THE STATE.

THE CALIFORNIA FOUNDERS.

Several Lives Lost—A Terrible Battle for Life. The propeller California, Capt. Trowell, left Chicago Saturday night, Oct. 1st, bound for Montreal. She was laden with 20,000 bushels of corn and 200 barrels of pork, and carried a crew of 22 persons, and also had three passengers. She encountered a heavy sea, and at 4 p. m. the sea had increased so that it was impossible to steer her, and 300 barrels of pork was thrown over, but without help.

About 11 o'clock p. m., when just above St. Helena island, the sea broke in the gangways and put out the fires. She then swung round into the trough of the sea and began breaking up. The captain ordered the boats lowered, but it was impossible to lower but one. The captain went into the cabin and got the passengers out, but when Monday morning of the Beavers, and at 4 p. m. the sea had increased so that it was impossible to steer her, and 300 barrels of pork was thrown over, but without help.

Another boat launched succeeded in getting ashore near Point LaCabe. The steamer Paxton picked up two skiffs which were being down the straits on some wreckage. Nine persons are known to have been on board, and some others are missing, so that it is probable the dead will number more. The captain says that all were saved.

The California was owned in Toronto and is insured. The Cass State. Every state is entitled to place statues of two of its representative citizens in the national gallery of statuary at Washington. About two years ago the Michigan legislature appropriated $30,000 for the purpose of having a statue made of Gen. Lewis Cass. The commissioners appointed by Gov. Alger were Philo Parsons, I. Hamilton E. Smith and Henry B. LeMay. These gentlemen selected Daniel C. French of Concord, Mass., as the sculptor and adopted one of two designs which he furnished. Mr. French made a model at Paris, from which a plaster statue was cast. Photographs of the latter have been examined and approved by the commissioners, and Mr. French will now go ahead and complete the statue in his Boston studio. It will be seven feet high, cut from the best Italian white marble. Mr. French's model is very highly praised, both by art critics and those who know Gen. Cass.

An Unpleasant Predicament. Five years ago Mrs. Charles Kreutzman of Saginaw swallowed something in a glass of water which she drank, which she claimed was alive. It sickened her at the time, but physicians attributed it to her fancy. Later she visited Germany and consulted physicians there, none of whom could relieve her. Lately, however, the reptile she believes to be a snake, has grown quite rapidly. Its movements can be detected quite readily. It sometimes comes into her throat and almost chokes her. A doctor with whom she was taking treatment caught sight of what he believed to be the animal's head while endeavoring to tempt it out by putting milk into the woman's mouth. It is thought the reptile is now at least two feet long and two inches in diameter.

Wolverine Whisperings. Wheat thieves are operating over the state. A large gray wolf was shot near L'Anse the other day. The town of Republic is enjoying a healthy boom. A new iron ore range has been struck near the town of Republic. Charlesvoix wants a driving park and an agricultural society. John Tafel, one of the first engineers on the Michigan Southern road, is dead. Gen. Alger is a member of the national council of administration of the G. A. R. Hiram Jewell, one of the oldest settlers of Cass county, died in Dowagiac the other day. Business men in Jackson are greatly excited over the prospects of finding natural gas in that city. Gen. Alger has given $1,000 toward the erection of an equestrian statue of Gen. Logan in Washington.

The twenty-second annual reunion of the Twentieth Michigan Infantry will be held at Charlotte Oct. 12. Mr. Goff, a farmer living near Belle ville, was seriously injured a few days ago by an infuriated bull. Ezra L. Smith of Mio, has been appointed prosecuting attorney of Oscoda county vice John L. Kittle, resigned. Robert Meabon, who lives near Columbus, lost his barn produce, stock and implements by fire the other day. Mrs. Mary Macaulay of Jackson became discouraged because she was so deeply in debt, and suicided the other day. The state board of agricultural has voted to sustain Prof. Johnson, even if it necessitates suspending every student. The Presbyterian church at Coldwater celebrated the semi-centennial of its organization the last week in September. Dr. Foster, 12-year old boy of Coldwater, was killed on the fair grounds in that city by a flying board from a saw. Almond King of Hunter's Creek receives $5,000 for injuries received from the bursting of a Michigan Central engine's cylinder head.

