

THE UNIVERSITY.

H. Clothier, law '85, will locate at Alpena. Ed. Buckley, lit '84, attended commencement.

J. H. Lee, law '85, will teach next year at Ada, Ohio. Quite a number of students are still lingering in town.

Dr. J. M. Lawson, medic '85, will practice at Homer, Ill. The Argonaut makes, in its last issue, a plea for fellowships.

H. H. Lum, medic '85, will next year be assistant to Dr. Sewall. Dr. Caldwell's oration on commencement day lasted 65 minutes.

Unusually pleasant weather prevailed during commencement week. A university bank is a new scheme hatched up by the Argonaut.

Miss Nellie Borland, lit '85, left for northern Michigan, Tuesday. The laws felt quite relaxed over their counter-march on the platform.

J. C. Anthony, medic '86, will spend the summer studying in this city. Miss L. O. Tupper, lit '88, does not expect to return to college next year.

Mr. B. L. D'Ooge was married to Miss Jennie Pease last Thursday evening. Mr. H. Brown, medic '85, is now connected with Dr. F. H. Jones.

Miss Alice Lyons, lit '87, may not return to college next year, but may teach. An extra edition of the Commencement Annual was printed to please the laws.

W. H. Brenton, lit '83, was married to Miss Mary Foster, medic '85, Friday evening. The Glee club sang Monday night in Jackson and Tuesday evening in Ypsilanti.

J. C. Stomack, law '83, now practicing at Cleveland, O., attended commencement. It seems as if the lites of '85 chose the most ungracious man of the class for marshal.

Chas. J. Kintner, of the U. S. patent office held a civil service examination, yesterday. Dr. and Mrs. Jacobi, both homeopaths '85, will hang out their shingles at Ludington, Mich.

Miss E. M. Farrand, assistant librarian, is in Oregon, Ill., where she will spend the summer. N. H. Hunsberger, law '86, will spend the summer in E. D. Kinne's law office, in this city.

Bond, lit '87, will return to Ann Arbor in August, and spend the rest of the summer here. The Chequamegon attended the Theodore Thomas concert in Detroit, Thursday evening.

F. Lohrstorfer, medic '86, next year, will probably be the leader of the Chequamegon orchestra. A. C. Standaard, lit '83, principal of the high school at Owosso, spent part of the past week in this city.

The Williams professorship fund may be devoted to the establishment of a number of fellowships. A number of junior laws met at Granger's Thursday afternoon of last week and had a set-up.

A. G. Fitch, lit '85, will return to attend the law department, next fall, unless he goes to teaching. The senior reception was attended by about 80 persons, but, nevertheless, Ross Granger had plenty for all.

Prof. W. H. Butts of the Michigan militia academy, is spending the summer with his parents in this city. The class treasurer of the lites of '85, was successful in collecting the tax from nearly every member of the class.
