FRIDAY EVENING MARCH 6, 1885. A CYCLOPE OF FUN. NIEL BURGESS!

VIM! A PURE AND CLEAN YANKEE COMEDY! GREAT NEW YORK SUCCESS.

Ann Arbor Democrat. FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1885. Friends of the Democrat, who have business at the Probate Court, will please request Judge Harriman to send their printing to this office.

JOTTINGS: Council meeting Monday evening. The public schools were closed on Monday. General reviews in high school next week. Dr. Breakey has just returned from Washington.

When in Detroit do not fail to visit the Detroit opera house. House & Hamlin have organized a business college in Milan. Do not fail to attend the lecture in university hall this evening.

In another column will be found a new time table of the Grand Trunk railroad. Mr. Phillip's horse of Ypsilanti fell dead on the trotting course on Monday afternoon.

Attention is called to the advertisement of D. Kierstead, manufacturer of window shades. O. M. Martin, Jr., is mentioned as a probable candidate for mayor on the republican ticket.

Warren Babcock, the popular landlord of the Babcock house in Milan, paid this city a visit Monday. With the Lewis and Roger's collection of works of art the U. of M. will soon be heart centre of the west.

The new Vandepole electric apparatus for experimenting purposes; arrived at the high school last Friday. Miss Anna Ladd, who is spending this winter in Detroit, came to Ann Arbor for a short visit on Monday.

L. Gruner who was administrator of the will annexed of the estate of Peter Brehme, has resigned the trust. Mrs. Judge Beakes gave a very pleasant progressive social party at her residence on Monday evening last.

Prohibition, pro and con, around the university, is the topic at union temperance hall, next Sunday afternoon. What could have been the reason of the change in chairman by the democratic county convention Monday.

Mrs. Alonzo Bliss entertained a select number of friends at her residence on Division street last Tuesday evening. An informal party was given at the residence of Mr. E. B. Lewis on Division street, Friday evening of last week.

The estimated valuation of the estate of the late Wm. Jarvis is $25,000. Henry D. Platt has been appointed administrator. Mr. Ashton, father of Mrs. Joe T. Jacobs, died Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs attended the funeral in Columbus, Ohio.

Eli Jenkins, son of Hugh Jenkins of this city, died Tuesday, at Springfield, Ill. His remains were brought here for interment. C. M. Milton D. and Albert Wells held a re-union in this city Friday last. The three brothers met for the first time in 15 years.

Belle and Amelia McClaren, who have been visiting friends at Mansfield, Shelby, and Toledo, O., are expected home to-morrow. Catherine Murphy of Northfield, died last Friday, at the age of 75 years. The funeral was held Monday from the Northfield church.

Messrs. Doty & Feiner received a large invoice of boots and shoes yesterday. M. C. LeBeau has a telephone at his farm on the river road. The Franklin house has one also, and so has Albert Sorg.

The question is often asked, why not have the city marshal oversee the workmen on the streets, as is done at Ypsilanti, and not pay an alderman $2.00 per day for watching a few poles. "Vim" with Neil Burgess in the leading character, has made such a hit at the Fourteenth Street Theatre that it looks very much as though it would run all the season.—New York Star, May 6.

At the Mount Morris Theatre "Vim" drew a large audience that was as enthusiastic as it was numerous and the star received a right royal ovation. The audience laughed long and laughed loud.—New York Morning Journal, May 10.

The M. C. R. R. will sell round trip tickets from Ann Arbor to Washington, to those wishing to attend the inauguration of President Cleveland, for $16.15. Persons going by this route will have an opportunity of visiting the great ice bridge at Niagara Falls.

It having been intimated in a paper of recent date that Eugene Gibney is the champion pool player in the city, and that he can be found at T. J.'s bank, I wish to say that pool-playing is not my sport, but horsehooping is. Bring on your thoroughbreds, for my name is Doanagran.

There will be a banquet in the city of Ann Arbor, Wednesday evening, March 4, 1885, to which all parties who assisted in the election of Grover Cleveland are cordially invited to be present.

Mr. Clayton, who continues to do business next door to the post-office, suggests that unless the snow and ice is removed speedily from in front of the building, in case of a thaw, that the council build a pouton bridge so that pedestrians may get their mail without wading through water ankle deep.

The Cornell manufacturing company, which is to erect extensive pulpmills on the Huron river just west of the city as soon as spring opens, are now preparing the timber. There will be a head of twelve feet in the dam to be erected—power enough to run the proposed city water works and dynamo for electric lights, if necessary, besides the mill machinery.

Mr. Clay M. Waite of Seco, and Miss Eva M. Arnold of Dexter were united in wedlock Tuesday evening by the Rev. Dr. Stanley. A large number of friends of the young couple attended the wedding, which occurred at the residence of Mr. Wm. Arnold. Many elegant presents were presented to Mrs. Eva M. Arnold. The force in the Democrat office were kindly remembered with a box of wedding cake.

Hon. Wm. Parsons will lecture on the "Heroes of the Home Age," Friday evening, Feb. 27, in University Hall. Mr. Parsons is well-known as a popular lecturer, a pleasant speaker and original thinker. The Plattsburgh Republican calls Mr. Parsons' lecture there on the above subject, "one of the most interesting ever delivered in Plattsburgh."

Hon. C. H. Richmond has gone to Washington. He went by the great Michigan Central route and viewed the ice bridge at Niagara Falls. Among the most genuinely popular successes must be mentioned Neil Burgess. During the past week the rush to see this clever comedian has tested the capacity of the house. Whatever else may be said of "Vim," it must be conceded that it is one of those satires in married life that every one instantly appreciates, and in addition it must be said that Neil Burgess so presents it as to catch the sympathy and touch the intelligence of the audience.

What Mr. Hastings said in the New York Commercial Advertiser, Friday Jan. 11th, 1884. Since Mr. John T. Raymond was fitted with the character of Colonel Mulberry Sellers in "The Golden Age," he has appeared here in no part that is better suited to his unique peculiarities than that of General Josiah Limber, in "For Congress," a play from the pen of Mr. D. D. Lloyd, which was produced at the Fourteenth Street Theatre last night.

THE RINK: Polo is dying out slowly but surely. Saturday sessions are always well attended. There was an unusually large attendance Monday afternoon. The Saturday morning sessions for children are as popular as ever. Ann Arborites are seen very frequently at the Arcade rink in Ypsilanti.

A sleigh load of Ann Arborites went to Saline last Saturday evening to attend the rink. Business at the Milan rink seems to be on the increase judging from the report of the papers of that place. We are informed that in one of the churches Sunday the minister took decided ground against skating rinks. What the matter with him; has he skated for the first time?

The management have decided to open the rink here for only on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. On those days there will be afternoon as well as evening sessions. The present reduced prices will continue, viz: Admission 10 cents, skates 15 cents. Skate owner's tickets 10 cents or 10 for 75 cents. Why is it that people would hire a rig or a buss and ride from one to three hours in the cold to attend a fourth-class rink in some fifth-class village, when they could have more fun with less trouble, with less expense and with less danger for their health at the elegant Palace rink right at home, where all accommodations are first-class?

Her feet beneath her petti-coat Like little mice stole in and out, As if they feared the light; But O, she skates in such a way! No sun upon an Easter day! Is half so fine a sight. Her pretty feet, like snails, did creep A little out, and then, As if they play at to-beep, Did soon draw in again.
