

Entered as Second Class matter at the Post office at Ann Arbor, Mich.

For President in 1884, GEN. WINFIELD SCOTT HANCOCK.

PENNSYLVANIA has finally concluded that pitting convict labor against that of the honest and law abiding citizen is manifestly unjust in practice as well as theory, and has passed a bill abolishing the contract system in its prisons.

R. B. Hayes has positively refused to become a republican candidate for governor of Ohio. The returning boars in the state are mostly in the wrong hands, and Rutherford is to prudent to invest Mr. Tilden's money in a hopeless contest.

A telegraphic dispatch announces that the president will allow the king of the Sandwich Islands to coin his gold and silver in the United States mints. This will naturally lead inquisitive people to enquire when and by what right, Mr. Arthur assumed the management and control of government property.

It is reported that the republican national committee is already organizing for the campaign of 1884. Some of its most earnest and enthusiastic members are confident that by a determined and prolonged effort the electoral vote of Vermont can be secured for the republican nominee.

Kellogg, of Louisiana, has at last been indicted for defrauding the government. Mr. K. affirms that all he wants is simple justice. It is to be regretted that the laws are so constructed that the ex-senator cannot obtain the "simple justice" he desires; if they were he would be hung without delay.

Secretary Chandler says he sees nothing to convince him that republican success is doubtful in 1884. The time will shortly arrive when Mr. C. will be under conviction, - i. e., if the courts and juries of the future do their duty faithfully.

The emptiness of Massachusetts' pretensions to being the "head center" of American intelligence, culture, and all the cardinal virtues, is now being amply demonstrated in the investigations of its almshouses and reformatories.

The disclosures made by the newest informer from among the Irish patriots furnish no new light. It was known before that such organizations existed all over this country, and the only new point developed is that some of these who have turned up in England where it is not safe to turn up, and that their names are set out.

Dorsey's exuberant imagination has only been stimulated by his difficulties. He recently said, in denouncing the theocracy of Lilly, whom he recently kicked down stairs: "This creature is the itch of idiotic infamy, which blooms and freshens in the light of a government that would sanction a trial like this." Mr. Dorsey should turn his attention to poetry. In statesmanship, politics, and postal affairs he has not been successful, at least upon his own account, although others have enjoyed, and are now enjoying, the resultant swing. In poetry a man who can get off impromptu, a sentence like that, would shine brilliantly. The English language embelms few nobler figures than that "itch of idiotic infamy which blooms and freshens." It deserves to rank above Conklin's, "Great with the arduous greatness of deeds done," and alongside of his great utterance about abhorrent forces. Would that Dorsey and Conklin would play Beaumont and Fletcher, write plays and dwarf Shakespeare with a modern drama.

Now that Germany, Italy, and Austria have agreed upon a reciprocal guaranty of territorial integrity for six years, the Italia Irredenta cause is at an end so far as the Tyrol and the west coast of the Adriatic are concerned; but Italy may turn the Italia Irredenta spirit to the recovery of Nice and Savoy. Austria foregoes any lingering thirst for the recovery of its Italian provinces; but it will retrace its steps toward the Danube or toward the Egean on the way to better and nearer ports for its growing trade in the Levant. Germany for the present denies herself the pleasure of carrying the German movement to the absorption of Austria's German population; but there is ample room in Holland and Belgium, and Denmark perhaps had better be quiet. In all these cases of self denial, extending over a period of six years these unselfish nations have denied themselves, each something it could not obtain anyway in a decade, if so early. There is room for ample compensation for foregoing the impossible of attainment from each other, in what each may take from others. Turkey, France, Holland, and Belgium may rue the day when the triple alliance was formed.

The Party Lines. What has become of the stalwart party? This question brings up another, what has become of the half-breed party? Although there is a stalwart administration there is nothing to indicate the existence of the old lines. The republicans flatter themselves that they have been obliterated. In some respects this is true; but it is rather an unbrooding than a hopeful sign. The men who were called stalwarts are still living, but the thing itself is gone. It was a view concerning the practical administration of the government in the south, which was the basis of the stalwart wing of the party. Those who stood by the ideas represented in Grant's administration, and especially in his southern policy, were called stalwarts, and perhaps deserved the name for standing by what he abandoned in part, and intimated that he would abandon altogether if he had longer time in office.

In Hayes' administration it represented opposition to abandoning southern scalwags and carpet baggers. It represented a desire to stand up to them in all things to maintain the southern wing of the party as of old, and hence stalwartism and southern republicanism lay close together. Under Garfield it represented the old Grant leaders. Now what does it represent?