The Seventh Day Adventists, in session at Grand Rapids, adopted resolutions strongly favoring constitutional statutory prohibition. Emanuel Meyers, an old man of Jackson, has been sentenced to five years in Jackson for the attempted murder of his wife in February last. Mrs. Emma A. Hampton of Detroit was elected president of the National Woman's Relief Corps at the annual G. A. R. encampment in St. Louis. President Angell of Ann Arbor has been selected as a member of the commission to settle the fishery dispute between the United States and Great Britain. All bids for the construction of new buildings at the state agricultural college have been rejected because they did not come within the limits of the appropriation.

Michigan Central and Flint & Pere Marquette object to the proposed crossings of the Saginaw & Durand road. State railroad crossing board will examine the contested sites. Lewis Anthony, who made a criminal assault upon little Emma Carlson, aged 9 years, at Lisbon in June last, has been found guilty. He will be sentenced to the penitentiary.

The "English Kitchen," a cheap hotel at 224 Jefferson avenue, Detroit, was burned on the morning of the 1st inst, and two men who were rooming in the building were burned to death.

NEWS SUMMARY.

Entire farms in Texas are under water, owing to the floods. Secretary Fairchild has resumed active control of the treasury. Alexander B. Webb of Missouri has been appointed U. S. consul at Manila. The U. S. Army is encamped in St. Louis as the new commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. Prairie fires in the vicinity of Winnipeg are causing settlers considerable trouble. Ex-Gov. Alex. H. Holley of Connecticut, is dead, aged 83. He was governor in 1852. The tobacco crop of Indiana is only one third of a crop because of drought and frost. Oscar Neobe, the anarchist, has been put to work in the harness shop in Joliet prison. Nearly 50,000 bushels of wheat in Wheatland, Dakota, were destroyed by fire the other day. It has been determined that the next encampment of the G. A. R. shall be held in Columbus, Ohio. An election was held in Tennessee on the 20th ult. The prohibition amendment was defeated by 10,000.

Michael Davitt, the distinguished Irish agitator, arrived in New York on the 1st inst. He was warmly welcomed. William Russell Sever, the oldest graduate of Harvard college, died at Plymouth, Mass., a few days since, aged 96 years. Henry Beer, a Bohemian stone cutter of Lincoln, Neb., shot and killed Augusta Selbert because she would not marry him. A work train in backing down struck a car and derailed the train. The conductor and a brakeman were killed, and several other train men were seriously injured. Dennis Donahue, a freight brakeman on the Michigan Central, was standing in a frightful manner by a tramp whom he was trying to put off his train. Donahue was taken to Albion where the wound was dressed, after which he was taken to his home in Jackson.

Standard life insurance association of Berkeley and old peoples' life of Jackson have notified State Insurance Commissioner Raymond that they will comply with the law relative to graveyard insurance. "The believed all others will die or leave the state. Many have died. W. H. Fielding of Jackson, 81 years old, was induced to go to Montreal county a year ago to live with his son-in-law, Henry Kitley. Last week Kitley returned the old man to Jackson and left him there penniless, and the authorities provided the deserted father with accommodations at the poorhouse. Levi M. Brott, a convict in the Jackson prison, wanted a pardon, and so he feigned paralysis and pretended to be getting deaf and blind. He was in a fair way to succeed until Dr. Williams remarked in his presence that he would cut his skull open to learn the nature of his malady. Levi rapidly recovered.

