For President in 1884, GEN. WINFIELD SCOTT HANCOCK.

REV. GEO. W. PEPPEB.

There was recently delivered in Trinity M. E. church by the Rev. Geo. W. Pepper, of Wooster, O., an able discourse on Ireland. In the course of his remarks he said: I stand here on this sacred sabbath day as an apologist, the defender of the suffering and infamously oppressed Irish people. It has been asserted that they are to far off, but our voices and prayers can travel through the wind and the waves and find a pathway in every Irish heart.

Who in this Methodist American audience can think of Ireland without tears? Who can remember her poets, her orators, her philosophers, her statesmen, her soldiers, and her saints without wondering that a land once so bright and so mighty in intellect should now be a prostrate wreck? We owe much as Protestants to that unfortunate land. The first Methodist preacher in this country, Philip Embury, the first Presbyterian minister, the first Episcopal canon and the founder of the church to which the lamented Garfield belonged, Alexander Campbell, were all from Ireland. In every struggle for the independence, unity, and preservation of this glorious Republic Catholic and Protestant Irishmen poured out their rich blood in torrents to strengthen the bonds and to perpetuate the country of Washington.

As Americans we love and almost worship the memory of Robert Emmet. He had as much of the spirit of God as any mortal that ever lived. The sentiments of his immortal vindication have penetrated into every corner of America, and all Christian colleges and schools pronounce his name in the same breath with that of Washington, Jefferson, and Lincoln! And although for a hundred years the iron hoof of Britain has with devilish malignity tried to trample his principles into the earth, yet, glory be to God, his memory lives in the hearts of thousands and tens of thousands, and it is a proud eulogy on the character of the Irish people that, despite all the vigilance, all the landrildism, all the hired soldiers, all the cruelty of England, the people of Ireland are more rebellious now than when young Emmet died on the scaffold.

Among the first lectures I ever delivered was one in this city when for the first time I was your pastor. You received me with a generous enthusiasm. Since then I have revisited the scenes of my childhood. I have pressed the same flag stones with thrilling emotions which were walked over by Grattan, Curran, Tone, Burke, and Emmet. I have traveled extensively in the north and south of Ireland. Never in any land have I seen such pictures of natural scenery. Never did the pencil of the Almighty Artist appear so exquisite in its delineations as in that distressed and land-cursed country.

It has been asserted that the Irish people were murderous, turbulent, and lawless. I contradict the assertion and solemnly swear before the eternal throne of God that the real murderers in Ireland are the governing officers, the landlords, the spies, the soldiers, and the obscene brood of court hirelings. Where is there a nation so ground to earth as Ireland has been for centuries, so crushed by the Moloch of landrildism, that can show so stammering a record as that people? For every tyrant executed by the oppressed one hundred thousand of the poor have been exiled, starved, slain. If such a vile system of slavery existed in any other country on the earth the people would rise in their might and exterminate their oppressors. When Fox, one of England's greatest statesmen, was denouncing the slave trade, some one said, "Let us regulate it." "Regulate murders!" exclaimed Fox; "there is only one method—extermination." So let it be with Irish landrildism.

I am no fanciful enthusiast, but the solemn examiner of historical facts, and I have no hesitation in saying that Ireland will yet rise from her disasters and take her place among the representative nations of the earth. My hopes still vastly preponderate over my fears. Thicker, thicker darkness may gather over Ireland, like the clouds round the summit of Sinai; but out of all the gloom shall come a voice—the voice of the Almighty—calling Ireland, like Moses, to come up to the Mount.

We have been engaged in the news paper business since 1867, and during our experience as a public journalist, we can truthfully say that we have never been attacked. And the low-lived scoundrel who dares to say as the Journal insinuates, is a liar and fraud. This Ruel is well known to the people of this community; his man, Danzer (better known as Friday), the tramp and beggar, is still better known. His low remarks concerning the Germans of this country cannot at this time be commented on.

Prof. Frothingham, the celebrated oculist, and proprietor of the Ann Arbor Register, one of the best weekly papers in the state, was attacked in the Journal, an obscure German sheet published in this city, last week. Dr. F. is a gentleman; Ruel is a newspaper fraud—his man Friday a bigger one. Take the two together and they would make a fine team for a scavenger wagon.

CHRIS RUEL, the self-styled editor of the Journal, and his man Friday—Danzer—have been indulging in billings-gate through the columns of the above dirty sheet.

