For President in 1884. GEN. WINFIELD SCOTT HANCOCK.

BUSINESS MEN TO THE RESCUE.

There is a growing evidence of a desire for a change of parties, and a relief from prevailing jobbery. There was a time when the business appeal of republican leaders, combined with yet lingering prejudices and sectional issues, proved to some extent effective. The day when this appeal was effective has passed by. There are still the leading operators in great monopolies, and in various lines of business, who are determined to perpetuate their large illegitimate profits and the rule of the republican party at any cost. The great body of the business public, however, has reached the conclusion that business is in no danger from any great American party, with its own members engaged in business, and dependent upon business success and stability for daily living. The honest investors in telegraph and railway securities, the men engaged in the business of telegraphing and transportation, not only know that legitimate business has nothing to fear, but they know that it is but the comparatively few who reap illegitimate gains and these at the expense of legitimate business. In the schemes of the great operators and manipulators, the speculating rings and bulls and bears in stocks and bonds, they have not only no interest, but it is beginning to dawn upon them that a mighty and illegitimate association, crushing out of competition merely in order to create a mighty business with watered stocks and illegitimate profits is contrary to the interests of the thousands of honest investors and operators, and only for the advantage of a few.

Far from the small investors in stocks and bonds, the small manufacturers and men engaged in transportation as a business, fearing a change which will bring the government back to its legitimate functions, which will put an end to jobbery and corruption, and the purchase of votes by Dorsey and Jay Goulds, which will bring every business down to those conditions which are favorable to the highest development in legitimate operations, cutting off opportunities for illegitimate profits to a favored few, they are moving to secure that change of administration which is necessary to bring about these results. The hope of the country for reform lies in the democratic party, and the hope of democracy lies in the conservative influence of the thousands of men engaged in legitimate business that they will cast the weight of their influence against the Jay Goulds and Rosches, and the great business bosses and manipulators, whose business fear of democracy is due to a fear lest they may lose their opportunity to secure the profits which they partly bring from the public by means of watered stocks, and partly bring from those who are engaged legitimately in the same line of business. It is the business men of the country the republican party has to fear.

A colored critic of one of his race, who advises a little more political independence than has obtained among that race in the past in dealing with politics, denounces his brother as a Judas Iscariot because he refuses to be his race on permanently to the republican party. Pray, why should an Afro-American citizen be denied the right of selecting his political associations more than another? Why should the Afro-American citizen be more securely tied to one party than any other citizen? The time has come for the negro race in America, in considering its relations to politics, to consider that a majority of the people of this country are already democrats, and that the democratic party, as an organization, has elected one president, and will inevitably elect another in 1884. If political affiliations are, as this critic seems to hold them to be, to be determined by the favors to be received, it can only be done by breaking down that rigid standard. If the republican party is to be adhered to for the benefits it may confer, it will not confer benefits upon those who stay with it whether they confer them or not. Nor will the other party promise benefits to those who will not join its ranks either for promise or performance. This uncompromising liberality, which requires absolute and unending, and unquestioning allegiance for all time to come to one party on pain of being considered a traitor to the race, stands in the way of the political progress of the Afro-American all over this country. We do not view politics as a mere matter of political rewards, or of benefits promised to, and conferred on, class or race, but viewed any way, the Afro-American race will attain the highest good in politics and every other way when this illiberal spirit gives way and leaves the negro free to come or go according to opinion or sentiment like every other man.

No report has been heard that before Arthur went off he ordered an inquiry into the statement which has been made in many republican papers that Postmaster General James, the great reformer, improved his brief term in the department, like the unjust steward in scripture, to make to himself a friend of the mammon of unrighteousness by increasing the compensation of Vanderbilt's roads by a fraudulent reweighing of mail matter to the tune of $600,000 a year, whereby he stepped from the department into the office of president of a new bank, started by Vanderbilt, out of one year's expedited proceeds. This is worse than all of the star route contracts, for these rendered additional service for the additional pay. The statement is a republican one, but no republican paper has courage enough to call for an examination. How much worse than this is the whisky ring of revenue officers that get around President Grant?

Mr. Kendall Kirtledge, who recently purchased the Register, will assume the management of the paper after this week. Being an experienced journalist, the paper will take no retrograde movement with such a man at the helm. We welcome Mr. K. to our beautiful city.

It has been reported that President Arthur and several members of his party are in the last grip of the cholera morbus. The supply of whisky is said to be exhausted, and the party reduced to the disastrous extremity of drinking water.