Nehemiah O. Sargent wants a divorce from Nancy Ruffner-Shoemaker-Sargent on the ground that she induced him to marry her at Grand Rapids when he was 17 years old by stating that she was 19, and when she was 37, she married Wm. Shoemaker, which Sargent believes to be false. He is now 18. Miss Alma Evans, daughter of Mrs. S. H. Evans, who died in Milan a few days ago of milk poisoning shortly after the death of her son from the same cause, has since died. Mr. Evans, who is the only survivor of the family, will probably not recover. Dr. Vaughn will examine the daughter's stomach for tyrotoxin.

Marquette, Houghton and Ontonagon land grant restored to public domain amounts to 258,000 acres, lying in Marquette, Iron, Baraga, Houghton and Ontonagon counties. Land will be open for homestead and pre-emption entries commencing Oct. 10, with a recognized prior claim for actual settlers on the lands since Aug. 15. The state board of auditors has awarded the contract for making and binding the records of resident and non-resident mortgages, which the new law provides for, to the Chicago, Detroit and Milwaukee, Mich. The contract amounts to between $6,000 and $7,000. Kalamazoo, Detroit and Lansing firms were bidders. The object of the law and these books is to uncover concealed mortgages so they can be taxed. Richard Reed, a farmer of Wayne county, was bitten by a favorite horse, which shortly afterward died under circumstances indicating that he was a sufferer from hydrophobia. Mr. Reed has gone to Paris for treatment by Pasteur, fearing that he may be afflicted with the dread disease. Detroit physicians are experimenting with the "after brain" of the horse upon rabbits and dogs, and will cable the result to Pasteur. Dorrence Williams died in Battle Creek over 40 years ago and the remains were buried in Oakhill cemetery. The remains were disinterred a few days ago and the skull was found turned on one side and lying in the corner. Both bony hands were clinched against it. The body was turned over. The knees were pressed to the chin. The position of the body told of terrible desperation, and gave reason to believe that Williams was buried alive.

Capt. Clement W. Stone, son of Dr. J. A. B. Stone and brother of James H. Stone of the Detroit Tribune, died suddenly at his home in Kalamazoo on the 3d inst, after a long illness, aged 47 years. In the war he was captain of Sixth Michigan heavy artillery, under Col. Curtiss, and after the war engaged in business at Mobile with a brother, and later for three years conducted the Daily Telegraph of Kalamazoo, with his brother Horatio, now deceased. While a resident of that town county he was active in politics and was elected to the legislature. Richard Rose, a well known farmer and best culturist of East Saginaw, has just been through a singular experience. As he was taking up a hive of honey recently he was stung on the end of the middle finger of the right hand. In a few minutes he became insensible, while his right arm swelled up to enormous size. His condition appeared to closely resemble catlepsy, and during the succeeding 24 hours all efforts to restore him to consciousness proved futile. At the end of the time mentioned he regained his senses and about the same time the swelling began to subside and soon entirely disappeared. He feels peculiar in the hand and foot, but otherwise does not mind his experience. He had been stung many times before, and experienced little trouble.

The New York Sun has the following item of interest to Michigan readers: Charles E. Coon, the ex-Assistant Secretary of Treasury, has just reached Bremen, whither he sailed some days ago in the interests of Steve Dorsey's scheme for consolidating fourteen of the iron mines in the Lake Superior region. Mr. Coon has gone abroad, it is said, to place a million or so of the syndicate's bonds. Briefly, the scheme is to bring fourteen mines under one head, and to market the Bessemer output in the eastern markets. The chief obstacle to this at present is the high freight rates on the lakes. The ore has never been able to get to the eastern ports, and the syndicate means to have its own steamers running to the lake ports, and Buffalo will be the eastern distributing point. Mr. Coon holds that place for the present.

A SENSATIONAL STORY.

