vertisements last week, the DEMOCRAT was unable to give the usual amount of local news.

Horatio Bush, the popular supervisor of Manchester, has served on the board for 12 consecutive years. His constituents seem satisfied with his way of doing business, for he was elected by a majority larger than he ever received before.

We should advise those who want to spend a pleasant evening, to hear the mercy, fresh, and rollicking songs of the Princeton college glee club next Wednesday. College glee, humorous and pathetic, negro, melodies, airs from operas &c., will be the order of the evening.

The following is the vote on city officers. For treasurer, Schub, 7; Hutzel, 7; Second ballot, Schub, 9; Hutzel, 4; B. F.
Watts, 1. For marshal, Nowland, 8; H. Richards, 1; Merrithen, 1; Preston, 1; Clarken, 1; Lawrence, 1. J. F. Lawrence was re-elected city attorney over D. Cramer, the vote standing 8 to 6.

M. H. French leaves for Ogemaw county, next week. While here he has made many friends who wish him abundant success in his future home. He will, in addition to his law practice, sit upon the editorial tripod, and wield that mighty instrument of little men—the pen.

Saline Observer: It is with regret that the friends of Isaac Allen, in Lodi, are compelled to part with that exemplary citizen and his worthy family, who have departed for their new home near Elling-ton, Tuscola county, Mich., in that proven to be rich "burnt district." What will be our loss certainly proves an excellent acquisition to Tuscola county.

Mayor Harriman has appointed the corder, Gates. Park—Kearns, Henderson, Walz.

Prof. M. C. Peterson, who, for five years, conducted a commercial and railway telegraph college at Oberlin, O., has removed from there to this city to make it his future home. He has opened a college in Hangster's hall, and has already met with flattering success.
Before the summer is over he expects to have in attendance from 100 to 200 students.

On Monday night, April 16th, J. H.
Havlin's famous "Fogg's Ferry Co." occupy the Grand opera house, producing Callahan's intensely interesting comedy, "Fogg's Ferry," with the fascinating young vocalist and comedienne, Miss Carrie Stuart, in her superb and absorbing character creation, "Chip" the ferry-man's daughter, supported by a carefully selected company of first-class artists of metropolitan reputation. "Fogg's Ferry" has passed its 300th performance.

Thos. Clarken, the newly appointed deputy marshal and policeman, has been an officer in this city for years, either as constable or deputy sheriff, which position he also holds. Much crime unearthed has been accomplished through his indefatigable efforts. The Sophis-ticons case as an example.

The celebrated Princeton College Glee Club is making its annual tour through the northern states. It sang to crowded and enthusiastic houses at New York, Pittsburgh, Washington and Cincinnati within the last few weeks, and will appear at University Hall, next Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Students Lecture Association.

Now is a good time not to advertise if you don't want to sell goods. The merchants who advertise make themselves a heap of needless trouble—they attract customers to their stores, the customers deplete their stocks, and then the dealer has to fill up with a fresh lot to keep his store from looking empty. All this can be avoided by not advertising, and letting "them other fellows" capture the trade.
But, somehow, what the other fellows seem to enjoy is rather better than their sorrowful, non-advertising competitor.
Strange, isn't it?

Miss Carrie Stuart appeared at the Grand opera house last night before a thoroughly well pleased audience in the drama "Fogg's Ferry." The play reminds one of Bret Harte's narratives, has an interesting story and its humorous portions kept the listeners in roars of laughter. Miss Stuart is pretty and graceful, and a dashing actress of the soubrette school. The company are capable and well balanced. A steamboat scene at the close of the third act created the greatest enthusiasm. The show is one we can heartily recommend, and hope soon to see here again.—[Richmond (Ind.) Star.

Watson Barr, after twenty-six years of laborious service as Justice of Peace in Augusta, gracefully surrendered the honor last Monday to a Democrat who resides at the growing village of Whitaker.
He thanked his fellow citizens for the honor in re-electing him so many times, and at his time of life the duties of the office have become so oppressive, for electing a Jackson Democrat in his place. Watson's blushing honors came with the youth of the Republican party and depart as it goes down in disaster.—[Ypsilanti Commercial. Verily the democracy are on the gain everywhere.

