AROUND A GREAT STATE.

JACKSON POOR HOUSE BURNED.

Five Chaired Bodies Taken from the Ruins.

The Jackson county poor house, situated about five miles from Jackson, was destroyed by fire early on the 24th.

When help arrived from Jackson, a short time after the fire, only the walls were standing, so rapidly had the flames done their work.

Five of the inmates perished in the flames. They were: Mrs. G. Atkinson, insane, from Grass Lake, 84 years, an inmate for 10 years.

Catherine Avery, insane, from Columbia, 77 years, an inmate for 10 years.

Maria Martin, insane, from Spring Arbor, aged 94 years, and an inmate for fourteen years.

Zina Boynton, deaf, from Jackson aged 92 years, 3 years an inmate.

Through illness at the age of 75 years, from Jackson. The latter had been there only since December 15.

The work of recovering the remains was at once commenced, and in a short time the charred bodies were all recovered, but were unrecognizable.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Smith, wife of the keeper of the poor house, who looked in the men's kitchen. She awakened her husband, who slept in an adjoining room, and called out to her to get up.

She then went to the kitchen, where she woke the hired man, telling him to rescue the man while he looked after the women. Great confusion reigned for some time, and the women out, but all were finally rescued except the five unfortunate named.

The one thought of Mrs. Smith and his helpers had been to save the lives of the unfortunate people confined there, and when this was accomplished, they turned their attention to the contents of the house, but little could be saved, so swift had been the work of destruction.

It was believed that the building was destroyed by a gas stove, and as stated before, the servants were all away except one hired man, and the neighbors, with the exception of one, had not yet arrived, and were not awakened until the building was burned nearly to the ground.

The cause has not yet been ascertained, but it is believed that the gas stove was the cause.

Fortunately, five escapes were placed on the building a few weeks ago, by the means of which many of the inmates were saved.

The building was built three years ago at a cost of $13,500. It was two stories high, with a basement, and was built of brick and wood partitions. There was an instance on the building of $8,000 and on the contents of $5,000.

Wm. Mills, one of the inmates, was the man who first issued Squire's spelling book. At one time he was worth $200,000.

An Eruption Caused by Malaria.

Mr. B. F. Fox, of Cambridge, suffered from malaria for many months; the itching and burning was something terrible, great crusts formed on his limbs and body, and every night he suffered intensely with pain and general burning of the entire body. His physician said the whole difficulty was caused by malaria, but all of the usual remedies did not cure him. Mrs. Fox says, she took three boxes of Henry's Sure Cure for Malaria, and she is cured. Her husband has now been four months since she discontinued the use of Henry's Sure Cure, and she has had no return of the disease but remains perfectly well.

Dr. Henry's Sure Cure for Malaria is sold by all Druggists. It only costs One Dollar a Box.

Those who are always for-getting—Money—

Many hospitals and curative institutions use only Henry's Sure Cure for Malaria. It is a physician of rare merit, and he will examine your case and prescribe for you free of charge.

There are in the present Congress four men who are over-seventy.

A rustic visitor to Burlington, Vt., spent Thanksgiving Day on the horse railway, making the trip of four miles twenty-two times.

It is by copying after nature that man gets his best results. The most perfect of all nature's own remedies is purely vegetable, can be taken by the most delicate. Cures all stomach, and liver troubles. It has now been four months since she discontinued the use of Henry's Sure Cure, and she has had no return of the disease but remains perfectly well.

Having suffered with rheumatism and general debility for years, I procured a bottle of Henry's Sure Cure for Malaria. It is a physician of rare merit, and he will examine your case and prescribe for you free of charge.

Crepe de Chine and Malines lace are the correct materials for a bridal dress. The veil is of tulle, while diamonds and only a few orange-blossoms adorn the high collar.

It is a good thing to laugh, at any rate; and if you do not laugh at your own misdeeds, you will not laugh at those of others.

Her desecrated appointments, which she wears with the hope of retaining them, is a sure sign of a woman's vanity.

It may be remarked, for the comfort of honest poverty, that avarice retains most in plain life. This is a weed that will not grow in a barren soil.

Linens and collars, which have very improperly long been neglected, are again coming into use.

Silk and velvet dresses are coming to the front again as the proper stuff for foilets for all sorts of occasions.

Bonnets of velvet, with fur or seal plush or Astrakhan trimmings are being brought out for midwinter wear.

No heart is empty of the humor of curiosity, and the human mind is ever active in its search for an improvement of knowledge, as the price.

There is a necessity, and a desire, and a curiosity to know the truth, and to know the truth is a noble and a laudable ambition.

Tucks and overlapping folds are the correct skirt fashions for brides. The train is made of tulle, and is trimmed with fine hand-painted flowers and scenes.

Rose is to be one of the favorite colors of elegant evening wear this winter. There are exquisite shades of color, both pale and decided in hue, that are becoming to both fair and dark complexions.

Tam O'Shanter caps for little girls are trimmed with a jabot of cloth, velvet, or ribbon placed over the crown of the hat.

ONE ONLY.

In the dawn of days, so ancient that time with its tremulous beat could not be called an era.

The years with their burning heat, the high God sat dully spinning. Through ages and seas he wrought, while stars and their worlds were fashioned in the breath of a marvelous thought.

All the void and the darkness were peopled, and the white shining angels that grew from the web of His infinite power.

Each trembled, and wondered, and knew that in their Maker was their mission. To learn His desire—and do it.

He sat in the silence, the centre of all that had been or could be. He rode over the ages, as countess of the stars, and the stars of the sea, and every heart-pulse of creation.

He proved God—and none other than He! He sat in the silence, the centre of all that had been or could be.

He rode over the ages, as countess of the stars, and the stars of the sea, and every heart-pulse of creation. He proved God—and none other than He!

HERE AND THERE.

The salary of the mayor and city attorney of Louisville is paid by the dog tax—$8,000 a year.

A bottle of milk which a Baltimore chemist was testing the other day exploded with great force and nearly killed him.

"It is the modest man in the restaurant who gets the bad oysters," remarks a Philadelphia editor. In other words, to the victim go the spoils.

Not more than one-third of the jails of Georgia are supplied with fires, even in the most severe weather. Consequently the mortality in them is large.