An American Citizen Claims Queen Victoria as Her Mother. Mrs. Caroline Guelph—as she calls herself—is about to publish her life, the gist of which is given in the following remarkable story: Prince Albert, before his marriage with Queen Victoria, was married morganatically to the Countess Reuss in Germany. In November, 1840, Queen Victoria and the countess gave birth to female children almost at the same time. The countess, under threat of exposure, compelled Prince Albert to exchange the two infants, a substitution which was effected through the intervention of the royal nurse. The queen's child was taken to France in charge of Lady Anna Campbell, and was brought up in her care until her sixth year at Polesy, near Paris, a servant named Peter Seidling being her protector. The queen's child was called Sophia Adelaide. The countess's child remained in the royal household in England, and was brought up as a princess, and is now the wife of the crown prince of Germany. In 1848 or thereabouts, Sophia Adelaide was sent to a convent near Munich, in Bavaria, where she was educated for a few years. She was afterwards taken to Schleswig-Holstein, where she and Lady Anna Campbell lived for some time in the house of a friend and agent of Prince Albert, named the Count de Luedi, who passed as an uncle to Sophia Adelaide. In his charge and that of Lady Anna, Sophia Adelaide went to Italy and France, and afterward, when about 13 years old, to the island of Bourbon, in the Indian ocean. In his charge and that of Lady Anna, Sophia Adelaide went to Italy and France, and afterward, when about 13 years old, to the island of Bourbon, in the Indian ocean. United Ireland will shortly be issued as a daily. Montevideo has established a quarantine against all Italian ports. Severe shocks of earthquake were felt throughout Cuba the other day. Mrs. Otto Goldschmidt (Jennie Lind) lamented a shock of general paralysis. Col. Sir Joseph West Ridgeway is to succeed Butler as under-secretary of Ireland. Polydore Kaiser, a Roman Catholic was elected Lord Mayor of London, on the 30th ult. King Otto of Bavaria is said to be much better, and his periods of insanity are now less frequent. Mile. Almee, the famous singer, died in Paris on the 3d inst. from the effects of a surgical operation. The vessel Matthew Fay was wrecked off Cape Cod the other day, and 11 sailors were drowned. A thousand persons met at Tower Hill, London, the other day and denounced the government's Irish policy. The ex-Empress Eugenie is now at Aberdeen, Scotland, which has been lent to her by Queen Victoria. Several French princes have purchased estates at Cracow and intend to become Russian citizens and enter the Russian army. It is reported that Queen Victoria is studying Hindooism, and that her majesty seriously contemplates a trip to India at no distant day. A drug clerk in Mill Grove, Ont., put morphine in a prescription instead of quinine, and as a result of his blunder three persons have died. The Rev. James Farquhar, says that the government's Irish policy is brutal, and that the English people will not long endure seeing Ireland maltreated. Young Schaebeles has been sentenced to three weeks' imprisonment and to pay five dollars for posting a treasonable placard bearing French tri-colors on German soil. The Roman police have seized the pope's jubilee medals, inscribed "Pope Leo XIII, Pontifex Rex." It is expected the vatican will protest against the seizure and point out the law of guarantee which recognized the pope's right to the title of sovereign.