Of southern policy there is none. This country is not at all likely ever to witness any southern, northern, eastern, or western policy. The half breeds would appear to be one taking a surface view to have the field. The stalwart school is certainly extinct in the extinguishment of all it existed for. There is still, it is true, the desire to rule, the feeling that those who ruled in the old days should rule again, and the disposition of many to stand by what was once and to defend what was true; but there is in practical politics no reason left why stalwartism should be left standing anywhere.

Far from this being a sign of promise for the republican party, it simply amounts to saying that the vigorous, efficient portion of the party has no reason for existing as a force within the party, because all there was in the aims of the party, which required vigor and force, has come to an end. There is no stalwart wing because there is no stalwart purpose. With the end of stalwartism the party has become a weak, loose aggregation, thinking many things in many directions; in a sort of purposeless way aiming at some things but wholly bereft of that forwarding, direct vigor which it had when Stevens and Morton were its leaders, and Sumner one of its political philosophers.

The half breeds are right in supposing that the party is in their hands. The stalwarts are dead; but when the stalwartism died the party became a shapeless inert mass, without definite aims, determined purpose, or vigorous leadership. They partly see, and the wisest of them half acknowledge, the truth of this but they reply the democratic party is in no better condition. They point to its differences on the tariff question, and to the indisposition of its leaders to take position and define the issues and stand or fall by well defined policies. If, as is true, the next contest will be between two nerveless giants, neither more than half in earnest and neither aiming at any well defined end. Such conflicts are rare, if they ever occur in politics. As one political party loses purpose and ceases to have definite ends to aim at, the other usually comes forward with something to propose.

The attitude of the democrats in the last congress clearly showed the direction of democratic thought toward revenue ideas as to the tariff, and in the direction of conservative and gradual relief from too much of government in business. The coming congress will further indicate the direction of democratic thought, and the tendency observable throughout the country is in the same general direction toward the idea of the least possible government in business. That it has met with democratic opposition is true. There are democrats who cling to local industries as their peculiar care, and there are those who wish to rally around "the old flag and an appropriation," but the tendency, generally is toward relieving the country, cautiously and conservatively, of too much of government in business, and hence of that in the republican party which has been the worst feature.

This has been its worst feature, because it is that which was fraught with most of permanent peril. Its high handed acts in the reconstruction and carpet bag years at the worst temporary, and bound to end with their cases. The tendency to bring government into every relation in life, social and industrial, is more insidious, surer of continued powerful support and most to be feared. Happily along with the end of stalwart purpose and stalwartism, and the weakening of the party in that direction, there are also indications of a wholesome reaction in other directions, which promise democracy a large accession of the more thoughtful republicans, who perceive the evils of too much government in business, and of too much protective and fostering care, not in what is called protection alone, but in every direction, and it is here that the direction of democracy may be most clearly traced.—Cincinnati News.

We all believe that it is a long lane that has no turning; that many a shaft at random sent finds a mark the archer little meant; that no remedy sold will cure coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and all throat and lung troubles so quickly nor permanently as Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure; that our druggists, Eberbach & Son, are very generous to give trial bottles of this remedy free of charge.

ST. JAMES HOTEL. J. L. STONE, Proprietor. The best house in the city for Washenaw country. First room well furnished. Everything strictly first class.

Estate of Philip Lutz. STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Washtenaw, ss. At a session of the probate court for the county of Washtenaw, held at the probate office in the city of Ann Arbor, on Saturday, the 14th day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified of Catherine Lutz, praying that a certain instrument now on file in this court purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, she be admitted to probate, and that Adam Seyler may be appointed executor thereof. Thereupon, it is ordered, that Monday, the 15th day of May next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and the devisees, legatees and heirs-at-law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be held at the probate office, in the city of Ann Arbor, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted. And it is further ordered, that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said estate, and the hearing thereon, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Ann Arbor Democrat, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

KIDNEY WORT FOR THE PERMANENT CURE OF CONSTIPATION. No other disease is so prevalent in this country as Constipation, and no remedy has ever been so effective as the celebrated Kidney Wort as a cathartic. Whatever the cause, however obstinate the case, this medicine will overcome it.

THE CELEBRATED STALLION "MAMBRINO GIFT." Will stand for mares the season of 1883, at East side of Court House, M. M. Green's Livery and Feed Barn, Ann Arbor. Except Mondays and Tuesdays, when he will stand at Hamburg. M. M. GREEN.

KIDNEY WORT THE ONLY MEDICINE IN EITHER LIQUID OR DRY FORM. That acts at the same time on THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, AND THE KIDNEYS. WHY ARE WE SICK? Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors therefore crowd into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

A CARD. I commenced the mercantile life 29 years ago; and feeling that a change is necessary for my health I shall retire from the Retail Clothing business on or about July 1, 1883. In some respects it is with reluctance that I go out of active business; but I have decided, after carefully thinking the matter over, that it is the thing for me to do.