The editor of the Washtenaw Journal had a scurrilous article in his last issue, intimating that a certain newspaper man in Ann Arbor was at once an atheist and an enemy of personal liberty. From the wording of the article and from other recent evidences of his mean and slanderous conduct we believe he refers to the proprietor of the Register. The latter is neither an atheist nor an enemy of personal liberty, and the miserable specimen of humanity who runs the Washtenaw Journal knew it when he made these false insinuations. He is actuated by disappointment because the owner of the Register would not accept him as a satellite and take a pecuniary interest in his sickly and dirty paper. Finding that he could not possess himself of any of the hard earned cash that supports the Register, the grovelling scoundrel has ceased his importunate appeals for aid, and is seeking to make capital for himself by thus misrepresenting the proprietor of this paper to the few German readers of the Journal. He will find that it will require more capital than slander, and more sober hours than are devoted to his sheet, to make a respectable paper—KROISSTERN.

This is the way Prof. Frothingham proceeds to scold the infinitesimal that runs the new German paper, The Journal. It is well known that the proprietor, Ruel, has only 186 subscribers; and in order to bolster up his sinking ship by creating sympathy for his weakly, he attempts to pander to a certain element. It will not do. If Ruel thinks he can build up his sheet at the expense of the other county papers, we believe that he is very much mistaken. We beg pardon of our many readers for wasting so much valuable space on so small a thing as the infinitesimal.

The New York republicans are attempting to harmonize and get back the 196,000 majority against them on Cleveland. The party machinery is entirely under the control of the stalwarts, and to get it out of their control is the wish and prayers of the half-breeds; to effect this the editor of the Tribune proposes to go back to the original source of power—the people, and that in electing candidates for local offices and delegates to state conventions, every republican be permitted to cast a vote. It is almost certain that under the proposed method, the half-breeds will be left out, as usual, for the stalwarts are in a large majority. The half-breeds are aware of this, and the Tribune editor's scheme provides a safeguard by directing that no republican, in voting at a primary election, shall be required to pledge himself to vote for the ticket. The meaning of this is that the half-breeds and independents shall have the liberty of acting with the party till the nominations are made, and of then turning against it; of doing all they can to secure the nomination of their favorites, and, in case they are outnumbered, of defeating the ticket as an act of resentment.—Monroe Democrat.

The star-route trial is drawing to a close. What the result will be no one can tell. We know, however, that the government has been punished to the extent of over half a million dollars in trying to place the alleged conspirators in the penitentiary. The jurors also know that they have been punished by nearly half a year's confinement in the jury box. And the public know that if it had not been for the star-route contract, "who are now on trial for stealing," Indiana would have chosen Hancock electors in 1880, and Arthur would not be president. The star-route swindlers were a boon to the republican party three years ago, but now they are—well, we will wait for the verdict of the jury to determine what they are. Perhaps that verdict will be "guilty, but not proven."—Jackson Patriot.

JAY GOULD says he is a republican, and he might have added, a monopolist, protectionist and corruptionist. In 1872, when the management of the Erie railroad by him and his co-thief, Jim Fisk, was undergoing investigation by a committee of the New York legislature, he testified as to his policies, when asked concerning the money he spent to accomplish his purposes, as follows: "I do not remember how much I paid towards helping friendly men. We had four states to look after and we had to suit our politics to circumstances. In a democratic district, I was a democrat; in a republican district, I was a republican; and in a doubtful district, I was doubtful; but in every district and at all times I have always been an Erie man." Jay Gould is a fair specimen of the average republican monopolist.

In last week's Register a paragraph appeared telling of "a lively row in the homeopathic medical society, which recently convened at Lansing. The Register takes every opportunity to imagine a row among the homeopaths, yet how obvious it seems to the many disgraced folk that take place in its own school. How it twisted, turned and perambled in the late fiasco in its own society at Kalamazoo over the attempted 'vindication,' &c., and yet all was serene there. The fact is the homeopathic society held an enthusiastic and harmonious meeting, and the president's address was an exceedingly able and instructive one. No "lively row" entered within its peaceful habitations, and with the exception of a resignation or two, the society adjourned in peace and prospective harmony.

The celebrated sale in Shelley's case involved a small amount of property compared with the amount affected by it; but the Illinois case, recently decided by the United States Supreme Court, perhaps exceeds all others in the proportion between the amount involved and the amount affected, which is estimated at $5,000,000,000 in railway stocks. The controversy was over two cents, the difference between eighteen cents, the legal fare of three cents a mile, tendered, and the twenty cents claimed by the road. Thus a matter of two cents settles principles affecting $5,000,000,000.

Or the 186 papers sent to the post-office by the publisher of the Journal each week, 96 papers are returned to Ruel in a bundle. It is a wonder that business men patronize the Infinitesimal, a sheet of 186 circulation.

Humbugged Again. I saw so much said about the merits of Hop Bitters, and my wife who was always doctoring, and never well, teased me so recently to get some, I could not help but be humbugged again; and I am glad I did, for in less than two months' use of the Bitters, my wife was cured, and she has remained so for the eighteen months since. I like such humbugging.—H. T., St. Paul.—Pioneer Press.