SUNKEN SCHOONERS. The Havana and Green Bay Lost on Lake Michigan—Nine Lives Lost. The schooner City of Green Bay, a three master, bound down the lake loaded with iron ore, sprung a leak off Saugatuck on the night of Oct. 3d. The captain attempted to keep her afloat until the heavy sea subsided and lay off shore at St. Joseph. At four o'clock in the morning the cargo in the hold was covered with nine feet of water and he found it impossible to save the boat. Both anchors were dropped and the boat beached two miles southwest of the shore. The crew were saved, and the shore to save the lives of the crew. The life-saving crew went to the rescue, failing to get near enough to be of service, owing to the rotten ropes and equipment taken. Liners were thrown off the boat but would have been blown away if the shore was lined with people, they could do nothing. The crew were in the rigging and were frequently washed down, but could get nothing on which to float to shore. They made signs for help, but the spectators' eyes only followed with tears to see them in the perilous condition. One man of the crew told the others to get a piece of the deck and float to shore, but they heeded not, and he jumped and caught it. He was the only one saved of the crew of seven. He does not know even the name of the captain or any of the lost, nor does he know the destination of the boat. Had the life-saving crew taken out on the first trip, the equipment people say they could have saved also the boat. Capt. Cross of the life-saving crew, had three ribs broken by being thrown against the side of the boat. The schooner, with one from Escanaba to St. Joseph, came to anchor off St. Joseph at 10 o'clock on the night of the 3d. The crew were blown away from the west, and the sea running over her till the cabin. The crew labored all night, but without success, trying in vain to weather the storm. At 8:30 the next morning she shipped her anchor and was blown to the shore under three ribs, the fore and mainmast being gone. When about one half mile off shore and five miles north of St. Joseph harbor she went down in fifteen feet of water. Capt. John Curran of Chicago, Cook John Morris of Boston Harbor, and one seaman went down with the wreck. The mate, Samuel McClellan, an seaman Geo. Hughes, Robert McCormick and Charles Hagen were rescued by the tug Hannah Sullivan. Capt. Malignant and volunteer crew of eight men from the life-saving crew went to her assistance also, but the vessel being so far off they could not reach her with a short line. Both schooners belonged to Capt. A. P. Reid of Kewauqua, Wis.

The Boilers were Rusty. Four persons were instantly killed and two seriously wounded by an explosion in Flint's Soring mill in St. Louis, the other morning. The boilers were all rusty, hence the explosion.

Atrocities Perpetrated in Iowa by an English Syndicate. The general land office is in receipt of information that a British syndicate, said to have purchased a large tract of land in Iowa from the McGregor western railway company is mercilessly evicting settlers from the title to the land being in dispute in the state courts. A settler writes: "Women over 60 years of age sick in bed, have been taken by six men and carried off in the driving storm. Delicate women have had their hands and feet corded till their flesh was bruised and then dragged shrieking from their homes. Strong men have been run down by ruffians and have been beaten and handcuffed, and dragged from their little possessions. I might go on and multiply instances where the sheriff, with a writ of ejectment in one hand and a British contract in the other, gave these poor people their choice between the two evils which they would take."

A Dividends of the cruelties practiced are being collected, says the writer, for use in Washington next winter. They are expected to create a sensation when the people of the east are brought fully to realize what the American pioneers are suffering at the hands of the new invaders. A Temperance Advocate Dead. John B. Finch of Nebraska, the well known temperance advocate, died suddenly in Boston on the night of the 3d inst. Mr. Finch addressed a temperance meeting at Lynn early in the evening and took the train for Boston. On the way he was taken in a fit, and although every thing possible was done he died soon after reaching Boston.

QUEEN VICTORIA.

The death disclosures were made in the presence and hearing of Dr. Bradbeck, the attending physician, and Father Hahn or Hahnemann, the officiating priest. In order to give Sophia Adelaide the protection of her name the Count de Luedi married her on his deathbed, Father Hahn performing the ceremony. A few months later Lady Anna died, and Sophia-Adelaide, the widowed countess of Luedi, was left alone in a strange country. She then went to live at New Orleans with the family of a Col. Pierce, whose acquaintance she had previously made. She was in receipt of a handsome pension from England. Her father wrote, urging her to return thither, but she was afraid of being immured in a convent, and declined, and left New Orleans for Dayton by the steamer Rainbow, which, however, was burned on the trip, and sunk, about 100 lives being lost. Sophia Adelaide, though severely scared by the steam, was saved, but all her papers were lost. She reached Dayton, and afterward, in 1859, married an American physician of Kentucky. In 1861 her father died. In 1870 she obtained a divorce from her husband and returned to Europe, traveling there for several years. All this time her pension had been regularly paid to her through the Rev. Edward Borey of Colebech, England. About 1870 it was suddenly stopped.