Havlin's Fogg's Ferry combination well known in Cincinnati, had a $630 house in Springfield Monday night.
The Globe of that city says: "Yesterday, at the Grand opera-house, matinee and evening, the Carrie Stuart company presented Callahan's effective drama, "Fogg's Ferry." The piece was greeted by a good audience on both occasions, "standing room only" being displayed at the evening performance. Miss Carrie Stuart, the leading lady, who assumed the character of Chip, is a very bright little actress. The rest of the company, as a rule, were painstaking and talented.
The audience was very enthusiastic, not a person rising until a final fall of the curtain. The local management received handsomely on the proceeds."—[Cincin-

A meeting of the University Senate was held on Monday night and the following resolutions adopted: In the death of Professor Cocker we are made to mourn the loss of one who has long served our University with singular faithfulness, and it is meet that we record in the University Senate at-least our common sorrow at the death of a venerable and honored colleague, and our sympathy with those who are stricken with this great affliction.

During Dr. Cocker's long connection with the University, by his kindness of manner and sweetness of spirit, he awakened an almost filial affection in the hearts of many hundreds of pupils; and there is no part of our country where the news of this good man's death will not excite a sense of personal bereavment.

During our colleague's long illness, though often in extreme suffering and always in physical weakness, he maintained an unbroken Christian serenity of spirit and in his conversation he led to dwell upon the interests of that field of learning to which he had consecrated his intellectual life.

In his ready and simple exposition of the Scriptures, and occasions were not rare when his discourses were made more charming by a fervid eloquence, and a mind of unusual analytical power, and a keenness and comprehensiveness of intellect that were almost Socratic.

His contributions to the literature of philosophy and of his general culture, and will long perpetuate his name as a thinker and a Christian philosopher.

In his heroic struggle with misfortune, in which he brought the triumph of a higher life out of seeming disaster, and as the happy union of ripe scholarship with the graces of unaffected piety, Dr. Cocker's example will be an inspiration and a guide to the many who feel the impulses towards a nobler life.

To the church of which Dr. Cocker was such a useful and an honored member we would express our sympathy in the loss of his high attainments, and to the family and friends now in mourning we would offer this testimonial of our esteem for one whom we have learned to know and to love.

An untruth a day old is called a lie; a year old, a falsehood; a century old, a legend.

New Life

is given by using BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. In the winter it strengthens and warms the system; in the Spring it enriches the blood and conquers disease; in the Summer it gives tone to the nerves and digestive organs; in the Fall it enables the system to stand the shock of sudden changes.

In no way can disease be

THE OLD DAME'S PRAYER.

BY M. E. TRAUQUAIR.

Alh, dark were the days of winter On the Pomeranian strand;
The snow lay white and wintry blast,
And fives were in the land.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

"WILD DOLLY."

"I'm sure they would like it better Than the nasty old bugs," said Dolly; "I know I would."

Ornamental Trees.

The Country Gentleman offers the following sensible suggestions in regard to planting trees for ornamental pur-

THE HOUSEHOLD.

Watering House Plants.

The want of success that many people experience with house plants is chiefly due to the improper way in which they are supplied with water.

WIT AND HUMOR.

"I'd have people know I'm nobody's fool," said Ferguson.

"I'd have people know I'm nobody's fool," said Ferguson. "In other words, I'd have people know you're your own master."

MARKET NOTES.

A Market Woman Gets Mixed Up With a Foreman's Mixer.

A new brick building is being erected on Main street, and recently a double-eyed, banged-haired woman with a basket of eggs on one arm and a can of biscuits on the other, was before the boss of construction and said:

THE QUEEN'S GALLEY.

John Brown, Victoria's favorite personal attendant, whose death is announced, was the personal attendant of the queen, and of the latter he entered the service of the queen, and for twenty years he was her faithful attendant and protector.