There was an old fashioned rush between two classes of the University last Saturday night. The principal amusement was putting each other over the fence.

The Pioneer society have a room fixed up in the court house. It contains many curiosities of the olden times. Elder Davis, who wrote some very interesting articles for the DEMOCRAT, some time ago, on that subject, has his office in the same room.

Gilbert & Sullivan's comic fairy opera company of forty-one persons on the 25 th of May. The splendid new Iolanthe costumes of the Emma Abbott opera Co., have been secured for the occasion as well as their beautiful stage scenery.

Spei's orchestra of Detroit will furnish the music which has been especially arranged by Prof. Rudolph Speil. The company has been under continual training and drill by Profs. De Pont and Cady within the past three or four months.

Rev. Dr. Henry N. Hudson of Harvard who has been giving an extended course of lectures on English literature at Detroit, has been engaged to give a lecture on Hamlet at university hall, Monday evening, April 28th. Dr. Hudson is the well known editor of the Harvard edition of Shakespeare, and the author of "Life, Art and characters of Shakespeare."

He is a pleasing speaker and is acknowledged as one of the most learned of living Shakespeare scholars. The admission to the lecture will be twenty-five cents.

A lady who has resided within four miles of the city for 45 years, who had never seen a train of cars, and who had not been in this city for 20 years, although enjoying good health, had occasion recently to go to Ann Arbor for several days in succession. So great was her aversion to railroad travel that for three or four days she had a hack back and forth; but finally rode on the cars.

The lady is cultured and intelligent, and there is no assignable cause for the curious circumstances save the fact of her disinclination to "gad."

We acknowledge the compliments of Perceval Lowell, the gentlemanly passenger agent of the C. B. & Q., railroad, in the receipt of a handsome little book called "The Heart of the Continent," being a description of the advantages, resources and scenery of the great West.
Embracing Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado. It is profusely illustrated, deals in agricultural, mercantile, and business statistics, discusses the soil, climate, productions, and industries of the states, their taxation, indebtedness, enterprises and railroad facilities, and it is a very valuable book for business men, tourists, or settlers.

Old residents in Saline who must remember Charles A. Sanford, brother of Ezra Sanford, of this township, will learn with pleasure the high honors paid him at Lansing last week on the occasion of his resigning the superintendency of the schools of that city. He was presented, on behalf of the teachers, board and several ex-members, with a beautiful gold watch and chain. Mr. Sanford's health has been so poor of late that he deemed it advisable to withdraw from such cares and studies, and has departed for Dakota to farm it, hoping thereby to regain his health. Mr. S. was born in Saline a little over forty years ago, and received his education in this county.— Opserver.

We learn that Professor Franklin has ceased his surgical visits to the establishment of Dr. K. & K. of Detroit. This he did on account of the public announcement made of his name and position as being connected with that institution, when in reality he has not been at all.
The doctor informs us he was employed by them to perform all surgical operations, in such cases as came to them for relief for a moneyed consideration; the same as any other professor would under like circumstances. The advertising of his name in public hand-bills and posters was unauthorized and in violation of the agreement between them, hence his refusal to give his services further in that field of surgery.

WANTED—A partner to act as treasure-er and take one third interest in an old established minstrel party. Capital required $300. The company has been organized and stock on hand $2,500. Dates made at all the principal opera houses in this country. The band to accompany the show will be magnificently unformed.

Would you be free from Catarrh, Hay Fever and Cold in Head? Try Ely's Cream Balm. It is curing hundreds of chronic cases. Price 50 cents. Apply into nostrils with little finger. A gentleman from Orwell, Pa., called my attention to Ely's Cream Balm as a remedy for Catarrh, Hay Fever, &c. He was so earnest in asserting it to be a positive cure (himself having been cured by it) that I purchased a stock. The Balm has already effected a number of cures.
P. F. HYATT, M. D. Bordentown, N. J.

Mr. John R. Bennett, Druggist Muskegon, Mich.—In regard to your inquiry respecting Ely's Cream Balm for the cure of Catarrh, my answer is, I can recommend it always as the best remedy I have ever used. Dr. J. S. VACON, Dentist, Muskegon, Mich.

Don't judge a man's character by the

SCIENTIFIC ADVANCEMENT.—Scientific advancement, it has been remarked, has been slower and less noticeable in the care of the sick and the treatment of disease than in any other department of human knowledge. The life or death of a patient is too frequently a mere matter of accident or chance. Some great discoveries, however, have been made and certain remedies are known and used with almost infallible curative results.
Such a remedy is Taraxine, where a deranged liver is involved, or where diseases of the bowels, kidneys or spleen prevail. For sale by Eberbach & Son, Taraxine memorandum books free.