MRS. CAROLINE GUELPH. She had become acquainted with John Brown, Queen Victoria's servant, and appealed to him regarding her pension, and sent her money on two or three occasions; but he died in 1882, and she has since been without regular means of support. She states that she has appealed to her royal connections for justice and recognition, but in vain, and she has returned to America to appeal to public opinion here to see if she cannot get justice in that way. She is now in New York, superintending the publication of the story of her life, which is expected to create a sensation. She certainly bears a most remarkable resemblance to Queen Victoria.

OUR MAN ABOUT TOWN.

He Sees About Everything and Prints About Everything He Sees.

I think it a shame that some of the back drivers are so hard on their horses.

Now that the musical people have about all returned to the city, it is hoped that the music in our various churches will be improved upon.

I have heard a number wonder when the screens will be removed from the doorways and windows of the saloons.

I have often wondered why in a city the size of Ann Arbor, and where so many young men come annually to be instructed in knowledge, that there is no young woman's christian temperance union.

Here of all places, such an organization would be a great blessing. I do not forget the W. C. T. U. which does vast amount of good, but for a Y. W. C. T. U. Let the young women interest themselves in temperance work and, in fact, temperance work of all kinds, which will keep many a young man from doing wrong if he knows he has the young ladies on his side.

What is Obscene Literature.

Mr. Crawford, of the Saginaw Morning Star, was telephoned for this morning by his brother, informing him that the sale of his papers had been stopped on the streets this morning, and that the sale of the same had been prohibited at the news stands. On receipt of the telephone dispatch, Crawford came down post haste and presented himself at the central station, demanding by what right or authority they assumed to stop the sale of his paper.

He was informed that it was done by the authority of an ordinance passed at the last meeting of the council, prohibiting the sale of obscene literature. Mr. Crawford informed the officer that he had taken counsel on this question, and that his counsel had advised that the ordinance was void, and that if he was publishing and circulating obscene literature it remained for the city to arrest him and substantiate the charge; but the idea of stopping the circulation of his paper was preposterous, and he should enter a suit for damages to himself and his advertisers. He claims that the officers have acted prematurely, because there is not a line in his paper in the shape of spice or scandal which has not appeared in the best daily papers in the United States. Thus the matter stands at present—Bay City Evening Press.

Crawford formerly resided in this city, and at one time handled the Detroit Evening News.

The magnificent triumph which awaits the democratic party next year is thus summed up by the Cincinnati Enquirer: "Now that the republican managers have announced to the world that there is no hope for their cause unless the war between the north and south can be again stirred up—now that their bloody shirt is again floating in the breeze—the political horizon has suddenly become clear. It is now manifest that the democratic party will, in 1888, carry all the southern states, and also New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana and Oregon. It is probable that the democratic party will also have a majority in California, Colorado, Illinois and Massachusetts. Indeed, it is not impossible that they may carry Michigan and Wisconsin."

ROYAL BAKING POWDER. Free from Lime and Absolutely Pure.

The Royal Baking Powder is made from Cream of Tartar specially refined and prepared for its use by patent processes, by which the Tartrate of Lime is totally eliminated.

This highly important result has been attained only with great care, labor and expense. In money alone a quarter of a million dollars has been invested in patents, machinery and appliances by which the crude Cream of Tartar, being procured direct from the wine districts of Europe, and subjected in this country to these exclusive processes, is rendered entirely free, not only from the objectionable Tartrate of Lime, but from other foreign substances.

This adds greatly to the cost of manufacturing Royal Baking Powder; but, as all its other ingredients are selected and prepared with the same precise care and regardless of labor or expense, an article is produced that is entirely free from any extraneous substance and chemically pure in all respects.

No lime, earth, alum or impurity of any kind can, by inadvertence or by the use of adulterated articles or otherwise, be introduced into the "Royal," and it contains no ingredients except those certified by the most eminent chemists necessary to make a pure, wholesome and perfect baking powder.