Monday being George Clark's thirty-ninth birthday, he celebrated the event by giving a supper to a number of his friends in the evening. The "lay-out" was all that the most hungry individual could desire, and everything was gotten up in first-class style by the well-known caterer, Oscar Wehner. Several short speeches were indulged in when the merry company dispersed after singing that pathetic ballad, entitled, "Yes, We are Growing Old, Boys." The solos on the zither were rendered with great artistic skill by Prof. Welner.

A good joke was perpetrated on John Couch Wednesday. He went to Whitmore Lake in the stage to spend the day and have a good time. He seemed to enjoy himself hugely with several young ladies, and was loth to leave them when it was time to return home. As the stage drove up he was informed by one of the ladies that he could ride with him as well as not, and he accepted the invitation. After dark the ten-cent bus which carried the party to the lake was ready to leave, and when the vehicle was about to start, the driver, who was not to be trusted, informed the party that the lake was not to be left until the next day, and that the party must remain at the lake until the next day.

A certain justice of the peace complains that officers do not keep their word—that is to rot violators of the law before him. This puts us in mind of a little incident that happened some years ago when a chief of police was told in a joking way by a justice, "That he would make him a present of a silver watch if he brought before him a certain number of persons in a given time." The officer took the justice at his word, and escorted six men, whom he charged with violating the law, before his honor. At once he informed the greedy, avaricious, unprincipled minion of the law that he was only jesting when he made the proposition, and he did not wish any more of that kind of business in his court.

M. T. Woodruff of the Ypsilanti, has been compelled to make an assignment, and we suppose the Commercial man is happy—at least we would infer this from the articles that have appeared in his paper from time to time since Mr. Woodruff donned the editorial toga. Some old fogies have an idea that a young man is not competent to manage a newspaper, and when one does launch out in such an enterprise, these wiseacres are continually harping about it. Again, jealousy is often the reason, and simply because the paper is so much ahead of the one they are publishing. Some men don't wish to have their neighbors succeed, and one has not got to go further than Ypsilanti or Ann Arbor to find them. We trust Mr. W. will soon see his way clear, and that he will continue to publish, what the citizens of Ypsilanti need—a wide-awake, reliable, and lively paper—such as the "young man" has been furnishing them.

Last Friday James M. Ashley, Jr., had a narrow escape from almost instant death. He was in Howell on railroad business, and while standing in the road conversing with several gentlemen, a bull, which was being driven along for James, who started on a run. Being considerably of an athlete he managed to keep out of the reach of the infuriated animal, but his wind finally gave out. Just as the bull was about to run him through, James, who by this time, who by this time was nearly frightened out of his wits, had presence of mind left and fell to the ground, with the bull on top of him. After playing with his victim for some time, he was finally captured, but not until Ashley was bruised and lamed up considerably, and when he reached his hotel, as a gentleman from this city who happened to be present expressed it, "he looked as if he had been through a railroad accident."

It is evident that John Burke of Northfield, who made the complaint, charging Thomas Condon and David Norton with attempted robbery, didn't know what he was doing, or was "bedazzled" on the night the offense was alleged to have been committed, for when the case came on for trial Tuesday, he would not swear that the parties complained of committed the assault. In fact he did not know who did, which may account for his not wishing to appear, for he was brought into court by Deputy Sheriff Wallace, who was compelled to go into the country after him, after the case had been called. Miss Francisco testified that the parties who knocked Burke down were not Condon or Norton, and that they were not present. The defense had other witnesses to prove their whereabouts on the night they were charged with the offense, but the prosecuting officer thought it was not necessary, and they were honorably discharged. It behooves the complainant to be a little more careful in the future how he prefers charges against innocent persons. Mr. J. M. Martin appeared for the defense.

In the Last Ditch. DESPERATION OF THE ALUM BAKING POWDER MEN.

The aggressive war waged by the Royal Baking Powder Company against all forms of adulteration in baking powder seems to be having a mortuary effect upon the alum baking powder makers and vendors of this locality. The Royal Company set out upon this crusade several years ago. It was the first to bring to light the use of alum for this purpose, and to expose the infamous tricks and schemes of the alum concern, who were endangering the health and lives of the public that more profit might be derived from their powders. It called them by name, denounced them to the public authorities, lightened public sentiment, in driving them, step by step, from the east, until they are now at bay in the northwest and on the Pacific slope.

All forms of alum baking powders are now being foisted upon the market in this vicinity. Their use has been universally condemned by medical men as absolutely dangerous to human life. The presence of alum cannot be detected except by chemical analysis, and the purchaser is unaware of its use until its effects have shown themselves in a disordered system. It is because of the continued, vigorous and successful pursuit of these dangerous alum baking powders that their proprietors and peddlers are now endeavoring to vent their spite and revenge their disappointment by circulating absurd falsehoods and sham analyses against the Royal Baking Powder.

