he was an old hand at the business. The insurance agents of this city undertook to put up a job on the court house building committee by increasing the rate of insurance on the court house from 70 cents to $1 for three years. The building is insured for $50,000 and of this amount $45,500 expires next Sunday. The committee, which consists of supervisor Rhoades, Foster and Richmond, don't propose to be bulldozed and have advertised for sealed proposals to be received up to to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

The joint contest between the Jeffersonian and Webster societies of the law department came off Monday evening. The opening address was by Mr. Frye of the Jeffersonian; readings by G. B. Holmes and H. C. Gesford; orations by A. Mires, Jeffersonian and A. M. Esminger, of the Webster. The question that the government should ultimately own and operate the railroads, was discussed by Singleton Bell and G. S. Grimes for the affirmative and I. H. Webb and L. Jackson for the negative. The monthly meeting of the pomological society will be held on Saturday, the 1st of April at 2 o'clock p. m., in the circuit court room. The committee appointed to solicit stock for the erection of a cannery, drying, jellifying and apple-peach butter manufactory in this city, will make their report. Mr. Higley, the entomologist, will read a paper on the destruction of noxious insects, which will be followed by a general discussion of the subject. Every member of the society, and citizens generally, are invited to be present. "These rubber garments are such a blessing!" remarked a fat man, as he brought into a street car a perfect deluge of water. The lady at his right, who mopped one side of his coat with her costly dress, agreed with him perfectly; the man at the left, who caught about a pint of the drippings in his shoe, could scarcely conceal his admiration; while the young Miss to whom the fat man gallantly offered his seat a few minutes later, went into perfect ecstasies as she sat down in a pool of water left on the seat in the car. The examination of S. A. D. Bycraft on the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill Fanny Hobson, commenced before Justice Winey Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. A motley crowd was present to hear the testimony. Miss Hobson was the first witness called, and underwent a severe cross examination. She could not swear positively that Bycraft did the shooting, although she thought he might have done it, as she had received threatening letters from him. Other witnesses were sworn, but no new facts were brought out. Examination continued until this morning. The Enterprise says C. M. Fellows of Manchester has sold the past year over $6,000 worth of sheep, and over $3,000 worth in the last three months. He is acknowledged by sheep men to be one of the best, if not the best judge of sheep in Michigan. Although a good judge and good buyer, he is also acknowledged to be a poor leader. This for the first few years hindered his sales; but as this feature became known, it was conceded by buyers to be an advantage, as they claim they can buy such sheep and improve on them rather than to buy high bred sheep and have them go down on their hands. The corporation election in Manchester Monday passed off quietly. In order to hang it on the democrats the republicans and greenbacks coalesced. The following are the officers elected: President, Dr. Conklin, national republican; constable, Horace Wisner, democrat; treasurer, John Kensler, national republican; clerk, Elijah G. Carr, democrat; trustees, Jas. A. Field, democrat; Thomas J. Farrell, national republican; Joseph Lazelle, national republican; Munson Goodyear, democrat, was defeated for street commissioner by one vote, and Benjamin G. Lovejoy, national republican, was elected assessor over J. D. Corey, a hard money democrat. Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine. The number for April is an unusually attractive one; the editor, Rev. Dr. Talmage, continues his interesting papers, "People I Have Met"; he also describes "What I Saw of Mormonism," and in the "Home Pulpit" is a sermon by him on the subject "Longevity." There are admirable articles, amply illustrated, entitled "A Missionary Explorer" (David Livingstone), "Reminiscences of an Old New Yorker," "A Journey to the Oldest City in the World," "Weighed and Wanting," is commenced, and there are short sketches and essays by distinguished writers. Address, Frank Leslie, 53, 55, and 57 Park Place, New York City. Last Friday morning Samuel A. McCormick, one of the very oldest settlers of Washtenaw county, died at his residence in the township of Salem, aged 89 years and five months. He was born in Hopewell, Ontario county, N. Y. He came to Michigan in 1820, and purchased a farm in Salem, where he continued to reside up to the time of his death, which was occasioned by a stroke of paralysis. Up to a short time before he died, he enjoyed excellent health, except that occasionally he was troubled with the rheumatism. He leaves a son and two daughters. James lives in Salem. Mrs. Laramy and Mrs. Rhoda Lewis, the last named being a resident of Jackson. The funeral Monday was held at the Leland Methodist church and was largely attended. The Mission Sunday School. It will be of interest to many of our readers to learn of a series of advances made by an old institution of this city, the Mission Sunday school. Having a staff of over twenty teachers, and an average attendance of more than one hundred scholars, its old quarters on Main street were found to be inadequate. In the search for larger accommodations, T. W. Root, agent for Mrs. Noble, of this city, was met with, who through the kindness of that lady, granted the use of McMahon's hall for the Sunday services. This advance necessitated another, the purchase of an organ, which was made possible by the usual liberality of the citizens. Since then through the kindness of nine of the college students, most of whom were already giving up much of their Sunday to similar work, an orchestra was formed, constituted as follows: Miss M. Craig, organist; S. H. Colver and C. J. Sprowl, violinists; R. W. Colville, violoncello; G. L. Fox, double bass; W. Pack, clarinet; W. Cady, clarinet; R. J. Kelly, French horn; W. D. Cooper, cornet. A most cordial invitation to meet with them is now extended by the teachers to the children and young people of the city, who, for one reason or another do not at present attend any Sunday school. No effort shall be wanting to make the services of real benefit to them. The teaching is non-sectarian, most of the city churches being represented among the teachers.
