The Great French Actress at the Opera House.

Mlle. Rhea, the eminent French actress, made her first appearance in Cleveland last night at the opera house as "Camille." Everybody knows the play, which is not attractive to the Cleveland public.

Hence, though the house was well filled, the audience was very largely composed of the cultivated people of the city, who came rather to criticize the actress, of whom much has been said, than to enjoy the play.

The audience might fairly be said to have constituted a large jury of experts assembled to try the actress, and it is no small compliment to her to say not only that their verdict was unanimous as to her superiority to all others who have ever played this character in Cleveland, but also that they found the character invested by her with depth of feeling and higher motives than have ever before been given it.

Mlle. Rhea is one of the most beautiful women upon the stage to-day. She has a figure that would serve as a model for any sculptor, and her every movement and every attitude is the perfection of grace and art.

Modjeska or Bernhardt cannot equal the finish of her work, while Clara Morris, with all her intensity, cannot show such power as Mlle. Rhea throws into her part last night. Yet from beginning to end there was an entire absence of ranting and heroics, and an ever present naturalness that won every heart, and drew the tribute of tears from many eyes, especially while making her heroic and wholly unselfish sacrifice.

Her support was excellent.—Cleveland Leader.

Laura Dainty in the play of "Mountain Pink," at the opera house, Feb. 19.

"It was a most satisfactory audience which welcomed the English visitor, Mr. Matthew Arnold. Clergymen, professors, authors, artists, prominent men of the upper circles of Boston and vicinity, and women of as notable station and numbers as the men, were there to applaud the lecturer and listen to his oration," is what the Boston Daily Advertiser, of Thursday, Nov. 8th, 1883, said of the gentleman who is to lecture at university hall to-night.

Mlle. Rhea, at the Grand opera house next Wednesday evening.

The Boston Journal says: "Mr. Arnold held the rapt attention of his audience by the sheer force of thought and language, not less than by interest in his personality." Remember this distinguished gentleman lectures in university hall this evening, on "Literature and Science."

The favorite prima donna is making her first tour through the southern states and played to crowded and brilliant audiences in Richmond, Charleston and Savannah.

Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness, severe coughs and all throat and lung diseases, it is guaranteed to cure. Trial bottles free, at Eberbach & Sons drug store. Large size $1.00.

One thing in which two heads are better than one—a barrel.

LADIES, ATTENTION! In the Diamond Dyes more coloring is given than in any known dyes, and they give faster and more brilliant colors. 10c, at all drug stores. Everybody praises them. Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt.

"Yes, sir," said Jenkins, "Smithers is a man who keeps his word; but then he has to." "How is that?" asked Jones. "Because no one will take it."

WE ALL BELIEVE—that it is a long lane that has no turning; that many a shaft at random sent, finds a mark the archer little meant; that no remedy sold will cure coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and all throat and lung troubles so quickly and permanently as Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure; that our druggists, Eberbach & Son, are very generous to give trial bottles of this remedy free of charge.

Oscar Wilde has written an ode to the sun. Is that the reason the sun has been blushing so much recently?

Dr. Dams' Double Medication. Catarrh at last Correctly Treated. Hay Fever and Asthma Surrender.

The common methods of treating the above named diseases are not successful. So much all sufferers know. Why they fail is another question. Dr. Dams' Double Medication does succeed; because it assumes Catarrh and its consequences to be both a local and constitutional trouble. The treatment assumes Catarrh and its consequences to be both a local and constitutional trouble. The treatment assumes Catarrh and its consequences to be both a local and constitutional trouble.