It won't work. The Royal Baking Powder has, during the last quarter of a century, earned a reputation throughout the world which no such dishonest and tricky adventurers can pull down or destroy. It has stood the test of a long, actual practical use, and has been indorsed by the Government chemist, Prof. Mott, and by all the most eminent chemists of the country, as in all respects absolutely pure and wholesome, and of the very highest leavening power. It is not possible for the new, experimental and suspicious baking powders, no matter what blandishments or inducements they are accompanied, to supplant it in the public favor.

A Card of Thanks. The ladies of St. Thomas church, charged with the reception of the sisters and the orphan children under their care, on their re-visit to this city, beg leave to express their sincere thanks to all who contributed to the comfort and entertainment of these little ones. Especial mention is due to Mrs. Tenbrook, who kindly tendered the use of her house and grounds on the occasion; also to the various hack and bus lines of our city, who generously furnished the means of conveyance to and from the grounds. The thanks of the committee are also tendered to the young ladies and gentlemen who so untruly served refreshments during the day.

Circuit Court Jurors. The following list of jurors for the September term of court, was drawn Wednesday: Clarence Crane and George Becker, Bridgewater; Richard Whalman and Thomas Berkett, Dexter; Matthew Schaeble and Joseph Heil, Freedom; John Pratt and Thomas Coy, Lima; Giles Waters and Emanuel Frey, Lodi; Henry Twambly, Lyndon; Henry C. Gilbert, Manchester; William Otis, Northfield; Charles Isabel, Pittfield; Judson N. Thomson, Saline; Aaron H. Howard, Saline; Jefferson R. Lemm, Sharon; Jacob Bissinger, Seio; R. Crippin, Superior; Michael Foster, Sylvan; Joseph Geraghty, Webster; Willis Dexter, York; Alvin Mead, Ypsilanti town; W. B. Kief and Charles Bush, Ypsilanti city; John C. Mead, Ann Arbor town; Alonzo Bliss, Matthew Dalton and James B. Cady, Ann Arbor; Webster Williams, Augusta.

Agricultural. At the last meeting of the board of managers of the Washtenaw county agricultural and horticultural society, held the 18th inst., the following resolution was unanimously adopted: Resolved—That when the board adjourn, it adjourn to meet on Wednesday, the 27th inst., at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of taking into consideration the present affairs and future policy of the society; and that the business men of the city of Ann Arbor, and all citizens of the county interested in the success and usefulness of the society are cordially invited to meet with and take part in the deliberations of the board at said meeting. The final arrangements for the annual fair of the society to be held October 2-5, will be made at this meeting, and if the business men of the city, manufacturers and merchants desire to see a fair that will answer the purposes and objects of the society, they will not fail of being well and largely represented.

"Are Dollars taken at par?" inquired little Rufus Botts of his mother. "No, but they are taken from you when you go to bed with your boots on."

GRAVE ROBBERIES.—Of all classes of people the professional grave robbers are the most despised. He robs us of our dear friends for a few dollars. How different this new grave robber, Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure, which robs graves of thousands of consumptives, whooping cough, and all throat and lung diseases, subdues and conquers these troubles speedily, safely and thoroughly. Trial bottles free, of Eberbach & Son. Another nihilist plot has been unearthed in Russia. When the czar entered the breakfast room the other day he found two American cucumbers and a melon right on his plate. "I had Salt Rheum for nineteen years. Four packages of Dr. Fensop's Skin Cure entirely cured me." B. P. Lavelle, Merced, Cal. $1 of druggists. Mr. Charles Mesley, Lindington, Mich., says: "I can recommend Brown's Iron Bitters to any one needing a good tonic." There are two sides to the liquor drinking question, and it is best to keep the liquor on the outside. "Example is better than precept." It is well-known that dyspepsia, bilious attacks, headache and many other ills can only be cured by removing their cause. Kidney-Wort has been proved to be the most effective remedy for these, and for habitual costiveness, which so afflicts millions of the American people. A printer can feel first-rate and still be out of sorts. For five cents, Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt., will send colored samples of all colors of Diamond Dyes with directions.

TRIE Temperance. Is not signing a pledge or taking a solemn oath that cannot be kept, because of the non-removal of the cause—liquor. The way to make a man temperate is to kill the desire for those dreadful artificial stimulants that carry so many bright intellects to premature graves, and desolation, strife and unhappiness into so many families.