KALAMAZOO, MICH., Feb. 2, 1880. I know Hop Bitters will bear commendation honestly. All who use them come upon them the highest commendation, and give them credit for making cures—all the proprietors claim for them. I have kept them since they were first offered to the public. They took high rank from the first, and maintain it, and are more called for than all others combined. So long as they keep up their high reputation for purity and usefulness, I shall continue to recommend them—somebody I have never before done with any other patent medicine.

J. J. BABCOCK, M. D. Too much drink creates acid. Fresh air, exercise, good food and Dr. Benson's Celery and Chamoile Pills will, when used together, cure any case of nervousness, sick headache, or indigestion. They strengthen the nervous system. 5000 physicians prescribe them. "For four years I suffered agony from a skin disease. Dr. Benson's Skin Cure cured me." C. B. McDonald, Plantersville, Ala. S. J. at druggists.

Beating quick and vehemently is a sign of malignant disease. A STARTLING DISCOVERY. Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and all Throat affections, is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery; resulting in hundreds of our best Physicians using it in their practice. Trial bottles free at H. J. Brown & Co.'s Drug Store. Regular size $1.00.

Art aids, but nature performs the cure. THESE ARE SOLID FACTS. The best blood purifier and system regulator ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity, truly is Electric Bitters. Inactivity of the Liver, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Weak Kidneys, or disease of the urinary organs, or who ever requires an appetizer, tonic or mild stimulant, will always find Electric Bitters the best and only certain cure known. They act surely and quickly, every bottle guaranteed to give relief, or your money refunded. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by H. J. Brown & Co.

Codfish, beef, boiled, digests in two hours. Don't give up and say there is no help for Catarrh, Hay Fever, and Cold in the head, but try Ely's Cream Balm. It has entirely cured them. Price 50 cents. Apply into nostril with little finger. Liquids replete more easily than solids. From Major Downs, Military Instructor, Mt. Pleasant Academy, Sing Sing, N. Y.: "During the very cold weather I was suffering with Catarrh of my throat, and throat-ache so that I was obliged to give up everything and keep quiet. Ely's Cream Balm was suggested. Within an hour from the first application I felt relief, the pain began to subside. In two days was entirely cured. W. A. Downs, Feb. 15, 1881.

Spontaneous lassitude foreshows disease. That poor, bedridden, invalid wife, sister, mother, or daughter, can be made the robust, healthy, and happy, by Ely's Cream Bitters, costing but a trifle. Will you let them suffer? Monotonous noises favor sleep. Dr. W. H. Nelson, Northport, Mich., says: "I sell a large quantity of Brown's Iron Bitters, and find it well liked."

When sleep soothes delirium it betokens well. Messrs. Corbin & Woods, Sherman, Mich., say: "Brown's Iron Bitters sells well, and gives general satisfaction."

Allopathy—the cure of one disease by setting up another. "Every truth has two sides; look at both before committing yourself to either." Kidney-Wort challenges the alopathic certainty of its ingredients and its grand results. It has nothing to fear from truth. Doctors may disagree as to the best methods and remedies, for the cure of constipation and disordered liver and kidneys. But those that have used Kidney-Wort, agree that it is by far the best medicine known. Its action is prompt, thorough and lasting.

With Diamond Dyes any lady can get as good results as the best practical dye. Every dye warranted true to name and color. "Little thanks are due to him who only gives away what is of no use to himself." The thanks of the world are being showered on the inventor of Kidney-Wort, for it is giving health to all. Kidney-Wort moves the bowels regularly, cleanses the blood, and radically cures all urinary troubles, and gives billions heretofore and pains, which are caused by disordered liver and kidneys. Thousands have been cured—why should you not try it?

Faded articles of all kinds restored to their original color by Diamond Dyes. Perfect and simple. 10 cents, at all druggists. In protracted illness a severe regimen is dangerous. In consumption, diarrhoea is dangerous. You are sick Hop Bitters will surely aid Nature in making you well when all else fails. If you are ostive or dyspeptic, or are suffering from any other of the numerous diseases of the stomach or bowels, it is your own fault, and you remain to be humbugged again; and I am glad I did, for in less than two months' use of the Bitters, my wife was cured, and she has remained so for the eighteen months since. Remember This. If you are ostive or dyspeptic, or are suffering from any other of the numerous diseases of the stomach or bowels, it is your own fault, and you remain to be humbugged again; and I am glad I did, for in less than two months' use of the Bitters, my wife was cured, and she has remained so for the eighteen months since. I like such humbugging.—H. T., St. Paul.—Pioneer Press.