It costs more to manufacture the Royal Baking Powder than any other, but it is, as shown by chemical analysis, the only absolutely pure Baking Powder made.

Royal is the only Baking Powder made that is free from both lime and alum.

The Jolly Pathfinders will play a week's engagement at the Grand opera house commencing Monday evening Oct. 10. There will be an entire change of program each night. The company is composed of 15 persons, all clever artists, besides a band and orchestra. On Saturday evening the person holding the lucky number will receive a $25 Gold Crown watch, now on exhibition at Eberbach's hardware store. Cheap prices is the motto of the Pathfinders. Gallery, 20 cents, lower floor 30 cents, and children 10 cents.

The Jolly Pathfinders played last night at Moore's opera house to a highly appreciative audience. The band is good; the orchestra is the very best, and every member of the troop is a star. The audience was in a constant uproar of laughter throughout the play. Tonight they open with the farce, "Rural Simplicity, or the Fool of the family," and close with the most laughable of all comedies, "Six Feet in a Bed." The Jolly Pathfinders are well received everywhere, and they should be greeted by a crowded house to-night.—Nevada (Mo.) Mail, Jan. 21, 1885.

Congressman E. P. Allen, of Ypsilanti, paid a lying business visit to Vassar on Tuesday and called on a number of his old friends. He also paid a visit to the Pioneer sanatorium for a few minutes chat with the editor. It is just 23 years since he was the principal of the Vassar schools, and the principal of one of his pupils, which position he resigned to take part in the civil war, enlisting as captain of company H, 20th Michigan Infantry. Capt. Allen has since many friends in Vassar, and it seems never to be forgotten the pleasant associations of his residence here.—Vassar Pioneer.

Anton Eisele a highly respected German citizen, who has been identified with business in Ann Arbor for years, died Monday of consumption at the age of 47 years. Mr. E. was born in Wurtemberg, Germany and in 1860 came to this country and located in this city. He was a prominent member of the St. Lawrence Benevolent Society, the C. M. B. A., the German Workingmen's Association, the A. O. U. W., president of the Bethelverein Gesangverein, and a leading member of St. Thomas' church choir. Mr. Eisele was well-known to all of our business men, had served two terms as supervisor and one term as alderman of the 4th ward, and was highly respected in the community. He leaves a wife and seven children. The funeral yesterday was largely attended.

As usual, poor weather. Sam Smith's horse fell dead Wednesday.

Mr. L. B. Vaughan, son of the late Leonard Vaughan died in this city Tuesday night of Bright's disease. Mr. Vaughan was formerly a banker in Canada, and leaves an estate valued at $400,000.

The biggest fair ever known in the history of Washtenaw county. The display of stock, fruit, vegetables, etc. is large and varied. Floral hall is well filled with fine paintings, flowers and needle work. A fine lot of machinery. The horse races splendid. A big crowd yesterday and a bigger crowd expected to-day. Gov. Luce will be on the grounds this afternoon.

In Memoriam.

The following resolutions were adopted at a regular meeting of St. Thomas' Branch, No. 14, C. M. B. A., Oct. 4, 1887.

WHEREAS, Our Heavenly Father has deemed best to remove from our midst our much esteemed and highly respected brother, Anton Eisele, therefore be it Resolved, That while we in resignation bow to the will of our Divine Master, we regret the loss of one who so patiently bore his long and tedious illness, and in whom we recognize a devout Catholic, a staunch supporter of our society, a trustworthy citizen, a devoted husband and a loving father.

Resolved, That we tender the bereaved family in this their hour of trouble and affliction, our sincere and heartfelt sympathy, and while sorrowing with them in their loss, we earnestly pray he will reap the fruits of a well spent life.

Resolved, That a copy of the resolutions be presented to the family, and that they be published in the official organ of C. M. B. A., and city papers.