His father, BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, a true non-alcoholic tonic, made in Baltimore, Md., by the Brown Chemical Company, who are old druggists and in every particular reliable, will, by removing the craving appetite for the drunkard, and by curing the nervousness, weakness, and general ill health resulting from intemperance, do more to promote temperance, in the strictest sense than any other means now known.

It is a well authenticated fact that many medicines, especially 'bitters,' are nothing but cheap whiskey vilely concocted for use in local option countries. Such is not the case with BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It is a medicine, a cure for weakness and decay in the nervous, muscular, and digestive organs of the body, producing good, rich blood, health and strength. Try one bottle. Price $1.00.

BUTLER, N. Y., Feb. 25, 1882.—Rheumatic Syrup Co., Genl. I wish to express my appreciation of your wonderful remedy for the cure of rheumatism, dyspepsia, and general debility. I have been a great sufferer from that terrible disease—rheumatism—for more than a year, and could get no rest or relief day nor night for the whole time. Like almost every other case, I was first afflicted with rheumatism, and I tried many different remedies, and consulted a number of physicians. But getting only temporary relief from any of these sources, I almost despaired of ever again being restored to my normal condition, and once more free from pain. At this time, hearing so many commendations of Rheumatic Syrup as an infallible cure for rheumatism, and knowing that they had been troubled the same as myself and were now permanently cured, by the use of your remedy, I was inspired by the unbounded faith in its healing powers, and resolved to test its efficacy in my own case; and the result of it all is, that after taking four bottles, my rheumatism has all disappeared, and now, thanks to your Rheumatic Syrup, I feel like a new man, and cheerfully recommend the Rheumatic Syrup to all who are suffering with rheumatism. THE NEW PATENT DUST-PROOF

Stem Winding Open Face Case, MANUFACTURED BY THE American Watch Company, WALTHAM, MASS.

This case is formed in one solid piece, without joint or seam, opening in front only, thus avoiding the usual Cap, and securing greater strength and durability.

These Watches are all open face. The bezel, into which an extra strong crystal is fitted with an especially prepared water-proof cement, is attached to the case by screwing it thereon, and thus forms an air-tight junction with the body of the case, which is proof against dust and moisture.

To railroad men, travelers, miners, lumbermen and others who are almost constantly exposed and who have to make frequent reference to the watch, these qualities are of the utmost importance.

The following letters tell their own story: "VALDOSTA, GEORGIA, July 20, 1882.

"I sold one of your Patent Dust-Proof Cases about ten months ago, and the other day it came back to me with the request to make it wind easier. On examination I found that the stem was rusty, and I inquired into the cause of it. The gentleman stated to me that he was starting some saw-logs that had lodged in the bend of the river, when his chain caught in a bush and threw his watch into about twelve feet of water, and that he was about two hours finding it. When he got it out it was running, and he thought all right. In about three weeks he found that the stem was hard to turn and sent it to me.

"I can say that the watch is all that the company claims for it and recommend it to all railroad and mill men."

"B. W. BENLEY."

"CLINTON, IOWA, APRIL 20, 1881. "I wish you would send me a spring for the Wm. Ellery Watch. * * * By the way this Ellery is a watch I sold in your Screw Bezel Case to a farmer last fall. The first of January he lost the watch in the woods, and found it this week in about one foot of water. It had lain three months and over in snow and water, with but only slight injury to the watch—only a hair-spring.

"C. S. RAYMOND."

The above were very severe tests, and demonstrate beyond a doubt, that for any reasonable length of time during which a watch might be under water it would receive no injury whatever.

We make these cases in both gold and silver, and as a Perfectly Dust-Proof Stem Winding Watch Case, Challenge the World to Produce its Equal.

For Sale by all First-Class Jewelers.

The Important Part It Played in a Mysterious Murder. Jacksonville (Fla.) Cor. N. Y. Mail. Archibald W. Newton, a young man who belongs to a wealthy family which stands high in England, has just been convicted in Orange County of the murder of Samuel McMillan. AN EGG OF INFLUENCE.

The Almost Wonderful Work of a Hen of Good Reputation. Syracuse (N. Y.) Standard. Mrs. Whital, the estimable wife of a harnessmaker of Erieville, Madison Co., N. Y., heard her favorite hen cackling in the barn in a strange and unprecedented manner. Upon reaching the hen she found an egg of ordinary size, but unblazoned by raised characters, which nearly caused her to faint. Staggering from the barn into the house she displayed the hen's miraculous product to her sons and daughters, some of whom rushed out and spread the alarm among the populace. All further work on that day was suspended. Men working in the fields put up their horses and tools in the barns, after which they gazed anxiously at the Whital residence.