"Figures are not always facts," but the incontrovertible facts concerning Kidney-Wort are better than most figures. For instance: "It is curing everybody," writes a druggist. "Kidney-Wort is the most popular medicine we sell." It should be right, for no other medicine has such specific action on the liver, bowels and kidneys. Do not fail to try it.

A REPORT OF CLERK OF CIRCUIT COURT.—Clerk's Office, Johnson Co., Iowa.—Mr. A. Kiefer. During the spring and summer my wife was a great sufferer from dyspepsia and indigestion, caused by a torpid liver. About a month ago she began using your "Taraxine, and the first two doses gave her so much relief that she continued the use of it until two bottles had been taken; and I take pleasure in saying that her health is entirely restored. Yours, etc., ISAAC M. THOMPSON,

WHAT THE MEDICINE SAYS.—Mr. A.
Kiefer—My dear sir: I have been afflicted for the last four years with derangement of the liver, causing dyspepsia, headache, nervousness, and general derangement of the whole system. I have tried a great many preparations, but found no relief until I tried one bottle of your "Taraxine, which has permanently cured me. I am now in good health, and I agree. I commend it to all who suffer with derangement of the liver. Very truly yours, REV. THOMAS WHITLOCK.

No Whiskey!

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS
is one of the very few tonic medicines that are not composed mostly of alcohol or whiskey, thus becoming a fruitful source of intemperance by promoting a desire for rum.

is guaranteed to be a non-intoxicating stimulant, and it will, in nearly every case, take the place of all liquor, and at the same time absolutely kill the desire for whiskey and other intoxicating beverages.

Rev. G. W. Rice, editor of the American Christian Review, says of Brown's Iron Bitters:

Cin., O., Nov. 16, 1882.
Gents:—The foolish wasting of vital force in business, pleasure, and vicious indigence of our people, makes your preparation a necessity; and if applied, will save hundreds who resort to saloons for temporary recuperation.

has been thoroughly tested for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, weakness, debility, overwork, rheumatism, neuralgia, consumption, liver complaints, kidney troubles, &c., and it never fails to render speedy and permanent relief.

It is the only Iron preparation that does not color the teeth, and will not cause headache or constipation, as other Iron preparations will.

enriches the blood and purifies the system; cures weakness, lack of energy, etc. Try a bottle.

IS A SURE CURE
for all diseases of the Kidneys and
—LIVER—
It has specific action on the most important organ, enabling it to throw off torpidity and inaction, stimulating the healthy secretion of the bile, and by keeping the bowels in free condition, effecting the regular discharge.

It is especially true of a family medicine, and it is positive proof that the remedy imitated is of the highest value. As soon as it had been tested and proved by the whole world that Hop Bitters was the purest and most valuable family medicine on earth, many imitations sprang up and began to steal the notices in which the praise and people of the country had expressed the merits of H. J.
B., and in every way trying to induce suffering invalids to use their stuff instead, expecting to make money on the credit and good name of H. B. Many others started nostrums up in similar style to H. B., with variously devised names, in which the word "hop" or "hops" were used in a way to induce people to believe they were the same as Hop Bitters. All such pretended remedies or cures, no matter what their style or name is, and especially those with the word "hop" or "hops" in their name, or any way connected with them or their name, are imitations or counterfeits.
Beware of them. Touch none of them.
Use nothing but genuine Hop Bitters, with a bunch or cluster of green hops on the white label. Trust nothing else.
Druggists and dealers are warned against dealing in imitations or counterfeits.

A HAPPY MAN.—I have been a sufferer from brain piles for twenty years. During that time I tried every known remedy, receiving none but temporary relief.
Ten years ago Prof. Goss of Philadelphia, used the knife upon me, which for two years seemed to have cured me, but eight years since it returned, suffering at times excruciating pain. Six weeks ago I commenced using Dr. Deming's New Discovery, with marvelous results. For the past four weeks I have not suffered at all. My advice to all sufferers from piles is, use Deming's Discovery and be happy, as I am. W. H. THOMAS, 261 East Washington street, Indianapolis. For sale by

ELLY'S CREAM BALM
FOR
CATARRH
AND HAY FEVER.

Agreeable to use, under any circumstances, in the Head, Headache and Deafness, or any kind of catarrh of the nose, throat, or any membranous inflammation, inflamed or rough surfaces. A preparation of un-doubtful merit. Applied by the little finger into the nostrils; it will be absorbed, effectually cleansing the nasal passages of catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions. It allays inflammation, protects the menstrual linings of the head from the usual colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are resulted by a few applications.

A Thorough Treatment Will Cure.
